Xmas Concert at Elma

The Elma Methodist Sunday School will hold their annual Christmas Concert in the church Friday evening Dec. 22nd.

Presbyterian Bazaar

Keep in mind the Bazaar and Food Sale by the Ladies Aid of the Chesterville Presbyterian church in the Library Hall on Friday Dec. 8th at 2.00 p. m. This will be an excellent opportunity for you to select appropriate Christmas gifts at most reasonable prices. Fancy articles to be marked should be left at the home of Mrs. G. C. Lacey on Thursday Dec. 7th.

Bazaar at Williamsburg

The Women's Institute of Williamsburg will hold a bazaar and supper in the I. O. O. F. hall on Tuesday afternoon and evening December 5th. The proceeds will go to the cemetery funds. Donations of articles for the sale, eatables for the supper or money will be very much appreciated by the ladies.

Auto Upset When Struck Bridge

An accident that has appeared many times would happen did occur Monday morning. As two autos approached the bridge from the North, a car driven by Sim Droppo was on the west side of the street. The other car was passing him just at the entrance to the bridge and in watching it to keep clear struck the side of the superstructure of the bridge turning his own car over on its side in the centre of the roadway. Mr. Droppo was thrown out but was not injured. Willing hands soon righted the car which appeared very little injured and proceeded under its own power to a garage.

Women's Institute

The Women's Institute meeting held at the home of Mrs. F. M Sanders on Tuesday afternoon was largely attended. An excellent paper on "The Value of an Idea" was given by Mrs. W. Saucier and Miss Helen Price gave two, much appreciated piano solos. Mrs. Haley and Mrs. F. Hummel were the judges in the "Cookie and Doughnut Contest", the prizes being awarded to Mrs. F. W. Merkley for doughnuts and Mrs. G. C. Lacey for cookies.

Henry Hummel Passes Away

At an early hour Wednesday morning death claimed a life long resident of this district in the person of Mr. Henry Hummel in his seventy-second year. Almost three months ago Mr. Hummel was taken seriously ill and went to the Royal Victoria hospital in Montreal for treatment returning home Thursday of last week. The deceased had spent practically his whole life on the farm where he died. Besides his widow, four boys and three girls are left to mourn being Frank, Milton, Harry and Stanley; Ida, Mrs. Dillabough of Berwick; Daisy, Mrs. Percy Fyke of Chesterville and May at home. The funeral will be held this afternoon in Trinity Methodist church.

Successful Concert By Public School

Last evening the Music Hall was the scene of a most delightful entertainment by the pupils of the Public school. The hall was practically filled with the parents and friends of the children, all of whom must have felt the youngsters were in the hands of a very competent staff when in a short time they could enact a program of such merit. To particularize would be to call the roll of the different rooms. Miss Campbell, district nurse, also gave a very interesting and clear synopsis of her work in the two townships of which she has charge. The facts stated must have made it clear to doubting minds the far-reaching benefit of her work in the welfare of the communities. Principal Boyd in a short address, outlined the work being carried out by the Junior Red Cross, a very vigorous branch of which is in active operation in our Public school.

The Late Lloyd Myers Laid to Rest

The body of the late Lloyd Myers, who was drowned in Gillies Lake, Timmins, reached Morewood last Thursday morning accompanied by David Rainey a boyhood friend who resides at South Porcupine. The funeral Friday afternoon in the Presbyterian church was very largely attended, where service was conducted by Rev. F. L Jobb assisted by Rev. H. S. Cook. Mr. Jobb gave a very fitting sermon taking his text from Luke 7, 12-15. Those left to mourn are the mother of the deceased boy, his father having died while Lloyd was overseas; Willis of Ottawa, Howard on the home farm, Thomas Edward of Moosejaw and one sister Mrs. Walter L. Belton of Neepawa, Man. Floral tributes accompanying the remains from the north country were a beautiful wreath from Mr. Rainey and other Timmins friends; three wreaths from the Hollinger mines where Lloyd Myers was employed and where he had become a great favorite; a wreath from Morewood High School where he was a student when he enlisted for overseas service, also many beautiful flowers from friends and relatives.

Engines in Rear Latest Suggestion

A rather daring suggestion in auto construction has been made by the "Light Car and Cyclecar,,' which gets away from the conventional way in which this problem has in the past been undertaken. It is that of building small cars with their engines at the rear. The publication even goes to the length of prophesying that the day is not far distant when the majority of automobiles will be built with their power units behind the passenger seats. It says:

"To enumerate but a few of the advantages that are possessed by this system, we may say that, in the first place, it tends to improve suspension by reason of the following facts;—The constant load in any car is its driver, and the passenger seat most used is the one adjacent to him. With the engine at the front the variable load—i.e., the rear-seat passengers—imposes its weight almost wholly on the back axle. This means that the rear springs must posses a huge range of suspension efficiency which is not wholly practicable. When the engine is at the rear the driver's seat is well forward. The passengers' seats are amidships, and so their "variable" weight is distributed between the front and rear axles equally."

A One-man Town

A travelling man sold some goods to the proprietor of a general store in a small town. When the merchandise arrived it was not up to sample and was returned. The house drew a sight draft on the merchant through the local bank, it was returned. The letter asking the postmaster about the financial standing of the merchant was returned by the government official marked O. K. The house wrote the postmaster to secure a lawyer to collect the amount, and received this reply:

"The undersigned is the merchant on whom you tried to palm off your worthless goods. The undersigned is owner and president of the bank that sent back your draft. The undersigned is the postmaster to whom you wrote and the undersigned is the lawyer you sought to obtain for your fake business. If the undersigned were not also pastor of church at this place he would tell you to go to the devil."

