Inaugural Meeting

Council Has Busy Months Ahead

The next three months are going to be especially busy for Iroquois Council, as they started making plans immediately after swearing in ceremonies Monday night.

Next Monday night the Council meets with representatives from the Ontario Housing Authority to discuss housing in the village, and with only ten lots left unsold in Iroquois the lack of lots will be come critical in a year or so.

Council is considering holding down on further building south of the apartment area off the Carman Road and reserving that land for other purposes.

With pollution in the forefront of every community's problems, the village is faced with similar complications that have beset other communities and meetings will be held later in the year with the Ontario Water Resources Commission.

As production methods and other complications arise, industry find they too have increasing problems with water and sewage facilities, and a meeting is planned January 25 with representatives of Caldwell's to discuss mutual waterworks problems.

Coming up in the next two months and conventions dealing with the problems of rural municipalities, hydro and roads. Since it is most probable that Iroquois will have to expand its residential areas in the next few years, Council feels it is imperative representatives attend these meetings.

Named as Acting Reeve in the absence of Reeve Ken Kirkby, was Councillor Helen Smith.

The industrial committee was revised as a committee of the entire Council, with Reeve Kirkby, and Councillors Jack Saver and James Styles to act as negotiators.

Jack Fetterly was renamed head of Waterworks Committee, and the Streets and Roads Committee will again be headed by James Styles. Jack Saver will look after Parks and the Carman House, and Helen Smith again heads the Recreation Committee.

The Library Board and Recreation Association will remain as they are.

During the past few months consultants were hired to study the entire waterworks and sewage systems in the village and a special meeting has been called to discuss the preliminary report with the consultant.

Representatives of Iroquois Fire Department met with Council and later in the evening a decision was reached for a $25.00 raise, bringing the firemen to $125.00 per year in direct salary. The Fire Chief was raised to $300.00 and smaller increases given other officers.

Don Irvine Seeking P-C Nomination

As a result of the decision by the Hon. F. M. Cass, Q.C., the Speaker of the House, not to represent the constituency of Grenville-Dundas for the Progressive-Conservative Party in the next Provincial election, I have decided to publicly announce that I will be seeking the nomination at the meeting to elect a candidate to be held by the Grenville-Dundas Progressive-Conservative Association, at Iroquois, March 1st.

Rev. Brian Gee Tells Lions of Northern Que. Life

by Lion Al Rogers.

The Women's Institute catered on Monday evening to a roast beef dinner which chalked up a 96% attendance. Guests included Dr. Malcolm Marston, Henry Sauve, and four visitors from the Perth Lions Club.

The Deputy District Governor, Mike Sargeant of Perth spoke of the growth of Lionism since 1913. At first it appeared to be another knife and fork club with the purpose of business enterprise among the members; but when Lionism really became a selfless service club, its membership grew to its present international enrolment of some 950,000, in approximately 150 countries.

Lion Al Rogers had the pleasure of introducing Rev. Brian Gee who gave an illustrated talk on his first pastorate at Shaefferville, an iron ore mining town of some 4,000 people in northern Quebec. Known earlier as Knob Lake, it took its original name from a large knob of rock darkly reflected in the quiet waters. When mining potential was established in the community, air strips were essential for bringing in cement and steel to lay a railway. Bridges had to be laid, waters dammed, and rail bed prepared in pioneer expanses of vast, wind swept, barren plateau, and swampy muskeg-filled terrain. The slow passage of the winter months left long periods with little chance to work.

Pictures of the town revealed well cultivated but sparse patches of grass, grown in a bed of glacial soil, fertilizer and peat moss. One was the property of the United Church of Canada, and another was owned by the company town, and neither was for walking on! Weather had a great deal to do with the morale of the people, with times of wind, rain, darkness and heavy snow that were oppressive. The pictures of the mining of the iron ore in open-pit operation were most interesting.

We watched the process of clearing the overburden, drilling, blasting, trucking to the crusher, and eventually dumping of the mulched deposit in the box car for transit. A special type of explosive had to be invented to break through the permafrost. Trucks worth $75,000 fed iron-ore to a crusher worth one million dollars, all electrically operated, and every working hour of the few working months of the year was geared for peak production.

Lion Lloyd Davis thanked Mr. Gee for a very good address, referring to the wonders of God in creation, and the accomplishment of man in their stewardship. Several Lions were able to enjoy and study the wall chart the speaker had made to fortify his presentation with additional information.

