MARRIED AT VANCOUVER

Mrs. James Erskine of Monkton, Ontario, announces the marriage of her daughter, Annie Lyall, to the Reverend John Hardwick, D.D., on Wednesday, November the twenty-seventh, nineteen hundred and sixty-three. Kerrisdale Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, British Columbia.

BIG JOHN BETTER — HEADS SCOUT GROUP

John Palmer, of Kemptville, a member of the teaching faculty at the South Grenville District High School, was elected president of the St. Lawrence District Boy Scout Council at the annual meeting held at St. Mark's Parish Centre, Prescott.

Executive members elected for the ensuing year were: Robert Fairfield, secretary; Charles Steiner, treasurer. The District Council staff will be headed by District Commissioner Ralph F. Robinson with the following members: Rudy Topolinsky, assistant District Commissioner; Howard Countryman, District Scoutmaster; Keith B. Johnston, District Cubmaster.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation by T. G. Kinkaid, assistant provincial commissioner, of the Camping Trophy to the 1st Winchester Troop of Boy Scouts. The award was presented on the basis of hours spent by boys under canvas during the past year. Winchester troop averaged 8.54 nights per boy. The average for all scouts within the St. Lawrence District was 4.75 nights per boy.

John Palmer has taken an active part in the affairs of scouting in the district council for several years, and under his guidance, it is expected that the program of scouting activities within the St. Lawrence District will continue to expand.

Mr. Palmer, who was taken ill and hospitalized recently at Kemptville District Hospital reports that what appeared to be a heart attack, was a muscular ailment. He said "I expect to be off work for a while, but everything should be fine. Fortunately, my physical condition is excellent . . . I am just a little weary at the moment".

HOLD BAZAAR AT ST. JAMES CHURCH

The Parish Hall of St. James Anglican Church, Morrisburg, had a festive air Wednesday for the annual bazaar, tea and evening card party.

Rev. Cyril W. Earle officially opened the bazaar at 3 p.m. The damask-covered tea table was centered with an arrangement of bronze and white chrysanthemums in a crystal container flanked by tall white tapers. Presiding were Mrs. T. R. Parker, convenor and Mrs. C. W. Earle. Assisting at the tea hour were: Mrs. D. T. Hand, Mrs. E. B. Crober, Mrs. George Rutherford and Misses Hilda Thompson and Marjorie Tees.

The bake table was under the convenorship of the Altar Guild: Mrs. Fred Myers, Mrs. Robert Merkley, and Miss Jane Dillen.

The Girls' Auxiliary Booths, featuring Christmas favours and gifts were under the direction of Mrs. Thos. Jones, Mrs. Hosea Droppo, Mrs. Arthur Wahlroth.

Mrs. E. Pearson and Mrs. Walter Cassell conducted the "Kitchen Corner" while Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. Hugh Gillmor were convenors of the white elephant table.

During the evening, five tables of bridge and several tables of euchre were enjoyed. Winners at euchre were Mrs. Ken Beckstead and Carl Schwerdtfegar with consolations going to Ross Baker and Mrs. George Rutherford.

Honours at bridge were awarded to Mrs. S. G. Finnie and T. E. McDermott, with consolation prizes going to Mrs. E. H. N. Lambert and Hosea Droppo. Mrs. F. Barlow won the door prize.

COMBINES BEATEN TWICE— BY OTTAWA, LANCASTER

The Morrisburg Combines went down to a humiliating 7-5 defeat at the hands of the Lancaster Dodgers on Tuesday night in one of the poorest exhibitions of 3rd (or is it 4th or 5th) rate hockey ever seen in the Morrisburg and District Community Centre.

Only Ed St. Louis, Bert Morrow and goalie Gerry Fleury play half decently in a game that saw the Combines' new uniforms impress far more than their play.

The short-handed Dodgers (only eight players) were for from impressive, as they chose to stay back and play the breaks. But they cashed in on what breaks they got, and combined them with a very sloppy defensive show by the Combines to score seven goals. Outstanding man for the Dodgers was big Dick Ledoux, as he scored five goals to lead his team to the victory. Other Lancaster goals went to Chris MacDonald, an intermediate player called on for emergency duty, and to Gilles Leger.

For Morrisburg, it was Gillard with two goals, singles going to Hoy Dillabough and Morrow.

While usually reliable Ollie Cameron didn't play nearly up to par, his defence mates, Ted Holmes, and especially Bob Carrs, were simply terrible. Carrs was beaten on three goals, was in the penalty box on a 4th, and backed in to screen goalie Fleury on a 5th. He would have helped the team more by paying his way in and watching the game. But he wasn't alone. The forwards constantly refused to backcheck and made the already inadequate defence look even worse.

This club should be able to put on a much better show than this effort, which had fans leaving in sheer disgust, as early as the end of the second period. The return of (Big) Doug Casselman should help some, but it will take a minor miracle to really help a team that looked as helpless as the Combines on Tuesday night, a dark point in Morrisburg hockey history.

MONTIES 9; COMBINES 3

Last Friday night the Ottawa Montagnards skated to a comparatively easy victory over the Combines. Monties led 4-0 at the end of the first period and 8-1 at the end of two. Despard and Chiarelli had two goals apiece for Ottawa. Crawford, Secours, Anderson and Larocque picked up one goal each. For Combines, it was Ed. St. Louis, Jack Hoy and Gord MacMillan.

PLAY KINGSTON TONIGHT

Tonight the second place Kingston Aces come to the Community Centre for their third game against the Combines. They have won both games to date. The Morrisburg team will be bolstered by the return of Red Lawlor and Doug Casselman and the addition of Red Graham, so this could be quite a hockey game. Game time is 8.30 p.m.

