Sometimes the far-away pastures that look greenest are.

Nominations near now some interest shown

Nominations throughout the district will take place on November 21. The township of Winchester will use the new building on the Ridge as the meeting place in the afternoon and will be followed by the official opening by the Hon. F. M. Cass, Q.C., Minister of Highways. Chesterville voters will gather in Community Hall in the evening. Williamsburg township holds its meeting in the afternoon in I.O.O.F. Hall, Williamsburg.

The usual stir is felt as nomination day comes close. This weekend will see the district fever at a peak as final qualifications are made. There will be some changes.

Winchester township reeve Basil Dawley has told this paper on several occasions this Fall he does not intend to run for office again this year. He echoes the statement by reeve Chas. McMillan of Chesterville when asked the same question. Both feel their time is taken up too much with their own affairs to allow further service to the municipalities.

Some of the nomination meetings generate more heat than others. Winchester township usually has a fine show of questions and some fast answers; the township roads are always good for a round of quizzes. Here in the village a few of the neighbours have been grumbling out loud about the Albert street road job. Friday night they may grumble in public for a change.

Chesterville for the first in a long time will hold the nomination meeting for reeve and councillors and three public school trustees together. Some time in the past the meetings were separated and the school meeting took place in the school building either at noon or at night on nomination date.

Reports heard at regular meeting of Hospital Auxiliary

At the regular monthly meeting of Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, 42 members were present. After the reading and approval of minutes the usual business followed.

The treasurer's report by Miss Nora Elliott revealed that $143.40 was realized for the month of October from the following units: Mountain Ridge and Mulloys, Winchester and Harmony, and from Greely-Manotick W.I.

The hospital report was given by the superintendent, Mrs Mulloy, and showed activity in all departments. Donations of food were received from Knox Presbyterian Church, Mountain, Morrisburg United Church, Morewood, Summers and Cass Bridge and Chesterville units, also Vernon and Greely-Manotick W.I.

