Schools get green funding

CORNWALL — Local schools are to receive more than $17.5 million in “green funding” from the province.

The United Counties will see $8,308,408 for the Upper Canada District School Board and $3,472,913 for the Eastern Ontario Catholic District School Board. Meanwhile, $2,592,762 has been allotted for French-speaking public schools and $3,150,797 for French-speaking Catholic schools. Therefore, a total of $17,524,880 will be funnelled into the region.

The provincial government has committed to a two-year investment to help school boards save energy and money, as well as sustain more than 5,000 jobs, according to a prepared media statement from the office of SD&SG MPP Jim Brownell.

Of the $550-million investment, $400 million will be allocated to conduct energy audits to help manage and conserve energy as well as retrofit buildings with new energy-efficient heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems, and boilers.

Construction is expected to start as early as this summer.

“By retrofitting our schools, we are showing our students that we are becoming a more responsible society when it comes to our environment,” said Brownell.

The remaining $150 million will be allocated on a project-by-project basis to improve the learning environment for students currently in energy inefficient portables and schools in Ontario.

The Dundas County Players opened Ten Lost Years, a play about the Great Depression, at the Old Town Hall on Fri., April 24. The cast of men and women play a variety of characters during the musical — homeless youth, factory workers, farmers, and even soldiers from the Second World War. Pictured are Rick Ventrella (front), Tony Glen, Matt Easterbrook, Charles Laurin, and Cameron Willis. The players will stage more shows this weekend — Fri., May 1 and Sat., May 2 at 7:30 pm, as well as a Sunday matinee on May 3 at 2 pm.

North Dundas ‘lean’ on managers, study finds

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Compared to similar municipalities, North Dundas employs relatively few managers, according to one study.

Municipal management consulting firm Gazda, Houlne & Associates (GHA) presented North Dundas councillors with a report on Tues., April 21. The township hired the firm earlier this year to take an objective look at North Dundas’ staffing structure, financial compensation, and employee workload.

According to GHA analyst Tom Gazda, North Dundas’ management-level staff count is “on the lean side.” The township employs six full-time managers at the superintendent or first-line supervisory level. The 11 other municipalities in North Dundas’ comparator group employ an average of eight management-level workers. Being “lean” on managers, said Gazda, is a good thing.

“I wouldn’t want to be here telling you that you’re fat,” Gazda told councillors, evoking a few guffaws.

GHA also found North Dundas has seven employees at the director level and above — close to the average of six in the comparator group.

Gazda had a number of recommendations for North Dundas. GHA measured North Dundas employees’ pay, relative to other workers in the comparator group. Gazda explained that, ideally, the township should pay near the 50th percentile when compared to other workers in similar municipalities.

In layman’s terms, said Gazda, don’t overpay your workers, but don’t be stingy either, or your best people will leave in search of greener pastures.

North Dundas’ CEO is paid exactly at the 50th percentile, said Gazda, which is good. However, the positions of director and manager-supervisor-foreperson are not at the comparative level. The director position is languishing around the 25th percentile; the manager-supervisor-foreperson, at the 23rd percentile.

Meanwhile, the technical and administrative support position is at the 68th percentile. One category, which GHA lists as “outside support” is at the 60th percentile.

GHA also developed a new, recommended salary structure for 2009.

While GHA was technically presenting a report on April 21, Gazda also delivered something akin to a sales pitch. GHA provides a service called the Performance Management Program. GHA can monitor employees’ work on the job, so their performance can be factored into their salary.

Gazda recommended council talk to other municipalities using the Performance Management Program to see if it would be worth the investment.

Councillor Eric Duncan said GHA’s system might be a bit too complex for a township as small as North Dundas. Still, Duncan said, it would be nice if councillors had an objective way to measure employee performance.

“We’re not there every day in the office,” Duncan pointed out.

After the presentation, council discussed specific details about employee salaries in a private, in-camera discussion.

GHA’s full study was not available to the public, as it contains detailed information about salaries.

The study cost $17,000 to complete, according to municipal staff.

NDDHS ranks 407th in Fraser Institute list

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

CHESTERVILLE — The Fraser Institute has released its annual Report Card on Ontario's Secondary Schools, and the outcome for North Dundas District Secondary School is mediocre.

Of the 718 English and French, public and Catholic Ontario secondary schools ranked, NDDHS finished 407th.

In contrast, Osgoode Township High School performed much better, ranking 81st.

The rankings are based on the performance of Grade 9s, who write the Education Quality Accountability Office (EQAO) mathematics tests, and Grade 10s, who write the Ontario Secondary School Literacy Tests (OSSLT).

This year's edition of the controversial report allowed parents and teachers to compare a school's academic performance over time, as well as see important demographic information.

"Parents have repeatedly shown they value the ability to track the performance of their child's school and compare it to other schools," said Peter Cowley, the Fraser Institute's director of school performance studies.

The report also indicated the average parental income along with each ranking, so parents could keep socioeconomics in mind while going through the lists.

However, parental income was not a factor in the overall rankings.

"The results from these schools show the schools' teachers and administrators have found ways to ensure that their students succeed," Cowley said. "Just because a student comes from a family with a below-average income does not automatically mean they will do poorly in school."

However, critics argue that the Fraser Institute is biased toward schools in high-income areas with few social problems and high parental involvement. Often, these schools do well on the lists, while schools in low-income areas — which often teach kids dealing with problems at home — fare poorly in the rankings.

The average parental income of students attending NDDHS is $49,000 per year.

The institute does not include First Nations schools or private schools in the study because they don't have to write the EQAO tests.

Phone calls to NDDHS were not returned by press time.

Dairyfest alive but unwell

WINCHESTER — It's true that Dairyfest is scheduled to return again this summer, but the overall size of the event is yet to be determined.

The Township of North Dundas has stepped away from any organizing duties and left the job up to a group of community members.

Gina Welch has taken on the chair position for the Dairyfest group, and she held a meeting on Tues., April 7 to form a committee. "It went really well," Welch said, referring to the committee meeting.

The Dairyfest committee held another meeting on Tues., April 28 to draw support from local businesses and other groups.

Currently, Dairyfest is set to run Sat., August 8 and Sun., August 9, Welch noted.

"We want the community involved to bring Dairyfest back to its community roots," Welch said.

Teachers approach agreement

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

BROCKVILLE — The Upper Canada District School Board has reached a tentative agreement with its elementary-school teachers.

The teachers, who are represented by the Elementary Teacher's Federation of Ontario (ETFO), Upper Canada Local, came to an agreement with the UCDSB on Fri., April 24.

The agreement will require ratification by both parties, as well as approval by Ontario Minister of Education Kathleen Wynne.

"Our bargaining team has done a tremendous job," said ETFO president David Clegg. "They identified the common ground needed to reach a deal and worked around the clock to make it happen."

The ETFO local chapter represents approximately 1,050 elementary-school teachers.

The last contract between the two sides expired in August 2008, and the new contract will be retroactive to September 1, 2008.

"I want to thank both teams for working to get a deal that is fair to teachers and allows us to collectively pursue our goal of a 90-per-cent graduation rate," said board chair Greg Pietersma.

"We are only one deal away from having four years of stability so that we can focus on keeping our eye on the main thing — creating vibrant, engaging, and stimulating classrooms for our students," he added.

The board plans to vote on the agreement before a Fri., May 15 deadline, while the teachers expect to vote on Mon., May 11.

Council notes from South Dundas

B & B adding restaurant

WILLIAMSBURG — Township of South Dundas council members were addressed by Ron Curry and Michael Burton, owners and operators of Russell Manor Bed and Breakfast in Morrisburg at the regular Tues., April 21 council meeting.

The two men, along with Donald J. W. Lewis, manager of planning and expanding enforcement for the township, spoke to council about the facility. The bed and breakfast currently is zoned as a second-density residential area under the township's zoning bylaw amendment. However, the expansion would require a special zoning exception.

