Early ND numbers indicate 5% levy hike

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – With preliminary numbers in, the Township of North Dundas is looking at a taxation levy of 4.9 per cent in 2016.

At the close of Tues., Nov. 10's council meeting, the municipality ended with the unofficial number, which translates to roughly $10 million in expenditure.

Conversely, township number crunchers expect just $4.2 million in revenues in the coming year.

Anticipated taxation of $5.8 million would then make up the difference. Overall, it is a $271,145 increase, at the draft stage, from 2015 to 2016.

At last week's meeting, all department heads were given an opportunity to present their budget requests to council.

Notably, both the public works and recreation departments eat up a large portion of expenditure.

In his department, public works director Dan Belleau is to continue a commitment to rehabilitate local roadways and sidewalks.

For roads, Belleau has budgeted $665,000, while the sidewalks allotment is set at $100,000. He is also targetting the anticipated replacement of two half-ton pickup trucks ($64,000), low level crossing work on Webb Road ($20,000), and the replacement of two culverts on Ormond Road ($65,000).

Fill'er up

The Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry OPP Auxiliary's annual "Stuff a Cruiser With Food Drive," an initiative aimed at stocking the shelves of the local food bank, set up outside Winchester Foodland Sat., Nov. 14. In the end, $684.61 and 691 pounds of food was collected for the Dundas County Food Bank. Drop-offs were also located at Riley's Valumart in Morrisburg ($535.03 and 690 pounds of food) and Iroquois Foodland ($438.55 and 550 pounds of food). Pictured at the village store are Terry Green (left), auxiliary officers Jordan Coleman and Jeremy Pilon, Alvin Runnalls, and Const. Tylor Copeland.

WINCHESTER – Donations were flowing Fri., Nov. 13 as Eric Duncan closed out his second, and final, term as warden for the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G).

Held at Winchester's Joel Steele Community Centre, some 250 people attended the evening, which served as Duncan's final public event before he relinquishes his reign as the upper-tier's top politician.

"I've always said that I hate when it's about me… It's more than one person, it's a group, and it's a team," he said.

Friday the 13th bank robbery closes downtown Winchester

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – A brazen mid-morning robbery Fri., Nov. 13 led to a complete lockdown of the village's downtown core.

Lone male suspect remains at large

Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry OPP officers arrived shortly after 10 am following reports that Winchester's Bank of Montreal (BMO) branch had been held up by a man claiming to have a weapon.

The lone suspect fled the scene shortly after his successful robbery attempt, making off with a quantity of Canadian currency.

It was a cause for commotion during the mid-morning rain as police officers closed off all access points to the downtown core throughout the entirety of their investigation.

The man is said to have entered the bank indicating he had a weapon, though none was observed by BMO employees, and demanded cash. Afterward, the male fled on foot east of the scene. No injuries resulted.

Budget

In recreation, department director Meaghan Meerburg is looking to retrofit the lighting above the slabs at both the Joel Steele Community Centre ($38,615) and the Chesterville Arena ($37,440) in an effort to maximize energy savings.

As well, lighting at the Chesterville waterfront has been budgeted at $12,000, and the development of park space in Hallville at $41,850. Renovations at Morewood's aging community hall have also been highlighted, with $25,000 earmarked for needed renovations and a further $92,500 for replacement of its roof.

The North Dundas Fire Department is also anticipating an expensive year ahead.

At the Mountain detachment, the purchase of a new rescue truck has been budgeted at $125,000, while the same piece of fleet is needed in Chesterville, also budgeted at $125,000.

Each of the municipality's four detachments also needs three sets of bunker gear, with the total set at $18,000.

All of this, of course, is just a snapshot of the overall spending totals for each township department.

Council members and department heads will continue to work the numbers in the next few weeks before further changes are made.

Budget deliberations are expected to continue at North Dundas' Tues., Dec. 8 meeting.

Robbery

In the aftermath of the robbery, countless rumours began to circulate indicating the culprit had been apprehended. As of press time, there is no one in custody in relation to the crime.

The suspect has been described as 5'11," medium build, dark complexion, wearing black pants, grey, white and black (with horizontal stripes) sweatshirt with the hood up covering a red baseball hat, and a black "neck wrap" shielding his face.

Const. Tylor Copeland told the Winchester Press that although police have examined closed-circuit camera footage from the bank that clearly shows the robbery taking place, the man's face covering is making it difficult to identify him.

Local OPP are expected to confer with other area police services to match suspect profiles.

The investigation continues.

Police Blotter

A little too fast

WINCHESTER – A 20-year-old North Dundas man is without his licence for the week. On Sun., Nov. 15, at approximately 1 am, Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP officers stopped a vehicle on Boyne Road after the driver was caught travelling 154-kilometres-per-hour in the posted 80-kilometre-per-hour zone.

Aside from losing his licence, he was charged for speeding under the Highway Traffic Act and had his vehicle impounded.

Drugs seized at collision

WINCHESTER – On Thurs., Nov. 12, at 11:05 am, a SD&G OPP officer responded to a single vehicle collision on Liscumb Road. The investigation resulted in the seizure of a quantity of suspected marijuana from the female driver.

Both the driver and two other occupants were transported to Winchester District Memorial Hospital with non-life threatening injuries.

Jessica Tessier, 24, was subsequently arrested. She faces charges of possession of a controlled substance, careless driving, failure to ensure toddler is properly secured, and failure to have a vehicle insurance card.

She is to appear Tues., Dec. 8 in Morrisburg court.

Domestic investigation

WILLIAMSBURG – On Wed., Nov. 11, at approximately 5 pm, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a domestic situation at a residence on County Road 31. The investigation indicated that an altercation between an adult male and his girlfriend resulted in the female being threatened. The accused also caused damage to items within the home.

A 48-year-old man from North Dundas was arrested. He faces two counts of uttering threats, three counts of mischief under $5,000, and one count of failure to comply with probation order.

He was held in custody pending a court appearance Nov. 12.

Riding dirty

MOREWOOD – On Tues., Nov. 10, SD&G OPP officers intercepted a vehicle on Russell Street. The stop resulted in the seizure of a quantity of marijuana, and open alcohol.

The female driver, Amelia Patenaude, 24, was arrested at the scene. She faces charges of possession of a controlled substance (less than 30 grams).

Her court date has been set for Tues., Dec. 22.

The male passenger, Tyler Edwards, 19, was charged with having an open container of liquor.

Separate possession charges

MORRISBURG – On Mon., Nov. 9, at approximately 7 pm, officers intercepted a vehicle at a property on County Road 4. The stop resulted in the seizure of a quantity of marijuana.

The male driver, Cody MacDonald, 21, and a female passenger, Victoria Robillard, 20, were arrested at the scene.

The pair faces separate charges of possession of a controlled substance (less than 30 grams). Both MacDonald and Robillard are to appear in Morrisburg court Dec. 8.

Details published in the police blotter are provided by the OPP. All suspects are considered innocent in the eyes of the law unless proven otherwise in court.

Warden

Before he reverts back to solely a councillor at the counties level, aside from his mandate as the Township of North Dundas' mayor, Duncan highlighted some of the achievements – 50 kilometres of roads treated and the extension of broadband Internet access – and frustrations – reduced Ontario Municipal Partnership Fund allocations and the OPP billing model.

"But we've achieved many wonderful things," he said. "It's been amazing. From Hallville to Iroquois, to Bainsville and Dalkeith, I think I've been down every road in the counties at least once."

North Dundas clerk Jo-Anne McCaslin introduced Duncan before his speech, while earlier in the evening counties clerk Helen Thomson introduced the whole of council.

Addresses were heard from Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon and MPP Jim McDonell, and City of Cornwall Mayor Leslie O'Shaughnessy.

It wasn't all about speeches, however, as a series of financial donations were made before the evening came to a close.

Firstly, the United Way of SD&G received $3,000, a total generated through various counties initiatives, including workplace contributions. The total will be put toward the organization's ongoing $710,000 fundraising campaign.

Individual $500 donations were made to two organizations in each county. The recipients included the Maxville Lions Club and Williamstown Fair; Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre and Upper Canada Playhouse; and Camp Erin and the Stormont Plowmen's Association.

The counties new warden, Township of North Glengarry Deputy-Mayor Jamie MacDonald, is to be sworn in Fri., Dec. 18.

Open for business

Williamsburg residents recently welcomed a new business with the opening of Sherry's on the property that was once the longtime home of the Williamsburg Garage. Bob and Arlene Darrach shuttered the business after three decades in October 2014, and that's when Rick Cauvier and Sherry Mowat (pictured) got involved. The site was rehabilitated following the bulldozing of the building and adjacent home, and the couple set forth with construction of a new facility to mirror their Heckston business – Sherry's Kitchen. Now open, the store offers a variety of grocery items, as well as home baked treats and meals. It also features Country Style coffee and an XTR Energy fueling station. Cauvier said he wants to one day add an LCBO outlet; however, the provincial government isn't currently offering franchise agreements. Press Photo – Uhrig

Major overhaul

South Mountain area residents have been well aware of the village's bridge repair needs for some time, and this year, so too was the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry. The $1.2 million rehabilitation project has been ongoing in recent weeks, and is expected to be completed by month's end. Press Photo – Uhrig

Township needs to target roof repairs

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – A recent facility assessment has turned up major roof concerns for the Township of North Dundas.

Garland Canada completed a full review of a number of municipal roofs in order to create an analysis and assessment management program.

The findings, revealed Tues., Nov. 10, were stark. Seven of nine roofs included are suggested for repair or replacement in 2016, at a budgetary cost of $344,000.

In 2017, the remaining two would need attention, at a cost of $499,000. The bulk of the total is for the roof at the municipality's headquarters, estimated at $460,000, though Garland noted the work could be completed in sections throughout four years to defer expenses.

Both the Joel Steele Community Centre and Chesterville Arena weren't included in the analysis because their roofs are covered under separate warranties, while the building that houses Winchester's OPP detachment, library, fire station and a medical centre had its roof replaced this year. As well, the Chesterville pool house's roof was recovered with tin in 2014.

Also up for consideration, however, are the roofs at the Inkerman rinkhouse, the Mountain Station building at the hamlet's community park, and the Winchester pool house.

Recreation director Meaghan Meerburg is recommending roof replacement at the Chesterville Community Centre ($37,000), Nelson Laprade Centre ($65,000), and Morewood Community Centre ($92,500) for 2016. She's included the projects in the department's budget.

Meanwhile, she requested that council greenlight the recommendations as soon as possible in an effort to tender the projects with 2015 prices. There is the possibility of six per cent savings if this year's rates are used, Meerburg added.

Council notes from North Dundas

Extending the extension, again

WINCHESTER – Prem Arora's plans for the Winchester Meadows development may never come to fruition, but his plan has received two years' grace from the Township of North Dundas.

It is becoming tradition for municipal councillors to annually renew the contract for Arora's development, at the end of Queen Street in the village.

At Tues., Nov. 10's meeting, however, Calvin Pol, director of planning, building and enforcement, requested a two-year extension be granted. As Pol noted, residual capacity within the township's water and sewer systems is tied to the draft approval of 26 lots. If Arora's project never goes forward, it means the connectivity could have went to another developer earlier on in the process.

In 2013, required engineering was completed for the Winchester Meadows plan, and ministry approvals were granted by the province. These contracts typically last five years.

North Dundas has a subdivision agreement waiting to be signed, though Arora has listed the project for sale.

By granting the extension, Pol said, it gives Arora time to find partners for the plan or sell the land.

Drain maintain

North Dundas has 11 municipal drains that will be receiving maintenance this season.

The conduits are spread throughout the township, but each has been deemed a top priority.

The project list includes: W.M. Hamilton, Annable Creek, Porteous, Stewart branch of the Kittle, Bailey, Millar branch of the Cross Summer, Moffat Kennedy, Mullin, Hamilton Municipal Drain, Walter Stewart, and Hamilton Black Municipal Drain.

