High School Concert

On Thursday evening last the pupils of the local High School delighted a large audience in the Music Hall. This was somewhat of an inovation in our town as the whole concert was put on by pupils of the school and judging from the comments of many of the audience it was highly appreciated.

The programme possibly was rather short but there was something doing all the time. The Indian Dance and the Dumbells were well received after which Principal Barlow gave a few words of welcome to the audience, speaking very well of the scholars and acknowledging the whole-hearted support given him by the H. S. Board and the citizens in general.

A duet by Mat Flynn and Cecil Gillissie, was then very well received and much applauded.

The play 'Between the Acts' was then introduced, when a Chesterville audience was astonished at the great histrionic ability shown by our boys and girls.

The different characters of this funny farce were well represented by the following in the order of their appearance, Haldane Durant, Mabel Barrett, Karl Bowman, Jack Sauders, Hosea Droppo, Florence Flynn and Edith McAvoy. Without doing an injustice to one or more of the cast it is impossible to say who was the star they were all constellations.

Between the acts the audience was delighted with a cute quartette "You said something" given by Dora Bogart, Rae Dixon, Cecil Gillissie and Mat Flynn, and a duet "The Little Red School-house" in which Mat Flynn and Cecil Gillissie brought down the house. Miss Madolyn McAvoy was the accompanist. The concert was fittingly concluded by all singing the National Anthem

The proceeds of this concert are for the Athletic activities of the students.

To all our kind friends and patrons we wish a very

HAPPY & PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

Christmas Carols in Trinity Methodist

A novel departure from the usual formal order of service and one which it is hoped will be repeated in future years was that of last Sunday morning in Trinity Methodist Church. A juvenile choir of over 40 voices sang Christmas carols, in the Sunday School Hall for 15 minutes, before the opening of the regular service. During the service the children occupied the choir gallery and rendered 5 musical numbers including solos by Madge Campderos and Frederick Cass. The bright and happy faces of the girls and boys and the gorgeous decorations in the beautiful church together with the sound of the sweet voices of the children created in the merrits of those present, an impression that will not soon be forgotten.

...Prescott to Cuba

...istance telephone connection between the republic of Cuba and the Prescott exchange, and possibly the first from Cuba to Canada, was made on Christmas Day when Charles McGannon, of the Baraquay Sugar Company, Baraquay, Cuba, sent greetings of the season to his mother and sister, Mrs. E. P. McGannon and Miss Margaret McGannon, James street, Prescott. The call was made from Baraquay to Havana across the Gulf of Mexico and the gulf stream to Key West, Fla, from Key West to New York, then to Prescott. The conversation between Mrs. McGannon and her son, who was seated at his desk in his office at Baraquay, was very distinct, although it was very difficult to get a through line.

A Rival to Jack Miner

Goderich Star—Probably a few who have heard Jack Miner tell his wonderful story of his bird sanctuary and of the annual visits of so many wild geese on their way north and south at the periods of their migratory flights, but have wished they could visit his premises when these birds were making a temporary halt on their flight. However, we can come a great deal nearer home and see flocks of these birds alight. For some time the farm of Mr. Albert Goldthorpe, Colborne township, has been a favorite stopping place and almost any day just now from fifty to a hundred wild geese can be seen on his farm. So tame do these become that he can drive his team and wagon among them and they make no attempt to fly away, merely seperate to allow the team to pass. Mr. Goldthorpe says he can readily believe the stories Mr. Miner tells of these creatures becoming so tame that they will eat out of his hand. And the reason why they have got into the habit of returning from season to season he ascribes to the fact that they have not been molested. However last Friday, he did take a shot or two and secured two fine ganders, which weighed ten pounds apiece and proved to be excellent eating. A very peculiar thing happened in the killing of one of these birds. When Mrs. Goldthorpe was dressing it a half-shot was found in in its heart. Evidently one of the shots from Mr. Goldthorpe's gun had struck the bird's leg. been split in two and one half had gone up into its heart. And Mr. Goldthorpe says the bird flew about fifty rods after it was hit.

