Taking a Peek at Something Sweet

With the first trickle of sap, the Crysler Park Maple Sugar Bush opened to visitors Saturday. Pictured above Allan Bailey of Iroquois shows Amber, who is nearly four, a bucket where sap is collected. About 1;200 trees have been tapped and on weekends visitors can visit the sugar camp by way of horse-drawn wagon, learn how sap is transformed into syrup, and enjoy outdoor exhibits providing information about early syrup-making processes. Renewing the Vision hits $15 million target

WINCHESTER – An ambitious target was set, the community took steady aim, and last week hospital officials announced that Winchester District Memorial Hospital's Renewing the Vision Campaign had met the $15 million mark.

Thursday afternoon, Hospital Foundation Chair Terry MacLellan announced that the Foundation had received an estate bequest of $915,718 from the late Francis Bazinet.

Bazinet, who lived in the Crysler area, farmed and was never married. He selected Winchester Hospital to receive the major share of his estate, and the foundation board of directors elected to direct the proceeds of the bequest to the Renewing the Vision Campaign.

As a result of this, the third largest gift for the Renewing the Vision Campaign and the single largest bequest the hospital has received, the hospital reached its community fundraising goal of $15 million.

"This legacy is simply amazing. Our foundation was overwhelmed by this bequest," said MacLellan.

The Renewing the Vision hospital redevelopment campaign's fundraising team has been working towards the fundraising goal since May 2002, and the $15 million is comprised of cash on hand and gifts promised through pledges to the campaign.

According to MacLellan, "It represents over 6,600 separate gifts and approximately 5,000 separate donors.

Hospital Chair and Renewing the Vision Campaign Co-Chair Bill Smirle said, "We have proved that this is one of the most generous communities in Canada. While approximately 94,000 people live within the range of our hospital, our referral population is 27,000. That means our community raised $555.55 for every man, woman and child."

Smirle discussed the history of the hospital, the need for the redevelopment, and the volun-

Awaiting councillor Delegarde's return

WILLIAMSBURG – At what was to be councillor Ron Delegarde's return to the South Dundas council table, on Tuesday, March 15, his seat sat empty.

Elected by voters of the Iroquois ward of South Dundas, Delegarde's council seat has sat empty for months, while waiting on a decision in a conflict of interest application filed against him.

According to South Dundas CAO Andy Brown, Delegarde was not attending meetings, "on the advice of his employer and lawyer."

Brown also confirmed that the last meeting attended by Delegarde was the December 21, 2004 regular South Dundas council meeting.

A decision was reached in Delegarde's favour in the conflict of interest application February 25, 2005.

The next meeting following the decision was March 1, but Delegarde was unable to attend.

He held a press conference March 2, to discuss the decision in the conflict of interest application with members of the media and the community. At that press conference he was asked when he would return to council, and he said "tomorrow."

The next regularly scheduled council meeting was March 15, and Delegarde did arrive for the meeting, however he departed for unknown reasons before the meeting commenced, and therefore did not attend.

According to the Municipal Act Sec. 259 (1) "The office of a member of council of a municipality becomes vacant if the member, ..., (c) is absent from

Camp Day T-shirts extra special this year

MORRISBURG – A local artist is about to gain national exposure just for doing something she loves to do.

As an employee of Tim Hortons, Susan Mark was eligible to participate in a contest to design the Camp Day T-shirt, which will be used to promote, and raise funs for the annual Tim Hortons Camp Day, which this year will be held on June 8.

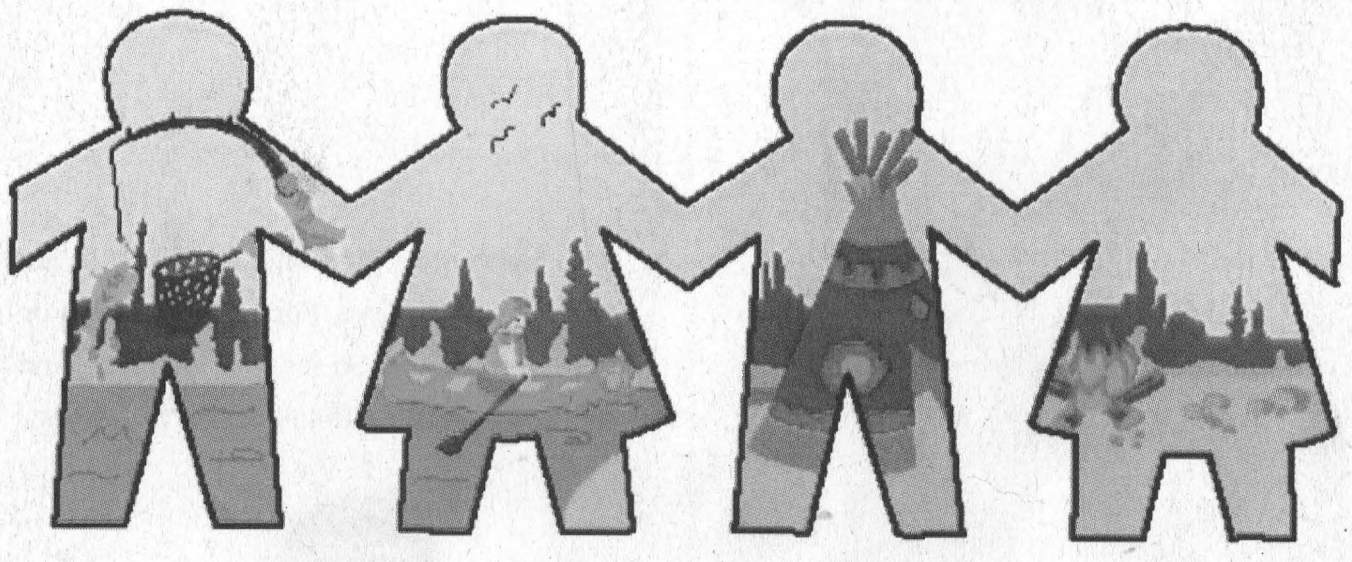
All Tim Hortons staff across Canada and the United States wear the T-shirts on Camp Day, and the T-shirts are also sold to customers with all of the proceeds going to send kids to camp. Every one of those shirts will be sporting the design of Susan Mark.

Susan is not an artist by trade, but she does have a talent for sketching, which she enjoys as a hobby.

Susan works as a baker at Tim Hortons in Morrisburg turning out their lovely specialty baked goods, and was at one time their cake decorator.

"She has been with us here since day one," says Morrisburg Tim Hortons owner Denise St Denis, "And, she takes a lot of pride in her workmanship."

Susan decided to enter the contest, "just to try it," and came up with the idea of paper cut-out children holding hands. She then incorporated that, and all the activities of camp, like fishing, canoeing and campfires into the design. Once she had the idea for the design, it only took her a couple of hours to complete the sketch.



"It really represents Camp Day and togetherness. How could they not have picked it," says Denise.

Morrisburg Tim Hortons owner Bob St Denis estimates that about 2,800 stores worth of employees were eligible to submit a design, "so you're talking about a lot of competition."

Susan is a little overwhelmed with the recognition of winning the competition, but says, "It's very nice, and a good privilege." She adds that she was "extremely surprised," to hear that she had won.

Denise says they were all "astounded and so excited," to hear that Susan's design had won. "We are extremely proud of her."

Bob adds that it has been a long time since someone in eastern Ontario has won the competition.

"We will be very proud to wear our (Camp Day) T-shirts this year," he says.

Bob explains that every year the T-shirts have a picture done by a Tim Hortons employee, but this year when they see the picture, they know the artist. Because it is one of their own employees, makes it even more special.

