Save Systematically

Haphazard, occasional saving seldom accomplishes much. It's the steady, persistent, regular depositing of so many dollars a week, or month, or season, in the Union Bank of Canada, which makes one financially independent. The money accumulates all the more rapidly, too, because of the Interest which is added every six months.

Says Ontario Does Not Desire Abolition Of Bar.

"Abolish the bar and you would have a carnival of intemperance," said the Hon. J. J. Foy, attorney-general, in the Whitney Government in speaking of the campaign of the Ontario Liberals for the abolition of the bar.

"You would have illegal selling. You would set up the 'blind pig' all over the cities. You would introduce a worse evil than the open bar and the treating system, because you would have men degrading themselves and the community in their efforts to get the stuff illegitimately which they were previously in the habit of getting legally.

"We are in favor of temperance, and we have given every facility for the people to express themselves by local option. In an increasing number of municipalities in the province the bars are being virtually abolished, through the carrying of the local option law, and this will, doubtless, be more and more a marked feature of our municipal life in Ontario.

"But we do not think it good policy to force a law upon people who do not want it. And I am certain that the people of Toronto, for instance, do not want the immediate abolition of the bar. That is a matter which must come gradually in the large centres, if at all."

Jewellery is Stamped Dishonestly.

The government is making active war upon jewellery firms for placing false descriptions upon watches and for other violations of the Gold and Silver marking Act.

Eight Montreal firms were recently prosecuted and fined for false descriptions, and for giving guarantees with watches.

It is being found that many of even the largest and most reputable firms in the Dominion are unaware of the provisions of the act which was amended last session, and as a result other prosecutions are liable to follow.

Copies of the new Act have been sent to the trade throughout the country, and an inspector appointed to enforce it.

Playing With Matches.

In a fire which destroyed the home of Mr. Orvis Seeler, near Massena, his four-year old son was burned to death. Mrs. Seeler had taken two other children to a neighbor's home for a short time, the unfortunate little fellow being at the time with his playmate at another house. When Mrs. Seeler came back the house was a mass of flames. During her absence her son had returned, and it is supposed that in amusing himself with matches the place was set on fire and he lost his life.

Wells-Swerdfeger

A very pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Swerdfeger of Froatburn on August 26th at 4.30 p. m., when their daughter Kathleen was united in marriage to Mr. James H. Wells of Aultsville, the Rev. L. M. McCreery officiating.

The bride was given away by her father. Only the families of the contracting parties witnessed the marriage.

The bride looked beautiful in a gown of mauve silk. Her travelling suit was of grey diagonal cloth, with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells took the 10.13 p.m., train for Toronto to spend a few days there and then journey to Port Arthur where they will for the present reside.

Mr. Wells is a travelling salesman and expects to make Port Arthur his headquarters.

This worthy couple carry with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

The Late Mrs. Ellis.

After a lingering illness the death took place on Saturday, August 16th, at her home in the 2nd concession of Matilda, of Mrs. Thomas Ellis, whose maiden name was Harriet Tompkins. In the early part of her life she lived in the township of Edwardsburg, just north of Cardinal. She leaves but one sister—Mrs. Samuel Perry of Prescott. Children surviving the loss of a devoted mother are G. W. Ellis of Stampville, Mrs. Zenas Hall and Mrs. A. L. Vanallen of Morrisburg and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Coran of Troy, N.Y.

The funeral took place from her late residence to the English church at Iroquois, where services were conducted, and thence to the family cemetery.

Mrs. Ellis will be greatly missed by all who knew her, and especially by those who knew her best.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wereley of Lunenburg was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday Sept. 2nd, 1913, when their daughter, Agnes D., became the bride of Mr. Allison J. Cooke, of Spencerville. The ceremony was performed under an arch and wedding bell by Rev. George wood of the Moulinette Methodist church. The bride who was given away by her father, looked charming in a brown chiffon dress trimmed with silk lace and frilling. Miss Eva Cooke, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and wore a pink silk dress trimmed with lace and insertion. The groom was assisted by Mr. Nelson Dixon, cousin of the bride. Miss May Pitts, of Toronto cousin of the bride, who was gowned in pale pink silk voile, played the wedding march. After the ceremony a sumptuous tea was partaken of. Mr. and Mrs. Cooke left on a trip to Toronto and other western points, the bride travelling in a suit of brown with net blouse and hat to match.

Live Stock Awards at Winchester Fair.

The Winchester Fair, held under the auspices of the Winchester Agricultural Society on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, proved a marked success. The second day's proceedings were somewhat marred by the rain in the afternoon, but the crowd was much larger than it has been for a good many years. The exhibits in all lines were very creditable. The live stock classes were well up to the average, and for the first time in many years beef cattle were exhibited, both pure-bred and grade. The ladies' work was very heavy and worthy of mention, especially when it was known that all exhibits came from within three or four miles of Winchester. A MESSAGE FROM A WOMAN TO WOMEN

"Every Woman Should Take "Fruit-a-tives"

LAKELET, ONT., MAY 12th. 1911

"Kindly publish this letter of mine if you think it will benefit other women who might be afflicted with the diseases I have had in the past, but am now, thanks to "Fruit-a-tives", completely cured of. It is my firm belief that every woman should take "Fruit-a-tives" if she wants to keep herself in good health.

