As mayor I would like...

Santa and some of his wise-cracking elves had a little fun at Eric Duncan's expense on Sat., Dec. 4. The Township of North Dundas' new mayor was presented with a joke wish list during the traditional mayoral photo-op with Saint Nick during the 2010 North Dundas Country Christmas Parade of Lights daytime festivities.

Coincidentally, the township's newest council representatives were sworn-in during a ceremony after press time last night (Tues., Dec. 7).

Check out next week's Winchester Press for coverage.

School stays cool despite bomb scare

by Jeffrey Morris

METCALFE — A lockdown at Osgoode Township High School on Thurs., Dec. 2 was the result of a hoax.

An Ottawa Police Service (OPS) tactical unit and bomb squad were called in following reports that a student had a grenade at the school. The grenade later proved to be inactive. Reports that the student also had a knife were, according to police, inaccurate.

The threat came just 48 hours after the OPS and the city's four school boards — the English public and Catholic boards and the French public and Catholic boards — signed a community-based violence and threat risk assessment protocol at the Ottawa-Carleton District School Board office in Nepean.

According to an OPS press release regarding the partnership, one of the strengths lies in the multi-disciplinary composition of the response team to respond appropriately to threat-making behaviour.

While school officials and police form the basis of the response team and the protocol, support may be sought from other community partners depending on the circumstances. The response team will share and review student information, and will together create a plan of action that benefits students, staff, and community. This collaborative process will respect the individual's right to privacy, while maintaining safety for all.

Parade changes pondered for 2011

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER — An exhausted organizing committee is deeming this year's North Dundas Country Christmas Parade of Lights a success, regardless of the sub-par attendance at some events.

The Sat., Dec. 4 event drew large numbers of people into the streets for the 6 pm parade, while the daytime events were sparsely attended from start to finish. According to the committee, the most well-attended events were the morning breakfast at the Old Town Hall and the evening suppers at the Winchester Lions Hall, as well as the United and Wesleyan churches.

The Royal Canadian Legion Winchester Branch 108's euchre tournament and after-parade party also attracted a high number of guests. (The shops downtown were also brimming with activity at various points of the day.)

The main event drew about 25 floats. That number was less than the approximately 40 floats that took part in last year's parade.

Yet, it is the smaller-than-expected turnout at the vendor fair (held at the Winchester Community Centre), the events at the Old Town Hall, and the ice carving at Sweet Corner Park that has the committee scratching their heads and returning to the drawing board.

"We really want to expand the number of committee members for next year's parade," said Meaghan Meerburg.

Projects to flower with Trillium grant

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

METCALFE — The Ontario Trillium Foundation has announced its 2010-2011 recipients, and many local groups got lucky this year.

The foundation — which is a government organization — provides substantial grants to organizations, institutions, and initiatives.

The coveted Trillium funding rewards applicants who have demonstrated a clear goal, a solid business plan, and the ability to meet needs in their communities.

One of the recipients was the Metcalfe-based Just Kiddin' Theatre. The non-profit kids' drama troupe will receive $100,000 so long-time volunteer director Andrie Nel can work as an executive director for two years.

She plans to turn Just Kiddin' Theatre into a sustainable venture that will be able to last independently into the future.

Committee prepares for 2011 event

The Township of North Dundas community development programmer added: "And we could really use someone to be the spokesperson for the committee."

At the moment, the committee is pushing ahead with plans for the 2011 event.

Sandy Burns, committee member, said there is potential for moving the parade time ahead one hour to 7 pm next year.

"We've heard from a lot of farmers that, due to milking times, can't participate," she said. "If we change it, they are more likely to get involved."

Another possibility for next year is either scrapping the daytime activities all together, or having them start at 3 or 4 pm to complement the parade better.

"We really just have to rebuild again," said Gina Welch, committee member. "Right now, we're slowly rebuilding the parade to its past reputation."

The committee is also looking for feedback about this year's parade. For those residents wishing to do so, email ndparade@gmail.com or contact Meerburg at the township office (613-774-2105).

Happy holidays!

Food, gifts collected throughout celebration

WINCHESTER — The drop-off bins for food and unwrapped children's toys, as well as the collection of money at this year's Parade of Lights (Sat., Dec. 4) has proved successful for the North Dundas Christmas Fund.

The annual initiative has been collecting money and food donations for needy people in the area for a couple of weeks. The financial contribution and food items will be used to prepare food baskets and purchase kids' snowsuits.

Bins were stationed at the Winchester Community Centre and the Old Town Hall, and both were filled with non-perishable food items and toys by the end of the day. During the parade itself, fund committee members walked the route collecting donations.

Bob Weagant, chair of the fund, told the Winchester Press that $1,965 was collected. That total will be split between the fund and the Dundas County Food Bank (DCFB).

The last day to request a basket or snowsuit is today (Wed., Dec. 8). To make a request, call 613-774-0188 or 616-989-3830. Distribution is scheduled for early next week.

Last year, the fund handed out 149 snowsuits and 156 food baskets.

Trillium to help House of Lazarus food initiative

The grant announcement comes on the eve of Just Kiddin's winter play.

The Gillian Trilogy, written by Nel, will show this weekend at the Metcalfe Old Town Hall, starting on Fri., Dec. 10.

Nel also plans to develop a transferrable model or kit that will help other rural communities establish all-inclusive youth theatre troupes like Just Kiddin' in their own communities.

Nel explained that her stint as executive director will allow her to reform Just Kiddin'.

"It will always be a free-standing non-profit. That will never change," said Nel.

A self-employed business strategist, Nel will let her job take a back seat in an act she calls "following my passion instead of following the money."

The Mountain-based House of Lazarus also received a grant. As the lead organization on a collaborative called All Things Food, the $110,000 in funding over two years will be used to hire a co-ordinator who will deliver programs that promote local food economies, increased access to healthy food, and preservation of traditional knowledge and skills.

Meanwhile, the Williamsburg Non-Profit Housing Corporation will receive $15,000 for one year for a community garden, plus a walkway to ensure access from the affordable housing units to the community support centre.

The Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry County Library Board received $20,000 over six months to equip the new Ingleside library with shelves and furniture, and to increase community use of the facility.

The overall design and approach of the local protocol is based on the work of Kevin Cameron of the Canadian Centre for Threat Assessment and Trauma Response.

Cameron is a board-certified expert in traumatic stress. He also trains crisis response teams nationally and internationally. Cameron provided a two-day Level 1 Threat Assessment Training for local school and police officials on Tues., Nov. 30 and Wed., Dec. 1.

The following day, Cameron's program was given a live test.

Brett Reynolds, OTHS principal, implemented a Code Red.

During the school's lockdown, classrooms were darkened and students were hidden out of sight.

Nearby Metcalfe Public School was also put on lockdown.

Classes resumed within two hours when police determined there was no threat and there were no explosives or weapons in the school.

An investigation into the incident was ongoing as of press time.

Stagecoach Road crash claims life

by Jeffrey Morris

OSGOODE — A three-car crash on Stagecoach Road claimed the life of a 31-year-old woman Friday morning.

Jennifer Sayer-Gaal was pronounced dead at the scene after firefighters and paramedics were unable to revive her.

The accident happened on Fri., Dec. 3 at about 8 a.m. along the stretch of road near Snake Island Road.

Local residents heard the crash and called 911.

According to the Ottawa Police Service, a white, Chevy Silverado pickup truck driven by the victim's husband, Aaron Gaal, was heading south when it drifted into the northbound lane of Stagecoach Road and struck a northbound Honda Civic. The impact sent the truck into a spin, and it was then T-boned by a northbound Toyota Sienna minivan.

Gaal was sent to hospital with serious head and back injuries, but was listed in stable condition.

The 34-year-old woman driving the Honda Civic received treatment for minor injuries at the scene, but did not go to hospital.

There were two people injured in the mini-van. A 53-year-old woman in the passenger seat was treated for serious chest and back injuries, including fractured ribs and a partially collapsed lung. She was taken to hospital and was listed in serious, but stable condition. The 50-year-old man driving the mini-van was treated for multiple upper body injuries.

Some local roads at the time of the accident were slick, and grey skies prevailed.

Police said speed was not believed to be a factor in the crash.

Stuff a Cruiser collects 13,000 pounds in SD&G

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The results are in, and the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP Auxiliary Unit is calling the Stuff a Cruiser with Food drive a resounding success, with roughly 13,000 pounds of food and about $3,500 in donations collected.

Locally, in Dundas County, there was one cruiser parked outside Mike Dean's Super Food Store in Winchester on Sat., Nov. 27. Meanwhile, the Morrisburg branch of the Dundas County Food Bank (DCFB) served as a second point where people could either contribute non-perishable food items or cash. Between the two Dundas County locations, approximately 3,400 pounds of food and $1,700 flooded in.

The drive will help the Dundas County Food Bank (DCFB) stock up before the busy Christmas season.

"It [Stuff a Cruiser] is coming at a really good time," said Donna Quesnel, administrator of the DCFB. "We appreciate whatever comes our way."

Dundas was the biggest moneymaker of the three counties. Comparatively, 6,400 pounds of food and $1,000 was collected in Stormont County for that area's local charities. Glengarry collected 3,250 pounds and $847.

