THE AD. AND THE MAN

He saw an ad from day to day
And muttered : I defy it ;
Their stuff may be just what they say
But I'm not going to buy it-

As time wore on he made remarks
It would not do to mention,
For he was mad because the ad
Was forced to his attention.

But in a week, or two, or three,
He said : There's no denying
The way that ad gets hold of me—
The stuff may be worth trying.

For just about a fortnight more
He dared mere words to win him,
And then the ad completely had
Aroused the spender in him.

Next day he drifted in a store
And quietly expended
A few big iron dollars for
The stuff the ad commended.

He found it filled a long-felt need;
Its excellence surprised him.
And now he's glad because the ad
So deftly hypnotised him.

Valuable Colt Killed

During Tuesday night W. A. McElroy of Riverside Farm, lost a valuable registered colt when it was struck by an auto on the road opposite his place, breaking the colt's leg so badly that it had to be killed. The colt had escaped from the pasture and was noticed on the road by Mr. McElroy who went to his garage to put his car away before taking care of the colt. He was on the way to get the colt when it was hit, but the motorist got away before being identified.

The Case for Church Union

A congregation filling the Presbyterian church Sunday evening heard the last of the series of sermons announced by Rev. A. J. Sinclair, the subject of which was "The Case for Church Union." The two subjects handled previously dealt with what Methodism and Presbyterianism, respectively, had done for christianity. Sunday evening no doubt was left in any mind as to Mr. Sinclair's stand on church union in which he sees great possibilities for effective work if consummated on board lines, but doubts the effectiveness it carried through in less far reaching ways.

Hon. F. C. Biggs Visits Chesterville

The Minister of Highways spent the greater part of Tuesday in town the guest of W. H. Casselman. M. L. A., when many followers of the U. F. O. government tookthe opportunity of paying their respects to the Minister. During the forenoon nearby portions of the provincial county road which have been constructed in this vicinity were closely scrutinized, especially the work in Chesterville which included the building of the retaining wall along the bank of the river from the north end of the bridge. Mr. Biggs was not at all backward in letting it be known had it not been for the persistency and untiring effort of Mr. Casselman in presenting so forcibly and effectively the necessities for the inclusion of this work in the Provincial County road scheme, as it affected Chesterville, it would in all probability never have been undertaken. The recommendation to the Counties' Council for the building of the retaining wall came from the engineer of the Highways Department who was brought here by Mr. Casselman, while the whole case from a Chesterville standpoint was presented before the Counties' Council by the member for Dundas

Robertson—Dunn

A pretty house wedding, which will interest many Chesterville people, took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Robertson, Victoria street, Carleton Place, when Rev. Mr. Dobson, pastor of Zion Presbyterian Church of that town united in marriage Miss Adelaide E. Dunn, well-known in Chesterville, and Mr. Arthur O. Robertson, who has been a member of the C.P.R. staff in town for considerable time. Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present The young couple left by the Toronto express for a honeymoon in Western Ontario, after which it is expected they will make their home in Chesterville where both are deservedly popular. The Record extends best wishes for a long and happy journey through life.

Kenmore Wins at Finch

At Finch Field Day last Friday the Kenmore baseball team again trimmed the Chesterville team, this time by a score of 12 to 7. Kenmore won the game in the first innings when they put across nine runs.

Fred Geraldi, for some time C. P. R. agent at Renfrew Junction, and transferred to Tweed, dropped dead yesterday afternoon while on duty. He leaves a wife and six children at Tweed.

Federal General Election This Year

Premier Meighen last Thursday at a meeting in London made the announcement of the intention of the government to call for a dissolution of the present parliament with elections to be held before the end of the present year. While elections were not entirely unexpected in many quarters it was thought they would not be brought on until after another session of parliament when a redistribution of the constituencies would have been made in accordance with figures of the census recently taken. The last Federal election took place four years ago, with polling on the 17th of December. The date has not been named for the present contest but it is believed that it will be some time in the latter part of November.

In Greater Dundas there has been no announcements from any of the three parties likely to have candidates in the field as to their selections of candidates although it is generally understood that the fight will be a three-cornered one between the Liberals, Conservatives and Farmers.

