Death of Mr. James Kearns

This week it becomes our duty to chronicle the death of Mr. James Kearns, which took place on Tuesday morning at the age of 72 years. The deceased for many years was a prosperous and highly respected farmer of the Connaught district from where he retired ten years ago to pass his declining years in Chesterville. Besides his wife he is survived by four daughters: Alice and Agnes at home, Anna of Chicago and Julia of Ann Arbor, Mich. The funeral took place this morning at St. Mary's church.

Counties' Council Dines in Chesterville

Yesterday Warden Dunbar of the United Counties entertained the Counties' Council to dinner at the McCloskey Hotel. In lieu of the more formal annual function tendered by the retiring warden, a motor trip of inspection was being made over the county highways. The proposed retaining wall and embankment along the Nation in Chesterville was closely scrutinized and approved and it is understood tenders are to be advertised for at once in connection with the work.

N, S. Iohnston Killed by Live Wire

Many Chesterville citizens were shocked on Saturday to hear of the untimely death of Nadab S. Johnston of Cornwall, who last winter became quite a familiar figure on our streets when moving C. W. Casselman's building and others in and near town. On Friday Mr. Johnston with a number of other men was engaged in moving a building about half a mile east of Dickenson's Landing. The structure had been moved about 200 feet and in order to get it to the main road from the farm the wires of the St. Lawrence Power Company had to be passed. Mr. Johnston went up a ladder and placed three of the wires over the roof of the building, and as he reached for the last wire the other three came in contact with his body, forming a short circuit on the wet roof, and the full 2,000 volts passed through his body. Death was instantaneous. Fully fifteen minutes elapsed before the power was turned off. Two men went up from Cornwall and cut the wire and assisted in releasing the body from the roof of the building.

Wilt Unveil Memorial Tablet

A solemn and impressive service will be held in Trinity Methodist church on Sunday, Oct. 24th, at 2.30 P. M., when there will be unveiled a massive bronze tablet in memory of the men of the church who made the supreme sacritice in the late war. Addresses will be made by Maj. - Gen. the Hon. Sir Sam Hughes, K. C. B., who will unveil the tablet, and also by Rev. (Capt.) Runnells, B. D. The Rev. Dr. Wm. Philip will also assist in the service.

Reserved seats will be provided for the relatives of the men whose memory is being honored and also for all veterans, who are earnestly invited to be present.

All-Night Trip on St. Lawrence

It is reported that last week three Williamsburg men while on a fishing trip on the St. Lawrence had a rather exciting and unpleasant experience. Roy Swerdfeger, Asa Miller, and James Gow, while fishing at evening on the river below Morrisburg became enveloped in a dense fog and lost their bearings being unable to make land. After rowing for some time an oar was broken leaving them practically at the mercy of the current, which at day break had carried them down within hearing of the Long Sault Rapids, but fortunately over to the American shore where they managed to make a landing. Their quest for fish had not been unsuccessful as one had been landed weighing somewhat over forty pounds.

Morrisburg Invaded by Smallpox

The Leader—Judging from the number of cases of smallpox reported to date, it is evident that Morrisburg and vicinity have fallen into the clutches of a serious outbreak of this contagious disease. Six cases have already been discovered, all in the advanced stages, and it is expected that the number may be increased to 40 or 50 within the next week.

The authorities are taking every precaution to prevent the further spread of the disease. The Star Theatre, Music Hall, Pool Room, and all places of public entertainment have been ordered closed indefinitely. Dr. Maloney, Provincial Officer of Health who was in town on Thursday, working in co-operation with the local Board of Health, is doing everything within his power to check the further spread of the disease which he declared the worst outbreak he had ever experienced.

The authorities hope to have the co-operation of the citizens in their efforts to stamp out the disease, and to this end, they are asking all citizens who have not been vaccinated within the last seven years, to do so without delay.

