Keystone Cop, Kent Pilon nabs suspects in local Jimmy theft

MORRISBURG—In what resembles a segment of a Keystone Cops production, Morrisburg resident Kent Pilon, came through for Mike and Trudi Steward here Tuesday night, after they discovered their GMC black Jimmy had been stolen.

The incident began at about 5 p.m. when the Stewards were at home having supper. "I came out and it was gone," says Mike. "It was parked along the road."

At first Mike says he wasn't really concerned. "I thought somebody was playing a joke," he says. "I called a few friends, but nobody knew anything. So I called the police."

As luck would have it, Kent Pilon happened to be riding by on his bicycle, and Mike told him he thought someone had stolen his Jimmy.

Mike reports that Kent sped home "just like Bo Duke, who is his childhood hero," to retrieve his car, and have a look around town. "He saw it going behind the McIntosh Inn, and he wheeled around and followed it," says Mike, who explains that at that time Kent wasn't sure it was the right vehicle. "But then he saw it turn and start down the snowmobile trail."

When the persons left the Jimmy, Kent followed in hot pursuit, capturing one. "He brought her back and told me to watch her because he was going back," says Trudi. In the meantime, the police who had been to the Steward home, and had left, returned. They were told of Kent's location.

"The police went down and helped him out," says Mike. "He cracked the case. You should have seen him when he came back here, he was so excited. He was down there running through the bush with sandals on."

"I kind of felt sorry for the girl, he really gave her a lecture," says Trudi.

Because of the safe return of the Steward's vehicle, Pilon's antics are somewhat humorous, but the humor is lost on the five young persons who have now been charged and find themselves in serious trouble.

According to an OPP press release, four young females, ages 14-16 have been charged and released with the criminal offence of, possession of stolen property over $5,000 and will appear in Cornwall court on September 11. One male, age 17, from Deep River, Ontario, is still in custody and will appear at the same date in Cornwall court charged with the criminal offences of theft over $5,000, possession of stolen property over $5,000 and three counts of breach of probation.

Provincial Constable Ian Roberts of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry OPP is the investigating officer.

Tubie participants gear up for "Tubie Survivor"

MORRISBURG—Attention citizens of Morrisburg, this is a public service announcement regarding the upcoming Tubie Weekend 2000 "Tubie Survivor". The event seems to be falling into place quite well, with the exception of a few sneaky teams, and organizers are urging residents of Morrisburg and area to be on the lookout for tubie crafts testing for the race with illegal equipment.

There have been a few sightings of some local teams testing their craft using special fuel consisting of 50 and ice cream, and another was seen using Nitros Oxide. Organizers are warning these teams that this type of Tom Foolery is not accepted.

The Barclay-Hunt team are boasting a completely clean and natural craft as they are even making their paddles by weaving strips of bark into the shape of a paddle, while Steve Morrow's team chooses the more sleek method of whale bone and Bison sinew for their paddling material.

Now Gary Magee on the other hand, has recruited top Canadian Scientist Neet Onrop to design and build his craft with state of the art materials.

Early the teams were saying how they hoped to concentrate on the parade, but as the race draws near the quest for the King of the River title takes over and most teams really bear down.

It is reported that a team from Iroquois will hold 40 people and a helicopter on race day, while a local team of young people including the likes of Melissa Hamilton and Eric Irvine are sure they will claim the title as they are all young and athletic.

A local veteran Allan Black assures organizers he will be in the race this year but details are sketchy on his designs for the race or the parade. It is rumoured that he has hired famous movie star Dan Silver to captain his team.

Now for more information on the times of events and the dance a large full page ad sponsored by local businesses will be in this weeks paper with all the info you need. So don't forget August 5, is the parade at 2 p.m. and the race is August 6, at 2 p.m. as well.

Local residents area encouraged to get a good spot early as people come from as far as Tibet to watch the parade and race.

Freda Arnott and Morrisburg Golf Club President Bob Barclay are pictured seated on the bench Freda had built in memory of her late husband Peter. The plaque bears the inscription "In Memory of Peter Arnott, 1931-2000. 'A man who loved the game'", and the bench is located at the first tee on the Morrisburg Course.

Peter Arnott remembered at Morrisburg Golf Club

Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—Yes, he loved the game of golf. But, he also enjoyed people. And for that reason, it took only a brief time for him to get to know the members of the Morrisburg golf club, and become a well thought of and respected club member following his arrival in Morrisburg in 1988.

Last Wednesday, a memorial bench, with a plaque bearing the engraving "A man who loved the game", was unveiled at the first tee on the Morrisburg Golf Course in memory of Peter Arnott, who died in April of this year, following a courageous battle with cancer.

The unveiling was attended by Peter's widow Freda, club president Bob Barclay, and senior club representative, and golf buddy Roy Gummeson who constructed the bench at Freda's request.

Peter loved to walk and was an avid golfer. His positive and outgoing personality, endeared him to his fellow club members. In particular he loved his wine, many glasses of which he enjoyed while sitting on the club deck, where he could enjoy the picturesque final hole, with the river as its background.

"We are privileged to have this bench," said Barclay, as he read the inscription.

"He always stated that people in this town don't know how lucky they are to be here," said Freda. "It was his ambition to move the clubhouse to the river. He loved the water so much, and was pleased to be here by it."

Along with whatever assistance Peter could provide to the club, particularly in research, he took it upon himself to ensure the club history would be preserved.

"He loved bringing the scrapbook up to date, and loved clipping the articles out of the paper," said Freda.

Peter's bench and plaque now become a part of the club history, he was so interested in. Its location at the first tee, is just steps away from blue spruce trees, planted in memory of Jean Devaul, Ed Rice and Edward Taylor, and a red maple planted in memory of Kathy Coons, all of whom were also valued and hardworking members of the Morrisburg Golf Club.

McGregor resigns from South Dundas museum committee

by Catherine Thompson
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG—Following the acceptance of Gord McGregor's resignation as chair and member of the South Dundas Museum Committee, Council touched briefly on the future of the Iroquois Civic Center.

The Committee had suggested the Civic Center as a site for a South Dundas Museum, and the Civic Center has also been mentioned as a possible location for a merged Hydro administration.

McGregor explained that he felt he had let the Township down somewhat in his performance in this position. "There were, however a lot of negatives to contend with. First the newly amalgamated municipality had a lot on their plate during the first two years as government. A museum and especially a museum location was on the back burner.'

Secondly, he found there was a lack of interest in having the museum in the Village of Iroquois. Thirdly, it was evident the people were still thinking in terms of four municipalities and were interested in protecting their own turf.

In addition, there were several groups headed in different directions. One was interested in purchasing the Locke House, while another group was looking at a "Seaway Museum" in the old High School. Others were interested in preserving the history of the McIntosh Apple.

McGregor still believes much could have been put together in Iroquois and work could have been done in conjunction with the Carman House, and eventually spread out from there.

After receiving this information, Council mentioned the future of the Iroquois Civic Center. The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Library chair John Hope wrote the Township describing their reorganization plan for the floor space at the Iroquois Branch. The reorganization is to deal with shelving constraints, work flow

Metis look to form a local and claim their rights

by Catherine Thompson
Leader staff

DIXONS CORNERS—On Saturday a group of approximately 30 Metis attended a meeting here to find information on gaining Metis status and forming a Metis band or local.