Before taking "Fruit-a-tives", I was constantly troubled with what is commonly known as "Nerves" or severe Nervousness. This Nervousness brought on the most violent attacks of Sick Headache, for which I was constantly taking doctors' medicine without any permanent relief. Constipation was also a source of great trouble to me and for which the Doctors said "I would have to take medicine all my life", but "Fruit-a-tives" banished all these troubles and now I am a well woman"

Jerome Arrested For Playing Poker in Coaticook.

Coaticook, Que., Sept. 5.—William Travers Jerome, the famous lawyer representing New York state in the Thaw case, was arrested here today, charged with gambling.

The complaint was made by Milford Aldridge, a citizen of Coaticook, who swore that he had seen Jerome playing poker in public yesterday. Jerome was taken to the jail, where Thaw was confined when brought here two weeks ago.

Thaw's lawyers disclaimed any knowledge of the arrest. The belief prevailed that it was due solely to ill-feeling among the townspeople who resented Jerome's presence.

Mr. Jerome was taken into custody at his hotel, the Coaticook hotel, by policeman John Andrews. He was so surprised he could hardly speak.

As a matter of of fact, he had indulged in a penny ante game yesterday with some newspaper men. They used a suit case for a table and sat in an automobile waiting for the Thaw healing to eventuate.

News of the arrest of Jerome swept through the town like wildfire. The Thaw hearing before the immigration officials had in the meantime been adjourned.

Jerome was admitted to $500 bail shortly before 12 o'clock. He left the jail smiling.

The jailer and turnkey of Oxford County jail at Woodstock, Chas. Wilson and Jos. Burgess, have been suspended in consequence of the escape of two prisoners last.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

Protecting The Traveller At Sea

Ottawa, Sep. 5.—Canada will be represented at the International Conference to be held in London next November to inquire into measures for life-saving at sea. This conference, which will be the most important of its kind ever held, will see the final discussion on the rules which have been drawn up by the British Board of Trade, consequent upon the Titanic disaster.

The Canadian Government, acting through the Department of Marine and Fisheries, is co-operating with the British Board in drawing up advanced regulations for the protection of travellers at sea. It is asking the Canadian passenger lines for expressions of opinions as to what further measures ought to be adopted to safeguard the lives of passengers. These views will be placed before the conference by the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Since the Titanic disaster the British Board of Trade has been considering means for increasing the safety of ocean travel. The result of the coming conference will be the enforcement of these means. Canada will conform to the new regulations as far as her ocean shipping is concerned. A representative will be sent by the United States and by each of the other great shipping nations of the world.

A list of questions has been submitted by the United States Marine Department to the different passenger steamship companies. It is probable that these questions which deal with the manning of lifeboats, the extension of standard tests, medical tests for lookouts, etc., will be made the basis of the interrogations which the Canadian Department of Marine will place before the Dominion lines. They cover, generally, the extent to which the whole of a ship's crew should be utilized in life-saving measures in the event of disaster. Similar questions with regard to crews of cargo steamers will be asked.

Sherbrooke Man Succumbs to Injuries in Toronto.

Toronto, Sep. 5—Geo. A. Barnes, of Sherbrooke, Que., died tonight from injuries received in the gymnasium of the Central Young Men's Christian Association here. Barnes, who is a comparatively young man, had just assumed his duties as one of the physical directors in the gynasium a week ago. In that time he had made many friends, and was very popular around the institution. Tonight he was instructing a class in horizontal bar work. While performing on the bar himself he fell. Those about him waited a moment for him to get up, but he lay there unconscious. An ambulance was immediately summoned and the young man taken to Grace Hospital, but he died ten minutes after his arrival there. The cause of his death was a dislocation of the neck.

Clever Forger Got Away With $8,200 From Banks.

Galt, Sept. 5—By the simple device of a forged letter of introduction, currency to the amount of approximately $8,200 was secured yesterday by a man calling himself James Ray of Saskatoon, who presented cheques at banks in Galt, Guelph and Berlin. The forger immediately departed from each of these places as soon as he had secured the money. Late last night he had been traced as far as Hamilton, and was then believed to be heading for the boundary at Niagara Falls, but the police and railway people everywhere throughout Ontario are watching for him.

This Mr. Ray, who is a prosperous looking individual, about 40 years of age, walked into the branch here of the Union Bank yesterday morning and announced himself as a customer. He produced what purposed to be a letter of identification from the manager of the branch bank near Saskatoon. This manager's signature is known to the bank people here, and the signature on the letter appeared to them to be perfectly genuine. His "identity," thus established, Ray announced he wanted to draw $2,800. He drew and presented a cheque for that amount and received the money in currency. Mr. Ray then politely withdrew from the bank and these parts.

It was some time later before suspicion was aroused at the bank here. Comparison of the signature on the letter with that kept on record showed disparities, however, and it was decided to telegraph an inquiry to Saskatoon.

All this took time, and it was several hours after Ray departed when an answer came back from Saskatoon bank disclaiming any acquaintance with the gentleman. The police then were immediately notified, but Ray had by this time plenty of time to make his getaway.

