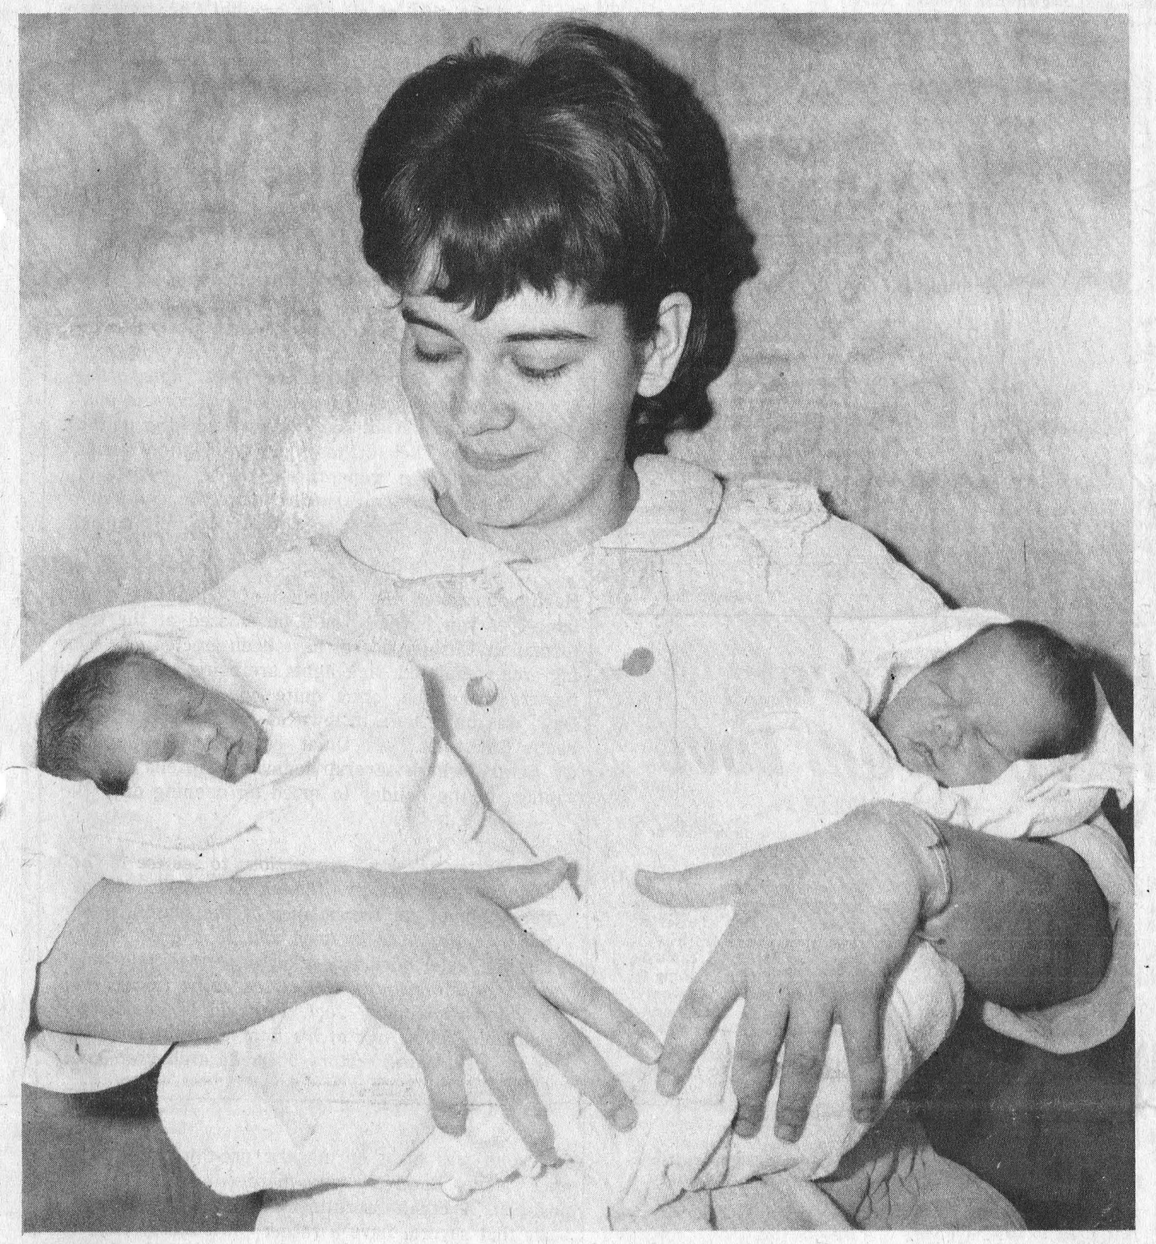
NEW YEAR GREETINGS



Gifts Come Day Late

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Crowder of South Mountain received something very special for Christmas and the fact the gifts arrived one day late only added to that excited anticipation known only to young parents.

Mrs. Crowder, the former Linda McClintock, presented her happy husband with his belated Christmas gifts at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on the morning of Sunday December 26th.

Brent Glen weighing in at 4 pounds, 2 ounces arrived at 19 minutes to ten and exactly 33 minutes later Brenda Lee, at 5 pounds, 5 ounces joined her brother in the snug nursery.

The young mother and her bundles of joy are shown above shortly before lunch time on Monday.

The one on the right is Brent Glen - or is it the one on the left?

Opening Day Fast Approaching For Winchester Community Centre

Many months of hard work and a multitude of fund-raising projects have gone into the construction of Winchester's new Community Centre.

There were times when even the most optimistic promotors appeared discouraged but those dreary days are all in the past and very soon the rafters will ring with merriment as young and old alike enjoy the facilities available.

The Monday after Christmas was for many a holiday, and a time of rest and relaxation. For others it presented an opportunity to spend a few more hours at the 'rink' and bring 'opening' day' that much closer.

It was a cold, damp afternoon, outside but for Ed. Duncan and Gerry Fluke the partially-heated lobby provided ideal working conditions and both are shown applying their talents rather diligently in accompanying photo.

Viewed from the rink area where more men were busy preparing the surface for it's first application of water, the viewing area looks trim and neat and very shortly it is expected the other viewing area from the hall above will also be glassed in.

With the weatherman predicting below-zero temperatures in the days ahead it is very possible the town will soon be enjoying it's first indoor skating since the old rink was condemned.

Friends Bid Farewell To Keith Carkner Family

Keith Carkner, popular Ontario Hydro employee who has been a resident of Winchester for many years, was honoured by friends prior to assuming his new position in the Frankford area.