ORFUNS OPEN WITH TWO WINS

Morrisburg Dunbrik Orfuns opened the Intermediate hockey season auspiciously on Monday night, by defeating a team of All-Stars selected from last year's teams at Williamsburg, Iroquois and Cardinal by a lop-sided 14—1 count.

Bob Schell counted the lone marker for the All Stars, while the Orfuns' big count went to Bill Magee (3); Bill Duvall, (3); Barry Milne (3); Hap Martineau (2); Ted Smith (2); Brian VanAllen (1).

The All-Stars were master-minded by Keith Schell of Williamsburg, the Orfuns by Henry Leduc. Referees were Carl Casselman and Jack Hoy.

14 penalties were called of which all but two were minors. Adrian Tindal and Baden Carr were banished for the game for a fight in the penalty box during the second period.

FIRST DOUBLE-HEADER

Orfuns counted their first points in the regular league schedule on Wednesday night, when they defeated Cardinal 4 - 1 in the first game of a double-header here.

Counting for the Orfuns were Bob Duvall, Don Duvall and Hap Hap Martineau (2); for Cordinal, Bob McLaughlin was the lone scorer.

In the second game, Williamsburg defeated Iroquois 5-3 to keep pace with the champion Orfuns.

Counting for Williamsburg were Paul Beckstead, Earl Brown, Bill Casselman, Ron Casselman and Bob Schell.

Iroquois goals went to Ron Gilmer, Bill Elliott, Alton Cassidy.

NEXT WEEK

Next games in this loop are Monday, December 9th, when Morrisburg will play Cardinal and Williamsburg will play Iroquois. On Friday the 13th, it will be Williamsburg vs. Morrisburg and Cardinal vs. Iroquois.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD BY ST. LAWRENCE JERSEY CLUB LAST WEEK

A good number of local Jersey breeders were present at the Annual Meeting of the St. Lawrence Jersey Club which was held on November 21st in the Agricultural Office Board Room, Winchester, Ont. Emerson Kinkaid, president of the Club, was chairman of the meeting.

Mr. Dudley Oliver, Business Manager of the Ontario Jersey Club, addressed the meeting, outlining the developments in the promotion and marketing of All-Jersey milk during the past year.

The election of officers was held with the following being elected:

President, Emerson Kinkaid, R.R. 3, Russell; vice president, M. Schneckenburger, R.R. 1, Morrisburg; secretary treasurer, R. J. Henderson, Box 488, Winchester; directors: James S. Ferguson, Newington; Rudolph Bols, Russell; R. A. Smith, R.R. 2, Lancaster; Ron Sharpe, Marvelville; Peter Van Morsel, Williamsburg; Gerald Duval, Newington; Richard Casselman, R. R. 1, Morrisburg; Floyd Dingwall, Berwick; Ralph MacKenzie, R. R. 2, Finch; C. S. Smith, Russell.

Representative to Ontario Jersey Club is Ralph MacKenzie, R.R. 2, Finch.

S.S.S. CLASS HELD CHRISTMAS MEETING

Mrs. Earl Steinburg was hostess for the annual Christmas meeting of the S.S.S. Sunday School Class of Lakeshore Drive United Church, Morrisburg.

Mrs. Carrie Utman was elected president at this annual meeting. Other officers elected to office were Mrs. Harry Ulman, vice president; Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Howard Casselman, treasurer; Mrs. W. S. L. Merrill, teacher; Mrs. W. J. March, assistant; Mrs. Cephus Smyth, pianist.

Mrs. March was guest speaker. She used as her topic the word "Wonderful", dwelling on the wonder and beauty of a Christmas season celebrated "as Christ meant it to be".

Donations from "Holiday Bags" were accepted for general church purposes and a sum of money was voted for the church fund. An exchange of gifts was enjoyed and Christmas carols were sung.

Mrs. Steinberg had her home beautifully decorated for the occasion. A highlight of the meeting was the fact that the occasion was recorded for the hostess' relatives in Scotland. Mrs. Steinberg sent greetings to Scotland and recorded her wish to express her thoughts of home in a different manner than usual. She hoped her relatives would enjoy her recording as she had enjoyed theirs in the past. She explained that the S.S.S. Class stands for Sacrifice, Service and Success . . . a Sunday School Class of the United Church in Canada that meets each Sunday as well as once a month at the homes of members for a devotional and social evening.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harry Ulman.

L. C. W.

An inspiring Workshop for Lutheran Church Women was presented in St. Paul's Church by Mrs. Blackwell, Williamsburg; Mrs. Nolting, Montreal; and Mrs. Taylor, Renfrew.

Monthly programmes, Bible studies and mission themes (at home and abroad) were discussed by representatives who were present from Brockville, Cornwall, Dunbar, Williamsburg, Riverside and Morrisburg.

The allotment of time, and ways of handling various topics were demonstrated by the use of skits, film strips and other visual aids. Advice on obtaining resource materials was also given by the leaders with specific reference to some of the current topics.

The Christmas meeting of the Lutheran Church Women was held in the Parish Hall. Members of the Junior Choir assisted Mrs. C. Hummell in presenting the programme. A Christmas tree and Advent candles lent a festive touch to the evening's activities which included a reading by Mrs. Hugh Shennette, an exchange of gifts and refreshments.

The President, Mrs. M. Salmon, was in charge of the short business meeting and Pastor Howald dedicated the offering and pronounced the benediction after the closing prayer. Mrs. Ross Casselman volunteered to look after subscriptions for "Light for To-day" for the congregation and Mrs. J. Swerdtfeger will renew "Lutheran Women" magazine for its subscribers.

OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT NEWSEPARATE SCHOOL

NEW ST. MARY'S SCHOOL ——Opened in September with a staff of three lay teachers and some 76 pupils from Morrisburg and the adjoining area. Students from the district are brought in by bus. Principal of the new school is Mrs. Blanche Pigeon of Iroquois while her staff is composed of Mrs. G.McEwan of Iroquois and Miss Enright of Renfrew. The school was constructed by Menard Brothers of Cornwall, to plans drawn by T. V. Murray and Associates, Architects and Town Planners, of Ottawa. The building consists of three classrooms,, a large auditorium and thenecessary auxiliary rooms. It is heated by electricity. On Sunday afternoon, between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. the public is cordially invited to attend an informal "Open House" and to inspect the newest addition to Morrisburg's educational facilities. —Photo is by Smith, Morrisburg.

Report on Canada's Parliament . .

—By Mrs. Jean Casselman, M.P.—

The Hon. Paul Martin is one of the real pros of Canadian Politics. Because of his shrewd political thinking and his constant application to the mechanics of politics, he is wearisome to his opponents. There is on all sides of the House, however, admiration for this highly educated man who has withstood the demands and disappointments of political life. No one begrudges him the high post he holds. Whatever honours it provides are well counterbalanced by the heavy responsibility it entails. It is a measure of Paul Martin's character that he seems to welcome responsibility and carries it as a matter of course.

Among his attributes as a politician, is an unusual gift of oratory, based on a student's depth of vocabulary and the ficility of much practice.

I enjoyed the Liberal Minister's major speech of the Session, the opening of the debate on his Department's estimates. He explained the status of External Affairs—— "Continuing factors tend to define the limits within which Canadian policy can develop and still remain true to our national values. They give a general continuity to Canadian policy which transcends Party considerations and I am sure that all Hon. Members would wish to see continued the non-partisan spirit that customarily has been reflected in our external policies".

He proceeded to offer his Government's guarantee of continued negotiations on all levels with our nearest neighbour the United States of America and its new President. He pointed out the major political problems of the world as still remaining in Germany, Indo-China and Cuba. He commented on the evolution within the Communist bloc — "Although on key international issues such as disarmament and Germany on Berlin the bloc countries give apparently unquestioning support to the Soviet Union, it is nevertheless evident that on internal policy relating to collectivization of agriculture, destalinization, and so on, and on bloc economic policies, there are variations which indicate clearly that differing national requirements and interests are more and more taken into account". He reiterate dthe importance of trade and stated clearly Canada's position with regard to trading with the Communist countries — "Trade, of course, has a special place in the process of overcoming the mistrust which exists between the west and the entire Communist bloc. The Soviet Union and other communist countries are facing a particularly difficult problem of resource allocation at the present time, and both the nature of this problem and the attempts to deal with it will have important implications not only for the domestic and foreign policies of those countries, but for East-West relations in general". — "The Government intends to allow non-strategic trade with the communist world to develop. We believe that through trade we shall encourage the evolution of institutions and attitudes in the communist countries more favourable to co-operation with the rest of the world".

He repeated Canada's determination and desire to see the United Nations strengthened in every way, particularly its peace-keeping operations, and the need for the sharing by all UN members of its financial burdens.

The Leader of the Official Opposition, the Hon. John Diefenbaker, followed Mr. Martin. With his well known debating abilility he delved into the shades of meaning in the diplomatically worded speech and pointed out the Minister's modified opinions since his days of more irresponsible Opposition criticism. Mr. Diefenbaker spoke from the first hand knowledge of his recent trip to the Middle East. He was encouraging in his estimation of that part of the world — "I realize that some will not agree with the view I am about to express. President Nasser impresses me as a man with tremendous capacity and ability, dedicated to the building of his country. While from time to time he makes speeches that are inflammatory against Israel, I believe that the attitude of the leaders in Egypt and in Israel has greatly ameliorated in the bitterness of few years ago". . . . "I think there is a change of attitude and a recognition of the fact that Israel is there to stay and wants to live in peace with its neighbours".

Low income farmers borrow from finance companies

Low income and small farmers of Eastern Canada borrow proportionately more from finance companies than do bigger farm operators. Yet generally they are least able to pay the higher rates of interest charged by finance companies.

This is the inference drawn from a survey of a number of low income farmers recently conducted for the Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Administration.

The higher rate of interest charged, compared with those of banks and government loan agencies, is a level that could prejudice the farmer's chances of setting up an economical operation, according to the survey.

Dr. D. Dyck, a CDA economist, has analyzed that part of the survey dealing with credit use by farm operators.

He found that chartered banks, the federal Farm Credit Corporation, provincial government agencies and private persons were the major lenders to farmers. They accounted for 80 percent of total indebtedness. Finance companies held five percent of the total. They held 19 percent of the indebtedness of farmers with under $1,200 worth of farm product sales per annum.

Dr. Dyck, who participated in the survey, emphasized that it was not comprehensive statistical study but a "general indicator" confined to zones in each province that were thought to be representative of marginal areas.

The evidence showed that 20 percent of small-farm debt in Ontario was held by finance companies; 22 percent in Quebec, and 30 percent in New Brunswick. The largest proportion was held in the survey zones in Glengarry, Ont., Gaspe and Matapedia, Que., and Kent, N.B.

Debts incurred from all sources for land and buildings accounted for 54 percent of the total owed by all farmers surveyed; 14 percent for machinery; four percent for livestock; four percent for feed and other farm supplies; two percent for cars; five percent for household and personal items; 16 percent for other farm items.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS —A world of manufacturing opportunities awaited Ontario manufacturers behind this plastic globe at the Ontario government's Manufacturing Opportunities Show in Toronto. Looking through are Economic and Development Minister Stanley Randall, at right, and Peter A. York, director of the government's Trade and Industry Branch. Object of the three-day show was to give Ontario suppliers an opportunity to bid on components now being imported. Some $35 million worth of business was diverted from foreign to Canadian suppliers in the last year as the result of four previous MO shows.

