New Village Clerk

Raymond Annable is the new clerk-treasurer of the Village of Winchester. His appointment came at Monday night's inaugural meeting of council following a decision in committee not to rehire C. R. Robinson.

Mr. Robinson, clerk of the village for the past 20 years, expressed keen disappointment in Council's decision not to rehire him for another year. Council members said the decision had been reached reluctantly but felt that a younger man must now be given the opportunity to take over the increasingly heavy demands which go with the job.

A motion by council to hold a testimonial for Mr. Robinson at a later date was rejected by dismissed clerk.

In other appointments Town Engineer, Reg Freeland was rehired in that capacity. Three signing officers were appointed and the auditors will again by Frazer and Otton. Arnold Dukelow was appointed to the South Nation Conservation Authority and the naming of a town welfare officer was held over to a future meeting. F. M. Cass remains as town solicitor.

Committees named by Reeve Christie are as follows:

Finance - Roy Fawcett and Basil Dawley. Roads - Walter Shadbolt and Arnold Dukelow. Property - Basil Dawley and Walter Shadbolt. Utilities - Arnold Dukelow and Roy Fawcett. Police and Relief - Full Committee. Fire Department - Walter Shadbolt and Roy Fawcett. Hospital Board - Roy Fawcett and Don Christie. Industrial - Basil Dawley and Walter Shadbolt.

THE NEWS in Brief

New Year's Day Accident

A head-on crash at Harmony, on Highway 31, on New Year's night resulted in severe injuries to the driver of one of the cars and one of his passengers. The driver of the other car suffered facial cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred on a curve at a time when visibility was reduced to almost zero by snow and blowing snow. The north bound car, driven by Kenneth Charles McNairn of R.R. 4, Crysler collided head-on with a south-bound vehicle driven by William Allen McMillan of 324 Cambridge Street, Ottawa. Mr. McNairn was alone but there were two passenagers in the Mc Millan car.

All four were rushed to Winchester Memorial Hospital by Vice and Craig Ambulance. Mr. McNairn and Norman Lebrun, of Canadian Forces Base, North Bay, were treated and released, but Mr. McMillan and his other passenger Ann Manning were transferred to an Ottawa hospital.

Both cars were completely demolished. The accident was investigated by Winchester Detachment of the O.P.P.

Metcalfe Arena Timetable Changes

Some concern was felt by district parents when they learned there was no skating on either Saturday afternoon or Sunday afternoon for the small children.

A spokesman for the East Osgoode Memorial Community Centre Board explained that this proceedure had not proved in the best interests of the rink in other years and for this reason was discontinued.

Since it was impossible to have the artificial ice plant installed in time for this winter's activities, it is necessary to allow time between events to have the ice re-surfaces.

The board pointed out that when the Lions Minor Hockey activities used the entire Saturday morning and children skated all afternoon it was virtually impossible to have favouravle ice conditions for Saturday night. Consequently this year some changes were necessary.

Concerning Sunday afternoon skating the board also felt not sufficient interest was shown last year and it, too, was dropped from this year's schedule.

Skating time available for area youngsters include their regular weekly turn on the ice when their respective schools rent time during the week. Also Tuesday and Saturday nights have been reserved for skating, and the little ones will be allowed on the ice as early as 7:30 on Saturday nights to allow them at least an hour before the adult skaters arrive.

The board further emphasized that with the coming of artificial ice the building will have to be operated on a more business-like basis utilizing all rental time possible. Winchester boys use the Metcalfe rink three times each week - Wednesdays, Thursdays and Sundays, in the evenings, and so great is the demand for ice time that already many applications have had to be turned down.

Soil And Crop Conference Next Week

A very interesting program has been prepared for the Annual Soil and Crop Conference at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, on Jan. 15th, and 16th, according to a release from the Carleton County Agricultural Extension Personnel.

The release implies that farmers are not getting the full benefit of the program and suggests that since long hours were spent composing the program, farmers will apply some of the ideas.

"We sometimes get quite concerned", says the directive, "over the apparent apathy by some farmers who attend these and other meetings, who either fail to get the point or are after a few days' good entertainment."

