Chesterville District Fair Set For Big Year

Given any kind of a break by the weatherman, Chesterville and District's annual Fall Fair should smash all existing records this year. The rosy picture was painted by Presidnt Harold Lannin Tuesday night at the annual Ladies' Night banquet held at Docksteader's Country Kitchen Restaurant.

Speaking to an enthusiastic gathering of 75 at the cheery banquet President Lannin revealed the 1965 prize money would jump to an all time record high of more than $10,000. In Mr. Lannin's words, "But comes the big surpise. Thanks to our class "B" status and the new classifications for cattle, the prize money offered for 1965 will be $10,447.00."

This represents, roughly, an increase of more than $4,000 over last year. In summing up events over the past year or two President Lannin pointed out that membership in the Socity had jumped from 136 to 161, that entries last year were 1206 compared to 586 in 1963, more than doubie, and that the loan had been reduced by $900 in 1964. At the same time he pointed out that close to $400 had been spent on building improvements. He also said that the executive has proposed the building of a new fence enclosing all of the grounds, both old and new, the installation of floodlights in front of the grandstand and at the front gate, and the bringing of water to the catte area. Although the cost will range in the neighbourhood of $3,600, it is expected that provincial and federal grants will account for 75 per cent. of the total expenditure.

Mr. Lannin paid a special vote of thanks to municipalities and others who contributed towards the Fair's success and urged all members to get on the bandwagon to make the 1965 edition of Chesterville Fair the best ever.

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker at the banquet was Mrs. Frank Ryan, of CFRA, Ottawa. In her address she dealt particularly with the important work of rural fairs. She said one way to keep up interest in Fairs is to expand the facilities. She presented one or two good examples of how this could be done, mentioning in particular broader promotion of the events, more classes and increased emphasis on women's work, handicrafts and educational exhibits.

She was introduced by Chesterville Reeve Carl Merkley and thanked by Mrs. Gladys Smith. Others at the banquet who spoke briefly included Mrs. Jean Wadds, MP Grenville-Dundas, and Fred M. Cass, MPP for the riding, as well as Councillor George Elliott of Winchester.

During the evening all ladies attending the banquet were presented with yellow carnations, and accordian selections wer played by Mrs. Don Cross of Chesterville.

It was a most enjoyable evening and a good start for what should be a big year for Chesterville Fair.

Flood Lights For Recreation Park

Williamsburg Township has accepted the tender of Ontario Hydro for lighting of the recreation field.

The tender from Hydro for $5,000 is to be the major portion of the Township's Centennial expenditure. Acceptance of the tender was at the regular meeting of the municipal body Saturday in the I.O.O.F. Hall.

The Road Superintendent was delegated to attend the Roads School in Guelph. Council also brought down the 1965 budget.

Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic May 19

Blood donors from Winchester and district are being asked to attend the annual blood bank at the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital on May 19.

Over 200 persons gave blood last year in the most successful campaign ever held in the village. The blood bank helps replace the many hundred pints of blood provided free each year by the Red Cross Blood Service.

Plans are being made now for the reception of more blood donors than last year and the local officials are asking for complete co-operation on behalf of all citizens.

Matilda Helps Ratepayers

Matilda Township taxpayers see some relief in their tax bills relating to school tax, which in recent years have been increasing steadily. Notable in the decreases are the Township School Area rate which this year is 9 mills as compared with 11.1 mills last year. The South Dundas District High School tax rate this year is 17.8 mills, down one mill from last year. School section 3 (which is in with Iroquois Public School) is down from 8.8 to 6.3 mills, and School Section 3-14½ is down one-half mill. Those paying to North Dundas will find a drop of 3.3 mills, down from 25.4 to 21.2 mills.

There is a slight increase in the Township tax rate at 10 mills (including fire protection of 1.5) from 8.4 last year. The County rate is 16.6 as compared with 15.5 last year. S. S. 14-21 holds steady at 13 mills; Morrisburg Separate School at 12 mills, Iroquois Separate School at 12 mills, and Mountain District High School steady at 19.1.

Township Area and South Dundas H. S. total is 53.4 mills for residential and 61.9 for commercial.

Commercial and industrial rates are as follows, with last year's figures in brackets: Township 14, fire 1.6, 15.6 mills (14); County rate, 16.5 (15.5); Township School Area, 10 (12.4); Union S. S. 3, 7 (9.8); Mountain District, 21.2 (21.2); South Dundas, 19.7 (20.8).

Forecast

'65 Budget No Change

When the smoke from exhaled cigars and heated conversation had cleared Monday evening all indications pointed to no increase in the 1965 mill rate. It is apparent now that the mill rate will remain steady at residential 78.4 and commercial 87.1.

To be approved at Council's next meeting will be a $158,167 budget that calls for increased capital expenditure and for payment of a hiked county rate of $26,709.00. Taking sharp cuts under the council knife will be the roads program, water and sewer systems' expenditures.

The village's assessment took a $63,000 jump in 1964 and put the total at $1,685,000. This makes the village mill worth approximately $1,680.00. The village operated at a small deficit during 1964 and the new budget will call for a break even system that will include payment of the deficit. The deficit of course resulted from unforseen expenses on the roads and other programs.

Estimates from both the North Dundas District and Winchester Public Schools were considerably lower than last year and this was influential in keeping the mill rate steady in the face of increase in many other sections.

Final budget figures will not be available until council's next meeting when the budget is complete and final details will be presented for approval. Municipal auditors will endeavour to break down all the figures that Council has submitted for various departments and transfer them to their proper percentages and into the mill rate.