Susan is looking forward to seeing the entire staff wearing the T-shirts she designed, but would be just as happy to be in the background looking on, rather than being front and centre.

She says she has family across Canada and they are all anxiously waiting to see the T-shirts. The T-shirts will be available for sale Camp Day at the Morrisburg Tim Hortons location. Denise says they will have them on hand for sale, but suggests that anyone who doesn't want to miss out on getting a T-shirt can pre order. All proceeds go to Camp Day.

Susan says she will likely enter the contest again in future years. "My husband thinks I should do it every year." Susan was born and raised in Morrisburg. She is married to David, and they have one daughter, Ashley.

Letters to the Editor

Regarding the closure of Dixon's Corners Public School

Dear Editor,

We are writing this letter to make the community aware of the facts surrounding the potential closure of Dixon's Corners Public School. There is a petition circulating in the community which is based on misinformation and rumours. We would like to clarify the facts of the issue, beginning with the fact that there was no vote held (to close the school) at the last Parent Council meeting.

The earliest date of school closures in Dundas County is September 2006, continuing through to June 2009, throughout the Board. There will be a number of school closures during this time.

The reasons behind the closures include declining enrollment, cost of facility repairs and funding decreases.

With regards to Dixon's, our enrollment is at about 50 percent of our capacity, which means our funding is cut drastically, along with our staffing; our building needs over $2 million in repairs; and there is a likelihood of triple grading in the future.

Due to these factors, Parent Council has decided to be proactive and initiate the process for our school. As parent council, this is an extremely hard decision to make, and one that is not taken lightly.

We love our little school and its history, and we greatly appreciate the extra efforts the teachers make on behalf of our children.

This decision is ultimately in the best interest of our children; as parents, they are our main priority. By being proactive, our parental community will have some control over some of the areas regarding school closures (ie. boundaries, resource distribution).

We plan in the near future to have a parent information night to keep parents up-to-date on the process, and to get their input. If, in the meantime, anyone has any questions, concerns or inquiries regarding this issue, please send a letter to School Council Chair, c/o Dixon's Corners Public School, 10951 Cook Road, Brinston, ON K0E 1C0.

Sincerely, Dixon's Corners School Council

Residents recycle more

South Dundas residential recycling jumps 24 percent in one year

WILLIAMSBURG – South Dundas residents are recycling more and more every year, and that's good news for the township.

South Dundas manager of public works Hugh Garlough reported the increase in recycled materials at the March 15 council meeting.

In 2002, the township recycled 339 tonnes of material through the residential curbside collection recycling program.

In 2003, that number increased to 378 tonnes, an 11.5 percent increase from 2002.

In 2004, recycling again increased over the previous year, this time by 24.2 percent to 501 tonnes.

During 2004, the township changed garbage contractors, and with the new contractors came a new recycling program.

The company continued the blue box program, but added a green box to the mix.

On alternating weeks they pick up the blue boxes, which are used for glass, plastic and metal containers, and the green boxes which are used for paper and cardboard products.

Garlough credits much of the increase to the green box program.

He explained that this contractor, does not require paper recyclables to be bundled, and that they also pick up shredded paper as long as it is in a clear bag. He suggested that those reasons probably encourage people to make more use of the program.

Councillor Sandra Bailey agreed saying, "I think more people are using them because of those reasons ... There aren't those inhibitors."

"I am very pleased with our progress in regards to the increase in recycled materials and would like to thank council and ratepayers for their continued support," said Garlough in his report.

"The Ministry of the Environment has been very proactive in trying to get us to recycle more," he said.

According to Garlough, the aim of the MOE is to have municipalities recycling 60 percent of waste by 2006.

He said reaching that target may require a wet compost program, but the collection and processing are "very expensive," should such a program become necessary.

"It still costs a tremendous amount of money to get rid of the recyclables," commented mayor Lyle Van Allen.

"But it saves the garbage dumps," added councillor Johnny Whitteker.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

An open letter to Ontario's Farmers

To the Editor,

Despite being scheduled to attend a meeting of federal-provincial-territorial Ministers of Agriculture on March 2 and 3, I delayed going so that I would have the opportunity to attend and support the agricultural rally at Queen's Park, and to bring your message with me to Ottawa.

I want to say to you that I do understand your pain and frustration, as does the Premier. This government will continue to play its role in supporting Ontario farmers while maintaining its ongoing role as a full national partner in supporting agriculture.

Premier McGuinty and I met with farm and commodity organization leaders John Kikkert, Don Milld, Ron Bonnett, Ian McKillop, Bruce Saunders, Len Troup, Doug Eadie and Fred Neukamm to discuss the farm income situation and other pressing issues on Tuesday, February 22.

As a result of this meeting, I am appointing an Advisory Group to study the business risk management system. I am asking them for advice on how to ensure a strong agricultural sector now and into the future with an eye toward our fiscal restraints.

I have asked Terry Daynard, Hector Delanghe, Graeme Hedley and Jack Wilkinson to make up this Advisory Group.

I am honoured that they have all agreed to step forward once again to serve the agricultural industry. Most of you will know that these are individuals of the highest stature and reputation who will bring a reasoned approach to this critical situation.

We all recognize that farm incomes are declining right across this country. This is a national issue and requires a national solution. I will speak for Ontario's farmers, loudly and clearly, when I am in Ottawa. The Minister on Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada must work with us to develop plans to bolster farm incomes and sustain our agri-food industry.

Ontario must keep more of our money right here in the province. We send $23 billion more every year to Ottawa than we get back in services. To ensure that all of Ontario continues to prosper, through the necessary investments in health, in education and in our agri-food sector and rural communities, we need to hang on to more of our money.

Despite this gap, we have made some progress on the farm income front. The Market Revenue Insurance funds for 2003 and 2004-$94 million-are either in the hands of grains and oilseed farmers, or will be very soon. An additional $44 million will be delivered through the Top-Up program to all those producers who received a 2003 CAIS payment.

We understand that some of our Government's initiatives are perceived to have placed an additional burden on your business. But you also know that regulations such as Nutrient Management, Source Water Protection and world class meat regulation are imperative to consumer confidence and public support for your industry.

We recognize that some of you need help to get there and that is why we are working with your farm and commodity organizers to find ways of achieving our goals without putting additional hardships on you, our farmers.

One of our first actions was to commit $20 million to the largest farms that fell under the first phase of the program. We also extended the deadline by six months to allow for a full construction season.

We understand that we still need to do more. I want to assure you that we are working on ways to lighten the load. As the Premier told your farm leaders, Minister Dombrowsky and I have been working on ways to ensure that we can move forward in implementing the Nutrient Management plan in a risk-based way that neither places an unbearable burden on you nor compromises our commitment to safe, clean drinking water.

The Premier has also asked the Minister of the Environment to bring forward proposals to address farmers' concerns regarding Permit to Water fees.

The government is also moving forward on ways to enhance the delivery of agriculture research and development initiatives in Ontario. The Premier has directed the Ministry of Economic Development and Trade to include agri-food as a priority for the Ontario Research Fund.

As we continue to work towards a world class innovative and sustainable agricultural sector, know this: I remain committed to agriculture in this province. I offer my congratulations to your farm leadership for organizing a peaceful rally that shows that you truly care about the industry and communities in which you live and work.

I applaud your enthusiasm and want to continue working towards a brighter future for our industry. Each and every sector needs to be recognized for the patience that they have shown and the support that goes on quietly behind the scenes.

Together we can make Ontario-truly-a place to grow.

Steve Peters,
Minister of Agriculture and Food

Remember when?