The meeting was organized by the Ontario Metis Aboriginal Association with the help of local residents Jim and Linda Richardson, in conjunction with members of a local in Charbot Lake.

It was the second meeting held in the area in the last couple of months, and between the two meetings, some 200 applications for membership in the OMAA were picked up, and 130 were returned to the OMAA head office.

First vice president of the Ontario Metis Aboriginal Association Henry Wetelainen encouraged those present to apply for membership in the OMAA and Metis status. He also outlined some available programs such as the Aboriginal Business Service Network and Metis Employment and Training Services.

Wetelainen was asked questions regarding fishing and hunting rights which the Metis wish to have recognized. In the words of Jim Richardson, "we have ancestors who had practices and hunting, fishing and land rights."

"We're challenging the Ministry of Natural Resources all over this province,"said Wetelainen. "We'll stand behind you if you decide to exercise your rights."

Wetelainen said this was one of many organizational meetings he has been attending around the province, and the meetings are growing in size. In Sudbury a meeting attracted between 400 to 500 people, and had to be moved to a union hall. Meetings in Sturgeon Falls have grown from a mere 75 observers a few years ago to nearly 300 recently.

"We've been doing this for 30 years over 100 communities," Wetelainen explained. "We band together to fight for the rights of Metis in and off the reserve who are not first Nation registered bands. We've always been here. Now we're putting a structure in place."

"Cards don't make Metis," he also explained. "Our people have always been Metis. Our communities come together to start and continue this fight."

The Ontario Metis Aboriginal Association was founded as the Ontario Metis and Non-Status Indian Association in 1971 as a coalition of community-based local associations, living off reserves and not registered under the Canadian Indian Act.

Its goal was to provide representation for the numbers of Aboriginal people who had no political representation. It now represents some 200,000 Aboriginal and Metis people living off reserves in Ontario. Its objectives are to develop social and cultural programs focussing on economic development, self-government, health and welfare and education.

There are five geographical areas in Ontario known as the Woodland Metis Tribal areas and each are incorporated with an executive committee and board of directors. Eastern and Southern Ontario is in area five.

Community organizations known as locals are affiliated with the tribal area organization, and and the five tribal areas are affiliated with OMAA.

To accomplish its new objectives for the millennium, the association is undertaking a campaign to increase the visibility and accessibility of its programs and services and to increase its membership.

Children of the Future Help Hospital

Millennium parade

INGLESIDE—Please mark your calendar for Saturday, August 12th, 12 noon for the St. Lawrence Stepping Stones 2000 Millennium Parade.

The theme of the parade is unique since entries must feature some aspect of the historic St. Lawrence River that flows past these communities. The St. Lawrence River has since the beginning of time acted as a Stepping Stone on the development of Canada and will continue to do so into the future.

Some of the entries include Upper Canada Village, S.D. &. G. Shriners, South Stormont Line Dancers, Medieval Equestrian Jostlers, Western Outback riders, a mule drawn covered wagon, heavy horse unit, Equine Dreams, horse and carriage, Bethune Street Float from Long Sault, St. Andrews Parish Council, several antique and classic cars, and fire trucks. Featured marching bands are the S.D. & G. Highlanders, The Kemptville Legion Pipes and Drums, the Nativity Guards Marching Band from Cornwall and the Air Cadet Colour Party.

The Parade will wind its way along a 2.9 kilometer route from the Long Sault Arena turning left on Milles Roches Road to Cherry Avenue, where it will turn left onto French Avenue. It will then proceed to Moulinette Road where it will turn left and follow Moulinette Road to Simcoe Street, where it will travel down Simcoe to Milles Roches Road and return to the Long Sault Arena.

A special reviewing tent will be featured on the grounds of Woodland Villa where Senior residents and friends will be special guests. Entertainment will be featured there before and after the parade for everyone's enjoyment.

If anyone would like to become involved as a volunteer or enter in the Parade, please call Carson Elliott at 613-537-2362.

and security of the branch.

The Board had requested that the library could take on space formerly used for Council Chambers. However, following the request there was considerable discussion of possible plans for a museum in this space. The Board is interested in the space between the library and the south wall of the building, and believes that removal of the wall would improve the existing facility.

Hope requested Council's opinion on the space request and the possibility of painting and replacing the carpet. Council deferred this request for later discussion, in the absence of Coun. Audrey Rooney.

South Dundas out of the loop for a casino

by Catherine Thompson
Leader staff

IROQUOIS—The Township of South Dundas is out of the running for a casino, administrator Mike Waddell informed council at last Thursday's meeting.

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs wrote Council to outline regulations governing municipal referendums. One regulation declares that questions on casino gaming are of provincial interest and only areas those that have been permitted by the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation may be put on the ballot. The Corporation has already picked four possible areas, Front of Leeds and Lansdowne, Gananoque, Prescott and Brockville as the only ones that will be considered.

"The province did a study which indicated areas of eligibility and we're not on the list," said Waddell. The criteria in the study included economics, population, geography and other issues. The four designated areas are it, he continued.

Not only will the Township not be eligible for this term, but will not be eligible for the next term of Council because of a three year moratorium on casinos imposed by the province, Waddell said.

In addition, "the government will not look favorably on referendum questions on municipal restructuring that appear to be crafted so that a municipality will not have to consider restructuring for the next three years or to rule out viable options from consideration", the correspondence reads.

Waddell repeated the government's comment that a resolution on restructuring was "non-binding", and the municipality had no authority to make that decision.

In addition, any questions on referendums must be within the authority of the municipalities to implement the results and not require the province's action: for example, cost-sharing programs, or programs with provincial standards.

Mayor Johnny Whitteker was of the opinion the areas were decided by politics, while Waddell said he had heard nothing of the study, and there had been no consultation. Several councillors commented on the fact the government was dictating the kind of questions that may be asked on a municipal referendum.

The Township is also attempting to set up a meeting to discuss water and sewer needs in the two villages with Environment officials at the August conference of the Association of Municipalities in Ottawa. Mike Waddell said that he had still not received the Ministry's reply to Mayor Whitteker's appeal for infrastructure funds sent in June. "They've been inundated. It usually takes a month, but we also asked for an e-mail," said Waddell.

"Strong possibility" for Canadian Tire

by Catherine Thompson
Leader staff

TORONTO—Canadian Tire is still looking at opportunities to set up a store in Morrisburg, Scott Bonikowsky, senior director of Corporate Affairs said Monday.

"We're looking actively at opportunities and the market," Bonikowsky stated.

Bonikowsky added he could not make an announcement yet, but "hopefully soon. We're looking at this community by community."

Ingmar Wilkens, the dealer at the Williamsburg Canadian Tire Store has bought a bigger store in Vancouver and is leaving in August, while Peter Oliver, a new dealer from Toronto is scheduled to arrive August 9. But Bonikowsky said this is not related to the fact Canadian Tire is looking at opportunities in Morrisburg.

Canadian Tire currently has 438 stores across Canada. Since 1994, the Corporation has been undertaking a $1.5 billion national expansion during which it has opened 212 are new format stores. "Most are replacement stores, and ten to 15 are new stores," said Bonikowsky. "We had 51 store openings last year and 45 this year in 2000."

If a new format store is constructed in Morrisburg, it will feature more products, brand names on display, better lighting, wider aisles and better parking. "It will be a different experience for the customers," said Bonikowsky.

