Public school expansion plan ditched, for now

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – Having received little support at the municipal level, the Upper Canada District School Board (UCDSB) has put the brakes on its ambitious plans for overhauling Winchester Public School.

Both the Township of North Dundas and the public school body have been going back and forth for some time about the expansive upgrade, with neither side budging, until now, on one key issue.

The board had applied for multiple variances to the township's zoning bylaw; changes that would allow for a four-classroom addition on the school's south side. This footage increase, scheduled to be ready in time for September 2015, would eliminate the portables currently in use.

The flaw in the process, which drew the ire of township councillors and municipal committee of adjustment members, was the UCDSB looking to make the necessary addition without meeting the minimum number of additional parking spaces required.

In its submissions to North Dundas, the school board asked that the municipality grant the changes by reducing the number of spaces needed from six to one; to permit the parking location to be within the current vehicle area along Clarence Street; and to ensure the space is not located within a designated parking lot or parking garage.

The Upper Canada District School Board's proposed expansion of Winchester Public School would look similar to this, Dundas County trustee Greg Pietersma said.

The board also requested that uncovered parking spaces be allocated within the school area's sight triangle (the space at an intersection, formed by two roads, that must be kept clear of obstruction to allow pedestrians or drivers to see vehicles approaching from either direction).

As Calvin Pol, North Dundas' director of planning, building, and enforcement, has indicated numerous times, there are parking shortages in the area.

On the ball

North Dundas District High School Devils striker Jack van Kessel cut off a member of the Glengarry District High School Gaels and gained control of the ball during last week's (Thurs., May 15) SD&G "A" junior boys season opener in Iroquois. The Devils lost the match 1-nil and followed up dropping a 2-1 decision to the Char-Lan Crusaders.

METCALFE – Ottawa police have charged an area woman involved in a crash that killed an off-duty city officer in November 2013.

Brandi Krystyna Edwards, 29, faces a failure to drive in a marked lane charge under the Highway Traffic Act.

On the afternoon of the accident, Const. Mike Robillard was travelling south on 8th Line Road near Metcalfe, on his way to work with the Ottawa Police Services' east division.

New 'buy local' strategy pitched

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – For some time, local businesses have been working to swim against the tide brought on by emerging big box stores in neighbouring centres.

10% spending shift would shore up local economy

Two Long Sault businesswomen may have stumbled upon a way of enriching small shops, while also accepting the fact shoppers will go elsewhere if prices are more suitable to household budgets.

During the Township of North Dundas' recent spring business breakfast, held Wed., May 14 at the revamped Winchelsea Events, Donna Primeau and Kim Stewart shared their story about the recently launched "Shift 10%" initiative.

"It came down to thinking, 'if we want to be here, we have to change something up,'" Primeau, who operates Showcase Video and Dollar Store in the Long Sault Plaza, said.

It was Stewart, owner of StokeFire, a home décor and gift store, who researched a number of ways to improve her store's presence, and increase its foothold locally, before stumbling upon similar campaigns in Salt Lake City, Utah and in British Columbia.

First ballot cast

In an effort to make voting more accessible to all, special ballots have been added to the roster for Thurs., June 12's Ontario general election. At the Winchester returning office, located at the Township of North Dundas' St. Lawrence street headquarters, the first official ballot was cast Thurs., May 15 by the municipality's mayor, Eric Duncan. The special ballot process gives another opportunity to vote at local returning offices in addition to during advanced polls or on election day. The Winchester site is open Monday to Saturday 10 am to 8 pm, and Sunday 12 to 5 pm.

Debate date changed

CHESTERVILLE – The date for Dundas County's provincial all-candidates debate has been changed.

The North Dundas Chamber of Commerce is organizing the event, but has bumped the debate to Wed., June 4, from the originally announced date of the day previous. The move was made due to the leaders' debate having also been scheduled for Tues., June 3.

All candidates currently on the ballot in Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry are expected to attend.

The evening gets underway at 7 pm at the Royal Canadian Legion Chesterville Branch 434.

Expansion

Parking spots are at a premium due to the close proximity of the public school and Winchester District Memorial Hospital's expanding campus. "We have had numerous complaints about illegal parking, and Clarence Street is already congested," Pol said.

School board officials are expected to attend an upcoming North Dundas council meeting, as politicians will get another crack at finding a solution.

One idea that has been proposed would see the UCDSB annex a portion of the playing field opposite the school in order to create an appropriate sized parking lot. As well, the school board has tinkered with the idea of purchasing York Street from the municipality, and closing it off to traffic in order to create a parking area.

Long considered too expensive to upgrade, the board is now committed to maintaining the Winchester location as the student population has ballooned with the introduction of full-day Kindergarten.

Strategy

"It has been done, and it has been done very, very well," Stewart said. "For us though, we have to crawl before we can walk because we don't have everything [people want to buy] in Long Sault."

The concept, Primeau said, is simple: convince consumers to make a conscious effort to shift 10 per cent of their non-local spending back to their hometown businesses.

"We understand that times are changing, and that almost everyone is doing Internet shopping," she said. "But we are our customers neighbours, and we are the ones who get asked to sponsor minor sports teams. We have a connection with our clientele, and that's the thing Amazon doesn't have. Fair, true, and honest; that is where our heart is."

Stewart said the effort must be made on both ends between the supplier and customer.

"There is proof that we have to remind customers that we are there," she said. "We'll be there all the time for them, and be able to service [their purchase needs]. If everyone shifted 10 per cent of their purchasing power back to local, we could be there."

The initiative, meanwhile, has been gaining support throughout the ranks of the Township of South Stormont's Chamber of Commerce and its municipal government, while neighbouring business collectives have shown interest.

In North Dundas, chamber president Owen Shortt commended the campaign, and acknowledged it is something the local collective would be considering.

"Things start at the top, and it is not business to business," he said. "This has to be a community thing of everybody buying in."

Police Blotter

Warrant executed

WILLIAMSBURG – On Wed., May 14, members of the OPP Cornwall Drug Enforcement Unit (Project Paradigm), the OPP Tactics and Rescue Unit, and Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP officers executed a Controlled Drugs and Substance Act warrant at a residence on Saving Street.

Upon searching the residence, police seized a prohibited firearm, approximately 650 grams of cultivated marijuana, and 17 marijuana plants. The projected street value of the seized drugs is estimated at approximately $3,000.

Glen Froats, 48, and Kellie Froats, 41, were arrested and face charges of production of marijuana, and possession of marijuana for the purpose of trafficking. They were released on a promise to appear, and will be in Morrisburg court Tues., June 3.

Youths arrested in string of thefts

WILLIAMSBURG – As a result of an ongoing theft investigation, the OPP Street Crimes Unit recently arrested two youths on County Road 18. The 17-year-old males, both from Cornwall, now face charges of theft under $5,000 from a motor vehicle, failure to comply with disposition, possession of marijuana for the purpose of trafficking, possession of marijuana, and possession of a weapon for dangerous purposes.

Both males are scheduled to appear Thurs., June 5 in Cornwall's youth court.

Details are provided by the OPP. All suspects are considered innocent unless proven otherwise in court.

Charged

It was on a stretch of the road north of Parkway Road where a minivan, driven by Edwards, hit Robillard's car head-on. The 32-year-old, husband to Alyson and father to four-year-old Ben, died at the scene, roughly 10 kilometres from his Metcalfe home.

Edwards, and her seven-year-old daughter, were both taken to hospital with non-life threatening injuries.

Robillard had been a police officer for nine years, serving the last four with the Ottawa force after transferring in order to be closer to his wife's family, which is largely in Ottawa. Robillard also has family in Winchester.

"He was an exceptional investigator who was proud to be a police officer, and had passions not only for his family and policing, but baseball, music, and life in general," city police chief Charles Bordeleau said in a statement at the time.

Hefty roadwork rehab plan approved

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – Road construction is to begin in earnest in the Township of North Dundas. During the municipality's Tues., May 13 council meeting, politicians approved $889,900 in roadwork expenditure for the coming season.

The jobs come from a stacked portfolio of needed improvements, and a desire to mitigate taxpayer hardship while driving on poorly maintained local roads.

Council finally decided on a repair plan for Hyndman Road, choosing to extend the work over a two-year period. This year, $269,000 will be spent for base construction efforts on the throughway, while the road will then be left to settle before receiving surface treatment in 2015.

The remaining $136,000 from the project was moved to a separate coffer for unspecified projects.

Politicians and township staff completed a tour of township roads last month, and most of those earmarked for needing repair will see rehabilitation this year.