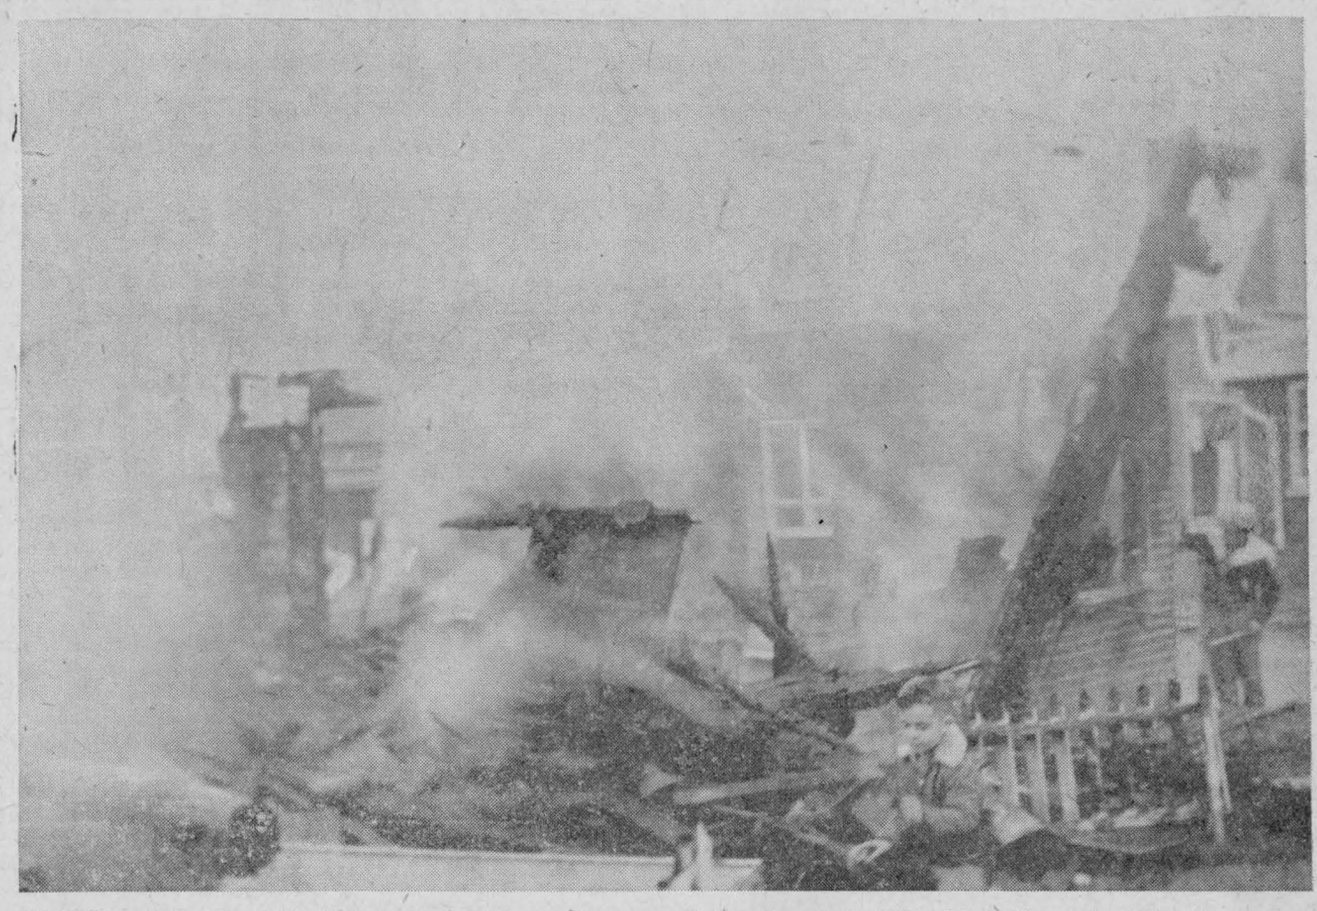

Mrs Allan Kerr reported on the regional conference held at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall, in October, at which 65 delegates registered. After the business session the ladies of the Auxiliary entertained the visitors to a bus tour of the Seaway. A very enjoyable day culminated with afternoon tea served by the ladies of the Cornwall General Auxiliary in the nurses' residence.

A report of the Ontario Hospital Auxiliaries convention held in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, was given by Mrs M. A. Black who was a delegate. The theme of the convention was "Preparing for Tomorrow." Mrs A. H. Lyon, of Windsor, Public Relations director, reminded the delegates that Auxiliary work will still be as necessary to the hospital when the new Ontario Plan for Hospital Care goes into effect, as it is now. Auxiliary membership in Ontario now stands at 56,530 and the total amount raised for 1957-58 was $718,873.00. Miss Barbara Whitley, famous for her monologues on radio, and who is president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal General Hospital, amused her listeners when she was guest speaker at the closing luncheon Tuesday, October 28.

Many interesting ways of raising funds were brought back to the local meeting. After adjournment, two very colourful and interesting films were shown by Allan Alford, hospital administrator.

LOCAL WOMAN ON CBC WED., NOV. 26, AT 2-2.30 P.M.

Mrs Harry Allison, columnist for the "Record" and popular local figure, will be heard on CBC radio. She will be talking on the afternoon program, "Matinee," which is heard from 2 to 2.30 p.m. Her subject will be "City Weekend." The program will be aired next Wednesday, November 26, over CBO, Ottawa.

Mrs Gladys McGillivray lost her life in her Post Office-home at Crysler early Saturday. Aroused by the cries of the doomed woman, Mrs McGillivray's daughter, Linda, and a neighbour, Gisele Leduc, made their escape before the eyes of horrified onlookers. It is believed that Mrs McGillivray had time to escape but decided to make sure that the two girls had left the building. All that was left standing was part of one wall.—Photo by Campbell.

Council for November has small agenda

Chesterville council members met Tuesday of this week to look after the village affairs for the month. The work was light, although it took quite a lot of discussion to complete the job.

Hydro affairs are going smoothly as usual. Minutes were read and passed and permission given to Legion to use a commission pole at the end of John street as a location for a yard light. Accounts were ordered paid.

A delegation of Community Centre executive members waited on council. In the discussion that followed it was pointed out the board needed financial support each year from council if the projects were to be kept going. Council offered their wholehearted support to the board and also the sum of $500 for 1958.

False fire alarms cause needless worry and expense and council were pleased to learn that good police work appears to have pinned down some of the culprits. Action is expected in the very near future. Firemen who answered the calls were ordered paid at the usual rates.

A catch basin was ordered dug and emplaced on the south end of Albert street where a pool of water collects after each rain. The work was to be done as soon as possible.

Zoning by-law correspondence from the village solicitor was read to members. The discussion that resulted ended when a motion was passed to authorize the reeve and some councillors to investigate Winchester's by-law as a pattern.

The village dam came a step nearer completion. Councillor Butcher suggested that Casselman's pattern of getting a money by-law into effect might be used here. Council offered the suggestion he get in touch with Reeve Boileau about this. Mr Butcher promised immediate action. The discussion pointed up the necessity of getting the project rolling as soon as possible to take advantage of reasonable winter costs. The dam is estimated to cost about $50,000; of that sum the province will pay half, Nestlé (Canada) Limited here will donate $5,000 and the balance of about $20,000 would be paid for by the municipality by debenture. Council at present is working on a referendum plan to further the dam building.

The following bills were paid:

Safety talk at Rotary Makes good impression

Monday night Rotary members and guests heard an excellent talk on safety in the home and plant and viewed a fine film on the same subject. Rotarian Gerald Gilbert sponsored and introduced the speaker. He was E. H. Scott, fieldman for Industrial Accidents Associations.

Present and welcomed as guests by president Mel Baker were a number of plant supervisors, safety officers and union officials of the Nestlé (Canada) Limited plant. They were M. Cole, H. Sharkey, R. Lynch, J. Price, Edwin Hutt, M. Merkley, J. Mooney, J. Fyke, F. Cox, H. McLean, G. McLean, A. Butcher and Thos. Hayes.

