Four Now In Running In Grenville-Dundas

A surprise entry into the coming provincial election is Rene Benoit of RR1, South Mountain, who just recently announced his candidacy as a Democrat. Mr. Benoit is not new to politics, having sought office in the last provincial race.

Also seeking the provincial seat for Grenville-Dundas are three others: Donald R. Irvine for the Progressive Conservatives, and a Prescott resident; Andy MacKenzie of Oxford Mills, a farmer and Kennel operator; Frank Stocker, teacher at Kemptville, seeking a seat for the NDP.

RENE BENOIT

Candidates Busy

The election campaign has been warming up gradually in this riding, although no major issues have as yet come to the forefront. Each candidate seems to be holding his main barrage until the final days of the campaign, in a wait-and-see attitude towards each other.

This Wednesday, all of the candidates will be visiting Seaway District High School to present their views and students will most likely be given an opportunity to question the candidates. The over-18 student vote has been highly sought after by all candidates and the total student vote represents a large percentage of the total in the riding.

Last Friday night, Don Irvine visited Iroquois plaza and welcomed the public. Andy Mac-Kenzie plans his visit here on Friday night, October 15th, bringing with him a pipe band to liven the evening.

The event is slated for about 7 p.m.

During the past three weeks Eastern Ontario has seen the arrival of Premier Bill Davis, Bob Nixon and Stephen Lewis, all coming out in support of their candidates in this part of Ontario.

From tea parties, to open house type events, to a breakfast and parades, this year's provincial election campaign is providing something else for Ontario residents to talk about instead of unemployment and high costs. The days are getting shorter before the final decision on October 21st!

"Bud" Moran Killed in Crash

A Brinston man, Malcolm Christopher "Bud" Moran, 39, was killed instantly about 8:30 p.m. last Thursday after the car he was driving left the road and crashed into a culvert on the Brinston Road. The accident occurred near the Elmer Dentz farm four miles north of Iroquois.

Morrisburg Detachment of the OPP are investigating the accident.

The remains rested at Fairbairn Funeral Home, Brinston, until Sunday, October 10th where service was held at 2 p.m. Interment was in St. Anne's Cemetery, Dixon's Corners.

Mr. Moran leaves a wife and six children.

Dies In Fire After Bizzare Attempt

Identity is being sought of the body of a man found in the burned out ruins of a service centre on the Shanly Road in Cardinal at its junction with Highway 401.

Fire broke out in the service station at 3 a.m. Thursday and the body was found in the ruins of the furnace and storeroom.

According to the service station attendants, a man drove up just before 3 a.m. in a car bearing Georgia license plates.

In the service station he went berserk and jumped through a window. He ran to the gas pumps and tried to start them but failed. He then disappeared.

A few minutes later smoke was seen coming from the furnace and store room and the building was quickly enveloped in flames.

It is presumed the man got back into the furnace room and may have caused the fire.

Ernest Marcellus Passed Away

Charles Ernest Marcellus, 81-year old prominent Matilda Township resident, passed away at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Friday, October 8th. Funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon from the Fairbairn

Funeral Home, Brinston, with interment in Sprucehaven Cemetery, Brinston.

Monday evening, members of Friendly Bros. Lodge Iroquois, conducted a Masonic service for their departed brother. (Full details next issue.)

Full House Greeted Seaway Scholastica '71 Program

Friday, October 8th, 1971, will be a night to remember, especially for the graduation class of last year's Grade 13. Seaway District High School's "Scholastica '71", the highlight of the school year, attracted a large attendance to this year's presentation in the school's large auditorium.

Seaway's Head Boy and Head Girl, Delbert Jones and Ann MacDonald acted as joint Masters of Ceremony during the evening's events.

The program started with a welcome and procession of the honored graduates, with Gwenn Eddy leading in "O Canada".

Delbert Jones did the honors in welcoming the graduates back to the commencement exercises, in an admirable manner.

Rev. John DePater, of Williamsburg, led in the invocation.

Guest speaker was Mr. Arthur Bond on the subject "The Teacher of the Year 1970-71" and was introduced by David Hill and thanked by Christine Styles.