The Provincial Officer of Health also viewed the intake pipe at the Pump House, which has been the subject of a great deal of complaint from citizens for some time. Dr. Maloney reported the intake in a satisfactory condition, which will be good news to those who have been living in the fear of further developements from this source.

James Gillissie Passes Away

After an illness of more than six weeks from typhoid fever there passed away on Monday a worthy resident of Chesterville in the person of James M. Gillissie, husband of Minnie Flynn, at the comparatively early age of forty-nine years. The deceased made a brave fight against death and until the latter part of last week it was believed that he would be spared. During Sunday morning a decided change for the worse was apparent, when his reserves of strength were exhausted and it became only a matter of hours until the end.

The deceased was a particularly fine type of citizen, unassuming, industrious, home loving and clean living to a very marked degree setting an example to his young family of two sons and one daughter, who besides his widow have the deepest sympathy of the whole community.

The funeral took place yesterday morning at St. Mary's church, the remains being taken to the family plot at Metcalfe for interment.

Fatal Accident At Cascades

In an auto accident at Cascades, which took place Thursday, Mr. Archie Curry, Curry Hill, met Instant death and his companion, Mr. Earnest Brady was badly shook up. The two young men left the village about 9.30 in a Grey Dort car, the property of Curry, for St. Anne de Bellevue to witness the Provincial Plowing-match being held there. In the vicinity of the Cascades, the car turned turtle on a sharp curve of the road pining both under the car. Fully half an hour elapsed, it is thought, before assistance arrived. When taken from under the car it was found, that Curry was dead, while young Brady showed evident signs of a narrow escape from death. He was removed to the Hotel as was the body of young Curry, to await the arrival of the Coroner.

Enforce The Law

Oshawa Reformer: A farmer near Lindsay was fined a few days ago for allowing his 13-year-old son to drive his automobile. Why do not the police of Oshawa enforce the law in this respect? Hardly a day passes when one does not see a mere child—boy or girl—driving a motor car on the main streets of the town. For the information of the police and the public the following paragraph is quoted: "No person under the age of 16 years shall drive a motor vehicle, and no person under the age of 18 years shall drive a motor vehicle on the highway unless, and until such person has passed an examination and obtained a chaffeur's license. The owner of the car is responsible no matter who the driver is unless the car is stolen."—Sec. 13 Ont. Motor Vehicles Act.

The Match As A Deadly Toy

The use of matches as a plaything is a very dangerous habit In the province of Ontario, during the year 1919 one fire in every eight originated through children playing with matches; and they thus wantonly destroyed more than $361,000 worth of valuable property, besides sacrificing several innocent lives. Even in the hands of careless men and women many fires are caused by thoughtlessly throwing a match in a waste paper basket or pile of rubbish, before it is quenched. A good plan is to break the stick in two and then you will be sure that there is no fire in it.

Spades Were Trumps

He was an elderly son of the soil, and he had all the farmer's savage hatred of rates and taxes of every kind and description. To add insult to injury a perky little Jack-in office of a rate-collector called on him one day for taxes he had already paid. Unfortunately, the farmer could not find the receipt. "I explained this to him," he explained to a friend of his later, and would you believe it, Bill, the feller began to abuse me?" "Did he?" said Bill. "And what did you do?" "Do! Well I remonstrated with him." "You! did—to what effect?" "I dunno exactly, but the shovel got broke."

Over 100 Soldier Farms Show Progress

In a district of Alberta, near the Saskatchewan border on the Canadian Northern Railway, there are 128 soldier soldiers on the land who were visited by the Soldier Settlement Board inspector recently, and he gives his opinion that all, with the possible exception of one, will make good. The exception is a half-breed farmer whose wife deserted him, and, by reason of that domestic affliction, he is not making the progress he should. Crops were exceedingly good throughout the whole of the district and some of the settlers are expecting to repay their entire indebtedness to the board out of this year's proceeds.