Precisely the same procedure was followed at Guelph, where he secured $2,900, and at Berlin, whence he carried away $2,500. The railway and radial net work in this district, and the fact that discovery of his fraud was so tardy made it possible to execute the three coups with little risk of being challenged at any of the banks.

Two Prisoners Escape from Woodstock Jail.

Woodstock, Sept. 4.—With apparently the greatest ease two prisoners, William Klue and Albert Berhard, made their escape from Oxford County Jail this morning, and are still at liberty. The two men are wearing plain clothes and hopes of catching them are slim.

Klue was sentenced on Aug. 25, to six months in the Central Prison for vagrancy and was also sent to trial at the same time on a chicken stealing charge. Berhard, colored, was given one year in the Central for larceny on July 29. As both had been on the sick list, Klue with tonsilitis and Berhard with epileptic fits, they had more than their share of liberty and privileges.

Governor Wilson says that the men were seen by Turnkey Jos. Burgess at 8 o'clock last night when he locked up. These men's cells were not locked because of their illness. When the turnkey opened the cells at 6 this morning he did not go to them, as they were allowed to stay in bed as long as they wanted, and it was not till the Governor came in an hour later that they were missed.

If the men were in at 11 o'clock last night, as the Governor says he knows they were, their escape is remarkable, as the doors out from the jail to the yard were locked when the turnkey arose this morning. If it was this morning they got out it is also remarkable, as their method was so open and simple they were almost certain to have been noticed. They found a long trestle table on beams in the driving shed and reared it against the wall, then climbed and dropped over into one of the main streets of the city, and got away without being seen. This shed is in the south exercise yard and is in full view of the Governor's house.

This is the second double escape in the last few years. The other two runaways were retaken within twenty-four hours.

Prescott Man's Narrow Escape.

Prescott, Sept. 5.—The Edward street crossing at the Grand Trunk Railway here was the scene yesterday of another serious accident, which only by a miracle did not prove fatal. When Mr. Abram Lane, a well known Prescott citizen, was crossing the track driving a young and spirited horse he did not notice the two trains coming in opposite directions.

He was watching one of the approaching trains, when the horse became unmanageable and threw him out of the buggy. The train coming in the other direction struck the buggy and demolished it and carried the horse until the harness became loose, doing no considerable injury to the animal.

Had not Mr. Lane been fortunate e nough to have been thrown from the buggy he would undoubtedly been killed o ıtright. Outside of a severe cut on the head and some bruises on his body he escaped further injury.

Church Collapsed, Two Men Injured.

Brantford, Sept. 4—The Rawdon street Methodist Church, a new building in a course of erection, collapsed here at 5 o'clock tonight, imperilling the lives of a large number of workmen. The building which was being erected at a cost of $20,000, was just about completed, workmen being engaged in putting on the roof. For the reason that it was to be left so that an enlargement could be made no rear wall was built. This, it is thought, was the cause of the collapse. Sydney Dean's collar-bone was broken, and Chas. Bennet's hip was dislocated. Others had a narrow escape. Tonight nothing but the front wall of the church is standing.

Bears Killing Farm Stock.

Several weeks ago we gave a short account of the killing of a bear by John Ready, of Onslow. The night before bruin killed one of Ready's sheep, and on returning for a feast off the carcase, he met with the fate which he richly deserved. Since then we learn Ready has been the victim of similar losses in the same way and from the same cause, and we also have it that James Killoran had a couple of yearling cattle destroyed by bears, which, owing to the lack of wild fruit this summer, are in a famished condition, and are raiding the stock of the farmers living in the wooded sections to appease their hunger, and so reports are coming in from different sections that a good many animals have been destroyed by bruin's ravages. In view of these facts it is well to draw the attention of our readers, especially those of them who have suffered loss in the manner described to a section in the Game Laws of this province. It is part of sub-section 3, of section 2313, and reads as follows: "It is forbidden to hunt, kill or take any bear between the first day of July and the 20th day of August in any year." Please note carefully that the prohibited season for killing bear is that exactly in which these animals have been doing the damage in Onslow and elsewhere.

Detectives Are Jailed For They Accept Bribe.

Haileybury, Ont., Sept. 6—Frank Miller and Frank Rouleau, two liquor detectives in the employ of the Provincial License department at South Porcupine, were sentenced to six months each at hard labor in the central prison, Toronto, after having been found guilty of having accepted a $25 bribe from Mrs. Margaret Brennan, a South porcupine saloon keeper, in order to stave off prosecution against her house.

The payment of the money took place in South Porcupine on July 29, and the men were given a preliminary hearing on August 14, and remanded for trial at North Bay jail, where they have remained until the speedy trial they elected to have held before Judge Harlman.

A. G. Stagt, counsel for the prisoners, asked Judge Harlman for a lenient sentence for Kouleau, who is a 17 year old youth, but His Honor could see no reason why one sentence should be lighter than the other.

Frightful Accident in Packing Factory.

Petrola, Sept. 5—Jas. Anderson, an employee of the Lambton Packing Co., had his hand and part of his right arm torn off this morning about 11.15. The belt of one of the corn-cleaning machines came off, and he attempted to replace it without slackening the machinery, which goes at a terrific speed.