In 1960 profits earned by Canada's 17,130 manufacturing companies totalled $1,593 million before taxes, compared to a peak of $1,655 million earned by 15,079 companies in 1956.

G. Arnold Hart Addresses B of M Annual Meeting

Canada still has "enormous capacity for future growth", although economic progress will not come automatically or without effort, according to G. Arnold Hart, president and chief executive officer of the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. Hart told the bank's 146th annual meeting on Monday that "the new climate of intelligent introspection readily observable in this country" is a matter for encouragement.

He noted that there is a "vast amount of forward thinking and planning" now going on in Canada and said "Out of such an atmosphere there can come . . . a firm base for a further measure of solid development".

Shareholders also heard R. D. Mulholland, vice president and general manager, report a record year's business to October 31, with assets at a record $4,275 million.

Renewed Confidence

Mr. Hart said a significant improvement in business and in business confidence is now apparent, despite some disconcerting developments during the year. But "while there has been an encouraging rise in employment . . . there are still just too many people on the unemployment rolls", he added.

Turning to comment on foreign investment in Canada, Mr. Hart said, "i nthe long-run interests of this country, no useful purpose will be served, and much harm may be done, by hasty and ill-conceived measures to control in one way or another the inflow of capital.

"Certainly it will not be a good thing if, as a result, the idea gets around that Canada is no longer a good country in which to invest.

Canadian Ownership

At the same time, Mr. Hart said Canadians should be encouraged to maintain and increase their own ership of productive enterprises in this country. But he stressed that "this goal must be approached by postive rather than restrictive means".

On the question of taxation, Mr. Hart said, "It cannot be doubted that our taxation system — and indeed our whole philosophy of fiscal policy — has had an important bearing on the ability of Canadians to save and to invest". He cited double taxation of corporate profits as a "challenging example" of the effect on Canadian investors.

"While it is true that the dividend tax grants ome relief at present," he continued, "could not such double taxation be further reduced, or what would be preferable, eliminated altogether? Surely this could be a powerful incentive of Canadians to increase their investment in their own country".

Record Figures

Mr. Mulholland reported record year-end loans and deposits of $2,419 million and $3,962 million, respectively. Personal savings deposits showed an increase of $103 million over the 1962 figure, while depositors increased by more than 100,000 in all parts of the country.

Net earnings of $16,747,028, were also at a new all-time high.

Mr. Mulholland noted that the millionth loan had been made under the bank's Family Finance Plan during the year. "We are indeed gratified with the reception accorded this facility which, in the less than five years since its inception, has clearly demonstrated its usefulness as a means of low-cost financing of personal borrowing requirements".

Commenting on administrative changes in the bank in the past year, he noted that a regional headquarters had been established in Quebec City. Mr. Mulholland also recalled that the first "Genie Centre" recently went into operation at the head office, providing the first fully-integrated data processing system in Canadian banking. Similar centres are to be installed at other points across the country in the future, he added.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Dundas Holstein Breeders' Club was held at the Department of Agriculture office, Winchester, on Thursday, November 28th, 1963.

The meeting, which commenced with a dinner in the Winchester Town Hall was chaired by President Bernard Brunt.

Grant Smith, Fieldman for the Holstein Association, reported an increase of more than 200 memberships in his district. Export sales, however, had dropped about 11% from the previous year. Mr. Smith congratulated those farmers who had received certificates for Star Brood Cows during the past year. These included Orville Small, Ralph Fawcett, Nick Beuman, Harold W. Merkley, Hugh Blaine, Graham Durant, Ernest Munroe & Son, J. Byvelds & Sons and John Thompson.

Speaker of the afternoon was R. E. Bell, Farm Management Specialist, Ottawa. Mr. Bell dealt with the use of credit by farmers and offered suggestions as to what to look for whe ncredit was required.

In the election of officers for 1964 Mr. Delmar Adams, Dixon's Corners was elected President.

Others elected to office were as follows:

First vice president, Franklin Milne, Mountain; 2nd vice president, Harold W. Merkley, Chesterville; secretary, E. K. Pearson; treasurer, Bernard Brunt.

Directors elected were as follows:

Williamsburg Township: Wilburn Robinson, Harold Pemberton, Arnold Byvelds, Denzil Robinson.

Winchester Township: Hugh Coons, Douglas Durant, Bert Link, Carl Smith.

Mountain Township: Dwight Dawley, Ralph Fawcett, Arthur Milne, Allison Fawcett.

Matilda Township: Lorne Henderson, Carl Empey, Wm. Small, Merle Graham.

IT'S CANADIAN LAMB TIME

Lamb need not be considered only for Sunday dinners. There are lots of good, tasty cuts which are good buys right now. Take a look at lamb-in-the basket for example—a fairly recent way of selling lamb fronts. Some stores will sell the whole front in a package as roast, chops and stewing meat — others will sell part as chops and stewing meat. You can get two or three dinners from this—a roast one day, chops or stew the next.

Braised lamb shanks are quite inexpensive and are quite meaty The home economists of the Consumer Section recommend this tasty recipe.