To mention a few of the farms visited, one man borrowed $4,000 from the board. He had this year 80 acres of oats and expects to thresh about 5,000 bushels, in addition to which he has 10 acres of green feed. Another man whose loan for the purchase of land was $3,600 will thresh about 500 bushels of oats and he has five acres of green feed and 35 acres of summer fallow. A third man borrowed $2,250. He has 75 acres in crop and raises considerable stock, having at present 90 head of cattle and 16 horses. Still another man has 60 acres of fall crop, 35 head of cattle and 5 horses which he purchased without the assistance of the board. This man received a stock and equipment loan of $1,000 and another loan for the removal of an encumbrance. He will sell 20 head of stock to liquidate his debts and will have 2,000 bushels of oats to sell. One of the youngest settlers purchased a half-section through the board at $12.60 an acre. He nas fenced all his land, broken eight acres and is now hauling lumber to build.

The report says that these cases are quite typical of the soldier settlers in the district, many of whom are now well established farmers and producing large crops.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. A Theft and A Smash

Wednesday morning about 5 o'clock, Amedee Chevrier was awakened dy a loud smash on Pitt street Cornwall, opposite his store, and looking out of the window he saw an automobile piled up on the sidewalk. A short, chunky mau looked at the wreck and quietly walked away up the street. No one else was to be seen, nor did anybody appear till an hour or two later, when the car was still there n the bad state of collapse. It had broken the power post in front of R. J. Graveley's billiard parlor aud mounting the granolithic, halted within a few inches of the plate glass window. The car belonged to H. F. Stewart of Ottawa, agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co., who had come in the eveniug and put up at the New Windsor, leaving the car in a garage near by. Evidently the thief had intended to get away with the car, but did not understand its mechanisms, and suddenly came to grief, after which he thought it wise to make him self scarce as soon as possible, which he proceeded to do. The chief of police was at once notified, but up to the time of writing no trace has been found of the robber.—Cornwall Freeholder.

Mrs. Daniel L. McMillan, Avonmore

With deepest regret is announced the death of Mrs. Dan. L. McMillian of this place, which occurred at Lady Grey Hospital, Ottawa, on Sunday, Oct. 3, after a lingering illness of about nine months, which was borne with great patience, courage and christian spirit. The late Mrs. McMillian was 44 years of age, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McElheran, Fifth concession, Finch, and a member of the Avonmore Presbyterian church, and took great interest in the socities in connection with the church. The funeral took place on Wednesday, Oct. 6 from her late residence to the Presbyterian church. The service was conducted by the Rev. A. L. Howard, assisted by Rev. Mr McKenzie of Pakenham, and was largely attended by a large circle of friends' and relatives, the late Mrs. McMillian being a great favorite of both old and young people, and will be greatly missed. The deceased lady leaves to mourn her loss a bereaved husband, two sons and five daughters, also three brothers and four sisters,— W. J. McElheran of Three Rivers, Alta.; Duncan G. of Montreal, and George Arthur, on the old homestead, Fifth concession, Finch; Mrs. D. Sutherland of Montreal, Mrs. Margaret Stewart of Troy N. Y., Mrs. Catherine McIntyre, and Mrs. Hugh D. McIntyre, Fifth concession, Roxborough, to whom the sincere heartfelt sympathy is extended in their great loss and sorrow. The pall-bearers were J. H. Wert, Oscar McElheran, Alex. Robillard, Eugene Fiegenwald, Stanley McRae and Dr. M. Reilly. Among the floral tributes were wreaths from Mr. and Mrs. D. Sutherland of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. I. Garrow of Chesterville, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fiegenwald of Ottawa.

Old Wedding Customs

There is an old belief that marriage should take place when the moon is waxing and not waning if it is to be a lucky match, and in many north country districts, a strict inquiry is made as to the state of the moon before the wedding is fixed. In the north, too, no wise bride will ask an odd number of guests to her wedding fast, for an old superstition has it if that is done one of the guests will die before the year is out. In the Highlands it is taken as a terrible unlucky sign if a dog should run between the bridal pair on their wedding day; while in Derbyshire prospective brides will tell the bees of their wedding and decorate their hives for the occasion. In parts of England there exists an ancient custom for which reason is hard to find by which part of the wedding cake is broken over the bride's head and the guests scramble for pieces.