Lion Frank Rooney reported the cost of the Christmas party for children as $159.00 equally divided between the Legion, Firemen and Lions.

In addition to a cheque for $100.00 sent to Seaway Community Services at Christmas, some $61.92 were expended in charity in addition to gifts presented both by the Women's Institute and the Lions Club on December 21st.

Looking ahead to the annual Wine and Cheese party, Lion Peter Swank was named chairman of a committee to include Lions Al Byers, Danny Robertson and Al Rogers. The scheduled date is for April 17th, and the cover charge is $2.00 per person, at the decision of the directors' meeting.

Mrs. R. Hodgson Died at Chesterville

Mrs. Roy Hodgson of R. R. 2 Chesterville passed away suddenly enroute to Winchester Hospital on December 26. She was in her 68th year.

Born and educated at Finch, she was the former Mary Myrtle Droppo, daughter of the late William F. Droppo and his wife the former Margaret E. Fawcett. In 1927 she was married to Roy Hodgson and until her death had resided in the Chesterville district.

Surviving besides her husband are four sons and two daughters, Harold, Chesterville; Charles, Toyes Hill; Emma, (Mrs. Robert Mustard) Iroquois; Hepburn, Chesterville; Stanley, Iroquois; Freida, (Mrs. Lawrence Coughler) Inkerman.

Predeceased by an infant daughter, Carrie Mae Rose. Four sisters, Leahy, (Mrs. Lyle Gillard), Wheatley; Lottie Droppo, Windsor; Gladys, (Mrs. John Thorpe), Niagara Falls; Effie, (Mrs. John Campbell) Newington; and 14 grandchildren.

The funeral was held on Tuesday at the Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Winchester. Rev. Earle Eaton based his words of comfort on Rev. Chapter 21, verse 4. Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Robinson rendered "Some Time We'll Understand."

Pall bearers were:- Harold Munroe; Myles Munroe; Donald Shay; Edwin McMillan; Donald Loucks; Basil Casselman.

Interment was made at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Looking to the future

With the announcement this week that there are only 10 lots left unsold within the present residential confines of the Village of Iroquois, it is obvious that some planning for future residential growth must be done within the next year.

Iroquois Council has taken the first step in this direction by seeking a meeting with provincial authorities, as well as with Ontario Hydro. The latter owns all of the land still left vacant in the village except for a few lots in the residential area which have been sold, but not yet built upon.

Taking a look into the future of Iroquois, as well as remembering the past and all the planning that took place here just 13 years it is easily seen that a great deal of effort and thought must go into such a plan of expansion.

But expanding the residential area is not just a matter of making up one's mind and then going at it. In the first place a proper plan of development, to ensure maximum use of the land, must be devised. Costs of developing the site must be determined, possibly a developer sought out, and adequate financing arranged, not to mention hundreds of other details that must come first before one shovel of earth is removed.

The fact that the Council is taking a step at a time and not rushing into any development of this nature, is a necessity. Growth in the village has not been outstanding, but it has been steady. It has shown a trend and that in itself is a measure of the speed with which a community must act to keep up with its present and future needs.