The trademark black-and-white cruisers were parked outside various locations throughout SD&G to raise awareness and heighten the profile of the fundraiser and drive. In addition, in the lead-up to Stuff a Cruiser, drop-off boxes to collect canned goods were located in the foyers of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP detachments during business hours.

NDP riding association plans for 2011 election

CORNWALL — Brian Lynch, president of the Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry provincial NDP riding association, has announced that the local association has established a candidate search committee in the lead-up to the 2011 Ontario general election.

"The purpose of the committee is to seek prospective candidates to run at the local NDP nomination meeting this spring," said Lynch. "The committee will meet with prospective candidates, provide them with information and written materials, answer their questions, and help them with the nomination process."

He said that the local association has been preparing for the election by building up the local membership, doing community outreach, and fundraising.

"The NDP is well positioned to make major gains in the provincial election because of its progressive policies and initiatives to create good jobs, remove the HST from hydro bills, eliminate the billion-dollar tax cuts to the big, profitable corporations, provide quality health care and education, improve pensions, and reduce poverty," said Lynch.

Persons interested in seeking the NDP nomination for the coming provincial election can contact the committee at 613-933-8353.

Planning key to success in both sports, life

Medallists visit NPS to inspire kids to pursue their dreams

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Reach for your dreams — but make sure you're doing so with a solid, achievable plan in mind.

That was the key message delivered by two Olympians who visited Nationview Public School last week.

Deidra Dionne and Tyler Emmett talked about their challenges in pursuing their respective Olympic and Paralympic goals during a Wed., Dec. 1 assembly.

Dionne, a long-time member of Canada's freestyle ski team, and Emmett, a visually impaired swimmer, attended the school as part of the RBC Olympians program.

Dionne, from Red Deer, Alta., competed in freestyle aerials. She represented Canada at two Winter Olympics, winning a bronze medal at Salt Lake City in 2002. She won World Cup medals during her first two events in 1999-2000 and twice won bronze medals at the World Championships.

Dionne said that as a small child, she wanted to go to the Olympics.

"I knew [freestyle skiing] had to be the sport I wanted to compete in," she said.

However, as a kid, her goal's weren't much more specific than that. Dionne thanked her coach for forcing her to plan — starting with the end goal in mind and working backwards. With the 2002 Olympic games as the prize, they mapped out which qualifying competitions she would attend, how she would train to achieve top results, what jumps she needed to learn, and what training would have to be accomplished.

Although winning an Olympic bronze was a highlight of her career, Dionne's biggest accomplishment might have been simply competing in the 2006 Torino Olympics only five months after breaking her neck.

The now-retired athlete shared details of her physical and psychological journey with the students.

"This can't be my last jump," she remembered thinking while laying in the hospital.

Overcoming adversity

Emmett, from St. Catharines, Ont., also won a bronze medal representing Canada in the world's biggest competition. He won the medal at the Sydney Paralympics in the 200-metre individual medley. He also competed in the 2004 Paralympics in Athens.

Emmett — who has six per cent vision in his left eye and eight per cent in his right — won several medals at the world championships and is a five-time world-record holder.

Emmett said it's hard to keep training as distractions set in when you become a teenager and young adult. However, he pointed out that getting into a cold pool at 5:30 am might not be fun, but the struggle is a big part of how you achieve your dreams.

"It's not so much the end result as the process of how you get there," he said.

The Royal Bank of Canada (RBC) Olympians program hires Olympic and Paralympic athletes as community ambassadors to bring the Olympic messages of excellence and leadership to Canadian schools.

The visit was organized by parent Jeremy Armer, an RBC bank manager.

Former North Dundas Leo captures prestigious award

PETERBOROUGH — In recognition of all she has accomplished, former Leo and North Dundas District High School graduate Alicia Summers has received the Helen Keller Fellowship, one of the most prestigious awards in Lionism.

Alicia Summers has received the Helen Keller Fellowship, one of the most prestigious awards in Lionism.

Summers has been recognized may times in the past for her efforts as a member of the North Dundas Leos. A year ago, upon arriving at Trent University in Peterborough, she began exploring the idea of establishing a new Lions Club on the campus. She attracted about 10 other students who were eager to help out, and they began the process of getting this new club off the ground.

This fall, the club has grown to more than 20 members and has been very active. They assisted the Peterborough Lions with their hockey tournament, held their own fashion show, hosted a bake sale (after baking the goods themselves), and raised awareness of the Organ Donation Program. They — with the assistance of many of the local clubs — are involved in a 50/50 draw on an ongoing basis.

The club recently received its official charter, and Summers became its first president.

As a result, Summers has received the Helen Keller Fellowship.

UCDSB anticipates $3.6 M surplus

BROCKVILLE — The Upper Canada District School Board (UCDSB) has announced that it is expecting a "modest" budget surplus for 2009-2010.

In a press release, the board stated that it expected to move from an accumulated deficit of $9.5 million to an accumulated surplus of $3.6 million in four years.

The deficit was caused when, according to the release, the Ministry of Education "clawed back" $9.5 million in special education funding.

The board says the budget surplus can be attributed to a list of factors, some of which include enrolment numbers exceeding projections; changes to how transportation is organized; facility maintenance and upgrades; an increase in retention students; and more.

Floats are expected to line up on Glen Street in front of the Metcalfe Community Christian School at 1:30 pm, with the parade scheduled to get underway at 2 pm.

During the parade, non-perishable food items will be accepted for the Osgoode Ward Food Bank, located in Enniskerry. All of those people attending the parade are asked to bring at least one item for donation.

Following the event, parade-goers are invited to the Metcalfe Community Centre (upstairs at the Larry Robinson Arena) for gingerbread cookie decorating, free hot chocolate, treats, and pictures with the jolly fellow in the red suit.

Just Kiddin' Theatre deserves the Trillium

As published in a front-page story this week, there are a host of local organizations that have received one of the coveted Ontario Trillium Foundation grants.

The government organization identifies promising groups, organizations, and institutions that have both a dream and a solid business plan to reach their goals, but require a financial boost.

The long list of 2010-2011 recipients include plenty of worthy health-related organizations (like the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario and the Canadian Mental Health Association), anti-poverty strategies (like the House of Lazarus' food security initiative), and athletic, recreational, religious, cultural, and historical projects and organizations.

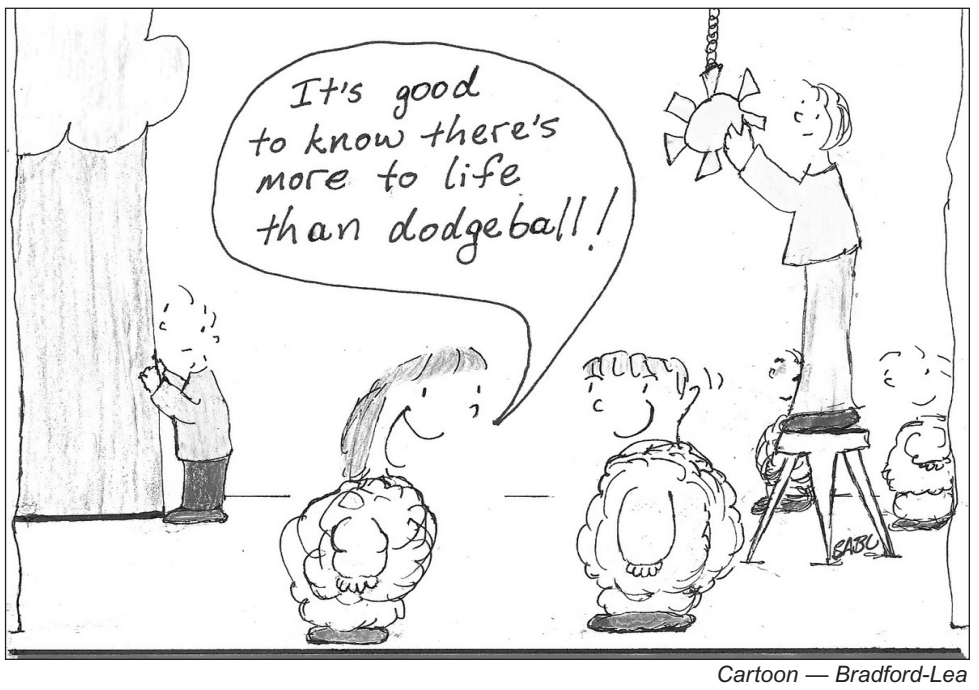
Just Kiddin' Theatre fills a void in many local schools. As a rule, Nel accepts all children. Personal growth is a major goal.

There are also a few arts groups on the list. One of them is Just Kiddin' Theatre, which is based in Metcalfe.

The community drama group has been promised $100,000 over two years to hire a full-time executive director to — according to the press release — "increase the group's capacity to provide artistic activities for youth in Metcalfe and surrounding rural areas of Ottawa."

What that means is, long-time volunteer artistic director Andrie Nel will now work full-time as the executive director of her own non-profit. Her regular job as a business planner and strategist will take a back seat. Since starting Just Kiddin' as a pet project and after-school program in 2005, the initiative has ballooned, with multiple groups mounting full-scale stage productions. Young theatre lovers from the rural area have flocked to Metcalfe to get their theatre fix. The Winchester Press has watched as Just Kiddin' has steadily grown to provide so much for local youth. However, Nel's volunteer passion has resulted in a major time commitment that requires more hours per week than a full-time job.

