Former Chesterville Family Bereaved

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McMillan of Springwater, Sask., have the heart felt sympathy of the community in the death of their infant son Robt. Earl on Friday Oct. 7th, age 11 months and 28 days. He was the youngest of three, a very healthy and lovable child and was only a week sick. Dr. Chaplin of Springwater, attended him and pronounced the ailment due to an abscess of the brain.

The little fellow leaves to mourn his loss a kind and loving mother and father, one sister and one brother, William and Pearl.

The little boy was buried on his first birthday at Landis Cemetery. Rev. Mr. William conducting the services.

Leaving For New Fields

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Durant and family, left last Friday, for their new home in Westboro, where Mr. Durant has purchased a beautiful dwelling and store, and intends carrying on the grocery business. He successfully carried on a fine business in our town for over ten years, and will be greately missed, as 'Roy' was always ready to help with anything for the betterment of our town, and we, on behalf of their many friends, extend to Mr. and Mrs. Durant and family our best wishes for health, wealth and prosperity in their new field of labor.—South Mountain Herald.

The Record joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Durant every success in their new location. Mr. Durant is a Chesterville boy who has gone out, into the business world, and made an outstanding success. With limited capital, but a large determination to succeed, he built up in South Mountain a very fine general store business, going ahead and enlarging until deciding to seek a wider field for his abilities, when he disposed of his bnsiness and what was looked upon as the finest residence in South Mountain.

Is Dundas Corn Crop Threatened

On Saturday Mr. Allan Ball brought to The Record office an ear of field corn showing the work of what is believed to be the "corn borer." If the identification is correct this is the first time it has been detected in this county. The seed from which the corn was grown was bought in a local store and is thought to have been imported. Mr. Ball before planting his corn treated some of it with an application of tar thinned by heating, which was stirred through the seed and then left for about five days when sifted slacked lime was applied to dry the corn. The corn was then run over a sieve to take the lime out of it. It was noticed that the corn treated in this manner was not attacked by the borer, while the growth from the untreated seed plainly showed the ravages of this new pest.

We have forwarded the ear left by Mr. Ball to the District Representive of the Department of Agriculture at Morrisburg whose report follows:—Corn Ear Worm is a pest which has shown itself quite generally this year and many people are confusing it with the dreaded European Corn Borer, which is making such headway in South Western Ontario.

This Corn Ear Worm has been in the country for quite a number of years but has never been so bad as to attract attentton until this year, due no doubt to the nature of the past season which has caused its multiplication. It is controlled by a natural parasite which prevents it from becoming really dangerous. There is not much can be done to prevent it, however, clean cultivation in the fall of the year will tend to check it.

To distinguish it from the European Corn Borer:—The Corn Borer is found in the stalk with holes showing on the outside of the stalk and sawdust like material issuiug from them. It is found just above the root or any where along the stalk, very often cuts the tassels so it will break.

The larvae or worm will be found upon cutting open the stalk. The Corn Ear Worm works in the ear of the corn. Small holes will be seen in the husks of the ear and on investigating the worm will be found eating grains of corn and spoiling the ear with its excrement:

We have investigated a good many alarms this season where it was thought European Corn Borer was present and in every case it proved to be Ear Worm and not Corn Borer.

If the European Corn Borer is found or suspected, either report immediately all suspicious cases to the Department of Entomology Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, or the Departmeut of Agriculture, Morrisburg.

Frank Lloyd Has Arm Broken

Dr. W. H. Lloyd was called to Kingston last week where his brother Frank who is well known in Chesterville, was in the Hospital suffering from injuries sustained in an auto mishap, whereby he had received a badly broken wrist and other serious injuries. Frank Lloyd whose home is near Kingston had been working in Napanee and was returning to Kingston in a car belonging to the people with whom he boarded by the name of Wheeler, which was driven by young Wheeler while the latter's parents were also passengers. Turning quickly to avoid collision with another car the Wheelers' car turned turtle in the ditch pinning Frank and Mrs. Wheeler under it.