What She Played.

John Burton was certainly a steady man; but he was a bit too steady for Clara Hopkins. They had been engaged to be married fifteen years, and still he had never asked her to name the happy day. One evening John called, in a romantic frame of mind, and asked Clara to sing something tender and touching—something that would move him. After a moment's thought she sat down at the piano and sang an old ballad with meaning. It was entitled, "Darling, I Am Growing Old."

Stricken While Filling Silo

The death of Robert Kinkade, a prosperous young farmer of Kenmore, took place on Monday morning Oct. 11th, at his home at Kenmore after an illness of only a few days at the age of 46 years. The deceased was assisting a neighbour, Mr John McRuer, in filling a silo when he complained of not feeling well and went to the latter's house where he sat down complaining of a terrible pain in his head, when he fell back uncouncious. All the local physicans were hurriedly summoned and one from Ottawa. They announced that he was suffering from a ruptured blood vessel on the brain and held out little hope for his recovery. He is survived by his wife and four sons, one daughter, the latter five years of age.

A Poor Argument

The usual crowd of loungers was standing around watching the process of excavation for the new building. As the great steam shovel bit into the bank and then rose with its half cartload of earth, one of the onlookers remarked: "It makes me wild, looking at that thing taking the bread ont of good men's mouths. Why, it is filling up those wagons faster than a hundred men with picks and shovels could do it."

"Shucks!" exclaimed another onlooker. "What kind of a fool argument is that? If it would be better to employ a hundred men with picks and shovels; why wouldn't it be better still, by your way of thinking, to employ a thousand men with forks and teaspoons?"

An Exodus Halted

"Why do so many young men want to leave the farm?"

"Hadn't noticed that they do," replied Farmer Corntossel. "Most of 'm around here seem to have discovered that it is a heap harder to eat without workin' in the city than it is at the dear old home.

Our "Camp Fire" girls want to take the boy Scouts along on the next hike.

Two Dollar Weekly

The day of the two dollar weekly newspaper has arrived, and a large number of papers have already bowed to the inevitable and fixed the subscription price at that figure. The publishers have been hoping against hope that costs of production would commence to recede, but instead of recession there is increase in cost of all materials and stocks are harder to obtain than ever. No other industry has been harder hit by the increased cost of production than that of newspaper publishing and printing. Costs have doubled and trebled, while the revenue has only perceptibly increased. Never a very profitable occupation, newspaper publishing in late years has become precarious, and a public-spirited sense of duty has been the only incentive which has kept many a publisher from closing his doors and abandoning a profession for a trade. Few newspaper men have been tempted by the lure of gold to lay down the journalistic pen and engage in commercial pursuits although the opportunity had come to many during and since the war. Those who still remain in the printing business are now compelled by stern necessity to increase the price of subscription, and is expected that by January 1 next, all weekly newspapers will be charging a uniform subscription price of two dollars per year, not from choice, but of necessity.—Acton Free Press.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

Contains no alum

We unhesitatingly recommend Magic Baking Powder as being the best and purest baking powder possible to produce. It possesses elements of food that have to do the building up of brain and nerve matter and is absolutely free from alum or other injurious substitutes.

Meat From the North

Canadians will be surprised to learn of the discovery of a herd of nearly one thousand buffalo roaming in the Mackenzie River Basin and reports of another herd farther north. When the Government purchased a herd in Montana in 1907 the buffalo was supposed to be extinct in Canada except for those at Silver Heights, near Winnipeg, belonging to Lord Strathcona. The Montana herd, since its removal to the park near Wainwright, Alberta, has increased from 700 to 4,250 head, and additional reservation is required for it.