The bed and breakfast can accommodate 8 to 10 people within the four suites, and Curry and Burton would like to construct a 24-table restaurant.

"It's an excellent idea," said Mayor Charles Barkley. "It fits with the direction we're [the township] trying to go."

Councillor Steven Byvelds raised concern about potential air pollution from the restaurant's exhaust fans, but both Curry and Burton assured council that would not be a problem for neighbouring residents.

All councillors agreed to the motion, and it was carried.

Love South Dundas

Pastor Clarence Witten addressed council to discuss the Love South Dundas program that is scheduled to run from Sun., May 31 to Sun., June 14. The program will see all church members within the township work together to service the community. Witten noted that members could clean up parks, repair vandalized areas, serve seniors, as well as do yard work for community residents.

"Mainly, we're looking to do random acts of kindness," Witten said.

The event is being organized to show the community that the religious sector cares about the township.

"I think this is an excellent idea," said Mayor Barkley.

Witten was seeking not only moral support, but some amount of financial assistance from council, too. The current plan is to hold a "grand finale" celebration at the end of the event. Witten said they hoped to use the arena, because of its size, and wished for council to waive the rental fee.

Donald W. Lewis, manager of recreation and facilities, said he would look into whether the arena was free on the needed date of Sun., June 14.

Overall, council agreed with this idea, but made no mention of waving the rental fee.

Public Works purchases

Manager of public works Hugh Garlough informed council of expected upcoming purchases. Currently, the United Counties of SD&G are operating under a joint tendering process to make acquisitions from local businesses. The purchased items, such as sign posts and corrugated steel pipe, are necessary items for the public works department.

Garlough said this is a good opportunity to "purchase supplies at a reasonable cost."

The items are covered under the 2009 budget.

Universal Terminals

Donald J.W. Lewis, manager of planning and enforcement, informed council that a public meeting about the proposed zoning bylaw amendment for a Universal Terminals expansion is currently being set up for some time in early May.

Community group wants dog park

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG

About 50 community members filled the South Dundas council chambers during a regular meeting on Tues., April 21.

Tracy Veinotte, head of the Park Pals committee, addressed council about setting aside land for a dog park in Morrisburg. The community members were there for moral support, as well as to show council that other residents support the park initiative.

Veinotte told council that the Park Pals group had distributed surveys throughout the area, from Winchester to Morrisburg and in between, and the feedback was positive.

"Of the 880 distributed, 298 were returned," he said.

The Park Pals group also spent time in front of Valu-Mart in Morrisburg, helping people understand the survey and ensuring they filled it out properly, Veinotte noted.

After tabulating the returned surveys, Park Pals determined that 95.6 per cent of people were in favour of a dog park; 46 per cent would use it at least three times in a week; 31 per cent agreed to volunteer with the establishing and operating the dog park; and seven per cent of the feedback came from outside Morrisburg.

Veinotte and Park Pals are looking for support from the township's 50-50 cost-sharing program. This initiative can fund half a project's total start-up costs.

"It certainly seems like an excellent idea," said councillor Delbert Jones. "I would just like to see a start-up budget first."

Veinotte estimated it would cost upwards of $50,000 to begin operating the dog park. She said the Park Pals would raise $25,000 for fencing, water fountains, and proper signage.

She also said an irrigation system for the land might be another expense — the grass would need to stay healthy to withstand the wear and tear. However, an irrigation system would be fully dependent on the park's location.

Council determined that a list of potential areas would be drawn up to help determine the most suitable dog park location.

"As far as the land goes, beggars can't be choosers," Veinotte said. "But we don't want to be isolated."

Councillor Steven Byvelds mentioned potentially using privately owned land for the park.

However, Veinotte said the Park Pals had looked into that, but within the Dogs Owners' Liability Act, the insurance rates and fees would be far too high.

In the end, council agreed in principle with the proposed dog park and moved to invest more time to research potential sites and get a clearer picture of the overall operation costs.

Money for South Dundas

Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon spoke before South Dundas Township Council at its regular meeting on Tues., April 21. Lauzon was on hand to present the township with a cheque totalling $350,373.48. The money is to go toward the township's infrastructure costs, including the gas tax, and is a part of the Economic Action Plan. Councillors Robert Gillard (left), Jim Graham, Steven Byvelds, Delbert Jones, and Mayor Charles Barkley accepted the cheque from Lauzon.

'Green' decorations

Blythe Armstrong (left), Taylor Ace, Reagan Brugmans, and Olivia Wouters won the door decorating contest at North Dundas District High School during Earth Week, which the school celebrated April 20 to 24. Students were asked to decorate their classroom doors with environmentally friendly or reusable materials, and the girls made what they call a 'CD tree' for the door. Their creativity won them first prize, which means the Grade 12 business technology class will get an ice cream sundae party. Chloë Lajoie, a member of the Grade 12 leadership class, organized the Earth Week activities, which included quizzes, daily quotes about environmentalism over the PA system, litterless lunch day, a recycling day in the cafeteria, and a "wear green and blue" spirit day. "It was kind of a lot to handle," said Lajoie. "But I think it worked out pretty well."

POLICE BLOTTER

Collision kills two seniors

LONG SAULT — On Sun., April 26 around 9:50 am, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a two-vehicle collision at the intersection of Mille Roches Road and County Road 2.

Two Long Sault residents — driver Mary Hanniman, 87, and passenger Pauline Ray, 83 — died after a GMC pickup truck collided with their Toyota Tercel, according to police.

The pickup truck's driver — William Aleck, 54, of Morrisburg — was hospitalized, as was his 53-year-old passenger, Beverly Aleck, also of Morrisburg. The pair sustained minor injuries. They were treated and released from hospital.

Police arrest intoxicated driver

WINCHESTER — SD&G OPP officers say they caught a 46-year-old male drunk behind the wheel during a traffic stop on Fri., April 17.

Officers stopped the vehicle on County Road 43 in the Township of North Dundas around 7 pm. They arrested the man and charged him for operating a vehicle while impaired, as well as driving with a blood alcohol limit exceeding 80 milligrams. He is scheduled to appear in Morrisburg court on Tues., June 2.

Another drunk caught behind wheel

BRINSTON — On Sat., April 25 around 9:30 pm, OPP officers stopped a 39-year-old male driver on County Road 16 in South Dundas. Police say the man was drunk. They arrested him and issued charges for driving while intoxicated with a blood alcohol level exceeding 80 milligrams.

The man is scheduled to appear in Morrisburg court on Fri., June 5.

Fire not suspicious

WILLIAMSBURG — Officers responded to a residential fire on County Road 18 on Fri., April 24 around 9 am.

The Williamsburg Fire Department attended the scene and extinguished the blaze. Officials say the fire wasn't suspicious. There were no reported injuries.

Krolo co-headlines comedy night

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — For comedian Tony Krolo, it's important to not take yourself too seriously on stage — at least if you're performing in Canada.

The veteran comic said he finds the average Canadian crowd responds to modesty and self-deprecation, and he suspects local audiences won't be much different.

"It seems really important to Canadians that you have that sense of humility," remarked Krolo, who is scheduled to perform at the South Mountain Agricultural Hall on Sat., May 2.

Krolo is one of the two headliners scheduled to perform at the Yuk Yuk's comedy evening. He'll share the stage with fellow comedian Chris Quigley, as well as opening-act performer Peter Grunstra.

Krolo hails from Toronto, although he's lived in Montreal and Oakville, too. His dad wasn't around much during Krolo's childhood, and as a boy, Krolo turned to the television for company.

"My mom worked shifts and sometimes was gone pretty late, so the TV was my babysitter," he said.

Late-night programming exposed Krolo to Johnny Carson and Steve Martin, who were his early teachers.

Headliner Tony Krolo is scheduled to perform at the Yuk Yuk's comedy night in South Mountain on Sat., May 2.