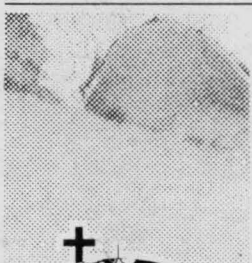

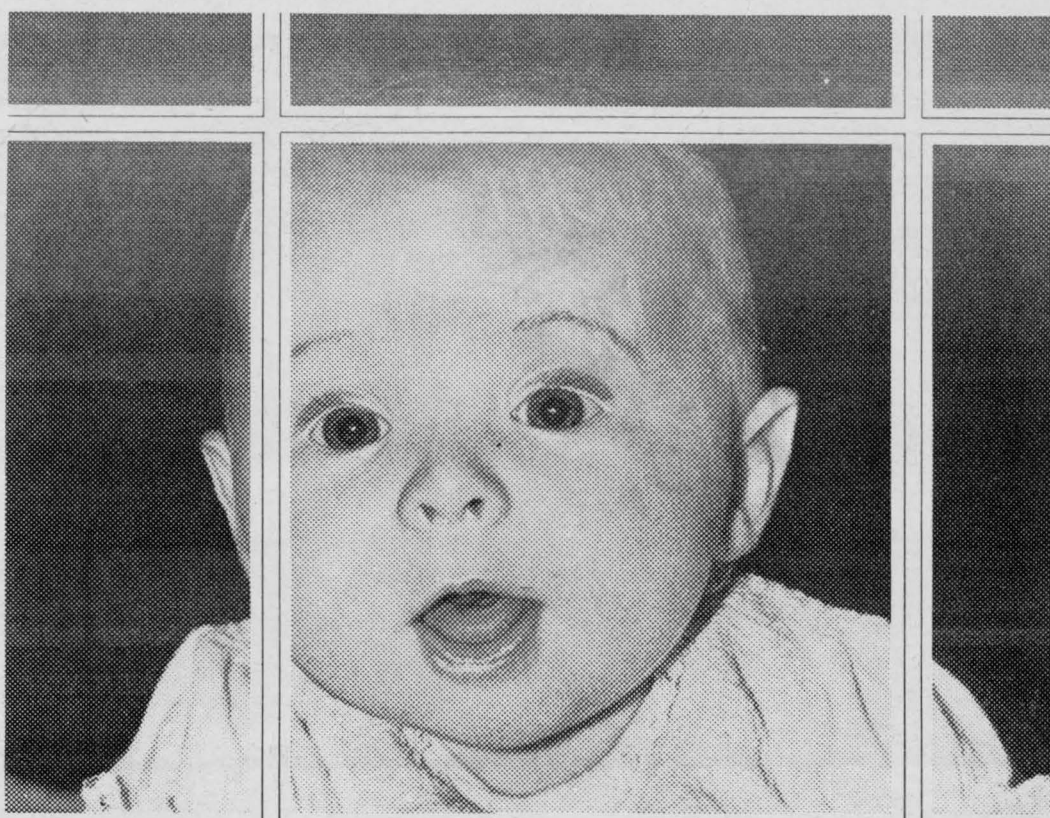

Efforts are being pursued to attract industry and periodic contacts are made and given every attention. During a time when many industries are having difficulties staying open, we cannot expect much progress along this avenue of expansion.

Yet we must be ready for expansion in our residential aspect of community life. The next two years should prove interesting indeed in the life of the community and its future. It will take hours of work, disappointments, decisions that will affect us all, but we hope that out of it all will come an even better and even more progressive community.

As a residential community we have much to offer prospective residents, and we all share in the desire to bring improvements and progress to our village.

Looking ahead to 1971 and the ensuing years, and thankful for the good planning of the past Councils, this paper joins with the Council in wishing them every success on behalf of the community. And that community takes in the areas to the north, east and west, for as we progress in any one of the three areas, the results affect us all.

The new year has just begun and it is a good time to take stock of our blessings and look to the future. That's the way it has been in the past and that's the way it must be in the future...if we are to have a future.

Soul-Searching

Someone has said the eyes are the windows of the soul.

And when it's our own child — how easy to believe that in those sparkling eyes we have seen and understood an infant soul.

Well, we have seen a mind eager to grow . . . character ready to be molded.

If in our child's eyes we would see his soul, then one thought should possess us: This is a soul known to God but not yet knowing God.

Soul-searching is always the threshold to spiritual growth. The need we recognize in a baby's eager eyes is a need adult souls never outgrow.

Remember as you plan your family's religious future: God knows each and every human soul. The life He has given us is our opportunity to know Him.

COOK OR A NURSE JUST CALL SMILEY

By Bill Smiley

Thank goodness for work and routine. They're the best therapy there is in the neurotic world we live in.

The highly-touted "holiday season" should be enough to make a great many people agree with me.

Looking back, I predicted a quiet holiday. And it started out all right. Kim came home from college a couple of days early, quite happy, just like her old self. But each day her face lengthened as she sorted the Christmas mail. Nothing for her. Day after day.

Her secret desire, of course, was a message from the loved one, who is spending the winter up around Hudson Bay somewhere. Nothing. She alternated between reviling him and glooming about the place.

The day before Christmas, it came — long letter, so personal that she would read only bits to her avidly-interested mother. And the thing that really killed her was that in the same mail she received an equally ardent letter from a young man she's been seeing at university, "Just to pass the time until Joe gets home." She chortled at the irony of it all.

Gentle grandad arrived and we settled in to spend a quiet Christmas Eve. All serene. Then comes a phone call from son Hugh, from some god-foresaken village in deepest Quebec. He and a friend had been in a car accident. The car was a write-off, but they were both alive. (They weren't even supposed to be coming home for Christmas.)

They arrived the next day, all racked up and bruised and abraded and cut. The only thing that hadn't been damaged in the accident, it seemed, was their appetites. They got through about eight pounds of our nine-pound goose.