100 Club To Install Officers

Winchester 100 Club will meet next Thursday night, (Jan. 16th), and the installation of new officers for the coming year will highlight the meeting.

All Centurians are urged to attend this first meeting of the new year which will also see the induction of new members. Members who have a new candidate are requested to contact the club secretary before this meeting.

The meeting will be at Henderson Hall at 7:00 p.m.

ANOTHER BUSY YEAR

Reeve Outlines 1969 Program

Optimistic Smiles On Inaugural Night

The men who will direct the affairs of Winchester over the next two years are shown in the traditional inaugural night picture. Although they are all smiles here, thanks to a Reg Fetterly joke, it was all business and sober faces as council waded through its heavy first night agenda, Seated, left to right: Councillor A. E. Dukelow, Reeve Don Christie, New Clerk Raymond Annable, Councillor Basil Dawley and Councillor Walter Shadbolt.

In his address at Monday night's inaugural meeting of Council new Winchester Reeve Don Christie outlined point by point what he would like to see village government accomplish this year. Realizing the chore was big Reeve Christie said that many of the undertakings of previous council would be followed up because of the preparation which had already been made over the last two years.

Chief among the priorities, Reeve Christie said, is a forging ahead of the town wide sewer system, a start on Highway 31 by-pass and completion of arrangements for the improvement of the connecting link through Winchester; a new zoning by-law (work has already been started) which the Reeve said was imperative for the location of new homes and new industry in a better planned town.

He also called on the introduction of a revised building by-law which would tie in with the National Building code and which would be of benefit to every citizen. In roadwork he hoped that council would be in a position to purchase a new one way plow for the clearing of snow. "Something has to be done to speed up this situation at a lower cost" said the Reeve. He also mentioned the possibility of purchasing a new truck.

Commenting on the Community Centre Reeve Christie said that council would do everything possible to assist in locating this new building in Winchester as soon as possible. He was later backed up in this by a unanimous motion of Council which calls for the location of the new Centre at the Community Park and which also states that everything possible will be done to have the Centre in operation next year (the 69-70 season).

Concluding, Reeve Christie called on Council to work together for better government and better representation of all citizens. On the 1969 budget he said that council would operate on a "no over" and "no under" policy this year.

Prior to his address he and members of Council were sworn in by Clerk C. R. Robinson, followed with prayer by Rev. A. J. MacDonald of the United Church.

In other business Monday night Edwin Duncan and George Hanes of the Community Centre Board were told that $1,000 had been approved for transportation and for the renting of rink facilities for minor hockey. The money will be used at the discretion of the Community Centre Board.

Gerry Flucke and Bob Porteous of the Lions Club also met council in behalf of the Winter Carnival asking for permission to construct a toboggan slide on the south side of Main Street from the Baptist Church east to Ottawa Street. Council agreed to the proposal and said that the Club would be responsible to Town Engineer Reg Freeland. The slide will not interfere with traffic. It was also decided to advertise the old Community Centre for sale in several newspapers. Tenders for the purchase of the building will be discussed at the February 3rd meeting of Council. Town Solicitor F. M. Cass will be approached immediately to determine all grants possible for a new Community Centre and also to determine the maximum amount which can be debentured by the village for such an undertaking,

Council members will receive a maximum of $16.00 per meeting including ALL meetings of council and other meetings which members of Council are authorized to attend. Expense vouchers for meals etc. must be presented for approval.

A brief report on the town water system indicated that wells two and three were presently not in operation. Town Engineer Reg Freeland said that the Ontario Water Resources Commission had intimated a solution may have been found for the water problem at well three.

Council was informed that a limited amount of fire and wind insurance had been purchased for the old Community Centre building.

County Board Of Education Attacts Business Items Quickly

The County Board of Education met at temporary offices in Cornwall on Jan. 2, with thirteen of the sixteen members present. Board Chairman Bryson Comrie was in the chair.

Also in attendance at the meeting was D. M. Shuttleworth, Secretary-Treasurer and Business Administrator with his assistant R. A. Dauncey.