Contacted Monday, Wilkens said there is a strong possibility a new store will be built in Morrisburg.

Call Police at 1-888-310-1122 or 911

OPP Sgt. Brent Mattice reminds the public that during off hours, calls regarding an emergency, crime or accident should be made directly to 1-888-310-1122 or 911. The calls are connected to the communications center in Kanata, which may then respond by sending an officer to the scene. The Morrisburg detachment and every detachment in SD & G is open for administration calls from 8.15 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. Monday to Friday. The Morrisburg office may be reached at 543-2949.

Kent Chatham Resolution

South Dundas Council supported the resolution of the municipality of Chatham Kent regarding remuneration for fire services. The provincial fees paid for the provision of municipal Fire Department services on provincial highways has not been amended since December 1990. Since the cost of providing emergency responses has been higher than the actual costs incurred by the municipality, Chatham Kent requests the Ministry of Transportation to develop a long-term policy that allows Ontario municipalities to recover actual costs incurred as a result of responding to incidents on provincial highways.

Emergency Planning at Counties

South Dundas Emergency planner Bill Shearing has made a proposal to the Township to handle emergency planning next year, and JEPP funding has been applied for. Clerk Bill Horner reported that the Counties had awarded the tender for emergency planning at the County level to Oliver Mangione & Associates, who had the lowest tender of $5,000. Horner reported that Shearing offered more services but at the higher price of $13,000. Ottawa planner Harve Tremblay had the highest tender. Early this year, the province amended the Emergency Planning Act to allow Counties to offer emergency planning, but some Townships had already undertaken to arrange such services. Shearing said in an interview he had pushed for this since the 1998 Ice Storm, when he received regular calls asking the Township's needs from County administrator Ray Lapointe. Shearing said the pipeline of requests now goes from the Township to the County to the province. "This gives the County a role, it doesn't supercede the Township plan. What we do now ensures we have support at the County level, and that Townships are given support on a priority basis. This allows them to bring the organization together," said Shearing.

Noxious Weed Inspection

Arthur Bray will be acting Weed Inspector for the entire Counties, replacing Howard Guy who is ill. Bray was weed inspector for the eastern area for 12 years, while Guy was inspector for the western area. Recently Bray visited two lots west of Morrisburg, and asked that ragweed be removed from one lot and different kinds of weeds be removed from the other. For health reasons, poison ivy and ragweed must be removed from properties if located near built-up areas. It was noted that weeds such as poison parsnip may also cause a rash, and some people are allergic to goldenrod, but these are not on the list. The other weeds are to be removed if they are located near agricultural lands, because of the risk of spreading seeds to crops.

Bylaw amendments

The Township is looking at amendments to bylaws to permit the sale of local farmers produce on Saturday morning at the Township parking lot. Coun. Cam Martel noted the Morrisburg BIA had requested an amendment to the bylaw restricting vehicle access to the Center Court in the plaza. The amendment would include skateboarders and bicycles and restrict them from the entire plaza. Martel said the wording of the amendment is being worked on.

Tornadoes in Ontario

They occur in many parts of Ontario between the months of May and September. They can cause tremendous destruction with wind speeds of up to 500 kilometers per hour.

We're talking about tornadoes and in an average year in Canada, up to 70 cause two deaths and 20 injuries, along with tens of millions of dollars in property damage. In Ontario, 15 to 20 tornadoes of varying intensity might be seen in any given year.

Although we can't do anything to prevent tornadoes, we can certainly be prepared!

Despite advance warning, some people are unprepared for a tornado. Some may not hear the warning while others may not believe a tornado would actually affect them. It's up to you. You can prepare by having a plan in place long before the tornado hits. You must make the decision to seek shelter before the storm arrives. It could be the most important decision you will ever make.

A severe thunderstorm is the driving force behind a tornado. Hot, humid weather combined with a cold front could be a sign that a tornado is brewing, and a funnel cloud hanging from a dark cloud may be visible before the tornado actually occurs.

A tornado may be accompanied by lightning, high winds and hail. Stay tuned to your local TV and radio stations for updated storm information especially when weather conditions are right for generating a tornado. As well, it's important to know the difference between a tornado watch and a warning.

A tornado watch advises that a tornado is possible in your area and you should be on the alert. A tornado warning reports a tornado sighting or warns a tornado is likely to form and touch down, and may be headed for your area. You should take safety precautions immediately.

If you hear a tornado warning, take shelter immediately if possible. When swimming or boating, head to shore at the first sign of a storm. Stay away from windows, doors and exterior walls.

In a house, go to the basement and stay under the stairway or a sturdy work table. If the house has no basement, stay on the ground floor in a hallway, small room closet, or bathroom located in the centre of the house.

In a vehicle, if time permits, drive away from the funnel cloud at a right angle. In a mobile home, leave and take shelter in a sturdy structure. If shelter cannot be found, protect your head with your arms and find safety in a ditch, ravine, culvert or an overpass.

You should have on hand an emergency kit that contains a five-day supply per person of canned, packaged or non-perishable food items and water, radio, flashlight and matches, candles and tin can, and fire extinguisher. If your home or family is affected by a tornado, you should monitor local media reports for advice.

Check for gas leaks in your home and if you smell gas, turn off the main gas valve and open the windows, leave the house and notify the gas company, police or fire department. Check for blown fuses and look for short circuits in your home wiring. Drive carefully and watch for debris, damaged bridges/roads and dangling wires.

Report any emergency situations to the local police or fire department. Notify your insurance agent or broker if your property is damaged.

Contrary to popular belief, low pressure associated with a tornado does not cause buildings to "explode" as the tornado passes overhead.Windows do not equalize pressure and minimize damage. You're not safe if you're downtown. Areas near rivers, lakes and mountains are not safe from tornadoes. (Ministry of the Solicitor General)

The Leader's Blast from the Past

Compiled from The Leader's files by Bonnie McNairn

1990

The August 1, issue of The Leader reported plans for the 20th Annual Tubie Race had been finalized, and organizers had decided to start it off with a bang. The bang was to be a fireworks display at the waterfront on Friday night.

An Ad Hock committee of county council was to examine a proposal to transform the Hartford Retirement Home into an extended care facility for the aged.

Paul Dentz of Dentz Orchard was pictured at his sweet corn stand. Corn was ready and because of sufficient rain, corn quality was very good.

Four local ladies were seeking the Dundas County Dairy Princess Crown. Pictured with last year's Queen, Debra Cooper were Sonya Moss, Carola Biemond and Tammy Duke.

Ted and Bonnie Jarvis of Morrisburg were pleased to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Marilyn to Kevin Spencer of Prescott. The marriage was to take place September 1.

Barry VanAllen was celebrating his 30th birthday.

Winners at the Cedar Glen Ladies' Open were Lea Anne Munro in A flight, Ida Palmer in B and Judy Auger in C.

John Ross, president of Ross Video in Iroquois, was appointed to the 1990-91 Board of Directors of the Industry Education Council for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

An open wedding reception in honour of Marilyn Bern and Jeff Arsenault was advertised for August 4, at the Iroquois Legion.

Ken Black, Minister of Tourism and Recreation, visited Upper Canada Village for a low key tour of the establishment. He was accompanied by George Speal, chairman of the Commission, and newly appointed general manager, Frank Shaw.

Incumbent Tory M.P.P. Noble Villeneuve was in the running for the upcoming September 6, election.