Freak Calves Born

Friday a Durham cow belonging to George Irving, a farmer of Esquesing township, near Milton, gave birth to twin calves, neither of which has a tail, otherwise both calves are perfectly formed and healthy. The freak calves were the centre of attraction among Mr. Irving's neighbors.

Ottawa Family Bequeathed Cattle King's Estate

Ottawa convent girls named Mousseau and their sister, a 24-year-old drug clerk, are heiresses along with their three brothers, to a million dollar estate in San Antonio, Texas. The legacy comes from the late Mrs. Irene Barnhart Wilson who was the widow of George Wilson, oil and cattle king in Mexico. The girls' mother, to whom the legacy was given, died in 1914, and the fortune passes to her children.

More Milk For Country Children

The view that there is as much, and in many districts more, under-nourishment among country children than among city children, is shared by many public health nurses and other workers, and those who have studied the situation hold the view that country children use no more, and in many cases less, milk than is used by the children in urban centres.

Hydrant Spouted Fish For Hours

Chicago despatch:—Hydrants along Painter Street, eight miles from the lake spouted fish for hours last Friday. A school of small perch had been taken in at a water crib four miles out in the lake and had jammed up the plumbing in hundreds of homes. The water department opened the hydrants for a mile. Perched flopped everywhere. They came out faster than the water. Boys gathered them in baskets, some getting dozens of fat perch from six to eight inches long.

Foxes Stolen at Pleasant Valley

Messrs. Melvin Crowder and Lee Kennedy, of Pleasant Valley, had thirteen fine red foxes, which they had caught while young last spring, stolen from their den at Mr. Crowder's barns last Saturday evening. The thief was tracked some distance, but as yet no traces of the animals have been found. They refused an offer last week of $200 for the bunch

Barn Burned in Mountain

On Friday, Nov. 17th, the big barn, belonging to Mr. Fred Lannin, and situated about 2½ miles east of South Mountain, took fire and burned to the ground. It is thought the fire was caused from sweet clover heating. His grain separator, 600 bushels oats, and one cow, was also lost in the blaze which was only partly covered by insurance.

Fined Under Telephone Act

Russell Leader —The first prosecution under the Telephone Act in this district took place last week before Magistrate Fraser when a farmer from Embrun appeared, charged with using unseemly language over the phone. He was found guilty and fined. It may not be generally known but it is not allowed by law to use profane or obscene language over the phone, and penalities are provided for breaches of the act. This should serve as a warning to others when in the heat of an argument over the phone to censor their words as anyone may register a complaint, and it is easier to say less, than to pay money for expressing your feelings.

These Are Queer Times

With so many radio outfits springing up in Baltimore, funny things are happening. Some sensitive persons are having an awful time getting to sleep because of the bedtime stories catching on the springs of their beds. A row of iron dish-rags at a five-and-ten-cent store frightened the lady clerk out of a week's appetite by giving a lecture on careless husbands. Another lady, whose boy is installing a radio outfit, was talking to a neighbor with a potato-masher in her hand when all of a sudden the masher joined in the conversation.

Both ladies fainted, and the potato-masher quit after giving the weather report, the baseball scores, and singing a song.—Middletown (Md.) Register.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Lanark Campaign Stories Denied

The bye-election contest in Lanark country, held to fill a vacancy created by the death of the late Hon. John A. Stewart, is beginning to get quite warm. A Saturday evening meeting was held by the Liberals, at which men from the Findlay Stove Works, Carleton Place were on hand to deny reports that men in the works were indifferent because not rightly treated as employees, and at which Hon. Thomas A. Low made a vehement denial of the report that he was instrumental in having liquor brought into the county. Men from the Findlay works told of cordial relations between employees and the company, while Hon. Mr Low offered to donate five thousand dollars to any charitable institution of Smiths Falls if it could be shown that he had brought one drop of liquor into the country.

The Rt. Hon Arthur Meighen addressed a meeting in Smiths Falls on Tuesday evening and Premier King will appear on Saturday evening. Both sides are well organized and working hard, the women being scarcely less active than the men. Foth parties profess to be confident of winning but there is a noticeable absence of wagers. Hon. Dr. Preston, Conservative candidate, is an old campaigner with long experience in the Ontario Legislature, but Mr. Findlay, the Liberal nominee, is entirely new to the political game.

Express Rate on Cream to Stand

The application of the National Dairy Council to the Board of Railway Commissioners for an order cancelling the 20 per cent, increase in express rates on cream allowed by general order 327, date February 2, 1921, and re-establishing the special commodity rates on cream in existence prior to that order, is dismissed by the board in a judgment issued Monday. The Dairy Council asked consideration by the board when the general increase was granted in February, 1921, and on this application being refused, appealed to the Privy Council which the matter back to the Railway Board for further consideration, and the case was again heard by the board in April of this year. The special commodity rates asked affect fruit, fish and vegetables as well as cream.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, the chief commissioner, says in concluding his judgment which is agreed to by the other commissioners: "When we consider that cream is carried at the lowest express rate of any commodity in Canada today, that it is much lower than the first class freight rate, that there has been but one increase of 20 per cent in 30 years or more, and that no more cogent justification can be advanced for the remission of this increase of 20 per cent, than has been presented in this case, I am forced to the conclusion that it is not possible from any rate-regulating standpoint to comply with the request of the applicants in this case, notwithstanding the wish expressed by his Excellency-in-Council and therefore, I think the application should be dismissed."

Haileybury Being Rebuilt on Plans of Able Engineers

The thousands of persons who suffered loss in the Haileybury fire of a few weeks ago will have a tolerably fair shelter before the severe weather sets in, in the opinion of Lieut.-Col. L. T. Martin, one of the commissioners of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, who returned to Ottawa on Saturday following an inspection of the T. & N.O. lines. The commission, Col. Martin stated, was impressed with the courage and optimism shown by the residents of the district. The need for relief has not passed, but everywhere there is a general desire to co-operate with the relief committee.

