Two weeks to go! Parade of Lights countdown

Winchester decks out for parade

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Just two weeks to until the Winchester Country Christmas Parade of Lights rolls through town, all aglow. The popular, fifth annual event expects to see the best Parade of Lights yet.

The Parade of Lights will be held at 7 pm on Fri., Dec. 7, complete with four bands. There will also be entertainment by local talent at the main corner. When the parade begins, commentary about each float can be heard in the downtown area and in the area of St. Lawrence and York streets.

Many houses in the village are already lit up in anticipation for the big night. The parade committee is hoping that residents will light up their homes to help illuminate the village for the Parade of Lights, and homeowners are also encouraged to pipe out Christmas music from their homes to add to the festive spirit of the occasion.

Already there have been 60 entries received for the parade, and the committee is eager to have all of the parade entry registration forms in, so that the final lineup of the parade can be completed soon. Anyone who wishes to put an entry in the parade, call 774-2515 for more information.

Donations help wishes come true

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Fifth Annual Winchester District Memorial Hospital Foundation Christmas Wish Tree Campaign was kicked off last week as donor cards were mailed to all residents within the catchment area of the hospital.

Christmas Wish Tree Campaign

Last year's campaign raised over $51,000, with donors making an extra effort of giving for the dialysis unit campaign initiated last fall. The foundation is hoping for such an effort again this year, as there will be more projects to be funded in the coming year.

"The holiday season is also a time of giving," said WDMH foundation co-ordinator Kim MacLennan. "The hospital appreciates everyone's past generosity and consideration of our ongoing needs. Many of our donors like to make a special gift at this time of year."

When you make a donation to the Christmas Wish Tree Campaign, a Christmas decoration is tagged with your name or the name of your choice, and hung on one of four Christmas trees in the main visitor lobby of the hospital. The trees are being decorated this week, in preparation for the campaign.

You may honor a loved one by dedicating the Christmas ball in their name.

Donation boxes are also located throughout the hospital for visitors and patients to drop in their donor cards while on site.

As part of the Winchester Parade of Lights, as in past years, the hospital will hold a lighting ceremony on Fri., Dec. 7 before the parade begins. At 5:30 pm a giant Christmas tree will be officially lit to begin the season of giving to the hospital.

Special guests will be on hand for the tree lighting, including WDMH administrator André Rodier, foundation chair Dwayne Holmes and WDMH board chair Brian Mann.

Everyone is invited to witness the lighting of the tree on Dec. 7. There will also be free parking for parade-goers in the hospital parking lot.

"With every donation, our wish trees will shine a little brighter and will help us meet the clinical and technical equipment needs of the hospital to better serve our community," said MacLennan.

Town hall meeting for dialysis

WINCHESTER — After surpassing the $300,000 fundraising goal to bring a hemodialysis unit to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital, the hospital foundation will host a meeting next week to celebrate and offer more information about the project.

The town hall meeting will be held on Tues., Nov. 27 at 7:30 pm in the WDMH cafeteria.

"The community has supported this project from the very onset," said WDMH administrator André Rodier. "From letters of support as we developed the proposal two years ago, to the incredible monetary support as we began fundraising."

Foundation chair Dwayne Holmes is equally as excited that the fundraising portion of the project is complete. "It seems that everyone within our community pitched in, from auxiliary to service clubs to community events and individuals. What a gift we have given."

Ottawa Hospital representatives will be at the meeting to explain how the satellite hemodialysis unit in Winchester will work. The next steps in the planning process, as well as the implementation timeline, will also be presented. Special guests include the architects for the unit, who will offer a glimpse into what the hemodialysis unit will look like.

The hospital is inviting all general public, service clubs, hospital staff and physicians to attend the meeting on Tuesday.

A special invitation has also been extended to families and patients who will benefit from having this service closer to home.

ND township offices moving

WINCHESTER — The office for North Dundas Township will be moving at the end of the year, to take up residence in the hydro building on St. Lawrence Street.

The current location was renovated in 1998, but the layout of the office is not functional, said mayor Claude Cousineau.

He explained that council initially planned to do renovations to the existing office on St. Lawrence Street. There was also hope that a call centre business would choose to move to North Dundas, to rent or buy the township hydro building (which the township purchased last year for about $3.9 million); however, that deal fell through.

Cousineau said the township staff will be performing a functional plan to blueprint how the new office should be laid out.

'Crossing guard not needed' – Zrymiak

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

WINCHESTER — A crossing guard on Main Street in Winchester? Not necessary, according to North Dundas Township resident Nick Zrymiak.

After hearing North Dundas Township council decide to hire a crossing guard at a cross walk on Main Street in Winchester, Zrymiak decided to find out for himself if such a move is essential.

Using his own video recorder, Zrymiak sat in his car at the intersection of Main and Howard streets on two consecutive mornings between 8 am and 9 am, and filmed those crossing at the cross walk already in place, as well as the traffic passing through.

At the Nov. 12 meeting, council decided to hire a crossing guard for the intersection on Main Street at Christie Lane in Winchester. This was after a misunderstanding that had led some councillors to believe that a pedestrian crossing would force motorists to stop for pedestrians. In fact, the cross walk only requires vehicles to stop if a pedestrian is already in the roadway, proceeding to cross.

A cross walk had previously been set up at the Main and Howard intersection, but council elected to move it one block after criticism about the location. Parents also criticized the cross walk, as it did not require cars to stop for pedestrians.

On Thurs., Nov. 15 Zrymiak sat in his car and pointed his video camera west at the intersection.

What he saw, he told the Press, was a lot of high school students crossing the street from the subdivision to get to their bus stop — but not one of them used the cross walk. One car, however, slowed to allow a high school student to cross, although not at the cross walk.

The video shows that between 8:10 and 8:17 am, no one crossed the street at all.

Zrymiak saw several public school students walking from the subdivision, but none of them crossed at the cross walk. A group of three, however, walked past the cross walk and surprised Zrymiak by crossing immediately in front of his car, several yards from the crossing.

A parent with a group of small children, pulling two in a wagon, did cross at the cross walk.

Food drive requires volunteers

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

METCALFE — In past years, Osgoode Township High School has been the headquarters for a massive Christmas food drive by Osgoode Ward schools — but no longer.

With no one to organize the food drive this year, the schools are each left to operate independent food drives, if they wish.

For the past 15 years, each school in the former Osgoode Township held student food drives. As the food was gathered, it was dropped off and sorted at OTHS. At the end of the two-week effort, the food was boxed and taken to the Osgoode Food Cupboard in Enniskerry.

OTHS teacher Darlene Vivarais led the food drive for 15 years, and when she stepped down from the position this year, no one else stepped forward.

OTHS will, however, conduct a schoolwide food drive this year. From Dec. 3 to 17 students will collect canned food to be donated to the food cupboard.

Chamber begins budget discussions

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

HALLVILLE — Budget was the main discussion at the Nov. 14 meeting of the North Dundas Chamber of Commerce. The group was welcomed by the Vinaigrette in Hallville with a special breakfast menu for the meeting.

Vice-chair Bob Volks proposed to the group that the Chamber of Commerce be represented at an upcoming Ottawa Outdoor Sportsmen and Cottage Show by putting a booth in the show. A 10-foot-by-10-foot booth at the show would cost $1,000.

"It would promote the area," Volks explained. "It's a sportsmen's show but in the past I've seen municipalities with booths there."

Sandie Puddephatt agreed that it was a good idea, but suggested that the Chamber of Commerce first find out who it is, before promoting itself to the outside community.

Volks pointed out that the booth would be good exposure for the township and the Chamber, promoting the area itself. It was suggested that township council be asked to help with the cost of the booth, as it would be for the benefit of the entire township.

Owen Shortt said that a professional-looking booth and professional-looking items to be given out were needed, as well as people prepared to speak professionally about the township.

"Are we ready to do that yet?" he asked.

"If we're going to make a commitment to do this, we must be ready to do it by Feb. 21-24," replied Volks.

Chair Sandra Cheney told the group that her employer, Brister Group, spent $4,000 on creating a booth for such shows. "Unless we're ready to spend the money and do lots of work, it won't look good," she advised.

Cheney suggested approaching township council regarding the matter.

Further discussion on budget saw disagreement on how to go about planning for 2002. At the moment, all businesses in the township are considered members of the Chamber, without paying dues. However, dues will be collected in January, and a rate needed to be set.

The problem was deciding which way to go about setting the amount of dues. Some argued that items must be listed so that it would be known how much money would have to be budgeted. Others said the budget could not be set until it was known what kind of paid membership there would be in the new year.

Under the former Winchester Chamber of Commerce, members paid $50 a year. It was suggested that dues be kept low in order to attract more members.

It was decided that invoices for $75 will be sent out at the beginning of January, due for the end of January. In February, the Chamber will advertise itself and list those members who have paid their dues. Businesses can register at any time of the year.

The matter of deciding on a budget was postponed until after the membership drive, to see how much money the group will have to work with.

The website is in progress, and it was decided to hold off on creating pamphlets until the website is finished.

The next meeting will be held on Wed., Dec. 12 at 7:30 am at Mary's Restaurant in Winchester. At that meeting, there will be a discussion about an upcoming wine and cheese meeting, at which there will be a membership drive.

Food drive

The food drive will be organized by OTHS teachers Katheryn Weld and Jane Woodley. Weld said that, while no one at the school has volunteered to take over the mass food drive for the schools, a community member would be welcome to volunteer.

"This will be a tremendous loss to the community if nobody takes over the food drive," Weld said. "It's been going on for 15 years."

Crossing

Zrymiak parked facing east on Friday (Nov. 16) during the same time period, and saw a similar scene play out before him.

"After the discussions at council I decided to videotape so that anyone could see it," Zrymiak said. "From what I've seen, there's no need for a crossing guard. I didn't go back after school (to tape) because from what I saw, I didn't need to bother."

He made several suggestions, however, including installing No Parking signs on either side of the cross walk. During his taping on Thursday, a pickup truck was parked at the crossing, causing difficulty in crossing due to visibility. A No Parking Here to Corner sign at Howard Street is actually situated at the corner, leaving no room to park anyway. On the opposite side of the street, there is no such sign at all.

"I can remember living in Toronto and pointing, indicating that I wanted to cross, and many cars would stop," Zrymiak recalled.

"I don't think they need anything there (at that corner)," he said. "I suspect that what I saw was typical of any day. I was there two days in a row and I saw the same thing."

What Zrymiak also saw was very few trucks passing along Main Street. He said a traffic study by roads superintendent Arden Carruthers that indicated 346 cars travelling on Main Street between 8 - 9 am was probably accurate, but that there were many intervals of no traffic that would allow children to cross easily.

After showing the video to The Press, Zrymiak planned to show township employees and council members who were interested.

"(Councillor) Al Armstrong said he would change his mind about a crossing guard if the cross walk were not used," he said. "My impression is that I didn't see anyone speeding and I did not have the impression that was presented at council meetings."

He added, "I regret that I didn't do this a month ago. It might have saved council some hassle. Why spend money if you don't have to?"

Mayor Claude Cousineau has repeatedly stated at council that a cross walk is not needed on Main Street.

"Moms are looking at it from a particular perspective, and with good intentions," Zrymiak said. "But council also has good intentions."

Parade

There will also be plenty of food available, with a food lot at the main corner downtown, including Beavertails and Kettle Popcorn. Throughout town, booths will be set up to provide refreshments. As well, four meals are planned by local community groups for the afternoon of the parade. The Winchester Lions Club will host a ham and beans dinner at Lions Hall starting at 5 pm. A spaghetti dinner will be held by the Winchester Hawks at Henderson Hall, beginning at 4 pm. Chili will be on the menu at the UCW dinner at the United Church Hall at 4 pm, and soup, sandwiches and a drink will be offered at the Winchester Wesleyan Church hall beginning at 4:30 pm.

After the parade, warm up with wings night at the Winchester Curling Club.

Don't forget to pay a visit to Santa at the Royal Bank from 5 to 6:45 pm. The jolly one will also be visiting patients at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital and Dundas Manor during the day on Dec. 7.

The Dundas County Food Bank will be collecting food donations during the day on Dec. 7. A van will be parked at the main corner, where food donations can be left. The Winchester Lions float will also be collecting food for the food bank, as it travels through the parade route. A few walkers alongside the float will help to collect donations.

For those in the parade, the food bank will be offering coffee, hot chocolate and chili before the parade begins. The Baptist Church has given a donation to cover the cost of chili for the four bands in the parade.

There are two new flashing collector's ornaments on sale now for the Parade of Lights — Nightly Nick and Flashing Frosty. They're on sale at participating stores in Winchester, including Winchester Video and Mac's Convenience Store. The cost is $3 each or two for $5. You can also pick up last year's Waving Wands at Winchester Video at a reduced price.

Remember, there will be no access to Main Street after 7:30 pm, and the traffic lights at the north intersection of County Roads 31 and 43 will be turned off and OPP officers will be directing traffic before and after the parade. During the parade, the official entrance to the village will be via St. Lawrence Street.

Residents and parade-goers are advised to not park along the parade route on Dec. 7, and it was suggested by the committee that residents allow visitors to the village to park in their driveways, thus helping with parking congestion.

Watch the Press next week for everything you need to know about the Winchester Parade of Lights.

Township

Clerk administrator Howard Smith will be talking to a designer experienced with office layouts for the future expansion and design of the office.

Meanwhile, the existing township office will likely become the new home of the Winchester branch of the SD&G County Library. The library, the biggest branch in the counties, has been crying for more space for some time. The township office, with the elevator which was installed in 1998, provides the perfect solution.

Cousineau said the decision was made at the Nov. 12 council meeting.

Playhouse gift auction tops $20,000

Auctioneer Flora Grant Dumouchel was full of energy during the Upper Canada Playhouse Christmas Gift Auction. She kept the audience entertained with jokes while she kept the bidding going.

The final item up for bid at the Playhouse Christmas Gift Auction on Saturday night (Nov. 17) was an evening of entertainment at the Playhouse, and a dinner hosted by the cast and crew afterward. Artistic director Donnie Bowes was in costume to present the tickets to the Playhouse production of Maggie's Getting Married and an exclusive reception for 10 hosted by Glenn Swerdfeger (president of the board of directors), Bowes and the cast.

