HITLER'S OLD OFFICER FAILS IN MEDICAL TEST

Forty-year-old Paul Gurtler, Sudeten German who commanded Fuehrer Hitler in the Austrian army during the Great War and who was anxious to oppose his former comrade in the present conflict, failed to pass the military medical examination at Drumheller, Alta., last week, and was rejected.

Medical board officials said Gurtler, a naturalized Canadian, placed in the "B" class while only those of the "A" classification are being accepted at present.

Hitler's former comrade expressed keen disappointment at not making the grade.

Ault Creamery Being Enlarged

A program of expansion is being undertaken at the Ault Creamery Plant here, in an endeavour to serve the cheese-making industry and farmers of this district in the most efficient manner possible. The first step in this direction was taken on Tuesday, when the Robt. Beggs & Son, Contractors, started work on the construction of a new building, to be used for the curing and storing of cheese and butter. This building will be a two storey structure, 45 x 31 feet, and will be of cement block construction. Both storeys will have 10-foot ceilings. The first floor will be utilized as a refrigeration plant, while the upper part will be used for storage purposes. The new wing will be erected at the south end of the present plant and when completed, will, no doubt, be a very imposing structure, fire-proof in every detail.

With the new building completed, more floor space will be available in the older section of the plant for vats, separators, cheese presses and other equipment necessary in the manufacturing of cheese and butter.

The management and directors of the Ault Creamery are to be commended for their enterprise in providing Winchester and district with one of the most modern and efficient dairying plants in Eastern Ontario.

Mrs. J. B. Challies Passes At Montreal

Mrs. Agnes Swan Challies, wife of John Bow Challies, an executive officer of The Shawinigan Water & Power Company, died at her home at 8 Grove Park, Westmount, Que., on Friday, September 15th, 1939. Mrs. Challies was the eldest child of the late George and Amelia Swan, of Kincardine, Ont. She was a graduate of the Ontario Ladies' College of Whitby, and an associate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music. From her marriage, in 1908 until 1923, she resided in Ottawa, where her husband was Federal Director of Water Power and Engineer Adviser to the Department of External Affairs. Since moving to Montreal, she has been prominent in the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, the Y. W. C. A. and the Federated Charities.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two children, Miss Ethel, at home, and Mr. George S., advocate, of the legal firm of Montgomery, McMichael, Common and Howard, of Montreal; also by a sister, Mrs. James Malcolm, of Kincardine, and two brothers, W. G. Swan, Consulting Engineer, of Vancouver, and R. G. Swan, Civil Engineer, of Montreal West.

The funeral service was held at 2 p.m. on Saturday, at Dominion-Douglas United Church, The Boulevard, Westmount, and was conducted by Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, assisted by Rev. William Munroe, D. D.

Attending the service were many officials of the Shawinigan Water and Power Company; members of the Session of Dominion-Douglas Church; representatives of the Engineering Institute of Canada; the Worshipful Master and Past Masters of University Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of which Mr. Challies is a member; representatives of the University of Toronto Alumni, Montreal Branch; the University Club, Royal Montreal Golf Club, the Quebec Power Company, and the St. Maurice Power Corporation; and a large number of prominent business men and corporation executives from Montreal and other centres.

Interment was made in Mount Royal Cemetery, Montreal.

Mr. Challies is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Challies, former well-known citizens of Winchester. To him and members of his family, the Press joins with his many friends in this district, in expressing its sincere sympathy in the loss of a beloved wife and mother.

Mr. John Robertson Died Very Suddenly

Mr. John Robertson, well-known resident of this place, died Friday evening, while visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Marcell, Chesterville. He had been in poor health for several months but was able to be around until about an hour before his passing.

Born at Cardinal, 73 years ago, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson.

During the earlier part of his life he operated an undertaking business at Cardinal. Following a fire which destroyed his home and business in that village, he came to Winchester, where he had lived since. He was married to Miss Alzina Bilow, 45 years ago. She died in 1936.

Mr. Robertson was one of the district's most highly respected citizens and his passing will be regretted by a wide circle of friends.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Marcell, Chesterville, and Mrs. Osborne Summers, Massena, N.Y.; two sons, Albert Robertson, of Ottawa, and Robert Robertson, of Winchester. He was the last member of his family.

The funeral was held from the residence of his daughter on Sunday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. D. W. Summers, pastor of the local Wesleyan Methodist Church.

Interment was made in the family plot at Maple Ridge cemetery. Many beautiful floral offerings testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Three Star Imperial Entertainers Present Fine Program In Winchester

Those who were fortunate enough to gain admittance to the local town hall on Tuesday evening, were given a real treat in the way of entertainment, when the "3 Star Imperial Entertainers" presented a program, under the caption of "A Sure Cure For the Blues," and it was all of that.

The troupe, which consists of a number of talented artists from the professional ranks of Canadian Entertainers, is on a good-will tour, on behalf of the Imperial Oil Company, of Canada. Their appearance on the local stage was sponsored by the following dealers in Imperial Products: Paul Sanders, district agent; Lannin's Garage, Clarence Deeks' Garage and Thos. Brown's Store.

The entertainment was presented free of charge, in appreciation of the patronage given to Imperial Oils and Gasolines. It was all entertainment, the only reference being made to the Imperial products was during the opening and closing choral numbers.

The program opened with "O Canada," after which Reeve T. O. Keyes welcomed the entertainers to Winchester, and introduced the Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Roy Barry. From then, and for a full hour and a half, it was one round of applause after another. Music, humor, novelty acts, some clever impersonating and a "Charlie McCarthy" act, proved to be a delight to a crowd that taxed the capacity of the old town hall.

After the excellent performance, all were agreed that "if Imperial Products prove to be as satisfactory as the "3 Star Imperial Entertainers,'" there can be little fault with them.

Newly Married Couple Honoured By Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gibson were guests of honour at a reception, held at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson, Melvin Settlement, on Monday evening, when over 50 neighbors and friends assembled to congratulate them on their recent marriage. The affair was arranged by Messrs. Morley Shortt, Willis Robinson and Donald Edgerton.

During the evening an address was read by Willis Robinson, while the presentation of a bridge lamp, electric toaster and kitchen stool was made, on behalf of those present, by Morley Shortt and Don Edgerton.

Mr. Gibson replied to the address and expressed appreciation on behalf of himself and his wife, the former Miss Hazel Porteous, for the beautiful gifts.

Following a program of music and social intercourse, dainty refreshments were served by Mesdames Ollie Summers, Herbert Gibson and T. Edgerton and the Misses Doris and Dorothy Annable.

South Mountain Fair Was Largely Attended

Mountain Township Agricultural Society was favoured with ideal weather for staging its 47 annual exhibition at South Mountain on Thursday and Friday last, and as a result the Fair was well attended.

A feature of the second day was a program of light harness racing, which provided some close competition.

Citizen Columnist Praises Winchester

(R. A. J. in Ottawa Citizen)

A motion picture company has been making outdoor scenes depicting "Country Life in Canada," and some of them were made recently in Winchester, regarded pretty generally as a typical Canadian village. It is all of that, in fact there are few communities in the countryside hereabout where greater pride is manifested in the artistic and cultural appearance of the homes, the lawns, boulevards and flower-strewn gardens.

And besides all of this there is the classic form of Reeve T. O. Keyes, whose especial artistry runs to roses and tulips, of Councillor Christie with his family background, or the Winchester band in the village square, and one spot in the picture might be reserved for a moving scene of Hy. Bessin and J. W. Ault in the act of laying that gentleman's wager on the outcome of the next federal election.

Likewise if the picture makers would but extend their focus a bit they might with rare reason, include a glimpse of Piety Hill or of Warden Robert Bryan and his municipal council in action over in Mountain. Andrew Broder and the Beaches and Sweets and a lot of other old-timers gave to Winchester a bizarre and beautiful background, one that time seems never to dim.

Local Centurians Will Support Red Cross Work

The first autumn Luncheon Meeting of the local 100 Club was held in Hotel Winchester on Friday evening last. The guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. R. F. Smith, pastor of Elma United Church. He was introduced by the president, Centurian Fred Cass, and gave an interesting talk on "Philately."

Mr. Smith spoke as an authority on stamp-collecting, he having a personal collection of several thousand stamps.

During the evening, a sing-song was conducted by Centurian Chester Timmins, with Mrs. Wm. Hitsman, as accompanist.

