The Press Has Visitors

"I've been in the front office many times, said a past president of Metcalfe and District Lions Club, "but I had no idea of the modern equipment required to successfully operate a printing and publishing business".

Such was the consensus of opinion expressed by over fifty visitors who enjoyed a conducted tour of The Winchester Press Office last Wednesday night, and watched many of the machines in operation.

The visit came as a result of an invitation extended by Reg Workman who was Guest Speaker at the regular club meeting. Mr. Workman, in his remarks to the large gathering which included all those who had assisted the club during the 19-mile walk, congratulated the Lion fraternity for its continuous efforts to assist all community endeavours. He also pointed out the hazards of publishing a newspaper and reminded his interested listeners that every letter of every word was a potential error.

"Sometimes", he said, "such a misplaced letter adds a touch of humour, but more often the editor finds himself trying to calm an irate caller.

Mr. Workman extended the invitation not only to members of the club but also to all the special guests to travel to his office, and school bus operator Jack Cameron, a member of the club, generously offered the use of one of his buses for transportation.

Mr. Workman was introduced by Bill Porteous and thanked by Eldon Craig.

Picture

Most members of Metcalfe and District Lions Club and their guests for the evening had heard such names as 'Lintotype'; 'Justowriter'; 'Hiedelberg'; or 'Lith-O-Master'; but few had ever had an opportunity to see such machines in operation. Guided through the entire plant by the Workman Brothers, the group expressed the opinion that meeting staff members and seeing printing being processed had added a more personal touch to their favourite weekly. Here a staff member makes a difficult task look very easy.

THE NEWS in Brief

Staff Expands At Agricultural Office

Local agricultural men, at both Senior and Junior levels will be pleased to learn that Garry Buck has received a promotion and will be moving into the Winchester office as Associate Agricultural Representative.

Mr. Buck, who has been working out of the Kemptville office and dividing his time between Grenville and Dundas counties, will now be able to devote full time to Dundas and greatly assist Mr. Keys, in carrying out the extensive farm programs.

One of the main tasks facing the new Associate Agricultural Representative will be supervision of Junior extension work, and since he holds a Master Degree in Dairy Cattle Nurtrition his able guidance will be welcomed by many dairy farmers.

Mr. Buck will move into his new office on June 2nd.

Wet Weather Hinders Farmers

Continuous wet weather has hampered all farm operations and many farmers are concerned with the crop out-look. Dundas Agricultural Representative Doug Keyes says spring seeding is already late and unless conditions change many crops may suffer.

Mr. Keyes is optimistic, however, and points out that 'Mother Nature' often compensates for what might appear a serious situation. Better than average growing conditions and ideal harvesting weather often make farmers forget their late spring worries, he said.

The agricultural representative pointed out that in some areas many acres of last year's corn have not yet been picked and the wet weather tends to break down the dead stocks allowing cobs to rot in the damp earth.

Russell Walkers Assist Hospital

Fred Latour, pre-World War II starry forward with Russell Hockey team accomplished his 'good deed' for the week last Sunday.

With a cold rain beating on the roof, Fred dared two of his friends, Lorne Shane, owner of Shane's General Store and Mabel Bamsy, proprietress of the Commercila Hotel to walk to Embrun and back, a total distance of 8 miles.

Both accepted the challenge and Fred, underestimating their stamina, offered to contribute one dollar to the Smiths Falls Hospital for each mile they covered.

Many other villagers, interested in the 'fun' got into the act and when the two willing marchers, cold, wet, but still smiling returned to Russell there was over $200 realized. The money will be added to the 'swimming pool fund' for the Smiths Falls Hospital for retarded children.

NDDEA Invites Education Minister

The Hon. Wm. Davis, Ontario Minister of Education, has been invited to address a June Meeting of North Dundas District Educational Association. This announcement came as a result of an executive meeting held last week.

A 'Constitution' for the association, drawn up by Gordon LaRose was carefully studied and thoroughly discussed and will be presented for ratification at a general meeting.

"If you haven't become a member of this organization yet" says Public Relations Officer Orian Steele, "just check your local paper for a registration form and join the others who are already making 'Education Their Business'".

WAITING ON EDUCATION

Town Tax Rate Holds Steady

Three significant factors appear in the 1969 budget for the village of Winchester as released by council Tuesday evening: (1) the town's population is increasing, (2) assessment is increasing, (3) taxes are relatively the same as last year.

The latter is good news to Winchester ratepayers who last year were confronted with a necessary 13 mills hike. This year the actual mill rates for both residental and commercial are about three quarters of a mill LESS than last year.

The 1969 levy for residental taxpayers is 46.16 as opposed to 47.1 last year. For commercial 51.44 against 52 in 1968.

It should be noted that the difference in actual money will be offset by the increase in assessment which means that the average taxpayer will be paying about the same amount.

Clerk Raymond Annable pointed out that the provincial grant to taxpayers (tenants) would amount to roughly the same as last year or about $55.00. There will be a variation to this amount on smaller assessments.

The expected bad news is yet to come from the Regionalized Board of Education. Council had asked that the Education levy be presented by Tuesday but at Press time the actual figures were still not available. Last year education costs in Winchester were approximately $103,000. That figure is expected to jump considerably when the Boards first budget is presented, hopefully this week. Council is anxious to review the education figures as the 1969 tax bills must be in the mails early next month.

In Winchester this year total taxes will amount to about $180,000, a increase over the $172,000 in 1968. Village operational costs this year will amount to $141,000 including the $49,000 to United Counties. Last year the expenditures were $137,000 with a United Counties levy of $43,000.

Provincial government grants in addition to the assistance to tenants and education grants will come to $44,000 this year. Other major expenditures with last year's figures appearing in parenthesis are as follows: Administration and local government $21,500.00 (20,690); Protection, police, fire, street lights etc. $13,450 ($13,167) Roads, sidewalks etc. $36,000 ($38,264); sanitation and garbage collection $6,000 ($5,872), Recreation, Community Parks and Library $4,000 ($4,054); Community Planning and Development $2,000 (nil last year); Water system deficit $4,000 (6,440).

A part of the 1968 water system deficit will be recovered when several accounts for "hooking up" procedures are settled, it was pointed out. An allowance of $3400 has also been made for the Winchester District Memorial Hospital as the village's requested share from the hospital to help eliminate a yearly deficit.

All municipalities are being asked to assist the hospital in this department. The figures are based on actual hospital usage by the various municipalities.

RUSSELL FIRE DEPARTMENT

Receives Tribute Again

An officer from the Ontario Fire Marshall's office, area fire chiefs, a Member of Parliament and municipal officers were in attendance last Friday night when Russell Fire Department held its annual dance. The many dignitaries were on hand to participate in presentation of awards to the highly-rated fire department.