MORRISBURG — Once again, the annual Upper Canada Playhouse Christmas Gift Auction hit its target — this year, raising $20,200.

Helping area residents get into the holiday spirit and giving them a head start on their Christmas shopping, the Upper Canada Playhouse held its annual Christmas Gift Auction on Sat., Nov. 17 at the Morrisburg Meeting Centre.

"The spirit has just hit everybody," said Mary Ellen Viau, past-president of the Playhouse board of directors. "The donations are just phenomenal."

Tables were piled high with auction items, generously contributed by many businesses in the area and around the province. Theatre tickets, golf passes and gift baskets were some of the items up for bid during the silent auction.

The live auction was filled with lots of laughter, and many unusual and unique items. A sitting for a portrait sculpture in clay, donated by Steve Caza, went for $300. A five course German dinner donated by Gerry and Lois Rosenquist of Morrisburg was purchased for $425 and a ride in a transport truck sold for $100.

The big prize of the night, tickets to the Upper Canada Playhouse production of Maggie's Getting Married and an exclusive reception for 10 hosted by board of directors president Glenn Swerdfeger, artistic director Donnie Bowes and the cast, went for $1,025 after an exciting bidding war.

Auctioneer Flora Grant Dumouchel kept things rolling with her lively personality and entertaining style. She has been officiating at the Christmas auction for seven years, and she loves it.

"They put so much energy and so much work into this," she said. "It's nice to see people are concerned about the Playhouse and keeping it going."

Although there were rumors of an impromptu hair cut, as last year when Tom Morrow of the McIntosh Inn had his head shaved when bidders pooled their cash to see him go bald, no one lost any hair this year. But the night was not without a surprise — the audience teamed together and bid to get Swerdfeger, Bowes and South Dundas mayor Johnny Whitteker to sing White Christmas together.

Swerdfeger was pleased with the turnout and thought the fundraiser went very well.

"It's great to see the community support," he said. He added the night wouldn't have been as successful if it wasn't for the numerous businesses that contributed the items up on the block and the bidders who bought them.

"The businesses that donated deserve as much credit as the people here tonight," he said.

Geraldine Fitzsimmons, one of the organizers, said she was overwhelmed by the generosity of the people who donated.

"The Playhouse must be an important part of the community," she said.

Cocktails were served at 6:30 pm, and the auction got under way at 8 pm. A hot and cold buffet was served after the auction.

Dreaming of a white Christmas

As the surprise item up for bid this year, Playhouse artistic director Donnie Bowes, South Dundas mayor Johnny Whitteker and Glenn Swerdfeger (president of the Playhouse board of directors) sang White Christmas at the annual Playhouse Christmas Gift Auction.

Emergency plan development focuses on disaster preparedness

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

WINCHESTER — North Dundas and South Dundas townships have examined ways to develop emergency plans in the event of a major emergency or disaster. Next, they'll be looking at providing relief to people affected in a disaster, with the help of the Canadian Red Cross.

The townships will be increasing their level of emergency preparedness by improving the delivery of humanitarian services for a future disaster in partnership with the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Emergency planner Bill Shearing said North Dundas and South Dundas have worked since amalgamation in 1998 to develop an effective emergency management program to protect public safety in the event of a major emergency or disaster. Their emergency planning committees have met on a regular basis and have conducted a series of exercises.

"What we have never done is look after focussing on the needs of people affected by a disaster," said Shearing, explaining that an information centre is necessary for media inquiries, but an inquiry centre is also needed to answer questions from members of the public. For example, to find out where a certain individual is, in the case of an evacuation.

"If we establish a shelter, we need to register those coming into the shelter," Shearing explained. "We need to start now to focus on the evacuation side of an emergency."

With the committees focussing on providing relief to people affected in a disaster, the Canadian Red Cross Society is assisting as a partner of the two townships. The Red Cross will be providing training for the two emergency planning committees at the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre in Winchester on Sat., Nov. 24.

"The Red Cross stands ready to work in co-operation with local authorities and volunteer groups to provide training in disaster relief operations," said Susan Carter, branch manager for the SD&G branch of the Red Cross Society. "This course is just the beginning. In the near future, we will work with our township partners to offer further opportunities for training to interested groups and individuals."

Shearing explained that the vision of the Red Cross is to establish a team trained by the Red Cross in Cornwall and each township in SD&G. "I hope that we will have a trained disaster relief team in each township to help with shelters and the mandate of the Red Cross to provide shelter registering and inquiry information."

Shearing pointed to the ice storm of 1998 as an example. "It would have been nice to have trained teams move in and manage the shelters that were set up," he said. Instead, volunteers managed the shelters without having had any training.

"We're fortunate that in SD&G we had no serious problems at the shelters, such as food poisoning or infectious diseases spread," Shearing pointed out.

It is hoped that teams will be established in each township within SD&G, Shearing said, so that if there were a disaster to happen in North Dundas, for example, teams in surrounding townships would be able to move in and help the team in North Dundas.

For the Nov. 24 session, emergency plan committee members will be trained. The hope is that once the committee members are trained, they will then help to recruit and train volunteers to be part of the disaster relief team.

The councils of the two townships recognize that emergency preparedness is not a one-time program, said Shearing. This new phase of training will continue to develop the resources that may be needed to help cope with a major emergency or disaster.

The exercise will be held at the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre, Winchester on Sat., Nov. 24 from 8:30 am to 4:30 pm.

Things you may have been wondering about

Trustee Tidbits
by
Maria Thompson

The Upper Canada District School Board gets its share of publicity in the major media outlets, but always, it seems, connected to an embarrassing incident, or a situation that, by the most generous standards, casts a negative light on the board.

Sometimes a tremendous amount of air time or column inches can be generated for a brief period of time. Then, the incident disappears from view and people are left wonder, "Whatever happened to . . . ?"

Whatever happened to the boy from Tagwi who wrote a story which other students found threatening and who was subsequently charged by police?

Charges against the boy were dropped by the Crown Attorney's Office and he and his brother are now attending school in the Ottawa Carleton District School Board. Contrary to media reports, neither boy was expelled from any school within the Upper Canada District School Board. In the words of a board-produced media release: "Since the beginning of 2001, the Upper Canada board offered to both students the opportunity to return to class at another Upper Canada board school. However, the students consistently refused to accept the various options offered by the board."

The board is paying their tuition. As a consequence of that and several other troubling incidents from across the continent, board administration is taking a very serious look at ways to eliminate bullying in schools and on playgrounds.

Several workshops are taking place and school communities are being actively encouraged to address the problem directly.

Students from Smiths Falls and District Collegiate Institute received lots of media attention a couple of weeks ago when 200 of them attended a board meeting with other community residents and made a presentation about the deplorable conditions of their school, including the revelation that there were mice in the lockers and water running down the walls.

Certainly, as a trustee of this board, I found it a humiliating position to have to bear the blame for a situation which I inherited from one of the other predecessor boards. However, Smiths Falls is to be congratulated for the spirit shown by the student leaders, three of whom went to Toronto to meet with Minister of Education Janet Ecker to ask her for a new school.

Did she hand over a cheque? No. According to a report from the board's communications office: "The Minister indicated that a lack of money is the province's dilemma but she promised to provide an update within two weeks." That promise is more than the board had ever received from the minister.

As a variation of the "Whatever happened to . . . ?" question, comes "What will become of . . . ?"

What will become of school trips in light of the new world situation following the events of Sept. 11? The decision of whether or not to organize school trips has people lying awake at night wondering if life gets put on hold for the foreseeable future, or whether it's a business as (almost) usual approach.

A recent board release states: "The board has advised its principals that the safety of students remains the highest priority."

According to director of education Gino Giannandrea: "The school principal had the responsibility of deciding whether the field trip should occur, be cancelled or postponed, and it is the parents who make the final decision on whether their child will participate in a field trip." Principals will meet with staff, parent/guardians and students to discuss the trip, recognizing that all field trips must have a direct link to the school curriculum and student safety must always be assured.

If there are board-related questions you would like to see addressed in this column, please call me at 989-2364 and I will try to answer your query in a future article.

Dundas County trustee for the Upper Canada District School Board Maria Thompson has spent 10 years as a school board trustee. She spent six years on the former SD&G board before the amalgamation of the UCDSB. Thompson has a vested interest in the educational system, including her two children, one who has graduated from the system and one who is still in school within the board. Her original interest in becoming a trustee was as a parent, and Thompson continues to try to respond to board issues as a parent first.

Food bank donation

When the current events group at Dundas Manor noticed regular articles in local papers describing how the Dundas County Foodbank needed donations, the group took the matter to its residents council and a donation of $100 was decided on. Teacher returns to OTHS for music

METCALFE — Reg Lavergne will lead his first band concert on Tues., Nov. 27 at 7:30 pm at his former high school, Osgoode District High School.

Now running the music program and directing the band at the school, Lavergne was once a music student at OTHS. After university and teaching for 2.5 years at Venta Preparatory School when he led their band to a gold medal at the Capital Region Music Festival, he has returned to OTHS to teach music.

OTHS band has acquired a reputation for outstanding music through the Capital Region Music Fest, Heritage Musical Festivals and 10 years of its own end-of-year musical and drama productions. The band has also raised $55,000 over 10 years for Ronald MacDonald House, through a 24-hour band-a-thon held each October.

There will be a silent auction at the concert. The band is raising money to buy a component for its computer which will allow students to compose music. Concert tickets are $5.

Assault charge

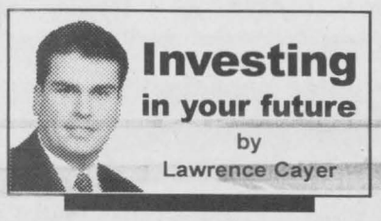
MORRISBURG — On Sat., Nov. 10 SD&G OPP arrested and charged a 19-year-old Morrisburg man with assault. The accused was leaving a bar in Morrisburg with his wife when an argument erupted between the couple. The accused allegedly pulled the victim to follow him, she began to yell and he covered her mouth with his hand to quiet her down. He is to attend court on Dec. 18 in Morrisburg.

Five charges for threats

MORRISBURG — On Tues., Nov. 13 Jason Arbour, 28, of Ottawa, was arrested and charged by SD&G OPP, after he threatened to harm a Morrisburg woman and her dog over money that the victim's husband owed him.

He was charged with the following: breach of probation, uttering a threat to injure an animal, three counts of utter threats to cause death or bodily harm. He was held for bail on Nov. 13.

Maximizing after-tax income



Investing in your future
by
Lawrence Cayer

As an income investor, what have you done about your sources of investment income over the past year? Have you shifted your tactics to take full advantage of the changed tax regime since the fall of 2000?

Federal tax rates were lowered significantly at that time, to go into effect this year. Overall rates will vary by province, but here is a typical spread among the effective top marginal rates on various forms of investment income applicable to Ontario individuals:

Interest: 46.41%
Dividends: 31.34%
Capital Gains: 23.21%

The tax on capital gains is only half that on interest, with dividends continuing to enjoy a preferential rate.

If you rely on something like GICs or treasury bills for income, your yield today may be in the order of four per cent or less, with the reinvestment yield heading even lower because of the Sept. 17 rate cuts. Your nominal after-tax yield may be as low as 2.2 per cent. That's a depressing number, given that inflation is higher than this today.

In planning for current and future income, consider that many solid stocks offer similar nominal pre-tax dividend yields (therefore, much better after-tax returns) with the added prospect of growth.

Or, consider that many special products have been developed specifically for income purposes. Many allow you to defer taxes, then pay at capital gains rates.

Consider systematic withdrawal plans using your mutual fund holdings to pay yourself a regular income with really low tax. This can be generated by redeeming a small part of your holding each period and sending you a cheque. Since most of this payment will be a return of capital, it will be tax-free. Only the capital gain portion of the payment will be taxable.

NDDHS students get taste of real work world

by Chris Zabel
Press staff

MAPLE RIDGE — Career Day at North Dundas District High School brought 29 speakers, all with desirable jobs, to the school on Nov. 7. The idea was to give students a clearer idea of what a real day in the life of various professionals is like, so they could have more realistic information to base their own career plans on.

The New RO's Caroline Redekopp was among those on hand to give students a clearer idea of what the working world is actually like. While TV news anchor might seem like the sort of job people would have some idea about, students quickly realized that there was a lot they didn't know.

"What do you think I do?" asked Redekopp.

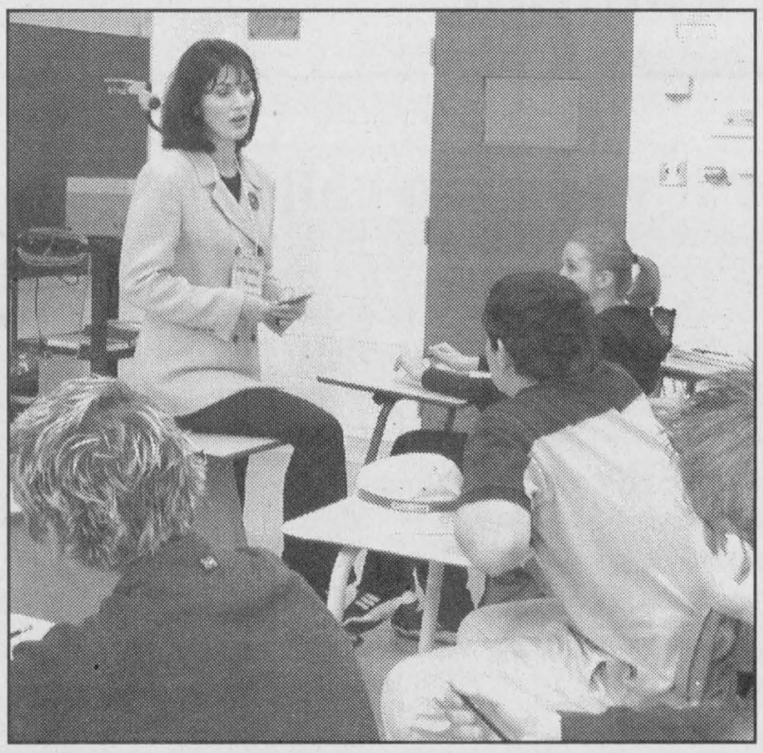
"You say the news on TV," one student volunteered.

