Neighbors helping neighbors

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Thieves and vandals be warned, the Neighborhood Watch program is coming to Chesterville.

About 25 interested citizens turned up for an organizational Neighborhood Watch meeting last Tuesday at the Community Hall. Local OPP were pleased with the turn-out, but noted that the program needs the co-operation of the public to be successful.

"We can no longer go along with the attitude that crime prevention is only a police job," said Const. John Watson, of the Morrisburg OPP. "We have to have the cooperation of the community".

Const. Watson said most crimes are committed because of the opportunity presented by the victim.

Crime is caused by carelessness, he said. A classic case is leaving your house keys under a door mat, or not having your grass cut when you are away. "A lot of people are complacent. They become overly familiar with their surroundings," he said.

Neighborhood Watch is a program of neighbors watching other neighbors' property in a protective way. A police officer who is patrolling the community may not recognize a stranger in a yard, but the surrounding neighbors would. The program works through mutual aid.

Const. Watson said he has never implemented a full program in a rural area and that Neighborhood Watch is usually set up in larger communities.

"We would have to modify it - create zone leaders and captains - but the result would be the same," he said. It would take about 10 to 20 people to form a Neighborhood Watch committee, he added.

Cpl. Bob Lyon of the Winchester OPP said that the area does not have a major crime problem. "We are one of the lucky municipalities," he said. In spite of that, he said, crime is still a major concern.

In the Ottawa, Hawkesbury, Cornwall and Morrisburg districts, Cpl. Lyon said, there have been 1,035 break-and-enters in the first eight months of this year.

This marks an increase of 10 per cent, he said. Annually in the Winchester detachment area there are roughly 80 to 100 break-ins a year, Cpl. Lyon said.

He added that break-and-enters in the area are up the same as they are across the district. To date, he said, $61,000 worth of property has been stolen with a recovery of $13,000.

Cpl. Lyon said the penalty for break-and-enter goes up to imprisonment for life.

"The police are just part of the system," Cpl. Lyon said. The penalties are in the Criminal Code, and go into the court system. History shows us that penalties go in cycles, he said.

Const. Gary Imbeau, of the Winchester OPP, noted the importance of marking valuables. "They can only be returned if we know who they belong to," he said. Any police department in Canada can enter a number into the police computer and stolen items can be traced. Engravers are available at local OPP stations.

Const. Watson noted that the police can not keep watch over a neighborhood 24 hours a day.

"It only takes the commitment of people in the community to Neighborhood Watch to keep the crime rate down," he said.

"We cannot do it alone. It may be something as minor as someone screeching their tires," he said. "But if later on that same person hits and kills someone, how would you feel if you knew you could have called?"

The OPP said they don't mind receiving a call if you feel suspicious. Only you know what looks normal in your neighborhood. "We are just as guilty as letting these people run around as a judge who lets someone off easy," Const. Watson said. Neighborhood Watch brings people together protecting their own community.

Tile drainage funds increased: Timbrell

AVONMORE (Staff) - The provincial government has increased tile drainage to total some $209,500 to 12 eastern Ontario townships. Agriculture and Food Minister Dennis Timbrell made the announcement at an informal speech held in the Avonmore Community Centre Monday evening.

Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry are among the counties to receive increases. "The increases will enable these municipalities to provide more help to farmers in their areas," Mr. Timbrell said in a news release issued Monday.

Under the Tile Drainage Act of Ontario, a farmer applies to the municipality for a loan to finance the work. If the local council approves, the work is contracted and completed then approved by a township inspector. The municipality sells a debenture to the province to raise money for the loan.

The province allocates tile drainage funds to municipalities at the start of each fiscal year. They inform the ministry if there has been a change in loan requirements. "Only 12 eastern Ontario townships have contacted the ministry indicating they needed more funds," the minister said.

He pointed out that tile-drained fields can increase crop yields by about 50 per cent. "It has been estimated that for every $1 invested, there is a return of $18," said the minister in the news release.

Mr. Timbrell also announced that the provincial government intends to change the Ontario Farm Tax Rebate Program next year. The change calls for a 60 per cent rebate to qualifying farmers who meet production criteria on their farm taxes. That's an increase of 10 per cent.

He added that about $90 million will be returned to Ontario's farming communities against the municipal tax bill. In addition, the productivity criteria for farms in eastern Ontario will be reduced from $8,000 to $5,000.

Reforms are also needed in Section 31 of the Federal Income Tax Act in order to put farmers on the same footing as other small businessmen. "Compared to other businessmen, farmers are at a disadvantage," said Mr. Timbrell. "They (farmers) have to be treated as well if not better, because of additional problems faced in farming."

The minister also announced that a $1.5 million display arena will be built in the spring of 1984 at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology. The arena will replace the temporary quarters for livestock shows and instruction.

"This new building will be about three times the size of the present temporary facilities in the college's farm machinery building," Mr. Timbrell said. The new building will feature a show ring and bleacher seating for 620 people with the potential for an additional 620 seats.

Young Farmers Assistance was also discussed at the meeting. Mr. Timbrell said that up to five percentage points of interest would be rebated to those farmers putting up money to get started. He estimated that up to 1,000 new farmers a year would be assisted by the program, covering loans of up to $300,000. Mr. Timbrell added that about $35 million over the next five years have been ear-marked for the program.

In order to combat the doldrums in the beef industry, the minister said he met with representatives from the federal government, Saskatchewan and Alberta about three weeks ago to discuss possible solutions. About 80 per cent of the country's beef is produced in Ontario, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

One solution discussed is stop-loss insurance for red-meat producers. The program would be voluntary with the federal and provincial governments and the producers themselves each picking up one-third of the premiums costs. The minister said that the cost to both levels of government would run into the "tens of millions of dollars."

There was an emotional outburst when questions were

Morewood couple made honorary SD&G fire chiefs

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - A Morewood couple, Walter and Mary Mattice, have been appointed as honorary fire chiefs of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry for 1983.

Mr. Mattice was presented with the ceremonial gold helmet that goes along with the position Saturday evening in South Mountain at the SD and G Mutual Fire Aid 15th annual banquet and dance.

This represents only the third time in the 15 year history of SD and G Mutural Aid that someone has been made honorary chief. The award is given to someone who is not a member of any fire department but who has made a contribution to or helped a fire department.

Ed Hiscoe, the local representative of the fire services advisory branch of the Fire Marshal's Office, told the crowd gathered at the Agricultural Hall that both Mr. Mattice and his wife Mary had given of themselves to help others and have never asked for anything in return.

Before there ever was a fire department, Mr. Mattice would usually be one of the first individuals to arrive at the scene of a fire, Mr. Hiscoe said.

Mr. Mattice was active in those years fighting fires by organizing bucket brigades, usually using cans or water trucks, and he often helped to carry victim's personal possessions out of the fire area.

He supported the formation of a fire department in 1972 and his youngest son Ricky became a captain and later deputy chief of the fire department. Mr. Mattice's eldest son is also a fire fighter with the Morewood Fire Department.

Since the formation of the fire department eleven years ago one of the emergency phones has been in the Mattice household, with most of the emergency calls being handled by either Mr. or Mrs. Mattice.

In most cases when an emergency calls comes in Mrs. Mattice would phone fire fighters while Mr. Mattice would sometimes be the first to arrive at the fire hall. He would open the station doors and usually drive to the fire scene in his own car to offer assistance, direct traffic, run messages, find coffee and sandwiches for the fire fighters and just be there in case he was needed.

"Walter will often return to the scene of a fire later on in the day or night to check on the burned or damaged structure and offer his assistance if it is needed," Mr. Hiscoe said.

He mentioned one recent example of Mr. Mattice helping out the victim of a fire. On September 14 the Mesman family lost their barn to fire. Mr. Mattice was on the scene at 5am, drove some of the fire fighters back to the station and returned to the fire scene to help Mr. Mesman milk his cows in an improvised milking area at 7:30am.

"Mr. and Mrs. Mattice, it is with great pleasure that I present to you this gold helmet recognizing you as the honorary fire chief of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry for the year of 1983," Mr. Hiscoe said.

In accepting the gold helmet Mr. Mattice said, "Thank you very much for this honor. It may be more than I deserve, but thank you again."

Chesterville Village council adopts Market Value Assessment for 1984

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Some Village property taxes may be going up, and some may be coming down. That's because Chesterville Village Council resolved, at their Monday night meeting, to adopt Market Value Assessment to determine property taxes in the 1984 tax year.

Village Reeve, Carl Ward, said that Village property owners may see a slight decrease or increase in their property taxes. He pointed out that the Village will not generate more revenue from taxes because of the Market Value Assessment. It will redistribute taxes on a more equal basis, he said. "The total taxes collected will be the same under the new system as it was under the old system."

The first step in the process, Reeve Ward said, was that Council passed a resolution requesting an impact study for the Village. The Assessment Office in Cornwall conducted the impact study and then presented it during a closed session of Council. Reeve Ward noted that three open sessions (one on a Saturday for those who cannot make it during the week) will be held this January for property owners who may have concerns.

In a notice to the ratepayers of the Village, Reeve Ward stated that "It is the firm belief of Council that if the Village did not move to Market Value Assessment voluntarily, we would be directed by the Province to do so in the near future." The Impact study was fully funded by the Province, and "under the new system, the Market Value Assessment of properties will be reviewed every three years to ensure that fair taxation assessment will be in line with normal fluctuations in the market values of properties." Reeve Ward said that if the Village had waited to do an Impact Study later on, it may not have been funded by the Province.

He noted that Village Councillors do not have any specific details about the Market Value Assessment. "All we know is that certain property taxes will increase and certain ones will decrease.

Morris Fay, Assessment Commissioner with the Ontario Ministry of Revenue, said that Village properties have been reviewed. "What we have done is re-inspect all the properties in Chesterville, he said. "We have analysed what the values were in 1980, and applied these values to return an assessment on the properties."

Mr. Fay noted that there are different classes of properties: residential, commercial, industrial, and farm. He said that any class cannot pay more in taxes than they previously paid. "We can not collect any more from each class as a whole," he said. "This means that taxes will be redistributed among the class." Mr. Fay added that the system was very complex. Five other municipalities in our area have already adopted the tax change.

Agrep office moves

AVONMORE (Staff) - The Stormont county agricultural representative's office will be moved sometime in the next year from its current Cornwall location to the Village of Avonmore.

Although the move has been discussed for many years, it wasn't formally announced by Agriculture and Food minister Dennis Timbrell until Monday evening. Mr. Timbrell, speaking to a crowd at the Avonmore Community Centre, said, "I have decided to move the office here as soon as possible because this is where the farmers are and this is where the farmers should be."

Stormont ag rep Dale Miller said yesterday he felt the move a good one and will end up benefitting Stormont county farmers.

"We will then have four offices close to Highway 43," he said. "Kemptville, Winchester, Avonmore and Alexandria."

Mr. Miller said he felt the current Cornwall location for the office wasn't the best since "we're tucked away down in the southeast corner of the county."

"It's been under discussion at the staff level for about the past 15 years," he said.

It appears the decision to make the office move came out of an OMAF policy committee conference that was held in Toronto either late September or early October of this year.

An executive assistant to Mr. Timbrell George Boddington told The Record a memorandum written in late October laid down the reasons for the office move and the expected benefits.

"The current office is not located near the centre of agricultural activity," he said. "Cornwall is not an agricultural trading centre and the current office is not in particularly good shape. They don't have a board room (the office lost their board room in 1971) so they've had to

ND students reflect on solemnity of Nov. 11

By Laura Hunter
and
Irene Jansen

It was on a very solemn note that the students of N.D.D.H.S. started their weekend as they attended the school's Remembrance Day Service. Many thanks are extended to Mr. Shane, the band and the participating students for an impressive program and also to Kim Murdoch, Tim O'Connor and Greg Davidson for their fine playing at various services in the local area.

Reach for the Top season, alas, draws to a close quite early as the team, although having won their first game against Thousands Islands Secondary School with a score of 270 to 260, unfortunately lost their second and final game to Carleton Place High School. However, the score was a close 290 to 275, and the team has gained valuable experience, this being the first year of competition for all players. Misfortune hit not only the Reach for the Top team but also the band. Their first concert of the year, originally scheduled for Wednesday, had to be postponed until Monday. Best of luck, weather wise, is wished to Mr. St. Louis and the band.

While the band was practising for their performance, rehearsals of other types were occurring at the same time. The Drama club's presentation of "Up the Down Staircase" is beginning to take shape, in addition, the finer voices of the school, in keeping with the upcoming season, are rehearsing a Christmas musical under the direction of Rev. Bert De Bruijn. Hopefully, other voices of the school won't hit higher notes as a direct result of belonging to the ski club, which started this week. After landing face first in the snow, one positive means of identification for the unfortunate skier would be his or her school jacket, the sale of which also started this week.

The senior girls basketball hung up their sneakers on Thursday, ending their season on a positive note with a victory over Glengarry High School (43-35). This win gives our team a second place finish in the league. Congratulations to Ms. Wilson and the entire team on a fine season.