Krolo swiftly became a Robin Williams fan as well, and at school, Krolo began mimicking Williams' material during impromptu school-yard performances.

"Being humorous was a way to meet new friends," said Krolo, who moved around as a kid, and always found himself trying to fit in at a new school.

After attending Sheridan College for advertising, Krolo decided to take a stab at being a professional comic. It worked out, and since then, he has participated in many stand-up tours in the U.S. and Europe. Krolo has also acted in, and written for, numerous television comedy programs.

Krolo has scaled back his touring now that he's married and has two stepchildren. In fact, the two kids are a constant source of comic inspiration (as Krolo jokingly points out, he gets to love his children by choice, as he's not "biologically inclined" to like either of them).

While Krolo has never visited South Mountain before, he's performed for his fair share of rural crowds. These shows tend to go one of two ways, said Krolo — rural people either love laughing at themselves, or they don't.

"You find out pretty quickly which [type of crowd] it is," said Krolo with a chuckle.

But Krolo added that, in general, rural audiences tend not to be much different than urban ones. Krolo said he doesn't have to tailor his routine much for rural shows, as country folk respond to television references and current affairs jokes just as much as city people do.

"They actually tend to be a lot more 'hip' than you'd expect," Krolo said.

Fraser Institute rankings aren't everything

Before anyone gets angry — or even outraged — about the latest Fraser Institute school rankings, let's take a moment to think about it critically.

Yes, it's true that North Dundas District High School fared somewhat poorly (407 out of 718) in the Report Card on Ontario Secondary Schools. However, the institute doesn't consider enough important factors. This ranking list is based on the performance of Grade 9 students, who write the Education Quality Accountability Office (EQAO) mathematics test, and Grade 10 students, who write the Ontario Secondary School Literacy Tests (OSSLT).

Basically, a select group of students determine whether a secondary school is good or not.

Is this right?

Yes, standardized tests are nothing to be afraid of, providing they are administered properly. But to rate a high school's performance based solely on these two tests is ludicrous.

Realistically, students in Grade 9 and 10 aren't necessarily at the highest level of maturity. They're still learning basic skills — honing their writing techniques and improving their critical thinking abilities.

Shouldn't the Grade 12 students play a role in the rankings? They are the ones who have worked for four years to do the assignments and write the tests, and they are the ones who will be the shining stars of the future. Most importantly, Grade 12 students have spent four years in high school, and they will give the public a more accurate picture of what kind of graduates a school will produce. We're not necessarily suggesting the province saddle Grade 12 students with standardized tests. But it's unfair to judge an institution by the one-time performance of young teenagers.

The Fraser Institute's report card generates a lot of publicity. Certainly, they feel the results are fair and accurate, but that's merely a one-sided opinion.

Also, the institute is clearly sensitive to this level of criticism, having posted press releases over the years defending their rankings and putting more focus on the schools.

The Fraser Institute, a right-wing think tank, has developed a ranking system that favours schools in high-income areas while being grossly insensitive to poverty issues. In this year's report, the Fraser Institute paid lip service to socioeconomics by indicating the average parental income in each region in the report card. However, these statistics weren't factored into the ranking system. Perhaps the schools should offer two rankings — one where parental income plays a role, the other where socioeconomics aren't considered.

If schools are performing below the provincial average, hold everyone accountable. It's simply unfair to judge teachers by the performance of Grade 9 and 10 students.

Until the Fraser Institute changes their practice and takes the big picture into consideration, the rankings should be taken with a grain of salt.

Afternoon stroll for charity

Austin Carkner of Ormond was the proud owner of a pair of twin colts this week in 1949. The colts were born to Carkner's 17-year-old mare.

1959

The construction industry in Winchester was booming this week in 1959. The new water system was being built, gas lines were being installed for the Ault plant, and tenders were being accepted for the $500,000 hospital expansion for the new wing of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

1969

Stormont-Dundas MP Lucien Lamoureux told the Winchester Press residents of Winchester would have a new post office within the year. According to Lamoureux, the new building would cost about $50,000.

1979

At its regular membership meeting the Timothy Christian School board presented a proposal for a $47,000 gymnasium that would be built onto the existing school. The board received unanimous support for the project but announced that construction would only start after enough money to cover the cost was collected.

1989

Winchester council agreed to a plan that would see the village buy the property owned by resident Bill Sherwood. Reeve Larry Gray said that the village was more interested in using the land than the house that sat on it. Councillor George Hanes said the land would be ideal for a parking lot.

Breakfast raises $2,000 for Hospital Heelers

by Jan Clapp

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Hospital Heelers collected about $2,000 during a Sat., April 25 breakfast at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. More than 100 women attended the event to support the breakfast and the Heelers, who are participating in the Weekend to End Breast Cancer this June in Ottawa. Seventy-five per cent of the money raised has been earmarked for the Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

The Heelers, along with St. Paul's Ladies Aid, teamed up to prepare the meal and a silent auction for guests. For the past three years, the St. Paul's Ladies Aid group has organized breakfasts for charitable causes.

With Arlene Nesbitt playing organ music in the sanctuary, the ladies mingled and bid on an array of items. Jan Clapp welcomed the ladies and, after grace, the women served breakfast.

The room was decorated in the colours associated with breast cancer awareness — pink and white. Guests received special party favours and took home breast cancer support ribbons. Specially decorated cookies functioned both as table decorations and take-home treats.

Following the meal, everyone moved into the sanctuary for a program. Kathy Spruit introduced Debbie Gallagher, who sang a selection of songs.

Libby Pelkey, one of the Winchester Hospital Heelers, introduced guest speaker Linda Eagen, president and CEO of the Ottawa Regional Cancer Foundation. Eagen shared updated cancer statistics and encouraging news about cancer research and improvements in treatment. She also stressed the importance of fundraising.

Phyllis McMaster presented Eagen with a pink-and-white floral arrangement provided by Durrant's Flowers. Doris Baker then announced the successful bidders, and door prizes were handed out. The women thanked businesses and individuals for their support.

Double-girlpower

It was a double-girlpower effort on Sat., April 25, when members of the Winchester Hospital Heelers and St. Paul's Ladies Aid teamed up to prepare a charity breakfast for breast cancer research and care. Saturday's event raised about $2,000. Front row: Phyllis McMaster (left), Libby Pelkey, Doris Baker,

Doing my part to help find a cure

My name is Amy Carkner, and this is my first year participating in the Weekend to End Breast Cancer. It won't be my last. I grew up in Winchester and just recently moved back after more than 10 years away. It was the best move I could have ever made for myself and my two young children. I really wanted them to grow up in the same surroundings as I did. The thought of being back with family and loved ones is what drew me back home. As I'm a single mom, having my family around for support is very important.

I have worked in Cancer research, including Breast Cancer research, for the past five years. For the last three years, I was working with the NCIC Clinical Trials Group at Queen's University in Kingston. As a Research Associate, a mom, and a daughter, breast cancer research is a cause that is very important to me. When I moved back to this area in January, I began a new job with the Ottawa Hospital Cancer Centre. While I no longer work on breast cancer trials, it is still very important to me to continue to do my part to find a cure.

I've had family members afflicted with this disease — my Aunt Sharon (my father's sister) fought cancer and won, and my Aunt Kathy is currently battling it. My sister-in-law's mother unfortunately lost her fight with breast cancer eight years ago. When I walk in the Weekend to End Breast Cancer, I'll be participating for all those who have won, are currently fighting, and those who have lost their battle with this terrible disease.

To support our participation, Janice Carkner and I are holding a fundraising car wash and bottle drive on Sat., May 23 at D's Collision Centre on Dawley Drive in Winchester. Our bottle drive runs from now until the end of May. Please contact us if you have any empty beer or wine bottles you would like to donate — we will even arrange to pick them up. I can be reached at 613-858-5821. We may even go door to door, asking for bottle donations — so don't be surprised if we knock on your door. You can also drop bottles off during the car wash on May 23. Please come out that day, and let us make your car shine.