In a prize boost, conducted by Centurian Albert Johnston, on behalf of Melvin's Service Station, the prize winners were Centurians W. J. Cass and W. A. Rowat. The prizes were a free car wash for each

In a report on the recent 100 Club Sports Day, the Secretary, Centurian Alex Davidson, announced that the next proceeds were well over $100.00.

The Club decided to donate money to all local patriotic funds, also to make the initial grant to the Red Cross Society, when the branch is organized here.

At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of thanks, moved and seconded by Centurians Walter Moffatt and T. J. Hawkins, was extended to the speaker of the evening.

NEWSPAPERMAN DIES

Mr. Weston Walter Walker, vice president of the Perth Courier Publishing Company, passed away at Kingston General Hospital on Monday. He was born at London, Ont., 43 years ago, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walker. Besides his wife (formerly Miss Hazel Ringer, of Smith Falls), and his parents, he is survived by two sons, two sisters, Mrs. W. W. Clement, Perth, and Mrs. H. G. Carlton, Norwood. N. Y., and one brother, Murray Walker, of Potsdam, N Y.

Local People Injured When Auto Ditched

When the car, in which they were riding, turned over into a ditch at a curve in the highway, one mile east of Kemptville, on Saturday evening last, several young people from Winchester suffered minor injuries. The driver of the car was Mahlon McIntosh. The other occupants were Misses Evelyn McVey and Edna Holmes, Cecil Strader, Gordon Strader and Emerson Lilco. Miss McVey suffered a fractured wrist and minor bruises; the driver of the car had his shoulder badly dislocated and was also severely bruised about the body; Emerson Lilco, who is an Ottawa boy, received a bad laceration in his arm which required several stitches; the other occupants suffered minor lacerations and bruises. All were taken to the office of Dr. O. F. Beamish, at Kemptville, where they received medical attention.

On Saturday afternoon the party of young people had motored to Ottawa, and were returning to Winchester via Kemptville, when the accident occurred about 11 p.m. Emerson Lilco, of Ottawa, was accompanying them to spend Sunday with his friend, Gordon Strader.

Not realizing that the curve, east of Kemptville was so sharp, the driver of the car turned too wide and the auto rolled down the steep embankment and turned completely over in the ditch, narrowly missing a telephone pole. Fortunately the car was travelling slow at the time, otherwise the injuries to the occupants would have been much more severe. The car was badly damaged and was towed to Winchester by Melvin's Service Truck.

Traffic Officer L. McGillvary, of Kemptville, investigated.

On Sunday morning, following the accident, Miss McVey was taken to the office of Dr. C. J. Locke for further treatment, while Mahlon McIntosh underwent an X-ray examination at an Ottawa hospital, to determine the extent of the injury to his shoulder.

Williamsburg Threatened By Second Fire Thursday

For the second time during the week, fire broke out in Williamsburg on Thursday afternoon last, this time in Locksley Hall. About 3 o'clock residents were again startled by the cry of "Fire" and the blowing of the siren. Telephones became busy summoning help from the countryside, as a strong wind from the south-west was blowing, but early discovery by occupants of the kitchen, and quick action brought the fire under control. The fire started in the kitchen of the Hall, a large frame hotel. An old-fashioned range, located on the floor, was used for cooking. The grates had dropped and burned through the floor, starting fire underneath the kitchen before it was discovered.

The fire-fighters were able to confine the fire to the kitchen and finally brought it under control. Had this not been possible this fire might have been more disastrous than the one which swept a large part of the business section the previous Sunday morning.

DIED

At South Mountain this morning, Mrs. David Currie, in her 85th year. The funeral will be held at 1.30 p.m. on Saturday, with service in the Presbyterian Church, South Mountain Interment will be made at Crysler Cemetery. The late Mrs. Currie is the mother of Mrs Leroy Berry, South Mountain

OPINION VS. OPINION

A few days ago we read, in the Ottawa Journal, an interesting letter, written by Madame Piney Hertieau, a former well-known citizen of Winchester, now residing in Ottawa. Opinions expressed in the letter are quite timely, and we feel that readers of the Press, many of whom are personally acquainted with the writer, would enjoy reading Madame Heriteau's views on the present war situation. Here is what she wrote to the Journal:

"Sir:—We are or are about to be at war with Germany. She is now, or will be very soon, our acknowledged enemy. The purpose of this war, as I understand it, is to synthetize the high moral standards of British idealism. Such being the high purpose of this conflict; let us keep to these ideals and treat our enemies with courtesy and chivalry.

Why such bitterness and scathing hatred in the Canadian newspapers? I for one cannot see that attitude compatible with the purpose of this conflict. Are you going to try to convince me, or anyone else, that the whole German people are blind and following a madman? That's absurd.

Herr Hitler has some qualities—must have, every one has. I believe him to be a creative genius. Had he been an artist, writer, poet, musician or sculptor, he would have revolutionized his art—the world would have been at his feet. Instead, by force of circumstances he was unable to follow that expression of his personality (that of a painter). He has made mistakes and will make more mistakes. All make mistakes, even here in Canada the greatest personalities have made mistakes, but the German press has not, as far as I know, attacked the Canadian people because of these mistakes.

I have lived in Germany and in Canada, the land of my birth, and have right now my only two sons fighting in the French army at the Maginot Line for this British and French ideal. I presume, therefore, that I have the right to do a little thinking on this subject. Canada is about to enter the fight on their side, but why not let us start forthwith and measure up to this high ideal by eliminating a lot of unnecessary padding about the war and confine ourselves to factual information? Otherwise the German people will wonder where our idealism starts and where it ends."

A day or so after the above letter was published, the Ottawa Journal commented on it in an editorial which follows:—

"Are you going to try and convince me, or anyone else, that the whole German people are blind and following a madman? That's absurd?"—So writes a local correspondent to The Journal, in a letter published Saturday. Hitler, she holds, has his great and good points; and by inference, the German nation is excusable.

"We submit that a person may have good and great points yet be a madman. Asylums for the insane are full of people who have good points in many respects, yet in one or more respects are mad as March hares. We do not think anyone but a madman would deliberately plunge the world unnecessarily into a war which must cost millions of lives—and so we think Hitler is a madman; and we think it would be well if others felt so convinced, sufficiently to bring Hitler's career to a stop.

"Nor do we acquit the majority of the German people of complicity in Hitler's madness; because there has been so much of it and they have supported it. From the doctrines preached in Mein Kampf; from the murder of Dolfuss, the Austrian Chancellor, by German Nazis, unrepudiated and unpunished; from the blood purge of Hitler's former colleagues in Germany; from the rape of Czecho-Slovakia after lies to Chamberlain; from the barbarity of the expulsion of the Jews; from the onslaught on Poland—from this bloody and brutal story spread over years, the German nation is not to be exonerated as free from responsibility for it—free from blame, condemnation and contempt, seeing that they have in the main not only tolerated but approved of it."

Evidently the editor of the Journal misinterpreted Madame Heriteau's letter to a certain extent, because she sent a further communication to the Journal, which was published last Thursday. Here it is:

"Sir:—You referred to a portion of my letter of September 9 in your editorial of last night. I can assure you that I have no quarrel with your finding Herr Hitler mad intermittently. With magnanimity you mitigate the diabolical things attributed to him, by affirming that he is mad, and that shows both commiseration and mercy, and these are not evil things—but good. My point is not just there.

"I am entreating the Canadian newspapers to realize that more than ever now the composition of every edition is public opinion in embryo. My appeal is not to engender racial hatred. Let Canada, if hate she must, hate war and not peoples, and fight with grim fortitude to end wars, not suspend them.

"On the Continent when the white cliffs of Dover fade in the distance and envelope England, and Europe starts, from there to the Bosphorus racial hatred permeates the very air. On this North American continent what a difference! These same varied races mingle in peace and good-will. These are good things and are to be nurtured that good and not evil may prevail.

"Do not let disorder enter these homes and minds while we try to put order in other homes and minds.....

"What a stupendous role in this modern crusade the daily newspapers play. Would you have that role of less virtue here than your objective there. War fever and war fervor are poor counsellors—war forbearance and war endurance are much wiser and last longer.....and we will have to last longer. The unexpected contradictions of all logic are frequently just around the corner. Are we not already bewildered at certain things that have not yet at least, happened?"

"The ideals expressed in these thoughts I leave with great confidence in your safe keeping."

* * * *

Madame Heriteau, as a great many people in Winchester know, is a well-educated lady, and, no doubt will respect her opinions, as expressed in the above letter. She has travelled in Europe extensively and has mingled with both the German and French people—in fact she has resided in both countries and knows, probably better than most newspaper editors, just what is in the minds of the average German.

