Miss Dominion of Canada, a beautiful blue-eyed blonde from Burlington, Ontario, Marjorie Schofield, will reign over Winchester's Centennial Day parade.

With an irresistible smile, a perfectly proportioned figure of 36-24-36 and a lively personality Miss Dominion of Canada represents this country in the Miss Universe, Miss World and Miss International Beauty Pageants In each case Miss Schofield attained entries to finals. Nineteen years old, she is a professional model.

Riding in an open convertible Miss Dominion of Canada will be right here in Winchester on Saturday for Centennial Day celebrations.

The Gala Centennial Party Day

The invitation is out to everyone. The village is ready for Centennial Day, May 20, 1967. Now the Winchester Centennial Committee hopes for a wonderful day from the weatherman and a crowd to pack every event.

Starting time is 10 a.m. and from then until midnight the town will be jumping with a program of activity that has been almost one year in the planning stages. But now the stage is set. The committee under the chairmanship of W. R. Workman and vice chairmanship of J. H. Willard has worked wonders with the co-operation of everyone in the Centennial planning.

With Miss Dominion of Canada, Miss Winchester, The Brockville Rifles, eight bands, the thirty parade entries, just the 2 p.m. Centennial parade will be a knock-out. Add on the Centennial Caravan, two dances and a dozen other things and you have almost too much to do. Advice from the committee on the Caravan visits is that early opening hours will be filled by more than 2,000 students being bused to the village to tour the trailers. However, up to 500 persons per hour can pass through the vans and it will be open until 11 p.m., so hopefully all that wish to see, and everyone should, will be able to.

Since this is a Centennial birthday party the Committee is requesting that everyone come in costume if possible. But, however, come and have a good time.

Bates Corners - West Winchester - Winchester

"None has a more likely future . . . ." A Brief Look at the Start

"Along the short line of the C.P.R. from Smiths Falls to Montreal no more prosperous village exists and none has a more likely future than the village of Winchester. On all sides the country looks prosperous, due to its excellent soil; its many well kept and well conducted farms and comfortable homes constituting an agricultural community second to none. But behind all this a story lingers of pioneer struggles and privations." — Quoted from the 1905 publication "The Story of Dundas" by J. Smyth Carter.

With the village marking with the rest of Canada the 100th birthday of a nation this Saturday, May 20th, publishers of The Press invite you to look back to the time of Confederation and the very early years of Winchester, West Winchester and Bates Corners as it was originally known. Sources of reference for the glance at local history are the aforementioned publication, the Historical Review of Winchester, published in 1934 in conjunction with the Winchester Old Home Week; and the "New Historical Atlas of Stormont, Dundas and Glengary Counties," 1879.

TWO TOWNSHIPS

Not even dreams of the future village of Winchester were present with the establishment of the two Townships of Mountain and Winchester about 1819. First settlement was along the banks of the Nation with names Thomas Cross, Robert Ball, John Helmer and Louis and James Hutt being initial settlers. Then came the names of Edward and George Fox, the Bakers and the Summers.

With the settlers in place along the Nation, dense forest still held sway over today's area of the village. In 1835, however, the first log cabin was erected at the approximate site of the Baptist Church by Benjamin Bates. Soon followed the log shanty of Wilson Forth. Other pioneers soon came to the location and signs of a settlement were sure with the store and blacksmith shop of Joseph Miller rising on the site. Carriage maker Samuel Brown was next to express his faith in the community and located on the site of the present Jo-Anne Shoppe, the former Armstrong block. In 1849 the community had demanded enough for education and a log school house was erected with Miss Mary Ann Hogaboam the first teacher.

POST OFFICE

William Bow in 1854 opened a mercantile in a log building on the corner of what is now Main and Ottawa. In 1855 Mr. Bow became Postmaster with establishment of a Post Office.

Until that time residents had received their mail via Iroquois or Chesterville (then known as Winchester). This was when Bates Corners officially became known as West Winchester. Mr. Bow remained as Postmaster until 1913 when he was succeeded by T. A. Scott. Post Office history records only four Masters until the present time with F. Erle Helmer succeeding Mr. Scott and Steve Corry the present Master.

Settlement soon gained and West Winchester became an important Dundas business centre. Adding to this picture were the shoe shops of John Brown and William Musgrove, blacksmith John A. Chambers, and mercantile proprietors Scott Broder and James Miller. In 1856 a name that was to play an important part in the development of the settlement was first noted, that of M. F. Beach. When he had decided to erect a mill the clearing was so small that William Bow contracted with Alex Bilow for enlarging of the clearing on lot four concession six. The industry flourished and Asa Beach soon joined his brother in providing timber for the Quebec market with the Nation and Castor Rivers being used as transporters. Fire struck the Beach plants three times but M. F. persisted and succeeded.

NAMES TO NOTE

Other names of early business in the village were William Hughes, A. D. Annable. J. D. and A. J. LaFlamme who located in 1858. First hotel keeper was John Dixon. He was followed in various structures by Thomas Dixon, Thomas Veitch, James Scott, P. C. Bowen, Jacob Bowen and Herman Wallace. First resident medical man was Dr. C. E. Hickey in 1866 until 1871 when he relocated in Morrisburg, his native village. Drs. McIntyre Reddick and Connerty were other familiar names. Coming up to Confederation familiar names were carriage maker H. Mercill, tailor W. L. Scott, T. Suddaby, cabinet maker, Samuel and John Ross, carriage makers and blacksmiths. In 1886 Andrew Broder established in the settlement that then had a population of over 500 persons. Mr. Broder was in the early 1900's Dundas representative in the House of Commons.

Originally

The village site originally came from portions of four farm lots. In concession 6 the east half of lot 3 owned by Wilson Forth, and north half of lot 4 of Caleb Henderson; in concession seven George, John and William Dixon were the owners of lot 3 and Benjamin Bates of the west half of lot 4.

Winchester at one time was the industrial hub of the county and a major contribution to this title came from the passing of the C. P. R. in 1884. With that an even more prosperous era dawned with the Union Bank (now the Royal) being established, the Winchester Press being founded by Byron Lane in 1888 taking over from the former West Winchester Directory of E. L White. Mr. Lane was succeeded by George C. Lacey James H. Ross, W. F. Workman and now the Workman Brothers.

EXPANDING

An atlas of the 1880 period showed 68 lots in the village with good development to be noted in the blocks of Dufferin and Queen bounded by Ottawa and Main as well as Caleb and Church bounded by Louise and Mill. Southernmost street was South, now Fred, with York, Clarence and Victoria following, as is eighty years later. The hub of the village appeared to be in the Main-Ottawa-Centre section. Ottawa Street then, of course, was the main route swinging north to Ottawa city. Even at that time Winchester was noted for the biggest cheese factory in the district, that of M. F Beach and Company. About the same time the roller mill of Cox and McArthur later enlarged by George Henderson. It was also the year the village became incorporated.

Village Incorporated 1888 Moonlit Streets Board walk

The first Council consisted of Reeve Aaron Sweet, Councillors Robert Reddick Hugh Christie, Henry Mercill and James Alexander. First clerk was W. Beach. Monday, January 16, 1888 was the date ot he first meeting of council in Sweet's Hall. With incorporation came new businesses, homes board sidewalks, and an electric light plant was installed for illumination of streets. Even a fire engine was purchased. Population son jumped to 1,000. Egar. Sanderson Company owned the electric plant. Charges for service were on a flat rate basis of two cents per night for each 16 candlepower lamp up to five lamps with further reductions as the number of lamps increased. It was 1899 that the street lights first went up to be lighted each night except in the case of a clear sky and during the two nights previous to a full moon.

Education In a Log Shanty

Education was a long road to advancement in the early village as the first log school house was erected about 1848. In 1876 the school moved into what is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Willard. The school was to become the home of the Aaron Sweet family. As the school population grew so did the school with a frame annex near the old bowling green where the present house of Harry Flora stands. The house was occupied by Mrs. Lucy Summers after a new brick school was built in 1890. The school was destroyed by fire in 1927 and replaced by the present building. The high school was built in 1914 after much controversy on the location which was to have cost $500.

First teaching staff at the high school was J. M. Zurbrigg, principal; Miss R. Stenhouse, assistant; Miss Lulu Edwards and Miss Maude Rose. The school was built at the cost of $13,200. The present public school in its original form in 1928 was completed at a cost of $50,000. Susie Annable, of course, is the name so closely associated with the Public School.

The skating rink and curling rink, both integral parts of the community in the 30's with the skating rink being built by the Winchester Rink Company at a cost of $15,000.

Man Made Success Stories Commercial Hub of County

Shortly after the turn of the century Winchester had gained status and was the hub of the North county. Names familiar to many people today were in the ranks of the village. Commercial interests were represented by general merchants Sweet and Company, J. D. LaFlamme, grocers A. W Beach, J. E. Cook, L. Flora, druggist G. H. Challies, jeweler Henry Johnson, J. A. McDougall stationer and optical goods; N. M. Trickey photographer; tailors A. Cameron and Company, S. W Boyd and J. E. Earl; dress and mantlemakers Mrs. William Shaver, Mrs. McPherson, Misses Porteous; farm imlpements, W. H. Fetterly; Bank of Ottawa manager N W. Morton, Private Bank of D. F. Sutherland; Bow House Hotel of A. McDonald, Commercial Hotel Hirman Wallace, live stock dealer J. F Cass, insurance Andrew Christie, A. Sweet, A. Ross. N. W. Beach, A. W. Beach W. Rowat; tinsmiths Armstrong and Holmes, butchers J. J. Empey, W. W. Beckstead, produce merchants B. Bouck, W. J. Fraser, baker A. W. Beach, Kellogg and Reoch; harness makers William Gardner and R. L. Suffel; carriage manufacturer Mahlon Bailey, blacksmiths A. Casselman, George Elliott, A. M. Cook, Charles A. Summers, Gordon Fraser; barbers Reuben Clothier, F. W. Barclay; shoemakers G. Utman, A. Gagnon; undertaker Merrick Durant; C.P.R. station agent G. A. Johnstone. and G.N.W. Telegraphy W Gardner (in post office); painter decorator James Anderson; builders and contractors A. Bulmer and J. Greer.