Dear Sir or Madam:

Do you have a "Remember When" column? If so may I submit a little ditty of 70 plus years, and the story behind it.

In the lovely old St. Lawrence,
There's an island that we love,
And the little island's Broder for its name.
And each year when school is over
And we meet neith skies above.
It's the little old green island that we claim.

It then that all we boys
Meet with all life's greatest joys
As we in fellowship this jolly week attend
And when the week is over
We scamper home again
But we know that Broder Island is our friend.

In either 1931 or 1932, (or perhaps both) my father, Rev. H. Lloyd Morrison, who was at that time the minister of the United Church in Kemptville, organized a summer camp for the United Church, from, I presume, the Dundas-Grenville area. Boys came the first week, and girls the second. We came by launch to Broder Island from Morrisburg and slept in tents. The cook house was the only major building on the island that I can recall. The ditty above was composed by a camp counselor, a young man the son of a Montreal United Church minister.

My special memories of Broder Island besides the song, (which used a popular tune, but don't ask me to identify it now) were:

1. Watching the Rapid Prince run the rapids during a vesper service at the north west corner of the island as we sang heartily "Day is dying in the west, Heaven is touching earth with rest" and so on.
2. The Fourth of July fireworks from the estate of a wealthy American opposite the island.
3. Learning to swim. At that time the proper age to begin swimming was pegged at eight. How things have changed! My grand children have been swimming since they were babes.

I haven't seen Broder Island since shortly after the Seaway went through and it was just a bald piece of land in the middle of the river. Presumably now it has trees. Is it still used as a park? I hope the above is of interest to you. The little ditty keeps buzzing around in my head.

Yours sincerely, Ken Morrison.

Seen 'n Heard

Around the Township

Finally, spring has arrived and we are seeing a gradual shrinking of the snow banks. Several pairings of Canada geese are nibbling on the grass in the park area, but we suspect they are some that wintered here. Unless we've missed it, we haven't yet noticed any huge flocks flying overhead as they return from their winter vacations in the sunny south. Should be any day now.

Pictured in the March 22 issue was Doug Duncan who had retired after 26 years of service with Beavers Dental. In a special ceremony the company recognized Duncan's significant contribution in the development of the Carbide Dental Bur.

Williamsburg Township council was now ready to begin selling lots on the recently completed Schell Street subdivision. Council had set the price for each of the 23 single lots at $24,500 and the seven double lots at $35,000.

The Morrisburg Novice A Lions won their home hockey tournament. The team included Robbie Waddell, Justin Elliott, Tyler Lafortune, Brad Lortie, Lyndsay Johnston, Jordan MacGregor, Kyle Jarvis, Cody Casselman, Cory Cassell, Richard Banford, Matt Dillabough, Shawn Workman, Travis Baldwin and Joshua McElheran.

Roman Gralewicz, president of the Seafarers Union, confirmed his organization was looking into the possibility of buying back the present Operating Engineers Training Institute property. OETI was said to be considering the sale to pay off debts.

The March 20 issue reported Parker Professional Painting was adding a 13,500 square foot addition to its industrial park site to make room for its parent company currently located in Massena, New York. The company cleaned, straightened, painted and repaired cheese barrels and the expansion was expected to result in five or six new local jobs, bringing the company's total workforce in Morrisburg to 17.

Morrisburg village council approved the site control plan for Chan Gardens, a licenced 125-seat dining room to be built along Highway 2, across from the Shopping Plaza. Jim Chan and his father George currently operated the Hollywood Cafe in the mall.

An effort was underway to have the Montreal-TorontoVIA Rail train stop at the Morrisburg train station. The last time a train had stopped here to pick up passengers was October 28, 1967.

The March 28 issue reported an historic step had been taken by the Lutheran Church in Canada with the acceptance of women as ministers. The St. Lawrence Parish, consisting of St. Paul's Church, Morrisburg and St. John's Church in Riverside Heights, had the honour of participating in this historic event, as Miss Pamela McGee had accepted a call as the minister of the parish. It seemed appropriate that St. John's in Riverside Heights, being the first Lutheran Church in Canada west of Nova Scotia, should now make history again as Miss McGee would be the first Lutheran female pastor in Canada.

The Morrisburg Atom Hockey team travelled to Cardinal to compete in the Iroquois Atom Tournament. They opened with a 1-0 win over Iroquois on a goal scored by Lance Wells. In game two they defeated Char-Lan 5-1 on goals by Al McNairn, Martin Binks, Lindsay Weegar, Jeff Van Moorsel and Mark Brunt. They lost in the championship final 9-1 to Alexandria.

Tax grants totalling $23,490 were disbursed by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission to 15 townships under the provisions of the Provincial Parks Municipal Tax Assistance Act of 1974. Bill 81 was enacted by the Ontario Legislature to provide tax assistance payments to municipalities in which there were located one or more provincial parks. The amount of the grant was $5 per acre for the first 100 acres of each park and $2 per acre for each acre in excess of 10,000, or $100, which ever was greater.

Pictured on the front page of the issue was the 1965 Morrisburg Combines following their elimination of the Ottawa Montagnards in semi-final playoff action. The squad included Red Lawlor, Pat Brophy, goaltender Gerry Fleury, Rowdy Gillard, Bill Jarvis, Little Doug Casselman, Mel Tomalty, Big Doug Casselman, Ron Patterson, Burt Morrow, Al Cameron, Ed St. Louis, Bob Carss, and Gord McMillan. The Combines then advanced to the championship series against the Kingston Aces losing the best-of-seven series four games to one. Also pictured on the front page was Combines ace marksman, Robert (Rowdy) Gillard as he accepted the Glengarry Transport Trophy as the league's leading scorer.

Pictured on the front page of the March 25 issue was a 60-ton giant shovel as it was transported across the new Iroquois Bridge spanning Lock 25. The shovel was taken onto Point Iroquois to be used in preliminary work underway by Pentagon Construction Co. There had been no large scale operation started but work was expected to begin with the coming of warm and dry weather.

Flying Officer Frank C. Black of Morrisburg was among the crew members flying three CF-100 jet fighters to an air base in the United Kingdom. The Canadian built jets took off from St. Hubert and would make stops at Goose Bay, Labrador, Greenland, Iceland and Kinloss, Scotland. Flying Officer Black was the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Black.

In the audited report of the corporation of Morrisburg and associated boards, figures showed Morrisburg had a surplus of $935.37 leaving an accumulated surplus of $1,357.79. The water utility system had a surplus of $2,329 and the hydro commission had a surplus of $3,365 for a total accumulated surplus of $19,930.

Pictured on the front page of the March 23 issue was Sgt. Ronnie Cameron who was in charge of a platoon which rounded up 100 German civilian prisoners in Werheyen, Germany.

Dr. G.M. Gorrell was re-elected president of the Morrisburg Fish and Game club.

Dundas Poultry and Eggs advertised that it was establishing a Cold Storage Plant and Cold Storage Lockers in its premises on the Farlinger Block. The lockers had a food capacity for about 250 pounds.

Honouring the Mounties and Jesus

Perspectives

Rev. Clarence Witten

It's now been almost three weeks since those four RCMP officers were so brutally slain in Alberta. Our country is still mourning. The murder of those policemen touched us all. Who of us could remain unmoved as we watched the news about their horrific murder? Who of us could hold back a tear or two as we witnessed the huge memorial held in their honour attended by Canadian dignitaries and police officers from around the world? Why did we as a nation make such a fuss about their deaths? Undoubtedly, the answer to these questions is that these four young gentlemen were "public servants". They did what they did, like all police officers, to serve and protect us. They died trying to make this world a better place to live in.