The Season's Record

While trolling alone in the vicinity of Refugee Island on a week ago Monday afternoon Frank Larocque, corner St. Andrew and Water atreets, Brockville, hooked on to a maskinonge a short distance east of the island and after a big battle, unaided, with the game fish succeeded in landing it. When weighed it was found to tip the scales at 32 pound and measured four feet one inch, thus constituting a record in size so far this season for species of this beautiful member of the finny tribe taken from the waters of the St. Lawrence. The bait used was a tango, painted blue and white the result of Mr. Larocque's own handiwork a few days ago.

Insect Pests

From all appearances there will be a plague of tent caterpillars next year. Wherever one looks, in private gardens, on fruit trees and shade trees, and all through the country, are to be seen the web tents, the home of thousands of caterpillars, the prospective pregenitors of an army of crawlers in the year to come. The necessity of burning or otherwise destroying these tents with their occupants does not seem to have impressed itself upon people, and it is now almost too late, as the worms have mostly become moths and are engaged in propagating their species. The harvest will be disastrous, as it was 10 or 12 years ago, unless weather conditions destroy the egg clusters and the worms after they are hatched.

Government Offers Reward for Capture of Murrells

The Ontario Government will pay a reward of $1,000 for the capture or information leading to the capture of either Stanley or Sidney Murrell, the two murderers who escaped from jail at London on Friday night. The announcement was made by Hon. W. E. Raney. Should more than one person have a part in the capture the reward would probably be divided as was that paid for the capture of Norman Garfield. Another thousand dollars is also offered by Middelsex couuty.

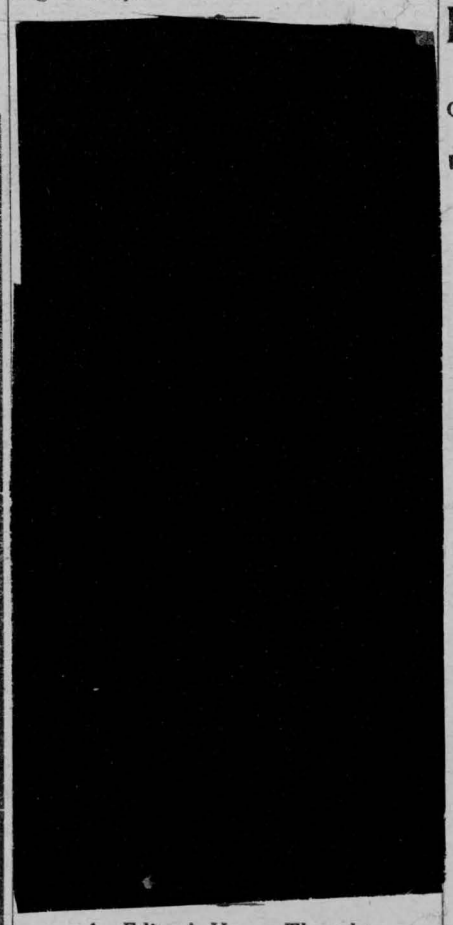

Feeling is reported to be running very high in Melborne among the villagers who participated in the rouud up of the bandits that cost the life of Russell Campbell. On the day of the bank robbery a dangerous movement to resort to lynching on the spot was ended only by the arrival of detectives from London, and the people of the village now freely express regret that tbey did not execute the bandits on the spot.

The Same Here

Leeds and Frontenac counties provide a warning for Renfrew county roads, builders in the maintenance of good roads. These counties a few years ago had a large mileage of good stone roads, and to-day they are credited probably the worst main highway in the province. The roads were built and then forgotten, with the result that they are now sadly rutted and abound with holes that make motoring over them little iess than agony, while the counties have started the task rebuilding. Compared with the roads just across the St. Lawrence in New Y rk State, one does not wonder that the O tario side of the River attracts so little of the heavy tourist traffic which every season comes to the roads on the other side. Roads maintenance is quite as important as road building and it is hoped that the authorities in this county will not fail in maintaining the roads which are costing so much to build and which after a few years will have to e rebbuilt nnless they are properly looked after.—Pembroke Observer.

