Careless driving

WINCHESTER (Staff) - A Nov. 14 accident resulted in $3,700 damage and a careless driving charge, Winchester OPP said. Tracy Merkley, 18, was on Wichers Way in the village when she turned left, entering the ditch on May Street and hitting a culvert before crashing into a pair of parked cars. Damage to Merkley's 1980 Chevrolet pick-up was $2,000 while damage to the parked cars was $700 and $1,000. A passenger with Merkley, Audrey Zeron, 18, was slightly injured. Merkley was charged with careless driving.

The Ministry of Environment supervised the fuel clean-up.

Blowing his own horn

Claude Theroet, a Grade 12 student at Tagwi Secondary School found a quiet corner to rehearse before he auditioned Tuesday morning for a spot in the prestigious SD&G Youth Band Concert. About 90 of the best high school musicians from across the three counties auditioned earlier this week for the 60 places available in the annual youth band clinic. Tagwi will host the four-day workshop in February.

Opposition meets proposal to move seniors to Tagwi

INGLESIDE (Staff) - Years of debate over the fate of Finch and Berwick schools may end next week when the SD&G County Board of Education votes on a recommendation to send senior students to Tagwi Secondary School in September.

Bill Fleming, school trustee for Osnabruck and Finch townships, predicts the board will endorse the recommendation of its facilities committee to send grade 7 and 8 students from Berwick, Roxmore and Maxville to the under-used high school east of Avonmore.

"I'm fairly sure it'll be favorable to going to Tagwi," Fleming said yesterday, but added, "anything can happen."

Such an outcome on Tuesday's vote would anger some township parents. A petition bearing more than 200 signatures opposing the transfer was sent to the facilities committee prior to its meeting Nov. 9 when it made the recommendation.

The move caught some parents off guard. Margot Dixon, chairperson of the Finch-Berwick school committee, said the committee wasn't expected to make a recommendation until its next meeting. The board wouldn't have then considered it until Janury.

Judy Beehler, a Crysler area parent with one child now attending Berwick Public School, believes the committee ignored the community's wishes.

"The petition had meant nothing to them," she said.

"I would say, for the most part, the community feeling is very much opposed to the move. The Berwick situation is working, the kids are happy," said Dixon.

But Winchester Township trustee Graham Casselman, who moved the recommendation, said parents' concerns were taken into consideration.

Casselman said his resolution was intended to spark discussion of the long-standing issue at a recent think-tank trustees attended in Gananoque on the future direction of the board.

In the past, he said school committees have approached the board with a variety of options. "Very few of those considerations were parallel. They were more or less at odds," the Winchester Springs insurance agent said.

Financially, the cheapest option is the accommodation of the three schools' senior students at Tagwi, he said.

"It may educationally be the best option," he added.

But Beehler disagrees. "The atmosphere is much nicer in the smaller schools," she said.

While she doesn't deny Tagwi's facilities are better, she values the individual attention teachers can give students in a smaller school.

Collision claims life

LONG SAULT (Staff) - A Moose Creek man is dead following a collision on Hwy. 43 just south of Avonmore Tuesday afternoon.

Aime Deschamps, 60, was killed when his car was struck broadside at 1:30 p.m. by a CNCP telecommunications truck as he crossed the highway at the intersection of County Road 15.

The force of the collision sent the car sliding across the highway and into a pole on the other side.

Rescue workers on the scene were unable to revive Deschamps.

The driver of the truck, Douglas McLagan, 46, of Smiths Falls, was not injured.

There were no passengers in either vehicle.

Chesterville man charged for $4 million tower topple

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - A Chesterville man has been charged with mischief in the destruction of a $4 million microwave tower near Williamsburg last August.

James Henry Wise, 44, of 34 Queen Street, was arrested here Friday afternoon and released on a promise to appear in provincial court in Morrisburg Nov. 24.

The 100-metre Bell Canada tower crashed to the ground Aug. 15 across from the Cedar Glen Golf Course when five of its 32 steel cable guide wires were cut with what police believe was an acetylene torch.

About 11,000 voice circuits were lost when the seven-antenna tower went down.

Bell Canada posted security guards at all its towers in Eastern Ontario following the incident.

OPP searched a Chesterville house Aug. 27 and seized a suitcase, acetylene torches, goggles, two newspapers, two pairs of gloves and three vacuum bags, according to a search warrant document.

Chesterville gives LeClair heartwarming reception

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - A year and a half ago, Noella LeClair would have died had it not been for the life support systems attached following unsuccessful heart surgery.

On Saturday night -- three weeks after returning to work -- the petite, 44-year-old Orleans woman told the story of her recovery to a spellbound audience that packed the Chesterville Legion hall.

By the end of the evening, about $1,600 had been raised for the Dundas chapter of the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation.

In May of 1986, LeClair became the first Canadian and the eleventh in the world to receive the Jarvik artificial heart. A few days after the surgery performed at the University of Ottawa Heart Institute, the heart of a Montreal man killed in a car accident was transplanted.