The Press believes that anyone has the right to express his or her opinions, but in this case we do not wholly agree with the substance of Madame Heriteau's first letter to the Journal, thus we feel justified in recording our views in plain, everyday language which, we hope, will not cause Madame Heriteau any embarrassment.

The writer asks: "Why such bitterness and scathing hatred in the Canadian newspapers?" In a great many cases its the result of propaganda, one of the big factors of the present conflict, in trying to convince the public just who is responsible for the war, and Germany is taking no small part in this particular scheme. Propaganda has been one of Hitler's main "weapons" in his mad race for power. When there is no definite reason for one nation going to war against another, the aggressor must rely on propaganda to create a bitter feeling against the enemy, and that's just where propaganda has come in handy for the German Fuehrer. He has created a Ministry of Propaganda within the German Reich, mainly for the purpose of camouflaging the real reason why other nations are opposed to his tactics in building up a Greater Germany. If he ceased this campaign of propaganda, and unmuzzled the public press of Germany, his people would soon learn that the only reason they are being thrust into a war is because all democratic nations have learned that Hitler cannot be trusted. His promises, treaties and pacts are just "scraps of paper" to him. His pledged word is not worth two cents. He is the world's No. 1 Liar.

The hatred, the writer speaks of, is not directed to Germany as a whole but to Hitler and his Nazi Party. Britain has been trying to convince the German people that she has no desire to go to war against them, and that they are being betrayed by Hitler and his followers. The sooner they realize this, the better it will be, not only for Germany, but for the entire world. We cannot see where Hitler's actions demand any love on the part of Britain and France, or any other democratic nation who prefers freedom and justice to the conditions existing in those countries ruled by a dictator.

The writer goes on to point out that Hitler has some qualities. She believes him to be a creative genius. He has some qualities, one of his chief ambitions is to rule the universe. He may even be a creative genius, but this genius is for evil—there are both kinds, good and bad. Many of those men engaged in the underworld rackets are geniuses. Their systems of robbing banks, committing murders, etc., are uncanny. This is the class in which we place Hitler.

The correspondent continues to say that if Hitler had been an artist, writer, poet, musician or sculptor, he would have revolutionized his art—the world would have been at his feet. That is quite possible, but unfortunately, Hitler was not a genius along those lines. He was a ditch-digger, a rough painter and a former convict. His education is very limited, and from his actions to date, we would say his brain lacks development. He is a maniac, pure and simple, and time will bear us out in this statement.

As the quotation goes on to say: "He has made mistakes and will make more mistakes." From our point of view he has made his biggest mistake in attacking Poland, and unless we fail in our efforts to prosecute this war to a finish, he has made his last mistake. It's true we all make mistakes, even here in Canada, but we have made no mistakes that affect Germany in the same sense that Hitler's mistakes have affected the British Empire (and Canada is a part of the Empire). Therefore, the German press would have no reason to attack Canada.

Surely the writer of the above letter does not conscientiously believe that Hitler is justified in carrying out his military campaigns against these smaller European powers, without Britain and France making any effort to stop him. She is a Canadian and, no doubt, one of staunch loyalty—she has two sons serving with the French forces on the Maginot line.

As the writer says, the purpose of this war, as she understands it, is to synthetize the high moral standards of British idealism. That is partly the reason, but our chief objective is to defeat a growing menace which threatens true democracy, as it is known in most of the civilized countries (Russia, Italy and Japan excepted). At the present time Hitler and his Nazi party are that menace, and they represent Germany in this war.

In order to achieve our ambitions in the present war, it may be necessary to resort to some of the deplorable tactics used by the enemy, whether it is based on British idealism or not. Hitler must be defeated, regardless of what the average German thinks of our idealism. As long as he is given a free hand, and continues to feed his fellow-Germans with propaganda, they will never know what British Idealism stands for.

"The unnecessary padding about the war and confining ourselves to factual information," will not create a worse impression in Germany than has already been created by the untruthful stories printed in the controlled press of that country, in an endeavour to stir up a feeling of hatred toward the French and British nations.

Canadian newspapers will only print the facts as supplied to them by the foreign news agencies. Sometimes it is necessary to do a little padding on the war news to add interest to the story, but most editors use discretion when this is undertaken. As for editorial comment, that's a newspaper's privilege. If the reader doesn't agree with the opinions expressed, that's his business, and it's O.K. with the editorial writer. We have a free press in Canada and likewise individuals are free to express their opinions. This is not the case in Germany under the iron rule of Hitler—all the newspapers in that country print is what the dictator and his associates give them, and we venture to say that if the writer of the above letter was living in Germnay today, and was forced to read German newspapers, she would find that her criticism of our Canadian newspapers, as a whole, was unjust. At least that is our opinion, and we read a good number of newspapers, both in the daily and weekly class.

THE MAN WHO SOLD HOT DOGS

A subscriber of the Bowmanville Statesman told the editor of that excellent newspaper a story, well worth passing on. Here it is.

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and he sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no daily newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs. He put signs up on the highway telling how good they were. He stood on the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, mister?" And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? Haven't you been reading the newspapers? There's a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse. Everything's going to pot."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know." So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son," the father said to the boy. "We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

ANOTHER DREAM COME TRUE

For many years the business of using the sun's ray for practical heating purposes has been a dream. It has been done in laboratory form, and expositions have often showed experimental plants that worked.

Now it has come to practical reality. In Miami, Fla., a U.S.H.A. housing project for 345 families, the "Edison Courts" will be equipped with solar hot-water heaters. If not the first of their kind, they are probably the first installed on any such large scale.

On each roof will be a shallow, glass-covered box, through which run copper pipes.

The sun's rays will heat the water to 180 degrees, whereupon it will be drawn off and held in an insulated tank, wherein it will lose less than 7 degrees in 24 hours.

The cost of installation is greater than that of ordinary heaters, but the cost of running them should be nil. Plans are under way to install them in other cities, for they are practical, the engineers say, anywhere.

Thus the sun, always a good friend of man, is bent to yet another task in his service.

IS UNITED STATES DEMOCRACY SAFE?

In an address to the American Republic a few days ago, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the noted aviator, made a strong appeal, urging the United States to keep out of the present European conflict. He said: "If we enter fighting for democracy abroad, we may end by losing it at home. We must not be misguided by this foreign propaganda to the effect that our frontiers lie in Europe. One need only glance at a map to see where our true frontiers lie. What more could we ask than the Atlantic Ocean on the East and the Pacific on the West.....An ocean is a formidable barrier even for modern aircraft."

Col. Lindbergh may be right, but just how long will democracy be safe on the American continent, if it is destroyed in the democratic countries of Europe? We cannot imagine the United States being immune to attack at some future time, if Britain and France should happen to lose their stronghold in Europe, and power on the seas. The North American continent is the envy of more than one of the great European Powers, and who knows but that some day a combination of these powers may attack the U. S. A. and may even prove to be more effective offensively than our Southern neighbours are defensively—then what would be the outcome? Just at present there is no possibility of such a scheme being perpetrated by foreign nations—Britain and France providing the obstacle for such an undertaking. With this thought in mind, we would say that on the security of Great Britain and her allies depends the security of the U. S. A.

If our American cousins appreciate the ideals of Democracy, it would appear to us that they should be just as ready to defend them as Great Britain and France. It is true that, geographically, the frontiers of the U. S. A. do not lie in Europe, but time may prove that the first line of defence for America's democracy is far beyond her borders, just as Great Britain's and Canada's are.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Whether it's the heat of the war having an effect on Canada's climate, or not, we cannot say—but last Friday and Saturday were unusually hot for the middle of September. With the mercury hovering around 90 degrees, it was typical midsummer weather.

The emergency session of Parliament, which concluded last week, has proven that much can be accomplished in a short time. If the regular sessions of Parliament were as short and snappy as the last emergency sitting, think of the money that could be saved in the cost of government. Traditional procedure and red tape are expensive, to say the least.

As the days come and go, and as new developments take place in Europe, we are more convinced than ever that the present war is not going to be won or lost in a short time. With Russia and Italy awaiting some excuse to jump into the fray, and Japan being kept within the enemy orbit, Britain and France may have a big job ahead of them....but we have faith that they can weather the storm.

There is little fault to be found with Canada's War Budget, as announced last week. It takes a whole lot of money to finance a war, and that money has to be raised some way. The additional tax levied on beer, liquors, cigarettes and tobaccos were quite in order. They are more or less luxuries, although quite as necessary as tea or coffee to the man with the drinking or smoking habit.