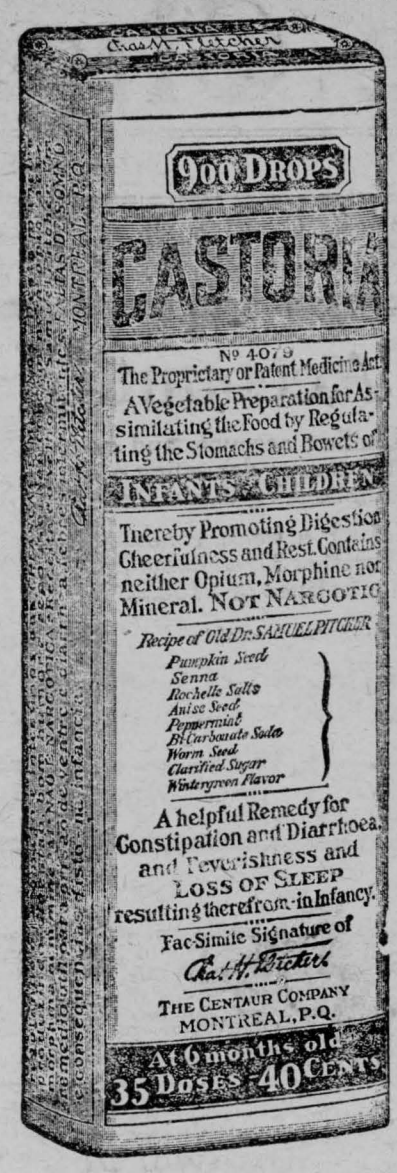

Best Steer: Youngest Exhi bitor

Bud Fairfax, first prize junior calf and winner of the fat steer championship, created quite a sensation at Toronto Exhibition being the youngest and smallest steer in the ring, and, more than that, a Hereford—one of a breed that has always yielded top honors to either Shorthorn or Angus in former years of the show. Bud Fairfax was not the only sensation, however. Even greater interest was shown in his exhibitor, Wilbert Hooper, nine years of age, who raised the steer with a view to showing it in the Calf Club contest at the coming Western Fair at London. Not taller than the calf's shoulder, the boy made a good job of showing his beast, getting through without mishap until the ribbons were placed when the calf started for the barn, taking the boy with him and finally breaking away from his owner and giving the ring attendants an interesting time in rounding him up.

An Editor's Happy Thought

The editor of the Eaton (Colo.) Herald suggests to his subscribers that, in order that they may keep track of the expiration of their subscriptions, they date their subscriptions on their birthdays and make it a point to always come in and pay a years subscription on that day. He adds: "The beauty of this scheme is that you are bound to live for another year. No man ever died who had his subscription paid up. Nine times out of ten when a man dies he owes the editor for subscription."

Cut Chore-Time in Half

Do you realize that an average farm uses one ton of water a day? How long are you going to handle this tremendous bulk by old-fashioned, wasteful methods?

Modern farmers let the wind pump and distribute their water. They cut chore-time in half. They have running water in the house, the barn and stables, and pasture.

Not with old-fashioned windmills. But with big, sturdy, efficient double-geared Toronto Windmills, constructed throughout of galvanized steel, strong and rust-proof.

A Toronto Pump and a Toronto Water-System, combined with a Toronto Windmill, gives you a real city water service.

Toronto Pumps and Water Systems can also be supplied with a gasoline engine or electric motor.

Our Windmill, Pumps and Water System booklets show you how to cut out waste time and energy on your farm—how to make more money. Write for them. They are sent free.

TORTURED BY TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Suffered Three Years Until She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

DAME PETER LAMARRE

Pointe St. Pierre, P. Q.

"I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me.

I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good.

Then, I used one box of 'Sootha-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvellous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootha-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives.'

'Fruit-a-tives' cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure."