Then there was a round of X-rays of chests, calls to insurance adjusters, and confessions that some people had six essays overdue, that others had an exam right after the holidays and hadn't done a tap of studying and that others were out of a job.

This was all very good for my wife's nerves. Combined with the general slobbiness of the young people — they all smoke makings and there's tobacco all over the floor; they eat and drink coffee in a continuous process for 24 hours and never wash a dish; their clothes are draped all over the house; and the hi-fi goes at a brain-shattering decibel count — all this made her come down with what seemed like stomach 'flu but to me was a break-down.

She threw up regularly. She couldn't eat or sleep. She had no energy. She snarled. She whimpered.

As a result, I was busier than the proverbial one-armed paperhanger. Talking to Kim about her love life. Assuring Hugh that he wouldn't die, even though every time he coughed it was like an arrow in the chest. Calling the doctor. Getting Alex in touch with insurance people. Telling my wife to get off her tail and give me a hand.

And I cooked everything from the Christmas goose to the New Year's ham. And washed dishes until I couldn't bear a TV commercial about the beautiful hands you have if you use Ivory soap. And didn't have time to watch TV anyway. And would come down in the morning to read my paper and find that the young gentlemen had seized a section each and were immersed in it and their third cup of coffee.

But the worst thing of all was the complete lack of privacy. I am not anti-social, but I do need an hour or two a day to escape from people, read, think, sleep.

The only privacy I had was when I locked myself in the bathroom, and then my wife would be shrilling from her bed, "Are the dishes done? Who's going to vacuum the rug? There are four loads of washing in the basement!"

The only other private moments were when I went shopping. And baby, I didn't hustle through the supermarket

Taking a Pictorial Peek at the Old Days

Letter to the Editor...

Dear Sir: -

Our thanks to you Mr. Editor for throwing open the columns of your paper for letters in support of that very worthwhile project, a community centre for Iroquois and district.

Our neighbours to the north, east and west send their children here to the Seaway District High School. They also come to avail themselves of the splendid shopping facilities located here, and they come in increasing numbers to enjoy the extensive bathing beach, open throughout the Summer. Recently a most modern playing field has been made available for junior and senior ball teams. Iroquois is the pivotal point of the entire district.

One missing link remains, and that is the lack locally of year-round recreational facilities for town and country alike. In such a centre as proposed there would be curling, bowling, badminton and other activities, while the main objective would be the promotion and enjoyment of skating and hockey twelve months of the year. Stampville, Dixon's, Brinston, and other communities have scores of energetic youngsters even now quite adept at chasing the puck. Iroquois could be their focal point.

With the stroke of a pen the necessity for elders to have to transport their children to other towns for such recreation, would be done away with in short order.

Whether or not our winters are more severe than formerly it is clear that open air skating and hockey is not as popular as it once was. For some years now thousands of dollars have been spent in building, and maintaining the local ice rink, at the cost of a heavy loss to the taxpayers, no fee being charged. This is a mistake, and poor business in the bargain.

In a town where funds have been available for the construction of an airplane strip and club house the rejuvenation of some of the older homes--and the operation of a modern tourist camp site, surely some monies can be found to serve the area needs along recreational lines, particularly where those facilities mentioned attract mostly visitors from out of town.

Town councils as a rule are continually under pressure from thoughtless individuals demanding the expenditure of public funds for all sorts of pet projects, activities in some cases only too frequently entirely negative in their impact on life generally.

Would it not be much better to see to it that such monies are diverted into other channels, and invested in something permanent, constructive, objective and useful--a monument to the initiative and planning of those who are our citizens today.

"Future-Looking".

P.S. As one writer so aptly pointed out, 70 years ago Iroquois possessed just such a closed-in skating and hockey arena..

The funds will help build a school in the Commonwealth Caribbean Island of St. Vincent as Ontario's International Education Year project. The United Nations designated 1970 as IEY year, to help promote better understanding between peoples of the world.

Mrs. Kennedy is Chairman of The Minister's Advisory Committee on Educational Assistance which was established by the Hon. William Davis last year.

The committee stresses that the drive for funds is a pennies and nickels program. Chartered banks throughout the province are co-operating in the project by making collections from school principals, and are offering receipts on the spot.

THEATRE

Theatre Aquarius of Ottawa came to Seaway, Friday, January 8th, and gave us a 90-minute production called "The English Stage", in which they traced the development of the English stage from the Mediaeval period to the present time.

The show was performed by a cast of five actors (three men and two women) and period music, narrative, and movement phrases tied the scene together.