Chief Russell Phair, in accepting the honours, paid tribute to his efficient brigade and expressed regret none of the village council were present to accept a special Centennial Achievement Award presented by Albert Belanger, M.L.A., on behalf of Premier Robarts.

Other awards included plaques for best Class F Fire Department in all Canada; best in the province of Ontario, and also the Centennial Achievement Award.

Included among the special guests along with Mr. Belanger were Russell Township Reeve Ernie Burton; Maurice Roussy from the Fire Marshall's office; six fire chiefs, and one deputy-chief. Visiting fire chiefs were Emmet Whelan, Kanata; Roy Duncan, Ottawa; Ed Fagan, Smiths Falls; Cecil Mills, Cumberland; Roland Martin, Vankleek Hill; Fierre Latremouille, Embrun; and deputy chief Stewart Cossar, Osgoode.

Gordon Blair

A MAN TO WATCH

A May issue of "The Financial Post' describes Gordon Blair, Grenville Carleton Member of Parliament as a "Man to Watch".

When an MP gets to be chairman of the powerful procedure and organization committee it can be said automatically that he has made his mark, at least on the government, says the article written by John Bird.

Because the 49-year-old Blair is a rookie MP with no experience inside Parliament, the choice was astonishing yet both Conservative and NDP members of the committee have told the Financial Post that Blair is doing a good job.

"He has to handle such experts as Allan MacEachen, rules expert for the government under former Prime Minister Lester Pearson; Stanley Knowles, of NDP; and Gordon Fairweather, former Attorney general of New Brunswick and PC rules reformer; not to mention the formidable Marcel Lambert, former speaker of the house in the last days of the Diefenbaker regime", says Mr. Bird.

Mr. Blair is a lawyer, born and educated in the 'West' and a keen sportsman. He loves swimming and boating with his wife and two sons and is an enthusiastic water skier.

"The nice sense of balance required for water-skiing", says the Financial Post, "is just the thing to develop a sure-footed chairman of parliamentary committees.

Farm Organization Meeting Proposed

Much has been written and said recently concerning the reorganization of farm organizations throughout the province. Little has been heard regarding action closer to home.

To better acquaint Dundas County agriculturalists a meeting has been planned for the very near future. Although only in the planning stages, Sunday evening June 8th has been selected as a tentative date and possible site will be North Dundas District High School.

A formative committee made up of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Blaine, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Zeron, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitteker, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacGregor and G.F.O. Fieldman Miles Elliott of Apple Hill met early in the week at the home of the Blaines'.

A spokesman for the committee has informed the press that Delmar Bennett, a member of the G.F.O. campaign committee has agreed to speak at the meeting, and also an invitation has been extended to Rev. A. Rogers of Iroquois. The committee hopes Mr. Rogers will also have a message of special interest to area farmers.

Since farmer's wives and all children over 21 engaged in agriculture will have a vote at the forthcoming June ballot, it is anticipated a very large crowd will attend this meeting.

From The Royal Bank

Winchester Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada has made a valuable contribution to the Community Centre Fund. The many diversified departments of the Community Centre project are slowly being co-ordinated and the encouraging reports from all segments indicate tenders may soon be called for construction of the centre.

The fund now stands at $6,151, with thanks to the $1,750 donation from the bank. With three municipal contributions totalling $105,000.00 requiring only O.M.B. approval, and many thousands of dollars already raised by various community organizations not yet turned over to the fund, the over-all total has now reached the point where the board can seriously consider the actual details of building.

Royal Bank Manager, Allan Inglis is shown proudly presenting an enlarged version of the original cheque to Community Centre Board Chairman Keith Carkner, on behalf of the local branch.

From The Centurians

One Thousand Dollars was the figure approved for a donation to the Community Centre Fund by Winchester Centurians at their May meeting.

The interesting meeting took the form of a delicious meal at the Golden Totem Restaurant and a guided tour of C.F.B. Uplands.

In approving the generous contribution to the Community Centre, the Centurians agreed that $500.00 be advanced immediately and the balance paid at the end of the calendar year.

With 35 members and five guests, the meeting was called to order by President Archie Rice at 7:45 p.m. The Creed was recited by Howard Willard and Rev. MacDonald said Grace. During the brief business meeting Jack MacIntosh gave a report of the Light Bulb Blitz, thanked the members for their co-operation, and said the 1 1/2 hours work netted the club over $300.00.

Following the busines portion of the meeting activities were turned over to Tour Committee Chairman Harold Lannin. Hosts for the evening, Bill Lloyd and David Dick were introduced and Mr. Dick, who is Airport Operations Officer, gave an interesting talk on the history of the airport.

This was followed by a tour of the terminal including the Air Traffic Controllers school and the Meteoroligical school.

Governors And Premiers Invited To Seaway's Tenth Anniversary

Premier John Robarts has extended invitations to the governors of the eight States bordering the Great Lakes and to the premiers of Quebec and Manitoba to attend Ontario Day celebrations marking the tenth anniversary of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

In letters to Governors Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania, Nelson Rockfeller of New York, James Rhodes of Ohio, Edgar Whitcomb of Indiana, Richard Ogilvie of Illinois, William Milliken of Michigan, Warren Knowles of Wisconsin, and Harold LeVander of Minnesota and to Premiers Walter Weir of Manitoba and Jean-Jacques Bertrand of Quebec, Mr. Robarts said the Ontario observance of the Seaway's tenth birthday will be held June 16th at Morrisburg. Focal point of the observance will be Crysler Farm Battlefield Park and Upper Canada Village.

At the same time, in a letter to municipalities, chambers of commerce and boards of trade along the Seaway, the premier urged local groups to "recognize the valuable contribution made by the Seaway to our province and country" by planning observances in their respective communities.

The governors' visit to Ontario will coincide with an aerial tour of the Seaway by state legislators on the morning of June 16. The governors' tour will visit the Eisenhower Lock at Massena, New York State Power Authority and the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission. After a civic reception by the City of Massena, the governors will cross to the Ontario side of the Seaway travelling over the Saunders-Moses dams.

First of the Ontario events will be staged at Crysler Farm Battlefield Park, where in a public ceremony the governors, premiers and Mr. Robarts will review an honor guard from Old Fort Henry at Kingston and appropriately commemorate the anniversary of the Seaway.

A guided tour of Upper Canada Village, a real-life 19th century community operated by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, will follow.