Mr Scott stressed the need for care in winter driving especially. He called attention to the need to have exhaust systems of the family car checked and made safe against carbon monoxide fumes.

In an explanation of accident causes the speaker gave many graphic examples of what can happen to careless or unprotected workmen and to homeowners who are forgetful.

The speaker was thanked after the film showing by Carl Merkley.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank all those who remembered me with cards and calls while I was ill at my home. These kind acts were all very much appreciated.

Crysler postmistress loses life in fire on Saturday daughter and neighbour narrowly escape death

Firemen believe Mrs Gladys McGillivray, 35, who perished in a fire of unknown origin Saturday, sacrificed her life to save her daughter and a friend. Mrs McGillivray had been looking after Crysler Post Office since the death two years ago of her husband, Lowell McGillivray.

Fire brigades from Crysler and Finch battled the blaze, which was reported at about 5.45 a.m.

"When we got there, the fire was well underway and the whole of the front of the wooden frame building was ablaze," reported a fire fighter. "We could hear the woman's cries, but we were unable to reach her in time."

Neighbours report that Mrs McGillivray always went bowling in Winchester on Friday evenings, and usually asked a 15-year-old friend to sit with her nine-year-old daughter, Linda. As Mrs McGillivray was late returning, she stayed the night. The two children slept upstairs, Mrs McGillivray on a cot downstairs.

Gisele Leduc reported: "I heard screams downstairs and roused Linda with a nudge of my elbow. We thought Mrs McGillivray was sick so we jumped out of bed and dashed downstairs. The door at the foot of the stairway was closed. I threw it open and when I did a wall of flames and smoke leapt from the kitchen throwing us back.

"Our hair was singed, our faces and hands were burned and we were nearly blinded and choking with the smoke. I saw there was nothing we could do but get back as fast as we could.

"I pushed Linda ahead of me and scrambled back up the stairs. I wrenched open the door of the bathroom, shoved her inside, followed her and closed the bathroom door. Then I smashed the window leading out on the roof and made Linda get outside," she continued.

"We screamed for help but no one seemed to hear. I told Linda, 'You'll have to jump.' She did and I followed her. The jump wasn't too bad because we landed on the grass.

"I think Mrs McGillivray must have been trying to awaken us. She probably couldn't get through the flames to reach us so she did the only thing she could do, scream at the top of her lungs."

Neighbours, who were also aroused by the screams and who summoned firemen, are agreed that is what happened.

One neighbour said, "From where they found her body it would appear that she had time to get out but had stayed in the house trying to save the children until it was too late and she was overcome with smoke and flames."

The body was recovered only after the fire had almost completely run its course.

All the family's clothing and other possessions as well as a quantity of mail was lost in the blaze. The safe, which was fireproof, yielded a quantity of money and papers and a small metal box containing Mrs McGillivray's will and other papers.

Mrs McGillivray was born in Finch, the daughter of Mr and Mrs Edward Moak, who survive. She leaves one sister, Mrs Edwin Montgomery, Finch. Her husband was the son of Reeve Kenzie McGillivray, Finch Township.

