Preston Elliot U. F. O. Candidate

The United Farmers of Greater Dundas at their convention here on Monday set a record in point of attendance which has never been equalled in the history of the county. The Music Hall was packed to its utmost capacity, while as many more were unable to gain entrance. The enthusiasm of the crowd was no less than its dimensions. The particularly fine day no doubt to some extent accounted for the very large attendance, but beyond that all seemed imbued with a fixed, determined purpose. They were there to do something and did it. They wanted the best man the farmers could produce to lead them in the impending battle and in the fifteen stalwarts who were willing to take that responsibility there were plenty to choose from. Most of the aspirants were practical farmers, the exceptions being A. S. Bean, veterinary, of Winchester village, and John A. Campbell, merchant and cheese buyer of Ormond. The others were A. E. McGruer, Joseph Louden and Geo. Smith of Matilda; Robt. Carkner and S. D. Thorpe of Mountain; W. H. Casselman, Preston Elliot, P. Kirby and Hermon Hummel of Chesterville; Ed. VanAllen of Osnabruck, F. Pitt of Williamsburg and Jake Steen of Morewood. Eight of these in short addresses promptly signified their intentions of withdrawing but pledging their heartiest support to the candidate chosen, leaviug the names of Campbell, McGruer, Bean, Elliot, Carkner, Smith and Louden to be voted on by the delegates.

Three ballots were required before a choice was made, the two with the least number of votes dropping out each time. In the first Bean and Carkner were eliminated with Campbell and Smith following them after the second count. On the third ballot Preston Elliot had a substantial majority over Louden and McGruer combined, and was declared the chosen leader.

On motion of Louden, seconded by McGruer, the nomination was promptly made unanimous.

The meeting was an exceedingly lengthy one lasting from shortly after one o'clock to almost seven, with interest at fever heat throughout the whole afternoon. The choice of Chairman fell to Mr. A. A. Powers, president of the United Farmers Co-operative Co., departing from the usual custom of filling that position by the choice of a local man. In what was naturally the chairman's address Mr. Powers launched into a heated campaign speech keeping pretty closely to enumerating the grievances under which the farmers struggled, placing the blame for such conditions with the inefficient government which the country has received at the hands of so called "big business" interests. The alternative proposed was the election of a farmers' government although no constructive policy was announced.

Before proceeding with the nomination of candidates short addresses were made by Mr G. Arthur Payne, U. F. O. candidate in Leeds Grenville and by Mr. J. LeVert of Crysler, who directed his remarks more to the French Canadian members of the gathering.

Mr. Elliot was not at the convention, being detained at his home by the critical illness of his mother, Mrs. Wm. Elliot ot Nation Valley, but his nomination was enlarged upon in a few remarks by W. H. Casselman, M. L. A., when the former's name was called, pointing out his qualifications as a suitable leader of the farmers in the present campaign.

Mr. Casselman in speaking to his own nomination, thanked those responsible for the compliment bestowed on him and for the opportunity of expressing his thanks to so large a gathering of the electors for the very substantial majority given him when elected to the Legislature. He said it was unthinkable that he should become a candidate for election in the federal contest, and at any rate he was quite content to serve in the capacity in which he had been chosen.

Creditable short speeches were made by all those nominated, showing them conversant with public matters and very much alive to the present situation.

As each and every speaker pledged unflagging support to the candidate chosen, Mr. Elliot should have no trouble in building up a formidable array of talent to present the claims of the farmers to the electors of the riding.

The National Crisis

"My appeal is to the whole people; to every man and woman who wants to do right by this country; to everyone who breathes the spirit of our fathers who founded this British Dominion."

—ARTHUR MEIGHEN

THE Election to be held December 6th will be the most momentous in Canadian history; for as men and women vote will depend the economic stability, the political stability and, indeed, the national stability of this country.

Today we find group striving against group, class against class, the industrial and financial structure of the country assailed by false and unsound doctrines and theories, while our great neighbour to the south has adopted a trade exclusion policy directed against Canada's vast agricultural interests.