Ontario will further mark the 10th anniversary by distributing 10,000 Seaway promotion kits to businessmen and organizations in United States and Europe. The message contained in the kits, promoted jointly by the Department of Trade and Development and the Department of Tourism and Information, tells how the Seaway may lead to profit and pleasure in the Province of Ontario. International advertisements by the Government of Ontario will also emphasize the importance of the Seaway to Ontario.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Johnny is a contented, healthy baby, eight months old. Nothing seems to ruffle his customary good nature. He needs to be adopted so he will grow up in a loving permanent home. Johnny's background is Irish, French and Negro and he has very dark eyes, brown curly hair and medium brown skin. He is quite responsive and alert, turning his head quickly at the sound of his name. He recognizes familiar faces readily and loves to be held and cuddled. When strangers are around he becomes quiet while he surveys them for long periods. Young as he is, this little fellow has had several moves. Now, like Charlie Brown's friend Linus, he seeks security in a treasured blanket which he bunches up beside his face before he can go to sleep. To inquire about adopting Johnny please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general information about adoption ask your local Children's Aid Society.

IN MEMORIAMS

CASSELMAN — In loving remembrance of a dear husband, son, father and grandfather, the late Arnold Casselman, who died May 23, 1968.

One sad and lonely year has passed
Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that day
No one can ever tell.
God gave us strength to meet it,
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
It's lonely here without you,
We miss you more each day,
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away.
You bade no one a last farewell
Nor even said good-bye,
You were gone before we realized
And only God knows why.

—Sadly missed by Wife, Mother, Family and Grandchildren. 3p

Issue Historical Plates

Effective immediately licence plates will be issued in Ontario in respect of historic motor vehicles for an annual fee of $10.

Historic vehicles are at least thirty years old and must be substantially unchanged or unmodified from the original manufacturer's product. Commercial motor vehicles do not qualify.

Historic motor vehicles can only be operated on a highway for the purposes of exhibition, tours or similar functions organized by properly constituted automobile clubs, or for the purpose of parades, repair, testing or demonstration for sale.

The plates are marked to identify the class of vehicle and to indicate limited highway use. They are issued only at the Queen's Park office of the Ontario Department of Transport in Toronto and are similar to standard plates (white lettering on blue background) with a red stripe on each side carrying the words "Historic Vehicle" in white letters.

PICTURE

This is the new Historic Vehicle licence plate now available in Ontario. The standard blue plate with white lettering bears in addition the words Historic Vehicle in white letters on a red background. The plates are so marked to identify the class of vehicle and to indicate limited highway use.

Bill Lang Algonquin Grad

Mr. Bill Lang, Inkerman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lang, has graduated from Algonquin College, Ottawa, having successfully completed a three year term in "Bio-Chemical Technology".

Final Tribute Paid Memory Mrs. M. T. Beggs

Friends and relatives were saddened on Tuesday, May 12th to hear of the passing of Margaret Theresa Beggs, daughter of Samuel Grant and his wife Susan Greer, sister of George of Prescott, Ray of Hyndman and Mrs. Bert Latimer (Ruby) of Hyndman.

In 1913 she married Arlow Beggs and resided in Mountain Township where they farmed till 1947 when they moved to Arden and operated a garage, in 1950 they moved to Perth where they operated a service station and lunch room. Due to ill health they retired to Kemptville in 1956 where they made a host of friends.

Left to mourn her loss besides her husband, 2 brothers and 1 sister are one son Harold (Ted) Beggs of Valleyfield and two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Farrell (Lola) of South Mountain and Mrs. Irene Anderson of Watertown.

Rev. Howard Hamilton of Kemptville officiated at the service which was held in the chapel at Rolston's Funeral Home on Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m., thence to South Gower cemetery for burial.

Pall bearers were Trevour Dillabough, Harry Workman, Chester Gilroy, Garfield Crowder, Bob Slater and Cecil Hess.

ONTARIO MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Urges Tighter School Bus Restrictions

Tighter restrictions on the operation of school buses in Ontario have been recommended by the Ontario Medical Association.

At its annual meeting in Toronto, the O.M.A. agreed that seat belts should be installed and used by both drivers and passengers in all school buses in Ontario. Drivers of school buses should undergo an annual medical examination, and should not be licenced if they have a history of alocholism or have been convicted of impaired driving. (At present school bus drivers lose their licence after a second conviction of impaired driving.)

Other recommendations of the committee on medical aspects of traffic accidents, approved by the O.M.A., included a suggestion that research be undertaken in the balue of training learner drivers to deal with hazardous conditions. The committee said the present test of driving ability fails to assess driving skill in emergency situations.

The OMA also registered its disapproval of police chases, suggesting that the use of radio for interception is safer than "hot pursuit" of a speeding suspect.

Ontario's medical schools are to be urged to include in their curricula a course in accident medicine, including first aid. Such a course for undergraduates will begin at Queen's University in September.

Witnesses Plan Education Seminar

Several hundred people will meet together this weekend for a Bible education seminar. Twelve congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses from parts of eastern Ontario will hold a three-day convention at the South Grenville District High School in Prescott. About 40 members of the Kemptville congregation are expected to attend.

Daryl Shellborn, local spokesman for the Witnesses, said the convention is designed to give further training to Jehovah's Witnesses in their public ministry. Mr. Shellborn explained, "We have a six month Bible study course that we conduct with individuals of any religion who desire to learn more about the Bible. The convention will provide training to help us conduct such studies competently.

Several departments staffed by volunteer workers care for the various needs of the conventioners. One of the largest of these is the cafeteria which will provide three full course meals daily. Other departments include rooming, cleaning, transportation, equipment, sound system, signs, music and others.

The assembly theme is "Make Wise Use of the Remaining Time".

Mr. Shellborn said, "Jehovah's Witnesses feel the end of this present system of things is very near. That is why we want to use the remaining time wisely, serving God."

Peak attendance is expected Sunday at 3:00 p.m. when the public address entitled "Law and Order, When and How?", will be delivered by William Veenstra, a travelling minister for the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society which sponsors the assemblies.

Upwards of 700 persons are expected to attend.

TWO PENNIES PER WEEK

Subscription Price To The WINCHESTER PRESS Will Increase Two Pennies Per Week ($1.00 Per Year).

EFFECTIVE JUNE 1, 1969

OVER-THE-COUNTER SALES REMAIN 10 CENTS

And the reason, of course, even for such a modest increase is directly related to higher operational costs including increased paper prices, increased labour rates and sharply increased postage.

It represents only the second time in 12 years that The Winchester Press has made a subscription rate increase. However, the increase has been kept to an absolute minimum, and falls in line with the subscription policies of other weekly newspapers across the country.

The new rates, effective June 1st, 1969, are:
$5.00 per year Canadian
$7.00 per year foreign

Subscriptions may be renewed at the current $4.00 rate up to and including May 31, 1969.

