FIRE DESTROYS HANESVILLE HOME

Fire completely destroyed the former J. P. Murray store at Hanesville on Monday night, leaving two families homeless. Mr and Mrs. Kennedy and Paul and David Murray occupied the building. Iroquois Fire Department received the call around 11 p.m. but were unable to save the frame building. It is suspected the fire started from a space heater, and no estimate of damage was given. A small amount of furniture was all that could be saved from the flames. The photo shows the smouldering ruins in the rain Tuesday morning.

Scout Leaders Meet

Scoutmasters, committeemen and officials of St. Lawrence District, Boy Scouts of Canada, met Monday evening at the United Church in Iroquois for reports, business, planning and fellowship. President Bill Sheldrick of Morrisburg called the meeting to order and greeted the representatives from the several communities. Regional Commissioner John Pettifer of Smiths Falls was introduced, and spoke briefly, thanking and congratulating the people of the District for their leadership and cooperation. Scout troops and Wolf Cub packs from the communities of Prescott, Johnstown, Cardinal, Iroquois, Morrisburg, Chesterville, Winchester, Kemptville, Spencerville and Roebuck were registered for the year 1974 by their respective representatives. Winter plans discussed and tentative dates set included Winter Sprots Day, "Klondike Derby", and Scouters' dinner-dance. Fifty district leaders were in attendance.

Santa Claus Is Coming To Town

Santa Claus will come to Iroquois on Sat. Dec. 15th this year. He will parade through the shopping plaza and all around the town. When he gets to the Legion Hall, he will visit with all the good little girls and boys and give out candy and gifts.

The parade is organized and sponsored by the Legion, Lions, Local 478 UTWA and Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion. These people need the participation of the business community of Iroquois to make the parade a success. We ask you to please put an entryinto the parade whether it be an elaborate display or a vehicle with the season's greetings and the name of the business on it. Please help to welcome that jolly gentleman.

Pleasant Program For W.I. Members

Mrs. O. Summers, convener of Public Relations, was in charge of the programme of the Iroquois Women's Institute at their monthly meeting held in the Civic Centre.

Mrs. Summers introduced Michael Fox and Jill and Donald Marston, who entertained the members with piano solos.

Rev. Allan Rogers was the guest speaker and chose as his subject "Friendship", emphasizing the importance of the word in our everyday life and the lives of those around us. "Friendship" means going beyond our own special street; "Friendship" means joining with other people. These and many other suggestions on the meaning of "Friendship" by Rev. Rogers left us with much food for thought.

Mrs. Edith Norton thanked Rev. Rogers and the young musicians and presented them with a small gift of appreciation.

The president, Mrs. Don Hare welcomed members and guests and read a poem by a member of the Havelocke Womens Institute of New Brunswick entitled "My Kitchen Prayer".

The roll call was answered by introducing your guest of the evening.

Mrs. D. Sisty read the correspondence and the treasurer, Mrs. W. Moffatt reported on finance, stating that $29 had been spent renewing dishes etc. for the kitchen in the Civic Centre.

Mrs. Hare announced that the Christmas party is to be Dec. 5 at 6:30 p.m. in the Civic Centre. Santa Claus will be present and there will be an exchange of gifts.

Concluding the meeting, a "Friendship" half hour was spent with refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. Echford, Mrs. D. Sisty and Mrs. W. Moke.

KEEP THE HOME FIRES BURNING!

Once upon a time the word energy was related only to how hard a man worked but today's explanation is completely different. The word "energy" has become synonymous with problems, with heating our homes, with keeping our cars, trucks and trains and other vehicles running, and with many things that we use in the home and industry today that were unheard of even 40 years ago.

So, despite our advanced technology and our modern advanced society, here we are without a wood stove or a horse and buggy wondering what to do. Years ago "energy" was cut up into a certain length, piled in the woodshed, carried to the wood box and heated our homes and our water. And that wood stove was a dandy thing to lean your feet on the oven door after being out on a cold night. The warming closet held that newly baked bread and all was right with the world.