The machine caught the tips of his fingers and dragged him over the shaft. It literally twisted his arm off. He had a narrow escape from being thrown out of the window which was open. As it happened on the third floor it would have meant instant death. He did not faint and was at once rushed to the hospital.

Hot Springs Swept By $4,000 Fire.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 5.—More than thirty blocks on the eastern edge of the business district of Hot Springs had been swept clear tonight by a fire which at 9 o'clock threatened to eat its way toward Central avenue, the main business thoroughfare. A high wind was blowing, and the Hot Springs and Little Rock fire departments, the latter hurried to this city aboard special, trains had made but little headway in checking the flames. At 9 o'clock Sydney Dillon, Commissioner of Public utilities, estimated the loss would reach at least $4,000,000.

Chesterville Public School Notes

Our school opened on Sept 2nd, with full attendance. Total registration 101.

We are all grateful for the attractive rooms which awaited us, having been made beautiful by a fresh coat of paint during the holidays.

The school garden is the product of poor soil and a dry summer, but it is entirely free from weeds and presents a fair appearance. Although the exhibits of vegetables may be inferior for reasons given above, yet we think it better to institute a school fair, which we hope to make an annual event in connection with the garden work. The children generously donate their exhibits, which will be offered for sale in the afternoon of Sept. 20th.

The vacant room upstairs is being fitted up for the exhibition and it is hoped the Women's Institute and Horticultural Society of Chesterville will send us assistance in the way of donations for our food sale, the proceeds of which is to be given towards a rose hedge and perennial border for our garden.

Re the matter of home work—we strongly advise parents and guardians to see that children who are physically strong spend some time each evening at their books, reading aloud, oral spelling, memory work in literature and work of this nature may be done effectively at home, provided the child is free from his books from four o'clock till seven p.m. We do not want much work done by artificial light by pen or pencil, or on heavy subjects such as mathematics, but easy work will serve the purpose of keeping children entertained and forming the habit of doing home lessons which must come into their lives at a later date.

Owing to the Field Day and school fair, which will take place this month, we are obliged to postpone the graduation exercises until a later date.

Full reports of our school work, with occasional notes, will be published in the RECORD each month.

Commits Suicide By Taking Wood Alcohol.

Arnprior, Sept. 8.—A sad sight was witnessed at Arnprior on Saturday, when the railway officials opened a car and found the body of Mr. Frank Barnes.

Mr. Barnes came originally from Rochester, N. Y., but lately came from Listowel. He was employed by Mayor Brennan, of this town, bringing a carload of horses from Brockville here. The body was black when found, and was resting on its hands and knees with hat and pipe right close.

The coroner was called, but no inquest was held, and the body was buried. It is thought that the late Mr. Barnes drank wood alcohol and died in awful agony.

Scarcity of baskets is causing the fruit growers in the Niagara peninsula much anxiety and loss.

Alberta Plans Road To Fort McMurray.

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 8—Most important of the legislation to be taken up at the session of the Alberta Legislation, called for Sept. 16, probably will be the building by the Provincial Government of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railroad from Edmonton to Fort McMurray 230 miles, from which point the Athabasca, the Great Slave and the Mackenzie Rivers are navigable to Fort McPherson, 2,100.

The primary purpose of the railway is to afford adequate transportation facilities to settlers, prospectors and trappers in the north country and provide an easy outlet for their products, including grain, minerals and fur.

Ghastly Crime at Brantford

Brantford, Ont., Sept. 9—This afternoon the body of the murdered boy was identified as that of Chas. Dawson, son of Thos. Dawson of Echo Place, just outside this place.

Brantford, Sept. 9—An unknown lad, twelve to fourteen years of age, was found in the ditch on Bloss m Avenue, sometimes called the River road, a branch of the Hamilton-Brantford road, near the farm of William Tottle, about one mile from Cainsville, at 7.45 o'clock this morning, mute evidence of the ghastliest crime ever recorded in Brant County.

Only a maniacal murderer or a member of some society exacting a terrible vengeance could have committed such an awful outrage on a lad, whose face, even in death, wore a smile.

The body was terribly mutilated. The head was almost severed from the trunk, this being the cause of death, and in the opinion of the coroner, the first wound inflicted. Then, having seen the dreadful result of his fury, the murderer was overcome by a frenzy and stabbed repeatedly. There were three stab wounds in the head, twelve in the chest, many of which penetrated to the lungs and the body was then disemboweled by a long sweeping cut.

The identity of the boy is unknown. It is thought that the body was brought to this lonely spot by the murderer, from the scene of his atrocious crime, and gently lowered into the ditch, but left exposed, the clothes having been drawn before the wounds were inflicted.

The coroner is of the opinion that the lad may be a foreigner, but the fact that he was carrying around a copy in English of Robert Services' poem "The Call of the Klondike," containing excellent writing, and that he had dark brown hair and blue eyes militates against the fact. There is no boy missing in Brantford or in the section where the body was found.

An inquest was held and adjourned until Monday afternoon next.

Bound Over To High Court.