And now Russia has swallowed Hitler's bait—hook, line and sinker. Like the lion and the mouse, she has invaded war-stricken Poland from the East—all of which substantiates the fact that "revolutionary governments have a foreign policy that is, in reality, no policy at all." With a Japanese-Russian non-aggression pact signed, it will be interesting to note what is really at the bottom of this aggressive move on Russia's part.

It has often been said that, "a country is just as strong as its government." In other words, if a government is weak and is lacking in sound policies, the country will reflect such weakness. This fact should be given special consideration by our Canadian statesmen, now that Canada is implicated in another war. If there ever was a time when "loyalty to party" should be sacrificed for that more important duty "loyalty to country," that time is the present.

Last week three young men from Winchester went to Ottawa to enlist in the Engineers. They were all turned down on minor physical defects. From outside appearances, the young men in question appeared to be in excellent physical condition. At the present time, however, recruits joining the Canadian Active Service Force are required to pass a very stiff medical examination and, as a contemporary points out, this should make the Canadian Corps one of the most physically fit fighting forces in the world.

The Red Cross Society, which was so active and did so much to relieve stress and suffering during the Great War, is again being organized from coast to coast. In the near future a branch will be formed in Winchester, and we are glad to note that both the Women's Institute and the 100 Club have pledged their financial and moral support to the work of this Society. Those citizens who are unable to serve their country in any other way, will always have the opportunity of displaying their loyalty by entering into the spirit of, and upholding the aims and objects of the Red Cross Society.

Some of the United States news commentators, speaking over the air, cannot say anything bad enough about Hitler and his war of aggression, but under no circumstances do they think that the United States should interfere, or take any action to stamp out this evil. One newscaster, who may be heard each Sunday evening at 9.30 o'clock, has inaugurated a special feature, which he calls "debunking propaganda." It is directed against Britain and her allies as well as the other belligerents. Where he gets the facts to offset the news which he "labels propaganda," is a mystery to most of us. It sounds like more propaganda to, what he says, debunk progapanda—if you get what we mean.

Turn your troubles inside out, and maybe you will find—something good; for like the clouds, they're often silver-lined.....Have you a problem? Don't despair with tears and sighs. Some day it may prove to be a blessing in disguise.

Have you got a sorrow or a secret tragedy? Do not lose your faith. Time will enable you to see—the guidance and the sure protection of an unseen hand. Dare we doubt Him in the things we do not understand?

Life is doublesided; there's a wrong side and a right; a sad side and a happy side; a black side and a bright..... So if things look dark to you just change your thoughts about. Life will look quite different if you turn it best side out.—Patience Strong.

THE POET'S CORNER

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

I cannot sweep the corners of the earth,
And keep them clean
I only have a little house to scrub,
Where willows lean.

The tumult and disorder of the world
Strike at my heart,
Yet for the stirring of a brew that heals
I have no art.

But if I keep my own hearth free from blight,
My small world sure,
There is one altar in the universe
That will endure.

—Anne Campbell.

BUSY MAN'S NOTION

If I had nothing on earth to do,
I fancy with line and hook
I'd hasten down for an hour or two
To fish in a silver brook.

I'd look at the white clouds sailing by
And think them a pretty sight,
I'd paint on the canvas of the sky
My visions of true deilght.

I'd friendly be with the willow trees
And swallow and singing wren,
I'd let my cramped soul stretch at ease
Away from the haunts of men.

I think such things I should surely do
If never a task had I,
But I must labor the morning through
Nor pause to stare at the sky.

Yet one I know has no work to do,
A shirker from head to toes!
He idles the useful mornings through
And never he fishing goes!

Shower For Bride-To-Be

A charmingly arranged kitchen shower was held in the United church hall, Morewood, on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 16th, at 2 p.m., in honour of Miss Gladys Swerdfeger, one of this month's brides. The Hall was beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers and fall flowers. Contests were enjoyed by all, led by Miss Mildred McLaughlin. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Archie Coulthart, and the bride-to-be was escorted to the platform. Miss Mildred McLaughlin then read a short address while Mrs. Hume McConnell presented her with a lovely kitchen set of cream and red enamelware, and other beautiful gifts. Miss Swerdfeger then thanked all present for the splendid gifts. All joined in singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow."

Refreshments were served and a social hour spent. The hostesses were Miss Mildred McLaughlin, Mrs. Hume McConnell, Mrs. Archie Coulthart. All those present signed the bride's book.

Mountain Tp. Couple Honoured By Friends

On Thursday evening last, Sept. 14th, about 40 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. A. Bellinger, Mountain Township, surprised them by assembling at their home to honor them on their Silver Wedding Anniversary.

The evening was spent in games and social intercourse. At about 10 o'clock Mrs. Russell Crowder read the following address, and on behalf of the friends and neighbors, the bride and groom of 25 years ago were presented with a beautiful basket of flowers by Lois Rennick, a guest book designed for the occasion by Lorne Elliott, and silver cutlery by Wilfred Crowder, also several other pieces of silver on behalf of Ottawa friends, by Miss Velma Nichol.

The address follows:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Bellinger:—

We, a few of your friends and neighbors, have gathered here in your home this evening to extend to you our best wishes and heartiest congratulations on this, your 25th Wedding Anniversary.

We could not let this happy occasion pass without expressing our joy and pleasure in having such friends as you have proved yourselves to be during these years.

You have always been willing to cooperate and help in any way, and always on hand when help was needed.

There have been many changes since the day you became man and wife—the old has given place to the new in many ways, but there are a few abiding things two of which are love and friendship.

There have been cloudy days as well as bright, but strength has been given for every task and it takes the clouds to make the sun more perfect.

We pray God's richest blessing will be on you and your household and may the future be blest with health and happiness.

We ask you to accept this token of our love and esteem with a prayer that God will continue to abundantly bless you both.

Signed on behalf of your Neighbors.

Although completely taken by surprise, the bride and groom both expressed their thanks and appreciation for the honor bestowed on them, and all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

The bride was asked to cut the wedding cake (which was also a surprise) and a dainty lunch was then served by Mesdames Elliott, McGuff, Rennick and Crowder. This brought a very happy event to a close.

ROSEVERE MISSION BAND

The September meeting of the Rosevere Mission Band was held in the United Church Sunday School rooms on Wednesday afternoon last. Miss Joyce Crawford, Band president, led the meeting, with Joy Levere as secretary. The worship service was conducted by the Superintendent, Mrs. W. J. Stewart. Mrs. F. Armstrong, as treasurer, reported $25.00 raised to date. The study programme was the Province of Saskatchewan, the members dividing into older and younger groups. An interesting item was the presentation of the certificate for the Standard of Recognition, by Mrs. F. Armstrong, and received by Doris Armstrong on behalf of the members. Reports were submitted as follows: World Friends, Norma Armstrong; Strangers, Velma Johnston; Corresponding Secretary, Joy Levere. Plans were made for the sale of Christmas cards to begin in October.

The meeting closed with an activity period, followed by the closing prayer.

Beauty for YOU

The Secrets of Good Looks by Barbara Lynn.

SETTING-UP EXERCISES

Readers continually ask for some simple setting-up exercises that can be done in odd moments. Here, then, are some that will help to make you supple and keep you fit.

Before you get out of bed in the morning, do this routine five times: stretch body out with arms out at sides. Lift both legs simultaneously as high as you can, even, if you can, over your head; then down again, slowly.

Here is a good stretching exercise that helps to develop the bust and improves the posture and figure generally. Stand with feet slightly apart, arms down at sides. Stretch arms in front up and over het head slowly as far as you can, without straining, then slowly return to original position. Repeat this several times.

To slim hips and waist and improve general line of figure: (A) Stand with feet slightly apart, abdomen in, seat well down, fingers interlaced and raised high over head, arms making a frame for the face. Keep face framed by arms throughout exercise, and body absolutely steady from waist down. (B) Swing forward till body and arms are horizontal. Swing body round to right side and travel upwards till arms are over head once more. (C) Turn to the left and swing the body down and round till body and arms are once again horizontal, as in B.

My new booklet on Beauty Care contains other interesting exercises as well as helpful advice on most beauty subjects. Send four one-cent stamps for your copy, and don't hesitate to ask about your own personal beauty problems. All letters are confidential. Germany's Ground Defences Are Weak R. A. F. Fliers Say

Aviation experts asserted last week that Royal Air Force leaflet raids over Germany had indicated most strongly that Germany's ground defences, such as detectors, searchlights and anti-aircraft batteries were at present "appalling."