More than one hundred houses and other permanent buildings are being erected in Haileybnry. The town, which was practically wiped out, is being rebuilt on plans prepared by competent town-planning engineers. The Ontario Government Housing Commission is loaning $300,000 to the town under reasonable terms and the provincial government is giving 3,500 feet of lumber to every fire victim who makes application through the relief committee. All that is possible is being done to rehabilitate the fire victims, Col. Martin stated, and the T. & N. O. is still carrying relief supplies free.

Prohibition Here to Stay Says Premier Drury

Speaking before a mass meeting held in Massey Hall, Toronto by the World League Against Alcoholism, Premier Drury, of Ontario gave it as his carefully considered conviction that prohibition has come to Ontario to stay; that there was no danger of reversion to the legalized sale of liquor in any way, shape or form; that neither Government control nor the selling of beer and wine would ever receive the sanction of the Ontario electorate, and that, before many years had passed, prohibition enforcement officers in the United States would not be harassed by the presence of of a partially "wet" Canada on their northern boundary.

Backing up his assertion with a barrage of statistics relative to the history of the prohibition movement in this province and the results of its enforcement, the Premier declared that prohibition in Ontario had been a success and would continue to be a success. It had come only after long years of trial and struggle and neither the World League or anyone else need have any fear that the people of the province would nullify its beneficial results by sanctioning a change in the existing prohibitory laws.

Once only did the Premier make direct reference to the political side of the issue and that was to pay tribute to Sir William Hearst, who, he said, had had the courage to do what he knew was right when he enacted the Ontario Temperance Act.

In a brief reference to the rum-running at the United States border, he said that the province needed the co-operation of United States delegates to the convention that if they wanted to help the Government of this province they should show a little more energy in keeping the "stuff" out so that those on this side of the line would not have to expend so much energy in keeping it in.

His Name

A Washington man, visiting Richmond, took a great fancy to a bright eyed little darky who polished his shoes. Shortly after he became interested in the little chap, the Washington man asked his name.

"Gen, suh," was the reply.

After a few moments of silence the Washingtonian continued, "I suppose that is an abbreviation for General?"

The word "abbreviation" stumped the little fellow for a while, but he was equal to the occasion and recovered himself. "No suh," he said, "it ain't exactly that. My shore-enough name is Genesis xxx, 33. So shall my righteous answer in time to come, Washington Jones, but they jest calls me Ge fo' sho't."

He Saved $16,000 in Dimes.

Thrift Magazine—The story recently was told of a man who started over 16 years ago to save every dime that came into his possession. He made no effort to get an extra number of dimes, but took what came to him in the way of change.

How much do you suppose he has saved in 16 years? You'll be surprised to learn that the savings amounted to $16,000.

If you don't feel rich enough to start in saving dimes, why not start in saving nickels or if five cents at a time is too much why not try pennies.

If you make an ironclad rule not to pend your pennies, your nickels, your dimes or your quarters, you'll have a large savings account before you realize it.

Why not start it to day?

Not Guilty

Newedd—I have 15 clocks I'd like to sell you.

Storkeeper—We don't buy stolen goods here.

Newedd—Your crazy! They're not stolen. I was married last week.

All U. F. O. Stores Will Be Closed

The United Farmers' Co-operative Company, Limited, in view of the losses suffered during the year in its branch and Toronto stores, will likely close all stores now open. Out of the 38 stores, nine have been closed with a loss of $75,978.21. H. B Clemes, general manager, believed the directors favor closing all the stores throughout the province. The net trading loss for the year in the financial statement issued last week amounts to $56,222 78.

The loss incurred by the Toronto store is the largest item of importance in the profit and loss account for the year ending October 31, 1922 as the most of the store at the city. The produce branch at Morrisburg lost $11 416 62; the Wingham branch, $1,090 59; the milling department, Smiths Falls, $4,877.49. To offset this is a profit of $57,893.35 made by the Toronto Creamery and Produce branch, and $6,440,52 by the West Toronto livestock branch, with a profit of of $306 74 by the Guelph warehouse.

Speaking of the situation, H. B. Clemes said that he could not see that these stores were one of the functions of the company which should only handle the farmers' cattle, cream, etc. He doubted if they could sell boots, cocoa, etc, He stated that he would recommend that these stores be discontinued at the next annual meeting to be held next month. The profits in the livestock and Toronto Creamery showed that the company could more materially assist the farmers in marketing their products. If the stores were losed, he continued, there would be no need for the $323,954.73 in unpaid subscriptions to be collected, as their would still be $430,553.19 a working in spite of last year's losses. One feature of the business, said Mr. Clemes, was the fact that the company was practically the only one doing a business this year of approximately $18.000,000 with about $90,000 worth of equipment. General Wholesalers, Ltd., for the past year, shows a profit of $328.00.

Narrow Gauge

Not long ago there was a collison in Maine in which no one was injured.

A certain old chap, who does handsome work with the fiddle at country dances, is "great on time," but unless he is argued with he will play "The Girl I Left Behind Me" from 8 o'clock till 12 for every dance except the Virginia reel.

Some of the old dancers were on the floor and between dances one of them went up to the fiddler, who sat rubbin rosin on his bow.

"Uncle," said the dancer, "all the folks on the floor want you to play old 'Speed the Plow' for the next dance, Can't you give it to them?"

The old man tucked his rosin into his vest pocket.