Religious Services Date Back To Earliest Settlers

Religious tradition in the village goes back to the earliest settlement and the cabin of Benjamin Bates. Then, Methodists moved to use the old log school house. Methodist Episcopals built the first village church in 1857-58. The Wesleyan Methodists then built a church, now a Church Street residence. Presbyterians first entered the picture in the school house that proved too small. and services were moved to the barn of John Christie. In 1858 the old white church was started and completed in 1860. There Presbyterians worshipped until June 1895 when the present building was erected. St. Matthias Anglican Church was erected in 1890. The Regular Baptist Church was organized in February 1859 and in 1869 construction began on the present edifice. In 1896 Wesleyan Methodists purchased the old Presbyterian White Church where to-day they still worship.

Some early ministers were: Methodist, Revs. J. M. Haggar, J. E. Mavety, T. C Brown; Presbyterian, Revs. William Bennett, Andrew Rowat, M. H. Scott; Baptist, Revs. J. M. Cornwall, W. H. Sedgeworth, J. M. Warner; Anglican, Revs. Mrs. Archer Mr. Arnold, Capt. Abbott; Shea, Bain and E. Claxton.

. . . and to-day

To-day, of course, many of the homes of yesteryear are still familiar. Reeve G. E. Elliott lives in the home of former Reeve J. H. Ross; home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Summers was the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beach; a tourist home, Sweet's Store is now occupied by the George E. Elliott hardware and dry goods store. The family of D. F. Sutherland lived in the present home of Mrs. W. Angus and son Doug. and family; Arthur Knapp now lives in the large brick home of Thomas Sanderson; Harry Keyes in the home of Byron Lane and later his grandfather T. O. Keyes. noted village business man and community worker; Dr. H. G. Barton in the former home of Dr. N. Mallock and later Dr. Gross. And many more.

Thousands of stories exist in the building of the village. They cannot be all told here but can be remembered or read by many of those who choose. Our brief look back into history of the village that properly isn't as old as Canada but was settled many years before was to maybe stir memories for a number of people and to inform to some small extent others who may not be familiar with the details of the growth of the village from its beginnings well into our present century.

A few brief minutes of looking back at things and people that brought us to this year 1967 and our celebration of Canada's Centennial in the village this Saturday.

Welcome To The Party

Happy birthday Canada is what Winchester and district will be saying this week-end. For one entire day citizens will throw their party to mark this country's 100th birthday. Too much for everyone might be the cliche used to describe what is in store for those who come to the party. But this just guarantees what is mentioned in another cliche, something for everyone. Saturday, May 20, 1967, is party day in Winchester and everyone that can make it is invited. You will be made most welcome.

In discussion of Centennial celebration for the village, a type of old home get-together was to the fore many times. And although it has not been designated as such an affair, Saturday's party certainly will be. With native sons, their families and Winchester and district people at heart coming to town like the Old Home Week of 1934 to join in the big blow-out for all Canadians.

There is no need to mention all the activity of the day, only to thank the persons in advance who in so many ways large and small have contributed to this day of days in 1967. The way things seem now with the enthusiasm that has built up and the anticipation of the Centennial party there is only one thing that might interfere. Naturally, the weatherman has not assured the committee in charge of a delightful warm and sunny May day. But, it has been suggested to him and we can hope for his co-operation. Everything else is in readiness.

A Centennial welcome to all who will attend the party and enjoy yourselves. Don't be reticient about it, there is little chance you will be around for the next one.

Your Say In The Future

Greatest tribute that can be paid on the government ordered study, the Carter Commission Report on Taxation, has been paid. The compliment is simply found in the time that it has taken for it to be digested and considered and for comment critical or complimentary to arise from it. This volume of thousands of hours of work-in-depth with its new concept for taxation and its recommendations deserves and demands careful study before comment.

The comment critical and otherwise is now beginning. The ultimate decision of acceptance of the report is many years away. But in fact it could change almost every facet of Canadian life—the amount we earn, the price of what we buy, the amount and purposes of what we save, the standards by which we live, and the amount and effort of productivity we will expend in our work. The report is that comprehensive and all inclusive in the opinion of the experts who are now commenting upon it.

The Carter staff have completed the most monumental study on the subject of taxation ever undertaken anywhere. They deserve the gratitude of all Canadians whether in agreement or disagreement with their conclusions and recommendations. The national conclusion of those objectives will determine the future course of Canada.

Every Canadian owes it to himself and the section of the community he represents to study the Report and its recommendations. Those who do not make their voices heard, one way or the other, will have no right in the future to object to whatever course the country may proceed along.

A Birthday Passed

Last week's issue of The Press marked the eightieth birthday of the newspaper. For eighty years The Press has been in existence, appearing regularly, and reporting the day to day events of the village and district. This year, coincident with our birthday are, of course the birthday of our nation and one other that may well be forgotten. It is also the eightieth birthday of our community. Winchester was incorporated in January, 1888. Both village and media have grown through the pioneer era, the steam age, the turn into the century of progress, the wars, the depression, and into the growth and development years we are experiencing to-day.

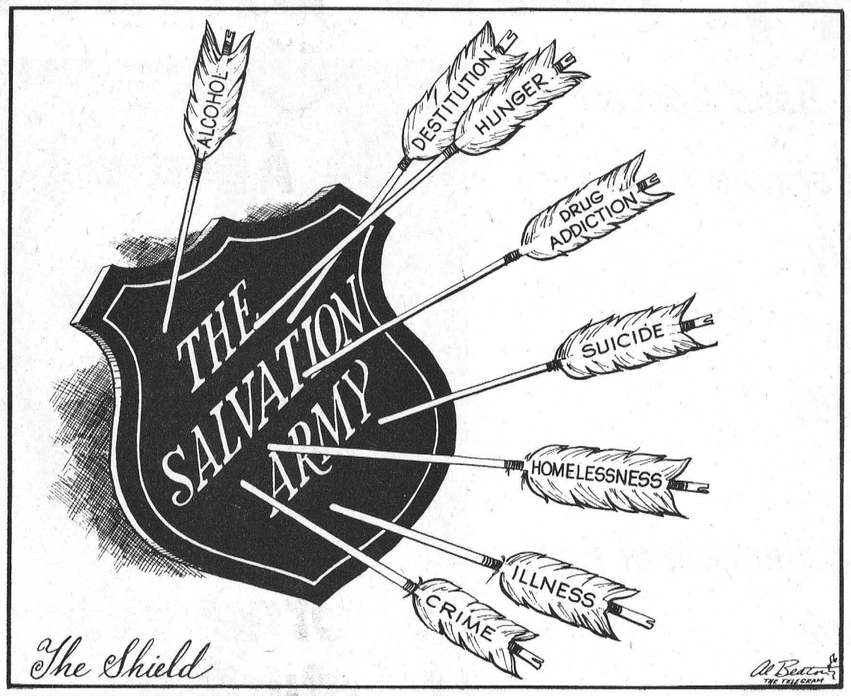
The West Winchester Directory was the original informer of the pioneer community of that same name. E. L. White was the editor at that time. When the village was incorporated in 1888 so too was The Press founded by Byron Lane. Many years, many changes later the name is the same, the reason the same, to inform the people.

Mr. Lane was succeeded as publisher by George C. Lacey who handed over the business to James H. Ross. At the time of the death of her husband, Mrs. Ross retained ownership for many months before selling the business to W. F. Workman, father of the present day publishers, the Workman Brothers, Reg and Ron. It is a short story told in simple concise ownership terms. No mention made of the toil of handsetting all the type for the paper or the old presses that required equal amounts of patience and hard work.

Location wise the firm moved several times in the village. Early memory places its location on the site now occupied by the Gardner home and Burnbrae Farms on Main Street. Fire in the frame structure there in 1921 forced relocation in the premises now occupied by the Legion. It was only two years or so later with the completion of the impressive new Lannin block on Main that The Press once again moved, into the west side of the concrete structure (now the IGA Store). A second move within the same building took the office from the west side of the block to the east. In 1951 The Press moved into the first shop of its own—its present location.

During the eighty years the newspaper has changed as has the community of the same years. Both changed with the times. Offset has replaced letterpress and machines make man's work much easier than the oldtimers got it. But the tradition of the local newspaper to report and to speak effectively and understandingly has always continued.

This community deserves a good newspaper and the publishers and all that labor to produce it hope that it may be regarded that way.



The Shield

Meditations . . .

by REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

II Corinthians 5:1—"We have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

How long do you expect to live? That is a disturbing question. Each one of us knows that in a few short years our life on earth will end. But then what? Is the grave the end? How many of us actually believe that? Not one in a thousand! Yet many of us put that question aside. We don't want to think about it. We are inclined to say: Why worry about what's after death? Let us eat and drink and have fun, and let the future take care of itself for who knows what is beyond the grave? Scripture answers that question conclusively and repeatedly. It says, among other such passages: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."—Gal. 6:7-8.

Only the fool will close his eyes and ears to Scripture's call and warning. The wise will not be deceived. The wise will see life for what it actually is, a preparation for eternal life or eternal death. He will live in the Spirit and through the Spirit prepare for eternal life. Scripture commands us thus "But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor dust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will you heart be also."

All that we see and use in this life is transient. There is change and decay in all that we see around us. No invention of man can stay death's power operating in all of life. Our best homes stand only for a time. There is nothing here on earth that offers us lasting security. All of it is under divine curse, all of it passing away. If we want security (and who does not want) we cannot find it in earthly things. True and eternal last security is found only in Christ Jesus, for, "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him."—John 3:36.

How long do you expect to live? Another 20 years perhaps. And then what? The apostle Paul gives a glorious comforting answer to that question. To every one who believes on the Lord Jesus Christ that question is answered with this full assurance, "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." That teaching is clear. Everyone knows that death is certain. The house we now live in, that is, our body, will be destroyed. But that is not the end at all. We through death enter the home God has prepared for us, which never can be moved, but stands eternal in the heavens. What a comfort in a transient world! And we may all live in that glorious hope!