While the basketball team looks back on a gratifying year, the senior students find that they must look forward to a sometimes uncertain future as the Guidance department reminds them that the time is drawing near to fill out college or university applications and pictures are taken in preparation for eventual graduates. Although the material rewards for this year's hard work seem a long way off, those for last year's come on Wednesday during the student achievement program, a presentation ceremony designed to recognize students who have put extra effort into some of the many aspects of school life, such as sports, academics, art, drama, or community services.

conduct their courses in Avonmore."

Mr. Boddington said the move to Avonmore would be beneficial since the community is located "in the geographic centre of the county, it is the main agricultural centre and it is believed that farmers will have greater access to the office and make better use of it."

Mr. Boddington said he felt the move would be greeted with enthusiasm by all concerned. He said the Stormont Federation of Agriculture had asked for such a move and the agriculture committee of the United Counties Council had previously given their blessings to a move.

He said the move would take place sometime next year and was not sure if the office would locate in an already existing building or if a new one would be constructed.

"They are looking at a couple of different locations in the town," he said, "but that does not preclude a new building."

Study reveals health fallacies

KINGSTON (Special) - A nationwide survey of the health knowledge of 30,000 Canadian children last year revealed a large number of fallacies about health.

The "Canadian Health Knowledge Survey" was conducted by a research team at Queen's University in collaboration with a seven-person team of health education experts from across Canada. The purpose of the survey was to obtain a nationwide measure of the health knowledge of young Canadians (aged nine, 12 and 15) in a number of essential health areas, such as nutrition, safety, fitness, smoking and drugs.

In general, the children scored poorly in the survey, and correct answers diminished with each older age group. Nine-year-olds answered only 50 per cent of the questions correctly, followed by 12-year-olds with 53 per cent, and 15 year-olds with 49 per cent. An acceptable result, according to the researchers, would be at least 67 per cent.

The survey was administered through the schools in the fall of 1982. Teachers in over 1000 schools across Canada distributed the 30-minute multiple-choice questionnaires to students in grades four, seven and ten.

allowed from the floor. The first question came from Mike Thiele who represents the Eastern Ontario Chicken Farmers. He asked the minister why there had been no acknowledgement of a telegram Mr. Thiele had sent the minister regarding establishing a quota system for eastern Ontario poultry producers.

In a voice quivering with emotion, Mr. Thiele said that while he received confirmation from federal Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan of a similiar telegram, Mr. Timbrell had not responded. He went on to accuse the minister of being "a smooth customer behind the mike up on the podium."

Mr. Timbrell answered that there had been on-going communication and with the issue now before the courts he was not as a minister of the crown, able to meet with Mr. Thiele as requested in the telegram. That would show that he was partial to one side of the issue, he explained. Mr. Timbrell somewhat uncomfortable, then calmly thanked Mr. Thiele for coming and for showing the audience how his organization operated. The minister told Mr. Thiele that he wouldn't get anything done by shouting.

Iroquois boys nominated for Jr. Citizen

IROQUOIS (Staff) - Eugene McInnis and Greg DeJong have been nominated for the Ontario Junior Citizen of the Year Award.

The two grade five students at St. Cecilia's Separate School helped avert a serious school bus accident last winter.

On Feb. 10, they were travelling home with their fellow students on the bus when the vehicle left Concession Three in Matilda Township and travelled eastbound in the south ditch for about 100 feet before regaining the pavement. It crossed the road and entered another ditch and smashed through a fence, when the driver, Winnifred Paterson was thrown into the stairwell. The bus was headed directly towards a barn.

Eugene and Greg, who were seated behind the bus driver, then displayed some quick thinking. Eugene braked the bus, while Greg steered it away from the barn.

The two have been nominated for the Award by Eugene's grandmother, Mrs. Lloyd Whitteker, and by Sylvia Barkley, mother of last year's Ontario Junior Citizen, Rodney Barkley. They have also received the support of municipal councils from Iroquois, Morrisburg and the Townships of Matilda and Williamsburg.

The latest nomination has come from Chesterville's St. Mary's School prinicipal Sheila O'Connor. The nomination form also included the signatures of many S. Mary's teachers, and grade four and five students. "Because of their brave act they may have saved many lives," Mrs. O'Connor said. "They were able to think quickly in a time of tragedy." Mrs. O'Connor added that school bus safety is very important for all students.

For their brave act Eugene and Greg have received a plaque from the S, D and G Separate School Board. The School Board praised the boys for considering the safety of all the students travelling home on the bus, and also nominated them for the Ontario Junior Citizen of the Year award.

The pair have also received a letter from Education Minister Dr. Bette Stephenson. The letter notes that their "keen powers of observation and sense of urgency undoubtedly turned a possible tragedy into an occasion for genuine thanksgiving. As Minister of Education may I extend to you my heartiest congratulations and commendation for your brave and thoughtful act."

Eugene is the son of Douglas and Marilyn McInnis, RR2 Iroquois, and Greg is the son of Albert and Reina DeJong, RR1 Iroquois.

Mary Casselman

A Winchester Springs housewife, Mary Agnes Casselman, 91, died Nov. 15, 1983 at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

She was born May 17, 1892 in Dunbar, daughter of the late Lemuel Dillabough and Rebecca Elliott.

Predeceased are husband Aden Henry Casselman, and daughter Edna (Mrs. Victor Riddell). Surviving is daughter Georgina (Mrs. Russell Ault), and sons Percy, RR1 Williamsburg, Clifford of Morrisburg, and Graham of Winchester Springs. Also surviving are nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Nov. 17 from the Vice and Craig Funeral Home in Winchester, with Rev. E. Royle officiating. Interment followed at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pallbearers were four grandchildren: Doug Casselman, Kevin Casselman, Eric Riddell, and Fay Riddell.

Arnold optimistic on new hall

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The man spearheading a campaign to have a new community hall constructed in Chesterville says he is optimistic the project will succeed and predicts it could be June or July of 1984 before the project receives final approval.

Dave Arnold, Chesterville's recreation director, held a preliminary meeting on November 15 with various community groups to discuss the possibility of building a new community hall and while he said the attendance was not very good, the people that did attend were enthusiastic about the project.

The next meeting of the group will be held sometime before Christmas and it is then that Mr. Arnold expects the group to establish the project's terms of reference.

"Then we'll approach the (Chesterville Village) council and see if they will approve the idea," Mr. Arnold said. "If they approve it we'll have to get a consultant's estimate and apply for a Ministry of Tourism and Recreation grant under the Community Recreation Planning Program."

He said the terms of reference would answer questions such as the design of the building, the location, what will the revenues, expenditures and capital costs be.

While saying that there is interest in the project, Mr. Arnold admits that a new hall won't be built tomorrow.

"It's going to be slow," he said, "but the money is there so we'll definitely go ahead."

Stray cat blues

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - At their Monday meeting Chesterville Village Council again received complaints about stray and wild cats on Joseph and Harper Streets.

It is estimated that about 40 starving cats are roaming the area. Councillor Rudi Derstroff, who drafted the Village Dog Control Policy, said he would look into the problem.

"The Municipal Act does give us some authority," Mr. Derstroff said, "I will check it out and see if something can be done."

Council also passed by-laws designating Industrial Park Road and Brannen Road as Village Streets.

Council declared Dec. 5-11 as Human Rights Week in the Village of Chesterville. The Week honors equal treatment of all people, and is in spirit of the Human Rights Code. Dec. 10 is Human Rights Day across the province.

Winter parking regulations have also gone into effect. No parking is allowed between midnight and 7am on Village Streets for the months of Nov., Dec., Jan., Feb., and March. The parking ban is to allow for snow removal. Cars parked on Village Streets during these hours will be removed at cost to the owner.

Institute serves veterans

BERWICK (Staff) - The Berwick WI delayed their regular meeting on Nov. 11 to serve lunch to veterans, their families, representatives of businesses and organizations that laid wreaths at the cenotaph in Berwick on Remembrance Day.

The roll call was answered by six members and three visitors. Mrs. Clair Robertson gave the secretary and treasurer's report. Thank yous were read from the 4-H and a motion was made to change the Berwick WI Christmas party to Dec. 11. There will be a pot luck lunch served at 1:30pm. Those attending are asked to bring a stamped Christmas card, a gift for exchange and something for the program.

Mrs. Lillian Bogart had the surprise which was won by Mrs. Lillian Johnstone.

In Memoriams

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of a dear Mother and Mother-in-Law, Mertie Heagle who passed away Nov. 22, 1980.
No Mom could ever be
As precious as you were to me,
No words could ever convey,
The sadness I feel for you each day,
Our gift of love was very rare,
The love a daughter and Mother share.
We shared that love "Mom" you and I
From the day I was born, till the day you died.
Sadly missed by Norma and Leslie.

IN MEMORIAM
RUNIONS — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Alva Runions, who passed away Nov. 23, 1970.
Gone dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place,
Ever remembered, Ray, June, Barry & Randy Runions
13-1

IN MEMORIAM
HEAGLE — In loving memory of a dear mother, mother-in-law Mertie Mae who passed away Nov. 22, 1980.
We still can treasure every smile
Each tender word and look
And keep them as a rose is pressed
In memory's treasure book.
Sadly missed Greta, Vera, Freeda and Velma.

Auto blaze

A 44-year-old Iroquois man escaped injury early Monday afternoon when the 1978 Dodge he was driving burst into flames. Winchester OPP say Cyril Barton was driving the car eastbound on Highway 43, .5 kilometres east of Concession Road 5, when he noticed smoke coming out from underneath the dashboard. Mr. Barton pulled the car over to the side of the road and managed to get out before the car burst into flames. The car, owned by Dennis Barton, sustained $4,000 in damage.

Egg increase

OTTAWA (Staff) - Egg producers will be paid two cents a dozen more for Grade A large on Monday as the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency (CEMA) returns to its regular pricing policy suspended during a price freeze for most of September and October.

The two-cent increase announced by the agency is the second of two steps to recover a four-cent difference between actual prices and those dictated by the agency's pricing formula. The first two cents were recovered October 31.

CEMA chose to gradually return to formula pricing, rather than increase the price by four cents in one jump, to ease the impact on consumers.

Egg prices were frozen September 12, by the federal cabinet under its 6-and-5 restraint program. The agency was told to rollback two cents of a four-cent increase in September while a subsequent two-cent hike set for October was also blocked.

But after reviewing its position, the cabinet decided it could not unilaterally impose the restraint guidelines on egg prices because of an 11-year-old agreement with the provinces governing egg marketing in Canada.

Provincial council studies SLC's preference policy

CORNWALL (Staff) - The Council of Regents of Ontario's 22 Community Colleges has set up a task force to study regional preference admissions in response to a controversial St. Lawrence College St. Laurent policy.

St. Lawrence has become the leader among Ontario Community Colleges by defying a Ministry of Education directive that would have seen them drop their regional preference policy for limited enrolment programs.

The Council of Regents was visiting St. Lawrence College last week for their monthly meeting. A surprise visit on Wednesday night by Education Minister, Dr. Bette Stephenson, led to the formation of the task force to study the controversial policy.

If St. Lawrence drops its regional policy, students from outside the area that the College serves would have the same opportunity for acceptance into a limited enrolment program as students applying from the region.

At an October meeting, the Colleges' Board of Governors decided to defy the Ministry directive. The board stated that "the primary responsibility of St. Lawrence is to provide education opportunities for the adult residents of Frontenac, Leeds, Grenville, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry counties and neighbouring townships."

Council of Regents Chairman Norm Williams, said that the issue is a complex one. "There is no question that now you can't do it," he said. Mr. Williams said that the task force study should be completed within a few months. "Then we'll have to decide on a policy that will apply to our whole system," he said.

Mr. Williams said that the Council of Regents is split on the issue, and added that 21 out of 22 Community College Presidents don't feel that regional preference is even an issue. The main opposition, he said, is from the six Toronto area colleges, because they have public transportation which allows accessibility of all students.

Mr. Williams said that St. Lawrence is different because it serves a very large area. "I don't think that there is any other College that is this vast." He also noted that the College's three campuses, in Cornwall, Brockville and Kingston have the perfect set-up because they are joined by a major link, the 401.

Regional preference is an issue "because of human rights legislation," Mr. Williams said. "It is something we would like to get solved as fast as we can." A modification to the policy may be all that is needed, he added.

St. Lawrence College is the only Ontario Community College to have a written policy in favor of local admissions. The policy was established in 1971.

The Council of Regents also discussed bilingualism during their meeting. They have supported St. Lawrences' philosophy of bilingual education. St. Lawrence feels that "while language has cultural implications, at the college level it should be viewed first as a vehicle for communications and learning," and that "individuals should have the freedom to choose the language of instruction most appropriate for them." College President Bill Cruden said that "we must learn to work together, not to just exist in separate worlds," Regents Chairman Williams noted that education in either language, or both, seems to be working well.

Mr. Williams also noted that Community College enrolment is up this year. Across the province it is up 9.6 per cent, and some Colleges' enrolment is up as much as 30 per cent. Mr. Williams said that economic factors have led to the increase this year. "When the economy is down the number of students seems to increase," he said. "They seek the opportunity for job training," he said.

Broadcaster addresses JFs

BERWICK (Special) - The Zone 1 Junior Farmers banquet was hosted by Russell county on Nov. 19 at the Russell Community Centre.