Out in the barn the horse munched on energy and started any time of the day or night..hot or cold. No rad to boil over, no tune-up in the Fall or Spring and if you couldn't find your way home..the horse could. And did!

Now we think of energy in terms of an electric blanket, car heaters, electric, oil and gas heat, cars that burn too much gas, many kinds of energy-saving, energy-using appliances and a life our grandparents never dreamed could come into being.

Right now we understand a wood-coal stove is hard to come by...even the coal and wood are hard to come by. Many people are thinking they may have to use their fancy fireplaces (if they have one) to heat the house, others are wishing they hadn't sent their old kitchen stove off to the dump a few years back, and still others may be thinking of moving into the barn with the animals if things get too bad. Well, maybe the last part is a bit exaggerated..but then, who knows?

Over a lifetime of watching problems come and go we've found most of them didn't turn out so badly and even we are all pinched a bit for fuel of various kinds, a little self sacrifice might remind us just how well off we've become. We could all cut down a pretty fair amount in our use of various forms of energy if we but would on a voluntary basis and then find out that this would cure many of the shortages we seem about to loom on the horizon. If we can't get enough fuel from the West, or from other countries we're going to have to make do some how.

Many suggestions are coming forward on how to conserve what we have but "snuggling" (at home that is) just has to be the best one we've heard yet.

For centuries "snuggling" has warmed the blood of millions without any energy shortage excuse, so what are we red-blooded Canadians worried about? Trudeau told us one time that government has no business in the bedrooms of the country and now he's almost telling us to snuggle up to keep warm this Winter.

We wish he'd make up his mind how he wants us to behave.

So we say again - "Keep The Home Fires Burning" - one way or another!

THIS WEEK

ECONOMY TO GROW

Finance Minister John Turner forecast in a speech in Montreal a healthy growth in the Canadian economy in 1974, with stimulus coming from rapidly expanding capital investment in new plants to increase productive capacity and employment opportunities.

Mr. Turner said "the economy is now operating at or very close to its full capacity, with the main limiting factor on future growth being a shortage of available productive capacity, material and manpower, rather than any shortage of demand for the goods and services produced by Canadians."

EXPORTS UP

Canada's exports in October, seasonally adjusted, reached their highest level this year, totalling $2.14 billion – up considerably from September's total of $1.98 billion.

RECORD WHEAT CROP

Statistics Canada reported that this year's wheat crop will hit 628.7 million bushels, surpassing the ten-year average of 614.2 million bushels and up substantially over the 1972 wheat crop average of 533.3 million bushels.

Of the major crops, the volume of oats, rye and flaxseed is each expected to be above last year's level, but production of barley and rapeseed is expected to be down.

WORLD FOOD SUPPLIES

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan represented Canada at the Food and Agricultural Organization Conference in Italy. In his speech to the FAO, he stressed the urgency of maintaining adequate world food reserves – "the present world circumstances require and call for all out production to replenish food reserves on a world basis."

World food reserves have dwindled drastically mainly because of difficulties of the developing countries to accelerate their increase in production and because of widespread occurrence of drought and poor crops especially in the developing regions of the world.

SHARP IN SOVIET UNION

External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp had a two-hour meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin during last week's visit to the Soviet Union.

Talks centered on the Middle East situation, the expansion of co-operation between Canada and the Soviet Union in the field of energy resources, and particularly nuclear energy.

Bill Smiley

THINK YOU'RE SICK? HERE'S A FEW CURES

by Bill Smiley

First, we'll do a book review this week. A fascinating volume has come into my hands. It is called "Drink Your Troubles Away."

The title alone would sell a lot of copies. I can just hear the boozers say, "Hey. That's for me. It's time somebody wrote a sensible book."