At the end of the production, the director and actors returned to the stage and held an informal 30-minute symposium. Seaway students were keenly interested, and Michael Savor's reaction indicated that future "theatre" might be the linking factor of Eastern and Western Canada.

Arrangements have been made for all Grade 9 students of History to see "Anne of a Thousand Days" on Thursday Jan. 14. This should help bring History alive to students.

Pee Wee Tournament Held at Morrisburg

by:- Lynne O'Brien

The Annual PeeWee tournament was held at Morrisburg on Saturday with 8 teams participating. The tournament sponsored by the Lions Club saw Cardinal capture the trophy for the first time since they won it in 1967.

In the first round, Morrisburg edged Cornwall township 3-2 in overtime, with Fred Osler scoring the last 2 goals. Kemptville over Iroquois 7-3, Cardinal 5, Spencerville 3 and Prescott 3-2 in overtime with Alexandria.

In the Consolation round, Alexandria downed Spencerville 4-0 with Cornwall Twp. swamping Iroquois 5-0. Cornwall met Alexandria in the final game, coming out ahead 4-1 to receive crests presented by Allard Reynolds. Mickey Wolfe scored 2 for Cornwall with singles by Richard Irving and Sandy MacDonell. George Luan scored Alexandria's lone goal.

In the winners division, Cardinal defeated Prescott 3-1 to meet Morrisburg, who had edged Kemptville 4-3, in the final game.

Jeff Ward led Cardinal with a hat trick, Donald Berry added a pair, and a single by Earl Byers gave Cardinal a 6-2 victory over Morrisburg. Kevin Wells scored Morrisburg's 2 goals. Rev. Howald presented the trophy to Cardinal with Lions Representative, Gord Fairbairn handing out crests.

Morrisburg lost the services of young Marc Pinkus early in the first game when he suffered a slight concussion and was taken to hospital.

Thursday night, Morrisburg Combines went shorthanded to Embrun and pulled a 4-4 out of the bag.

Tom Jacobs and Roy Pyke gave Combines a 2-0 lead early in the 2nd period. Les Rafter scored twice in the 2nd with Kevin Crozier adding 1 to lead 3-2 for the Panthers. Pyke scored 16 seconds later to tie the game, but 19 seconds later Rick LaRose made it 4-3 for the Panthers. Less than 2 minutes later Pyke tied the game at 4-4 finishing his hat trick. The 3rd period was scoreless.

32 minutes in penalties were handed out to each team, including 2 misconducts to each team. Paul Beckstead and goaler Doug Hay for the Combines and LaRose got both for the Panthers. LaRose also received a game misconduct.

Combines will host the Prescott Demons Friday, Jan. 15th at 8:30 p.m.

Changes Seen Food Marketing

Food distribution and the retailing system in Canada may be radically altered over the next five years if long-term influences are brought to bear.

Mr. A.J. McKichan, President of the Retail Council of Canada, in an address to the Changing Concepts in Agriculture and Food Conference, held at the University of Guelph, said that urbanization, consumerism, nutrition, pollution and technology are all factors that will affect the future food marketing requirements.

Greater unemployment insurance and social benefits, together with increased urbanization, will mean that poorer sections of the economy can spend more on food, and that city dwellers will require better food, with service built into the consumer price. More take-out or restaurant foods, better processing for convenience preparation, and a general upswing in retail store services will be needed to meet these demands.

Consumerism - a consumer's increased awareness of good value, and of her important role in the economy - will mean that better packaging and more information on food products will be required.

Mr. McKichan added that the "no nonsense" attitude of consumers will sometimes lead to demands that are impractical and expensive. Whenever disagreements between consumers and the retail trade become apparent, detailed explanations for retail actions will have to be given.

Concern about nutrition and pollution will add to the retail trade's responsibility to provide goods that are truly for the public good. Better consumer education means the public will no longer buy food that looks good but is not nutritious.

New technology and mechanization means that future store buildings and service will be upgraded, and packages made more uniform in size. It should lead to automatic reordering techniques and checkout systems, and should be used to promote better market research into consumer preference.

Mercury Statement

In a joint announcement today, the Honourable John Munro, Minister of National Health and Welfare, and the Honourable Jack Davis, Minister of Fisheries and Forestry, announced that as a result of widespread concern about mercury in the environment, all lots of canned tuna destined for the Canadian market are being analyzed for mercury. Those lots found to contain more than acceptable amounts are not being released for sale.