"I should like to 'commo'date ye fust-rate," he said, "but there's suthin sing'lar 'bout that tune of 'Speed the Plow' Jest as soon as I 'Speed the Plow' 'long a little ways I run right into 'The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Mr. L. V. Wood of Maberly has a pen of twenty Barred Plymouth Rocks which have proven themselve wonderful layers. The first pullet started to lay on November 1st of last year and the pen of twenty laid 4,189 eggs in the year ending October 31st, this year. This is an average of 209 eggs per bird. From a pen of sixteen pullets, hatched April 21st this year, he received 85 eggs in September and 179 in Oct.—Havelock Standard.

Mrs. Anderson, Winchester

Mrs. Anderson aged 87 years passed away on Sunday morning at 1.30 after only a short illness, at the home of her son Mr. James Anderson of Winchester. She is survived by a large family most of whom reside in the West. In the absence of her pastor, the funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. J. Glassford in the Methodist church at 2 p. m. on Monday after which internment was made in the Brown Cemetery.

Mrs. Gordon Fader, Winchester

On Wednesday evening Nov. 22 nd, Mrs. Gordon Fader of Winchester, was very suddenly stricken with a paralytic stroke, and passed away the following morning at 5.30, in her 72nd year. Her husband died suddenly with heart failure nearly two years ago. An adopted daughter, Mrs. Sauls of Toronto, survives, besides, two step daughters, Mrs. Bruce Suffel and Mrs. Bender and a step-son Mr. Herb Fader. The funeral service was conducted by her pastor Rev. J. K. Curtis in the Methodist Church Winchester at 1 p. m. Saturday, and her body was taken to Dundela for burial.

Hockey Prospects

With the freezing over of the river and the first opportunity for skating given those who were satisfied of the safeiy of the ice has turned talk toward hockey prospects for this season, and to say the least they are not promising. The same story comes from practically all the clubs of the Central Ottawa Valley League of last season. They each claim to have lost the backbone of last year's team and do not expect to put a team in the league this season. Chesterville's prospects do not look any brighter than any of the other with five out of the six regulars beyond reach.

With the situation as it is as regards senior players the time looks propitious for a season of Junior hockey. There must be many juniors who have profited by the hockey they have witnessed during the last couple of years, who could give just as exciting exhibitions as have been provided by their elders. It is only through the encouragement of the juniors that any hope can be held out for a fast brand of senior hockey again being brought forth. Here is a chance for some one interested in hockey to do a real service for the game.

Morrisburg Girl's Athletic Class Put on Concert at Chesterville

The concert given in Hamilton's Hall last Friday night by the Morrisburg Girl's Athletic Class while on account of inclement weather was not as largely attended as the excellence of the concert merited, was greatly appreciated by those who were privileged to attend. This class of girls has only been in training under the very capable direction of Mrs. E. A. Smith for two months. The splendid manner in which the various numbers were given bespeaks unusual dramatical, musical and literary ability on the part of the girls and able and painstaking management on the part of their instructress, Mrs. Smith. All but three numbers were given by school girls mostly from the public school. One of these three numbers was a very clever exhibition of club swinging by Mrs. Smith and the other two numbers were selections on Drums and Traps by Paul Gormely, a thirteen year old boy who showed remarkable skill and musical talent in his manipulation of those instruments. As the class was comprised of upwards of thirty girls and the concert consisted of 23 numbers, space will not permit a detailed report, and in any event because excellence of performance was uniform throughout the class to particularize would not be justified. Morrisburg is to be congratulated on having among its citizens in the person of Mrs. Smith one who is willing to devote time and talent in such a laudable direction and on possessing girls whose minds and energy can, in these giddy times, be so successfully directed toward self improvement. Other villages without demoninational and several distinctions might with advantage follow Morrisburg's example.

Premature Rumors

During the past day or two there has been considerable talk on the street of large extensions to the manufacturing plant of the Maple Leaf Condensed Milk Co. at this place. Figures were even given of the size of the new factory to be erected for a new line manufactured by the Nestles Food Co., and of the large number of employees who would be required. The facts are hardly in keeping with the rumors. It is true that extensions are to be made, but in the nature of storage capacity for which plans for a large warehouse are about completed to be erected on land belonging to the company to the east of the present factory. Another change under contemplation is the location in Chesterville of the sales and office staff of the Nestles Food Co. of Canada, to take care of the domestic trade which is developing into very large proportions.

Made Climbing Easy

Not long ago I talked with a successful merchant. He is a man who started at the very bottom of the ladder. He is pretty close to the top now, and it hasn't taken him long to get there, either. He said "In climbing my ladder to fame I wrote advertisements on every round. I planned my ads before I selected my store fixtures: I advertised my stock before it was unpacked; and I advertised the success of my sale after it was all over. Then I advertised my next sale. I would no more omit my advertisements than I would lock my door during shopping hours. I look upon insufficient newspaper advertising as a self-imposed obstacle to successful business." He's a big success, is this merchant a friend of mine.—More Pep.

Popular Winchester Springs Girl Showered.

On Tuesday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nesbitt of Winchester Springs, was the scene of a very happy event when over a hundred friends of Miss Margaret Nesbitt gathered together and gave her a miscellaneous shower. The evening having been spent in games and music, about 10.30 o'clock the gathering was called to order by Mr. Joseph Webb, and Mr. Frank Nesbitt brother of the bride-to-be, accompanied her to the parlor. Miss Mildred Henderson presented her with an elaborate bouquet of roses. Miss Blanche McIntosh read the following address:—

Dear Margaret:—

An item appeared in the paper about two weeks ago by which we were informed that the dawn of the matrimonial day would soon come for you, and of course quite naturally we have been talking about you ever since. We young folks really think you are old enough and sensible enough, and since you have made up your mind we would say "Hop to it and show the rest of us how," for we consider it a very important step you are taking and your example may have some good effect.