Clerk C. R. Robinson noted at the meeting that during 1964 the village had collected $132,927.00 in taxes and will collect an estimated $137,800 during the fiscal year 1965. The remainder of municipal revenue is made up of various grants, licences and fines.

All indications are that the mill rate will remain stable, with some additional funds being raised through the increased assessment.

Lions Easter Seal Drive Big Success

Graeme Hardy, Chairman of the Easter Seals Committee for the Metcalfe and District Lions Club, reports the final tabulation of the results of the campaign.

The Easter Seal Campaign is to aid crippled children in the area, and 2000 letters were sent out in the district. The response was good, considering this is only the second year the local club has undertaken this effort. 330 of the appeal letters were answered with donations totalling $750.00.

It is interesting to note that in the area canvassed by the Metcalfe and District Lions Club there are several crippled children who benefit greatly from these generous donations.

If any reader knows of any child who is crippled and in need of assistance in any way, please contact any member of the Metcalfe and District Lions Club.

Williamsburg Mill Rate Down

A budget in the amount of $166,100 was approved by the Township of Williamsburg for 1965. Bringing down their budget, members of Township Council noted that this is the second consecutive year the mill rate has decreased. For the ratepayers of South Dundas the mill rate will be 50.5 mills and for the ratepayers of North Dundas the rate will be 55.4 mills.

This overall rate shows a 0.9 mill reduction for South Dundas and 1.6 mill decrease for North Dundas.

The Township rate shows 5.0 for general, 1.0 relief, fire protection, 0.5.

The following mill rates with the 1964 rates in brackets will apply in 1965: South Dundas High School, Real 16.0 (18.7); Commercial, 17.8 (20.6); North Dundas, Real, 20.9 (24.3); Commercial, 23.2 (26.8); United Counties, 14.7 (14.4); Williamsburg Public School, Real, 13.3 (12.8); Commercial, 14.8 (14.1); Matilda Public School, Real, 13.7 (10.0); Commercial, 15.3 (11.0). Township General, Real, 5.0 (4.0); Commercial, 8.8 (8.5); Relief, 1.0 (1.0); Fire Rate 0.5 (0.5).

D.H.O. Plans Area Projects

Estimates for expenditure by the Ontario Department of Highways for the Ottawa District are $11,513,800. Some $3,288,300 would go for new construction and the remainder for maintenance.

Projects slated for this year of immediate interest to this area are at Highway 31, Vernon, and on the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway.

Call for grading, granular base and paving for a distance of 5.6 miles on Highway 31 at Vernon will go out. Granular base, paving and structures for the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway from county road, Iroquois, to county road, Aultsville, north lanes only, including the Crysler Memorial Park interchange for a distance of 16.6 miles.

Another area project will see the preparation of sites for three new service centres on the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway, two of them located about two miles east of Crysler Park Road and the third about a half mile west of the Quebec boundary.

ARDA PROJECT ?

Lack Of Good Farming Land Serious Eastern Ontario Problem

Only one-third of Eastedn Ontario's 6,000,000 acres is good agricultural land, and much of this land suffers from poor drainage, according to Dr. B. C. Matthews of the University of Guelph. Dr. Matthews addressed the ARDA Conference held at Kemptville Agricultural School recently.

The problem of increasing incomes and natural resources use in Eastern Ontario was discussed by over 100 people interested in farm, forest, industry and recreational problems of the area.

Keynote talks were given on recreational problems by W. A. G. Thurston, district forester, and forestry resources by H. R. Grinnell, timber supervisor, both of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

PROBLEMS OF LAND USE

Dr. Matthews brought the problems of land use clearly into focus with his talk. Industrial resources were discussed by H. R. Callan, general manager, Eastern Ontario Development Association. H. F. Crown, diretcor of ARDA in Ontario, outlined the work of ARDA in this area and touched on proposed local programs.

Conference Chairman George Suffel, president of the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Association, summarized the day's proceedings before breaking the conference into four study groups.

A decision was reached to ask each county to elect one ARDA committee member to a co-ordinating committee for Eastern Ontario. This committee will act on the resolutions passed at the conference and forward its findings to the Toronto ARDA directorate.

1967 Caravan Has Winchester On Its Schedule

Confederation Caravan, mobile exhibit unit that tells the story of Canada, will be stopping in Winchester during Canada's 1967 Centennial.

A mobile exhibit containing eight trailers hold a continuous story of Canada from the time of the last ice age to the present. They include origins, explorations, settlements, pre - confedration, confederation, achievements of the Canadian way of life, and the position of Canada in the world. A special feature of each of the eight such units travelling the country will be an exterior exhibit showing some facts of th particular area in which it is located.

An all round picture of Canada, yesterday, to-day and tomorrow will be on display in the Caravan.

Old Fort Henry Mascot David Dies At 12

Visitors to historic Old Fort Henry will no longer be greeted by its most popular Guardsman.

David, the pure bred White Sanen goat, official number 235, who served as mascot since 1953, died at the age of 12 years. Cause of the death of the animal was heart failure brought on by old age.

Guardsman David was presented to the Fort as a kid by the Saint David's Society of Toronto to commemorate the service at the Fort of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers in 1842.

Council Gives Green Light On Centennial Programme

Winchester's Centennial project will see its first actual work this week. At Monday evening's meeting of Council Parks Chairman Roy Fawcett got the green light to start work on the project in the Community Park. Town crews will have cleared the park of fences and moveable objects by Thursday morning, and a bulldozer will begin to level off the back section of the park.

The buldozer will knock down the embankment that has served as a track at both north and south ends and push the soil into the centre sections of the old track that are low. With the rough levelling complete and brush removed, the Dundas Junior Farmers will move in with their tractors and equipment to level, work and manage the grounds ready for tree planting, seeding and drainage installations.