The latter was very badly injured dying from the effects on Saturday last.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Vital Issue

"What we have to decide is this—Are we going to continue the protective system of this country or are we not? That is the question and that is the whole question. And the great, big, necessary thing is that every voter in this country from the Yukon to Halifax knows that this is the question he or she is deciding when he or she votes in this great contest."

—ARTHUR MEIGHEN

THE vital issue in the coming election—in fact, the only issue—is the Tariff, and to every clear thinking Canadian it should be readily apparent that a Protective Fiscal Policy is absolutely essential to stability, progress and development.

Every important country in the world upholds Protection as an essential economic principle. Even Great Britain—so long the stronghold of Free Trade—has now adopted laws that constitute Protection of the most effective kind. In fact, the present policy among most nations is towards raising their tariff walls, not lowering them. In the face of these facts it would be suicidal for Canada to do exactly the reverse and discard the fiscal system which has been responsible for its progress during the past forty-three years.

Free Trade would mean death to Canadian Industry. It would also result in the immediate closing down of Canadian plants of foreign firms, with consequent additional unemployment. There are to-day 650 American factories alone in Canada. Similar proposed ventures would be abandoned. New capital would refuse to come to a Country lacking adequate protection and present industrial enterprise would be promptly strangled by foreign competition.

The preservation of the home market by a Reasonable Protective Tariff is vital to both city dweller and agrarian alike—now as never before. More capital is urgently needed for the development of Canada's enormous resources, which will result in a lessening of unemployment and an increased population. More work and more workers will produce an enlarged home market for products of both city and farm, and the exodus of Canadian men and women—and the dollars they earn—will be precluded.

The United States has slammed her trade door in the face of Canadian farmers by adopting the Fordney Bill, and the farmer is consequently now even more dependent upon the home market than in the past.

Yet Crerar asks you to destroy that home market by voting for Free Trade.

King's policy—if he has one—will result in the destruction of the Tariff.

Meighen stands four square for Reasonable Protection—Protection for all the people—and asks for an overwhelming mandate to give both industry and agriculture that assurance which will spell prosperity for all. Individual prosperity depends upon National prosperity. Your personal interests and Canada's very existence hang upon your vote.

Meighen will lead us through

The National Liberal and Conservative Party Publicity Committee

More Water More Milk

25% More Milk From Cows When Given Enough Water

Why is it that many cows are such poor milkers? Why don't they give enough milk to pay the cost of their feed?

The first reason is that many cows do not get enough water. Milk is 87½% water, and a good milker has to drink 4 gallons of water to produce a gallon of milk. To produce 3 gallons (30 lbs.) she must drink 12 gallons of water per day.

Now, no cow will drink 12 gallons of icy water from a freezing trough.

The BT Water Bowls Increase Milk Yield 25%

The BT Water Bowls increase the milk yield because they provide a constant supply of water at an even temperature. The Cow can drink the water as she needs it and in 24 hours will drink more than 12 gallons. She will drink all she needs for her maximum milk yield.

Water Bowls Pay Back Their Cost in Two Months

The BT Water Bowls will increase the milk yield of your cows enough to pay back the cost of the bowls in two months. They increase the milk yield the first day they are used. Some farmers declare that it is like the cows coming in fresh again.

Drop us a line and we will be glad to send particulars about the BT Water Bowl. Illustrated catalogue is free.

Girls at Public Dances

The City Council of Windsor, has been asked to pass a by-law to bar girls under 18 from dances to which the public is admitted, unless they are accompanied by their parents. M. R. Winters, head of the Childrens Aid Society, is the sponsor of the movement, having addressed a letter to the Council. The question is expected to come up at the regular meeting of the council.