Over the next few years, Nel will work with her volunteers to ensure Just Kiddin' will continue to serve the area for years to come. After the volunteer infrastructure is in place, Nel will help organize a board of directors to oversee the long-term health of the organization. Finally, the Just Kiddin' model will be developed so that its success can be exported to other rural areas.



Cartoon — Bradford-Lea

The Trillium grant is a timely gift for Just Kiddin' Theatre. The troupe is scheduled to launch its winter show, The Gillian Trilogy, this Friday. (In fact, Nel wrote the three-part play herself so that her students of varying skill levels could be integrated into a single show.)

Arts funding is controversial. Some may argue it's wasteful to give a grant to a theatre troupe. That would be an unfair argument to make, however. The arts tend to take a back seat in schools today, and unfortunately, many talented local kids decide to apply to secondary institutions like Canterbury High School and leave the area, taking their talents along with them.

Just Kiddin' Theatre fills a void in many local schools. As a rule, Nel accepts all children and gives them a role. Personal growth is a major goal of Just Kiddin'.

It's a shame that more schools don't have quality arts programming offered at the elementary and middle-school levels. Theatre is one of the few subjects that can bring together both the bookish and hands-on type students to work together in a tangible way. A play, for example, demands a good deal of maturity from students. Aside from the academic analysis of the play itself, they will learn about timing, teamwork, the importance of working as a group in the face of a deadline, business and marketing skills, professionalism and more.

Unfortunately, in the rural area, some schools don't have the capacity or expertise to offer arts programming. The least the Ontario government can do is help out volunteers like Nel, who are working to close the gap between rural and urban students to provide our children with the rich, well-rounded education they deserve.

Remember when...

Countless spectacles of whole flocks of birds clamped rigidly to fatal telephone and telegraph wires moved some French writers to predict the gradual extinction of bird life, according to the Winchester Press. This fate was thought inevitable unless changes were made in modern overhead electric contrivances. High tension lines throughout Europe were taking their annual toll on pigeons, swallows, and field larks. Many larger birds were electrocuted when their hasty landings swayed one wire against another.

1940

A leghorn pullet owned by Mrs. John Forrester of South Mountain laid an egg as large as a goose's, the Press reported. To satisfy her curiousity, Forrester broke it open for examination and found that inside the outer shell there was a full-sized yolk and another smaller egg. It was an egg within an egg. It was expected that pullets would do some strange things, but it seemed that this one needed lessons in egg laying.

1950

The Winchester Theatre was presenting a free show for the children of the village this week, the Press reported. The feature film was Challenge to Lassie. In the film, Lassie is unduly wanted by the law. The intrepid collie is then forced to defy dangerous perils and, in the end, manages to bring young lovers together.

1960

Santa Claus made his pre-Christmas visit to Winchester this week, the Press reported. However, he came not by sleigh and reindeer, but by helicopter. The jolly fellow in the red suit landed in the parking lot of Winchester High School.

1970

Winchester council voiced strong opposition this week to a school board decision to eliminate full nursing facilities at North Dundas District High School, the Press reported. The plan had been to remove the registered nurse position at the school at the end of the year. Many parents said a nurse should at the school at all time because of the facility's location between Winchester and Chesterville.

1980

Williamsburg Township council this week asked that a rabies clinic be held as soon as possible in the municipality, the Press said. The request followed reports of at least four confirmed cases of rabies over the previous few weeks. Reeve Johnny Whitteker said the clinic needed to be held before the situation got worse.

1990

A date was set in the trial of former Stormont-Dundas MP Norm Warner, the Press said. After winning the seat in 1984, the PC candidate didn't run in 1988. A year later he was charged with fraud in connection with the awarding of a $113,000 grant to Dek-King, a defunct Cornwall patio deck manufacturer. (In June 1991, Warner was found not guilty in an Ontario court.)

2000

The North Dundas Centre for Arts and Heritage Committee, working to transform Winchester's former town hall building, received a $65,000 grant from the Ontario Trillium Foundation this week, the Press reported.

I can't believe they trusted me with a saw...

From the Other Side
by Jeff Morris

It was cold Sunday morning. It felt so cold that the mail would break if you tried to pry open the envelope.

The Diva and her boys would bring me along and we would join a group of friends on a roadie to Thomas Tree Farm in North Gower.

Being considerably more rural than the rest of the gang, I figured I would be, like, the Most Valuable Tree Guy, or at least really cool, or something like that.

Um, it didn't quit work out that way.

I went to get my handy-dandy thermal lightweight black gloves. As we were getting ready, I noticed something about the gloves. On each one, the glove's thumb was in the same place. Nice. I had two right gloves.

I knew the Diva was going to have a good laugh at this, my latest toe-dip into the big giant pool of spaz water.

Fortunately, as we assembled at Mike and T.L.'s house, Mike was able to round up an extra pair of gloves. Everyone should have a friend named Mike with extra gloves.

I was last in the convoy heading to the Gower. Although the Diva, uh, "encouraged" me to drive fast and keep up with the pack, I managed to fall behind and lose them after a block and half.

We found the Thomas Tree Farm without a problem and we gingerly entered the crowded parking lot. There were three parking spots. I was the fourth vehicle. So we lapped around the parking lot a few times, then I dropped off the Diva and the boys, and continued to lap around the lot, looking for a spot. I would look and see car after car in my rearview mirror leaving their spots 30 seconds after I drove by, only to be instantly taken by other drivers. Eventually, amusing myself by pretending I was in the lead of NASCAR Thomas Tree Farm 500 wore off, and I parked on the road. A mile down the road. A mile down the cold, windy road.

They were all waiting for me, pretending not to think I was a total loser after waiting for me for what seemed like an eternity and a half. Even Mike, who is always smiling, wasn't. I thought about joking that I forgot the gloves and would have to go back to the car, but it wouldn't have been funny. Then I got really scared. Did I forget the gloves? Whew! They're on my hands.

We walked and then got a ride on a wagon pulled by a tractor.

"Don't lick the tractor," I said to everyone within earshot. I got blank stares. I mean, how rude. The city people just stared blankly. Do they not know their tongues would stick to the tractor? Last time I try to help them with country boy wisdom.

We grabbed a little saw – yes, they have saws there and people like me who are completely unqualified can just grab them – and we started searching for the tree. Five of us wandered through the maze of trees. Okay, it wasn't really a maze. They were in perfect rows. But, for me, it was still a maze. I felt a panic attack coming on and I didn't know where they were. So I did what any country boy who knows his way around a tree farm would do. I shouted, "MARCO!!!"

Three hundred and six people yelled back "POLO!!!!"

So that didn't help me.

Eventually, I found them all standing by the perfect tree. I got out the saw, started cutting, and then Tom Sawyered the boys into thinking it was fun to use the saw and let them have a turn. I carried the tree back to the tractor area, and we all hopped on the wagon. Everyone enjoyed hot chocolate and cookies while I walked to the outer limits of the postal code to get the car.

When I pulled up to the main area, the others went at the car like they were Jeff Gordon's pit crew, helping me tie the tree to the roof rack in record time. I am guessing the Diva may have been discussing my spaziness and perhaps they thought they had already competed in the freeze-while-waiting-for-Jeff Olympics for long enough.

Evidently, my tree wasn't, uh, "as big" as the ones the city boys picked. "Is that a tree or a centrepiece for your table?," said Paul, who was last seen lining the inside of his front door frame with butter, trying to get his tree into his house.

When we got home, we got the tree up, and placed into the stand. I'm not a spaz – anyone could stab their eye with a Scotch Pine Needle. The eye-gouging wasn't as bad as the one in Oedipus, but it was as close to having eye ball shish-kebob as I want to ever come.

After hours of straining and help from my 10-year-old apprentice, Rob, the tree was up. It's beautiful. Okay, so it's kind of crooked, but it's beautiful. Okay, so it's really crooked. We were going to call it Treey (we name every object in the house), but we have decided on Eileen. It's perfect.

And as we left the tree farm, I thought, 'You know, it wasn't that cold.' Just then, I saw the City of Ottawa bylaw officer, driving down the unpaved and all but deserted McCordick Road, giving out parking tickets to people on the road. "That," I told the kids, "is cold."

We will be back next year, and every year. Maybe by then I will have found my left gloves.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Form committee for Hill 70 upkeep: reader

The Editor:
November is over and with it the designated "month of remembrance," where we remember the sacrifices made by those gallant men and women of our armed forces, comes to and end.

Within a few years, we will be commemorating the 100th anniversary of the declaration of a war; something that has been referred to by many names including "The Great War for Civilization," "The War to End all Wars," or simply the First World War. Approximately 600,000 people from this country served in that war, with more than 60,000 Canadians never returning home. After the peace treaty in 1919, communities in Canada sought to raise a monument to the memory of those who had sacrificed their lives to ensure that those freedoms we enjoy today, including the freedom of speech, would be safe.

In the Township of North Dundas, many communities raised memorials of different types to their fallen heroes. They range from an impressive cenotaph in Morewood to a memorial park in Mountain. Since 1922, the Hill 70 memorial in Mountain has provided a location for community members of all ages to congregate in the enjoyment of sports, picnics, and a multitude of other activities which were conducted beside and inside the local war memorial.