Following dinner, Ed Needham, guest speaker, provided some food for thought. During Ed's 30 years of broadcasting, he has worked throughout the world as a photographer and writer for television, newspapers and magazines. Ed is currently an Open Line Host and Newshost of CFRA.

Ed encouraged the agricultural section of the listening consumers to make every effort to gain better news coverage. At present, agricultural news is very low on the rating scale. Early AM broadcasts and one half hour show per week goes towards the farmers. Good contacts between press committees and news people is important for accurate coverage.

Ed also stated that "trusting thyself and thy own decisions" can be more reliable for the farmer than some "experts" opinions.

Communication needed

OTTAWA (Special) - Results of an Agriculture Canada survey on animal health consultation show that more communication is needed between government, veterinarians, and producers.

The survey was run last fall and questionnaires were distributed to non-government organizations, educational institutions and other federal departments concerned with animal health in Canada.

"We asked people if they were satisfied with the current level of consultation and, if not, to tell us how we could improve these efforts," said Dolores Scholl, co-ordinator of the study with Agriculture Canada's Food Production and Inspection Branch in Ottawa.

Nearly 60 per cent of the non-governmental organizations that answered the survey were not satisfied with existing consultation efforts by the government. Most indicated that they found out about new or proposed government programs, policies and regulations too late.

To improve the system, many organizations suggested better information flow between concerned organizations, earlier involvement of the private sector, and a more formal approach to consultations. Many also believed that a new organization should be created to deal only with animal health issues.

Chesterville Rotary

By John Macaulay

Monday night was Brian Doherty Night. President Dale McNaughton paid tribute to Brian; highlighting his tremendous contribution to the club and to the community. Brian joined Rotary in 1977 and was president in 1978. He introduced Snow-a-rama and was Easter Seal Campaign chairman. He was active in the Pancake Breakfast, the annual auction and Santa Claus parade. He was an active member on our special accounts committee. He was active and persuasive where Merrywood Camp was concerned and was always prepared to serve those less fortunate, "He was a true Rotarian" said Dale and our club will miss him greatly.

Brian replied to Dave very graciously. It then remained for Bob Bennett to show through slides, the many activities that Brian participated in.

The regular meeting was followed by the first open meeting of the museum committee. About twenty interested persons were present and a number of them are now members of the various sub-committees. It was an informative yet a quietly enthusiastic group and offered just the right interest to rejuvenate the whole project and to put in into its proper focus, a very feasible and popular commuity project.

The committee will now go back to the village council at its next meeting on December 5 with a solid proposal on a site for the museum and a possible agreement for its use.

We have two on the sick list this week in Carl Ward and Allison Graham. We wish them both a speedy recovery.

We had the pleasure of the company of John Whittam who is principal of a school for special children near Iroquois. John was the guest of Bob Saunders. Glad to have you John, come again.

Martin Derks reported on his visit to Ottawa for the lease signing of Rotel, a motel-type unit to provide overnight accommodation for out-patients and also for visitors to in-patients at seven Ottawa hospitals, treatment centers and veterans home. It will be available to all. This half million dollar complex was supported by the Chesterville Rotary club through a grant. We are proud to have shared in this dream.

Tim Woods reported that the Eric Casselman Memorial Fund is advancing at a steady pace. Have you made your contribution yet? Show you care, the more we collect the more beneficial the facilities at the Winchester Hospital will be. Give generously, share, so others can be helped.

Council consolidates plan

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The Village of Chesterville will soon have an Official Plan of its own.

Charles Miller, County Planner for the United Counties, reported at Monday night's Council meeting that a new provincial planning act has shifted official plans to the municipal level.

Since 1975, Chesterville has been under the North Dundas official plan. "The new planning act for Ontario finished joint planning boards as we know them," Mr. Miller said. He noted that part of the philosophy of the new planning act is to give persons in elected office the power to ammend the official plan.

Mr. Miller said that in Ontario, municipalities use two tools to control land use as pertaining to the planning act. One is the Official Plan, and the other is the Zoning Bylaw. "Basically an Official Plan is a long term policy document, intended to impose, or outline, long term plans," he said. "It is usually done generally in nature - lines or boundaries are general - it's intended as an overall policy."

An Official Plan has implications for re-zoning and subdivisions, Mr. Miller said. The new planning act provides a two year grace period for municipalities to create their Official Plan, he said. The North Dundas Official Plan would stay into effect until Aug. 1, 1985.

Village Council decided that they generally liked the policies in the North Dundas Plan, and agreed a consolidation of everything that applies to Chesterville should be taken out of the North Dundas Plan, put between two covers, and called the Chesterville Plan. Mr. Miller said that the Ministry has advised him they will accept and renew a consolidated plan.

Council could have decided to draft a new official plan for the Village with all the ramifications necessary, hold public meetings, and submit the plan for review. Council decided that they generally liked the policies in the North Dundas plan, and that it could be ammended when necessary.

OFA criticizes tax reduction program

But federation can live with plan until something better comes along

(Staff) - The Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA) isn't totally pleased with the latest version of OMAF's Farm Tax Reduction Program but OFA officials say they can live with it until something better comes along.

The previous proposal would have seen farmers, starting in 1984, receive a 100 per cent rebate on their taxes on farmland and farm buildings. The farm house - including one acre of land - would be assessed at 50 per cent of the value of similar residential lots in the area.

However after meeting with the OFA board of directors on November 10 OMAF's Dennis Timbrell announced that as a result of submissions from the OFA and other farm groups, the program starting in 1984 would be changed. As the program now reads - and the changes were officially made into regulations shortly after the November 10 announcement - the program will rebate 60 per cent of the total farm property tax bill, up from the 50 per cent rebate that qualifying farmers received under the old plan.

In addition, the OFA scored a minor victory by getting changes made to the annual gross production eligibility criteria. Previously the government had stated that to qualify for the rebates a farm had to generate a minimum of $5,000 per year. When changes were first announced in 1981 the government wanted to increase that figure to $12,000, but later agreed to a compromise of $8,000 in eastern and northern Ontario and $12,000 in western Ontario. Starting in 1984 however, those figures will drop to $5,000 in northern and eastern Ontario and $8,000 for central and southwestern Ontario.

In a statement released shortly after Mr. Timbrell's announcement, OFA president Ralph Barrie said the new program wasn't all that the organization had hoped it would be, but he was willing to accept it.

"In looking at the new program, we had to decide what was in the best interests of the farm community, although the new program is not what we originally asked for," he said. "The OFA believes the property tax system needs to be reformed because farmers shoulder an unfair portion of property taxes. The new proposal will help lighten this load by increasing the rebate, allow more farmers to participate, guarantee property rights and guarantee the program through regulation."

Apparently one of the factors that prompted the change in the tax program was the inaccuracy of some of OMAF's original projections of how the program would affect municipalities.

The OFA's Shirley Rowland said the government had to change the program for two reasons: further studies showed that less people would benefit than originally anticipated and the deterimental and wide-ranging impact it would have had on other taxpayers.

The proposed changes would have affected the assessment base of nearly all municipalities across the province and would have created a massive period of confusion as mill rates would have to be re-adjusted to conform. By shifting the farm household and one acre of land it sits on from farm to residential, from productivity value to equivalent residential assessment, it would raise the value of the house and lot, thus increasing the municipality's assessment base and forcing a change in the mill rates.

As for the change in the minimum gross production criteria, Mrs. Rowland called it "fantastic."

"We have said it should be $5,000 across the board," she said. "It's great that it's gone back down to $5,000 a year but we also wanted it for the rest of the counties."

1-East Christmas party Dec. 13

WINCHESTER (Special) - The November meeting of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was attended by 32 members with 13 coming from Chesterville.

The meeting regretfully accepted the resignation of first vice president Doris McVey. The nominating committee of Gail VanNoy and June Anderson will appreciate help in finding a replacement.

The Christmas Party for patients in 1-East will be held on Tues., Dec. 13 starting at 2pm.

The meeting voted in favour of a Teen Volunteer Award, the details to be announced later. Morrisburg reported receipts of $328 from a rummage sale, Ormond presented a cheque for $480 and announced they will take order for their Tupperware Party by phone. Summers Cass Bridge finished their canvass with 93 members and $329.50 in donations. The annual hospital auxiliary bazaar cleared roughly $2,600.

Delegates to the Hospital Auxiliary Annual Meeting, held in Toronto from Nov. 27 to 29 will be Arlene Davidson and Norma Hill. The two will participate in the project parade with a slide presentation. Jean Holmes, team volunteer co-ordinator, will take part in a teen volunteer discussion group at the same convention.

Chesterville Institute upgrading toy lending library

CHESTERVILLE (Special) - The Chesterville Women's Institute members met on Monday evening, Nov. 8, with an attendance of 26 members.

The President, Isabel Forward, convened the meeting and was assisted by Betty Forward as acting secretary in absence of Karen Graham.

Isabel Forward and Mary Fryers, who attended the Eastern Ontario W.I. Convention in Ottawa, presented an informative and interesting report.

It was agreed that the W.I. room would be made available for the elections on Dec. 15.

Margaret Casselman announced that generous donors had contributed $2,500 to the CNIB Fund this fall. This amount surpasses any of previous years.

Grace Macauley gave her report on the Toy Lending Library. She stated that all toys appeared in good shape, but that there was a need of buying a new supply. The members agreed to donate $50 to this need.

Maryke de Jong and Sue Westley agreed to be in charge of this project in the future and will be assisted by Joanne Saunders.

The business part of the meeting ended with the singing of the Queen.

The guest speaker, Bob Bennett, was introduced by Shelagh Derks. His topic dealt on the organization of the new Chesterville and District Museum.

He presented a film depicting interesting sites in Chesterville. He stated that this project would entail a tremendous amount of thought, planning and work before reaching completion. He mentioned the old Fire Station which dates back to 1867, and which no doubt is one of the oldest buildings in the township, might be a feasible structure for the new District Museum. Mr. Bennett was thanked and presented with a gift in appreciation. Lunch and a social hour followed.

$5 million in grants for Jaws of Life "a major step forward"

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - The $5 million the provincial government has agreed to make available for volunteer fire departments to purchase the Jaws of Life extrication equipment is a major step forward according to Al Dupuis, chief of the fire services advisory branch of the Ontario Fire Marshal's Office.

Al Dupuis

Mr. Dupuis, who has been chief since 1977, was guest speaker Saturday night in South Mountain at the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Mutual Fire Aid 15th annual banquet.

He told his audience, composed of members of the 20 departments that make up the mutual aid program, that years ago fire departments concerned themselves mainly with rescue work and, if they happened upon someone who was trapped in a car, "we used to do whatever we could."

However, beginning in 1977 a campaign began to provide proper extrication equipment for all volunteer fire departments. That money, in the form of $5 million in grants over the next 10 years, represents the first program where the province has been the sole contributor.

"Now it doesn't matter where you are," Mr. Dupuis said, "there will be a fire department there to respond with the equipment and expertise to get you out."

The latest project Mr. Dupuis is working on its designing a uniform, province wide light for volunteer fire fighters to use when they are rushing to the fire station to answer a call.

Mr. Dupuis said his department is investigating the possibility of designing a green light which will be reserved for the sole use of volunteer fire fighters.

"Minutes and seconds are very important," he said. "If people see you and know who you are they'll move out of the way."

Mr. Dupuis, who started his career as a volunteer fire fighter himself, said he felt very privileged to have been a fire fighter, adding that while it may be the most dangerous profession it also provides a great deal of satisfaction.

"I got a great deal of satisfaction helping someone when no one else could," he said. "Helping someone out of a house or pulling a baby out of a crib, that's a privilege you can't buy. I think I was well rewarded for all the nights and years I spent fighting fires."

CCA announces new club

(Special) - The Canadian Charolais Association is pleased to announce the formation of the Charcross Club. Conceived to better communicate with commercial users of Charolais bulls, the club will function as an arm of the C.C.A.

The Charcross Club will be comprised of all people who have had a papered Charolais bull transferred to them. The founding members of this group will consist of all commercial buyers of Charolais bulls over the last five years. The total exceeds 8,700 cattlemen.

Initial communication with Charcross Club members will consist of news bulletins such as the Commercial Ribeye. These publications will contain timely news items, upcoming bull sale dates, feeder calf sale information and seasonal management tips.

The Charolais Association as part of an ongoing program for breed improvement, will utilize the Charcross Club to gather feedback from the users of Charolais bulls. Regional commercial user meetings across Canada, along with surveys and questionnaires will be initiated to gather club members' ideas on how well the product...the Charolais bull, is performing.

With the tremendous acceptance of Charolais at the commercial level, the Charcross Club promises to be one of the most dynamic and fastest growing groups in the Canadian beef industry.

SD&G firefighters celebrate mutual aid

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - Fire fighters from across SD and G gathered in South Mountain Saturday evening for the SD and G Mutual Fire Aid 15th annual banquet and dance.

In between the dinner, dancing and speeches a series of trophies and awards were handed out to some of the 20 fire departments involved in the SD and G mutual aid program.