Spot Light Barred

By an amendment to the Motor Vehicles Act, no motor vehicle can carry a lamp or pivot or other device, which can be revolved to cast a beam of light in any direction at the will of an occupant of the vehicle. An exception is made in the case of municipal fire department equipment.

Took No Chances

The proprietor of a local shoe store is very proud of one of his young son who not very long ago entered the employ of his father, and this pride was much enchanced by the boy's cleverness in the matter of a pair of shoes sold to a stranger, The lad had shown this man a satisfactory pair, but the customer said he had not enough money with him, asking if he could let "fifty cents go over until the next day." The boy consented, for which, after the stranger had left the shop, the father severly reprimanded the lad. "You'll never see the man again." he said in conclusion. Oh, yes, I will," said the yonngster. "I wrapped up two shoes for the left foot; so he's sure to come back."

Compromise

It is said that the most dangerous aspect of woman in politics is that she is uncompromising. She believes that a certain thing must be done, no matter what other great interests are affected or other great causes postponed. Oddly enough that very charge gives rise to precisely the opposite one, that to effect the one great end woman will compromise almost anything that she will stoop to associate herself with doubtful agents and doubtful measures, if by so doing she can assure the triumph of the cause she wears nearest her heart. Of oourse the two charges are perfectly compatible and, so far as there is truth in them at all, they are closely bound up with what is finest in woman's nature—her superb idealism and her indomitable persistence in carrying out her purposes.

At the same time the beginner in politics whether man or woman, should learn the importance of two principles exactly contrary to what is suggested above. First it is very rare that any one measure is so overwhelmingly significant as to deserve the sacrifice of everything else. Government is an enormously complicated business. Any reform has to be considered not only in itself but in its relation to many existing functions and necessities which cannot be deranged or interferred with without imperiling the welfare of the whole body politic for whose sake only the reform must be conceived and carried out. And especially we should not altogether trust our own judgments as to the importance of a measure that happens to appeal to us. Others may see differently and see better,

Again, as to compromise. Bad men and bad measures should never be counenanced or accepted, no matter what possible good can be hoped from such acceptance. The evil is certain. The good is hypothetical and generally evaporates. But there is a harmless and beneficial compromise that the zealous are reluctant to understand. Learn to work with your fellows, even when their methods seem to you slow and imperfect. Learn to consider their convenience. Above all, learn to respect their characters and motive. Those may be different from yours and still be admirable and still be admirable and useful and helpful to the common good. It is certain that you can accomplish far more by harmony than by friction, provided the object to be attained is clearly the goal of common effort.

As a master, compromise is one of the worst of evils. As an agent, it is one of the most powerful levers to move the world.

Findlay's PIPELESS FURNACE

Means Comfort and Economy in Home Heating

Every room glowing with comfortable circulating clean warmth, fuel bills cut 35% to 50%—the dirt, drudgery and danger of stove heating banished forever—that's what the Findlay Pipeless system means in farm or city home.

The Findlay Pipeless heats by natural circulation of air through one register. This air circulation system, besides assuring a comfortable temperature throughout the entire house, keeps the air pure, clean and moist at all times. Your cellar, however, remains cool, allowing storage of vegetables, etc.

You do not need to tear your house to pieces to install Findlay's Pipeless Furnace, the work is usually done in one day without disturbance to the household.

The Late Henry Ouderkirk

There passed away on Saturday evening, Oct. 15th, an old and respected resident of the township of Williamsburg, in the person of Henry Ouderkirk, in his 89th year. He had been ailing for some time so the end was not unexpected. His wife, Margaret McLean, predeceased him 22 years ago. He leaves to mourn his loss four children—Mrs. A. Durant of Dunbar, Mrs. S. A. Merkley of Elko, Nevado, Wm. H. of Drumheller, Alta. H. M. of Morrisburg and Edward at home with whom he resided. The funeral was conducted in the Dunbar Presbyterian church on Monday afternoon by Rev. A. J. Sinclair, interment being made in the family plot at Williamsburg.