The currencies of nearly every country in the world are depreciated. The Canadian dollar in the United States is subject to a heavy discount causing a loss of over one hundred million dollars in exchange annually.

Europe is overwhelmed with war debts—unemployment is acute — and the restoration to pre-war conditions is slow.

While Canada is in a much more favorable condition than many countries, yet there is evidence of stagnation, instability, unemployment and lack of confidence.

Taxes are heavy because of the country's efforts in the Great War, but have become burdensome on account of the misconceived policies and blunders of Governments that directed Canada's affairs prior to 1911.

These conditions are largely the direct aftermath of the war, but they must be dealt with fearlessly and constructively. This is no time to consider experimental changes, or the theories of visionaries.

This is no time for Crerar and his Free Trade policy.

This is no time for King and his wobbling "charted" policies, varying with each provincial boundary.

It is the time to cling to orderly, stable Government in the interest of all the people; to be guided by the experience of the past, proceeding upon lines that have been proven sound.

It is the time to place the destinies of Canada again in the hands of a Government led by a sane, courageous Canadian who has safely brought the country through the trying years of reconstruction, and upon whom we can rely to retain and initiate policies in the interest, not of a group or class but of all the people.

It is the time to support Arthur Meighen and his Candidates.

Meighen will lead us through

Clinched It

Aunt Jane, who was a spinster, came to visit her sister and family of four children. And from the very first auntie was very much given to offering advice to her sister on the way to feed, dress and treat children generally. The sister listened in perfect good humor, but uot so Sally, her efficient helper. And frankly Sally said so. "Look here. Miss Jane," what do old maids like you and me know about raisin' children? We ain't never had none and a person has to have children to know how to raise them." Aunt Jane smiled a tolerant smile, "Oh, not always, Sally." she returned. "Now take those little chickens out there. Don't you think you know more than their mother? you feed—"But Sally interrupted her. "Yes, ma'am, I feed them, if that is what you mean. Bnt I hain't never taught any of them to scratch have I?"

More Water More Milk

25% More Milk From Cows When Given Enough Water

Why is it that many cows are such poor milkers? Why don't they give enough milk to pay the cost of their feed?

The first reason is that many cows do not get enough water. Milk is 87½% water, and a good milker has to drink 4 gallons of water to produce a gallon of milk. To produce 3 gallons (30 lbs.) she must drink 12 gallons of water per day.

Now, no cow will drink 12 gallons of icy water from a freezing trough.

The BT Water Bowls Increase Milk Yield 25%

The BT Water Bowls increase the milk yield because they provide a constant supply of water at an even temperature. The Cow can drink the water as she needs it and in 24 hours will drink more than 12 gallons. She will drink all she needs for her maximum milk yield.

Water Bowls Pay Back Their Cost in Two Months

The BT Water Bowls will increase the milk yield of your cows enough to pay back the cost of the bowls in two months. They increase the milk yield the first day they are used. Some farmers declare that it is like the cows coming in fresh again.

Drop us a line and we will be glad to send particulars about the BT Water Bowl. Illustrated catalogue is free.

Tale of a Sawmill

The sawmill on Jackson Island, Smiths Falls had a mystery all summer. The mystery is now solved. For weeks and weeks the machinery was going wrong. It broke easily while in operation; sometimes it broke during the night. Belts gave way for no apparent reason. Mr. A. Root, the lessee, was put to very great expense. Finally a suspicion aroused that something more than ill luck could be blamed for the strange circumstances. A watch was kept and a youth employed in the mill became implicated. It seems that he did not want to work in the mill, but his father was determined that he should, and with a view to get out of working there, the youth is alleged to have done all the damage which the machinery suffered for months past. The case was placed in the hands of the police, but it is said that no prosecution will occur, the lessee being content to allow the matter to drop in consideration of the youth's father paying all damages.—Record-News.

Looks Like Soft Times

Arnprior Chronicle: According to a Pakenham correspondent, four silver foxes were sold from a Pakenham ranch for a sum aggregating almost $10,000. Let's hear no more about scarcity of money or hard times. If further proof that people have lots of money is required, reference might be made to the fact that between four and five thousand dollars were spent in the midway at Arnprior's fair this week.