Organized by the Scout Group Committee and the Venturer Company a farewell dinner was enjoyed at the Country Kitchen on Monday evening when a presentation was made by Hugh Eadie and Harvey McIntosh.

Later in the evening a much larger group of towns people assembled at the curling club to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Carkner and their family. An appropriate address was read on this occasion by Frank Morgan and a presentation made by Harry Keys.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carkner have been very active community workers and their loss will be felt be all community organizations.

Although their efforts were concentrated on town promotion Mr. Carkner found time to direct the St. Lawrence Junior 'B' Hockey League which has enjoyed tremendous success since he assumed the presidency.

Keenly interested in sports both had played a major role in raising funds for the fine new Community Centre and their departure from the community will leave several important posts vacant.

The Press joins with everyone in the community in wishing the Carkner family success, health and happiness.

Appoint Neil Williams To Ontario Grain Corn Council

Hon. Wm. A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food for Ontario, today announced the appointment of 12 prominent persons to the Ontario Grain Corn Council. The creation of an Ontario Grain Corn Council was one of the priority recommendations of the delegates at the Ontario Grain Corn Industry Conference held at Ridgetwon on September 22 and 23, 1971.

Specifically, the recommendation of the Conference was "The creation of an Ontario Corn Council, Ontario Corn Advisory Committee or similarly designated body which represents all stakeholders in the Ontario corn industry, including producers, handlers, shippers and users of Ontario corn."

Acting on this recommendation, the Government of Ontario, by Order-in-Council has created the Ontario Grain Corn Council and named the following persons to serve on the Council for a period of one year.

Holiday On Monday? It Depends

Monday, January 3rd, 1972 is not a holiday but several places of business will nevertheless be closed.

Schools, with the exception of those in the Township of Williamsburg, will be open for classes as usual, as will most stores.

Banks, on the other hand, will be closed but to accommodate customers will remain open on Thursday till 6:00 p.m. and on Friday till 3:00 p.m.

Since municipal council has not declared the day a holiday local businessmen will use their own discretion. Some will undoubtedly remain open while others may choose to give their staff an additional day off.

Clerk Schell of Williamsburg explains that the decision to declare a holiday in that municipality was based on the assumption that all other neighbouring municipalities were doing likewise.

Phone checks with Morrisburg, Iroquois and Osgoode indicate no holiday declaration and it will be business as usual.

However, it is understood Mountain Township has declared a holiday and consequently schools in that area will be closed. Oh, yes, the Press Office will be open for business.

No Serious Accidents

"No serious accidents".

This was the terse comment at Winchester O.P.P. office following the long Christmas weekend, and hopefully a similar report can be made this time next week.

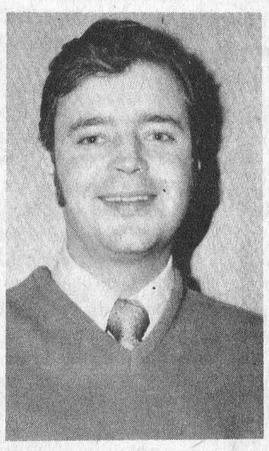
Although highway traffic was relatively heavy it was quite obvious all drivers were exerting extreme care but it should also be noted most roads were free of ice and snow.

More wintry conditions are forecast for the days ahead and, according to the weatherman, there is a distinct possibility stormy conditions may prevail.

Parties are the order of the day as the New Year is officially welcomed and Police officers are hopeful drivers will continue their vigilance and thus ensure happiness in the first days of 1972.

LaROSE PHARMACY CHANGES OWNERSHIP

Ottawa Men New Owners



Albert C. Belanger

The familiar LaRose Pharmacy on St. Lawrence Street, Winchester will be under new management on December 30th.

Mr. LaRose has sold the business and it will be known as 'BURNS PHARMACY' with Wayne Burns the new owner-manager. Mr. Burns and his partner Albert C. Belanger are both experienced pharmacists and eager to give the district the same reliable service that Mr. Larose has given during his twenty years in business.

Mr. Burns, with his wife Huguette and daughter Natalie, will be residing in Winchester, but for the present time Mr. Belanger will continue to reside in Ottawa.

Mr. Burns graduated in pharmacy from the University of Toronto in 1968 after two years at University of Alberta and two years at University of Toronto.

He spent an additional year studying business administration. Following a year as a manager he supervised an 11 - store chain of pharmacies for one and a half years before deciding, with his partner, to purchase the Winchester business.

Mr. Belanger was born and educated in Ottawa, attended Ottawa University and graduated in pharmacy from the University of Toronto in 1969. He plans, at a later date, to also move to the district.

Winchester Lions Entertain Their Ladies

The Country Kitchen Restaurant, just prior to the Christmas holidays was the setting for the Winchester Lions annual Christmas ladies night. Nearly one hundred persons, Lions and their guests attended this popular evening affair. Ladies were presented with a corsage prior to the dinner.

Local businessman Roy Fawcett was a guest of the Club and in appreciation of his support to the cluband to the area, Mr. Fawcett was presented with a Lions Desk Set. Mr. Fawcett has willingly donated the use of his mobile showroom to the local club for parades in the area. Many will remember the large organ van covered with the colorful Lions Club bunting at the recent Santa Claus parade in Winchester.

A presentation was also made to Centurian President Doug Keyes. President Doug responded with appropriate remarks in fine humour and kept the guests in even greater spirits throughout the dinner.

Dr. George C. Fisher D.V.M. of the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology was the guest and after dinner speaker. Dr. Fisher is an experienced speaker, much in demand by district organizations. His theme, "To Accept the Challenge Of Change," was very well received by all present. Dr. Fisher is a forceful speaker and stressed the need for the respect of the rights and ideas of others.

During the social period before the dinner and again after the meeting, the Lions and their guests were entertained by the very enjoyable music of Mrs. Muriel Irving at the electric organ.

Door prize winners were Paul Theos and Leroy Empey.

Grand prize winner of the $50. bond from the Lions sale of tickets for Christmas baskets was Ron Servage of Chesterville with ticket number 882.

Christmas Services Well Attended

Area churches reported very favourable attendance at special Christmas Services and in most cases friends home for the festive occasion swelled regular attendance.

All places of worship were tastefully decorated inside and out as Christmas of all denominations marked the birthday of Jesus Christ. Clergymen, alerted to the plight of many needy families, took steps to bring happiness to those less fortunate.

It was a truly Christian Christmas in this area with the emphasis still on 'Peace on Earth and Goodwill to Men.'

If You Drink, Don't Drive . . . Snowmobiles

Safety experts have, for many long years, been issuing warnings concerning the perils of combining drinking and driving. Till very recently the reference was always to the automobile.