Main items of business included such important steps as -

1. Ratification of various committees such as Advisory Vocational; Advisory Committee on Schools for trainable retarded children; French Language Advisory; Ad Hoc Committee on Transportation; and Ad Hoc Committee on salary negotiations.
2. The appointment of Thomas Cruickshank, Cornwall as plant superintendent.
3. The temporary appointment of J. J. Coulthart and A. E. Kelley as superintendent of secondary and elementary and trainable retarded schools respectively.
4. The appointment of the legal firm of Fennell, Rudden, Campbell and Wilson to carry out the transfer of titles for properties vested in former school boards to the County Board of Education. This firm was asked to employ local solicitors to assist in this work.
5. The Board, by resolution, appointed all former Chairman or Vice-Chairman, as well as former Secretary-Treasurers, to assist the County Board in matters pertaining to schools formerly under their jurisdiction.
6. The Board resolved to apply to the Workmen's Compensation Board for coverage of its employees.
7. A total of twenty-four applications were received for the position of Director of Education.

The Board agreed to arrange interviews with all applicants on Tuesday, Jan. 7th. At Press time no word has been received as to whether this important position has been filled.

GUEST SPEAKER

Winchester COC Invites Mayor Reid

Canada's favourite and best known Mayor, Don B. Reid, Mayor of Canada's Capital, will be in Winchester on January 23 to address the Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Probably best known as Ottawa's Mayor of Achievement he has also shown a keen interest in all district activities, and since from Winchester's point of view, Ottawa is the 'home city', the Chief Magistrate will be a welcome guest.

With the rapid growth of both industry and housing in Winchester, Chamber members will be looking to Don Reid for guidance. As Mayor of Ottawa he has been the instigator of great strides foreward in the realm of art sports and both residential and commercial development. His words of wisdom will be listened to attentively by Winchester Chamber of Commerce members and it is anticipated every member will be in attendance for this important meeting.

This is one of the very important meetings of the year since the new slate of officers will be introduced, and many items of great importance to the village will be discussed.

At a Tuesday morning meeting Chamber members agreed this meeting should be open to the ladies as well. As a result tickets will be on sale in advance and wives will have an opportunity to meet Ottawa's Mayor and at the same time, see first hand the tremendous task facing the Chamber of Commerce in their efforts to build a better community.

Recreation Committees Appointed

NEW COUNCIL HAS PLANS FOR ALL

Winchester's newly-elected village council held their first meeting in the Council of Chambers on Monday night and early indications are that this new council has plans that include work for everyone.

One of the first official steps taken was the setting up of two Boards and one Committee, and the work of these men, very carefully selected, will play a very important part in Winchester's 1969 plans.

The groups established [illegible]munity Centre Board; 2. Community Park Board; 3. Recreational Committee.

With the doors of the Community Centre sealed forever the most important board, at this time, is the Community Centre one, and the following were appointed: George Hanes, Lloyd LaPorte, Edwin Duncan, Keith Carkner, Basily Dawley, Sam Ault and Walter Shadbolt.

Those selected to work on Community Park projects were Roy Fawcett, Jim VanBridger, Mike Dukelow, Arnold Dukelow, Ron Workman, Larry Gray, and Robert Porteous.

The Recreational Committee will also have a busy year ahead and those appointed to this group were Keith Carkner, Roy Fawcett, Robt. Porteous, Sam Ault, Harold Lannin, Don Christie and R. Annable, Secretary.

The new council has given these men very important assignments, and they can succeed only with the whole-hearted co-operation of every resident. The council is confident they can count on this.

New Sales Barn Opens To-night

Harold McCaul, President of the Holstein-Friesian Association, will officially open the new sale barn located near Inkerman to-night. (Thursday, Jan. 9).

Located on the old Earl Casselman farm, four miles south and west of Winchester, recent addition of new sales arena to the existing barn makes this one of the finest in the area.

With seating capacity for 250 buyers in the comfortably heated annex, cattle buyers should find this new facility to their liking.

The barn itself is large. Stanchions are available for 50 head and additional box stalls will accomodate another 50 head at least.

The main entrance to the barn is through a roomy corridor with doors leading directly into the stable, and also into the sale annex.

The sale ring itself is completely fenced and the entire viewing area is well lighted. Accommodation has been provided in one corner for the clerical staff.