Overcome By Gasoline Fumes

A peculiar accident occured on a farm in South Ops during the process of silo filling. Three men were overcome with the fumes from the gasoline engine operating the corn cutter. Their condition was such that they were in a stupor and were unable to continue work. It appears that the gas fumes were carried to the silo through the blower and the men did not feel the effects until they were practically overcome and crawled from the silo in a dazed condition.—Tweed News.

Hearing Things In Cornwall

Cornwall Freeholder—On Sunday evening, several gentleman walking along Second street east, heard a peculiar sound, which might be described as a melodious chuckle, apparently among the tree tops. One of the party said it was the voice of a bird, that he had heard it once before, some years ago. In a minute or two afterward the sound seemed to come from higher up in the air and to travel toward the east, and it circled about and was heard distinctly overhead, and went westward, growing fainter, until it was heard no longer. It would be interesting to know if any of our readers heard the same sounds, and if anyone knows the bird that made the night music.

Cheesemakers Favor Babcock Test

A prominent cheesemaker, in discussing the action of the Frontenac Cheese Board in protesting against the enforcement of the Dairy Standards Act, states that there is nothing in the Babcock Test that is injurious to the interests of dairy industry. He points out that the application of the act will in the first instance benefit the owners of superior herds who will receive pay according to the butter fat conteuts. While the owners of inferior cattle will be at a disatvantage, they will be obliged to grade up their cattle, and the result is sure to be a higher standard of cattle all around, and consequently better milk and more butter and cheese. The Government did not put the act through the legislature without having the most accurate information obtainable and the best technical advice, but opposition is now being encountered and petitions are being circulated among the farmers for signature protesting against the enforcement of the act.

Nature Will Out

A Scotsman was journeying on the top of an omnibus, when he was overjoyed at seeing a shilling lying in the gutter below. Of course, he immediately alighted, ran back a short distance, picked up the coin and was running to overtake the bus when he was accidently knocked down by another car. Unfortunately he was killed, and at the inquest which followed things looked very black for the chauffer of the car. Then, at length one witness mentioned that the deceased was of Scottish nationality, and related the circumstances which led to the accident. The proceedings were then terminated by exoneratiug the driver from all blame with the verdict, "Death from natural causes."

Mild Winter Expected

A despatch from Fort Dodge, Iowa, says:—An open winter is prophesied by Gene Dunning, who for fifty years has been Fort Dodge's prognosticator.

Mr. Dunning has not missed on his predictions in twenty years. He has kept a daily weather record for a half century.

"If for three days before and six days after the sun crosses the equator, a South to Southeasterly wind is blowing it indicates a mild winter," declared Mr. Dunning.

Councillor Failed to Support Mother

John Jackson, a member of the Guelph Township Council, appeared before Magistrate Watt, in Police Court, charged with failing to contribute to the support of his aged mother, who has made her home for a number of years past with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown this city He pleaded not guilty; and when placed in the witness box admitted that he had not seen his mother in five years. He said, in answer to questions by the Crown Attorney, that he was the owner of a good farm, had an automobile, owned the stock on the farm, etc. He was convicted under the new Act passed by the Ontario Legislature, and was ordered to pay $15 per week to her support. In passing judgment, the magistrate said, "You are the meanest man who ever appeared before me in this court."—Guelph Herald.

Division Court Tariff

The new tariff authorized for division courts is published in the Ontario Gazette. It will mean an increase in fees amounting to about 30 per cent. over the tariff now in force. Very few changes are made in the tariff except that provision is made for higher fees on cases in excess of $100. Until quite recently the division court jurisdiction included actions involving sums up to $200. The jurisdiction has been increased and now claims involving sums of $400 may be sued in the division court. The new tariff provides for larger fees on actions over $200 than on those under this sum. A number of minor changes have been made in the tariff under the old jurisdiction, but they will make only a very slight difference in the cost of litigation.

Buck Ague

For several years Jim Cheney had served in the National Guard at home and then for a time in the Philippines, where he was rated as a good soldier and an excellent rifleman. But he had never hunted deer. When he was about to start on his first hunt his friends rallied him. "You'll get the buck ague," they said. "Everyone does."