Those throughways selected for this season include: Church Road, from County Road 43 west to Lillico Road, $170,500; Carruthers Road, $81,300; Armstrong Place, near Mary Street, in Chesterville, $16,200; Streeterpeete Road in Chesterville, $61,500; Bridge Street north in South Mountain, $91,000; Church Road, from Lillico to Development Road, $110,700; and Limerick Road, $89,700.

"We've been talking about Church Road for years, and [homeowners there] have been waiting patiently," Mayor Eric Duncan said.

Councillor Al Armstrong concurred with Duncan's assessment, saying, "I do agree with doing Church Road… It is important that we are [repairing] roads and getting them crossed off the list."

Councillor John Thompson, meanwhile, pressed for the Limerick Road work, and said he was pleased it had been selected.

"If we let it go anymore, we're just making [eventual repair] more expensive," he said. "It's starting to break up a bit now."

The most recently approved projects complement the $260,000 allotted for maintenance of Spruit Road.

Digging deep

Work on the long-awaited storm sewer project in Winchester's northwestern corner is well underway. AWD Contractors was awarded the contract (at a cost of $469,457.25) earlier this year following a series of false starts on the Township of North Dundas' part. The work price is higher than the municipality had budgeted for, but alterations were made in order to fall in line. The township scheduled $334,713 for the project, of which the provincial and federal governments have kicked in $233,142. The remaining cost is to be financed by both the township ($55,791) and homeowners impacted by the work ($55,779). Press Photo – Uhrig

Solar projects spark firefighting concerns

WINCHESTER – As the planned Gibeault Road solar project moves ahead, nervousness abounds as local firefighters have yet to receive training in order to properly handle panel fires.

During the Township of North Dundas' Tues., May 13 meeting, Councillor Tony Fraser unleashed a verbal tirade about the Chesterville-area project. They were the same concerns Fraser shared last year prior to construction of the Boyne Road solar farm.

"Proper [firefighting] training to deal with the panels has not been forthcoming," he said. "We've been told there would be something, but there has been nothing yet."

Councillor Al Armstrong, who serves as the municipality's fire commissioner, echoed his colleague's concerns.

The complaints came after Calvin Pol, director of planning, building, and enforcement, informed council members that a road use agreement between the municipality and Canadian Solar is nearing completion.

The project was put on hold earlier this year following the submission of a complaint to the provincial environment ministry. The appeal, meanwhile, was eventually withdrawn.

Council notes from North Dundas

Rink boards worn out

WINCHESTER – The Township of North Dundas' hope of salvaging the Joel Steele Community Centre's rink boards, as part of the facility's rehabilitation, will not go as planned.

During the municipality's Tues., May 13 council meeting, recreation director Meaghan Meerburg informed politicians the boards are "in very poor condition."

"The general condition of the rink boards as a whole is not as favourable as we had hoped," she added. "The [hard plastic] puck board is okay, but the boards themselves are not."

The plywood, according to Meerburg, is noticeably rotted or breaking in many spots, including at the board's base where the plywood was in the concrete.

The municipality had been in talks with an organization that was looking to acquire the old boards in order to erect an outdoor rink in Winchester this winter. However, that plan seems unlikely now.

"We're being generous… The boards are in terrible shape," Councillor Tony Fraser said. "Only the puck board is good. I don't know anybody who would want to use the boards in the shape they are in now."

The recreation centre's rehabilitation project is on schedule. The roof beams above the ice surface have been repaired, while the old concrete slab has been cut out and removed.

No need to (meter) read

North Dundas homeowners looking to get a better handle on their water consumption will soon be charged $25 per meter read. With meters having recently been installed in Chesterville, joining Winchester's longtime use of the technology, the municipality has the ability to constantly monitor a property's water usage.

Homeowners can be tipped off to any abnormalities; however, some residents are requesting continual reads.

"The concern, on our part, is that people may think we need to routinely go and [make a reading]," CAO Angela Rutley said. "But, you don't need hourly reads to know your water is running at night."

Industry abandoning Industrial Drive

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – With the approval of yet another rezoning request, Industrial Drive in Chesterville has begun to bear little resemblance to its given moniker.

During the Township of North Dundas' Tues., May 13 council meeting, politicians passed a redesignation request brought forward by village residents Wayne and Mary LaPrade.

The change will allow the couple to convert the space (listed as 7, 9, and 11 Industrial Drive) from an existing commercial setting to one that allows for six residential units. (Both a photography studio and neighbouring hair salon will remain onsite in their locations.)

It is just the latest change for an area of the village that has not evolved as the township had desired.

> Residential units seem to be the preferred option

In December 2011, council approved the rezoning of 17 Industrial Drive, and did the same for both 19 and 21 Industrial Drive in November 2013. The former has yet to see development as a residential location, while the latter, once Daniels Funeral Chapels' Chesterville location, is in the process of conversion.

"It is always disappointing to lose commercial property, but for a long time it has been difficult to have business stay and be viable there," Councillor Al Armstrong said.

Other properties on the roadway include Durant's Flowers, Curran Flooring Centre, and a warehouse used by Mike Dean's Super Food Store for storage, while both the village fire hall and the Royal Canadian Legion Chesterville Branch 434 are also nearby.

Once retrofitted, however, the space will not be the only residential property on Industrial Drive, as a series of row houses are located at the street's most western point.

Campaign trail leads McDonell to don WDMH nursing scrubs

WINCHESTER – It is an environment much different than his usual surroundings at Queen's Park, but Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry's PC election candidate made it work.

Jim McDonell, the riding's incumbent MPP, was at Winchester District Memorial Hospital Fri., May 16 to take part in the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario (RNAO)'s "Take Your MPP to Work" event, an initiative held during National Nursing Week (Mon., May 12 to Sun., May 18).

"RNAO is delighted to meet with politicians and enrich their understanding of the crucial work of nurses, and the expertise they use to care for Ontarians," association president Vanessa Burkoski said. "We hope the experience inspires seasoned and aspiring politicians to make healthy public policy decisions in the future."

For McDonell, who last year visited the Cornwall Community Hospital, the event, he said, serves as a reminder of the importance of a successful provincial healthcare system.

This year's celebration also provided McDonell the opportunity to spread his party's election platform, as voters are preparing to head to the polls Thurs., June 12.

"Part of our plan is to hire more nurses, because there is a shortage," he said. "There are other areas where we see an issue, [specifically] the need for more adequate [healthcare] funding."

Local hospital tops for satisfaction

WINCHESTER – According to a provincial report on patient satisfaction, Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) is a top performer.

"We receive and celebrate our quarterly patient satisfaction results every few months," CEO Cholly Boland said. "But once a year, this provincial report compares the entire year's results among all hospitals across Ontario. This report provides us with a clear snapshot of how our patients think we are doing. And we're very proud of the results."

The report, which is based on patient surveys from Sun., April 1, 2012 to Sun., March 31, 2013 collected by National Research Corporation of Canada, an independent research institute, asked patients about their overall care, and if they would recommend the hospital to their family and friends. The survey covered medical/surgical, maternity, emergency, and day surgery sectors with WDMH eliciting a "high performer among all hospitals" rating in each.

"It's a team effort and we should be very proud," Boland said. "Patient satisfaction is a result of the patient's entire experience, and involves every person the patient had contact with, from our volunteers at the front door to support staff that work behind the scenes. These results inspire us to continually try to do even better to ensure every patient has a positive experience at WDMH."

In response to a fire that destroyed the homestead at Smyth's Apple Orchard in Dundela in February, a benefit dance was held Sat., May 17 at Matilda Hall in Dixons Corners. Beckstead family fundraiser raises $1,600 at packed event

DIXONS CORNERS – It was a night filled with goodwill and support for a local family who lost their home and possessions to fire.

Roughly 250 people attended the Sat., May 17 benefit dance held at Matilda Hall in Dixons Corners.

Organized by a group of local residents, proceeds from the event are earmarked for the Beckstead family, owners of Smyth's Apple Orchard in Dundela. In late February, the family's home was lost to fire. While no one was hurt, the structure and all that was in it was destroyed.

February fire ravaged home

The fundraiser included musical entertainment by This Old Heart and The Country Comrades, and approximately $1,600 was raised.

Currently, a basement has been dug and a new house is to be constructed very shortly, Keith Beckstead, relative and event organizer, said.

EOWC grills election candidates about infrastructure management

WINCHESTER – The Eastern Ontario Wardens' Caucus (EOWC) is putting pressure on the region's provincial election candidates in the lead-up to Thurs., June 12's voting day.