The presentation of awards then followed:

Man's Aim in Life

In this rushing nuclear age, when the skies and seas are being polluted by the works of mankind, many scientists are beginning to ask whether technological progress is not outpacing man's basic aims. Most men hope to lead useful, healthy, happy lives. They wish to fulfil their own aspirations and when possible, help others.

But in grasping for more wealth, North Americans in particular are endangering their environment, and clearly their own happiness. The United States, for instance, with a mere 6% of the world's population, used 40% of the globe's wood pulp and 35% of its fossil fuels.

So much oil is spilled taking petroleum products to North America across the Atlantic, that oceanographers are appalled. One recent study suggested that there is enough oil pollution in the Atlantic alone to produce an iridescent slick over the entire surface of the world's oceans.

The frightening aspects of pollution have affected wild life, fisheries and human beings in the most remote parts of the earth. In our cities, too many people symbolize the growing pollution problem. It is becoming abundantly clear that even today, the world's resources are being strained by less than four billion people, yet the global population is expected to double by early next century.

In the coming decades, men must learn to conquer and master technology, and not to become slaves to the kind of technological advances that destroy the environment. And, the first, most urgent need is to reduce population growth around the world. For unless this vital task is tackled realistically, all other effort to control pollution and urban overcrowding will fail.

Think! Then Vote!

The coming election gives young adults over 18 years their first opportunity to vote since the law was passed earlier this year and there are those who are still wondering the wisdom of that decision.

In our society, however, we are taught to abide by our laws and these new voters have now the opportunity they have been seeking.

There is little that can be added to what has already been said and written about the subject but we would point out that no matter what the privileges we enjoy, they are only of benefit to us if we use them with common sense. That applies to voting as well as to the other things we often take for granted. When the day comes for voting, we sincerely hope every new voter, as well as those who have had the privilege before, takes time to go to the polling booth.

Think about the candidates and what they offer to a resident of this province...think before you vote, not after!

Ann MacDonald, Head Girl, presented the home room representatives with certificates stating the number of feet of track each home form owns through the penny drive which was run during Initiation. These certificates will be proudly displayed in each home room. Form 4-18 is in the lead, owning 5 feet of Seaway's proposed track.

Delbert Jones, Head Boy, outlined the various activities through which the student body can raise their goal of $8,000. He commented on the spirit shown by the students through their support of Seaway's various Athletic teams. Delbert stressed that it was not so much the track we were working towards, although that is very important but the increased spirit and unity that will result from the whole school working toward one goal.

Ann MacDonald.

We are looking forward to another year, hoping that experience will weigh in our balance.

Caldwell Ladies End Ball Season on winning note

The Iroquois Ladies softball team climaxed their season by winning the Maynard Softball Tournament on Sept. 17 and 18.

Playing the St. Lawrence League the girls finished the regular season in third place and were then beaten out by Cornwall's Towne Line in playoffs.

Although unsuccessful

in the Russell Tournament, Caldwell managed to collect first prize at the Maynard Tournament.

At Maynard on Friday, Sept. 17, the Caldwell squad got off to a shaky start, making several errors against Delta. However, the hitting held up and in the end of the game the scoreboard read Iroquois 18-Delta 16. Earlier in the evening Maynard ousted Cardinal.

On Saturday after the first round was completed, Kemptville, Smith Falls, Maynard, Lyn, Iroquois, and Brockville remained in contention for top honours. Kemptville then proceeded to defeat Maynard 10-6. Smith Falls swamped Lyn 14-1 and Caldwell's won 8-1 over Brockville.

The Iroquois Brockville game remained deadlocked at 1-1 until the top of the seventh inning. Ruth Thompson then led the way with a triple to right field and the Caldwell girls explored scoring seven runs.

Kemptville played Smith Falls in the semi-finals and the final score was 6-3 in Kemptville's favour.

Caldwell then met Kemptville for the Championship and came out on top 11-2. June Myers again pitched a fine game.

Caldwell got on the scoreboard in the top of the second on the strength of Ruth Byrne's home run. In the third Betty Tousant scored from first base on Sue McMillan's double. Sue then stole third and scored on Marlene Hunter's fly ball.