Owned and operated by Allison and Ralph Fawcett, one sale per month is planned and of course, in addition, most likely some dispersal sales.

For those approaching from the south on Highway 31, the best way to reach the 'barn' is to turn west at the intersection of 31 and 43 and proceed three miles.

Approaching from the north or west the barn is adjacent to the Inkerman road only a mile north of Inkerman.

The owners assure ample parking space will be available at all times.

Metcalfe Village Council Seeks Ratepayers' Points Of View

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Police Village of Metcalfe will be held Thursday night at the Township Hall. With the changes in Municipal government now in effect, Village Secretary Bruce Dow hopes all ratepayers will make a special effort to be in attendance.

For over 50 years the affairs of the village have been handled by three Trustees, elected annually, and in most cases little or no interest has been shown by the ratepayers.

There has been some discussion concerning the feasibility of continuing to operate village affairs under the present system. Some ratepayers feel the village would benefit if under the direct jurisdiction of the Township Council and this would bring to an end the samll governing body. It has been pointed out that village rates are set by the Ontario Municipal Board and as a result village trustees can do little more than act as a small clerical staff.

Mr. Dow feels many ratepayers have some definite views concerning what is best for the future of the fast-growing community and suggests Thursday night is the time to air these views.

Do you think the new Regional Government will have a direct effect on Metcalfe Village? Do you think the village should be governed by the Township Council? Or do you think, with the continued expansion now in evidence the village should enlarge its boundaries? These are some of the questions village Trustees are asking themselves, and some of the questions they hope will be answered by a representative body of ratepayers at the meeting.

Remember the date - THURSDAY JANUARY 9th at 8:00 p.m.

Present village trustees are Mrs. Charles Griffith, Lawrence Dowser and Stewart Johnston.

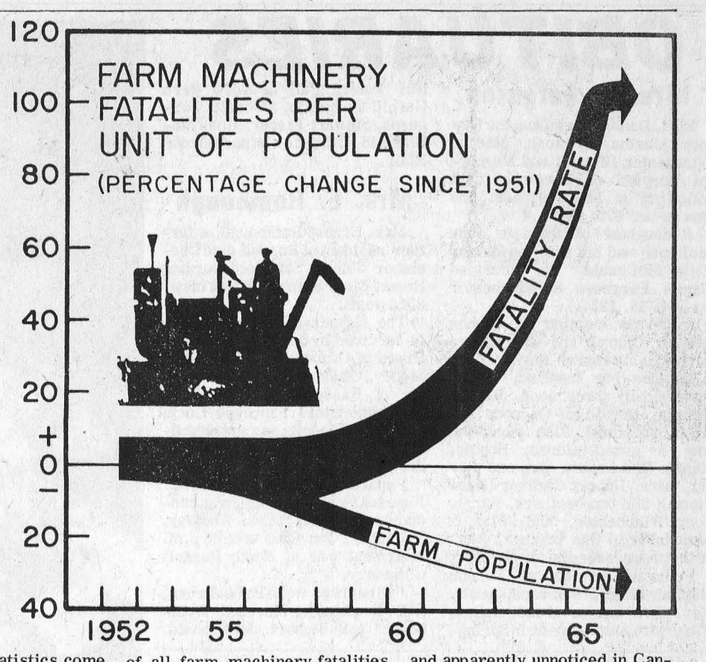
UP 30 PER CENT IN NINE YEARS



Some startling statistics come to light in a recent press release by the Royal Commission on Farm Machinery.

"In the last five years almost 600 person, including 200 children, have been killed on Canadian farms in accidents involving tractors or other machines. Over the last 10 years, the farm-machinery fatality rate - deaths in relation to farm population - deaths in relation - has doubled"

Farm machinery fatalities in Canada rose by 30 per cent between 1957 and 1966, while the farm population steadily declined. Thus the fatality rate per 100,000 of farm population more than doubled. About 78 per cent of all farm machinery fatalities involved tractors, and about half of these were overturn accidents. A study for the Royal Commission on Farm Machinery says this sudden, sharp rise in fatal accidents with farm machinery "seems to have gone unheralded and apparently unnoticed in Canada - a fact that would seem to give little credit to safety associations, farmer organizations, government departments, manufacturers, or to anyone else interested in the welfare of farm people in Canada."