"I'll get the first deer I see, and I won't miss a shot," boasted Jim.

After a long, snowy tramp he found his deer. His bullet struck it--his first bullet! The deer struggled, fell, rolled downhill and landed with a crash in a clump of brush a hundred yards away.

Jim walked carefully round to the side of the brush. He had almost reached the cover when he saw scarcely ten feet in front of him above the low bushes a huge pair of deer horns. One plunge and the huge deer could reach him with hoof and horn.

He was armed with a sixteen-shot rifle and he had fired only the one shot that had brought down the deer. Frantically he began to aim, work the lever and pull the trigger; but the horns there in front of him did not waver. Soon his gun was empty.

Why did the deer neither attack nor die decently? While he was fumbling in his pockets for more cartridges he continued to gaze as if hypnotized at the horns. Then the truth dawned on him. "Well, I be hanged!" he exclaimed.

The exclamation was natural. Years ago some hunter had killed a huge buck and set the horns on a stump to save them. The bushes had grown up and hidden the stump, but not the horns. In the stump, just below the horns, Jim found fifteen fresh bullet holes.

"Well," and Jim could feel himself blush all over as he said it, "I got the deer the first shot, but I guess it was buck ague for the others. Lucky no one was here!"

His brother, however, had heard the shots and, seeing Jim's guilty flush, demanded an explanation Jim told the story, and since then for twenty years he has been unable to shake off the nickname "Buck."

The Big Race as Seen By the Sports Writers.

(Canadian Sportsman)

The village of Chesterville, nestling snugly on the main double track line of the Canadian Pacific Railway sixty-eight miles west of Montreal, assumed the importance of a great metropolis on the occasion of the widely heralded match race between the idol of the harness turf Single G., 1.59, and the famous Canadian champion, Romalo 2.03. Attracted by the significance of a contest between two pacers, the first named acknowledge fastest of his gait in training and but once defeated in a questionable race this season, and the latter, a mare that attracted world-wide attention by pacing the local oval just over a month ago in 2 03, thereby establishing a Canadian record, the greatest throng that ever visited Chesterville arrived for what was anticipated the most sensational event of the Canadian turf. The day dawned the most promising in the history of the town, bright and warm. Promoter T. J. Ellis, provided extra accomodation for his guests, many arrivals from distant points, housed the royal equines in decorated stalls and proudly pointed to one of the best half mile ovals in the country, equal in comparison so far as footing is concerned to many of the major tracks to the south. His task had now ended. The two great champions had been brought together on Canadian soil, a feat with no precedent in Canadian turf history, an honor that surely entitles Mr. Ellis to unusual distinction and honor for promoting a decidedly more hazardous an undertaking, involving great financial risk. than would have been considered by the majority of race promoters in this country.

(J. W. Palmer, Toronto)

Promoter J. T. Ellis, regardless of the result, is to be congratulated on his enterprise involving a risk that few men in his role would care to undertake in a town with the population and having the location of Chesterville. While somewhat disappointed over the outcome, Mr. Ellis, must feel conscious of the fame brought to his home town since Chesterville is now known far and wide by the sporting public. To him the Canadian turf is also indebted for publicity of a desirable nature and wish to console him with the thought that the magnitude of the recent event is without precendent in the history of the sport in this country.

The late Mrs. Allison, whose parents were among the early pioneers of Dundas county, was born at Dunbar in the year 1835. Of sterling character and cheerful disposition, she made a host of friends throughout the township who will learn of her demise with regret.

She is survived by five sons: Messrs. J. W. Allison, Morrisburg; Wm. J. Allison, Cardinal; Enos Allison, Dunbar; David Wilton Allison, Hyler, Alaska; Wellington Allison, Vancouver B.C.

The funeral service was conducted at the home of Mr. Walter Bogart of Chesterville. Many beautiful floral offerings testified to the high esteem in which deceased was held by sympathizing friends. Interment was made in the family plot, Maple Ridge cemetery.