The points systems award was won this year by the members of the Newington Fire Department. Each fire department receives points for attending bi-monthly mutual aid meetings, points for answering questions at these meetings and points for participating in local programs. The Newington department scored 244 out of a possible 258 points to win the trophy.

The Levitt Safety attendance trophy was awarded to three departments, who all had tied in the running for that prize. The trophy, awarded for attendance at mutual aid meetings, went to the Newington, Ingleside and Williamsburg Fire departments.

There was another tie for the Labatt's fire prevention trophy, with the prize going to the Newington and Williamsburg fire departments. This trophy is awarded to the department that has worked the hardest and done the best job on public fire prevention programs.

The Labatt's tray for outstanding service was awarded to Howard McEvoy of the Glen Walter fire department. The award recognizes a fire fighter who has gone out of his way to render some sort of service to his department or to the mutual aid system. Mr. McEvoy was instrumental in raising money to purchase the Jaws of Life and a new telephone system for his department.

The Labatt's mug for distinguished service went to St. Andrews fire chief Garry McCutcheon. Mr. McCutcheon is credited with expanding his department's public programs and increasing the representation on the mutual aid program.

ROK still "no name" school

by Cathy Fluery

At this time "The School" remains nameless. As you will recall, voting on a new school name took place some time ago. A short list of names was later forwarded to the Board who in turn were to choose our new school name. The Board found the previous survey inconclusive, therefore everyone was given the opportunity to cast a ballot once again between the two most popular names: Rothwell-Osnabruck and Lake St. Lawrence School.

On November 25 the boys' basketball team will play an exhibition game against MacDonald High from Montreal at 3:30pm. The public is more than welcome to attend the game and support our athletes.

Since drugs and alcohol are so readily available nowadays it is helpful to many individuals to attend informative seminars such as the one being held on November 29 at 8pm in the school library. Gary Lalonde, a truly remarkable speaker, will present this program. Mr. Lalonde has experience in assisting youths with drug and alcohol related problems, and he is aware of special programs that would be of interest to students and parents alike. Drugs and alcohol control our lives in part or in whole from public school aged children to full grown adults perhaps with families of their own. Everyone is urged to attend this program because the more we know about these social problems, the more easily we can help others who are sick or even help ourselves.

Unfortunately no one owned up to the tasteless spray painting of graffiti on the exterior walls of the school. There is no alternative but to repaint the walls by ourselves (a group of staff and students during sparetime). The walls may have to be left as they are for the winter as it is too inclement to paint.

Davis in riding Tuesday

(Staff) - Ontario Premier William Davis will be in the riding of SD and G on Tuesday for three and a half hours to campaign on behalf of local PC candidate Noble Villeneuve, Mr. Villeneuve's office announced on Tuesday.

Premier Davis and Mr. Villeneuve will be at the Morrisburg campaign office at noon to meet area residents and party supporters. At 1:15pm the campaign will be in Ingleside, stopping at the Treasure Island Restaurant.

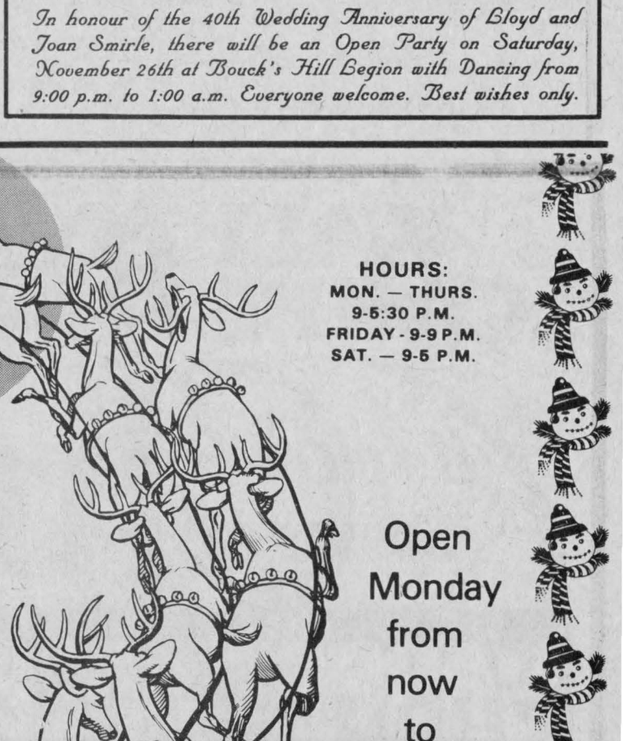
The trip then shifts to the eastern part of the riding as the premier and Mr. Villeneuve will be in Lancaster at 2:15pm and at the Alexandria curling club at 3pm.

In a news release announcing Mr. Davis' visit, Mr. Villeneuve states, "I am more than grateful that the premier is able to take the time to come and help out. He was always very supportive of Osie and I am thankful for his support and continued interest in the affairs of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry."

Personals

(Special) - Rev. E. Earle Eaton conducted Sunday services at St. James United Church, Avonmore and Chalmers United Church, Finch. In the afternoon he conducted a worship service at Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge at Cornwall. On Friday he had services at two convalescent homes in Cornwall; - St. Joseph's Villa, and Bestview Lodge. That evening he attended a Heart Foundation meeting in Winchester. Earlier in the week Mr. and Mrs. Eaton attended a Gospel Fellowship Dinner in Cornwall, and Mr. Eaton attended a meeting of Alcohol and Drug Concerns at Kingston, a meeting of the Executive of Mental Health Cornwall.

Barbara-Ann Glaude (nee Van Loon) graduated from St. Lawrence College, Cornwall with a Diploma of Nursing. She received her Registered Nurse Certificate in October from the College of Nurses of Ontario. Currently she is employed at Winchester District Memorial Hospital.



Congratulations Mom & Dad!

In honour of the 40th Wedding Anniversary of Lloyd and Joan Smirle, there will be an Open Party on Saturday, November 26th at Bouck's Hill Legion with Dancing from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Everyone welcome. Best wishes only.

John Van Delst county's top dairy herd manager

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - John VanDelst of Chesterville received the Strader Trophy for the best total management concept in Dundas County at the Dundas Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) annual awards banquet in South Mountain Friday night.

The trophy, the association's most prestigious award, is presented annually to the producer who scores the highest marks on a variety of tests judged by an area supervisor. Mr. VanDelst scored 90 out 100 possible points.

Over 100 people attended the awards banquet, streamlined this year as organizers discontinued the practice of splitting the county into East and West regions.

Bill Harbers of RR1 Brinston won the award for highest composite BCA on a supervised herd with a BCA 163 on 65 records. His herd was also the second most improved supervised herd in the county with a +9 BCA.

The head of Marten Verburg, RR2 Iroquois, was judged to have the second highest composite BCA, also 163, but on 43 records.

Mr. Verburg also received the Highest BCA Milk Trophy and the Highest BCA Fat Trophy for Sandy Creek Felicia with a milk BCA of 210 and a fat BCA of 227.

Carl Sears of RR1 South Mountain had the most improved supervised herd in the county with an annual herd improvement of +14.

Abram DeJong received an ODHIC certificate for the best breeding efficiency with a calving interval of 11.8 months.

A new award, for high plus production cow, was presented to John DeJong of RR1 Williamsburg for Culmany Barbara Dairy King with a plus BCA of 45.5.

The Dundas DHIA presented special trophies to John Havekes of RR3 Mountain and William Klein-Swormink of Vernon for composite BCAs five points above the provincial average for the first time. The Havekes herd had a BCA of 134 while Mr. Klein-Swormink's herd averaged 131.

Dundas DHI Shields, recognizing association members with herd averages at least five points over the provincial average, were presented to Bill Harbers, 163; Martin Verburg, 163; John DeJong, 160; Wilmer Porteous, 152; Charles Farlinger, 149; Mac Graham, 148; Carl and David Bryan 147; John VanDelst, 146; Francis Lynch, 145 and Tibben Farms, 144.

Also receiving shields were Durk Bylsma 143, Carl Sears 141; William and Kornelis DeJong 141; William Meerakker 140. Chestcreek Farms 140; Cory VanDelst 137; Bertram Moore 137; Coons Brothers 134 and David Jorgensen 131.

To testify or not to testify

Oh what a tangled legal web we weave. They say justice is blind, but at times it appears to be deaf and dumb as well.

An Ottawa woman was cited for contempt of court on Monday after she refused to testify at the trial of a man accused of raping her last year. The 20-year-old woman had twice refused to be sworn as a witness. When asked by the judge why she refused to testify against the accused she simply replied, "I'm scared for my life, my family and my safety."

A hearing on the contempt of court charge has been scheduled for Monday before the Ontario Supreme Court and the woman -- the alleged victim in this case mind you -- could end up going to jail.

The case raises some very thorny legal questions. Is a victim of a crime under any obligation to testify against an accused? What if the victim of the crime, rightly or wrongly, believes they will be injured or killed as a result of their testimony?

It is difficult enough in our legal system to have to go through a rape trial. What sort of Hell would this woman be put through if, after she testifies, she must constantly worry about her safety? The trial itself would be bad enough, the possible aftermath would be far worse.

The judge, Justice Joseph O'Connor, dismissed an application by the woman's lawyer who had asked for a stay of proceedings, stating the trial was an abuse of process.

Her lawyer said it would be unfair to his client to go ahead with the trial, since the Crown decided not to proceed against a co-accused after the woman refused to testify. That co-accused was discharged last month at his preliminary hearing.

We must ask ourselves if the principles of justice would be well served by forcing someone to testify, even if that person believes that by doing so they will come to harm. The answer is no.

Looking to the future?

It is the mark of a government that is truly out of touch with what is going on that turns left when all signs indicate it should turn right. The federal Liberals are just such a party.

The government's employment minister John Roberts has said he "is still toying" with the idea of having a minister responsible for youth. The idea for a separate ministry of youth was first proposed late this summer at a Quebec Liberal caucus meeting. While Mr. Roberts admits there isn't universal acceptance of the idea, he did say the plan was still being considered.

Considering the plan should be as far as such a hare brained idea should go. One would have thought that we were a good 15 years beyond the time when the young people of this world were the centre of attention. There was a time when the post war baby boomers hit their late teens and early 20s when youth was all important and advertisers, marketing men and governments fell over themselves to cater to the youth and the market they created.

However, just in case the government hasn't noticed, all that has changed. The latest figures from Statistics Canda show that 9.7 per cent of this country's population is over the age of 65 and 17.9 per cent is under the age of 15. Between 1976 and 1981 the percentage of people under the age of 15 dropped seven per cent while the percentage of people over 65 increased one per cent. Perhaps the most telling statistic is the shifting median of age of our country, the age at which the majority of us are at. In 1976 the majority of the population was 27.8 years old. In 1981 the median age had jumped to 29.6 years.

Quite aside from the inappropriate timing of such a move, the formation of a youth ministry would most likely cause massive confusion within the ranks of the civil service that would end up harming everyone. Presumably the new ministry would have to spend some time taking specific programs away from other ministries, providing that they involve young people, and the result would probably be chaos.

Rather than creating a youth ministry the government would be much better off examining the creation of a ministry for senior citizens. Countless studies have demonstrated that Canadian society -- as well as North American society -- is aging and as we hurtle our way toward the 21st century the percentage of people over 65 will increase. If we had a government in Ottawa that was truly visionary and had the capacity to think ahead, it would be hard at work trying to figure out how Canada will deal with the crunch expected within the next few decades.

The government should be considering how the country will continue to fund the Old Age Pension when the portion of workers contributing to the plan is shrinking and the number of seniors taking advantage of the plan is growing. It should ask itself if the country will have adequate health and caring facilities to meet the need when it comes. Will there be enough senior citizen housing? Will there be the right kind of social services to cater to old people's needs?

Rather than looking behind, the government should be looking ahead. - bruce hayes -

Growing leaps and bounds

With so many things going on in today's world it is to be expected that the public can't be aware of everything. That's probably the reason why neither the federal government or any of the provinces held celebrations on this very special day.

What special day you might ask? Well, according to Statistics Canada, sometime between 7am Tuesday and 7am Wednesday we officially became 25,000,000 strong, from sea to shining sea.

The event -- whether it happens in a hospital maternity ward or in a citizenship court -- says quite a bit about how far we've come. The minister in charge of Stats Can Charles Lapointe calls the event, "a significant stage in our development as a nation."

Canadians now -- in spite of so-called hard times -- have a higher standard of living that they ever did. More babies are living to see their first birthday, more people are receiving more of an education and we have grown accustomed to one of the best health care systems in the world. Of course there are flies in the ointment. Canada has problems just like many other nations. But in spite of that our 25,000,00th citizen, whoever she or he may be, is entering one of the world's safest, prosperous and stable countries in the world.

Chesterville's Past

23 — From the Record Thurs., Nov. 29, 1923

A horse belonging to Ward Johnson made an exciting few moments on King Street Saturday afternoon. It had been tied in the Presbyterian Church shed where it got loose and made away, threading its way through the Saturday afternoon traffic at a fast clip across the bridge and back King Street, keeping clear of the many cars parked along route, until it came opposite A.O. Robertson's dwelling where the milk wagon to which it was attached collided with a tree and was detached from the horse, which proceeded to the station before it was caught and brought back.