The sudden growth in popularity of the snowmobile has widened the scope to such a degree that the Ontario Safety League is gravely concerned.

It is a fact, says The League, that impaired ability has been found to be a contributing factor in a high percentage of snowmobile accidents and yet most operators involved were responsible law-abiding people in all other aspects of living. Most of them, in fact, did not have even a mark against their car driving record.

The Ontario Safety League wonders if the snowmobile is becoming a release valve for the frustrations and pressures of to-day's living. In any case, the excessive amount of drinking being done by snowmobilers is having devastating results.

A snowmobile operator requires all his faculties unimpaired to safely control his machine under the varied conditions which he is bound to meet. Keen eyesight, balance and fast reflexes are vital to safe snowmobiling and it is a known fact that alcohol diminishes these faculties as well as taking the edge off the enjoyment of this fine sport.

If you want to work out your frustrations and pressures, cut out the booze and let the snowmobile and fresh, clean country air do the job.

New Challenges In 1972

As the last dimming spark of the old year flickers gallantly before fading into oblivion, everyone gazes optimistically into the crystal ball for some encouraging beacon leading to a better New Year.

Comparisons are always interesting, and for those historically inclined it should be relatively simple to conjure up visions of Canada's first Prime Minister as the country approached its first "New Year."

Sir John A. MacDonald and his colleagues had succeeded in uniting a vast primitive country and it must surely have been with smiles of satisfaction that they greeted that first New Year's morn.

We've grown in stature in 104 years but the problems that face those who govern have multiplied beyond human understanding.

As the clock on the Peace Tower sounds the death knell for 1971 and in the same instant heralds the approach of 1972, parliamentary desks are piled high with issues unheard of by the Fathers of Confederation.

Our sincere hope, as this final issue of 1971 leaves the giant press, is that our dedicated Members of Parliament will find solutions to such problems as racial strife, pollution, drugs, bigotry, labour-management relations; unemployment, and the controversial issues that confront the youth of our nation.

Sir John, with his small but very efficient governing group, laid the foundation of our wonderful country. Many times through the years gaping crevices have been mended by courageous men.

There are those who feel the problems of recent years gravely threaten the durability of those foundations and the challenges of 1972 are monumental.

We here in the heart of Ontario feel confident Prime Minister Trudeau and Premier Davis, along with their brilliant colleagues, will lead us courageously into the 70's, continuously strengthening the fortress that was the pride of our forefathers.

Brimming with confidence we extend to all the sincere wish that 1972 will bring the happiness and contentment that Sir John A MacDonald envisioned so many years ago.

How To Save A Girl From Love

BY BILL SMILEY

New Year's resolutions seem rather pointless, when one looks back over the past year and realizes what a mess one made of it.

But hope springs eternal in the human beast (note to ed. – that's beast, not breast), and most of the time I feel as though I'm still animal, though I have a lot of calcium in the wrong places – not teeth, but elbows, knees and shoulders –, and there are moments when I feel pure vegetable, maybe a withered turnip. So here goes.

The very first thing I'm going to do in '72 is get my rake and lawn chairs out of the backyard and into the basement. Provided I can find them under the snow. Same goes for my woodpile, which has been sitting there, "drying out", since August.

The second thing I'll do is stop listening to my wife and make her start listening to me. She is eternally getting into jams because she won't listen to me because she never has because she thinks she knows more than I about practically anything you can name. And she is forever getting me into jams because I listen to her because she thinks etc. . .

That will clear a lot of the fug in our domestic air. I know. You think that's like a mouse bragging that he's going to straighten out an elephant. And it is. But it's also a fact that we mice have been known to panic a whole herd of elephants. Anyway, it'll be fun trying. That old spirit of adventure, you know. Even if it does cost me a broken nose or a couple of thick ears.

Another thing I'm going to do is stop worrying. I'm a terrible worry wart. Some weeks I worry a total of twenty-seven minutes, about something I can't do a thing about. I'm going to cut that down to twenty-seven seconds, do it once a week, and get it over with.

I'm going to give up late nights. They take a terrible toll on a fellow when he must work next day. No more of those. Except on exceptional cases, such as Friday and Saturday nights and anytime we go to a party or have one. Or anytime I really feel like staying up.

I'm going to put a stop to my daughter falling in love. This will be one of the trickier assignments. I just get nicely adjusted to the fact that she's deeply in love and settling down when I get word that it's off with the old and on with the new, and this time it's "real".

In the past year she's been in love with an English professor, an American (imagine!), student; twice engaged to the same guy, name of Joe; and is currently head-over-heels with a sculptor. How much does a struggling sculptor make? I don't really care, but I don't fancy the old idea that two can live as cheaply as one, if I'm paying the bills. I don't know what technique I'll use to stop her, but I'll come up with something fiendish that will guarantee her a long spinsterhood.

I'm going back into the arms of the church for a long-awaited (on her part) embrace. I am steadily growing more sinful, just like the rest of you, but it's time to start straightening the accounts.

Well, that's enough to keep me going for the year. A nice mixture of physical and psychological problems.

In closing, thanks to all those who have written during the year. Forgive me if I haven't answered yet. Have a good year.

And a special wish to all those in trouble; Western farmers, the unemployed, the old, the mentally ill. Keep your chin up. Things can only get better. And remember, somebody is thinking about you. Maybe Edgar Benson won't, but I will.

The Argyle Syndicate

IN THE BEGINNING... by Rev. Gordon C. Smyth

My mother was born in 1878. She and other teenagers flocked to church with their parents on New Year's Eve. Such services are an exception to the rule nowadays. People flock to parties. Some always did.

Don't get me wrong. I'm all for combining life's sacred and secular joys. Not a few participants in a holiday celebration are religious and have a good time, without hangovers or regrets. But church windows as black as pitch all of New Year's Eve, whereas most others are bathed in light? The switch seems to me indicative of the temper of our age.

This temper wasn't suddenly aroused. That's the sad point. I mean it has taken several generations for cynicism to pervade society. Meanwhile, top intellectuals have had second thoughts have withdrawn radical assumptions or modified their startling conclusions.

In their circle it would no longger be considered old-fashioned to speak of the cosmos in terms of the very first sentence of the bible. It says, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." The statement has to do with the original situation. It isn't confined to this world, although it proceeds to outline an evolutionary process for this world.

So grand is the sweep of the announcement that I wonder why some people loss sight of the ultimate, in their reactions to the process. Only God supplies the process with a meaning which can fully satisfy.