The Time Has Come

Ontario Weekly Newspapers Association Convention Chairman Earl Morrison of Napanee, Ontario is still hopping mad over the reception he and his associates did "not" receive from Prime Minister Trudeau. Commenting on the recent demise of communications Editor Morrison flatly states that "the time has come when we might as well give up the idea that there is any line of communication between the Common Man and the men who sit in Federal Government offices in Ottawa."

"The editor of this newspaper was asked to be convention chairman this year for the Ontario Weekly Newspapers Association. The convention was held last week in Ottawa. City officials couldn't have been kinder—they put up $400 to throw a dinner for us, the mayor had a representative on hand to greet us, the travel bureau's Gerry Geldert went out of his way to be co-operative . . . but getting anything out of the Federal Government and its minions, even common courtesy, that was another matter.

"We started contacting the Prime Minister's office last September in hopes of having Mr. Trudeau attend one of our luncheons. Contacts were made through mutual connections in Ottawa, through the Speaker Hon. Lucien Lamoureux, and through officials of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association. They all failed. One can understand that — Mr. Trudeau is a busy man, but the thing that hurts is we never could find out anything. In addition, the convention chairman wrote two letters to Mr. Trudeau's office; made two telephone calls to his executive assistant, Michael Vennat, and one telephone call to Mr. Lamoureux's office, but neither letter was ever answered and none of the telephone messages either. The convention is now over and we still haven't heard even a whisper from Mr. Trudeau's office. Writing to the President of the United States would get better results than that.

"Mr. Trudeau isn't as worried about his lines of communications with the public as he says he is, or he'd do something about it — tripling his staff, as he has done, doesn't seem to be the answer."

Press Editor Reg Workman is more than a little aware of this particular situation as he was president of the Association at that time and it was "his" convention. Other than the PM's decision not to communicate the entire show was a huge success. Eleven ministers of the government did come to dinner. Noticeably conspicuous by his absence was Communications Minister Eric Kierans, and Mr. Trudeau. Now Mr. Kierans was not about to make an appearance amongst a group of publishers just after hiking their postal rate so much and so suddenly, or he may have been mistaken for a postage stamp and licked.

As for Mr. Trudeau? Who knows? President Workman, through Speaker Lamoureux had assurance that the PM would indeed drop in if even for a short while. Such was not the case and there has been no official reply or reason given to either the national or provincial association even at this late date. It should be emphasized that the President of the Association received complete co-operation from the Hon. Mr. Lamoureux and he in no way should be blamed.

To paraphrase a rather well known cigarette commercial Earl, "things are in one . . . . of a mess at Ottawa." And with actions by Number One like this it is easy to understand.

Where Do We Stand?

Emanating in a United States town there is a questionnaire making the rounds which applies to Ontario towns and villages as well as those across the border. Although Winchester may be slightly inclined to boast that we lack few of the services or amenities enjoyed by urban North America there could be some second thoughts after one has perused the following list of 31 virtues of a progressive community.

Students of community development say that if a town can honestly answer "yes" to 24 or more of these points, then citizens have a real right to take pride in it . . . and in themselves. If there are more "no's" than "yes's" it is suggested that there is little hope for the community unless someone starts working.

According to our check list Winchester is in fairly good position. By that we mean we are not going hopelessly downhill, but that there is still room for plenty of improvement. Here is the list:

Most high school and college graduates stay in town.
The local paper constantly pushes civic improvements.
There's a place to swim within easy reach.
Young couples have little trouble finding a place to live.
The head of your city government is a "get-things done" man.
Teachers' salaries are better than the state average.
There's a library with a good collection of new books.
Service clubs and women's organizations team up on projects.
A modern hospital is within your trading area.
There's a hotel or motel you would enjoy, if you were a visitor.
It's easy to find a parking space in the business section.
Prompt, reasonably-priced ambulance service is available.
Streets throughout the community are well-lighted.
There's as much interest in local as national elections.
There's an active Parent-Teachers' Association.
Citizens have a positive outlook and attitude about their town.
Firemen must take regular training courses.
There's an annual Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up week.
More than half the church congregations are under 40 years of age.
Local speeders pay the same fines as out-of-towners.
Newcomers quickly feel they're a part of the town.
Schools have plenty of room for students.
All streets are paved and sidewalks are in good condition.
At least one restaurant serves outstanding meals.
It's easy to get volunteers for any worthwhile project.
There's a livewire Chamber of Commerce.
There's at least one doctor for each 800 people.
Well-stocked stores keep shoppers in the town.
There's an ample supply of good drinking water.
The sewer extension programs keep pace with new housing.
Good zoning keeps commercial firms away from residential areas.

A long and hot summer

This is going to be a long, hot summer. And not only for those U.S. cities with their kerosene-soaked black ghettoes just waiting for a match to be struck.

It's going to be a long, hot summer for a lot of Canadians. High among their ranks will be parents, policemen and resort operators.

Why? Because the supply of summer jobs for students is far, far below the demand, and there are going to be thousands of restless, bored young people looking for excitement.

It's a natural for an eruption of rumbles, hassles and vandalism which could make the summer a nightmare for the already-harried victims listed above.

For the last decade, there has been a steadily-growing population of young bums of both sexes. Summer-time, warm-weather bums.

These are the kids who don't really want a job. They live from hand to mouth, sleeping on the beaches, or in the old cars that are part of their scene. They are not necessarily evil or vicious. In fact, most of them aren't.

But they're aimless and irresponsible and rude and selfish and dirty, and lazy as cats. Cats that aren't house-broken.

They're bored, and they're boring. They talk in endless circles about nothing. They even bore each other. But they're united in one thing — their contempt for the adult world.

High on their list of interests, which are extremely limited, are sex and drugs. On weekends, they are infiltrated by the "pushers", many of them amateurs, who arrive from the cities with their little packages of pot and speed and LSD.

Lurking on the fringe of this bundle of bums is another group — the teenie-boppers. These are not kids — they are children —, who are just beginning to make the scene, who find it fascinating, and who want to try anything that's going.

In the cities, same thing, except that it's shopping plazas and public parks and the streets, instead of the beaches

Well, add to this parasitic swarm all the kids who wanted, and needed, jobs this summer, angry, frustrated, and you can see what's coming. I hope I'm wrong, but two and two still make four.

Permissive parents, an inflationary society in which even young people need money; give masses of them nothing to do but look for kicks all summer, and the old crystal ball looks pretty muddy.

When I was a teenager (said the boring middle-aged man), summer jobs were even scarcer. He who nabbed one was deeply envied. My first job, at 17, was working on a Great Lakes steamer, 12 hours a day, seven days a week, $1 a day. And every other kid in town thought I'd hit a bonanza. Boys who couldn't find a job played baseball and swam about eight hours a day. Girls did whatever girls do, giggled probably, and swam and picked berries.