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

Smiley goes fishin'

First trout-fishing trip of the year is like a good spring tonic. It cleanses you physically and spiritually. And leaves you exhausted.

I had mine last Saturday. The important thing in going after speckled trout, of course, is the careful planning. There's no use to it at all if you just throw your fishing gear in the car, and go out to some stream where all the amateurs angle, and toss in a line. You're liable to come home with a creel full of fish if you go at it in this haphazard way.

No. First of all, you select a fishing companion. This, to a real angler, is just a bit less important than choosing a mate for life. You want a dependable sort of chap — the type who is going to have fresh worms for both of you, a good supply of hooks, maps with the sure-fire holes marked in red, and an infallible sense of direction in the bush.

That's exactly what I lined up this year. Mind you, those keen types take a bit of managing. They're great in the bush, but they need an organizational mind to channel their energies. I had to get quite firm with him when he began muttering about 4 a.m. and hitting the stream at dawn.

Dawn, indeed. I told him that is pure superstition. Only the very young, immature angler goes floundering off in the dark, fishes like a fool until noon, then is whacked for the day. Just about then, the wily, mature angler, fortified with a good breakfast, arrives and slaughters the trout, which are completely unprepared for the second wave — the experts.

Well, we got away about 10.30, after a couple of false starts. He forgot his lunch and we had to go around to his place. And when we got out to the County Line, I realized that because of his stupidity, I'd been upset and had forgotten my waders.

But he had a beautiful spot picked out. You park the car just off the road, and walk up this hydro line to the stream. The stream was just in there past the fourth hydro tower, he thought. It was just past the 14th. And they're 100 yards apart.

Not another angler in sight, I gloated. We cached the lunch and began working up the stream. I like that word we anglers use. "Working." You couldn't hire a man to do it for $80 an hour. Slash in the face from an alder. Hole in the boot from a snag. Slide from a log and oh-oh-oh-oh as you hit that spring-fed water. Lose a boot in the mud. Scratch hands to a bloddy mess on jagged branches.

But it's all worth it if the trout are biting. And, boy, were they biting! They were biting each other on the neck, nibbling each others' ears, and snapping each other in half, as far as I know. But they weren't biting worms.

After an hour of torture that would have made the Gestapo green with envy, we arrived at the big pool above the beaver dam. The sure-fire hole.

We fished. Hard. A big mallard hen popped into the pond, secure in the knowledge that it wasn't duck season, looked us over, cackled with laughter and took off.

We fished. Harder. A baby beaver surfaced, swam casually to within four feet, looked at each of us, and expressed his feelings by turning his rump in the air and submerging.

We fished. Desperately. Suddenly there was a huge splosh, then a ker-plunk, ker-plunk, and a big buck deer splashed through the shallows and away, sneering over his shoulder.

That did it. We left. But there was no point, said my mate, in taking the long, tortuous trail back down the stream, through that heavy slash. So, with his infallible sense of direction, we swung around in a circle, by the high ground.

The high ground turned out to be cedar based in mud, both so thick you had to crawl most of the time. The circle turned out to be the two long sides of an isosceles triangle. Two hours later, we hit the hydro road right on the nose. Except that the nose had moved about a mile due east.

My first trout trip of the season. And believe me — I don't care if Mrs. Richard Burton wants to go along next time — it's my last. There have to be easier ways to get a coronary.

The Seventh Column

"I hope it doesn't rain on Saturday." With Centennial Day just a stone's throw away that particular sentiment is being echoed by more and more people and by one group in particular — the members of the Winchester Centennial Committee. The weather hasn't been all that good lately but the more confident types assure us that the week-end will shape up well for the celebrations planned in Winchester.

And it should be quite a day. Last minute details are being ironed out and all, except the sweating, seems to be in readiness for the influx of what could be several thousand people. It is all centred around the appearance of the much talked about Confederation Caravan which runs from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m. Already more than 2500 school age youngsters are slated to go through, so Winchester citizens in particular are asked to pick their times accordingly.

During the day there will be "no parking" areas and the committee and police ask that these temporary regulations be obeyed to the letter. Otherwise there could be a jam-up. And with the expected crowd, traffic jams and other inconveniences could occur on their own. If you have a costume of any kind put it on and wear it, so states the Centennial Committee. The more the merrier.

In addition to band concerts there will be the appearance of the beautiful Miss Domnon of Canada as well as Centennial Queen Judi Coons. The big and quite lengthy parade gets underway at 2.00 p.m. and then to the Community Park for the official opening of the Centennial Swimming Pool, the beard growing contest and a big chicken barbecue. Early evening at the public school another band concert as well as booths and games in operation at this point all afternoon and evening. Two bands and a big "Happening" in the Community Centre for the younger set and a Centennial Dance for the older gang at the new public school auditorium. All climaxed by a gigantic display of fireworks at the Community Park about 11.45 p.m.

Get out the costumes, put up your Centennial decorations and enjoy yourself this Saturday at Winchester's Centennial Day.

Centennial Report

1867 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

It's all true. Our publicists and advertising copy writers for a long time have been saying that Expo 67 is the greatest show on earth.

It is.

You would think that some of us who, in the past few years, have been close to Expo planning and preparations would have been a bit blasé on opening day. It turned out that, despite all our advance knowledge and familiarity with Canada's greatest Centennial event of all, we were as spellbound as a prairie farm boy visiting Expo on his first trip away from home.

Of all my kaleidoscopic impressions of Expo there is one which comes blazing above them all. It is the impression that here, among the glittering best and the competitive, nationalistic pride of 62 countries, is the great co-operative spirit of mankind.

The Expo planners who adopted the Man and His World theme and the sub-themes which also underline the hopeful spirit of our world, can take much credit. However the participating nations have so responded to the theme that the mood and the spirit of Expo unmistakably communicate the message that man's hope is above all nations. (One almost feels this message while walking over the waters of the St. Lawrence on Cosmos Bridge, the link between the gigantic, inspiring displays of the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.)

As a Canadian naturally I am proud that this great international gathering is taking place in my country. But much more significant to me is that the message of hope and the positive spirit of man reverberating from the Expo islands are so in harmony with all that is symbolized by our Centennial.

When we think about the past 100 years of our Confederation and consider the best ways of improving it for Canadians of every ethnic origin, cultural and linguistic background, we are developing the kind of spirit that not only Canada needs, but also the whole world needs. And when we think well and long we come to the realization that indeed, in the 20th century, we live in only one community—the great community of man.

Greatest North American Explorer

LaSalle on the Toronto carrying place, August 1681. Rene Robert Cavalier, Sieur de La Salle was one of the greatest explorers of North America and is best remembered as explorer of the Mississippi Valley This drawing shows La Salle at the beginning of his most successful expedition. He took the land route between Toronto and Lake Simcoe — known as the Toronto carrying place — involving a 28 mile portage — and on through the lakes to St. Joseph at the foot of Lake Michigan. During the winter of 1681-82 he went down the Illinois, using his canoes as sleds on the river ice. He kept on down the Mississippi and formally took possession of the "country of Louisiana" for France.

La Salle was a cold, ambitious man with many enemies. Had he not been so restricted by the opposition of his enemies, he may well have carried out his grandiose plans for colonization of America. And if he had succeeded, it would have taken more than one seven years' war, no doubt, to shake the hold of France on the interior. But La Salle was murdered by one of his own men in 1687. France held Louisiana until 1762, when it was transferred to Spain and then returned to France in 1800. In 1803 Napoleon I sold it to the United States for $15 million.

THE MEMBERS' REPORT

From Toronto by Fred M. Cass
. . . Backbencher's Opportunity

Progress with the business of Ontario has been quite marked during the past few weeks, with departmental estimates proceeding well and much debate on private member's bills and resolutions giving the backbencher much opportunity of expressing his views on a variety of matters.

The Minister of Public Works presented his 1967-68 program which was rather readily accepted by the House, as it contained, as always, provision for provincial government buildings in many areas of Ontario The only item of importance for Grenville-Dundas was announcement in the estimates of a new men's residence to be erected at the Kemptville Agricultural School.

It was announced by the Minister of Transport that Ontario would embark on a program, extending over several years, of replacing present highway and traffic signs with the new international code of signs which bear no words, but merely pictoral or diagramatic material. These will have the dual effect of allowing persons from another land and of another language to drive more safely on our highways and will also enable our Ontario drivers to become familiar with this uniform and international traffic sign code. Incidentally, this particular uniform traffic sign has long been a project of the Canadian Good Roads Association, which helped develop it.

An announcement by the Minister of Education made a week ago is of great interest, and will be of much financial assistance to all Ontario taxpayers. The Honourable William Davis anncunced a very substantial increase in provincial grants towards new capital construction which had been approved by his Department since January 1, 1965. Undoubtedly many school boards in our Counties will be able to take advantage of this and so give a further measure of relief to their hard-pressed property taxpayers.

The Provincial Treasurer introduced a Bill designed to allow Province of Ontario Savings Banks to compete with other such institutions by removing the presently existing ceiling of 4 per cent. authorized to be paid to depositors So far, the Province has not entered into the "gimmick" race for savings account depositors indulged in by most Trust Savings and Loan Companies and some Chartered Banks.

An interesting release from the Department of Education on education by mail, shows that there are some 31,857 students enrolled in the Department Correspondence Courses Division. Over 27,000 are taking high school courses, but many are in elementary school courses. These are free course for any Ontario adult or child who is unable to attend school and supplies a great need for adults who wish to improve their educational standard while holding their present job. Lessons are provided and corrected and students in Grades 1 to 12 receive their text books on loan. This is really a great service for our people—big and little.

From Ottawa by Mrs. Jean Wadds
. . . Diefenbaker Centennial Spirit

Immediately following the mover and seconder of the motion in reply to the Speech from the Throne, the debate was begun by the Leader of the Opposition. Following Mr. Diefenbaker came the Prime Minister who commented that the Leader of the Opposition had not been quite as hard on the government and the leader of the government today as he has been on other occasions.