Maloley's Store Visited by Burglars

The second burglary to be pulled off in Chesterville within a month took place in the early hours of Tuesday morinng when J. Maloley's store on Main Street was entered by theives and a number of sweaters, overcoats, several watches and other articles were taken amounting in value to the neighbor hood of five hundred dollars. The burglary was a particularly bold one, the front door of the store brilliantly lighted from a street light almost opposite was forced until the lock gave way. Directly over the store Mr. Pat Flynn and family reside, who heard the noise of some one below, but assumed it was the proprietor preparing to take the early train to Montreal as has been his custom.

Mrs. Wm. Elliot Passes Away

It is with very deep regret that we are called upon this week to chronicle the death of a very much esteemed lady of Nation Valley, in the person of Mrs. William Elliot, who passed to her eternal rest yesterday about mid-day, a victim of pneumonia, contracted less than a week ago while visiting her sister Mrs. Jno. Jamieson. She was brought to her home the latter end of the week where the losing battle was waged with this dread disease.

Mrs. Elliot although well beyond the three score and ten years was full of the joy of living; keen bright and active, a tower of strength to those in trouble and sorrow, her heart knowing no bounds where any act could bring joy and gladness to those within her sphere. She was passionately fond of flowers taking the keenest delight in caring for the tender plants rewarding her in the perfect bloom which she could pass on and share with her friends.

This old world is darker to-dav for the passing of Mrs. Wm. Elliott; but the anticipation of the great resurrection morn is the brighter.

Besides her life partner she is survived by two daughters and two sons, viz: Mrs. (Dr.) Lewis of Hammond, N. Y., Miss Nell, Preston and Frank at home.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

MOREWOOD

Mrs. W. Black of Vermont and Mrs. Frank Hutt of Oxford, were week end guests of Mrs. A. Steinburg.

Mrs. Hargraves of Haileybury, visited Mrs. W. J. Marcellus last week.

Miss Eva Carlyle of Dunbar, visited friends here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Marcellus and Mr. and Mrs. Dan McGregor spent Monday in Ottawa.

Mr. Thomas Faulkner and Miss Greta Faulkner spent Saturday in Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Smithe of Maple Ridge, and Dr. and Mrs. E. Smithe of St. Marys were recent visitors at M. E. Hunter's.

The late Mrs. Jacob Bogart of Ottawa, was buried here in the Methodist Cemetery on Tuesday. Our sympathies go out to the bereaved friends. Mrs. G. Hebelie is a sister.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Howard Faulkuer of Cannanmore, last Saturday was one of the largest seen here for some time, many friends from Ottawa, Winchester, Chesterville, Russell, Crysler, and Grantley being present. Mrs. Faulkner had been a very patient sufferer for some time. Besides her husband she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Hubert Shaver and Miss Mabel aud two sons Grant and Allan and one sister Mrs. K. Levehrane of Russell, to mourn her loss.

COMPLETELY FREE OF CONSTIPATION

Tried for Years to Find Relief

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE IT

Chronic Constipation or insufficient action of the bowels, is one of the great causes of disease. Some authorities even claim that Constipation cannot be permanently corrected. This is a great mistake, because here is the proof that constipation can be cured and the bowels made to act regularly and naturally.

YARMOUTH, N.S.

"For years, I was troubled with Constipation, and had to take laxatives and purgatives all the time. If I neglected to take these, the bowels would refuse to do their work.

About two years ago, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives", which I did. The first box helped me so much that I obtained further supplies of the remedy and continued the treatment. After using about eight boxes, my bowels were able to perform their particular function without aid.

The relief in my case has been lasting, as up to date, I have never had any further trouble. I can recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to all suffering as I did and I am sure they will derive equal benefit".