Today's jobless youth barely muster enough energy to have a swim. In the day-time, that is. At night, they flower into some sort of life and go to bed at dawn .And wake up. Bored.

There are a couple of villains in the piece, of course. One is industry; the other government. Industry could absorb twice as many students as it does, at comparatively little cost. Industry is the first to whine about the "products" it gets, but does little to help produce a first-class product. One or two future employees of high calibre from a summer group would easily repay the cost. And it would be good public relations on which industry spends thousands, mostly on whiskey.

Governments could, and should, plan work projects to absorb most of the surplus students. They'd get it all back in taxes shortly. But if they sit on their behinds and allow a generation of bitter, lazy, alienated bums to sprout, it will cost them plenty in the end.

(That's quite a sentence, but no puns intended. Behinds, bums, and end, indeed.)

Hope your kid has a summer job. Better still, hope you're not a parent or a policeman.

Hebrews 2:3 - "How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?"

The Old Testament times must have been tough! Apparently people had little regard for human life. Pity, it appears, was at a premium. The cruelty of death by stoning shocks our sensitivity. We are happy that we are no longer living in that time. Surely things are different today.

Strangely enough, death by stoning was divinely commanded. God's rigorous demands for a holy life were enforced by it. Men were stoned to death for disobeying God's Laws, either cursing, idolatry, adultery, and like gross sins. No pity was to be shown on capital punishment has changed. In most places men are no longer hanged or sent to the electric chair for murder. Indeed, we live in different times. Things have really changed.

Yes, things have changed as far as man punishing man is concerned, but has anything changed as to man's relationship to God? Too many fail to see that nothing has changed here. If one wants to speak of change, things have become much more stringent. God spoke to men in the Old Testament. He spoke to men in punishment through stoning. Israel was God's elect people. He desired and insisted on its purity. To that end He sent his angels to proclaim his will for his people and He did that in a way that impressed them deeply.

It is this truth the writer to the Hebrews seeks to make clear. The same God speaks today to us, His speaking has not become less but more stringent in His absolute demands for holiness. If Israel of old listened to God's message brought by angels, how about that same message brought to us through His Son? "Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip. For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward; How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation." (Hebrews 2:1-3)

Who can miss the force of that? God's demands on us have not changed at all. His Word does not change. God does not change either. He is love, and love demands a response. God manifests His great love in sending His Son to die on the cross for sinners. The cross of Christ reveals to us the love and wrath of God, also his mercy and justice. What our Lord suffered on the cross He suffered for us, to save us from eternal suffering and death. No man can escape that revelation of God's love and mercy through His Son. All must and do respond to it. They who reject it are eternally lost. So are they who, though to appearances accepting it, yet in practice neglect it. This is the warning that comes to us. Let us not be misled! God speaks to us more clearly than before, for He speaks through His crucified Son. Are we listening, or rejecting by neglecting?

Letter To The Editor

Mountain, Ontario

Winchester

Dear Sirs:

If farmers do not seize the opportunity to put their house in order by voting for a strong G.F.O., then I'm afraid what the future may hold for them. There is absolutely no chance of the existing two organizations creating any semblance of unity.

For many farmers the G.F.O. is not going to be a stepping stone to Utopia, for we can see by their prosperous looking homesteads and clear and steady good management that they have learned to make adjustments in both good and bad times. They have kept pace by advanced planning and careful execution of projects and have supported very generously, in time and money, organizations that would do them some good. If nothing is done in a constructive united way for the many farmers who have not been able to keep up, the end result may be that all farmers will go down together.

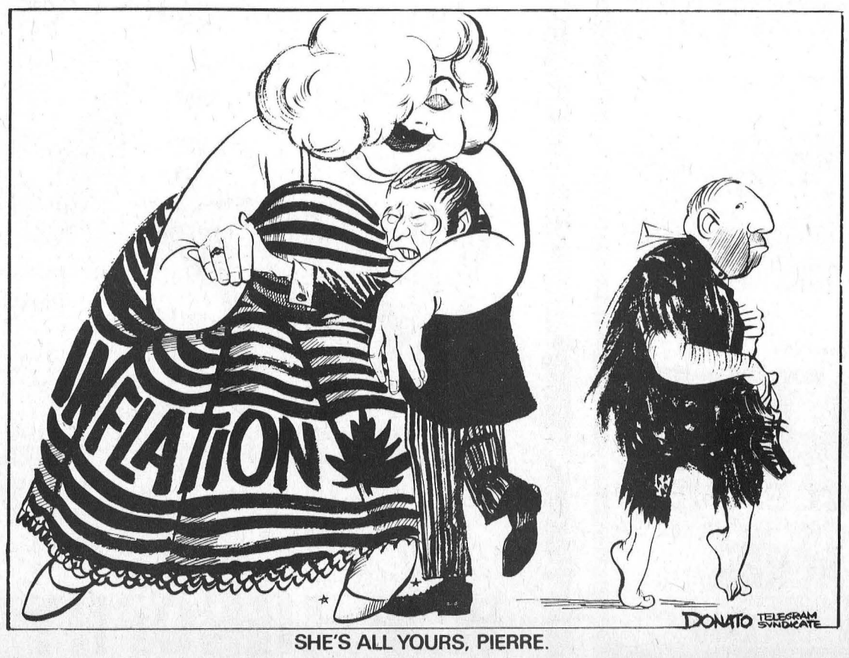
A strong G.F.O., somewhat on the structure as suggested by the Income Committee and the G.F.O. campaign committee, will go a long way in making agriculture the prosperous, respected industry it should be.

We have paid one half million dollars to find out what is wrong and some suggestions for correcting the agriculture industry are surely worth listening to.

I truly believe many farmers are trapped in an uneconomic set of circumstances. We have seen many make the adjustment from farming to other endeavours. Others do not know where to turn, and these are the people a G.F.O. must be concerned about. It is a social problem and I believe any clear-thinking farmer will want to help as it may well be a neighbour, a relative or just possibly someday, himself.

There is no existing organization at the present time these people can turn to and we think a General Farm Organization, given proper personnel and proper finances, will do the job. It is not going to be easy and all farmers must participate at this time. If we don't run our own affairs, someone else will and not necessarily to our best advantage. Farmers must decide now while they still can.

Respectfully,
Hugh Blaine



SHE'S ALL YOURS, PIERRE.