Mrs. Nathan Casselman, Williamsburg

The Angel of death has again entered our midst and removed an old and respected resident of this neighborhood in the person of Mrs. Nathan Casselman. The late Mrs. Casselman was in her seventy-ninth year and had been a resident of this place for upwards of sixty years. Deceased had been in failing health for past few months, and all that medical aid and willing hands of loved ones could do was done but of no avail, and on Monday, August 29th, 1921 she passed peacefully to the Great Beyond. She was a kind and loving mother, and at all times sacrificed herself in a marked degree to the comfort and welfare of those around her. She is survived by her aged husband in his 83rd. year. Also four daughters, Mrs. Frank Casselman and Mrs. Edwin Whitteker of Berwick, Mrs. P. P. Fetterly of London, Ont. Also four sons, Walter on the old home place. Aden and Alfred of Berwick and Clinton of Winchester who have the sympathy of many friends.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from her late residence to the Luthern church Williamsburg, where her pastor, the Rev. T. Isler conducted the service.

Growing Trees for Fuel and Lumber

The question of economic tree culture on the prairies has not yet received sufficient attention to furnish enough absolutely reliabte data upon which to base conclusions. There seems to be little doubt, however, that tree planting would pay in many cases There are on almost any farm certain portions of land which are not utilized for grain-growing, and which if pastured, do not really give the returns they should do. Low spots difficult to drain, rough, stony places, steep banks of coulees, and odd corners of large fields by water holes or creeks, are left idle, as they are too small to make it proffitable to cultivate them. These are instances of conditions where tree-planting might be the means of converting land, at present worthless and idle, into valuable and revenue-producing property.—Norman M. Roas, Dominion Forest Nursery Station, Indian Head, Sask.

Alleged Murderers Escaped Jail

Sawing through eight one-inch iron bars that guarded the narrow window of their ground floor cell at the County Jail, London. William and Sydney Murrel, two of the trio held for the Melbourne murder and attempted bank robbery escaped unseen from the county jail Friday night. At eight o'clock when turnkeys found the cell empty and the open window, the men had probably been gone for more than an hour, and little hope is held of being able to pick up any clue as to the direction they have taken. City police armed to the teeth, are scouring city and country roads in high speed motor cars but all that is known of the bandits is that they are in the great outdoors protected by darkness with an hour,s start, doubtless equipped with the best of pistols, ammunition, a change of clothes and money. Both are expert auto thieves, and if the outside arrangements, the police believe were made, have fallen short in that respect they are men who will probably find little trouble in maintaining their supply of automobiles.

Children and Sheep

A little girl in Lindsay last week had her nose bitten off by a dog, and the incident serves to call attention to a strange anomaly in our law.

If the dog had bitten off a sheep's nose or a pig's nose the owner of the dog would have to pay damages to the owner of the wounded animal.

Since however, the dog did no more than bite off the nose of a little girl and maim her for life, his owner lies under no penalty.

If a dog attacks an animal he has to take his chances in the law courts.

If a dog attacks a boy or girl he can chew them all up if he likes in the full assurance that nothing more will be heard of it except—

Except the claimant is able to prove that the dog was known to be vicious. That except lets 99 out of 100 owners of vicious dogs go scot free.

It is time the statutes put children somewhere near the level of sheep and pigs.

Big Trout

According to the Parry Sound Star, some big Lake trout are being caught in that district. A party of four men from Montreal and Toronto were there for seven days fishing and during that time caught sixty trout, including one 37½ pounder. They caught the big white trowling at Kilbear Point with copper lines. At first the fisherman thought he was hauling in a sunken ship and it took two of them a good half hour to capture the prize. The fish pulled the boat back at the rate of five or six miles per hour and gave them a great deal of trouble. They got him in the end, howveer, and on being weighed it tipped the scales at 37½ pounds.

Grantley Wins Cup at Finch.

In a very interesting and hotly contested football game between Grantley and Goldfield at Finch on Friday; the former team won by a score of one goal to none for Goldfield. During the first period after a rush down the field Ivan Barkley, on a long side shot scored the only goal of the game, winning for his team the cup donated by the Finch Hockey Club. The game was fast throughout with good football displayed by each team. Goldfield on different occasions were prevented from tying up the score only by the excellent work of Lorne Hutt between the Grantley posts.