There is a quiet grace to this site, a place where children play and adults can visit. All the while, one can be reminded by an aging gate, a grass-covered hill with Hill 70 imprinted upon it, a boulder with 1922 written on it, and a constantly burning light shining above it, that the sacrifice made during those war years was for them. While there may come a time when additional items of remembrance will be added, surely it is important the Hill 70 memorial retain its grass covered hill with trees to the back of it, a flower bed to the front, grassy areas around it, and provide a quiet place for people of all ages.

Perhaps this memorial area needs to have a group of people dedicated to its care, people to ensure that the flowers are tended, people to change the Canadian Flag when needed or refurbish the German machine gun (a trophy of war) and memorial gate.

Then, when we recite John McCrae's "In Flanders Fields," we can truly feel that we have caught the torch that was thrown to us by the dying hands of our brave men and women who paid the supreme price on our behalf.

Editor's note: Currently, the Mountain and District Lions Club is spearheading an initiative to update the Hill 70 memorial site in Mountain. The project is expected to add a concrete riser with a Canadian flag and other memorial items, while keeping the current items on display. It is a project the North Dundas History Stewards, which Carolyn Goddard is a member, initially opposed.

Community forum on immigration held

From Parliament Hill
by MP Guy Lauzon

OTTAWA — On Sun., Nov. 28, Sean Adams, Mostofa El Gazzar, Muslim Khan, and I co-hosted a community forum on immigration. The forum was attended by 50 constituents from Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry, while discussion focused on ways to build a better understanding between immigrant and non-immigrant community members.

A few months back, we were at a social function and received comments from both new and established Canadians about the difficulty they were experiencing in getting to know each other better. All of us had received comments from local residents expressing frustration with building relations between the different cultures. Both groups asked us, as leaders in the community, to facilitate a forum to look for solutions.

We decided to arrange an informal gathering of approximately 50 people, equally divided between both groups, to discuss similarities, differences, and explore ways to improve relations. During the first segment of the meeting, participants divided into small groups consisting of three immigrants and three non-immigrants, and were tasked with identifying challenges experienced by both cultures. Issues identified included language barriers, differing family values, lack of communication and understanding, isolation, stereotyping, and misrepresentation in the media.

The same groups were then asked to identify potential solutions to the problems identified. Suggested solutions included: holding public gatherings to explain each other's culture, religion, values, and expectations. It was also suggested that social agencies and the media should be urged to promote a better understanding of each group's challenges and concerns.

All attendees agreed the 90-wminute meeting was educational, informative, and helpful in building a better appreciation of the issues faced by immigrants and non-immigrants alike. I found the dialogue to be informative, educational, and extremely helpful in understanding the concerns of both groups.

At the request of the participants, I was asked to facilitate another meeting in January to discuss the solutions identified with a larger segment of the community. I agreed to do so, on the condition that each person in attendance agrees to bring a guest to expand on our network. All attendees agreed to do so. They all felt the meeting was a positive step in developing a better understanding of an important community issue. I hope many of you reading this article will consider attending the January meeting.

Ontario bouncing back, not out of the woods yet

TORONTO — Over the past few years, this province, and the rest of the world, have suffered one of the most significant economic downturns in history. Today, I am proud to say that Ontario is bouncing back from the global recession.

Eighty-seven per cent of Ontario jobs lost during the recession have been recovered, compared to 11 per cent in the United States, and since May 2009, Ontario employment has increased by more than 180,000 new jobs.

In eastern Ontario, for the second straight month, the unemployment rate has dropped. The November rate is now 6.6 per cent, down from 7.1 per cent in October. The provincial unemployment rate stands at 7.9 per cent.

We are not out of the woods yet. This government knows Ontario families are still feeling pinched financially, and that many of you are anxious and uncertain about your ability to make ends meet.

Over the last seven years, Ontarians have been working together to repair past neglect and rebuild this province. Our schools, colleges, universities, hospitals, roads, and bridges have been significantly improved. From Winchester in the west to Lancaster in the east, public infrastructure is being rebuilt. This government has brought our tax system up to date, and made major investments to ensure Ontarians have a clean, modern, reliable electricity system.

While these steps will improve our economy and help us build a strong future for Ontario over the long term, we also hear from you that families and businesses are struggling right now with higher costs. We understand that you need some help, today.

The Ontario government is taking action to help Ontario families and businesses who are feeling the pinch of the rising costs, especially increasing electricity prices.

This is why we have proposed the Ontario Clean Energy Benefit, which would provide eligible consumers with a benefit equal to 10 per cent of the total cost of electricity on their bills, including tax, effective Sat., Jan. 1, 2011. This program would last for five years, which is when price increases are expected to moderate. This would help over four million Ontarians and more than 400,000 small businesses and farms.

Ontario's tax plan for jobs and growth will help create nearly 600,000 jobs within 10 years, has cut income taxes for nine out of 10 taxpayers, and has enhanced sales and property tax credits for low to middle-income families and individuals.

This government is managing things responsibly. The fall economic statement revealed that Ontario's projected deficit is $18.7 billion for 2010-2011, which is almost 25 per cent lower than the $24.7 billion deficit projected a year ago for 2009-2010.

We are borrowing $2 billion less in 2010-2011, due to a $1 billion decline in the projected deficit and a $1 billion payment to the province from the proposed teranet agreement. We have identified $260 million in potential savings through the ongoing comprehensive review announced in the 2010 budget.

Our government knows that Ontarians not only want to see their province emerge strong from the world-wide recession, we also know that Ontarians need some financial breathing room. That is why our government has taken the steps it has in our fall economic statement. Together, we can continue to build a stronger future for Ontario.

With this, the last report for 2010, I wish you a Merry Christmas and all the best in 2011.

MacLeod wants to create grow-op registry

by Bev McRae

METCALFE — On any given day in the Ottawa area, there are 500 grow-ops turning out millions of dollars worth of illegal marijuana in the middle of family neighbourhoods. Neighbourhoods like Greely, Manotick, Barrhaven, Orleans, and Stittsville… no community is exempt.

That estimate comes from the Ottawa Real Estate Board, the driving force behind Nepean-Carleton MPP Lisa MacLeod's new bill that would create a grow-up registry to protect unsuspecting homebuyers.

Houses that have been grow-ops are deeply damaged by a legacy of mould, toxic chemicals, bad wiring, and structural faults — problems that may not be evident when the house is put on the market, problems that are a severe health and safety hazard, and can cost tens of thousands of dollars to fix.

"Ottawa Police list the locations of grow-ops they've busted on their website," said MacLeod. "But the locations stay online for only three months. We need a permanent record of previous grow-ops to protect the health and safety of Ontario's families."

Ottawa real estate agents are required by provincial law to disclose whether a property was used as a grow-op. Those who don't may be fined or lose their license, but it is very difficult for agents to keep track of grow-ops individually.

"Last year, a delegation of Ottawa realtors met with me on lobby day at Queen's Park to discuss the need for a registry of grow-ops," said MacLeod. "And it's a subject that comes up whenever I attend a public safety forum with police. The Ontario Real Estate Association supports my bill for a provincial registry."

MacLeod introduced a bill at Queen's Park in November that would create a provincial registry of properties that were grow-ops or drug labs. The bill would also require building inspectors to take the corrective steps necessary to make the building safe again and to register the order against the title to the land.

> "They thought it was just a quiet family home, but it was a grow-op. In Greely, two big homes on a street of beautiful homes turned out to be grow-ops."
> — Lisa MacLeod, MPP

In Ottawa, police report locations of grow-ops they've busted to the city. Building inspectors assess the damage to the property, and staff issue rehabilitation orders. Only when all the work has been done will the city issue an occupancy permit.

"That's the way it should be across the entire province," said MacLeod. "There should be no safe haven for these operations."

However, few of the homes in Ottawa that have ever been used for drug production are identified and shut down. Owners of properties that have been grow-ops or illegal drug labs may do a minor fix-up before the house goes on the market, but not the major rehabilitation necessary to restore the property to good health.

MacLeod believes that her bill for a provincial registry will draw attention to the grow-op problem.

"In high-growth areas like Greely, Riverside South and Barrhaven, people need to take notice and realize there could be a grow-op in their community," she said. "The number of grow-ops has increased drastically in Ontario."

MacLeod said she's been told stories by many people of grow-ops in their neighbourhoods, grow-ups they didn't suspect until police raided the operation.

"A political aide told me that a grow-op had been shut down in a relative's neighbourhood in Nepean. They thought it was just a quiet family home, but it was a grow-op. In Greely, two big homes on a street of beautiful homes turned out to be grow-ops. In Barrhaven, there was a grow-op right across the street from where the councillor used to live."

Ottawa police advise neighbours to be on the lookout for warning signs. A house that sits quietly for extended periods, then has spurts of frequent visitors may be a grow-op. The windows may be blacked out by plastic or heavy curtains and covered in condensation. There may be a foul odour of skunk or rotting cabbage. The sounds of constantly humming ventilation fans or construction late at night or power surges can be clues that the house is being used as a grow-op.

The damage caused by the heat and humidity of a marijuana growing operation is severe. The humidity can warp doors, floors, stairs, and framing lumber. Massive buildups of mould and plant spraying with toxic chemicals can cause unsafe air quality. Growers often steal electricity and may drill holes in the foundation to hook up illegally. Exposed live wires and overheated electrical ballasts cause fire hazards. They cut through walls and joists to run extra ventilation and install booby traps.