A dispatch from London says that the gold medal of the British Dairy Farmers' Association has been awarded to the Government of Ontario for its collection of dairy produce, including bacon, poultry and eggs, at the Dairy Show held there recently. First prize in the colonial farming section was won by the Ontario Beekeepers' Association of Guelph.

Tuesday evening at Finch representatives of the five clubs making up the C.O.H.L. namely - Berwick, Finch, Avonmore, Chesterville and Winchester, met in Finch to draw up a schedule for the season, but instead of carrying out their mission, the league was deserted by the Finch and Berwick clubs. Lengthy arguments were made by Finch and Berwick representatives advancing reasons why those two clubs should be allowed to combine their players into one team, and have it represent two places, playing games on both rinks in carrying out the schedule. The others could not see where anything to their advantage came in such a scheme and declined to sanction it, preferring to go ahead with a three club league, the schedule for which is now being prepared.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Luke's Presbyterian church, held their annual bazaar and concert Nov. 21 and 22. The bazaar was held in the schoolroom of the church and was quite well patronized by the ladies of the community. On Thursday evening Massey Hall was filled to enjoy a mixed programme consisting of vocal solos and duets, instrumental solos, club singing by the High School with several good numbers by the Chesterville Orchestra.

The Chesterville Peptimists held their eighth regular meeting in Room "A" Nov. 23. The secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting which were adopted. The Auxiliary then sang "Pack up your Troubles". The program consisted of the topic "Stopping the spread of disease".

43 — From the Record Thurs., Dec. 2, 1943

The Euchre and Dance held in the Community Hall on Thursday, Nov. 25 sponsored by the Boyne Red Cross was a decided success. The proceeds of the evening amounted to $230. Prizes went to: Mrs. Alfred Jarvis, Miss Marjorie Summers, Mr. Harold Windsor and Howard Beckstead.

George Hoadley, chairman of the health committee of the Federation of Agriculture told the United Farm Women of Ontario meeting that slums exist in rural areas, but they were not brought forcibly to public attention because of the space and air between individual homes. The last census established that in Ontario the average farm home was valued at $1,400, that only 17 per cent of them had furnaces, 13 per cent cooking with gas or electricity, and 37 per cent electric lighting.

On Friday afternoon last, Mrs. Harold Bigelow entertained the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's church at her home. It was an ideal day and the drive in from the country was thoroughly enjoyed. The answer to the Roll Call was a verse of Scripture containing the word "Remember", then the roll was called for the Welcome and Welfare department after which a hymn was sung. A poem entitled "Briars" was read by Mrs. J.A. Munro.

All Morrisburg's civic officials for the year 1944 were elected Saturday night by acclamation, when only a sufficient number for a full slate had qualified with the municipal clerk, F.R. Chalmers. Those who will hold office include: Reeve Fred Broder, Councillors Eddie Jones, Percy Ouderkirk, T. Rockley Parker and Alexander Runciman.

53 — From the Record Thurs., Dec. 3, 1953

Friday evening nominations were well attended in Community Hall with over a hundred interested persons on hand to make the nominations for the coming year and hear the yearly reports. At the close of the meeting Charles McMillan was again the Reeve by acclamation, and nine names were read by the clerk nominated for the position of councillor. They were: Nelson Laprade, Mrs. W.B. Campbell, Harold Sharkey, Gordon Lannin, Carl McMillan, John Turner, Sydney Jarvis, Marshall Page and Mrs. Lyle Marcellus. The names of the ladies on the nomination lists is a first in the Village.

Blood donors to the grand total of 60 marked a new record number of donations received in one day's receipts here yesterday. This marks the first time the reorganized clinic group have been in operation and proved most heartening to the organizers.

As a result of the recent canvass for funds in aid of the blind persons in Dundas County, sponsored by Chesterville Women's Institute, a cheque for the sum of $227 will be forwarded to Mr. MacLuckie, treasurer of the Dundas County Advisory Board, C.N.I.B. Morrisburg.

Winchester Township Council members were returned to office for 1954 by acclamation Friday at the nomination meeting. They are: Reeve E.B. McMillan, Deputy reeve Basil Dawley, Councillors Eric Barklay, A.E. Smith and Ken McIntosh.

The Charles Gray Barn, up on the Nation, was completely destroyed by fire last Friday at the noon hour. The fire started from unknown origin, spread very rapidly. Mr. Gray was able to release a calf and two pigs from their stalls before the smoke and flames drove him from the barn. The Chesterville Fire Brigade was on the scene fifteen minutes from the time the siren sounded. Losses included the summer's crop of hay and grain, and a silo of ensilage.

Hats off to Canada Post

The Editor:

Last Monday, November 7, I received an invitation from our Post Office people to drop in and say hello. Of course I responded to this invitation.

Have you and your readers noticed that our Posties are such a tremendously efficient bunch of people that, whenever a mistake is made it is considered to be news to be published in the newspapers or broadcast on television?

Newspapers too often make mistakes, either implicit or explicit, and these too are accepted as normal, and why not? After using these people to get rid of our frustrations, after making them the brunt of cheap jokes, they turn the other check and invite us for coffee and doughnuts.

Well, what else can we expect from people who help us in an efficient way and smile at us even though they make no profit?

Anyway Posties, thanks for years of good and pleasant service,

Yours truly
Bob Sanders

by Wyn Thompson

Indian summer has faded. Overhead the hunter's moon floats white and cold. Thunder in November means a fertile year to come. I recall having heard somewhere. I didn't hear thunder but I saw the end of a wonderful rainbow as I drove home from work one night this week. So let us hope a fertile year will follow this drought-ridden summer we have just experienced.

But all such worrisome things dropped into the background as I took an early morning walk about the yard, just as the sun was drowsily blinking through the trees in the bush across the way, and minutes before sending up its golden rays into a clear blue sky and out over a world of breath-taking beauty.

It had snowed in the night and the countryside was a vista of sheer beauty. As a rule, early snows do not last. I like an early snow, though, for a bare December generates a hard cold, and its colours are grey and green, and it's musical score is solitude. Migration and hibernation are accomplished facts.

The leaves are gone. Even lying on the ground, they no longer show their autumn colours. In the bush across the way the colour comes only from the trunks and branches of the hardwoods and conifers as the birches stand like exclamation marks in a waiting world.

A bare December is a cold season indeed, for it has none of the receding heat of autumn left in it. The winter sky is cold as well, with grey and changing clouds.

The earth is hard as rock and cold. Then every so often the sky will fill with snow and we are comforted by it. But it will soon leave and the ground will be bare and cold again.

Then some night the snow won't stop and we in northern climes feel somehow warmed as we settle back in homes made snug in late November. As I drive about the country I realize that I have never seen more preparation for winter as I have this year.

Yesterday I spent a few hours at a Christmas craft show where handmade things of every kind pleasured the sight, the sound and the touch. Like homemade bread or homemade preserves, handmade things are something someone loved making. Many of the exhibitors continued with their work right in their craft booth. The look of intent interest and loving care was evident on every face.

The hucksters and sharks pedalling shoddy merchandise were not there and I was thankful for nothing soils the name of handmade as quickly as these fly-by-night operators. I note they are prevalent in shopping centre malls in some cities now and I lament their intrusion somehow.

Handmade to me means made by one person, not a group of people who stand in line and assemble parts. Each item is unique even as the person who produced it. Good craftsmen appear to realize they have a responsibility to live up to their own uniqueness.

One of the reasons I like handmade articles so much is that I am unable to produce anything myself. My forays into this field have been comical indeed even though I have a talented mother, aunt and sister. And certainly my Grannie had 'good hands' as it was termed then. I guess still is, as I heard the expression several times as I walked from booth to booth.

Since I do not have good hands I eagerly collect handmade things: a willow whistle, a grapevine wreath, a sketch of an old log barn...homey things created with care and pride.

This year an old red-flannel-dressed lady with a soup kettle hung on her arm caught my eye. I knew the artisan and she knew that among family and friends I am known as 'the soup lady'. She had caught my expression, my arms akimbo, as I brought the pot forth contemplating yet another pot of savoury soup, I purchased it for it was just me, but in some secret recess of my mind I knew that something was lacking. Imagine my delight this morning when I put the coffee pot on to perk, and I noticed the 'soup lady' by my countertop stove had acquired a wooden spoon sometime in the early morning hours. On further examination I found that it had been fashioned from a tongue depressor.

"That is the finishing touch," I informed the Farmer when he came in for breakfast. He said nothing.

I particularly like to watch handmade things come alive in the hands of the maker - a hank of white wool turning into a fisherman's knit sweater, a length of grape-vine turning into a wreath of nature's delight, a chunk of sweet-smelling cedar becoming a dining table centrepiece for the Christmas feast.

We turn now toward the month of winter and Christmas. I use cedar boughs from my own trees to decorate the mantels. They are not sprayed with gold or silver. They are just green boughs, for it is the green of evergreen boughs that symbolizes the immortality that in some way we all hope to achieve.

For the tree, we use the treasured ornaments, collected over the years. I set the fat Christmas candles around the rooms and prepare to savour Christmas in my own way - through its history, its music, its art, a small circle of relatives and friends.

Which brings me to think that Christmas gifts should be carefully planned to meet some special need. Sometimes even a good egg beater is a fine gift. Unique and wonderful is the person who puts thought into each gift for they are twice blessed.

When I go out with the dogs the air smells frosty and clean tonight. The whole world looks new tonight as we prepare ourselves for winter and Christmas.

The provincial NDP Agriculture Task Force met with farmers and representatives of farm groups Wednesday evening at the Finch Community Hall. Members heard complaints on everything from the administration of the Ontario Drainage Act to the high cost of dairy quotas in the province. Members of the task force, left to right, are Donald MacDonald, caucus chairman, former party leader and former party agriculture; George Samis NDP member for Cornwall; Mel Swart, MLA for Welland-Thorold and the party's Food and Agriculture-Prices critic; Rudi Derstroff, NDP canadidate for the Dec. 15 SD and G byelection.

Task Force gets farmers views

FINCH (Staff) -The provincial NDP Task Force on Agriculture came to the Finch Community Hall Wednesday evening with its members saying they were there to listen to farmer's views on what was wrong and what was right with agriculture in Ontario. The audience of roughly 30 farmers did not disappoint them and gave the three members of the task force an earful.

The task force, under the chairmanship of Welland-Thorold MLA Mel Swart who is also the party's Food and Agriculture-Prices critic, was formed in October and since that time has held public meetings in the Wingham, Temiskaming, Durham, Rainy River and Niagara regions. Mr. Swart told the meeting the task force was launched "because of the serious situation in the farm community."

"We felt we should get out in the farm community and meet with the people," Mr. Swart said. "You can't get the feeling of people reading the newspaper or the farm magazines."

Mr. Swart condemned the province for not providing enough long term and short term financing for the farming community.

"Ontario is lagging behind other provinces," he said. "We are the only agricultural province that doesn't have adequate long term financing."

When the members of the task force -- Mr. Swart, Donald MacDonald, the former party leader and agriculture critic and Cornwall NDP member George Samis -- finally opened the meeting to the audience they were met with complaints and condemnation of the Ontario Drainage Act, the current pork situation, dairy quotas and the overall unhealthy state of agriculture in 1983.

Jeff Mathews, a farmer from Amherst Island near Kingston, called the current administration of the Ontario Drainage Act "a bad law that is administered even worse than it was written."

He went on to tell the members of the task force of a situation on Amherst Island where the government of Ontario has petitioned for a $135,000 municipal drain, in spite of being told repeatedly by local farmers that the type of soil found there simply does not lend itself to good drainage.

"The government still wants it and people are going to be assessed for a very stupid, counter productive thing," he said. "People are going to go out of business in eastern Ontario until the drainage act is brought into line with proper drainage practices."

Mr. Mathews called for more intensive study of what effects a proposed drain would have on the surrounding land before it goes ahead and the members of the task force agreed with him.

"We have heard a large number of similar complaints about drainage all across Ontario," Mr. Swart said.

He said more thorough study should be done to determine if a drain really is needed and that study should be done by someone aside from the projects' consulting engineer.

Ward Gow,a cow-calf producer from Glengarry county and that county's representative to the Ontario Cattlemen's Association (OCA), told the committee that he felt frustrated with the apparent unresponsiveness of his organization to the wishes of people at the grass roots level.

"The OCA is a funny place," Mr. Gow said. "The cow-calf committee wanted a stabilization plan based on the cost of production, but our own executive wouldn't even put it through for us."

Mr. MacDonald told Mr. Gow that he had heard of many cases of "the grass roots views (being) frustrated by the people that are supposed to represent them. The grass roots will have to get control of these organizations."

John vanNooten, a Glengarry dairy farmer, said he had been in farming long enough to know the advantages of supply management, but warned that "once you've got it you've got to keep an eye on it."

"Milk quotas are distributed unequally," Mr. vanNooten complained. "With the high price of milk quota, you end up paying more than twice what you'll get back over the next two years. There is supply management in the selling of milk but none in the management of quotas. It's a dog eat dog business. If you want supply management you must have a way of seeing that the big boys don't push out the small boys."