"Those Two Houses were built at the Same Time"

ONE was owned by a man who thought he knew and the other was the home of one who listened to experience. One painted for effect, thinking that any paint that looked nice would do—the other knowing that surface protection was more important than decoration, painted regularly for protection.

One tried to save expense and failed—the other saved the surface, and in doing so also saved expense.

The former house is a derelict and the latter is a delight. The paint with the record for permanence is a really superior paint. Its guaranteed formula results in a paint with a brilliant finish that lasts for years—B-H "English" paint excells in "body," brilliance, covering capacity and permanence.

Protect your property so that it will last for generations. B-H "English" paint whether in white or in colors is the best choice in Canada as a surface saver.

The Late Mrs. Grant Gray

Died at the family residence, Nation Valley, Ethel Margaret Allison, beloved wife of Mr. Grant Gray, aged 50 years. Mrs. Gray was the daughter of the late W. J. Allison of Maple Ridge, and came to the home of her husband in what is now called Nation Valley. She was a most devoted wife and loving mother, an excellent neighbor and an earnest christian.

Her health had not been good for the last six years. On Saturday she suffered from a severe stroke which proved fatal on Sunday afternoon Oct. 2nd.

She was one who always kept cheerful and helpful, continually anxious that all around her would partake of her hospitality and generous beneficence. Her anxiety for her son Charlie while he was in the danger of war was most acute but his return to the home was one of supreme comfort.

A very large concourse of people assembled at the home to pay their last respects to her memory. The services were conducted by Rev. W. T. Brown of Chesterville, being beautiful and appropriate.

She leaves to mourn her loss, a husband and five children, Eslie, Charlie, Evelyn, Rena and Ralph.

Friends from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ailison and family, Russell; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Beach and family, Cornwall; Mrs. Jack McGee and daughter Leila, Cardinal; Mrs. Jean Coons and Mr. and Mrs W. J. Nesbitt, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mundle, Kemptville; J. Wesley Allison, Morrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maine, Hewelton, N. Y.

Floral tributes were placed on the casket—wreaths from the family, and brothers Dave and John; sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Enos Merkley; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Beach and Mrs. S. R. and A. H. Fulton.

The pall-bearers were cousins, G. W. Bogart, Fred Helmer, Irwin Ball, J. W. Nesbitt, T. J. Mundle, Howard Nesbitt.

The remains were laid to rest in the family plot Maple Ridge Cemetery, in sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection.

The Pierce Trophy Won by The Springs

The silver cup donated to the Dundas Amateur Baseball Association by Rev, L. A. Pierce M. A., D.D., P.H.D., a former Methodist minister of Brinston, is now in possession of the Winchester Spgs. baseball club. It is a beautiful trophy appropriately inscribed and a source of considerable pride to the ball team and citizens generally.

We wish to express our full appreciation of the fine public spirit shown in making so admirable a donation in the interests of clean sport and also of the cordial support given by the Brinston people which undoubtedly prompted the generosity of Dr. Pierce.

The league of the past season was composed of clubs representing Iroquois, Brinston, South Mountain and Winchester Springs.

From the beginning every game was hotly contested and although the usual minor disputes occurred the players generally conducted themselves as true sportsmen.

The trophy is unique because we believe it is the first donation of its kind made in the interest of sport in Dundas: its possession was decided by a record also quite unique. The association of 1921 was the first organized baseball league in the history of the County. The winners were the first properly organized team of which the Springs could boast and they went through the entire schedule of play with an unbroken record of victories.

Throughout the season the community was ablaze with enthusiasm and the Springs boys responded by serving up a high order of ball.

The following players were in uniform during the season;—1st base—McIntosh, 2nd base—Cassel man, 3rd base—Webb, G. Summers; Pitcher—Thompson, Catcher—Jack Bolton, Short Stop—A. Bolton, R. Field—Holmes, C. Summers; C. Field—G. Bolton, L. Field—E. Morrow, Spares—J. Morrow, Kirkwood. Captain—S. F. Bolton

The trophy is now on exhibition in Fraser Bolton's store at Winchester Springs.