Men taking part in the raids were quoted by informants as asserting that on not a single occasion did German searchlights operate. This, the experts said, was an indication that the German detector apparatus did not register the approach of British planes or the fact that they were over head. Further, they asserted, not until the British anti-Hitler leaflets fluttered to the ground did the ground defences become active.

Then, it was asserted, the German searchlights were so ineffective that it was a "joke," and anti-aircraft batteries were apparently non-existent because there was no attempt at a barrage.

One aviator who took part in a leaflet raid over Cassel, Germany, said:

"We approached the city at a tremendous height and we may not have been heard, but I know for a fact that during blackout tests in Britain before the war, no matter how high we approached the British coast, ground detectors picked us up and searchlights operated at once.

"I feel sure that no aircraft could approach the British coast without being detected, but it is just a cinch to night-raid Germany as present. I didn't think Germany was behind us in the matter of effective detectors, but evidently German detectors are the bunk right now."

King George V Had One Fad, He Made His Own Tea

A dining car inspector who served three kings in Britain, half a dozen royal visitors from abroad, and every Prime Minister from Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman to Mr. Chamberlain, has just retired from the L.M.S.

Mr. F. Wildman, of Chaplin road, Wembley, served the company 45 years and travelled 4,000,000 miles.

He waited on King George V many times and in 1935 the King presented him with the Royal Victorian medal in silver.

In one of Mr. Wildman's old diaries I saw this inscription, the ink pale with age:

"Tuesday to Sunday. His Majesty King George V; London to Fleet.

"Presented to His Majesty, Saturday, June 17, 1916, Dalmeny, Edinburgh.

"Received pin from His Majesty's own hand."

Several times Mr. Wildman accompanied the King on visits to the Grand Fleet, sometimes for a week at a time. When the King was injured by a fall from his horse in France in 1915, Mr. Wildman attended him in the hospital train from Dover to London.

Shah's Huge Appetite.

He treasures a tie-pin, cuff links, watch and cigaret case presented to him by King George and Queen Mary.

King George ate little and preferred plain food.

His one fad was that he would make his own tea, says Mr. Wildman. He brought his own caddy with a special brand of China tea. Mr. Wildman would put a spirit kettle on the table, leaving the King to brew the tea for himself and the Queen.

The Duke of Windsor used to mix his own cocktails; sometimes he would drop into the kitchen on the royal train for a smoke and a chat.

Mr. Wildman remembers the Shah of Persia as one of the biggest eaters who ever sat down to eat in a train.

He was very particular what food he ate, but he took it for granted that anything brought into the dining car was meant for him.

When President Wilson made his trip through England on his way to Versailles, Mr. Wildman escorted him for three days to Carlisle and Manchester.

UNITED CHURCH W. M. S.

The September meeting, held last Thursday afternoon, was presided over by Mrs. F. F. Davidson, who conducted the opening devotions with Mrs. N. W. Beach assisting in prayer. The minutes were read and taken by Mrs. W. S. Atchison, owing to the absence of the secretary.

The Autumn Thank-offering will be held Sunday, October 15th, at 7.30 p.m. with Mrs. Nichol of Ottawa, as guest speaker.

Reports were given by the Treasurer and Cor. Secretary. The latter had sent a card of congratulations and had received two letters of appreciation.

Community Friendship was reported by Mrs. E. Merkley, showing 11 bouquets and 1 spray sent, and 55 calls made on sick and shut-ins.

In reporting for Temperance, Mrs. Wallace read the September item from a new leaflet entitled "Why Abstain?"

It was decided to order 4 of the new Study Books, "Moving Millions." The offerings were taken by Mrs. L. D. Johnston and Mrs. O. Wallace.

A quilt, made by the Harmony ladies, was exhibited by Mrs. P. Durant, and offered for sale in order to help the Harmony Branch in their givings. As they had set no price, Mrs. Durant was instructed to confer with them about it. The quilt is well made of good material and the quilting is also first class.

The programme, which was in charge of Mrs. O. Wallace, began with the playing of quiet music on the piano by Mrs. Mabel Allison; a minute of silent prayer was observed, followed with prayer by Mrs. Wallace and the singing of a hymn. Portions of Amos were read and explained by Mrs. Wallace. Mrs. L. D. Johnston led in prayer, after which a review of the past year's work by our Canadian W M. S. was given by Miss Ettie Rennie and Mrs. K. Helmer. Glimpses were given of our 350 missionaries, near and far, stressing particularly the work of those serving on the frontiers of Canadian life.

In a very earnest message Mrs. Wallace gave a preview of our work for the winter months. As we represent Christ, we should lift Him up to those of other races in our midst, and also to the many here in Winchester who apparently take no interest in Christianity. Some of the ladies related experiences of how a kindness shown had been greatly appreciated by the stranger within our gates. Mrs. Wallace made reference to India, which we study next. A hymn was sung and the closing prayer given by Mrs. Wallace.

THE UNITED CHURCH

The Rally Service on Sunday morning was well attended by members from the surrounding Sunday Schools. Mr. Eldon Fennell, Supt. of the Winchester Sunday school, presided throughout for the carrying out of the programme, the theme of which was "The Sunday School Moves Forward." Miss Laura Dukelow told the story of "The Spirit of the Great Chief," and Rev. W. S. Atchison spoke on "The Greatest Investment in Life," urging the investment of time, money, and ourselves in the work of God's Kingdom. The aim of a Sunday School teacher should be to strive for the commitment of life to Jesus Christ. Much depends on leaders of whom there is an urgent need. Prayer, the study of God's word, and attendance at public services, were given as helps in the Christian life. The pastor conveyed the thanks of the Church to the voluntary workers of the Sunday School.

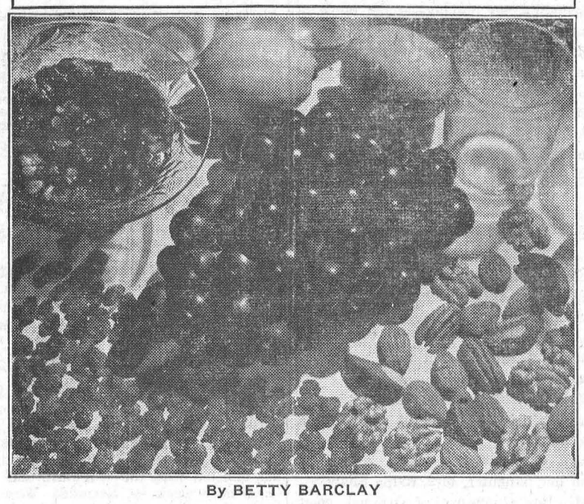
The impressive ceremony of baptism was conducted when the following children were baptized by Rev. W. S. Atchison:—Patricia Gail, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lannin; Helen Audrey, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Docksteader; William Samuel, infant son of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Sherwood.

The morning offering was taken by Raymond Annable, Edwin Boyd, Hartley Allison and Ray Lannin.

Sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson in their bereavements was expressed by Rev. W. S. Atchison on behalf of the congregation.

The evening service opened with the singing of the National Anthem. From Ezek. 35:5 a challenge for self-examination was given in the pastor's earnest message on "The Spirit of Militarism," which, he said, is the spirit of crushing the weak, when the strong are exhorted in God's word to bear the infirmities of the weak. We should let the world know where we stand, whether we are for Christ or against Him. We owe Him a great debt. Rev. Dr. Woodside's message of encouragement was read by the pastor in closing.

Foolproof Grape Spreads



By BETTY BARCLAY

Today's column is dedicated to every woman who wants to celebrate grape season with a cupboardful of perfect spreads! For all you need to put the jell in jelly is a recipe that assures the correct balance of pectin, sugar, and acid.

Excellent examples of the new, foolproof directions are these for Concord grape jelly and butter. Not only do they turn out spreads with extra good flavor, but the half-minute boil means two-thirds more glasses into the bargain.

Be sure to follow directions exactly, as they were specially developed for this particular fruit:

Concord Grape Jelly and Butter

To prepare fruit, stem about 5 pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add ½ cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 5 minutes. Separate juice from pulp by placing hot fruit in 2-quart sieve. For Jelly: Run enough juice through a double layer of cheesecloth held in a small sieve to obtain 4 cups of strained juice. For Butter: Rub grapes, from which juice has drained, through sieve to obtain 4½ cups pulp. Use the excess juice or water, if necessary, to fill up last ½ cup.