This week it's Jesus' turn to be honoured, for this Friday we are called to remember his death. We ought to be holding back tears as we consider his suffering. Our Good Friday worship services ought to be filled to capacity. Why? Because Jesus Christ was the ultimate "public servant". Speaking about himself he said, "For...the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many." Jesus' primary act of service was that he laid down his life to die in our place. That is to say, he died to atone for our sins. Because of his sacrificial death all who believe in him can be forgiven and can be reconciled to God the Father for life and eternity.

Yes, we should honour Jesus for his willingness to die for us. Yet, when we read the Bible we soon discover that Jesus demands more than just our honour and our worship. The Bible tells us that if we honestly accept that Jesus died for our sins, we ought to be sorry for those sins and ought to be willing to renounce them in our lives. It doesn't make sense to say, "I'm sorry for my sins Jesus, please forgive me for them, and then to continue to commit those same sins." What kind of "sorry" would that be? In fact, the Bible goes so far as to say if Jesus really died for us, we owe him our life and have no other choice than to live for him.

Back to those Mounties who were murdered. You probably read the news stories of how one of them Peter Schiemann, had once said, "If something should happen, you won't need to worry. I'll be with Jesus in Heaven." About a year before his untimely death he had also said to his father, a Lutheran Pastor, "Dad, if something ever happens to me, I want people to hear about Jesus and to hear about hope." With this Perspectives column I have tried in my own feeble way to honour Peter Schiemann's wish

Garry and Susan O'Neill relax in a Byers Limousine on Saturday, March 12 as they, with friends Brent and Deanna Vanden Bosch head off to Trudeau Airport in Montreal where they boarded a plane bound for the Mayan Rivierra in Mexico. The March break holiday was planned to celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary which was in December 2004, and the limo ride was the icing on the anniversary cake. Their holiday was booked through the Thom Travel Agency in Morrisburg which was running a draw for the limo ride for those vacationers who booked their holiday during a certain time frame and the O'Neills were the lucky winners. The O'Neills were looking forward to their holiday, as this was their first trip to Mexico and they claimed they don't go away very often.

$1.5M water quality investment

BERWICK– It's all about water quality in this year's budget, recently approved by the South Dundas Conservation board of directors.

"The water quality program will see an investment of $1.5 million, including $400,000 for source protection," said SNC General Manager Dennis O'Grady. "That's the priority, ensuring there's enough clean drinking water now and well into the future."

Although most source protection funding has been provided by the provincial government, O'Grady noted the approach is being developed locally and will involve considerable consultation with area stakeholders over the next two years.

Along with forest and fisheries management also emphasized, the water quality program is SNC's major ongoing environmental cornerstone helping to bring total expenditures for 2005 to about $4.2 million, O'Grady said.

Less than $1.5 million of that will be raised through combined levies to 15 municipalities within the SNC watershed extending from Brockville north east to Plantagenet. The municipalities are all represented on the board of directors.

Making up the balance of revenues are government grants, donations, user fees and sale of some products including culled timer from managed forests.

At their recent meeting, directors decided to stick with the same executive team as last year, electing Claude Cousineau chairman and Gaston Patenaude vice-chair, with Floyd Dingwall continuing as past-president.

Committed conservationalists, Cousineau, Patenaude and Dingwall have served on the board for several years.

"With guaranteed clean water becoming so essential, never before has the work of the conservation authority been more important," Cousineau said.

Heart and Stroke

Everyone's a winner

MORRISBURG–Susan David, area manager for Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and Prescott Russell unit of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario expressed her pleasure in having the good fortune to announce both the name of a large, local winner in the Heart and Stroke Lottery and the name of a local volunteer being recognized for her contributions .

Stepping forward Friday, at the McIntosh Inn in Morrisburg to accept the $10,000 win in the annual Heart and Stroke Lottery, was Marilyn Carruthers of Morewood who purchased the lucky ticket with her father Ralph Steinburg, a resident of The Hartford Retirement Centre in Morrisburg.

Marilyn Carruthers of Morewood (holding the money bags) and her father Ralph Steinburg who is a resident of Hartford in Morrisburg held a lucky $10,000 ticket in the recent Heart and Stroke Lottery. Pictured above Marilyn is joined by her husband Ken, local Heart and Stroke Unit president Geraldine Fitzsimmons and Susan David, Heart and Stroke area manager for SD&G, Prescott-Russell. Below, David presents local Heart and Stroke volunteer Dorothy Houze with an appreciation pin for her many years of service.

The father and daughter duo purchased a total of three tickets and it was the third that was the big winner.

"We are pretty excited to have a $10,000 winner in our area," said David noting, "A lot of people in our area buy tickets and there are lots of winners."

Carruthers said, she and husband Ken had no plans for their share of the money but thought some might be put toward a van they had purchased before the win.

The Lottery is a major fundraiser for the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario, and the money raised enables the Foundation to continue its work in research and clinical and behavioral studies.

"We help with everything from preventative to treatment," said David pointing out, "It is important to understand that the money doesn't all go to the top. More money than we raise locally comes to our area...to the Heart Institute in Ottawa and the Canadian Blood Bank..."

"If you know people who have had heart problems, they have more than likely gone to the Heart Institute."

David was also pleased to honour local Dundas County Heart and Stroke volunteer Dorothy Houze with a Swarovski Crystal Company volunteer award pin designed in the shape of a red dress which is the symbol of women and heart disease.

Houze, who has volunteered with the Heart and Stroke Association for about 15 years and served a two-year term as local Dundas County Unit president, is the South Dundas chair of the annual Heart and Stroke door-to-door campaign which takes place annually in February. Each year she mobilizes and organizes about 150 canvassers in South Dundas.

"What I have appreciated about Dorothy over the years is that she is always concerned to do the job right and do the job well. And she does it very quietly," said David.

"I want to thank Dorothy for all her involvement, and I hope she will wear it (the pin) in great health."

In a no heat situation, check the fuse/breaker and power switch. Check the fuel supply and verify if gas meter is locked off. These simple steps could save an unnecessary service call. Remember to only reset an oil burner once. If it does not start, phone for service. Pressing the reset more than once can fill the furnace with unburned fuel causing a hazardous situation.

A resident of the Iroquois area for the last 59 years, John Cutler passed away after a brief illness at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Friday, March 11. He was 91 years old.

A resident of RR2 Iroquois, John was born in Ottawa on December 1, 1913. He was the son of the late Joseph and Rose (nee Harborfield) Cutler.

He was born and raised in Ottawa where he lived until his marriage to Violet (nee Larabee) Cutler on October 24, 1939, in Ottawa. After their marriage, John and Violet made the Iroquois area their home.

For many years, John worked for Ontario Hydro, in addition to owning and operating a dairy farm.

He and Vi enjoyed traveling and throughout the years they visited England, Western and Eastern Canada, Florida and North Carolina. He was a former member of the Loyal Orange Lodge, Ottawa.

John will be fondly remembered by his family and friends for his quick wit, his sense of humour and his sharp mind which he maintained right up until his death.

Elizabeth "Betty" Dillabough

A longtime resident of Morrisburg, Elizabeth "Betty" Ann Dillabough passed away following an illness of six months at the Woodland Villa in Long Sault on Sunday, March 6. She was 89 years old.

Born May 26, 1915 at Finch, Betty was the daughter of the late Edward Hugh and Ethel (Kennedy) Cameron. On November 20, 1938 in Moulinette, she married Denzil Kenneth Dillabough who predeceased her on July 28, 2000.

Betty resided at the Woodland Villa in Long Sault for one month prior to her death having lived at The Hartford Retirement Centre for the last four years.