When we look at Earl and see what a fine orderly fellow he is, we are almost inclined to be envious of you, but we have decided to let you have him all to yourself on conditions that you promise to love, honour an revere him all the days of your life. We know you will be a kind loving wife, helping him to bear all the burdens of life all the way through, so we can trust you for that.

Now, Margaret, just a few words about old occasions. You have grown up amongst us and you are well known to us all, and more than that, you have been a shining light amongst the single folks—one of the Willing Workers. We realize that your mother must have been a very splendid home guardian to have spared you so much away from home amongst us in all our social activities for church and school. Your good heartedness and benevolence must have been born of a good ancestry and will no doubt pass to the next generation. However true that may be we can say you have been a "good old sport" and we are beginning to think we can hardly spare you from the single ranks. We have learned, however, that you are going to settle down close to us, and if that is the case there may not be some change for some time.

We have gathered together tonight to show our appreciation. We extend heartily good wishes and a bit towards helping you off to a good start. May the time not seem long to a bright and happy wedding day; joyful honeymoon and a safe return to "Home Sweet Home", is the wish of all your friends and associates. Signed on behalf of the young people of Winchester Springs, Blanche McIntosh, Mrs. Wm. Henderson, Kenneth Durant. Mr. Kenneth Durant then presented Margaret with a wagon decorated to represent a Ford car, even the glaring headlights, loaded with beautiful presents. Miss Nesbitt thanked her friends in a few well chosen words and all joined hands in singing "She's a Jolly good fellow." The young ladies then served a dainty luncheon and the gathering broke up, every one enjoying a good time.

NOTICE

We desire to point out to those who may be interested, that the BEACH RURAL ELECTRIC SYSTEM under the franchises is now constructing its Transmission lines through Matilda and Mountain Townships.

This System is now closing contracts for light and power at approximately one half of those estimated by Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, for similar service in these districts.

Parties, hamlets and municipalities desiring to have the advantage of this service next year should impress upon their respective Township Councils the necessity of taking action in time to have the necessary by-law submitted on the same day in January as the Municipal election. This means the first reading of the by-law must take place not later than the first Council meeting in December.

Farm Prices

Youth's Companion—A recent bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture says that the position of the farmer is much like that of a man six feet in height who is standing in five feet of water and sees it beginning to rain. He has been financiaely embarrassed ever since the sudden decline in farm prices two years ago. He hoped that relief would come through the fall of commodity prices or the recovery of farm prices, but his hope has not been justified. His chief products which in spite of tariff schedules and statute laws find their price level fixed by conditions in the world market continue to sell cheap. Manufactured goods are going up in price. Labor in the cities has shown that it can keep the wage scale high. Freight rates for the same reason are burdensome. It seems not unfair to say that such plenty as the industrial community enjoys is largely at the farmer's expense.

The reason that "deflation" has proceeded so much more slowly in the mechanical industries than in farming i the present immigration policy of the nation. The new law has so far reduced the possible number of immigrants that it is a question whether more aliens are not leaving the country than entering it every year. For two generations we have depended on the immigrant to maintain the ranks of manual labor—particularly of unskilled manual labor. The native, even the child of the immigrant, tends to shun that kind of work and to feel himself above it. But the immigrant no longer keeps up the supply of labor for our expanding industries. Employers must bid against one another for workmen. Wages will refuse to drop much in those circumstances, whatever the farmer gets for his crop, he must expect the things he buys to be expensive.

What shall the farmer do? It would probably help him if all restrictions on immigration were removed. But a restricted immigration is what Americans want at present for reasons other than its effect on wages and the prices of manufactured goods. It is probable that most farmers would hesitate to help themselves economically by throwing down all barriers against immigration. The farmer can certainly reduce his production of those crops that do not now repay him for his work, and the prices of which are fixed by world competition—wheat in particular. He can turn to mixed farming instead of one-crop farming. Many southern planters have done it successfully; cotton is no longer the only crop they consider. It is true also that so long as present conditions continue, the drift from the farm to the city is likely to continue, until something like an equilibrium between the agricultnral and the industrial population occurs. With a falling off in farm production, the prices of food stuffs will rise. But it is cold comfort to tell the farmer to wait for that. Meanwhile besides controlling his crops, he can, as The Companion has often suggested, engage in co-operative marketing. That has made the Western fruit raiser prosperous. To be sure, his circumstances are favorable, for market is not much disturbed by foreign competition. But the principal of co-operation is applicable to every industry. It means the diversion of some of the profits of distribution to the producer, and that is what the farmer needs.

There is nothing to be hoped from currency inflation. That would send up farm prices no doubt, but it would send up all other prices as fast or faster, and it would end in a collapse that would prostrate farmer and wage earner alike.

A man who lives only seventeen miles from New York City says that predatory wild animals have made it impossible for him to raise poultry. Among those that killed his chickens were foxes, raccoons, skunks, opposums, red squirrels, minks, weasles, rats, hawks crows, snapping turtles, and black snakes. Of one hundred and forty chickens and ducks that were hatched not one managed to get more than half grown.

Bonar Law's Life in Canada

Toronto Globe—Bonar Law's early life in Canada has been a good deal of a mystery, doubtless because he was still but a boy when he left for Scotland, and also because he had lived in a remote village near the Northumberland Straits and away from main-travelled roads. His father Rev. James Law, came to Canada in 1849 from Coleraine, Ireland, and settled in a small town in New Brunswick known as Kingston, but which name has since been changed to Rexton. Before coming to Canada he married a Miss Kitson, of Edinburgh, who came of a wealthy family. Rev. James Law settled in a small 150-acre farm on the north side of the Richibucto River, and it was here that Bonar Law was born. According to James S. Hannay, of Brandon, Man. in an interview in the Brandon Sun, Mr. Hannay went to school with Bonar, and the British Premier still owns the New Brunswick farm ou which he was born.