Meet the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Heelers

Also on May 23, the Heelers will hold a giant garage sale at Henderson Hall. The sale starts at 8 am and runs until 3 pm. Please consider donating any unwanted items to our garage sale — you can contact any team member to arrange for a pick-up. And don't forget to stop by the sale. There will be something for everyone.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

SDLA gets large crowd

The Editor:

The Stormont Dundas Landowners Association wishes to thank everyone who donated to a very successful landowners meeting on Sat., April 18 at the Finch Community Centre. Our guest speakers were very informative and honest about our political problems of today. Two hundred people attended, but realistically, that number should have been 10 times that. We must take responsibility for the actions of our politicians. Change will only happen if we make it happen. There's way too much government! Tammy Hart

Arctic friends in children's book inspire readers

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

BRINSTON — It's taken about a decade, but Pauline Wood Doupe has published her book for children about northern Canada.

The Brinston resident has written an eight-volume series called My Arctic Circle of Friends. Designed for children living in either the south or the north of Canada, these children's stories teach both groups of kids a little bit about northern culture — and about being a good person.

The book features illustrations by Vicki Fawcett and photos by Brenda Belair. The characters have Inuktitut names, but the stories are bilingual (in both Inuktitut and English).

While only the first volume for My Arctic Circle of Friends has been published so far, Wood Doupe said she hopes the entire series will be commercially available soon.

Life partners Wood Doupe and Belair spend months up north every year, as Belair has a job with the municipal government of Pangnirtung, Nunavut.

Wood Doupe said the north is perfect because it allows her to get a lot of work done. "When you're up there, you feel like nobody knows you exist," she said.

She said it's amazing to live side-by-side with northern people, who hunt and fish almost every day.

"I think their land, and their culture, is so interesting," she said.

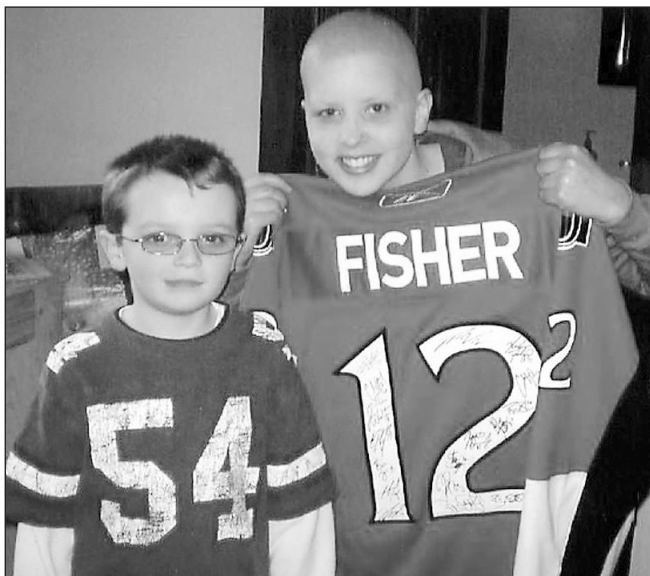

Both women said they miss their families — especially their children and grandchildren. The women fly down to the south as often as they can.

Wood Doupe said five per cent of the profits from the book will go to a children's charity. She said there's a popular hip-hop program in Pangnirtung for youth, and she said she hopes to donate to the initiative to help keep it running.

Writer Pauline Wood Doupe (left) recently published the first volume of her children's series, My Arctic Circle of Friends. Brenda Belair (right) took the book's photographs. The pair spends several months each year up north in Pangnirtung, Nunavut with their trusty travel dog, Maggie May.

In the spirit of giving

With the help of school friends, family, and neighbours, Owen Richardson (left) of South Mountain raised $316 instead of receiving birthday gifts. Richardson used the money to buy gifts for Brittany Moore, a young girl from Smiths Falls who is battling cancer. Richardson was able to acquire a Mike Fisher jersey autographed by Ottawa Senators players, and a glass bead necklace.

Volunteer honoured

Geraldine Fitzsimmons (centre) of Iroquois received the Jim Brownell Trillium Award during the annual Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry Provincial Liberal Association and Jim Brownell Trillium Dinner held on Thurs., April 16 in Cornwall. Fitzsimmons was honoured for her volunteer work within the riding, and here she is pictured with SD&SG MPP Jim Brownell and Sudbury MPP Rick Bartolucci.

INTRODUCING LOYALL™
FOR A LIFETIME OF HEALTH THROUGH BETTER NUTRITION.

YOU CAN COUNT ON LOYALL™—THE WAY THEY COUNT ON YOU.

At Nutrena, making better pet food is our top priority. Our Loyall formulas were created to meet the special nutritional needs of your pets, from puppies to mature dogs. For example, starches are great sources of energy, but they must be consistently cooked. So we developed Opti-Cook™, a special process that makes starches easier to digest. These formulas also contain a natural source of glucosamine, Omega-3 and Omega-6 fatty acids, plus organic trace minerals for healthy skin and coat. Available in formulas for every stage of your pet's life.

We've been dedicated to taking care of animals for more than 80 years, and we understand the bond between you and your pets.

Little red school house turns 100

A key team of organizers and heirloom experts organized an antique show and silent auction for Marvelville's little red school house on Fri., April 24 and Sat., April 25. Marvelville community hall celebrates with antique fair MARVELVILLE — Like any centenarian, Marvelville's little red school house is showing its age. The school-turned-community centre is celebrating its 100th birthday this year, and if the building is to survive, it will need some repairs and maintenance work.

That's why the school's supporters organized an antique show, bake sale, and silent auction on Fri., April 24 and Sat., April 25.

"We thought an antique fair might be a good way to raise some money," said organizer Christy Hill.

Hill said the school house survived its mid-20th-century conversion from educational institution to community centre. The facility, she said, remains a "focal point" in the region, a host site for Christmas concerts and card parties.

The school is also somewhat famous, as the "Marvelville Marvel" — NHL hockey player and coach Larry Robinson — once honed his craft on a nearby ice rink.

Hill said the school house recently had its toilets repaired. She said she hopes the building will soon be wheelchair accessible.

"The brick work on the outside is in really rough shape," she added.

Hill thanked the community groups, individuals, and businesses owners who contributed time, money, and donations to last weekend's event.

"Everybody's shared the work," said Hill. "It has been phenomenal."

A number of professional dealers and experts helped out with the fair, including Kevin Colgan, who appears on the television program the Canadian Antiques Roadshow. Colgan volunteered his time and performed appraisals for $5 a sitting. A number of curious antique owners dropped by to find out just how much their grandmother's old jewellery cost, or learn the purpose of a strange family heirloom no longer used in today's society.

"We had a very nice day," said Colgan. "I haven't been too flummoxed."

OVSGA invests $100,000 in dairy research centre

KEMPTVILLE — The Ottawa Valley Seed Growers Association (OVSGA) has decided to donate $100,000 toward a $750,000 robotic dairy research centre at the Kemptville Campus of the University of Guelph.

The $100,000 is part of a collective $160,000 being distributed by the OVSGA.

During the association's board of directors meeting on Mon., April 20, the decision to donate was made.

The money will be funnelled into the project through the Kemptville College Foundation (KCF).

KCF president Colin Carson said the $100,000 pledge "brings us one step closer" to reaching the local fundraising goal of $360,000.

In addition to $100,000 for the dairy centre, OVSGA directors have set aside $20,000 for four Kemptville crop research projects, and $30,000 over two years toward the purchase of a custom research combine harvester for the college, with a total estimated price of $370,000.