Kemptville's only runs came in the bottom of the fourth when Colleen Gibson and J. Jyndman both crossed the plate.

In the sixth inning with the score 3-2, Caldwell unloaded several consecutive hits and pushed eight more runs home.

Kemptville managed to load the bases in the bottom of the seventh, but a fine by Sue McMillan in centre field was turned into a double play and the scoring threat ended.

For their win Caldwell girls picked up $65 in prize money. Playing for Caldwell's in the tournament besides the regular squad, were Sue McMillan, Ruth Byrne, Edith Cameron and Marlene Hunter.

A party was held on Friday September 24, 1971 at the Iroquois Golf Club to officially end the season. Most members of the regular and tournament team were in

THE PEOPLE AT CALDWELL'S

Newsy Notes . . .

People who work to rule must have a devil of a time remembering them, especially when management changes so often, and with new management comes a brand new set of rules every time. No wonder people are always confused.

Definition of a thermostat: "A grown ups toy that Daddy turns down and Mommy turns up."

One possible make-work project is a student-operated barbershop.

Now a days we have drive-in movies, drive-in banks, drive-in restaurants.

To bad in cities and towns we don't have drive-in streets.

In grandfathers days the environment was Mother Nature and a naturalist belonged in a nudist camp.

In the cold weather the human nose makes the best thermometer. Why don't you try checking pedestrians on the street before venturing outside. If their noses are pink, walk to work; red, take the car; missing, stay at home.

Gossip: Say, I didn't know she had an upper plate until it came out in the conversation.

Its too bad the Ottawa Exhibition can't take out bad weather insurance, but it sure didn't stop Charlie Pride and his gang putting on a tremendous show. That boy can really sing and is well worth sitting out in the rain for. Sure hope he comes again next year.

Oh yes, as a result of the Ex this year my daughter, who lives in Ottawa, has a watch dog for her apartment, a big fuzzy orange one, name of "Snappy"

This year, winter and summer, all our weather record-breaking days seem to be cold ones.

Came across this article the other day:

Robert Stanfield, rapidly earning a reputation as the witliest of the current group of politicians, dropped this line while speaking at a variety dinner in Toronto recently. He said he knew Mr. Trudeau would never marry an American

IMPORTANT NOTICE ATTENTION - ELECTORS OF GRENVILLE-DUNDAS

October 21st is fast approaching and you have to decide who you are going to send to Toronto to represent you for the next four years, and what government you want to write your laws. Are you satisfied with the way the Tory government has handled your school, municipal problems and above all - you who are TRYING to farm under the present system of government. Nearly every one of you is ready to find fault with our chaotic school system - do you realize that this is Bill Davis' folly? Now don't let anyone say that the separate school issue wasn't intended to be a political issue. Bill Davis has used it to get your mind off the true educational crisis that exists in Ontario today. Think this one out clearly - Bill Davis would have as his lieutenant Darcy McKeough. Do you realize that he is the brain child of regional government? Can you name one region that is beginning to get back to the state it was in before regional government made a mess of it? Never mind, your tax dollars are always handy to subsidize their mistakes. You just have to read the papers to see that another nice big assist is being given to someone to get them out of a fix. (Come on folks, it's time to do some more thinking).

Eastern Ontario, this wonderful big under-developed part of Ontario - Don Irvine will do wonders if he is elected! What did his predecessor do? How many portfolios does a Member have to have in order to make the Tories in Toronto remember that we are a part of Ontario? Now come on, do you honestly think that his influence will be so great?

We know the policies that have been practised in Toronto all these years; will they change? I doubt it!

Bob Nixon has a firm platform and he doesn't go changing it at every political rally just to suit the mood of the crowd as Stephen Lewis does, but then he does not have Lewis' dictatorial qualities. Bob Nixon is a true gentleman and what he promises he intends to carry out. His interests are only for your betterment in life, be it economical, moral or social.

Andy MacKenzie can and will make a great Member on Bob's team. I can only ask you to think the issues out clearly and decide for yourself who can solve these problems for YOUR BENEFIT.

APPLICATIONS ARE INVITED

FOR

An Agricultural Workers Course

This course is designed to provide practical training for rural men who would like to upgrade their knowledge and skills in the care and management of all classes of live-stock in order to become better equipped for full time employment on large farms in Ontario. The demand for skilled farm workers has in the past and is at the present time far in excess of the supply.