The senseable suggestion has been made by Mr. C. Gorden Hewitt, consulting zoologist for the Commission of Conservation, that farmers should be encouraged to purchase surplus young animals from the Wainwright herd for food purposes. They can be treated the same as range cattle, provided the range is enclosed, and they have the advantage that they can look after themselves in winter and under climate conditions which might prove fatal to domesticated cattle. A glance at the map will show what an enormous area in the northern part of Canada might be used for the production of edible wild animals. One franchise has been already granted to a private company for the grazing of musk-oxen. Dr. Grenfall's experiments in Labrador and the experiences of Lapland show how easy it would be under, proper conditions to raise vast herds of reindeer. These three animals alone could be raised in numbers sufficient to supply a large part of the continent with food, while the lands required for grazing will probably never be suitable for tillage or other purposes.

The food problems of the world are so pressing that Dominion and Provincial Governments ought to unite at once to develop this great northern meat industry.—The Globe.

Not "Bound To Happen"

When we look in our dictionaries for a definition of the word "accident" we find that an accident is "an unexpected event, a mishap." Accidents today are not accidents in that generally accepted meaning of the word. Accidents do not happen. They are caused and caused largely by lack of care. Accidents are not "bound to happen";-they are not part of an established plan and can be prevented by the exercise of reasonable care and caution. The safety movement, like modern medicine, preaches prevention.

Telephone and the War.

An anonymous writer, whose article is reprinted in the Living Age, tells of a recent conversation of his with a man prominent in German political life. They were talking about the war, and the German said: "It was the telephone that ruined us. Asked te explain, he reasoned that at the outbreak of the war communication between Berlin and Petrograd and Paris and Vienna and other cities was too easy and rapid. If the German authorities had had to write old-fashioned diplomatic notes, which took time to deliver and more time to answer, they could have kept their heads in the crisis and averted the war. But when everything was touch and go, instant communication by wire between the foreign offices was too much for the nerves, and the situation got out of hand,

Curiosity

In spite of the advanced prices the barber was blue, and the razor he was wielding seemed to share his discouragement. "I've just about decided to open a butcher shop," he said, reaching for the powdered astringent.

"And will you choose this one?" his victim gasped feebly.

Thos. Faulkner & Son - Morewood

"O hear us when we cry to Thee For those in peril on the sea!"

Have you ever been at sea in a storm and seen the clouds lowering, the wind rising and the waves running mountains high, decks treacherous and the crew anxious? Unless you have, you cannot imagine its awful majesty, or the courage it calls up and the spirit it commands in men.

Many Canadians Have Never Seen the Sea—

Yet the sea is Canada's World-Trade highway. The sea and the Merchant Sailors make us prosperous.

But the Merchant Seaman's life is hard and perilous. He wages continuous battle against the forces of nature. The real sailor is not the deck steward or attendant on comfortable ocean liners. His ship is no floating palace. His voyage no pleasure trip.

The Real Sailor's Ship is the Tramp Steamer—or Windjammer, beating against gales—decks awash—sleep a stranger for days and nights on end. Frozen in winter, dodging icebergs in spring, groping through fogs off treacherous banks, beating round the Horn, fighting through typhoons, or becalmed in the Yellow Sea. Tough going all the way.

Death Always Hovers Over the Wheel—

Is it any wonder, then, that the Navy League wants to make life comfortable for our sailors when ashore? After all, Canada is their home; and the home, while they are here, of the sailors of other lands.

The Navy League endows, maintains or assists in maintaining every Sailor's Home, Institute and Welfare Society in Canada. And every dollar subscribed for the maintenance of these Homes and Institutes will be money well invested, and redound to our national prosperity.

The Sea is Our Heritage and Our Strength—

In proportion as we develop this Sea-Conscious Spirit so shall we advance in world civilization and trade. We can only develop our Sea-Conscious Spirit, by making life more endurable to Canadian Sailors. And it is for this purpose that a portion of the Navy League's Fund is set aside. To carry on its work next year, the Navy League must have $760,000. This money must be raised next week. It is not a large amount and borne in proportion from Coast to Coast it must surely be subscribed.