A. W. FRANKLIN.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c., or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Wheel From Stolen Automobile Gives Alarm Car Was Stolen

A wheel off the automobile stolen from William Chiswell, of Hamilton, displayed almost human intelligence in trying to apprise a farmer on the Brantford-Hamilton Highway of the fact that it belonged to a stolen and wrecked car.

The theives were in such a hurry in making their get-away that they crashed into a stone wall in making a turn en route to Brantford. The axle of one front wheel snapped off and the wheel rolled across the lawn in front of a house and knocked at the farmer's front door.

The farmer came in answer to the knock and he arrived in time to see shadowy forms beside the auto. They disappeared on his appearance and the police were notified. Mr. Chiswell has had his automobile returned to him.

Methods of Carrying Money

It is interesting to note the various methods in which men of different nationalities carry their wordly wealth. Before the advent of Treasury notes as legal tender, the Englishman was won't to carry gold, silver and copper all loose in his trousers pocket, pulling out a handful of the mixture, and selecting the coin he needed. The American carries "his wad of bills" in a long, narrow-book, in which the greenbacks lie flat. The Frenchman makes use of a leather with no distinguishing characteristics. The German uses one gaily embroidered in silks by one of the fair sex. The half civilized capitalist from some torrid South American city carries his dollars in a belt with cunningly devised pockets to baffle the gentleman with the light fingers. The Italian of the poorer classes ties up his little fortune in a gaily-colored handkerchief secured with many knots which he secretes in some mysterious manner about his clothes. A similar course has charms for the Spaniard, while the lower-class Russian exhibits a preference for his boots or the lining of his clothes as a hiding-place for his savings.

A Quick Change

The farmer was met by a seedylooking individual, who called out: "Is that your pork on the road down there?"

"Pork," repeated the farmer, "What do you mean? There's a pig of mine out there."

"Ah," continued the tramp, "but there's a motor-car just been by."

At Sea

A girl, crossing to England, got friendly with one of the ship's officers, a young man of twenty-five or so. The two were leaning side by side on the rail one day when the officer said:

"There goes four bells. I must ask you to excuse me. It's my watch below.

"Oh, stop your kiddin'!" said the girl. "Whoever heard of a watch striking as loud as that?"

Matilda District W. M. S.

The Annual Convention of the Matilda District. W. M. S. was held in Morrisburg on Thursday, Oct 13th, with sessions 2.00 and 8.00 p. m. The opening session was well attended considering the condition of the roads after the heavy rain on Wednesday. Mrs. Hillard was in charge. After singing and prayer the scripture lesson followed, "A Service of Love."

In answer to Roll Call only a few auxiliaries were absent.

Splendid papers were given by the following ladies:—Mrs Gardiner of Cornwall, Mrs. W. E. Wright of Shanly, Miss Simpson of Winchester. Mrs. McAmmond gave a very impressive address on her work in West China, showing how important women's work was, as often the only means of entering the home was through the mother or child. The work is most difficult as they first have to be taught to read. The gospel is put in the simplest form and the class is in session all day to keep their mind solely on their work. Among their own workers they have several grand younger men. She said if we could see the earnestness of these girls, we would be glad of our share in this work. These girls can do so much more for their own people than any foreigner. She closed with an appeal for our prayers in this work.

Mrs. Murdock of South Mountain, lead the Round table Conference.

The election of officers followed. Mrs. Hilliard asked to be released this year as her health will no longer allow her to hold the office of District Supt. All were so sorry as Mrs. Hillard has been such an earnest and efficent worker. After much persuasion Mrs. Merrill accepted this office. The other officers were relected.

Mrs. Merrill conducted the "Quiet hour." We were then invited to the basement to enjoy a very beautiful repast, which all enjoyed. While there we listened with pleasure to the grettings from the sister societies of the town.

The priucipal address of the evening was given by Rev. R. B. McAmmond, giving an outline of our W. M. S. work in China. Our missionaries are doing such grand work, but the great work is more missiouaries. He was delighted that nine had sailed for China and one of these represents this District, being Miss Smith of Shanly.