BRAISED LAMB SHANKS

3 pounds lamb shanks (cut in 1-inch slices)
1½ cups sliced onion
1½ cups sliced carrots
½ cup water
1½ cups tomato juice
½ cup liquid from meat
1 tblspn. Worcestershire sauce
1 tspn. salt
1 tspn. sugar
¼ tspn. chili powder

Trim as much fat as possible from meat and brown well over medium heat, about 10 minutes. Place in a shallow baking dish, add onions, carrots and water. Cover tightly and bake 325 degrees F. for one hour. Drain liquid from meat and skim off all fat. (If meat is chilled, fat can be more easily removed.) Combine remainging ingredients, add to meat and vegetables and continue to cook covered for 30 minutes. Remove cover and continue cooking until meat is tender, 30 to 45 minutes, basting once or twice during cooking. Makes six servings.

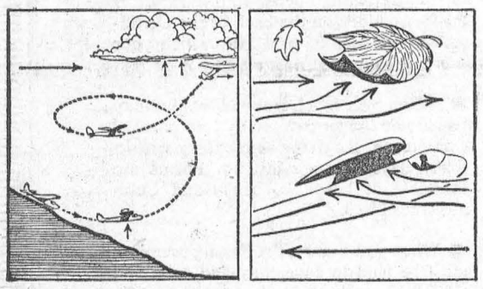
SHOULDER CHOPS OR STEAKS

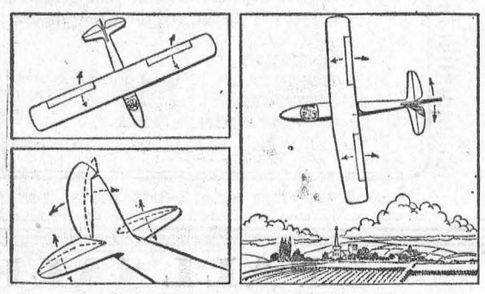
Shoulder chops or steaks are larger and meatier than rib or loin chops but are not quite so tender. They may be baked, broiled or panfried. Thin ones tend to be a little dry when panfried or baked so that covering the pan after browning helps to make them more juicy and more tender. Shoulder chops baked in a 325 degree F. oven or panfried about eight to 10 minutes for those ½-inch thick; and 16 to 18 minutes for those one-inch thick.

Many seasonings go well with chops. Sprinkle one of the following over the meat after browning on both sides—thyme, dried mint, marjoram or ginger. The seasoning also flavors the gravy.

Try also glazing the chops after cooking with apple or currant jelly mixed with a little prepared mustard.

The glider





How it works

1. In still air a leaf will fall to the ground. In a gale, heavy sheets of corrugated roofing may "fly through the air." A glider and its pilot, heavier than air, must create a "wind" to get off the ground, and can only remain airborne whilst in air that is rising from the earth at the same rate or a greater rate than the glider is descending towards it. A glider is always falling towards earth. It stays up because it is in rising currents of air.

Our first picture shows a typical glider flight. The glider is either towed into wind by a car, launched by a catapult or, as in the illustration, gains speed through the air by being launched downhill.

When a strong enough "artificial wind" has been reached for the leaf-like machine to rise off the ground the pilot uses the initial ability to fly by rising as high as possible.

Having gained height he turns into the same direction as the natural wind is blowing so that he is now travelling forward over the ground like the blown leaf. Of course, being heavier than air, he is all the time sinking and must find currents of rising air. He finds such conditions under clouds, the best of which are cumulous clouds. Here, although himself descending through the rising air, he may acutally get higher and higher above the ground.

2 & 3. The initial flight is caused by "lift". The leaf is lifted by the air blowing under it. The glider wings have a similar large surface and, as the machine travels forward, the air it meets is compressed under the wings so that they are lifted. This is a simple explanation of how a machine, made to weigh as little as possible, and having large wing areas, is able to get off the ground and stay in the air. But to control the machine the pilot must be able to change its attitude and direction in the air. He does this by changing the surface shape of his "giant leaf".

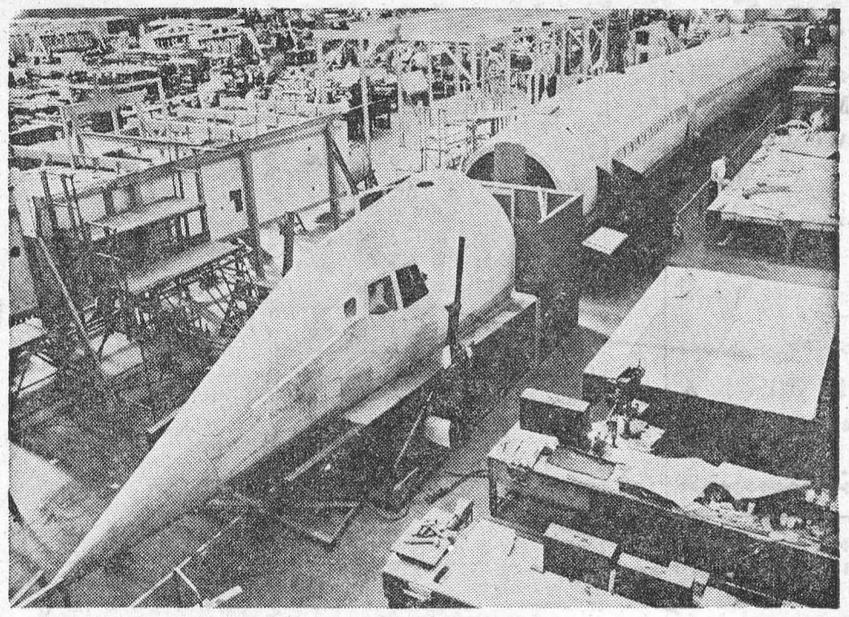
4 & 5. These pictures show the surfaces of his machine over which the pilot has control, and how they work.