MacLeod points out that her bill covers all clandestine drug operations like meth labs, where the levels of toxic chemicals can be even higher than in grow-ops.

She is optimistic that, unlike most private members bills, this one will be passed by the provincial legislature.

"It's been approved by my caucus," she said. "And it's 10 months from a provincial election."

Nepean-Carleton MPP Lisa MacLeod has submitted a private member's bill in the Ontario legislature calling for the creation of provincial registry for homes that were once marijuana grow-ops. This way, perspective homebuyers would know what they are getting into when purchasing their first home, said MacLeod. In this file photo, MacLeod is pictured with Leeds-Grenville MPP Steve Clark, who also supports his colleagues bill.

Residents, snowmobilers square off

OSGOODE — More than 200 people jammed into the Osgoode Community Centre on Tues., Nov. 30 to express their opinions on the future use of the local multi-use pathway. While there were presentations from horse riding groups and all-terrain vehicle users, the meeting focused on whether snowmobiles should continue to use the abandoned rail line.

A local snowmobile club has had an agreement with the City of Ottawa for the past two winters to use the former Canadian Pacific Railway bed. During these two seasons, the local Osgoode Carleton Snowmobile Club has cut back the brush, picked up tons of garbage, and groomed the trail. There have been very few complaints, and any issues were quickly resolved.

During the meeting, it became clear that a very small group of individuals are totally opposed to any motorized vehicles using the pathway. They have mounted an aggressive campaign to convince the city officials that snowmobiles are a detriment and a danger to other pathway users and to the environment. While everyone's opinion is welcome, I believe that the facts are quite clear.

The snowmobile club has proven over the past two years that snowmobiles, in fact, will be a huge benefit to the pathway and to the economy of Osgoode, and the rest of the ward.

One important piece of information that we must all remember is that the city will not maintain the pathway in the winter months. The club has agreed to maintain the entire 22 kilometres during the winter season at no cost to the city. As well, the 700 members of the Osgoode Carleton Snowmobile Club pump more than a million dollars annually into the local economy.

New council sworn in

On Wed., Dec. 1, the new City of Ottawa council was officially sworn into office at an inauguration ceremony held at the Shenkman Arts Centre in Orleans. I was extremely proud to be officially beginning my 28th year of serving the residents of Osgoode Ward.

Carolling through the village streets

WINCHESTER — In the coming weeks, two different community groups will be carolling through the streets of Winchester.

On Sun., Dec. 12, parishioners from the Winchester Wesleyan Church will load onto a trailer outside the church at 1:30 pm. From there, the carollers will chart a course through the village, eventually making a stop to sing for residents at The Beachcroft apartments on Beach Street.

Following that event, the local scouting troop will be carolling on Fri., Dec. 17. The group will also make its way through the streets of Winchester, with a stop being made at Dundas Manor, where they will go inside and sing carols for the residents.

The tractor and wagon for both events will be donated by Weagant Farm Supplies, while the seating (straw bales) will be supplied by Brian Van Den Berg.

Just like home for Christmas

CHESTERVILE – Residents of the Garden Villa Retirement Residence in Chesterville aren't feeling homesick these days. The atmosphere here is pleasant any time of the year, but even more so now, when the retirement home looks beautiful decked out for the holidays, and the staff are wearing their brightest smiles.

"It definitely feels like Christmas. It's such a homey place," says Joy Fellows, formerly of Ottawa.

"It feels like family. I've never been in a place where I've been treated so royally. I don't know how to put it in words; they're so good to you. You just open your mouth and it's done for you," adds 96-year-old Gladys Broom, who moved out of a local seniors' apartment complex this year to reside at the Garden Villa. Broom likens her new surroundings to a "five-star hotel."

But Fellows disputes the comparison, rating the facility better than a hotel, because "they treat you just like family."

While accepting a cup of hot tea from attendant Julie Smith, resident Alma Brownlee says she is happy to be here because her children and grandchildren have busy lives. "They still don't forget about me," Brownlee adds, musing about upcoming Christmas celebrations with daughter Margaret in Morrisburg and with son Donald on Boxing Day in Williamsburg.

On behalf of Garden Villa, manager Darlene Sherrer explains that the operation strives to make residents feel at home, by taking part in old traditions like baking and carols, bringing in entertainment and involving the community in celebrations.

So far, the facility has hosted a Christmas bazaar on Nov. 19 and the Good Time Country band on Dec. 3, when Fellows danced with both Father Christmas and one of the retirement facility's investors, Pete Van Kessel Sr. "We had a nice time," she says.

There are lots of other upcoming events in the immediate future -- caroling by local school children and a party for friends and family on Dec. 16, which Fellows is looking forward to.

"They do these things for us. We're really fortunate to be here and I just love it here."

An $8.5-million project, the 74-room Garden Villa Retirement Residence accepted its first residents just this past summer. The richly appointed, 46,600-square-foot structure still has plenty of rooms available for those considering the amenities and comfort offered by life in such a full-service facility. It also offers a winter stay program, for those residents preferring to reside at the Garden Villa only during the cold months of the year.

Eagles derail Demons' quest for Silver Stick

PEMBROKE — Until they ran into Ennismore Eagles, the North Dundas Major Midget "B" Demons were perfect defensively and undefeated.

The Demons, Upper Canada Minor Hockey League representatives in the 2010 Pembroke Regional Silver Stick Hockey Tournament, had rolled through the round robin portion of the weekend (Fri., Dec. 3 to Sun., Dec. 5) competition, registering three consecutive shutouts. Gary Klein-Swormink's squad opened on Friday with a 2-0 decision over the Ottawa West Golden Knights, before whitewashing the North Frontenac Flyers 5-0 on Saturday and the Pontiac Lions 4-0 on Sunday.

The Demons 3-0-0 record and 11-0 goal differential set up a Sunday, semi-final, date with Ennismore. That's when the North Dundas offence dried up — the Eagles eliminated the Demons 2-0 and went on to nip the Pembroke Kings 1-0 and claim the Silver Stick.

Opening win

North Dundas captain Dustin Tinkler converted a play engineered by Will Fawcett and Derek Simms into the winning goal at 3:04 of the second period of the opening game against Ottawa West. Adrian Lee then insured the win scoring from affiliate player (AP) Mitchell Kirkwood with 4:13 left in the game.

Demons 'tender Colin Giberson posted the first of his three shutouts.

Coach Klein-Swormink inserted back up goaltender Cam Hunt, defenceman Stewart McKelvie and forward Mitchell Kirkwood into his line up for the tournament.

Win number two

Captain Tinkler added to his tournament scoring total potting a pair of markers in the 5-0 win over North Frontenac. Brandon Cousineau used a Josh Freake relay to record the winner with 8:07 left in the first frame. Tinkler followed with an unassisted tally.

Kirkwood fired in a solo shot in the second session to make it 3-0.

Tinkler (from Ryan Byers and Lee at 9:54) and Ryan Romans (from Will Fawcett at 1:52) cashed in the third-period markers.

NPS choir will sing 'O Canada' before 67's - Petes game

SOUTH MOUNTAIN –- Nationview Public School will be in the spot light next week (Fri., Dec. 17) when the school choir performs the national anthem prior the Ottawa 67's OHL game.

Following the opening face off, the students will cheer on a Nationview alumnus as the 67's take on the Peterborough Petes.

Slater Koekkoek, a former student at both Inkerman Public School and Nationview, is a rookie with the Petes. He was the seventh overall pick in 2010 Ontario Hockey League draft. Koekkoek has four goals and 11 assists in 28 games with the Petes this season, and was recently named to Team Ontario for the World Under-17 Challenge to be held Dec. 28-Jan. 4 in Winnipeg.

Koekkoek, a former resident of Inkerman Station, was a popular student at both schools and a star athlete. He played basketball, volleyball, hockey, softball, and soccer for the Nationview Red Knights. After graduating from Nationview, he went west to attend noted hockey school Notre Dame College in Saskatchewan. Last year, he had 16 goals and 27 assists, and was the tournament MVP when Notre Dame won the Telus Cup as the national Midget champions.

One of Koekkoek's former teachers from his days at Inkerman Public, Lorna Driscoll, will lead the Nationview choir during the national anthem. Game time is 7:30 pm. Students, family, and friends of Nationview are invited to buy tickets to the game through the school. Some of the proceeds of the ticket sales will be used for the school's athletic department.

For more information, contact Laurie McElheran, principal; Lorna Driscoll, teacher, choir director or Robert Matheson, teacher at 613-989-2600.

Loyst lifts Hawks to 3-1 win over Westport — win string snapped by first-place Aeros

WINCHESTER — Winchester Hawks captain Graham Loyst piloted his squad to a hard fought 3-1 victory over the rugged Westport Jr. "B" Rideaus, scoring two goals, including the winner.

Friday night's (Dec. 3) home ice victory over the Rideau Division's number-two ranked team (18-9-0-0) stretched the third-place Hawks' win string to five games and improved their St. Lawrence Division record to 15-6-1-1.

Unfortunately, Winchester's string was snapped on Sunday (Dec. 5) by the first-place Aeros (24-3-0-0) who shotdown the Hawks 6-2 at Centre 76 in Athens.