"That's right. And do you think that I just broadcast the news on television or do I go out in the field to cover stories?" Redekopp followed up.

Here the students became less sure.

Redekopp explained that she does go out and cover stories herself, but first, she has to have the idea for a story. "How do you think I get story ideas?" she asked. Contrary to the guess of one student, few media outlets pay people for interviews.

Much simpler sources of information are newspapers, other TV shows and news wire services, to keep on top of what's happening on any given day. Redekopp's audience was unfamiliar with news wires. These subscription services, such as CP, Canadian Press, forward up-to-the-minute news via the internet.



Caroline Redekopp, news anchor for The New RO, was among the presenters at career day at NDDHS on Wed., Nov. 7. Describing what she does in a typical day, Redekopp dispelled many of the myths about her line of work. Press Photo — Zabel

A better way to find stories that are very local, is simply paying attention to what's going on around you. "The more people you know, the more people you talk to," she said. "I get a lot of story ideas going to the movies, going to the grocery story. A lot of it is being involved in your community." Also, once the community knows who you are, people will call with story ideas, things that concern them.

Before Redekopp starts to work on a story, however, she has to run the idea past her producer. Each day begins with the line-up meeting, where it is decided what stories should be followed for the evening's broadcast. "The anchors all come in with five or six stories, the producer picks the top ones."

Redekopp explained that she has already put in a full day's work before she starts getting ready to be on TV at 6 pm. By 5 or 5:30 pm, her story is done, and it's time to make sure she looks like a news anchor. Possibly she's been thrown in a river or had her appearance otherwise mussed. "The New RO style is to be very involved in the story," said Redekopp. Being dunked in a river was actually something that happened to her, so she keeps an extra set of clothes at work.

Before going on camera her hair and makeup are done professionally. "Why is that so important?" she asked. "Who really cares about my makeup?" The reason for all the "glamour," she explained, is to make her appearance consistent. If her hair was sticking out, that would be a distraction from the news.

Redekopp said that being on camera in the New RO news room was very difficult to get used to. She doesn't have a desk and is constantly moving while she reads her story from a teleprompter. She also is wearing an earpiece so that the director can communicate to her while she's talking, in case there are any last-minute changes to the story.

"Does anyone think that my job is glamorous?" Redekopp concluded. Her audience of students was no longer sure.

SAMPLING CAREERS

The 29 professionals who visited NDDHS for the day represented the top picks in a survey completed earlier in the year by the students. Other careers presented included accounting, advertizing, Canadian Armed Forces, game developer, computer technician, early childhood education, electrician, elementary teacher, engineer, fashion designer, firefighter, flight attendant, forensic scientist, lawyer, musician, physical therapist, professional dancer, psychiatrist, robotics, translator, ultrasonographer and woodworker.

What should I be?

The guidance department at North Dundas District High School deserves praise for organizing last week's career day. Twenty-nine people enjoying success at interesting careers were invited to speak to students, explaining what their jobs involve.

The careers of the people invited for the day were based on the most popular responses in a survey that the students themselves completed earlier in the year. Some students are clearly very level-headed; an engineer, a lawyer and even an accountant were invited. Predictably, however, students were also interested in more rarefied, creative careers: fashion designer, musician, professional dancer and robot designer.

The difficulty with intelligent teenagers who are interested in creative fields is that there is often no one to dissuade them from pursuing artistic ambitions. To a teen, notions of having to someday earn enough money to buy a house are as distant as their own mortality. The decision to go to university is always respected and teenagers are allowed to enroll in arts programs on the notion that they'd fall into a fantastic job at some point, or else become famous and not have to worry about money.

It's impossible to underestimate how significant the assumption that they will become famous plays in the minds of young people. And what better way to debunk the ill-defined career ambitions of teenagers than actually having them talk to people who have the jobs they think they want?

Even students who want to be lawyers are suspect. Is it really that they are passionate about legal questions, or does Ally McBeal figure into the equation? Does the youthful decision to be a lawyer have mainly to do with martinis after work and having an outrageous amount of money to spend on clothes?

Even more suspect should be young people who wish to go to university for a general arts and science degree. Just because a student is interested in fashion doesn't mean they should be a fashion designer. Everyone is interested in fashion and the world doesn't need that many fashion designers. Being a young person talented with a musical instrument doesn't mean they need to study music.

It is probably possible to eke out a career in any creative field if someone is passionate about it. They may find that passion fade, however, living in a tiny apartment when their friends from school are buying their second houses.

By all means, high school students should be encouraged to pursue a liberal arts degree, but they shouldn't take it so seriously. An arts degree is something that someone does for a few years in their 20s, and it should be regarded as such, as something frivolous and interesting. Someone who takes a music degree is under no orders to become a famous musician, or to become a high school music teacher. Everyone likes music; it doesn't have to be a big deal

There are almost certainly many mediocre English teachers in the world who could have been first-rate auto mechanics if their parents hadn't made such a big deal about how they liked to read. An arts program should be regarded in the same way as someone attending what was once called a Girls' Finishing School: nice enough, but nothing to be taken seriously.

And there is no one who can expose the strange assumptions of teenagers planning their future than people who have supposedly glamorous and exciting jobs: these jobs not usually very glamorous or exciting much of the time.

People shouldn't be allowed to choose careers for themselves until they're 25, either that or let their parents decide.
C.Z.

How's that for a wake-up call?

But seriously...
by Lori Gillespie

I like a nice, hot, black coffee to get me going in the morning, especially on early mornings when it seems to be harder to get going, thus requiring more quantities of that nice, hot, black coffee.

But when that beautiful morning java isn't available, I guess a jolt that shocks awake the adrenaline and really gets your heart pumping will do.

On a related topic, it seems OPP officers in the region have added even more lights to their ensemble on the tops of the cruisers.

Sipping my black coffee as I drove on Highway 401 at a rather early, ungodly hour in the morning on Saturday, I listened to the radio, some late night/early morning show about alien sightings. You know, interesting, gripping stuff that you could only come close to believing could kind of maybe be true at an hour when no other beings are awake.

And I might have been going a wee bit fast, but that's not really the issue here. In no way or form will there be any confessions made in this space today.

So anyway, back to the aliens.

As I drove along, east bound, I was the only car on the road, in my vision.

And it was at this time that I saw a westbound car slow down and turn to cross the median, something only emergency vehicles, such as police, are allowed to do.

Before I arrived at that spot, the vehicle pulled out into the eastbound lanes and immediately turned on flashing yellow lights that ran across the top of the cruiser.

Yup, it was a cruiser, something one doesn't like to see when they're not positive they're travelling at the proper speed.

The lights were not the cherry top lights that automatically tell you exactly what you know you need to do. Pull over and try to cry so that they reduce your fine.

Not that that ever actually works. Believe me. I've been there, although that's not something you need to necessarily bring up in conversation with DH (Disenchanted With My Speeding Record Husband).

Those yellow flashing lights were much like the lights you see on a sign in front of a business, pointing to the store, beckoning you in.

And as the cruiser also put on its brakes and proceeded to pull over to the side of the road, I decided that I must be being beckoned myself.

And not one to break the law or give a police officer a chase at any time of the day, I complied and pulled over to the side of the road, behind him.

It's at this point — when you're pulled over on the side of the road, sitting in your car, waiting for the man in uniform (or woman) to get out and walk back to your car and ask you what the hurry is — that you start planning how you're going to deal with this situation.

Cry?

Come up with a story that will be convincing enough for him to feel compassionate enough to let you go?

Beg?

It's also at this point that you start adding up how much this is going to cost.

I sat there for a couple of minutes, waiting for the officer to get out of the cruiser. But when he finally did climb out, he walked ahead, to what I suddenly realized was a vehicle ahead of him.

Oh jeez.

Now I didn't know who he'd intended to pull over, or if he was multi-tasking and had invited both of us to stop and accept his tickets.

As I fretted, aliens and coffee forgotten, the officer then strolled back to my car.

"Can I help you?" he asked, most likely amused but hiding it well.

I stammered something about never having seen those kind of lights before on a cruiser, and that I hadn't known what they meant, so I'd pulled over, just to be safe.

He explained that the lights meant that he was going to stop, so the vehicle behind him should proceed around the cruiser. But I didn't know that, and neither has anyone I've talked to. So here's a piece of education.

Sheepishly, I thought about how guilty I looked, but refrained from making any confessions that would be even more obvious than my trained, guilty response to pull over at the slightest appearance of a flashing light.

But then, that jolt of adrenaline sure outdid anything coffee could have done.

Scientific proof that fairies were once a real race of people was the topic of an address delivered before the British Anthropological Association. The new theory suggested that depictions of fairy women were generally inaccurate in showing delicate butterfly-like creatures. Male and young fairies were always depicted as repulsive urchins of a sallow complexion, and this was judged the more accurate characterization. The professor concluded that the fairy people were actually a short, stumpy, swarthy race which lived underground. He believed fairies were hunters and fishers primarily, not tillers of the earth, and that they supplemented their needs by stealing. The evidence suggested that fairies were inordinately fond of music and dancing. They probably also had a marvellously acute sense of hearing which helped make them consummate thieves, although their thievery was not systematically represented. Humans traditionally tended to fear fairies as formidable magicians to believe that their visits brought luck.

Women's feet were growing larger — but they wouldn't admit it. The change was due largely to the vogue of athletics among young women, and to the fact they spent much more time out of doors. In other words, they were using their feet more, and so developing them. However, women still clung to the ideals of daintiness which made their mothers and grandmothers wear shoes that were really too small for them. Modern shoes were being designed to appear smaller than they really were.

Two occupants of a Royal Canadian Air Force plane were instantly killed near Crysler when their plane went out of control and crashed in a field. The student fliers, aged 19 and 26, were on a routine training flight from Uplands Airport in Ottawa when the accident happened. The plane crashed on the farm of Henry Ouderkirk. Following the impact, one wing of the plane burst into flames. Neighboring farmers quickly came to assist and put out the fire.

Returning with a trophy this year from the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto was Winchester resident Bill McRoberts. The well known Ayrshire breeder was justifiably proud of Bridgeholm Dunrobin's Heather, which took first prize for the best ROP milking cow and placed third in another class.

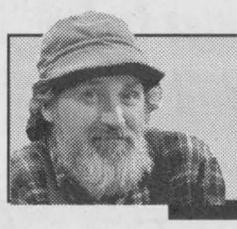
Fair directors met for the annual meeting of the Ontario Association of Fairs local district. Guest speaker Basil Dawley of Winchester introduced the idea that rural fairs needed more color if they were going to serve as a link between urban and country people. He suggested exploring grants from the Milk Marketing Board to provide for milking exhibitions. He also joked that if more young men were active in the fairs there might be keener competition in the dairy princess competitions.

1991
A report released by the Eastern Ontario Health Unit showed heart disease, lung cancer and motor vehicle fatalities were the leading causes of premature death in the five counties area. Drinking and driving and cigarette smoking were identified as prime contributors. On a more positive note, there had been a great improvement in the dental health of eastern Ontarians, and the transmission of communicable diseases was down.

Too nice for your own good



North of forty
by Red Green

I think I'm a pretty average person, friendly and relatively easy to get along with. But once in a while, the world sends me a dangerous message. Like, for example, last week when I had to deal with a company that wasn't giving me good service. The nicer and more reasonable I was with them, the more cavalier and dismissive they were with me. When I finally had enough and started ranting about my dissatisfaction and threatening to cancel my business, all of a sudden they began treating me with supreme deference.

Once they complied with all my demands, I hung up with the impression that you don't get your way by being thoughtful and reasonable. You get your way by being stubborn and belligerent. Well, I'm here to tell you that although that may work in a business relationship, it's not the way to deal with personal disagreements.

I've really learned a lot this week. I've learned that although you need to be firm and aggressive with your suppliers, you need to be charming and persuasive with your significant other. I've also learned that it's almost impossible to sleep on a sectional couch.

THE PHONE PHUTURE

I was having lunch the other day with a few guys. One works for the phone company. One of them is really, really old. So the phone company guy starts talking about all the innovations that are taking place in the telephone world: call answering, call waiting, caller ID and Ident-I-Call. Personally, I'm looking for Caller Buzz Off, which is a feature that hangs up automatically when anyone calls.

But the old guy asks him what Ident-I-Call is. The phone guy explains that it's a way of identifying that the phone call is for your wife or your kids so you don't have to bother answering it. Everybody has his or her own ring. The old guy says, "Oh, you mean a party line? Surely they're not charging extra for a party line." The phone guy moves on, telling us about all the features that are coming in the future. He says, "Pretty soon you won't even have to dial. You'll just pick up the phone and say the name of the person you want to call." To which the old guy responds, "Big deal. We had that 75 years ago."

THE EXPOSURE OF THE RICH

A lot of people dream about winning the lottery and what they'd do with the money, but there's a downside to suddenly being rich. When you don't have money, you can keep your priorities to yourself. It's a secret. Nobody really knows what you like and what you don't like. You have a lot of privacy. But once you have a fortune, all of that is gone. Whenever I hear about a lottery winner spray painting "Up Yours" on his boss's house and running off with a swimsuit model in a new Hummer, well, that sends a message.

I think you can learn everything there is to know about someone just by watching what he/she does with his/her money. It seems to me that the less money you have, the more mysterious you are. Sadly, every woman I've met is completely unintrigued by this mystery.

SPEED VS. ACCURACY

These days a lot of emphasis is put on doing things quickly. Don't be fooled.

Here is a list of situations where accuracy is far more important than speed:

— Eating fondue.
— Pulling into a garage.
— Performing a vasectomy.
— Getting into a hammock.
— Testifying.
— Zipping up your fly.

Shepherd Talk

by Rev. Bruce North

Get ready to give

Protestant Reformer Martin Luther once said, "A religion that gives nothing, costs nothing, and suffers nothing, is worth nothing."

There is a story of a king who once invited his subjects to come to his palace for a feast. But the invitation was of a different sort. The mote around the palace had dried up. Since there was no water, and no promise of rain, the king asked each one of those he had invited to bring a vessel filled with water for the moat. Some of the guests brought buckets full. Others brought cups full. Still others brought snuff boxes filled with water. When they had finished eating and drinking, dancing and singing, the king said, "Now your majesty has a surprise for you."