More details of the Centennial were released and a considerable saving will be realized by the purchase of chain link fence for around the pool from a local distributor.

Reeve G. H. Reynolds spoke again of the Centennial Caravan that will be stopping in Winchester during the 1967 festivities. The eight trailer caravan displaying Canada from the ice age to the present will probably be located in the park for viewing if present plans are acceptable.

In other business Town Engineer Reg. Freeland was authorized to begin tar and chipping of some streets that are in need of repair. An additional fire phone will be installed in the residence of Harry McRoberts. Note also was made of the increased pressure for a St. Lawrence Street sewer. A suggestion that is gaining much favour now calls for a sewer line to run out St. Lawrence from Main to Clarence to hook on the existing sewers at both ends. Other various drainage and street problems about the village were discussed and appropriate action was authorized.

Council's next meeting will be for adoption of a budget in the main approved at Monday's meeting.

Ontario Seeks More Tourists

A man about 40 years of age, with a family of two or three children, an income of about $8,000 per annum and driving a late model car, is the typical tourist that travels in Ontario, whether he be from within the province, from Canada or from the United States. This is the man that the advertising campaign of the Ontario Department of Tourism and Information is aimed at.

Details of the vast and intricate advertising campaign of the Ontario Government department were revealed to a meeting of interested and associated parties at Upper Canada Village last week. Fred J. Boyer, Executive Director, Ontario Department of Tourism and Information, lead the panel, and forum discussion on tourism and its promotion, and Thorold Lane of the Seaway Valley Travel Council chaired the meeting. Adding valuable contributions to the session was John Marley of the James Lovick Advertising Agency who handles the department account.

VARIED IMAGE

What those in the know in the tourist industry are trying to promote is the vast variety that Ontario has to offer. Their aim is to create a varied image that will paint Ontario as a land of combination where the traveller can partake of history, adventure, wilderness, top accommodation and excellent cuisine. And all this comes to the visitor on a twelve month of the year basis.

ADVERTISING

To promote Ontario's varied year round image a multi-million dollar advertising program will send out 200,000,000 selling images to key locations in the ten northern states from whence come most American tourists, and neighbouring provinces of Quebec and Manitoba. These messages will go to all media: newspapers, weekly and daily; radio and television and in the form of booklets, maps and other means. Many of the advertisements will have coupons or invitations to mail or write for more information. Upon receipt of the request a kit with Ontario unveiled in all its varied aspects will be returned to the interested.

Travelling counsellors will take a first hand look at Ontario and write their impressions of what they see. Local organizations and newspapers are being invited to take a critical look at their own areas and pass their attributes on to the department. In the U. S. the advertising is being keyed to a theme of "Friendly, Familiar, Foreign and Near." In Canada the key is "Great Ontario Adventure Vacations."

On the local level of promotion it was revealed at the meeting that the Seaway Valley Travel Council has now in production 50,000 large folders boosting this area. These will be for distribution throughout the region.

A Five Dollar Headache

Headaches can come from a variety of causes in varying degrees of intensity and severity. A mild headache can cause discomfort and irritation; a severe headache could be a sign of a serious disorder.

A contagious headache hit this village last week. From the offices of the town fathers, it swept down through the municipal system causing irritation and apprehension, out into the streets it scampered striking merchants with the fear of sickness and then its first victims of a serious nature were struck a cruel blow. The victims were the lifeblood of this community — the customers.

The headache was the $5.00 parking ticket.

After extensions and delay and frequent rewritings, Winchester finally got its first legal parking by-law passed by all levels of government earlier this year. The long awaited by-law set down once and for all the regulations that would organize parking within the village. Last fall diagrams were scribed on the streets to aid motorists in proper parking. The lines seemed to gain acceptance because cars were seen to be placed between the guarding white lines. The called for angle parking on Main East and parallel parking on Main West and St. Lawrence was greeted as good and apparently accepted.

But, with the winter the snows hid the lines and parking lost its youthful uniformity. And in the spring, when the lines re-appeared the cars did not, on numerous occasions, appear within their outlines. Note had been taken of this lack of co-operation on behalf of the driving public and last week apparently the order came into the Police Department to straighten things out. With duty in mind the police were on the streets trying to educate the drivers the one way many feel is the only — the fine.

No complaint from this corner is being lodged against the regulations or their enforcement. The rules are good, we need them, and they should be enforced. What we dispute is the harshness of the $5 fine for illegal parking and its suddenness of application.

A two dollar fine is accepted practice in the vast majority of other Ontario municipalities and we think it should apply to Winchester. Already this business community is fighting to attract the buying public and retain their customers from the bright lights of the city and the vast shopping centres. Should prospective customers be further discouraged by fear of a $5 ticket, and without warning.

At the recent Chamber of Commerce meeting a point well illustrated was the need for more courtesy to all customers who enter the village. If they park across a white line or one-half hour too long, do we nail them with a ticket? — not if we want to see them again.

We advocate, in addition to a reduced $2 parking fine, an ample consideration of our trade that arrives in cars. Parking offences can not be ignored, but they can be handled diplomatically and with tact that will make Winchester popular, not obsolete as a shopping centre. Why not check first time offenders with a courtesy card stating their misdemeanour and asking for their co-operation in proper parking on future visits to the village. This could be a polite but impressionable warning that would impress upon the mind of the motorist the necessity of proper parking and the friendliness and consideration of this village. With this attitude we will see our customers again and properly parked.

For the habitual local parking offender a word of warning from the police department should suffice. With the word received if the local driver can not park properly, there should be no qualms about assessing a TWO DOLLAR TICKET and not a FIVE DOLLAR HEADACHE.