It is said of a famous French painter that he began every picture by painting the sky. This was a wise philosophy since everything on earth takes its real appearance from beyond. Everything is different according as you view it beneath a cloudy sky or a clear sky. Where did the evolutionary process start? With God. How account for the marvellous articulation and adaptation of living things and of inanimate nature? In God.

Of course, there is a mystery here. And the average, pragmatic modern is suspicious or resentful of it.

However, the truly great have a different outlook. The more they learn as scientists, the more reverent they are as men. For instance, I once heard Sir Bernard Lovell being interviewed on radio by Gordon Sinclair.

Lovell is director of the Jodrell Bank Observatory. Mr. Sinclair at length came to the point of asking, "After all you have told us about astronomy, Sir Bernard, would you tell us if you believe in God?" "Oh quite!" came the high-pitched voice in reply "I play the organ in church on Sundays."

Moreover, the late Sir James Jeans, noted physicist, really summed up his work by saying "We discover that the universe shows evidence of a designing or controlling Power which has something in common with our own individual minds."

So, won't you trust God to look after this earth, and your welfare with it? To be sure, everybody has a part to play. Nobody is a puppet. If a man jumps off a cliff, he doesn't break the law of gravitation; he only proves it. Life has moral laws too. Therefore, don't blame God when things go wrong.

The India-Pakistan strife is a case in point. Mahatma Gandhi was opposed to the partition in 1947. He said, "If you cannot make the whole of India realize that all are brothers, it will bode ill for both Dominions."

A few months later Gandhi was dead -- shot by a Hindu fanatic who was enraged by his leader's proposed "reunion of hearts." Gandhi has been described as the most Christ-like man of our century. Time has vindicated his faith in the Fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man. Without that faith men and nations destroy what they have built, destroy as they build, and build with the materials of destruction.

Resolve to adhere more closely to the ethics of Christ in 1972. Trust in God. This will be to you better than light and safer than any other known or imagined way.

The Seventh Column

The most beautiful of all gifts brought Christmas happiness to the home of Canada's Prime Minister and his lovely wife, Margaret. The Winchester Press joins with all Canadians in extending sincere congratulations to the proud parents, combined with hopes of a happy future for tiny Justin Pierre.

Christmas, the major topic over the past several weeks, is now, like hundreds of others, a part of yesteryear. Before the colourful decorations are stored away we feel justified in making just one more comment. Already, less than a week following publication, we have received several compliments on the excellence of the school children's work in the Christmas tabloid. Most noteworthy was the observance that children, contrary to popular belief, have not lost the true meaning of the great event. Their art work and interesting stories emphasized, as in generations passed, the birth of Christ. One reader remarked that the children's views renewed his faith in humanity. We agree.

Have you visited the Winchester Community Centre lately? If you haven't you'll be amazed at the transformation. Cushion boards have been erected; the viewing area completed; rink lights are being installed; and heaters make the lobby quite comfortable. "Boxing Day" was quiet here in town as most rested after the hectic Christmas rush. Quiet, except at the Community Centre where several dedicated citizens took advantage of the holiday to speed up opening day.

Winchester "Hawks" are anxious to see ice in the swank new building. Although Kemptville will be their "home" for the balance of the season, practice facilities here in town will be a great asset. Coach Steele, obviously a bit depressed following a loss to Morrisburg, was elated as he toured the building on Monday. Joel, it should be noted, immediately snaps out of his depression at mention of a recent Hawk victory over the arch-rival Metcalfe Jets.

Everyone was busy during the pre-Christmas turbulence. None, however, were harder pressed than the postmen. A careful scrutiny of post office names reveals that several have a rather Christmassy ring. For example: Star, Alberta; Sugar Loaf, N.S.; Garland, Manitoba; Noel, N. S.; Turkey Point, Ontario; St. Nicholas, Que., and Goose Airport, Newfoundland.

The United Church Observer suggests there is a bright side to the tragedy of Ireland in the stories that are going around about ultra-Protestant Ian Paisley. Did you hear, notes The Observer, that those nasty Catholics set fire to his library? Yes, and both books were burned. And what's even worse, the story continues, he hadn't finished coloring them.

The year's end is always a time for reminiscing when activities of the past twelve months are recalled. It was on such an occasion that a senior salesman who had been selling for many years asked a new recruit how he was getting along. "Not so good," was the disgruntled reply. "I've been insulted in every place I made a call this week." "That's unusual," replied the old-timer. "I've been on the road for over forty years, had my briefcase flung in the street, been tossed down stairs; manhandled by husbands; and rolled in the gutter; but insulted — never!"

The newspaper profession lost a valued friend in the sudden death of Ottawa Citizen columnist Win Mills on Christmas Eve. His daily column always added that much needed touch of humour even when front page headlines boldly told of a world in sad disarray. His final message, appearing the night before his death, made the great day just a little happier for his vast reading public. He loved to receive letters from friends and on Thursday he explained that a reader had set him straight on the mistletoe story, advising him that when a boy and girl kiss under the plant they pluck a berry, and when the last berry is gone the magic leaves also, and the mistletoe must be replaced. "That doesn't stop 'em today, ma'am, he quibbed. Those of us who knew him can easily envisage the merry twinkle in his eye, little knowing this was to be his final effort. 'We're glad you passed this way — Rest in peace, old friend."

Short, dull cold days herald the end of another year. For many the hopes and dreams of 1971 were realized. For others it brought hardship and sorrow. Facing the unknown challenges of a New Year we searched rather conscientiously for a better way to extend sincere good wishes to our readers. We like the way Ottawa Journal columnist Dave Brown says it: "Let's all take time to dream a future, hug a memory, and share a smile."

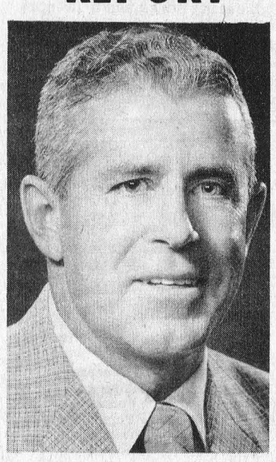
QUEEN'S PARK REPORT



DON IRVINE
M.P.P.
Grenville-Dundas

Ontario's much publicized "mini" session took up all the available hours, and some that were not so available in the one week that the house was in session during December. In this first report, one of several columns which will be published periodically through the courtesy of this newspaper I shall comment briefly on this busy session outlining some of the more pertinent bills which were passed, and also passing along from time to time my own personal viewpoints on your provincial government in action, and in particular how the legislation will influence the lives of the people of Grenville-Dundas.