He threw open the door to his personal storehouse, and there was the king's treasury, stocked up, overflowing: money, jewels, precious perfume, every form of treasure. "Help yourself to my riches," the king said. "But you can only take home the amount of treasure that you can carry in the vessel in which you brought water."

Does that make you think of the words of Jesus in Luke 6:38? "Give, and it will be given to you, good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, will be put in your lap. For the measure you give will be the measure you get back."

Every major religion in the world has a system of almsgiving built into its social structure. But only those who give to Christ's work are guaranteed to walk away with more than they came to give. In a day when the stock market fluctuates with uncertainty and the interest rate in most savings accounts is negligible, investing in the eternal Kingdom of God that pays rich dividends in both this life and the life to come makes even more investment sense.

It has been said that when God touches your heart He will loosen your pocketbook. We may need to take a breath before we enter the busy Advent season and decide whether our Christmas giving is going to get us into a debt that we will be paying off for months or bring us into a reward that will bring eternal dividends.

Gear up for giving

Canadian Tire stores across Canada kicked off the Family Tree Program on Fri., Nov. 9. The Family Tree Program is part of the Canadian Tire Foundation for Families. All of the stores started the program by having 38,000 employees ride a stationary bike from 12 pm until 2 pm, each taking 10 minute shifts. Dealer Peter Oliver started things off at the Morrisburg store. Donations were accepted from employees and customers. From now until Christmas, for every sale of a full-size artificial Christmas tree, Canadian Tire will give $5 to the foundation. If a customer uses a Canadian Tire Card or Options Mastercard for the purchase, $5 more will go to the foundation. All proceeds in Morrisburg will go to the Dundas County Food Bank. Barkley–Moffatt

A lovely wedding was held at Williamsburg United Church on September 15, 2001, when Fay Joanne Moffatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Moffatt of Navan, was married to Steven Edward Barkley, son of Mr. John and the late Lorna Jean Barkley of Winchester. Reverend Fred Milnes officiated at the ceremony. The organist was Helen Hyndman. The soloists were JoAnne McCaslin and Marilyn Williams. Steve's attendants included Murray Michalicka as his best man and his ushers were Mike Moffatt, Phil Douglas and Kevin Scott. Fay's attendants included Melaine Brown as her matron of honor and her bridesmaids were Janet Nitschke, Myrna Cheney and Krista O'Donohue. The bride wore an empire style brocade dress complete with matching train. Her attendants' dresses were navy blue empire style. The bride's bouquet was yellow roses mixed with lily of the valley and other flowers accented with love doves and two gold rings. Her attendants had pompoms made with similar flowers. The groom and his attendants wore tuxedos.

After pictures were taken on the grounds of the church, the wedding party and friends followed in a procession to Winchester and through the town. The bride and groom rode in the bride's father's 1966 Charger. The matron of honor and the bridesmaids followed in the bride's uncle's 1973 Charger and a friend in the groom's 1966 Charger. The groom's attendants followed in a limousine.

A reception at the Greely Community Centre followed. The Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Darrin Coleman. After a delicious meal, the bride and groom cut the cake and then formed the receiving line. Everyone enjoyed dancing and an evening of fun. The music was supplied b 2J's Music Machine. A lunch was served and at midnight the bride and groom were whisked away in a limousine.

ND Christmas Fund warms those in need

WINCHESTER — As the weather turns colder and we bundle into our warm coats, it's time to remember those in North Dundas Township who are not fortunate enough to be dressed well enough to fight the cold.

With local Lions Clubs, Branch 108 of the Royal Canadian Legion, schools and churches, the North Dundas Christmas Fund unites the community to fill this need. Each year, the North Dundas Christmas Fund purchases 110 to 120 new suits at an approximate cost of $35 each and distributes them, free of charge, to children under 13 in the township.

The North Dundas Christmas Fund distributed more than 175 food baskets last year to families in North Dundas. Food drives are organized through local schools and churches, and are financially supported in part by industry, local service clubs and private donation.

It's time to help provide winter clothing and food to those in need. Receiptable donations can be made payable to the North Dundas Christmas Fund, and mailed to Box 835, Winchester, Ontario, K0C 2K0.

If you, or someone you know in North Dundas, is in need, call these numbers: 774-0188 or 989-3830.

Village to be Alight at Night

MORRISBURG —Through most of the spring, summer and fall of each year, Upper Canada Village represents a typical rural 1860s riverfront community for visitors from Ontario and around the world to enjoy. This winter, visitors can see the Village as it has never been seen before.

New for the winter of 2001, Upper Canada Village will be brought to life in a different way, during its Alight at Night festival from Nov. 29 to Jan. 6.

This year, the commission will offer a spectacular must-see nighttime event, by decorating Upper Canada Village with lights on a grand scale. Over 75,000 lights will be installed to light up the entire Village in a way that emphasizes the features of its 40 heritage buildings and many trees, roadways and fences. The Village truly will be alight at night.

Visitors can bundle up and stroll around the streets to see the Village adorned in lights. Regularly scheduled nighttime horse-drawn sleigh or wagon rides will also be available, and the Village Store and Café will be open for Christmas shopping and warm food and beverages.

The program will run evenings Thursday through Sunday from Nov. 22 until Christmas Eve, and continue every evening from Dec. 26 through Jan. 6.

For more information about the event, call 1-800-437-2233.

Madeline Garlough

A lifetime area resident, Madeline Byo Robinson Garlough died at the Dundas Manor Nursing Home, Winchester, on Sat., Nov. 10, 2001. She was born on Jan. 17, 1913 to Martha Ball and Marvin John Robinson on a small farm in the Nation Valley. She was the third of five children. She suffered the early tragedy of the death of her mother in the flu epidemic in 1918.

She attended the Nation Valley School and loved her studies, although she "always missed her maths" when she had to drive the milk into Chesterville each morning. She wanted to be a teacher because of her love of children, but she was never able to. Instead, she went to work in Williamsburg during the Dr. Locke days. Here, she met Arnold Garlough and she thought, "He was the best man in the world." They moved to Elma and started "farming the Mac Thom place on the shares". In 1939 they bought their own place on the fifth concession. Mrs. Garlough ran the farm and Mr. Garlough ran a trucking business. She milked 13 cows and raised layer hens and fowl. She had a strong and determined character. No one will ever forget the story of how she chased a bear away from her turkeys with a pitchfork.

While still living on the farm, they bought the old store in Boucks Hill and started Boucks Hill Feed in 1952. In 1962 they moved to Boucks Hill to be closer to work and a few years later they built the cottage in Mariatown to relax and fish on the river.

Mrs. Garlough loved her family and her home. Her first child, Jean, was born in 1940 and her second, Clare, followed in 1948. Over the years the family grew by six grandchildren. She would do anything for her family, and she spoiled them all. Mrs. Garlough loved to have everyone in for big family meals, every birthday or holiday called for a huge meal with plenty of cakes and pies and cookies. Her cooking was well known and plentiful. At the 12 noon dinner it was common for sales reps to show up just before dinner and squeeze around the table with the family. The more the merrier. Mrs. Garlough loved her home and spent many hours cleaning, polishing and painting to keep it clean.

Mrs. Garlough will be lovingly remembered by her daughter Jean (Don) Thompson of RR 1 Williamsburg and son Clare (June) Garlough of Riverside Heights. She was the dear sister of Evelyn Phifer of Vernon. She will be fondly remembered by her grandchildren Laura Thompson, Susan Thompson, Cynthia Thompson, Jonathon Garlough, Matthew Garlough and Jennifer Garlough. She is survived by sister-in-law Freida Garlough of Morrisburg and numerous nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by brothers Burl, Basil and Bert Robinson.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home, Williamsburg on Mon., Nov. 12. Funeral services were conducted at the funeral home on Tues., Nov. 13 with Rev. Bert de Bruijn officiating. Interment was at New Union Cemetery, Williamsburg. Pallbearers were Jonathon Garlough, Steven Martin, Justin Wightman, George Babcock, Ferneley Johnston and Martin Byvelds. Donations to the CNIB or Winchester District Memorial Hospital would be appreciated by the family.

Ladies Aid paints angel pasta

by Betty Larmour

WINCHESTER — The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met in the church hall on Nov. 5.

President Doris Baker welcomed everyone and read a poem entitled Remembrance. Hymns, O Canada and Onward Christian Soldiers were sung, accompanied by Helen Kerr at piano.

Devotions were given by Ann Leyenaar reading from Ephesians. Iva Stewart read Legend of the Unknown Soldier. Prayers followed.

Secretary Janet Clapp read October's minutes. Roll call was answered by 20 ladies who brought an angel to show.

Doris Baker brought pasta in the shape of an angel which the group painted and finished later for Christmas tree ornaments.

All read in unison In Flanders Fields and Let there Be Peace on Earth.

Plans to do plates for shut-ins will be arranged on Dec. 9 after church. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Lunch of angel cake and ice cream with strawberries was prepared by Helen, Betty and Mary.

Isobel Williams holds annual craft sale

WILLIAMSBURG — Once again this year, Williamsburg crafter Isobel Williams will be hosting an open house and sale of Christmas items. Proceeds from the sale will go to Dundas County Hospice, Winchester District Memorial Hospital and the Williamsburg Heritage Society.

Almost all of the crafts will be Christmas ornaments and decorations, "made from all sorts of little things," Williams said: paper, lace, tulle, velvet. The open house will take place on Sun., Nov. 25 from 1-4 pm at 4579 Whittaker Road. This craft sale has been a tradition for Williams for the past eight years. She said this will probably be her last sale.

If a photo is worth a thousand words. . .

WINCHESTER — The Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary has reason to celebrate. It recently received two prestigious awards from the Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario.

On Nov. 5, WDMH auxiliary president Marion Carkner was presented with a plaque for winning the fundraising category of a photo of Hilda Vandekemp and her helpers. The image represents Vandekemp's efforts with the Pennies for Oma campaign, whose goal is to raise one million pennies.

The auxiliary was also awarded an honorable mention for the Lend a Helping Hand category. This picture included volunteer Jean Keyzer, who assists in the Day Care Unit at WDMH.

The Pennies for Oma picture will also go on to the national awards level.

So, if it's true that a picture is worth a thousand words, then this is worth over a million — pennies that is! The photos will soon be on display in the hospital, along with the awards.

Volunteering for the WDMH is an awarding experience in more ways than one. If anyone is interested in joining the auxiliary family, please call 774-2422, extension 5296. Everyone is welcome.

Beautifying Metcalfe a step closer with unveiling of new sign and flag

METCALFE — The Committee for the Beautification of Metcalfe recently celebrated the erection of a welcome sign at the entrance to the village.

Under the auspices of the recreation committee of the former Township of Osgoode, a committee was formed in 1999 to promote improvement projects to enhance the village. The focus continues to be to expand the hanging floral baskets along both Victoria and Albert streets and to decorate the same posts for the Christmas season; the shrubs, trees and bridge in Victoria Park are illuminated each winter.

However, their millennium project has been to build the signage for Metcalfe to highlight the gateway to the community at Bank Street/County Road 31. The group was successful at promoting the involvement of other organizations and community groups in the area. The committee designed the walled sign and contracted James Donnelly to build it.

Members of the committee are grateful for financial support and interest received to date. Support was received from the Metcalfe and District Lions Club, the former Township of Osgoode and the City of Ottawa. As well, contributions were received from local businesses: the Royal Bank of Canada, S.A. Hicks Insurance, Metcalfe Variety Store, Allan Johnson Repair and Sales, Metcalfe Pizza, Metcalfe Pharmacy, Cassidy Graham Insurance, Mike's Hair Salon and Village Hair Works.

Individual contributions came from former mayor Doug Thompson, chief Gerry Bennett and members of the Metcalfe Fire Department, Kevin Grace (roads department), Brent Pyper (Greely Sand and Gravel), Dan Morris, Brian Scharf, Gordon Reaney, Walter Nibogie, Harry and Gayle Luth and Gillian Rokosh.

Harvest decorations for the sign area were contributed by Doug Reaney and the Lafrenier and Scott families. Historical collaboration was obtained from Elizabeth Stewart, Coral Lindsey and Michelle Lafrance.

Commercial suppliers also provided co-operation: Jane and Tony Hendrikx of Meadow Greens Nursery, Norm Gangon of Gangon Iron Works Ltd., Gary Pynn of Pynn Signs, Greg Schoenher, Diane Schoenherr and Gord Schoenherr of Country Flowers.

As well, two high school students, Greg Dumouchel and Fraser Leader, helped out by maintaining the flowers throughout the season.

The committee gave tribute to the late Cindy Hanson, who was an integral part of the founding of the committee. She passed away in July and the committee plans to honor her memory with spring landscaping at the sign area.

Gateway to Metcalfe

Metcalfe recently celebrated community pride by highlighting the gateway to the village. The raising of the former Township of Osgoode flag was done courtesy of former mayor Doug Thompson and the Metcalfe and District Lions Club. The contractor was James Donnelly and the sign was constructed by Pynn Signs. Ormond hackney pony wins second at Royal Winter Fair ORMOND — After bringing home a second and a third at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto this year, Jack and Kelly Klaassen are pleased. Their pony, Appin Echo, won second in the hackney pleasure pony class and third in the hackney pleasure pony championship.

A hackney is a light harness horse with a compact body and a distinctive high-stepping trot. The ponies are in harness when they compete. The Klaassens have seven registered hackneys on Haven Hill Farm in Ormond.

The Klaassens took Appin Echo to the Royal two years ago, where they managed a fourth and a fifth. This year their competitor moved up a few rungs.

"Just going to the Royal was an honor," said Jack. He believed Appin Echo would have done even better if there hadn't been so much competition from the United States, ponies worth hundreds of thousands of dollars from Virginia and Kentucky. Jack noted that it might be fair to say that he has the top hackney in Canadian.

Jack was pleased, however, to see how well the Ottawa Valley was represented in the competition. "Road horses and heavy horses were all well represented and all fared well," he said.

At 16, Appin Echo's career might be slowing down after this last victory, although the Klaassens are as keen as ever to continue training and showing hackneys. The Klaassens said they hope people in the region will take note of the quality of many of the horse farms in eastern Ontario. They also asked that anyone who enjoys working with hackneys should call them and share their interest — 774-5015.