Concord Grape Jelly
(Makes about 11 medium glasses)
4 cups juice
7½ cups sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin

Measure sugar and juice, prepared as above, into large saucepan and mix.

Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute.

Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once.

Concord Grape Butter
4½ cups pulp
7 cups sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin

Measure sugar and grape pulp, prepared as above, into large kettle. Mix well.

Bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute.

Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 11 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Ripe Grape Conserve

There isn't space in my column to give the recipe for that extra-delicious spread shown in the picture — but directions are included in Alice Blake's little cook-booklet, "Jelly Shelf Classics." She'll be glad to send you a free copy if you write her at the National Jellymaking Institute, Dept. G, 444 Madison Avenue, New York City.

OBITUARY

LATE MISS NINA BROWN

The death occurred in a Cornwall hospital on Saturday, September 16, of Miss Nina Alice Brown, of Morrisburg, in her 77th year.

Miss Brown taught for nearly 20 years at the School for the Deaf in Belleville, and previously taught in public schools. She was an active member of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, Morrisburg.

She was born at Winchester, the daughter of the late Arthur Brown and his wife, Elizabeth Merkley. Her father, was for 50 years inspector of Dundas County Public Schools. She was a granddaughter of Rev. William Brown, Iroquois, who was a widely-known pioneer Methodist minister and who at one time occupied the pulpit of St.James Church, Montreal.

Surviving are three sisters and one brother, Mrs. G. S. Duncan, Russell; Mrs. E. S. Coones, Ottawa; Miss Sue Brown, and George Brown, both of Morrisburg

The funeral was held on Monday from her late residence. Rev. J. A. Payton, Morrisburg, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. R. D. Smith, Brockville, and Rev. Mr. Owitt, Prescott. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery, Morrisburg

Pall bearers were E. S. Coones, G. S. Duncan, Robert Gordon and James Riddell.

Among those present at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon, and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Coones, Ottawa; Dr. Edward Brown, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Keyes, Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Duncan, Russell; W. A. Brown, Aultsville.

CALL FOR TENDERS OF NEW DAIRY SCHOOL

The Deputy Minister of Public Works for Ontario, R. A. McAllister, has issued notices calling for tenders for the construction of a Dairy School building at the Kemptville Agricultural School.

The building will be a two-storey one of brick construction with a basement, and the probable location will be between the Administration building and the judging pavilion, to the south of the mechanics building.

The necessity for large quarters for the Dairy School has been known for some time, as the attendance at the course has been steadily increasing.

STORE TO RENT

The store, recently occupied by the Dainty Food Shoppe, in the Gardner Block, is now vacant and available to rent. Immediate possession. Apply to Miss Ida Gardner, Winchester.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Cleaning Fish

When cleaning fish, first dip each one in hot water for a moment, and the scales will then come off much easier and a lot quicker.

New Clothesline

Soak the new clothesline in boiling water for a half hour before using it. This will prevent it stretching and tangling, and will prolong its life.

Cleaning Tinware

To clean tinware, make a paste of powdered whiting and ammonia, olive oil or sweet oil. Dip a rag into this solution and rub the tin thoroughly. When dry, polish with a soft cloth.

Painting Hint

Be sure never to apply new paint over blistered paint. Always scrape or burn off the surface until a smooth finish is acquired, otherwise the new paint will blister just where the old did.

Water Bugs

The annoyance of water bugs can be eliminated by pouring a quantity of kerosene or a weak solution of turpentine (3 parts water to 1 part turpentine), down the drain pipe once or twice a week.

Mending Plaster.

Small nail holes and cracks in white plaster walls can be filled by patting in ordinary baking soda. It is a good idea to fill up all these holes and cracks in this manner before painting the walls.

Pear Salad.

Something different in the way of pear salad can be made as follows:—To 2 cups of sliced ripe pears take 1 cup of sliced red plums. Mix lightly together and serve with a sweet boiled dressing, lightened with a little whipped cream.

Head Lettuce.

The leaves of a head of lettuce will part in perfect condition, without tearing, if the core is cut off with a sharp knife, and then the lettuce is held under the cold-water faucet, allowing the water to run into the hole made by the knife.

Squeaky Shoes.

Shoes that have developed an annoying squeak can be treated in the following manner, provided they are black: Place the shoes in a basin and pour in enough linseed oil to cover the soles. Allow to stand until the following day and the squeak will have disappeared.

INDIA MUST KEEP ENGLISH LANGUAGE

India must continue to use the English language though it cannot be the common language of the country, according to S. Satyamurthi, deputy leader of the Congress party in the Central Assembly.

"If India is to remain in contact with the rest of the world, she must keep to the English language," he said in a speech at Madras, India, recently.

"In spite of Hitler, Mussolini, and Stalin, England will remain a great country for some time longer and English will be one of the world languages."

Satyamurthi declared. however, Hindustani was spoken and understood by two-thirds of the population and must therefore become their lingua franca.

MASSIVE STONE WALL IS PUZZLING U. S. HISTORIANS

Arkansas historians and archaeologists Little Rock, Ark., are puzzling over eories as to the origin of a massive stone wall which has been discovered in an almost inaccessbile ravine of the Ozarks.

Apparently hundreds of years old, the wall is more than 400 feet long, nine feet high, and four feet thick. It is built of huge sandstone blocks, some of which weigh four or five tons. It stretches across the ravine at the foot of a 600-foot precipice and might have served originally as a breakwater. A mountain stream flows nearby and the stone shows traces of erosion from swirling water currents.

Archaeologists, unable to find any record of mining operations in the region, were stumped. Cutting and laying of the blocks, they say, would be a sizeable job for expert masons with hoisting machinery.

Persons Holding Essential Jobs Will Be Given Exemption

Provision for exemption from military service for any person employed in the "essential services" is made in an Order-in-Council tabled in the Commons last week.

The exemptions apply to members of voluntary non-permanent forces whose civilian jobs are in the "essential services." The exemptions except them from mobilization.

Preamble to the order says that the Minister of Transport, Hon. D. D. Howe, listed these essential services as follows:

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the National Harbors Board, the Canadian National Steamships (West Indies), and Trans-Canada Air Lines, all railway companies and telegraphy companies.

New Russian Discovery May End 'Flu Menace

One war spectre, another world-wide flu epidemic, can apparently be prevented by a new kind of Russian snuff, it has been announced. It was decribed in the printed proceedings of the Third International Congress for Microbiilogy, by Dr. A. Smoridintseff, Moscow. Owing to war conditions he did not attend the congress.

Immune horse serum, a well known flu material, makes Russian snuff. This serum is a water-clear part of the blood of horses which have been artificially infected with flu. It is dried and inhaled, Dr. Smorodintseff said, one inhalation lasting 15 minutes and using about a thimbleful of powder.

It was tried on a big scale this year in Russia, during a real flu outbreak. The snuff not only mostly prevented flu, but helped to cure it. Snuff was given to 650 men exposed to flu. Only four of these caught it. But alongside them were 1,700 men also exposed, but with no snuff. Among these there were 149 cases of influenza.

Motorists May Use New Fuel, Liquid Coal

A prediction that motorists may some day drive with "liquid coal" is put forward by scientists who are preparing against the time when an emergency may compel the use of gasoline substitutes.

Dr. Francis Godwin of the Research Foundation of Armour Institute of Technology made the forecast in discussing his development of "liquid coal" which already has been used to drive a standard 1939 automobile without changes in its carburetion system.

"But when the day will come when motorists drive up to filling stations and as for a load of liquid coal is hard to say," he asserted.

"That would depend upon when the motorists drive up to filling stations and as for a load of liquid coal is hard to say," he asserted.
economics of the country demanded it,

"That would depend upon when the either because of a natural dwindling of oil reserves or because of a national emergency—such as war.

"About the time any definite prediction was made a new oil field might have been discovered, so we are not speculative as to any definite time."

Lunching At Home

Lunch at home does not need to be a makeshift affair with yesterday's leftovers. A dainty, tasty lunch which the family are pleased to be able to get home for, can be worked into a busy morning just as easily as a slap-dash meal. Take this menu for instance. Casserole of Salmon, hot biscuits, a simple green salad and fruit—it gives a new meaning to the old refrain "there's no place like home."