To date I have been deeply impressed. The schedule, however, during the "mini" session was probably too demanding of the members because of the lack of a sufficient supply of prior information concerning the bills that were to be passed, and because of the element of time. When it is necessary for a house to sit until three o'clock in the morning it is quite evident that not enough time has been allowed to deal with the legislation, regardless of the importance of such legislation.

During the "mini" session at least 11 supplementary estimates totalling $173 million dollars were dealt with and 16 bills were given final reading.

Probably of chief importance to all of us is the government bill which will see income tax reduced 3.6 per cent for the period July 1 to December 31 thisyear and three percent for 1972.

Estate taxes under the new legislation will not be applicable to those valued under $100,000 with the exemption for widow's and widowers' increasing from $250,000 to $500,000. This bill was strongly opposed by members of the NDP but supported by both government and Liberal members.

Effective January 1, 1972 health insurance premiums for persons over 65 will be paid by the government. Also next April 1 the two present health programs will be combined and will be known as the Ontario Hospital Insurance Commission working directly as a part of the Department of Health. The new rates of Insurance will be $11.00 single and $22.00 for couples and families.

The government has made provision to pick up 100 percent of the tab for the building of day nurseries and up to 80 per cent of the cost of operation. This new program has been oversubscribed, yet I was concerned by the conspicuous lack of applications for this assistance from our own area. It is a program worth investigating and I suggest that the legislation could be even broadened to allow more charitable organizations and church groups to operate such nurseries. I should mention that all single persons having no taxable income will receive full assistance in the payment of health insurance premiums under the new act.

The improved Municipal Seasonal Employment program will see $35 million added over the two year period allowing for the creation of at least 30,000 jobs. Under this extended bid municipalities will be allowed to improve privately owned property, for instance the removal of trees, with the written consent of the owner.

The re-structuring of governmental departments, of course, has been high on the discussion list for all of us. I confess that I am still trying to absorb the many details outlined in the report submitted by committee chairman, John Cronyon. Although the program is the first of its kind it is evident that much dialogue resulting in probable revisions will have to be made before full implementation is made. It is my intention to speak out as much as possible on what I believe to be the good and bad points of this program.

Although I have been your provincial member only a short while I have already been able to assist various sections of the constituency in problematical areas. I will be at my office at Queens Park each week, and in the future I hope to make more convenient arrangements to listen to your ideas and suggestions personally through periodic office hours throughout the riding. In the meantime if you have a question or an idea you would like to discuss or if you feel that I can be helpful in solving a problem at the provincial level please do not hesitate to write or phone me at Toronto or Prescott.

1971 has been a most eventful and happy year for me and I would like to again take this opportunity to thank you for the confidence you have placed in me. My wife, Eleanor, joins with me in wishing each of you a New Year of good health and much happiness.

Out-Door Rink At Metcalfe

Metcalfe Carollers Sing For Funds

Nineteen teenage Christmas Carollers visited Metcalfe homes on Christmas Eve extending greetings in song and at the same time soliciting donations for a temporary out-door skating rink.

The boys and girls received a warm reception at most homes and were rewarded with gifts amounting to $38.00 for their winter project.

A spokesman for the group explained that a site was available and the money would initiate a programme to create skating facilities for the balance of the season, or till such time as the new Community Centre opens.

Those taking part included Karen MacLaurin, Judy MacLaurin, Deltra Dillabough, Glen Vaillencourt, Will Kineer, Mike Miller, Emerald Franey, Doug Hicks, Leo Campbell, Robert McVey, George Moore, Susan Rowan, Susan Mullins, Rosalee Morris, Collin Reaney, Joyce McIntosh, Beverly Vaillencourt and Doug Woods.

All enjoyed warm drinks and lunch at the home of Gerald Morris following their chilling march.

Mrs. Clarence H. Deeks Dies Following Long Illness

ONTARIO HEALTH INSURANCE

YOUR NEW COMBINED GOVERNMENT PLAN

The new "Ontario Health Insurance Plan" will provide all the coverage now available to you under both OHSIP and Ontario Hospital Insurance. And it will do so at a lower combined premium than you now pay for the two separate plans.

The new premiums will be payable in January, 1972, and thereafter, to cover benefit periods beginning on or after April 1, 1972. These new premiums will be:

- $11.00 a month for a single person, and
- $22.00 a month for a family (2 or more eligible persons)

REPLACES "OHSIP" AND "ONTARIO HOSPITAL INSURANCE"

The Ontario Health Insurance Plan will replace the OHSIP (medical) and Ontario Hospital Insurance plans as of next April 1, and you will then have only:

- one plan to deal with;
- one health insurance identification card;
- one health insurance number (your former Ontario Hospital Insurance number);
- one combined premium to pay.

If you now have Ontario Hospital Insurance, your changeover to the new combined plan will be automatic. No action on your part is required as the new plan will be based on the existing hospital insurance billing system.

FREE FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

(After 1-year Residence in Ontario)

As of January 1, 1972 residents aged 65 and over are exempt from paying Ontario Health Insurance premiums to cover themselves and their eligible dependents. To benefit from this exemption, insurance may be transferred to the name of the older spouse if it is presently in the name of a spouse under age 65.

Most residents aged 65 years and over have already applied for premium-free coverage, but if you have not done so, please write to the Plan giving your Ontario Hospital Insurance number, your OHSIP number, and month and year of birth.

Persons who turn 65 after January 31, 1972, should apply at the time for free coverage. If you pay your premium on a direct basis, write to the Plan for an application. If you pay through a group, advise your group. Premium-free coverage will take effect on the first day of the month in which your 65th birthday occurs. Any premiums paid to cover benefit periods beyond that date will be refunded.

PREMIUM ASSISTANCE

(After 1-year Residence in Ontario)

Effective with the benefit month of April, 1972, individuals and families with no taxable income for the year 1972 are eligible, on application, for 100% Ontario Government premium assistance.

Individuals with less than $1,000 taxable income in 1972, and families with total taxable income of under $2,000 are eligible for 50% premium assistance. This will reduce the monthly premiums to $5.50 for such individuals (instead of $11.00) and to $11.00 for an eligible family (instead of $22.00).

Taxable income is the amount on which a person pays income taxes, after subtracting from his total income all exemptions and other deductions to which he is entitled.

Note: If you remit your premiums on a direct basis, details on Premium Assistance will be mailed with your next Premium Notice. Residents enrolled in groups will be informed through their groups.

NEW IDENTIFICATION CARDS

The Plan will provide each insured single person and each insured head of a family with a new Ontario Health Insurance Identification Card to use for insured services received on or after April 1. Anyone who has not received his or her card by that date should use the current Hospital Insurance Certificate, after April 1, 1972, for medical and hospital services until the new card is received.