"I think I'm very, very lucky that this generous man had the idea or the will to sign his donor card before he died so that people like me, who had a chance to live, could make use of the organs that were no use to him," the softspoken woman told the crowd.

She said she also owes her life to the army of volunteers who canvass on behalf of cardiac research. The success of research into heart disease, Canada's number one killer, depends greatly on donations, she said.

Max Keeping, the anchor of CJOH's nightly newscast and the evening's master of ceremonies, also praised the work of volunteers.

Gesturing to LeClair he said, "One year and five months ago, she was dead, technically dead. Through the support you give to heart research, today she is one of the liveliest people you will ever see."

He said research into heart disease is progressing. Only last week, the federal government approved the use of a new blood-clot-dissolving drug developed by a California firm and tested, in part, at Ottawa Heart Institute.

But more needs to be done, he said, throwing a challenge to local volunteers.

The chapter's fundraising goal this year is $28,000. Last year, Dundas contributed about $26,000 for cardiac research and the work of the organization.

Across the United Counties, the goal is $136,000. Janie MacDiarmid, area co-ordinator, said the association also hopes to expand Jump Rope for Heart, a school program combining fundraising, fitness and health awareness.

Sixteen schools, two of them in Dundas, have already registered for this year's program. Last year, three schools in the county took part.

Chapter president Allan Sharkey was pleased with the evening's turnout and appealed for volunteers: "It might be canvassing, it might be doing some phone calling, it might be sitting on the executive, it might be helping carry out an evening like this."

The handful of people who offered their help by signing a volunteer list may have been inspired by LeClair's story.

LeClair's health problems began in April of 1986 when she experienced several days of "squeezing pains" in her chest. "I went to the hospital and they told me it was stress or indigestion, she recalled.

Tests didn't reveal she was suffering a

Holiday spirit crackdown RIDEs again

LONG SAULT (Staff) - Police are hoping an eight-week crackdown on drunk driving launched this week will have a sobering effect during the holiday season.

The crackdown, dubbed RIDE (Reduce Impaired Driving Everywhere), kicked off Monday with random spot checks that could see as many as 400,000 Ontario drivers pulled over by police by the new year.

Locally, detachments in Winchester, Long Sault and Morrisburg have geared up for weekly blitzes that will include both daytime and nighttime checkpoints.

Last year, the detachments pulled over more than 2,300 drivers and charged nine with impaired driving. Another 21 had their licences suspended for 12 hours.

That was up dramatically from 1985 when a shorter six-week program saw police stop less than half the number of cars.

"The extra two weeks really seems to make the difference," said Cpl. Al. Crocker of the Long Sault OPP. "We have the time to really concentrate on impaired driving."

A driver convicted of impaired driving for the first time faces a fine of $300 and the loss of his licence for a year.

A second conviction nets a mandatory two-week stay in jail as well as a licence suspension of two years.

While the roadblocks miss few drivers over the holiday season -- more than 18,000 motorists were stopped in the area between West Carleton and Morrisburg -- Crocker said police try to keep delays to motorists to a minimum.

"The only ones that are complaining are the ones we catch drinking and driving."

Council gambles water project will proceed

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Chesterville council will take a gamble in hopes of speeding the development of its new water source in Winchester Township.

At a meeting Thursday night, council told the project's engineering firm, Totten Sims Hubicki Associates, to proceed with preliminary surveying and soil testing later this fall and over the winter.

But if the project must for some reason be called off, Reeve Carl Ward cautioned the municipality would be responsible for the cost of the preliminary work, estimated at between $10,000 and $12,000.

The $1.7 million project, which will see the development of a water source near Maple Ridge, has not yet been approved by the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB). If the construction is approved and proceeds on schedule, he said the cost of the preliminary work will be incorporated into the total bill, of which the province will pay about 80 per cent.

The project hasn't yet been submitted to the OMB for approval, Clerk-treasurer Mary McDonell estimated the board's review could take up to three months.

Water continues to dominate discussion of development, both within and beyond the village boundaries.

Fears Chesterville won't have enough water to meet its own needs may at least temporarily scuttle the plans of a Winchester Township man to draw on the village water for a proposed three-unit addition to his business.

On Thursday, council again discussed Pierre St. Germain's request to extend water and sewer services to an additional three apartments planned for Bernie's Home Furnishings Registered just outside the municipal boundary.

In mid-October, it tentatively okayed the extended service pending the approval of the Ontario Ministry of the Environment.

But after an informal discussion with the ministry's local worker, Doug Black, Ward said the ministry would probably advise against the extension of water service to a township property if there are lots within the village that could be developed.

Ward said there are now vacant lots that could house multiple-unit buildings. The village has also approved the construction of a four-unit townhouse and a six-unit apartment.