Casserole of Salmon

2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1 cup milk, 6 to 8 unbaked baking powder biscuits, rolled 1-4 inch thick; 1-4 teaspoon salt, dash of pper, 1 cup celery, diced; 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Combine ingredients in order given. Turn into greased casserole; bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 25 minutes, stirring mixture twice during first 10 minutes of baking. Place biscuits on top of salmon mixture after it has baked 10 minutes; return to oven, bake 12 to 15 minutes longer to bake biscuits. Serves 4.

Baking Powder Biscuits.

2 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons Baking powder, 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup of milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening; add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Roll 1-2 inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with floured biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.

Progress Of The German Reich, Step By Step, Under Hitler

In territorial expansion, rearmament, and the major points of foreign relations, National Socialist Germany has found the culmination of its policy in the war with Poland. A few of the most significant events:

Expansion

(The Saar)—Returned to the Reich after a carefuly prepared National Socialist plebiscite campaign: Jan. 13, 1935.

(Austria)—Was united with Germany under ultimatum and entry of troops: March 13, 1938.

(Sudetenland)—Incorporated in Germany with Munich agreement, but ultimate boundaries occupied by German troops exceeded scope envisaged by negotiators: Sept. 30th, 1938.

(Bohemia-Moravia)—Became a German province as the last of Czechoslovakia disappeared: March 16, 1939.

(Memel)—Under German pressure the strategic Baltic port was surrendered by Lithuania: March 22, 1939.

(Slovakia)—A German protectorate when Czechoslovakia was seized, it handed over civil powers to the German Army: Aug. 18, 1939.

Rearmament

(Disarmament Conference)—Was abandoned by Germany: Oct. 14, 1933.

(The League)—Germany resigned: Oct. 21st, 1933.

(Conscription)—reintroduced and an army of 300,000 announced, ending the restrictions of Versailles: March 16th, 1915.

(The Rhineland)—Demilitarized zones reoccupied by German troops: March 7, 1936.

(Naval Treaty)—with Britain fixed the Reich's tonnage at 35 per cent of British: June 18th, 1935: Treaty abrogated by Hitler, April 28th, 1939.

Foreign Policy

(Poland)—Hitler's signing a 10-year non-agression pact with Poland gave the Third Reich its first major diplomatic victory: January 26th, 1934. Repudiated by Herr Hitler April 28th, 1939.

(The Axis)—with Italy began with a German agreement to divide Southeast Europe into spheres of influence: October 25th, 1936.

(Anti-Comintern Pact)—between Germany and Japan pledged both to fight against Bolshevism: November 25th, 1936.

(Italy)—joined the Anti-Comintern on November 6th, 1937, made a military alliance with Germany May 22nd, 1939, but remained neutral in the German-Polish war: August 31st, 1939.

(Russia and Germany)—signed a non-aggression pact, marking the end of the Anti-Comintern: August 24th, 1939.

(Poland)—invaded by German troops September 1st, 1939.

(Britain and France)—in fulfillment of their guarantees to Poland, declared war as the Reich refused their ultimatum to withdraw the German forces: September 3rd, 1939.

(Russia)—sends troops into Poland to fight White Russians, claiming such action does not interfer with her nuetrality: September 17th, 1939.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

1.—What is the correct way to give a tip?

2.—May a fork handle rest on the table with the prongs on the edge of the plate, when not in use?

3.—What is the correct salutation when a woman telephones another woman of her own social position?

4.—What does it indicate when a person misspells five or six words in a letter?

5.—Isn't it discourteous for a motorist to drive through a funeral procession?

6.—When a woman is playing golf with a man, who should pay her caddy?

Answers

1.—A tip should be given quietly and courteously, without showing the least dipslay. One who gives a tip in a conspicuous manner invariably does so to impress those who are watching.

2.—Never. The fork should rest on the plate, the prongs pointing upwards.

3.—"Mrs. Baker?" This is Dorothy Moore.

4.—It indicates both negligence and laziness. Every desk should contain a dictionary, and it takes but a minute to consult it.

5. —Yes; he should be patient and wait, even if in a hurry.

6.—The woman should pay her own caddy.

1,500,000 People Have Visited Quints

The Dionne quintuplets, now five years and four months old, each year are proving more and more an attraction to tourists. Official estimates show that in the past four years some 1,500,000 persons viewed the childish antics in the playground of the nursery home, at Dafoe Hospital.

By the end of 1939, the number of visitors to the nursery will have risen to more than 2,000,000, according to estimates of Dr. A. R. Dafoe, personal physician to the quints since their birth May 28th, 1934. Keith Munro, business manager for Cecile, Annette, Yvonne, Emile and Marie said 500,000 each year watch them play.

The quints' playground adjoins their hospital home across the road from the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne. Visitors enter a horseshoe gallery, and watch the girls through a glass screen. The quints can hear the spectators but are unable to see them through the wire mesh inside the glass.

LIVING BEINGS MOSTLY WATER

Every living thing is dependent on water which constitutes the bulk of the plant and animal body and without it life could not exist. Its conservation in the soil is as important as it is in the camel which can take in a supply at a "filling station" to sustain it between oasis in the desert. In hot weather a cow has been known to quench her thirst with over 40 gallons of water in one day.

Fertile fields have been changed to deserts through lack of water and by wasteful methods of cultivation which exposed the surface soil to devastating winds. Conversely, desert lands have been made productive by the liberal use of artificial irrigation waters, typically exemplified in Southern California, says B. Leslie Emslie, chemist-agronomist.

From around Salinas, in the Imperial Valley, 45,000 cars of head lettuce were shipped in 1934. All orange, lemon and avocado groves are dependent on artificial supplies of water, and now supplemental nitrogen fertilizers are applied through the medium of the irrigation ditch.

The advantage of placing the readily solube nitrogen fertilizer in the irrigation water is chiefly that a much better distribution is obtained than when it is applied dry to the surface soil, and there is less loss of nitrogen. The nitrogen fertilizer is dissolved in a tank from which a pipe conveys the solution into the ditch, and the equivalent of up to 400 lbs. of ammonium sulphate per acre may be applied in this way.

What? No Frosting?

By Frances Lee Barton

MEAT without gravy, bread without butter, or cake without frosting — these are not the things that appeal.

Of course some delicious cakes are not to be frosted. As a rule, however, the frosting is desirable. Furthermore, the frosting should vary. Keep away from constant repetition and serve some new frosting that will delight. Here is one that is ideal for straight cakes, layer cakes or cup cakes:

Chocolate Mocha Frosting

2 tablespoons butter; 2¼ cups sifted confectioners' sugar; ½ teaspoon vanilla; ⅛ teaspoon salt; ½ square unsweetened chocolate, melted; 3 tablespoons strong coffee.

Cream butter; add part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add vanilla, salt, and chocolate and mix well. Add remaining sugar, alternately with coffee, until of right consistency to spread. Beat after each addition until smooth. Makes enough frosting to cover tops of two 9-inch layers, or top and sides of 8x8x2 inch cake, or about 2 dozen cup cakes.

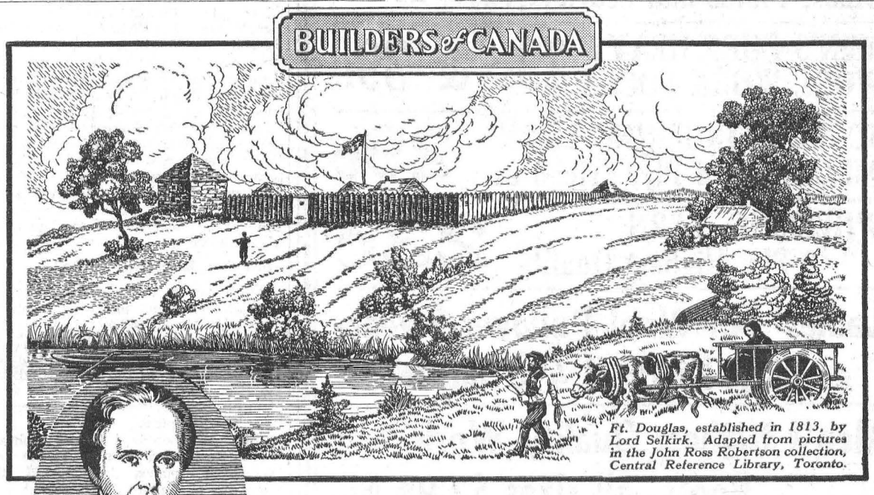
BUILDERS of CANADA



Ft. Douglas, established in 1813, by Lord Selkirk. Adapted from pictures in the John Ross Robertson collection, Central Reference Library, Toronto.