Mr. Diefenbaker: "That is the Centennial spirit."

Mr. Pearson: "I should like to reciprocate that Centennial spirit by taking out of my remarks anything that might indicate a reflection on the wisdom, energy, devotion, determination and all the other good qualities which the right hon. gentleman possesses."

Amiability does not last long between these two old leaders and the political ice soon started to foam.

Mr. Pearson: "I should like to make another promise to my right hon. friends which arises out of the statement he made in Winnipeg when he intimated that as a crafty, cunning politician—those were not his words but is what he meant."

Mr. Diefenbaker: No.

Mr. Peason: And I know that he meant these words in a kindly way—

Mr. Diefenbaker: I had not that in mind.

Mr. Pearson: I never had it in mind either. But the hon. gentleman, speaking as a politician, said that I might well take advantage of any unity and division in the Conservative party call a quick election in Centennial year. I wish to assure him and the house that I have no such intention.

It has been well known to those on Parliament Hill that the Prime Minister has often made this statement verbally. It is quite another thing to have him place it in hansard as an announcement at the beginning of a major speech.

It is encouraging to Progressive Conservatives to have this point clarified. The National Convention being planned for Setpember in Toronto promises to be one of the biggest and best organized political conventions ever held in Canada. Long hours and great effort are already being contributed by the enthusiastic Convention Committee. In every mechanical way the Conservatives will be making use of every modern medium, television, radio, telephone to prove their adaptaiblity to these fast moving times.

It remains for the members of the party, and many of us feel the responsibility heavily, to update our thinking and face squarely and honestly the troublesome, confusing problems of our times.

It was interesting that the mover of the reply to the Speech from the Throne was a Newfoundlander, from a Canadian province only 18 years old.

Don Jamieson (Burin-Burgeo) is President of the Newfoundland Broadcasting Co. Ltd., a past president of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters. He mentioned that we must be prepared to listen to the young people of our country, these young people who are becoming aware of Canada's potential.

Many speakers following in the debate agreed with Mr Jamieson in this regard. There is undoubtedly a growing recognition of the numbers of young Canadians, their determination to improve their own society and the world in which they live.

All politicians are aware of Mr. Jamieson's observations—"But our young people in particular are convinced that the standard, routine methods are not the answer, nor do our present values bear any great relevance to the conception they have of national objectives. This, I suggest, is why many institutions, including this house, are held in something less than awe by the younger generation which now makes up such a large part of our population."

For The Handicapped At Expo

Handicapped persons have not been forgotten by those planning Expo 67, according to Expo officials. All buildings and facilities constructed by the Expo Corporation are in accord with recommendations published in 1965 as a supplement to the National Building Code of Canada. The supplement, Building Standards for the Handicapped, 1965, expressed concern that handicapped and aged persons often are frustrated by the difficulty in getting about in public places.

The Montreal world fair, to be held from April 28 to October 27, demonstrates the feasibility of planning facilities that permit easy access for the handicapped. A special symbol indicates entrances and facilities specially prepared for the convenience of handicapped visitors.

A specially designed car for the Expo transportation system, called "La Ballade," will carry 50 handicapped passengers in comfort and without fatigue. The car will accommodate up to 25 wheelchairs. This train will leave from Place d'Accueil on MacKay Pier four times a day.

Special groups of 60 persons can rent other transportation for several hours for about $2.00 each; an Expo guide will accompany the group.

Wheelchairs will be available for rent at the Expo site. Cost will be about $5.00 per day; a partial refund will be given.

Expo consultants advised all pavillion architects to consider the handicapped in their designs. As part of the overall landscaping effect, ramps rather than exterior stairways, were provided. Restrooms are planned with special fixtures and wide doors to facilitate the visitor in wheelchair.

North Russell Bridal Shower

About 85 guests gathered at the North Russell Institute Home for a miscellaneous shower in honour of Mrs. Robert Edgley, the former Mildred James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carman James of Russell.

The room was suitably decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers and bells.

The bride was ushered to a decorated chair where a pretty corsage was pinned on her by one of the hostesses, after which a well composed address, on behalf of those present, wishing her success and happiness in the future, was read by Mrs. W. Hamilton.

The bride was the recipient of many gifts, after which she thanked those present for the kind thoughts and good wishes bestowed upon her.

A short skit was put on by 4-H girls of which Mildred was a former member, under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Burton. A duet was sung by Shirley and Joan Hamilton.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

About 360 4-H projects have been commenced in Carleton County. The projects are calf, swine, grain, corn, potato and engineering. Membership in barley and corn clubs is up greatly over last year.

Eighteen members have enrolled in the engineering club which will discuss farm buildings in the coming months. Norm Sinclair, specialist in agricultural engineering, will be giving instruction.

Rev. Keith Daniels Meets Old Acquaintances At Vernon

An hour of Negro spirituals presented by a long-time friend of Vernon entertained more than one hundred in the Presbyterian Church recently. Rev. Keith Daniels of Bromley Road Baptist Church, Ottawa, was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Wallace Carkner. Dr. E. G. B. Foote was the most capable Master of Ceremonies.

Rev. Daniels renewed many old friendships in Vernon after the presentation, and was presented with a gift of appreciation by the Ladies' Aid.

Ladies Aid Plans For Future

A new date has been set for the next meeting of the Vernon Ladies' Aid group. With the reasons for the date shuffle being the June 1st teachers' banquet, the group will meet May 30th for the Home Helpers meeting, with Mrs. Albert Hill in charge.

Planning ahead for the coming months was completed under the directorship of Mrs. Audrey Stewart with Mrs. Ian Dow acting as secretary.

Lunch was served by Mrs Charles Wallace and Mrs. M Dier. Hostess and lunch committee were thanked by Mrs Winston Bellinger.

Mrs. Ian Crerar Hosts Vernon W.M.S.

Vernon W. M. S. at their May meeting received information that announcement will be made of supply allocation at the June 17 Presbyterial at Manotick. The Vernon group has already forwarded expense obligations to the provincial treasurer and decision was made to allot the balance of supper proceeds to the Life Membership Fund.

Twenty-three ladies attended the meeting at the home of Mrs. Ian Crerar. President Mrs. W. Dow opened the meeting with a touching poem, "My Mother," from a second reader of over sixty years ago. Devotional leader was Mrs. A. J. Campbell.

Program convener Mrs. S. W. Fisher intrigued members with a condensed history of the trail blazing missionaries who opened up the Canadian West for the Presbyterian Church of Canada. Closing the meeting, a film strip on the life of the early settlers interested all.

Farmer's March Will Be Topic Of Discussion

The May 24th Farmer's March on Parliament Hill will be the topic of a meeting in Vernon to-night (Thursday).

Representatives of the Carleton Federation of Agriculture and the Ontario Farmers Union local will be on hand to answer questions and to outline details of the March.

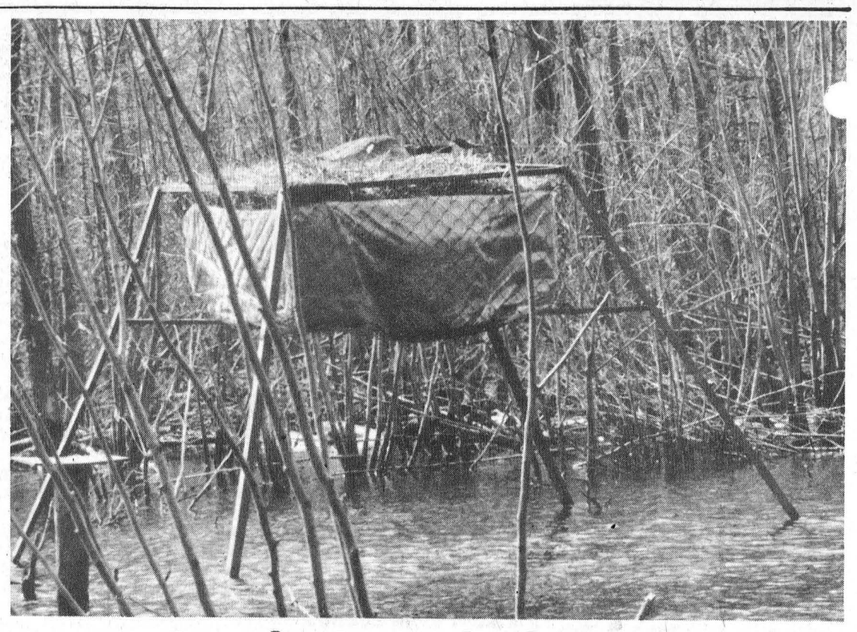
Winter Fair Still Is Alive

Extension Personnel in Carleton County have expressed their opinion that the Ottawa Winter Fair is dying.

With all the talk about the financial problems concerning the Ottawa Winter Fair, there are many developments taking place which would indicate this fair is not dying. When such a drastic change is made in the classification of livestock judging as the adoption of the Hay's Classification, then progress is being made.

The Sheep and Swine Committees recently approved the adoption of the Federal Classifications usually referred to as the "Hay's Plan". This Classification does much to make judging more useful and meaningful to both the spectator and the exhibitor. In addition, it encourages the consideration of show animals from the standpoint of production and yield of human food which heretofore was minimized.

Hats off to those forwarding-thinking committee members.



Canada Geese In Sanctuary

Geese nesting is well underway at the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary in St. Lawrence Parks. Elevated platforms like the one shown above have provided nesting sites for 16 geese so far this season. They were first placed in the Sanctuary in 1963 to make up for a deficiency of natural nesting islands and their utilization has since increased each year. The hatching period begins in mid-May and continues into early June, providing an attractive display of family groups to Park visitors.

Warden George Brown Vice President In New Grenville-Carleton Riding

George Brown, Reeve of Cardinal and Warden of the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville, was named Executive Vice President of the Liberal Association for the newly formed Grenville-Carleton riding, at the inaugural meeting Saturday.

The meeting was held at the Ontario Vocational Centre, Ottawa, and the guest speaker for the occasion was the Hon. E. J. Benson, Minister of Revenue in the Federal Cabinet.