Moose Creek gets a boost

MOOSE CREEK – Under the banner "A River for Tomorrow," Moose Creek residents were asked how they view the creek and their thoughts on protecting it for future generations.

The community showed interest in revitalizing Moose Creek, and the project involved improving water quality and habitat, reducing erosion, stabilizing the stream bank, and beautifying the area. South Nation Conservation (SNC) worked with several partners on the project, including Fisheries and Oceans Canada, Lafleche Environmental Inc., the Township of North Stormont, and the Moose Creek Watershed Committee.

As part of rehabilitation work, 35 cedar log cribs filled with soil and rock have been installed along a stretch of the creek to stabilize the shoreline and stop erosion. The cedar cribs were designed in-house and built on-site by SNC staff.

The site will be finished with biodegradable geo-textile and planted with native shrubs.

"It's a very environmentally friendly way of stabilizing a stream bank," said Naomi Langlois-Anderson, SNC's senior fish and wildlife technician. "And it's unobtrusive. The cedar cribs blend in nicely with the natural surroundings."

The site will act as a demonstration area, putting to use natural materials and showcasing techniques for landowners and municipalities looking for a more natural solution to shoreline erosion.

All that's left is the native tree and shrub planting that will be conducted within the next few weeks.

"We're planning to call out volunteers to help plant the site," added Langlois-Anderson.

Festive Christmas bazaar raises spirits at MR Centre

MAPLE RIDGE – It's only been two years since Rachel and Conrad Potvin purchased the former Maple Ridge Public School and transformed it into the Maple Ridge Centre, but already it's become a hub for local non-profit organizations, the community, and family members.

The facility came alive Sat., Nov. 7 during the centre's second annual Christmas Bazaar, where close to 10 community members and various organizations gathered in the gym to either provide Christmas-themed products, or raise money for a cause. There was also a wildly successful all-day pancake breakfast, which was kept running smoothly by members of Nationside Pentecostal Church.

"We've opened up the bazaar to any community organization so that we can help boost anyone who is struggling to raise money," said Rachel. "We have to help each other out. It's that time of year."

Not only does the bazaar allow patrons to check out local talent, services, and organizations, it's also a way to raise awareness about what it takes to keep the Maple Ridge Centre going.

After an unexpected and costly hydro bill (for $25,000) sent the Potvins reeling earlier this year, the couple has been trying to play catch-up ever since. In an effort to make the building run more efficiently, they are looking at reworking the electrical heating system, which would cost them more than $60,000.

"I don't think people realize how dire our [financial] situation is," said Rachel. "If we can't change that problem, we will be out of a building. But it's stuff like this that gets the word out."

Maple Ridge's Academy of Fitness and Dance set up a fundraising booth to support 17 dancers on the competitive team who often travel for performances. Tanessa Brisson (left) and Olivia Pereira will be dancing at the Maple Ridge Centre Sat., Dec. 12 during a performance of The Nutcracker.

Rachel (above) and Conrad Potvin, owners of the Maple Ridge Centre, hosted the centre's second annual Christmas Bazaar Sat, Nov. 7. Potvin has always supported Bullies In Need, an organization dedicated to rescuing "pit bull type" dogs who face euthanasia daily in Ontario's shelters and place them in safe homes. She is pictured with two puppies who were rescued from a ditch in Cornwall, and a young pit bull named Mya.

Ruth Vanderlaan from Vanderlaand the Barnyard Zoo showed up with Zoey, a cuddly umbrella cockatoo, who attracted the interest of many kids walking through the Maple Ridge Centre's gym.

Pay library fine with food

WINCHESTER – The annual Food for Fines campaign at the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry County Library is back this November.

Once again, library patrons are invited to pay off overdue fines by donating non-perishable food items until Mon., Nov. 30.

For each item donated, one dollar of fines will be forgiven. The campaign is a win-win for patrons, as they have the opportunity to give back to their communities while also clearing up outstanding library fines.

The campaign is also a benefit for the SD&G community. Branches will work with local food banks to ensure donated items reach the communities they serve.

"Food for Fines is a great way for both the library, and the residents to get involved in the community," Karen Franklin, director of library services, said. "Fines can happen to anyone, and this program allows patrons to erase those fines while helping out their community."

More than $900 in fines was forgiven last year, which means more than 900 food items were donated through the campaign. Residents without library fines are also welcome to make food donations at their library branch.

Franklin said, "We appreciate everyone's generosity in this annual campaign."

Agricultural luminary Vera Mitchell receives city honour

OTTAWA – For Vera Mitchell, it is just another sign that her longtime commitment to agriculture and her community has not gone unnoticed.

On Tues., Nov. 10, Mitchell was one of 15 city residents to be inducted into the Order of Ottawa.

The honour recognizes exceptional residents who have made a significant contribution in a professional capacity in many areas of city life, including arts and culture, business, community service, education, and much more.

Mayor Jim Watson established the civic award in 2012, and recipients are chosen by a selection committee comprised of the mayor, city clerk and solicitor, chief of police, chief of protocol, city archivist, and the CEO of library services.

Mitchell is now in her mid-80s, but remains active in her community. She continues to contribute to the management of her family's dairy and grain farm operation, volunteers in community activities, participates on community relations teams, works on fundraising events related to seniors, is active in church-related events, and stretches her artistic abilities into quilts for her grandchildren.

She began her professional life as a registered nurse, and married three days after her graduation to the "love of her life," Don Mitchell. The couple went on to have four children, and took control of his parents' cattle farm until it became too small.

> Longtime advocate for farming community inducted into Order of Ottawa

They then moved it to Yorks Corners Road, south of Kenmore. Today, Donevelyn Farms manages 1,100 acres of land with 160 milking cows, and an 8,000-ton grain elevator – one of the largest farming operations in rural Ottawa.

Among other endeavours, she was chairman of the Carleton Dairy Producers Association. This agricultural work, as well as being appointed by the then-federal minister of agriculture to the Ontario Farm Debt Review Board in 1986, framed her appointment to the Ontario Agricultural Hall of Fame in 2010, an honour only a few women in the province possess.

Mitchell was elected as councillor for the former Township of Osgoode in 1992, holding office for six years and becoming a strong advocate for the agricultural community.

She's also served as fundraiser, director, treasurer, and chair of the board for the Township of Osgoode Care Centre, vice-chair and chair of the Osgoode Support Program, vice-chair of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital board, director of the hospital's foundation board, and served on the advisory board of Kemptville College.

Overpass renamed for slain policeman

MORRISBURG – It's been 58 years since Ronald Pitt was struck down, shot by two gunmen as he approached a stolen vehicle.

The call came in to the Morrisburg Police Department in the early morning hours of Aug. 24, 1957. Pitt was on patrol when he intercepted the two car theft suspects on a lonely waterfront street in the village, and the pre-dawn shootout began just outside the home of Parker Locke.

Slain Morrisburg Police Department officer Ronald Pitt was memorialized Fri., Nov. 13, with the overpass that spans County Road 31 and Highway 401 renamed in his honour.

Pitt was critically injured, while the suspects made off in his patrol car, ultimately abandoning it west of Iroquois before going off the grid entirely.

The 33-year-old officer was initially taken to Cornwall Community Hospital before being flown by helicopter to the Montreal Neurological Institute. He was shot twice in the chest, with one of the bullets lodging in his spine.

Pitt was soon under the attention of a team of specialists. A native of Scotland, he'd only been in Canada a short time and on the police department just two months before the incident.

Though it was that one bullet that proved fatal. Two months after the shooting, with infection having set in, Pitt died at the Montreal medical facility.

His killers were never caught.

On Fri., Nov. 13, the province's police force officially memorialized Pitt, renaming the overpass that spans County Road 31 and Highway 401 in his honour. Aside from a large contingent of fellow police officers, the ceremony was attended by OPP Commissioner Vince Hawkes and Pitt's son, Ronald Jr. and his wife, Andrea.

It was local OPP officer Justin McKenna that launched the bid to have the overpass renamed in honour of Pitt. What followed was a community initiative to memorialize the fallen officer, a scenario similar to what followed in the days after he was shot.

Morrisburg and district citizens rallied at that time to generate funds to bring Pitt's wife and two young sons to Canada. The officer was departed before them in hopes of earning enough money to one day bring them here himself. The community funds ultimately topped $5,000, and his family was able to be with Pitt in his final days.

This year's Dundas County 50+ Wellness Day was held Thurs., Nov. 12 at Matilda Hall in Dixons Corners. The event is a partnership between various organizations, including both the J.W. MacIntosh Seniors' Support Centre and Williamsburg Non-Profit Housing Corporation, and the Nor-Dundas Seniors' Support Centre, and features a number of local agencies under one roof for a daylong educational blitz. Organizers said more than 150 attended the function. Caroline Rooney (right), executive director of the Nor-Dundas Seniors' Support Centre, spoke to participants about the services offered at the Winchester-based facility.

Jury fury

The Dundas County Players' latest production, 12 Angry Jurors, continues this weekend at Winchester's Old Town Hall. The play chronicles the examination by 12 jurors deciding on a verdict in a seemingly open-and-shut capital murder trial. During the deliberation, the hidden preconceptions and assumptions of the jurors are revealed. The production, directed by Tony Glen, continues Fri., Nov. 20 and Sat., Nov. 21 at 7 pm, and Sun., Nov. 22 at 2 pm. At left is Bill Steele, one of the jury members.

The terrorists must not make monsters of us all

There is but a small minority of the global population that will condone the acts that shook Paris to its ultimate core Fri., Nov. 13.

The machine-gunning and bombing of people in the idyllic city, near a public square and a sports stadium, not to mention the murdering of hostages, was premeditated to strike fear throughout the City of Light.

For a few hours the sheer brutality of it all did.

For Paris is a capital still shaken by the attacks on the offices of the controversial magazine Charlie Hebdo and a Jewish supermarket in January.

The Friday the 13th massacre left at least 129 people dead and some 350 wounded, many of them critically.

After it all, the masters of Islamic State released a statement claiming responsibility, and calling the attacks "the first of the storm."

The country's president, Francois Hollande, insists that despite the death toll, France is not backing down. He indicated the "relentless" campaign against Islamic State will continue.

As a whole, the country is right not to be backed into a corner, but it's clear the terrorist organization is no longer an outlier. It's at war with the world now. Aside from the Paris attack, Islamic State has been linked to the downing of a Russian passenger aircraft and to bombings in Beirut. In all, more than 400 people have been murdered in recent weeks.

This is the grim reality we all face. Yet, just like all Germans not being Nazi sympathizers, not all Muslims are to be filed under the same heading as their countrymen and women.

A global response is needed to curb the ghastly civil war ongoing in Syria, the dysfunctional government that continues to plague Iraq, and the ruinous behaviour that is supported by Russian, Iranian, and Chinese leaders.

Countless innocent people are making efforts to flee jihadist butchery, and willing nations need not turn a blind eye to the tragedies unfolding.

We must work to bring hope where it once was forgotten; return a sense of optimism for peace in our time.

It is no easy matter, dealing with villanous thugs, but it is the remedy needed at this time.

Hate breeds in all corners of the world; we can't let it make monsters of us all.

Remember when…

In this week's news: "Dropping five inches in one hour, and still dropping, the St. Lawrence River, on Tuesday, was the lowest in memory and river traffic was almost at a standstill with boats in some places resting on bottom. Lockmen reported a depth of 11 feet, 11 inches at the gates there. The large islands in the river at Morrisburg are nearly connected by dry land. In shallow places the river bottom is high and dry. Boathouses in the vicinity are, in places, 30 feet or more from the water."

"For the second month of the school year 1945-46, Maple Ridge School topped all other schools in Dundas County in the average amount per pupil invested in War Savings Stamps," the Winchester Press said. "Winchester Township was the only township which reached the minimum objective of 50 cents per pupil."

"N.D. Fenn, Carleton College director of athletics, said at the first commencement exercises of Osgoode High School last Thursday night that 'education is a quest for knowledge which should follow you throughout your life,'" the Press said. "Fenn urged his large audience, particularly young students, to stand behind their beliefs."