The collective is inviting those vying for MPP seats in Queen's Park to recognize Eastern Ontario's priorities and concerns, to respond to them publicly, and to incorporate these issues into their own campaigns.

"The EOWC wants to get the message out to election candidates: municipalities have given the province a decade to accept responsibility for its own costs, and as we know Eastern Ontario has little capacity to raise revenue, in terms of both income and property," Jean Paul St. Pierre, caucus chair, said. "Infrastructure funding cannot come at the expense of uploads or new downloads that increase other costs. You cannot rob Peter to pay Paul."

The strategy, according to the EOWC, is based on the caucus' 2014 priorities, established earlier this year and presented to provincial ministers during the Rural Ontario Municipal Association conference.

The framework includes important requests, including stable, predictable funding for roads and bridges, and concerns about the OPP billing model. Both the EOWC and the Association of Municipalities of Ontario have worked closely on the strategy.

"Eastern Ontario municipalities are spending less than half of what they need on infrastructure," Linda Thompson, caucus vice-chair, said. "Our property taxpayers are maintaining 69,000 lane-kilometres of road and 5,000 structures; this is simply not sustainable."

Seniors' centre shows appreciation to volunteers

WILLIAMSBURG – Nearly 80 people were in attendance for the J.W. MacIntosh Seniors' Support Centre's recent volunteer appreciation event.

Janet Levere, executive director, along with Duane Locke, board chair, welcomed a large group of volunteers from throughout the Municipality of South Dundas to the Tues., May 13 celebration. In addition to a luncheon, guests were treated to entertainment by the Sage Age Theatre Group, which is comprised of mature actors performing a variety of mini-skits detailing the issues faced by seniors in today's world.

Levere then thanked the "best volunteers in our communities," referring to them as generous and caring individuals who are making a difference. It was noted that volunteers have adapted well to the changing needs of clients and their communities.

She then provided an update on the centre's activities, including: increases in the Going Home program with referrals from emergency departments and hospital discharges from the Winchester District Memorial Hospital, as well as hospitals in Ottawa, Brockville, and Cornwall; seniors requiring minimal assistance, such as one bath per week, can now contact the centre for assistance offered under the respite service; the Assisted Living Services for High Risk Seniors program, which has operated in the Iroquois and Morrisburg area since 2010, expanded into the Kemptville area; and the new physiotherapy and fall prevention exercise programs offered at the centre through government-funded initiatives.

The organization, it was noted, could not continue to expand its services without its board of directors, as well as its volunteers. In 2013, volunteers contributed roughly 7,000 hours of service.

In the past year, 33 persons received 1,513 meals; 298 seniors partook in 5,701 dinners; 127 clients were supported with 1,594 one-way trips or 3,188 round trips; 101 persons benefitted from the 477 foot care appointments; 23 clients took part in 491 units of adult day programs; 1,728 hours of work was spent in the craft group, fundraising, social activities, exercises, and committees; 10,172 hours of respite care was provided; 13, 792 hours of assisted living and supportive housing services were provided; and, in total with the centre's volunteer and paid employee services, 585 persons were supported.

Janet Levere, executive director of Williamsburg's J.W. MacIntosh Seniors' Support Centre, welcomed roughly 80 people to the organization's annual volunteer appreciation dinner Tues., May 13.

Library back in circulation

MORRISBURG – The new Morrisburg branch of the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Library is open and ready for visitors.

Mon., May 12 marked the first day for the library in its new Ottawa Street location, on the first floor of the South Dundas Municipal Centre.

Residents stopped by to find their favourite librarians at home in their new digs, which is equipped with a laptop station complete with wireless Internet connectivity, two four-person computer hubs, current magazines and newspapers, comfy chairs, homework tables, toys, and, of course, books.

While the square-footage is somewhat smaller than the previous location beneath the Morrisburg Arena, the new branch's floor plan makes optimum use of space with a focus on creating a quality experience for the library-user.

One of the two four-person computer hubs.

Hours for the branch are: Monday 3 to 8 pm; Tuesday 10 am to 8 pm; Wednesday 9 am to 1 pm; Thursday 10 am to 8 pm; Friday 1 to 4 pm; Saturday 10 am to 1 pm; and closed on Sunday.

Disheau takes aim at South Dundas deputy-mayor seat

by Sandy Casselman
Press staff

MORRISBURG – Incumbent Municipality of South Dundas Deputy-Mayor Jim Locke will be facing competition in this fall's municipal election.

Brinston resident Leslie Disheau filed her nomination papers for the seat last week.

"I know how it works, and I do know you need to have a voice [at the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry level] if you want to see some progress," she said, pointing out that it is the top two seats of mayor and deputy-mayor that win a seat at the counties' council table. "It's at the counties level that you get your voice heard."

Disheau, former president of the South Branch Wind Opposition Group, used a train as a metaphor to describe the differences between council members' roles. "If something is going to get done, you want to be in the engine car guiding where that engine is going, not in the caboose just tagging along," she said. "It's the only way that you're going to get the needs of your community met."

Leslie Disheau

No stranger to standing up for what she believes in, Disheau said she intends to look at the issues from all sides, and maintain an open and honest discussion with her co-council, as well as with the public she hopes to represent. She added that she wants to get the township "back on track" in terms of economic development, and to address the current divisiveness between the smaller communities within the municipality.

"We have to get past that," she said. "We have to work as a team."

Disheau said she wants residents to be treated fairly, and for there to be an open dialogue between council, staff, and the public. She wants people to see that they are valued "in that dialogue," she added.

Acknowledging that she is entering a male-dominated arena, Disheau said, "it doesn't matter if you're a man or a woman if you're going to do something for the greater good."

The 2014 municipal election is set for Mon., Oct. 27.

Ending religious segregation

For at least one Cornwall resident, this region's provincial election candidates have been far too quiet on a certain issue.

But, could anyone blame them? Bring up religion in any setting, outside of a house of the holy of course, and you're walking a slippery slope.

Yes, Ken MacLennan is calling on Ontario's leaders to take a closer look at education funding, specifically that of the separate Catholic system. No doubt MacLennan, 85, is a fighter. (Aside from his latest quest, he is challenging the province's rules for drivers more than 80-years-old.)

More than trying to be a disruptive force among the latest election campaign, the retired school board superintendent is working to weed out what he believes is inequity.

In his estimate, the province, drowning in debt, could save roughly $2 billion annually if the merger were made along linguistic lines.

This move would not only save money, but also put an end to religious division in Ontario's education system. MacLennan has written countless emails, one to nearly every MPP in this province, and has reached out to most media outlets in the area.

Although, the political response from all parties has been much the same: silence.

The issue is of such importance, in MacLennan's opinion, that he is considering putting his name on the ballot for Thurs., June 12's Ontario-wide vote.

There is irony swimming among his fight. An election arrives at the feet of the province's voters, and yet candidates don't feel the need to discuss what could be a very important issue: whether public education funding in this province should remain a segregation march or perhaps be reexamined.

The Catholic District School Board of Eastern Ontario runs some very excellent schools, yes, but it is likely Presbyterians and Anglicans would do the same if provided loads of money to do so.

Both Quebec and Newfoundland have ended the funding of religious schools, and neither province has imploded because of the change.

Debate about this issue should be focused squarely on whether the current financial model is sound policy, and should not devolve to religious censure.

Will the current system remain? Likely. But maybe it doesn't? We'll see. Yet, kudos goes to MacLennan for at least broaching the subject.

To get toward any sort of transformation, silence cannot remain.

Campaign levee will soon burst

With all of this election talk, it is important to remind readers that there is, in fact, a campaign underway.

The Victoria Day long weekend has come and gone, and voters should now prepare themselves for fireworks of a different sort.

With it being a snap election call, a blackout was placed on political advertising for television, print, and radio.

But the veil lifts today (Wed., May 21), and Ontarians will soon be inundated with the smiling faces and scripted campaign pledges of those looking for your vote.

In Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry, there are five candidates in the running, including the incumbent PC representative Jim McDonell. Five hopefuls will also be found on the ballots in the neighbouring ridings of Nepean-Carleton, Glengarry-Prescott-Russell, and Leeds-Grenville.

What to make of the announcements that have already been made? It's a tough call.

The dogfight at the top already appears built on resentment, with Liberal Premier Kathleen Wynne and the PC's top dog, Tim Hudak, running neck and neck in the polls, and going at each other's throats.

Hudak has pulled out his faulty calculator in the hopes of cutting many public sector positions, likely at the expense of Ontario's education and governmental systems.