Son of Former Resident a Hero

What might have proved a fatality occurred recently at Wagner's Island, opposite Dickinson's Landing, where Mrs. S. H. Moke was camping for a month. Miss Eunice Radford, Mr. Moke's niece, of New York, was visiting Mrs. Moke for a few days, and while in bathing one morning swam out in the eddies and the strong current was bearing her swiftly down the river towards the rapids, when Albert Feader (Dr. Feader's oldest son) a boy of 11 yrs. and James Whitney, son of Mr. Garnet Whitney, Aultsville, grandson of the late Sir Jas. Whitney, rescued her, Albert was starting across the river in a boat from the Island, while James, who was also in bathing had tried to help Miss Radford back again into shallow water, but could not as she had drawn him under the water Albert who heard Mr. Moke's and James calls for help, quickly turned the boat, rowed in and got Jas. then rowed to Miss Radford and by letting her get hold of the boat towing her into safety. Much credit is due these two young boys for their bravery. But for their help Miss Radford would have been drowned. The act is worthy of recognition by the Royal Humane Society.

Afraid of the Farmers

It appears that there are certain machine agents who have never ceased knocking People's Manufacturing and Sales Co. Ltd., since that company was granted its charter fifteen months ago. But such knocking has only served to convince the farmer that there is something real and substantial behind this movement, or why all the noise from the opposition forces, they say. These agents would like to see the farmer submit to the same old conditions and pay toll to them year after year. But the farmer does not intend to submit. He stands to-day for progress and is putting his money into the "Peoples" company where he will share in the profits to be made through a more direct and economical system of distribution. The stock is sold fully-paid and non-assessable. Dividends are payable Jan. 1st of each year on the preferred stock at not less than 8% per annum. Every farmer should be in on this.

Wells—Pemberton

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pemberton, Elma, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, Aug. 31st, at High Noon, when their daughter Kezia, became the bride of Mr. John H. Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wells of Hoasic.

The ceremony was preformed by the Rev. T. Isler of Williamsburg.

The bride looked very girlish, wearing a gown of pearl grey satin and georgette and carrying a bouquet of white cut flowers and maiden hair fern. She was assisted by Miss Anna Froats, who wore sand taffetta. The groom was attended by Mr. Floyd Pemberton, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room where dinner was served, after which the happy couple left by motor to visit relatives in New York and other points in the States, the bride travelling in a navy blue serge suit opening over an embroidery blouse of flesh georgette, with white picture hat and flowing veil.

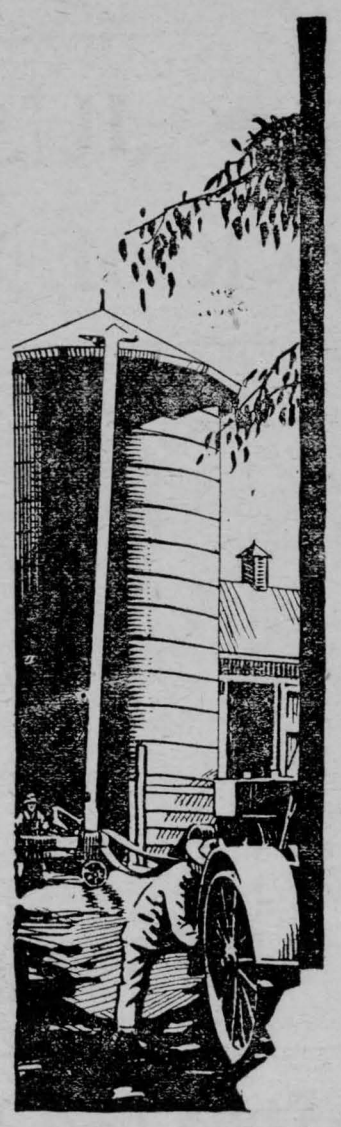

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Wells will reside in Hoasic.

The young couple have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Mr. Dean: "Woman is making progress." Mr. Bean: "But she has not yet attained the point where she can smoke a cigarette while making a cake."

Good Advice

"Where do you live?" asked the young policeman who had broken up a fight between two sailors.

"Calcutta," answered the Lascar.

"And where do you live?" the policeman asked the other.

"In Shanghai." replied the Chinaman.

"Um-um" returned the policeman, "Well, the best thing you two can do is to pop off home to bed."

The One Chance

Junior was in the habit of coming to the table with a dirty face, and, of course had to be sent away. One time his mother, nearly losing patience, said: "Junior, why do you persist in coming to the table without washing? You know I always send you away." "Well," said Junior, meekly, "once you forgot."