At the back of each wing there is an adjustable surface known as the aileron. By altering the positions of the ailerons, depressing one and lifting the other, the pilot can make one wing lift more than the other. This will cause his machine to "bank" and begin to turn.

At the tail of his machine he has a rudder, similar to that on a boat, which will also cause him to turn. The tail unit also has two small wings, a large area of which, called the elevators, can be depressed or lifted, causing the machine to dive or climb.

6. These controls, however, only work in the manner described if the machine is in straight and level flight. If the glider banks steeply, as it is shown doing in our final picture, then the rudder will act as an elevator and lift or depress the nose of the machine, whilst the elevators will act like twin rudders and turn the nose.

The function of all the moveable surfaces varies with every different attitude of the glider and the skill of the pilot lies in using the controls in the rightway to control his machine whatever its attitude in the air. Only by so doing can he find air conditions which will keep him and his machine flying.



PROGRESS ON THE CONCORD: Rapid progress is being made with the Anglo - French supersonic airliner Concord. A wooden mock-up of the 1,450 mile-per-hour jetliner is seen here under construction at the Filton, England, design centre of British Aircraft Corporation, which is building the aircraft in co-operation with Sud-Aviation. The main purpose of the mock-up is to demonstrate to potential customers the layout of the aircraft, and the cockpit mock-up can be raised to simulate aircraft attitude on landing. The cockpit is shown here with the retractable visor raised, as it would be in supersonic cruise to reduce aero-dynamic drag. The Concord has been ordered "off the drawing-board" by British Overseas Airways Corporation, Air France and Panair do Brasil.

Farm cash income at new high

During the first half of 1963, farm cash income set a new record totalling $1,449.7 million according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This was 5.8 percent or $80.1 million above the previous record for the same period, which was set in 1962.

The most important contributions to the increase were higher receipts from the sale of wheat, coarse grains, potatoes, poultry, and cattle and calves. In the case of wheat and coarse grain receipts in Western Canada, they represented only the cash income received at the time of delivery.

All provinces shared in the increase in farm income except Alberta which dropped one percent the first six months in 1962. There were increases of one percent in B.C.; five to seven percnt in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, and Saskatchewan; 11 to 12 percent in New Brunswick and P.E.I.; and 23 percent in Manitoba.

Total income from the sale of livestock and livestock products was estimated at $871.6 million in the January-June 1963 period. This was one percent or about $10.0 million above the corresponding 1962 level, and comprised approximately 60 percent of the total cash income this year. With the exception of hogs, all livestock and products showed increases in income.

Gems of thought

CHARITY

Charity is a virtue of the heart, and not of the hands.
—Joseph Addison

A little thought and a little kindness are often worth more than a great deal of money.
—John Ruskin

Charity is quite as rare as wisdom, but when charity does appear, it is known by its patience and endurance.
—Mary Baker Eddy

This only is charity, to do all, that we can.
—John Donne

Charity is indeed a noble and beautiful virtue, grateful to man, and approved by God. But charity must be built on justice.
—Henry George

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at drug counters everywhere.

THE RCAF TRACKS SATELLITES

Probing space with a $30,000 lens, RCAF technicians and photographers near Cold Lake, Alberta, have completed their first year photographing the night sky for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the NORAD Space Detection and Tracking System (SPADATS).

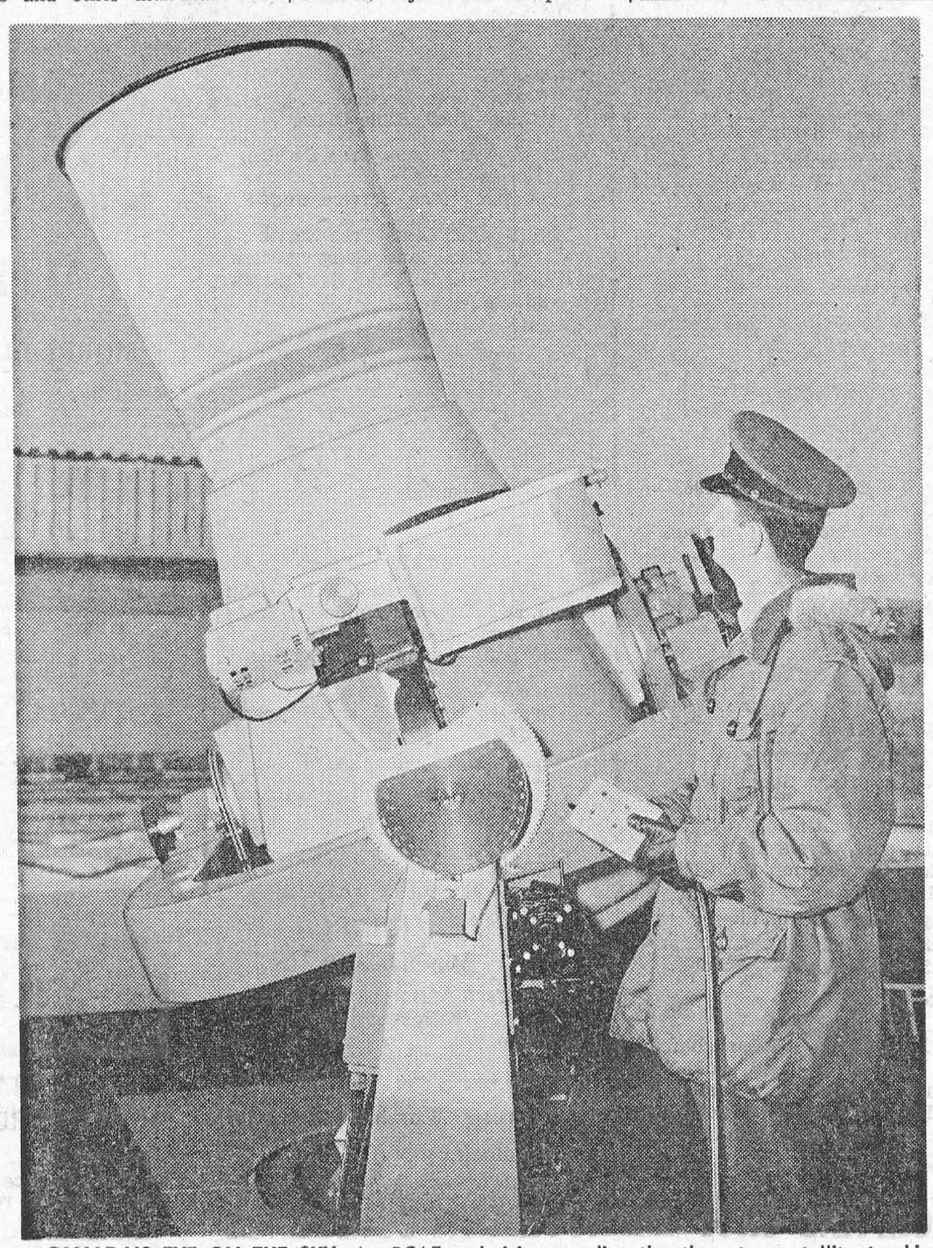
The camera they use weighs three tons, is valued at $120,000 and is supported on special mounts which allow it to be adjusted electronically in three planes. It is housed in a building especially-constructed to permit the walls and roof to slide back on tracks to expose the camera for use.