The Seventh Column

Well, now. That beautiful holdiay weekend was anything but a beautiful holiday weekend. What? At least in this neck of the woods the rains continued to pour down from the dark grey skies, entire families were forced to take shelter under the same roof for a whole weekend, (Egad!) golfers gave up in desperation, fishermen couldn't bail fast enough, and there was simply no way for the gardner. It was a weekend of frustration even for the guy who likes to sleep in. After all, you can overdo a good thing and three mornings in a row is just too, too much. Rain coats and rubber boots were the chief wearing apparel if and when you had a chance to venture forth. It really wasn't much different from all the other weekends this Spring, and most days for that matter. It rained, and it rained and it rained. Sump pumps were overworked, drains that didn't work helped inundate the basement floor and lawns and gardens are simply a mess. For most of us it is simply inconvenience and a piece of beef to chew on over a cup of coffee. For the farmer, though, it is another story. The wet Spring, and that's an understatement, is now serious. Few if any fields in the area have even been worked, let alone planted. And unless the weatherman gives us a break right away the crop situation could become critical. And if you think this weather is unusual for the district just remember last May, and who will ever forget the month of May during Centennial year...it poured almost every day.

That new $5,000,000 school proposed for Kanata is creating more than a little comment....and controversy. With regionlization anything but popular right now the Carleton Board of Education is faced with another dilemma. As the Ottawa Citizen states on the weekend "pace-setter or extravagance?" From where we sit it may be a little (or a lot) of both. Out near Edwards they must draw water from the outside to keep a water cooler in the school operating. On the other side of the area the new Kanata school will have "just about everything". There are two or three lessons here. Firstly, regionlization inherited this problem and it must solve it with some economic sense. Secondly, we are getting just about what we ask for. Little sense in arguing the high costs of education if we are not interested enough in complaining to the Boards and suggesting to them ideas on what we as parents and ratepayers would like. And the situation in Carleton is little different than that which exists in almost every region in the province.

All that coughing and sneezing and hacking on TV in the last few weeks is designed to fight cigarette smoking. The campaign is on in full force, and on both sides of the border. In the last ten days both CBC and CTV have intimated they will not carry cigarette commercials after September. In their place spot illustrations by the TB Association, Cancer Society and Heart Foundation. Across Canada now there are "stop smoking" clinics. Really, though, the message seems quite clear and anyone genuinely interested, even though he may be hooked, should not find it that difficult to stop the weed. For many it will boil down to the pleasure of a cigarette against living. There really isn't much choice unless the price of living has suddenly dopped off. Think about it.

Although the Department of Agriculture advises us that the incidence of rabies in the immediate area is not too significant as yet the fact that it is in near epidemic proportions in other Eastern Ontario districts should be noted. An outbreak could become a reality, and as most people realize, rabies is not just another word. It is a dreadful disease. Pets and other animals should have anti rabies shots and all persons should be on the look-out for animals, including dogs and cats, who may be rabid. Contacted by man rabies can be fatal unless treated immediately. More pertinent information about rabies is obtainable from both Department of Health and Department of Agriculture.

We read with more than a little interest the other day the caption of an editorial published in a nearby newspaper, "Are there enough Park Benches in the....?" In Winchester the question could be asked, "Are there any park benches?" The answer is obviously "No" although there is no real reason why the Community Park should not have a few public benches, nor certain other areas in the town which could do with a shrub or two, even a flower bed. At Morrisburg near the 31-2 intersection look for a new and attractive floral setting, even a fountain possibly this year.

Telephone service in the area is receiving a few complaints, at least a few more than usual. Through the years service from Bell Canada has been good to excellent in the Winchester area. Now, though, we hear of more and more complaints about noisy lines, information in French (you should be bilingual) failure in long distance phoning etc. And most of this since a questionnaire was sent out by Bell not so long ago asking about similar situations. But perhaps most frustrating is the case of a district farmer, quite a successful farmer we might add and also a most active citizen, who cannot get a two party line because as he tells it "they (Bell) told me I was too far from...." His case is similar to many other people who want to get off a party line mostly because of inconsiderate neighbours and other telephone users. But Bell's explanation to these people who would like better facilities and who are willing to pay for them is simply not satisfactory. Sounds more like a poorly informed employee spouting off than the policy of the company.

FROM TORONTO by FRED M. CASS

The highlight of this 19th week of the Second Session of the Ontario Parliament was the completion of the debate on Estimates of the Department of Social and Family Services. This debate begun on the first day of April dragged through six weeks with some fifty hours of actual debate and set a record for ineffective action in the Legislature. The Estimates of the Department of Mines which then followed proceeded much more sensibly and reasonably quickly. The material presented by this Minister and elicited from him by Opposition spokesman indicated the tremendous mineral resources of our Province and the very positive steps now being by the Provinical Government to ensure their proper mining and processing within Canada and preferably in Ontario.

The Ontario Farmers' Union members in large numbers attended the meeting of the House Committee on Agriculture when the Bill to provide for a Province wide farmers' vote on one farmers' organization was being discussed and passed. The O.F.U. delegation were anxious that their special proposal be included on the ballot but the Members decided against the ballot presented to farmers putting forward the speical views of any single existing organization.

The most acrimonious debate of the week was that on second reading of the Bill introduced by the Minister of Health to provide for establishing and subsidising homes and care centres for emotionally disturbed children; for reasons well known to the Members of all parties, the New Democratic Party Members opposed the Bill verbally, violently and viciously, claiming it to be a sham and a denial of basic rights. On the other hand, the Liberal and Conservative Members who spoke admitted that while it was not the best Bill possible and might need amendment in Committee, it was a step in the right direction and should be passed (as it was on a division) so that some opportunity of, and basis for, action would be available.

Two announcements during the week are of interest, the first by the Prime Minister was that the Provincial highways subsidy to cities and separated towns would be raised from 33 1/3% to 50% in the next fiscal year (Prescott is the only municipality in Grenville-Dundas to benefit from this) the other by the Minister of Labour was to the effect that effective July 1st next, minimum monthly pensions for the totally disabled paid by the Workmen's Compensation Board would be $175 and benefits from the Board for temporarily disabled workers would be increased by $10 per week.

FROM OTTAWA by GORDON BLAIR

The Abuse of Drugs

There is growing concern about the abuse of drugs. More than seven hundred people attended a recent discussion of this problem in Prescott. Church and other groups in this constituency have organized discussions reflecting such public concern, particularly by parents of older teenagers.

Problem of Marijuana

Attention has been focused on the rapidly exploding problem on marijuana. In the whole period 1920 to 1962, there were only sixty marijuana prosecutions in all of Canada. In 1968 there were twenty-seven hundred cases and obviously thousands of users were not detected. Surveys in some metropolitan areas show an alarmingly high percentage of high school students have tried marijuana.