Wynne, meanwhile, is campaigning opposite of the PC's pledge, but cannot seem to shake the baggage of her predecessor.

In these early days, talking points and pipedream planning rule the roost, and it doesn't appear likely the province will be any better off.

Remember when…

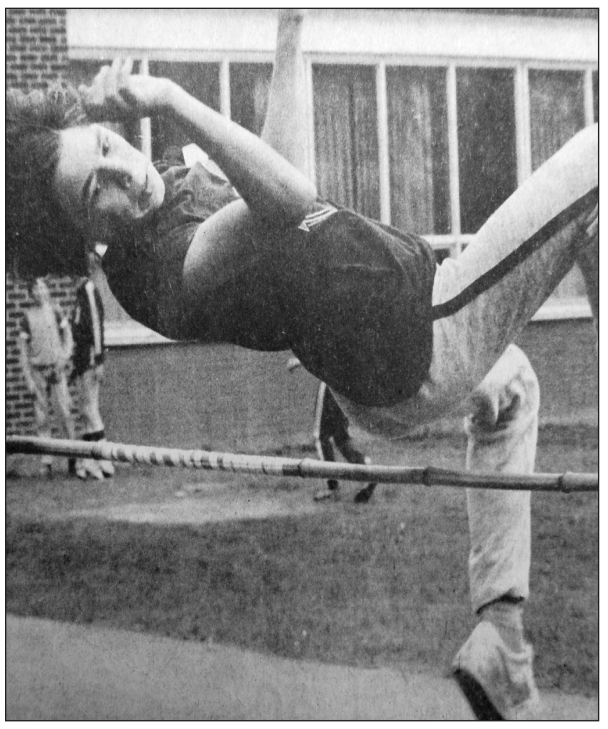
Pleading for a dedicated play space for the village's children, the Winchester Press' editor stated: "The streets are today more dangerous than the railroad track for children, and yet no parent would think of allowing their children to play on the railroad track. The city papers daily record some fatal accident to some child playing on the streets. In nine cases out of 10, the driver of the car is not to blame. The street is no place for a child to play."



Mark Carkner, a Grade 6 student from Winchester Public School, was pictured this week in 1984 after winning the 12-year-old boys high jump at the pre-Dundas County Track and Field Meet selection competition held at the educational facility.

The editor commented on morality in advertising this week: "There may be no sin in the drinking of a glass of liquor, and at times even well-known temperance people have been known to accept a dose of brandy in an evening, but to advertise to youth of the land or any other living person that there is anything less than damnation in the free and habitual use of intoxicating liquors, the Winchester Press cannot in conscience do, and so to each and all such offers of advertisements we have answered no."

1944

The principal of Morrisburg Collegiate Institute was asked to resign this week after a majority vote from the members of the Morrisburg Board of Education: "Letters to the press and corresponding statements made verbally to the board, covering a period of some weeks past, gave indication to the general public that opposition was developing against [principal] Epplett. A lack of diplomacy was charged, and it was held that pupils often suffered humiliation."

1954

In this week's local news, Winchester's Junior Hockey Club held its official wind-up to the season with an annual banquet and dance: "The highlight of the night was the presentation of the smart, new blue and white horsehide leather jackets to all club members. The presentation was made by Dr. S.W. Dawley, coach of the local crew, which this year advanced to the ODHA Junior 'B' semi-finals."

1964

Township of Mountain clerk D.H. Baldwin submitted the following notice for the village's dump: "Please do not bring to the dump – car bodies, stones, dead animals, fence wire, bones, old machinery, or weed seeds. This property is for the convenience of residents of Mountain Township. Please, no dumping or sorting on Sunday."

1974

The Winchester Chamber of Commerce advertised the upcoming Winchester Clean Up Day on June 1. Assisted by the village's Cub Scouts, residents were asked to "call ahead and book your requirements." Scouts were ready to perform various tasks.

1984

In school sports news: "Dixons Corners won their second consecutive junior girls three-pitch championship here last Thursday, edging the host Winchester Public School Hawks 11-10 in a dramatic final game. Their victory marked the second straight year they have defeated Winchester in the final."

1994

"Fundraising at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital has entered a whole new era," revealed this week's Press. "After two years of government red tape and countless strategy meetings, the health care facility has received government approval for the establishment of the WDMH Foundation."

2004

Thirteen-year-old Andrew Harten, 12-year-old Justin McMahon, and 12-year-old Justin Harten, who were fishing the Castor River during the Pout Masters fifth annual Catfish Tournament in Russell, were pictured in this week's edition.

The ghosts of the past are ready to tailgate

From the Other Side
by Jeff Morris

I was in Ottawa, and I drove along the canal recently. I was almost looking for a reason to go along there, as I like to look at the progress of the new stadium at Lansdowne Park.

Even though I grew up in Prescott, my best childhood memories are, by far, of going to Ottawa Rough Riders games with my father and my Uncle Robin. Section DD on the south side where our season tickets were seemed like a second home for us. Through the years, we saw Russ Jackson throw passes to Whit Tucker, Rick Cassata fire bullets to Rhome Nixon and Hugh Oldham, and Tom Clements and Condredge Holloway loft touchdown passes to Tony Gabriel.

The stars and even the games were just a backdrop, though. Football games in Ottawa were much more than sports events. They were cultural events. There were tailgate parties, and wine and cheese parties in the stands planned by the season ticket holders. They were social events that began early in the day, ran through the games, and then usually culminated with a post-game party in Kemptville at the home of Ted Warren, a buddy of my father's.

Hopefully, the culture of those events can be restored when the RedBlacks take the field this year. Sadly, though, the rich history of the game of football in Ottawa is all but lost and forgotten.

When I was a student at Carleton in the 1980s, under-efforting and squeaking through the undergraduate world while over-focusing on football and everything fun about being a university student, I was able to catch a glimpse into a rich and untold past.

I sat on a bench where the canal meets Dow's Lake, doing up my skates, when a little old man with a cap and an old hockey stick skated up and sat beside me. He had a coast-to-coast smile on his face, and I returned the smile. I looked at him, and said, in a bit of a wise-ass tone, "are you Aurel Joliat or something?"

To my stunning surprise, it actually was Aurel Joliat. One of the greatest Montreal Canadiens from the 1920s and 1930s was actually sitting on a bench with me, and he started chatting. He noticed my Carleton football jacket and began talking football.

"A lot of people don't know this about me, but when I played for the Canadiens, I played for the Ottawa Rough Riders at the same time," he said. "I was a running back and a kicker, and I was pretty good."

"The Mighty Atom" would sometimes play football in Ottawa at 1 pm, then hop on a train to Montreal and suit up for the Habs and be a superstar at night.

Before teams began playing for the Grey Cup in 1909, the Ottawa Rough Riders competed in the Ontario Rugby Football Union. They were a dominant team at the turn of the century.

It wouldn't be until 1925, however, that the team brought the Grey Cup to Ottawa. For a period of five years, the team changed its name to the Ottawa Senators. The Ottawa Football Senators faced the Winnipeg Tammany Tigers after the Senators knocked off the three-time defending Grey Cup champs from Queen's University 11-2. The Ottawa Citizen called the Tigers the "greatest team from the west in search of the senior crown."

Meanwhile, the football Senators were led by a pair of brilliant players of that era, Charlie Lynch and Charlie Connell. In the Grey Cup, Lynch had a great game as quarterback and was the top tackler on the defence. Connell scored a pair of touchdowns as the Senators won 24-1 in one of the muddiest Grey Cup games ever played.

The game featured an unusual play that you would not likely see today. A Winnipeg player punted the ball to Ottawa. The Sens' Joe Tubman let the ball land, and it plopped in a puddle of mud. With no players around him, Tubman picked up the ball, took the time to wipe it off and clean it on the thighs of his pants, and then proceeded to punt the ball back to Winnipeg.

The following year, the football Senators would win their second Grey Cup.

The Regina Roughriders won the championship in the west, but opted not to make the trip east to challenge for the Grey Cup. As a result, Ottawa took on the University of Toronto and won by a 10-7 margin on a frigid Varsity Centre field in Toronto.

The field was described as a slippery sheet of ice, while the freezing rain and cold temperatures had turned the ball into an oval of ice. Ottawa's Joe Miller was the hero of the game for the Sens, scoring five of his team's 10 points and playing his best game of the year, while Lynch was once again outstanding.

Ottawa would change its name back to the Rough Riders in 1930, and they would appear in the Grey Cup in 1936, where they would lose to the Sarnia Imperials.