1980

The July 30, issue of The Leader reported that property on Carman Road in Iroquois, formerly occupied by an attractive riding stable operation run by George Jackson, had recently been rezoned from agricultural to light commercial, and since April had been the home of Craig Packaging Ltd. The firm, which produces packaging material, employed eight full-time people.

For local high school students, this was a landmark summer. These young people, most of whom had completed grade 9 at Seaway, participated in an exchange with French speaking students from Quebec. Students involved were Nancy Hewlett, Erin Gleeson, Cindy Ault, Jill Murphy, Mary-Jo Rosenquist, Rene Laframboise, Frances Smith and Susan Kerr.

Two year champs, Steve Casselman and Bill Dillabough, were preparing to defend their Kings of the River Title. A person planning to take part in the race and using the Alias Peppy Lepue, said his craft and his partner would be the first across the finish line with Fred Veley and son Bill coming in second place. He said his partner, Goodyear Bink thought Dillabough and Casselman would finish somewhere in the next five crafts. "They're too old and Dillabough especially, is too fat," said Peppy.

Linda Tschoumy, a third year student at Ottawa University, and a native of Iroquois had taken a leave of absence from her Phys Ed. Major this year to pursue her education along vastly different lines. In September, Linda would be off to an obscure village in Gambia, South West Africa. She had joined Canadian Crossroads International, an organization that made arrangements for persons from affluent Canadian society to travel to third world nations for four months, during which time they would learn first hand the other side of the economic and cultural coin.

At Iroquois, the historic Lawn Bowling Club building had been renovated. The house was a fine example of the architecture of the early 1800's. For the renovation, Lawrence Whitteker of Colquhoun and Clarence Gilett gutted the interior, paneled the walls, put in a new ceiling and installed carpeting. The Lawn Bowling Club had a long history in Iroquois dating back to the 1920's.

The Morrisburg Tennis Courts were now one year old and the pride of the community. The fledgling club boasted 99 members, under the guidance of president John Corbett.

Terri Cassell and Peter Gooch, two very zealous young members of the summer recreation staff, had taken on the task of organizing a day long Teen Drug and Alcohol Information Seminar. Numerous guest speakers had been lined up.

Seen 'n heard Around The Town

Yes, it's that time again. And what time is that you may ask. Well, Tubie Time of course.

This coming Tubie weekend marks the 30th anniversary of the Morrisburg Tubie Races, hence this year's theme "Tubie Survivor" which, although it originated because of the popularity of the Survivor Shows, can have a twofold meaning.

Since the Tubies have been around for 30 years, everyone probably knows the order of events, but we'll go over it just one more time, just in case. Registration takes place Friday night from 6-8 p.m. at the arena, and Saturday's parade will get rolling at 2 p.m. Saturday night you can dance the night away to music by "Eyelid". The 30th running of the race begins at 2 p.m. Sunday, and ends at the beach.

We've been around since the original Tubie, and, if you catch my meaning, it seems that every year the participants get younger. Even though we've generously given over, (we could still do it if we wanted to, huh?) the weekend still adds up to the summer's top party. So have a good one, but stay safe. Don't drink and drive.

The Morrisburg Firefighters are running their Volleyball Tournament at the beach on Saturday. All proceeds go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association, so get a team and get into the action. Contact Kevin Spencer.

Also from Friday night until the wrap up on Sunday is the Morrisburg Junior B Lions lob ball tournament at the waterfront ball park They are also having a barbecue Saturday, and refreshments will be available at the diamond.

And now for our final item of the week. It deals with a little woodchuck critter, named Chuckie, by his pop Charlie Moore. Chuckie is used to protect Charlie's golf clubs (from Charlie?). Seems Chuckie goes missing on a regular basis, and this last time, Charlie was worried that Chuckie was gone for good. He was, however, later discovered, mounted to a stake with a butter knife through his head. Upon his discovery (in Sam Laurin's back yard), Charlie recited a well put together piece that referred to Sam as some kind of bottom feeding specimen. Alas, the speech was lost and I can tell you no more. But what more do we have to say. Right Charlie?

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

This is an open letter to the members and Board of the Upper Canada Playhouse.

Don't let the Playhouse step backwards and become anything but a live, professional theatre. Don't allow a new agenda to reverse all the good work done by Michael Bianchin and Welcome Wood Productions.

As a theatre professional, I will unabashedly say that it is a pleasure to work at UCP as it exists. It is truly a jewel.

However, if Welcome Wood is pushed out and the Playhouse becomes a roadhouse, I am concerned that it will die.

Michael has worked tirelessly to secure both season and show sponsors who seem keen to reinvest their sizable contributions under the current conditions. I would be surprised if they would be willing to risk having their good names connected to a season whose quality is determined by whoever is willing to rent the space.

Another large and currently growing portion of audiences, the bus tours will probably be lost as seasons become unsecured.

I have owned and operated a touring theatre company and know the difficulty of finding appropriate theatre space. Most companies need and expect state of the art equipment. Therefore, filling UCP often enough to ensure its long-term life will be difficult because of the theatre's limitations. Currently, the professional Artistic Director chooses a season to fit both the space and the audience. That is why it works.

Let's not fool ourselves. This board may be changing directions and therefore is unwittingly bringing about a very unsure future. If your plans don't work, say...due to the sheer volume of energy you'll need to constantly seek out companies to rent the theatre, you can resign. But, who'll pick up the pieces? "If it ain't broke...don't fix it."

Michael and Welcome Wood have brought about very positive change. Don't push him out. As Board Members, it is your sole responsibility to ensure the continued success and growth of this wonderful facility.

Headlines in the July 29, 1960 issue read Jury Recommends Life Guards at Area Beaches. A coroner's inquest into the deaths of May Mooney of Chesterville and Allan Watson of Ottawa, at Crysler Park in Lake St. Lawrence had been convened in Morrisburg by County Coroner Dr. W.M. Byers of Winchester. The jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning and recommended that water safety equipment be available at the beaches at all times, and that someone be in charge and fully trained in the use of the equipment.

A couple of ebullient Morrisburg youngsters rowed across Lake St. Lawrence. This would not have been unusual, except the "youngsters" were John Dain who was about to turn 85, and Arthur Weagant who was in his 86th year.

A new style telephone for the home was to make its appearance in Morrisburg on August 1, said L. M. Holtby, regional Bell manager. It was known as "The Princess", the compact, oval-shaped phone that reduced the space needed for current desk-type telephones.

Tee-pee, who wrote the Morrisburg Spotlight column estimated that close to 1,000 people were enjoying the swimming and sunbathing on Saturdays and Sundays, at the Morrisburg beach.

1950

The July 28, issue reported the Morrisburg Community picnic, last held in 1941, was being revived this summer and would be held at Broder Island Park on Wednesday, August 16.

Due to the installation of a new furnace and lights, Rev. Maxwell Reader, B.A., B.D. had cancelled Sunday Service at the United Church of Canada, for two weeks.

"I said, Thou Shalt Not Kill"

From A Biblical Perspective

A week or so ago, as I was watching the morning news on TV, one of the items of the day that had people's attention was certain billboard advertisement that was appearing in different places across our nation. The billboard had a rather large picture of an elderly man with a white beard. The words beside the picture were interesting, not so much for what they were saying, but more for what someone wanted them to say. The words were, "I said, Do Not Kill." The billboard was sponsored by a vegetarian group and they were trying to get us to see God giving the commandment not to kill.