Hunting successful many deer hung

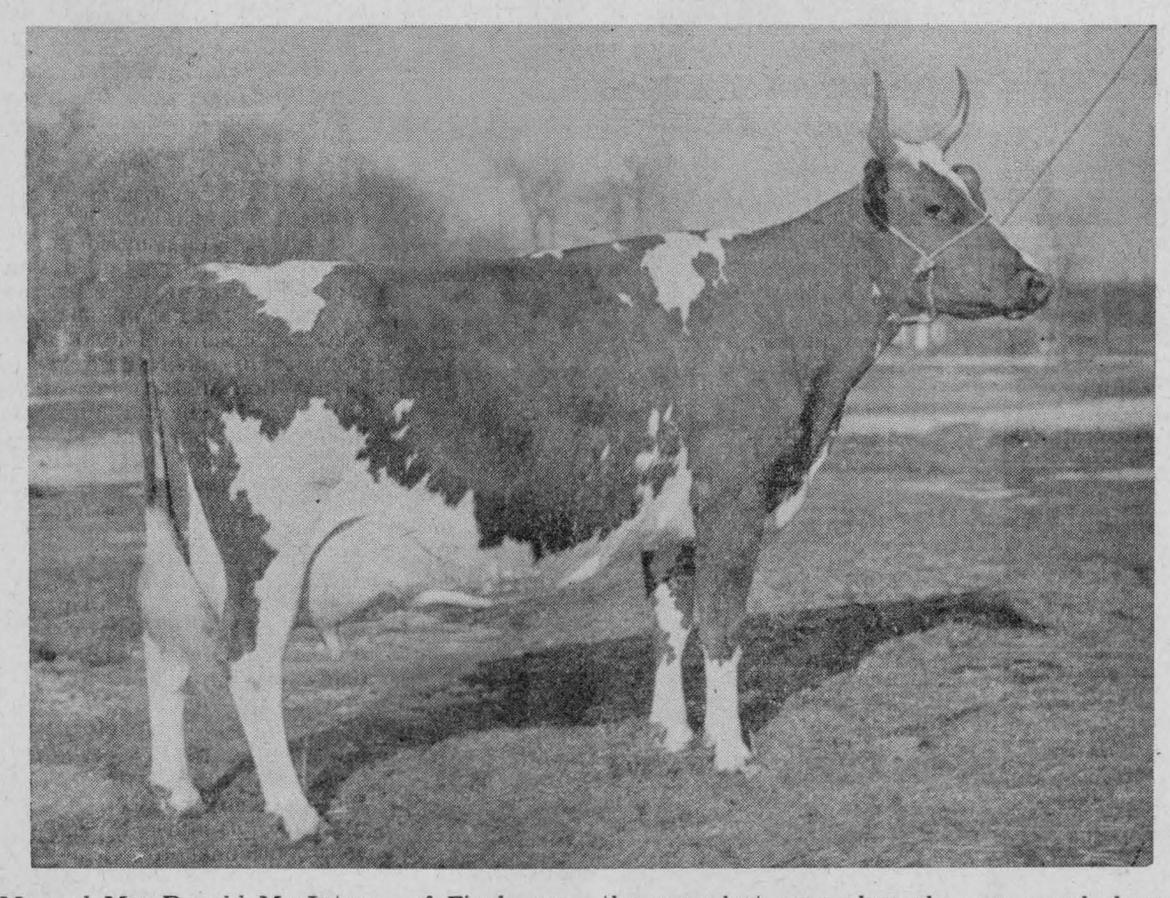

Hunters flocked home from the bush last weekend, in the main quite satisfied with their luck. While some reported hard hunting and light kills, most reports stressed a lot of shooting at least.

Chalk River crews, as usual, came out with nearly enough to go around. Finch camp, which includes many of the Grantley and Chesterville hunters, had seven deer on the pole on Saturday and were still looking. Clear Lake with eleven had the count but one to go. That camp uncovered a real Davy Crockett in Ralph McMillan; in the first week he added five deer to the count. Clerk Harry Hummel, hunting there this year for the thirty-second year, found his luck and sighting eye as good as ever and downed a fat buck.

Egan Lake crew came out with 12 deer and a moose, their count. The moose, a 900-lb. bull, fell to the camp moose killer, Willis Cross. He killed one two years ago when the season was open last. That camp had a bit of excitement on Thursday of last week. One of their members, Gordon Lannin, was paged by radio to come out to civilization and get in touch with his home. He left for home in a rush when he learned there had been a tangle on the highway in which one of his school buses had been involved.

Councillors Carl and Erwin Merkley and their hunters were in the Calabogie district but their luck was out this year. In spite of lots of shooting, they only managed to hang one deer.

Some of the Berwick and Finch hunters in the Denbigh district report indifferent luck; in many instances there were more hunters than the bush could comfortably hold, and the deer were either scarce or spooked.

Mr and Mrs Donald MacIntyre, of Finch, are proud owners today. Their excellent 4-year-old cow Sunnydale Alice 7th has again topped her breed at both the Ottawa Winter Fair and the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. Tuesday she was declared Grand Champion Ayrshire of the Royal. The interesting thing about Alice is that she did the same last year when she was grand champion in her breed at both fairs. Mr MacIntyre tells us he almost decided he could not afford the time to go to Toronto this year, but at the last moment changed his mind. It was worth his while.

OPINIONS . . . OURS AND OTHERS

Nomination night

Chesterville citizens will flock to Community Hall in disappointing numbers Friday evening. It will be annual nomination night, and although we hope we are mistaken, we are afraid the crowd will stay away in droves.

It has become more and more difficult of late years to interest people in their village affairs. Some quarters have suggested council members give a door prize and stage a bingo on the mill-rate for the coming year; the only problem there is the all-powerful Municipal Board in Toronto looks with disfavour on guessing games. As a side-line kibitzer, this paper one night suggested we check the engagements of Bridgette Bardot; but then it was thought B.B. would not be classed as a game but more as a hazard and the idea was dropped. All in all, it is tough to get more than a baker's dozen to attend meetings of village affairs.

This year will see a change of reeves in Chesterville; for the past eleven, that post has been filled by Chas. McMillan. Mr McMillan has expressed his intention to retire this year as uncertain health and other interests press on his time.

Time has tested and rumour has tossed around the name of councillor Carl Merkley as a possible candidate for the top seat on the council board. We have heard others too and it would appear as if some changes are shaping up among the council members.

It has been some time now that the pattern of Chesterville council has been out of step with custom. Chesterville Separate School supporters have an assessment of nearly $188,000 and yet there has not been a Separate School ratepayer on council since Jim Brannen. From here it would seem time to have some candidates from that quarter.