Its sensitivity is rated to the 14th magnitude. This is equal to photographing a .303 rifle bullet in flight at a distance of 50 miles. The Baker-Nunn camera has photographed Vanguard I, a six inch sphere, at a distance of 2000 miles.

The RCAF team which operates the camera consists of two navigation officers and 12 airmen who work in two shifts through the night plotting the orbital position of satellites passing over Canada. The information is sent to the Smithsonian Institute's Astrophysical Laboratory and to North American Air Defence headquarters to be interpreted and correlated with reports from the 15 other cameras located in Australia, Chile (2), California, Florida, Iran, Hawaii, India, Japan, New Mexico, Norway, South Africa, Spain and Johnston Island in the Pacific.

Data from these cameras has been a basis for scientific discoveries concerning the earth, its atmosphere, and outer space. It was from this data that the earth's pear-shape was discovered.

While its principal job is that of contributing to scientific knowledge, the RCAF camera, like the other three cameras operated by the military, tracks the metal objects which accompany the satellites, such as rocket bodies, nose-cones and other man-made flotsam of space. This information is teletyped to NORAD to maintain a precise inventory of the hundreds of objects now in space.



CANADA'S EYE ON THE SKY: An RCAF technician readies the three-ton satellite tracking camera for a night's operation at Primrose Lake evaluation range, 25 miles north of RCAF Station Cold Lake in northeast Alberta. The electronically-controlled camera, one of sixteen located around the world, is maintained and manned by 12 technicians of the RCAF.

Athletes, as a group, are believed to be at their best between the ages of 27 and 29.

Lake Huron and Lake Michigan in the Great Lakes group have about the same elevation.

Hair grows faster in warm weather than it does in cold weather.

COLORED GLASS

Ordinary window glass is colored. If a pane of glass is held toward the light and looked at edgewise, the glass will appear faintly greenish due to minute quantities of iron in it.

CN MOVES GRAIN IN HOPPER CARS

Canadian National Railways soon will be using 500 of these enterprise cars to carry grain from the prairies to seaport elevators. The open-top cars normally haul gravel and crushed rock but, when equipped with plywood roofs, they become efficient grain carriers. Grain is directed into car through one of four roof hatches and is unloaded through eight hopper doors at bottom. Cars will bolster CN's regular grain car fleet. Watching enterprise car being loaded with grain, in bottom picture, are, from left: H. D. Cowan, assistant general superintendent of equipment, CN's prairie region; Laverne Bales, elevator agent; and C. H. Steele, transportation engineer and work study officer for CN at Winnipeg.

It's mental health time

Medical science, backed by the public, has been able to conquer one disease after another. Now it is subduing polio and tuberculosis and seems to be making headway in the fight against heart disease and cancer.

Physical illness can kill and cripple, and must be attacked on all fronts. Mental illness too can kill and cripple. There is a high suicide rate among the mentally ill. The death rate of schizophrenics is five to six times higher than among the normal population of the same age range. This is not due to lack of care, as was once believed, but to the disease itself.

Mental illness is an important factor in many physical diseases, including heart disease tuberculosis, and half of all medical and surgical cases have complications of mental or emotional illness. It is also a fatcor in an unknown number of accidents. It accounts for a certain percentage of alcoholics and the retarded.

We have developed highly efficient and complicated machinery for fighting physical illness because we have had experience with them and fear them. To most of us, however, mental illness still means an incurable condition and an inconvenience which must be isolated from the community.

Psychiatric research has given us enough information already to attack the insidious and costly mental diseases effectively. The Saskatchewan Division of the Canadian Mental Health Association actively supports research. Its financial support has helped the research program expand, and it has pledged $100,000 to help build a research building in Saskatoon, with the co-operation of provincial and federal governments. More needs to be done and YOU CAN HELP. In November the Saskatchewan Division, CMHA holds its annual drive for funds. Support it with your contribution and co-operation.

Legislated happiness

The Tillsonbury News, Ontario

Ah, the wonders of government!

Ontario's education minister has announced that a youth department will be set up that will teach youth "to be publicly useful and privately happy."