Chatham, Sept. 5—Charles Beaugrant of Tilbury, was today bound over to the High Court by Magistrate Callwood of Tilbury, on the charge of conspiring to poison pigs belonging to a neighbor. He was released from custody on bail of $1,000 and will probably be given a trial at the Fall Assizes. It is said that when the barn owned by the defendant was searched, after the complaint had been made to the county authorities, a pail containing barley with which Paris green had been mixed was found, and that similar food had been placed in the trough for the pigs to eat. Several witnesses were called in the case, among them a physician who testified to the poison being Paris green.

Woman's World

Mrs. John Jacob Astor's Private Beauty Parlor.

MRS. JOHN JACOB ASTOR.

The beautiful young widow of the late John Jacob Astor, who lost his life in the Titanic disaster, evidently has much faith in the old proverb, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," for she has established in her palatial home on Fifth avenue, New York city, one of the most expensively equipped beauty parlors in the world.

She believes in taking time by the forelock, as it were, and intends wisely to keep herself always young and lovely. In this wonderful parlor can be found all kinds of electric apparatus, invibrators including an "applicator" of great rapidity for the arms and an exquisitely delicate buzzer for the cheeks. A certain powder is placed on this buzzer, which is then rubbed electrically into the skin giving it a peachy glow that can't be detected from the real thing.

The last thing in hair dryers is another accessory of the beauty parlor. Press one button and there comes a draught of cold air. Press another and you get a blast of hot air that any politician would envy. There are two aseptic cabinets for the sterilization of instruments, towels, etc.

But all these adjuncts to beauty cost an enormous sum; face powder alone used by this sybaritic young matron is said to retail at $8 for a few thimblefuls. Then there must be hair dressers, manicures, complexion coaxers, chiropidists, dentists, masseurs and maids of all degrees in attendance. The woman who wants to look as if she "belonged" must have at least one of each of these treatments a day.

Women on Governing Boards.

Concerning woman's availability for state boards of control Mrs. Almah J. Frisby, who served seven years as a member of the Wisconsin board, says:

"It ought to be obvious to any fair minded person that the governing board of institutions whose inmates are largely women and children should have women members. The humanitarian side of the work appeals to a woman, while the interest of the male members of the board, I found, was almost entirely confined to the plants and the business connected with the institutions, which is not surprising, as that is the man's chief resposibility in the home.

"Of the eleven men who were members of the board (thanks to politics) during the seven years that I was a member only two or three took any interest in the internal working of the institutions or showed any efficiency in the work of inspection, which seemed to me a very important part of the work of the board. Certainly the welfare and happiness of the inmates depend quite as much on cleanliness, properly cooked food and kind treatment as upon fine buildings, efficient heating plants and good farms, important as the latter unquestionably are."

An Effective President.

"Bosh!" said Mr. Nervepop after Mrs. Nervepop had expressed the wish that a woman might be president of the United States for just one week. "What could she do?"

"What could she do?" retorted the lady. "I tell you this, James, that if I could get into the White House with a couple of good Swedes to help me I'd do more in a minute than any president we've had in twenty years with both houses of congress and his cabinet behind him."—Harper's.

Films For Summer Use.

If amateur photographers before setting off on vacation will lay in a supply of films that have been put up especially for "export" they will have fewer disappointments when they gaze upon the result of their summer snap shooting after the developing is finished. These export films are packed in tin boxes to withstand a tropical climate, and they will be found particularly valuable when one is going to a coast resort.

To Encourage the Feminist Movement.

A Sicilian widower of the name of Cilento, who died recently, left $10,000 to promote the feminist movement in Italy and $4,000 as a legacy to the first woman deputy.

Summer Salads.

Prime requirements of the salad are lightness and crispness. Heavy garnishes are to be avoided at all times, but particularly in the summer.

Only the white leaves of the lettuce should be used, and these or the cress should be allowed to stand in the ice water for an hour before serving. The salad dressing should never be put on the lettuce or cress, or, for that matter, on the salad mixture, until just before the salad is wanted at the table. When it is to be prepared the green salad should be thoroughly dried in a napkin, and the salad dish should be as cold as possible.

Nests of lettuce leaves, made of four leaves with the stem ends laid overlapping each other, or a deft arrangement of cress in the same shape, placed carefully on a broad, flaring dish and filled with the salad mixture, is easily served and effective in appearance.

If mayonnaise or boiled dressings are used, enough should be saved, after mixing the ingredients, to cover the top. Vegetables salads are pretty decorated with a border of finely shredded red pepper or lettuce or both interlaced or with fine strips of the white of boiled eggs. Nasturtium blossoms, which have a pleasant, spicy flavor, are pretty as a decoration and add to the tastiness. If green or red is wanted in the dressing, spinach green, bits of green pepper or finely chopped parsley may be used for the former and powdered dried lobster coral or beet juice for the latter.

Crops Out Of Danger.

Calgary, Sept. 5—Chas. S. Hotchkiss, provincial government publicity commissioner, reached Calgary today after an extensive tour of the province. He stated that not more than five cent of the total grain area between Calgary and international boundary remains to be harvested and that all danger from hail or frost has passed. "The crop in Alberta," said Mr. Hotchkiss, "is uniformly good from the Peace River to the boundary."