International Payments

Canadian gold reserves and foreign exchange might be expected to fall during 1965, according to the Bank of Montreal's Business Review for April, just issued. It summarizes changes on the Canadian balance of international payments during the past decade.

Maintenance of the recent rate of growth in the commodity trade surplus with the world as a whole may prove difficult in the face of the efforts being made by the United Kingdom to reduce its deficit in trade with overseas countries and in the light of the probable increase in imports into Canada as the business expansion continues.

In addition, the very strong rise in capital outlays planned for this year will almost certainly be reflected in heavier imports of machinery, equipment and materials going into this investment program.

The program of voluntary restraints on various categories of lending abroad announced by the United States in February could lead to a reduction of inflow of funds into Canada, notwithstanding the general disposition of Canada as a special case.

Merchandise exports have been rising at a rapid clip and last year jumped by 16 per cent. to a record $8.25 billion, with sales to countries other than the United States rising more than the rise to the U. S.

Special wheat sales accounted for part of the rise, but exports of fully manufactured goods also rose sharply, largely to traditional markets in the United States, the United Kingdom, and the rest of the Commonwealth. Imports have been rising strongly, reflecting buoyant business conditions in Canada and have offset the gains in exports to some extent. But, for the year as a whole, merchandise imports did not rise as much as exports and in consequence there was further growth in the excess of receipts over payments that has been a characteristic feature of the economic expansion that got underway in 1961.

On the other hand, non-merchandise trade throughout the decade 1954-64 has shown a rising deficit, more than half of which is payment of interest and dividends of foreign investment in Canada. These payments have increased because of growing foreign investment and higher returns on investments as Canadian business conditions improved during the past four years.

In addition, the travel account shows a growing deficit as more Canadians travel abroad, enlarging the deficit with overseas countries and reducing the surplus with the United States.

Capital movements in all forms, both long and short term, have resulted in a net inflow in each of the past four years which has been more than enough to cover the deficit arising from current transactions in goods and services. In consequence, monetary reserves have risen by the amount of the difference, the B. of M. Review states.

Ottawa Report

By Mrs. Jean Wadds

The guessing game regarding a federal election continues on Parliament Hill, but many think the budget this week was weak in appeal if that was the intention.

The Hon. Walter Gordon has presented three budgets now, two very bad indeed and this third with the greatest goodwill could be called nothing more than slow.

The most glaring omission was failure to face the demands of education. On all sides it becomes daily more apparent that human productivity, use of our resources, increased industrialization exports, our whole economy, our whole standard of living, is based on education.

In 1954-55 university enrolment was 4.4% of young people between the ages of 18 and 24. In 1964-65 it had risen to 9.3%, and in 1974-75 it is expected to be 15.2% of this age group.

These figures may be still higher. It is to be hoped that Canada will not lag behind in this vital area of human development. We have before us the example of what has happened in the United States. Some fifteen years ago the United States had over 8% of their late teens and early twenties enrolled in universities. Today they have close to 40 per cent.

The last increase to our universities came under the Conservative government in 1962-63 when the per capita grant was increased from $1.50 to $2.00 a head.

The fact is that the per capita grant system is very much in need of revision. It is calculated on a per capita basis per province. The population increase is about 2% per annum while the student increase across the country averages from 11-12%, and this is increasing progressively. What is even more startling is that the operating costs of the universities are increasing by 16% per annum.

So while student enrolment and especially operating costs—the most important factor for the universities — are seriously increasing, they are not nearly being matched by the per capita increase upon which the grant is based each year—the real value of the grant. In actual fact universities are being penalized for increase and development. The more young people enter universities the less money the federal government gives in relation to the numbers. This is an alarming state of affairs and one that should most certainly have been dealt with in this budget. Instead we find the Minister of Finance in a vague voice stating:

"It is evident that more needs to be done in financing higher education in Canada, though just what should be done and in what way are unresolved questions."

For a government that boasts, or used to boast of its decisiveness, this is just not good enough. The Minister and his large department has access to all the facts and a simple increase in the present per capita grant could well have been made, pending a complete revision of needs, or pending the Bladen Commission Report expected in early fall.

The need for this increase is very clear and it is an immediate problem right now as the universities are planning the 1965-66 academic year. It is an especially great problem for the Maritimes where they have the unique problem that more of their university students are from outside the area than is the case anywhere else in Canada, so that the per student value of their grant is even lower than in the rest of Canada.

The second great omission in the budget was the failure of the government to deal in any way whatever with the sales tax on machinery and equipment entering into production. It would seem that everybody, and certainly the financial press editors have urged this in every way, would agree that it is absolutely essential to reduce our costs and maintain efficiency. As the former Minister of Finance, the Hon. George Nowlan said in reply to the budget speech, "There is no reasonable excuse for the Minister's failure to remove the sales tax on equipment and machinery for production."

The much emphasized 10% cut in income tax is another bit of this government's upside down legislation. It gives a very sizeable cut to those who need it least and practically nothing to the average income. In other words, a married man with two children earning $3,000 a year receives a cut of $3.00 a year, or 25c per month. An income of $5,000 a year under the same circumstances will receive a cut of $25.00 per year, or $1.25 per month. Whereas the income of $30,000 will receive a tax cut of $600 a year or $50 per month.

Equally in reverse it would seem, the single person gets a tax cut of $24.00 per year on $3,000, $59.00 per year on $5,000, although the pressures and responsibilities of family and home ownership are well known to all.