In 1940, Ottawa would beat Balmy Beach of Toronto to win the Grey Cup.

Will a new football team bring back memories of Jackson and Tucker, Soupy Campbell, Art Green, Gerry Organ, Clements, Holloway, Gabriel, JC Watts and other Rough Rider stars of the past?

It will.

But, hopefully, the new team will bring back a tradition of road trips into Ottawa and celebrating friendships throughout the Ottawa, Rideau, and St. Lawrence Valleys.

Rural Expo planned for June 6 at City Hall

In and around Osgoode Ward
by Councillor Doug Thompson

OTTAWA – Mayor Jim Watson's annual Rural Expo and Food Aid Day is scheduled for Fri., June 6 from 7 am to 2 pm at City Hall.

Both the pancake breakfast and barbecue lunch are expected to help the Ottawa Food Bank raise the necessary funds to sustain its beef program for a year, in addition to supporting local farmers.

The event, which is to feature music and entertainment, is to help urban residents learn more about what rural Ottawa has to offer.

Rural fairs, festivals, farms, farmers' markets, and tourist-based businesses are invited to set up an exhibit.

For more information, call the Rural Affairs Office at 613-580-2424 extension 28352 or email ruralaffairs@ottawa.ca.

Library cards online

Residents are now able to register online for their free library card.

A temporary card number will allow customers to browse the Ottawa Public Library catalogue, put items on hold, and register for programs.

Following the online registration, residents have 42 days to visit a nearby branch with valid photo identification, proof of address, and their temporary card number to upgrade to a permanent full-access card. A permanent card gives customers access to unlimited borrowing of books, eBooks, CDs, DVDs, and more.

For more information, call 613-580-2940, email infoservice @biblioottawalibrary.ca or visit www.biblioottawalibrary.ca.

What's in a name?

Ottawa's Commemorative Naming Committee is conducting public consultations on a proposal to name a hockey dressing room at Osgoode's Stuart Holmes Arena "Diesel's Dressing Room."

The name is to honour Andrew (Diesel) Winnicki, who died in a hunting accident at the age of 22. Winnicki was a longtime volunteer in the community, coaching hockey for three years, as well as a peewee division team in the Osgoode Minor Hockey League. He also dedicated time each year to building the outdoor rink in his community.

Visit the city's website for more information.

Posters for water awareness

Ottawa students in Grades 3 to 5 are being asked to use their creative genius to design posters to increase awareness about drinking water and its significance in the community.

The theme, "Water is Life," is to be used to illustrate the importance of water as the lifeblood of the city, and as a resource residents rely on daily.

Eligible city schools can each submit one poster, ensuring that the facility's name and contact information is clearly labeled on the back of the artwork. Posters are to be delivered to any client service centre before Fri., May 30.

Each participating school is to then be entered into a draw to send two student delegates and one teacher to a lunch at City Hall. Six schools are to be selected. All submissions are to be displayed at Ottawa's headquarters, as well as on the city's website (www.ottawa.ca), as part of the Water Roundtable, which is to be held Sat., June 14.

Cold salads for spring

St. James United Church in Osgoode is set to host a Cold Salad Buffet to celebrate spring Sun., May 25 from 4:30 to 6 pm. The cost is $12 per adult, $6 for children aged 10 and under, or $30 per family. Take-out is available.

For more information or to purchase tickets, call Mary at 613-826-2519 or Cathy at 613-826-2331.

Ride for Dad

The Motorcycle Ride for Dad, an initiative that raises funds for prostate cancer research and awareness, is headed for Osgoode and Manotick.

Scheduled for Sat., May 31, the ride is set to depart from the National Aviation and Space Museum of Canada at 8:30 am for a parade through the city. The ride is to continue as a poker run through Almonte, Carleton Place, Smiths Falls, Merrickville, and Kemptville. From there, riders are to travel to the Rideau Carleton Raceway for lunch and closing ceremonies.

The Ottawa ride brings in an average of $400,000 each year. Through an unpaid executive, 300 dedicated volunteers, plus strong sponsor support to cover the cost of the ride, essentially all of the funds raised go to the cause. As well, all funds raised in Ottawa stay in the area. The ride's key message: "Men, get checked, it can save your life."

Fundraising for TOCC

There are two fundraisers for the Osgoode Township Care Centre that are fast approaching, beginning with a spring trivia night beginning at 7 pm tomorrow night (Thurs., May 22) at Stanley's Olde Maple Lane Farm.

The trivia event is to include a cash bar, food, bake sale, and gift card tree. Tickets are $10 per person with limited tables available.

From Parliament Hill
by MP Guy Lauzon

Celebrating Canada's soldiers

OTTAWA – Our brave men and women in uniform represent the very best our country has to offer.

Throughout the past 13 years, the members of the Canadian Armed Forces fought and served this country valiantly during our mission in Afghanistan. Our brave men and women in uniform countered terrorism, and promoted security and development so that Afghans could build a viable, stable, and secure country.

Sadly, this service was not without loss, as some Canadians made the ultimate sacrifice for these goals and many others were injured during their service.

With the completion of the Afghanistan mission, Prime Minister Stephen Harper designated Fri., May 9 a National Day of Honour to commemorate the valour, strength, and sacrifices of the more than 40,000 armed forces members who served in Afghanistan. Their collective sacrifices represent another chapter in Canada's long and proud history of fighting for a safer global community. Canadians are forever grateful for these war heroes.

On Parliament Hill, a group of injured soldiers arrived at the ceremony on foot from CFB Trenton, carrying the last Canadian flag flown in Afghanistan. They presented it to Harper, who then gave it to Governor General David Johnston.

During the ceremony, our country paid tribute to the fallen, the sacrifices of the wounded, and the special burden borne by their families. Canadians honoured the legacy of these heroes with a national moment of silence.

Although the ceremony held in Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry (SD&SG) was more humble than the ceremony in Ottawa, it was every bit as meaningful and sincere.

A small group of veterans, elected officials, and members of the general public gathered at the Cornwall cenotaph at 11 am to witness a brief, heartfelt ceremony organized by Royal Canadian Legion Cornwall Branch 297.

Wreaths were laid by an Afghanistan veteran and Winchester resident Libby Pelkey, a mother of two sons who served a total of six tours of duty in Afghanistan. Cody served for four tours, and his younger brother Kyle served for two.

After the ceremony, a light lunch was hosted at the legion by branch president Ken Heagle. The SD&SG ceremony was a memorable tribute to our veterans who served in Afghanistan, and their families.

Meadow Greens celebrates 30 years

Jane and Tony Hendrikx, owners of Meadow Greens Nursery near Marionville, celebrated the business' 30th anniversary with a two-day customer appreciation event Sat., May 17 and Sun., May 18. In addition to games, giveaways, and entertainment, the couple invited Vanderlaand the Barnyard Zoo from Winchester Springs to entertain younger guests. The main attraction, however, was the large assortment of annuals, perennials, shrubs, trees, water plants, and other garden paraphernalia. For more on the business' three decades, see the Winchester Press' upcoming Salute to Spring supplement.

Conserve water – sign up for a rain barrel

WINCHESTER – Residents who want to save money, care for their gardens, and protect the environment know that rain barrels can help meet the three objectives.

With that in mind, the Township of North Dundas is now accepting pre-sale orders as part of their truckload rain barrel sale. This fundraising event is scheduled for Sat., May 24, from 12 to 2 pm, at the municipality's St. Lawrence Street headquarters.

Rain barrels are $55 each, and orders must be placed in advance of the sale, either online at www.rainbarrel.ca/northdundas or by calling 613-774-2105.

To encourage water conservation within the municipality, North Dundas has partnered with RainBarrel.ca to provide the sale.

Rain barrels capture and store chlorine-free rainwater from a home's downspouts. The non-chlorinated water is much better for indoor plants, as well as all kinds of outdoor plants, especially flowers, vegetables, lawns, shrubs, and trees. Collected water can also be used to wash cars, clean floors, and do laundry.

These many uses can provide cost savings to every resident, especially those who pay to have water trucked in, use a well, or have a water meter installed. They can also provide water conservation opportunities, particularly during the dry summer months.

The Township of North Dundas and RainBarrel.ca have partnered for a Sat., May 24 sale of the water collecting devices.

Proceeds from the sale will help to maintain and beautify the parks and outdoor spaces in the township. Specifically, $10 from each barrel sale will be put toward the purchase of trees to be planted in various green spaces throughout North Dundas.