Largest Flour Mill in British Empire

Calgary, Sept. 4.—A syndicate of local and Minneapolis capitalists will shortly commence the erection of what is claimed will be the largest flour mill in the British Empire. Work on the first unit will be commenced immediately.

Women Walk Ten Miles Within Ten Hours.

Brantford, Sept. 5—Mr. Robert Davis, 20 Fair avenue, made the wager with his wife that she and her friend, Mrs. Alex. Anderson, who resides at 8 Webling street could not walk the entire distance from Brantford to Hamilton in ten hours. Ten dollars was the amount of the stakes, to be divided equally. Mrs. Davis and Mrs Anderson decided that they would prove that the fair sex was not to be daunted, and made the trip stopping only one hour for lunch by the way. When asked if they felt like going on to Burlington, ten miles farther, the ladies said they had just been trying to decide whether or not they should return on foot or by the radial.

The Miser Opened His Money Box.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Old Miser Paid What He Owed.

THE children had been talking about Japan. "Yes," said daddy; "the Japanese have many nice stories. Here is one that many a Japanese daddy has told to his kiddies for a bedtime story:

"It is about a very rich and very stingy man who lived in the city of Yedo. The people of Yedo were very fond of broiled eels. Eels are the long squirming fish that Evelyn thinks look so much like snakes.

"Though the stingy man was fond of broiled eels, he would not spend his money to buy them. In order to enjoy them he did a very funny thing.

"He rented a house next door to a fish shop. During the night the man who kept the shop went to the river, caught the fish and brought them home. During the day he cooked them and sold them hot from the gridiron. He cooked them at his door over a fire of redhot charcoal. People ate them as fast as he could hand them out.

"Now, the old miser, who loved eels, but was too mean to pay for them, having moved next door to the fish dealer, could come out every day with his bowl of rice and eat it while he sniffed at the fish cooking on the gridiron.

"The fish dealer did not notice him at first, but when the miser was there every day he began to wonder about it. Then some one told him:

"'When the miser eats his rice where he can smell your eels cooking he says it tastes almost as good as eating fish.'

"'Oh, indeed!' said the fish man, 'and he thinks he can steal the smell of my eels to flavor his rice without paying me for it? Well, we will see about that.'

"So, leaving his wife to take care of the shop while he was gone, he stepped over to the miser's house.

"The miser asked him in, and the fish man soon told what he had come for.

"'I am a poor hardworking man, and you have no right to use the smell of my fish to give relish to your dinner unless you pay for it,' said the fish man.

"The miser agreed with him, and then he asked the fish man how much he would charge for the smell of the broiled eels.

"Thinking he had a chance to get a great deal of money without much trouble, the fish man asked a very large sum.

"The miser smiled and agreed to pay it. Then he had his wife bring in his money box. Opening it, the miser took out the sum the fish man had asked.

"After giving the fish man a few minutes to look at the money the miser put it away.

"'What,' cried the fish man; 'are you not going to pay me, after all?'

"'Why, yes; I have paid you!' the miser answered, with a grin. 'You have charged me for the smell of your eels, and I have paid you with the sight of my money.'"

Woman Pulled From Swirl Of The Rapids.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 5—A woman whose name could not be learned, narrowly escaped being swept to her death while viewing the lower rapids from a rock below the inclined railway. With her husband the woman descended to the lower river bank early in the afternoon. The pair walked along the path, and finally stepped down on the rocks. They had a kodak and the woman climbed over on a rock and expressed a desire to be photographed there.

At about the same time an attendant saw them and shouted a warning. The rock was well out in the turbulent waters of the rapids and was slippery.

Hardly had he spoke when the water boiled up around her, engulfing her and she was being drawn into the rapids when the husband leaped forward and clutched her clothing. The attendant too, came to her rescue and she was carried to a point of safety. For more than an hour the woman remained under the board walk drying her clothing. Later she ascended the bank and had her clothing dried before an electric radiator. None thought to inquire her name, but it is likely she will remember her trip to Niagara Falls for some time.

Another Victory For Sir J. P. Whitney.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—East York electors again endorsed the administration of Sir James Whitney and his Government today, electing G. S. Henry as their representative in the Legislature. Over 2,932 votes were polled, and Mr. Henry's majority, although there are still a few polling sub-divisions to hear from is 616.

Compared with last election, when Sheriff McCowan was returned, the total vote was remarkably light, being 960 votes less than formerly.

The campaign which ended as above attracted much attention. The Liberals devoted considerable attention to the advocacy of taxation reform, desiring that municipalities should have the right to exempt buildings and raise all their revenue by a tax on land values. The temperance issue was also to the fore. Mr. Henry, the Conservative nominee, upheld the existing law. Mr. Chamberlain favored local option without the three-fifths provise and in the abolition of hotel and club licenses to sell liquor to be drunk on the premises where it is bought. A meeting of temperance workers passed the following resolution:

"After having inquired concerning the attitude of both condidates in East York in relation to the question of temperance legislation, and having learned that Ms. G.S. Henry opposes the propasal to abolish barroomsand favors the three-fifths local option requirements, and that Mr. Albert Chamberlain, who is a well-known temperance worker cordially endorses the Alliance platform of barroom abolition and the repeal of the unfair three-fifths requirement, This meeting earnestly urges all friends of the temperance cause to give Mr. Chamberlain a hearty and united support."