The association has also confirmed $6,000 for the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario, $1,500 for the regional 4-H show at the Metcalfe Fair, $200 to 4-H in each of the 11 eastern counties, $250 each to counties with 4-H field crop clubs, $200 to a regional 4-H diagnostic day, $500 each to two regional soil and crop associations, and $750 to the agricultural component of the 2009 Central Canada Exhibition.

The funds have been drawn from proceeds acquired during the annual Ottawa Valley Farm Show.

There weren't only exotic creatures for sale on Saturday — Chesterville resident Donna Martin (above) picked up this Rhode Island red, a common breed of chicken.

Birds of a feather

Birds (and bird lovers) flocked to the South Mountain Fairgrounds on Sat., April 25 for Oxford on Rideau Bird Club's exotic bird auction. Spencerville's Donald Lecroix (above) transferred his newly acquired Indian runner ducks to a larger box for transport home. Auctioneer John Joynt (left) kept the bids going.

NDDHS wins SD&G Envirothon

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

MAPLE RIDGE — North Dundas District High School (NDDHS)'s senior Envirothon team will proceed to the provincial competition.

Gijs Cornelissen, Rose Murton, Mike Van Gorp, Tom Henbest, and Hannah McClenaghan won the SD&G regional Envirothon competition at the Cooper Marsh near Cornwall on Tues., April 21. The senior team is registered to compete at the Envirothon provincials this May in St. George, Ont. If they're successful at that meet, the team could compete at the North-American competition in late summer.

Meanwhile, NDDHS' junior team placed third, narrowly losing second place to Cornwall Collegiate Vocational School.

Both junior and senior teams met regularly throughout the school year to prepare for the environmental education competition. They studied soils, forests, wildlife, and aquatics, as well as the special topic for the year — biodiversity in a changing world. The group also participated in field days, where they attended workshops and lectures.

Teacher supervisor Kelly Durant said she's "elated."

"Once again, I've got a really, really strong team," said Durant, adding that ND-

DHS captured the bronze medal at provincials in 2008. "I would be hopeful that we will, once again, do well."

Junior squad comes third

Student council captures two awards

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

MAPLE RIDGE — North Dundas District High School (NDDHS)'s student council has captured two awards recognizing the group's hard work and dedication.

The councillors were recognized for being the most creative, and most successful, council during an Upper Canada District School Board Student Senate meeting on Fri., April 24.

In addition to their regular studies, the 10 councillors must oversee many key events, from school clothing sales to prom.

According to teacher advisor Stephen Henderson, this year's elected team has not only organized more events, but pumped up the school spirit, too. That's why he decided to take the time to prepare an application and nominate the council for the Upper Canada District School Board awards.

"They're probably the most active and successful council that we've had since I've been here," said Henderson, who supervises council activities along with fellow teacher Mike Deighton.

Henderson said that in previous years, 60 kids would show up to a dance at NDDHS. A recent bash attracted 300 teens.

"[This year's councillors] have just found a way for students to come back to school-sponsored activities," said Henderson.

Student council co-president Tom Henbest said it was nice the judges recognized his team.

"It makes all the time and energy we put in very worthwhile," he said. "Everyone on the council has certainly worked very hard."

Greenough leads Senior Devils with 17-point game

AVONMORE — Reid Greenough, fly half and captain of the North Dundas District High School Senior Devils rugby team, scored 17 points and led his team to a convincing 22-0 win over the CCVS Golden Raiders.

Greenough and the Devils took part in a pre-season tournament hosted by the Tagwi High School Warriors on Thurs., April 23 and finished the day with a win, a loss, and the second-place trophy.

North Dundas opened the 12-team tournament waxing the Golden Raiders 22-0 and finished up losing 7-0 to Ridgemont High School of Ottawa.

Greenough touched down two tries, added a pair of converts and a penalty drop kick against CCVS. Nathan Kelly supplied the other try.

"The boys played a very disciplined game, very few penalties," noted Devils coach Will Van Geyzel. "Reid [Greenough] called a very calm game out there."

Van Geyzel, in his first season coaching NDDHS, said he was encouraged by the effort the Devils put into their 7-0 loss to the Ridgemont Spartans.

"To hold a strong team like Ridgemont to one try [first half] is quite an accomplishment," offered the coach. "I coached in Ottawa last year and I know they are one of the strongest teams in the city."

Greenough and his mates were also pumped after their first two games of the new season.

"They [Spartans] are a very strong 'AAA' school and have 35 players. We have 21 and are 'AA' school," noted Greenough. "So, if we can play like we did today we should do all right in our league," he said.

North Dundas will open the 2009 SD&G varsity rugby season today (Wed., April 29), hosting a senior boys match at 12:30 and a girls game at 2 pm. Tomorrow (Thurs., April 30) the Devils will host another pair of games. Their regular season will wind up with a pair of road games.

tune-up tourney

High flyer

North Dundas tackler Nathan Kelly took to the air to bring down a Ridgemont Spartan ball carrier during a pre-season rugby match played at Tagwi High School on Thurs., April 23. The Devils split their tournament games, blanking CCVS 22-0 and losing 7-0 to Ridgemont. North Dundas opens the SD&G season at NDDHS this week.

Tourney tales

Tagwi's tune-up tourney attracted four senior boys, four junior boys and four girls teams.

Ridgemont claimed the senior boys title, blanking the Tagwi Warriors 5-0 and North Dundas 7-0.

North Dundas wound up ranked number two with the 22-0 win over CCVS and the 7-0 loss to the Spartans.

Tagwi finished third with the 7-0 loss to Ridgemont and a 17-0 victory over CCVS.

CCVS was outscored 39-0 and finished fourth.

Captain Collins finishes career with an armload of junior hockey awards

WINCHESTER — Ben Collins has played his final season of junior hockey with his home town Winchester Hawks. The high-scoring centre has graduated and was acknowledged for his accomplishments at the team's annual awards banquet on Sat., April 25.

The Inkerman native skated in the Central Junior Hockey League with the Pembroke Lumber Kings and Brockville Braves before lacing them up with the Hawks. In his three seasons in Winchester, Collins scored 118 goals, earned 172 assists and collected 290 points. He was the leading scorer in the St. Lawrence Division in 2006-07 (42-66-108) and again this year (2008-09) with 45 goals, 62 assists and 107 points. This year's point production not only lead the Hawks and the St. Lawrence Division but the entire Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League. He played in all 42 regular season games and drew just 44 minutes in penalties doing so. He also picked-up seven assists in the St. Lawrence Division semi-final series against the Alexandria Glens.

Collins was named the Hawks Most Valuable Player in 2008-09 at Saturday's awards banquet, which was attended by over 100 people. He also picked up the Hawks regular season and playoff scoring awards as well as the St. Lawrence Division Top Scorer's trophy.

"I want to thank my coaches Marty [Little] and Terry [MacLellan], both are great coaches and great guys," said Collins. "I also want to thank 'JB' [general manager Craig Smith] who gave me the opportunity three years ago to show what kind of a player I was."

He also acknowledged the support given to both himself and the team by treasurer Jeff Moore, trainer/equipment manager Edmond "Pip" Davies-Lyons, Jerrold Boulanger for running practices, super fan and jersey sponsor Ken Barber and the fans.

"I want to thank my teammates. They made me a better player and a better person. And I especially want to thank my parents. I wouldn't be here if it wasn't for their support," he concluded.

Chris Giczewski, Benoit Parent and Al "Flash" Gordon join Collins in Winchester's graduating class.

Evening's proceedings

Coach Little opened the proceedings reading a letter sent by Ottawa Senators forward Jesse Winchester who was invited but was unable to attend the banquet. He said he enjoyed playing for the Hawks thanked the organization for giving him the opportunity to play junior hockey. He also noted Winchester was also the hockey home for his brother Geoff.

Former Hawks team executive Bob Porteous pointed out during the presentations that 30 years earlier he had presented the Terry Carkner Best Defenceman Trophy — Terry played with the Hawks an went on to play 13 seasons in the NHL — to head coach Marty Little.