When ordering in advance of the sale, purchasers select the colour and model of their rain barrel, and add any accessories, such as downspout diverters and rain barrel stands. Each barrel is equipped with all the parts needed to put it together, so it can be collecting water immediately.

4-H Update

Rideauside Farm hosts members

by Carley Hess

KEMPTVILLE – Members of the Grenville Dairy Alliance 4-H Calf Club donned rubber boots for their second meeting.

It was a rainy day Tues., May 13 when the group met at Bennett's Rideauside Farm northwest of Kemptville.

The meeting consisted of flight zones, judging, parts of a cow, and a new tactic for tying knots. Members said they found the meeting to be both interesting and educational.

Cattle, as well as many other types of animals, have flight zones, which are points around the animal that causes them to move if someone stands or moves within these points. Knowledge of flight zones is an important skill to have for anyone who works with animals, and especially for club members who are training a calf. After the lesson, members broke into groups to practice moving a cow from its free stall pen to the milking parlor.

Following the flight zones demonstration, a how-to for choosing a well-shaped dairy cow or calf was given. The main points were covered, helping members find the strengths and weaknesses in each cow of the group. Then, a competition to see who could name the parts of a cow was held.

The group then moved on to learning about types of knots that will keep a calf tied with their halter. To practice tying the knots, everyone used string licorice, which they munched on afterward.

The club's next meeting is scheduled for Tues., June 17 at Hessholm Holsteins near Kemptville.

SNC invites applications for river grants program

FINCH – South Nation Conservation (SNC) is ready to receive applications for its 2014 River Grants program.

"There's a limit to our funding, so we encourage organizations and municipalities to apply now," Ronda Boutz, team lead for communication and outreach, said. "Once we allocate all the money, the program ceases until the following year."

Each year, the program, which fosters recreational use of rivers and streams within the watershed, supports about a dozen projects – some recurring and some for the first time – to a maximum of $300 per initiative.

"Riverside festivals are typical applicants," Boutz said. "They're good candidates because they draw public attention to the importance of maintaining and protecting watercourses and their shorelines."

This year's current successful applicants include the Spencerville Children's Water Festival, and Augusta Township's grand opening of the rejuvenated Rothesay Drive Site.

"These types of events bring people closer to our waterways, helping to make them more aware of conservation issues, from water quality, the state of the fisheries, and wildlife habitat," Boutz added.

To qualify, events must take place along the South Nation, St. Lawrence, or Ottawa Rivers, and their tributaries within the conservation authority's jurisdiction. As well, events must encourage involvement from the public as participants or spectators; recycle bins must be available, and sites cleaned up; events must be well promoted with the SNC logo on posters and other materials; and the SNC banner must be featured prominently.

Applicants must submit a one-page letter to the communications committee providing particulars of the event, including a description of its purpose and goal.

Applications must meet the outlined criteria. Grants are to be awarded based on merit.

For more information, call Boutz at 613-984-2948 extension 251 or email rboutz@nation.on.ca.

St. Paul's Ladies talk healthy living

by Kathy Spruit

WINCHESTER – St. Paul's Ladies Aid members were treated to a poem about "how God created moms" when they met earlier this month.

Roll call was answered with a favourite activity or sport.

Julie Graham, a nurse with the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, gave a presentation on aspects of women's health, specifically good nutrition and fitness.

Members received a handout with tips on how to enjoy a long and healthy life, including: eating a healthy diet; planning ahead for healthy meals and snacks; getting enough calcium and vitamin D; lowering sodium intake; eating the right amounts of fat; getting active; getting enough fluids; getting enough fibre; getting enough vitamin B12; and visiting the family doctor on a regular basis. Other handouts giving detailed information on each tip were circulated, while Graham discussed the tips and answered questions.

Graham was thanked and presented with a planter.

Libby Pelkey highlighted the relevant Bible passages, focusing on the idea that God designed the human body to be a resilient, fine tuned instrument that needs to be cared for and not taken for granted. The Bible, she explained, provides information on how to live a rich and fulfilling life following God. Using Job as an example, Pelkey said being a follower of Christ does not mean one is exempt from health challenges, but is provided with support during these challenging times.

The ladies then sang and performed the actions to the "Butterfly Song."

Members were encouraged to attend the ecumenical supper, organized this year by the Winchester United Church, set for 6 pm Wed., May 28 at the Winchester Wesleyan Church.

Doris Baker provided information on the Spring Fling fundraiser scheduled for 1 to 4 pm Sat., May 31. The event is to include displays and booths from six local entrepreneurs, as well as a tea room.

A financial donation is to be given to Pastor Thurland and Lorraine Brown in support of their Camino de Santiago Pilgrimmage in Spain this summer. As well, Donna Wilson was charged with passing along a financial donation to the Women's Mission Society Presbyterial at this month's rally.

Phyllis MacMaster told members the 4-H group using the church building is to make greeting cards, which can be sold to benefit St. Paul's.

The meeting ended with the recitation of the "Lord's Prayer" and the singing of "A Blessing for My Friends." Members had fruit kabobs for lunch.

The next meeting has been scheduled for 6 pm Mon., June 2 and is to include a barbecue.

Doing their part

A handful of North Dundas District High School students took to County Road 43 earlier this month in order to clear garbage and other items from the ditches along the roadway. It is an annual event for the educational facility, which adopted a 2.5 kilometre portion (from Rae and Belanger Roads to the school) through the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Adopt-A-Road initiative some time ago. Pictured are Kaitlyn Irven (left), Sophie Reoch, Malerie Paterson, and Jessi Zandbelt.

UCW hat parade welcomes spring

WINCHESTER – Lillian Moore welcomed a group of 50 members to the United Church Women (UCW)'s recent catered dinner.

Held Mon., May 12, the group celebrated member Doris Ennis' 91st birthday with song and prayer.

Colleen Howard accompanied the group in a singsong. Then, Rev. Christine Lowson led the group in worship, opening with prayer and a poem. "What a Wonderful World" was sung. Lowson used the letters of the word "canoe" to represent attitudes and personalities. Members sang a spring favourite, "In the Bulb There is a Flower." Worship closed with the recitation of the "Lord's Prayer."

Linda Foster introduced Star FM Kemptville radio station host Drew Hosick, who then performed commentator duties for the hat parade. Lillian Lancaster, Bea Eadie, Orma Earl, Linda Foster, Clara Edwardson, Maureen Heuff, and Paulette Poulin participated.

The UCW is ready to send campers to Rideau Hill Camp, all-expenses paid, again this year. Currently, two children have registered for this service.

On Sat., May 24, there is to be a private shoe party at Billings Bridge Plaza. An ecumenical potluck dinner is scheduled for 6 pm Wed., May 28 at the Wesleyan Church with Shawna Strathy as guest speaker. The United Church yard and bake sale is set for Sat., May 31. Then, on Tues., June 10, the Presbyterial is to be held at Chesterville's First United Church. The group's Over 80 Birthday Party is to take place Fri., June 13, with the strawberry social following on Mon., June 23.

The meeting closed with the singing of "What Can I Do," which was accompanied by Janice Hyndman.

WDMH Auxiliary Tag Day fundraiser set for May 31

WINCHESTER – Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) Auxiliary members are ready to set up shop outside local businesses.

On Sat., May 31, the auxiliary's one-day Tag Day fundraising event is to see volunteers canvassing outside businesses within the hospital's catchment area, where they are to provide WDMH Auxiliary tags in exchange for donations.

"I ask that you give generously to the event," Nancy Farley-Holmes, auxiliary president, said. "Accept the tag from the auxiliary volunteer, and take a moment to consider how fortunate we are to have a facility like WDMH."

The medical facility opened its doors in 1948, and as a founding partner, the auxiliary, which consists entirely of volunteers, has undertaken many fundraising events throughout the years. In the past, the group has purchased various large-ticket hospital equipment items with the most recent being new wireless intravenous pumps. The current initiative is focusing funds on a portable X-ray machine.

"People come from far and wide due to the quality reputation of the hospital services and its partners, the incredible staff, and the outstanding physicians," Farley-Holmes said. "All of this is galvanized by strong supporters in the community. We have achieved many milestones [throughout] our 66 years, and could not have done so without such incredible community support."

OSAID leader Cindy Steele honoured with provincial award

MAPLE RIDGE – For some time now, Cindy Steele has been helping to lead North Dundas District High School (NDDHS)' fight against impaired driving.

The longtime Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving (OSAID) advisor has seen her roster of students alter throughout the years, but her dedication has remained the same.

Because of that, Steele was recently honoured with an Award of Excellence from the provincial anti-impaired and distracted driving collective.