Local llamas fare well at Royal

BOUCKS HILL — Three llamas from Maple Mist Farm in Boucks Hill placed well at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto this year. This is the second year that Jacqueline Porter's animals have caught the eye of judges at the Royal.

Porter's herd brought home four ribbons. Prospero placed third in the heavy-wooled male class. Maple Mist Sweetums placed second in the heavy-wooled female under two years, and was also picked as the reserve grand champion for a heavy-wooled female. Platinum Blue Lady place fourth for heavy-wooled females under two years.

Porter has been raising llamas for the last eight years and now keeps 55 of them, describing the desire to have more llamas as being similar to a need to continue eating potato chips. She decided to raise llamas when she was looking for an animal that she'd enjoy raising and which would also provide fibre for spinning. She found that llamas have a great deal of personality, much more than sheep.

The competitive side to llama farming is still growing in Ontario. Porter said that the llama classes at the Royal weren't as full as they could be. Currently, it's a group of 4-H llama breeders who are doing the most to raise the profile of the animals. Porter said she hopes more United Counties fairs will include llama classes in the near future.

EOWRC activated with $120,000 budget

BERWICK — With drought and new nutrient management legislation having encouraged the people of eastern Ontario to consider new ways to protect water, another organization has been quietly consolidating its resources and launching clean water protection projects.

The Eastern Ontario Water Resources Committee (EOWRC) sprung from a recently completed study with the same name. It brings municipalities, agencies, farmers and other users interested in preserving clean water to the same table.

Among topics discussed at a recent EOWRC meeting was the possibility of hiring a project co-ordinator. Another idea was for a Children's Groundwater Festival in 2002 and a well education program.

The EOWRC is a multidisciplinary project co-ordinating committee with strong regional and sector representation. It provides recommendations on water and service need. Participants include Ottawa, Prescott and Russell, SD&G, and Leeds and Grenville. The group also brings in South Nation Conservation, Agriculture and Agri-food Canada, OMAFRA and the Christian Farmers Federation.

Under committee agreement, administrative support is provided by SNC and Raisin Region Conservation Authority staff. The two conservation authorities will manage implementation of the water resources study, along with fundraising efforts to launch various projects.

This year, the EOWRC is working with a $120,000 budget, $75,000 of which is provided by municipal governments. The money is going into such projects as an abandoned well survey, well upgrades, education on proper well maintenance, and demonstration projects.

Wilson marks return to Hawks with three goals

Two of three

Winchester's Dan Wilson caught Gananoque goaltender Jason Murray looking the wrong way as he tipped in a pass from Toe White during the second period of last Friday's (Nov. 16) Rideau - St. Lawrence Junior "B" Hockey League game. Wilson, who returned to the Hawks last week after a 16-game stint with the Kemptville 73s, fired in three goals for the Hawks as they waxed the Islanders 8-3. Sunday Winchester's winning string went to four games following a 4-3 win over the Aeros in Athens. This week the Hawks play host to the Westport Rideaus on Saturday evening (Nov. 24) at 7:15 pm.

WINCHESTER — Winning is great, according to Winchester head coach Dave Corkery. It changes everything.

"The whole team is glad to be winning. The atmosphere in the room right now is very positive. The guys are much more confident when approaching a game," said Corkery after the Hawks extended their current winning string to four games by beating the Gananoque Islanders 8-3 Friday night (Nov. 16) and edging the Aeros 4-3 Sunday (Nov. 18) at Centre 76 in Athens.

Winchester's recent work has moved the St. Lawrence Division club's record to within a game of the 500 mark at 8-9-1 and into a third-place tie at 17 points with the Kemptville 73s (8-9-1).

Corkery said he is happy to see some distance opening up between the Hawks and the fourth-place Akwesasne Wolves (5-11-2) and the sixth-place Morrisburg Lions (4-12-3), who have collected 13 and 11 points, respectively.

"But we can't let up. This week we have to play Brockville (in Brockville on Wed., Nov. 21) and Westport (Sat., Nov. 24 in Winchester). They are the top two teams in the Rideau Division," he said.

The Tikis sport a first-place record of 14-4-0 and the Rideaus a second-place mark of 10-8-1.

Corkery also announced he has added long-time minor hockey coach Kevin Smail to his staff. "Kevin has been around hockey a long time and I need extra help because Tylor (Copeland) works shifts and isn't available for every game. You should always have two men on the bench and Kevin will be a big help because he knows all of the local players."

HAWKS 8 - ISLANDERS 3

Dan Wilson, who collected nine goals and seven assists as a rookie with the Hawks in 2000-2001, returned to Winchester's lineup after a brief stint with the Kemptville 73s on Friday night and exploded for three goals as his new/old team gunned down Gananoque 8-3.

"Dan played well in both games. But Sunday in Athens the entire team didn't have the same jump and finish as they did Friday against Gananoque," offer Corkery.

Wilson connected for a pair of second period goals as the Hawks opened up a 6-3 lead. Rookie Taureen "Toe" White assisted on both goals and James Sarsfield picked up one helper. His third goal opened up the third period at 13:32 and produced a third assist for White. Ryan Watts also helped out.

Winchester led 4-2 after a period and 6-2 after two. Chris Nielson, Shawn Smail, Bill Henderson and Ryan Watts connected in the first period. Wilson bagged the second-period goals. Wilson and Smail pumped in the third-period markers. Assists went to White (3), Nik Paas (3), Joe Dow (2), Smail, Watts and Sarsfield. Ryan Armitage posted the win.

Winchester took two minor penalties and Gananoque three.

HAWKS 4 - AEROS 3

Gregg Griffith took another turn guarding the Winchester nets and put together another solid effort as the Hawks won their second consecutive road game.

"Gregg had another stellar game. He stopped two breakaways in the third period. That was the difference in a tight one-goal game," reported the coach.

Although happy with the victory, Corkery was not pleased with the overall effort, pointing to lack of spark by the entire lineup and the fact key players (Chris Nielson and Joe Dow) got themselves tossed. Rookie Nik Pass was also ejected but the coach said he had little choice. He had to fight to protect himself.

"Athens started to goon it up in the third period and some of our key players got sucked into their tactics. Once again we played down to the opposition's level. Thankfully our penalty killers did a great job because we played the whole third period shorthanded," explained the coach.

All three Athens goals came via the power play. The third was a five-on-three marker.

It was a 1-1 contest after 20 minutes and Winchester led 2-1 after 40 minutes. Kevin Doustie's goal set up by Brad Casselman at 12:55 held up as the winner in the 4-3 contest.

Winchester opened with a power play goal by Nielson (from Doustie) at 14:27 of period one. The second was another PPG scored by Smail (from Nielson and Paas) with 1:12 left in period two. Nielson netted his 14th of the season (from Dow and Thompson) at 14:04 of the final frame and Doustie (from Casselman) slapped in the winner at 12:55.

Jets crash Pontiacs, unable to stop Knights

Metcalfe's rookie goaltender Mike Cararra had to reach through a maze of skates to trap a loose puck in Friday's (Nov. 16) Metro/Valley Junior "B" Hockey League game against the visitors from Shawville. The Jets shot down the Pontiacs 7-3 for their fifth win of the season. Jets Jon Finney and Andrew DeCristiford combined for six points.

Press Photo — Van Bridger

METCALFE — It was a busy week for the Metcalfe Jets and new head coach Rob Raistrick. The Metro/Valley Junior "B" Hockey League club played three games and Raistrick served a three-game suspension in a short span of five days.

Raistrick said he was served his suspension via fax the day after his team had defeated Buckingham 5-2. Apparently it was for a verbal exchange with the Buckingham coach in the lobby of the Larry Robinson Arena on Nov. 11.

"I didn't think there was very much said and didn't even think about it until the next day (Nov. 12) when I got a fax from the league saying I was suspended for three games," explained Raistrick.

During his stint on the sidelines the rookie head coach watched as the Jets lost a 6-5 decision to the South Ottawa Canadians in Ottawa last Tuesday (Nov. 13), registered a 7-3 win over the Shawville Junior Pontiacs in Metcalfe on Friday (Nov. 16) and suffered an 8-2 beating at the hands of the first-place Ottawa West Golden Knights (13-2-1) at home on Sunday (Nov. 18).

Raistrick is now seven games into his new job and has a 2-4-1 record on the books. Overall the Jets are fourth in the Metro Division with a 4-11-2 record and a total of 13 points. Buckingham (3-13-1) are six points back in fifth. Ottawa West and Clarence Creek are tied with 26 points and South Ottawa has 20 points, seven up on Metcalfe.

Raistrick says he is actively seeking to strengthen his bench and expects to have a couple of defencemen and a forward at this week's practice. "Hopefully I can get at least three more players. We have to keep improving and need some more bodies to help out."

"We just have one game this weekend (Sun., Nov. 25 in Clarence Creek at 2:15 pm) and hopefully that will help everyone get some energy back. We were a tired club Sunday against West," offered the coach.

"It has been very hectic, coming into a situation where I have to find players. I've never had to deal with that before. I started with two and one half lines and there seems to be someone missing every game. But everyone should be back this weekend," he said.

WEEK'S WORK

Raistrick reported the 6-5 loss to the Canadians could have gone either way but South Ottawa was lucky enough to come up with one more goal than the Jets. Friday night he started Mike Cararra against Shawville and the rookie netminder posted a 7-3 win. "Cararra played well for a minor midget and our guys buried their chances."

Of Sunday's 8-2 loss to the Ottawa West Golden Knights the coach said his team was suffering the effects of playing three times in five days, missing players and missed scoring chances.

"A good team like West scores on their chances. Sunday they did and we couldn't," he said.

The Knights led 4-1 after 20 minutes and 6-2 after two sessions. Geoff Magnus (3), Tom Willmott (2), Mike Prior, Mark Purdy and Jordan Thornley netted the goals.

Brad Nixon (from Andrew DeCristiford and Jon White at 4:00) scored in the first period, while Jon Finney (from Charles Boyer and Nixon at 10:41) added the final one in period two. Charles McTavish started the game, got sick and was replaced in the second period by Cararra.

Friday's match with Shawville was a 1-1 contest after a period but the Jets were in control by a 6-2 count after 40 minutes.

Mike Santerre led the offence pegging a pair of goals. Charles Boyer, Jon Finney, Andrew DeCristiford, Cory Lambert and Casey Shanks supplied the singles. Finney and De Cristiford each assisted on three goals. Gino St. Louis, Bruno Polito, Brad Nixon and Bryce Douglas each picked up an assist.

Buma scores winner in OT

MAXVILLE — Saturday was a big day for affiliate player Brandon Buma. Buma, a member of the Atom "C" Demons, was recruited by Atom "B" Demons coach Terry Barkley for the 2001 NGSMHA tournament.

The move proved to be a sound decision. Buma came through with flying colors, scoring twice in the "A" championship game against the Orleans Blues. His first shot was set up by Philip Duncan and put the Demons up 2-1 with 3:36 left in the second period of the Nov. 17 final. Orleans managed to come back and send it into overtime, tying it up 2-2 with 3:42 to go in the game.

Buma's next goal was the biggest of the day. It was engineered by Tyler Jones with 1:24 left in the extra session and gave the Demons a 3-2 victory and the tournament championship.

North Dundas' other goal was scored by Matt VanDelst who connected on a pass provided by Taylor Johnston at 7:44 of the second period. Period one of the title match was scoreless.

"Brandon (Buma) had quite a game. It was great to see him score. The team played very well," offered coach Barkley.

The coach also though it was refreshing to meet some different competition and was pleased with the way his squad stacked up against Ottawa teams.

The Demons' day began with a 4-1 decision over the South End Capital Crusaders. Craig Brogan surrendered just one goal on his way to a three-win event.

McLean, Paas fire deuces, Midget Demons win again

CHESTERVILLE — Josh McLean and Nik Paas each slapped in a pair of goals as the North Dundas Parmalat Demons tamed the prowling Kemptville Midget "B" Panthers 7-3.

The Nov. 13 victory left the Demons unbeaten in their first five Upper Canada Minor Hockey League games and in possession of a 4-0-1 record.

North Dundas took control of the game in the first period skating into a 4-0 lead. It was 5-2 after two and 7-3 at the buzzer. Chris Currie tended the nets and pushed stats to three wins, no losses and five goals against. His goaltending partner, Adam Sylvester, has surrendered seven goals while composing a 1-0-1 mark.

Josh McLean used a feed from Spencer Dawson to get the Demons a 1-0 lead at 14:37 of the opening stanza. Chris Thompson was next to take the disc and dent twine with it, scoring from Stefan Gravelle and Nik Paas at 14:23. Nine seconds later Gravelle made it 3-0 with help provided by Thompson and Paas. McLean increased the home team's lead to 4-0 cashing in a relay sent to him by Dawson and Pat Pommainville at 11:15.

Devils' Meaghan Kittle didn't give Vikings' Kajltha Annadalingham (#55) any room to manoeuvre during an SD&G junior girls high school semi-final playoff game played at NDDHS on Nov. 15.

Devils no match for tri-county champs

CORNWALL — During the regular season the La Citadelle Junior Patriotes had few rivals. They finished the SD&G girls high school basketball season with a perfect 8-0 record. They then motored on to win their semi-final match and eventually the tri-county championship game. That's ten wins in as many games and not one opponent was able to come any closer than 26 points to the 2001 champs.

Get the point? Beyond a doubt Ecole Secondaire La Citadelle proved to be the best "AA" basketball school in SD&G. Not only did the Junior Pats slam-dunk the North Dundas Devils 60-18 in their title match, the school's senior squad scuttled the General Vanier Vikings long boat 53-19 in their championship test.

So losing to La Citadelle wasn't a totally crushing experience for NDDHS coach Jevon Groves and his Devils.

"We knew it would be a long shot to win. We lost to them by 28 points during the season and were just hoping to make it closer," offered Groves.

But North Dundas couldn't get any closer because La Citadelle dominated, posting quarter scores of 32-9, 40-15, 46-17 and 60-18. Isabelle Ainslie and Anna Dupuis starred for the champs, swishing 14 points each.