New Regulations Regarding Jam Labels

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—An order in Council has been passed amending the regulations governing the standards for fruit and fruit products by adding a clause declaring that when jam, jelly or marmalade is prepared from two or more sorts of fruit, the first named on the label shall be that which is present in the largest quantity.

ANCIENT SKYSCRAPERS.

Roman Houses Were Tall and Flimsy, the Streets Narrow Lanes.

The tenement house is no new thing. So great was the number of such houses and so badly were they put up in ancient Rome that in 69 A. D. the Emperor Otho, who was then marching against Vitellius, found his way barred for twenty miles by the ruins of buildings that had been undermined by an inundation. The spontaneous collapse of tenement houses was so common an occurrence that little attention was paid to it.

The tenants of these houses have been described by a writer of the time as fearing to be buried or burned alive. Companies existed for the purpose of propping and sustaining houses.

In comparison with the tenements of most modern cities, those of Rome were excessively high. Martial alludes to a poor man, a neighbor, who had to mount 200 steps to reach his garret. That garret must have been perched nearly 100 feet above the level of the street.

It is possible that Martial exaggerated, but it is certain that Augustus, to make less frequent the occurrence of disasters, limited the height of new houses that opened upon the streets to about sixty-eight feet. As this was a remedial regulation and referred only to new houses fronting on the street, it follows that some houses must have exceeded that height.

This, moreover, was irrespective of the breadth of the street. In Berlin the medium width of the streets is twenty-two meters, and in Paris the narrowest streets are nearly eight meters wide, while the streets of Rome extended only five or six meters, and on these narrow streets the tall houses were built. Light and air must have had some difficulty in penetrating those narrow, walled in passages.

SARDOU AT REHEARSALS.

He Worried the Actors to Scowls and the Actresses to Tears.

Sardou, the great French playwright, knew how to profit by the views of other people. Jerome A. Hart writes in his book, "Sardou and the Sardou Plays:"

"Like Alexandre Dumas pere, Sardou was extremely sensitive to the opinions of the less subtle spectators of his rehearsals. He closely watched and heeded the impressions and comments of the stage carpenters, scene painters, firemen, supers and other humble people behind the scenes. They represented to him the average mind of the average audience. To the opinions of actors of his unproduced pieces he paid little heed; to the opinions of critics, none at all. At rehearsals no details escaped him. He would seat himself on the stage chairs and sofas, open and shut the practicable doors, go to the back of the parterre to study the perspective of the scene, climb to the highest gallery to see if the audience there could hear, and then hasten back to the stage.

"There he would seat himself, jumping up during the rehearsal thirty or forty times to show the actors his idea of the action. In doing this he would laugh, would cry, would shriek and would even die a mimic death. Coming to life again, he would call for his overcoat and hasten to muffle himself up as before. He was very sensitive to cold and always came on the stage with a heavy coat, a muffler and cap to protect him from drafts.

"He would rehearse from 10 in the morning until 3, when he would take a sandwich and a glass of wine. After this he would resume his work until 5 at which hour he would go blithely forth into the street, smiling and humming, 'followed,' as one resentful player put it, 'by scowling actors and weeping actresses.'"

The Idler Works Hard.

Work, ideally, should be congenial, fruitful, and the worker aware of his worth to the world. Nobody works harder than the idler. He has on his hands the dire task of killing time. Knowing the awfulness of vacuity, he fills the day with a semblance of activity and while gnawing at his peace is conscious of the barren folly of it all. The finest argument for real work is the spectacle of its counterfeit presentment.—Richard Burton in the Bellman

Variations In The Test.

Frequent experiments have shown that one single test of a cow's milk is not reliable as an indication of what percentage of fat her milk normally contains. A great many well known causes affect the test, also some causes that are unknown at present even by the closest students. This "variation in the test" is one of the greatest puzzles of the cow's individuality, and because of these puzzling variations it is advisable to take composite samples at intervals so as to ascertain the average test.

Some recent painstaking investigations at one of the dairy research stations in England with seven cows for two days, even covering such details as a separate test of eleven successive pints, three times a daw, from the four quarters of the udder, show that while the average test with the cows giving thirty pounds of milk per day was 3.6 per cent. the variation was all the way from six tenths of one per cent up to nine and a half per cent of fat.

This is clear proof of how misleading a single test may be. If the real earning capacity of each cow is to be computed, it must be on the basis of her annual production of milk and fat less the cost of feed; regular weighing and testing give that knowledge which every factory patron should have of each cow he keeps.

Village Wiped Out.

North Bay, Ont., September 9.—Deux Rivieres, a small village on the Canadian Pacific Railway, 67 miles east of North Bay was practically wiped out by fire this afternoon which started in the supply headquarters of the Hawkesbury Lumber Company, destroying the warehouses and offices of that firm and spreading to the residences adjoining. The hotel owned by M. Cottenham was destroyed, also the post offiice and the residence of P. M. Jardine. The C. P. R. station buildings, and the residence adjoining of Agent J. R. Boyles were destroyed. In all, about a dozen buildings were burned.