All four of the Law boys went to a small school in Rexton conducted by Charles B. Pitblado, father of Isaac Pitblado, of Winnipeg, and Mr. Hannay was one of their school-mates.

While the other three brothers in the Law family were of a rather boisterous nature, Bonar was very quiet, says Mr. Hannay. "He took very little interest in the play of the others, and had rather frightened look in his face all the time, as if he were afraid of the future,"

Owing to the fact that Bonar Law left Canada at the age of 10 years very few details of his young manhood are known to Mr. Hannay. Rev. James Law was married a second time, to Miss Wood of Halifax. Apparently the boys could not get along very well in their new home, and Miss Kitson, a sister of the boys' mother, came to live in Rexton for a while. When Bonar was 10 years of age she persuaded the father to allow her to take Bonar and Jack, the two youngest boys, to Edinburg with her. There they received the education that fitted them for their futnre life. Bonar took up a business career and then politics; Jack became a famous civil engineer, and was sent by the British Government to India, and later to Borneo. Robert Law, the eldest son, died on the farm at Rexton, while William is practising medicine in his father's home in Coleraine, Irelan .

Minerals in The Dairy Cow's Ration

(Experimental Farms Note)

One hundred pounds of normal milk contains on the average .75 pounds of mineral matter, so that a cow giving upwards of 40 pounds of milk daily is producing about 5 ounces of mineral matter daily. In addition to the mineral necessary for milk production, a considerable quantity is needed for the proper development of the fetus, especially during the last few months of pregnancy. The ordinary winter or stable ration which a cow receives during the flush of the milk flow may not provide minerals in sufficient quantity to supply the above demand, and, consequently, a call is made upon that stored in the body, mainly in the bones. If the supply stored up in the body becomes depleted, the milk flow will be adversely affected, for nature will not alter the composition of the milk nor interrupt the bodily functions of the mother or the development of the fetus. Arguing on this basis, it may be said that the supply of mineral matter might well be a limiting factor in milk production.

As a general rule, especially in summer dairying, the ration supplies all the minerals necessary, but in cases of extra heavy productiou, combined with advanced pregnancy; of winter rations and on soils the crops from which are deficient in mineral matter, a supplementary mineral ration may be necessary. Grass supplies mineral in good quantity and in readily available form, so that as long as good pasture is available a supply of mineral matter is guaranteed. It is when the grass gets short or when winter feeding commences that substitutes for natural minerals must be provided. Feeds rich in minerals may well be considered first, since there are some which are also good dairy feeds, the outstanding ones being bran and legumes, such as alfalfa and red and alsike clover. Liberal allowances of these feeds will go a long way towards supplying the demand. Where an extra supply of mineral matter is considered necessary, this may take the form of steamed, edible bone meal and ground rock phosphate, one pound of each to every 100 pounds of meal. At the same time, in fact, at all times, a liberal allowance of common salt must be given, as it is from this that a good portion of the mineral requirement comes.

As indicated, supplementary mineral feeding is to be recommended during the final stages of the lactation period and during the rest period following, so that lime and phosphorus may be stored up for the heavy call which is made upon them during the subsequent heavy flow of milk. It may well be continued throughout the whole lactation period where production is abnormally heavy.

A Cure For Faultfinding

It is easy to find fault, so easy to stand by and criticize what others do, to imagine what might have been accomplished and to set it up as a fatal standard for what has been accomplished! To slip into the habit of thinking such things is dangerously easy, and when we think them it is difficult to refrain from saying them. Perhaps the best cure is to say little or nothing; but for the most part humanity is not contrived that way.

A help to preserving a better attitude in the matter is to consider not so much what people have actually done as what they tried to do. Once understand what they were aiming at and you will understand something of their difficulties and perhaps in the end you will be astonished not that they have accomplished so little but that they have accomplished so much.

Also that understanding will be vastly facilitated if you go farther and consider whether in their place you would have done exactly the same, or even less well. You are human as they are, your means and capacity are limited as theirs are, perhaps even more limited. When you estimate the complication of circumstances and put yourself, your own blundering, mistaking, regretting, ever-recommencing self, right into them, your tolerance for the failures of others will be immensely increased.

For this is the best cure of all: instead of dwelling upon the faults of others, to give a little attention, or even a good deal of attention, to your own. It is really quite as easy to find flaws in your own large field of life as in other', in fact much easier, since you are even more familiar with your own mistakes than with theirs. The trouble is that it is much less agreeable. This little unkindness, that little social awkwardness, the sharp, harsh word you uttered yesterday when a small matter went wrong—it is much more unpleasant to remember those than to point out a friend's shortcomings. It is, however, much more profitable. Those were words of Orlando's, the good wrestler, the good lover, and a good friend: "I was child no breather in the world but myself, against whom I know most faults"

BONDS

Are Mortgages on Fixed Assets

When a township issues debendtures (or bonds) it gives a mortgage on the whole township for security to the buyers of the bonds for the loan of their money for a definite uumber of years at a satisfactory rate of interest.

If the amount required is large it is divided into small mortgages, (that is, bonds or debentures) of $500 or $1,000 each, with the same security behind each, so that investors with small sums may take advantage it.

Bonds or debentures are rated the safest kind of an investment.

Lightning-Proof!