She was contented living at The Hartford. She loved to be with the people and share in the activities, and she especially liked the fact that, from her room at The Hartford, she could look out her window and see her brick home at the corner of Fifth and St. Lawrence Streets, where she and Denzil lived some 45 years.

Family was extremely important to Betty, as was God. She seemed to live with one foot firmly planted in her earthly home and the other foot planted in the kingdom of God.

She always put her family first. She was a good mother who was willing to talk over problems or provide solid advice. She loved a good joke and a fun time. In her late seventies, she was known to have tobogganed with her grandchildren.

Betty's week was not complete without time at church and she was grateful for her life. A member of Knox Presbyterian Church, Morrisburg she was known to be the first in church on Sunday mornings. She always spoke positively of others, and was an extremely selfless woman. Other people always seemed to come first in her life and she did not want to be a bother or a burden.

Significant memories of Betty's life to be remembered are the values she placed on family, her joy of young children, her love of drives in the country to tell everyone in the car about the crops that were growing, her love for walking through old Morrisburg, bundling her children up in their winter attire and shopping.

She was known to have a good and meticulously clean house with well-kept gardens. She enjoyed the presence of the friends she sat with at The Hartford: Kathleen, Ruth and Olga.

Betty was dear mother of Deanna (Roger) Bouchard of Morrisburg, Cameron (Judy) of Gananoque and Phillip (Laurie) of Morrisburg and devoted sister of Mildred (Keith) Stillwell of Minnesota. She will be lovingly remembered by five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Allan "Carson" Baker

A veteran of World War II, and a well-known resident of the Morrisburg community, Allan "Carson" Baker passed away at Winchester District Memorial Hospital following a brief illness on Saturday, March 12. He was 91 years old.

Born on January 19, 1914, in Finch Township, Carson was the son of the late Charles and Mary Jane (Carson) Baker. On April 20, 1946 at Livingston United Church in Hamilton, he married his loving wife Margherita Irene DelDegan who survives.

Until he joined the army to serve his country in the Second World War from 1942-1945 with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, Carson farmed. He gave of himself unselfishly in battle, survived as a prisoner of war and acted as a role model and man of integrity to be looked up to as an example during his military duties.

He served in Canada and was a member of the United Kingdom and Canadian Mediterranean Force. He was stationed in Sicily in 1943, and in Italy from 1943-1945, and during his military career he earned the 1939-45 Star medal, the Italy Star, the Canadian Volunteer Service Medal and Class.

Following his discharge in Hamilton as a Corporal, Carson was a linesman with the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority. He and Margherita made their home at 32 Ontario Street, in Morrisburg where they have lived for over 55 years.

Over the years, Carson attended many of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment reunions, and in 1995, he participated in a historic reenactment of the 50th anniversary of the return home of the troops of the Hesty P's.

Carson was a faithful elder and active session member of Knox Presbyterian Church in Morrisburg for 53 years, a member of Morrisburg Branch 48 of the Royal Canadian Legion and an Honourary member of Orange Lodge #3127.

He was a man with great sympathy, insight, and a gracious spirit. It didn't matter what he had been through, or was going through, he always said there were more people with greater needs.

Carson kept a journal and was a letter writer, valuing life and its experiences so much that he kept notes of what he did each day. He encouraged, supported and expressed his love to his family through his letters. A man of commitment he always finished what he started, while also fully dedicating himself to whatever he started. He was knowledgeable and well opinionated when it came to hockey and politics.

Carson towered above many as a man who was committed to his family who describe him as a good father, a wonderful husband and a truly great friend. He was a hard worker who raised four kids with love and commitment.

He was a grandfather, brother, friend of many and a man of faith. His kindness and generosity were immeasurable.

His work in the community was appreciated, and his participation in church, the local Legion, and the Orange Lodge will be forever honored and appreciated.

Carson is survived by his loving wife of 58 years Margherita. He will be lovingly remembered by his children Mary Ethel (Robert) Corfield of Niagara Falls, Walter of Winchester and Muriel (Michael) Fournier of Amhurstview.

He was loving grandfather of Shawn and Andrew Fournier of Amhurstview, and Alex and Stephen Baker of Winchester, and cherished brother of Earl (June) of Morrisburg, Sybil Smith of Morrisburg, Evelyn Millward of Brockville and Lillian Sypes of Thorold.

He was predeceased by his son John, granddaughter Stacey, brothers Stanley, Russell, Kenneth, Walter and George and by his sister Gladys Duval.

Obituaries

Gladys Lillian Swerdfeger

A resident of the Hartford Retirement Centre, Gladys Lillian Swerdfeger, formerly of Ingleside, passed away at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Thursday, March 3. She was 94 years old.

Born January 22, 1911, Gladys was the daughter of the late James Alfred and Agnes (nee Smirle) Wells.

On June 9, 1933, at the United Church in Williamsburg, she married Ernest Douglas Swerdfeger who predeceased her in June, 1971.

An elementary school teacher, Gladys will be remembered as being a very private women, who, once she knew a person, would plainly speak her mind. She was strong-willed, and it was said that nobody would tell Gladys what to do, probably because, she wouldn't listen anyway.

She was a no-nonsense, very factual and specific person. Everyone knew that once she made a decision, she would act and never look back.

A teacher and a traveller, she played Scrabble and loved her garden parties while living in Ingleside. She was an amazing cook, and her baking was incredible, particularly her raspberry and blueberry pies. She didn't use recipes and explained her talent by saying, I'm just a farm cook, nothing fancy but good.

Gladys loved her garden and for much of her life pickled and preserved its bounty even while she was teaching. To the end, she loved her geraniums and other potted plants.

In addition to her cooking and gardening, Gladys did rug hooking and crocheting and she was generous with making gifts of her crafts.

Family and friends knew they were loved by Gladys because of her generosity whether through her cooking (she always knew their favourite food) or through the gifts of her crafts. Gladys' actions were her love.

Gladys was raised Lutheran, but joined the United Church when she married her Ernie. Even at The Hartford, she would join in the monthly communion services and the weekly chapel if her minister was there. She was a member of Lakeshore Drive United Church.

Gladys was an independent, strong and very stoic woman. She was never bitter, and she never complained. Ninety-five years of living brought a lot of change, but Gladys dealt well with her lot in her matter-of-fact way. Her grandchildren never failed to bring a sparkle to her eye. She was a remarkable woman and a much loved grandmother. She lived a full and rich life and her presence will be greatly missed by her family, her church and her community.

She will be lovingly remembered by her grandchildren Ronda (Jeff) Griesbach and Lynn (Tim) Spraggs both of Osgoode and Joanne (Lawrence) Pleet of Ottawa. She will be sadly missed by seven great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

She was predeceased by her husband Ernest and by her son Dale in 1971.

Friends were received at the Parker Funeral Home in Morrisburg at 1 p.m. on Friday March 11, and the funeral service was performed in the chapel at 3 p.m. by Rev. Jean Udall. Spring interment will be at the St. Lawrence Valley Cemetery in Long Sault.

Memorial donations to Lakeshore Drive United Church or the Heart and Stroke Foundation will be gratefully acknowledged.

Sugar Bush open

MORRISBURG–Tapping close to 1,200 trees is well underway at Crysler Park Maple Sugar Bush, for the start of the syrup season.

The sugar camp area has come alive on weekends with a variety of activities for visitors, which started Saturday, March 19, until mid-April. Admission is free.

Locals and visitors to the region can enjoy a true Canadian tradition in an old-fashioned setting at Crysler Park Maple Sugar Bush.

Regular horse-drawn wagon rides between the parking lot at the entrance to the sugar bush on Upper Canada Road and the sugar camp are available for a fee of only $1 per person each way. Or, you can choose to take to the trail by foot instead (approximately a five-minute hike each way.)