Course Location: Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology

Course Duration: Ten weeks, 5 days a week commencing January 10, 1972

Training Allowances: Students approved by ARDA and Canada Manpower will receive the normal training allowances.

Interested people who are willing to move into this area of employment anywhere in Ontario, should contact the ARDA Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food, Box 2004, Kemptville, Ontario or the nearest Canada Manpower Office, before November 1, 1971.

We're all in this together.

On October 21st, more than four million Ontario citizens will select, from among themselves, 117 people to represent them. And, at the same time, they will select one man as their Premier.

Bill Davis has said to the people of Ontario: "You have no need to judge us on our promises. We are asking you to support us for our performance...for the decisions we have made, for the policies we have introduced, for the more than 130 items of legislation we have implemented."

Consider that record.

The establishment of a Department of the Environment, and assistance to firms investing in pollution control equipment. The banning of logging in Quetico and Killarney Provincial Parks. Summer employment for students in clean-up operations (Project SWEEP). The Endangered Species Act. A tougher line with corporate polluters. With clear decisions and vigorous action like this, Ontario can breathe a little easier.

The Davis government's decision to halt the Spadina Expressway, coupled with a pledge to provide greatly expanded assistance to mass public transit, has brought us closer to a rational solution of our transportation problems.

The Provincial conference on economic and cultural nationalism reflects and also contributes to an expanding awareness of the potential of our country and our people.

Davis decisions have helped the Canadian publishing industry; special provisions have been written into Ontario Development Corporation loans to encourage Canadian effort, to preserve and enhance what is distinctive about our society.

And there have been a great many other Davis government decisions...good decisions: No-fault car insurance. The task force for off-track betting. Expanded grants to day-care centres. Detoxification centres. Expanded housing on a rent-geared-to-income basis. Free medicare for the needy, and for people 65 and over. And lowering the age of majority.

Which brings us back to your decision, at the ballot box.

For democracy to succeed, it's not enough to talk about change. Change must be made to happen. That's why Bill Davis is doing things. And doing things—for people—is surely what leadership is all about.

In his first seven months as Premier, Bill Davis has demonstrated the kind of leadership and government Ontario needs. With your support on October 21st, he will continue.

He can do much more.

Davis is doing things...for people.
On October 21st, do something for Ontario...Support Bill Davis.

ELECT DON IRVINE

for

priorities and objectives

Hopeful of becoming a member of the next Progressive Conservative government in Ontario Don Irvine is aware that if he and his party are elected he will play a part in the formation of government policy for all of the province.

However, he is particularly mindful that his FIRST PRIORITY is his own riding of Grenville-Dundas. And he intends to do everything possible to represent ALL of the people ALL of the time. For this demanding job he is particularly well suited, having been both an employee and an employer. His farming background will help him in shaping up more appropriate Agriculture policies. His municipal experience, including the Prescott mayoralty, and his active role in several leading community organizations will provide him with a more acute understanding of the needs in our constituency.

Out of many things he would like to see accomplished he lists here six priority items which will draw his early attention as a member for Grenville-Dundas.

1. More and better roads to ease traffic problems.
2. Greater development of our excellent industrial sites throughout the riding.
3. More equitable tax structure for everyone.
4. Full development of our tourist potential.
5. Increased assistance to the farmer through vigorous and appropriate Agriculture policies.
6. Improved economic policies to provide more job opportunities and to stimulate business.

Don Irvine is a family man interested in the well being of the people of Grenville-Dundas. Your support at the polls on Thursday, October 21, assures you of good, full time representation by a man who understands . . . and cares.

GORDON BLAIR M.P. GRENVILLE-CARLETON

Room 532c, Centre Block Parliament
Buildings, Ottawa, Ontario, 992-0511

Shadow Boxing On Parliament Hill

This Session, which re-commenced a month ago, has turned out far different that Members expected. The original purpose was to study the Income Tax amendments in detail. The study has hardly started and one wonders whether it will be possible to examine and pass the Tax Bill before Christmas. All plans were upset by President Nixon's dramatic policy changes in August and the re-emergence of the prairie grain stabilization Bill as a major issue.