Lightning may strike, but it can never set fire to your buildings when they are roofed with

Pedlar's Steel Shingles

For Safety, Permanence and Economy

Of course, the roof must be properly grounded at the four corners. When your roof is so covered and grounded you need not fear the fiercest lightning, because, even if it does strike, it is deflected over the whole roof, and runs harmlessly into the earth down the ground wires. Dog in Eagle's Talons

Pedestrians in Riverside Drive New York, paused at 1 30 o'clock Sunday afternoon to at what seemed to them an extraordinarily small aeroplane. It was sharply silhouetted against the clouds at a height of 1.500 feet or so, and the astonishment of the observers grew as the "machine" apparently hovered, a thing that aeroplanes can't do yet, but will when the helicopter has been perfected.

A woman in an apartment on West End avenue, noticing the sky-gazing crowds, get out a pair of field glasses to gain a closer view of the thing that was attracting their attention. What she saw through the binoculars led her to turn to a telescope, and then she had revealed to her a most unusual spectacle.

The "aeroplane" was in reality an eagle, riding leisurely on the stiff northwest breeze and bearing in its talons a terrier. Whether it was a small Airdale or an Irish terrier the woman could not be sure, but it plainly was a dog, and as she watched she could see the great bird strike with its beak at the eyes of its prey or at the base of its skull.

For ten minutes the woman watched the strange sight. She lowered her telescope then for a moment and when she scanned the heavens again the eagle was lost in the clouds.

What Struck Him

Like the dyspeptic who said that the only food he ever liked was the food he couldn't get, a certain Patrick—a soldier in the late war but now a family servant—seems to have been especially susceptible to what may be called negative impressions. This son of Erin brought an honorable scar or two from France.

Once he described his part in a battle, and when he had finished was asked by some one:

"What struck you most forcibly when all was over and you looked back to it?"

"Ah," said the old servant, reflectively, "I think, sir," with simplicity—"that what struck me most forcibly, sir, was the shells that missed me!"

Too Talkative

John was out driving with a young lady friend. Presently the young man said, "Mary, let's we two get married." "All right," said the young woman.

The two drove on during a silence which lasted for nearly half an hour. Then Mary said, "John why don't you say something?"

"I've said too much already," said John.

Room For All

Tim is such a big hearted fellow.

That is why I refused to marry him. He is so big hearted he can love half a dozen girls at the same time.

Bert—Well, only yesterday he told me what awful dreams he has.

Home Again

I stood and gazed upon the land,
  And seemed as if a magic hand
Around my heart a vision drew,
  Of older times, just me and you.
I saw again as days of yore
  Those loved ones I will see no more;
But still my heart shall ever be
  Loving, longing, dear one for thee.

I see again that homestead dear,
  Its loving thoughts cause many a tear,
That dear old home beloved of yore.
  I never realized before
That home was such a sacred place:
  And all through life's long dreary race
The thoughts of home shall fill my heart,
  Till from this world I do depart.

And in that vision I could see
  Sweet faces all so dear to me
As when a child I used to roam,
  Around that yet beloved home:
Again I seem to think I hear
  The voice of loved ones soft and clear:
I see again all knelt in prayer,
  Around the family altar there.

Alas the vision floats away:
  I see again the light of day,
And memory comes again to me,
  Bringing that pain and agony
Of thoughts, for those we'll see no more.
  Till on that happy golden shore
We meet again, no more to roam:
  Ah, that will be a glorious Home.

The Care of Farm Implements.

(Experimental Farms Note).

The annual loss due to ignorance or negligence in the care of farm implements is appalling. Figures have been published from time to time showing depreciation on implements from lack of shelter and care, still many farmers winter their implements in the field manufacturer, if he is to prosper, must keep his production cost at the lowest possible figure. The same applies to the farmer, who is no less a manufacturer, and one of the ways in which he can materially cut down his expenses is in the proper care of his implements and tools.

All implements when not in use should be under cover, and not left exposed to the influence of the weather. A machine or implement shed need not be an elaborate affair. If it can be wholly closed, so much the better. It should be conveniently situated, and the front should consist largely of roller doors, so that any implement can readily be obtained. As to the arranging of the various implements, a binder being used practically at one season of the year, may be stored in a far corner, leaving space nearer the door for mowers, ploughs and other implements used at various times throughout the season.

A stitch in time saves nine, and many an expensive repair item might be saved by repairing a machine at the first appearance of trouble. When implements are taken out they should be looked over carefully, nuts tightened, adjustments and trial repairs made, which if left might develope to no end of trouble. Far too little machine oil is used, causing excessive wearing on bearings and castings, and working untold injury on the machine. A coat of paint not only adds to the appearance, but greatly prolongs the life of both wood and iron. Polished surfaces, such as plough shares and mould boards, should be smeared with grease or painted with kerosene and lamp black when not in use.

A good farmer must be a good mechanic, more especially if he operates tractors and other large machinery, otherwise repair items will be high, and the usefulness of the tractor or machine greately impaired. If possible avail yourself of some course at a tractor school, and become familiar with the instricacies of your motor. In this way you will obtain better service, and the repair items and mechanics' bills will be reduced to a minimum.

A work shop, with a small forge and anvil, and some good tools for both wood and iron, is a great convenience, and indeed a necessity on many farms. Having this, many repairs and adjustments can be made, plough shares pointed and sharpened, and a host of other things done that would necessitate a trip to the local blacksmith or machine shop.

No one takes more pride than the owner of a well-ordered and cared-for farm where there ie a place for everything and everything is in its place.

Railway News

Montreal.—Automobile accidents are still continuing at railway crossings despite all the efforts of the railways to prevent them. In one instance at Holland Centre, Ontario, an automobile drove up and stopped on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The driver thought that an approaching train would take another passing track. The driver, realizing his mistake, tried to get his car out of the way of the train. But his car was stalled. The engineer was unable to stop the train, with the result that the automobile was smashed and three occupants of the car were injured.