Matilda District, W. M. S. Aux. Circles and Bands contributed $7011.00 last year.

This splendid convention closed with an earnest appeal for prayer and more prayer for our W. M. S. work. Com.

The Treatment of Colds in Children

One of the most important of hygienic "don'ts" is "Don't neglect a cold." Most of us think a cold is a very disagreeable thing and we let it go at that, without realizing that it is potentially one of the most serious of diseases.

In the first case, when it begins no one can tell what it may prove to be, or how it will end. It may be a simple cold that will last four or five days; it may be a left over case of influenza—there is a great dealof that still; it may be the beginning of measles, or the symptom of pneumonia; or it may be extend into the accessory sinuses, the ears or the bronchi, and cause no end of pain and trouble. It may even intrench itself even as a chronic catarrah and persist to the end of life. Therefore the part of wisdom is to treat a cold—especially in a child—with great respect until, you are sure of its identity and its intentions. Then treat it energetically; that is, treat the patient as you would treat anyone suffering from a serious disease.

The first thing to do—even before the disease has declared itself.—is to put the child to bed in a sunny, warm and well-ventilated room and make him stay there. Do that even if there is only slight rawness of the throat, or feverishness, or nausea, or boneache and a general feeling of being out of sorts. Give a gentile laxative such as cascar a or milk of magnesia or citrate of magnesia. If the cold proves to be a simple one, keep the patient in bed and every two hours give him a glass of water in which half a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda has been disolved, and in which the juice of half a lemon has been squeezed. This is for andolescents; half as much is enough for young children. In the case of an ordinary mild cold no other remedy is necessary, and three or four days will usually be long enough in bed. Then the soda and the lemon juice may be reduced to a dose morning and evening, and in two or three more days the patient can go back to school.

In the case of influenza stronger remedies must be given, but only under the doctor's orders. Any cold severe enough to require real medicine is severe enough to require the doctor.

Annual Conventions Ontario Religious Education Council

The plans as completed by the Ontario Religious Education Council, formerly the Ontario Sunday School Association, calls for three great Conventions this year—Brantford, October 25-27; Gananoque, November 1-3; North Bay, November, 8-10.

The theme of the Conventions will be Educational Evangelism. Its Meaning, its Agencies, and its Methods will form the subjects for three inspiring addresses. In other words an attempt will be made to study the religious needs of the various age groups of childhood and youth and to point out the best way of meeting these needs.

Dr. W. A. Brown of the International Sunday School Association will be the chief speaker. He will speak on such themes as "The Church's Superlative Evangelistic Opportunity." "The Sunday School Winning all the World;" "The Relation of the Home to the Sunday School." Snpporting will be such strong denominational leaders as Dr. Geo. T. Webb, Superintendent Baptist S. S. Board; Rev. C. A. Myers, Associate Secretary Presbyterian Sabbath School Board; Rev. Manson Doyle of the Methodist S. S. Board. Mrs. Palmer G. Burgess of Ottawa will assist in the Children's Division Conferences at Gananoque, and Mrs. U. J. Eaton of Toronto, President Toronto Graded Union, at North Bay. In addition to these, the whole staff of the Ontario Religious Education Council will be present bringing expert leadership in every department of Sunday School work.

At the convention in Gananoque, the closing address will be delivered by Canon Allan P. Shatford, of Montreal, on "The Church with Swinging Doors."

Any further information will be gladly furnished by the Ontario Religions Education Council, 299 Queen St. W., Toronto.

Your Best Investment.

Life insurance offers the best form of saving money, it is an investment for small sums, and affords "protection" for many times the annual deposit or premium. It is the only method of combining savings and protection.

It is also a sure way of leaving an estrte. Fifty per cent. of all estates at death consist of life insurance.
For those reasons the people of Canada are buving twice as much life insurance in these days of retrenchment as they did even two years ago.