"Never was so much legislature passed in a four-year period." So spoke Mr. Benson, in outlining the accomplishments of the Liberal Government under Prime Minister L. Pearson.

Mr. Benson told of the need for a new look at the education field and possibly closer co-operation between the Federal and Provincial Governments.

Mr. Benson was introduced by Lloyd Francis, former M.P. in the present Carleton riding.

A proposed constitution was reviewed and approved, in part, by the meeting. Gordon Blair chaired the meeting and warned the members of the tremendous job that lay ahead, due to the great area of the new riding which reaches all the way from the St. Lawrence River to the city limits of Ottawa.

Introduced by Mr. Blair as one of the real old timers in the Liberal ranks, 78-year-old Jim Rutherford of Winchester R. R. 1 received a fine round of applause from those present

Complete list of officers in the new organization follows:

President, Chris Klenewski Nepean Township; executive vice president, George Brown Cardinal; six vice presidents Colin Thompson, North Gower; Mrs. Geo. Wilenius, Nepean; Richard Tobin, Prescott; Charles Polowin, Nepean; Hugh Blaine, Mountain; secretary, Mrs. M. Jackoweg, Nepean; assistant, James Murray, Cardinal; treasurer, Dennis Lynch, Nepean; auditor, Ian Kirkconnell, Nepean; legal advisor, Paul Tetro, Nepean.

Marker Deadline

May 31 is the extended deadline for the farm marker signs. Carleton 4-H members and Soil and Crop Improvement Association directors have already sold 350 of a predicted 500.

Any farmer not having been contacted by the persons acting as sales staff may gain information or place an order by getting in touch with the Soil and Crop or 4-H members.

The signs identify each farm home. Not only will visitors appreciate the signs, but they will be an asset when directing livestock buyers, fire trucks, commercial or service people.

Mrs. Hilliard Gilmer gave a temperance reading, "Have Faith in God." Mrs. Somerville reported she had sent the allocation and presbytery fund, and also that flowers had been purchased for the late Mrs. Geo. Warren, a charter member. Mrs. Somerville thanked the members for kindness shown her husband while in hospital and also at the time of sale.

Minutes were read and roll call taken. Correspondence told of the Presbyterial meeting in Prescott, the summer school to be held in August, and a Regional conference at Kemptville in June. It was decided to start the money apron around as a means of raising funds. An invitation to the Centennial Rose Tea at South Mountain was accepted.

The next meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Fotheringham. The Mizpah Benediction closed the meeting.

BELL LINES

by R. R. PEARSON
your telephone manager

With the first long weekend of the 1967 summer only a few days away, I'm taking a good look at my driving habits. If I find that I've slipped unthinkingly into unsafe driving habits perhaps now is the time to make a mid-year resolution to turn over a new leaf. This will likely be the most exciting summer ever for most Canadians. Visitors from other countries and other provinces will be joining in our Centennial celebrations and our highways will be busier than ever leading travellers from one community to another. For most visitors routes will be unfamiliar ones. Roads which we use every day or week and to us hold no "mysteries" may sometimes be confusing or difficult to a stranger struggling to remember directions or becoming tired after a long day's drive. Simple driving courtesy and a strict "toeing of the line" on safe driving habits could make the trip easier and safer for our visitors . . . and ourselves.

A real way that every driver could put warmth in his welcome to our visitors is to drive safely and courtiously on our highways this summer. Who knows, if we all practice this for six months, it could become so automatic that the annual slaughter on our highways might lessen instead of climb each year. Needless cutting in and out by drivers familiar with a road can confuse another driver searching for road signs; tailgating can lead to an accident if a visitor is unsure of the way. And, really, did belligerent horn-honking ever move traffic any quicker?

It might be a wonderful way of welcoming visitors if we made an effort to keep track of the various happenings in our area during the summer and falls months That way we'll be able to give helpful directions to visitors . . . a small courtesy appreciated by any traveller. We are hosts to the world this year. Canadians are usually regarded as quietly friendly, usually helpful and polite. This year we have a unique opportunity of proving to the world just what we are. Often it's the very small things that a traveller remembers with pleasure or distaste Small things that will color his desire to return to a happy holiday spot or to vow never to return again A pleasant smile, a helping hand and the small courtesies that we extend to our friends will provide a store of happy memories for visitors from other lands or other parts of our own country.

And, if you are planning a trip yourself this summer, now is the time to complete arrangements. Your telephone can help you complete this chore quickly and easily. It can "go shopping" for the extra few things we always seem to need before a trip; "run errands" to the newspaper, bakery or creamery to stop deliveries while you're away; or call ahead for reservations en route. The familiar telephone makes planning an easy part of a trip.

Most local places of business have a Centennial touch in their window displays this week. Whether it be a welcome to visitors on Centennial week-end or flags or placards, they all are saying the same thing, Happy Birthday Canada.

One original window is that display in the Jo-Anne Shoppe. A comparison of fashions 1867 and 1967 proves that the girls to-day do wear less. The heavily corseted, long skirted miss of 1867 on the left would be much more warmly dressed than the miss of 1967 on the right with her short tent dress, white net stockings and briefest of sheer unmentionables. — Press Staff Photo.

Dr. R. O. Jones' Speech

Mental Illness Canada's Priority Health Problem

Jean Wadds Reports

Dr. R. O. Jones was a recent visitor to the House of Commons, invited by the Voluntary Committee on Health. He is unusually qualified and Members of Parliament and Senators know they were listening to an expert.

Dr. Jones is the Chief Advisor in Psychiatry in the Maritimes provinces and one of the most outstanding doctors in this field in Canada. He graduated from Dalhousie, then went on to do postgraduate work at Hammersmith, London, England. He returned to the United States to John Hopkins on a Rockefeller Foundation Scholarship and obtained a Fellowship in Psychiatry there. He returned to Canada and obtained a Fellowship in Internal Medicine as well.

With such qualilfications Dr. Jones remains a most unassuming, natural personality. He has been President of the Canadian Medical Association, of the Rotary Clubs of the Maritimes and President of the Historical Society of Nova Scotia. He is married, with a family of three children.

Dr. Jones began by saying that mental ill health—considered in terms of hospitalization, public expenditures, industrial waste, or most important of all, human suffering, is the greatest health problem in the country.

It is estimated that about 3% of our population is completely incapacitated by mental illness and 30% is somewhat disabled. Of those qualified for government alowances as permanently and totally disabled up to March 1959, mental illness accounted for one-quarter.

Dr. Jones paid tribute to the Canadian Mental Health Association which produced in Canada, by voluntary effort, the same pioneer type report as appeared in the United States during the 1950's. The difference being that the Canadian effort cost about $50,000 and thee Americna cost several million. These two reports "More For The Mind" and "Action For Mental Health" contained the guiding principles now generally accepted throughout the mental health world.

The feeling is very strong that mental hospitals should not be excluded from the cost-sharing programme set up in the Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Act. This exaggerates the existing problem of utmost psychological importance whereby mental illness is considered different from other illnesses. Still more important is the economic effect because care, including medical care, for patients in mental hospitals comes to $6 - $8 a day, while in general hospitals the cost runs to $35 - $40 a day.

Dr. Jones stated his case clearly. One of the biggest obstacles is lack of personnel, an obstacle which is going to be compounded many times over by the increasing demands on all medical and mental health personnel which the next few years will bring forth. In 1962 the Royal Commission on Health Services stated: "An additional 2062 qualified psychiatrists are needed for a realistic satisfaction of Canada's needs by 1970 It is unlikely that this can be achieved without marked expansions of university training programmes, or considerable changes in the migration of psychiatrists into and out of Canada."

Now, slightly over the halfway mark, I would doubt if relatively speaking we have made any progress in improving the personnel situation. In the area which I know best, the Atlantic Provinces, the Director of Mental Health, Dr. Clarence Pottle, has developed an exceedingly good programme with an active recruiting programme in England, good salaries and a progressive educational policy. Despite this he has lost people as soon as they have been trained and in the last two months has lost three senior staff members, two with their Fellowships in Psychiatry so that this programme is almost on the rocks. In Newfoundland too an extremely good psychiatric unit in Gander has stood unused for years because no staff is available. In Nova Scotia, the Hospital Insurance Commission has attempted to fill the deficiency in the Federal Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Act and has recently taken on the responsibility for the so-called municipal mental hospitals of the province, which house some 2000 mentally ill. This program too has made little progress because there are few doctors, fewer nurses and ward attendants and practically no social workers or occupational therapists.

These statistics bear out the Hall Report which found that in 1962 there were more Canadian born graduates, of Canadian medical schools, specializing in psychiatry in the United States than were on the staff of all Canadian psychiatric institutions. Unless we can make careers in mental health in Canada much more attractive, we can expect little but deterioration in the future.

Dr Jones did not believe that larger salaries in the United States were the cause, because expenses were higher there too. He felt that young people are discouraged and frustrated here by the interminable wrangling between municipal, provincial and federal groups. All agree that more services are needed but there is no agreement on who should supply the funds and how. What funds there are in the Health Resources Fund are for capital expenditures and none are available for operating costs. At a time when there are 300 vacancies in the pre-clinical departments of Canadian medical schools which must be filled if we are to do our present job well, money is available for new buildings and new equipment but we are unable to staff those we have.

This is an administrative fiasco that is indeed frightening and should have top priority attention.

Bright Corner

Village decorations are going up for the big Centennial Day celebrations. Monday and Tuesday of this week most of the decorations on the main thoroughfares were hoisted into place by an Ontario Hydro crew Two illuminated signs adorn the main corner facing south and west on Highways 31-43. Flags hanging from almost every pole are complimented by the flags and pennants across the street and on home and store fronts.

Hydro men Jim Lennox, up the sky ladder, and Norbie Hutt erected the main street Centennial signs Monday afternoon

Anyone still having a lack of decorations on their property will find local stores still have some types available. But hurry, the supply that was limited in the start has dwindled quickly. —Press Staff Photo

"SEAWAY VALLEY"

Amalgamation Plan Two Presbyteries Of United Church

Executive of the Grenville-Dundas Presbytery of the United Church has recommended the amalgamation of the Presbyteries of Grenville-Dundas and Glengarry. Application will be made to Conference for the amalgamation of the two presbyteries as of July 1, 1967. The new unit will be known as the "Seaway Valley" Presbytery.