As is often the case when someone tries to get God to speak on their behalf or on behalf of their cause they took the Words of God completely out of content. That same day I was driving around, as I turned on the car radio trying to find something interesting to listen to, I tuned into a station out of the states that was airing a talk show. The host of that show, on that particular day was talking about capital punishment and he remarked on the inconsistency of those who believe the Bible and the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," and yet support capital punishment. In his view such people were hypocritical.

This column is about bringing a Biblical Perspective to things so I would like to address both of these scenarios and see what the Bible is really saying.

The commandment, given by God, "Thou shalt not kill," is found in Exodus 20:13. I don't want you to get the idea that I am some kind of language scholar, I am not. However, I have this great tool, which I use when I prepare sermons, to help me understand what God is saying in His Word. The Bible was written many years ago. The Old Testament was written originally in the Hebrew language and the New Testament in the Greek language. This tool that I have , called "The Strong's Exhaustive Concordance," gives the Hebrew or Greek word from which our English word came from. When I looked up the word kill, I found that there are seven different words in the original Hebrew language which is often translated kill, especially in the King James Version of the Bible. These words have different meanings. The word which we translate kill in the commandment found in Exodus 20:13 is better translated murder. God says that is forbidden. No one has any right to do that.

Now, here is where the distinction between the words come in. It has nothing to do with killing animals. I do not condone the useless killing of animals for sport, however, God says it is okay for us to kill animals for food and clothing. As a matter of fact, the first record we have of animals being killed, is in Genesis 3:21. Here, God made garments of skin to clothe Adam and Eve after they had sinned. It is reasonable therefore to believe He must have killed an animal or two to get these skins. Then in Genesis 9:2-3, God told Noah and his family that they could now use the animals, birds of the air and fish of the sea for food. So much for our vegetarian friends billboard message.

Secondly, in response to the talk show host about those who believed the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," and then approving of capital punishment. Again, the Bible becomes our source for proper understanding. Genesis 9:6 is the Words of God given to Moses that man was to live by. There we read these words, "whoever sheds the blood of man by man shall his blood be shed; for in the image of God has God made man." God took murder very seriously and He put great value upon life. There are many references in the Bible that tell us God's way is to punish, with their life, the person who intentionally, without regard for others, takes another's life.

It is very easy to take parts of the Word of God and make them fit our own agenda and promote our own views, but if we are going to be true to the whole picture, we must take its word and understand in the content in which it was given. Here is another truth that cannot be denied, GOD LOVES YOU, WHOEVER YOU ARE!

Local resident forms company with attitude

by Catherine Thompson

MORRISBURG—Five years ago, LeeAnn Norton made a decision that turned her life around.

At that time the Morrisburg resident was unemployed and looking to improve her job prospects, but she encountered the same question whenever she inquired about employment. "What do you know about computers?"

At this point, LeeAnn said she didn't even know how to turn a computer on, although she could use an electric typewriter. Then she turned to T.R. Leger courses to teach her keyboarding and computer basics.

One year at the T.R. Leger campus in Cornwall brought her into a level playing field and she enrolled in the Business-Technology Program at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall. Here she met her future business partners, Anne-Marie Phoenix, an Edmonton optician who had moved to Cornwall and wanted a career change and Hilary Beaty, a resident of Alexandria and part-time farrier.

The three became good friends during their first semester, and by the end of their first year of studies, were thinking of starting a business together.

"We studied and worked very well together in school," said Hilary Beaty. "We were really open to each other's opinion," LeeAnn added. "We were able to recognize each other's strengths and weaknesses and build a strong working team."

The three graduated with distinction at the June convocation. Encouraged by Pat Finucan, director of Academic Operations at the College, they attended seminars by Denzil Doyle, sponsored by the Economic Development Office.

"We realized that we wished to be at the leading edge of what is going on in Cornwall after listening to Denzil Doyle. We believe that more high tech will be coming there," LeeAnn said.

The three put together a business proposal for a high tech support business and presented it to Mr. Doyle and Mr. McDougall from Doyletech, who encouraged them to go forward with a plan.

LeeAnn said the Business Technology course was very helpful since it included information on Information and Communication systems, Programming, through to Accounting. "It was like a hybrid of everything in Technology and Business courses, so that we can now act as a translator between the user and technical teams," she stated.

Since there are enough companies in Cornwall selling computers and hardware, their new company will produce specific software, data base and web pages for individual retail businesses, she said.

Each of the business partners has different strengths and they balance in a well-rounded partnership. "I'm strong in data base design, while Hilary likes programming, and Anne Marie is very strong at all three," Lee Ann said.

"The role we have in the business depends on the project itself. So we can go in and out of projects and help each other."

Right now, LeeAnn is working out of her home on Walton Street in Cornwall, and the partners are looking for suitable office space. Since two partners are already in Cornwall, they meet frequently, and all three communicate by phone or e-mail.

The three partners will officially open their new business, dubbed Attitude Computer Solutions August 1, and they hope to hold a grand opening on September 30.

Fifth sunset ceremony performed at Fort Henry

KINGSTON—The band referred to as the most prominent tourist attraction in the Nation's Capital is back at Fort Henry for a second outstanding performance this Wednesday evening (August 2), as special guests for the fifth Sunset Ceremony performance of the season.

Robert Doak, special events coordinator at Fort Henry, says the Band of the Ceremonial Guard adds a unique and dynamic element to the evening performances, not to mention their local popularity.

"This band is comprised of the Canadian Forces Primary Reserve, formed to perform the Changing of the Guard ceremony on Parliament Hill," said Doak.

"The band consists of 80 brass and reed players, as well as 10 pipers. These university-aged musicians are recruited through a national audition process held annually at the music departments of most of the country's leading universities, conservatories and colleges. They combine well with the Fort Henry Guard and add substantially to the pomp and pageantry of the evening. They performed this year at the second Sunset Ceremony show to a crowd of over 1800 people and the audience certainly showed the band their enthusiastic appreciation. We've had many calls asking about their return."

The band performs a variety of traditional military marches and contemporary selections, promising something for every member of the family.

This year's performance series, presented by the Ramada Plaza Hotel and Days Inn Kingston, has shown an attendance increase of 57 per cent over last year, attracting 7,632 visitors this season, compared to 4,858 visitors last year. Clear weather, the addition of guests bands to the performances and increased regional marketing initiatives by the Ontario Ministry of Tourism and the Kingston Economic Development Corporation's Tourism Division have been cited as potential factors influencing the increases.

Fort Henry is located at the junction of Highway No. 15 and Highway No. 2, exit 623 off Highway No. 401, then south on Highway No. 15.

Cites interference

"The Storm" fights telemedia application

IROQUOIS—A classic David and Goliath battle is brewing between local radio station CISD-Storm 107.7 and the giant Telemedia Corporation.

An FM station in Hull, owned by Telemedia, CIMF, has applied to the CRTC for approval to install a repeater in Hawkesbury, broadcasting on the same frequency as CISD.

Armed with a broadcast consultant's maps and computer printouts of coverage patterns, CISD is opposing the plan, asking the CRTC not to approve the repeater.

According to Rob Edmonds, CISD station manager, the consultant's report indicated the CISD signal could be subject to interference from the Hawkesbury transmitter in parts of the prime South Dundas listening area.