The Ministers stressed that results to date pose no acute hazard to human health. The public need not be concerned about the safety of stocks of tuna at the retail level, or in homes.

Staff of both Departments are continuing extensive programs of analysis for mercury in Canadian foods, to ensure that the public remains safe from risks of mercury poisoning. For example, numerous analyses of Canadian canned salmon have shown it to be safe.

Knox PYPS Elect New Officers

The first meeting of the new year of the Knox Presbyterian Young People's Society was held in the church-hall TUESDAY evening, January 5th, with the President, Allen McCaslin, presiding, Gail Smollett, recording.

The President led in the offering of Worship, with Miss Anne Yee giving leadership in the Scriptures, I Corinthians 13, and Harry Norton sharing in Prayer. The hymn "The Church's One Foundation" was sung, and the Offering received by Jeff Martell and dedicated by group prayer.

The Study was conducted by Mrs. Lorraine Norton and Gwenn Smollett, on the subject "Divided we Fall", relating in dialogue form three scenes about an Annual Congregational Meeting, and the issues of "oneness in Spirit", "love of the Fellowship", and "sensing after God's Will", that are involved in the process of such a meeting. Participants in the dialogue included Gail Smollett, the Rev. Hibbs, Bill Barnhardt Jr., Harry Norton, Brent Dunbar, Allen McCaslin and Jeff Martell. It was resolved that the three areas of congregational concern in its life and fellowship were "Education, Outreach, and Worship", all of which require serious consideration in any planning session of the congregation, to prevent an imbalance of need.

The President presided over the business session when the roll-call was received, with 13 members present, and three regrets having been received. The minutes of the December meeting were read and approved, and the Rev. Hibbs gave the December treasurer's report on behalf of Renee Barnhardt who was ill. A substantial balance remained at the close of the old year, with one outstanding account to be paid. Rose Marie Lavallie reported on the profit received from the sales of the 1971 Church Calendar. Thanks and appreciations were expressed to the P.Y.P.S. on their Christmas Eve "Folk Communion Service".

Plans for a teen-twenty dance were made, to be held in the Iroquois Civic Centre, Friday, January 15th, and featured as "before exams break", with the new-look "Ramble" being the guest band. The P.Y.P.S. again will sponsor the annual "Heart Fund Sunday Blitz" of the village and surrounding area, Sunday afternoon, February 14th, from 1-4p.m. Members of the Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary will be asked to arrange hot-chocolate and cookies for the canvassers that day. A broom-ball game was planned as part of the next meeting, February 1st, at the Iroquois Rink, with refreshments later by a committee appointed. A pantomime "mock wedding" was also decided upon for presentation by the young people at the annual congregational meeting, January 24th, with Rose Marie Lavallie in charge of arrangements and rehearsals. The young people's guitar trio also agreed to play at this meeting.

Election of Officers for the coming year was presided over by the Rev. Hibbs with the following offices being filled for 1971: President, Gary Lockhart; Vice-President, Neville Tompkins; Secretary, Gail Smollett; Treasurer, Renee Barnhardt; Recreation Committee, Jeff Martell and Wendy Ward.

The Rev. Hibbs conducted a games-time following the meeting, with refreshments being served by the Minister and Neville Tompkins, and the Mizpah Benediction being pronounced by all at the close of the evening.

Dollars and Good Sense

Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avco Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P.O. Box 5875, London, Ontario, Canada. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.

At this time of the year it is traditional to think of resolutions. A lot of people like to make a list of things they would like to accomplish during the coming twelve months.

Are you one of them? Did you keep all the resolutions you set for yourself last year?

I have a resolution to recommend. It concerns budgets - your budget.

If you already have one, fine - especially if it is working for you. Make a resolution to keep it up. If, on the other hand, yours has bogged down, make a resolution to rescue it and modify it so your budget better fits your needs - don't give up on it.

But, if you don't have a budget, now is the time to start. Resolve that in 1971, you are going to plan your finances and control your spending so that at last you can get ahead and even have some money left over.

As I've said before, a budget is only a plan and can be as elaborate or as simple as you like - as long as it is effective. If the word "budget" scares you, just call it a plan.

Start by keeping track of all your spending for a month or two. Then spend a few minutes analyzing it. See if there are some areas where you can make some adjustments. See if your spending for certain items is what it should be according to your income and needs.

Once you have your modified record of spending, you can plan future spending. You can forecast the money you will have and the expenses you can expect and based on your spending patterns, you can see just what you will have to spend during the year.