Your present OHSIP card should be used when claiming for medical and practitioner services received up to March 31, 1972.

IMPORTANT

As the present Ontario Hospital Insurance numbers and billing system will form the basis of the new plan, anyone who does not now have hospital insurance coverage should register without delay.

Applications are available in banks and hospitals and from offices of the Ontario Health Insurance Plan.

BE SURE YOU ARE COVERED NEXT APRIL 1st!

Canadian-Composed Songs Capture Top U.S. Honours

"It is highly significant that two Canadian-Composed songs ranked top in recent tabulations released by ASCAP (The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers), and BMI (Broadcast Music Incorporated), stated Mr. James Hagan, National Chairman, International Songwriters' Union (Canada).

"Canadian songwriters are showing the U.S.A. and the world that there is more than adequate songwriting talent north of the border."

"Aquarius" by Galt MacDermot of Montreal, was the most performed single piece of music on American radio and television during 1971, and CAPAC (The Composers, Authors and Publishers Association of Canada) was also notified that two other songs from "Hair", "Let the Sun Shine In" and "Good Morning Starshine" were in the top five foreign songs played on U.S. radio and television.

"Snowbird by Gene MacLellan was the most performed song of the year as reported by BMI.

"It is my firm belief that this is just the beginning of the influence of the Canadian songwriter, said Mr. Hagan, "and it is with the utmost confidence that I.S.U. (Canada) has declared 1972 to be The Year of the Canadian Songwriter. Canadian songwriters are challenged to reach farther afield and produce high quality songs for the tremendous popular market that exists in the world of today."

And Mr. Hagan is not slow in helping to bring that success about. During 1971 he was awarded a National Hilroy Fellowship of $900 through the Canadian Teachers' Federation in recognition of the world's first course in songwriting which he developed and taught to Junior High students in Valleyview, Alberta. From the program resulted seven high quality songs and a TV special of the students' efforts. From I.S.U. headquarters at Brooks, Alberta, Mr. Hagan is now teaching the world's first adult course in songwriting, and preparing for a nation-wide tour during Summer 1972 to publicise I.S.U. (Canada) and unite and serve Canadian songwriters.

It looks like a busy and interesting year for Canadian songwriters.

Don't Keep That Tree Too Long

During the few days prior to Christmas extreme care is usually taken to keep Christmas trees amply supplied with water.

Unfortunately after the big day there is a tendency to forget the daily chore and as a result the danger of fire increases.

The ever-present lights create a certain amount of heat which in turn dries out the needles and if water supply is not plentiful they soon become tinder dry.

For those who feel the tree should remain in place till after New Year's a word of caution by area firemen is very noteworthy.

"Keep plenty of water in the tree container and remove tree as soon as possible after the holiday season," say the men who brave the elements to fight fires.

Don't keep your tree too long and enjoy another Christmas!

"Follow The Star" Williamsburg L.C.W. Christmas Theme

The December meeting of L.C.W. was held on Wednesday evening, December 15th, in the Church hall when guests were the young women of the congregation.

Mrs. Emerson Harriman, assisted by Mrs. Charles Whitteker presented the topic, L.C.W.'s new Christmas family devotion, "Follow the Star."

Misses Donna Brown, Debbie Barclay, and Betty Whitteker sang, "O Thou Joyful Day," and "The Babe the Son of Mary" and were accompanied on the piano, by Mrs. Maefred Merkley.

The recording "Rise Up Shep herd and Follow." was heard. From this spiritual the theme of the family service grows. Hymns "It Came Upon The Midnight Clear," "Once In Royal David's City," "The First Noel," "I am So Glad Each Christmas Eve." and "Silent Night," were sung.

"The Christmas Message" done by Dr. William Horn President of the L.C.A. Board of Education was heard. The service was written by Lutheran Church woman Sarah Klos, and the music was arranged by Don Marsh, Director of Arts in Christian Education.

It was decided that Cheer baskets be sent to shut-ins again this Christmas.

Mrs. Don Hess moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for the redecorating done at the parsonage.

The secretary reported on the work of the L.C.W. during the past year.

The meeting closed with the missionary benediction, after which lunch was served by the committee in charge.

ANNOUNCEMENT

LaROSE PHARMACY CHANGES HANDS

Mr. G. H. (Gord) LaRose, Ph.B., wishes to announce he has sold his Pharmacy to Mr. Wayne Burns, B.Sc.Phm. and Mr. Al Belanger, B.Sc.Phm., of Ottawa, effective December 30th, 1971.

There will be no interruption in pharmacy services formerly provided and no change in policies. Prescriptions will continue to be refilled, where applicable, as in the past, and Parcost policy continued. Those who have, in the past, availed themselves of charge accounts are invited to continue to do so, and those who require prescriptions by mail may expect the continuation of this service.

There will be no change in staff and Mr. LaRose will endeavour during the first two weeks of January to introduce Mr. Burns to the pharmacy's patrons. Mr. LaRose will act as a consultant to Mr. Burns, who will be managing the pharmacy, whenever needed, in the future. Also, accounts owing LaRose Pharmacy may be paid at Burns Pharmacy.

In transferring ownership of LaRose Pharmacy to Burns Pharmacy, Mr. LaRose is very confident that the new owners will provide a high standard of pharmacy services and is happy that the continued function of this vital link in the health services chain in the community is passing into capable hands. He also feels that the addition of Wayne, wife Huguette, and daughter Natalie will be fine additions to the Winchester community.

Mr. LaRose wishes to express his gratitude to all his patrons for their support and confidence during the past twenty years and his thanks to his staff for their outstanding loyalty and assistance.

Dundas Farm News by W. D. Keys

VALUE OF EAR CORN

How do you relate the value of ear corn to the market price of 15.5% moisture shelled corn? A question often asked at this time of year in respect to the farm to farm sale of ear corn.

The problem involved in this situation is to convert ear corn to a 15.5% shelled corn equivalent. To do this three factors must be established:

1) shelling percentage; 2) moisture percentage and 3) weight.

Shelling percentage may be calculated but in most cases it is reasonable to use an 82% shelling. Moisture should be determined by a representative moisture test and the weight accurately obtained on reliable scales.

As an example, let us assume that the grain moisture of the ear corn in question is 15.5%. One ton of this corn would yield 82% shelled corn of 1640 pounds. The equivalent price then of this ear corn is 82% of the price of dried shelled corn.