And then there's the name of the author. It is John Lust. What an intriguing combination. Drink and Lust. All for 95c.

It's not quite as exciting inside as it is on the cover, because it's a natural foods tract. Unless you can get excited over the thought of a brimming glass of carrot juice, or start to drool at the image of a cabbage pie, it may not be your meat, if the author will pardon the expression.

I was a bit cynical at first, but I read on with growing interest, and by the time I had gone through a few chapters, I was engrossed.

I'm a meat and taties man, myself. You know what that will get me? I quote: "Wrong diet brings with it constipated bowels, hemmorhoids, anemia, defective secretions, acidity, ulcers, bloating, arthritis, headache, nervousness, liver and kidney ailments, heart disease, feeble-mindedness and a thousand other ailments . . ."

Well, I think that's a pretty sweeping statement. I have never been constipated in my life. Lots of the people I know who follow the same diet as I are constipated.

I do have hemmorhoids and arthritis occasionally, and I am definitely becoming feeble-minded, but I've had none of those other things, though I try not to think of my liver. Defective secretions indeed. What kind are you supposed to have? Effective secretions?

Don't think I'm knocking this book. I think John Lust is on the right track, even though it has many turnings.

I haven't seen any signs of feeble-mindedness among natural food fiends. Let us say, charitably, that there is a certain feebleness of will.

My son comes home with his little bag of unpolished rice. He cooks some for breakfast, taken at 12 noon. He gives us a lecture on what harm we are going our bodies, putting poisons in them.

During the afternoon, he smokes eight of my cigarettes, though, theoretically, he doesn't smoke. That evening, at dinner, he decides, just to keep peace in the family, to break his habit for once, and eat meat. He eats about a pound and a quarter of the roast beef we can afford only because my wife rushed out and put a second mortgage on the car.

How would you like to have to kill a fatted calf? That story would never have made the Bible at today's meat prices.

My daughter, who is also a natural foods freak, has even less will power. After a few weeks on rice and beans and macaroni, she comes home with her husband, a sensible young chap who would eat stewed rats if he were hungry enough.

She goes straight to the refrigerator, whips open the frozen meat department, and starts muttering, "Meat! Glorious meat! ", the saliva running down her chin.

But this is a good book, no doubt. The title refers to the fact that we can drink all our health problems away with vegetable juice. What a way to go!

It is based on vitamins. Take iron, for example. If you are short of iron in your blood, you can have one of 40 different symptoms of debility. Space forbids the listing of them, but a few are: "face alternately flushed and pale; murky, yellowish gray face; crying involuntarily; fearful of losing reason; tense genital organs; swollen ankles; bed wetting; film before eyes; desire to carry arms over head; partial deafness . . ."

How would you like to crawl into bed with somebody who had no iron at all? Bit of a nightmare, what? Apparently the best cure for this is wild blackberries.

So, remember. If you are suffering from an iron deficiency, and at the same time want a fulfilled sex life, keep a bushel of wild blackberries handy by the bed. Lay in a good store. They're a little scarce in February.

If you're short on calcium, it's just as bad. Here are a few of the 48 symptoms: "laborious thinking; looking into distance; incoherent speech; afternoon headache; dizziness in open air; staggering upon arising; early sleepiness . ."

Does that sound more like Uncle George, who has developed a fondness for the grape, than someone suffering a lack of calcium? It does to me. Anyway, the best cure is turnip leaves. Moral: carry around some turnip leaves and lay off the hooch.

I wish I had space to tell you what ghastly things can happen to you if you are short of the other vitamins. I'll give one example of each, with its cure.

Potassium: feeling of sand in eyes – dandelion leaves.

Magnesium: cholera – oranges.

Silicon: fingertips burn – Calimyrna figs.

Chlorine – purple extremities – asparagus.

That's just a sample. If I meet someone with cholera, burning fingertips, sand in his eyes, and purple extremities, I imagine I'll give him a wide berth. But don't say I didn't warn you.