It was also noted during the evening that three former Hawks have played in the NHL — Terry Carkner, Jesse Winchester and Matt Carkner.

Community team

Team founder Joel Steele explained the Hawks Hockey Club, in its 40th season, is a community based team which relies on the support of area businesses as well as individual sponsors. Steele said the evening was not only meant to recognize the players but also to thank the sponsors and volunteers for their generosity.

He also noted this years' weekly 50-50 draw, powered by leading salesman Peter Kerkhof, was key in helping the organization remain on solid financial footing.

Steele thanked his wife Rhonda and the crew of volunteers they recruited to stage the banquet and work the home games. Andy's Foodland catered the meal while Greg Meats and the Country Kitchen Restaurant also made contributions to the evening.

Award winners

Ben Collins - Hawks Most Valuable Player, Hawks Top Scorer (45-62-107), St. Lawrence Division Scoring Champion and Hawks Top Scorer - Playoffs (tied with Kyle Peck with seven points) - presented by Hawks treasurer Jeff Moore and super fan Ken Barber.

Bobby Little - Terry Carkner Top Defenceman Award - presented by Bob and Marion Carkner.

Graham Loyst - Rookie of the Year - unable to attend because he was at home in North Bay receiving a special sports award for his special ability playing three sports — soccer, hockey and football. Accepted by sponsor Linda Thompson.

Hawks fans

Two of the Winchester Hawks biggest supporters Ken Barber (left) and Pete Kerkhof attended the team's awards banquet on Sat., April 25. Barber, a team jersey sponsor, presented Kerkhof with a plaque recognizing him as this year's top 50-50 draw ticket salesman.

Jack Dawson award

Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks winger Parker Davies (left) was named this year's recipient of the Jack Dawson Memorial Award (leadership and sportsmanship) from Joel Steele at Saturday's (April 25) awards banquet. Steele founded the Winchester Hawks Hockey Club 40 years ago and was the first coach. He headed up the team's fundraising this season.

South Dundas Midget "C" Lions take run at title

OTTAWA — A string of four post-season victories powered the South Dundas Midget "C" Lions into the Ottawa District Minor Hockey Association league championship game.

South Dundas, a member of the Ontario Women's Hockey Association, knocked off the Brockville Angels, Smiths Falls Bears, Carleton Place and Ottawa during the month of March and earned a berth in the title match against Kanata on April 5. Kanata emerged victorious thanks to a 2-0 win over the Lions.

During their run up to the final game South Dundas assembled a 4-0-0 record, which included three shutouts by Kristie Wade, and outscored the opposition 11-1.

The Lions started their post-season run squeezing out a 1-0 win over Brockville in Cardinal on March 3. Wade held the Angels off the score board until Brittany Elliott netted the winning goal 4:02 before the final buzzer. Sarah Casselman and Taylor Tippins set up the play.

Kaila Beckstead potted a pair of goals and drew two assists leading the Lions in a 6-1 romp over the Bears in Smiths Falls on March 7.

South Dundas led 3-0 after a period and 4-0 after two sessions. Casselman, captain Holly Klein-Swormink and Beckstead bagged first-period markers. Lindsay Gilmer scored in period two. Third-period goals by Andrea Maloney and Beckstead drove the final difference to 6-1.

Kristin Lapierre picked up three assists while Beckstead, Elliott and Casselman each drew a pair of helper points. Wade lost her shutout with 8:02 left on the clock.

Wade and her defensive crew put together another flawless effort in Chesterville on March 28 skating to a 1-0 decision over Carleton Place. Cinnamon Boulanger was the Lions' hero cracking in the game's only goal 7:49 before the final buzzer. Kellie Vandelst and Elliott engineered the play.

The next day (March 29) in Morrisburg, Wade composed another shut-out win backing the Lions in a 3-0 decision over Ottawa. Casselman provided all three goals scoring from Beckstead at 4:51 on period one and pumping in a pair in period two. Beckstead helped out on both plays while Kristina Swank and Amy Veltkamp each picked up a single helper.

Odessa Bandits beat Sting for Canadian broomball title

TERREBONNE, QC — Two teams from Eastern Ontario, the Eastern Sting and the Ice Dogs, were in the running for the 2009 Canadian Juvenile Men's Broomball championship. In the end the Bandits from Odessa, Saskatchewan rode off with the gold medal.

But both Eastern Ontario reps played their way on to the podium. The Sting fell 1-0 to the Bandits in the title match on April 18 and secured the silver medal while the Ice Dogs brought home the bronze thanks to a 1-0 win over Quebec (Briquet).

Odessa claimed the gold counting the final game's only goal at 11:17 of the first half. This year's champions were beaten 3-2 by the Sting in round-robin play but bounced back to grab the top prize.

Neil Duncan, Justin Wilson and Taylor McConnell cracked in the markers in the Sting's 3-1, semi-final win over defending champion Briquet.

McConnell potted a pair of tallies in the Sting's 6-1 win over Manitoba in game one. Michael MacLeod, Jordan Hayes, Wendel Baker and Wyatt Irven snapped home the singles. Irven and Matt Moran each picked up a pair of assists.

Shots fired by Chris Lalonde, Wilson, McConnell and Duncan found the back of the Brebeuf College cage in a 4-2 victory in game two. That verdict was followed by the 3-2 decision against the Odessa Bandits. Tyler Hughes scored at 11:06 of the second half to decide that issue. Duncan and McConnell also rang up tallies.

The only loss suffered by the Sting came on April 17 when they were edged 1-0 in double overtime by L'Assomption.

The Eastern Sting dropped a 1-0 decision to the Odessa Bandits and settled for the silver medal at the 2009 Canadian Juvenile Men's Broomball championships in Quebec (April 16 to 18). The Eastern Sting includes: front (left) - Sandy McLeod, Dustin Doerr, Ryan MacNaughton, Eli Niederkorn, Paul Norman, Steve Benoit, Wyatt Irven, Chase Campbell; middle (left) - Steve Norman, Kyle Toupin, Taylor McConnell, Travis Nixon, Michael MacLeod, Tyler Hughes, Neil Duncan; back (left) - Justin Wilson, Jake Billingham, Jordan Hayes, Matthew Moran, DJ Andre, Wendel Baker, Keith Presley. Missing: Chris Lalonde.

Dome High School Series Meet

Morrison strikes gold

OTTAWA — Senior thrower Brad Morrison posted a win in the shot put and finished second in the javelin in meet number five of the Ottawa Lions Track and Field Club's Dome High School Series.

Morrison was one of 12 athletes from North Dundas District High School who competed in the competition in Ottawa on Thurs., April 23. He put down a measurement of 11.98m winning the shot put and threw the javelin 41.16m and finished second.

Another senior field specialist, Alyson Erwin, registered a pair of third place finishes — javelin, 22.90m and shot put, 9.29m.

Olivia Wouters also claimed a bronze medal booking a 8.92m measure in the midget shot put.

Dearing, Vandelaar back Devils for gold medal

TERREBONNE, QC — For the sixth time in the last seven years the Seaway Valley Devils and the Eastern Ontario Thunder have faced each other in the Canadian Juvenile Women's Broomball Association championship game.

And for the fourth straight year, the Seaway Devils emerged from a low-scoring contest as the national gold medal winners. This year, the Devils prevailed 1-0 in double OT in the grand finale played in Terrebonne on April 16.

Leigh Anne Dearing posted the shutout, and Marie-Josée Vandelaar cracked in the winning goal at 7:09 of the second overtime period to give the Devils a 1-0 win and the gold medal.

Thunder goalie Kathleen Vallance was named the Gold Medal Game MVP and tournament's outstanding goalie after her team accepted its fourth straight silver medal.