Out One Thousand Dollars

A Victory Bond, V6348E, due Nov. 1st 1922, for one thousand dollars, and the property of Wm. Clark, Cardinal, was missing July 9th, 1921. It was in the hands of the Government, however, on August 18th, 1922, they having received it from their Montreal office for exchange. It was forwarded to them from the Bank of Montreal, Montreal, who received it from Messrs. Nesbitt, Thomson & Co., Ltd. Brokers Montreal, they having received it from the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Montreal. This Bond was bought from Messrs. Nesbitt, Thomson & Co. in good faith, but whoever got this Bond in the first place is ahead $1000, and Mr. Clark is out this amount. It being a coupon bearer Bond and not registered there would not be any difficulty in negotiating it.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. "Johnnie Angus" McMillan Passes Away

The death occurred in Alexandria on Saturday last of John Angus McMillan formerly Liberal M. P. P. in the Ontario Legislature and later Liberal M. P. for Glengarry. He was in his 48th year, and is survived by his widow.

The death of J. A. ("Johnnie Angus") McMillan removes one who in the past 15 years was among the most popular figures in the political and business life of Ontario. Born in Alexandria of pure Celtic stock, he was a Glengarrian of the old tradition, with an appealing, generous nature that compelled political success and won and maintained hosts of admirers and friends. At the early age of 30 he represented Glengarry in the Legislature. It was in the days (1905) when Liberalism in Ontario was on the wane, but "Johnnie Angus," who, like so many other young Canadian Scotsmen, was attracted to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, became a popular figure in the assembly. In 1908 he left the Provincial field for the Federal, and thereafter, until 1916, represented Glengarry in the House of Commons

A Liberal in instinct and temperament one of the few men who enjoyed the personal friendship and confidence of Laurier, he was never a bigoted partisan, and never permitted political controversy to interfere with private friendships. A striking and amusing illustration of this was given in a memorable incident during the bitter naval debates of 1913. "Johnny" Angus, although strongly opposed to the Borden naval policy, and fighting it tooth and nail, crossed the floor of the House one night and engaged in pleasant conversation with Dr. Reid, then Minister of Railways. Presently the Conservative who was speaking abruptly concluded his address and sat down. The Liberals, taken by surprise, had nobody ready to put up, bnt the "Man from Glengarry" saved the situation. Raising from the Conservative side of the House he promptly launched a fierce assault upon the Borden policy, holding the fort until Liberal reinforcement arrived, and then, to the consternation of the orthodox partisans, resuming his seat on the Tory benches and his conversation with Dr. Reid.

Grenville Holstein Breeders' Club Annual

The sixth Annual Meeting of the Grenville Holstein Breeders' Club was held at the Kemptville Agricultural School, on Friday December 22nd. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows:—

President—J. C. Jakes, Merrickville.

1st Vice President—Col. D. W. Beckett, Kemptville.

2nd Vice President—Jas. G. Moir, Smiths Falls, Ont.

Secretary-Treasurer—W. M. Croskery, Kemptville.

Directors—Garnet Render, Wm. Burnie, Andrew Grey, A. Kernahan, W. H Murphy, John Anderson, Jas. Knapp, W. J. Bell, G. H. Moulton, Jno. Willoughby, W. H. Buchanan, R. Cummings.

It was decided to hold a Spring Sale on the first Wednesday in March at the School. Some forty head was promised at the meeting. It was unanimously agreed that more rigid inspection of the stock offered should be made by an outside judge than heretofore, and it was felt that contributions to the sale should be accepted up to a certain limit from breeders from adjoining Counties. Any Holstein breeder, therefore in Eastern Ontario who has one or more head of really good cattle which he would like to sell through the Kemptville Sale should communicate at once with the Secretary-Treasurer, W. M. Croskery, Kemptville. The Kemptville sale already has an enviable reputation for genuiness. It is true some cattle have been sold through the sale which could hardly be said were a credit to it, nevertheless there are few clubs in Ontario can boast of the fact that three untested animals have been sold through records. No one can dispute the fact that there are excellent facilities at Kemptville for holding a sale. All that is needed is a larger field of breeders, the invitation is therefore extended to outside breeders to join this Club, the membership fee is $2 00.