One inside the bush, visitors can explore the nature trails, see how sap is collected in buckets, and visit the evaporator operator in the early 20th century Sugar Shanty to learn how sap is transformed into syrup.

Outdoor exhibits stationed around the camp provide information about earlier processes of making syrup used by natives and pioneers. These exhibits are sponsored by Delta Foods of Brockville.

Maple sugar treats are made and sold on site along with other related products in the Sugar Store.

Visitors can get a real taste of spring by stopping to enjoy a pancake picnic in the great outdoors, in an area now under the shelter of a large tent.

Pancakes at $1.25 each, baked beans at $1.25 per serving, sausages at $1 each and hot or cold beverages at $1.25 each, will all be available at the Pancake Canteen, all located near the sugar camp.

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission is once again partnering with members of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Dog Association Sledding and Carting Class who plan to conduct training exercises and demonstration with their dogs at the Sugar Bush on Saturday mornings, weather permitting.

The Sugar Bush will be open weekends only from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. starting (March 19 and 20) until mid-April weather permitting.

Adams places third in provincial Starskate championship

Bonnie McNairn
Leader Staff

WATERLOO–Meghan Adams has had a fantastic skating season, and Saturday at the Provincial Starskate Championships here, she added the finishing touch with a bronze medal performance at the junior bronze ladies level.

Meghan qualified for the provincial Starskate competition with a first place finish at the Eastern Ontario Starskate Invitational in mid-February.

Figure skater Meghan Adams accomplished all she set out to do this skating season and then some. Saturday she skated to a third place finish at the Ontario Starskate Championship in Waterloo.

Although she didn't repeat what she and her coach Allison Morrow pegged as the "skate of her life" at the Eastern Ontario, she skated extremely well Saturday, landing five double jumps and two single axles in her 2.5 minute free skate program choreographed to Pirates of the Caribbean music.

Her program includes seven double jumps, two axles, three spins, footwork and a spiral sequence.

"I fell once and missed another jump. It was weird," said Megan as she prepared to hit the ice in Morrisburg, Monday night. "I think my skate was better this time presentation wise and my spins were better."

Megan also claims she wasn't overly nervous skating at the provincial level. "I felt fine. My goal was to get there. I was more nervous at the Eastern."

While she and Allison had set a goal of placing in the top three at the Eastern (which resulted in the win), their goal at the provincial was to place in the top six.

"So we were really happy to be on the podium," says Meghan of her third place finish amongst 12 skaters, three representing each of the four skating regions in Ontario. In the end the Eastern Region took the second and third spots, while the win went to a Western Ontario skater.

Meghan enjoyed the wonderful experience, explaining she went into it thinking of it as a "fun competition."

She also enjoyed the team camaraderie she shared with the two other skaters representing Eastern Ontario. "It was pretty nice. It was a lot different than a normal competition."

She with Allison, her dad and mom and her brother travelled to Waterloo last Thursday. She was then given the opportunity Friday to skate on the ice surface that would host the competition. (The arena where the event was held had four ice surfaces.)

While Meghan was on the ice having "fun" at the competition, it was a case of nerves for her family in the stands.

"It was very, very exciting," says her proud mom Cindy admitting to being nervous.

It was much the same feeling for her coach Allison who, in her 12 years of coaching, has not previously had a skater go this far.

"I was very nervous. Probably just as nervous as Meghan or more. Everybody makes fun of me. I'm going through every motion with her."

Allison too says her skate at the Eastern was the stronger of the two, "but she did her most difficult jumps extremely well Saturday. She had trouble with her double loop and double toe, both right at the end of her program. But she had already done the double toe in a combination, so it was not a big deal to miss the second toe."

"Her spins were very good. We had focused on them between the two competitions. Her spins are something she has really improved on and is now able to hold them for more revolutions."

"Overall the program was very strong, and it was good enough to put her in the top three."

Allison too explained that Meghan's major goal for the season was to make it to the provincial skate. So, Saturday, "I just wanted her to have a good skate and enjoy it, figuring a finish in the top six, would be good. Obviously, she surpassed that."

Meghan with her fellow skaters in the Morrisburg Club are now preparing for their annual skate show, and after that she will head into spring school.

She will take a break during the month of July and she'll be back on the ice in August for the fall season.

She and Allison are now considering the option of moving into the competitive skate stream next season. To do so Meghan would have to pass the pre-novice test.

If she remains in the Starskate program she will skate at the junior silver level, having passed both the senior bonze and junior silver tests earlier this winter.

The difference between the two programs is as they sound, the Starskate being less competitive than Competitive stream and ending at the provincial final. The Competitive stream leads to the Canadian finals.

Curves boosts Food Bank cupboards

Everyone Benefits from Curves Food Drive

Forty new women will reap the benefits of the Curves fitness program and many, many more people in need in the community will benefit from the addition of 1,339 pounds of food to the shelves at the Morrisburg location of the Dundas County Food Bank thanks to the results of the local edition of the 7th annual Curves Food Drive held during the week of March 7. Above standing, l-r Curves manager Kim Baldwin, co-owner Brenda Manning, Food Bank coordinator Marilyn Byers and Curves instructors Kelly Keeler (kneeling left) and Laurie Ezard stop for a photo before beginning the task of loading the groceries for delivery.

MORRISBURG– "This is going to help fill up our shelves again," said Marilyn Byers, coordinator of the Dundas County Food Bank at the Morrisburg location as she prepared to wheel one of several shopping carts heaped with groceries from the Curves Centre in Morrisburg on Monday.

Once again, the Curves International Food Drive was a timely event, helping the local Bank to recover from the months following the Christmas holidays when donations tend to go down.

In exchange for grocery donations, the Curves centres participating in the Food Drive waive the service fee. Both the Curves locations in Morrisburg and Cornwall, owned by Brenda Manning and Mona Miller, participated.

Kim Baldwin, manager of the Curves location in Morrisburg was pleased to report that 1,340 pounds of food were donated in Morrisburg, and 40 new members were signed up.

The food came from both the new members and established members.

Byers thanked all of the members on behalf of the Food Bank and its clients. "You have really, really helped us out and we really, really appreciate it."

Byers indicated that the Food Bank shelves are now getting low but they did well to get this far. This is mainly because the Christmas Exchange changed its mandate this past Christmas. Rather than hand out all the food donated at Christmas, boxes were packed all the same, and everything left over went to the Food Bank.

Byers reports numbers have decreased at the Bank slightly, but "the ones we do have are needing to come in more often."

"The community has been very good to us."

Interest in the Iroquois Golf Clubhouse

WILLIAMSBURG – According to South Dundas CAO Andy Brown some interest has been shown for the Iroquois Golf Clubhouse, but the township is not yet releasing the details.

Brown confirmed Friday that "we have had some interest."

Last fall, the Iroquois Golf Clubhouse was put on the market through realtor, Butch Oldford Royal LePage.

The building and property were listed for $599,000.

When the property was listed both Brown and councillor Charles Barkley each confirmed in separate interviews that the likely intent of the sale was to put some of the proceeds towards the construction of a new clubhouse for the municipally owned golf course, and pay down some of the golf course's outstanding debt load, with the remainder.

So many people helped Renewing the Vision reach $15 million goal

Pictured above is a small sample of the people who played a part in the success of the Winchester Hospital's Renewing the Vision redevelopment fundraising campaign. On hand for Thursday's announcment were back l-r Bill Smirle, Terry MacLellan, Wayne Burns, Dr. Duane Justus, Mike McInnis, Archie Byers and Dwayne Holmes. Front l-r are Lynne Wilson, Elsie Patterson, Vera Mitchell, Joan Farlinger, Lois McNamara and Trudy Reid. Comfort Photo

Renewing the Vision hits $15 million target

teer and community support of the project.