Several other recommendations and actions highlighted the May meeting of Presbytery. Rev. R. G. Percival was re-elected chairman, Rev. J. Leslie Dean secretary-treasurer, Robert Martin, lay representative on Conference executive, and Mrs. Stewart Allen and Rev. D. J. Carnegie to the Settlement committee.

A new structure of presbytery was discussed and adopted after a report from Rev. James Stewart on the Montreal Conference on the same subject. The presbytery will now function with all committees grouped under three main commissions, namely, Congregational Life and Work, Outreach, and Presbytery Administration. Adoption of the structure was viewed as a possible forerunner and pattern of adoption of the system by all presbyteries.

Tribute was paid to the late Rev. E. B. Bugden, pastor of Chesterville's Trinity United who died in June 1966. Presently all pastoral charges are serviced. Rev. Sydney Oakwell of Sydney Mines, Nova Scotia, will assume duties in the Spencerville charge as of June 6 induction. Following sales of property were approved: manse at Easton's Corners, manse at Morewood; small piece of manse property at Morrisburg.

TOWNSHIP OF MOUNTAIN FINANCIAL STATEMENT

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31st, 1966

THE REEVE, MEMBERS OF MUNICIPAL COUNCIL AND RATEPAYERS,

The Corporation of the Township of Mountain, Ontario.

GENTLEMEN:

I have made an examination of the books of account and supporting records of the Corporation of the Township of Mountain and its constituent Board for the calendar year ended December 31, 1966. From this examination I have prepared the Statements listed on the attached Index, which I now present together with my comments thereon:

COMMENTS

My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

CORPORATION:

I recommend that your Clerk obtain a binder and file therein an official signed and sealed copy of each by-law passed by Council in numerical order. Each such by-law should contain the full text of the by-law and not just a synopsis or summary. As by-laws are rescinded or become inoperative, I recommend that they be removed from this binder and transferred to a storage binder and retained for reference purposes. An index should also be set up on the by-laws in force at any one time, so that officials of the Municipality and the Members of Council could, at any time, ascertain just what by-laws are in effect.

Following is a summary of transactions in the surplus or deficit accounts during the calendar year ended December 31, 1966.

	Over Levy for County Rates	Over Levy for Education	Reserve for Working Funds	Revenue Fund Surplus
Balances—January 1, 1966	587.38	5,795.22	25,200.00	55,237.30
Add: Net Revenue for 1966 Provided from 1966 Revenues	154.48	815.88	10,250.00	6,095.49
Transfer from Allowance for Loss of Property held for Sale			550.00
	741.86	6,611.10	36,000.00	61,332.79
Deduct: Transferred to 1966 Revenues				18,000.00
Balances—December 31, 1966	741.86	6,611.10	36,000.00	43,332.79

I am pleased to note that there has been an increase in the Reserve for Working Funds and I continue to recommend that this Reserve have further provisions made to it until it is approximately equal to the Taxes outstanding at the year end.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD:

I recommend that all amounts approved for payment each month by this Board be listed and that a copy of this list be appended to and form part of the Minutes wherein approval has been given.

I also recommend that a new cash book be obtained with sufficient columns to enable the Secretary-Treasurer to distribute revenues and Expenditures in conformity with the classifications called for by the Department of Education. I also recommend that consideration be given to installing a "Peg-Board" System for preparation and control of the payroll.

POLICE VILLAGE OF SOUTH MOUNTAIN:

I note that during 1966 the Police Village of South Mountain trustees over-expended their Revenue so that as at December 31, 1966, the trustees of this Police Village owed the Revenue Fund of the Municipality $381.25. I recommend that the levies of 1967 and future years be adequate to cover all expenditures of the Police Village.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL BOARD:

Following is a summary of the transactions of this Board during the calendar year ended December 31, 1966:

Surplus as at January 1, 1966		$ 7,374.05
Total Expenditure for 1966	$127,014.33
Total Revenue for 1966	119,024.15
Net Deficit for 1966		7,990.18

AUDITOR'S OPINION

Subject to the qualifications contained in the foregoing comments, I hereby report that in my opinion:

(1) The financial transactions which have come under my notice have been within the powers of the Municipality.
(2) The audit has been conducted in accordance with the instructions of the Department of Municipal Affairs.
(3) The financial Statements present fairly the financial position of the Municipality as at December 31, 1966, and the results of its operation for the year ended on that date.

(Signed) JOHN D. LUVARS, C.A.

Addiction Booklets May Have Answer To Problems

Parents and teen-agers are not as far apart on questions of drinking alcoholic beverages as some may fear, according to a new booklet just published by the Addiction Research Foundation of Ontario. "Clues for Parents" contains parts of tape-recorded discussions among groups of parents and — separately — groups of their teenage offspring.

Such questions as these are frankly discussed: "What can a girl do if her boy friend has been drinking and insists on driving home?" "How much adult supervision should there be at teenage parties?" "How can a young person refuse a drink if he doesn't want one?" "If the family uses alcoholic beverages is there any best age when young people might be included?" "If young people are going to drink how can they learn to do so responsibly?" and "How can parents keep their children from drinking before the legal age (21)?

When the discussions, which were recorded in four widely separated regions of Ontario, are summarized, the results show a remarkable concurrence on topics which have a popular reputation for being contentious. On most points the parents agreed with one another; and the children repeatedly echoed their parents.

"Although this was by no means a scientific sampling of the total population," noted Robert R. Robinson, director of education for the Foundation, "it does lend support to the impression that the vast majority of middle class Ontario families are a lot more sensible than newspaper and television reports of the lunatic fringe would have us believe."

The booklet features a lead article by Foundation psychiatrist Andrew Malcolm describing how alcohol and other drugs can lead to harmful dependence; and it includes a comprehensive discussion of what instruction about alcohol and drugs is given in Ontario secondary schools. This latter article is by N. Rae Speirs, teacher training consultant with the Foundation and former director of physical education for the Toronto Board of Education.

"The whole booklet has been planned to help parents know the score on this very topical subject," Mr. Robinson summed up. "Parents, teachers and youth workers have a job to do together in helping young people avoid some of the pitfalls ahead of them. It's not all up to any on group.

Copies of the new booklet "Clues for Parents about Alcohol and Drugs" are available free of charge to residents of Ontario who write to the Education Division, Addiction Research Fundation, 341 Bloor Street West, Toronto 4.

IN LAKE ST. LAWRENCE

Department of Lands and Forests Conducting Fish Population Survey

Ontario Department of Lands and Forests has been conducting an intensive study of the fish population in Lake St. Lawrence since 1961. A trap netting survey is currently underway between Ingleside and the Robert H. Saunders dam at Cornwall to determine what changes have taken place since the 1961-62 survey.

Information gained is expected to supplement on creel census investigations of the past five years. The census has shown a steadily decreasing catch of pike and a much greater catch of small forage fish that pike normally feed on, such as perch, rock bass and sunfish. The principal game fish at the present is the small mouth bass. They have held up well and have recently been increasing in the angler's catch.

The fish are not harmed in the box-like traps that are lifted daily and will be in operation throughout the month of May.