Then you can set goals for yourself. Start saving something each month for a major purchase and start putting a little money into a savings account each month.

Your plan must be flexible but you must be firm in your desire to stick to it. Make your resolution now. In 1971, you're going to have a budget and you're going to stay with it all year long.

Davey has just learned to smile, though he wouldn't do it for the photographer. For all of his four months he's been rather a sober boy, but the smiles are coming more often and are worth waiting for.

Davey looks like an East Indian baby. His background is really West Indian and Anglo-Saxon. He has straight silky hair with a tiny bit of curl at the back, beautiful big dark eyes and light tan skin.

He is healthy, active and quite strong. He loves to have his legs free so he can kick and he's fascinated by his own hands, which he finds more interesting than any toy. You can see his eyes are fixed on his hand more than on the camera.

Davey is easy to look after because he's a good eater and sleeps right through the night. He likes to be cuddled and he loves attention, but doesn't demand it.

This baby will be a fine son for a couple wanting to share as many milestones as possible with their little boy. To inquire about adopting Davey please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information, ask your Children's Aid Society.

Campaign To Reduce Number of Unsafe Autos

A campaign during 1971 to reduce the number of unsafe automobiles on our highways was launched today by two Canadian automotive magazines in conjunction with the Canada Safety Council.

The editors of Canadian Automotive Trade and its French Language sister publication, Revue Moteur, having noted the apparent lack of success in legislating and enforcing vehicle safety, have taken the approach that the mechanic in the neighbourhood service station or garage is the one qualified to spot a potentially dangerous defect in an automobile.

The 10-month campaign will be fueled by a series of in-depth articles written to alert the mechanic to his responsibilities to the motoring public and to show him how to work with the motorist in maintaining a mechanically-safe vehicle.

A free-of-charge 47 point safety check will be offered to assist the motorist by participating service outlets. The simple 15-minute check was developed by the editors in co-operation with the Canada Safety Council.

The industry-wide campaign has adopted the motto, "We Save Lives". The motto has been incorporated in an emblem which will be displayed by participating service outlets, parts manufacturers, and wholesalers.

The safety maintenance campaign as outlined by the magazine editors has been endorsed by senior government officials who are directly concerned with highway and vehicle safety, as well as automotive associations representing the industry.

H. Kimpton, publisher of both magazines, said he hopes the automotive industry and the public will take the campaign to heart, and work together to reduce the slaughter on Canadian highways.

Limerick Forest A Snowmobile Paradise

In the countryside, travel is now restricted due to snow depths. Such is the case in Limerick Forest where her wealth of beauty is enclosed in an almost impassable layer of snow; almost impassable except by snowshoes or snowmobiles.

Limerick Forest is a tract of land in the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville, owned by the counties and managed under agreement by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. One concentrated block of this Forest, the Limerick Forest South Tract, located in Augusta and Oxford Townships; has been set up for organized snowmobiling. This tract contains over 3000 acres and approximately 30 miles of marked winter trails. The forest area here is composed of coniferous plantations (Red pine, White pine, Scotch pine, Jack pine and White spruce), natural hardwood woodlots and pockets of swampy ground. A network of trails, marked and numbered, wind their way through the plantations, the woodlots and along the edge of swamps giving complete variety to the snowmobilers. Smooth or rough trails, straight or twisted trails, await you in this picturesque winter setting.

To find Limerick Forest,

take Highway 16, five miles south of Kemptville, turn west towards Oxford Station, and travel this road for five miles, and follow the signs from there another four miles. This leads you to the Limerick Headquarters, where a parking lot and winter trail maps are available for your convenience. For further information on the winter trails in Limerick Forest, contact the District Forester, Department of Lands and Forests, Kemptville.

What Are People Thinking?

The biggest problem facing a Member of Parliament is to find out what people really think about the major issues of the day. I am fortunate in having a continuous flow of comment by telephone, letter and personal conversation from people in every part of my constituency. I hear comments usually from people who are most interested in, and not infrequently those who are most critical, of what is happening. I wish more people would let me have their views on specific problems as they arise. Nevertheless, I know I do not hear from a lot of people. In the hope of getting a widespread expression of opinion on many vital matters, I am sending out a questionnaire, at my expense, to every household in the constituency. A word of caution: as this questionnaire is being delivered as a household mailing, it is my earnest hope that interested persons will keep a watchful eye for it and not dispose of it unread.

This questionnaire will cover all major matters of controversy and discussion. For example, the questions will invite your views on the White Papers on Welfare and Taxation, marijuana, abortion, Canadian control of the economy, foreign policy, bilingualism, the pay of Members of Parliament, and many other matters.