The Farmer And His Market

Does the farmer do well or ill when in time of low prices and diminished demand for his products he deliberately plants a small acreage? Should he be commended or rebuked for adjusting his production to conditions of his maret?

If the farmer is a kind of serf whose only purpose in life is to raise abundant food at the cheapest possible price for the other members of the community, he ought to of course plant all he can, work as hard as he can and raise all he can every year. If he is a self-supporting citizen engaged in the business of producing foodstuffs for sale to his fellow citizens who are otherwise employed, it is hard to see any reason why he should not use his intelligence in estimating the amount of his crops that he can sell at such prices as to give him a decent living, and then restrict his production to that amount. No one is astonished or shocked when a manufacturer closes a part of his plant because the market will not absorb his entire output. Why should we expect the farmer to raise so much that a part of his crop has to be thrown away and the rest sold at a price that returns him little or nothing for his labor?

Of course it is difficult for the farmers to tell exactly how much they should reduce their acreage in order to produce the necessary and only the necessary amount of food. The independent producers are so many and so widely scattered that each man can get only an uncertain idea of what his own share in raising the crop of the year should be, or of just what the millions of others are doing with regard to the situation. And even if the growing means intercommunication among farmers and the increasing efficiency of cooperative organizations should help him to a sensible decision on the question of acreage, there are the uncertainties of drought or flood or insect pest that often make the harvest of September something quite different from the estimate of May. There is therefore the danger that a general movement for reducing crop areas may go too far and result in a real shortage of food. But that does not affect the conclusion that the farmers have a perfect right to adjust their work and their production to what they believe is to be the effectual demand, and that it is often wise for them to do it.

The cotton planters of the South have this year done exactly that. Knowing that almost one half of last year's great crop of thirteen million bales remained unsold and that another bumper crop would depress prices to the point of bankruptcy for them. they planted less than three quarters of their usual acreage and raised a crop of only some eight billion bales--the smallest crop since 1915. But the carry-over is so great that the visible supply of cotton is almost as large as ever, and the price has not been much affected by the crop reports.

The grain farmers have not reduced their acreage materially, and their crop is likely to be about as large as last year, though much smaller than the extraordinary crop of 1919.—Youths Companion.

Chilled Beef Shipments

The report by the Canadian Commissioner in England, Harrison Watson, on the trial shipment of chilled beef from Toronto is highly encouraging. A thousand quarters of prime Ontario beef, slaughtered in Toronto, were sent to Liverpool within ten days after killing. The lot arrived in fine condition, despite a hot train journey to London, and sold for about 10 per cent. more than Argentine chilled beef. The butchers were delighted with it, and a regular weekly supply would be taken in London with eagerness. This is a hint that Ontario livestock men and packers might well consider. If a weekly sailing of a refrigerator ship could be arranged, could a sufficiently uniform supply of cattle be procured? The British trade will take chilled beef readily, because it has long been accustomed to getting beef from the Argentine that way. New Zealand mutton also comes in cold storage. In winter, we should have a big advantage over the southern countries. Only in three or four months of the year would continuous chilling be required.