A special feature of this meeting was an address by Dr. Barnes, of the Health of Animals Branch, Ottawa, which was very instructive and interesting to all the members present.

GOLDFIELD

Misses Dorothy Casselman and Irene Nephew, who are attending the Ottawa Normal School, are home for the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Brownell of Osnabruck, visited relatives here the first of the week.

Burns Prove Fatal to a Young Child

Christie McDonald, the two and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McDonald of Bonville, suffered so greately from burns on her body Friday that she died a couple hours later. The child and her brother Donald a year her senior, were playing in a room upstairs and her clothing caught fire, presumably from a pipe. The children screamed and their mother ran to them, but before she reached the room the little ones clothing was all on fire and she was so terribly burned that the physician who was called could do nothing for her. It is said there were no matches in the room.

Railway News

Toronto.—It is announced that Mr. G. S. Beer, C. P. R. city passenger agent, under District Passenger Agent William Fulton, has been promoted to the post of assistant district passenger agent. Mr. Fulton now has two assistants in his territory.

Medicine Hat, Alberta—An expenditure of about $60,000 is represented by the extension to the Canadian Pacific Railway roundhouse and the construction of the Company's mechanical coaling plant, and that sum is about equally divided between these two improvements. In both instances the work has given much employment to local men and there is still a considerable amount of inside work to be done in connection with the extension to the roundhouse.

Renfrew, Ontario—Mr. Ed. Williams, Canadian Pacific Railway baggage master, who in addition to his regular duties, takes care of the flower garden which attracts so much favorable comment from travellers over the line, has secured another triumph. Mr. Williams has just been notified that his plot has been awarded second prize in the Quebec district, all of the depot gardens having been recently judged by an official of the road. During the past few years Mr. Williams has carried off a number of first prizes but the competition is growing keener year by year.

St. Thomas, Ontario—Work has been commenced on the construction of an extension to the present C.P.R. yards east of the city, in the form of an 800-foot repair track at an expenditure of approximately $15,000. The grading work which is being done by Irwin and Son of this city, was started recently. The extension is necessary to cope with the increased business and also to facilitate the repairing of cars. It is also understood that the addition of the new tracks will result in several more employees being added to the C.P.R. repair gang.

A small track about 80 feet long will also be erected alongside the new tracks to be used in case of an emergency. The new track will hold at least forty cars. Four teams and about twenty men are engaged in rushing this work to completion.

Belfast, Ireland—For the first time on record a Canadian-bound steamer sailed from Belfast Lough conveying mails direct from the Northern capital. The vessel was the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's S.S. "Metagama," which, incidentally, was built in Belfast. The vessel anchored off Kilroot and 23 bags of mail, together with some 100 emigrants from Ulster, were conveyed to it by the Harbor Commissioners' tug "Musgrave."

Hitherto it had been the practice to send the mails to Liverpool and other ports, from which they were despatched, but, acting on instructions from the secretary of the Post Office in London, the present system was introduced.

One of the passengers was a five-year-old child, from Dublin, whose parents are in Canada. The little one was in charge of a matron who handed it over to the matron of the 'Metagama."

A Belfast "Telegraph" representative was shown over the "Metagama," and saw something of the excellent arrangements made for the comfort of passengers.

London, England — Major A. Ewan Moore, London Manager of the C.P.R. Department of Colonisation and Development, 62-65, Charing Cross, has received the following letter from their Brussels office:

"Dear Sir,—I beg to advise that a certain Mr. Martin, Avenue des Courses, Bruxelles, who has formerly resided in Canada, brought over by our Line in April of this year a shipment of Canadian potatoes. They were planted soon after arrival, at Boisfort, a suburb of Brussels, where an exhibition of and products was held on Sunday last. A certain Mr. Lemmens planted 2½ acres with Mountain Green and Irish Cobblers. His crop amounted to over 300,000 lbs.; one plant bore 9 lbs. 2 ozs., one potato weighing well over 2 lbs. This particular plant has been lent to us for window display and has attracted a great deal of attention. Mr. Martin has 400,000 kilos of Canadian potatoes in Belgium, which are not to be sold for immediate consumption but only for reproduction.—Yours very truly,

(Signed) C. DE MEY, Agent."