He spoke of the support received from municipalities. "Our municipalities have a history of supporting this hospital and they did not fail us this time ... Collectively our municipal partners have committed almost $6 million to the project."

"Our hospital family, including our staff, our physicians, and our boards of directors kicked off the campaign in a most generous way contributing over $185,000 while our Auxiliary pledged $250,000 and paid that pledge off completely over a year ago," said Smirle.

He also mentioned the outstanding support the campaign has received from the financial community, local industries at both the corporate and employee levels.

He spoke of the door-to-door campaign, "something that few capital campaigns do anymore."

"The response was astonishing and tremendously generous. Week after week, during the height of our door-to-door community campaigns, special cheque presentations appeared in our local papers, profiling the faces of our donors and the tremendous support they gave," said Smirle.

The support of area service clubs collectively amounted to $485,000. Also $330,000 was raised through special events.

Smirle made mention of the $1 million lead gift of Dr. Howard Justus, and his final gift of a $100,000 legacy received last year.

The campaign also received $2 million in estate bequests. "These legacies have played a vital part in helping our community reach this milestone of $15 million," said Smirle.

Hospital CEO Trudy Reid said, "This certainly is a tremendous day for this community. Raising $15 million in the backdrop of a rural community is most remarkable ... What this community has achieved is truly something very special.

Reid spoke of the redevelopment timelines and explained that "Hospital redevelopment is a very complex process and indeed hospital construction is considered only slightly less complex than reconstruction a nuclear power plant."

"We are now on track to get our shovel in the ground for Spring 2006," announced Reid. "I want to tell you that the Ministry believes that achieving this date is an ambitious target. There is a mountain of detailed work to be done between now and then. But, we have made this a priority and we are on track."

There are five stages in capital planning projects including the development of a master plan and the development and refinement of the functional program, including initial cost estimates. According to Reid, this second stage was just recently completed.

They are now in the third phase, "working on the nitty gritty of block plans and sketch plans ... We are working to have the latest sketch plans to our cost consultants by mid April and to the Ministry by May 4," said Reid.

She also spoke about honouring pledges. "We know that we will continue to need your financial support. I want to stress that we are announcing that we have raised $15 million based on dollars received and pledges committed. Honouring those pledges is very important to the campaign."

"We know that construction costs have risen since the project was last costed. We are finalizing the list of medical equipment that we will need for the new wing. When we know what additional costs are involved we will let you know, and yes, we will ask for assistance," said Reid.

"We are exploring all avenues to minimize additional expenses, but we are also committed to getting this right."

"We will build the best possible hospital for this community."

Awaiting return

the meetings of council for three successive months without being authorized to do so by resolution of council;".

The first of the successive meetings missed so far by Delegarde was January 4, 2005, so three consecutive months would expire April 4, 2005.

The next regular council meeting is scheduled for April 5, but there is also a budget meeting scheduled for March 22.

According to Brown, if Delegarde does not attend the budget meeting, council will have to examine the possibility of passing a resolution at that meeting authorizing Delegarde to maintain his seat despite his absence.

He said that council may find it reasonable to do so because of the legal aspects of his absence.

It was not known at press time whether or not Delegarde attended the budget meeting.

St. Mary-St. Cecilia implementing a bullying program

MORRISBURG – "It is all about prevention and education, and staying on a level path," St. Mary-St. Cecilia School principal Donna Nielsen told a group of parents at a recent meeting to address bullying at the local school.

Although Neilsen explained it is not felt there is a major problem at the school, "we have noticed an increase in behaviours of concern."

A confidential student survey has been completed at the school and the implementation of a "Be a Buddy, Not a Bully Program" is underway.

The recent meeting with the parents was to provide them with knowledge and statistical information concerning bullying and to keep them up-to-date on the implementation of the program.

"Prevention is the key," said Neilsen. "The children here are wonderful children, and we want to keep the positive environment we have had."

From the student survey it was determined there is some bullying in the school, and various questions were answered for those involved in implementing the new program.

Asked how often cases of bullying are reported, the grade 3 students showed a 72 percent reporting rate, while in grades 4-6 that dropped with 13 percent of the children indicating they report to an adult at the school and 16 percent reporting to their parents.

At the grade 7-8 level, 33 percent of the students said sometimes they would deal with another student threatening or hurting them on their own, while 35 percent said that most of the time they would deal with it on their own. Five percent said they would always deal with it on their own.

The reasons for not reporting bullying to a teacher were the fear that the problem would get worse or that they would lose friends.

Cindy Scott, student support worker at the school said of the survey, "what we needed to learn we did."

Information provided at the meeting on bullying explained that a bully is one or more children repeatedly hurting a child by using words or actions.

There are several forms of bullying including physical, vandalism (damaging a victim's property), verbal, relational (someone convinces others to exclude someone, rumours and gossip), and reactive (when victims retaliate).

Bullying incurs every seven minutes and the incident is usually brief (37 seconds). For boys, bullying is usually more physical while for girls it tends to take the form of verbal or relational bullying. Eighty-five percent of bullying occurs when others are watching and both boys and girls who are bullied are sad, lonely and at times have considered suicide.

By the age of 24, sixty percent of identified bullies have a criminal record.

"I don't believe that any student in our school is a bully," said Neilsen. "They comply readily and they do know right from wrong."

It was pointed out that bullying occurs most often without the knowledge of teachers or parents, because children are reluctant to tell an adult. Bullying can also carry over to the buses and to non-school hours.

The goals of a school-wide bully prevention program are: increased awareness, increase reporting on bullying, increase the number of helpers, reduce the number of victims and to improve the school.

"We have never been a punitive school," said Neilsen. "These are really great students. I have worked in a lot of schools, probably 12, and this is by far the best community and the best everything."

"We want to help the children who demonstrate bullying behavior as much as those at the other end."

Also in attendance at the meeting was Sr. O.P.P. Constable Al Lummis who said, "the biggest thing we notice is the power and control. Bullies are looking to be in charge."

"It's a chance to be somebody. It's something they are good at."

It's Spring! Ice booms coming out

CORNWALL–Ontario Power Generation wishes to advise hunters, anglers and recreational boaters on the St. Lawrence River that ice booms will be removed from narrow stretches of the river between Iroquois and Prescott, between March 23 and April 15.

These booms, which were placed in the river off Galop Island, in the North Channel near Johnstown and at Prescott last November, are chain-and-wood devices used to prevent the build-up of ice during the winter.

They ensure an even freeze on the river, helping to improve power generation during the winter months.

All users of the river should take extra care in the narrow reaches where the work is being undertaken to remove the booms.

Ice booms are placed in the same narrow reaches of the St. Lawrence River each November and removed in the Spring when the ice has melted, before the St. Lawrence Seaway shipping season commences.

Ontario Power Generation would like to remind boaters to take every precaution around its dams and generating stations, and to practice safety on Ontario's waterways.

WILLIAMSBURG – The March meeting of Williamsburg Women's Institute was held at the Senior Support Centre, and was chaired by President Isobel Williams.

Secretary Marjorie Thom read the motto: Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves.

The roll call was to tell a fact about Argentina, and we learned that it was colonized by the Spanish in the 16th century.

Argentina falls into three regions: The hot, damp lands of Gran Chaco in the north; the grasslands of the Pampas in the centre; the barren plateau of Patagonia in the south. Vast herds of sheep and cattle graze in the Pampas.