The two long-time rivals from Eastern Ontario topped the standings qualifying for the title match. The Thunder compiled a perfect record of 6-0, and which included a 2-

Shawna Lynch scored the goal and Dearing posted the shutout when the Devils opened the tournament with a 1-0 win over the Windsor Riot.

Vandelaar potted a pair of goals in game two as the Devils blanked the Quebec Pantheres 6-0. Selena Henry, Veronique Lussier, Tracy MacGregor, Annelie Lanthier and Tanya Longtin snapped in the singles. Dearing hung up her second zero.

The Devils then doubled the Debden Roadrunners (Saskatchewan) 4-2 and lost 2-1 to the Thunder before finishing with a 4-0 win over Manitoba. Jenna James worked the nets against Manitoba and earned the shutout. Sarah Achtereekte, Stephanie Legault, Lynch and Lussier netted the goals.

Semis

Saskatchewan provided the opposition for Seaway Valley in the semi-final round and fell by a 2-1 count. Vandelaar and Legault fired in the goals for the winners.

The Thunder faced the host Crazy Bombs in their semi-final test and qualified for the final thanks to a 1-0 win. Brittany Beckstead used a play created by Kaitlin Beckstead to give her team the victory.

Thunder rumbles

Vallance was flawless backing the Thunder in a 3-0 win in game one. Kaitlin Beckstead, Jodi Pynenburg and Allison Vanloon pegged the goals.

Justine Byers scored three times, two on unassisted plays, in game two, a 5-1 decision over the Crazy Bombs. Pynenburg and Becky Ouderkerk also found the net. Stephanie Archambault earned a pair of assists.

Colleen O'Reilly, Pynenburg and Byers (PPG) were the scorers in the Thunder's 3-1 win over the Debden Roadrunners in round three.

Ice Dogs bite bronze medal at Canadian Men's Juvenile Broomball Championships

TERREBONNE, QC — Vince Bilmer used a pass provided by Matt McMahon and Warren Nugent to break up a scoreless deadlock and lift the Finch-based Eastern Ice Dogs to a 1-0 win over Quebec's Briquetal.

Goaltender Matt Alexander, who surrendered just five goals in five round-robin games, blanked the opposition as the Ice Dogs claimed the bronze medal at the 2009 Canadian Men's Juvenile Broomball Championship on April 18.

The Dogs rattled off five wins in five opening-robin games before losing 1-0 to Odessa, Saskatchewan in the semi-finals on April 17.

Tyler Hunt netted the Dogs goal in the 3-1, semi-final loss to Odessa. Simon James and Justin Marion set up the play.

A 4-0 win over Balgonie, Sask., got the Dogs started on the tournament trail on April 14. Scott Vanderveen, Marc Melenhorst, Hunt and James did the scoring. Assists went to Darcy Carroll, Joey Lauzon, Bilmer and Marion.

Kory Shaver and Melenhorst were the marksmen as the Dogs blanked Manitoba 2-0 in game two. Michael Zandbelt, Tory Shane and Bilmer set up the plays.

James potted a pair and Shaver shot in the winning goal in the Dogs 3-2 win over the host Brebeuf College squad in game 3. Shaver's deciding shot was fired in at 11:44 of the second half. Marion (2), Nugent and Carroll picked up the assists.

James provided a pair of goals and drew one assist as the Eastern Ontario reps doubled Quebec's Briquetal 4-2 in their final opening round match on April 17. Marion added a goal and two helpers. Steve Edwards clicked for a goal and one assist. Hunt also provided a pass.

Dogs roster

Members of the 2008-09 Ice Dogs are: Trevor McMahon, Tyler Hunt, Matt McMahon, Warren Nugent, Joey Lauzon, Vince Bilmer, Troy Shane, Justin McMahon, Matt Alexander, Steve Edwards, Michael Zandbelt, Kory Shaver, Marc Melenhorst, Bryce Campbell, Scott Vanderveen, Justin Marion, Simon James, Will Marsolais, Darcy Carroll, coach Laurie Menard, and ass't coach Jeff McMahon.

House league season ends for South Nation archers

WINCHESTER — The South Nation Archery Club's 2009 house league results are in, with many local archers capturing gold, silver, and bronze medals.

The house league averages are based on the archers' top six scores in 2009.

In a Canadian indoor round, archers typically shoot 30 arrows at a 40-centimetre target. The perfect score for each round is 300 points.

All archers in the junior division (17 and 18 years old), senior division (19 and to 49) and master division (50 and up) shoot 18 metres away from their targets. Cadets, who are 14 to 16 years old, shoot a bit closer, at 15 metres. Cubs (12 and 13 years old) and pre-cubs (10 and 11 years old) divisions at 10 metres. The youngest athletes in the peewee division also shoot at 10 metres, but because they are so young, the children get to shoot at a larger, 60-centimetre face.

In 2009, Winchester's Jordan Eastman placed first in the senior men's recurve division. Eastman's average of 278.17 edged out Chester-ville resident Kyle Dearing, who finished with 274.83 this season. Meanwhile, Winchester resident Shane Bryson placed third with 241.17.

In the men's compound division, Spencerville resident Paul Shipclark placed first with a 297 average — only three points away from the perfect 300.

Meanwhile, Iroquois resident Lloyd Jollota also came near to the 300-mark with an average of 297.83. He captured the silver in the bowhunter unlimited senior men's division. Fellow competitor Mark Sayeau of Morrisburg placed fourth with 286.33.

Todd Halpenny of Mountain placed first in the bowhunter unlimited senior men's division, with an average of 251.83.

In the master women's compound division, Morrisburg resident Lynda Deppe placed first with a 268 average.

Morrisburg's Mike Deppe captured silver in the men's bowhunter unlimited master division, with a 288 average. Fellow Morrisburg resident Jim Saunders placed fourth (282.67).

In the junior boys' recurve division, South Mountain resident Gregg Vandesande (219.83) beat out Vernon's Jesse Poisson (164.33).

Meanwhile, in the junior boys' compound division, Kemptville resident Tyler Koenjer won the bronze with a 261.5 average.

In the boys' recurve cadet division, South Mountain resident Alex Vandesande placed first with a 174.83 average.

Williamsburg's Logan

Coulter won a gold medal with a 295.67 average. He topped the boys' cadet compound division, beating out Winchester resident Ryan Gaw's 280.5 average. Coulter and Gaw will actually be receiving two awards, because they shot the senior round at 18 metres when, in fact, they didn't have to, and were young enough to shoot the round at 15 metres. The teens will each capture another medal for their scores shot at 15 metres, where Coulter won the gold (296.67) and Gaw won the silver (282.33). Gaw's brother, Kyle, won the bronze medal in that division with a 267.67 average.

In the boys' recurve cub division, Kemptville's Bradley Fumerton won the gold with an average of 272.5.

Vernon resident Riley Zandbelt placed first in the cub bowhunter limited category, with a 257 average. He beat out Chesterville resident and silver medallist Nicholas McLean's 239.17 average.

In the boys' pre-cub recurve division, Winchester's Ryley Gaw placed second (158.5), and Kemptville's Nathan Fumerton placed third (152.33).

Meanwhile, Mountain resident Payton Halpenny won the recurve peewee girls' division with a 224 average.

The archers will receive their awards during the club's annual ceremony in May.