In The City And On The Farm

It is said the man who only knows one side of the question, knows very little of that. There are two sides, and you cannot fairly comprehend one, unless you know something about the other.

In the political discussions now going on, some talk as if the city people were all rolling in wealth, while others ascribe the present activity of the farmers to the fact that prosperity has gone to their heads.

The trouble is that the farmers judge city people too much by the few whose wealth is conspicuous, whose success is notorious, and whose lavish wastefulness all can see. The city man too, will tell you of the prosperous state of all farmers, because of the well-to-do conditions of some family that he visited in the country.

In the city there are great numbers of the people living in the narrowest state of poverty—they are well off when, in the winter, they have shelter, bread and fire. These barest necessaries of life are not all they want, but about all that they can very well expect to get. The farmer who, when he thinks of the city, thinks of the fine houses of the rich, has not the real city in his mind.

On the farm a man gives visible evidence of being well off when he is in fact, not so, and when he is getting so little return for his investment and labor that discontent on his part is justified. He gets a living, it is true, and a better living than many people get; but by what right does any body contend that this should satisfy him? He asserts that for his investment and his labor he gets less return than men receive in any other calling. It may be that he puts this too sweepingly and that what he should say is that he gets less return than men do who succeed in other callings. He does not specially note that boiling ferment in business effort which goes on in cities—men making uphill fights in business, and failing and broken, dropping out of sight There is, often no widely advertised auction sale of their goods and chattels, as occur on the farm. They just sink and scarcely leave a bubble on the surface. A business may seem to be flourishing, but if you pass that may again no trace of it may be found.