Squirrel Carries off Golf Balls

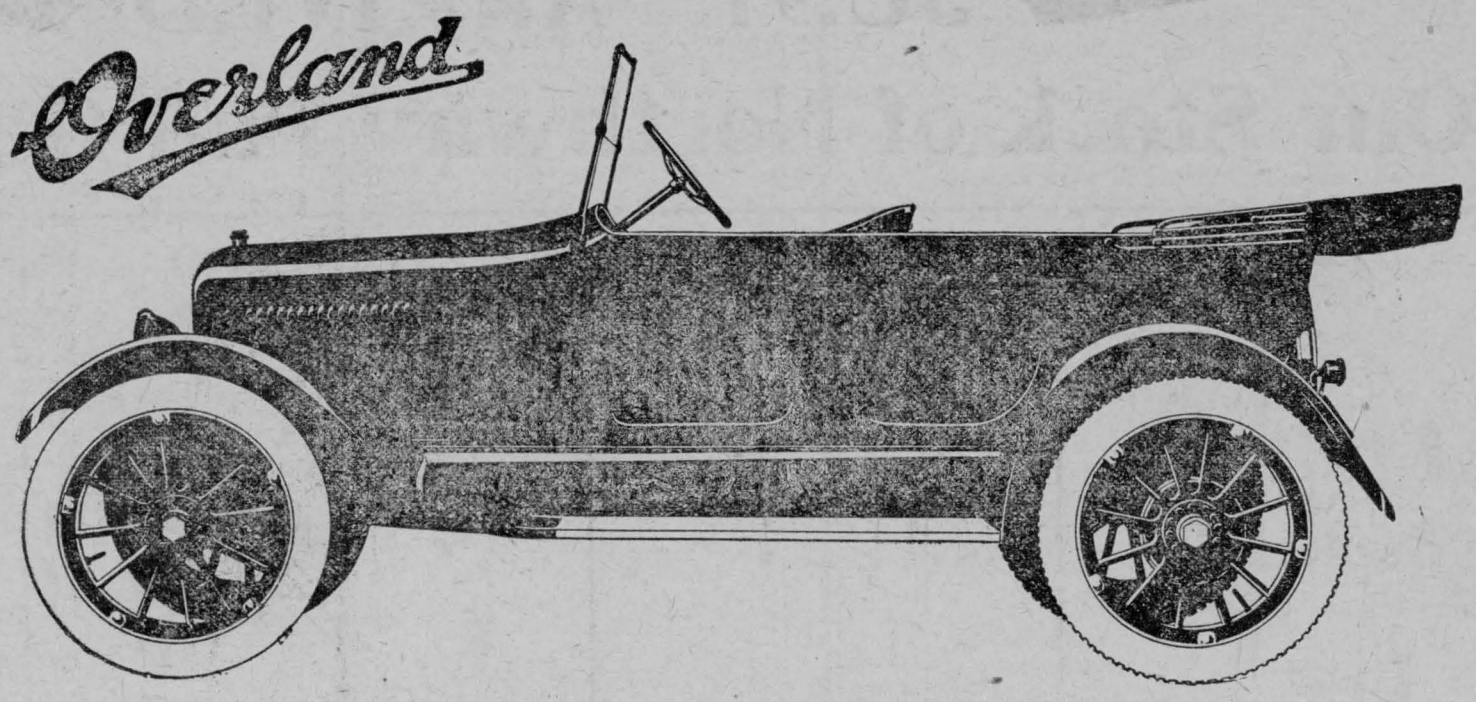

When a caddie on the links of the Carleton Place Golf Club saw a squirrel enter a hollow log while he was searching for lost balls, he investigated and found no fewer than 41 golf balls secreted in the log by the squirrel. A search of other squirrels' nests in the vicinity resulted in a total of over 50 lost balls being located.

Both May Be There

A minister in the north of Scotland took to task one of his hearers who was a frequent defaulter, and was reproaching him as an habitual absentee from public worship. The accused vindicated himself on a plea of dislike to long sermons. "Deed maan," said his reverend minister, a little nettled at the insinuation thrown out against himself, "if you dinna mend ye may land yourself where ye'll no' be troubled wi' maney sermons, either lang or short." "Weel aiblins sae," retorted John, "but it mayna be for want o' ministers."

Jack Taylor, Scholar Gypsy, Lone Camper

Cornwall Freeholder—A well preserved elderly man, in a khaki suit, walked into The Freeholder office on Monday afternoon and announced himself as Jack Taylor, the Scholar Gypsy, Lone Camper, on the way from the Middle West to Concord, Massachusetts, where he intended to visit the tomb of Thoreau. Mr. Taylor was making a detour from Toronto to Montreal and return, walking and camping both ways. Jack is a great traveller, and enjoys his own society sufficiently to always go by himself, riding on a bicycle, and carrying a folding camp cot, sleeping bag, kitchen, pantry, library of 13 volumes, office, linen chest, clothes chest, repair kit. He has already covered a good many thousand miles, from Texas northward, and expects to do 1500 miles in Ontario and Quebec. He makes from three to 30 miles a day, never sleeps under a roof or eats at a table, and thrives on it. He is not walking for a wager but getting real material for a real book. He claims to be 68 years of age but feels not more than half of that. Altogether an interesting personality. Good luck to him.