The Seventh Column

Many of the advertisements appearing in this and other papers this week have probably jogged your memory. If they haven't we'll remind you here that this Sunday, May 9th, is Mother's Day. Of course, gifts are appropriate because no one is more deserving. But more important is the fact that we simply remember "Mom" this Sunday. A cheery smile, a bouquet, a dinner out some place, a telephone call or telegram, will actually suffice. And don't forget to pin up the red flower if you are so privileged. If your mother is no longer here then you will join the writer by wearing the white flower just as proudly but, perhaps, with quite a few more fond memories. Whether it's "Mom," "Mommy" or "Mother" the gracious lady of the home belongs to a special group of people. So make certain you make this Sunday an extra special day for her. Happy Mother's Day!

It is all over for the National Hockey League now and the Les Habitants from Montreal are the champs for the sixth time in ten years. Hector "Toe" Blake has had an enviable and fantastic record as coach of Les Canadiens and now he leaves it open to question whether he has made his last walk behind the bench. Certainly "Toe" had the big guns firing for him on Saturday evening. With just fourteen seconds gone, the series' most outstanding player potted what was the winning goal. It was almost destined to be Big John Beliveau who scored that marker — he had had two excellent play-off series against both Toronto and Chicago. Hawks did seem to lack something on the ice but we disagree with some sportscasters and fans who repeatedly inferred some of the Hawks' super stars like Hull, Mikita and Pilote were laying down on the job. The men on the ice in the NHL may be professionals but we still maintain that they are out there to play hockey and win; there is no laying down on the job. Even more proof could be put to the fore for the doubter when the difference in the pay-off is noted. Several thousand dollars in the pocket gets that extra little bit of effort out of the pros, so we don't think anyone was just not producing. The fact is that Chicago was beaten by a fired up Montreal aggregation that had a greater desire to win. Methinks Punch Imlach should mix up a little magic potion for next year and get our favourite Leafs' name back on the Stanley Cup.

The golf courses are opening up now and the long winter of spit and polish on the clubs and dreams of Nicklaus driving and Palmer putting can come to an end. After those first few rounds all that mental homework that was supposed to improve the scores can be considered wasted also. Some duffers and accomplished players have been taking advantage of a school in the village, however, and may nip a few strokes off, come opening day. Len Elliott, pro at the Upper Canada layout, has been instructing the golfers the past two Tuesday evenings and rounding off a few rough points and checking a few mistakes. And there is a definite difference. Just think of all those hockey players — season over, bonus cheque coming through, just relax for the next four months and hit the little white ball. We suppose some of them have to work once in a while, however. Like Andy Bathgate and Bobby Rousseau, both golf pros.

Spring 1965 has been very dry. In many instances things are as dry now as they are in the mid-summer. What this means is a constant danger of grass fires at this time of year. With the grass just turning its happy green, many fields and lawns are still a brown and dead winter colour. One careless match or butt thrown away can spell fire trouble. Fishermen out at night with their fires on the banks of the 'pout waters should be doubly sure that the fire is out before they leave.

Sugar and Spice

by Bill Smiley

Frightening, Isn't It?

Are you frozen with terror, these days? You're not? Then wake up, you vegetable. You're supposed to be.

Haven't you noticed the relentless campaign to scare the living daylights out of us ordinary souls? There seems to be a conspiracy, in the communications media, to put you and me and our wives and kids into a perpetual state of fear.

Advertising is the most prevalent, though not the most powerful, weapon of the scaremongers. It is suggested that if we have greasy hair or a greasy sink, we're sunk; that if we don't use a certain soap, we stink; that if we don't drink a man's beer, we're a bunch of you-know-whats.

Well, all this is enough to set up a certain nervous tension in the ordinary amiable chap. What man wants to admit he's a failure because he can't rush out to his friendly neighborhood dealer and snap up an all-new Super Aurora Borealis Shooting Star Sedan, with safety belts? Or has dandruff?

But this is for the morons. You know, all the people who don't read this column. If they want to wind up with acid stomachs, upset nerves, migraine headaches and irregularity, as constipation is now known, serves them right. Anybody who is frightened by that kind of advertising deserves it.

But it is not on the humble commercial-watcher that the big guns of the horror-brigade are trained. It is on the serious reader- viewer. They have moved, lock, stock and frightfuls, into the newspaper, magazine, book and "serious" TV field.

Every time I pick up, leaf through, or switch on one of these media, somebody is trying to frighten the wits out of me about something. It's a bit hard for a fellow to cope with.

Black headlines or graphic pictures suggest that I'm supposed to be shaken rigid about Communists and cancer; birth control and bingo; high school drop-outs and homosexualism.

Simultaneously, I'm supposed to be stricken by integration and insulation. If I'm not in favor of the former, there'll be a terrible blood-bath. If I'm agin the latter, my heating bill will soar.

Sometime during the day, I'm supposed to be whimpering in a corner because of: high-priced funerals; the computer, which is going to put me out of a job; the unfulfilled housewife; and all that leisure time I'm going to have next year, when automation takes over. You'll notice I haven't even mentioned nuclear fission, which is old hat, nor the squirrels in my attic who, at this moment, according to an article, are chewing my wiring to start a fire in which we'll all be cremated, and do we have enough insurance?

If people weren't basically so tough, sensible and mean, they'd all go to bed and pull the covers over their heads. Fortunately, we're as sensitive as an old rubber boot. But, in case the scare-distributors are bothering you, let me give you a formula that is guaranteed to steady the nerves. One thing at a time.

Communists — most of us are twice as scared of our wives as we are of the Red menace.

Juvenile Delinquents — hit them on the head. Hard.

Cancer — you want to live forever?

Creeping Socialism — better than the galloping type.

The Computer — so who wanted a job in the first place?

Leisure Time — be happy to have a chance to sit on your butt.

Unfulfilled Housewives — fill them.

Population Explosion — see Birth Control; also Nuclear Fission.