Though you died three years ago.
—Sadly missed by wife and family. 36p

BARKLEY—In loving memory of my dear husband, E. Milton Barkley, who passed away January 9th, 1968.
Though you went and I remain
To walk the road alone,
I live in memory's garden
With happy days we've known.
I cannot bring the old days back,
Your hand I cannot touch,
But I treasure happy memories
Of a dear husband who meant so much.
—Ever remembered by his wife, Gertie Barkley. 36p

ST. PIERRE — In fond and loving memory of a dear daughter, Yvonne St. Pierre, who died accidentally January 13th, 1966.
Somewhere beyond the shadows
Dwells a loved one of ours,
Whom we looked on as a treasure
Whom we cherished as divine.
But God called the one we loved away
Forget you, Yvonne, we never will,
As years roll on we miss you still.
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought the end was near,
Only those who have lost can tell,
How sad is parting and no farewell.
But God in goodness, comforts us
To bear our bitter cross,
He is the only one who knows,
How heavy is our loss.
—Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers. 36p

Ogden Rink Captures Countryman Trophy

Ray Larsen, Mabel Ogden
Cecil Simpson, John Hunter

Mabel Ogden, scoring a big '5' on the last end, came from behind to win the thrill-packed final in Countryman Trophy competition last Saturday night at Winchester Curling Club.

Trailing 10 to 6 to Jen Lloyd with only one end left to play, the Ogden 'four', with Ray Larsen throwing third; Cecil Simpson at second; and John Turner leading picked up the necessary 'five' and the beautiful trophy.

The sight of victory almost within grasp may have had its effect on Skip Jen and her vice-skip Bill. Both missed routine shots in the final end while 'Mabel' and 'Ray', displaying amazing calm, were quick to take advantage of the miscues.

Playing with Jen and Bill Lloyd were Orma and Raymond Earl.

Consolation Event

Marg Anderson and Cathy Keyes met in the consolation final with the Anderson winning a 9 to 7 victory. The Anderson rink was made up of Marg and Charlie Anderson and Nettie and Jack Hume.

Playing for Cathy Keys were Doug Keys, Eadie and Ed Creaser.

This event is one of the major events on the Winchester curling calendar and with 19 rinks entered play got under way on Thursday night, continued on Friday night and all day Saturday.

Prior to the final games a pot luck supper was served.

Anderson Rink Tops In Ladies'

Skip Marg Anderson and her team won all their games in the ladies pre-Christmas schedule at Winchester Curling Club to cop top honours. With Marg were Norma Wylie, at third; Phyll McIntosh playing second; and Pat MacDonald leading.

A Stitch In Time

Over in Renfrew, and in several other towns for that matter, by-laws have been passed prohibiting the use of snowmobiles on streets in the municipality.

The idea is not to discourage the use of snowmobiles, but to plan for a better system of snowmobiling which will not endanger pedestrians and traffic in general. With the great increase in this now popular winter sport Winchester would be well advised to have a look at its traffic laws and to take sensible but not extreme measures governing the use of this type of winter equipment.

Fortunately this town has an abundance of big fields all around the boundaries, and with plenty of snow there is little reason to use the streets. It must be remembered that these sports vehicles are powerful. They could injure, indeed kill. So there is really no place for them running at will on the streets of this or any town.

Some snowmobile operators and owners will disagree. But one accident involving an innocent person would be one accident too many, and too late to change the law.

In the interest of safety the matter should be reviewed by Council and snowmobile operators should be advised accordingly of changes which would affect the driving of these expensive and elaborate toys on busy thoroughfares.

If snowmobiles are to be classified as vehicles of transportation under the existing Traffic Act, there is no problem. Otherwise Council should act on this matter without delay.

The Message Is Loud And Clear

It is becoming quite evident that all levels of government and all Canadian people must take a more acute view of the sharp increase in taxes in this country.