British M.P.'s Astounded

I find the mood of Parliament now to be fractious and querulous. This mood prevails in all parties and it has produced scenes in the House which can only be called disorderly. In my opinion, what has taken place since September reflects no credit on Parliament, the parties, or Members.

British M.P.'s Astounded

These sombre observations were stimulated by discussions with a group of British M.P.'s who visited Ottawa a week or so ago. The British House is the mother of parliaments and there is nothing prissy or dissatisfied about discussions there. But, these British M.P.'s were appalled at the disorder of our House during the question period. They were high in their praise of the Speaker whose good humour and firm hand has protected us all. Their adverse comments applied to the Members.

Question Period Disappointing

Several times, before I have written about my disappointment over the question period. It usually starts with sensible and important questions being put by the Leader of the Opposition, but it quickly degenerates into a series of disconnected questions on items both large and small. It is obvious that the question period is a major part of the party political game played in the House. It is not information which is sought, but rather a political advantage and frequently personal publicity. Since the questions are generally posed for political purposes they are usually answered in the same vein. All too often Ministers avoid giving information and turn the questions aside for their own advantage.

Our questions period is unique among democratic parliaments because Members can put oral questions without notice; without having submit them in advance in writing; and without any restriction except the much abused and ignored rule that they be important. It is a pity that this period is losing its effectiveness and it should be a concern to all of us to improve it.

How To Improve Question Period

I have several ideas for improvement-not all popular with my fellow Members. The main one is simply restraint.

I would dearly love to be able to direct the Opposition parties in the question period for a week or two. They should concentrate their questions on important issues; they should silence opposition Members who can never resist the temptation to follow a good question by a foolish one; they should avoid asking trivial questions on small matters. In short, instead of trying to beat all subject to death, they should use the question period to elucidate important information and to highlight important issues. Even in crass political sense, the question period is now misused because the chances are very good that a Minister has been stumped by a well-phrased question will find it possible later on to escape in answering less well thought-out supplementary questions.

Prairie Grain Imbroglio

One difficulty in writing this column is that it must be prepared almost a week in advance. The discussion of the prairie grain stabilization Bill may conclude before this column is published. It has been going on since last Spring. It has been carried on, first, against the background of the Saskatchewan provincial election and, now the coming Assiniboia By-election. It has been marked by charges of opposition filibuster and government power play. During most of this discussion, despite the protestations of all participants, it has seemed to me that the person least thought of has been the poor prairie farmer whom we are trying to help. The whole debate has been marked by cynicism and political gamesmanship of the worst kind and as part of this sordid political process, the Government has been caught out for not obeying the law which required payments to be made for the benefit of farmers under older legislation. It is a matter of doubt which party has benefitted or suffered the most from this sad episode, but the mere fact that it has occurred is an indication to me that parliament and its members need improvement.

OFF THE CUFF

By Charles Edwards

At one time or another we've all expressed a desire to be rich enough to have anything we wanted...to be able to travel, have a new home or just to take things easy. Although it's not too likely to happen, there is a way that it might be possible. The only drawback is that it would involve a lot of time in rolling nickels and dimes for delivery to the bank. All that's necessary is to find someone who would pay you the appropriate sum each time you utter such phrases as "I wish I had a penny for every dish I've washed."

The possibilities are endless. Just around home you could find enough material to retire on. Start with the telephone. How many times have you muttered for a dime for every time you'd run upstairs from the basement to answer the phone only to have it stop ringing as you stumble over the toys and empty milk jugs that always manage to find a home near the basement steps. And surely it's worth a dollar for every time you've had to get out of bed on cold winter nights because the toilet won't stop running.

Winter has its own special characteristics that lend themselves to helping us make our "fortunes". We could all be comfortably wealthy if any token sum was paid for each time we shovelled out the driveway only to have it filled in by the snow-blow. But instead, most of us pay someone else more than just a token sum to have the snow removed and as a result the wealth gets spread around. Municipal politicians could retire to Florida for the winter if they had a dime for every phone call they get complaining about the lack of snow removal or about its removal to the caller's driveway.