After the conclusion of the two and one half hour session Mr. MacDonald said that while the attendance in Finch had been less than other places, the debate had been every bit as emotional and exciting.

He said what was needed to cure agriculture's ills was some sort of parity or farm income stabilization, "guaranteeing farmers the freedom to sell their product and receive a fair return on the investment."

National identification program

(Special) - The Joint Dairy Breeds Committee announces that new style formsets for the National Identification Program (NIP) will be available for sale commencing December 15, 1983 in lots of ten for $40. Breeders may order them directly from the Joint Dairy Breeds Committee, P.O. Box 610, Brantford, Ontario, N3T 5R4.

Beginning January 1, 1984 to February 15, 1984, an exchange of one new formset for one old formset will be offered. From February 16, 1984 to April 30, 1984, two old formsets may be exchanged for one new formset. The breed office will discontinue processing old formsets on June 30, 1984.

NIP applications should be forwarded through the milk recording system to the breed office, at least weekly. The objective is to provide the herd owner with the NIP certificate within one month or at the next test date.

Ag. Critic to visit Berwick

BERWICK (Staff) - The New Democratic Party's agriculture critic will be in Berwick on Thurs., Nov. 24 to discuss agriculture issues with local farmers.

Vic Althouse, MP for Humboldt-Lake Centre, will speak at a meeting at the Berwick Community Hall starting at 8pm. The visit, arranged long before the September 25 death of Osie Villeneuve, is a chance for local farmers to discuss federal agriculture policy with Mr. Althouse and will allow him to take those views back to Ottawa with him.

Mr. Althouse was first elected to Parliament in the February 18, 1980 election. He is the NDP's food policy and agriculture critic and also serves as the deputy whip for the caucus.

Born in Wadena, Saskatchewan on April 15, 1937, Mr. Althouse has remained in the areas as a grain and livestock farmers. In 1967 he received a degree in Economics from the University of Saskatchewan.

Throughout his life Mr. Althouse has had a long involvement with farm unions. From 1961 to 1965 he was the junior vice president of the Saskachewan Farmers Union and from 1965 to 1967 served as junior president of that organization.

He served as chairman of the National Farmers Union Grain and Oilseeds Committee and played an active role in the development of the group's national feed grains policy.

In 1969 he represented Saskatchewan farmers at the agricultural conference where the Task Force on Agriculture was first unveiled. From 1971 to 1972 he was a member and director of the East Central Co-op and from 1972 to 1975 he served as commissioner and secretary of the Saskatchewan Hog Marketing Commission. Between 1975 and 1978 Mr. Althouse served as a member on the Canadian Wheat Advisory Board Committee.

A biography of the MP states that he "believes low farm incomes are still a problem in many parts of the country and maintains that the challenge before us will be to produce income stabilization programs which are suitable in all regions and for all types of farm production."

$200,000 commitment to promotion of Ontario beef breeding stock exports

(Special) - To assist in the development of export markets for Ontario beef breeding stock, the Associated Beef Breeds of Ontario will receive special grants to a maximum of $200,000 over the next three years, Agriculture and Food Minister Dennis Timbrell announced November 10.

"This organization has been successful in establishing export markets in the US and Central America but I feel there is great potential to increase our exports of breeding stock," Mr. Timbrell said. "These grants will help realize this potential, helping the organization eventually stand on its own."

The grants will help underwrite staff costs and office and travel expenses for a marketing manager and support staff to a maximum of $100,000 in the first year. The second year, the ministry will cover two-thirds of these costs up to a maximum of $67,000 and in the third year, one-third of these administrative expenses to a limit of $33,000. Thereafter, ABBO will meet all of its expenses from its own revenues.

"These grants will allow the Associated Beef Breeds to mount a full-time co-ordinated campaign to add to overseas markets for Ontario breeding stock," Mr. Timbrell said.

Jacques Guilbaud has been apointed as the general manager and international marketing director of the ABBO. Mr. Gilbaud, an international trade consultant, has extensive experience in marketing and investment counselling, particularly in France, Portugal and the Phillipines. With degrees in international trade and journalism, he has worked all over the world including serving as a diplomat and trade commissioner in several Latin American countries.

Plans call for increased efforts to sell breeding stock in Japan, Korea, the Phillipines, South America, France, Portugal, Spain and the United Kingdom.

The Associated Beef Breeds of Ontario, founded in 1972, represents five breeds - Shorthorn, Charolais, Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus and Simmental. The ABBO office is located at 801 Bay Street, Room 702, Toronto, Ontario, M7A 1B2 telephone (416) 963-3097.

TO THE RATEPAYERS OF THE VILLAGE OF CHESTERVILLE

Council in open session, at its regular meeting Monday, November 21, 1983, passed a resolution that the Village adopt the policy of Market Value Assessment as the basis for determining property taxes in the Village beginning in the 1984 tax year.

The principal motive for making the change is one of fairness. The present method of determining property taxes is based on the last general assessment of property values which was compiled in 1954. Many properties continue to be assessed on the base established at that time. This fact, of course, creates an element of inequality in the matter of property taxes with some property owners bearing an undue burden of taxes while others are not being assessed their fair share. The move to Market Value Assessment will adjust this imbalance and distribute the tax load fairly and equally throughout the Village.

It should be clearly understood that the change is not being made for the purpose of generating more tax revenue for the village. The Village will not collect, in total, any more tax monies than it did under the previous system. The change will simply redistribute the payment of taxes on a more equitable basis. Some property owners will see their share of taxes drop; others, may experience a slight increase. In the majority of cases, however, the change will not be great.

This change, as is the case with any policy change, will create some understandable concerns to ratepayers.

Early in the new year, each ratepayer will receive a revised assessment notice based on the market value. Any ratepayer with specific concerns will be given an opportunity to address those concerns at three open house sessions, the dates of which will be publicized in Janaury, 1984.

It is the firm belief of Council that if the Village did not move to Market Value Assessment voluntarily, we would be directed by the Province to do so in the near future. Council is also of the mind that the move, at this time, is in the best interests of all taxpayers because, the change now, will be at no cost to the Village. The new Market Value Assessment was conducted in the Village within the past year under an IMPACT Study fully funded by the Province. Under the new system, the Market Value Assessment of properties will be reviewed every three years to ensure that fair taxation assessment will be in line with normal fluctuations in the market values of properties.

This move will also keep our Village in step with five sister municipalities in our region who have already adopted the change.

Oil conversion grants are still available

(Special) - Grants to assist cultural and recreational facilities convert from oil to alternate fuels are still available, the Honourable Susan Fish, Minister of Citizenship and Culture, said Nov. 7.

"Since these grants were announced in January of this year, only 21 applications have been received. This is a special energy program and money is still available for various projects that could have long-term financial benefits" said Ms. Fish.

Grants of up to 50 per cent for eligible project costs to a maximum of $10,000 are available toward the conversion of existing oil consuming equipment to fuels such as natural gas and electricity. Assistance is also available for energy saving projects such as insulation and heating and air-conditioning systems.

Museums, art galleries, theatres, cultural centres, YM-YWCA's and various sports clubs belonging to incorporated non-profit organizations, service boards and Indian band councils are among the many facilities and groups which may be eligible for funding assistance.

Grants have been committed to the following organizations: Port Dalhousie Lions Club, Canadian Opera Company, Deep River Community Association Ltd., Jewish Community Centre of Toronto, and Orpheus Operatic Society in Ottawa.

"Energy prices have been rising rapidly and continue to rise, with oil leading the way. As a result, fuel costs are becoming a sizeable budget item to many facilities and organizations" said Ms. Fish. "This program was created to reduce such costs and to contribute to Ontario's and Canada's goal of energy self-sufficiency."

Applications will be accepted until mid-December. For applications and information contact:

Jean Beliveau joins Alzheimer battle

(Special) - Jean Beliveau former captain of the Montreal Canadians, a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame, and an Officer of the Order of Canada has accepted the Honourary Chairmanship of the 1983 Alzheimer Disease Awareness Week.

Beliveau's acceptance of the appointment was announced today at a press conference held in Montreal.

Alzheimer's disease is an organic brain disorder which currently afflicts some 300,000 Canadians and is the fourth leading cause of death among Canada's elderly.

In an attempt to focus public attention on the disease, the week of November 20-26 has been declared Alzheimer Disease Awareness Week in Canada.

Thirty-five chapters across the country will be holding a series of events designed to enhance public awareness and understanding about the disease.

Alzheimer's disease was first diagnosed in 1906 but it is only during the past decade that it has gained recognition as a major health problem attacking anyone over 40. Early symptoms of the disease include loss of recent memory, mild personality changes, impairment of judgment and sometimes speech disturbance. The disease may last from two to fourteen years with the end result being death.

If It Cost You $1,000 Would Your Insurance Pay...

$1,000... or $700... or $500... or...

When many people insure their personal belongings they make the mistake of believing that they are covered for full replacement value.

Sadly that's not always the case. Some policies will only pay out a fraction of what it would cost you to replace your possessions at current market value.

To find out where you stand you should talk to one of the I.B.A.O. insurance brokers listed below.

Is there a difference between an I.B.A.O. broker and an agent?

Yes there is. An agent works directly for one insurance company. An I.B.A.O. broker is independent and unbiased.

Your I.B.A.O. broker shops around for value, recommends the right coverage at the right price and makes sure your interests are professionally represented when you need to make a claim.

So call your broker and ask if he or she is a member of the I.B.A.O.

"TIME OUT"

...with T.J.

The best kept sporting secret in Chesterville for the past year has been this town's Junior C Flyers hockey team. It was put together for last season's Eastern Ontario Junior C Hockey League action and although it's still undergoing some of the usual growing pains most up-and-coming young teams experience, it shows incredible potential to be a contender. The village can be proud of the accomplishments thus far of coach Mike Armstrong and the team's directors.

What stands out about our Flyers most is the impressive record they've been able to build in such a short period of time. Last season they were in the running not far behind top-ranking teams such as Embrun and Crysler. In fact, at the end of their debut season, the Flyers finished an amazing single point behind second place Crysler. That in itself was a big disappointment as many of their games were lost on one-goal margins all throughout the season.

Some die-hard hockey fans probably frown upon such rapid growth and would argue that a team needs several seasons to get to discover their style of play and mould a system that works for them. All that's true, but one uphappy reality is that slow growth usually confines teams to the cellar of their division and it's only the squads that show character that climb their way out.

In their two-year existence, the Flyers have bypassed most of the growing pains associated with newcomers. The rewards of this quick start have presented themselves shomewhat in the form of a good win-loss record. At the time of this writing the Flyers are undefeated at home and have put together five wins and three losses. That's ahead of last year's mark at this time of two wins versus five losses.

The Flyers have nothing to feel guilty about in terms of their early success in the league. Despite some handicaps in size and defensive abilities, they have compensated with good skating, puck control and the capacity to hand out clean checks even with their small size. The team is confidently backed by outstanding goalkeeping from rookie Terry Condon and Kenton Holmes.

If things keep going the way they are, the Flyers could surprise quite a few people this season. The future certainly looks bright with the team developing much quicker than is the norm.

With everything going their way it's surprising that Chesterville has yet to discover its Junior C team. Perhaps this is a general trend in minor league hockey today. Fan attendance is down all over regardless of team performance. However, for a young team that is just starting out and has come as far as the Flyers have in just a little more than one season, it's an important time in their history.

Gaining acceptance at home relies heavily on a team's winning abilities. The Flyers still have some rough edges to pare down but there's no question that the crew can skate, hit and win with the best teams in the league.

No one can accurately pinpoint what it is about playing in front of the home town fans that makes winning so enjoyable. It means many things to many players. For some, seeing Mom and Dad in the stands inspires an all-out effort. For others, it means simply looking good on the ice for friends.

Whatever it may be, civic pride can be expressed through sports. The Flyers represent the village and when they win it's something to cheer about. It's a small reward for the player who gives up his free time to practice and play on the team. Recognition of effort is the greatest motivator for a young hockey player.

Whether it's a general lack of interest or not enough snow on the ground to get people in the hockey mood, sparse spectator support at home games can lead to the decline of the team. It's depressing to note that at times there are more fans of the visiting team at the game than of the home crew.

Resorting to gimmicks like free dinners if the home team wins may work in more populated areas where the supply of fans is larger, but in a village the only tool a team has is found in the wins columns. When this fails, it's not certain what else a team can do to improve attendance.

While a player must manifest a certain amount of dedication the same goes for the fans who do attend weekly home games. Watching a match in temperatures akin to a cold storage area isn't the most comfortable of locations, but it's good to see the regular Flyers supporter hot coffee in hand, cheer the team on.

If you'd like to air your sports opinion and aren't afraid to see it in print, send it along to this column so it can be shared with the rest of our readers.

No surprises as Flyers dump Glens 3-1

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - There were no surprises in last Tuesday's Alexandria Glens-Chesterville Flyers Junior C game but tension and hot tempers were very much evident. The Flyers held on to capture a 3-1 victory.

Chesterville went up on the scoreboard first when Dacy Last blasted a slap shot from the left face-off circle high into the net. Mike Guy and Rene Boulanger assisted him on the goal. The Flyers took the 1-0 lead into the dressing room at the end of the first period which was mostly spent in a fast-moving, hard-skating manner.