From the municipal to the federal level taxes are going up, up, up, and there is no arresting point in sight. On the contrary, the outlook for the tax picture in 1969 is bleak and Canadians can expect to dig a little deeper this year to help pay the costly shot of government expenditure.

And the more you make in Canada the higher the tax. The situation is deteriorating to the point where there is hardly any incentive left to increase profits, to make more salary. The Financial Post points out that taxes are uncomfortably high no matter how much money you earn. And, to-day in Canada, every Canadian making between $5,000 and $6,000 a year or more, pays more income tax than his United States counterpart.

In the so called "just" society sales taxes are about double those in United States. These taxes hit everyone. The comparison also explains that a Canadian family living in the provinces with the lowest tax rates pays more than its cousins residing across the border in New York State where state taxes are regarded as high. Our standard of living may be the highest or the second highest in the world. But, we are paying for it every day and in a host of ways. And we are going to continue to pay for it with more taxes this year and next, and next, until a more realistic look is taken at the entire tax picture.

And while increased taxes are taking place the government, particularly at the provincial and federal levels, keeps telling us that we are in difficult financial times, that we must tighten up our belts. At the same time the hand-outs continue. We can't afford Medicare, but we have it and we are paying for it. Only a few months ago Ontario passed along a rebate to all persons who rent homes. This Spring we'll pay for it with more and higher provincial taxes.

There must now be some semblance of order to government spending and thinking for that matter if the tax picture is to level off. The message is loud and clear, not just for government heads but all Canadians. So long as we keep asking for and demanding more in the way of social welfare we are going to continue to be taxed sharply. Time, we think, for all governments to take a more realistic look at the financial picture, to offer some sound leadership and maybe a few "No's" to some of the public's demand for more of this and more of that.

Maybe the time has come to replace the bureaucrats in Toronto and Ottawa with some business minded people who have a little experience in what profit and loss really mean. If something is not done in the near future some assistant deputy in one of the growing number of government departments is going to suggest that we tax taxes.

Come to think of it, what else is left to tax?

Let's Hear Your Views

Nothing like a good dose of the 'flu to make you feel like turning out a column of deathless prose. I feel like a fighter on the ropes in the fourteenth round with the crowd yelling to the other guy, "Kill him! Kill him!"

So perhaps you'll forgive if we don't sparkle too brilliantly today, and just clear up some items this week, then begin the New Year with a fresh slate and a sound constitution.

We had a very merry Christmas, thank you. But an insidious old custom is being revived. No less than three different groups of carollers appeared at the door, and had to be suitably entertained. By the time the last gang had left, we were well into Christmas morning, among other things.

It's a charming old tradition, but I hope it doesn't spread too far. If it does, next Christmas Eve I think I'll just call the cops and have the carollers charged with disturbing the peace. It would be a lot cheaper.

For once, everything fitted when the gifts were opened. See me in my new off-white turtleneck sweater and Pierre Trudeau will look like somebody from Hayfork Centre.

Kim, with her usual exquisite sense of timing, almost turned Boxing-Day into a boxing match when she announced she'd like to go to Israel and work on a kibbutz for a year, after finshing high school. So a couple of years from now, I may be a Jewish grandfather. That would be a switch.

Church bells and a blazing log fire and jolly evening with old friends brought in the New Year on a pleasant note. Not for me the $30-a-couple New Year's Eve in a nightclub with a lot of idiots in paper hats, throwing streamers, blowing their little horns and kissing everyone in sight.

Speaking of bells, Lt. Col. John McEwing of Spokane, Wash., retired, has a bell in the belfrey which is bothering him. Describing himself in a letter as a "sentimental nut," he says he has bought the bell from the little red schoolhouse he attended as a boy, near Port Elgin, Ontario.

That bell has many memories for him. He planned to present it, no strings attached, to the new consolidated school which has replaced the little one-room country schools, as a symbol of all of them, those humble institutions where many a great man got his start.

The Colonel flew east and talked to the architect responsible. He was enthusiastic. But the trustees stalled. They were going out of office at the end of the year, and "couldn't make up their minds" about having something as old-fashioned as an 1875 school bell on the premises.

To me, it seems an excellent idea, and I hope the new board will be receptive to the Colonel's idea. We talk a lot about Canadiana, and preserving our heritage. Why sell it to the scrap dealers?