High-Priced Funerals — you don't have to pay.

And so on.

Toronto Report

BY FRED M. CASS

With still a great deal of its annual task before it, the Legislature got down to work again on the Tuesday after Easter week. The Provincial fiscal year began on April 1st last and government spending for salaries, public works, highways pensions and all other provincial obligations can only, at law, be done after the estimats (or budget) of a Department have been approved and passed by the House. Since, therefore, Ministers of six Departments, including the top spenders—Education and Highways, had not yet submitted their estimates to the House, it can be realized that much urgent debate and legislative action is most necessary.

The Minister of Economics and Development started the week off by introducing the estimates of his Department. His report on the present economic condition of Ontario and his projections for the future painted a rosy picture of continuing development, lower unemployment and high prosperity level. This would seem to indicate that the economy could well support a fair return to our farmers for their products, which goal has not, as yet, been reached.

The Premier also announced plans for Ontario's Centennial Project which is to be erected, as expected, in the Metro Toronto area and will be a Centre of Science and Technology to be integrated into the provincial educational system and is to cost some $15,000,000. While this would seem to be a worthwhile project, its value to the citizens and school pupils of Ontario living at any distance from Toronto appears to be problematical.

During the week the Minister of Highways tabled his Department's programme for the current year. A great deal of highway construction is scheduled but for Eastern Ontario the bulk of the work and expenditure are concentrated on completion of Highway 401 — the Macdonald - Cartier Freeway, and completion of the Ottawa Queensway in the centre of the city portion and westerly extensions to it. Much necessary reconstruction of Highways 16 and 43 still appear to be well in the future.

The annual convention of the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario met in Toronto this week and in addition to a great struggle among the Members themselves over bargaining rights, the girls marched on Queen's Park and managed to shout down the Government's representatives, three ranking Cabinet Ministers who had agreed to meet them. Surely this is not a very good method of gaining sympathetic consideration by the government of their wishes, on which of course even the nurses themselves are not in agreement.

Knox Church Iroquois Observes 91st Anniversary

On Sunday, May 2nd, the congregation of Knox Presbyterian Church, Iroquois, commemorated its 91st anniversary with special services at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.

Entering upon its centenary decade of giving service and witness throughout the community, the congregation will mark this year's anniversary observances with the special request of the Kirk Session, that the Rev. John J. Hibbs, B. A., B. D. (M. Th. candidate), host-minister, conduct and preach at the evening service, a service which has traditionally become a community service, and to which the local sister congregations are always cordially invited. Bev. Fraser, baritone-soloist of Lincoln Avenue United Church, Galt, has been invited to bring the guest ministry of music to the evening service — a young man whose singing gifts are well known in the western part of the province.

Also, by special invitation of the Kirk Session, the Rev. J. C. McLelland, M.A., B.D., Ph. D., Professor of The History of the Philosophy of Religion and Christian Ethics, of McGill University, and Sessional-Lecturer at the Presbtyerian College, Montreal, will be guest speaker at the congregations' family service in the morning. Dr. McLelland is well known throughout the church as a very stimulating and provocative speaker, presently serving on a number of Boards and Committees of The Presbyterian Church in Canada, and having just concluded a series of addresses in Midland, Texas. The Knox Senior Choir will present the ministry of music at this morning service, and the sister congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, South Mountain, will join in this time of anniversary commemoration.

Concluding its 91st anniversary observances, the congregation will again hold its Anniversary Turkey Dinner in the church hall on Wednesday, May 5, with servings beginning at 5 p.m., and until all are served. Friends of the community are also cordially invited to share with the congregation in this annual, commemorative dinner. Tickets may be secured at the church-door, or from members of the congregation.

STRIKING DESIGN of the Ontario Centennial Centre of Science and Technology—the province's official project to mark Canada's 100th birthday—is accented by the 250-foot tubular walkway that will join the reception building (right) with the triangular core building (centre). On the valley floor (foreground) are the main exhibit halls. The site is a dramatic one at the edge of the Don Valley ravine, just west of Don Mills Road and just south of Eglinton Avenue at the geographical hub of Metro Toronto. It is handy to the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway (highway 401) and to the Don Valley Parkway, increasing its accessibility for all Ontarians. Cabinet Minister responsible for the project is the Hon. James A. C. Auld, Minister of Tourism and Information. Architect is Raymond Moriyama.

SHADES OF THE PAST

Provincial Centennial Project Looks To Ontario's Future

A bold, three-storey triangle of glass and textured concrete will be the key building in the Ontario Centennial Centre of Science and Technology.

It will be a commanding structure, clean-lined and contemporary, yet suggestive of a castle as it rises from a lofty knoll overlooking the Don Valley near the geographical heart of Metropolitan Toronto.

Heightening the dramatic effect will be tiered, circular buttresses anchoring each corner.

The design and details of the scope of the Ontario Government's principal Centennial project were announced by Premier John Robarts. He stressed that it will provide all Ontarians with a versatile and valuable educational tool, and that it will be an outstanding tourist attraction and a useful adjunct to the scientific and industrial community.

The master plan for the Centre calls for eventual construction of a complex of inter-connected buildings, but only the first two of five stages will be completed by 1967. The rest will be added as the need and available funds dictate, perhaps over a period of 20 years.

The site consists of 180 acres of undeveloped parkland running into the Don Valley ravine just south of Eglinton Avenue and west of Don Mills Road. It is easily accessible to out-of-town visitors and tourists because of its proximity to the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway Don Mills Road and the ravine ley Parkway.

On the tableland between Don Mills Road and the ravine will be two sunken parking areas and the reception building with its flared roof.