Like many other public service jobs, being a councillor has little to recommend it—except that responsibility to one another is one of the signs of our type of government. Each time we stop on the street corner and crab about our civic affairs, each time we do nothing but waste our wind, we are getting closer to bureaucratic government—government that will insist that local elected officials be nothing but mouthpieces of bureaucratic specialists in Toronto.

Chesterville taxpayers, and that means everyone who lives here, should have a continuous interest in their own village affairs. As it is, nomination night comes and goes, and the same handful turns up, listens and then goes over for a beer or goes home to watch television. The village millionaires, with $1,542,886 worth of property will be too busy to help a dedicated few look after their affairs.

Support the TB Seals campaign

Everyone has by now received his or her envelope containing a set of Christmas Seals and an appeal to support the annual drive to control and wipe out tuberculosis.

There are many appeals made each year but the Christmas Seal campaign is one of the most worthy. And the living results of their campaign are found in every community in Canada, not only in Chesterville.

Every year nearly 9,000 new patients are admitted into our sanatoria. And the average stay of those people in hospital will be 310 days.

The contribution you send to Cornwall will be aimed at helping those present and future patients get well faster or not get the disease at all. It just may be that your offering will come very close to your own home; TB is no respecter of persons or ages.

Look up the seal envelope and send your contribution to the nearest TB association or the one on your return address.

Fire hazards too common

The frightening suddeness of the lethal side of beneficent fire snaps into the headlines nearly every day. When it strikes as close home as our neighbouring village of Crysler, then is the time for us to check our safety measures and practices. A few minutes looking about the home or shop for fire hazards might just save a life as well as prevent a disastrous fire.

Rags and litter seem to be a prime cause of sudden blazes; each heap of such material contains all the potential elements needed to start a smoulder that can destroy.

Volatile fuels, such as gasoline and kerosene, cleaning fluids and the like are used with indiscriminate abandon in closed rooms in the home. Does any one ever stop to think that that was the stuff that set Tokyo on fire during the last war? Enclose it and concentrate it, then have a fast cigarette; it is hardly likely you will be able to ring the siren because your hair will be on fire as you try to get the baby out of the house.

The farmer with a pipe or cigarette going full blast in the barn is all too common a sight. One of the reasons fire insurance rates keep going up is through carelessness. Companies must pay claims but they also must live within their budgets. If the owner wants to pay a high rate for a quiet smoke in the straw mow, then the company can do little else than charge for the risk.

Industry on the average is a much safer concern in fire matters than home and farm owners. The plants have learned to respect the dangers inherent in the red servant; long ago they set up standards of fire protection in their plants that are models of efficiency. The sad part of it is that a worker who is a safety official in the plant seems to leave his safety training there when the whistle blows. So he goes home and cleans the greasy coveralls in a can of gasoline.

The plant is looking for a new safety man, and the lesson is there to be learned all over again.

Measurement Made Easy

When Eunice Spencer tried to explain the English system of measurement to a young German friend she soon ran into difficulties, she said in a recent BBC talk.

The trouble started with the word "yard." Miss Spencer explained that the word was merely a corruption of the Anglo-Saxon word for stick—"gyerd."

Sticks had been used for measuring, and in order to prevent sticks of differing length to be used, Henry I had, over eight hundred years ago, fixed the standard length of the stick, or yard, as the distance from his nose to his thumb.

Miss Spencer's young pupil merely smiled indulgently and said "Now tell me about the foot." This, Miss Spencer hastened to point out, was simply the length of a human foot, but found herself at a loss for an answer when reminded of the hard fact that human feet vary considerably in length.

With inches she fared little better; for the word is a relic of the Roman occupation of Britain before Anglo-Saxon times, deriving from the Latin "uncia," meaning a twelfth part, and her pupil could see no reason for the later invaders retaining this Roman word, when they had replaced the others with their own language.

Even many English children are a little hazy about rods, poles and perches, so it was a hopeless task trying to explain to someone brought up on the metric system that these terms of measurement came from the names for an ox-goad, or stick, with which Anglo-Saxon plowmen used to prod lazy beasts; nor, for that matter, that a furlong was the length of an Anglo-Saxon field. It immediately provoked the question: "Were all fields the same length?"

The mile brought the lesson back to Rome, for the word comes from the Latin "mille passum," a thousand paces; but Miss Spencer begged to be excused from committing herself as to whether they were the paces of a long-legged or short-legged man, and still less why it had been decided that he took 5,280 paces, or feet, over land, but 6,080 over sea.

No wonder, she concluded, that teachers in Britain spend just about three times as long teaching arithmetic as their colleagues in "metric" countries spend on the same subject.

FRENDLEE FARM CHATS

By Lillian Allison

It must be twenty years since I heard a minister say in addressing a young people's meeting that he was ashamed to be in the over-forty group that soon had to hand over the world to a younger generation. As that minister is still alive I wonder what he thinks of things now. We're still in a mess.

Just the other day farmers were brought to their senses rather sharply by the headlines in the daily papers. "Urge Farmers Voluntarily Pare Output," the Minister of Agriculture warned. In a half column of finer print the article explained that Canadian farmers are producing so much more food than can be sold that the price supports will have to be lowered unless we produce much less than at present.