This brings us in a roundabout way to the new school system in Ontario, which promises to be interesting. The old local school boards, chosen in their own communities, are being scrapped, and county boards, elected, have already replaced them.

Theoretically, the idea is a good one. It should give equality of educational opportunity to all children. That's the purpose. In the bad old days, before 1969, the fatter centres got the best facilities and often the best teachers, while the leaner ones had to struggle along with what they could afford.

I hope it works. But I have reservations. Many a time have I seen something made bigger, so that it would be more efficient and cheaper to run. Usually, the opposite occurs. Expenses increase and efficiency decreases, because of sheer size.

Parkinson's Law takes over. Empire-building begins. Already hundreds of new administrative jobs have been created for the new system. Under it, board members will receive a stipend, and no doubt, expenses. The old boards worked for nothing. Paper-work will double, then triple, and so on.

Hope I'm wrong. It will take a couple of years to tell. And by that time, the system may be so rigid that changing it will be like getting an elephant to stop standing on your foot. Any comments?

Meditations . . .
by REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Romans 5:1 - "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

"How shall a man be just with God"(Job 9:2) That is man's most pressing question. How can any man, sinner that he is, face the infinitely holy and righteous God? As any man is in himself, lost in Adam, he stands condemned before God. Every man knows this. Every man also deals with this problem. It is indelibly engraved in his heart, even though he may deny it. It is inescapably true for every man that he knows he faces divine judgment. In a blanket judgment on all unbelieving men the apostle Paul avers, "Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them." (Romans 1:32) The prophet Isaiah makes a similar blanket judgment on all unbelievers when he repeats "There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked." (Isaiah 48:22; 57:21; 59:8)

Sin brings unrest. No man can have peace of heart or mind who loves sin and lives in it. Only then can man know peace when he knows she is freed from both the power and condemnation of sin. It is for that reason that Christ Jesus is called the Prince of Peace (Isa. 9:6), for only He delivers his people from their sins. (Matt.1:21). It was for that reason that the angels could sing, "and on earth peace" (Luke 2:14) because Christ was born to deliver men from sin by His accursed death on the cross. In Him alone can any man find the peace that passes understanding (Phil. 4:7).

The way for man to find peace is to accept by faith the salvation offered in Christ Jesues. There is no other way. Every man must enter the Kingdom of God through Christ, the Door. He can enter through Christ Jesus only as a repentent sinner, who confessing his sins and unworthiness before God, cries to God for forgiveness through Christ Jesus. Only a repentent sinner lays hold on the atonement in Christ Jesus, when by faith he believes and accepts the finished work of Christ Jesus as his own. It is then that a man finds peace. Then he sees that his sins have been nailed to the cross of Christ and that he is free, declared right with God for Christ's sake.

There is no message man can receive with news happier than these. That is why the message of the Gospel is called "good tidings of great joy". (Luke 2:10) That lost sinners may hear such a message of deliverance, that assures freedom from the power and tyranny of sin, the devil and his hosts, and of eternal condemnation, and assures pardon of all sins and life eternal only when accepted by faith, that is a message of life, rather, that Message of Life. It remains for us to receive it by faith. When we do all the merits of Christ Jesus are freely ours. He suffered and died that we should have life. Do we believe it? Why not? To reject it is tragic, for that spells our eternal ruin, for there is no other message or way of life available. Do you believe it?

The Seventh Column

In a day of non conformists there is something to say for conformity. A case in point arose last Thursday in Winchester. Some places of business remained open, while others were closed. Certainly there is no argument here with the merchants who decided to shut down the day after New Years. They had their reasons, and in a town where there is really no by-law governing store hours there was no obligation at this time on the part of any one merchant to remain open or closed for that matter. However, according to a Chamber of Commerce advertisement of holiday store hours in Winchester, it was our interpretation that Winchester business places were to remain open the day after New Years. In such an instance we think it speaks well for the business climate of the village if ALL business places go one way or the other. Otherwise, there is no need to introduce store hours at Christmas or any other time.