Rapid Tree Growth in Southern Ontario

At the meeting of the Council of Norfolk county, Ontario, at which it was decided to purchase a block of 500 acres for reforestation, one of the councillors gave an instance of a 25-acre lot in North Washington township owned by a man who lives five miles away. Seven years ago it was a sand plain, decorated only with the dry stumps of a primeval pine forest. To-day it is entirely reforested in growths ranging from fourteen feet downward. It was first fenced and each year a portion was forced to pine. The planting was done by ploughing a furrow straight as might be and planting the seedlings along the furrow. The entire plot is thriving, and the first year's planting is now beginning to undergo natural thinning out.

The Annual Clean-up

(Experimental Farms Note)

As soon as the breeding season is over the fowl that are not intended to be retained for future breeders should be disposed of. The birds should be either put into a yard or confined to part of the yard, the rest being limed, ploughed or spaded, and seeded to green crop such as rape or rye.

All litter should be removed from the house and the ceiling, walls and floor thoroughly swept. Movable fixtures should be taken out and the whole interior given a thorough washing. The best way to do this is to use the hose if you have one, after the hose give the building a good flooding and scrub it down with a stiff brush. If there is no hose, be even more careful about the scrubbing. After the house has been thoroughly cleaned give it a soaking with a good strong disinfectant. One of the coal tar preparations will be found satisfactory for this purpose, this should be applied with a spray pump so that it will be forced into all the cracks and crevices of the building. If there is no spray pump, use a brush, but be sure to get it into these cracks and crevices.

The house should be left standing for a couple of days to dry out, leaving it wide open to allow the sun and air to enter freely. It should then be given a good application of whitewash. The fixtures, nest boxes, roosts and dropping boards which have been removed should be treated in a similar manner.

At the time of this annual house cleaning it is a good plan to note what repairs to the houses, fixtures and fences are needed and have them made as soon as possible. Also clean up and burn any accumulation of rubbish leaving nothing under which vermin may hide. A clean house free from lice and mites is easy to keep clean. Then see that the pullets are healthy and free from lice, when they are put in, and the problem of winter eggs is more than half solved.

Look how far you've gone since your crank-case was cleaned—

IF you have gone more than 1,000 miles without having your crank-case cleaned; chances are ten to one that your operating expenses are about twice what they should be. Very likely the snug-fitting and rapidly moving parts in your motor are burning and wearing themselves out at an alarmingly rapid rate, too.

Dirty oil, filled with grit, mineral particles and road dust cannot lubricate. Your crank-case should be thoroughly cleaned and refilled with fresh lubricating oil at least every 1,000 miles—more often if your car gets hard usage.

Imperial Polarine Crank-Case Service Dealers are particularly equipped to deliver 100% cleaning service. Imperial Flushing Oil, the scientific cleaning agent employed by them, gives unsurpassed results which are not possible with kerosene (coal oil) or similar things that are altogether unsuited for crank-case cleaning.

This is economy year. Clean oil and a clean engine will save you a lot of money. To-day: Drive 'round to one of the addresses listed at the left, or to any dealer who displays the Blue Imperial Crank-case Service Sign. Prompt reliable crank-case cleaning is assured.

Schools Re-Open

Chesterville schools opened on Tuesday morning with good attendance at each. At the Public school the increase has been such that it is only a matter of a very short time before another teacher will have to be added to the staff, in fact it was almost insisted on by the inspector for the present term.

A new staff has taken up the work at the High school of which Mr. C. W. Harrison, M. A. of Bradford, is principal, with Miss Gladys Murphy, B. A., of Mount Forest, and Miss A. I. Saunders, B. A., of Smith Falls as his assistants. All have come highly recommended and a successful year is looked forward to.

Notice of Accident

By a recent amendment to the Municipal Act, the time within which written notice of an accident on a public highway resulting from the condition of the roadbed, bridges or culverts. etc must be given to the authorities, has been reduced from 30 days to 10 days in townships or counties. In cities, towns or villages written notice must be given within seven days as heretofore. If notice of an accident in writing is not filed within the time limits stated, the person suffering loss or sustaining injury loses the right to enter suit against the muuicipality for damages.