You're going to look pretty funny, though, going around with a pocketful of dandelion leaves and another of asparagus.

Lions Hear About Citizenship

With 100% attendance, the Iroquois Lions Club met at the Golf Club House on Monday evening. After a tasty dinner catered to by the ladies of the Golf Club, the Lions were further treated to good nourishment, in the topic of Citizenship. The speaker, Father Gerald Byrne, Parish Priest of Spencerville, was introduced by Lion Frank Rooney.

Father Byrne commented on relative aspects of honesty as a citizen of our country. Being a good citizen is being honest. But he went on to detail the ways that "we are not as honest as we used to be." True, we may be conscientious, ambitious, thrifty; these are all good qualities. But we also indulge in limited amounts of dishonesty, along with these good qualities. Moreover, we are often suspicious of others, where there was a time when a man's word and handshake were honoured without question.

Father Byrne expressed concern that our children are learning dishonesty from us by example, and are having difficulty understanding right from wrong. He also said that supposedly "uncivilized" African tribes show more honesty than we often do.

Father Byrne seemed to speak "off the cuff" and with great ease. But no one could mistake the fact that he knew his topic well, and that he had prepared himself well with the deep thought he put into it. He was graciously thanked by Lion Wilf Haggarty, and enthusiastically applauded by the members.

The business meeting ensued, and included, among other things, the final preparations for the Christmas Dinner and Dance to be held this Saturday evening at the Civic Centre.

Iroquois Lions Christmas Draw tickets will be on sale until December 14th.

Good Companions Corner

Good Companions, Iroquois and Matilda, hopped a bus for Ottawa on Tuesday, Nov. 20 and enjoyed a look around the vast Bayshore shopping complex, before going to the Ottawa Good Companions Centre on Albert St. where they enjoyed luncheon and an afternoon program.

At the November meeting, attendance ran up to about 75, and again we proved that there's lots of fun to be enjoyed at every age. After a good business meeting chaired by president Henry Sauve, a sandwich luncheon was enjoyed. We were introduced to senior citizens marvellous new song book with Jane Graham and Ruby Bell at the controls. A most interesting interview took some of us for the first time into the story book career of Miss Cora Smith when she taught in China.

The December meeting will be a Christmas party, scheduled for the Civic Centre at 12:30 noon on Wednesday, November 12. After a half hour of greeting and meeting there will be a Christmas buffet. Members are asked to choose one item only from the following list: salads (jellied, cabbage, tossed) rolls or dessert. In addition to this, each member is asked to bring along a gift of not more than $1.00 value for the Christmas tree exchange. Party dresses are welcome and they will add a touch of colour and atmosphere. Don't miss Good Companions' first Christmas party!

Notes From St. John's

While Dr. Michael Klugman, a layreader from Morrisburg conducted the Service of Morning Prayer at St. John's, Iroquois, the Rector, Mr. Rogers was the Celebrant at the Holy Eucharist at St. James Morrisburg.

Until such time as appointment has been made by the Anglican Bishop of Ottawa to Morrisburg, The Rector of Iroquois, Rev. Allan Rogers will be responsible for the Sacramental ministry at St. James. Because there is a manpower shortage, it is possible that a further extension of this shared ministry may have to be developed. Both congregations, however, indicated at their separate meeting held last Sunday, that each prefers to be able to operate separately as an independant parish, if possible. But the significant problem is a shortage of clergy.

The Rector was host last Sunday evening to a dinner party for some twenty of the congregation of Iroquois and South Mountain together with the Diocesan officials. The dinner preceeded a well attended congregational meeting, chaired by Rural Dean Kent Doe of Long Sault.

This Saturday, December 1st at 2 p.m., the Ladies Guild will hold a rummage sale in the Parish Hall, with emphasis on good used winter clothing.

The Oil Shortage Problem

This is about the energy shortage --more particularly, the oil problem. You have heard a lot about the situation in recent weeks and you are going to hear a lot more in the future. Unfortunately, agreat deal of the impassioned oratory that you will undoubtedly be subjected to will be inaccurate, uninformed and in some cases downright misleading. The circumstances as they apply to Canada are made to order for demagogues seeking short-term political gains at any price.

The issues are anything but simple but it is possible to isolate some fairly basic facts.

1. The United States is a major oil producer. At one time its own production was sufficient to sustain its industrial growth. This is no longer the case and hasn't been for years. Industrial production in that country uses every available drop and still requires imports to the extent of 26% of the total consumption and going up. By 1980, the present rate of industrial expansion will double imports. In acquiring these imports the U. S. will incur a deficit in its trade balance in fuel of as much as $20 billion. This figure has to be added to the over-all trade balance which, in 1972, was already in a deficit position. You can imagine what may happen to the U. S. dollar in those circumstances.

2. In its search for oil, the U. S. must go where it is available and, apart from North American sources, and barring unforeseen discoveries, that is primarily the Middle East. These countries have huge reserves and little or no industry to use them. Of the four major industrial regions in the world, at least three - Japan, Western Europe and North America -- are dependent upon this source for years to come. Obviously, the oil-producing states will be exporting oil and importing dollars, yen and other currency at a breath-taking rate. What they do with such huge sums of money may well throw future world money markets into total confusion.

3. Canada's position in all of this is rather unique. We are capable of producing more oil than we require for our own purposes. Because of its geographical location, it has been cheaper for us to import oil from abroad for use east of the

Mrs. Orval Baker Hosts White Church U.C.W.

The regular monthly meeting of the White Church U. C. W. met at the home of Mrs. Orval Baker on Wed. night Nov. 14th at 8 p. m. The meeting opened with hymn 500 "Take time to be holy". Betty Baker was in charge of the program and gave a very inspiring reading entitled "Analyzes truth and prayer" based on The Lord's Prayer. We have all repeated The Lord's Prayer many times but one sentence in particular, "Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven" was analyzed and brought to our mind things that we perhaps have never th thought of before. Do we really want God's will to be done on earth? If so, the words would be much different than it is today. God does not will that people should suffer the agonies that are plagueing them today - not brought on by God but by man's selfishness and greeds. All men are equal in God's sight. When we repeat the Lord's Prayer let each of us apply it to our own life and be more thoughtful of others.

A reading "The generous gift" was given which followed the same thought - God gave his son to be our guide, and an example for us to follow.

The Scripture lesson was read by Janet Barkley, taken from Romans - chapter 3 verses 1-23. Lynda Barkley gave a reading "He took my whipping" and Carol Thompson gave a poem "Playing church".

The business session followed with the president Lynda Barkley in charge. Plans will be made at our next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Vivian Ault to pack Christmas baskets to be given to the shut-ins. The offering was taken and the meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and brought to a close a very helpful and pleasant meeting.

SHORTAGE

Ottawa River rather than to transport it across the country, Alberta, and to some extent Saskatchewan, has been exporting oil to the U. S. in approximately the same volume that we have been importing Venezuelan and Mid-East crude at the other end of the country. Those exports make us the largest single source of oil for the U. S. (1.1 Million barrels per day).

It's on this point that emotional comment or political expediency can operate in a harmful way. Current oil shortages can seriously damage the U. S. economic outlook. We can't forget that the U. S. is our biggest customer. An economically exhausted U. S. is certainly not going to do us any good. If, on top of this, we were to shift our present exports to Eastern Canada to remove our own foreign dependency, we could complicate their problem intolerably, and even invite economic retaliation by the U. S.

The world energy shortage is going to be with us for a long time - at least into the 1980's when technology will permit development of resources such as the Colorado shales and expanded nuclear generation. If we are to continue to prosper we must in enlightened self-interest help the U. S. to do the same. This doesn't mean giving non-renewable resources away; and it doesn't mean adopting short-term selfish measures which can see us progress right into a new Stone Age either. It means that we must plan for our future carefully; we must define our national goals and adopt the policies to realize them. It means - finally - a national energy policy.

That is the message. It was what Premier Davis called for in April; what Darcy McKeough, Minister of Energy, has been saying time and again throughout the province; what all the provincial premiers asked for in May.

So far there has been no response from Ottawa. The result is that no one knows where we are going, why or how to get there.

CARDS OF THANKS

Through the medium of the Post, I would like to say a sincere thank you to all my friends from Iroquois and surrounding area for cards, fruit, and flowers sent, while I was in Kingston General Hospital.

It was not an altogether unpleasant "detention" because some of my former pupils, now doctors and nurses there, played "Even-Steven" with me every day. I especially enjoyed my afternoon visit with Iroquois' ex-reeve, Ken Kirkby, too.

Again, I want to say thank-you to all. 24-1-c

Helen I. Smith

We wish to thank our relatives friends and neighbours who helped in any way to make our 40th anniversary a happy one.

Also for the lovely gifts, cards and letters sent to us. Friends who attended our party from Cambridge, Kingston, Brockville, Chesterville, Cornwall, Winchester Springs, Morrisburg and Ottawa.

Their many remembrances will never be forgotten by us. 1p

Irwin and Olive Casselman

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation for all those who sent sympathy cards, letters, phone calls and called at our home during our recent bereavement in the loss of our grandson, Richard Bartholomew. 24-1p

Knox W.M.S. Met In Church Vestry

Knox Church W. M. S. meeting was held in the church vestry, Wed. Nov. 21 at 7:30 p.m. with President Mrs. Marie Mearns presiding. Mrs. Audrey Moke was secretary in absence of Mrs. K. Perry. The business followed with Secretary report, roll call, correspondance, included letter of thanks from Scott Mission for bale sent. The treasurer report by Miss D. Mackenzie showed a good report to general fund. Nominating committee reported for 1974 officers. The study period followed from the new study book "Why Mission", opening hymn 372, followed by Scripture from Mathew 25 verses 31-46 being read in unison and prayer by Mrs. Hyslop. Miss Mackenzie took the study book period, mission outlets, renewal of the church using the blackboard to illustrate ways to help people understand advance in mission and mission means a witness for Jesus wherever we are, helping the unfortunate, listening to people ask questions, loving our neighbours, question period followed which was very interesting. Hymn 568 and prayer by Mrs. Mearns and all members repeating Lord's prayer closed our W. M. S. meeting.

WALTER BAKER, M.P.

Rideau Clean-Up Is First Priority

The clean-up of the Rideau River System is a matter of first priority, said Walter Baker, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Grenville-Carleton and Deputy Opposition House Leader, in the House on Monday, Nov. 19th.

In a speech which urged federal/provincial and municipal co-operation in the important work to be done on the Rideau, Mr. Baker said that the system "extends from the national capital across the counties of Grenville, Carleton, Leeds and Frontenac down to the St. Lawrence River. The St. Lawrence has been neglected both by the federal and by the provincial government which has jurisdiction there. There is a crying need for action to be taken with respect to the river, as suggested in the Coorts study which has been lying relatively dormant for a number of years. The area ought to be redeveloped as it has all the earmarks not only of a national park but of an area of tremendous historical significance. I ask the minister, through you, Mr. Speaker, to consider reactivating that Coorts study so that within a reasonable time we can bring to fruition the plan suggested in that study. We must not overlook the historical importance of the river".

Mr. Baker has raised this matter several times in and out of the House of Commons and repeated his plea to the government when he said "I want once again to urge the reclamation and development of that great river which has such tremendous potential".

In this speech, which was in the debate dealing with National Parks policy for Canada, Mr. Baker referred to the historical importance of that part of Ontario lying along the St. Lawrence River and the significance of federal institutions which are located there.