In referring to the Lunar orbit of Apollo 8 an Ottawa newspaper said that at one point the space capsule would only be about 69 miles from the moon or "just a little more than the distance between Ottawa and the American border." Of course, that depends on which way you are looking. Out Highway 31 we have always referred to Ottawa being 30 miles north and Morrisburg 15 miles south. That's more like 45 miles, fellows, in case you're interested.

What a winter! It all started about November 8th when everybody said the first big snow wouldn't be around long. Well, it stayed and winter has grown progressively worse. The long range forecast over the next month for this area is above average precipitation and below normal temperatures. Simply means more of the same . . . snow and cold. One good thing, the days are getting longer and each day now means winter is just that much shorter. Come mid-February and the worst could be over . . . at least we hope so.

Canada remains at the top of the list as the biggest users of telephones. This country held this distinction last year. Perhaps Bell, in its request for higher rates, should take this into consideration and charge customers on a pay as you use (or talk) system.

Winchester's new reeve and council were sworn into office Monday night. They will hold office for a two year period . . . and their work is cut out for them. Following the oath to office they wasted little time in wading through a usually heavy first meeting agenda of business. Anymore, business agendas at council meetings are always heavy and the work load for members of the municipal government becomes more demanding each year. Of key importance this year: the sewer system, the Community Centre and the highway by-pass, to mention only three matters. We wish Reeve Don Christie and his council every success.

Six Cent Stamp Honours Canada's Former Gov. General

The Right Honourable Vincent Massey, P.C., C.C., C.H., Canada's first native-born Governor General, will be commemorated on a 6¢ stamp to be released by the Canada Post Office on February 20th, 1969.

Born in Toronto, Ontario, on 20th February, 1887, Mr. Massey assumed his duties as personal representative of the Queen on 28th February 1952; the distinction with which he acquitted himself resulted in an extension of the customary five year term to just over seven years, the longest of any person in such a capacity. His precedent shattering selection as first Canadian-born Governor General had been preceded in 1926 by his appointment as the first Canadian Ambassador to the United States of America. Mr. Massey lived to enjoy all but a few hours of his nation's historic Centennial year; his death occurred on 30th December, 1967.

Served Country Well

At one time the President of an industrial enterprise bearing his name, Mr. Massey was active in divergent fields. During a tenure as teacher of modern history at the University of Toronto, an institution he was later to serve as Chancellor, he supervised the building of Hart House, a gift from his family to the rapidly expanding seat of higher learning. In the 1914-18 War he served as as staff officer IN Military District 2 and later as Associate Secretary of the War Committee of the Cabinet; in the 2nd World War he was contributing his diplomatic skill and knowledge as Canadian High Commissioner in London. He also served as a member of delegations to the League of Nations and to the United Nations Assembly.

Mr. Massey chaired the Royal Commission on the National Development of the Arts, Letters and Sciences which resulted in the widely read Massey Commission Report of 1951. He had the distinction of being the first Governor General to fly over the North Pole and, some six weeks before the end of a life laden with well-deserved honours, he was among the first Canadians to be invested as Companion of the new Order of Canada.

Reasons Why

office girls leave jobs

Ever wonder why girls leave office jobs? Possibly the answer has been found. Here are the results of a firm survey reported in Office Equipment and Methods:

—Too much talk by employers about "chance to travel, interesting work, plenty of responsibility" but no follow-up —Wrong job or wrong girl. Boss didn't have clear idea of girl needed to suit job.

—Job prospects didn't pan out. Bosses promise "pay increase and promotion in a year" and pass it off at due date with double-talk.

—Companies don't have fair policy on overtime, working conditions and hours.

—Girls don't mind working late on occasions, but not when the boss gives them "mail that must go out tonight" just before closing instead of early in the day.

—Nor do they like the boss calling attention to a minor error by scrawling all over an otherwise flawless letter.

—Bosses who want their secretary to do evening or holiday work they're not prepared to do themselves don't get the loyalty they sometimes expect.

—Nor when they give her unpleasant chores like breaking bad news or brushing off unwanted callers.

—Nor when they blame her for their own mistakes and ask her to change personal plans when there's no real emergency.

—Marriage and motherhood.