Chesley Miller, a well known poultry fancier of the county of Russell, some time since bought a cock bird from a Kingston expert, subject to the purchaser being satisfied with the bird. It did not suit and the seller sued the buyer for the price. The case was sued in the division court and judgment was given for the defendant, with costs against the plaintiff, amounting to over $60.

Fattening The Surplus Cocherels.

(Experimentai Farm Note)

The demand for the well finished, milk fed, crate fattened, chicken has always been in excess of the supply and where this condition exists, it goes without saying, that the price must be enticing or attractive to the carefnl and systematic farmer, who prepares his product for market, in the most economical and attractive manner, and who reaps his reward in an enhanced price and a ready demand for what he has to offer.

The marketiug of lean scraggy chickens, straight off the range, allows but a small profit, or possibly no profit at all, and is decidedly unsatisfactory to the farmer, the dealer and the customer.

The customer is gradually realizing that he is the greatest loser, as the offal and waste from the unfiuished chicken, is the same as from the well fattened bird. In the first condition this waste may run to fifty and sixty percent of the whole carcass, while in the fattened bird it will not exceed thirty per cent.

This convincing economy, and this improved texture and delicate flavour of the meat, of the milk fattened chickens has created an unlimited demand at home and abroad. It is therefore, well worth while to consider the following simple method of fattening when it is time to market, either large or small quanttties of poultry.

Crate Feeding—Crate feeding has proved the most satisfactory method of preparing poultry for market with the exception of broilers, turkeys and waterfowl, which are usually considered to do better in limitedpens.

Constructiou Of Crates—The large metal commercial batteries, usually used where great numbers are available, can be purchased, but for home use, crates can be made measuring about 6 feet long, 16 inches wide and 20 inches high, divided by two tight partitions into compartments, each capable of holding four birds of from 4 to 6 lbs each.

The frame, of 2 inch by 1 inch material, is covered by slats 1 inch wide set 2 inches apart and running lengthwise, on three sides and perpendicular on the front, to allow the chickens to feed from a V shaped trough, made from two pieces of 3 inch by ½ inch board, nailed together and set on protruding brackets, so as to leave the bottom of the trough about 4 inches above the bottom of the crate, and the upper edge about 2 inches from the front.

The bottom slats of the crate, should be nailed on the upper part of the frame to prevent injury to the chickens feet should the crate be stood upon the ground. The crates should be placed on stands 16 inches from the ground, and some absorbent, such as ashes or sand spread underneath to catch the droppings The crate should be placed in some rough shelter, preferably, where most of the light can be excluded when the birds are not feeding.

Vermin—Before being placed in the crate, the birds should be well dusted with fine sulphur.

Feeding—They should be starved for 24 hours and then fed sparingly for the first two days, gradually increasing the quantity, up till the third day, when the troughs should be kept filled until they settle down and refuse to take more.

Feed twice a day, with as long an interval between feeds as possible commensurate with light, and immediately remove or empty troughs after feeding. If possible, darken the crate and leave birds quiet till the next feed.

Ration—A satisfactory ration should be exceptionally palatable and one that will produce the whitest and finest texture of flesh, in the shortest period. For this purpose, finely ground oats, mixed sour skimmed milk or buttermilk, to the consistancy of thin porridge, so that it will pour into the troughs is best.

If a quicker gain in weight is desired corn meal or buckwheat flour may be added, but it must be remembered, that the addition of either to save time, is at the expense of "texture" in the finish of the flesh.

The addition of corn to the ration will put on fat, but in some markets a fat chicken will be accepted as equal to the best finnished poultry.

The fattening period will vary from 10 days to 3 weeks and the gains will be from 1 lb. to 3 lbs. on good robust chickens, that have been carefully fed.

As it is possible to put on a pound of gain to 3 to 4 pounds of grain consumed plus sour skimmed milk, it is easy to see that the successful fattening of poultry is a profitable undertaking.

Life insurance offers the best form of saving money, it is an investment for small sums, and affords "protection" for many times the annual deposit or premium. It is the only method of combining savings and protection.

It is also a sure way of leaving an estrte. Fifty per cent. of all estates at death consist of life insurance.