As you probably know in recent years the government has been guaranteeing a floor price for much of our farm produce. So regardless of what cheese sells for on the world market the producer is assured a certain floor price. Should the market go below that floor price the government pays the difference. That system has been working very well but is, according to the Minister of Agriculture, getting out of hand.

For example, the support price of butter is 64c a pound while New Zealand butter sells for 28c in the United Kingdom today. If we sell any butter in Britain the government is out 36c on every pound. This is costing the government a lot of money so unless we produce less they are going to lower the support price.

Then to aggrevate the situation it seems we can't dispose of all this surplus food we're producing at any price. We have huge surpluses of grain and dairy products yet we can't even give away such things as skimmed milk.

Another little item in the same paper explains that a farm credit study is under way. This is being welcomed by Nova Scotia where only one quarter of the farm land is being used for food production despite the fact that Nova Scotia like its Atlantic partners is a marked deficiency area in many varieties of food—notably meats.

Here we are with such surpluses of dairy products that we cannot give away that we farmers are being asked to cut production while some of our own people in the Maratimes could use them at least as a partial substitute for meat.

But the Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan had a better idea than the cutting of production. He argued that Canada should increase production. There are many people in the world starving, he said. Canada should take the lead to get the United Nations to provide the machinery for moving surpluses to those needing them.

That sounds sensible to me.

Of course this project would take money. The farmer isn't going to donate his surpluses if I know him as well as I think. But there's plenty of money.

I'm thinking of a commentator I heard on the radio one morning.

A dollar, he said, will feed a hungry child for a month; $180 will adopt a foster child and pay all its expenses for a year. A few million will build a factory or power project in India and give work and life to countless people there. Or an astronomical sum will build a moon rocket to be fired off the Florida coast to disintegrate a few minutes later, burn itself out and fall into the ocean somewhere.

The world is certainly in a mess. We in North America have food that starving millions in the East—and many in our own land—cannot afford to buy. We also have billions of dollars to build atomic bombs to explode in the desert, airships that become obsolete overnight and useless rockets to fire at the moon.

Surely we haven't forgotten that one of Christ's last commands was, "Feed my lambs."

Anderson–Bisset

The marriage of Elizabeth Ann, daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert E. Bisset, of St. Catharines, Ont., to Mr Gordon Colin Anderson, of Fort William, Ont., son of Mr and Mrs Colin H. Anderson, of Montreal, took place on Saturday afternoon, November 8, at four o'clock in Knox Presbyterian Church, St. Catharines, the Rev J. K. Ross officiating. Mr George Hannahson played the wedding music, and white shasta daisies and chrysanthemums were used to decorate.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in a gown of ivory brocade, fashioned with a fitted bodice, having a scoop neckline, and long sleeves and flared skirt. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a matching bandeau and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Moyra Bisset, as maid of honour for her sister, wore a bouffant frock of emerald green taffeta, with a circlet of green feathers in her hair, and carried a cascade bouquet of gold and bronze chrysanthemums.

Mr Donald Wood, of Montreal, acted as best man for Mr Anderson, and the ushers were Mr David Willison, of St. Catharines, and Mr John Nugent, of Dorval.

Mrs Bisset, the bride's mother, was in a gown of blue brocade. She wore a hat of the same shade.

Mrs Anderson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of sea green silk taffeta, with a matching hat.

Following the reception, Mr and Mrs Anderson left on their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a suit of teal blue wool, and wearing a dusty rose hat and accessories. Upon their return they will take up residence in Fort William.

Mr and Mrs Anderson are graudates of McGill University, Mr Anderson being a Bachelor and Master of Science in Agronomy and Mrs Anderson Bachelor of Science of Home Economics.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Elinor Reid, John Nugent, Donald Wood, Ronald Coyles and Retta Nephew, Montreal; Mr and Mrs Robert English, Detroit; Mr and Mrs Erroll Nephew, Woodstock; Miss Moyra Bisset, Ottawa, and Mr and Mrs George, Aylmer, Ont.

Mrs Peter Manley hostess to meeting of St. Bernard's C.W.L.

Arrangements for the annual fall bazaar and tea to be held in Finch Comunity Hall on November 13, were completed at the recent meeting of St. Bernard's C.W.L., Finch, held at the home of Mrs Peter Manley.

Aprons and articles for the fancy work table may, as suggested, be handed into the respective conveners well in advance.

Provision has been made through League funds for new vestments for the pastor. A kneeling pad will also be purchased and placed at the altar railing. It was decided to place a wreath at the cairn at the memorial service on Remembrance Day. A high mass will be said for the late Pope Pius XII.

Miss E. Ruddy, R.N., gave a talk on cancer.

The director, Rev E. Danis, spoke briefly to the members. The meeting closed with prayer.

Lunch was served by the hostess. The November meeting will be held at the home of the president, Mrs Sadie Beehler.

Mrs John Moffat

Mrs Margaret Moffat, Winchester's oldest citizen, died in her 97th year. She had been a resident of Winchester for the past 47 years.