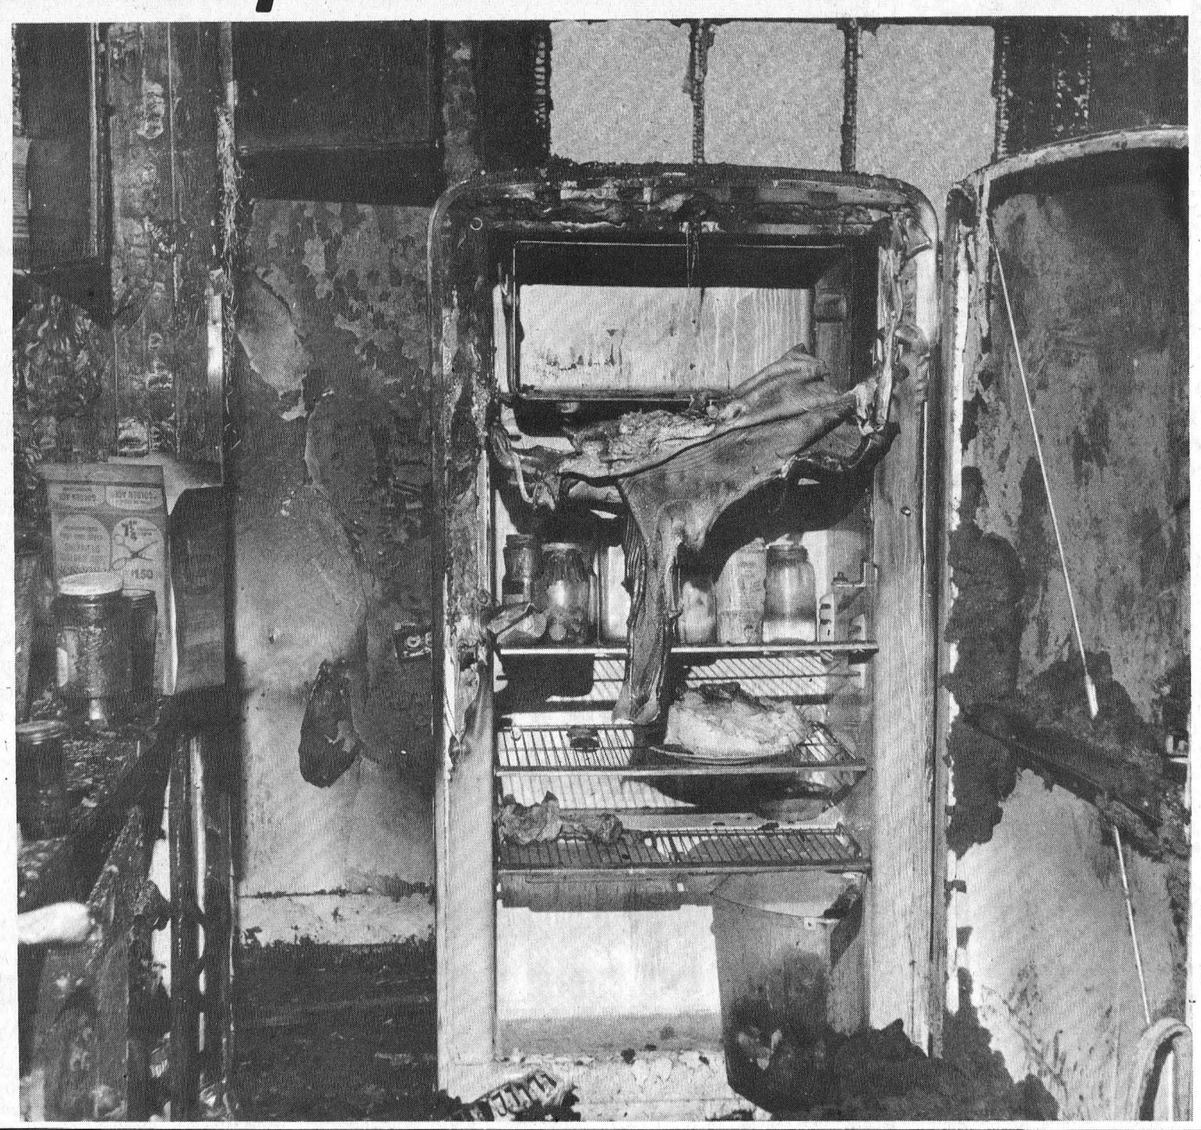
McLean Family Suffers More Misfortune



Yet another tragedy has struck the family of Mrs. Agnes McLean.

Fire Friday evening gutted the kitchen of the St. Lawrence Street McLean home. Of unknown origin, flames charred to uselessness all kitchen contents. Smoke damage was heavy throughout every room of the house. A dining room adjoining the kitchen was seared on one wall before Winchester Fire Department extinguished the flames.

Passersby Raymond Annable and Fred Billings working at the adjacent service station, and neighbour George Raistrick are credited with early firefighting with a garden hose and turning in the alarm. The house was empty at the time of the outbreak.

The fire is but one more black memory for the family. The McLean family lost a father, eldest son and grandfather within the period of thirteen months and had only moved into the fire ruined residence from the family farm within the year.

Fire Fund

Loss of all kitchen equipment and utensils may be offset by a fund now organized for collection in Winchester, Vernon and Ormond. Receipts will be given for cash or merchandise donations to the stricken family at the MacIntosh store in Ormond; Porteous' IGA, Vernon, and in Winchester at IGA, MacPherson and Summers and Allied Food Stores, LaRose Pharmacy, MacIntosh Furniture and Appliances, Elliott's, Winchester 5c to $1.00, Boyd's Garage, and Kenney's King Kone.

MAY 24th

Farmers Ready For Hill March

An objective of 1,000 farmers from Dundas has been set for the May 24th March on Ottawa. The Dundas County Milk Committee passed the following motion with regard to the March:

"That the Dundas County Milk Committee support the proposed protest rally sponsored by the O.F.A. and the O.F.U. re: the Dairy Policy on May 24th" (at Ottawa).

March Objectives

A release from the Committee convening the Ottawa March indicates "the minister did not know what was in the policy when he announced it to the House." Now that the Minister has studied it the March will attempt to get these improvements: "$5 a hundredweight after the export subsidy is taken off; industrial subsidies restored for fluid shippers; the quota structure changed to encourage herd enlargement; a skim milk subsidy for cream shippers."

Special requests of the March committee are: (a) realistic minimum level of income for agriculture; (b) an aggressive program of export marketing; (c) a standard of living equal to comparable managers in industry; (d) adequate provision for those moving off farms and those remaining; (e) stronger policy and action against corporate encroachment into agriculture; (f) the government to pay the cost of the cheap food policy; (g) advance notice of changes in government programs that affect the farmer; (h) to know the government's plan for land use; (i) to know plans for import regulations and equalization subsidies; (j) to have the policies that affect the farmer drawn up in public where the farmer can see them.

Three Carleton Farm Organizations Preparing For Agriculture Protest

Rural Carleton will be marching on Ottawa May 24. Key persons from across the agricultural community of the county met to make plans for the Farmers March on Ottawa. Co-ordinated by the Federation of Agriculture, the meeting discussed the reasons for the march. Made plain was the fact that the milk price situation was only the final item to bring about the pressure on Parliament Hill.

Bill Argue of Carp pointed out that the egg producer was in difficulty. This was caused by the importation of thousands of dozens of eggs from the U. S. Eric Craig of Kinburn focused attention on the plight of the potato farmers of New Brunswick. Totalled up, agreement was easily reached that a need is definite for a long range agricultural policy for all of Canada. This being something that has never been had.

Meetings are being planned across the county to discuss the March and the reasons for it. Information of the individual meetings may be gained from Mrs. John Campbell, Vernon; Carl Speaker, Richmond; Ray Faulkner, Stittsville; Eric Craig, Kinburn, and Pat Carroll, Dunrobin. Secretary of the Carleton F.O.A. Mrs. E. L. Macartney of Ramsayville will co-ordinate the local program.

Property Owners Hear Revised Henderson Creek Cost Figures

Details of the proposed cleaning of Henderson Creek through the village of Winchester, that included a revised assessment of individual property costs, met with general approval Monday evening.

Between forty and fifty property owners of three hundred affected in the cost assessment of the $23,000 project were on hand to hear the public reading of the report relating to the Drain. Engineer John Morrison was on hand with several members of council to field any questions or make adjustments to any plans. Seemingly the majority of those present agreed that the job should be done, and the revised cost figures made it a brighter picture for most.

In previous assessments of cost there had been some properties availing themselves of the facility overlooked completely and others assessed only as an agricultural land assessment value. The engineers and Clerk C. R. Robinson had the figures up to date for the public meeting and equal distribution of costs is now assured. A majority of shares in the project went down in value.

Several items of concern were expressed by the property owners present. One was the method of assessment which was explained as actual assessed value of property and property location relative to the ditch.

A major item was the possibility of the cleaned ditch draining water to an outlet that is clogged and will not allow the flow to continue and the water to escape. This was cleared with a statement by Mr. Morrison that if such did occur legally the blocked outlet could be required cleaned. Question of rock cuts in the Township that in the minds of many at the meeting caused much of the problem of flow was discussed. Engineer reports show no necessity of cutting deeper in the rock, that sufficient grade is present to carry the flow of water at all seasons.

On the question of dispersal of dredgings from the ditch in the village, some property owners may request the removal wastes dumped on low lots by the creek for fill. Such a move will be written in the specifications as an option. The removed wastes were to be hauled away.

The go-ahead on the Creek project now lies in the hands of Council. They must pass a by-law for the project if they wish it completed. This would be followed by a Court of Revision for any question on an assessment of costs. This action would be within thirty days.

One individual problem concerned the land of G. B. Raistrick. Mr. Raistrick presently has two lots, one which is split diagonally by the Creek. He asked for re-routing to allow full use of the lot. This was considered possible under the terms of the report.

Any property owners who find their assessment on the project up will probably note themselves living in recently developed areas or since the time of the last report of 1948. Original assessment of cost was taken from this report dated 20 years ago.

Reeve Elliott Opens Public School Room

Winchester Public School's new multi-purpose room built at a cost of about $62,000 was officially declared open by village Reeve George E. Elliott last Thursday evening. The new auditorium-gymnasium gives to the Public School complete facilities as required by the latest standards of the Department of Education curriculum. Reeve Elliott, in cutting the official blue ribbon, congratulated the Board on their accomplishments.

Board Chairman Ron Workman welcomed the many guests to the opening. The chairman remarking on the completion of the auditorum that will seat up to five hundred, called it the school's Centennial project. Retired members of the School Board who were incumbents at the time of decision to build the room—Ken Summers, Burt Hodgson and former chairman Raymond Annable, were among the platform guests.

Dedication of the facility in prayer was by Rev. W. R. Schamehorn of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Board property chairman Keith Carkner detailing the purposes of the room mentioned educational as well as community purposes. Currently the giant 89x47 foot room is used scholastically for physical education programs for the school, music room, and assembly hall. Both Boy Scouts and Cubs use the area for a meeting place weekly, and other community activities are being scheduled in the auditorium. The area includes approximately five hundred chairs and concealed storage for them, a large lighted stage with curtains; two entrance-exits directly to the school in one case and to the outside in the other; and a small kitchen unit in an adjoining room.

Remaining members of the Board present at the official opening were Mrs. W. M. Byers and Gary Collins. The remaining member, Howard Summers, was unable to attend.

Two Hospitalized After Culvert Crash

Two Winchester area men remain in Winchester District Memorial Hospital Wednesday awaiting transfer to an Ottawa hospital for special treatment for fractured spinal vertebrae. Seriously injured were Harold McKendry Saunders (Mac) of Inkerman, and Charles Malcolm Holmes (Mac) of R. R. 1, Mountain.

The 1967 hardtop car, driven by Mr. Saunders, in which the two were riding, was demolished when it plunged through a detour into a culvert excavation twelve feet deep. The excavation is located on Highway 31 about one mile north of the junction of Highways 31 and 401 north of Morrisburg. The auto was proceeding north on 31 when the accident occurred at 1.45 a.m. Friday morning.

Two student nurses, unidentified, are credited with giving first aid to the two men trapped in the wrecked auto at the bottom of the twelve foot excavation. With removal from the accident vehicle, the men were taken by ambulance to the District Memorial Hospital and received initial treatment from Dr. H. G. Barton.

A second accident at the same scene within twenty-four hours involved Errington Casselman of R. R. 1, Williamsburg. His car failed to negotiate the detour and plunged into the crevass. No serious injury resulted but the car was badly damaged.

The detour is marked with signs and flashing lights but apparently appears deceptively distant on the straight stretch of highway. Top photo shows the Saunders car, the lower the culvert excavation.—Press Staff Photos.