90 Years of Canadian Development

Into the history of The Bank of Nova Scotia has been written ninety years of the life of Canada.

In all that time, The Bank of Nova Scotia has been closely identified with the business and agricultural welfare of the country.

From a few straggling settlements scattered from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes, Canada has grown into a nation spanning the continent.

In that development The Bank of Nova Scotia has had its full share, and the few branches in the Maritime Provinces of 90 years ago have grown into a widespread system that covers practically every place of importance in the Dominion.

The same full service is available to the public at all our branches.

Delightful Christmas Entertainment

The members of Trinity Methodist Sunday School presented a program at the annual Christmas Concert in the Music Hall on Christmas night which in its originalty of conception and clever presentation was generally agreed to have surprised those of previous years. To the large audience which filled the hall it afforded continuous entertainment and much wholesome laughter.

The evening was sent upon its happy way by a rousing Chorus by the school. Then followed a programe of much variety and of such great length that lack of space prevents a detailed report. There were recitations, dialogues, orchestra selections, choruses, two drills—a star drill and an evergreen drill—repeated on request by girls of the local and neighboring public schools. The age of those taking part was not restricted and there were numbers by tiny tots and grown ups. Little Jean Allison and Lillian Graham were very sweet and natural in their number. Little Miss Jean Brown gave a heavy reading in an excellent manner and with almost a professional air and her encore received hilarious applause, Mrs. Geo. Merkley always captivates her audience with her very sweet singing and her two numbers were greately enjoyed. Little Isabel Forward of Ottawa, who is a pupil in the Intermediate grade of the Burrowes Course of Music Study, gave a difficult piano solo in a finished style. The men of the Sunday School gave two humourous and rollicking numbers while Messrs. Bolster, Forward and Cass very creditably carried the part of the three Kings of the Orient. Madge Campderos and Dorothy Pelletier appeared as Geisha girls in true Japanese fashion and were heartily encored. A play entitled "Christmas at the Stebbinses" disclosed great talent by a number of young people. In this Miss Harrison appeared to the delight of her audience. Special mention ought to be made of the half-hour Musical play entitled "Christmas Secrets" because it was given entirely by 25 children from 4 to 12 years of age. There were wee tots in night caps and nighties, funny mischevious little brownies, a beautiful fairy, even a diminutive Santa Claus and a most marvellous Christmas pie, at sight of which the children became ecstatic. The happiness of the Kiddies proved to be infectious and all who saw them must have recalled the joys of their own childhood Christmas days.

Celebrates 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morris of town celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage on Monday, which event took place on Christmas day at Bridlington Priory Church, East Yorkshire, England, when Rev. Dr. Pride tied the knot.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris have been in this country about eleven years, and have made many friends, which was shown by the large number present. The high esteem in which they are held was testified to by the beautiful display of gifts. The orchestra played during the serving of supper of which there was variety for the most epicurean appetite. Christmas decorations were in every room, including a bell in the arch-way under which Mr. and Mrs. Morris stood to be married over again, Rev. Meader of Dunbar, officiating. Mrs. Meader played the wedding march. The groom presented the bride with a new wedding ring. Piano solos and songs were rendered during the evening, at the close of which all joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows" and "Aud Lange Syne," all went home feeling that Mr. and Mrs. Morris made excellent hosts and exemplary members of the community.

Nation Valley Family Bereaved

Mr. and Mr,. Ernest Gray have deepest sympathy of the community in the death of the ten-year old son, James Keith, on Fridar morning last, after an illness of but three days. Suddenly stricken with appendicitis, he became critically ill in a very short time precluding removal to a hospital, and was operated on at home, bat it was too late for success and his death followed a short time after. The funeral took place on Sunday when interment was made at Maple Ridge.