Born in Winchester Township, she was the daughter of pioneer residents of that area, Christopher Johnson and Margaret Smith. In 1891, she married John Moffat, and the couple farmed in the Colquhoun district east of Williamsburg until they moved to Winchester in 1911. Her husband died in 1918.

Mrs Moffat was a devout member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and earlier in life had taken an active part in all phases of the work of the church. She had lived to experience four wars, and had been active in the work of the Red Cross. She was also a former member of the WCTU.

She is survived by one brother, James Johnston, of Chesterville, who celebrated his 100th birthday in July. Her niece, Mrs Grace Myers, was her companion for the past 10 years.

The funeral service was conducted from her residence on Wednesday afternoon to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, by Rev Wm. Sutherland.

Interment was made in the family plot at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Mrs Elburn McIntosh

Mrs Elburn McIntosh, widely known resident of Winchester Springs, died at her home on Monday morning last.

The former Georgena Anna Shannette, she was born at Williamsburg 56 years ago. Following her education at district schools she was married 37 years ago at Williamsburg.

A member of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, she had been an active worker in the women's organizations of the church. She was also a supporter of Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Surviving in addition to her husband, are: one son, Gordon, at home; two daughters, Mrs Robert Bramwell (Ruth), of Manotick; Mrs Jack Proudham (Betty), Ottawa; one brother, Lynden Shannette, former principal of Glebe Collegiate, Ottawa; four sisters, a twin, Mrs Gilbert Beckstead, Williamsburg; Mrs Lee Tuttle, Morrisburg; Mrs W. A. Hanson, Brinston, and Mrs Garnet Locke, Detroit, Mich.

The funeral service in Williamsburg Lutheran Church was conducted by the Rev A. C. Blackwell.

Interment was made in the family plot at Williamsburg Cemetery.

Would-be robbers frightened away at Avonmore

Intruders who tried to "crack" the vault at the Bank of Nova Scotia, Avonmore, last week, left empty-handed. It was the third unsuccessful attempt on the vault in three years and the second in nine months.

It is believed that the men were scared away by two provincial police constables making a routine check. The officers, Cst. W. L. McGuire and H. C. Hearty, searched the building after discovering an open door at the side and "jimmy" marks on a window.

Inside the bank they discovered an aligning bar, wheel wrench and other tools which suggested the intruders had left hurriedly.

On the last occasion that such an attempt was made, the thieves missed $30,000. This time bank manager Roy Adams said there was "not too much" in the vault.

Mrs Margaret C. Jones

Mrs Margaret Cameron Jones, Utica, N.Y., died suddenly on Thursday in St. Luke's Memorial Hospital following a brief illness.

JUST TIRED

A 3½-month-old Milan, Italy girl proved she had what it takes to soothe a rampaging circus lion.

After escaping from its handlers, the lion mauled a woman and broke into the baby's home.

In the confusion, the baby's 28-year-old mother left the infant behind as she fled with her other five children.

When handlers and police reached the apartment, they found the lion snoozing peacefully at the foot of the baby's crib.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all my friends for their cards, telephone calls and visits during my recent illness. Special thanks to Dr Howard Justus, Father Collins and Mrs Gord Lannin.

Dundas teachers hold convention

The 79th annual convention of the Dundas Teachers Association was held on Monday, November 10, at Smiths Falls.

Each teacher spent one half of the day visiting in various classrooms of the four public schools in Smiths Falls. The rest of the day was spent in a conducted tour of Ontario Hospital. Guides for the tour were Messrs Code and Gibson, of the hospital staff.

At noon, the teachers met at Westminster Presbyterian Church where the ladies of the Women's Association served a delicious turkey dinner. Dinner guests included J. H. Crammond, resident Public School Inspector in Smiths Falls, J. D. Schouler, supervising principal of Smiths Falls public schools, and two Public Health nurses from Dundas County.

After the dinner, Hosea Droppo, Chesterville, president of Dundas Teachers Association, presided at a short business meeting. During this period M. N. Hutchinson, B.A., I.P.S. for Dundas, presented Mrs Rae Helmer, Winchester, with a long service medal in recognition of her 25 years of continuous work in Junior Red Cross.

Robert Coleman, Hallville, presented M. N. Hutchinson with a pen and pencil set on behalf of the Dundas teachers.

Mrs Blanche McCaslin, chairman of the nominating committee, gave her report which named Mrs Florence Bell, of Brinston, as the new president of the association; Robert Coleman, Hallville, vice-president, and J. H. Potter, secretary-treasurer.

A motion of thanks to the ladies of Westminster Presbyterian Church was made by J. H. Potter, of Winchester.

...to give you good telephone service

Your Bell Telephone installation man — whatever his name may be — is a lot like Jack MacLennan.

On the job, his skillful work reflects his careful training. But more than that, we like to think that a friendly smile and unfailing courtesy lend a pleasant touch to his brief visit.