Note May 20th Parade Route Parking Regulations

Residents and visitors to the village this week-end are urged to pay careful attention to the parking regulations that may be in force.

During the two to three hour period of the Centennial parade from 1 p.m. until 4 parking will be prohibited along the parade route, either side of the streets. This constitutes parking along Ottawa, Mill, Albert, May, Caleb, Main and south on St. Lawrence to May. Persons wishing to watch the parade from their cars are advised not to park in this area, or their vehicles will be forcibly moved if necessary. Normal parking rules apply at all other times.

Parking accommodation will be available along all other streets, in the municipal parking lot at the Community Centre, in the IGA parking lot, at the Community Park, at the old MacDonald Motors paved lot and other areas of private origin.

Social Tradition W.I. Victoria Day Breakfast Wed.

Everyone should be thinking ahead right now to the most enjoyable breakfast of the year. That breakfast can be enjoyed on Wednesday, May 24th, in the Winchester Legion Hall. Once again the Winchester W. I. will act as the hostesses for the Victoria Day breakfast from 6 until 10 a.m. It is a tradition in the village and a very tasty one.

The needs of the people in needy areas were brought to the ears of W. I. members at their May meeting in the Town Hall. Bryan Wootorton, social worker, told of his work with the people of Keelerville. The need for school and Sunday School for the children was great. The speaker had previously worked with the Negro population in the rundown areas of Halifax and other Maritime cities.

The treasurer reported to the meeting that the second instalment of $350 was ready for payment to the Centennial Swimming Pool project to which the W. I. had pledged $1,000.

EXPO Trip

Members were reminded to make their reservations with Ron Alexander at Colonial Coach if they wished to take the June 17 bus trip to Expo.

Holiday Hours

Week-end shoppers should take note of the unusual store hours over the double holiday in the village.

The week-end starts normally with all local stores open Friday evening until 9. Saturday, Centennial Day in the village, all shops will open at 8 a.m. and close at 1 p.m. This is to allow full participation of staff in the Centennial celebrations. Monday, May 22 of course is a national holiday, Victoria Day, and stores will remain closed.

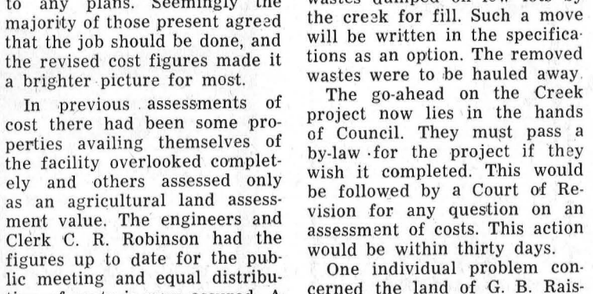
Lack Leaders At Rideau Hill Church Camp

Rideau Hill Camp has need of leaders for all camps in the coming season. Included in this classification would be swimming instructors. The camp, operated by the Grenville-Dundas Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, is is located on the Rideau River near Osgoode.

At the recent Presbytery meeting need of supervisory staff was outlined as well as plans and camp dates for the upcoming season. Camping dates are listed as follows: Intermediate boys, July 3-10 directed by Rev. Cecil Dukelow; Junior boys, July 12-19 directed by Rev. R. G. Percival; Junior A girls, July 21-28, Junior B girls, August 1-8; Intermediate girls, August 10-17. Miss Evelyn Fennell of Winchester is registrar for all three girls' camps.

Persons interested in serving in the leadership category for a week's period should contact Rev. Percival, Rev. Dukelow or Miss Fennell. Camp fees for the year will be $17 plus $2 registration fee for each seven-day camp. Church congregations or groups wishing to use camp facilities for picnic or meeting purposes should contact Eldon Fennell of Winchester for date consultation.

$1,300 for Presbytery funds will be directed to the purchase of new camp equipment this year.



Very Productive Sow At Springs

Out at the farm of Obele Hansma in Winchester Springs there lives an unusual sow and sixteen young pigs.

The unusual sow about one month ago gave birth to eight little pigs. The piglets had not been weaned yet when another litter of eight was born Tuesday. Needless to say in pig circles the double birth is no mean feat.

POOR PAPER!

Bogus Fives Hit Town

With the possibility of many strangers in the village this week-end Winchester Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police has issued a warning. The warning suggests awareness of five dollar bills. At least one bogus five has been passed in the village in the past week. The phoney five spot was taken in at Boyd's and checked up at deposit time at the branch of the Royal Bank.

The bills, say police, are of good colour but on a very poor grade of paper. Serial numbers that should arouse suspicion are K-O, H-O, T-O, M-O, C-P and P-D which are normally $1 serial numbers.

Best advice is to attempt to stall the passer of the bill until police can be notified. If this proves impossible take note of the passer, any companions, the purchase, year and make of the car, and licence number.

Possibility of strangers passing through the village during the tourist season or enroute to Expo passing the bills is excelent.

SAFETY should always be in season . . . because farm hazards exist in all seasons.

Be aware of the farm accident dangers you face in the spring

. . . in overhauling implements
. . . in getting stock out of the barn and onto early pasture
. . . and in working the land again after a long winter.

Make safety a year-round job. Be sure, too, that you have year-round protection against the costs of accidents.

And that's what you get from CIA's FARM FAMILY PROTECTION PLAN.

Peter Van Hoof New Addition To Morrisburg O.P.P. Detachment

Morrisburg Detachment welcomed a new addition to its ranks last week. Peter Van Hoof, age 23, of Petawawa, was posted to this detachment after joining the Force. He was previously in the R.C.A.F. where he was employed in the photographic trade. His wife and two small children will be joining him in the near future. Peter's hobbies are hunting and fishing, both of which are well suited to this area.

Morrisburg O.P.P., working in conjunction with local game officials, say their surveillance finally paid off when a R. R. 2 Ingleside man was apprehended with a freshly killed goose. His shotgun and ammunition were seized. Apparently local nesting areas have been under observation for some time. This occurred in Williamsburg Township on May 12 at 6.30 p.m. As a warning to poachers, it may be pointed out that a motor vehicle used in connection with such an offence may also be seized and the highest penalty will be sought in the courts.

On the highways last week O.P.P. officers patrolled 10,764 miles of highway in a total of 732 duty hours. 36 traffic charges were laid with 36 warnings issued. Three property damage and three personal injury accidents were reported and investigated. Four people sustained personal injury. Two of these were seriously injured when the car in which they were riding crashed through a detour on Highway 31, north of Morrisburg.

Three persons were arrested and charged with driving while their ability was impaired by alcohol, one of these offences taking place in the village of Morrisburg.

Oficers also investigated 32 other calls including three thefts and two disturbances. Code and three charges under One charge under the Criminal the Liquor Control Act were laid as a result of these investigations.

Mountain U C W

The May meeting of Mountain U. C. W. was held in the church hall last Monday night. The president opened the meeting with a poem and the singing of the Centennial hymn.

Business was conducted as usual and Mrs. Black gave a talk on the trip to Expo and plans were made for May 31st. Mrs. Ewart Simms gave a short talk on the third Govenor General of Canada.

Mrs. A. Norton and Mrs. E. Simms were in charge of the program. Mrs. Norton conducted the worship service, the theme being "Mothers." Mrs. Simms gave a chapter of the Study Book stressing Canadian Universities and their origin with several members assisting.

Lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Don Palmer's Winter Winnings

The curling brooms have all been furled and clubs throughout the valley are stilled for the summer months. There is little doubt that all those bemedalled athletes were superb curlers, but some suffered the well known misfortunes of the game, namely, being consistently drawn to play on crooked ice, and always been drawn on a poor rink.

There were some, however who met these challenges headon and surged on to victory in spite of them.

One such curler was Skip Don Palmer of the Metcalfe Club. Don, a veteran in his own right, is well known up and down the valley for his prowess at the "draw shot," and many a big name skip has fallen victim.

Don cannot be considered a real old timer, but his fondest recollection is of a February night back in 1948, when leading for Archie Waddell, with Fred Mullins at third and Harold Woods playing second, they won the Manuel Cup, emblematic of the championship at the now defunct Central Canada Exhibtion. This bonspiel was then recognized as the biggest in Eastern Canada and was later replaced by the City of Ottawa Bonspiel, which is now rated as one of the greatest in the country.

That was -19 years ago, and the early training he received from that old master, Archie Waddell, has continued to pay off, but this past season has to be rated his greatest. Besi-- capturing no less than five the club trophies, he found time to journey up and down the bonspiel circuit and usually finished in the money.

Don is pictured in his home with some of his awards of this year.

Mrs. Nelson Bellinger Vancamp President Addresses U.C.W. Group

"Centennial" was the theme of the regular meeting of the Winchester U. C. W. which was held in the Sunday School rooms last Tuesday evening. The president, Mrs. Ran Wylie, gave a reading on "I Am A Canadian" and welcomed everyone to the meeting.

Mrs. Paul Johansen gave the call to worship and the Scripture reading was given by Mrs. Harold Francis. After the singing of a hymn the litany of Thanksgiving was read responsively. This was followed by a prayer and reading of a Psalm by Mrs. Harold Holmes. The Centennial hymn was sung and Mrs. Harold Francis closed the devotions with a prayer.

Mrs. Howard Fetterly played the new Centennial song, "Canada." She then accompanied Orma Docksteader and Martha Docksteader who sang two lovely duets.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Nelson Bellinger, President of Vancamp U.C.W. She spoke on the origin of Vancamp. She was introduced by Mrs. Allison Fawcett and thanked by Mrs. Allan Cinnamon. All present then participated in an old-fashioned sing song.

During the business meeting all were reminded of the Regional Conference in Kemptville June 16-18, and of the Summer School at St. Anne de Bellevue August 28-31. The annual U.C.W. picnic is to be held at Rideau Hill Camp on June 21st at 2 p.m. Final plans were made for the trip to Expo on May 31st.

Lunch was served by members of Unit 6 who were all dressed in their Centennial gowns. Mrs. Robert Holmes thanked all for a most enjoyable evening, and the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.