The Navy League of Canada

SAILORS' WEEK CAMPAIGN

October 18—23. Dominion Objective $760,000.

The work of the Navy League is—to enlighten people upon the importance of the sea; so that Canadian products may be shipped, through Canadian ports, in Canadian ships, officered and manned by trained Canadians.

to encourage and to undertake the training of Canadian lads to man Canada's Navy and Mercantile Marine.

to formulate a fundamentally sound policy for the training of our present sea-faring population, to meet an emergency, so that Canadian overseas commerce will be adequately protected.

to support facilities for making the Sailor's life ashore endurable.

to provide for dependents of those who died to protect Canada, Nationally, Imperially and Commercially.

These objects can only be achieved through an organization representative of public responsibility and outside party politics.

BECAME SO THIN SHE WAS AFRAID

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Made Her Well, Strong and Vigorous

MADAME ARTHUR BEAUCHER

805 Cartier St., Montreal.

"I suffered terribly from Constipation and Dyspepsia for many years. I felt pains after eating and had gas, constant headache, and was unable to sleep at night. I was getting so thin that I was frightened and saw several physicians who, however, did not seem able to help me.

At last a friend advised me to take 'Fruit-a-tives'. I did so and soon I felt some relief. I continued with 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a short time, the Constipation was banished, I felt no more pains or headache or the disagreeable sensations that follow dyspepsia. Now I am well, strong and vigorous."

A Simple Cement Mixer

Here is something new in a cement mixer. Take the bottom out of an oil barrel. Mix up a small batch of cement and set the barrel in this. Take your shovel and draw the mixed cement up well on the inside of the barrel, This leaves a hollow in the centre of your cement to hold the water. Now, first put a two-gallon pail of dry cement in the barrrel and a two-gallon pail of water. Mix well aud add another pail of cement and water. Mix or stir, and put in auother pail of cement and two pails of water. If your gravel is dry, after you have mixed the water and cement well put your gravel in the barrel, and this cementy water will come to the top. When you have put in the required amount, tip the barrel over, and it will run out of the bottom of the barrel all ready mixed.

I put a floor iu my barn very quickly and easily. Try a little in a pail first. but be sure to save a little of your batch of cement each time to set your barrel in so as to hold the water for the next batch. I would not give this barrel for all the best cement mixers I ever saw. It is cheap, and you can move it just where you want it. Two men can put in a large floor in a day, and it is only play compared with the old way. — Wm. Squire, Essex Co., Ont.

"My dear child, what are you doing?' asked the astonished mother, as she paused to glance at some strange marks her little girl was making with a pencil on a piece of paper.

"Oh, I'm writing a letter to Lily Smith!' came the answer.

"Writing a letter!" laughed the mother. "But you don't know how to write."

"That doesn't matter, mummie. You see, Lily can't read.

Winter Calf Rearing

(Experimental Farms Note.)

To many, winter seems an off season in which to raise calves, but nevertheless it is a fact that most successful calf raisers find it to be the best season. In the first place the farmer has more time to give the proper attention to the details so important in calf feeding; secondly there is usually a greater supply of skim-milk owing to the smaller number of pigs raised in the winter than in summer; lastly the calf has not got the summer heat and flies to contend with and is just at a nice age to turn to pasture the following spring.