Visitors will reach the Centre's castle-like "core" by what architect Raymond Moriyama has dubbed "the drawbridge." It is a 250-foot, two level, weather walkway between the table land and the spur on which the main building stands. The northerly wall will be almost entirley glass, providing a spectacular view of the ravine below.

Ninety feet below the core building — on the valley floor and accessible by escalator and elevator — will be the principal exhibition halls and the collections section.

Cosiderable acreage has been reserved for post-1967 expansion, but all of the remaining land will be developed by the Metropolitan Parks Department for year-round recreation.

Plans call for ski runs, skating and picnic areas, several unusual playgrounds, an outdoor amphitheatre and other facilities. The Centre itself intends to maintain outdoor exhibits at strategic locations throughout the park.

This program is designed to ensure that the setting for the Centre is attractive and, at the same time, useful.

Junior Farmer Leaders Attend Day-Long School

An eventful and informative day was held in Vankleek Hill High School as a Junior Farmer Leadership School was held for all Eastern Ontario counties. Chairman for the day was Reg. Wylie, Provincial Director of the host Prescott County.

A workshop for presidents, secretaries and treasurers under the direction of John Elliott, Past President of Ontario Junior Farmers, and a workshop for members directed by Dean of Women at K.A.S., Miss Mary Guernsey, were morning highlights.

Following the lunch, a mock parliament was led by M.P.P. Ossie Villeneuve. Dundas Provincial Director Charles Farlinger acted as Prime Minister, and Frank Cameron, Stormont's Provincial Director, was Leader of the Opposition.

In separate session the girls were instructed on practical remedies for "Accidents In The Home" and given a demonstration on mouth to mouth resuscitation. The men watched slides and discussed animal diseases.

Each county attending the school provided ten minutes of surprise entertainment. In the volleyball tournament conducted throughout the day, Dundas defeated opposition from Stormont, Prescott, Russell and Glengarry. Members of the winning team were Chris Slater, Allan Holmes, Lyle Slater, George Holmes, Lester Holmes, John Cinnamon, Stella Robinson, Cathy Baker and Susan St. Pierre.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

Winchester No. 2

"The Entertainers'" as the Winchester No. 2 Club girls so aptly named themselves, have completed their Spring project, "The Club Girl Entertains." Nine girls under the direction of Mrs. J. Cameron and Mrs. Roy Merkley have studied the art of flower arranging, the ability to be both a good hostess and guest, and also many culinary arts.

Eight meetings were required to complete the course, and after it was finished the girls put to use all they had learned in the form of an afternoon tea. Mrs. Alison Murray, Home Economist, was guest of honour, and other guests were the mothers of the girls. For the occasion at the home of Mrs. Merkley various flower arrangements decorated the rooms, and books and files kept by the girls were on display.

Tea was poured by Saralyn Merkley and a dainty lunch of fancy sandwiches and tea cakes was prepared and served by the girls.

May 15th will be Achievement Day for this project and will be held at North Dundas District High School.

Winchester No. 3

At the climax to "Club Girl Entertains," mothers, grandmothers, and several Women's Institute members were guests at an afternoon tea held on Saturday with the Winchester 4-H Club No. 3 girls as hostesses. Mrs. Bower Potter, W. I. president, poured tea, and the girls took turns serving the sandwiches and cookies which they had prepared themselves.

The tea was preceded by a short meeting during which final plans for Achievement Day were discussed and the last minute work on Record Books finished. The Record Books and Reference Files were on display for the guests to see.

Miss Linda Stewart, president of the Club, thanked the mothers for making their tea a success. Mrs. Potter thanked the 4-H members and leaders for a delightful afternoon and assured them of the Institute's continued interest and support.

W. C. T. U. 49th Annual Convention At Inkerman

The 79th Annual Convention of Dundas-Grenville W. C. T. U. was held in Inkerman United Church on April 28 with afternoon and evening sessions. The convention opened with quiet music played by Mrs. Tom Armstrong of Spencerville, followed with prayer by Mrs. George Dukelow who presided. Devotions were conducted by the Spencerville group. Mrs. H. W. Kirk read the Scripture and gave comments on the chapter from Phillippians.

Words of welcome were extended to the ladies by Mrs. McIntosh of Inkerman, with Mrs. T. J. Keyes replying. The minutes were read by Mrs. Eldon Fennell and the treasurer's report given by Mrs. L. Armstrong. Mrs. T. J. Keyes and Mrs. H. Bruce were appointed a courtesy committee. A report of the resolutions committee prepared by Mrs. Geo. Montgomery and Mrs. S. Wallace was read by Mrs. Wallace. Mrs. E. C. Smith of Renfrew read from two outstanding books, "None Dare Call It Treason," and "The Cross And The Switch Blade."

Mrs. Cecil McIntosh and Mrs. Wallace Crowder rendered a duet, "Have Thine Own Way." Reports of officers and superintendents were given, and the offering was received by Mrs. L. Armstrong and Mrs. T. J. Keyes and dedicated.

Mrs. E. C. Smith of Renfrew, who is the Provincial vice president, gave the afternoon address using as her topic, "For Such A Time As This." A short memorial service followed for all deceased members and was in charge of Mrs. Wm. Taylor of Shanly. The executive met for a short period and chose Mrs. H. W. Kirk of Johnstown as a delegate to the Provincial Convention at Kitchener.

The ladies of Inkerman United Church served a delicious dinner, and the evening session resumed at 8 o'clock with greetings from the Temperance Federation by Mr. Mervyn Peters. Rev. J. H. Weaver of Inkerman Wesleyan Methodist Church offered prayer, and Mr. Peters read the Scripture and based a few thoughts on "High Moral Standards."