Lord Selkirk

In 1803, Lord Selkirk, the colonizer, planted his first group of sturdy Scottish Crofters in Prince Edward Island. Later in 1811 and 1812 he brought out two larger parties of colonists and established them in the valleys of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers. Ft. Douglas, pictured above, was built by him in 1813 near the present site of Winnipeg, as their headquarters.

NATION BUILDING

JUST nineteen years after Selkirk and his Red River settlers built Ft. Douglas, this Bank first opened its doors. For over a century, it has served Canada in providing the "sinews of peace" that has helped make it possible for this new country to develop into one of the foremost nations of the world.

Today, this century-old Bank is ready to co-operate with forward-looking business men and welcomes their inquiries.

Will Reside In Winchester.

Mrs. W. S. Weary, of Ottawa, has taken up residence in Winchester, and will occupy the east half of Mr. Harvey Nesbitt's house, on Victoria Street. Mrs. Weary will be welcomed by many local friends. Her husband, the late Rev. W. S. Weary, was a former rector of St. Matthias' Anglican Church.

Penny Bank Report.

According to a statement issued in Toronto, 93 per cent. of the pupils of the Cornwall schools made deposits in the Penny Bank during May and June, while in Morrisburg the percentage was 50 and in Gananoque 47. Winchester was next to the lowest school in Ontario with only 10 per cent. The total amount on deposit for the local school at the end of June was $284.59, as compared with $340.12 at the end of June, 1938.

Barn Burned Near Hallville.

During the electric storm early Sunday morning, a large barn, owned by Stanley Coleman, and situated near St. Andrew's Church, Hallville, was struck by lightning and completely destroyed. Consumed with the barn were the season's crop of hay and straw and several pieces of farm machinery. The loss was partly covered by insurance. Here is one instance where lightning struck in the same place twice, because 25 years ago a barn, which stood on the same foundation, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The barn that was destroyed this week was the one built to replace the original structure.

Train Wrecks Truck.

Speeding westward one mile east of Iroquois at 12.10 o'clock on Friday last, Canadian National passenger train No. 5, enroute from Montreal to Toronto, struck and demolished a truck from Russell, Ont., which was making its way across the line by means of a country road crossing. The driver of the truck, Ralph Derby, of Maple Ridge, succeeded in jumping before the collision occurred and escaped with a few minor cuts, but the vehicle and its contents were wrecked. The train, in charge of Conductor Harry Rees, Brockville, with J. Manseau, Montreal, as engineer, stopped at Iroquois to report the incident and was 30 minutes late reaching Brockville.

Cucumber Resembles Snake!

We've never seen anything that resembles a snake as much as a cucumber, grown by Mr. Ross Durant, at his farm garden, south of Winchester. If you want to see this "wonder of wonders" it is on display in the front window of the Press Office. All it lacks is a pair of eyes to make it an exact replica of a large green reptile.

This cucumber is 4 feet, 5 inches in length. It is medium-sized at the head, gradually becomes larger and then tapers off to a point. It is curled up in such a way that, unless you observe it closely, you will really think it is a snake—but don't let it scare you, it's only an odd-shaped cucumber. The other specimen in the window is a stuffed baby crocodile—it was placed there to keep the cucumber-snake company.

Died At Ottawa.

James Henry Charles Francis Wilkins, son of Mrs. F. Johnson, passed away at an Ottawa hospital on Friday last. He was in his 23rd year and had been in ill health for some time.

The funeral was held from the family residence here, to St. Matthias' Anglican church, on Sunday afternoon, with Rev. J. A. Ellacott conducting the service. Among those who attended were Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Atchison and members of the Senior and Junior Choirs of the United Church. Interment was made at Maple Ridge Cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. S. Lindsay, Edward Shaver, Eldon Fennell and David Blair.

Besides his parents, the late Mr. Wilkins leaves one brother, Pte. John Wilkins, of the R. C. E., North Bay, and two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Thompson, of Ottawa, and Miss Daphne Wilkins, of Winchester

Included in the list of floral tributes were offerings from the following:—Mother and family; Senior and Junior Choirs of United Church; Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mr. and Mrs. F. Armstrong, and Ottawa friends

Ottawa Winter Fair Cancelled.

The Ottawa Winter Fair, scheduled for November 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th, will be cancelled this year due to the Coliseum being required by the Department of National Defence, Dr. E. S. Archibald, President, announced recently.

Ends Summer Time.

Observance of daylight saving in the village of Iroquois was concluded for the year at midnight on Saturday. Most of the other centres, which have been observing Daylight Saving Time this season, will return to Standard Time this Saturday night.

Railway Train Changes.

Effective Sunday next at 12.01 a.m. with the reversion to standard time, some changes will be made in the operation of Canadian Pacific Railway trains. Full information regarding the new schedule can be obtained from the local agent, Mr. O. L. Worthen.

Hand Caught in Corn Cutter.

Mr. Donald Edgerton, local farmer, had the ends of two of his fingers nipped off yesterday when his left hand got caught in a cog wheel on a corn cutter, during silo-filling operations at the farm of Mr. Thomas Annable. He was attended by Dr. J. J. McKendry.

Announce Engagement.

Dr. and Mrs. Will C. Davy, of Morrisburg, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Gwynneth Philippa, to Lieutenant Hugh R. McLaren, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McLaren, of Toronto, the wedding to take place at Morrisburg on October 9th.

Nurses-In-Training Wanted.

Acting on instructions from the provincial Department of Health, Brockville General Hospital and St. Vincent de Paul Hospital have issued a call for applications from girls who wish to train for the nursing profession. The action has been taken to avoid any further decline in nursing ranks owing to demand created by the war.

Surcharge On Tickets

For the first time in about five years, railway passenger tickets to points in the United States are now subject to a surcharge. This is because of the rate of exchange now being adverse to the Canadian dollar. Orders have been issued to ticket agents that for the period of September 15 to 30 there would be a surcharge of 12 per cent. on passenger traffic.

Local Property Sold.

Mr. J. E Utman has sold the frame residence in which he has lived for the past couple of years, to Mr Wm. Steele, of Winchester Springs, and will move move back to his flat over Cowan's Grocery. Mr. and Mrs Steele will take possession of their newly acquired property within the next few days, and will be welcomed as future citizens of Winchester.

Made Good Showing.

Out of 78 contestants in a live-stock judging contest, conducted at the Canadian National Exhibition, recently, Basil Dawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dawley, won fourth prize. When it is taken into consideration that many of the contestants were graduates or students of some of the larger Agricultural Schools and Colleges, Basil's showing was quite satisfactory.

Boy Painfully Hurt.

Lyle Miller, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, near Morewood, met with a painful accident on Sunday afternoon when he cut his foot in a corn cutter at the home of Richard Scott, Melvin Settlement. He was rushed to Dr. Gormerly, Crysler, who had him taken to the Cornwall General hospital. It was found necessary to amputate some of the toes.

Bank Instals New Vault Door.

A new, modern vault door and casing have been installed in the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia. The work of removing the old door and installing the new one was done by Robt. Beggs & Son. The new door weighed 3,000 lbs. It is larger than the original one and contains a more modern combination lock. Owing to the lay-out of the building, it required considerable figuring before the task of installing the heavy vault front was completed.

To Create Patriotic Fund.

In an endeavour to raise funds for Red Cross work and other patriotic purposes, the local branch of the Canadian Legion are sponsoring a moving picture show, to be held in the town hall tomorrow (Friday) night. Outstanding pictures of the Royal Visit and other films will be shown. The Legion already has a balance of over $60.00 and is very anxious to increase this amount, in order to make a substantial contribution for Red Cross Work. Attend the show Friday night and support this worthy cause.

Official Programme Issued.

The official prize-list and programme for the international plowing match and farm machinery demonstration, to be held in Brockville October 10-13 inclusive, has been issued and is an interesting and instructive booklet. Well illustrated with cuts of leading officials of the sponsoring association and maps, showing the location of the plowing fields adjacent to the Ontario Hospital Farm, the official programme contains much information of value to all interested in the forthcoming event, which is classed as the biggest undertaking of its nature in the world. A copy of the programme may be seen at this office.

Cattle Are Shipped.

Arthur H. Chickering, Walpole, N.H., well known importer of Canadian Holstein-Friesian cattle, has just recently purchased another shipment consisting of 36 head of choice cattle from breeders in the counties of Dundas, Grenville, Leeds, and Glengarry. The following were among those supplying animals to make up the shipment:
