W. H. S. RETAINS THE MEIKLE CUP

NAIRN BOYD COLLECTS 18 POINTS OUT OF THE SCHOOL'S 20.

The Gerald Meikle Memorial Cup Meet is over for another year, and once again the coveted trophy rests securely in its appointed place in the Winchester High School trophy case. It was one of the keenest struggles in years, with four schools, Chesterville, Cornwall, Finch and Winchester battling desperately for the necessary points.

Excitement grew to a high pitch as the various events were run off and the score board indicated the eveness of competition. Winchester High, defenders of the glorious cup, were led by that versatile and flashing young athlete, Nairn Boyd, who swept to victory in the 100 yards, 120 high hurdles and broad jump, only to climax a perfect afternoon's performance with a second place in the 440 yards dash to clinch the championship. Boyd's feat in the quarter mile cannot be praised too highly as it is the first occasion on which the 16-year-old star has ever competed at that distance.

Aiding Boyd in his efforts to retain the trophy, was Lloyd Rowat, who gleaned two precious points in the hurdles. He ran a splendid race and deserves much credit on his showing.

A high light of the meet was the outstanding performance of four stalwart daughters of the Cornwall Collegiate who ran their school to an early lead in the competition by scoring 10 points in the 75 yards dash. Running easily and gracefully the four diminutive athletes were impressive, as they blazed the trail for their competitors. They were striking examples of what may be accomplished by patient coaching and dogged training.

Setting a gruelling pace that left his competitors far in the rear, P. Seymour, Cornwall Collegiate miler bore down on the tape in convincing fashion to clinch the event in 4.52 1-2, remarkably fast time for the distance, under unfavourable wind conditions.

Interesting Letters From Harvey Nesbitt

Few, if any, of our readers have been privileged to visit Aklavik, North-West Territories, approximately 1800 miles north of Edmonton, at the mouth of the Mackenzie river, where temperatures hover around 70 degrees below zero in winter and 30 degrees below is considered a thaw. Yet one of our fellow-townsmen, Mr. Harvey Nesbitt, is at present located at that point and expects to remain there for some little time.

In 1930 the Canadian Government entered into a contract with Andrew Bahr, a Lapland reindeer expert, to transport three thousand of these animals from Alaska to a reserve on the Upper Mackenzie delta. The idea was to place them there with a view to supplying the native Eskimo and Indian population with a definite food supply. Natural increase, it was expected, would maintain the number in the herd, upon their arrival in their new feeding ground.

The trek has occupied nearly four years instead of two or three, as was expected, and the herd has been considerably reduced through misfortune and accident. It is almost over, however, and in a few weeks the animals will have arrived at their destination.

The next problem to face the Government was that of maintenance, as the natives were unskilled in the ways of protecting and conserving the reindeer. Mr. Nesbitt was chosen to direct this work and left on Sept. 15th to assume his new duties.

The following interesting letters were received by Mrs. Nesbitt recently, and were written by her husband while en-route to Aklavik, his new headquarters:

Fort Murray, Alta.,
Sept. 20th, 1934

Well, we are here on the last lap and expect to leave to-morrow morning at eight o'clock by plane for Aklavik, Waterways is the end of the rail and it is three miles over here by car. This seems to be the better place of the two, the airport is from here, and there are about three or four stores, post office and aerial station; also Hudson Bay trading posts and several log buildings. A fire swept the main section earlier in the season and we are now in a new hotel. Quite a nice looking place and is quite cosy. There are a number of men who came in by plane yesterday from the North. They delivered a transport boat to the North for the Hudson Bay Company from Newfoundland via Panama Canal and through by the Pacific coast and around to Victoria Land. I think, probably Coppermine or Bernard Harbour. There is another fellow here by the name of Thom, who is back from the north islands, a fur trader for the Hudson Bay Co. Oh yes, this is rather an interesting place for northerners, old timers, etc. I rode from Winnipeg to this place with Mr. Parsons, fur trade commissioner for the H. B. Co., a real satelite. We have been real chummy but I didn't know who he was until after I left Edmonton when the other minor celebrities joined him there.

Everyone here seems extremely friendly, glad to see you and want to know all about where you are going, what you are going to do, and when you may be coming back, and delighted to do anything they can for you. Prices are little higher but not much difference.

NEW DEPUTY GAME WARDEN

LOCAL CONSTABLE IS APPOINTED, FOLLOWING COMPLAINTS TO DEPARTMENT

Constable Herbert C. Helmer received word last week from the Fish and Game Department of the Ontario government notifying him of his appointment as deputy game warden, with jurisdiction anywhere in the province. The appointment was made following repeated representations to the department protesting against the illegal killing of game out of season in the northern parts of Mountain township. According to a letter addressed to the minister of game and fisheries and signed by Hugh McMaster and Hyman Bessin of the local Liberal Association, complaints were made against the hunting of deer with searchlights after dark in Mountain township, where deer have been inhabiting the woods in large numbers during the past few years.

It is alleged that certain parties go hunting after night with a strong spotlight attached to a battery. When it is turned on a deer, the animal is blinded for the instant and is shot down. In an effort to put a stop this illegal practice, the appointment of Constable Helmer was made and he will investigate every complaint registered from now on.

Local Bowling Club Presented With Cup

A meeting of the Winchester Lawn Bowling Club was held in the Council Chambers of the Town Hall last evening with a large number of members present. Dr. A. W. Sherwood, president of the Club was in the chair.

Prior to the business session, Mr. Jas. H. Ross, a former enthusiastic member of the Club, presented a beautiful silver cup for annual competition among the local rinks. He stated that it was his hope that the cup might stimulate keener interest in bowling on the part of the citizens and that it might bring additional enjoyment to the members.

Magistrate John McCormick, vice-president of the Club, received the trophy and expressed the appreciation of the members to Mr. Ross for the kindly thought which led to the presentation.

A business period followed, during which the financial report for the year was given by the secretary-treasurer, W H. Agnew. Accounts show that the Club will come through the year in a fair condition financially.

It was decided to hold a concert in the near future with the view to clearing off the Club's obligations and placing it on a sound financial basis. Messrs. Jim Gray Dr. Sherwood, Charles Cross and Bill Agnew were named a committee to proceed with arrangements for this entertainment.

It was decided to close the greens for this season at once and have all equipment stored away. A "bee" will be held on Monday afternoon next to top-dress the greens and put them in shape for the coming season. The meeting then adjourned.

OPEN SEASON FOR PARTRIDGE

Partridge shooting will be permitted in this district from October 15th to October 20th, inclusive. There seemsto be some misunderstanding about this open season, but these are the correct dates.

DUNDAS TEACHERS' HOLD CONVENTION

MISS HELEN TAYLOR OF MOUNTAIN, IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

The sixtieth annual convention of the Dundas County Teachers' Institute was held in the Susie Annable Memorial Hall of the Public School on Thursday and Friday last, with morning and afternoon sessions. Complete registration indicated that over 100 teachers were present from all parts of the county.

The president Mr. Harry Potter, of Winchester Springs, presided at the morning session, which was opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. H. Wood of the local Baptist Church. The president then indicated that he would not give an address as scheduled on the program, but would attempt to give a few scattered remarks on the subject of "Moral Training For Boys and Girls." "Such training," said the speaker, "was best given by teaching the boys and girls to do good work. Many of the pupils in rural schools receive only a public school education before taking their places in the community. It was essential therefore, to train them to perform the duties assigned to them accurately and well. The three main points to emphasize were punctuality, precision and perseverance.

The reading of the minutes and communications was the next order of business by the secretary, Mr. Herman Hamilton, of Iroquois. This was followed by the appointment of a number of committees, as follows: Nominating—Steve Stewart, Audrey Marcellus, Vera Haggerty and Ella McDonald; Resolutions—Robert Anderson, Eva Donaldson and Mildred Derby; Press—Lulu McGee, Roy Colligan, Catherine Merkley and Lenora Merkley.

Miss Laura Dukelow then gave a splendid description of the summer course in health training, which was interesting and instructive, after which community singing was engaged in, with Miss Marion Casselman presiding at the piano.

He was apprehended in Toronto a few days ago, after a provincial wide search had failed following the hold-up.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A delightful event took place on Tuesday evening last at the home of Mrs. Ira Annable, when about fifty friends and neighbours gathered to honour Miss Eleanor Annable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Annable, whose marriage to Mr. Douglas Johnston takes place on Saturday. The hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Lawrence Annable and Geo. Dixon.

The evening was spent in music and games during which Miss Annable was presented with numerous handsome gifts. Misses Eva Gibson and Edna Annable made the presentation. Miss Annable made a suitable reply, expressing her appreciation of the thoughtfulness which prompted her friends to thus honour her.

Refreshments were then served by the hostesses after which the happy event was brought to a close with sincere wishes for the happiness of the bride-elect.

WEDDINGS

LANNIN—ROBINSON

The home of Mr and Mrs. John Moffatt was the scene of a very pretty candlelight ceremony on Saturday afternoon when Norma Jean Robinson, youngest daughter of Mrs. John Moffatt and the late Mr. J. E. Robinson, was united in marriage to Harold Suffel Lannin, eldest son of Mrs. Wm. Lannin and the late Mr. Lannin, of Winchester. Rev. John Mckay, of the United Church, officiated.

Autumn leaves and flowers were used profusely in decorating the home, which was carried out in a white and yellow scheme. The wedding nook was banked on each side with mounds of autumn foliage and chrysanthemums and illuminated with yellow and white candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Moffatt, looked charming in a gown of sheer white petal lace, made on long graceful lines, the skirt ending in a short train. The sleeves were close-fitting and the bodice finished with tiny white buttons. She wore a coronet of orange bossoms in her hair and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Miss Muriel Robinson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and was gowned in lucky stone konda crepe, made on long lines, forming a slight train. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow mums.

Mrs. Moffatt, mother of the bride, wore a smartly designed gown of black velvet with lame trimmings, and a shoulder knot of yellow roses.

Mrs. Lannin, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in a black lace dress with shoulder knot of lilies-of-the-valley

Mr. Gordon Lannin, brother of the bridegroom, performed the duties of best man.

The wedding march was played by Miss Beryl Fairbairn of Spencerville, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Ernest Steele sang "O Promise Me."

Following the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served to over 60 guests. Those who assisted in serving were the Misses Eileen, Eleanor and Jean Melvin, Beryl Fairbairn and Muriel Davidson. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. McKay and responded to by the groom.

After receiving the congratulations of numerous friends, and amid showers of confetti, Mr. and Mrs. Lannin left by motor on a wedding trip to Chicago, Ill., and Mabel, Minn., and points of interest en route. Travelling, the bride wore a brown swagger suit with touches of fur and accessories to match. On their return they will reside on Main Street, West.

ELECTED PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

Word was received recently that Archie McDonald, son of Mrs. J. A. McDonald and the late Mr. McDonald, of Ormond, and a prominent lawyer at Hastings, Michigan, had been elected prosecuting attorney for the county of Barry, Mich., at the recent elections. Mr. McDonald who has resided in the place for only two years defeated his opponent quite decisively although the man had been a life-long resident there.

PERSONALITIES OF LOCAL INTEREST

EDWIN M. SHAVER

If a census were taken of all the supermentalities, the geniuses, the inventors, the authors, artists, etc., of the world, it would be found that a very small proportion would ever attain a place in the annals of fame, and be recorded in history as out of the ordinary. After all creative genius is a special gift that only a few enjoy and make good use of, while the great majority of mankind are just ordinary folk, some a little better than others mentally and physically, but in the general average there would not be much from which to choose.

The editor of the Winchester Press for many years maintained and still maintains, that if it were not because of the faithful, conscientious and painstaking work of the clerks behind the desk more than the orators on the platform, the affairs of our municipalities, our schools, and our governments would be in a hopeless muddle.

And the trouble is that the services and faithfulness of such are not as often recognized and as properly rewarded as they should be.

Winchester during the past fifteen or more years has been very fortunate in securing not only municipal clerks, but other officials, the type of men to whom society owes so much, and it is to one such that the Winchester Press, this week, refers to under the heading of "Personalities of local interest."

Edwin M. Shaver, clerk of the municipality of the Village of Winchester, was born at Cardinal, Ont., in 1868, and he was but a wee lad of four years when his parents moved to Winchester, where, with the exception of a few years, he has continued to reside. Ed., a bright and always courteous boy, attended school here, playwith other boys, and no doubt got into as much mischief as other boys until he was old enough to go to work. He learned the trade of pattern maker in the Beach Foundry. So proficient did he become that in time he was made foreman of the shop, and when the company decided to move the foundry to Ottawa, Ed. went with them where he remained for two years. Owing to the growing illness of his father, the late Nicholas Shaver, who lived to reach the age of 84, and who was a descendent of the hardy old U. E. L. stock, to whom this province owes so much, he was compelled to return to Winchester. Ed. then took a position as store-keeper with the M. F. Beach Co., when they conducted a retail department, and was with that firm for 12 years, when he accepted a position in the store of Mr. T. O. Keyes, where he remained for four years.

Mr. Shaver was always interested in our municipal affairs, and served two years under Reeve J. F. Ault, and one year under Reeve Jas. H. Ross, and in his capacity as councillor he at all times showed his willingness to take his fair share of responsibility, and was never known to shirk his duty.

When Mr. Clinton Empey, who had for so many years acted as clerk, was compelled, because of failing eye sight, to resign, the council at once chose Mr. Edwin Shaver as his successor, and it is becoming more evident each year that no mistake was made. In his capacity as municipal clerk, village treasurer, clerk of the local Hydro Commission and secretary of the Board of Health, as well as the official issuer of marriage licenses, his multitudinous duties keep him well occupied, and were it not because of his systematic and careful planning of his work there would be confusion where now there is system and perfect order. Ed. is not only a most obliging public servant, but will go to no end of trouble to find out what you want.

We wonder what the choir of the United Church would do without Ed. Shaver. He has been a member of that choir since he was a lad, and if Ed. is at home and able to be out, his place in the choir loft is always filled. He has for years been in charge of the weekly envelope system in connection with that church, and is a member of the Official Board also. He is an active worker in the interests of the church in all its branches and ready to give a helping hand in any work that is required.

No local "Orange" walk would be complete without Ed. in it, and he has occupied almost every office in the local lodge. He is at present County Master of the Royal Black Knights of Ireland for St. Lawrence County.

WINCHESTER RETAINS MEIKLE CUP

A feature of the meet was the work of Donnie McIntosh, Finch High, who won 15 of his team's 17 points to finish in third position in the aggregate. Still more re-remarkable is this feat when the fact is made known that the director of athletics at the school is Miss S. E. Kennedy, there being no male members on the staff. Praise was given to Miss Kennedy for her eagerness to enter a team and for the very creditable showing of her proteges.

The complete summary of events is as follows:—

Girls' Senior 440 yards relay—Cornwall, Chesterville, Cornwall; 1'6"

Boys' Senior 440 yards relay—Iroquois, default;

At the conclusion of the meet which was not marred by any disagreeable occurrence, it was announced that Winchester had retained the trophy with a total of 20 points, Cornwall was second with 18, while Finch followed closely with 17.

The officials in charge were: W. H. Agnew, referee; T. J. Hawkins, clerk; J. L. Dixon, announcer; R. Mel. Scott, starter; R. M. Elliott, Jack Ault and Dr. J. Bean, timers; School judges, Avonmore—F. Hamblin; Chesterville—A. Laforet; Cornwall—J. H. Muir; Finch—Miss S. E. Kennedy; Iroquois—F. C. Beaupre; Morrisburg—G. C. Powers; Maxville—G. P. Wert; Winchester—E. J. Spinks.

An added attraction was the exhibition rugby match staged at the conclusion of the meet, between the Morrisburg Collegiate team and the Purple & Golds of the W. H. S. The local team scored a 12-6 victory following a weak start, and were masters of the situation during the last half of play. Keen interest was shown in the game by a large following of spectators and the game bids fair to become very popular in Winchester.

At 6.30 p.m. the Sunday School hall of the United Church was the scene of a delightful event when the W. H. S. played hosts to the officials and competitors in the day's meet. Following a splendid repast served by the ladies of the W. M. S., Principal E. J. Spinks called the gathering to order and the presentations were made, following the address of welcome by Magistrate McCormick of the local school board.

Dr. J. J. McKendry, the chairman of the School Board, made the presentation of the Meikle Cup to Nairn Boyd, amid cheers and loud applause. The Smith trophy was then presented to the runners-up, Cornwall Collegiate, through Mr. Seymour, captain of the team, by Mr. Muir, of the C. C. I. Mr. J. D. Stewart was then called upon to present the prizes to the winning relays, and Mr. D. H. Weir, a member of the school board, presented the medals to the winners of the open events.

The presentations being made, the chairman called upon the following for a few remarks: Mr. Beaupre, principal of Iroquois H. S.; Mr. W. H. Agnew; Mr. G. C. Powers, Morrisburg; Mr. G. P. Wert, Maxville; Miss S. E Kennedy, Finch; Rev. G. O. Davies and Rev. John McKay. All were loud in their praise of the manner in which the meet had been conducted and heartily congratulated both the winners and the losers on the sportsmanlike way in which they had entered the competition.

A hearty resolution of thanks was tendered the ladies for their sumptuous repast after which Rev. Mr. McKay closed the event by calling for the National Anthem.

FOX—NEWTON

The marriage of Gwendolyn, only daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. Frederick Newton, took place on Saturday afternoon last at 2.30 p.m. in Emmanuel United Church, Montreal, Que., to Mr. George Herbert Fox, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert Fox, Sr., of Westmount, Que., the Rev. S. F. Newton, father of the bride, performing the ceremony.

Th church decorations were composed of pink and white asters, intermingled with palms. The organist of the church furnished the music before the ceremony and also a soft mellow accompaniment during the taking of the vows. Mr. G. H. Fox, father of the groom, sang the ever popular "Because," during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given away by her only brother, Mr. Frederick Lonsdale Newton, of Philadelphia, Pa., wore a French model gown of ivory satin, made on princess lines, the skirt lengthening into a graceful train from the hip line. The bodice had a high cowl neck and long close fitting sleeves finishing at the hand in a point and trimmed with a closely set line of satin covered buttons and loops extending from the high neck line to the point over the hand. Her wedding veil was arranged in Juliette Cap effect finished around the head with tiny pearls and orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the-valley. The bridal attendants, Miss Alice Fox, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, while Miss Millicent Brennan, a college friend of the bride, and Miss Beatrice Fox were bride's maids and all were gowned alike in French Chantilly lace and net robes, and wore picture hats of the same dainty materials, with slippers and gloves to match, and carried huge bouquets of sweet peas in pastel shades. Miss Alice Fox wore shell pink, Miss Brennan ice green, and Miss Beatrice Fox in frost blue. Little Miss Hope Gwyneth Hughes, of Ottawa, small cousin of the bride, was a flower girl wearing a dainty little gown of canary-colored satin, ankle length and high waisted, with a bandeau on her hair of the same shade, and she carried a colonial nosegay of Talisan Roses and Blue Corn Flowers, with short frilled gloves and slippers to match her frock. Mr. Herman Keast was best man for Mr. Fox and the ushers were Mr. F. L. P. Anderson and Mr. Ernest Thome.

Mrs. Newton, the bride's mother, wore a model gown of Black Chantilly lace over black satin with a shoulder corsage of American Beauty Roses, and a picture hat of black velvet with a crown of sequins. Mrs. Fox, the groom's mother, wore a gown of flowered crepe Romaine with a blue velvet hat and matching accessories and a corsage of Talisman Roses. The reception, following the ceremony, was held at the residence of the bride's parents on Crescent St., Montreal, where the pink and white decorative scheme was again in evidence.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Fox left to spend a fortnight holidaying in the Laurentians, the bride's travelling suit being a brown Angora wool tweed ensemble suit, with a racoon collar with brown suede and leather accessories. On their return they will reside in Montreal.

PARTRIDGE CAUSES ACCIDENT

Victims of a peculiar accident, Mrs. N. G. Henniger and Miss Marion Henniger, of Smiths Falls, sustained slight but painful cuts about the face and head last week when motoring along Highway No. 7. As the car sped over the road, a partridge swooped down and struck the windshield, shattering it and causing fragments of glass to scatter inside the car and inflicting painful cuts upon the occupants.

THE UNITED CHURCH

The services were in keeping with Thanksgiving. An appropriate anthem was sung at the morning service by the Choir, with a leading solo part taken by Mr. Geo. Crawley. The new organist, Miss Alice Singleton, presided capably at the organ. A solo by Miss Jessie Preston was enjoyed at the evening service.

From Psalm 95:2 Rev. John McKay spoke on the sin of ingratitude. Some of the benefits received from God, he said, were a bountiful harvest; the tide of economic recovery which is slowly but surely making its way across the country; the moral and spiritual heritage that has come down to us through the ages, and what has been achieved by the peacemakers in the past ten years.

"What are we doing on this Thanksgiving morning to show our thankfulness to God?"

From Psalm 51:12 (the first clause) the pastor gave an evening talk on the last radiance. In his opening remarks he gave many examples of notable men who were fired with divine enthusiasm and expressed the desire that we might catch some of the spirit of these great reformers. He said there were very little spiritual zeal found in the Church today, reasons for this being:—something wrong with our educational system, our Christianity is not sufficiently virile—the materialistic atmosphere in which we live, and the loss of faith in our product. What could a small band of Christian people not do if they had this radiance of the gospel of Jesus?

ANNUAL MEETING OF DUNDAS TEACHERS

The afternoon session was opened by an excellent report of the meetings held by the Ontario Educational Association by the delegate, Miss Florence Waddell, of Iroquois. The financial statement for the year was next presented by Mr. H. Hamilton, which indicated the Institute to be in a sound financial condition. His report was sanctioned by the auditors who had submitted their approval of the books.

A musical number by Miss Gertrude Weegar was heartily received by those present, after which Miss Marion Casselman, of Chesterville, and Miss Donella Latourell, of Mountain, gave papers on "Methods in Second Class Composition, oral and written."

A delightful feature of the program was a folk dance then presented by the pupils of Winchester Public School under the direction of Miss Emma Gardner.

A brief address by Mr. W. J. Stewart, the public school inspector, followed in connection with the new school register and ended with a few remarks on the finer points of writing, etc.

Group discussions followed, the various topics being led by: "Methods in Composition," Herman Hamilton and Miss Mildred Derby; "Agriculture," H. G. Graham and Miss Estella Stewart; "Primary Arithmetic," Malcolm Rae and Miss Gertrude Wegar; "Domestic Science," Geo. Young and Miss Lulu McGee.

In the evening a splendid banquet was held at Hotel Winchester where the teachers were addressed by Carl J. Ketchum, Canadian-born Fleet Street correspondent. His subject, "Interviewing the Great" was one that was received most heartily by the assembly and was thoroughly enjoyed. Following the festivities at the hotel, the teachers sponsored a delightful dance and social evening in Lannin's hall, which continued until a late hour.

On Friday morning, the session opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. G. Oliver Davies, of St. Matthias' Anglican church.

The service was followed by a public-speaking contest for pupils, in which Miss Mildred Porteous, of Ormond, taught by Miss Estella Stewart, was declared the winner. The six contestants had been winners at the school fairs held recently. The medal was presented by James A. Simpson, B. S. A., a former Agricultural representative for the county.

Mr. H. Graham, of Morrisburg, the new representative, was present and presented books to the other contestants: Marion Helmer, Josie Cooper, Jean Urquhart, Ora Foley and Robert Warren. The judges were Gordon Foulds, Morrisburg; Marion Casselman, Chesterville, and Arthur McGahey, Mountain. Mr. Graham intimated that he would present the medal next year for public speaking.

Reports of committees followed. The resolutions committee forwarded the first resolution thanking all who had assisted with the convention. It was also suggested in a resolution to the Department of Education that a reading course be added to the curriculum and asked that the dates of examinations be made such that they would not conflict with teaching duties, as at present.

It was also decided to dispense with the Forrester and Stewart medals for proficiency on the Entrance Examinations, in view of the fact that so many are now promoted on the teacher's recommendation.

The nominating committee produced the following slate of officers for 1934-35:

Hon. president, W. J. Stewart, I. P. S.

President, Miss Helen Taylor, South Mountain.

Vice-president, Clifford Stitt, Williamsburg.

O. E. A. delegate, Ronald Lynch, Chesterville; alternate, Clifford Pitt, Williamsburg.

Secretary-treasurer, Herman Hamilton, Iroquois.

Committee, Eva Donaldson, Winchester; Helen Smith, Matilda and Ray Dillabough, Chesterville.

BRUTAL CRIME

One of the most brutal crimes to be perpetrated in Ontario for some time occurred in Belleville on Thursday night last when Mrs. Nathaniel Vermilyea, 74 years of age was hacked to death near the home of her son-in-law, Dr. A. J. Faulkner, Ontario Minister of Health.

Hearing the cries of a woman, residents dashed into the street to find Mrs. Vermilyea lying upon the sidewalk with terrible wounds about the head and her right hand nearly severed. Her attacker had disappeared.

Police officials at once closed their nets in an effort to apprehend the assailant. Movements of numerous individuals were traced, the finger of suspicion gradcally centering upon Harold W. Vermilyea son of the victim, a resident, of Ontario, California. It is alleged that he was seen with his mother prior to the crime, and police officials at once set about tracing his movements.

Offering an alibi, that he had never been out of California at the time of the crime, Vermilyea stoutly denies any connection with his mother's untimely passing. He is said to have been identified by two persons as the man who left the Glendale, Calif. airport on Saturday following the arrival of the Chicago plane. Police are testing his alibi further and interesting developments are expected in the near future.

Rain-coated to the ears, sitting on an open bus-top in the rain going down Fifth Avenue at night; Central Park is shiny and green; that electric sign on Central Park South that spells out one word after another as though it were a huge ticker-tape, takes an interminable length of time to get over the advertising to the point where it spells out, "The Time Is Now 10:42." Incidentally, the news flashes spelled out in lights on the Times Building in Times Square, go completely around the building. . . . Back to Fifth Avenue. . . . They're still working on the fountain in the Plaza at 59th Street; the lighted top of the Empire State Building barely visible through the rain; travel agency windows have an unusually high average in artistic posters; the Library at 42nd looks very grim and cold when the lights are out; it could do with a little cleaning, for the soot of the city has made its granite very black; the top of the Empire State Building is beautifully hazy now, like a changing, soft-focus moving picture you've seen when the photographer wants you to see things through the heroine's tears; neon lights in purple and red and violet, and white lights next to them to reflect a myriad of beautiful changing colors on the wet pavements, changing with the motion of the bus; how dreary those sidewalk cafes look in the rain—just canopies, bare tables and vacant chairs; doormen with huge umbrellas escorting the "cliff-dwellers" from curbs to their homes; with hat streaming, I walk into my own doorway and watch my bus disappear.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE AT HALLVILLE UNITED

St. Andrew's United Church, Hallville, was beautifully decorated with various kinds of autumn bloom, fruit and grain on Sunday morning last, when the annual Harvest Home and Thanksgiving service was observed. A large congregation was in attendance.

Rev. Donald Morrison, pastor of the church, conducted the service and chose as the text of his sermon, "Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread." The full choir was in attendance and rendered two lovely Thanksgiving anthems "Blessed Be the Lord," and "It Is Good to Sing Praises unto God." Miss Carrie Stewart presided at the organ.

The evening service was withdrawn so that the members of the congregation might join in the special anniversary services of Mountain United Church.

TRUE THANKSGIVING

Because I have been given much
I, too, shall give;
Because of Thy bounty, Lord,
Each day I live
I shall divide my gifts with Thee
With every brother that I see
Who has the need of help from me.

Because I have been sheltered, fed
By Thy good care,
I cannot see another's lack
And I not share
My glowing fire, my loaf of bread,
My roof's safe shelter overhead,
That he, too, may be comforted.

Because love has been lavished so
Upon me, Lord,
A wealth I know that was not meant
For me to hoard,
I shall give love to those in need,
The cold and hungry clothe and feed,
Thus shall I show my thanks indeed.

FERN STAND GROWS AFTER THREE YEARS

A question asked in Fort Erie was how the sprouts came to be growing on the varnished legs of a willow fern-holder in the home of Mrs. Angelo Saranoff. Mrs. Saranoff purchased the fernery three years ago from a travelling peddler. Varnished when it came into her possession, it has been sitting on the wooden floor of an enclosed verandah and never touched the earth. Sprouts appeared on two of the legs. Mrs. Saranoff was advised to cut all the sprouts but three, and place the legs in a glass jar containing earth and water.—Orillia Packet—Times.

THE NAME ONTARIO

The Five Nations Indians, whose hunting grounds lay along the southern shore of Lake Ontario, between Lake Champion and the Genesee river, were responsible for naming both the lake and the province. The word "Ontario" means beautiful water." The Five Nations Indians numbered among their tribes the Cayuga, Mohawk, Oneida, Onondaga and Senecas. By the Treaty of Paris in 1763 Canada was ceded by France to England, and by the Union Bill of 1841 Upper Canada and Lower Canada were united under the Province of Canada. In 1867 Confederation of the Canadian Provinces took place, whereby Lower Canada took the name of the Province of Quebec, and Upper Canada that of Ontario, after the great lake upon its southern border.

"SMALL-TOWN STUFF"

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

Actually there is nothing inferior about small towns. During the season of the depression they have made a good showing, they have exhibited fewer symptoms of distress than the larger centres; they have retained the management of their own financial affairs.

People who live in small towns are thrown more on their own resources than people of larger cities; they find they must provide their own entertainment for one thing and they do it; they must use the boys of their own town to make a hockey team or a baseball team, and they do it. In the larger places all such service is provided by professional means.

There is much to be said for the small town. So much that it might be well to drop that phrase "small town stuff."

ORIGIN OF THE MACE

The mace, now a symbol of authority for the Speaker of the House of Commons, Lord Mayors, Mayors and other dignitaries, was originally a popular weapon. It was favored by the warlike clergy, to whom the sword was forbidden. Then its use can be traced to the Crusaders, when princes armed their guards with maces as the most convenient weapons to combat the attacks of Assissins. (The Assassins—or Hashashins —were members of a fanatical Eastern sect who doped themselves with the drug hashish before their sorties.) After the crusades, the mace was retained by the followers of kings and princes and so became the symbol of authority as we now know it. The British House of Commons mace, by the way, is the third to be used in Great Britain. The first disappeared after the execution of Charles I; the second, the "bauble" which Cromwell ordered to be removed, passed through various hands and is understood now to be in a museum at Kingston, Jamaica.

REMEMBRANCE DAY FALLS ON SUNDAY THIS YEAR

Remembrance Day falling this year on Sunday (Nov. 11)w ill be celebrated on that day so far as the Department of Secretary of State is concerned. In the case of statutory holidays falling on Sunday, the provision is made that the following Monday will be observed for business purposes. Remembrance Day does not fall into that category.

Celebration of the armistice ending the Great War is the feature of Remembrance Day, and the incidence of its falling on Sunday does not detract but rather adds, in the opinion of State Department officials to the fitness of the day for such observance. Any departure from the provisions in order to provide a business holiday on the following Monday will be a matter for local ruling.

GETTING READY FOR LEISURE

The next generation is going to have more leisure on its hands than any generation in the history of the world. The five-day week is coming, and probably the six-hour day. This will be very different from the times when sixteen hours was regarded as a fair day's work.

This change is all very well for those who know how to use their leisure, but such people are fewer than you might think. Probably you are acquainted with young people who hardly seem to know what to do with a leisure day. Some of them sleep until noon. Some put in their time on detective stories. One young fellow who had an unexpected holiday saw a picture in the forenoon and another in the afternoon. He tried hard to think of some enjoyable way to spend the evening, and finally compromised by seeing another picture.

To get ready for increased leisure, you must widen your circle of interests. You must learn to read something besides detective stories. Outdoor sports, golf, tennis, swimming, skating, hiking, gardening will not only help to pass the time, but will be a valuable aid to health. Learning to use tools, to play a musical instrument, to sketch from nature are all worth-while diversions. Leisure is surely coming, and the people with the one-track minds are going to be in trouble. Prepare now to use the leisure on its way.

WANTED!

Everyone knows about the wailing wall in the city of Jerusalem where the orthodox Jews repair to lament that the city of the fathers is under alien rule. It seems at first thought a quaint idea; but the more one thinks about it, the more one is inclined to believe that this is exactly what is needed in an enormous number of towns. If the girl who has a perpetual grouch because she is not popular, and the youth who believes that he is the victim of injustice because he has never been able to make the football team, had a wailing wall to which they could repair and do their lamenting, how much easier it would make life for their families! This is so because young people who feel that the "breaks" are against them are not going to keep it to themselves. No indeed! They are going to complain, grumble and growl, and in nine cases out of ten, Mother and Dad have to stand the brunt of it.

All that these young people need is a wailing wall, a place where complaints are in order. They can go there to relieve their minds with a select company who are devoting themselves to lamentation. When they have done a good job of it, they will be ready to go home and be agreeable members of the family circle.

MINISTER RECEIVES CALL

It is understood that St. Columba Presbyterian Church at Kirkhill, Glengarry Presbytery, has extended a unanimous call to Rev. A. W. R. MacKenzie of the Spencerville Presbyterian Church.

A GOOD REASON

Man in lift: "Fourth floor, please."

Liftman: "Here you are, son."

Man in lift: "How dare you call me son; you're not my father."

Liftman: "Well, I brought you up, didn't I?"

REV. G. N. MAXWELL CALLED TO LACHINE

A call has been extended to the Rev. G. N. Maxwell, B.A., B.D., of Finch, by the congregation of Grace United Church, Lachine, Que., to become its minister in succession to Rev. R. P. Stafford, who left in June to become assistant at St. James, Montreal.

Mr. Maxwell has been minister of the Finch charge for the past four years, coming from Quebec City where he was immigration chaplain for the United Church. Previous to this he was minister at Merrickville for seven years. He is giving the call favorable consideration, and upon the sanction by the settlement committee, the change will become effective.

LIGHTS ON AUTOMOBILES AND HORSE DRAWN VEHICLES

The law requires that all motor vehicles shall carry two white lights in front and one red light behind, while all other vehicles are also required to carry some form of lighting so that they may be readily seen by approaching motorists. But the vital question is "How many do?" says the Owen Sound Sun-Times.

With the earlier evening of Fall upon us, the need for stricter enforcement of the law in this regard becomes even more important. Short evening drives invariably horse and buggy; the wagon is a lapless horse and buggy; the wagon is a after the supper hour darkness cloaks the mere shadow to the car driver; 'one eyed' motor cars become a great source of worry and a gamble to tell which lamp is lighted and which is not and the car without a tail light is even worse than the unmarked wagon or buggy.

Yet how many of all these types of vehicles does the motorist meet on his little evening jaunts through the country!

"Foolhardy" is a strong word, but there is none better with which to describe the farmer who continues to refuse to carry a lamp of some kind on his wagon or buggy. He is not only risking the lives of other people, but he himself may well pay for his carelessness with his own life. He puts the entire responsibility upon the motorist. One can almost imagine him saying to himself, "Well if he hits me and kills me, it will be his fault. He'll have to stand trial on a charge of reckless driving or manslaughter."

Then there are the offending motorists themselves. And how many of them there are! The other evening while driving through the country, we counted no less than four "one eyed" motor cars within five miles. One of these also had no tail lamp. One was a truck.

Let every motorist check over his or her lights, dim and bright, front and back. And let every farmer have a lamp of some kind on his wagon or buggy every time it is on the road at night.

NAMED FARM RECEIVERS

John W. Stewart, of Lyn, has been appointed official receiver for Leeds county under the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act adopted at Ottawa. C. A. Adams, of Kemptville, is to act in Grenville and Dundas counties, and Ernest Hugson, of Kingston, in Frontenac and Addington counties.

The Family DOCTOR
by JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

SUN-RAY TREATMENT

I have just administered a "carbon-arc" lamp treatment to an office patient, —I must tell you about it.

In this temperature zone climate we have much unsettled weather; many days are cloudy, and our reception of the healthful sun-rays is limited—not enough for our actual need; hence the invention of the artificial "sun-lamp," which brings the wholesome light indoors, to be administered at will, no matter how long the cloudy season.

Patients with anaemia and nervous diseases need light—the sun-rays; apparatus such as mine is used extensively, and, with great benefit in foggy London, by famous specialists. Vast solariums are occupied, giving this artificial sunlight to thousands of anaemic, ill-nourished children, who could not obtain the necessary sunlight otherwise.

The carbon-arc lamp gives about 14 percent of ultra-violet rays which are actively germicidal. I regard this as one of my best pieces of office equipment. Treatments are not expensive. If you have a chronic lumbago, let your doctor give you a dozen ten-minute rayings; sunburn the skin. It will greatly activate the lime salts in the blood, which will improve both blood and nerves.

We seldom get enough sunlight when "out for a walk." For, we are generally so dressed as to keep the sun-rays away from the skin where it is needed; the chief benefit from the walk is, the exercise in breathing and in the muscular exertion.

Light is of great value in maintaining health; we could not live long without sunlight, and, by far the greater number of us do not get half as much of it as we need.

DESERVING PROSPERITY

Everyone is praying for the return of prosperity. The fact of the matter is that some people do not deserve to have it return. When they were prosperous they were even more selfish than they are now when they are hard up. They made money, but they spent it on themselves, spent much of it extravagantly, without either a thought of the future or of those less fortunate than themselves.

When prosperity comes flooding back, some of you young people will benefit by it. You will see your efforts successful, your ventures profitable. It will be well for you then, if you ask yourselves very often and very humbly, whether or not you deserve your share in the prevailing prosperity. If the fact that money is plentiful makes you extravagant and silly, if the fact that you are successful causes your head to swell, if you go on indulging every personal whim and forgetting all about the unfortunates who are to be found even in the most prosperous times, then you will be undeserving of prosperity.

YEAR'S RESIDENCE REQUIRED

A one-year-residence requirement was inserted into Ontario relief regulations by an Order-in-Council passed Monday, and made public Wednesday night by Hon. David Croll, Minister of Welfare and Municipal Affairs. The residence rule governing eligibility for relief in a municipality has been extended to one year, and the municipalities from which relief recipients move after September 1st of this will be liable for the cost of assistance for the same period of time.

TO TEMPT THE INVALID

Never ask a sick person what he wants to eat. It takes away the surprise when the tray comes, and sometimes there is nothing to think about all morning but that tray. Small portions and variety are excellent, and the tray that is neatly arranged, with a little flower on it, or a picture card, is more than appreciated.

TO WASH THE PAINT

A good way to clean white paint is to use paraffin and boiling water, mixed in equal quantities. The mixture must be very hot, and there will be little or no smell afterwards. Dip a piece of flannel in the paraffin and water and rub the paintwork with it. It cleans it like magic.

TOBIN—BARRY

St. Mark's Church, Prescott, was the scene of a very pretty and interesting wedding on Saturday morning when Marion Frances, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barry, of Prescott, was united in marriage to Wilfred James Tobin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tobin, of Kemptville. Rev. Father Mea officiated.

COLLIGAN—EASTER

A pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized in St. Mark's church in Prescott, on Saturday morning, September 29th, at 10 o'clock when Miss Evelyn (Nan) Easter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Easter, of Prescott, became the bride of Gerald Colligan, son of Thomas Colligan, of Morrisburg, Ont. Father Briceland officiated and celebrated a nuptial mass.

THE LATE DR. S. WESLEY FENTON

Death removed a well-known resident of Kemptivlle last week in the person of Dr. S. Wesley Fenton. Dr. Fenton, who had been a veterinary surgeon almost all his life, had been confined to his bed for some time past and though suffering a great deal had show great fortitude and patience. He was well known throughout the entire district and was a jovial and pleasant person to know. His father and grandfather also followed the veterinary profession. The late Dr. Fenton was born in Kemptville and was in his 74th year. He was twice married.

THE INEVITABLE RESULT OF CRIME

The arm of the law is long, and many striking examples of this fact are being witnessed at the present time in Canada and the United States. Two years after the kidnapping of the two-year-old child of Charles Lindbergh, the citizens of the United States had retained nothing but memories of the case—not so the police. The result is that Bruno Hauptmann, a German carpenter, is behind the bars in a New York jail awaiting trial for his life, while the authorities diligently search for possible accomplices.

The hue and cry died away eventually, after weeks and months of feverish search. Police officials were strongly criticized for the manner in which they had handled the case and it was felt that crime and the underworld had scored a triumph. Such is not proving to be the case and every day more evidence is being ferreted out by keen-eyed detectives, pointing to Hauptmann and a successful termination to the slaying. Justice will prevail and the futility of crime becomes more apparent.

Canadians pride themselves on the efficiency and speed with which criminals are brought to task in the Dominion. The R. C. M. P. have become famous throughout the world for their determination to combat crime and the thoroughness with which this job is being done. An acid test is at present facing the Canadian authorities. In a Detroit jail is a man by the name of Misener, awaiting and at the same time fighting extradition, charged with being implicated in the kidnapping of John S. Labatt, wealthy Canadian brewer. His reasons for combatting extradition are that he is afraid of receiving unfair treatment in the Canadian courts. Such may indeed be his opinion, but we are prone to believe that Misener fears plain British justice meted out by a judge, who is unbiased in his opinions and uninfluenced by politics or other external forces. In other words, he is afraid of getting a fair trial with no strings attached.

Months have elapsed since an employee of the Bank of Nova Scotia was held up and robbed of a large sum of money while returning from Morewood to Chesterville in this district. One of his assailants was apprehended shortly after, but the other remained at large. Eventually the long arm of the law struck and the second man found himself in custody of the Toronto police two weeks ago. Justice had triumphed, for there is, in reality, no escape.

We might continue to cite cases by the dozens to illustrate the point, and yet this fact does not seem to be accepted by the criminally inclined—crime does not pay! Freedom may be enjoyed for a time, if such it may be called, but sooner or later comes a tap on the shoulder and the law scores a victory.

While the great majority of citizens realize the certainty of punishment that follows crime, the cases which are now before the courts of Canada and the United States confirm it in no uncertain manner and should act as a definite check on those who either have entered or are contemplating a life of wrong-doing.

CONSUMPTION VS MODERATION

There is no doubt but that drunkenness has greatly increased throughout this province since the introduction of the new beer and wine legislation. It is senseless to expect that otherwise should be the case. The increase, however, has been so startling in its proportions that citizens everywhere are becoming wide-awake to the evils of the new system and in many places, steps are being taken to "stem the tide."

Three months have scarcely elapsed since the taps were first turned in the new beverage rooms and already the hours of sale have been reduced in many towns and villages, and others are following their example all the time. In Smiths Falls a strong agitation is on foot to bring about local option in that place and abolish the new system completely. Perth is endeavouring to accomplish the same move and has made excellent progress towards that end.

Such movements are not being wholly supported by temperance cranks, but by citizens who have the welfare of the town at heart, even above personal prejudices and motives. They realize that things are worse now than before the system was inaugurated, and they are anxious to rectify the situation at once.

The object of the new law, of course, is to teach moderation, and by placing beer and wine on sale in all standard hotels throughout the province, not handicapped by local option, to discourage their consumption. It sounds reasonable, doesn't it?

The fact nevertheless remains, that in spite of the object of the law, and the benefits that, it was thought, would be derived—drunkenness is on the increase and consumption is not showing any signs of being on the down grade. These facts must be very discouraging to the government, and to the brewers who, no doubt, have the interests of the citizenry at heart as they pour more beer and wine upon the market in their efforts to teach the people moderation.

Four years of the present beer and wine law, however, should be sufficient experience for the majority of the people, and the electors of this province may then decide that restricted sale as under the L. C. A. tends towards moderation to an even greater degree than the brewers would like to believe.

OUR CANADIAN HERITAGE

More and more the people of Canada are coming to realize that they have in the history of their Dominion, a heritage to be proud of. They are being convinced that Canada, while still an inseparable unit in the British Empire, has reached maturity with a history of its own, a will of its own, and a destiny of its own. In view of this, most of us will endorse Senator P. Graham's address to the Association of Canadian Clubs, in which he said that every student in Canada should be versed in Canadian history and examined on it and that one of the qualifications for office in a Canadian Club should be the ability to talk on Canadian history once a month. There is no doubt that there is a deficient knowledge of Canadian history on the part of our people. Senator Graham recalls a graduate fresh from the University whose training, since leaving elementary school, had included no Canadian history. We cannot foster true patriotism or national pride under these circumstances. Yet one of the elements in a nation's greatness is the love for and pride in one's own country.

A greater knowledge of Canada given to children by means of vibrant and interestingly told text books, which will continue through elementary and on to furthering schools, would soon rear a generation of the right sort of patriots. Also missionary work among newcomers to the Dominion and education of the general public by magazine and newspaper articles, and by the work of social and patriotic organizations would have fruitful results.

History, like charity, should begin at home.—Canadian Statesman.

PARTYISM IS PROVING A CURSE

We are heartily in accord with the sentiments expressed by the Simcoe Reformer when it says:

"It would occasion no great surprise in many quarters if Canada had a National Government after the next federal election. The idea has taken root and is receiving the influential support of many outstanding Canadians. It does not require an acute observer to foresee that Canada's vexing national problems such as unemployment relief and the railways, can never be appreciably alleviated, much less solved, under the system of party government as currently practised in Canada. Each of the major parties has had its chance to remedy conditions and neither has recorded any conspicuous success in the matter of reducing taxation, stemming the recurrent increases in bonded indebtedness or attempting a solution of the railway enigma. Partyism is proving a curse to Canada in this critical time and only through a National Government can it be avoided."

EDITORIAL NOTES

While few people may realize the fact, a provincial Cabinet minister properly holds the title of "Honourable," only so long as he enjoys office. The defeat of his government or his retirement from office automatically means relinquishment of the title. And this, of course, is as it should be, otherwise the distinction would mean very little, for in the course of a few years, "Honourables" would be as common as mud, in the various provinces.

Colonel W. H. Price, K.C., had the proper idea when he established a law practice in Toronto recently. His shingle carries the very plain inscription: "Mr. William H. Price, K. C."

If you are driving on the highway after dark, be sure that your vehicle is equipped with a light. Numerous accidents have been caused recently through failure of some persons to comply with the law in this respect. Fog during the autumn nights makes it increasingly difficult to see the road ahead and greatly increases the danger of accidents. Be sure of your safety—carry a light always!

Two men from Perth report having seen a jet black crow with pure white wings near Otty Lake. Is it any wonder the Perth Council are requesting that hours of sale in beverage rooms be reduced after that one!

It has been said that jazz music has done more to abolish the practice of binding the feet among Chinese women than any other single factor, including the missionaries. This brings out the fact quite clearly that "it is an ill wind which blows nobody good."

INQUEST POSTPONED

The inquest into the death of Patrick Moran, who was instantly killed in a motor accident on the Winchester-Chesterville road recently, has been postponed for three weeks, owing to the inability of witnesses to be in attendance.

WEDDING CRITICIZED

Criticism is being voiced by the Lambton Presbytery of the United Church because a minister of that church performed a wedding ceremony in front of the grandstand at the Leamington Fall Fair recently.

A REMINDER

It pleases us to remind our readers that we are now in the month of October, and on October 24th, 1933, this district was blanketed with six or eight inches of snow, and it stayed by us until April of this year. Weather predictions are coming into prominence once again and all of them indicate beyond doubt that we are due to have winter before another three months are past. They are equally emphatic in their statements that winter will be followed by spring along in April —and we are quite in accord. Other than that, the forecasts of the weather by our learned patriarchs are just so much guess-work!

APPRECIATES GOOD WORK

A clergyman in a neighbouring town wrote the Press stating that he had heard of the good printing turned out from this office, and asking quotations. He wanted letter heads, envelopes, etc. We quoted regular prices and received the order, and promptly shipped it. This is the kind of reply we received in appreciation: "I am well pleased with all of your work and I wish to thank you most sincerely for same, and for completing order within so short a time." The Press appreciates very much such acknowledgements. We pride ourselves on the class of job printing we turn out and the fact that orders come from many outside towns is evidence that our work is appreciated.

NO WONDER HE FELT AND LOOKED SO MUCH BETTER

Half in fun and half because he occasionally "felt punk", a college chap joined 39 other students to form a test class or clinic. It was desired to test on this class the recuperative power of a certain tonic preparation, the formula of which was known to have blood-building qualities.

Like the other 39, this young man's blood was tested and the "count" of red corpuscles and red colouring matter was found well below normal. No wonder he "felt punk" at times. He was given the tonic and returned in thirty days to have his blood tested again. There was no doubt about improved health. He looked it and felt it. His blood test showed that red corpuscles and red colouring matter had strikingly increased. No wonder he felt and looked so much better.

Would you like to feel better, too? Would you like to be keen again about study or work or play? Then take this "tested tonic" which proved such a benefit to the forty college students. It restores well-being by increasing the red corpuscles and red colouring matter of the blood—those carriers in the blood stream which must be kept up to normal numbers if the person is to possess health and vitality. This tested tonic is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Easy to take whether at home, at college or at business. Recommended for all who feel run-down, over-tired, nervous or "low", or are under-weight. Your druggist has this tested tonic—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, price 50c.

The evening was spent in games and singing. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr were asked to come to the dining room where they opened their many useful gifts. Mr. Kerr, in a few well chosen words, thanked the young people for their remembrances and invited all to come again.

After singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," lunch was served by Misses Lulu Barker, Violet VanAllen, Evelyn Cheney, and Messrs. Ken. Cameron and C. W. VanAllen. Farewell Party

On Friday evening the Jolly Set met at the home of Mrs. F. R. Barriger and presented her with a silver bon-bon dish and the following address.

Dear Mrs. Barriger:

We, the members of the Jolly Set have learned with much regret of your intended departure from among us. Words fail to express how much we shall miss you in time to come, as you were always ready and willing to do your part at any time, or place, even in the kitchen making soup for the hungry band.

While we still regret your leaving, we hope the distance will not be too great but you will, at times, be able to join the Set. As a token of our love and a reminder of the jolly times we have spent together, we ask you to please accept this little gift, and when you are enjoying the dainties it holds, remember that you are still one of the fold. Our best wishes will accompany you to your new home.

Mountain Anniversary Services

The Mountain Anniversary services of Mountain United Church were held on Sunday morning at 11 a. m. and evening at 7.30 o'clock. Both services were well attended.

Rev. C. C. Gilbert, of Maynard, was the guest speaker. His text for the morning was taken from John 17: verse 19, "And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth."

Special music was rendered by the choir, an anthem entitled, "I will lift up my eyes." A quartette composed of Messrs. Stanley Wallace, Thomas Fergus, Clair and Allan VanAllen, sang, "Come Spirit Come." The following hymns were sung during the morning service: "O for a thousand tongues to sing," "Come ye thankful people, come," "A charge to keep I have."

The evening service opened with the doxology, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." The address of the evening was "Repentance," found in Acts 17; verse 30, "And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent."

The choir rendered, "Oh, what a friend," "Love Divine," and the male quartette, "One sweetly solemn thought." The hymns were: "All hail the power of Jesus name," "Jesus calls us," and "Just as I am."

Mrs. Andrew Logan presided at the organ during both services.

On Monday evening the annual anniversary supper was held in the I. O. O. F. hall. The supper was conducted by the men of the congregation. Greetings were brought from sister churches by Rev. D. Morrison, and Rev. Mr. McConnell. Address by Rev. A. O. Lloyd and special music by Bell Street United church choir of Ottawa, under the capable leadership of Mr. McCormick, were given. Selections were given, during the program, by the choir, Ladies' Trio and Master Billy Richards on his violin. In addition there were comic duets, solos and readings. Rev. W. R. Johnston acted as chairman.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Canned Food

If a can has a bulgy appearance or emits gas when punctured, throw it away. Do not risk eating it.

Making Fowl More Tender

When you boil a fowl add a pinch of bicarbonate of soda to the water. This makes it exceptionally tender.

Fish Cakes

When using up cold cooked fish for fish cakes, try shredding it with a fork. If it is cut with a knife, it is liable to become heavy.

French Dressing

Do not throw away the vinegar from bottle pickles, but save it and use when making French dressing. It will add a pungent, spicy flavor.

To Soften Lemons

Lemons that have been kept too long and have hardened can be softened by covering with boiling water and standing on the back of the stove for a few minutes.

Storing Preserves, Etc.

Never store preserves, pickles or jams on the top shelf or store-board or pantry. Keep them lower down, as hot air rises and may induce fermentation.

It was during the war. A patriotic woman, visiting a farm, noted a stalwart young man milking. "See here young man! Why aren't you at the front?" she demanded.

"Well," said the milker, "I guess its mostly because this cow ain't any different from any other cow!"

BOYHOOD AMBITION

Teacher—Johnnie, what is your greatest ambition?

Johnny—To wash mother's face.

LIFE

Life is like a journey
Taken on a train,
With a pair of travellers
At each window pane.
I may sit beside you
All the journey through,
Or I may sit elsewhere,
Never knowing you.
But if fate should mark me
To sit by your side,
Let's be pleasant travellers,
It's so short a ride.
—Author Unknown.

EVERYDAY SUGGESTIONS

Cheerful is your day all through
If started with a smile or two.
Clean and keen go well together,
Keep you fit for any weather.
Dilligent at play or work,
You can never be a shirk.
Fair in everything you do,
Makes your friends all proud of you.
Consider how others feel,
That's the only way to deal.
Unselfish in your thoughts and deeds,
Helping others meet their needs.
Obedient at the daily tasks,
Quick to serve when someone asks.
Truthful always and sincere,
Keeps you free and conscience clear.

BORDERLAND

There is a mystic Borderland that lies
Just past the limit of our work-day world,
And it is peopled with the friends we met
And loved a year, a month, a week or day,
And parted from with aching hearts, yet knew
That through the distance we must lose the hold
Of hand with hand, and only clasp the thread of memory.

But still so close we feel this land,
So sure are we that these same hearts are true,
That when in waking dreams there comes a call
That sets the thread of memory aglow,
We know that just by stretching out the hand
In written word of love or book or flower
The waiting hand will clasp our own once more
Across the silence in the same old way.
—E. B. Browning.

OCTOBER

I would know it is October,
By the blueness of the sky;
By the fleecy clouds that loiter;
By the maple keys that fly
On light, gauzy wings before me,
As I tread the golden ways,
Drinking in sublimest beauty,
Of these Indian Summer days.

It is folly to be hurried
In these days of languid peace;
For all Nature now is resting,
Why should man find no release?
Thus, I pause a while to gather,
Scarlet leaves, beneath a tree,
Where they lay in crimson splendour,
Understanding eyes, to see.

Yes, I know it is October,
For the chestnut burrs are down;
Laughing at me from the pavement,
Shine the auburn nuts—red-brown;
Till I feel the thrill of childhood,
As I touch, in Autumn days,
Maple leaves, and nut brown chestnuts,
While the winter frost delays.

Could I choose a place to wander?
I would take the amber fields;
And would ask for nothing lovelier
Than October's banquet yields;
Where a shadowed river winding,
Mirrors trees of brilliant hue,
Flaunting all their gorgeous colors
'Neath a sky of densest blue.

Where the hill's encircling pageant
Lifts my eyes above the sod,
I an find in their great beauty,
Every attribute of God.
As the fires of Autumn, burning,
Send their incense to the skies,
There I kneel to the Creator,
As the Autumn slowly dies.
—Ethel May Hall.

WE GO THIS WAY BUT ONCE

We go this way but once, O heart of mine,
So why not make the journey well worth while,
Giving to those who travel on with us,
A helping hand, a word of cheer, a smile?

We go this way but once, ah never more
Can we go back along the self-same way,
To get more out of life, undo the wrongs,
Or speak love's words we knew but did not say.

We go this way but once; then let us make
The road we travel blossomy and sweet
With helpful, kindly deeds and tender words
Smoothing the path of bruised and stumbling feet.

AUTUMN

There is something in the autumn
That inspires every soul
That has never yet been written
Nor infolded in a scroll.
It is more than golden sunshine,
It is more than pleasant days,
There is something in the autumn
Luring to so many ways.

Makes us want to take a journey,
To the highest hilltops where
In the fullness of life's freedom
We may breathe its pure air
Makes us feel like going somewhere
Just to wander to an fro
Where the tinted ranges beckon
Come, I say, and let us go.

Now we're off for distant hilltops
Where our feet have never stood
Halting not for rippling streamlets
Pausing not for shady wood,
Seeking still that mystic somewhere,
For the which our spirits sighed
To return again at evening
Just as much dissatisfied.
—E. Robeson.

WHAT BECOMES OF A LIE

First, somebody told it,
Then the room wouldn't hold it,
So the busy tongues rolled it,
Till they got it outside;
When the crowd came across it,
And never once lost it,
They tossed it and tossed it,
Till it grew long and wide.

From a very small lie, sir,
It grew deep and high, sir,
Till it reached to the sky, sir,
And frightened the moon;
For she hid her sweet face, sir,
In the vail of a cloud of lace, sir,
At the dreadful disgrace, sir,
That happened at noon.

This lie brought forth others,
Dark sisters and brothers,
And fathers and mothers—
A terrible crew,
And while headlong they hurried,
The people they flurried,
And troubled and worried,
As lies always do.

And so, evil-boded,
This monstrous lie goaded,
Till at last it exploded,
In smoke and in shame;
While from mud and from mire,
The pieces flew higher,
And hit the sad liar
And killed his good name.
—New York Evening Post.

THE BOOK

. . . . . the first line of which reads, "The Holy Bible," and which contains Four Great Treasures . . . . . .

by BRUCE BARTON

A BOOK IS STARTED

FROM Athens Paul went to Corinth, then the Panama of the ancient world where a boom was in progress waiting a government appropriation for the digging of the canal, which had still to wait seventeen hundred years. Bachelor as he was, Paul utilized more than any of the other apostles the abilities of women. In Corinth he was fortunate in finding a woman of talent, Priscilla, who with her husband, Aquila, took him in. He and they were tentmakers and worked together; and Paul soon began to gather converts. The orthodox ruler of the synagogue, Sosthenes, did not like the way things were going and stirred up a crowd which hurried Paul before the Roman deputy, with the characteristically intolerant charge:

Bruce Barton

> This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

The deputy, Gallio, was brother to the philosopher Seneca and a man of solid common sense.

> And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:
> But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law; look yet to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.
> And he drave them from the judgment seat.

With characteristic fickleness the crowd now turned on Sosthenes and administered a sound beating, which was in process when Gallio stepped out of the court room:

> And Gallio cared for none of those things.

Paul, who had been beaten repeatedly and once stoned and left for dead, rather enjoyed the spectacle, and the thrashing did Sosthenes good, for he subsequently became a convert. Indeed, when Paul was at Ephesus a few years later Sosthenes was with him and appears in the enviable position of joint author of the letter to the home folk, the Corinthians:

> Paul, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sosthenes our brother,
> Unto the church of God which is at Corinth.

Sometimes it takes a sound beating to open a hard-shelled mind to new truth, and the subsequent results may be of great benefit.

It was in Corinth that Paul developed what came to be his method: simply to move along the Roman roads from city to city, selecting important and favorable centers and "digging in" for a stay of considerable length, and establishing a work that would radiate in different directions through the agency of his own helpers and such visitors as came to see him and took away with them the essentials of his message.

But another thing happened in Corinth in that autumn, a momentous thing. There the New Testament began to be written.

THIS HERE WORLD OF TO-DAY

The insurance companies employ men who spent their lives doing sums, working out statistics. It must, as every schoolboy will agree, be an awful life. One of these makers of statistics employ- by a big insurance company in New York, taking a mass of figures over many years and boiling them down into hard facts, reported this:

"What happens to 100 average men of 25 upon reaching the age of 65?

"Only one will be wealthy;

"Four will be well-to-do and able to enjoy comfort and recreation;

"Five will be working for a living, with no prospect of relief from drudgery;

"Thirty-five will have died, in many cases leaving families enduring hardship;

"Fifty-five will be dependent upon friends or relatives or charity."

This statement has been republished by different insurance companies and there is reason to believe that the records of all old insurance companies would verify the figures given. Life runs about like that. Fifty-five men out of a hundred inherit nothing, except debts. They have to help support their parents and ,eventually, they have to be supported by their children. This goes on one generation after another. A man grows prosperous, does well, but he does not nail anything down so that he can't lose it, and some day he is "visiting" one of his daughters, cutting the dandelions, pruning the rose bushes and waiting for the last trumpet to sound. As the advertisements say, he should have taken out life insurance on the endowment plan or invested in annuities. He should have made hay while the sun was shining

What however can we say for an economic system which makes one man in a hundred wealthy, four well-to-do, and the rest of them men who, in the material sense, have worked and lived in vain—that is to say, that they finish no better than they started.

Those who say that the present economic system—with the cleverest stealing all the cream and the greediest stealing nearly all the meat—is not good enough are probably right.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By John Hix

For further proof address the author inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Strange as it seems, the old Home Insurance Building, which was torn down a few years ago in Chicago, was the first skyscraper in the world—but nobody was sure of it until the building was torn down. The age of the building was a matter of record, of course, but architectural authorities disagreed on its qualifications as a skyscraer until wrecking crews exposed its frame of metal beams.

A skyscraper is, according to the definition used by builders, a building so constructed that the load of the walls and floors is maintained by a rigid metal framework or cage, the sidewall masonry carrying none of the load. You can build a tall building and still not have a skyscraper.

The distinction of being the first such building was claimed for several old structures, but investigation showed that they did not meet the requirements above. The Home Insurance Building, built 50 years ago, was found to be the first. Originally a 10-storey building, it was later increased to 12. A special committee investigated its structure as it was being torn down.

Official regulations of the Royal Canadian military forces prior to 1918 required that all men grow moustaches. The wearing of a beard was prohibited—as were trick moustaches. Men were under orders to shave the chin, but not the upper liv—not even part of it.

Since 1918 each man may decide for himself about the extent of his shaving.

"THE TALE CARRIER"

In early childhood we learned to dislike the lad who "carried tales," and he was shunned by his playmates. It was seldom he fought his own battles, and there was never a real boy who passed through school without an occasional argument.

Later, as youth approached, the "tale carrier" was easily distinguishable. He had that sheepish look which accompanies an uncertainty of purpose. He had few friends because he could not be depended upon. He failed to play the game. He rapidly developed a complex.

Thrown upon the world, only partly educated, because, after all, education is more than letters, the child "tale carrier" has not learned to stand squarely on both feet and take his knocks with the compensating pleasures in life, and the complex grows with his stature. His "backbone" however, fails to keep up with the rest of his physical development, and his brain, having little or no support, seems to settle down at the rear, leaving an expanse of frontal features, most prominent of which is an opening from whence issues infamous and frequently libelous words, the sole expression of his cowardly, undeveloped intellect.

It is fortunate, indeed, that there are really few "tale carriers" in this world in which we live. The inclination of the child more often than not is corrected before it becomes a handicap to him, but when the efforts of parents and teachers fail, and the child becomes an adult, still imbued with the idea that the world is against him, in order to make himself appear intellectual in the eyes of an unsuspecting populace, he again fails to fight his own battles and still "carries tales," exaggerated tales, false tales, any tale, defeating his own purpose, and is more to be pitied than condemned. Nevertheless he is a menace to community life, and as such should be checked.—The Canadian Stateman, Bowmanville.

4-H CLUB NEWS

CLUB VISITS CANADA

One of the happiest days spent by members of the Langdon Corners 4-H Club of St. Lawrence county, New York, was the day they and ten older people and friends made a trip to Ottawa, Canada. Ottawa is the seat of the government of Canada, and an old and interesting city situated on the Ottawa river. In making the trip the party had the pleasure of crossing the St. Lawrence river and passing through for about two hours the picturesque country of eastern Ontario.

It required some money to make the trip and the club started raising this last winter. A picnic dinner and supper were enjoyed enroute. Every detail worked out perfectly due to competent leadership and careful planning made possible by the organization.

Nearly everyone wants to experience the thrill of getting to some high point for a view on trips of this kind, so the first thing the party did was to go to the top of Peace Tower, some 400 feet above the city. When all had surveyed the city and scenery from this vantage point to their satisfaction the party took an inventory of the 53 bells of the tower which strike the time of day and night, and chime out tunes on occasion.

The gradeur of the Senate Chamber and the House of Commons greatly surpassed anything the members of the party had ever seen, stated the Club reporter in the account of the trip to home folks. They were much fascinated by the Library and the elaborate carvings of its interior. It was the sole building of the government group saved from the disastrous fire of 1916.

Leaving Parliament Hill, as the government headquarters is called, the party went to the National Museum, the dignity and beauty of which left a lasting picture in the minds of the visitors. They were especially impressed with the Indian and Eskimo exhibits and also those of prehistoric animals. Among last visited points were the great Union Station of the government railway, a famous hotel known as Chateau Laurier, and the drive along the Rideau Canal. This has been handsomely landscaped with shrubs and flowers to make it an artistic asset, and gave an example of what a city can do to transform an ordinarily ugly feature into one of beauty and admiration.

BOYS SHOW THE WAY

Thousands of 4-H club boys are showing their Dads a thing or two about the value of keeping certain records on the operations and business transactions of their farms. These boys have had more or less experience keeping records on their own projects and have come to realize that without the records they would have been at sea in trying to fix a value on the results. Farming is just as much in need of records, since running a farm is nothing more than conducting a number of projects closely resembling the projects of club members.

Many state club leaders have given the keeping of 4-H records a new value by making provisions for club members to keep books for their parents as a part of their club work. Iowa is an example. In Scott County 25 boys are keeping complete records of their home fathers kept such records. This is the first year for this partnership record keeping in Iowa and the test is being watched with interest.

Tennessee state club leaders report that in a few counties as many as 40 boys are keeping records of their home farms, and farmers are finding that the information is necessary to work along with the Agricultural Adjustment program. This requires that all who sign contracts for reduced production furnish "proof of compliance" to the authorities.

One of the reasons for more general adoption of account keeping by farm people is that simple record books are now available—books that even a young person can keep. One of the nation's foremost business men and leaders in agricultural education, Alexander Legge, said on many occasions that the great need of the farmer and small business man was a system of record keeping. He attributed a large percentage of failures in both cases to the

PREDICTS COLD HARD WINTERS FOR FIVE YEARS

Cold, hard winters are in prospect for Eastern United States for the next five years or so in the opinion of the master minds of weather.

One forecaster, more pessimistic than other colleagues whose predictions were included in a symposium made public recently, went so far as to assert that for ten years cold winters and dry summers may be expected. One dissented from the majority opinion .

Most of the weather men based their prognostications on the old law of averages. The forecasters held a convention last Wednesday. Here are some typical predictions:

Henry J. Baldwin, forecaster for the state forestry department, Hillsboro, N. H.,: "We had several mild winters in a row, therefore we should expect several severe ones. Last summer's drought was followed by heavy snowfall and cold. We have had abnormally high temperatures and drought again this year."

Delos H. Wray, Rochester, N.Y., meteorologist: "The winter will be cold, with heavy snow or rain. We have had a dry, hot summer, so the twelve months must average up, making a wet, cold winter.

F. C. Wray, Rochester, N.Y., meteorologist: "We will have cold winters and dry summers for ten years, past records in the rings of the cross-sections of trees would indicate."

Harry H. Poppenhaver, Philadelphia, meteorologist: "I feel the coming season will be as severe as the last one, with plenty of snow and ice. I believe winters will be severe for at least five years.

T. E. Reid, U. S. weather bureau meteorologist, Binghampton, N. Y.; "Personally, I do not look for a severe winter. The unprecedented droughts in the western districts this summer and other inviting factors that appear to be favourable, including the unusually long heat spells experienced in the western states, favour a severe winter in the western portions of the country in marked contrast to the mild winter that prevailed throughout the western states during the past season. Thus, a severe winter in the western districts would almost invariably result in a mild winter in the north and middle Atlantic states."

FARM BUILDING NEAR IROQUOIS DESTROYED

A spectacular sight was that of the burning of the extensive barn of Ralph J. Thompson, near Iroquois, at three a.m. Sunday morning. The building was full to the peak with hay, grain and straw, the summer's produce. A farm seeder and a rubber-tired buggy could not be removed as the flames spread quickly and lighted the country for miles around.

The fire had made considerable headway before it was noticed by a neighbor who gave the alarm and the building was totally demolished. It was covered by a fair insurance.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Rev Charles E. Dunn

The Christian and His Bible
Lesson for October 14th. Acts 8:26 39.
Golden Text: Psalm 119-97

The story of Philip and the Ethiopian is very appealing. The picture of the eunuch seated in his chariot reading the prophecy of Isaiah, with the apostle beside him in the act of interpretation, appeals strongly to one's imagination.

Rev. Chas. E. Dunn

Now many folk today are quite as puzzled when they read the Bible as was this Ethiopian. Their problem may be stated as follows. "Why should we go to the Bible for guidance, a book written centuries ago when life was so vastly different? Why not face our perplexities head-on, with our own vigor of mind and soul?"

Prof. Mary Lyman, of Union Seminary, has given an effective answer. She points out that the Bible has the advantage over contemporary culture in that it presents the issues of life in a simple and vivid form. Our age is enormously confused and complicated. In Bible times folk lived and thought more directly and naturally than they do now. It is a genuine help to begin with a simple, clear outlook of the Good Book.

Then, too, the Bible is essentially picturesque and dramatic. We can easily agree with Mrs. Lyman that pictures and drama are more convincing than argument, however skilful. Think of the amazing success of the Negro Bible play, "The Green Pastures," which ran for a full year and a half in New York before packed houses.

And we must remember that the Bible, in striking fashion, combines successfully the particular and the universal. Although written thousands of years ago from an entirely different background from that of today, it is as fresh and timely as ever.

Let us then learn to love the Book of Life until we can say with a full heart our Golden Text, "O how love I thy law! It is my meditation all the day."

FARM HOME DESTROYED

Fire on Tuesday afternoon last destroyed the farm home of Donald McGillivary, west of Gallingertown in the township of Williamsburg. The fire is said to have started from the stove-pipes and before help could arrive, was out out of control, although the contents were saved. The building was of log and frame construction and insurance of $500 was carried.

BIG MANGEL

The farmers thoughout this district may grow mangels, but James Utman of Mountain Township grows real ones, if he has many of the same type as he sent to the Press Office. This "giant" is 31 inches in length and tips the scales at approximately 25 pounds. If any agriculturalist thinks he can grow mangels, we would advise him to get in touch with Mr. Utman and take a few lessons on the finer points of mangel-growing.

DUNDAS AN OCEAN BED

According to a writer in the Cornwall paper the County of Dundas, years and years ago, yes perhaps a million years ago, was an ocean bed; and the writer claims that there is evidence in the way of whale bones, and other pre-historic substances, that go to prove the theory correct. Who knows? Scientists have recently discovered stars in the eternal space that if their heat once reached the earth it would crumble it into dust, and we would all be out of existence. In the meantime we know that Dundas is a pretty productive county, that its inhabitants are not bothering so much about what was here a million years ago as they are as to how they are to raise the money to pay their taxes in December. We also know by actual conditions that if we do not put in a supply of wood or coal or oil, the coming winter will be very uncomfortable, and there may be times when we would wish that the county of Dundas was again an ocean bed. Incidentally we might add that if you have any spare time to devote to such unprofitable research, you might look about you and see where a little help would bring sunshine where there is gloom.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING

The annual meeting of the Winchester Branch was held last evening in the United Church S. S. rooms with the president, Mr. J. Elnaugh, in charge. Isa. 35 was read by Rev. J. McKay, after which prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Wood.

The financial report and minutes of last year's meeting was read by the Secretary, Mrs. O. Wallace. The sum of $169.89 was collected in the past year and $26.03 was received from the Sunday night offering during Old Home Week, making a total of $195.92. The same president and secretary were appointed for the ensuing year and many of the collector's consented to act again.

Rev. W. F. Crawford spoke a few words of appreciation of the good work done for the Bible Society in Winchester, and introduced Rev. J. B. Armour who gave an interesting illustrated talk on "Places Sacred in Translation Story." Beautiful views were shown of churches, cathedrals, etc., of England, Scotland, Ireland and Germany—the home of Martin Luther.

The president voiced the appreciation of the audience for this wonderful lecture and Rev. J. McKay closed with prayer.

The collectors will soon call upon the people for their annual offering for this work.

to-morrow. Since leaving Fort McMurry on Friday morning we have travelled about 1200 miles by plane and we have about 500 more. Yesterday our first stop was Fitzgerald and next Hay River. The weather looked kind of squally so we stayed all night with one of the locals, a man by the name of Jack Cameron. I borowed an Eiderdown and had a sleep. To-day we made our first stop at Fort Providence and then Fort Simpson, and had dinner at the next stop, Fort Wrigley, and tonight at Fort Norman. The boys are afraid of a freeze-up at Aklavik and expect to turn right around, so in order to get this letter out I will have to have it ready for the return trip as soon as we land. I found out something. That is, don't send me too many heavy parcels. They cost $2.70 per lb., whether they be papers or otherwise. Papers from the publishers come on their regular postage but if you send them it is $2.70 per lb. So you had better have subscriptions sent to me direct only. Lots of experiences, lots of odd faces and varieties of people. Everyone is glad to see you and want to know all they can about what you are going to do, really very friendly.

Well, I must close for now. I am feeling fine and expect everything will be fine with me. I hope you will be all in good shape for the winter. Write often and tell me all about it.

The world's peace was seriously threatened on Tuesday, when King Alexander I of Yugo-Slavia and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France were slain, the victims of an assassin's bullets.

Within a few hours of his landing in France on a mission which was believed to have been one of the most important steps towards cementing the peace of Europe, the King was dead, after a fusillade of shots had been poured into the car in which he was riding, by Petrus Kaleman, an alleged Yugo-Slavian.

A further rumor is that the officials left in the Parliament building at Toronto are kept so busy arranging new appointments that public business has to wait their convenience. But of course there are those who say there is simply no foundation for such reports.

SURPRISE PARTY HELD

The spacious home of Mr .and Mrs. R. B. Casselman, Cass Bridge, was the scene of a very happy event on Friday evening last when about seventy-five friends and neighbours gathered at a surprise party in honor of their son, Lloyd, who was celebrating his 20th birthday.

The guests gathered about 8 p.m., the guest of honour having been away visiting friends during the day and the entire assembly met him upon his return.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers, while a large birthday cake adorned with candles occupied the centre of the tea-table, also in pink and white colour scheme.

The evening was spent in games and dancing, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames McDiarmid, Thos. Johnston, Misses Gladys Cooke and Madeline Fawcett. The festivities then continued until an early hour.