In her evening address Mrs. E. C. Smith spoke of Satan's Power being so mighty and how he comes to us in so many attractive forms to ruin our lives. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson rendered another duet, "How Great Thou Art," and Mr. Mervyn Peters closed the convention with the Benediction.

Off To Bermuda

It will be more than one first for Mr. and Mrs. George Larsen of Williamsburg when they leave Uplands Airport on Saturday for the island of Bermuda.

It will be the Larsen's first trip to Bermuda, their first airplane flight and the very first time they have ever won anything of any significance. The trip to Bermuda with all expenses paid was presented to the lucky couple by the Sunbeam Corporation. Last year a purchase of a mixette permitted the Larsens to submit their names in a contest that offered a trip to Bermuda as a prize. The rest is history. They won, they leave Saturday and will return to Williamsburg ten glorious and fun filled days later, probably with a deep exciting stories.

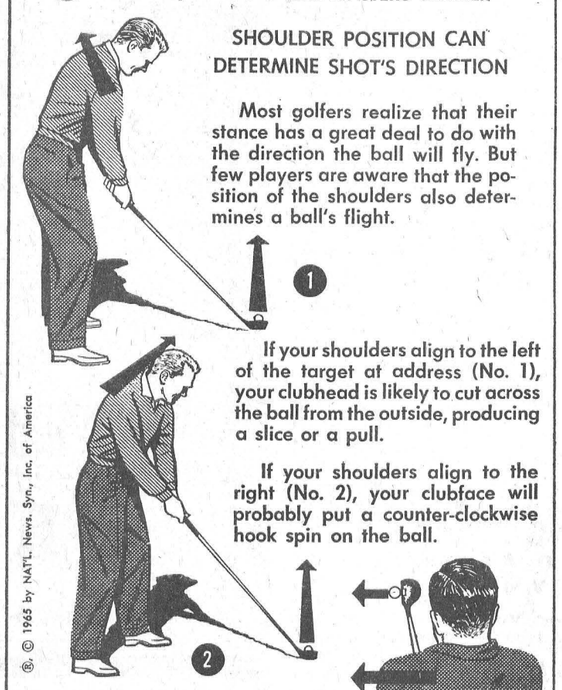
THE ARNOLD Palmer Method

by GOLF'S 4-TIME MASTERS WINNER

SHOULDER POSITION CAN DETERMINE SHOT'S DIRECTION

Most golfers realize that their stance has a great deal to do with the direction the ball will fly. But few players are aware that the position of the shoulders also determines a ball's flight.



If your shoulders align to the left of the target at address (No. 1), your clubhead is likely to cut across the ball from the outside, producing a slice or a pull.

If your shoulders align to the right (No. 2), your clubface will probably put a counter-clockwise hook spin on the ball.

The average golfer will have his best chance for a straight shot if his shoulders, as well as his feet and hips, parallel the target line, as mine are in No. 3.

"AT HOME"

Mr. and Mrs. Eckford W. Johnson, of 18 Fifth St. West, Cornwall, will be "At Home" to their friends and relatives on the occasion of their 50th Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, May 16th, from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Gerald Mullins Heads Metcalfe Curling Club

Gerald Mullins was elected president of the Metcalfe Curling Club at the annual meeting held in the club Monday night. Mr. Mullins succeeds Gordon Scrivens who has just completed two of the most successful years in the history of the club.

A good percentage of the membership was present at the meeting and much time was devoted to discussion on the renovations which will be necessary before another curling season begins.

Another controversial subject dealt with was the system used by the Match Committee in drawing rinks. It was proposed that it might be advisable to have the rinks more carefully selected and left as a unit for the entire season. It was hoped that some change might solve the problem of too many substitutions in competitions. Much thought will be given to this matter and the match committee will have tentative plans to submit to the membership before the next season begins.

A former president, Carman Blair, who has been an active curler since the club was formed in 1925 was appointed chairman for the election of officers. The slate is as follows:

Past president, Gordon Scrivens; president, Gerald Mullins; first vice president, Gordon Boland; second vice president, Joe Rowan; secretary, Wes Clarke; treasurer, Graeme Hardy; Match Committee chairman, Willis Carson; Ways and Means, Bill Porteous; Membership, Peter MacInnis; Maintenance, Gordon Morrow; Ice committee, Dave Croskery; Entertainment, Roy Porteous; Banquet, Doug. Stewart; Club Historian, Bill Woods.

Bill Woods reported that his work is progressing favourably on the compilation of the club history.

When completed it will take the form of a leather-bound book which will be on display at the club. It will contain a complete history of the club, with clippings and other mementos that will bring back fond memories to the older curlers and be an inspiration to new members.

The meeting adjourned on a note of optimism.

A ROUND-UP OF NEWS FROM THE DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOLS

OTHS MDHS NDDHS

N. D. D. H. S.

(By Joyce Bugden)

The students are back now from an all-too-short Easter vacation and have begun the final and most important term in the high school year.

April 27 was an active night at North Dundas. The Harlem Court Jesters played basketball against the St. Lawrence "B" All Stars in the auditorium. The members of this team were at the school in the afternoon to give the members of the school teams a few pointers on how to improve their game. Their antics were enjoyed by everyone who was able to see them play.

Th film "Julius Caesar" was shown in the cafeteria last Friday evening. This is being studied by the students of Grade 10.

Plans are almost completed now for the Second Spring Formal of the high school. The decorating committee is busy preparing decorations for the theme "Blue Hawaii." A contest for the theme was sponsored by the student council and was won by Sharon Holmes of Winchester. From the few hints that have been heard of th plans it promises to be a very enjoyable evening.

The film, "Barretts of Wimpole Street" will be shown tonight (Thursday) in the cafeteria.