In Memoriam

GUY – In memory of my cherished grandson, Mitchell, who passed away April 30, 2005
– Love Always,
– Grandma Betty

FARRELL – In loving memory of Lola, who passed away April 27, 2007. A special smile, a special face, And in our hearts, a special place. No words we speak can ever say, How much we miss you every day, To hear your voice, and see your smile, To sit and talk with you awhile. To be together in the same old way, Would be our greatest wish today.
– Lovingly remembered by Doreen and Francis Henderson and family

GUY – In memory of Mitchell, who passed away April 30, 2005. Time changes many things. But not the memory this day brings. Deep in our hearts you'll always stay, Loved and remembered every day.
– Love always,
– Mommy, Daddy, Mikyla and Kaden

LEVERE – In memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Bob, who passed away May 4, 1995. Those we love, we never lose For always they will be, Loved, remembered, treasured Forever in our memory.
– Always remembered, Mary, Grant, Wanda, Darren and Justin

Inkerman Public School "THE LAST DANCE"

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone and anyone that played a part in our final dance. Those of you that sent food, donations, spent time decorating, attended the dance, purchased tickets, donated or purchased silent auction items, or even helped clean up, every little bit counts. Thank you to LANDMARK and Dale Williams – "What an awesome band!" Thank you to Rhonda Holmes and her crew at the South Mountain Ag Hall for all your help and guidance. Thank you to all our Inkerman staff members, council members and parents for your roles in our event. To the community that came out to support us, it was so nice to see so many past teachers, students and parents enjoy our evening. Although our children and students weren't able to attend this age of majority dance we had them in our thoughts and the funds raised at the dance will go to offset the cost of providing our students of Inkerman Public with a yearbook or memorabilia for them to cherish their years at Inkerman. "It takes a whole community to raise a child," so to all of you on behalf of INKERMAN PUBLIC SCHOOL, thank you for helping ours!

Thank you on behalf of Darlene Sherrer,
Dance Co-ordinator & Inkerman Public School
Parent Council Members

Thank You

NOTICE

FIRE HYDRANT FLUSHING

OCWA will be conducting scheduled maintenance of Winchester and Chesterville fire hydrants during the weeks of May 4 to May 22, 2009.

This maintenance procedure is routine but may result in some temporary minor inconveniences such as reduced water pressure or 'red' water. It is recommended that all customers check for clear-running water prior to use EACH day.

IF COLOURED WATER IS DETECTED:

- 1) Please open your COLD water taps to clear the system.
- 2) The coloured water is not hazardous to your health.
- 3) This situation is temporary and should not last longer than two hours.

The staff of the Ontario Clean Water Agency and the Township of North Dundas thank you for your co-operation.

OBITUARIES

Robert E. Gray

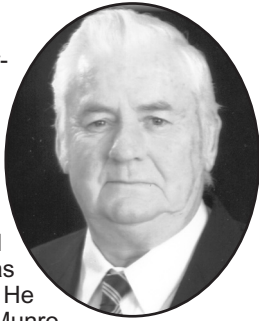

Robert E. Gray of RR #2 Chesterville passed away at the Ottawa General Hospital on Thurs., April 23, 2009. He was 67.

He was the beloved husband of Ellen Huffman. He was the loved father of Charles Douglas Gray of RR #2 Chesterville, and Michael (Brenda) Gray of Stittsville. He was the cherished grandfather of Dylan. He was the dear brother of Marjorie Munro, Muriel Merkley, Margaret (Peggy) Holmes, and Edna Barkley. He was predeceased by brother Malcolm and sister Lois Dilabough.

There was a graveside service held at Maple Ridge Cemetery in Chesterville on Mon., April 27.

Donations may be made to Winchester District Memorial Hospital, Maple Ridge Cemetery, or the Canadian Cancer Society.

Arrangements were under the care and direction of Daniels Funeral Chapels in Winchester.

Richard Delano Peterson

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of Richard Peterson of Mountain on Thurs., April 9, 2009 at the Ottawa Hospital, General Campus, after a year long battle with myeloma. He was 63.

Richard was born June 21, 1945 in Hardisty, Alta. to the late Margaret and John Peterson. After moving to Calgary, Alta. he enrolled at Technical School and trained in Electronic Maintenance. It was in Calgary where he met his future wife, Carol Bryan. They were married in Calgary on April 8, 1971. Together they moved to Hallville where they built their home and raised their two daughters. In 1977, Richard began employment with CBC in the electronic maintenance department. He retired in 2006 with 29 years service.

He was the caring husband of Carol and the cherished father of Jennifer Nelson (Rick) and Leslie (Paul). He was the proud Poppa of Zackery, Anthony and Amy Nelson. He is survived by his sister Nancey McAllister (the late Laurence), sisters-in-law Caroline Peterson (the late Glenn), Bunny Peterson (the late Manley), Sharron Peterson (the late Clarence), Marion Nelson (the late George) and brother-in-law George Bryan (Arlene). He was the uncle and great-uncle to many nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his mother and father-in-law, Hilda and Lester Bryan, and his nephew, Bryan Peterson.

Following Richards' wishes, cremation has taken place.

Carol, Jennifer and Leslie would like to extend their appreciation to family and friends for their support.

"Gone but not forgotten....."

Correction

In the April 22, 2009 edition of the Winchester Press the obituary notice incorrectly stated the name of the funeral home. The arrangements were entrusted to Byers Funeral Home in South Mountain. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Duck race this weekend

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — The South Mountain Duck Race sponsored by Knights of Columbus Council 11725 will take place this coming Sat., May 2 in South Mountain. The ducks will be ceremoniously launched from the bridge on County Rd 1 at 11 am, with the first duck expected to cross the finish line at Bridge Street at approximately 11:45 (give or take a quack).

There are three cash prizes for the first three ducks ($500, $100 and $50) plus 14 additional prizes ranging from a dinner for two at Jean Albert's American Soul Food and one-year subscription to the Winches- ter Press to gift certificates for pizzas and oil changes.

All money raised in this event go to charitable organizations in North Dundas.

There are still ducks available, and your last opportunity to purchase ducks will be on Fri., May 1 at Rick's Gas Bar in South Mountain from 4:30 to 6:30 pm.

Girl Guides to green up Hallville Community Park

HALLVILLE — The Winchester Girl Guides will be planting 600 tree seedlings at the Hallville Community Park on Sat., May 9.

The session will get underway at 9 am. The event is sponsored by General Motors Canada, which has donated a $500 grant, along with trees and materials supplied by South Nation Conservation. The Township of North Dundas also supports the project.

The Hallville Community Park is currently underdeveloped, but the Girl Guides, along with support from the community, aim to help develop the park for the future.

Doing their part for Mother Earth

Students at Morewood Public School spent some time learning different ways to keep the planet green and healthy during Earth Day festivities on Wed., April 22. Ashlynn Antille (left) and Carly Walker planted flowers in tin cans to take home with them.

Russell Ladies Night almost sold out

RUSSELL — As of press time, tickets were almost sold out for the Russell Ladies Night on Fri., May 1.

The annual girls-only affair raises money for a variety of charities. This year, the Look Good, Feel Better program will receive funds to support its goal: to teach people undergoing cancer treatment how to take charge of their changing appearance.

Earlier this week, the Russell Ladies Night organizing committee announced the auction items available on Friday evening. The complete list is available at www.russellfair.com/ladies-night.

Winchester euchre results

WINCHESTER — The cream-card winners at the Winchester Senior's Group euchre event, held on Thurs., April 23, were Tony Kerkhof and Audrey McLaren. The green-card winners were Norma Wylie and Doris Michels, while Sybil Curtis and Allan McMahon won the door prizes. Kenneth Williams and Percy Armstrong won the draws. The next euchre event is scheduled for Thurs., May 7.

SD&G Counties Adopt-A-Road Program

We are encouraging residents and service groups within SD&G Counties to help beautify their County Roads and become involved in our Adopt-A-Road program

There is no cost to adopt a section of a County Road. The adoption process is simple and everyone is approved!

We will provide you with a safety training video and all the information you will need to ensure you are well prepared for the task.

Safety vests and garbage bags will also be provided. The collected trash will be disposed of by County Employees.

We ask that your group collect trash twice a year, (usually spring and fall), along the 2 kms of roadside ditch area that you and your group have adopted. We will erect a sign at each end of the adopted section with your group's name on it. These signs will show motorists that you care about your community and the environment.

Interested in Adopting?