Danielle Quesnel drained a pair of three-point shots and added a seventh point from the line. Bailey Lewis put down three deuces in the second period. Meaghan Kittle added three and Teri Lacelle a single point for the Devils.

"When we were down by 25 points I started playing everyone. I wanted all of the players to get into the championship game. We did as well as could be expected. Their players get into 40 or 50 games a year. We will put the ball down now and won't pick it up again until next September. That's the difference," explain the Devils coach.

"It was a pretty good year. We finished second in the league. Which was great. And we beat everyone but La Citadelle," he added.

After finishing the regular slate with a 6-2 record the Junior Devils met the General Vanier Vikings in a semi-final game on Nov. 15 and qualified for the championship game by beating the Vikes 48-30 at NDDHS.

North Dundas held quarter leads of 8-4, 26-14, 38-20 and 48-30.

Danielle Quesnel drained 14 points (including one trey) for the Devils while Teri Lacelle supported with nine points. Emily Vingerhoeds and Meaghan Kittle each poured in eight. Kaley Cochrane (4), Bailey Lewis (4) and Martina Bols (1) swished the other points.

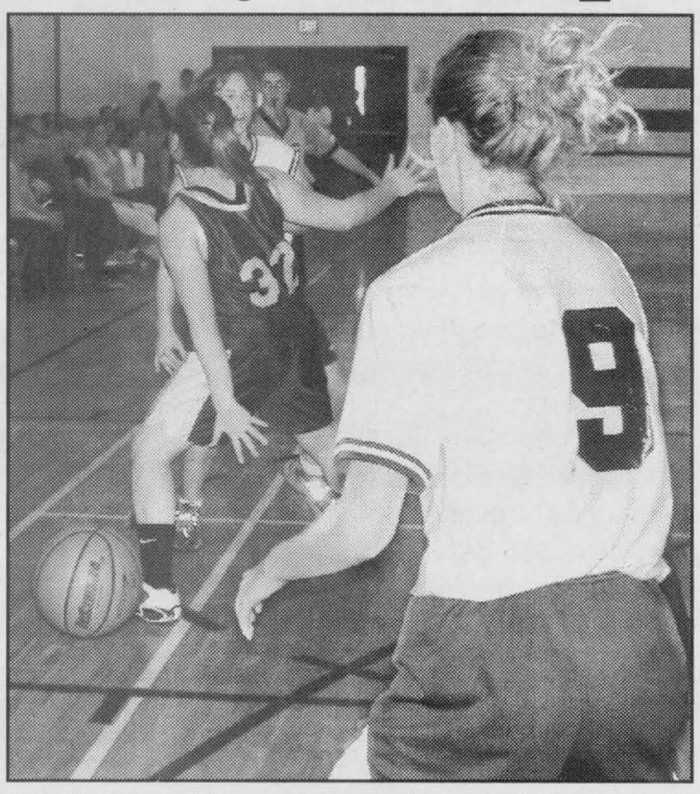
SENIOR DEVILS

A 41-26 victory over the R/O Lancers left the Senior Devils with a 4-4 regular-season record and qualified them for a semi-final meeting with the General Vanier Vikings.

GVSS defeated Justin McNamee's Devils 42-26 but were buried 53-19 by the La Citadelle Patriotes in the SD&G "AA" championship game.

"We outplayed them (GVSS), out-rebounded and out-hustled them. Their shots bounced around but went through the ring. Ours bounced around and fell out," offered the Devils coach.

Heather Veltuis (8), Morgan Scott (7), Erin Cochrane (6), Lauren Klimpke (3) and Kaley Ahmed (2) netted the Devils' points.



Danielle Quesnel bounced a pass to teammate Bailey Lewis (#9) while she was being blocked by Vikings' Charlene Lazore (#32). Quesnel hooped a game-high 14 points and led the Devils to a 48-30 semi-final victory over GVSS.

Justin Comeau (from Tyler Jones at 9:25) and Jones (from Justin Hanes at 5:05) pumped in first-period pucks to put the Demons up 2-1 after one. Jones (unassisted) made it 3-1 notching a goal at 3:44 of period two. Jordan Barkley (unassisted) inflated the final difference to 4-1 scoring with 6:09 left in regulation time.

It was an exciting semi-final encounter for the Demons who used a three-goal effort by Jordan Barkley to eliminate the Gloucester Rangers 4-2.

Justin Comeau (unassisted at 5:04) found the mark in the first period. Barkley potted a pair in period two scoring on a feed from Comeau with 1:27 on the clock and unassisted 0:56 before the buzzer. He completed his hat trick hitting the empty net with 40 seconds to play in the game.

North Dundas played the Gloucester game without drawing a penalty and picked up a total of three in their other two matches.

LEAGUE PLAY

North Dundas edged closer to the 500 level in Upper Canada Minor Hockey League play by posting a 5-1 win over the Potsdam Moose in Winchester on Monday evening (Nov. 19).

Craig Brogan was holding a 5-0 advantage on the visitors when they finally shattered his shutout with 6:23 left in the game. The win improved North Dundas' record to 4-5-0.

Captain Jordan and Philip Duncan cracked in the first period shots scoring from Justin Comeau and Matt VanDelst. In period two Tyler Jones and VanDelst pegged the goals on relays provided by Jacob McRoberts, Chris Embury and Taylor Johnston. The fifth and final shot was fired by Ryan McRae who used a feed from VanDelst and Duncan as ammunition.

Each team drew just one minor penalty.

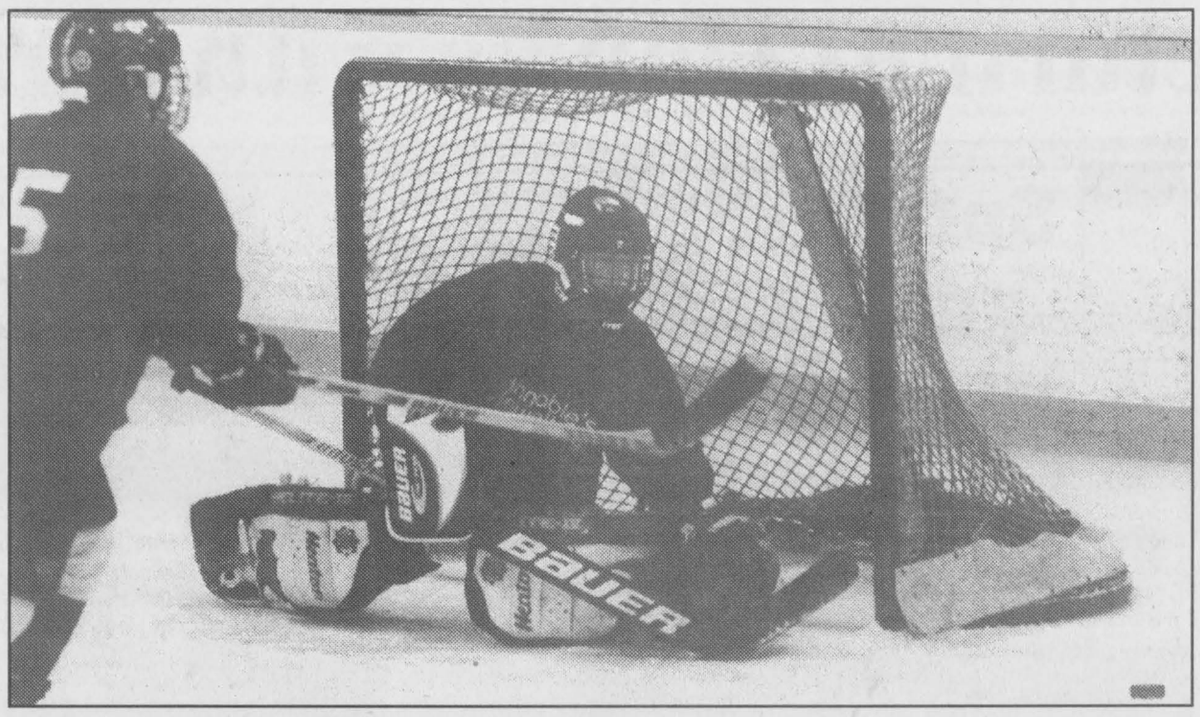
North Dundas popped in their fifth goal with 6:25 left in period two. Justin Morozuk was the shooter and Chad McMillan and Brett Bird the set-up men.

Kemptville's Blair Lefebvre cut his team's deficit top 5-1 when he beat Currie 1:54 before the end of the second session.

The Panthers cracked in goals at 12:45 (Brad Crook) and 10:35 (Shane Barnes) of the final frame to close the gap to 5-3 but North Dundas replied with a pair of Paas markers to ice a 7-3 win. Morozuk and Devon Brown assisted on the first Paas shot at 8:24 and then Gravelle and Thompson helped out 6:31 before the end of regulation time.



Four games into the 2001-2002 Winchester and District Ladies Hockey League season, goalie Carrie Nolan and the Annable's Jewellery Blues were defeated for the first time. Andy's Foodland Maroons snapped the Blues win string, nipping them 2-1 on Sunday (Nov. 18). Nicki Henry recorded the winning goal with 3:50 left in the first half.

Henry upsets undefeated Blues

WINCHESTER — Kelly Fitzpatrick provided the pass and Nicky Henry fired the shot that dethroned the previously undefeated Annable's Jewellery Blues.

Henry's first goal of the Winchester and District Ladies Hockey League season was engineered by Kelly Fitzpatrick 3:50 before the half in Sunday's (Nov. 18) game and opened up a 2-0 lead for Andy's Foodland Maroons. They held that two-goal advantage until the league's top scorer, Sandy Roy pumped a Janice Casselman rebound into Sherry Stewart's net with 6:25 left on the clock.

The final result remained at 2-1. The win improved the Foodland third-place record to 3-1-1 and dropped Annable's Jewellery down to 4-1-0 and into second place.

Tanya Barnhart (from Shirley Velthuis at 11:05) cashed in Andy's first goal of the game.

Sherry Stewart posted the win while Carrie Nolan suffered her first setback.

Ryan's Restaurant Reds (2-3-0) moved one point closer to the 500 mark whitewashing the winless Stewart Classics (0-5-0) 2-0 in the 9 am encounter. There wasn't any scoring in the match until Sharon MacLeod converted a pass from Marilyn Collins and Nancy Beavers, firing in the winner 6:04 before the final buzzer. Beavers then insured the win when she made it 2-0 on a play created by Cathy Lee Shaw and MacLeod with 0:30 left on the clock.

Double Beauty (4-0-1) took advantage of Annable's loss by drubbing the CountryGirl Gold Diggers (1-4-0) 5-2 to take over sole possession of first place.

Double Beauty now leads the rankings with nine points. Annable's has eight, Andy's seven, Ryan's four, CountryGirl two points and the Classics none.

The Stylists led 3-1 at the half and received a three-goal effort from Kathy Kerr-Moore en route to their fourth win. Maggie Stewart and Kathy Vandenheem supplied the singles. Assists went to Kim McDiarmid (3), Karen Benoit (2), Vandenheem, MaryLou Jackson and Julie Cyr. Angela Durigan posted the win.

Jackie Boulanger and Sandra Brunner were the Digger goal scorers. Joanne McMillan picked up an assist.

Koekkoek gives Novice Demons tie with Selects

CHESTERVILLE — Slater Koekkoek's fourth goal of the game, an unassisted effort, came with 1:46 left on the clock and handed the North Dundas Novice House Demons a 5-5 tie with the South Stormont Selects.

The UCMHL encounter was played in Chesterville on Sat., Nov. 17 and opened with Koekkoek giving the Demons a 1-0 lead with an unassisted goal with 15 seconds left in period one.

Second period goals by Eric LeBreque (from James Burgess at 8:47) and Koekkoek (from Cinnamon Boulanger at 6:16) enabled the Demons to carry a 3-2 lead into the final frame.

South Stormont's offence started to produce in the third and scored three times. Their third marker came with 2:52 left on the clock and put them up 5-4.

North Dundas got their third-period tallies from Koekkoek who cashed in a pass from Justin Deitrich at 9:40 to put his team up 4-2 and an unassisted play at the 1:46 mark to tie it up at five.

The day before (Nov. 16) in Brockville, the Demons suffered a 7-1 setback at the hands of the No. 4 Warriors. Slater Koekkoek netted his team's only goal. He was also the lone scorer on Nov. 10 in Long Sault when the South Stormont No. 1 Selects cruised to a 7-2 victory.

Penguins grab share of first

METCALFE — Two-goal efforts by Rick Downey and Kevin McIsaac powered the Tom's Air Cooled Engines Penguins to a timely 5-3 victory over the Wallace Service Centre Bruins.

Timely, because while they were winning the Hicks Insurance Red Wings were being held to a 2-2 tie by the Pronto Food Rangers. The two points moved the Pens (7-2-0) into a share of first place in the Metcalfe Town Hockey League standings with the Wings (6-1-2). Both squads have 14 points after nine games.

In the third encounter played at the Larry Robinson Arena on Nov. 18, the McVey Brothers Insurance Maple Leafs (3-4-2) lathered the Continental Mushroom Stars (3-6-0) 7-3.

Goals by Kevin McIsaac and Rick Downey opened up a 2-1 first-half lead for the Penguins. Tony Boulaey answered for the Bruins with the first of his three markers. Rich Corlyon, Downey and McIsaac cracked in the second-half shots as the Pens cruised to the 5-3 decision. Boulaey potted his second and third to keep the Bruins close.

Joe Scott, McIsaac, Corlyon and Brian Johnston picked up assists for the winners. Wayne Widenmaier tended the nets. The Bruins' scoring plays were put together by Steph Rawlings (2), Bruce Young, Paul Roy and Ray Vanderydt. Bill Jamieson worked the Bruins' cage.

Steve Wade popped in a pair of goals, including the tying shot with 4:47 left in the game, as the Red Wings battled the 1-6-2 Rangers to a 2-2 draw. Willis Stevens and Chris Kelly engineered the equalizer.

Dave Vanderydt (from Jeff Raven at 18:44) and Dale Carson (from Ken Quaile at 15:39) clicked for the Rangers' first-half markers. Wade nailed both goals for the Wings. Bruce Quaile (Rangers) and Kent Holmes (Wings) were the opposing goaltenders.