Effects Not Known

Not too much is known about the long-term effects of this drug. Some people nowadays are inclined to dismiss it as being unimportant, less dangerous than alcohol. It is said not to be physically addictive like hard drugs such as heroin. But there is no question that it creates a problem of psycological dependency. Doctors while admitting incomplete knowledge of long term effects of its use, know of cases of extreme psychiatric and other damage. In its strong form, hasish, it is the curse of the Middle East.

A Problem For Society

The problem of the use of this drug is not one alone for law and law enforcement. Its prevalence reflects a condition in our society which is frightening whether it arises from overaffluence, permissiveness or lack of real parental concern for children. Clearly the control of marijuana is not going to depend on passing more laws but on greater public awareness of the implications of the use of this and other drugs.

Special Drug Study

This is the reason for the creation by the Hon. John Munro, the Minister of National Health and Welfare, of a special committee to investigate the non medical uses of drugs.

Other drugs are also causes for concern. Pep pills (known as "Speed"), barbituates, even drugs like aspirin which most people think are harmless are overused and abused. Unfortunately for Canadians, marijuana is something like the tip of the iceburg, an indication of a major problem of drug abuse by young and old alike.

Responsible Young People

Although some young people have made headline through drugs far more have made them recently through sincere efforts to help their fellow men. In the past few weeks many "Miles for Millions" have been walked in every part of this riding for many good causes. This is the best answer to those too ready to criticize our youth. They obviously have not gone to pot. We should remember the intelligent, responsible challenging attitude of most young Canadians and maintain a proper perspective about our drug problems.

Old School Becomes Springhill Chapel

Dotted here and there across the eastern Ontario countryside are little buildings bursting with memories. Once each knew the daily ring of happy childrens' laughter and heard the stern voice of the 'master'.

Now there is only an eerie silence in the cold vacant rooms, windows are boarded and doors are sealed. Modern educational complexes have completely changed the rural educational picture, and never again will the familiar ring of the 'school bell' echo across fertile farm lands, summoning children to the hall of learning.

Fortunately there are some areas where far-sighted local organizations refused to allow 'their' school to fall into ruin. A stirling example of this can be found at 'Springhill'.

'Springhill', of course, is not a town, or even a village, but to many men and women in all parts of the world it is a name that conjures up nostalgic pictures of carefree days spent at 'Springhill School'.

Springhill Cememtery Board was quick to see the potential of the solid brick building situated on the hill overlooking the last resting place of many of its former pupils, and moved accordingly.

Purchasing the building and the adjoining lot, they soon transformed the familiar landmark into a quaint little chapel which will continue to serve the community as did the school for so many, many years.

Springhill School will not, like so many others, be trampled into the dust by the marching feet of time. It will stand, instead as a glowing memorial to the stalwart men and women who hued a home out of the wilderness, built their school and saw their children and great grandchildren educated there.

Many who learned their first lessons at Springhill School will pass once more through the 'hallowed Hall' as they travel on their last earthly journey.

The beautiful little chapel will be dedicated at an impressive ceremony on Sunday June 15.

Lions Delegates Ready For 49th Convention

Lions club members from Winchester, Metcalfe, Russell, and Gloucester will join with fellow members this weekend for the 49th annual convention at Ottawa. Thousands of 'Lions' from Multiple District 'A' Ontario and Quebec will converge on Canada's capital for the five-day meeting.

Feature attraction will be the mammoth parade on Sunday afternoon. This colourful march will leave City Hall at 1:30 p.m., follow King Edward Avenue to Rideau; thence west on Rideau to Wellington and finish at the Supreme Court Building. Complete with bands, floats, and clowns, it is anticipated many thousands of spectators will line the route. Those planning to bring children should endeavour to arrive early and select an advantageous location.

Metcalfe and District, the senior club in this area will have their float in the parade and it is expected Winchester, Russell and Gloucester members will be marching with the float.

Embrun High School band and Gloucester majorettes will also be with the local groups.

Convention chairman Jack Farmer and his hard working committee has a full program lined up for everyday including special events for ladies. For example on Tuesday morning a bus tour of the city has been planned and with thousands of tulips in bloom this should prove a memorable trip for the visitors.

The Sunday evening 'Necrology Service' is open to all and the impressive ceremony always rates as one of the most popular events of convention time. The committee anticipates the huge civic centre will be filled to capacity.

Plan to see your Lion friends in their colourful attire next Sunday and join them at the Sunday night service.

Are You . . . ?

The Insurance Information Bureau has released facts indicating the necessity of various types of insurance. Here's an incident that should make every homeowner or tenant think: - -

"Allowing children to play on your property is a friendly gesture. But it can be costly."

There was the case, for example, of a man ordered by a court to pay $12,000 damages and $7,635 in medical expenses because a neighbour's six-year-old daughter was hurt on his premises. A trash fire had set the child's clothing on fire and she was in hospital for a year with severe burns. The court ruled that the property owner had neglected to exercise reasonable care to protect the child from injury."

The information bureau of Ontario's independent insurance agents reminds the public that home owners are responsible for the safety of any visitors on their premises. Personal liability coverage under a homeowner's policy protects against injuries to visitors.

Band Concert At Alexandria

A Concert co-featuring the well trained and versatile 55 piece Concert Band of the Hawkesbury District High School, and the songs of the well-known singer, Robin Upton (formerly of Lancaster) will be presented on Saturday, May 24th, at 8:30 p.m. in the High School, Alexandria, sponsored by the Glengarry Historical Society.

The Glengarry music of the popular music team from Glen Sandfield, the Cousins Five, plus some rousing Scottish music by the Pipes and Drums of the Glengarry Pipe Band, will be joined by something new, the folk songs of Steve Merritt, of Dunvegan, making his first local appearance.

One of the most ambitious concerts presented here in the district for some time, the net proceeds are to go to the Glengarry Pipe Band to aid their expenses on their forthcoming Scottish Tour.

"As I Was Saying . . ."

Gestures often add emphasis to a subject and Mrs. Charlie Cross has apparently convinced her friends. The occasion was the Annual Victoria Day breakfast, sponsored by Winchester branch of Womens' Institute, and held at the Legion Hall last Friday morning. Breakfast was served from six to ten and as was anticipated practically everyone took advantage of the opportunity to 'eat out'. Facial expressions would indicate having breakfast with friends is an ideal way to get a day off to a pleasant start. Shown left to right are Mrs. Ray Cooke, Gordon LaRose, Mrs. LaRose and Mrs. Cross.

"Safety In The Sun"

Safety in the sun - to tan, yet not to burn, to enjoy the sun, yet not to be harmed by it.