The high-flying Aeros had seven power plays to work with and converted four of them into goals, while the Hawks went two for six with the extra man.

The Hawks and Aeros were tied 2-2 in the second stanza, but the home team carried a 4-2 lead into the final 20 minutes and pumped in two more PPGs to secure the 6-2 win.

"We came out flat after a lengthy bus ride and ran into some penalty trouble," said coach Tom Kirkwood. "Chalk it up to just being flat after five wins."

Kirkwood said he has Sat., Jan. 22 marked on his calendar, the day Athens visits Winchester.

Newcomer Michael Evelyn pegged his first goal as a Hawk finishing a powerplay set up by Brett Ashton and Ramsey Wheeler 1:29 into period two. Evan Walker notched his 11th on a power-play engineered by Wheeler and Lucas Richardson at 7:43 of the same frame.

Kirkwood was impressed with Evelyn a 6' 4", 17-year-old from Nepean.

"He impressed us with his hustle, speed and ability to finish his check," he said.

Andrew Warren (PPG), Nathan Slack, Dillon Mazerolle (GWG), Steve Parker (PPG), Jeremy Hunt (PPG) and Brett Costello (PPG) were the Athens marksmen.

Winchester 'tender Logan Gunn (3-1-0) suffered his first loss. Jacob Hartman posted the win. Athens outshot the Hawks 32-28.

The leader

Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks captain Graham Loyst was punished for working down low on the Westport goaltender James Davis, but still managed to cash in a pair of goals, including the winner, in Friday's (Dec. 3) 3-1 victory over the Rideaus. Winchester assistant captain Brett Ashton insured the win when his shot struck string with 12:12 left on the clock. Press Photo — Van Bridger

This week

Kirkwood said his team has to be sharp Friday night (Dec. 10) when the South Grenville Rangers come to town for an 8:15 pm start.

"We owe them [Rangers]. They beat us 4-3 last time [in Prescott on Oct. 22]," noted the coach. "And we anticipate another barn burner against the Rideaus in Westport on Saturday (Dec. 11)."

Gore moments

North Dundas District High School entered a team in last week's (Thurs., Dec. 2 and Fri., Dec. 3) 2010 Gore Mutual School Girls Upper Canada District playdowns. North Dundas skip Alison Wheeler reacted as her final shot came up short in the sixth end of the "B" event final against St. Mary's (Brockville), who posted a 10-4 victory. Sarah Churchill (vice), Leititia Alcock (second) and Sarah Holmes (lead) curled with Wheeler.

Full House

Seaway District High School lead Denzil Barkley (left) and North Dundas skip Jonathan Thompson sized up a full house in the opening draw of the Gore Mutual 'spiel. There were 11 stones touching the button and four foot and one on the edge of the eight in the third end, but all Seaway skip Luke Whitteker gleaned from the jam was two points. North Dundas broke the 2-2 tie and posted a 5-4 win.

Upper Canada champs

North Dundas District High School defeated St. Johns (No. 1) of Perth 7-6 in the "A" event and captured the Gore Mutual School Boys gold medal. The North Dundas foursome will now represent the Upper Canada District in the regionals in Trenton in February. The champions, who were undefeated in three games, are: coach Ian Wilson (left), lead Joshua Morgan, second Josh Zollinger, third Dan Lillico and skip Jonathan Thompson.

Demons 4 - Lions 0

Byers fired a feed provided by Freake and Derek Simms into the Lions cage with 7:35 left in the opening stanza of game three, and his goal proved to be the winner in a 4-0 win over the Pontiac Lions.

Lee connected from Tinkler and Ryan Switzer at the 6:49 mark and the Demons carried the 2-0 lead through a scoreless second session.

A pair of third-period markers pushed the final difference to 4-0. Derek Simms (from Lee and Tinkler at 4:39) and Kirkwood (from Freake and Cousineau at 2:29) counted the final two goals.

North Dundas drew just seven minor penalties in four games.

Tinkler led the team in scoring with three goals and five points. Lee (2-2-4), Kirkwood (2-1-3), Cousineau (1-2-3) and Freake (0-3-3) rounded out the top five.

Hawks

Generosity

The Hawks first Christmas Food Drive, held at Friday's (Dec. 3) game, in support of the Dundas County Food Bank raised 165 food items and a $165 donation from the Hawks.

"It is our busiest time of the year and we [food bank] really appreciate what the Hawks have done," said administrator Donna Quesnel.

But the giving didn't stop there.

Phil Burns, Seaway Valley Pharmacy co-owner, claimed $2.335 in the Hawks weekly 50/50 Draw, and redirected $2,000 of his prize to the food bank and $100 to the man who sold him the ticket — Hawks sponsor Ken Barber.

"I felt because it is Christmas, the food bank could use the help," stated Burns.

Solid effort

The Hawks received a two-goal performance from captain Graham Loyst as they battled their way past the Westport Rideaus in Friday's home game.

Loyst put his squad up 1-0, potting his 11th goal on a power play created by Mack Weegar and Ryan MacDonald at 11:52 of the first frame.

Westport evened the count at 1-1 at 16:29 when Eric Ringer rang up a PPG.

Period two was scoreless.

Loyst rammed a feed from Evelyn and TJ Dorn in behind Rideau 'tender James Davis 38 seconds into the final frame. The marker would stand up as the winner.

Brett Ashton iced the 3-1 decision ripping a long drive into the twine after taking a pass from Paul Hennesey 12:12 before the final buzzer.

"We were very pleased with the effort — a great team effort," reported the coach. "Gunn made the saves when we needed them and everyone played well. I thought Evelyn looked strong in his debut and 15-year-old Daniel Monk held his own."

Reds move into first place, defeat CountryGirls 4-2

WINCHESTER — Amanda Rylaarsdam cracked in the game-winning goal and helped Andy's Foodland Reds defeat the CountryGirls 4-2.

The deciding tally was set up by Trisha Leduc with 6:23 left in Sunday morning's (Dec. 5) 8 am Winchester District Ladies Hockey League game. The victory moved the Reds (4-1-4) into first place in the standings. The loss left the CountryGirls (3-5-1) in fifth place.

Edithe Rivet used a feed from Sonia Clement to get the CountryGirls on the board at 19:19 but the Reds answered at 15:39 when Joanna Gilmer assisted Trisha Leduc, tied it 1-1 for the Reds. Clement (unassisted) scored 11:38 before the intermission giving the Girls a 2-1 lead they would carry into the second half.

Kaitlyn Hay converted a Lisa Brunet play into the tying goal with 9:19 left on the clock. Rylaarsdam fired what would prove to be the winning shot into the back of the Girls cage at 6:23, finishing a play started by Leduc. Brunet made the final difference 4-2 scoring from Hay 4:28 before the final buzzer.

Hay finished with a goal and an assist, and was named the player of the game.

Lorie Casselman posted the win, Kristi Wade took the loss.

Truckers 3 - Stylists 1

Sandra Cloutier potted a pair of pucks and powered the WS Trucking Company (4-4-1) to a 3-1 win over the Double Beauty Stylists (4-3-2) in the 9 am contest.

Mary Jane MacDougall filled in for the Truckers regular goalie Roxanne Backes and earned player of the game honours. The only shot that eluded her was fired by Kelly Verhoeven (assisted by Susan Whelan and Jennifer Wilson) with 13:13 of the second half.

Cloutier used a pass from Stephanie Scott to put the Truckers up 1-0 at 12:39 of the first half. Christina Carruthers was next to strike string as she made it 2-0 with help from Caroline Rougeau and Aline Smith at 10:11. The Truckers extended their lead to 3-0 when Cloutier snapped in an unassisted shot with 52 seconds left in the half.

No score

Goalies Dominique Cavill of the Cooper Physio Pinks (1-4-1) and Jenna James of the Annable's Jewellery Blues (4-3-2) battled to a scoreless draw in the 10 am match.

Cathy Lee Brookes of the Blues earned player of the game honours.

Double Beauty Stylists forward Kelly Verhoeven celebrates her goal, along with teammate Susan Marsden (No. 17), in Sunday's (Dec. 5) Winchester District Ladies Hockey League game. Hebert pots pair, Pee Wee Demons down Rangers 5-3

CHESTERVILLE — Sebastian Hebert potted a pair of first period goals and Jack van Kessel drew assists on all five of his team's scoring plays as the North Dundas Pee Wee House "B" Demons wrecked the South Grenville Rangers 5-3.

Last week's (Wed., Dec. 1) victory extended the Demons' Upper Canada Minor Hockey League undefeated streak to four games (3-0-1).

A quick 4-1 first period lead got the Demons off to a solid start as Hebert buried back-to-back relays from van Kessel at 8:24 and 6:03. Mitchell VanBruinessen was next to find the net, making it 3-0 at 5:41. Hebert and van Kessel engineered the play.

The Rangers got on the board at the 2:16 mark, but the Demons replied with a goal by Avery Holmes 17 seconds before the buzzer. The assist went to van Kessel.

South Grenville sliced their deficit to 4-2 at 12:08 of period two and once again North Dundas responded as Brayden Roberts finished another play started by van Kessel, creating a 5-2 lead. The Rangers closed the final difference to 5-3 when Cameran Cavanagh found the back of Bayden Carr's cage 5:01 before the final buzzer.