The Paquin Park Motel and Restaurant, located just west of Upper Canada Village, placed the following advertisement this week: "Take the family out for Sunday dinner. For a real family treat, bring 'em in for a real home-cooked meal… at low prices. And, wait till you try the food. Your family will love it… and you!"

In sports: "Each year, when hockey season rolls around, Morrisburg fine 'Old Timers' and Winchester's town league 'All Stars' get together and exchange home games. This season once again is no exception, as Morrisburg paid their annual visit to Winchester and came away with a convincing 10-1 victory."

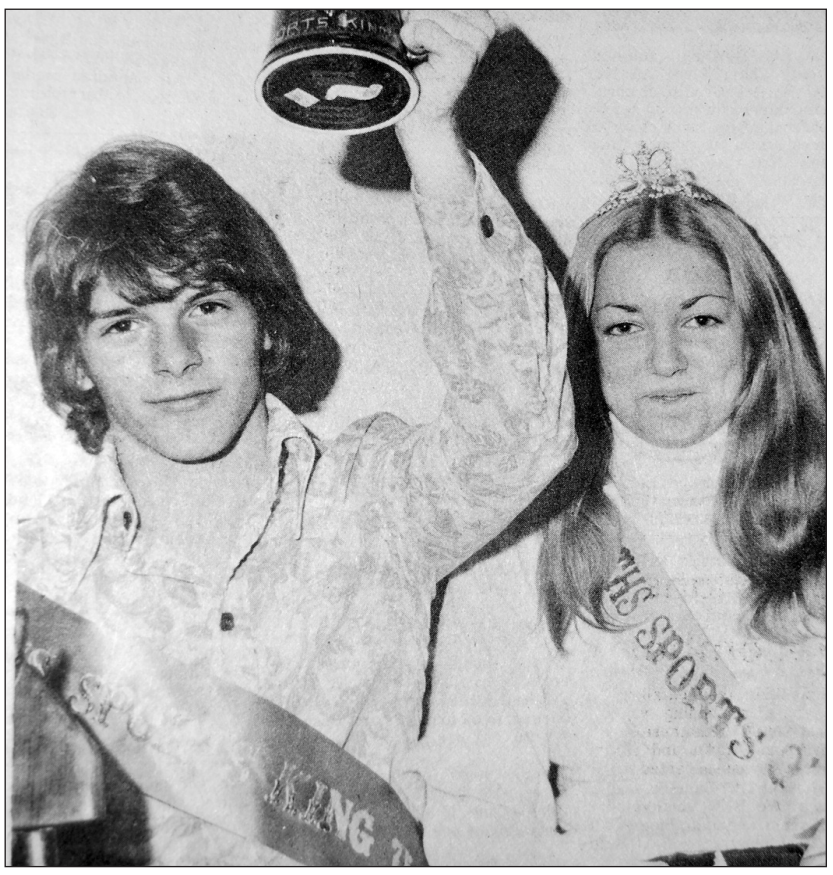
"As residents of Winchester and several outlying towns prepare for another winter with few entertainment options, they should take some comfort knowing that their televisions could be brimming with action next year at this time," the Press said. "A decision from the Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission office is expected early next year, which could spell the beginning of a 15-channel TV bonanza for Winchester and Chesterville, and 16 channels for Morrisburg."



This week in 1975: "Each Autumn, at the end of the football season, Osgoode Township High School students stage a gala evening of dancing, which is climaxed by crowning their sports queen [Donna Sauve] and sport king [Jeff Crerar]."

"Eliminating the fifth year of high school will be more of an adjustment for individual students than for the boards that serve them," the Press reported. "Education Minister John Snobelen's recent announcement of a plan to have students complete their OAC courses in four years instead of five was received calmly by board officials who believe that students are already spending less time in high school."

2005

"Muggles meddle with magic," was the headline for this week's front-page photo: "Library children's programmer Ivory Lauzon put on her professor's hat on Sat., Nov. 12 for the Harry Potter craft program at the Winchester branch of the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry libraries. There were 16 children ages six to 12 in attendance at the morning classes, similar to those offered at Hogwarts, the School for Witchcraft and Wizardry in J.K. Rowlings' book series."

A warm smile and a Hershey bar

From the Other Side

by Jeff Morris

State Trooper Shawn flashed a smile and shook my hand. It was a warm smile and a solid handshake – not a G.I. Joe Kung Fu Grip handshake, but certainly one that effortlessly could open any old jar of your grandmother's currants or jam.

Then, State Trooper Shawn handed me a Hershey Bar.

I smiled with excitement, just as I would have if I were 12 years old. That cemented it. We were destined to be BFFs and Facebook friends forever, with me eagerly liking everything he would ever post. He had me at milk chocolate.

State Trooper Shawn is a hockey dad. His son's team road tripped up here from Hershey, Pa, and I got a chance to chill with them at the Ottawa Senators game recently. The night made me realize that while we can sometimes focus on everything wrong with the minor hockey lives we live vicariously through our kids, it only takes 55 grams of milk chocolate to put everything back into perspective.

Hockey is a little bit outside the wheelhouse of State Trooper Shawn and the other dads of the Hershey Bantam Bears, but maybe that gave them a refreshing perspective on their kids and the minor hockey experience.

"I wasn't a hockey guy when I was younger," he said. "I was a football guy."

As if there was any question about that. While his son is a Pittsburgh Penguins fan, State Trooper Shawn loves to talk about the Pittsburgh Steelers. But in his day-to-day life, football is long in the rearview mirror. For State Trooper Shawn and his friends, it's all about being hockey dads. The Hershey kids and their dads were embracing the experience of coming to Canada to play hockey, just as a group of young baseball or football players would soak up a chance to go to the U.S. to play in a tournament.

"For the kids to be able to go to an NHL game in Canada really makes the trip special," he said. "It's really expensive for a family to go to an NHL game or an NFL game. We might get to a game a year. That's what makes this experience so special."

The coach of the Hershey Bantam team is a former Ottawa Senator Mark Freer. After playing junior hockey in Peterborough, the smallish but feisty centre joined the Philadelphia Flyers organization, where he would spend most of the next couple of seasons with their AHL affiliate in Hershey. Freer was picked up by the Sens, played for the team in their first season, then moved on to Calgary, St. John, Houston, Philadelphia again, and then back to Hershey. Any red-blooded kid would endure 15 years of bus rides and red-eye flights just to play in 124 NHL games. For Freer, those years were a dream come true in a lot of ways. He was a bit undersized for a centre, but he played an in your face, two-way game and had an offensive spark that helped him net 30 or more goals four times in the AHL and IHL. He was the original of the Pesky Sens.

Perhaps it's Freer's path of perseverance that makes this group from Hershey so grounded, and so appreciative of the hockey experience as a whole. We put our kids in minor hockey and other sports and activities to enrich them and help them grow as people. Mark Freer gets that. So do the Hershey dads.

"My son is a goalie," said State Trooper Shawn. "He is so excited about being here tonight. He has been watching all kinds of clips of Craig Anderson on YouTube. Just to be in the building and to feel the energy is exciting."

As State Trooper Shawn takes a gulp of Creemore, his focus turns away from the game and onto the selection of beer.

"Have you tried this stuff? It's really good," he exclaimed to the other dads. He compared it to Pennsylvania's signature craft beer, Yuengling. "Before we go back, I've got to get some of this and take it home with me."

The game ended in a shootout, with the Sens beating Winnipeg. It couldn't have been any more exciting, especially for the kids. It was a great way to start their weekend-long Eastern Ontario hockey odyssey.

After a round of handshakes and some exchanged business cards, the dads were going out on the town, armed with boxes of Hershey bars to give away.

The following night, the Diva and I decided to have a date night. We headed to Kanata for dinner and a trip to the theatre to see the new James Bond flick. While we were at Jack Astors, we noticed a large group of 14-year-olds and their parents. Their jackets read "Toronto Aces." On their table were dozens of Hershey bars.

"We played them today," one of the dads told me in the restroom. "We beat them, but what a good team and a great bunch of people."

The gang from Hershey came up to our land of hockey to experience Hockey Country and to be ambassadors for their city and state. Sometimes, we get too caught up in the politics of minor hockey and bitching about our kids' playing time and poor officiating, and the stresses and costs of summer programs that we miss the big picture.

Sometimes it takes visitors to help us see what a great thing we have here.

It helps when they have Hershey bars.

Don't let Paris attacks instill more hatred

The Editor:
Recent events in Paris will, no doubt, fire up the racists in relation to the Syrian refugee crisis.

How Canada and its people choose to respond will be watched on the global stage.

I feel the need to remind us all of something. We, here in Canada, recently honoured Remembrance Day. During the Second World War, while the Nazis were carrying out their atrocities against Jews and other races that Hitler deemed "unfit," ships full of refugees, trying desperately to escape the mass genocide, risked dangerous ocean crossings and likely sinking by German submarine packs to seek refuge in Allied countries, including Canada.

We, and many other countries, turned them away. Please take a moment and pause to reflect on this, the world's great shame. Then please look at the suffering of the innocent Syrian refugees who only seek to escape from a nightmarish world whereby terrorists, like those that perpetrated the Paris bombings, actually run free and rule their country.

If you found the bombings in Paris scary, imagine raising your children in that environment on a daily basis. Imagine trying to protect your elderly loved ones in that environment on an hourly basis. Imagine trying to live there on a minute-to-minute basis. That is the horror these refugees are risking their lives to escape.

The racists will claim that the refugee camps will be full of terrorists. In response, I say, have you seen the refugee camps? The degrading conditions, no food, no winter clothing, and no sanitation. No one would willingly put their families through that nightmare without good reason.

Canada already has strong laws in place to weed out the criminal element. Our fear should not hinder us from giving these deserving souls refuge. We are supposed to be the good guys. Canada must take this opportunity to set an example of the highest moral mark.

As prime minister, Stephen Harper tried to base his recent election platform on the fear and ignorance factor that makes up all racism. He lost the election. That gives me hope that Canada will do the right thing – support France, denounce terrorism in all its forms, and welcome Syrian refugees to the safety of our shores.

Terrorism wins when we allow their hatred to inspire more hatred in us.

Instead we must respond with compassion for all its victims. We have the laws in place to do this safely, and without risk to our citizens. We just need the morale fortitude to act on it.

We must never repeat the mistakes of the past.

Fly Canada's flag as it should be flown

The Editor:
All of us have, in some way, had a friend or relative in the Canadian Armed Forces who fought in the First or Second World Wars, or served as air force personnel.

These people signed on the dotted line to put their lives at risk to protect other countries shores, and our own shores to allow for free speech and other liberties. Free to be any religion and free to travel their country.

Our military did so under the red maple leaf of Canada.

As I have travelled around Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry I have noticed so very many tattered, faded, and strings of our beautiful flag.

If anyone should want to fly our great flag, then I do believe they owe it to our active, retired, and fallen comrades to always make sure the great flag is in the best of condition.

Cutting the end of the flag off is not the proper way to handle our flag. If one cannot afford a new one, then they should take what is left of the flag down.

Hopefully all of those who are guilty of this rather lackadaisical way of treating our flag this way will heed this message.

A less than fresh reception for scouts

Editor's note: This letter was previously forwarded to Tim Hortons corporate headquarters. –M.U.

The Editor:
I am writing you as a rather disgruntled person. My name is Cindy Merkley and I along with my husband, Kent, and another leader, Linda Foster, run the Traditional Explorers Scouting groups in Winchester, Ont.

I am presently in my fifth year as a Scouting leader. Every year we have several fundraising events. Two of these events are essential to raising funds to be able to run the program yet still allow the program to be affordable for the families that involve their kids.

The other fundraiser is selling poppies prior to Remembrance Day to support our local Legion. Two years ago we began our fundraising efforts near our local Tim Hortons outlet. At the time we did approach them to seek approval, and were told that we could not stand outside the door, but we were "okay" to use part of the parking lot. This is where we have set up shop for our fundraisers ever since, as do many others that are fundraising.