Jim Brown blasted home three pucks and picked up an assist as the Maple Leafs earned a share of third place by waxing the Stars 7-3. Darrell Warren supported the attack providing a goal and four assists. Jeff Hope, Derek Burleigh and Ted Wichers snapped in the single shots. Sean Wallace and Steve Shipman each picked up an assist. Cory Wallace was the winning netminder.

Brian Downey (1-1-2), Scott Broadhurst (1-1-2) and Doug Warren (1-0-1) were the Continental marksmen. The Stars trailed 4-1 at the half.

Cyclones' Rintoul blows Rangers away

WINCHESTER — Scott Rintoul supplied the power as the Country Kitchen Cyclones twisted up a significant victory over Ben's Pioneer Gas Bar Rangers.

For the first half of last week's (Nov. 13) encounter it looked as if Ben's Pioneer Gas Bar Rangers would romp to their seventh consecutive Winchester Town Hockey League victory. But the number-one ranked squad couldn't preserve a 4-1 half-time lead and subsequently suffered their first defeat of the 2001-2002 campaign.

The 6-4 victory was also significant because the two points moved the Cyclones into sole possession of second place. Country Kitchen has a 3-3-1 record and seven points while the Pioneer Rangers dropped to 6-1-0. They still top the standings with 12 points.

In the other half of the Tuesday twin bill the KTC Flyers rumpled the Boyd Chrysler Rams 5-3 and picked up their first win in seven starts. The Rams (3-4-0) hold down third place with six points while the Flyers (1-5-1) now have three.

A goal by John Guy (from Dereck Holmes) at 28:01 of the first half opened up an early lead for the Rangers. The Cyclones were able to respond quickly when Scott Rintoul cracked in the first of his four goals at 22:36. Mike Wetzel and Adrian Price set up the marker that made it a 2-1 contest.

Chris "Willy" Williams took centre stage during the premiere period, snapping in three consecutive shots to put the Rangers up 4-1. His first marker was arranged by 'Wendell' Holmes and Brad Holmes at 27:09. His second came on an unassisted play at 16:35 and his hat was fashioned by John Guy and Holmes 5:01 before the intermission. That goal would be the final one given up by Kent Pilon, who turned in a flawless performance in the second half as the Cyclones roared back from a 4-1 deficit to post a 6-4 win.

Scott Rintoul's second tally resulted from a play started by Adrian Price at 19:10 of the second stanza. Rintoul and Mike Wetzel then assisted John Mackler who closed the gap to 4-3 scoring at 16:16. Rintoul (from Wetzel and Robert Jordan) connected for his third goal at 11:20 to knot the count at 4-4. His fourth marker was set up by Rick Adams and put the Cyclones up 5-4 6:55 before the final buzzer. An empty-netter by Mackler with 13 seconds to play sealed the 6-4 deal for the Cyclones.

FIRST FOR FLYERS

Jason Ouellette's second goal of the game came at 14:09 of the second half and proved to be the winner as the Flyers notched their first win of the season beating the Boyd Rams 5-3.

The Flyers led the Rams 3-2 at the half and were down by just one (4-3) when Flyers' Derek Rintoul scored into the empty net with 0:05 left on the clock to make it a 5-3 final.

Bruce Graham bested Doug Rigby in the battle of goaltenders.

Jason Ouellette (2-1-3), Derek Rintoul (1-2-3), Jamie Hyndman (0-2-2), Ryan Filion (1-0-1), Troy McNaughton (1-0-1), Ryan Swerdfeger (0-1-1) and Jeff Holmes (0-1-1) picked up points for the winners.

Jason Valcour, Kevin Henry, Scott Barkley netted the Rams goals. John Ralko (2), Shane Meunier and Steve Norton set up the plays.

Findlay goal gives Novices 2-1 win

MORRISBURG — Neither team could put the puck in the net for the first half of the game and when the final buzzer sounded the North Dundas Novice "C" Demons were able to claim a 2-1 UCMHL victory.

Morrisburg broke up the scoreless Sunday (Nov. 18) encounter when Meghan Adams beat Demons' goaltender Thomas Gilles on an unassisted play at 7:28 of the second period.

North Dundas evened it up at a goal with 2:25 to play in the same session. Martin Touchette took a pass from Francis Laplante and tied it up 1-1.

The stalemate was maintained until Coady Findlay cracked in the winning shot on an unassisted play with just one minute to play in the game.

The game was played penalty free.

House Bantams split pair

WINCHESTER — Home ice didn't provide much of an advantage for the North Dundas Bantam House Demons as they dropped a 5-1 UCMHL decision to the South Grenville No. One Rangers.

Following that 5-1 setback on Saturday (Nov. 17) the Demons travelled the next day to Prescott, where they defeated another South Grenville contingent, the No. 2 Rangers, 4-2. The weekend split levelled North Dundas' record to 4-4-1.

Mitch Emon (from Zarley Hutt and Dan Wallace) broke up the Rangers' shutout bid when he found net with a shot 9:58 before the end of Saturday's home game. South Grenville led that game 1-0 after two periods but put it away, scoring four times in the third period.

Goalies Chris Fata-Crowder and John Houseman split the duties and the win in Prescott in Sunday as their offence supported them with four goals.

Dan Wallace (from Travis Kennedy at 9:20) and Kennedy (from Wallace and Bobby Cayer at 8:39) scored to put the Demons up 2-1 after the first period. Mitch Emon (from Keith Fox at 14:22) slapped in the second period marker to make it 3-1. An unassisted goal by Cayer with 8:24 left on the clock took the final total to 4-2.

Hornets drop first game after going undefeated

By Bonnie Faith

METCALFE — The Metcalfe Petite "A" Hornets went undefeated in five straight games since their 2001-2002 National Capital Region Ringette League season began in October.

Their first two games took them to Cobden on Oct. 2. The Hornets had two fabulous games, defeating Upper Ottawa Valley 9-4 in the first decision and 9-3 in the second.

Their next match was against the visiting team from Goulbourn on Metcalfe home ice. Despite playing shorthanded for most of the game, the Hornets pulled it off, winning 6-1.

Goulbourn hosted the Hornets at Richmond the next weekend, where the Goulbourn team managed to net one more goal than the previous week but dropped a 6-2 decision to the Hornets.

About 200 Hornets and their families combined with over 1,400 other ringette players and their families from in the region and attended the Ottawa 67s game on Nov. 16. It was the third annual Ringette Night at the game and it was a sell-out crowd.

Some of the players volunteered at different booths set up in the concourse, advertising to the public what a great sport they played. The shooting display was a big hit with young and old alike.

Even a few hockey players weren't afraid to take the challenge and found out that picking up that ring and hitting a target wasn't as easy as it looked. The girls did out-shoot the boys in this case. Thanks to all the guys that weren't afraid to try.

After an exciting night of hockey it was back to ringette the next night (Nov. 17) for the Petite "A" Hornets. The girls met up with Gloucester for the first time in the season and three minutes into the first period Kristen MacDonald picked up the pass to hand it over to Jennifer Quinn.

With the defense from the other team all over her, Quinn took a shot and hit the mesh. Marin Burton, Laura Vizena and Mackenzie Wylie teamed up for the second goal a minute later. Over the next five minutes the Hornets had a hard time maintaining control of the ring and Gloucester tied it up 2-2 with two minutes left in the first.

Quinn received the pass from Allison White with 01:40 left on the clock and with only 00:14 left in the period White earned the goal on an assist from Quinn. Gloucester opened the second half with two goals in the first two minutes to tie it up again. As soon as the whistle blew to start the face off, Samantha Faith had control at centre ice and passed it off to Kristen MacDonald who buried the ring.

Gloucester responded with another goal. But Metcalfe potted the sixth goal when Vizena gained control of the ring and passed it over to Marin Burton, who sent it to Faith. Faith then skated hard and hit the net to gain another goal for Metcalfe.

Quinn was hard at it again and, with help from Cara Waddell and MacDonald, managed to earn her first hat trick of the season.

Gloucester wasn't done yet and slipped one more into the Metcalfe net. With only 00:34 left in the game Mackenzie Wylie was able to get the ring to Kristen MacDonald and the Hornets maintained control for the next few seconds to win their fifth straight game 8-6.

On Sunday (Nov. 18) the Hornets were in the Russell Arena to met UOV again. With the Hornets being undefeated the girls knew it was going to be a tight game. Nobody scored for almost all of the first period.

But then it happened! UOV got the ring and wouldn't give up. Allison White got the ring behind the goalie with help from Samantha Faith for the first Metcalfe goal.

Faith, Quinn and White teamed up for the perfect play 30 seconds later. White fought for the ring and won, passed it over to Quinn, who passed it to Faith. Faith picked it up over the blue line and skated in to hit the net before the goalie knew what had happened.

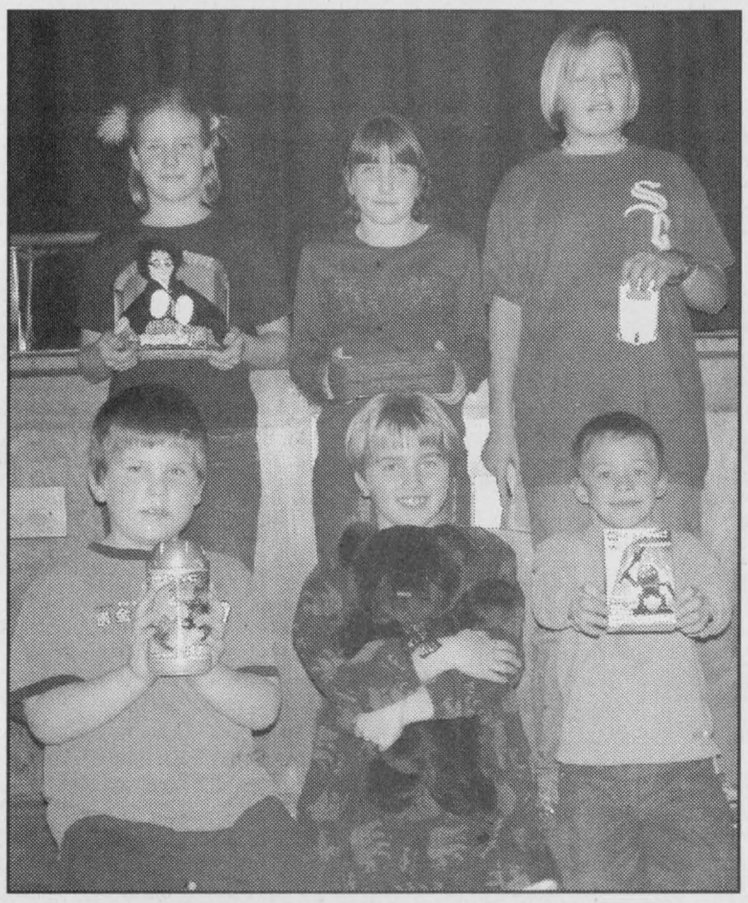
Unfortunately Metcalfe couldn't pull it off again no matter how hard they tried and it was UOV to score the next three goals to put them in the lead 4-2.

Metcalfe did manage to slip one more in and fought hard for the last two minutes of the game but the UOV goalie was solid between the pipes and the Hornets dropped their first decision of the season to UOV, 4-3.

The Hornets are still in first place in the standings but will have to skate hard over the next few months if they want to maintain that top position.

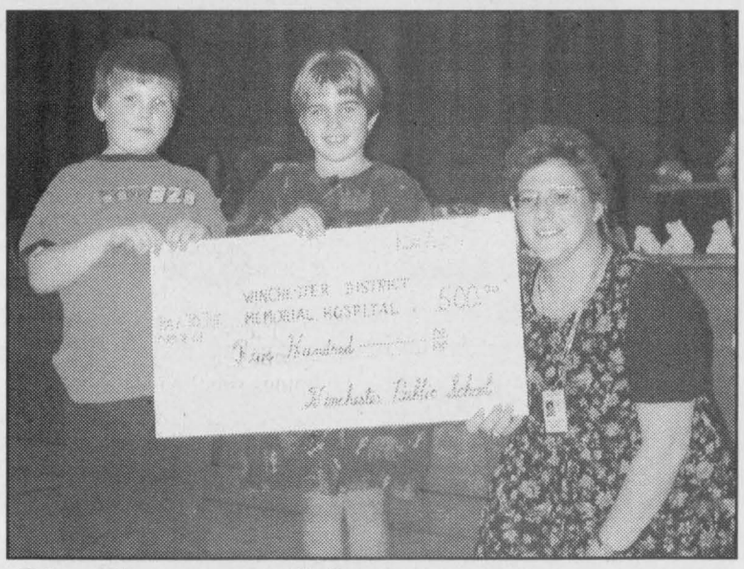
This is a great accomplishment because it is the first time Metcalfe has had two "A" level teams in their association. Metcalfe's Tween team was pushed up to the "A" division after having such a great season so far, and defeated all the "B" teams (and a few "A" clubs) they have come up against.

The Hornets took part in the Cumberland tournament last weekend in the Tween "A" division for the opportunity to play higher calibre teams and were more than ready for the challenge, winning two out of four games and missing the medal round by one point.



Star walkathoners

The students at Winchester Public School had some incentive encouraging them towards the $5,500 raised in their annual walkathon — the top earners had first pick of the prizes available. Having earned a total of over $600 between them, the top seven pledge collectors were Hannah McClenaghan (back left), Brittany Clauson, Chelsea Fawcett, Adam Brenn (front left), Alison Wheeler, Kyle Wylie and Brett Bartholomew (absent).



Sharing good fortune

An important part of the annual Winchester Public School Walkathon is giving some of the money raised back to the community. This year the walkathon raised $5,500 for field trips and activities and the school gave $500 to Winchester District Memorial Hospital. The donation was presented to WDMH foundation co-ordinator Kim MacLenan by Adam Brenn and Alison Wheeler at a special assembly on Nov. 16.

Pee Wees blast opponents

CHESTERVILLE — Colin Moran scored three times and led the North Dundas Pee Wee "B" Demons to a convincing 7-1 victory over the Ogdensburg New Yorkers as the host squad registered a one-sided win on Chesterville ice.

Last Wednesday's (Nov. 14) decision over Ogdensburg followed a stellar 6-2 verdict over the Rebels in Char-Lan the week before (Nov. 7).