Ear corn, however, very rarely reaches 15.5% kernel moisture and that factor must be taken into consideration. Using a second example at 30% kernel moisture, one ton will yield the same, 1640 lbs., but only 1148 pounds of this is dry matter and converting to a 15.5% equivalent, one ton of 30% ear corn will yield 1359 pounds of 15.5% shelled corn. As a ration 1359 is 68% of a ton, therefore the equivalent price is 68% that of shelled corn price. Or in other words, if you can purchase dry shelled corn (15.5% moisture) for $45.00 per ton, you can pay $45.00 x .680 or $30.60 per ton for 30% ear corn.

The following conversion factors based on the above formula will act as a guide in the sale or purchase of ear corn:

At 20% moisture multiply shelled corn price by .777; at 25% moisture use .728; at 30% use .680 and at 35% moisture use .631.

A further breakdown of this conversion table is available at your local Extension Branch Office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food.

DIARY MANAGEMENT DAY

The County Milk Committee is promoting an open county meeting on Thursday, January 13th, 1972 at 1:30 p.m. in the Winchester Town Hall. At this meeting Dr. Fisher of the Veterinary Services Branch at Kemptville will be talking about the Mastitis Survey that was conducted in Dundas County. Mr. Graham Hooper also of K.C.A.T. will be talking about Dairy Herd Replacements. Freeman Miller, O.M.M.B. Fieldman, will also be present. The program should have something of interest for everyone.

We take this opportunity to extend best wishes for the New Year.

TAX TALK

-By Carleton County Agricultural Extension Personnel-

Assuming that estates valued at more than $100.00 will be taxable after January 1st, 1972, people at this level have a few days before the end of 1972 to do something about it. There may be other alternatives, but one of them might be to make as many non-taxable gifts as allowed. Wives can be gifted an unlimited amount, while other individuals can be gifted a maximum of $2,000. each. The one-in-a-lifetime gift of $10,000. in farm property can be made to a son prior to the end of this year.

BASIC HERD

The concept of the Basic Herd it would appear is not fully understood by some farmers. Again we will emphasize the importance of a basic herd, for example if a farmer sells his herd of 50 dairy cows for $15,000 and does NOT have a basic herd, he will have to pay income tax on $15,00.; a farmer in the same position who has a basic herd, will not have to pay any income tax, on the proceeds from this sale.

You still have until December 31st, 1971 to apply for a basic herd. It is to your advantage to apply, irregardless of what you have been informed, it costs you nothing. If you receive a basic herd you will have the opportunity to increase that basic herd for the 1971 taxation year.

Those farmers who at present have a basic herd should examine their income and expenses for the 1971 taxation year carefully so you will be able to increase your basic herd for 1971.

Applications for a basic herd are available from the District Taxation Office at 122 Bank Street, or from the accountant who has been filing your income tax.

Little Opera Singer

This cheerful, alert-looking baby is Victor, 15 months old. Jamaican in background, he is dark in coloring, his outstanding feature being his expressive brown eyes.

Victor is a muscular, active boy, in excellent health though he has a tendency to colds when teeth are on the way.

This baby is a contented, alert young fellow who enjoys people and chats cheerfully to them. His foster mother calls him her little opera singer because he is always raising his voice happily in what he may consider music. He's affectionate and loves to be cuddled.

Victor has a good appetite and always seems to enjoy his meals.

There is good achievement, academically and athletically, in this baby's background. He will be a fine son for a warm, loving family who will value his heritage. to inquire about adopting Victor, please write to Today's Child, Box 888 Station K, Toronto. For general adoption information, ask your Children's Aid Society.

Government Will Honor Surtax Commitments

All commitments made by the federal government under the Agricultural Stabilization Board to offset difficulties during the period when the United States 10 percent surtax was in effect will be honored, Agriculture Minister H. A. (Bud) Olson said today.

"I am pleased that the surtax has been lifted," Mr. Olson said, "and I am hopeful that the Canadian agricultural industry will be able to boost exports as our competitive position improves."

The lifting of the surtax means that Canadian exports to the United States revert to the tariff levels in effect before August 14.

"This is good news for producers of a number of commodities," Mr. Olson said.

"In addition, the change in the relationships among currencies should improve the competitive position of Canadian agricultural exports in Europe and Japan.

"We expect the Canadian dollar will remain close to par with the United States dollar. That will mean that our competitive position will improve in the European Common Market and Japan.

"Our competitive position with United States products for these markets will, of course remain the same," he added.

In the past few months, assistance programs have been offered for fowl slaughter, turkey meat purchases, potato price supports, apple promotion and blueberry deficiency payments.

"These commitments will be honored," Mr. Olson said.

GORDON BLAIR REPORTS

HAPPY NEW YEAR

The old year ends on a hopeful note - the settlement of the major problems of currency revaluation by the ten leading western countries.

CATASTROPHE AVERTED

The emergency action taken by the United States in August in floating its currency, levying a 10% surcharge against imports and an additional discriminatory tax on production machinery brought into the United States, had created the spectre of a world heading back to the confusion and depression of the 1930's. What we faced was the possibility that every country would take comparable or even worse action to protect itself. This, in no time, would have resulted in a complete disruption of world trade and unparalleled difficulty for Canada which depends more than almost any other country on international trade.

All of this had happened before. People remembered that at the onset of the depression the best minds of the world had been unable to agree on measures which could have prevented it. Many recalled the famous London Economic Conference of 1933 had been torpedoed by no less a person than President Roosevelt, responding to the deep protectionist instincts of his country.

U.S. DOLLAR DEVALUED AND SURCHARGE REMOVED

Against this background, we can see the real achievement of the western world's leading countries in reaching a sensible agreement. No one can underestimate how much the United States has given or how hard it must have been for its Government to make the concessions it did. The mighty American dollar has been devalued; the surcharge and the discriminatory tax will be removed. The price paid in return by all countries except Canada has been to peg their currencies at a much higher value in relation to the American dollar than before.

STRONG CANADIAN POSITION

Canada has emerged from this painful episode in a preferred position. The U.S. surcharge and discriminatory business development tax which threatened so much of our exports have both been lifted. We have not had to revalue our dollar or to peg it, as the Americans originally wished, at a higher value than theirs. It will continue to float and it is reasonable to think it will maintain the same approximate parity with the American dollar which has prevailed for several months. Our overall position in world trade will be strengthened because the value of the currency of many of our trade partners and rivals has been increased, which will give us an edge of substantial proportions in export markets.

HOPEFUL BASIS FOR 1972

This event coupled with the passage of the Income Tax Act will have the effect of removing the clouds of uncertainty which have bedevilled Canadian business for the past few months. While formidable problems remain, we certainly start the new year on a firm foundation and have reason to hope that it will produce more employment, prosperity and security for all of us.

On this hopeful note my wife and family join me in wishing a happy successful new year to all of you in Grenville-Carleton.