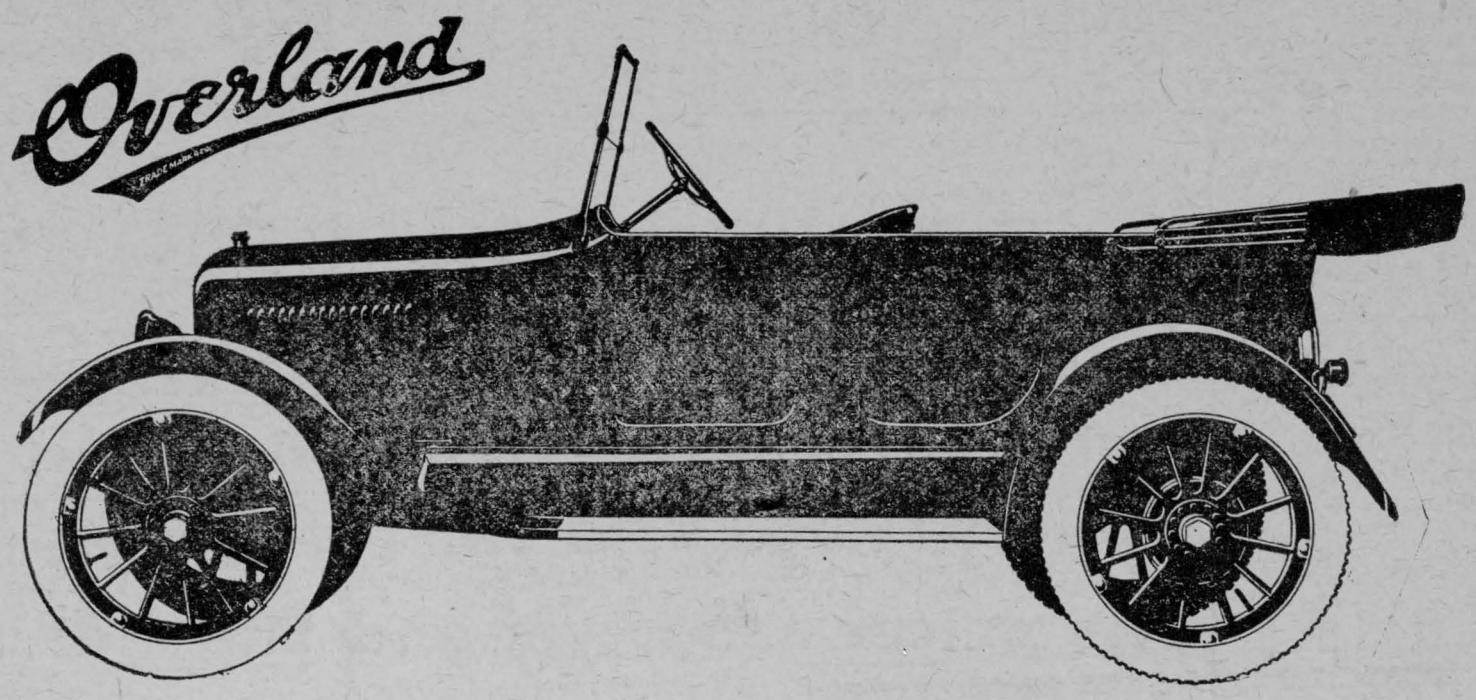

In an excellent article the London Advertiser speaks of the basic importance of agriculture to this country, and it well says: "If our farming community is prosperous there is money put in circulation. A crop failure can shut down more industries than any other cause, or by the same sign a bumper crop can make the factories hives of industry.

There is no theory about this. It is a plain, well-recognized fact." It is so plainly true that nobody will care to dispute it, least of all our manufacturers, who closely study conditions. There ought to be a general understanding among all men in the country, who possess any decree of wisdom, that the prosperity of agriculture must be striven for, as the basis of all other forms of prosperity. The notion, on the farms, is that there is not a general acceptance of this truth, but that there is a contrary idea, that the wealth of the farms can be annually hauled away on trains and no adequate returns made to the agricultural class who produced it.

The present-day tendencyis to leave the farms and congregate in cities, and to stay in cities, and to keep away from the farms. Many explanattons of this tendency are given, but are they not all valueless but this one: that people believe that ability, skill and labor can reap larger and quicker rewards off the farm than on it? Make farming pay better and you will make farming more popular. Many politicians are willing to do anything else but that, but is it not a solid fact that nothing else but that will produce the result?

No doubt many who quit farming deludeth emselves into so doing. They expect a success in town, which never comes to them. There is scarcely a country cross-roads in the older part of Ontario butwhere somebody will point out to you a farm, on which so-and-so was born—he went away to the city and is a big man now. They tell about this man, but do not mention a dozen others who went away to the city from other near-by farms, and are not now as big men as if they had stayed where they were. The fellow who goes away and succeeds usually comes back to tell of it; the fellow who fails, stays away; while the man who has not failed quite, nor succeeds much, usually turns up at the four corners ocasionally with his best clothes on and brags a bit—showing a photo of the factory in which he is night walchman, and letting it be understood that he owns the whole works. People. who stay at home sometimes listen too creduously to the wonder tales of the wanderer. The rural school sometimes preserves a record of pupils who went away and won success. They should keep along-side it, another record of those who went away and didn't. It would be even more instructive than the other and much more lengthy.

Irish Chivalry

Two Irishmen had a fight. During the scrimmage Pat lost his glass eye. Terry became frightened and stopped fighting. Picking up the pieces he handed them to Pat, saying: "Sure, Pat, an I didn't know ye wore a thing like that or I wouldn't a hit ye." "Oh, begorra, an' don't be worryin' about a thing like that, Terry," replied Pat. "Sure an' I couldn't see very well out o' the thing annyhow."

Bath Night

Pat was helping the gardner on a gentleman's place and, observing a shallow stone basin containing water, he inquired what it was for.

"That," said the gardner "is a bird bath."

"Don't you be foolin' me," grinned Pat. "What is it?"

"A bird bath. I tell you. Why do you doubt it?"

Because I don't believe there's a burrd alive that can tell Saturday night from anny other."