Mrs. Wm. Steele, Toys Hill

An old and highly esteemed resident of Toys Hill passed peacefully away to her reward early Sunday the 17th, inst. in the person of Mrs. Wm. Steele.

Deceased had been in failing health for the past year and she longed for the time to go home to be at rest with the Lord. Deceased whose maiden name was Margaret Ann Fykes was born in Cornwall township in the year 1837. She was married to Wm. Steele in 1858 when he took his bride to Finch Township where they lived for over 50 yrs. During that time twelve children were born. In 1909 they moved to Matilda where they passed the remaining days. Mrs. Steele's husband passed away four years ago, also five of her children have been called by death.

She leaves to mourn her loss, Mrs. Jas. Salter, Berwick; Mrs. Ed. Staples, New Bedford, Henry and David of Finch, Mrs. D. Murphy, Montreal; Mrs. Wm. Webb, Winchester Spgs. and Wm. at home, 40 grand-children and 23 great-grand-children.

The funeral was conducted in Winchester Spgs. Presbyterian Church, where Rev. A. Hall officiated. The pall bearers were Messrs. R. Peterson, J. Johnston, Wm. Davidsou, W. McIntosh, D. Barclay, J. Haggerty. The remains were taken to Avonmore where interment took place in the Avonmore cemetery. Deceased was in her eighty-sixth year.

Little Child Eats Tablets With Bad Results

On Thursday last little Edna Young, aged 3 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Young of town, came within a very narrow margin of fatal results in eating B. S. & C. tablets. The mother put her to bed for a little nap after dinner but she got up and was parading around the room and pulled open a drawer of a dresser in which these tablets were. She ate several of them before being found. Mrs. Ross Stata who happened to be there promptly called Dr. Lyons, as the child was starting to take convulsions, when prompt measures brought relief. The child seems very smart this week again playing around as usual.

Report of The School Health Inspection In Northern Dundas For 1922

Number of visits to schools	221
Number of children inspected	8761
Number of re-admissions	144
Number of treatments	192
Number of children sent home	73
Number of defects found	1009
Number of defects corrected	506
Number of emergency calls	3
Number of home visits	812

To explain "re-admissions" mentioned above an attempt is made to exclude those showing signs of illness and keep the school as safe as possible for the children who are well. Mondays and Tuesdays are spent in large centres and pupils returning to school after an absence of three or more days with history of illness are re-admitted if showing no signs or symptoms of illness.

The number of defects are new defects only which have been found during the past year. This figure is very conservative including only those referred to Physician or Dentist for treatment.

The chief aim of the work is prevention and considerable stress has been placed on the practical application of health rules. The results have been encouraging as seldom a pupil is examined who has not been taking care of his teeth. In the beginning, there was a large percentage of the pupils who never knew what it was to use a tooth brush. Tooth brushes were secured from the local druggist at cost and sold in the schools. Children who were not able to buy toothbrushes were given them free. These were supplied by the Jr. Red Cross Society. Through increased interest in Hygiene and Jr. Red Cross methods many other health habits are being formed by the children at this very important age while they are still in our Public Schools.

There have been several scalp conditions (communicable) cleared up in the schools, it being necessary to do this to get results.

The Women's Institute in a very practical way assisted in giving clothing to needy cases and in providing scales for the Winchester Public School.

Health habits alone are not sufficient and will not give best results if physical defects are present, for these hinder the health and handicap the child's educational process. Therefore to give the child a fair chance, these should be corrected. The percentage of defects corrected is much smaller than it should be although results have been gratifying considering the length of time the work has been carried on.

Best results are obtained by visiting the homes and talking over defects with parents and trying to explain what it is going to mean to the child to have these defects corrected.

After almost a year's work in this very important phase of Education, it would seem that to secure best results there needs to be co operation of everyone interested in the Education and health of the children (Parents, Teachers, Trustee Boards, Medical Health Officers and Authorities and Nurse).

The co-operation and interest shown has been greately appreciated and I feel sure the people will not regret taking up this splendid work.