Funeral Service was held at Armstrong-Weagant Funeral Home, South Mountain at 1:30 p.m. Monday, December 20th, conducted by Rev. James Stewart.

Teacher's View

INDIVIDUAL STUDY

-By Bob Harley
Associate Head of English
Gen. Vanier Secondary School

A revolution is going on in secondary schools that challenge the traditional concept that students must be in a classroom receiving instruction during each period of the school day. With the reduction of the number of credits required to obtain a secondary school graduation diploma this concept is not only obsolete but also highly impractical. Students now find themselves with a decision to make: how to spend the free time which is available to them. Teachers, in an attempt to provide students with constructive outlets have adopted the idea of individual study programs.

The vital ingredients which ensure success in this type of undertaking are: intensive teacher planning, stimulating student projects, close staff guidance, and efficient and responsible teacher aide. The English individual study area at General Vanier emphasizes these key elements.

When free of the regular classroom period, the student with a particular interest or aptitude in English is free to use the varied resources available in the English individual study area. Tape recorders, phonographs, filmstrips, projectors, and a wide selection of literature dealing with every aspect of English, are available to the student without restriction.

Through special individual study projects originating with the English teachers, students may do extra work which enables them to progress at their own pace. Ideally, the ambitious student will accumulate extra marks which are applicable to his final total mark. Conversely, the student experiencing some difficulty in English may use his free time to raise a low average. Clearly the responsibility is placed on the student to use his time to the best advantage.

Another significant aspect of the individual study program is the special "quest" project initiated and designed by the student himself. In this case, the student who wishes to investigate a special area of English must present a brief, outlining the aims and goals which he intends to pursue. Once the project is begun, the student must report regularly to his supervising teacher for consultation and guidance. When completed and marked, the "quest" project is placed in the school library as reference material for the student body. Aside from the personal fulfilment he derives from this self-motivated course, the student is given the opportunity to contribute to the enrichment of others.

Perhaps most important is that the individual study program helps students to develop the resourcefulness and self-guidance for their future education, and prepare them for independent learning as adults.

Hawks Lose 5-3

-By Gary Tysick-

Morrisburg Lions failed to display the Christmas spirit this past Sunday afternoon in St. Lawrence Junior B Hockey action as they "took" a well deserved 5-3 win over Winchester Hawks. Two unanswered second period goals proved the difference and left little doubt that the Lions are an established powerhouse in this league.

The teams split a pair of goals in the first twenty minutes of a fast and entertaining game played in Morrisburg, before more than 500 cheering fans. Lions roared back with two in the second and both teams tallied twice in the final stanza.

It was the second loss in a row for the Hawks and Coach Joel Steele has reason for concern as his charges prepare for their New Year's Day clash with the second place Metcalfe Jets. That game will take place on Saturday afternoon at the Kemptville District Community Centre.

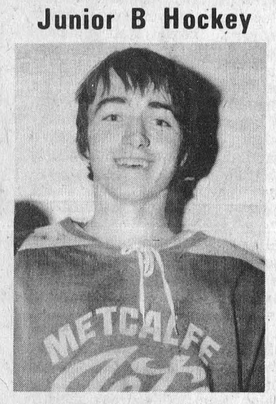
T. Whelan put Morrisburg out in front midway through the first period, while Dale Wyman was sitting out an interference penalty for the Hawks. Tom Patterson evened the count at 13.13 on an unassisted goal. Winchester took five of the nine minor penalties called in the period.

The second period belonged to Morrisburg, scoring-wise, with B. McNairn and G. Hess netting singles without a reply from the Hawks. Winchester had some good chances but Cooper proved unbeatable in the Lions' cage. The visitors once again had the edge in penalties, taking three to Lions' two.

Morrisburg made it 4-1 with less than four minutes gone in the final period, when Whelan took McNairn's pass to beat Kevin Baldwin cleanly. Dave VanBridger got the Hawks back in the game a couple of minutes later, when he combined with Bob McClintock to make it 4-2. R. Morrell put it out of reach at the thirteen minute mark when he scored the Lions' fifth goal, but the Hawks kept coming and finally Bill Moran clicked at 18. 18 for the final goal of the game and Morrisburg had salted away a 5-3 win.

Blue Line Bits

Probably one of the biggest games of the schedule will be coming up this Saturday afternoon at the Kemptville District Community Centre, when the second place Metcalfe Jets visit the Hawks in the hopes of cutting that first place lead to two points. Jets last years' champions, have had their hands full with the Hawks this year and they will be out to avenge the two losses suffered at the hands of the Winchester crew, come Saturday. It is expected that several busloads from Metcalfe and Winchester will be invading Kemptville for this game . . . so come out and see Junior B Hockey at it's best . . . . New Year's Day at 2:30 p.m.



Tom Patterson

Tom Patterson, a Kemptville product, is a relative newcomer to the Hawks forces, but Tom has been fitting in well and making his presence felt. Patterson is moving at nearly a point a game clip with three goals and two assists on six outings. He has added welcomed muscle to the Hawks lineup and doesn't shy away from the rough going. Tom sees action up front and on the point on the power play.

Your fifty-fifty draw should hit the century mark this weekend . . . so get in on a good thing.

Hoping that your Christmas was the Merriest ever . . . may we now wish you a Happy New Year.

Cheer Up Coach!

Winchester Hawks coach Joel Steele paid a visit to the new Community Centre on Monday afternoon.

Although elated at the progress being made and envisioning having his boys practicing in town in the very near future, he was still obviously depressed.

The fact his boys had dropped a close one to Morrisburg 'Lions' the previous day may have had something to do with it, or it may have been the realization he faces back-to-back games against the highly-rated Metcalfe 'Jets' this weekend.

Cheer up Coach. It can't be all that bad!

Happy New Year 1972

TO ALL MY PATRONS

Having given up ownership of my pharmacy I want to use this newspaper to express firstly my regret in losing the very enjoyable daily contact by sight, deed or word with our patrons. These associations have always been very happy ones and they will be missed.

Secondly, I wish also to say that I treasure the confidence you have placed in me over the past twenty years in granting me the privilege of dispensing the medicine you have needed. Truly it is a task requiring some measure of application, but looking back I see its usefulness which makes the memory worthwhile and satisfying.

Thirdly, it is most gratifying to think of the many friendships which developed through acting as your pharmacist. I am happy in the knowledge that I will be able to continue to enjoy these friendships while continuing to live in Winchester and acting as Winch ter Hospital's Pharmacist.

Thank you all for being such grand patrons patients. God bless you, one and all.

Most sincerely,

G. H. (Gord) La