North Dundas played a penalty-free game.

Demons win pair, move to above 500

WINCHESTER — Wins over the Brockville Midget House "B" Braves and the South Dundas Lions have pushed the North Dundas Demons Upper Canada Minor Hockey League record to a game above the 500 mark.

Five different shooters sniped goals in Sunday's (Dec. 5) home ice, 5-1 victory over Brockville. Last week (Wed., Dec. 1), the Demons were in Morrisburg where they skated to a 7-1 decision over the Lions.

The back-to-back victories improved the Demons Upper Canada Minor Hockey League record to 6-5-1.

Coach Gary Embury reported that he was missing two centres for the game against Brockville, and had Kirk Gibson move into one of those vacancies.

Brockville led 1-0 after a period, but were outscored 3-0 in the second session as Stewart McKelvie, Evan Durant and Paul Gibson, on a blast from the point, cracked in unassisted shots.

Brett Coburn engineered a pair of third-period markers by Jeremy Plummer at 5:24 and Gibson with 4:50 on left in the game as the Demons registered their 5-1 win.

Demons 7 - Lions 1

The North Dundas offence was produced by seven different scorers in the 7-1 decision over the South Dundas Lions.

Plummer and Durant cashed in first-period markers. Dan McSheffery and McKelvie made it 4-0 with second-period tallies. Gibson, Oliver Hakarnsson and Tyler Scheepers fired in third-period shots.

Coburn (2), Austin Carruthers, Gibson, McKelvie, Plummer, and McSheffery drew the assists.

Ryan Embury and Chase Beaudry share the North Dundas goaltending chores.

Novice House Demons tame Panthers, win 4-1

KEMPTVILLE — Ethan Guy fired in one goal and picked up an assist on another by Koby Young, helping the North Dundas Novice House "B" Demons tame the Kemptville No. 1 Panthers in their own barn.

Guy's goal, registered at 6:14 of the opening stanza of last week's (Tues., Nov. 30) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game in Kemptville, was unassisted and tied the score 1-1. A solo effort by Owen Richardson recorded with 3:26 left in the period cut the visitors deficit to 2-1 and proved to be the winner. Guy then helped Young give the Demons a 3-1 lead 30 seconds later.

Cam Sherrer's unassisted shot closed the scoring 6:45 before the final buzzer, securing a 4-1 win for North Dundas.

Demons 5 - Aeros 2

A four-goal third period outburst powered the Demons to a 5-2 victory over the Athens Aeros in Chesterville the day before (Mon., Nov. 29).

The visitors grabbed a 1-0 lead in the opening session only to have the home town squad pull even at 1-1 when Sherrer scored on a chance created by Guy and Elyssa McLeod with 6:21 left in period two. Just 27 seconds after that goal, Athens knotted it up at 2-2.

Guy scored unassisted with 7:12 left in the game and tied it at 2-2. He then slapped in a feed from Young and Sherrer at 4:52, putting his team ahead (3-2) for good.

Young teamed up with Sherrer and Tyson Ferguson with 4:15 on the clock and doubled the difference to 4-2. Ferguson then finished the scoring, burying a Young relay 1:09 before time ran out.

Goaltenders James Morley and Toby Byrne took their turns blocking shots for Aron Sherrer's squad.

Christmas cheer

The Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks held their first annual Christmas Food Drive in support of the Dundas County Food Bank at last week's (Fri., Dec. 3) game against the Westport Rideaus. The event raised 165 dollars and 165 food items for the organization. The same evening, the Hawks 50/50 Draw prize worth $2,335 was claimed by Winchester businessman Phil Burns. Burns then turned over $2,000 of his winnings to the food bank. Hawks treasurer John Adams (left), team sponsor Ken Barber (who sold Burns the winning ticket) and Burns completed the generous transaction on Monday (Dec. 6). Food bank administrator Donna Quesnel was not available for the photo.

Russell Novice Coyotes howl at Newmarket hockey tourney

RUSSELL — Brynn Downey took a pass from Abigail Hall and scored the championship goal as the Russell Novice 1 Coyotes edged the Central York Girls Hockey Association (CYGHA) Purple 1-0 in the gold medal game of the 2010 Girls Novice House Hockey Tournament.

Russell opened the competition, held in Newmarket last month (Nov. 26-28), with a 6-0 win over CYHA Flexity Pink. Downey potted a pair a goals, while Myah Bekkers, Makenzie Turcotte, Cadence Logtens and Noemie Gregoire counted the singles.

Bekkers and Downey counted the markers in the Coyotes 2-0 win over CYGHA Crimson in round two. Elizabeth Warren earned an assist in the victory that qualified Russell for a berth in Sunday's semi-final bracket.

Karryanne Lalonde scored the game winner in sudden-death overtime in the Coyotes win over CYGHA Blue. That win advanced Russell to the gold-medal match, which they won 1-0 over CYGHA Purple.

Grace Buiting tended the Coyotes cage and shut down all four of the teams she faced.

Novice 'C2' Demons record 10th win, trim Rangers 5-1

PRESCOTT — Goaltender Liam Antille missed a shutout by a shot as the North Dundas Novice "C2" Demons skated to a 5-1 victory over the host South Grenville "C1" Rangers.

Saturday's (Dec. 4) decision improved the Demons Upper Canada Minor Hockey League record to 10-1-1 and followed a 4-3 victory over the Brockville "C3" Braves in Chesterville last week (Thurs., Dec. 2).

Jaymen Heuff turned a play started by Curtis Bowman into a 1-0 lead with 2:12 left in the first period of Saturday's contest. That difference held up until the final frame, when Curtis Bell pegged a pair of goals and created a 3-0 lead for his team. His first was unassisted at 4:21 and his second was set up by Mason Carr and Owen Carkner-Pocock with 3:41 left in the game. Curtis Bowman netted the fourth goal when he finished a play started by Carr and Bell 17 seconds later.

South Grenville avoided the shutout when a shot fired by Hayden Weedmark found the back of Antille's net with 2:29 on the clock.

Bell's third goal of the game, engineered by Shelby Liezert 49 seconds before the final buzzer, gave the Demons a 5-1 win.

Close one

North Dundas faced the Brockville Braves on home ice in Chesterville and built up 2-0 and 4-2 leads, but wound up recording a slim 4-3 win.

Bell counted all four of the Demons goals, two on unassisted plays and two set up by Carr.

NDDHS Devils suffer one-goal losses in first action of season

LONG SAULT — A pair of late goals led to a pair of losses for the North Dundas District High School Devils in their first action of the new SD&G girls hockey league season.

The opening tournament of the 2010-2011 tri-county campaign was played in Long Sault last week (Tues., Nov. 20) and featured six games involving teams from six schools.

The North Dundas Devils, coached by Michael Deighton, suffered a pair of one-goal losses. They dropped a 2-1 decision to the La Citadelle Patriotes in their first action of the season at 11 am and absorbed a 4-3 setback at the hands of the Holy Trinity Falcons in a 1 pm contest.

Coach Deighton reported that break downs in his teams own zone were costly in both games.

La Citadelle notched the winning goal with 1:22 left on the clock and the Falcons cracked in the deciding shot 49 seconds before the final buzzer.

Deighton said the girls were not happy with their defensive effort, but with 11 returning players, including goalie Lyndsay Chambers, he figures the team will be a contender.

"We have a strong team, but we need to have a practice to improve our defensive play," he said.

New entry

Seaway District High School in Iroquois joined the board's hockey program this year and their girls squad won its first two games, blasting the CCVS Raiders 7-1 and blanking Holy Trinity 2-0.

Vicki Van Hoof had the hat trick in the Spartans 7-1 win. Jessica Whitteker (2-3-5) had five points. Leah Wells and Kristina Swank each had a goal. Bridgette Whitteker, Michellea Morrow and Lesley Ann Tupper earned assists.

Megan Van Allen posted a shutout in her second high school game backing the Spartans in a 2-0 win over Holy Trinity. Morrow scored both Seaway goals in the first period.

Patriotes 2 - Devils 1

The Patriotes broke up a scoreless contest with a second period marker. North Dundas battled back and tie it up 1-1 when Carman Stubbings counted her first high school hockey goal with 6:24 left in the final frame. Chelsey Romans set up the play. The Pats ruined the Devils hopes of registering a tie when Jenna Merpaw fired in the winner 1:22 before the final buzzer.

Falcons 4 - Devils 3

Holy Trinity spoiled another North Dundas rally cracking in the winning goal 49.2 seconds before the final buzzer as they posted a 4-3 victory, their only win in three games (5-1 loss to La Citadelle and 2-0 loss to Seaway).

The game was scoreless after a period. The Falcons streaked into a 3-2 lead on a pair of goals in the final 1:08 of the second period, but the Devils scrambled back, and tie it up 3-3 in the final frame.

North Dundas grabbed a 1-0 lead when Carman Stubbings finished a play started by Bailey Milne at 9:43 of the second. Holy Trinity tied it at the 6:37 mark but the Devils answered at 5:18 with an unassisted goal by Andrea Ceelen. Jodie Hall provided the pass for Romans who netted North Dundas a 3-3 tie with 8:52 left in the game. A North Dundas defensive mistake then set up the winning goal.