On Sat., Oct. 31 we set up in our usual spot to sell poppies for the Legion prior to our local Remembrance Day parade, which was to be held on Sun., Nov. 8. About an hour in to our poppy sales, an employee of the establishment came out and told us we could not be there since we had not asked for permission. We proceeded to move further down in the parking lot, which is actually now owned by Sobeys, only to be told a few moments later that we had to leave completely since the grocery store is at the moment unoccupied, and the property is technically Tim Hortons.

So we left.

The other leader had since been trying to speak with the franchise owner to obtain permission for our Sat., Nov. 14 fundraiser only to be told that we could not because we are "interfering with his customers."

We do not make anyone donate, and where we set up in the parking lot, anyone not wishing to donate can simply and easily drive around or past us.

We live in a small community, so it is not like a big city where we can simply move on to the next store on the next corner and try again. We are also at a disadvantage because one of the two local grocery stores closed, further reducing our fundraising locations.

I always thought that Tim Hortons prided itself on its community involvement. I know that you do support different team sports. We are not knocking on your doors asking you for money. All we are asking is for the opportunity to do this ourselves. Allow us to seek donations to keep the program going for the youth that want to take part in it. Is that too much to ask? Apparently so.

Well our local Tim Hortons has lost a couple of customers. I know we probably won't make a big difference in the grand scheme of things, but on a personal level at least I know I can sleep at night.

Green energy projects: Are we really unwilling?

The Editor:
It has just been brought to my attention that during the Municipality of South Dundas council meeting of Tues., Nov. 17, a motion was being brought forward by Councillor Bill Ewing to be voted on. The motion in effect was to once again declare South Dundas an "unwilling" host to future green energy projects.

It is my hope that council not proceed with such a pointless motion. The only thing that can be accomplished is to further reduce the economic potential of our community, and increase the future tax burdens of its citizens. Mostly of course, this motion is about grandstanding by politicians who know already that such motions have not had, and will not have, any impact on the expansion or reduction of "green energy." Preaching to the choir you might say.

At what level are we unwilling? After all, are we not "willing or not," already hosting 10 windmills in our community? Are we "unwillingly" collecting the taxes that these windmills place into the South Dundas coffers? Are we not currently and "willingly" arguing about where the road compensation allowances from these unwanted windmills are to be spent? Are there "sit ins" by angry citizens at the entrances to these windmill sites? Are these citizens singing "We're not gonna take it anymore," and being dragged away by our OPP officers? Are there angry mobs forming in Brinston, Hulbert, and Dundela? Council seemed awfully "willing" to "fix" a budget oversight with windmill generated money. After promising – at the point of a riot – that South Dundas would "replace" the rinkhouse at the Dundela Park, it became very convenient to use the windmill established Community Benefit Fund to massage council's short-sightedness as to what the budget of this need would require. I think the residents of Dundela have received the message loud and clear.

Sheldrick's Auto Service opening dream come true for owner

Owner and mechanic Daryl (left) and administrator Samantha Sheldrick welcome customers to Sheldrick's Auto Service, Winchester's newest auto shop that just opened this month. The business hosted its open house event Sat., Nov. 14 to spread the word about services offered.

WINCHESTER – If your engine needs repair and you're curious about what the technician is doing under the hood, head over to the village's newest auto shop – Sheldrick's Auto Service.

"I like this location because the customer can see what I'm doing, and I'll explain exactly what they're looking at if they want to," said shop owner Daryl Sheldrick about his open-door policy. "If they want, they can come back into the shop and talk to me while I'm doing it." Sheldrick's Auto Service opened for business at the beginning of November, and already it's been a big change for the Hallville native, who recently left his 15-year position managing a Midas shop in Ottawa.

For most of his life, it was Sheldrick's dream to open his own auto shop. And now that it's a reality, Sheldrick said he's enjoying spending more time with his customers and truly helping them learn more about their vehicles.

"It's not the same as working for someone else. I'm not focusing on what the big company wants me to focus on… It's about what customers need," said Sheldrick. "Before, I'd be working on 30 to 40 cars a day, so it was just in and out, as fast as possible. Here I can spend more time with people, talk with them, break down the repairs they need."

Sheldrick actually started working at an auto shop in Metcalfe when he was only 16. According to Sheldrick's wife, Samantha, he has always been the guy in his driveway working on any engine he could get his hands on. "He's wanted to do this forever," chuckled Samantha. "It's his passion."

As a self-described jack-of-all-trades, Sheldrick and his wife worked "day and night" for nearly two months getting the 2,500-square-foot space on Dawley Drive ready. The location was once known as Akcent Motor Sales, but the couple completely gutted the shop, upgrading and retrofitting it for Sheldrick's purposes.

One of Sheldrick's main goals in opening the auto shop was to keep business local.

"I want to keep people from going into the city [for auto services]," said Sheldrick. "And I've been trying to keep all my parts and materials local, too – our flooring was from Winchester, our electrician from Winchester."

Now that the shop is ready to go, the Sheldricks hosted an open house event Sat., Nov. 14 to get customers in the door and check out what they're all about. Held on the same day as the village's first-ever shop crawl (although not officially one of the stops), the Sheldricks provided goodies and prizes for patrons stopping by.

Right now, Sheldrick's Auto Service has a few inventory items available, such as batteries, windshield wipers, oil, and filters. Sheldrick is also offering a complete car oil spray for $39.95.

"Stop in to say hi – we're nice people," joked Sheldrick.

Sheldrick's Auto Service is open Monday to Friday from 8 am to 6 pm, and Saturday from 8 am to 12 pm by appointment only.

The message council gave to Dundela skaters is "you get a 'trailer,'" and you can be thankful that those windmills came along, because we really didn't have any money set aside to replace that little eyesore because you are, well, not Morrisburg, of course."

Oh, the optics are great aren't they? I think the residents of Dundela and of South Dundas as a whole should be thinking much grander. The Dundela rinkhouse having been a municipal property should be replaced with municipal budgeted funds, and paid with tax revenue – just like what would happen in Iroquois. The community fund money should be used to expand the park. Maybe put a fabric roof structure over the whole rink. Now wouldn't that have shown the residents of Dundela that they have a place in this community, too? Actually an improvement to their facility, rather than the "trailer park" they will now have. Wouldn't have happened in the great metropolis and capital city of Morrisburg now would it have? Iroquois wouldn't stand for such a swipe at their pride – "a trailer, can you imagine?"

I can hear the fawning already. But we will give a trailer to Dundela. We could steal the lights from the ballpark in Brinston, because after all it is not safe to be out after dark in Brinston for children anyway, and those poor people on Coons Road can just keep driving through the mud. Hicks all of them. I ask council, "Are we so awash in funds that we don't know what to do with the money?" Do we just turn down offers of new money because of a stubborn sense of pride? If we have so much money available to us then the park in Dundela should have all the services that the arena in Morrisburg gets. Water, heat, sewer, ice cleaning equipment, and a full-time staff. Full-time staff is overdoing it I suppose, but the money to make a lot happen is actually available, if we just set aside our pettiness.

Of course we are not awash in money. But we could be, couldn't we? Did the results of the federal election last month convince council that somehow this green energy kick that we as a country (and the world) are on is about to go away? Did the renewed mandate of the Ontario government indicate that the times are changing, and a new hydro dam will be built? We can bury our heads in the sand and deny reality, but more windmills are coming. Whether those windmills are to be in communities to the west or the north or the east, or right here in South Dundas, they are coming to Eastern Ontario. So, we will continue to host windmills, and we will host more windmills. Willing or not. So, who is not willing? Is it the landowners who have the current windmills on their properties, and are generating extra revenues to pay for the ever-increasing costs of everything? They seem happy.

Is it the local heavy equipment contractors who handled the tons of material that was required for construction? From the trucks I saw I think they were all involved on some level, and didn't seem to stress the extra fuel too much or object conscientiously.

Was it the local store and lunch counter that extended their hours so that they could reap the benefits of all the extra coffee and pizza that the workers were consuming? Or is it maybe the local hardware and supply stores who don't want to sell all the incidentals that come along with such projects?

I think these businesses and many more like them all enjoyed banner years during the construction phase. Some still are benefitting from the presence of the project now that it has become part of the community.

Would it be the landowners who after some original skepticism about the need, the sightlines, or the erroneous health issues of such a project, but have now signed new agreements? Or might it be the windmill shadow communities of Brinston, Hulbert, and Dundela who believe a brighter future for their families can be had from the locally earned and locally directed revenues of the community fund?

After all, they have learned not to expect much of anything from their local municipality. They see the disparity every chance they get out to see the bright lights of those major urban establishments of Morrisburg and Iroquois. That hope of a bright horizon was smothered out quickly of course as the edge dwellers soon learned that council would do everything in its power to keep these new found revenues for the more cultured centres of course. Let us give them a trailer. They won't know the difference, and we can spend their tax dollars on more enlightened "city" things.

I still don't see the riots, and we have now hosted windmills for more than two years. These "unwilling host" declarations are all just silly posturing once again by politicians who have gotten a little too swollen in the head. You know exactly what this motion will do. Exactly nothing. Some community somewhere in our Eastern Ontario region will get these new windmills (or solar panels for that matter). That is the only fact that is guaranteed under the law. So why not put aside the pettiness, and admit that we are in a brave new world?

Just move on from this silly, unwinnable fight. The war is over, the battle lost. Yes, I am one of those landowners who has signed on to a potential energy project. And yes, I was not real excited about the whole notion of windmills looking over my property when my neighbours established the original wind farm. I had my concerns. Will my family or I get sick? No, we are healthy. Will my dairy cows get sick? No, I have happy cows that seem to not have noticed that their world had changed. Will all my cows abort their calves and my farm's future be in jeopardy? More calves than ever. Less milk? Production is up. How will the windmills look on the horizon? We have gotten used to them now to the point that when visitors ask questions about them it kind of takes me by surprise that they even notice them. The windmills are just "there" now. Will my property values go down? That one makes me laugh, of course. The recent property assessments that our farm has received have of course shown that myth to be unwarranted. Does the sun still rise in the east and set in the west? Of course it does.

I would propose that instead of voting on this motion, Ewing should withdraw it from the table, and instead he should create a new motion declaring simply "South Dundas is a windmill hosting community."

I will make it a motion from the floor. After all, that is what we are, whether we like it or not. Sit back and reap the benefits. They are not going away. We must work in the systems that we are in. I didn't vote for either the federal or provincial Liberal governments that we have, but I deal with the system that they make me operate within. I didn't vote for all of the South Dundas council members, and today I find myself regretting having voted for the short-sighted and small thinking ones that I did vote for. I don't willingly pay taxes, but I do as the law says I shall.

I think I might pay a lot less in future taxes if council would realize the new realities of this era, and reap the whole package of benefits that they are being offered through these energy agreements. We are a small community with limited avenues for growth, so don't look a gift horse in the mouth and throw away an opportunity to dream big.

But of course it is easier to tax, and that is what real politicians know how to do of course. The world has moved on. You won't put the genie back in the bottle. People didn't like automobiles at one time either, and thought they would never catch on.

Dairymax to create 10 local jobs

Joint open house with Dundas Performance and Secured Holmes

by Alicia K. Gosselin
Press staff

WINCHESTER – It looks like there will be more job opportunities opening up within the village.

With two new businesses establishing themselves on the Main Street in Winchester – Dairymax Farm Solutions, and Dundas Performance and Secured Holmes – it was only fitting that a joint open house took place at the 10,000-square-foot warehouse Thurs., Nov. 12.

Store manager James Casey of Dairymax, and owner Jordan Holmes of Dundas Performance and Secured Holmes were available onsite at the shared event to answer questions, promote their products, and spread the word about what they want to accomplish within the community.

Dairymax Farm Solutions offers mobile robotic feeding and milking systems to improve quality of life for farmers, while Dundas Performance and Secured Holmes offers vehicle performance upgrades and accessories, as well as home security products.