Because it is licensed to serve South Dundas and provides local radio service to an area that has been under-served by larger city stations, CISD is hoping the CRTC will recognize the value of community radio and will protect the fledgling operation that will celebrate its first anniversary this fall.

At a Seaway Campus Community Radio (the group that operates CISD), Board of Directors Meeting, a decision was made to pursue applying to the CRTC for a power increase to 250 watts for CISD and protection for the frequency.

This would ensure 107.7 would not be subject to use by another station in the area, and would provide an improved signal for listeners in South Dundas and East Grenville.

According to a CISD press release, the request by Telemedia for a Hawkesbury repeater has been driven by the fact CBC is increasing its power on a Montreal station that would allegedly cause interference with the CIMF Hull signal in the Hawkesbury area.

According to Jim Millard, CISD board chairman, the group understood when they applied to use 107.7, that it was also assigned to Hawkesbury, but assumed it would be for another low power operation such as CISD.

He added that it was always part of the CISD plan to seek what is known as protection for the frequency, and to apply for a power increase after successfully broadcasting for a year.

Plans for the application were just beginning when the station heard from a third party that CIMF had applied to use the frequency for a high powered repeater.

Help is being enlisted from MP Bob Kilger, and from listeners and supporters who will contact the CRTC to oppose any use of 107.7 that would interfere with the CISD signal or prevent the station from increasing power to 250 watts. CISD is suggesting CIMF seek another frequency in Hawkesbury for a high powered repeater, leaving 107.7 available for low power use in both South Dundas and Hawkesbury.

Listeners who would like to comment in support of CISD are invited to send letters to the station which will in turn forward them to the CRTC. Letters should be mailed to CISD at PO Box 100 in Iroquois or e-mailed to jmillard@storm107.com.

"Never say diet" and achieve weight control

Year after year people resolve to lose weight. What this usually means is "going on a diet."

Unfortunately, the majority of people don't find long-term success and regain the weight soon after the strict diet ends - the old "yo-yo" effect.

The latest fad diet will offer new hope to millions, but all too often the effects are temporary, and the weight is quickly regained. This message comes through loud and clear in Never Say Diet!, a book by registered dietitian Judy Toews and journalist Nicole Parton.

Their recipe for weight control, now a favoured approach amongst dietitians and other health care professionals, is healthy eating, active living, and feeling relaxed and good about yourself.

This is advice more Canadians ought to heed, given that excess weight poses serious health risks, and more Canadians are overweight than ever before. A poll published in 1997 by Health Canada showed almost half of Canadian adults are overweight.

Many are close to their ideal weight, and through a slight increase in activity and a slight decrease in caloric intake they would be able to manage well.

But many others are facing a much bigger challenge.

If you're uncertain of your weight status, check it out by calculating your Body Mass Index. If you have concerns about your weight, talk to your doctor who can fill you in on some interesting new strategies for effective weight management.

For specific information on diet and nutrition, speak with a registered dietitian.

In the meantime, don't underestimate the benefits of regular physical activity when striving for a healthy weight. Individuals who incorporate regular physical activity into their daily life, are more successful at weight management than those who do not.

Popular activities among Canadians include walking, gardening, home exercise, swimming, bowling and golf.

Short bouts of activity are just fine, too, as your efforts all add up. Even active chores around the house play a part.

One final thought, if you're trying to lose weight don't lose heart. Remember that activity increases muscle tone, so you may be gaining muscle while losing fat and inches.

Your weight may not decrease significantly, but your body shape may improve.

Whatever your goals, be patient. Look for progress over the long term, not overnight.

Swimmers hoping for a better month

MORRISBURG—Swimmers at the Morrisburg Beach wrapped up their July session with water games, which turned out to be fun for all.

The beach crew reports a successful first session with almost all swimmers successful on their levels.

Unfortunately the crew, which consists of Kate Coolican, Laura Baker, and Jennifer Catellier agreed it was not the best month for swimming.

According to Catellier, the water is now warming up, and everyone is keeping their fingers crossed that August will be better.

The August session started Monday, but there is still time if anyone is still interested in lessons. The July session involved 41 local swimmers, and August should have about the same.

In the accompanying photos, front to back, Jeremy Hough, Shane Groulx, and Joey Robertson are given a ride on the life saving float by Jennifer.

Anderson, Fawcett win club championship

Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—Matt Anderson and Dianne Fawcett stepped into the winners' circle here Sunday afternoon, to claim the Iroquois Golf Club's 2,000 championships.

Anderson made a strong bid for his silverware putting together rounds of 69-73 for a 142 total, while Fawcett had her work cut out for her.

Trailing two-year defending champ Nancy Barkley by two strokes following Saturday's play, Fawcett battled her way to the championship Sunday with an 86 to Barkley's 89 for the win.

Barkley opened Saturday with an 82, and Fawcett shot an 84.

In the ladies B flight it was another come from behind victory for Shirley Belanger.

Belanger opened Saturday with a 93, behind Gail McCallum's 90 and Helen Roberts' 91. She turned it around Sunday with a 90, while McCallum added a 95 and Roberts a 97.

Karen Cooke claimed the C flight championship. She kicked it off Saturday with a 98, which gave her a one stroke lead over-Ruth Robertson. An impressive 96 in round two gave her the win, and Robertson settled for second with a 201 total.

D flight belonged to Sally O'Brien all the way, as she put together a pair of 109 rounds.

Mary Jean Craig won the A class net championship with rounds of 89-86 for a 175 total and a 135 net total.

Margo Anderson won the B net championship with a pair of 96's for a 192, and a 134 net total, and Ruth Robertson claimed C with 99-102 rounds, for a 201 total and a 133 net.

The D flight net championship went to Mary McAdam with rounds of 118-111 for a 229 total and a 149 net.

Men's results

For the men, Robin McIntosh came up big on Sunday with a 73, which he added to Saturday's opening 81 for a 154 total and the B championship.

Bob Bergland won the C championship with 95-89 rounds, and Les Craig claimed D with 101-86 rounds.

The A net championship was won by Bill Minkhorst who gave Matt Anderson a run for his money. Minkhorst had rounds of 73-70 to finish one behind Anderson for the overall championship. The 143 gross total gave him a 129 net for his win.

In B flight, Maurice Kolff fired 80-81 for a 161 gross total and a 129 net, to win the championship.

Lance Malette posted 89-98 rounds to win the C flight net championship with a 145, and Dale Roberts had 18 hole rounds of 101-104 leaving him with a 149 net and the D championship.

Ladies Valley League

The completion of the weekend club championship also finished off the ladies three qualifying rounds for Valley League. They were allowed to use the best two of three rounds, from the championship and an earlier 18 hole round qualifier.

The official team roster could not be announced until yesterday, Tuesday, when competitors froze into their handicap categories.

As of Sunday, the team's A flight leaders were Nancy Barkley (82-86), Dianne Fawcett (84-86) and Mary Jean Craig (89-86).

The top three B flight qualifiers were Shirley Belanger (93-90), Helen Roberts (93-91), and Gail McCallum (90-95).

In C flight, the top two spots were held by Karen Cooke (99-96) and Ruth Robertson (99-102), and Brenda Lyon (104-100), and Evonne Delegarde (106-98), were tied.

The top three D flight qualifiers were Sally O'Brien (109-109), Mary McAdam (113-111) and Anita Gilmour (118-113).