Parents wish for a nickel for every time they have to pick up after their offspring. And the kids in turn would like a penny for every time they've had to wash their hands or eat their carrots.

Teenagers groan and wish for a dime for every time they have heard the story about how their parents walked two miles to and from school. And their parents could afford a second car if they had a dollar for every time they've driven the kids three blocks to school.

Everyone has his own particular sore spot. I'd like a few cents for every time I've seen one the neighbour hood dogs paying his respects to one of my shrubs. Or how about a nickel for every time the lawn mower has run out of gas on the last swipe around the yard. It's all wishful thinking perhaps but if you ever hear of anyone who is willing to pay off, I'll take a dime for every time I have to stop writing this column to make repairs to my faltering typewriter.

Would T.V. and Radio Help? Some time soon the Procedure Committee, of which I am Chairman, will have to decide whether to recommend to the House the introduction of Television and radio. It is a complex question and made more so by the fact that any proper portrayal of the House by television would necessitate considerable expenditure. Members appear to have many doubts about this proposal fearing that television might make them look bad; interfere with the work of parliament; and contribute to even greater public criticism and disaffection with the parliamentary process. I wonder whether it might greatly improve our parliament if it were under the continuous surveillance of television cameras. Perhaps we would do better, if we realized that we were being watched, not just by a handful of people in the Gallery but, potentially, by all the people of Canada.

To The Editor

October 8th, 1971
The Editor
The Iroquois Post.

It is good of Mrs. Valcours to provide the names of the Roman Catholic bishops, as asked for in my letter of the previous week. I also asked what Roman Catholic orders these bishops belonged to, who were the heads of these orders and where the seats of operations. These questions went unanswered. This information is needed to identify the exact character of the demands now being presented for the extension of the Catholic Separate school system in Ontario.

As a Protestant I know there is a feeling, not general but still present, among my fellows, that Roman Catholics think we are going to hell. There is also the same extent of belief that Catholics have a strain of aversion to us for religious reasons. As a person intimately related to Catholics I know those ideas are wrong and rapidly diminishing. My letter was pointed towards that as one objective. I think our people are now charitable enough in their ideas not to let the old prejudices be revived by Mrs. Valcours' quotation from Dr. McGinty. With the humane, friendly and broadly religious sentiments which Mrs. Valcours seems to present as her own I am sure she will find full accord in the local community.

My own sentiments about the Catholic separate schools is that we have gone along cheerfully and uncomplainingly with them up to the time expansion of the system has been asked for. If the bishops are expressing the wishes of their people we are less fortunate than I thought. That aspect of it needs for further exploration. The bishops certainly came into this political campaign with a bang. Their statement was well timed to influence the vote.

The United States has prospered phenomenally without granting the special school privileges asked for here. I have many close relatives over there who attend the parochial schools and meet the expense of it without asking for religious and lingual privileges that create dissention among peoples.

Maurice C. Wallace

Soccer

Dundas County Elementary soccer teams include all the schools in the area and on October 16th, starting at 9 a.m. there will be a local tournament between the area teams. There will be about fourteen teams in the tournament and games will be played at all three local schools: Seaway District High School, Iroquois Public and St. Cecilia's Separate School.

There is no admission, and a booth will be erected at the Iroquois Public School for refreshments.

Each team will play two games and a large attendance of upwards of 350 students is anticipated.

(Barbar Breisand): "After all didn't he say the States had no business in the bedroom of the nations?"

Why do some persons build elaborate patios complete with back pool and then head for the cottage every weekend, so that they can come back and complain about how hard they worked and how bad the pollution is at the lake. Just don't make sense.

For several weeks now we had no "People at Caldwell's" page printed, but I have been assured by management that this will not happen again, as long as there is a column available to print and that the "Iroquois Post" has space in the paper for it.

I would like to thank all the people who took time to phone me to inquire about this. Your kind words were much appreciated. Thanks also to Mr. Ken Kirkby owner and president of "The Iroquois Post" for taking the time and effort to publish our news from Caldwell's, the town's largest industry, that make the best towels by a dam site.

On behalf of Caldwell's may be extend our congratulations to the team for this year's efforts.