Township of North Dundas Mayor Eric Duncan, along with Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon and MPP Jim McDonnell showed up to the event for a ribbon-cutting ceremony to officially ring in the new ventures.

"We're seeing more and more businesses interested in locating in this area because of the abundance of services offered here, and we're so proud," said Duncan, who jokingly added that the Winchester strip around County Road 31 should be renamed "agriculture alley."

Holmes has already hired a construction contractor to support his growing business, while Casey has hired two technicians to help with the installs, maintenance, and service of the robotic milking systems (Milkomax) and the robotic feeding systems (Rovibec). According to Casey, Winchester should see 10 more jobs opening up before the end of the year.

"Winchester is growing and growing…And good things are happening in this community," said Lauzon during his address. "One out of eight jobs in the country are a direct result of agriculture. We need to support agriculture and we need to make it grow."

Third-generation dairy farmers Jeff (left), Rob, and Richard Sonneveld are Dairymax's first official customers, and will be introducing two mobile milking robots into their tie-stall barn in February 2016. With 126 milking cows, the brothers invested in the mobile robots to improve their quality of life, increase their cows' milk productivity, and reduce the cost to operate their farm.

Several vendors also showed up to the event to show their support, including GreenTech Ag and Turf, Ritchie Feed and Seed, and Farm Supply Sales.

Members of the North Dundas Fire Department's Mountain detachment managed to raise $15,000 during their annual Chinese dinner and auction, with the help of a fund-matching program provided by South Mountain's Scotiabank Fri., Nov. 13. The detachment raised $5,000 during the dinner – as well as another $2,500 worth of tickets bought by Ed Duncan from JED Express – which were doubled by the branch. Community investment

Fundraising efforts doubled by Scotiabank contributions

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Members of the North Dundas Fire Department's Mountain detachment have been working hard for the past few months to raise funds for the benefit of both the station and the community – and their efforts were magnified Fri., Nov. 13 when their total funds raised were matched by South Mountain's Scotiabank.

Through the community investment program at Scotiabank, the branch can match funds up to $5,000.

Mountain firefighters were able to raise $1,848.30 during their boot drive for muscular dystrophy, and with the matching program, reached a total of $3,696.60.

The detachment was also supported by Scotiabank during their annual Chinese dinner and auction fundraiser, and with matched funds – including $2,500 worth of tickets purchased by Ed Duncan from JED Express – managed to reach a total of $15,000.

Proceeds from the Chinese dinner and auction will be going toward purchasing equipment for the Mountain detachment.

The South Mountain Scotiabank stood as a drop-off for boot drive donations, as well as a dispensary for dinner tickets.

"We participate alongside the firefighters to help raise money for the causes, and our matching program supports them," said financial advisor Nancy Miller-McKenzie. "Two of us stood at the door selling tickets for the 50/50 draw as well, so it all works out."

Kristie Billings has worked at Bridals by Al-Mor for 10 years, but is now starting her own venture by opening Barkley's Shoes and Accessories within the same location. Billings said she is looking forward to expanding her line of shoes available, and will even bring in casual shoes and flip-flops come March.

Patrons were treated to free popcorn, hot chocolate, and cookies at the Red Wagon on St. Lawrence Street during the shop crawl. Red Wagon has been open since August, and has already seen a loyal client base coming in for unique children's clothing. Owner Ashley Diggis (right) and her mother, Laurie Ross, welcomed shoppers with a no-tax event, as well as $5 off on a $100 purchase or more. "People are excited there's a place in town to come for children's clothing…They don't have to go to the city," said Diggiss. Press Photos – Gosselin

Laura Carruthers (left) and owner Gary Annable from Annable's Jewellery and Gifts said that the most popular item sold during the shop crawl was Christmas ornaments. "People are getting their Christmas shopping done while there's sales," said Annable, who also promoted a tax-free storewide sale.

Shop crawl exceeds expectations

100s of participants shop 'til they drop in Winchester

WINCHESTER – It was nearly impossible to find parking in the village Sat. Nov. 14 during Winchester's first-ever shop crawl – a day that saw hundreds of patrons, passports in hand, navigating local businesses and exploring exclusive promotions and events around town.

Thirteen locations were marked on participants' passports – including Main Street Clothing Company, Agora, Red Wagon, Cass Bridge Cheese House, The Town Vintner, Barkley's Shoes and Accessories, CJAM Fashion Boutique, Annable's Jewellery and Gifts, Winchester Foodland, Bridals by Al-Mor, Winchester Print, Winchelsea Events, and Country Treasures at Winchester BMR – and shoppers were able to collect stamps from each stop along the way.

At the end of the day, completed passports were put into a draw for a grand prize totalling more than $300 worth of items donated by local businesses.

Participant Genie Lasden ended up winning the grand prize, which included a pullover children's sweater (Red Wagon); a Crossroad candle (Cass Bridge Cheese House); a scarf, boot socks, boot cuffs, and clutch wallet (Barkley's Shoes and Accessories); a cribbage and dice game set, and $25 gift certificate (Agora); a jewellery set (Bridals by Al-Mor); a $100 gift certificate (CJAM Fashion Boutique); a watch and a $40 gift certificate (Annable's Jewellery and Gifts); a $25 gift certificate (Winchester Foodland); a throw blanket and table centrepiece (Winchester BMR); a $20 gift certificate (Winchester Print); a scarf, Hero's Ho Ho Ho Hockey Dream Book, and a $50 gift certificate (Main Street Clothing Company); a dozen shortbread cookies (Delsa-Bella Bakery); a one year subscription to the Winchester Press; and a Rhino reel, and T-shirt (Paddletales Tackle).

The event, initiated by local business owner Lisa Williams of Main Street Clothing Company, definitely put Winchester on the map as a thriving business community offering diverse services.

"The best part has been working together with my fellow business owners, and the community coming together to shop and have fun," said Williams amidst a frenzy of customers checking out her tax-free storewide sale. "There were so many events and things going on today, so we decided, 'Why not group together?' It's been super successful."

The day's shop crawl coincided with several local events, including the grand opening of Barkley's Shoes and Accessories, Agora's second anniversary celebration, Winchester Foodland hosting the OPP's "Stuff a Cruiser" food drive, and Winchelsea Event's special luncheon, just to name a few.

The hype around the shop crawl was even felt around town leading up to the event, as several business owners were interviewed by CTV Ottawa Morning Live on-location host Sarah Freemark Fri. Nov. 13.

"Watching the community get really excited about [the shop crawl] has been fun," said Ashley Diggiss, owner of local children's clothing store, Red Wagon. "Spreading the word about what's [in Winchester] is key to keep people shopping local."

Kristie Billings from Barkley's Shoes and Accessories was also impressed with the day's turnout as her store was overloaded with customers taking advantage of its grand opening no-tax sale.

"Just bringing people into town, and letting people check out each store is a great idea," said Billings. "All the stores are coming together to bring people to Winchester…The town has come to life."

Sarah Holmes (left) and store owner Vicky Johnstone celebrated Agora's second anniversary during the village shop crawl with promotions and goodies. Shoppers were able to get 10 per cent off their purchases, as well as get treated to cupcakes baked by Delsa-Bella Bakery, and every 25th customer received a $25 gift certificate to the store. Johnstone said that it's been a wild ride taking over at Agora, but it couldn't have been a better birthday gift – her birthday also coincided with the store's anniversary.

Jennifer Butland (left), Kelsey Byers, owner Kim Carruthers and daughter Lexy from Bridals by Al-Mor helped shoppers navigate hundreds of bridesmaid and wedding dresses during their "Super Sample Sale." The store was packed with customers as several local businesses were also promoted during the shop crawl. Vendors from Steeped Tea, Eclectic Charm, Beyond the House, and more, were available to chat with shoppers about their services throughout the day.

Storeowner Lisa Williams (left) and employee Mackenzie Johnston from Main Street Clothing Company showed off just some of the grand prize items up for grabs during the shop crawl. The event was the brain child of Williams, who said she couldn't have been more pleased with the positive responses she received during the event about keeping shoppers local. Not only did the clothing store promote a tax-free savings event, but the first 150 shoppers also received a free shopping tote for the day.

Shopper Denise Lafortune checked out some of the unique merchandise available at CJAM Fashion Boutique on Main Street during its tax-free sale. Anyone who bought anything at the store was given a $35 T-shirt from owner Collin Jones. The clothing store just celebrated its one-year anniversary. "We are involved in the shop crawl because we want to extend our reach and educate people about what we have in Winchester," said Jones, who promoted the Lady Imp fashion line designed by his wife.

Christmas on the mind

Cass Bridge Gift Shop owner Barb Barkley (left) opened her store to the masses on Thurs., Nov. 12 during the business' annual holiday open house. Throughout the event, all giftware and jewellery was 20 per cent off, while many more items were also available. Morewood memorial

The rain held off Wed., Nov. 11 as the community gathered around the village's cenotaph to pay their respects to Canada's war veterans, past and present. Canadian Forces Station Leitrim marched in the event for the sixth year in a row, while students from Marionville's École élémentaire catholique Sainte-Thérèse-d'Avila also made their presence felt, taking part in the recitation of "In Flanders Fields" and the wreath-laying portion of the ceremony. Morewood resident Bill Smirle served as master of ceremonies. Above, RCMP officer Erin Gagne (left) and Silver Cross mother Mary Van Dongen. At right, Master Cpl. Lessons to be learned for both young and old

WINCHESTER – You're never too young to remember. Students at Winchester Public School learned a lot about Canada's war heroes Wed. Nov. 11 during a Remembrance Day ceremony held in the school gymnasium.

All grades participated by creating a poppy wreath for the memorial, with two student representatives from each class laying the wreath at the memorial.

Grade 6 students recited the poem "In Flanders Fields," while the Grade 1's sang a version of "Je Me Souviens."

The gym was packed with students, staff, teachers, parents, and members of the colour party to remember those who have served in the Canadian Armed Forces.

Students Darren Gregoire and Hanna Armstrong laid a wreath created by their class in memory of Canada's military. Student representatives from each grade were able to participate in the commemoration.

Metcalfe Jets soaring

Six consecutive wins move Metcalfe into second place in Martin Division

METCALFE – Currently, one of the hottest teams in the Central Canada Hockey League 2 is the Metcalfe Jets.

The Jets, based in the Larry Robinson Arena, have reeled off six straight wins and inflated their Martin Division record to 12-7-0-2, good for 26 points and second place behind the Casselman Vikings (16-2-1-0) who have collected 33.

Metcalfe's latest two triumphs were recorded in their own barn. Friday (Nov. 13) they doubled the Brockville Tikis (4-16-0-0) 4-2 before pounding the Arnprior Packers 5-2 Sunday (Nov. 15) afternoon.

This week they are slated to meet the Westport Rideaus (10-10-0-0) in a home and home series beginning Friday (Nov. 20) in Westport and finishing Sunday (Nov. 22) afternoon in Metcalfe at 2:15 pm.

Jets 5 – Packers 2

Brayden Laidlaw and Josig Rochon combined for two goals, six assists and nine points in Sunday's 5-2 victory.

Metcalfe captain Jordan Mallette cashed the GWG completing a power play engineered by Carter Mallette and Andrew Burke 1:06 into the second period.

Rochon (PPG, Simon Martel, Laidlaw at 11:38) and Eric Turner (Rochon, Laidlaw at 18:53) nailed the Jets first period goals opening up a 2-0 lead.

Jordan Mallette (his team-leading 13th) and Turner (Laidlaw, Rochon at 2:00) found the back of the Packers cage upping Metcalfe's advantage to 4-0 in the sandwich session.

Arnprior sliced the deficit to 4-2 on third-period markers by Dean Galasso and Chris King only to have the Jets' Laidlaw (Turner, Rochon at 12:31) make it a 5-2 difference.

Kenneth Nichol stopped 26 of 28 shots Arnprior fired at him for the win.

Jets 4 – Tikis 2

Metcalfe established a 2-0 lead in the first 20 minutes thanks to goals by Matt Knight-Bedour (PPG, Laidlaw, Turner at 13:21) and Francesco Santini (Jordan Mallette at 13:31).

Brockville's Noah Fisher cut the Jets lead to 2-1 at 3:26 of period two. That score held up until Jordan Mallette (Nick Rowan, Joey Farago) made it 3-1 with 18 seconds left in the session.

Jonathan Dutrisac (Ryan Lafranchise, Jeremy Barrie at 4:24) netted the Jets a 4-1 lead early in the final frame. That advantage was reduced to 4-2 when Zach Satalino cashed Tikis' PPG at 16:02.

Nathan Peters faced 40 shots, allowed two goals and recorded his seventh win (7-4-0-1) in a dozen starts.

Eyes on the prize

The Metcalfe Jets have hit the afterburners of late registering six consecutive Central Canada Hockey League 2 victories. Metcalfe now holds down second place in the Martin Division with 12-7-0-2 record and 26 points, seven fewer that the first-place Casselman Vikings (16-2-1-0). Goaltender Nathan Peters has anchored the Jets defence fashioning a 7-4-0-1 record, a GAA 3.58 and a save percentage of .898. Press Photo – Van Bridger

Hawks losing skid continues, beaten 7-4 by Athens

WINCHESTER – A third period let down and an empty net goal have extended the Winchester Hawks losing skid to seven games.

The Hawks were right in last Friday's (Nov. 13) Central Canada Hockey League 2 contest at the Joel Steele Community Centre battling back from 2-0 and 4-2 deficits to tie the count at 4-4 early in the final frame before falling 7-4 to the Richardson Division's Athens Aeros (9-7-1-0).

This week, the Hawks (6-10-0-4), standing sixth in the Martin Division, will travel to Alexandria on Friday to face the third-place Glens (11-5-2-1). Saturday (Nov. 21), they will be home to the fifth place Ottawa Canadians (8-10-0-1). The 2:30 pm matinee will be the Hawks final North Dundas Demons Minor Hockey Day of the season.

Aeros rally

Athens gained a 2-0 first period lead on the Hawks on goals by Riley Howarth (6:42) and Wyatt Cota (8:37).

Winchester responded in the middle session when Shawn Simms (Isaac Barr, Erik Starcevic at 7:03) and Andy Clarke (PPG, Kyle Richardson, Kris Johnston at 12:00) beat Athens goaltender Brandon Kitchen. But, the Aeros broke the 2-2 stalemate on a pair of quick snipes by Bryan Fancy (PPG, 17:21) and Devin McCloy (17:41).

Starcevic rallied the Hawks cracking goals set up by Nicholas Pilote at 3:12 and Diego Gagnon (PPG) at 6:26 of the final frame. The 4-4 count remained in effect until Matt Avery scored the GWG at 9:44. Cota made it 6-4 with his second tally of the game at 15:37 and Jordan Robertson secured the 7-4 decision hitting the empty Hawks cage with 25 seconds left on the clock.

John Gilmer made his first start between the pipes for Winchester and stopped 24 of 30 shots in the loss.

Hawks Happenings

The Hawks have made some roster moves releasing rookies Dillon Clemen (5'10', 200 lbs.) of Morewood and Russell's Jonathon Cyr (6', 210 lbs.) to the North Dundas Junior Rockets. The seventeen year-old Clemen played 16 games and picked up an assist while Cyr, 18, dressed for 15 games with the Hawks and earned one assist.

Winchester GM Craig "JB" Smith also signed towering defenceman Nicholas Tsiobanos (6'4", 210 lbs.).

Still on the IL are assistant captain Bryden van Kessel and rookie forward Liam Morrow.

No room

The visiting first-place Papineauville Vikings engaged the North Dundas Rockets offence in this board battle during Saturday (Nov. 14) night's National Capital Junior Hockey League game at the Chesterville Arena. Backed by the stellar goaltending of Yanik Gosselin (top, right), the Vikings burnt the Rockets 10-0. Antoine Gauvreau led the Vikings to victory scoring three times and setting up two other scoring plays.

Junior Rockets suffer back-to-back losses

CHESTERVILLE – To say the least, it was a rough weekend for the North Dundas Junior Rockets.

Saturday (Nov. 14) in Chesterville the National Capital Junior Hockey League's North Division leading Papineauville Vikings (11-1-1) plundered the Rockets 10-0 and Sunday (Nov. 15) in St. Isidore the third-place Eagles (5-8-0) shut down the fourth-place Rockets (3-12-0) 5-1.

Rookie defenceman Sheldon Holmes used a play created by Kyle MacDonald and Ryan Romans to record the Rockets' lone goal of the weekend, a tally that broke up a string of five scoreless periods and put North Dundas on the scoreboard in the final frame of Sunday's contest.

Emil Lamontagne got the start in St. Isidore and surrendered four goals in 32 minutes of work. Thomas Lastewka, who was vulcanized by the rubber the Vikings fired at him in the 10-0 loss, played the final 28 minutes and was beaten for one goal.

Rockets coach/GM Robyn Sadler pointed to the fact that his club was assessed 86 minutes in penalties and the Vikings just 46 in the 10-0 debacle.

"Penalties aren't the reason we lost, but they certainly gave us absolutely no chance to compete," said Sadler. "As a team we were averaging 14 PIM per game, second best in the league, up until that game."

"Sunday's 5-1 loss was simply a classic case of not being able to score," added the coach. "We had our opportunities, but didn't bury them."

Thunder rumbles into top spot

WINCHESTER – Two-goal efforts by Colton Stitt and Dustin Tinkler propelled Thurler's Thunder to a 7-4 victory over the Chesterville Maulers and into sole possession of first place in the Winchester Town Hockey League standings.

Last Tuesday's (Nov. 10) decision improved the Thunders record to 6-2-0 and dropped the Maulers fourth-place mark to 2-5-1. The other half of the twin bill went into the books as a 7-4 victory for the Red Roosters (5-2-1) who handed the former league-leading Bush Leaguers (5-3-0) their third loss, a 7-4 setback.

Thunder rolls

First-half goals by Rob Thurler (Mitch Shay, Kyle Sobering at 23:09), Pete Klein-Swormink (Rob Thurler at 20:29), Stitt (Michel Thurler, Shay at 8:11) and Tinkler (Shay, Klein-Swormink at 4:26) opened up a 4-1 lead for the Thunder.

Tyler Jones (Chris Embury, Justin Morozuk at 15:35) replied for the Maulers.

Tyler Brown (GWG, unassisted at 24:51) quickly made it 5-1 early in the second half. But, the Maulers managed to slice their deficit to 5-3 on goals by Corey Brown (Scott Baldwin at 23:31) and Embury (Derek Crawford at 12:13). Tinkler connected with 5:31 left on the clock handing the Thunder a 6-3 advantage. A goal by Brown (Baldwin at 3:21) closed the gap to 6-4 until Stitt (unassisted) hit the empty Maulers net 11 seconds before the final buzzer.

Roosters 7 – Leaguers 4

Rooster captain Nik Paas took charge leading his troops to their fifth win in eight starts firing home four goals (including the GWG set up by Ray Smegal and Brandon Buma at 22:33 of the second half) and earning a pair of assists.

It was dead even at 3-3 at the half, but the Bush Leaguers managed just one second-half tally in answer to the Roosters four.

Paas (4-2-6), Buma (2-2-4), Smegal (0-4-4), James Gilmer (1-0-1), Ben Walkowiak (0-1-1) and Clayton Kohn (0-1-1) produced the Rooster's offence.

The Leaguers' points were supplied by Dean Byvelds (1-3-4), Steve Cameron (2-1-3), Brad Bingley (1-1-2), Kyle Gaskin (0-1-1) and Chris Piquette (0-1-1).

North Dundas Atom House 'C' Demons blank Lions 2-0

MORRISBURG – Goalie Nadia McLean backstopped the North Dundas Atom House "C" Demons as they shutout the South Dundas Lions 2-0 on their own ice.

Sunday's (Nov. 15) road win was the second of the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League (UCMHL) season for the Demons who edged the Bears 2-1 in Smiths Falls for their first two-pointer. North Dundas (2-8-0) currently shares fourth place in the West Division with the Brockville No.1 Jr. Braves (2-3-0).

Cameron Ouellette netted the GWG on an unassisted rush and followed up by making it 2-0 finishing a play started by defenceman Thomas Van Bridger.

At home

North Dundas played host to the Ogdensburg Maple Leafs last week (Wed., Nov. 11) at the Chesterville Arena.

The end-to-end contest went to the New Yorkers, playing just their third game in the UCMHL, who cashed the GWG 1:35 before the final buzzer sounded.

John-Gordon van Kessel rang up the Demons first goal finishing a play started by Ben Forrester at 7:01 of the first period. There was 3:26 left in period two when Ethan Guy-Legendre used a pass provided by Van Bridger to pull the Demons into a 2-2 tie.

Demons roster

The 2015-2016 North Dundas Atom House "C" Demons are: Nadia McLean – goalie, Ben Forrester, John-Gordon van Kessel, Ethan Guy-Legendre, Ryan Antille, Alex Ball, Cameron Ouellette, Spencer Armstrong, Kyle Robb, Paul Theos, Wyatt Watson, Thomas Van Bridger, coach - John McLean, assistant coaches - Peter Forrester and Chris Van Bridger, trainer – Clayton Armstrong, manager - Maureen Guy.

Kyle Robb (No. 12), a member of the North Dundas Atom House "C" Demons unleashed a shot during a scrimmage against the North Dundas Junior Rockets Saturday (Nov. 14) evening. The action took place between the first and second periods of the Rockets National Capital Junior Hockey League game against the Papineauville Vikings. Rockets Sheldon Holmes (No. 24), Brandon Lavallee, Tyson Sherrer, Brady Tanner and Owen Salmon opposed the Demons. Press Photo – Van Bridger

Rockets

Sadler reminded fans that the Rockets are a young team having 13 players 18 years and under.

"Seems like every game is a learning experience," he said. "We are struggling to score as most young teams do, and we are still making some crucial, basic hockey mistakes."

"I think the main thing here is to keep everything in perspective," he added. "We have a young team, a solid core, but consistency still eludes us."

Sadler feels a hockey season is a marathon, not a sprint, and the Rockets have to stay the course, be patient and achieve the ultimate goal of qualifying for the playoffs.

This week

The Rockets will face a couple North Division adversaries this week. They are on the road for a Friday (Nov. 20) tilt with Academie Jr. Outaouais (4-10-1) in La Peche.

Saturday (Nov. 21), the Cumberland Bandits (7-7-0) will roll into Chesterville for a 7:50 pm meeting.

Rocket fuel

The Rockets have inked a couple of rookie skaters who started the season with the Central Canada Hockey League 2 Winchester Hawks.

Drawing into the lineup are Morewood's Dillon Clemen (5'10, 200 lbs.) and Russell's Justin Cyr (6', 210 lbs.). Clemen will wear No. 2 and play defence. He appeared in 16 games for the Hawks, and collected one assist.

Cyr dressed for 15 games with Winchester and picked up one assist. He will take up a forward position with the Rockets and wear jersey No. 3.

The Rockets are still missing their captain and leading scorer Brandon Mullin who is recovering from an ankle injury.

KC's undefeated in seven games

WINCHESTER – Jessica Hendrikx completed a play engineered by Kathy Kerr and Eleanor Robinson with 2:11 left in the game helping KC's Lawn Maintenance hand Bridals by Al-Mor a 2-1 loss.

Sunday morning's (Nov. 15) victory stretched KC's Winchester District Ladies Hockey League undefeated string to seven games (5-0-2) and put them on top of the standings with 12 points. The loss left the second-place Bridals record at 3-1-3, and three points out of top spot.

Kaila Beckstead gave Bridals a 1-0 lead scoring from Francine Brisson and Amy Fraser with 7:50 to play in the game. There were just three minutes left in the game when Christina Stewart tied it 1-1 after taking a feed from Jennifer Wilson and Laura McDonnell. That play set the stage for player of the game Hendrikx to net the GWG.

Sonja Bradley posted the win and Cashelle Baldwin absorbed the one-goal loss.

In the Pink

Player of the game Edith Dagenais stole the show in the 9 am contest ringing up three consecutive goals leading the Cooper Physio Pinks (2-4-1) attack as they doubled the Foodland Reds (1-4-2) 4-2. Annik Dagenais sniped the single on an unassisted play with 30 seconds left on the clock.

Natasha Jamieson, Chantal Penk, Jenna Warren and Isabelle Dagenais earned assists. Penk and Warren drew assists on the GWG at 10:05 of the second half.

Lyndsay Enright and Andrea Francis netted the Reds markers. Kristyn Winges picked up an assist. Sam Benoit was the winning 'tender.

First zero

Benoit (player of the game) was back between the pipes subbing for KC's regular goalie Kristie Wade in the 10 am match and was able to register her first shutout as the league leaders blanked Annable's Jewellery Blues (1-4-2) 2-0.

Late second-half shots fired by Katrina Holmes (GWG, unassisted at 8:50) and Laurena Matthies (Lynn Lambourne at 5:35) were the difference.

Solid effort

The North Dundas District High School Senior Devils qualified for the SD&G "A" boys volleyball playoffs finishing in fourth place (of six teams). North Dundas was matched up against the Char-Lan Crusaders in their quarterfinal match on Mon., Nov. 9 and were eliminated in three sets winning the opener 25-17, losing the second set 25-23 and dropping the tie breaker 17-15. The L'Heritage Dragons claimed the championship sweeping the La Citadelle Patriotes in straight sets (25-20. 25-23). The 2015 Senior Devils are: front (left) – Brayden Cochrane, Spencer Kelly, Cyrill Jaquemet, Will Pietersma, Brodie Barkley; back (left) – Owen Salmon, Brett Lannin, Ben Schoones, Jack van Kessel, Bayden Carr, coach – Kathi Poirier. Photo – Corbett-White

ND Demons corral Colts in Cornwall

CORNWALL – Owen Goulet fashioned another hat trick heading up the North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons offence as they crushed the Cornwall Colts 8-2 at the Benson Centre.

Saturday's (Nov. 14) win was followed by a 5-2 loss to the Bears in Smiths Falls on Sunday (Nov. 15) and moved the Demons Upper Canada Minor Hockey League East Division record to 3-3-2, good enough for eight points, one less than the top ranked Char-Lan Rebels (4-1-1).

Nicholas Brugmans bagged both goals in Smiths Falls and also netted a goal and a couple of helpers in the win in Cornwall.

Brugmans (Curtis Bell, Owen Goulet at 13:45), Goulet (Dean Lapier, Brugmans at 13:20) and Bell (Brugmans, Bradley McLean at 0:19.3) cashed first period goals for the visitors creating a 3-0 lead over the Colts.

Lapier (Nolan Brown at 7:54) and Bell (unassisted at 1:05) dented twine in the second session making it a 5-0 difference.

North Dundas' third-period scoring plays were: Goulet (Xavier Leclerc at 10:34), Lapier (unassisted at 2:10) and Goulet (McLean at 1:02).

Liam Antille lost his shutout when Cornwall connected twice in the final frame.

The Demons next two games are set for Brockville (Wed., Nov. 18) and Long Sault (Wed., Nov. 25).

NDIS in soccer semi-finals

CARLETON PLACE – An 11-nil win qualified the North Dundas Intermediate School (NDIS) Devils for a berth in the semi-final round of the Upper Canada Soccer Cup.

The daylong tournament was held at Beckwith Park last week (Thurs., Nov. 12) and saw the Devils play four matches. They were blanked 3-nil by Tagwi, ripped the R/O Lancers 11-nil, lost 3-nil to the TISS Pirates and were eliminated dropping a close 1-nil decision to the Rideau Lions in the semi-final round.

Liam Antille, Zach Gutknecht, Curtis Bell and Cam Sherrer combined to crack the 11 goals and keeper Owen Richardson posted the shutout against R/O.

Michelle Gibbs and Julie-Anne St. Louis co-coached the squad with Kevin Bell assisting with the game plan and running the practices.

The Devils are currently selecting their volleyball teams in preparation for the tournament on Tues., Nov. 24.

The team

The 2015 NDIS Devils are: Owen Richardson – keeper; forwards – Jaymen Heuff, Eliakim Gutknecht, Liam Antille, Mason Carr, Zach Gutknecht; mids – Curtis Bell, Curtis Bowman, Cam Sherrer, Kaleb Rockburn; defenders – Adam Barkley, Ethan Guy, James Dunlop, Matthew Irven, Mitchel Walker and Justin Schoenfeld.

SD&G basketball playoffs

Gaels eliminate Jr. Devils

CORNWALL – It was close, but when the final buzzer sounded the Glengarry Gaels had prevailed in a sudden-death showdown with the North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) Junior Devils.

Glengarry ended the Devils SD&G "A" girls basketball season handing them a six-point 42-36 loss in a post-season qualifier played last week (Wed., Nov. 11) in Cornwall.

North Dundas coach Erin Groves reported the Devils avoided foul trouble in the first half while Glengarry was whistled for at least seven infractions.

"We had them [Gaels] in the first half," she said. "But we stalled and were called for more fouls getting Glengarry bonus shots."

The coach explained the two teams were neck and neck in the fourth quarter, right into the last couple of minutes.

"We just couldn't get the baskets when we needed them," she said.

North Dundas finished the regular season one game below the 500 level with three wins and four losses. The La Citadelle Patriotes finished in first place, drew a bye and eliminated Glengarry (51-28) to advance to the title match. The sixth-place Tagwi Warriors upset two higher seeded schools (R/O Lancers and Seaway Spartans) to earn the other berth in the tri-county showdown with the Patriotes.

Shaina Vandemheen, once again, emerged as the Devils' top offensive producer with Sam Benoit, Kara Turcotte, Abbie Scheepers and Katherine Steele also contributing points.

Season over

Chloe Ziegler (left), Abbie Scheepers and their NDDHS Junior Devils teammates were eliminated from the 2015 SD&G "A" girls basketball post-season losing by six-points (42-36) to the Glengarry Gaels in a quarter-final playoff game last week (Wed., Nov. 11) in Cornwall. Press Photo – Van Bridger

Devils roster

Representing NDDHS in 2015 were: Megan Scheepers, Julia Gibson, Jordyn Francis, Shaina Vandemheen, Payton Halpenny, Kara Turcotte, Shaye Vanden Bosch, Sam Benoit, Katherine Steele, Taylor Sherrer, Chloe Ziegler and Abbie Scheepers.

SD&G volleyball championship

Jr. Devils reach semi-final round

The North Dundas District High School Junior Devils earned a berth in the SD&G "A" boys volleyball playoffs qualifying fourth in a field of six teams. The Devils defeated the fifth-place Char-Lan Crusaders in their qualifying match in Cornwall on Wed., Nov. 11 only to lose 2-0 to the eventual silver medal-winning La Citadelle Patriots in the semi-final. The 2015 Junior Devils are: front (left) – Jeremy Gutknecht, Dylan Barkley, Caleb Jaquemet, Ian Koch; back (left) – Nic Brugmans, Curtis Barkley, Jarrett Williams, Rustin Hague, Ben Fingler, coach – Cheryl Williams. Photo – Corbett-White

CORNWALL – A fourth-place finish during the 2015 SD&G junior boys "A" volleyball season qualified the North Dundas District High School Devils for berth in the championship tournament.

The Devils (2013 champions) opened the competition, held at La Citadelle last week (Wed., Nov. 11), facing the number-five ranked Char-Lan Crusaders.

"The boys played well," reported coach Cheryl Williams. "We were weak setting, but had lots of support from the rest of the team and won in straight sets."

Williams noted Jeremy Gutknecht provided excellent court coverage digging up a lot of balls. Jarrett Williams, who directed the ball on either a spike or a tip, excelled at placements on attacks.

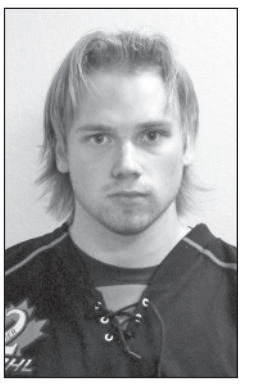
That win advanced the Devils into the semi-final round where they met the number-one seeded Patriotes who eliminated North Dundas in straight sets (25-18, 25-18).

"Had we played like we did against Char-Lan, we would have given them [Patriotes] a run for their money," said the coach.

With their win over North Dundas, La Citadelle qualified for the gold-medal match, which they lost 2-0 (25-17, 28-26) to the number-two seed Glengarry Gaels.

Meet the HAWKS

Shawn Simms
Forward
No. 19



Shawn Simms is a third-year veteran of the Winchester Hawks who joined the Central Canada Hockey League 2 squad following his graduation from the North Dundas Minor Hockey Association. The Hallville resident finished last season with seven goals (1 GWG, 1 PPG), nine assists and 16 points in 33 games. Simms then added two goals in 11 playoff games. The year the 19-year-old centre has cracked nine goals (1 GWG, 1 SHG) and earned two assists for 11 points in 17 games. His No. 19 jersey is sponsored by Annable's Jewellery.

Pat Monast claimed a prize of $1,450 in Friday's (Nov. 13) the Hawks weekly 50/50

This week's Hawks home game is set for Saturday (Nov. 21) afternoon at 2:30 pm. The Ottawa Junior Canadians will be the opposition for the third Winchester Junior Hawks – North Dundas Minor Hockey Day. Free admission and autographed Hawks team photos will be provided for minor hockey players wearing their Demons jerseys.

Pee Wee 'B' Demons split decisions with Braves and Colts

WINCHESTER – Jaymen Heuff cracked three goals, including a penalty shot, leading the North Dundas Pee Wee "B" Demons to a 7-2 victory over the visiting Brockville Jr. Braves.

Last week's (Wed., Nov. 11) victory preceded Sunday's 5-4 loss to the Colts in Cornwall, which left the second-place Demons (5-2-0) with 10 points in the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League East Division standings. The NGS Braves top the rankings with 13.

Tonight at the Joel Steele Community Centre, the Demons are hosting the South Stormont Selects (1-2-2) at 7 pm.

The Demons flew into a 5-0 lead on Brockville ringing up three goals, including Heuff's penalty shot, in a span of 1:49 in the second period. The Braves bagged their two markers before the period ended only to give up third-period goals to Heuff and Joshua Broad.

Heuff (3-0-3), Ben Lapier (2-1-3), Cole Eikelboom (1-1-2), Broad (1-1-2), Nolan Henry (0-2-2), Mason Carr (0-1-1) and Kieran McQueen-Ladouceur (0-1-1) collected points for the winners. Jordan Papineau was the winning 'tender. Emytt Fetterly won the big stick. The shots on goal were 26-22 in favour of the Demons.

Colts 5 – Demons 4

Cornwall broke up a 4-4 tie with the deciding goal with 10 minutes left in Sunday's game at the Benson Centre.

The score was tied 2-2 after a period and even at 3-3 after two sessions. The Colts went ahead 4-3 at 17:22 of the third, but North Dundas answered at 16:36 when Lapier (Maxime Paquette, Owen Fetterly) knotted it at 4-4.

Henry (2), Paquette and Lapier counted the North Dundas markers. Eikelboom drew three assists while Paquette (2), Owen Fetterly, Heuff and Lapier also provided passes.

Brendan Shaver suffered the loss. The Demons outshot the Colts 19-18.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen?
To help me shop and carry home parcels, I bought an electric chair, an "Auto-Go", and on Halloween it sat in the carport (and should have been in the shed out of sight.) I anticipated little ones at my front door, so when I heard voices in the darkened carport, I thought it was just kids admiring my new chair. But these 'kids' were not just looking, they were pinching my new chair!
So if you see my expensive apparatus meant to assist a handicapped person, I wish you would return it to me. No questions asked!

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC MEETING

CONCERNING PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TWO (FORMER TOWNSHIP OF WINCHESTER AND FORMER TOWNSHIP OF MOUNTAIN) ZONING BY-LAWS OF THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTH DUNDAS

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of The Corporation of the Township of North Dundas will hold a public meeting on the 8th day of December, 2015 at 6:30 pm at the North Dundas Municipal Council Chambers, 636 St. Lawrence Street, Winchester, Ontario to receive public comments on proposed amendments to (the former Township of Winchester Zoning) Bylaw 12-93 and (the former Township of Mountain Zoning) Bylaw 79-6 under section 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter P. 13, as amended.

THE PROPOSED ZONING BYLAW AMENDMENT is a general housekeeping bylaw that would make a series of changes to (the former Township of Winchester Zoning) Bylaw 12-93 and to (the former Township of Mountain Zoning) Bylaw 79-6 to harmonize the bylaws to make them consistent, to add the Minimum Distance Separation Formulae to the Mountain Zoning Bylaw and to rezone multiple (6) farmland properties to prohibit dwelling units as required by the Provincial Policy Statement for a surplus dwelling consents (severances).

KEY MAPS are not attached as the bylaw applies to multiple (6) farmland properties throughout the township. Key maps are available at the Township Office for viewing during regular business hours and on the township website. All properties were the subject of a surplus dwelling severance application (since October 14, 2014).

ANY PERSON may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed zoning bylaw amendment.

If a person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting or make written submissions to the Township of North Dundas before the bylaw is passed, the person or public body is not entitled to appeal the decision of the Council of The Corporation of the Township of North Dundas to the Ontario Municipal Board or may not be added as a party to the hearing of an appeal before the Ontario Municipal Board unless, in the opinion of the board, there are reasonable grounds to do so.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION relating to the proposed zoning bylaw amendment is available for inspection during office hours (8:30 am to 4:30 pm) at the Municipal Office or on our website at www.northdundas.com.

Dated at the Township of North Dundas

Attendance at the first Messy Church event at South Mountain United Church was marked with a sunburst of handprints of everyone who came. Rev. Blair Paterson led the group in some very active action singing. The next Messy Church event is set for Sat., Nov. 21.

Families get messy at church

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Who says church can't be fun?

A new church in town called "Messy," mixes creativity, celebration, and hospitality for folks of all ages.

As organizers Kate Hubble and Val Ardron explain, Messy Church began in the U.K. in 2004 and is now a popular way of doing church around the world. It's centered on families being together, having fun, and exploring their faith.

The first local Messy Church event was held at the South Mountain United Church in late October, and 47 folks from tots to teens to seniors spent the evening painting, carving pumpkins, playing with Noah's Ark, and learning new songs.

Everyone agreed the event was an unmatched success.

Hubble and Ardron presented two hours of activities around Christian themes that involved some live-action singing, and time with Rev. Blair Paterson, the full-time minister for the South Mountain-Hallville Pastoral Charge. The charge includes four churches (Hallville, Heckston, Inkerman, and South Mountain).

Paterson mentioned that "it was wonderful to see a church basement full of kids, parents and elders" during the event.

While crafts and activities were a main attraction, sitting down and enjoying a meal of homemade soup and sandwiches provided by the women of Hallville United Church was also a hit.

"Everyone seemed to enjoy having a home-cooked meal," said Ardron. "Especially the regular family cooks – they got a night off!"

The next Messy Church event will be held Sat., Nov. 21 from 4 to 6 pm at South Mountain United Church.

Everyone is welcome and children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

For more information, visit the 4UnitedChurches website at www.4UnitedChurches.ca or on Facebook at "4 United Churches."

Cecil Holliday

Cecil Leslie Holliday passed away on Sat., Nov.14, 2015 at Dundas Manor Nursing Home in Winchester with his family by his side. He was 89.

He was born in Spencerville on Jan. 7, 1926 to his parents, Christopher and Elizabeth (nee Milliken) Holliday. He married Hilda Armstrong on May 19, 1945. Soon thereafter they welcomed their only son, Raymond, in March 1946, and then their first daughter, Joyce, in November 1949. Cecil bought his first farm from Art Edgerton, and moved his family to RR#3 Chesterville in March 1953, where they welcomed two more daughters, Ruth in September 1954 and Bonnie in June 1963.

Cecil farmed all his life, and added more land through the years. He retired from farming in 1987, but found retirement was not for him, and built a small barn to raise heifers and cut wood to keep busy. His health began to decline and he was forced to give up splitting wood in 2012. He moved into Dundas Manor in November 2013 to be with his wife, Hilda.

He is survived by his wife of 70 years, Hilda Holliday; his daughter-in-law, Phyllis Holliday (the late Raymond) of Winchester; his daughters, Joyce Byford (the late Joseph) of Winchester, Ruth Doesburg (John) of Mariatown, and Bonnie Holliday (Ronald Blanchard) of Winchester; and his sister, Ethel Henophy (Morris) of Winchester. Cecil was a much loved Pop and will be fondly remembered by his grandchildren, Tracey Van Bruinessen (Dave), Steven Doesburg, Melanie McCourt (Drew), Lindsey Proulx (Al), Allyson Brehl (Jesse), Andrea LeClair (Craig); and great-grandchildren, Mitchell and Brandon Van Bruinessen; Logan, Gabriel, Micah, Lily-Anna and Gracelyn McCourt; Aiden and Emilie LeClair; and Jack Brehl.

Cecil was predeceased by his brothers, John and Gordon Holliday, and his grandson, John Doesburg Jr. He is also survived by nieces and nephews.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Chesterville on Mon., Nov. 16 from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 pm. The funeral service was held at the funeral home on Tues., Nov.17 at 11 am with Rev. Christine Lowson officiating. Interment at Maple Ridge Cemetery in Chesterville followed the service. The pallbearers were Dave Van Bruinessen, Mitchell Van Bruinessen, Brandon Van Bruinessen, Melanie McCourt, Drew McCourt, and Andrea LeClair.

Donations to the Dundas Manor Activity Fund or the Alzheimer Society would be gratefully acknowledged by the family.

Online condolences may be made at www.marsdenmclaughlin.com

IN MEMORY OF

LAWRENCE PRESTON

November 15, 2011

Dear husband, father, grandfather and father in-law.

This month comes back with sad regret,
It brings back a day we will never forget.
We miss you more than anyone knows,
As each day passes, the emptiness grows.
The tears we shed can be wiped away,
But the ache in our hearts will always stay.

Lovingly remembered and dearly missed.

Love, Louise, Michael, Ann-Marie, Beverley, Howard, Courtney, Lauren, Cole, Leona James

Thank You

The family of the late Pearl Summers would like to thank the staff at Winchester District Memorial Hospital for their compassionate care, Emergency Room to Dawn Erickson's team in Med-Surg, Willow Patterson, Karen Froats and Dr. Coolican for many years of taking care of Mom.

God Bless you.

~ IN MEMORIAM ~

In loving memory of

Constable Mike Robillard

who was killed on November 17, 2013.

Your life was full of loving deeds,
Forever thoughtful of our daily needs,
Today, tomorrow, our whole life through,
We will always love and cherish you.

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 108

Thank You

Winchester Legion Branch 108 wishes to thank our community, who gathered on Sunday, November 8 to watch the parade and participate in our service to commemorate the deeds of our fallen. Thank you to all for your comradeship. We will not forget.

Thank you to the people and merchants of Winchester and District and the many dedicated volunteers who generously support our Poppy Campaign year after year.

We would like to thank the Legion Ladies for the incredible meal they prepared for the after-parade luncheon. We would also like to thank Greg's Quality Meats, Winchester Foodland, Country Kitchen, Mike Dean's Super Food Stores, Parmalat and Tim Hortons for their generous donations in support of the luncheon.

The Legion commends the teachers at NDDHS, Nationview and Winchester Public Schools for continuing to promote the tradition of Remembrance in our youth, and to the staff and students for conducting such poignant and meaningful Remembrance Day services on November 11.

Thank you all.

Turkey time

Despite the cold temperature, the food was warm at the Paddletales Tackle's annual Pilgrim Poultry Palooza Sat., Nov. 14. Ed and Sandy Puddephatt welcomed countless members of the fishing community to their Winchester store that day, while eight turkeys hit the fryer for the edible delight of many. Pictured is Smiths Falls-based fisherman, and the day's cook, Doug Dolan with the bird before it hit the oil, and the golden brown creation that followed.

Seniors' euchre Nov. 12 results

WINCHESTER – The white-card winners at the latest Winchester Seniors' euchre event held Thurs., Nov. 12 were Carole Villeneuve and Jim Robinson.

The blue-card winners were Betty Merkley and Eurda Lodge.

Door prizes went to Betty Holmes and Freida Armstrong, while Mal Byers, Richard Patenaude and Kathy Crump took home the "share the wealth" offerings.

The group's next euchre event is set for Thurs., Nov. 26.

Euchre in October

The yellow-card winners at the euchre event held late last month were Sharon Casselman and Gary Malowsky.

The blue-card winners were Muriel Milne and Crump.

Door prizes went to Percy Armstrong and Sharon Casselman, while the "share the wealth" winnings went to Orma Earl, Jim Robinson, and Crump.

OSAID event this week

MAPLE RIDGE – This week, North Dundas District High School is preparing to host the annual Eastern Region OSAID (Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving) Conference on Thurs. Nov. 19.

Many students from throughout Eastern Ontario will attend, and they can look forward to a variety of guest speakers and activities.

Meanwhile, Fri., Nov. 20 is National Jersey Day! Students should wear their jerseys to school to win house points for their team.

As well, on Mon., Nov. 23, Specialist High Skills Major: Health and Wellness students will be visiting the Dundas Manor and the Winchester District Memorial Hospital to explore career opportunities in the health field.

And finally, permission forms are now available at lunch for the three-on-three basketball tournament, which will take place on Thurs., Nov. 26 during Block D. The entry fee is $15 per team.

Making a difference

A pair of local educators and students recently had the chance to do something many others don't – visit the Rockcliffe Park home of the U.S. ambassador to Canada. Bruce Heyman and his wife, Vicki, hosted an "Evening of Champions" Mon., Nov. 9 to recognize the acts of kindness and school donations made to various levels, including food drives for the Dundas County Food Bank and monetary support through Free the Children. Representing North Dundas Intermediate School were teacher Daphne Weyermars and Grade 8 student Delaney Halpenny, while North Dundas District High School teacher Holly Henderson and Grade 11 student Ashley Harper also took part. Both Halpenny and Harper had a chance to speak at the reception. The foursome is pictured with the Heymans and Mark Kielburger, co-founder of Free the Children. The evening event, meanwhile, was followed by attendance at Tues., Nov. 10's We Day celebration at the Canadian Tire Centre.

Help us recognize the junior citizens who make our communities better. Nominate someone age 6–17 for a 2015 Ontario Junior Citizen Award!

Annaleise Carr, 2012 and 2014
Ontario Junior Citizen, Simcoe, ON
At 14, Annaleise Carr was the youngest person ever to swim across Lake Ontario. Two years later, Annaleise swam across Lake Erie. Combined these efforts raised awareness and hundreds of thousands of dollars for Camp Trillium, a family camp for children with cancer. Her book, Annaleise Carr: How I Conquered Lake Ontario to Help Kids Battling Cancer, inspires others to take on great challenges and help their fellow citizens.

Do you know someone who is involved in worthwhile community service, is contributing while living with a limitation, has performed an heroic act, demonstrates individual excellence, or is going above and beyond to help others? If so, nominate them today!

Nominations are open until November 30, and nomination forms are available from this newspaper, and the Ontario Community Newspapers Association at www.ocna.org or 905-639-8720 ext. 4439.