The business part of the meeting included a discussion on the April 2, Quilt Show for which members were urged to sell tickets. The April meeting will be the annual and will begin with a pot luck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Meeting convener Joan Beckstead introduced guest speaker, Donna Hanson Patrick, whose message illustrated the motto for the meeting.

Donna spoke of Operation Christmas Child, a project of Samaritan's Purse, and her privilege of going to Mexico in January 2004, to distribute the shoe boxes of small gifts for 1,500 children. She also showed a film of the activities.

The shoe boxes, filled by church members and friends who wish to help, are sent to New Brunswick where they are sorted. They are then sent to a needy country where the children are overjoyed with the contents.

Bettie Locke thanked the speaker and presented her with a Tweedsmuir History Book.

Hilda Garlough and Ruth Algire served tea and sandwiches with help from several kind members.

Farmers are demanding action

WINCHESTER–Close to 200 farmers in North Dundas Township (Winchester area) signed a petition to be presented to the Ontario Federation of Agriculture (O.F.A.).

The petition which was signed between March 7 and 11, states "We, the undersigned, will not renew our membership in the O.F.A. until such time as we have an agricultural price support program similar to the one in Quebec."

As volunteers traveled from farm to farm with the petition, they listened to farmers vent their frustration, anger and desperation over the current crisis.

A farm crisis existed four years ago, and at that time the O.F.A. and other major farm organizations promised to develop a program for Ontario farmers which paralleled that of the Quebec UPA price support program. It appears that virtually nothing has materialized since then.

Farm commodity prices have hit a twenty five year low. Farmers in Quebec and the U.S.A. are protected by highly subsidized programs putting Ontario farmers at a serious disadvantage.

For example, Quebec farmers are guaranteed $4.95 per bushel of corn while Ontario farmers receive about $2.40 per bushel.

Not only are Ontario farmers being crushed by poor price support programs, they are also being deluged with poorly planned programs such as CAIS and new costly and overdone government regulations such as the nutrient management and water treatment programs.

Farmers are demanding action. Drastic times call for drastic measures.

Withholding payment of municipal taxes should be the next step in getting government attention and respect. In the 1960's, farmers frustrated with unconcerned government regarding municipal and education tax revision, withheld taxes.

The government soon started to pay attention and arrived at a suitable program for the farming community.

It is suggested that taxes from all agricultural and perhaps all rural businesses be paid into a trust fund at local banks until such time as the Ontario government acknowledges the economic importance of agriculture and related businesses and puts together a permanent program. Plan this to start in January 2006.

A basic lobbying tactic is to remove the problem from your pocket and put it in the other person's pocket. This works when talking falls.

May 31, 2005 is the deadline for O.F.A members to cancel their membership. For those who have not yet remitted their membership, they are encouraged to do so promptly, then immediately apply for a refund.

Seniors meet at Williamsburg

WILLIAMSBURG–The Williamsburg Senior held their regular monthly meeting following a delicious pot luck dinner at the Park Lane Seniors Support Centre in Williamsburg on Tuesday, March 15.

Due to other commitments only 11 members attended the meeting which was chaired by Ruth Casselman due to the absence of the president.

Peggy Thompson offered an Irish Blessing and the roll call was answered with members telling where they were born and relating some humour.

The program consisted of some humerous Irish Readings, and the presentation of the history of the donations to the immediate community from 1979 to 1989. This refreshed everyone's memory of the Senior group's importance prior too and during the construction of Park Drive Villa.

Cards were played during the remainder of the afternoon.

The Week in Curling

MORRISBURG–Two local teams competed in last week's City of Ottawa Bonspiel, one of the largest in the world at well over 300 teams.

Robert Houze, Joe McCooeye, Gord Johnston and Bev McQueen with injury help from Matt McCooeye and Craig Harriman, won three and lost three games, making it to the playdowns in the seventh event.

The other representatives were in the senior category, with Don O'Brien, Raymond Benoit, Karl Duncan and Neil Williams making up the team. They narrowly lost their first two games, won their third, but then were eliminated with their next loss.

In the first draw for the men's Tuesday night league, the winning team was made up of Craig Harriman, Bob Bergland, Sam Locke and Frank Lalonde. We will have the results of the final draws for the various leagues in the next two weeks.

Three local teams entered the Hospice Bonspiel in Winchester over the weekend. Gerry and Cheryl Thompson, Barb Rabideau and Keith Brannen, won two of their three games. John and Ian Wilson along with Mike Staebler and Kathi Wilson also won two of three, and tied their third. Steve and Alice Thompson, Dave Salsman and Sandra Beckstead had a similar experience.

It was a pleasant day, and the Hospice folks were welcomed in their expectation to have next year's bonspiel at the Morrisburg Club.

On the national scene, in the Canada Cup, Kevin Martin got a little revenge by knocking off his Alberta nemesis, Randy Ferbey for the championship and the considerable prize money involved. Both teams have berths in the Olympic Trials next season.

Left behind were other top curling names competing, such as Mark Dacey, Kerry Burtnyk, John Morris, Jeff Stoughton, Brad Gushue, Mike Harris and Pat Ryan.

On the women's side. Shannon Kleibrink defeated Jan Betker for the title. Born will be in the Olympic Trials. Also ram included such prominent names in the competition as Ann Merklinger, Colleen Jones and Francie Larouche.

In Scotland, Canada's representative, Jennifer Jones, is doing well in the early rounds of the women's world championship. We wish her well in the competition, which gets tougher every year.

Locally again, at the club's executive meeting last week, several matters were finalized including a decision to raise rental fees next year, and the sale of one set of the 'old' little rocks and the purchase of a second full size set for next season.

Coaxial cables will be strung for the final two cameras and monitors over our sheets, and various ice plant servicing details as well as summer landscaping were covered.

As always, a copy of the minutes and the financial statement is available in the clubhouse.

Sign-up sheets for the April 6 closing banquet, awards night and annual meeting, as well as an April 2 open bonspiel are in the lounge, and members are reminded to get their names included if interested.

President Joe McCooeye is looking for some organizational help next year, and finally, we have a rental this Saturday at which some volunteer help is needed. Good curling to all!

IN MEMORIAM

JENSEN–In loving memory of a dear sister, Jean, who passed away March 24, 2004.
In tears we saw you sinking,
We watched you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay.
But when we saw you sleeping,
So peacefully free from pain,
We could not wish you back,
To suffer that again.
–Always loved and remembered by sister Lorna 12c

LAURIN–In memory of a loving mother, Lillian, March 23, 2003.
We seem to see in the soft dim light
A face we love the best;
Recalling her as the sun's last rays
Go down in the far off west.
We miss her more as time goes on,
We can never close our hearts;
And the lamp of our love still burns.
Her heart the truest in all the world,
Her love the best to recall;
None on earth could take her place,
She is still the dearest of all.
–Lovingly remembered and sadly missed, Mike and Joanne 12p

Mizos coming to Morrisburg

MORRISBURG – The Mizo mixed quartet is coming to the Knox Presbyterian Church in Morrisburg on Tuesday, March 29.

Described as a modern day mission miracle, there has been an amazing awakening which has taken place in the last century in Mizoram.

Formerly tribal headhunters, the Mizos are now hunting hearts for Christ. Today the Indian state of Mizoram is over 93 percent Christian.

Members of the quartet are all professionals who take time from their jobs to tour our country to tell how God has changed their lives and their culture. Their tour is sponsored by Partners International, an interdenominational faith mission.

The Voices of Hope Concert will take place at the church, and is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Everyone is invited to cook up a favourite dish and join friends for a potluck dinner at 5:30 p.m.