M. M. Campbell, School Nurse.

The Treasurer resports that the levy of $30 per class room and the Government Grant will cover the total cost of the work to the end of the year.

The following are a few of the many cases which received attention of the School Nurse and give a faint idea of the work that has been done.

In a school of forty pupils, more than half had Pediculosis. These were excluded, their homes visited and the mothers were told of the best means of clearing up conditions. Next visit conditions were nearly all cleared up, on the third all heads were clear and there has been no trouble since.

Another case. A pupil 14 years of age had very defective eyes but parents were too poor to attend to them. The Nurse took up the matter with his Sunday School class and they are financing the expenses and giving the boy a chance to succed in life.

A third case A very bad case of enlarged and diseased tonsils and adenoids. Parents were unable to pay for an operation. The nurse took up the case with a local doctor and together they performed the needed operation and now the boy is in a position to learn his school work.

Case No. 4. Three children from one home started to school in a very filthy, ragged condition, parents not interested. Heads were cleaned up and bodies thoroughly washed at school. Clothing was collected and with the aid of the Women's Institute they were properly clothed and fitted up for winter.

In several homes visited the conditions were found to be unsanitary and reports were made to the Health authorities. In other cases families have been found to be in need and church and other organizations have been interested and proper provision made for their wants.

We hear of an ...al dope ring, supposed to ... its headquarters in Montreal, where c...caine, heroin and other habit forming drugs are distributed through Canada and the Eastern States. One thing is certain, nobody ever heard of "dope parties" until recently. The idea of people who are victims of the drug, gathering at each other's houses for the express purpose of stupefying themselves with dope is a horrifying one, and seems more shocking than the practices of the opium dens. Yet "dope parties" are said to have been frequently held at Hollywood, the home of the movie industry. It was at these parties that Wally Reid, a favorite screen comedian, acquired the habit. He says that he never liked the stuff, but continued to take it because it was considered the smart thing to do, and eventually he became an addict. The result is that he had a breakdown in health, and is now a nervous wreck, struggling painfully to conquer the habit and regain possession of his self respect. The use of dope is probably no more general among movie actors than among any other class in the community, but when a famous star is known to have fallen a victim of the habit the fact is given the widest publicity, just like any other news concerning him. It is one of the penalties of celebrity. Some months ago when New York opened a free clinic for drug addicts men and women of all classes applied for relief. Some of them desired to be cured of the habit. Others merely wanted a small supply of dope to ease the torture of their poisoned nerves. It was one of the most pitiful clinics ever held. ...ere is no gaol or penitentiary in the ... has not its drug addicts; some ...e there because they are ...rs are there because of other ...hich may have been committed ...esult of slavery to drugs. If every ...addict is not a criminal it is because ...is in possession of sufficient funds to enable him to procure the drugs he needs. Certain it is that no addict would stop at theft or even more serious crime if the commission of it was necessary to secure drugs or the means to procure them. The fact that a dope fiend may require eight or ten dollars' worth of drugs a day is an indication that only a minority can be honestly in possession of the money to satisfy the craving. Moreover as the habit becomes more firmly established the victim becomes less capable of doing any work. He must beg, borrow or steal and he does it without any thought but the immediate necessity of soothing his nerves. These people ought to be treated primarily as diseased persons and not as criminals. If the craving for narcotics can be cured, as it has been cured in thousands of cases, the criminal tendencies automatically subsi le. There are two cures. One consists of gradually tapering off the drug allowance, and at the same time building up the general health. The other is called the "cold turkey" method. It consists of abruptly cutting off the supply and leaving the victim to writhe in torment until he either goes out of his mind or conquers his habit. The latter cure seems inhuman. Civilization would not thus tolerate the torture of a condemned murderer and it is surely a terrific punishment for an offence that is really disease. The police find great difficulty ...ing an end to the traffic, because ...fits are so great the drugs are so ...sily smuggled and concealed and because addicts show a supernatural cunning in gratifying their horrible habit. Whether prohibition has added to the number of addicts is a debateable point, but it is a fact that drug addicts are not as a rule liquor drinkers. If they have been, they stop the lesser habit when they become bond slaves to the more deadly one.