In reminding the House of the history of the area and the importance of co-operation, he singled out Fort Wellington at Prescott and Windmill Point near Johnstown as prime examples of the benefits of co-operation between the federal government and local people who are interested in maintaining and building up federal institutions as part of their heritage. He said, "If ever there is to be found an instance of co-operation between those responsible for federal institutions and those who influence the lifestream and lifestyle of any particular area, it is to be found with respect to Fort Wellington".

Mr. Baker continued, "In this connection I must mention another part of the area coming under the federal government, Windmill Point, which is of great historical significance. I thank the minister not only for co-operating with Prescott and with other municipalities in the area, but for co-operating with me as the member representing the area. What has developed will, I hope, enhance the facilities for tourists in the area. As a result of this co-operation, which I am sure will be ongoing, I hope there will be an augmentation of the very worth-while programs which are undertaken by the local people in co-operation with officials of the minister's department. I want to pay particular tribute to the curator of the fort and those who work with him".

Mr. Baker said, "As we grow older as a nation it will be important for us to look back and preserve the elements of our history which were made during our growth".

Mr. Baker continued, "It is particularly important in the development of national parks, especially in the area to which I have alluded. That area will become more important as we grow more conscious of our history. It is important, as well, because it will afford a means of enjoyment for those who are congested in our cities."

Iroquois Midgets Score

On Nov. 21, our Midgets travelled to Spencerville and handed the home towners a 3-2 loss. Lance Valcour from Kevin Adams and Steven Montpetit accounted for one goal while the other two came from the stick of B. Mullin.

On Sunday at home, our Midets played neck in neck with Prescott only to lose by one goal in the dying minutes. Our first goal came from Shawn Holder with the assist going to Lance Valcour. Assisted by R. Morrow and J. Hanson, Brian Moran notched the other Iroquois marker.

Our Novice B's suffered a 10-0 loss at the hands of Cardinal.

The Bantams went down 4-1 to a tough Cardinal squad on Nov. 21st. Our lone goal was scored by Robert Delegarde with assists to Steve Brennan and Steve Bueley.

On Friday the Bantams played to a 3-3 draw against Morrisburg's B team.

The Atoms won one and lost one this week. Playing against Cornwall Twp. our boys came up with a big 3-2 win in Long Sault Thursday night. Beautiful passing from Jamie Thompson to Scott Brennan resulted in our first two goals. The winner was scored on an end to end rush by Tim Patterson.

Athens defeated the Atoms by a 3-1 count on Saturday. Our lone goal was scored by Jamie Thompson with S. Brennan assisting.

The Pee Wees made it 7 in a row with three more victories this week. In Brockville on Wed. the score was 6-1 in our favour. The scoring was as follows:

K. Adams - R. Adair, M. Moran
K. Holder - K. Brown

Canadian Club Meets Nov. 29

The fouth meeting for this year will be held on Thursday, Nov. 29, at the Morrisburg Civic Centre at 7 p.m.

Guest Speaker for the evening will be Mr. W.K. Mounfield, President of Massey-Ferguson Industries Ltd.

Mr. Mounfield was appointed President of Massey-Ferguson's Canadian operating subsidiary on Jan. 25 last. As such, he is responsible for Massey-Ferguson's manufacturing and marketing complex in Canada with headquarters in Toronto.

Born in Toronto, he graduated from the University of Toronto with a Bachelor of Commerce degree and subsequently earned a Master's degree in Business Administration.

He joined Massey-Ferguson in Toronto in 1948 and after four years in the Canadian Operation was transferred to Europe. We understand that he received extensive and authoritative training from the Chairman of our Speakers' Committee, Bill Marshall, when he was with Massey-Ferguson.

In 1959 William K. Mounfield returned to Toronto and became Assistant Secretary of Massey-Ferguson Ltd. and Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors.