The second period bore little resemblance to the first as the play got chippy with players from both sides taking runs at each other. Despite the roughing and highsticking done in the period, the Flyers got their much-needed second goal at 9:22 to put them in the driver's seat. Kevin Moore fired a low shot that caught the inside of the right post. Jim Thom and Gary Beishem had dug it out from the corner to Moore who was alone in front of the net.

The Glens made things more interesting when they closed the margin to one goal with some 40 seconds left in the period. Claude Cleroux scored unassisted when he shovelled the puck underneath the pads of a kneeling Terry Condon.

In characteristic Glens-Flyers action, the Glens came dangerously close to tying the match with just one second remaining to play in the period. A rebound resulted from a slapshot in the Flyers' end and goalie Condon managed to slide over just in time to stop the shot with his right pad. The shot was fired as the buzzer sounded to end the period. Howls of protest would've come from either of the two squads resulting from the referee's decision.

The final period saw the Glens put on the pressure as the Flyers were forced to retreat to their own end. Tempers flared but cooler heads prevailed.

Chesterville missed on several golden opportunities to put the game away and things looked grim for them when Larry Faulkner got called for tripping with the Flyers just 1:20 away from a 2-1 win. Goalie Condon rose to the occasion and made several good saves to keep the Flyers on the advantage.

The Flyers fought off the Glen's attack allowing Mike Guy to break loose and score a short-handed open net goal when the Glen's pulled their keeper for the extra man. The goal came with seven seconds left in the contest.

The Flyers had a little trouble finding the net in the first period of last Tuesday's 3-1 win over the Alexandria Glens. Here the Alexandria defence swoops down to prevent a clear shot at their netminder.

Alex. coach unhappy with penalty time

A disappointed Hugh McClements, coach of the Glens, attributed the loss to the amount of time his team spends in the penalty box. In this game his charges had a total of 13 penalties.

"We've got to keep out of the penalty box...we can't go on like this", he said.

Flyers' coach Mike Armstrong, although happy with the two points the win gave them, wasn't satisfied with the style of play put out by his team.

"It wasn't anything like last Tuesday's game (referring to the Flyers' 8-2 Nov. 8 win over Crysler). The defence in the last three games has been terrible with two-on-one and three-on-one plays," said Armstrong. His team allowed 14 goals in their previous two games.

If nothing else, the Flyers have begun to hit the opposition, often with bone-crushing checks. "They'll (the Flyers) give one out. This is the third time we've played Alexandria so they know what to expect," Armstrong explained.

When asked whether home-ice was an advantage, (the Flyers are undefeated in three home starts) Armstrong said that most of his players are more familiar with the rink in Chesterville since they played minor hockey there. "When we travel to another rink the younger players are awestruck by the other rink. It's like sleeping in another bed...it's not the same feeling."

Armstrong told the Record before the game with the Glens the dressing room was "like a morgue." The Flyers were trying to come back from a 6-3 loss to Russell and a 7-3 beating in Maxville.

"Our players are afraid of making mistakes, getting uptight and nervous. I told them to just go out and play the game...if they made a mistake that's fine just so long as they gave it 100 per cent. You can't play uptight," said Armstrong.

Armstrong added that missed opportunities on what seem like sure goals are the results of "lack of experience...or not concentrating. If you want to score to have to whip that puck into the net."

A concern for Armstrong is his defensive line. His more experienced player, Carl Bartholomew will be out for a while with a cracked bone in his foot. Bartholomew took a shot on the foot in the Nov. 8 game against Crysler and another shot in the game against Russell.

Armstrong said that he currently has four defencemen just out of midget hockey in his reserves. However, he feels that it'll take at least half a season to adjust.

In spite of these shortcomings, the team has shown a marked improvement over last year's record. At this time last season the Flyers were two and five in their first year of existence. With the 3-1 margin over Alexandria, they're five and three.

ND senior girls cagers miss out on playoffs

CORNWALL (Staff) - Junior girls basketball cagers picked up a win for North Dundas while the seniors were defeated by La Citadelle here last Tuesday. The juniors recorded a 36-24 victory but the seniors suffered a 48-36 loss.

Donna Koekkoek was top scorer with eight points followed by Tracey-Lee Anderson, Tracie McVey, Julie Lamb and Cindy Ace with three field goals each.

North Dundas held La Citadelle to zero points in the first quarter when they took an 8-0 lead. By the second quarter North Dundas led 17-12 in a game that didn't see La Citadelle lead once.

The Devils pulled ahead by 10 points in the third with the score 30-20 and then limited La Citadelle to just four points in the entire fourth quarter while they racked up another six to take the win.

The seniors held their own with La Citadelle in the first quarter of play drawing an 8-8 tie. Deanne Saunders had six points while Alice Koekkoek had the remaining two.

North Dundas managed to lead the game just once at the half by a score of 18-16 but La Citadelle had furious scoring in the third quarter, recording 14 points to North Dundas' eight. Danielle Gryspeerdt, Koekkoek, Wanda Moore and Nicole Van Vlaanderen shared the eight points with a field goal each.

La Citadelle overpowered the Blue Devils in the last quarter for 18 points to North Dundas' 10 after leading them by four in the third.

In action on Thursday, the juniors kept their winning streak going with a win over Glengarry at the North Dundas gym. They demolished Glengarry by a 52-15 count. The seniors rebounded with a 43-35 victory.

Tracey McVey provided the juniors' scoring power with 20 points. She had a helping hand from Donna Koekkoek with another 12 points in the scoring department.

North Dundas jumped all over Glengarry from the start, taking a commanding 14-2 lead in the first quarter. Glengarry couldn't get anything going in the opening quarter even though they spent a lot of time in the North Dundas end of the court. In fact, they didn't score their first and only basket until there were only a minute and 55 seconds remaining to play in the quarter. Glengarry faced a strong defensive wall on most of their attack runs in North Dundas territory.

The North Dundas assault stalled somewhat in the second quarter but still managed to inflict another nine points on the score. Glengarry could only extract five. The score stood 23-9 at the half.

Glengarry continued to take a beating in the third period as North Dundas pounded them for another 13 points. With the game well in hand, North Dundas didn't let up until another 16 points were tallied in the fourth frame of play.

The senior Devils had to wrestle the win away from Glengarry. Both teams had difficulty finding the hoop in the first quarter. It wasn't until 2:50 of the quarter that Glengarry drew first blood with its first two points, after coming close to mounting a big score on several occasions. Nicole Van Vlaanderen countered for the Devils for her side's only two points in the entire quarter. Glengarry pulled ahead 6-2 before the end of the first period.

North Dundas got itself together in time for the second quarter when they dominated the scoring. Deanne Saunders, Nicole Van Vlaanderen and Patti Milne shared 15 points in that quarter to put their team ahead 17-15.

Seniors end play with win

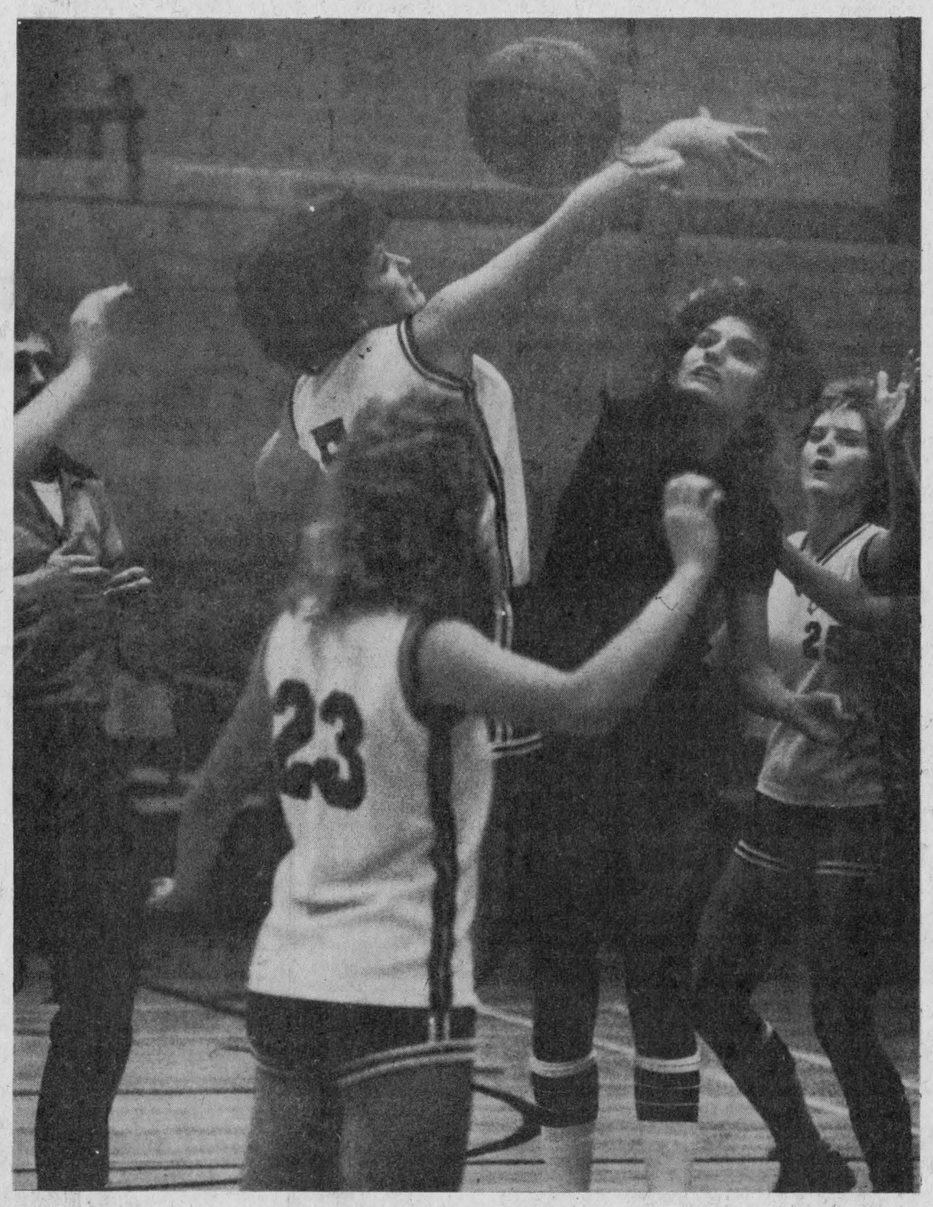
Things slowed again in the third as North Dundas could only score nine points and Glengarry eight in a defensive battle, but Angie Ganter had a good quarter with two down court rushes for four points.

Late in the final quarter, North Dundas coach Nancy Wilson stressed ball control to her charges. They heeded that advice to halt Glengarry's scoring drive. Both squads had almost even scoring with North Dundas getting 15 points to Glengarry's 12.

In the end however, what put the game away for North Dundas was a combination of two foul shot points from Van Vlaanderen late in the game. The fouls came when a Glengarry player was ejected from the match.

Despite finishing the regular season on a winning note, the North Dundas senior girls lost out on a playoff bid to Tagwi. Both teams were tied for second place but Tagwi had a three-point advantage allowing them to get the playoff berth.

The juniors got an automatic bye in the first round of the playoffs because of their first place finish of five wins and one loss. They will play host to the winner of the La Citadelle-Cornwall Collegiate Vocational School matchup this afternoon at the North Dundas gym.



Vicki Holmes of the North Dundas senior girls basketball team fights for control of the ball while Patti Milne (No. 23) and Danielle Gryspeerdt (No. 25) wait to see which way the ball will bounce. Despite finishing in second place with Tagwi, North Dundas seniors missed out on the playoffs.

Minor Flyers coast to wins

(Staff) - Chesterville's Pee Wee B Flyers split a pair of games with the opposition in scheduled play. The visiting Morrisburg squad handed them a whopping 11-0 defeat November 18 but the Flyers had done the same to Ogdensburg by a 9-1 score. That game was played in Ogdensburg.

Chris Hart and Kerry Irvin both had hat-tricks in Ogdensburg while Scott Helmer; Brad Cotnam and Bruce Belanger scored one goal each. Hart scored the first goal of the game with assists from Helmer and Irvin. In that same period, Irvin, Helmer and Hart added their unassisted goals to the total to make it 4-0 for the Flyers.

Irvin, Cotnam and Hart scored again in the second unassisted to boost the Flyers well ahead by a 7-0 count. With the game under control, Belanger and Irvin added two more in the third period. Flyers' goaltender, Danny Geertsma was disappointed when his shutout was ruined with just seven seconds to play in the third.

In other minor hockey action, Chesterville teams had a field day. On November 15, the Midget B team visited Brockville and defeated them 7-2.

Kirk Barkley had a hat-trick performance in that match. He scored twice in the first period. Once from assists by Jerrold Boulanger and Tim Grose while his second goal came unassisted at 9:48.

Grose and Mike Ganter made the score 4-0 in the Flyers' favour by the end of the first. Mike Harper scored in the second period making it 5-0 before Brockville notched one a minute later. Daren Nurse scored unassisted for the Flyers in the second as well and Barkley scored again 27 seconds before the close of the period to put the Flyers out front 7-1. Brockville got its second goal at 6:57 of the third.