I hope everybody will find the time to reply to the questionnaire and return it (postage-free) to my office. The returns need not be signed, but if any are, I will treat all replies in confidence. When the returns are in, I will publish the results so that everybody can see the opinions of this constituency.

Forest Highlights 1970

As we entered the seventies, forestry activities continued in high gear throughout the Kemptville Forest District of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

During 1970, new forests were established on over three thousand acres of sub-marginal agricultural land, when tree planting reached an all time high, almost 3½ million trees. While these trees were being planted throughout the district, trees by the million were being grown at the Department's Kemptville tree nursery, which during 1970 almost reached the eleven million mark.

In order to be ready for tree planting in 1971 twenty-five hundred acres of site were prepared using plows, brush cutters and other site preparation equipment. With new trees still in mind, the seed collection program also received much needed support, when in excess of 800 bushels of cones were collected and shipped to the Department's seed extraction plant at Angus.

In addition to establishing new forests and producing new seedlings, a large effort was carried out in improving existing woodlands, when over 2,500 acres of young forest trees were improved by such practices as removing weed trees, cutting out undesirable brush and shrubs, etc.

A large public relations program conducted by this Department resulted in over 350 field inspections, many tours through the forest areas and the operation of nine forestry 4-H clubs throughout all sections of the district.

In excess of 2 million board feet of timber was marked for cutting on private land and 100 agreements were made with private individuals to carry out forestry work on a co-operative basis under the authority of the Woodlands Improvement Act.

In addition to these few highlights mentioned, the regular duties of the foresters, technicians and others continued. These well trained staff are very conscious of the value and the importance of Ontario's forest resources and with your support will continue to manage these resources to the best of their abilities in the future.

Snowmobiling

Snowmobiles, like other machines, require the help of their owners to keep them running properly and efficiently. A manufacturer can do everything possible to put a high-quality product on a dealer's showroom floor, but that product will function only as well as it is maintained by the person who buys and uses it.

If your machine is entitled to a dealer inspection after a certain number of hours or miles of use, it's your responsibility to see that it is taken in for inspection. There are intensive inspection lists for most snowmobiles after a new machine has been run 15 hours or 15 days.

There are things a snowmobiler should check frequently. These include headlight and taillight (both to make sure the bulbs are working for night riding and, if the headlight is retractable, to see that it opens up properly) . . . throttle cable, which should be checked to make sure it hasn't frozen . . . ski alignment, to insure proper steering . . . brake and throttle grips, for free movement . . . drive belt, for wear . . . track, for correct tension . . . spark-plugs, and battery fluid level.

After using your snowmobile, inside of the track should be cleared of snow which freeze and hamper operation.

Free Angling License For Males Over 65

by: Romuald Belanger
Senior Conservation Officer.

The Minister of Lands and Forests announced some time ago that male residents of 65 years or over would be issued with a free angling license upon request.

These licenses are now available from Lands and Forests offices at Kemptville, Alexandria, Lanark, Westport, Ottawa (Leitrim) at Box 434, R.R. 6, Ottawa and Larose Forest Headquarters at Bourget. Application may be made by visiting these offices or by writing to the above and presenting proof of age in the form of a birth certificate, an angling or hunting license. These will be returned with your license.

For the unfortunate ones who have lost their angling or hunting license a Central License Bureau is now in operation in Toronto. Please obtain a "Fish and Wildlife License Search Request" FW79 from this office, fill in the required information and forward to the Central License Bureau with a fee of $1.00. A certificate will be sent in the case of an old license; a duplicate license will be sent for a current year's license or a statement will be issued if the search is unsuccessful due to poor or insufficient information on the request form.

The Summary of Fishing

Regulations 1971 is now available. Speckled trout season opened January 1 in divisions 9 and 10. Lake trout will open February 27 and pike and pickerel are open until March 31 in divisions 9 and 12 and February 28 in division 10.

The daily limit of catch for brook trout is 15 fish or 10 pounds plus one fish, whichever is lesser. Only five speckled or rainbow or combination thereof are permitted from Provincial Fishing areas. Five lake trout are permitted in division 9 while only three are permitted in division 10. Six pike and six pickerel may be taken.

We wish to advise all winter fisherman that ice conditions are poor this year. At present ice thickness varies from four to eight inches with many air holes and slush. Driving snowmobiles on ice can be dangerous. The life you save may be your own.