We try to encourage this friendly spirit all through the business. You'll see it when you visit the Business Office. You'll hear it in the operator's "voice with a smile".

This helpful, friendly spirit is one of the many ways in which we try to give you good telephone service.

EVERYBODY EATS- TRY THESE!

GETTING READY AHEAD OF TIME

YES, I MEAN getting ready for Christmas. And it is not too early to plan your food needs for the Christmas season. No doubt you will have made your Christmas cake but what about dessert? If you are going to serve plum pudding it is high time you made it for it will be tastier if allowed several weeks to mellow. You can always make your cranberry sauce or jelly ahead and seal it in jars as you would any other fruit or keep it in the deep freeze if you have one.

Plum Pudding

3 lbs. raisins
¼ lb. lemon peel
¼ lb. citron peel
1 lb. suet
1 lb. brown sugar
4 cups bread crumbs
4 tbsps. flour
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
¼ tsp. cloves
¼ tsp. allspice
1 tsp. baking soda
8 eggs
½ cup grape juice

Chop raisins; cut peel into very thin slices, sprinkle with flour. Remove the membrane from the suet, chop finely. Sift flour, baking soda, salt and spices. Add sifted sugar. Add bread crumbs, suet and fruit. Mix well; add grape juice and well beaten eggs. Pour into three well-greased molds; cover. Steam four hours. If cooked in one large dish, steam six hours.

Brazilnut Christmas Pie

¾ lb. Brazilnuts
3 tbsps. sugar
1 envelope unflavoured gelatin
¼ cup water
3 eggs
¼ cup sugar
⅛ tsp. salt
1½ cups milk
½ cup thinly sliced glaced cherries
2 tbsps. fruit juice
½ cup whipping cream

This pie can be made the day before Christmas, thus giving you time for other chores.

Put the nut meats through the food chopper, a few at a time, until you have 1½ cups ground meats. To the ground nut meats add 3 tbsps. sugar; mix well. With the back of a spoon press this mixture on to the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan. Bake in hot oven of 400 degs. for 8 minutes or until lightly browned. To make the filling, soak the gelatin in ¼ cup cold water. Beat the egg yolks; add ¼ cup sugar and salt; gradually stir in the scalded milk. Cook in double boiler till it coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat; stir in gelatin. Chill till it begins to set. Beat with an egg beater until smooth. Add cherries, fruit juice and stiffly beaten egg whites to which ¼ cup of sugar has been added. Pour into cooled, baked Brazilnut crust. Chill in refrigerator till ready to serve. Just before serving garnish with sweetened whipped cream, sliced Brazilnuts and glaced cherries.

Mincemeat

2 cups chopped apples
1½ cups raisins
½ cup currants
¼ cup citron peel, sliced very fine
½ cup chopped suet
½ cup sugar
2 tsps. mixed spice
3 tbsps. rich fruit juice
3 tbsps. vinegar

Combine all ingredients in the order given. Mix thoroughly and allow to stand at least one week before using.

Serve a scoop of vanilla ice cream with your mince pie this Christmas.

Cranberry Jelly

4 cups cranberries
2 cups water
2 cups sugar

Pick over and wash cranberries. Add water and cook until soft. Press through sieve, add sugar and stir until dissolved. Cook about five minutes or until it jellies. Pour into moistened mould and set away to cool.

DON'T PAINT LADDERS

Wooden ladders should be protected with occasional applications of a clear varnish or penetrating sealer to keep them in good condition.

Never use opaque paints, however, since these may hide splits or other dangerous defects.

Mr, Mrs J. F. Steinburg mark 50th anniversary

Mr and Mrs J. F. Steinburg celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday of this week at their home in Morewood.

Mr Steinburg and his wife, the former Miss Annie Gertrude Weaver, were united in marriage on Wednesday, November 18, 1908, by the Rev Donald Stewart, minister of Morewood Presbyterian Church, assisted by the Rev A. E. Hager, pastor of the then Methodist Church. Mr Wm. M. Heberlie, now of Everett, Washington, was best man, and the late Miss Margaret Nado was bridesmaid.

Mr and Mrs Steinburg have taken an active interest in the work of the church and community. For many years Mr Steinburg has been clerk of Session of Morewood United Church and a member of the Trustee Board.

They have three sons and two daughters: Murray, Ormond; Gordon, Richmond, and Lyle, of Ottawa; Mrs C. R. Swerdfeger (Muriel), Ottawa, and Mrs H. J. Keyser (Erla), Hawthorne, N.J. They have 11 grandchildren and one great granddaughter.

For the occasion of the Golden Wedding the house was attractively decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and pink and white streamers.

On Tuesday morning the honoured couple were visited by Rev D. L. Gordon, pastor of Morewood United Church, who read an illuminated address, after which William Irven, on behalf of the Session, presented them with a suitably inscribed white Fabrikoid Prayer Book. Rev D. O. Fry, minister of Morewood Presbyterian Church, extended greetings, offered prayers and gave a blessing.

During the afternoon and evening many friends called to extend best wishes. Congratulatory messages were received from the Hon.