"She's really awesome; a great teacher and advisor," Cadence Harris, NDDHS' OSAID co-president, said. "I've always said she's like a cool aunt, especially because I don't have a lot of family around here. She makes it easy to just kick back and talk."

Harris, along with fellow organization leader Emma Paterson, nominated Steele for the honour.

"It was about two hours of writing, but we wanted to make sure we got down exactly what it is we appreciate about her," Paterson said.

For her part, Steele said the acknowledgement is a testament to the thorough involvement she has received from student participants throughout the years.

Conference crusaders

The local high school's OSAID team recently returned from the student organization's provincial conference, held in Oakville earlier this month.

"It is always really organized, and there is a lot to do," Harris said. "It was shortened by a day this year, but it didn't really impact the education portion; it was fun and inspirational."

NDDHS participants sat in on a number of lectures, and heard from various presenters, each of whom got their points across without being overly preachy, Paterson said.

"One speaker spoke to us about the death of her best friend," she added. "The impact was bigger because we heard her story, and about how her friend is not on this Earth anymore."

Mountain Lions see need in community, then fill it

by Sandy Casselman
Press staff

MOUNTAIN – When help was needed, the Mountain and District Lions Club took action.

On Thurs., May 15, the club donated 217 kilograms (478.4 pounds) of food items to the House of Lazarus, the ecumenical outreach mission based in Mountain.

"That's a lot of food," Pauline Pratt, HOL executive director, said. "It was exactly what we needed. It's definitely going to make a dent in the [current] shortage."

Altogether, the donation included a group contribution of $500 worth of food, with bonus items totalling $50 courtesy of Mike Dean's; bags and boxes of food from individual members; and $90 cash from some of Winchester's O'Farrell Financial Services employees.

"It's a real testament to [their] generosity and commitment," Pratt said. "They get it. They know there's a need and they want to do something about it. They want to be part of the solution."

The recent donation, which Pratt said should last the next few weeks, brought the mission's food cupboard to the halfway mark.

"We're still half empty," she said. "We're still in need of food."

Roughly 2,500 kilograms of food is handed out each month, with the numbers rising to between 3,000 and 4,000 in November and December.

The need for food remains constant throughout the year, Pratt said. However, contributions tend to slow down in the summer months. To address the discrepancy, HOL is set to host its annual Walk/Run for Food event Sat., June 21, where organizers hope to raise enough money to purchase enough stock for the summer months.

Organizers plan 'Cookie' Thompson tourney for June 7

WINCHESTER – It has been eight years since Chris "Cookie" Thompson was killed in an automobile accident, but his legacy lives on in the form of an annual golf tournament.

The event, which itself is reaching the one decade mark, will be hosted Sat., June 7 this year at Cloverdale Links Golf Course north of Winchester.

In the span of time since, some $60,000, in Thompson's memory, has been donated to various initiatives throughout the Township of North Dundas.

This year, money is being generated for both equipment purchases for the maternity ward at Winchester District Memorial Hospital, and Naomi's Family Resource Centre.

Other organizations and agencies funded include the Winchester Hospital Heelers, the North Dundas Fire Department, the Dundas County Food Bank, and more.

Thompson died November 5, 2006 following a single-vehicle accident on County Road 7 near Hummel Road in Chesterville. At the time of his death, he was captain of the Winchester Junior "B" Hawks.

Defeat Warriors and Raiders

North Dundas girls remain undefeated in SD&G rugby play

MAPLE RIDGE – Paced by Jessi Zandbelt and Lynnette Klein Boonschate's two-try performances, the North Dundas District High School girls varsity rugby team ripped the CCVS Raiders 45-0 in SD&G league action.

Last Friday's (May 16) romp over the 12-member Raiders moved the Devils record to three wins in as many games. The day started with the Tagwi Warriors blanking CCVS 20-0, North Dundas then turned back Tagwi 19-5 in an exhibition match and followed up with their one-sided decision against the rookie-laden Raiders.

This week (Thurs., May 22), the Devils see action at St. Joe's and the following Thursday (May 29) they hit the field at Holy Trinity. Their post-season follows the first week of June.

North Dundas coach Gilles Lepage said the girls played well and are starting to refine their skills and certain aspects of the game.

Because of the late start of league play, Lepage remarked that the teams 32 practices are beginning to pay dividends.

Devils 19 – Warriors 5

North Dundas jumped into a 14-0 lead in the first half of a rain-soaked match against Tagwi who found the Devils end zone in the second session.

Hanna Mollema carried in a pair of tries and converted both. Jessi Zandbelt touched the third major down early in the second half.

Devils 45 – Raiders 0

CCVS and North Dundas played 12 aside in their encounter, in which the Devils turned their opening drive into a 7-0 lead thanks to a try by scrum half Mallory Hutchinson and a Mollema convert.

Mollema followed with another five-pointer. Zandbelt reeled off a long run and made it 17-0. Mollema added the convert for a 19-0 advantage.

Klein Boonschate cracked in a pair of tries in the second half while singles by Cashelle Baldwin and Zandbelt further inflated the Devils lead. Mollema finished off her 15-point day pumping three more two-pointers through the uprights.

The Devils posted a 13-10 decision over Tagwi in their first tri-county match of the season on Fri., May 20.

The look of determination on Jessi Zandbelt's face shows what the Tagwi Warriors had to deal with when trying to impede the progress of the North Dundas District High School Devils runner during last week's (Fri., May 16) SD&G exhibition rugby match. Zandbelt scored a try in the Devils 15-9 win. She then added two more in her team's 45-0 romp against the CCVS Raiders later the same afternoon.

Blues remain undefeated, blank Bridals Yellow 2-0

CHESTERVILLE – Cashelle Baldwin, Neal's Heating and Cooling Blues goaltender, booked her third shutout in four games shutting down Bridals Yellow 2-0.

Last week's (Thurs., May 15) victory left the Blues (4-0-0) as the only undefeated team in the Chesterville Ladies Ball Hockey League. The loss left Bridals with a 0-3-1 record.

Chesterville Ladies Ball Hockey League

Kim Elliott converted a play created by Lesley Ann Tupper and Kaila Beckstead into the GWG as the number-three ranked Andy's Foodland Reds (1-2-1) nipped the second place Annable's Jewellery Greens (2-2-0) in the other half of the Thursday night twin bill.

Taylor Cummins cracked both goals in the Blues 2-0 decision over Bridals scoring the GWG on a play set up by Leigh Ann Darling and Brooke Cummins at 11:26 of the first period. She then locked up the win making it 2-0 with help provided by Brooke Cummins and Lindsay Cummins 3:26 before the final buzzer.

Reds 3 – Greens 2

Andy's Reds moved a point closer to the number-two rated Annable's Greens handing them a 3-2 setback.

Tupper buried a pass sent to her by Elliott and Paulette Levesque for a 1-0 Reds lead at 13:05 on period one. An unassisted shot fired by Marlee Grady at 6:35 tied the score at 1-1.

Cinnamon Boulanger team up with Marlee Grady and Amy Bekkers and put the Greens up 2-1 with 9:23 to play in period two only to have the Reds even the score (2-2) less than a minute later when Jessica Rutley scored after taking a feed from Laura MacKinnon.

Elliott then cracked the GWG with 7:59 left in the game giving the Reds their first win in of the season. Kaila Beckstead and Tupper provided the pass.

Laflamme goal beats the clock, Senior Hawks edge Rockets 6-5

CHESTERVILLE – Matt Laflamme's fourth goal of the game stopped the clock 37.1 seconds before the final buzzer and handed the Winchester Hawks a slim 6-5 decision over the North Dundas Rockets.

Rocket 'tender Brayden Roe made the initial save on a Laflamme breakaway, but the ball bounced out of his grasp and Laflamme was able to hit the twine with the GWG from a sharp angle.

Last week's (Tues., May 13) win left the Hawks with a perfect 2-0-0 record and in first place in the North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey League standings. The Rockets were seeing their first action of the season.

The Senators improved to 1-1-0 by way of a 4-1 victory over the Leafs (0-1-0) in the second half of the Tuesday night twin bill.

Applied pressure

Winchester Hawks goaltender Hayden McNabb and his defenceman Ben Scharf (No. 5) were able to prevent North Dundas Rockets forward Evan Durant from scoring on this play in last week's (Tues., May 13) North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey league game. Durant's teammate, James Mackie (No. 2), finished the game with four goals and an assist. The Hawks won it on Matt Laflamme's GWG with 0:37.1 on the clock. Press Photos – Van Bridger

Set-up man

Senators forward Jarret Williams engineered Bayden Carr's hat trick, which included the GWG, in last week's (Tues., May 13) 4-1 North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey League victory over the Leafs. Leafs' goaltender Cole Emond and defender Julianna Joustra watched the play leave their zone.