...of The German Mark

...e showed how Germany ... maintain trade within itself, ...n that which represents the price ...ered and accepted in transactions ...is neither present nor future value. ...here are other peculiarities in the situation. One of them is that the nominal value of marks in Germany is higher than the exchange value; that is, the value in other countries. Another and still more puzzling fact is that the prices for the commodities in Germany to foreign purchasers who offer marks in payment are higher than the prices to domestic consumers. The two things result from different causes and must be treated separately.

The original reason why a currency depreciates is that it cannot be redeemed. When once paper money falls below par the extent to which it depreciates depends roughly on how much of it is issued—the more paper currency there is, the less it is worth. That is nearer to being mathematically true of the foreign valuation the rate of exchange—than it is of the valuation in domestic trade; for commodity prices and wages, which are the accurate test of depreciation, do not rise so rapidly or so uniformly as the printing presses issue paper money. The ability to get rid of a sum received at once at virtually the same rate serves to retard somewhat the decline at home, but there is no such retarding influence on the decline of marks in the hands of foreigners; consequently the home value of the currency is always higher than the foreign value.

The other fact requires a different explanation. Although an American in Berlin with his pocket full of German marks can buy as much with them as a German could, an American merchant who orders goods to be sent to New York and offers marks in payment cannot get the goods at the domestic price The paper money system, which results in low wages, enables the Germans to produce goods at a lower cost than Great Britain or the United States can produce them. They take advantage of that by charging higher prices to foreign importers than to home consumers. They can thus obtain excessive profits and yet undersell their competitors. That explains the admitted prosperity of Germany at the present time. The government also profits by the situation thus created by imposing special export charges. Both causes tend to diminish the purchasing power of the paper money in the hands of foreigners.

The Gospel of Work

Fall River News.—The gospel of work is being neglected today. Mother and father are working about as hard as ever, but the young people are loafing as never before.

Put them to work!

The mother who allowes her daughter to dawdle her time away to think of nothing but dress and fashion, to play the piano and use the family automobile when she should be washing dishes and helping to make the beds and performing other useful tasks about the house, is neglecting her duty. The girl who grows to womanhood without a knowledge of household management is not a credit to her mother. Her mother has been remiss.

Put her to work.

The father who allowes his son to grow up a loafer is not a good citizen. He should take enough interest in his family to see that the boy is brought up familiar with work. Not dainty jobs alone, but good old fashioned jobs like cleaning out the cellar, handling the ashes and bringing up the coal. It won't hurt him. He can wear gloves if he is afraid of ruining his banjo hands. He can wear a skull cap so as not to ruffle his patent leather hair. And the work will build up his physique just as efficiently as the gym, and the baseball diamond.

Put them to work!

And working will fit them for life. Many of the young folks growing up today have never looked a job of real work in the eyes. They look upon work as something to dread, something to look forward to with fear and trembling, something to be avoided and skulked as long as possible

Put them to work now!

Put them to work early. Honest work never hurt anyone yet. Give them plenty of playtime, but familiarise them with some form of work from the time they are able to walk. Then, when they come to shift for themselves they won't be astonished and hurt because they are expected to toil.

Put them to work!

Changes in The Law

Advoeated By O. M. L.

In conformity with its reputation for doing all in its power to make motoring safe for motorists and pedestrians alike, the Ontario Motor League is advocating the following changes and additions to be made to the Ontario Vehicles Act which is due to come up for revision at the next session of the Legislature:

The licensing of all drivers and endorsation of drivers' licenses for breach of regulations, are nnder the system in effect in Great Britain.

All vehicles carrving overhanging loads to be required to display a warning sign on the extreme end of the load, the following wording is suggested for this amendment:

All vehicles carrying loads which overhanging the vehicles to the extent of five foot or upwards shall display upon such overhanging load at the rear end a light, flag or other sign sufficient to warn the public of the projection of such load."