The final team could not be decided until the freeze deadline, when the players become locked into their flight. As well several players are eligible to play in the senior spot, which will affect the team makeup.

According to ladies club captain Shirley Belanger, the problem of not being able to name the ladies valley league team upon the completion of the qualifying play, will end this year. Effective for 2001, ladies at the various clubs participating in the valley league will have their handicaps frozen prior to going into their final round of play regardless of what the date is.

And the Winners Are
The 2000 ladies' champs at the Iroquois Golf Club are, from l-r, Sally O'Brien in D flight, Karen Cooke in C flight, Shirley Belanger in B flight, and overall club champion Dianne Fawcett in A flight. The championship consisted of rounds played on Saturday and Sunday.

Effort to introduce local youngsters to lacrosse

IROQUOIS—As the summer heads towards the home stretch, and the hockey season looms straight ahead, John Hanson and Barry Elliott are working on introducing minor lacrosse here.

"It is a great way to get the kids in shape for hockey," said Hanson, "And if we get enough interest, we can try it again next year."

The game of lacrosse has been enjoying a steady comeback in the area over the last two or three years, and slowly youngsters throughout the district are being introduced to it.

It Morrisburg, lacrosse was the summer sport in the late 60's and early 70's.

"It is possible, down the road, to eventually have games against other areas if it catches on," said Hanson.

"We have some sticks available for the kids," he said. "What we really need are some coaches, and people to come out and help."

All children in South Dundas between the ages of 8 - 14 are invited to attend the Saturday morning sessions at the Iroquois Outdoor Rink. If there is enough interest, it will run 9-11 a.m. Saturdays from Aug. 5 to Oct. 7.

The 10 weeks will cost each player $25, all of which will be put back into the program.

Youngsters interested in playing, and anyone interested in helping out can call Hanson at 652-2618 or Elliott at 652-2148.

Brockville Speedway

BROCKVILLE—Kyle Jacobs didn't take long to dial his new race car in. The Hogansburg, NY driver won first time out in his new TEO chassis Friday night at Brockville Ontario Speedway. It was also his first BOS win ever, and gave him a guaranteed spot for October's Syracuse 150.

Bill Mullin of Iroquois was second at the finish, with points leader Lee Gill of Lefargeville third, just ahead of Chico Dingwall of Brockville.

The Pro Stock feature was quick and to the point. Todd Fletcher of Renfrew started fourth, took the lead, and the first lap, and led all 15 green flag laps on route to the victory. Mark Therrien of Alexandria finished second, and Brockville's Randy Earl was third.

The 20 lap Sportsman main saw almost every car in some kind of mishap. Randy Gaudet of North Augusta, who took over the lead on restart with seven laps remaining and cruised to his third straight win, was the exception to the rule. Joe Cook of Deferriet, NY was second, and Gil Evoy of Athens rounded out the top three.

The Novice division ran a special 20 lap feature with rookie John Mulder of Spencerville leading all the way for his first victory. Mulder also won the novice dash for cash earlier in the program.

The BOS returns to action with a regular program Friday night, including a special spectator bag race. The green flag drops at 7:30 p.m.

Friends Gather

Saturday marked the ninth anniversary of the annual golf get-together between the Morrisburg Legion and the War Amps group. What started in 1989 has continued through the years, and strong friendships have developed between the two groups. Although they first met 11 years ago, there were two years the groups were unable to get together. This year 13 golfers representing the War Amps hit the course, while the Legion fielded 32 players. Top lady golfer was Judy Laurin with a 91, and top man was Terry Laurin with a 92. Long Drives went to Judy Laurin and Ed Wilson, and closest to the hole winners were Wilson and Bob Gondek. ### Volley for Cancer

Permanent sign now marks site

WILLIAMSBURG—A permanent, professionally made sign marks another milestone in the successful history of the annual Volley for Cancer fund raiser event coming up on August 19.

Thanks to a very generous donation from the MacIntosh Inn in Morrisburg and Sheldon Shane Signs of Crysler, an attractive sign now marks the site of the annual event held on Carl and Ruby Van Allen's farm on Lightning Street, just south of Williamsburg.

Volley for Cancer began six years ago, as a memorial to Carl's mother Goldie who died of cancer in 1993. In five years it has raised $94,000, led by last year's total of $30,000. It has become the leading one day fund raiser in South Dundas for Cancer, and in fact tops all other one day fund raisers for any recipients.

As a result of last year's success, the organizing committee has set a $35,000 goal for 2,000.

The cost of the new sign was shared equally by Sheldon Shane Signs and the MacIntosh Inn. Posts for the nine by eight foot sign were donated by Black Lumber Co. in Morrisburg.

"We have been involved with Volley for Cancer," said Tom Morrow of the MacIntosh Inn. "When Carl told us he needed a sign, we thought it a good idea."

"We've been supported very well by a lot of local businesses," said Van Allen, who points out this support, along with the participation of people from throughout the area is what has made the event such a success.

To date Van Allen has 30 teams registered, and he anticipates 80. Last year there were 68 volleyball teams. Deadline for registrations has been extended to August 5, and registrations sheets are available in stores throughout the area.

Along with Volleyball and Horseshoe tournaments, there is Golf for Prizes and Boom Rides. A beer tent will be at the site and shuttle bus service will be provided this year.

"The car club will be here again this year, and the Cornwall Club has invited a lot of other car clubs," says Van Allen.

Food will again be available through Subway of Morrisburg and the Williamsburg Oddfellows.

A new event will be a silent auction featuring some great auction items.

The day wouldn't be complete without the ongoing music provided by 10 bands.

Of course, an event as big as this wouldn't get off the ground without a lot of work. Last year 100 volunteers provided assistance.

Van Allen, says he keeps the site mowed throughout the summer, a task that takes him slightly over four hours to complete.

In the week prior to Volley for Cancer, over 300 picnic tables are borrowed from Williamsburg and Morrisburg, and four or five sets of bleachers are hauled in.

Last year it was estimated that between 3,500 and 4,000 people found their way to the Volley for Cancer event.

"Friday we line the 14 courts," says Van Allen. "We can't do it earlier because of weather. We usually set up for the horseshoe event the week before."

"I have three weeks of holidays," he says laughing. "One goes for the week before, one for the week after, and then I have one left for a holiday."

A Sign of Times

Thanks to the generosity of two local businesses, Sheldon Shane Signs of Crysler and the MacIntosh Inn in Morrisburg, the Volley for Cancer site has a permanent sign announcing its location at the Carl and Ruby Van Allen farm on Lightning Street, just south of Williamsburg. Pictured above, in front of the new sign are Volley for Cancer organizer Carl Van Allen, Diane Shane of Sheldon Shane Signs and Tom Morrow of the MacIntosh Inn. McNairn photo.

Minor hockey sale of used equipment

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Minor Hockey association is hoping to help out its members by providing a little fall house cleaning service.

The service is a Used Equipment Sale set for Saturday, August 12, from 9 a.m. until noon at the arena.

"This is an opportunity to sell or buy used equipment," says Sydney Schnurr, who is in the process of phoning all parents to ask for equipment they might wish to sell. "The money is to be returned to individuals, unless they ask that it be left with the MDMHA. This is not specifically a fund raising venture."