At a crossing on Aylmer Road, near Hull, Quebec, an automobile ran into a Canadian Pacific train. The driver was going too fast to stop his automobile when he saw the train. Two occupants of the automobile were injured.

A motor accident with all the thrills of a movie stunt occurred at the corner of Yonge and King streets, Toronto, when an automobile charged into one of the King street windows of the Canadian Pacific Building, making a report that sounded as though the gas tank had exploded.

The car, according to the police, was coming north on Yonge street. The signals were against the car, which in its flight grazed a Belt Line car going east on King street. It continued to swerve right across the pavement into the plate glass front of the imposing C. P. R. office building. Here, with a loud backfire from the engine, the car suddenly plunged its front wheels through the quarter-inch plate-glass window. Being up against an immovable obstacle it naturally came to a standstill.

No one was hurt. The fender of the car was badly smashed up, the right front tire torn off and the rear wheel badly damaged. The window was broken right across the whole twelve feet or so, and to a height of about six feet in one point.

The driver admitted that he was nervous at the time; he hadn't the slightest idea of what was happening.

New Liskeard.—The work of constructing the northerly extension of the C. P. R from Kipawa to Des Quinze is progressing at a good rate, and already the grading has been completed on 35 miles of the extension, with 19 miles of rails having been laid.

The present contract, held by Angus & Taylor of North Bay, calls for the construction of 70 miles of roadbed, the northern end terminating in the vicinity of Des Quinze, one of the greatest series of waterfalls in Northern Canada.

This extension places the C. P. R. on the southern outskirts of mineral lands of big prospective merit in that part of the Province of Quebec lying adjacent to the gold-mining fields of Ontario. It is known that the C. P. R. has also carried survey work far into the new land to the north.

Moose Jaw.—The subway at the Canadian Pacific Railway station is about to be put into commission. All six passenger tracks in the passenger terminal are completed, and the first four tracks are in operation. The work of completing the subway is in full swing. The stairways are in place and the interior of the subway is lined with the handsome glazed tile.

When the subway is put into commission the general public will not be permitted on the station platform. The tickets will be inspected at the doors leading from the waiting room to the subway. Passengers alighting from trains will descend the stairs to the subway and then pass up the stairs into the depot.

The completion of the subway will finish the building programme undertaken by the company three years ago.

Moose Jaw.—Out of a total of 44,817 cars of grain loaded at country elevators on the Canadian Pacific lines in the three prairie provinces, between September 1 and October 14, 25,500 cars were loaded in the Saskatchewan district.

The total quantity of grain shipped on the Canadian Pacific lines up until October 14th, was 65,219,498 bushels, or an average of 1,455 bushels per car.

Some idea of the enormous increase in the quantity of grain handled this year, up until October 14, as compared with the amount handled in the same period in 1915 and 1921, can be obtained from the figures following:

Year.	Bushels Shipped.	Cars Loaded.	Bushels Marketed.
1915	43,006,880	32,336	46,540,000
1921	43,870,422	31,644	52,781,871
1922	65,219,498	44,817	84,959,194

St. John, N.B.—On the Shore Line division of the C. P. R. the laying of heavy rails is being continued from St. Stephen towards St. John, and it is expected that the heavy steel will be completed to Pennfield before the very cold weather sets in.

Whittaker, the Optician, will be in Chesterville Dec. 12th and in Finch Dec. 14th.

In 1870 the negro porter of a New York bank with $200 he had saved bought two shares of bank stock. After that the value of his shares went up from $100 to $2500 each, and the number of his shares, through stock dividends, from two to forty. Having refused during all these years to sell out, he retired some time ago with a fortune of $100,000 all based on that first small investment.

Cuban Concert Heard in Chesterville

Last evening Mr. Elvin LaSalle had the satisfaction of "listening in" on his radio set to a concert broadcasted from the city of Havana, Cuba. The announcements were all made first in Spanish followed by English. Besides the musical numbers the advantages of Cuba as a winter resort were sent broadcast. Mr. LaSalle's outfit is of his own installation and those who have heard others pronounce his by far the best amateur outfit they have seen with the greatest range. Last night portions of the concerts were also heard from Fort Worth, Texas, and College Port, Georgia, while a few nights ago numbers from Los Angeles, Calif., were distinctly heard.

Sister Mary Amable Dies Suddenly

At a late hour on Thursday night last, Sister Mary Amable, Superior of St. Mary's Convent, Chestervile, was called suddenly by death. She had retired that evening, feeling as well as usual, at least without making any complaint. Some time after ten o'clock the sisters were disturbed by noise of moaning. Going to their Superior they found her lying in an unconscious state. The doctor, also the kind pastor, Rev. Father L. E Staley, were summoned at once, but before the clock struck eleven the spirit of the dear sister had departed. Two sisters left Kingston at once for Chesterville, to be with the bereaved sisters, and to accompany the remains home. After high mass was sung in the parish church for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Pastor, the remains were transferred by C. P. R. to Brockville and thence by G. T. R. to Kingston.

Sister Mary Amable was one of a large family of the late Timothy Leroux of Williamstown. She was educated at the Notre Dame Convent there, and at the age of 18 years entered the Novitate of the sisters of Providence. She devoted herself zealously to the different works of the institute, endearing herself to the poor, the sick and all with whom she came in contact. She successively held the office of Superior in Perth, Arnprior, Glen Nevis, Trenton and Chesterville.

The funeral was held from the Church of Our Mother of Sorrows Kingston, at eight o'clock on Monday morning the 27th inst. Solemn requiem mass was offered by His Grace the Archbishop.