When the calf is dropped it should be allowed to remain with its dam until she has licked it clean and dry or else be removed to a separate stall and rubbed dry with wisps of straw or a piece of bagging. If at all possible the winter raised calf should have the brighest, driest and sunniest place in the stable for its winter quarters and they should be kept clean at all times for comfortable quarters mean almost as much as good feeding. The calf should receive within twelve hours, a feed of the colostrum of first milk from its dam. It is important that the calf gets a feed of this milk as it has a beneficial effect on the bowels and ensures the calf getting the proper start. For the first few days the cow should be milked and the calf fed three times daily, the milk being fed while still at blood heat. Eight to ten pounds per day should be sufficient for the average calf, Feed the calf whole milk for the first two to four weeks depending on its strength, a weak or puny calf being carried on whole milk for the longest period. Gradually change from whole milk to skim milk making the period in which the change is made extend over about ten days as abrupt changes are apt to bring on digestive troubles. At this time the calf should be consuming about twelve pounds of skim-milk daily in two feeds. As the change is made from whole to skim-milk the fat removed from the milk should be replaced by adding a tablespoonful of finely ground scalded flaxseed jelly. The proportion of the flaxseed jelly and skim-milk can be increased gradually and at about three months of age add to the flaxseed jelly other constituents to make a calf meal composed of ground flax 1 part, fine ground oats 2 parts, and ground corn 2 parts,—this mixture to be fed in the milk, similarly to the flaxseed jelly, at the rate of ½ pound per day at four to five months. At this time the skim-milk ration may be cut off and the dry grain mentioned below increased proportionately.

It is well to start the calf eating a little dry and bulky food as early as possible. With this end in view a small quantity of fine clover hay and whole oats should be kept before the calf after it is a month old. As the calf grows older the whole oats may be replaced by a mixture of bran, rolled oats, and ground corn. This mixture should be fed at noon at the rate of ½ pound per day at start up to 1½ pounds per day at time of reducing skim-milk and calf meal mixture, at which time the dry grain mixture may well be increased to 3 pounds per day and be fed in two feeds, morning and evening. Roots are a valuable feed for growing calves and may be introduced into the ration in small quantities when calves are from two to three months of age. Silage should not be fed to very young calves and as it usually gets strong towards the latter part of the winter, only very small quantities should be fed if used at all. Feed salt in limited quantities regularly. Provide fresh water but do not let the calves gorge themselves with it.

Strict attention should be paid to the cleanliness of the utensils and mangers in which the calves are fed as well as to the box stalls in which they are quartered. The latter should be cleaned out at least once a week and preferably oftener.

The above ration may seem heavy and the feeding of it a matter of some detail, but it is attention to these points that ensures well grown calves capable of developing into profitable mature animals.

Weaning Calves Early To Save Whole Milk

The dairy division at University Farm Minnesota, has been conducting some experimental work whereby the dairyman who sells whole milk may find a solution for calf feeding problems. The result of the experiments indicate that calves can be raised successfully on a grain mixture of four parts ground corn, one part linseed meal, one part bran and a legume roughage — alfalfa hay — after being weaned from their milk diet at the early age of fifty to sixty days.

The hay and grain should be placed before the calves when they are very young, the object being to get them started on dry feed as soon as possible and to give them all the feed of this kind they will clean up. Best results are obtained by feeding the hay and grain in about equal quantities.

One of the calves in these experiments was weaned at the age of sixty days and thereafter fed grain mixture and alfalfa hay. At the end of the trial this calf weighed 377 pounds and was 104.1 per cent. normal. Another calf weaned at the age of forty-five days was raised on 461 pounds of milk and a grain mixture and alfalfa hay. At 158 days old it weighed 335 pounds and was 106.3 per cent. normal.

Waiting For The Doctor ?

When a man lies sick, waiting for the doctor, he usually does some serious thinking.

One of the things he is likely to think about on such occasions is Life Insurance. He is more apt to realize what life insurance means for his family.

But he cannot get Life Insurance at such a time. He must get it when he is well.

If you are well today. take a policy while you can. To-morrow you may be waiting for the Doctor.

For a small deposit each year The Sun Life Assurance Co. can provide the protection far your family and at the end of fifteen or twenty years return all your deposits with profits.

Information gladly furnished on request.

In Memoriam

Redmond—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, who died Oct. 25th, 1918.

Do not ask us if we miss him;
Oh, there's such a vacant place.
Oft we think we hear his footsteps,
And we see his smiling face,
Sad and mournful was our parting.

Lonely are our hearts to-day
For the one we loved so dearly,
God has taken him away.
Two years have passed our hearts are sore,
As time goes on we miss him more.