Sault Entertains Touring Ministers.

Sault Ste Marie, Ont., Sept. 8.—Hon. Frank Cochrane, Federal Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. W. R. Hearst, Ontario Minister of Lands. Forests and Mines, returned from a tour of Northern Ontario and West to Winnipeg to-day, and tonight were given a reception here. The touring party were entertained at supper in the International Hotel by the City Council and the Board of Trade, and later a public reception was held in the Columbia Hall, at which Mayor T. F. Simpson presided and read an address of welcome. The address expressed gratitude to the Minister of Railways and Canals for his efforts towards the building up of the North Country. Dr. Shannon of the Board of Trade, Read an address to Mr. Hearst.

Prescott Wedding Didn't Take Place.

Prescott, Ont., Sept. 5.—Although all arrangememts had been completed and some of the wedding guests had arrived at the church, the bridegroom failed to put in his appearance at the wedding of a prominent young couple of this town, which failed to take place at the appointed hour here on Tuesday. The supposition is that a quarrel had happened between the couple a few hours previously.

An Oxford township pumpmaker named Maxwell was summoned before the Brockville magistrate to answer to a charge of assaulting his wife. There have been strained relations in the family for some time and now they will live apart. The woman will take the house and lot, one cow, one pig and the furniture. The man will take his pump shop, which he will move away, and a a horse and buggy.

To estimate the weight of a stack of hay, says an exchange, take the height in feet to the eaves, and add half the height from the eaves to the crown; multiply the result by the length in feet, then multiply the width in feet and divide by 27, which gives the contents in cubic yards. New hay will average about 130 pounds to the cubic yard and from 160 to 190 pounds of old hay will be contained in the same cubic area.

A magistrate's examination was held privately last week at Avonmore, the case being a charge preferred by a resident of Monkland against a resident of Moose Creek. Mr. J. G. Harkness, of Cornwall for the defence and Mr. C. B. Rae, of Chesterville, for the prosecution. The bench consisted of Messrs. Felix McLaughlin, John Crawford, James Shanks and A. O. Miller, J. P's., the latter presiding. The examination lasted about five hours and the indictment was quashed. Another case of not such world-wide importance was tried on Thursday before Felix McLaughlin and A. O. Miller, J.P's., in Beaver Hall Store, this being a charge of assault, the parties being residents of Monkland. This was a clear case and the charge was sustained; but the magistrates were in a charitable state of mind and it only cost the defendant $5.00 and costs, with a warning.

The death occurred on Tuesday evening of Mrs. Robt. Craig after a lingering illness from cancer, up to about a month ago Mrs. Craig was attending to her household as usual but since then she has been confined to her bed though always cheerful in the midst of her suffering.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband and one son, at home, and four daughters, Mrs. C. Kennedy, of Moose Jaw, Mrs. Roland, of Ottawa, Mrs. Boyd, of Metcalfe, and Miss Lyla, at home. The family have the sympathy of the community in their great loss.

The funeral takes place this afternoon, from the house to the Methodist church, of which she was a faithful member.—Russell Leader.

Sleeping In Open Air.

There is a fad just now among English society persons for sleeping in the open air. Mme. Cecil Marr describes to the Daily Mirror this latest craze. "Really fashionable people do not dream of sleeping under a roof at this time of the year." she says. They have their beds taken out of doors into the gardens. Ladies who have almost begun to despair of their complexions take heart again after a few weeks' trial of this "all weathers treatment. Sleeping in the open has a remarkable steadying effect on the nerves, and is a sovereign remedy for insomnia."

Albert Healy, Who Scared Girls, Goes to Prison.

Smith's Falls, Sept. 8.—The local police made a clever capture when they succeeded in taking into their toils a man by the name of Albert Healy, who has been operating in this vicinity for the past year as "Jack the hugger." He terrorized the women and girls in Smith's Falls last winter and caused consternation.

He was arrested at North Bay and given six months and when released came to Jasper, six miles from here, it was when he started to walk to Smith's Falls he got into trouble again. On the way to town he made a savage attack on Mrs. Delbert Barber who was alone with her little girl at the farm house. She bravely fought him off and managed to telephone to a neighbor's home and Chief Phillips was communicated with. Healy was taken in charge by the local police at the farm of Levi Davis and in the local police court he pleaded guilty to the charge of assault on Mrs. Barber and was sentenced to 48 months in prison.

The prisoner admitted he was the man who hugged the girls on the streets here.

Fire at T. I. Park.

A string of about eighteen small boathouses located at Thousand Island Park beneath a sight-seeing stand at the foot of the cliff near the dock along the waterfront, with some sixteen skiffs and five motor boats, were wiped out by fire early Monday morning together with two other detached boathouses. The loss is $12,000 with little insurance.

The fire broke out about 2 a.m. and is supposed to have been caused by a match carelessly dropped by one of a party of loungers who were shouting and singing in the vicinity of the boathouses until after midnight. The affair is being investigated by the Park authorities.