Removal of onus of disproving negligence from the owner or operator of a motor vehicle where an accident happens between street intersections in cities, and in cases where vehicles other than motor vehicles are driven at night without lights. (Amendment to section 13 of MotorVehicles Act).

An amendment providing that information regarding breaches, of traffic regulations be laid and summonses either delivered or forwarded by registered post to the person charged, within seven days.

That the time within which an action may be taken for damages against the owner of a motor vehicle be limited to six months.

The recognition of the Parking Light by an amendment to section 6. of the Motor Vehicles Act. It is suggested that this amendment read as follows:

Every motor vehicle while standing upon any public highway at such times as lights are required by the provisions of this section for such motor vehicles may in lieu of the lighting equipment specified in this act show one light of at least two candlepower carried on the left side of car in such a manner as to be visible to the front and rear and so as to show white to the front and red to the rear.

Legalization of the use of Spot Lights, subject to the same restrictions as headlights (Amendment to Section 9. subsection 3, of the Motor Vehicles Act.)

What Bloodhounds Can Do

Bloodhounds are interested, not in attacking a fugitive, but only in following his trail. The ability of a bloodhound to follow even an old trail, we learn from Mr. Samuel A. Derieux in the American Magazine, is truly remarkable.

Fifty hours after the robbery of a mail train at Casper, Wyoming, two bloodhounds were put on the trail of the bandits and at once led the officers into the desert. During a thirty-six-hour run the dogs did not hesitate once and finally reached the criminals, who surrendered without resisting.

The trail was "cold" but on the other hand few if any tracks had crossed it. For that reason this incident may seem even more remarkable than the one just narrated. In Nebraska a man once tried to kidnap a girl Twelve hours after the attempt two bloodhounds were put on his trail; they followed it almost twenty miles to a town that was holding a fair. The streets were crowded, and people, thinking no doubt that the hounds were a part of the entertainment, stopped to watch them. Suddenly the dogs turned, nudged their way through the crowd and with wagging tails stopped in front of a certain man. The fellow was amazed and indignant when the officers told him that he was under arrest; but six hours later he confessed the crime!

Cox-Comb English

Mr. Johnson, stickler for correct English, both in and out of the classroom, takes every opportunity to set right the erring in this respect. A few days ago he went into a drug store and asked for a man's comb.

"Do you want a narrow man's comb?" inqnired the clerk, courteously.

"No," replied Mr. Johnson, with the utmost gravity, "I desire a comb for a stout man with rubber teeth."

Versatile Bug

Teacher—"Now tell me the name of the insect which is first a tank and then an airplane."

Pupil—"It's the caterpillar, which changes into a butterfly."

Qualified

"What profession is your boy Josh going to select?"

"I'm going to educate him to be a lawyer," replied Farmer Corntossel. "He's naturally argumentative an' bent on mixin' into other people's troubles an' he might jes' as well get paid fur his time."

HELP HELPLESS BLIND BABIES

A Dominion Charter, without stock subscription, was recently obtained for the establishment in the city of Ottawa of a Home Nursery, Hospital and Kindergarten, for the blind under six years of age, free to all from any Province in the Dominion. So far nothing has been done for the poor unfortunates. According to reports received from the various Provincial authorities, there are at present nearly 250 in the Dominion. The late Sir Arthur Pearson, before his death, claimed that, "Sunshine Home," at Chorley Wood, England, was "the only home in the Empire for blind babies." It is hoped shortly to have the SECOND in Canada. To this end and money is urgently required. Help us with your generous gift. "Lest we forget; Do it now!" Cheques should be made payable to the Canadian Blind Babies Home Association. Remittances will be promptly acknowledged.

BONDS

Are Mortgages on Fixed Assets

When a township issues debendtures (or bonds) it gives a mortgage on the whole township for security to the buyers of the bonds for the loan of their money for a definite uumber of years at a satisfactory rate of interest.

If the amount required is large it is divided into small mortgages, (that is, bonds or debentures) of $500 or $1,000 each, with the same security behind each, so that investors with small sums may take advantage it.

Bonds or debentures are rated the safest kind of an investment.