Governments' have been claiming for years that they can bring almost everything to pass. Every party, before every election seems to think that it can legislate prosperity and a life of ease for everyone (and despite the fact that all the blundering attempts have failed—and many have made the situation worse—there are still politicians who actually think they are Aladdin's genie and gullible people to believe them).

But a department of happiness?

Teaching public usefulness?

The search for happiness has been the primary concern of man since the beginning of time. All have sought it in many different ways. Many have come close, but few have ever completely attained this ultimate state. Many in their blind search for happiness have brought misery to themselves and others.

But now we will have a government department to teach us how to be happy. Once happy, the struggle would be provided by a simple act of our own little provincial government.

And to be publicly useful. This is something like they say of beauty—that it is in the eye of the beholder. For example we might feel that many in the public realm would be more publicly useful if they stayed home and minded their own business.

Certainly much of the world's unhappiness has been caused when those in office have become infected with the great god-complex—something of an occupational hazard.

Gears aren't meshing . . .

The Canadian Champion, Milton, Ontario

This country of ours must indeed present a confusing picture of those countries who eye our wonderful "way of life".

Sit back far enough for an "aerial" view of the nation and take in the facts:

Our prairies produce an abundant harvest so repeatedly that we develop a surplus of wheat. It is difficult, in years of abundance, to market it at a price the farmer will willingly accept so government is called on to store it.

A government agency then busily scurries around and because of poor crop conditions in Russia, the Russians choose to buy our good Canadian wheat of which we have so much. The cheers are loud and long and those responsible are busily bowing to the happy farmers and the taxpayers who hope goverment storage may be reduced.

Then just when the picture appears rosy, a group of longshoremen decide it's time they had a pay raise so they down their tools and cripple the movement of all that wheat. It was the first strike called by the International Longshoreman's Association since 1936, one newspaper tells us.

Somewhere, surely, our Canadian gears just aren't meshing. Perhaps we're all so self-satisfied or unsatisfied (it's hard to tell which) that we don't worry about co-operation for the sake of our country or our government. We're all becoming so selfishly self-centred that our concern can't reach beyond our own little shell of home and self.

What a peculiar and distorted picture we must portray to other nations. What a sharp contrast it must be ot what we tell them. What a disturbing effect it must have on those who envy our "way of life".

How selfish we all are! If anything troubles us we call for government to rectify it, and if they don't promise to, they don't get elected. Surely it is time for us to lose ourselves, as Canadians, in the job of country-building that lies ahead. If only we would open our eyes to look through the window, and not just at it.

SOIL AND CROP IMPROVEMENT CONFEENCE TO BE HELD AT KEMPTVILLE SCHOOL

The 1964 Annual Soil and Crop Improvement Conference at the Kemptville Agricultural School is the 16th such meeting of the Eastern Asociations. Upwards of 500 delegates and farmers are expected from the 14 Eastern Counties of the Province.

"Thinking Your Way to Profit" is the overall theme.

Thursday, January 2nd, will open with "A.R.D.A." as the theme and speakers will include Mr. H. F. Crown the Director of the Ontario Agricultural Rehabilitation & Development Branch. Afternoon will feature talks by specialists under the general title "Making Crops Pay". An evening meeting will have Mr. K. E. Lantz, Assistant Deputy Minister of Agriculture as guest speaker.

Friday, January 3rd will be split up into a morning program stressing "Feeding for Profit", of particular interest to livestock men, and an afternoon session devoted to the theme "Farming and the Rising Costs". This afternoon will feature a panel discussion on Custom Work and a talk on Farm Management.

While only a two day Conference, it is anticipated that there will be much interest in the timely topics under discussion at this year's annual "Farmer's Meeting". We suggest you plan to attend.

SUCCESSFUL BANQUET HELD BY ST. LAWRENCE JERSEY CLUB

One of the larger attended Annual Banquets of the St. Lawrence Jersey Club ws held in the United Church Hall, Newington, on Tuesday evening, November 26th.

Emerson Kinkaid, Russell, President of the St. Lawrence Jersey Club was toastmaster for this event

Guest speaker of the evening was Dr. E. B. Meades of the Regional Veterinary Laboratory, Kemptville. Dr. Meads, in his usual witty manner, gave an illustrated talk on the work done of the Regional Laboratory. Following the talk, Dr. Meads answered questions from the floor.

The guest speaker was introduced by Ralph MacKenzie and thanked by Martin Schneckenburger.

Mr. Arden Baker, Brockville, President of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, brought greetings from that Club. Greetings from the Ontario Jersey Club were expressed by Dr. W. A. Armstrong.

Entertainment was provided by Mr. Ken MacMillan of Finch, who sang two solos.

Club secretary, R. J. Henderson, presided for the presentation of awards and trophies.

Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor Awards were presented to J. J. MacKenzie & Son. J. J. MacKenzie & Son were also presented with the Bank of Nova Scotia Trophy for Junior Champion Female and the Rideau View Dairy Trophy for Best Junior Herd.

The Senator Hardy Trophy for Grand Champion Female and the Morgan Warner Trophy for Grand Champion Male were both presented to Floyd Dingwall.

Martin Schneckenburger of Morrisburg was presented with the Shur Gain Trophy presented to the owner of the herd having the highest Breed Class Average in the St. Lawrence Club Area. This was the third consecutive year that Martin has won this Trophy.

Mr. Baker presented production certificates to Jersey breeders Schneckenburger, Dingwall, MacKenzie and Kinkaid.

The landed value of the catch of Canada's sea fisheries was $114 million in 1962; landed value of the catch of the inland fisheries is about $20 million annually.