The Devils will hit the ice again today (Wed., Dec. 8) when they face the St. Joe's Panthers at 11 am in tournament number two in Williamstown.

Devils roster

The 2010-2011 North Dundas Devils are: Katie Beach, Amanda Carkner, Andrea Ceelen, Lyndsay Chambers, Brittany Cooper (rookie), Taylor Cummins (rookie), Emma Fraser, Jodie Hall, Kiley Johnston, Hope Klein-Swormink (rookie), Randi Melenhorst (rookie), Bailey Milne, Chelsey Romans, Geena Rose, Carman Stubbings, Jenna Warren and coach Michael Deighton.

Winchester Town Hockey

Paas pads points in scoring race, leads McLean's Flyers to 5-3 win

WINCHESTER — Nik Paas potted a pair of goals and earned a couple of helpers in the McLean's Flyers 5-3 victory over the Green Berets.

Paas collected his four points in the opening game of last week's Tuesday night (Nov. 30) twin bill and in the process inflated his lead in the Winchester Town Hockey League scoring race to 23 goals, 19 assists and 23 points.

The third-place Flyers (4-6-0) trailed the fourth-place Berets (1-8-1) 2-0 at the half, but outscored the opposition 5-1 in the closing session.

Travis Rowe pounded in the game-winning goal after taking a feed from Josh "Champ" McLean and Paas with 11:28 left on the clock. Paas (2-2-4) led the offence with four points. Adam Guy, Travis Froats and Rowe snapped in single shots. McLean (2), Derek Vingerhoeds, Scott Baldwin and Phil Duncan drew assists. Jason Chambers posted the win.

Al Christophersen counted two of the Beret markers. Aron Sherrer netted the other. Trevor Morozuk (2) and Mitch Scott provided the passes.

Mauler 7 - Beens 3

Tyler Jones cracked in a pair of pucks and Jeff Lewis nailed in the winning goal as the top-ranked Chesterville Maulers (7-2-1) hammered the second-place Has Been (7-3-0) 7-3 in the tail end of the double dip.

The Maulers manufactured a 4-3 lead in the first half on goals by Dean Moore, Jones, Justin "Footer" Morozuk and Lewis (GWG). The Beens replied with a pair of markers by Kyle Dearing and a single by Darrel Moore. Dean Byvelds (2), Chad Valcour and Bill McRoberts set up those scoring plays.

Jones opened up a 5-3 lead finishing a play started by Morozuk and Lewis at 27:08 of the second half. Trevor Gilmer (from Dean Moore and Rob Thurler at 3:55) and Thurler (unassisted at 1:50) poked in a pair of later goals to move the final tally to 7-3. Chris Currie was the winning 'tender.

Representing Winchester Skating Club at the Morrisburg Invitational were Isabella St-Marseille (left), Alyssa Cooper, Shaelee St-Marseille, and Joelle Menard.

WITHOUT YOU
Imagine a world where no music was playing,
Then think of a church with nobody praying,
If you've ever looked up at a sky with no blue,
Then you've seen a picture of me without you.

Have you ever walked in a garden where nothing was growing?
Or stood by a river where nothing was flowing?
If you've seen a red rose unkissed by the dew,
Then you've seen a picture of me without you.

Can you picture heaven with no angels singing,
Or a quiet Sunday morning with no church bells ringing,
If you've watched the heart of a child break in two,
Then you've seen a picture of me without you.

Forever in My Heart,
Catharine

Mountain Seniors hold last meeting before Christmas

by Huguette Shaver

MOUNTAIN — President Huguette Shaver opened the meeting on Wed., Nov. 24, welcoming the various members and guests.

The group sang "O Canada" and recited the Lord's Prayer. A minute of silence was observed in memory of Lorne Crowder and Margaret Hyndman, followed by a reminder that the annual membership fee of $5 is coming due.

Minutes of the September meeting were read by Evelyn Francis and approved as read, with corrections made by Shaver. Dave Scharf then presented the treasurer's report, while Irene Crowder gave an update from kitchen committee. The card report was not available for this month, while the hall report commented that the premises were recently left with unsanitary situations. Muriel Milne then indicated that after the seniors' use the hall, it is always cleaned up very well. The United Senior Citizens of Ontario report from Shirley Levere mentioned the group's meeting in Long Sault in October and confirmed that the Spring Rally will take place in May in Russell.

The club also received an invitation from the Hartford Retirement Centre in Morrisburg to attend a luncheon, welcoming Winona Hallpenny at their residence. Due to the holiday's heavy schedule, the lunch will take place in January. If anyone's interested, please contact Shaver at 613-989-3111. The Mountain and District Lions Club Christmas Food Drive is underway, and they will gladly accept goods for the needy, as well as knitting donations for the Christmas exchange.

After a long search to replace the Mountain Seniors' current president, Audrey Gibson has accepted the post for the 2011-2012 term. The group congratulates her and wishes her the best. Also, it is with a bit of sadness that Evelyn Francis is resigning from her secretarial duties. Francis has been the longest running secretary of the group and she has done a fabulous job. Iris Smith has accepted the position.

Today (Wed., Dec. 8) is the group's annual Christmas dinner catered by the Heckston ladies. Tickets are $10 for members and $12 for non-members.

The group's euchre event is scheduled for Mon., Jan. 17 at 1 pm, while the next regular meeting is scheduled for Wed., Jan. 26 at 11 am.

Winchester Golden Years Society to reconvene in January

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Golden Years Society has held its last meeting before the new year, with the next gathering scheduled to take place on Thurs., Jan. 20.

On Thurs., Dec. 2 at 7 pm, the Winchester Lions entertained the seniors with a delicious turkey Christmas dinner. President Debra Ann McBride welcomed the members before dinner and introduced The Rivermen, who entertained with Christmas music and singalongs. Many draws took place all evening. Thanks went to the Lions.

In related news, the Winchester Golden Years Society held its general meeting on Thurs., Nov. 18 at the Lions Hall.

McBride welcomed 69 members and one guest. Doris Cross played piano for the singing of "O Canada." The Lord's Prayer was said, and one minute of silence was observed in memory of members Lorraine Hutt, Mary Dunn, and Christena Cumming, who had passed away.

Marlene Faulkner read the birthdays and anniversaries for November and December, and they were acknowledged by the members. McBride presented a plaque to Warren Jackson. Five new members were welcomed.

McBride read a prayer written by a nine-year-old girl, Alexandria Parker, for Remembrance Day. The minutes and treasurer's report were read, while old and new business were dealt with, and all committees were heard from. McBride spoke to the members about a summer convention trip.

Guest Rev. Bruce North said grace before a potluck lunch was enjoyed. Many jokes, poems, music, and singalongs were enjoyed.

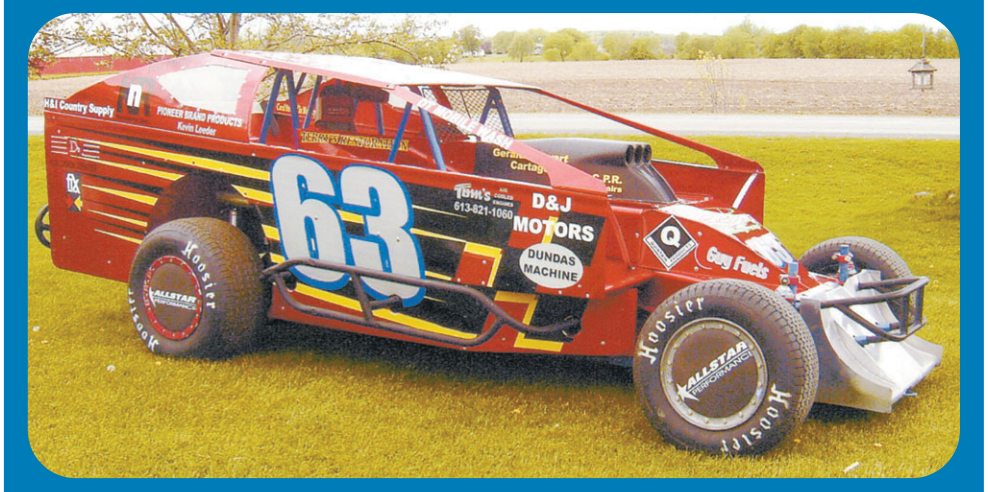
Thank You!



The Stewart Racing Team (Sportsman Division) would like to express a special thanks to all our sponsors this year. We had a great season, finishing second in the points at Cornwall Motor Speedway and second in the points at Brockville Ontario Speedway, losing first place by only two points. We were lucky enough to get wins at three race tracks, Cornwall, Brockville and Brighton International Speedway. The win at Brighton was a Syracuse qualifier, so we headed off to Syracuse, New York on Thanksgiving weekend. Although we didn't win the big race, we did win a heat race which is excellent, considering all the talent that's gathered there from Eastern Ontario and the United States.

A very special thanks goes out to our driver again this year, Chris Herbison from Brockville, and to our pit crew: Chris Stewart, Daryl Stewart, Jamie Roderick and Bobby Skuce.

Although we had the misfortune of having a blown engine, the boys were able to get a new one, thanks to some very special sponsors, and were able to get the car back together without missing a week of racing.

So once again a special thank you to all our sponsors. Without you none of this would be possible.

See you all in the spring.