In the Midget Flyers' November 18 game, Chesterville scored seven goals to Morrisburg's one. The game was close for the first few minutes of the opening period before the Flyers busted loose.

Kirk Barkley and Mike Harper had a hat-trick each. Barkley also had three assists and Harper two. Barkley opened the game's scoring at 11:23 of the first with Morrisburg fighting back for a goal minutes later.

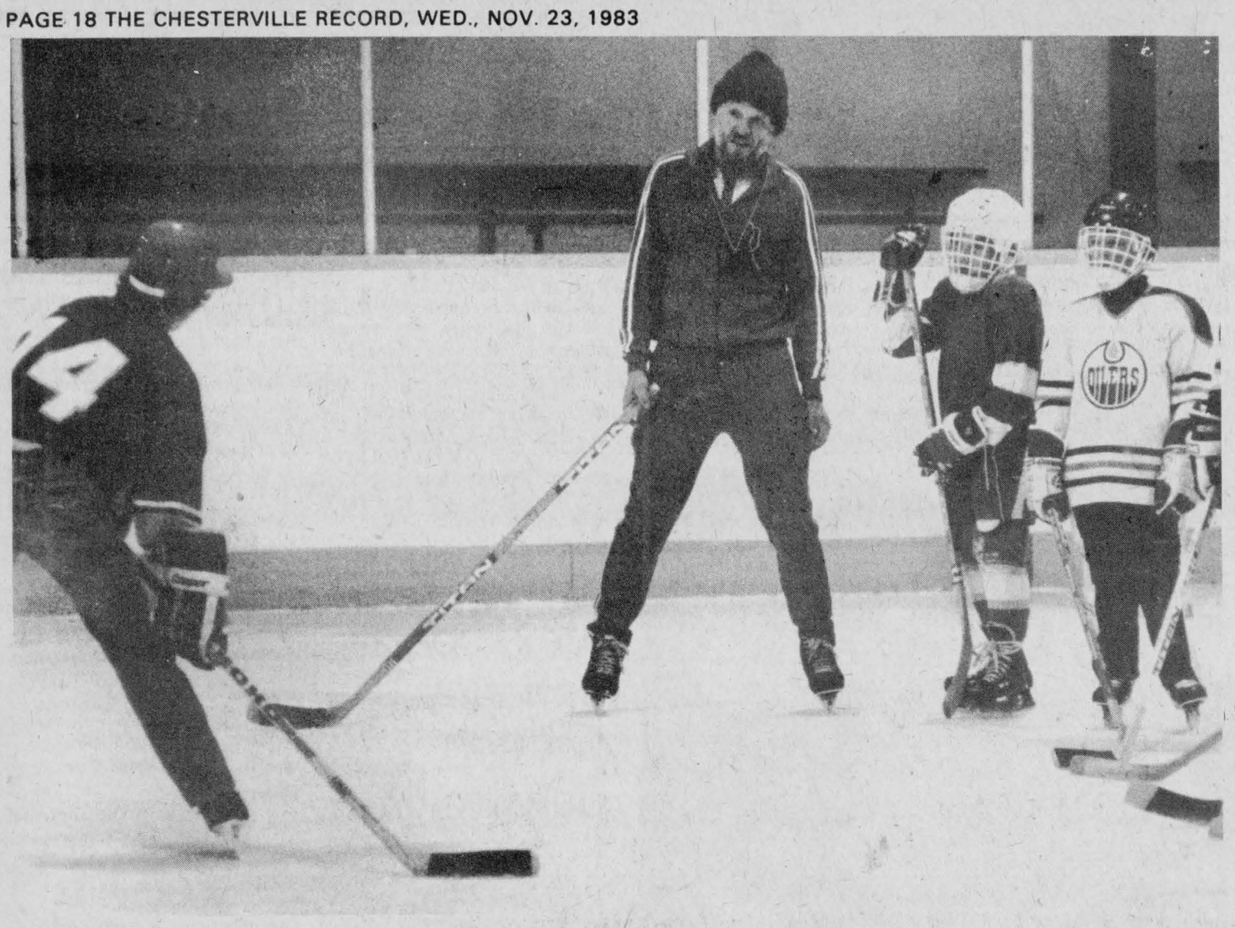
The score remained tied at one until the second when the Flyers came alive for two unanswered goals in the second. Barkley and Harper got the points. The 3-1 Flyer advantage remained in effect until the third period.

Harper, Sean O'Connor, Barkley and Harper scored in that order in the final frame for the win.

The Bantam B Flyers meanwhile, doubled up on Morrisburg Friday with a 4-2 victory. Jamie Cheney starred for the Flyers with a hat-trick. Cheney gave his team a 1-0 lead in the first. Morrisburg came back with two goals in the second to take the lead away from them. The Flyers weren't heard from again until the third period.

Cheney tied the score at 11:49 while Jeff Countryman put them ahead again by a 3-2 count. Cheney scored his hat-trick with just 52 seconds to play in the game.

Ross Giles assisted on Cheney's first period goal. Countryman; Donnie Marcellus; Andy Cotnam and Daryl Thompson helped out on the rally.



Hawk shows how

Members of Chesterville's Atom B Flyers had some special guests at their regular Sunday afternoon practice this week. Vince Cousineau and Mark Smith, players with the Winchester Hawks, agreed to drop by and give the budding hockey players some pointers. Mark Smith, far left, gives both players and the coach some advice on how to play better.

Flyers taste victory in last minute

(Staff) - Chesterville Atom C Flyers continued in their winning ways last Tuesday as they shutout Cardinal-Iroquois 2-0 at home. There was no scoring in the first period but Scott Curran was assisted in his goal by David Graham and Kent Young.

In the third period, this trio was at it again. This time Young recorded the goal with Curran and Graham assisting. Richard Kelsey earned the shutout with some good goalkeeping in nets.

The Chesterville Midget Flyers edged Cardinal-Iroquois 6-5 at home last Thursday. John Moran put the Flyers up on the scoreboard first at 13:14 of the first period. Kevin Byers got the first of his three goals at 9:55 to give the Flyers a 2-0 edge.

Cardinal-Iroquois fought back before the finish of the period with two quick goals to move them into a tie. However, with 21 seconds to play in the first, Brent Vanden Bosch had Chesterville out in front again by 3-2.

The Flyers outscored the visitors by two goals in the second period. Dickie Geertsma and Byers had the points giving Chesterville an even greater lead with the score 5-2.

The Flyers stalled in the third period but Cardinal-Iroquois came on strong and almost managed to upset the Flyers with their late scoring activity in the period. They scored once at the midway point and again with 1:47 left in the game to move them closer to the Flyers by a 5-4 count.

The game went right down to the final buzzer. Cardinal-Iroquois drew a tie with 32 seconds remaining in the match but the Flyers ruined their celebration by scoring a winning goal just eight seconds to play. Byers was the hero for the Flyers with Moran and brother Ken Byers assisting.

Nestle jars Packers

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - With a goal in the first and another in the second period, Nestle edged Winchester Cheese 2-1 in industrial hockey play Monday. Hydro downed Ault by a 6-0 margin.

The first period scoring action in the Nestle-Cheese contest didn't occur until the final minutes. Pat Kelly put Nestle on the board with 1:47 to play but Steve Plummer fought back for the Cheese Packers to even the score with 59 seconds showing on the clock. Dave Cross scored Nestle's winning goal at 5:54 of the second to take the win.

Al Duncan was first to score for Hydro late in the opening period to give his team an early 1-0 lead. Hydro exploded for three unanswered goals in the second barely a minute apart. Rudy Grisel, Alex Garden and Keith McRoberts each registered a goal. Grisel and McRoberts came back for seconds in the last period to finish off the scoring. Grisel, Garden and Brian Moran all had two assists each in the game.

Atoms play .500 hockey

Atoms win two, lose two

(Staff) - The Atom C Flyers travelled to Morrisburg Monday evening only to meet a narrow 3-2 loss. Morrisburg opened the scoring in the second period after a scoreless first.

The home team pushed ahead 2-0 when Morrisburg's Brian Shaver scored his second goal of the game. Before the close of the game, the Flyers' Kent Young scored on an assist from Graham Durant to close the gap to 2-1.

In the third period, Morrisburg player Brian Shaver scored his hat-trick unassisted but Jamie Kennedy registered his goal off an assist from Kent Young to cut the Morrisburg lead to 3-2.

The Atom B Flyers have won two of their last three matches. On November 11, the Flyers were defeated 6-4 by Russell. Russell recorded three powerplay goals. The Flyers took eight penalties.

The Flyers finished the game with two men in the box and Russell scored two in the last five minutes of play. Russell played a penalty-free game.

Todd Marcellus scored twice for the Flyers with singles going to Craig Smith and Kyler Wells. Colin Cotnam had two assists while Smith and Cory Van Delst picked up an assist each.

Last Tuesday the Flyers went to Ogdensburg, New York and bombed them 17-0. The score was 4-0 after four minutes, serving as an indication that it was going to be a long game for the Ogdensburg netminder. Chesterville dominated the match with passing plays which left the Ogdensburg side wondering what they were doing wrong.

Todd Marcellus led the way with six goals. Peter Decooman and Craig Smith had three each; Kyler Wells scored twice and Colin Cotnam, Marc Dion and Michael Hutt had one each.

On Firday the Flyers picked up their second straight win, defeating Morrisburg 2-0. Peter Decooman and Todd Marcellus did the scoring for Chesterville and Brad Pringle registered the shutout. Marcellus, Decooman, Daragh Slowey and Greg Thompson provided assists.

The Flyers had to earn the win when they played two men short for the last minute and 15 seconds of the game. Slowey and Thompson's defensive efforts helped repel a strong Morrisburg attack to preserve the shutout.

Panthers tourney set for weekend

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The stage is set for the Third Annual Dunbar Panthers Broomball Tournament to be held on Saturday, November 26 at the Chesterville Arena. Action commences Saturday morning and will continue all day with a wrap-up before 10:30pm.

Organizer Gary Gallinger said that some 16 teams are expected to play in the tournament. One team from Toronto will be there along with two from Kemptville and Russell. Crews from Long Sault, Ottawa, South Carleton and local teams from the Winchester and District Broomball League will also play.

The winner in the A Series will take home $350 in prize money. A Series runners-up will score $200. B Series winners get $175 while the B runners-up will receive $125.

Gallinger said that the tournament is a way for the Panthers to raise funds to play in the local broomball league. Costs such as paying for referees and ice-time can run as high as $1,000 a year to enter a team in the Winchester league. The Panthers will not participate in the upcoming tournament but will act as referees and organizers instead.

Gallinger added that this is the first year in the history of the tournament that this many teams have committed themselves so far ahead of the tournament date.

Gallinger, a top scorer for the Panthers and in the WDBL, said that he's been playing broomball for 10 years now. "I quit playing hockey two years ago to play broomball. It's a cheap sport to get into. You don't need much equipment as compared to hockey," he said.

Gallinger expects some good action between the 16 teams scheduled to play. He predicted that the eastern Ontario teams will probably be somewhat stronger than the Toronto team since broomball isn't as popular in the Toronto area.

He said that the Panther tournament has grown in popularity over the years from "word of mouth". Teams pay a $75 entry fee to take part.

Broomball race between Finch and Ormond

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Toyes Hill corrected its recent tailspin with a 2-1 victory over Osnabruck Sunday in the Winchester and District Broomball League. In other games Dunbar pounced on Crysler 5-2; Ormond kept in the running for first place with a 10-0 win over Newington and Finch downed Morewood 6-1, keeping their grip on first place as well.

Glen Petersen scored once in the first period and Dean Hansma in the third to give Toyes Hill the 2-1 win. The game had been tied in the middle frame when Barton Heagle scored on an unassisted effort. Osnabruck doubled Toyes Hill in the penalties department by a 6-3 count. Toyes Hill winning goal came on the powerplay at 5:11 of the third period.

Dunbar scored all five of its goals in the first period of play. The league's second place top shooter, Gary Gallinger picked up two goals, while Danny Roy; Lynn Whitaker and John Tempelton each scored one.

Theo Herfkens scored one for Crysler in the first period and Tom MacGregor had a goal in the second period.

Ormond pounded last place Newington with three goals in the first, five in the second and two in the third period for their 10-0 win. Doug Sloan built up a six-goal total in the game. He scored once in the first, four times in the second and once in the final period.

Keith Young had a goal and three assists for his four-point game while Bill Robinson and Dan McDiarmid scored the other points. There were only two penalties called throughout the match. Both teams had one each.

Finch kept the race for first place a tight one by defeating Morewood 6-1. Morewood however, is just two points behind Finch and Ormond despite the loss.

Tim Vanfoort and the league's first place top shooter, Shawn Patrick scored one each in the opening period to give Finch a 2-0 lead. Frank Michels came back for Morewood to make it 2-1 before the close of the period.

Finch blasted ahead by three goals in the second when Rene Dumoulin; Heine Bruining and Dave Petersen recorded goals. Henry Pynenburg had the third period's lone goal to cap off Finch's scoring.