Hawks 6 – Rockets 5

The Rockets and Hawks traded goals throughout the game and the score stood at 5-5 after James Mackie (Evan Durant) had notched the Rockets fifth marker and Laflamme (Justin Shay, Curtis Barkley) had rung up number five for the Hawks.

Laflamme's unassisted shot registered with 37.1 seconds on the clock finally decided the issue in the Hawks favour.

Laflamme (4-1-5), Barkley (1-1-2), Justin Shay (0-2-2) and Spencer Kelly (1-0-1) did the Hawks scoring. Hayden McNabb posted the win.

Rocket sniper James Mackie matched Laflamme's five-point effort netting four goals and adding an assist. Durant (2), Patrick Norris (2) and Cameron Fisher provided the passes.

Senators 4 – Leafs 1

Bayden Carr cashed three goals as the Senators evened their record at 1-1-0 trimming the Leafs 4-1.

Jarret Williams set up Carr's hat trick drawing three helpers. Senators' netminder Jack van Kessel picked up an assist on Brodie Barkley's first-period goal.

Lucas Watters used a feed from Drew Cotnam to break up van Kessel's shutout.

Top scorers are: Matt Laflamme, Hawks 6-3-9; James Mackie, Rockets 4-1-5; Bayden Carr, Senators 3-0-3; Justin Shay, Hawks 1-2-3; Curtis Barkley, Hawks 1-2-3; Jarret Williams, Senators 0-3-3; Spencer Kelly, Hawks 2-0-2; and three tied at 1-1-2.

Senior Devils earn four points in opening games

WILLIAMSTOWN – Opening week for the North Dundas District High School Senior Devils netted the SD&G "A" squad an impressive 8-nil win, a 2-2 draw and a pair of losses.

North Dundas strikers Patrick Gibson and Marc Thurler enjoyed some notable offensive success in their first action of 2014 registering four goals each.

Thurler cracked four markers in the Devils 8-nil decision over the R/O Lancers in Ingleside last week (Thurs., May 15) while Gibson toed in both shots as the Devils played the Seaway Spartans to a 2-2 tie the same day. He also bagged a single in the one-sided win over the Lancers.

"We had a significant edge in ball possession and zone play, but Seaway's keeper had a great game," explained Devils coach Kevin Bell.

Bruce Bufton netted a pair while Bradley Stitt and Gibson sniped the singles.

Friday (May 16) in Williamstown Gibson scored his team's lone goal in a tough 2-1 loss to Glengarry. The day finished with the host Crusaders blanking North Dundas 2-nil.

Coach Bell described the match with Glengarry as a chippy affair played in adverse weather conditions.

"We lost a close game to Char-Lan," he said. "It was a really good match with a lot of opportunities by both clubs. Unfortunately, we weren't unable to capitalize."

Little League opener

Major Red Sox take down Black Sox 12-8

WINCHESTER – Winchester's two Upper Canada Major Little League teams squared off in their 2014 regular season opener at the 100 Club Community Park and the Red Sox emerged with a 12-8 decision over the Black Sox.

Austin Rivet pitched the first two frames of last week's (Thurs., May15) game for the winners and was relieved by Toby Byrne who worked the third and fourth and Owen Richardson who finished the fifth inning. Lucas Menard and Byrne took turns behind the plate.

Fourth inning runs by Rivet, Nick Williams, Richardson and Menard were the difference.

Menard (3), Dylan Wattie (2), Byrne (2), Rivet, Nick Williams, Richardson, Cam Sherrer and Ashley Williams plated the Red Sox runs.

The Black Sox used Cam Hermer and Jacob Sinclair to pitch the first four frames and Mathew Roach to mop up the fifth. Seth Christophersen caught all three hurlers.

Christophersen (2), Alex Van Delst, Jared Byers, Hermer, Roach, Noah Geurts and Mia Ziegler crossed the plate for the Black Sox.

Post 13-8 win

Sweat Sox sock it to Winchester

WINCHESTER – Two pitches into the 2014 National Capital Baseball league Tier 2 season and the hometown Winchester Sox found themselves trailing the Sweat Sox 1-0.

The visitor's lead off man cracked Justin "Footer" Morozuk's second pitch out over the left field fence at Morgan Field and set the stage for a double-digit result.

By the time last week's (Thurs., May 15) home opener had ended the defending Tier 2 Sweat Sox had claimed a 13-8 decision in the bash fest. The winners slugged four round trips while Winchester booked three moon shots one from Nik Paas, who cracked a grand salami in a seven-run fourth inning. Miguel Gagnon nailed a solo in the same frame and a third by Matt Uhrig who launched a dinger recording the Sox eighth and final run in the sixth inning.

Newcomer Braden McGinnis finished up replacing Morozuk, who is starting his 12th season climbing the hill for Winchester.

Winchester trailed 4-0 coming to bat in the bottom of the fourth. Uhrig (HBP), Gagnon (HR), Delorey (HBP), Alex Lipman (HBP), Matt Harbers (BB), Cam Shaw (BB), and Paas (HR-4 RBI) all crossed the plate as the Sox took their only lead of the game, 7-4.

A pair of veteran members of the Winchester Sox, catcher Matt Ware and pitcher Justin "Footer" Morozuk, conferred during last week's (Thurs., May 15) National Capital Baseball League home opener against the Sweat Sox. The visitors rolled to a 13-8 victory. Press Photo – Van Bridger

In the top of the fifth, the Sweat Sox plated seven runs for an 11-7 lead. They added number 12 in the sixth and number 13 in the seventh.

At home

Tomorrow night (Thurs., May 22), the Sox will welcome the Expos for an 8 pm start. Friday (May 23), they are at the Ottawa Stadium where they will play a rematch with the Sweat Sox. On Sunday (May 25), the Sox are in Ottawa at the Kinsmen Park to tangle with the Braves.

Good turnout for men's league opener

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Sandy Row Golf Course launched the 2014 Men's League season and the group's spokesman, Archie Mellan, reported a solid response.

Ed Duncan of J.E.D. Express sponsored the league's first night of the summer and was thanked for his generous donation of the prizes. The inaugural list of winners is posted in the clubhouse.

Tonight (Wed., May 21), Terry Good of Harvex Agromart (Kemptville) is hosting. A putting contest for cash will be held. It will be a monthly event, which requires an entry fee. A monthly hidden hole prize will also be up for grabs.

Next week (Wed., May 28), Glen Stevenson, representing Maple Leaf Foods, will be hosting men's night.

Mellan urges golfers to bring a friend out for a fun night of golf and when possible support one of the local businesses that support the Sandy Row Men's League.

Real world education

OBITUARY

The 'Old Gal' from the 7th Column passed away

Lillian Rowan passed away peacefully at Winchester District Memorial Hospital during the afternoon of Thurs., May 15, 2014.

Lillian was a staunch supporter of her husband, Joe. Whether he was busy with the elections, working for the Winchester Press, or running the roads taking pictures for the Press, Lillian accompanied him on many excursions.

Lillian was born in the Spring Hill area, across from Crerar's Honey on County Road 31. She grew up and went to school there, until her husband-to-be caught her eye and married her, and introduced her to the Metcalfe village. Here, they nourished seven siblings to maturity, and then married them off, one at a time. Her children all live in Metcalfe except for one, who resides in Iroquois. She has 20 grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grand children, and they are all doing great.

Lillian's husband died on Sept. 2, 1992. When Joe died, she moved into an apartment created for her by her daughter and son-in-law. Here, she lived for about 11 years until she felt she was ready for the Stanley Apartments in Metcalfe. She was there less than a year when she became unwell and was admitted to Winchester District Memorial Hospital. She needed greater care and needed assistance with her every day care. She was accepted at St. Jacques and stayed there for about three years when her name came up for the Township of Osgoode Care Centre closer to her hometown and she was there for three years. Lillian never had an unkind word for any staff members at any of these facilities. Lillian loved her husband, family, and grandkids. She taught all the kiddies how to play fish, crazy eights, and other card games. She enjoyed her cards and still played euchre until the last two weeks.

With Lillian, her family always came first and she enjoyed the company of brothers, sisters, and in-laws. After visiting, they would turn to a game of euchre and played many a late night doing so. She wanted nothing but the best for every one she came in contact with. She was a very inspiring woman and loved life.