Sun effects can often be deceptive because of surrounding factors. For workers and funseekers in the sun, doctors and cosmeticians recommend some protective skin care always. How a person reacts to the sun is individual but basic advice about tanning vs burning and the use of suntan products are generally applicable to most people.

A one-page pamphlet "Safety in the Sun" prepared by the Consumer Division (Educational Services) of the Food and Drug Directorate highlights some facts on this subject.

Free copies of "Safety in the Sun" are available from Consumer Division (Educational Services), Food and Drug Directorate, Tunney's Pasture, Ottawa.

APPOINT TASK FORCE

Honourable J. A. C. Auld, Ontario Minister of Tourism and Information, today announced that a Canada-Ontario task force has begun work on a recreational resource development plan for the Rideau-Trent-Severn Waterways.

"From the point of view of conservation natural and historic -- and its tourist potential over the next 25 years, the uniqueness of this 450 mile inland waterway linking the Ottawa to Georgian Bay can hardly be over emphasized," Mr. Auld said. "There are at present over two million pleasure craft registered within the use range of these waterways and 10% of these are of cruser size."

The Rideau-Trent-Severn waterways and their watersheds parallel the major economic and industrial axis from Toronto to Montreal and, on the West, serve points as far distant as Detroit and Chicago, the Minister added. This is an area most vulnerable to increasing demands for recreational space and is even now, a recreational suburb of much of southern Ontario.

"In light of the foregoing factors," Mr. Auld said, "there is a relative urgency for action in such areas as pollution and water level control, municipal land use zoning and park planning, wild life conservation and the development and upgrading of accommodation facilities related to recreation."

In November, 1966, the formation of a joint federal-provincial study committee was announced in Toronto and Ottawa. The purpose of the committee was to evaluate the broad outdoor recreational potential of the Rideau Waterway and to establish a plan for its realization.

The Rideau Waterway interim report was completed in February, 1968. This report, and the discussions which have since taken place at all levels of government as well as in the private sector, have already resulted in forward planning -in keeping with the broad objectives and long range use. The work of the joint Canada-Ontario committee has now been extended to include the Trent and Severn Waterways and adjacent recreational facilities.

Work of the new task force is under the direction of a federal-provincial coordinating committee composed of the following: Co-Chairman , Ontario: W. H. Cranston, Ontario Economic Council; Co-Chairman, Canada: D. A. H. Farmer, Canada Department of Transport; Members: A. S. Bray, Deputy Minister Ontario Department of Tourism and Information; E. A. Gomme, Community Planning Branch, Ontario Department of Municipal Affairs; P. H. Bennett, National & Historic Sites Branch, Canada Department IndianAffairs and Northern Development; D. W. Pettit, National Capital Commission.

Other government departments and agencies will be represented on the study committee. The task force is headed by Mark Cressman, regional planning analyst of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

Fieldwork will be completed this year on the Rideau and in the summer of 1970 on the Trent and Severn.

Full use is being made of previous work that has been carried out by agencies concerned with conservation, area development, highways,pollution, fish and wildlife, parks, canals, historic sites, tourism, community planning, etc. Arrangements are being made to brief the concerned municipalities, Regional Development Councils and Tourist Councils.

The cost associated with the research task force will be shared by the federal and provincial governments.

The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests has to have some way to determine just how many fish are caught in waters that have to be periodically stocked. For this reason many of the fish carry tags which will be noticed in the jaw of the fish. These tags should be removed and placed in the box securely mounted on the site. The above sign is at the new fishing area located east of Williamsburg.

Introduce New Kindergarten Program In Fall

Following an initial survey of the facilities available in the schools under the jurisdiction of the County Board of Education, the provision of Kindergarten classes received high priority.

At a special meeting of the Board on Tuesday, May 13, approval was given for the institution of a progrmme that would bring Kindergarten experience to every eligible child within the Three United Counties.

In deciding the nature of the programme two problems had to be faced -- How to include the pupils residing in rural areas; how to provide an adequate, initial programme at a reasonable cost.

It is felt that the best possible solution to both of these problems is to be found in the institution of an Alternate Full-Day (A.F.D.) Kindergarten Programme.

The basic difference between the A.F.D. and the generally recognized half-day kindergarten programme is that instead of attending classes for half a day every school day, the pupils attend classes for a full day every other school day.

In the many instances where the A.F.D. Kindergarten programme has been instituted, since its inception in 1965, it has been found that the following advantages accrue:

- The pupils travel to and from school only five times during two weeks whereas the half-day pupils travel to and from school ten times during the same period;

-Experienced kindergarten teachers report that full-day attendance makes possible an expanded and more diversified programme;

-Experienced Grade 1 teachers report that pupils from the A.F.D. programme show the same general benefits as do pupils from the half-day programme;

-School principals report that attendance at A.F.D. programme is equal to, or better than the average attendance for other Primary Division classes;

-School principals report that the period of emotional adjustment to the school environment for A.F.D. children is no greater in length or difficulty than for half-day pupils. They also report evidence to suggest that the A.F.D. pupils are able to adjust more quickly to the full-day programme of Grade 1;

- Prohibitive transportation costs are avoided. Expenditure for twice-a-day transportation for a half-day programme would place the programme beyond the point of reasonableness;

-Pupils residing in rural areas can enjoy and benefit from inclusion in the programme;

-There is no loss of instructional time since over a period of ten school days both A.F.D. and half-day programmes provide five days instruction;

-The programme is recognized by the Department of Education for Grant purposes;

-Parents have appreciated the possibilities of utilizing a whole day for shopping or visiting without having to be home at noon to meet a morning kindergarten child. Similarly on a day that the child is not at school, parents have appreciated the opportunity of taking him along with them thus broadening his experiences, but avoiding the necessity of returning at noon to enable him to attend afternoon classes.

In the implementation of A.F.D. Kindergarten Programmes in Area No.1, (Dundas County) classes will be established in the following centres.

Name Stars At Arts Centre

Light entertainment ranging from star personal appearances to comedy will highlight the summer season at the National Arts Centre.

Appearances by Harry Belafonte, Marlene Dietrich, Juliette Greco and Duke Ellington will take place in the Opera House and, in addition, the Montreal Symphony Orchestra "pop" concerts will feature such guests as Gilles Vigneault, Claude Leveillee, and The Modern Jazz Quartet.

In June, The Charlottetown Festival will present two productions in the Opera House, the popular "Anne of Green Gables", and "Johnny Belinda". In the Theatre, "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris", the musical which has had a long and successful run in Toronto, will be performed for two weeks.

Instant theatre, from Montreal, will give a repertory of one-act plays, and finally a Marlene Dietrich Film Festival (August 4 - 10) will coincide with the star's appearance in the Opera House.