"The sale will only work if the hockey parents have equipment to sell, and if they take the time to get it to me," she says. "It would make the event run smoothly if items were dropped off to me before the sale. Otherwise people can bring them early on the morning of the 12th."

For information call Sydney Schnurr at 543-4182.

At men's night it was Gary McMillan out front with a 37, and Dave Bird fired a 39 for second place. Low net in A flight went to Don McMillan with a 38. Ron Geurkink won B class with a 40, and Wade Roles was right on his heels with a 41. Low net went to Ron Robinson with a 31.5. A 41 gave Bob Vanasse low gross in C class, and George Bloom was next with a 45. Nets winner were Pete Romme with a 33.5 and Doug Lowe with a 35. The D flight win went to Rob Termeer with a 50 and, Malcolm MacGregor was next with a 57. Bud Craik had low net with a 34.

Closest to the hole winners were Bert McIntosh and Terry Barkley, and Joey Barkley had the longest drive.

At the Tuesday night scramble Dave Casselman and Todd Findlay had low gross with a 31, and Jeff Whitteker and Jeff Minkhorst finished second with a 33. Cheryl Lowe and John Phillips led the field with a 25.5 for low net, and Joan and Lawrence Laroque and Ben Norgaard and Goaler Whitteker tied for second with 27's.

Cornwall Speedway

CORNWALL—It was great racing at Cornwall Motor Speedway. Double features were the order of the night, with a total of 87 cars and 248 laps, as the rescheduling of events continued.

The night started with features originally scheduled for July 2. In the first Modified feature, Danny O'Brien (Kingston) won his third feature at the quarter mile DIRT oval by holding off a strong challenge from veteran driver, Dave Heaslip (Smiths Falls). O'Brien took the lead for good when he passed Peter Mantha on the restart of a caution on lap 22. Heaslip followed O'Brien, and Mantha was relegated to third.

Marc Therrien won the first of two features in the first Late Model feature. Cornwall driver, Cliff Merpaw Jr. was second, and 18-year-old Mitch Jock (Akwesasne) round out the top three.

Robin Laframboise won the first Duke feature with Steve Mullin taking home the checkered flag in the Rookie feature.

The second set of features proved to be just as exciting, if not more so, than the first with 25 cars lined up for the start of the 30-lap race for the Modifieds.

Bill "Moon" Mullin (Iroquois) won that feature. For Mullin, it was his first feature win of the season at Cornwall, breaking the two race streak by O'Brien. It wasn't a cakewalk for the crowd favorite Mullin, who had to fend off a charging Dave Heaslip and Pierre Dagenais (Gatineau.) Heaslip fought with Mullin, for the lead for the final 16 laps, but couldn't gain any ground. Dagenais finish third, but not without a late fight from Danny O'Brien who worked his way to fourth.

Both Mullin and O'Brien pick up valuable points for the Doiron Engineering Cup. Both features counted in the four race series for a $3,000 first place prize. The fourth and final race in the series is scheduled for August 13.

Marc Therrien won his second straight Late Model feature, and Stephane Lemire (Drummondville) won the late Duke feature with the Rookie checkered flag going to Mark Radbourne of Cornwall. Marcel Baron, who runs in the Duke Stock on a weekly basis, won the demolition derby held at the end of the night.

Coming up Sunday, August 6, the J.R. Fuels/Bear's Den Holiday Classic comes to Cornwall Motor Speedway. A 50-lap feature awaits the Modified drivers with a full program for all support classes. It's a Syracuse qualifier for the Modifieds. Racing gets underway at 7 p.m. Gates open at 5:30 p.m.

From memory pass away.
–Lovingly remembered by husband Garnet, niece Connie and great-niece Sirena 31p

OKUM–In fond and loving memory of my dear sister, Audrey, who departed this life August 7, 1996.
You left so peacefully
With a smile...and grace
Looking forward to Heaven
Meeting Jesus face to face.
I know you're enjoying him
As you did here below
You left us so quickly
And Awd. I miss you so.
–Your loving sister, Wil 31p

ADAMS–In loving memory of a dearly loved father and grandfather, Gerald, who passed away August 6, 1999.
There is a family who misses you dearly
In a home where you used to be.
There is a family who wanted to keep you
But God willed it not to be.
You left many happy memories
And a sorrow too great to be told
But to us who loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.
–Love always: Glen, Lorraine, Jaime, Jennifer, Jeremy and Joel 31p

OBITUARIES

Jack Parnell passes away

John Allison (Jack) Parnell passed away after a long battle with cancer, at Erin Mills Lodge, Mississauga on Tuesday, July 25, in his 95th year. His passing was noted with sorrow by his many friends in the area.

Jack, and his wife Doreen, who predeceased him in 1999, resided in this area from the late 60's until recently, when failing health forced them to move to Bolton, Ontario, to be near family.

Jack Parnell was born and educated in Montreal. In the late 1920's, he joined the Cunard Steamship Lines, and served with that line over 40 years. When war was declared in 1939, the Canadian Government borrowed Jack from Cunard to assist in the problem of embarking the thousands of servicemen for overseas, and in bringing them and their war brides back to Canada in 1945.

He joined the forces in 1939 as a Lieutenant and rose to the rank of Colonel during the war years. In the latter stages of the war, he was the officer commanding the Canadian Embarkation Organization. For his war service, he was made an Officer of the Order of the British Empire (O.B.E.).

After the war, Jack returned to Cunard and was equally successful with the Company serving in Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver and reaching Executive rank. On his retirement in the late 60's, Cunard rewarded the Parnells with a trip around the world on Cunard steamships.

Jack was always an athlete. He held Dominion and Provincial Championships in canoeing. He was active in tennis, golf (he shot his age at both 80 and 90), and curling. It was in golf and curling that he made his greatest impact on our community.

In the early 70's, Jack and Doreen entered the area, and retired to a house "up the front", between Morrisburg and Iroquois.

He served for years on the executives of both the Morrisburg Golf Club and the Morrisburg Curling Club.

His greatest impact was with the golf club. He was the prime mover in the acquisition of the land on which the course is located. He was the chairman of a committee that designed the present clubhouse, and he and his committee supervised the construction. On completion of the clubhouse, he organized the club's New Horizons Group, and it was through this Group that he arranged grants to furnish the new facility. His most prized possession in his latter years was a picture of the clubhouse with the caption "The House That Jack Built", presented to him by the club when he was made a life member.

He was equally active with the Curling Club. His major project here was the installation of a new ice plant when the previous plant failed in the 70's. He arranged to borrow funds for the new plant from the members and other sources. He supervised the installation and obtained a grant from the Provincial Government that allowed the club to pay back all those from whom it had borrowed money. He also did extensive work on revising the Club's Constitution.

He continued to Chair the New Horizons Group for many years, organizing and supervising both summer and winter activities for the entertainment of seniors in the area. His move to Bolton was a great loss to seniors and to the local golf and curling community.

Jack is survived by his sister Nan Smillie, and two daughters and one son: Mary Allison Wickens, John Alexander Parnell (Carol) and Katharine Anne Butler (Douglas). He was dear gramps to Timothy Robert Cunningham, Jeremy Alexander Parnell (Melanie), Lara Elizabeth Parnell and Andrew Douglas Butler. He was dear great-grandfather of Wednesday, Willow and Rebecca.

A memorial service was held in Christ Church, on Nancy Street in Bolton on Friday, July 28.