North Dundas and the New Yorkers were tied at a goal after a period but it was all Demons in the second, as they skated into a 5-1 lead. It finished as a 7-1 victory. Graham Cooper was listed as the starting and winning goaltender.

North Dundas took a 1-0 lead when Dan Byvelds connected from Ryan Hutt and Travis Froats at 11:15. Ogdensburg evened it up with a goal 5:22 before the buzzer.

A goal by Colin Shay (from Froats and Joey Grozelle) got things rolling with 6:52 left in period two. Moran began his hat trick at 4:27, connecting from Grozelle and Froats. Byvelds whipped in an unassisted shot at 1:34 and Moran cashed in a feed from Shay and Tyson Volks to hand his team a 5-1 lead 0:06 before the end of the period.

Shots by Matt Simms (unassisted at 5:20) and Moran (from Hutt and Shay at 4:42) found the back of the New York net in the final frame.

North Dundas drew one minor penalty while Ogdensburg took two.

North Dundas was in Williamstown for a date with the Char-Lan Rebels on Nov. 7 and broke up a 2-2 first-period tie en route to a 6-2 victory.

Matt Simms and Tyler Fawcett each potted a pair of pucks for the Demons. Dan Byvelds slapped in the winner on a play prepared for him by Fawcett and Jarrod MacNaughton at 14:09 of the second. Colin Shay was the other goal scorer. Grozelle (2), Colin Moran, Dean Moore, MacNaughton, Byvelds, Shay, Simms and Fawcett all earned assists.

North Dundas picked up four and Char-Lan three minor penalties.

Merkley fashions hat for Midgets

CHESTERVILLE — Sunday afternoon's Upper Canada Minor Hockey League match between the Alexandria Glens and the North Dundas House Midget Demons was an eventful encounter.

The Glens goaltender was ejected (match penalty) in the first period, two teammates were tossed for checking from behind and another picked up a 10-minute misconduct penalty. While the Glens' goalie replacement was donning the pads the Demons weren't able to put a puck into the unguarded cage. On the other side of the score sheet the Demons had a pair of players banished, joining four others on the sidelines who were serving suspensions incurred for infractions committed in earlier games.

"It was a wild game. I don't know what else to say. It wasn't smart hockey. The guys still don't seem to be able to stay out of the penalty box," lamented coach Andre Johnson.

On the positive side, Johnson was pleased that his team escaped the debacle with a win and the accompanying two points. He also pointed to Bill Merkley's three-goal night as one of the few highlights.

The Demons led 4-3 after the first period. Period two was scoreless. In the final frame Jonathan Bradley, Merkley and Matt Baker all scored to put it out of reach at 7-3.

Merkley connected for his first two goals at 10:42 and 2:43 of period one. Matt Baker and Bradley netted the other two. Assists went to James Johnson (3), Tyler Byrne (3), Bradley (2), and Baker. Mike Beuman registered the win.

Students gearing up for Christmas

NDDHS Notes
by
Amy Simpson

With just over a month until Christmas, students have already begun to plan for their holiday activities. The Peer Helpers have started to prepare for their float in Winchester's annual Parade of Lights, which will take place on Dec. 7. This year, they are sure to have a very bright and creative float.

The band has also set a date for its Christmas Concert. It will take place at the high school on Wed., Dec. 19. They will be selling tickets at $3 for adults or $2 for students. There will be more details as we get closer to the date of the concert. The band will also be performing at local elementary schools, doing traditional Christmas tunes. On Fri., Nov. 23, they will be performing at Russell Public School for practice, but the Christmas concerts will begin the following week.

With Christmas just around the corner, the season of giving also arrives. North Dundas will be beginning its annual canned food drive on Mon., Nov. 26. Students will be asked to bring non-perishable food donations to school which will all be taken to the Dundas County Food Bank. Classes will be competing to bring in the most food, and the class with the most cans will win a great prize. Students will also be volunteering their time at the Parade of Lights. Various students from North Dundas will be walking along the parade route collecting money donations which will also go to the food bank.

Battle month has been going quite well. So far, there has been a lemon-sucking contest, a tug-of-war, a pudding drop, and there are more to come. The battles for the past two weeks have been girls vs. boys, and to date, the girls have been winning most of the contests; however, the battles aren't over yet. Starting on Mon., Nov. 19, it will be students living on dirt roads vs. students living on paved roads!

Mooapalooza also went over well. For the week of Nov. 12-16, there were scratch cards given out with every purchase of milk — white or chocolate. On both Monday and Tuesday, there were activities at lunch which promoted milk. The milk chugging contest took place at lunch on Monday, and on Tuesday, the pudding drop. There were a variety of prizes awarded throughout the week, including t-shirts, boxers and carabineers.

The girls' basketball teams were happy with their final regular season games. On Mon., Nov. 12, the juniors and seniors both played against RO at home. The juniors defeated RO by 11 points, ending with a score of 39-28. The seniors played just as well, winning 41-26. Both teams went on to compete in the playoffs

The playoffs for the seniors began on Nov. 14 in Cornwall. The girls played against General Vanier, but unfortunately they lost by 16 points, ending their season. The junior girls started playoffs on Nov. 15. As the game was at North Dundas, fellow students came out to watch the girls as they defeated General Vanier by a score of 48-30. Winning the game, the junior team proceeded to the next round of playoffs which took place on Nov. 16. Details of that game will be included next week.

The past few weeks have been emotionally difficult for many students at North Dundas as a result of the tragic loss of a fellow classmate, Whitney Patterson. On Thurs., Nov. 15, a memorial service was held at the school where a tree was planted in honor of Whitney. She will be missed greatly at our school and in the community.

Nighthawks, Prescott Road battle to 1-1 draw

OSGOODE — A goal by Patricia Poirier dashed any hopes Dee Brasseur and the Osgoode Nighthawks had of posting their Osgoode - Rideau Ladies Broomball League leading eighth win.

Poirier's unassisted marker shattered Brasseur's goose egg 2:30 before the end of the Nov. 14 encounter and gave fourth-place Prescott Road (4-3-2) a 1-1 tie with the number-one ranked Nighthawks (7-0-2), who got their goal at 17:06 of the first half when Kelly Quinn fooled Chris St. Onge on a play orchestrated by Evelyn Nooyen and Debbie Shaver.

With nine games in the books the top four ORLBL teams are separated by just six points. The Nighthawks have 16 points, Outcasts 14, Seaway Devils 11 and Prescott Road 10. The next three are: Sweepettes six, Eastern Thunder four and Wisnia Carpet 0 points.

The Seaway Valley Devils (5-3-1) continued their march to the top by doubling the Sweepettes (3-6-0) 2-1. The Sweepettes took the lead at 22:11 of the first half when Jackie Yelle scored from Joanne Smith. The Devils pulled even at the 14:17 mark when Chantal Legault fired in a feed from Michelle Gibson. Legault then cracked in her second shot of the match to win it with 10:10 left on the clock. Natalie Legault engineered the play.

The third game on the triple bill was a one-sided affair as the second-place Outcasts (7-1-0) burned winless Wisnia Carpet 8-0. Alice Kelleher posted the shutout for the Outcasts while Valerie Brown provided the offensive pop, slapping in four goals. Patsy Boonman, Lisa Hope, Shannon Goudie and Sherry Jordan snapped in the single shots. Assists went to Karen Doucet (3), Hope (2), Jordan (2), Sherry Young (2), and Sue Phillips. It was 2-0 at the half.

Outlaws move closer to top spot

OSGOODE — Brian Downey collected six points and Eric Mussell clicked for three goals leading the Osgoode Outlaws to a 7-3 win over the Blackhawks.

Their Nov. 15 victory was the sixth in nine starts for the Outlaws (6-2-1) and moved them to within a point of the Osgoode Hockey League's first-place Manotick Kings (7-3-0). The Kings held onto first place by picking off the Osgoode Snipers 6-3 on Nov. 13.

The Kenmore Chiefs improved to 5-3-2 and remained one point back of the Outlaws by waxing the Snipers 12-4 on Nov. 8.

Outlaw Eric Mussell cracked in his first two goals at 14:05 (from Brian Downey) and 1:20 (from Downey and Grant Anderson) of the first half, which finished in a 2-2 tie.

It was all Outlaws in the second period as they blasted open a 6-3 lead. Downey opened the session scoring from Mark Patterson and Bob Kemp at 19:51. He was followed by Grant Anderson, who pegged a pair of points connecting from Downey and Patterson at 18:15 and from the same duo at 17:04. Mussell completed his hat trick thanks to a pass provided by Patterson and Downey 6:24 before the end of the second.

Brian Johnston put the finishing touches on the win, scoring the seventh and final goal on a play orchestrated by Kemp and Rob Melenhorst with 6:16 left to play in the game. Bill Jamieson posted the win.

Jamieson was perfect in the previous outing, backing the Outlaws in a 2-0 shutout of the Manotick Kings on Nov. 6. Brian Downey provided both goals.

Todd Henry netted a pair of pucks on Nov. 13 leading the Kings to their seventh win of the campaign, a 6-4 decision over the Osgoode Snipers. Henry's second goal, engineered by Tim Oshier with 1:49 left on the clock, proved to be the winner. Oshier (1-2-3), Chris Miller, Doug Clunie and Craig Middleholt bagged the other markers. Jamie Miller drew a pair of assists. Chris Rous posted the win.

Josh Cooper (3) and Mike Hutt potted the Sniper goals. Jeff Ricci (2), Todd Nixon (2), Randy Nichol and Hutt picked up assists.

COLLINS COLLECTS

Kevin Collins was carrying the hot stick for the Kenmore Chiefs as they maintained their top three status by scalping the Snipers 12-4 in a Nov. 8 encounter. It was 5-2 for the Chiefs after a period and 8-3 after 40 minutes.

Collins (5), Darrell Warren (3), Geoff Ross, Rob Stanley and Jason Robinson dented twine for the winners. Passes were provided by Collins (6), Ross (3), Bruce Buckland (2), Dennis Dalgleish, Robinson, Chad Guy and Warren.

Novice Bs beat Glens

ALEXANDRIA — North Dundas had blasted the Alexandria Novice "B" Glens 6-1 on Nov. 18. Goalie Kyle Greer lost his shutout bid in the first period when Glens' Eric Just fooled him. North Dundas' first goal was scored by captain Derek Froats (unassisted) at 8:17 of period one. Jordan Moran (from Dustin Tinkler at 5:29) then cracked in the winner.

In period two it was Cameron Shaw (from Karl Henike and Froats at 9:41) and Henike (from Shaw at 6:26) clicking for the goals. Josh Stubbings supplied a goal.

Pee Wee Jets zoom to pair of victories

METCALFE — The Metcalfe/Russell Minor Pee Wee Rep "B" Jets racked up back-to-back wins on Saturday (Nov. 17).

First face-off was against Orleans and the opposition didn't prove to be much of a threat to the Jets who soared to an 8-2 victory. Holding a convincing lead in the second, the Jets coach changed the lines around and let the defense play as forwards and the forwards try their hand at defense. The Metcalfe/Russell goals were netted by Shayne James who led the way with four as well as Scott Prince, Alex Campbell, Scott Downey, Lee McCullough. Assists went to Scott Prince (2), Shayne James (2), Conor MacLeod, Danny Kingsbury, Justin McKenna, Steven Laporte and Chris Kinkade.

With only 10 minutes to rest, the Jets took on South Ottawa. This battle was a little harder to fight. Shayne James was first on the score board late in the second, assisted by Lee McCullough and Alec Villeneuve. Conor MacLeod followed with a nice goal in the third with help from Scott Downey to give the Jets their second win of the day, a 2-0 decision.

East Ottawa came to town on Sunday (Nov. 18) and the Jets had their work cut out for them. Ottawa was first on the board 42 seconds into the first. Metcalfe tied the game five minutes later with a goal by Joel Paquette, assisted by Chris Hendrikx. Thirty seconds after that Conor MacLeod popped one in, assisted by Scott Downey, to give the Jets the lead. But not for long. East Ottawa turned on the pressure and rang up three unanswered goals, giving them the 5-3 win.

Future face-offs: Nov. 22 in Metcalfe at 6:30 pm against the Capital Crushers. Then the Rideau Tournament Nov. 23 - 25. The Jets would like to thank Contemporary Hair Designe for their generous support.

In Memoriam

DeCLAIRE – In memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Stewart, who passed away November 21, 1999.
The moment that you died
My heart split in two.
The one side filled with memories
The other died with you.
I often lay awake at night
When the world is fast asleep.
And take a walk down memory lane
With tears upon my cheeks.
Remembering you is easy
I do it every day.
But missing you is a heartache
That never goes away.
I hold you tight within my heart
And there you will remain.
Life has gone on without you
But it will never be the same.
– Always in our thoughts Ruby, Barb, Dale, Daryl and Chris 35

FREELAND – In memory of Donelda, who passed away November 23, 1994.
Sunshine passes, shadows fall,
Love's remembrance outlasts all.
Though the years be many or few,
All are filled with remembrance,
Dear of you.
– Harry

Thank You

The family of Whitney Patterson would like to express their heartfelt thanks for all the love, caring and support from family and friends.

The flowers, cards and food were greatly appreciated.

The special ongoing support from each of Whitney's friends helped to carry us through our loss. What would we have done without you? Keep calling. To Vicki Byers and family of Byers Funeral Home, we greatly appreciated your professionalism and compassion. To Peter McIntosh (Mr. Mac) and Frank Herkins, thank you for a special glimpse into Whitney's life. To Reverend Bruce North, thank you for your kind, inspiring words at the funeral home and at the tree planting in Whitney's memory at NDDHS. A special thank you to the teachers and counsellors for your caring and ongoing support of Whitney's friends. For our neighbors, who thoughtfully planted a weeping peashrub and spring crocuses in Whitney's memory - a wonderful reminder of everlasting beauty.

To Millar's Corners UCW, thank you for the beautifully prepared luncheon at Heckston Church. A special thank you to Winchester Hospital and staff and the OPP for your support and kindness in what must have been a difficult time.

And to a very special lady – Whitney's Aunt Vickie – thank you for your strength, guidance and support. We wouldn't have made it through this difficult time without you.