For councillor Mike McMahon, council's "prime concern" should be the needs of village residents.

But Ward said council could also gamble demands from within the village won't be made.

Councillor Roger Cole cautioned the proposed well site may still fail: "Then we would be in deeper trouble by giving water away."

The ministry's Kingston office will be contacted for "a definitive answer," Ward said, but noted the opinion of the local ministry staff will carry great weight.

Winchester Township council has already approved in principle the necessary amendments to the zoning bylaw and official plan to permit the development. A public meeting to present the proposed bylaw changes will be held Dec. 7.

Even if the village can't provide water now, Ward said, "It's not as if it's the end of the world."

Whether St. Germain's project ahead now or in a year and a half, when the new well may be on stream, he'll still need the zoning change, the reeve said.

Ward added Germain still has the option of trying to find water on his own property.

High school students' influence feared

Opposition meets proposal

last month, Gisele Eastman fears a transfer would allow 11- and 12-year-olds at a particularly impressionable age to mingle with older students.

She doubted it would be possible, despite the school's efforts, to keep the two age groups separated.

Fleming believes "a lot of that is fear of the unknown." Younger students can find some "really good role models" among the high school set, he said. Educational facilities around the world are integrated, he added.

He also dismissed concerns the move would mean increased busing. "These same children are spending a lot of time on the bus. They're going to Roxmore for one thing and they're going to Maple Ridge (Senior Public School) for another. That has to be disruptive to a certain extent."

Other factors have entered into the discussion.

The Ontario Fire Marshal has condemned part of the Maxville senior school, forcing the board to consider either closure it or bills of $250,000 for renovations or additions, board superintendent Ken MacLennan said Monday.

Dixon said the issue has also emerged while some parents were lobbying for improved facilities at Berwick.

Originally, the board was considering the $470,000 addition of a library, general purpose room and four classrooms to Berwick and the closure of Finch.

But at the same time, Tagwi wasn't being used to its full capacity. "We have that facility there which is a big investment of taxpayers' money which isn't being used, used properly," Fleming said.

Dixon said it was really "pie in the sky" to expect the board to invest money in Berwick when facilities are available elsewhere.

With a projected senior enrolment of 141 at Berwick, Roxmore and Maxville next year, MacLennan said the establishment of a senior complex at Tagwi would be more viable.

But the superintendent maintained the proposed transfer need not affect plans for construction at Berwick or Finch. Nor has the board decided to close either school, he said.

Fleming urged parents to consider the future. "You have to look at the long term. We've been looking at the short term for a long time."

While the transfer may make Tagwi more viable, it'll also free up space for the possible establishment of an early French immersion (EFI) program at Finch or Roxmore, he said.

MacLennan added the transfer of senior students will make possible the "repatriation" of junior kindergarten and kindergarten students from Roxmore to Finch.

But Dixon said the board has expressed little interest in establishing an EFI program, despite the support of some parents for it.

Some parents plan to attend Tuesday's board meeting to state their case. Parents will also have a chance to air their views at a school committee meeting Monday night.

heart attack until a few days later. She couldn't believe the news.

" 'This can't be, I had the same pain I've had all week,' " she remembered telling the doctor.

Two bypass surgeries to reroute blood around the blocked area of her heart were unsuccessful.

"I was dead, so doctors had no alternatives but to use the famous Jarvik 770. Thank God they had it at that time," she said. A week later, the artificial heart was replaced with a donor organ.

LeClair's life has changed. She stopped smoking and exercises regularly. She's cut salt from her diet and has reduced the amount of fat she eats. But most importantly, she said, she's learned how to relax.

She's returned to work in a magazine store on William Street her husband and brother-in-law recently opened.

But what she enjoys most, she said, is sharing in the work of Dr. Wilbert Keon, who performed her life-saving operation, by trying to make the world a better place in which to live.

Dunbar native's story covers three decades of teaching on tracks

DUNBAR (Staff) - The only teaching tools Andrew Clement had in some of the Northern Ontario schools he served for more than 30 years were a bell and a book.

The phrase seemed an apt title for the Dunbar native's autobiography, which is expected to be released in January.

Clement, born in Dunbar in 1905, describes The Bell and the Book as "sort of a whole collection of vignettes of life, people and happenings."

The project, some 16 years in the making, began as the story of his 28 years of teaching in the isolated communties in Northern Ontario from a rail car. But it quickly grew to include several years of his experiences teaching in backwoods schools.

His decision to teach came in his late teens. He'd graduated from Chesterville High School after attending a Dunbar schoolhouse and had no wish to farm.

He attended year-long teaching course at the North Bay Normal School. "And you were obliged to teach in the districts up there. They were short of teachers."

He quickly fell in love with the North and continues to live in North Bay -- "the nicest city in the country". He occasionally drops by Chesterville to visit his sister, Mary Clement.

He spent four years in rural schools and a year in Toronto before moving his teaching to the rails. For 28 years, he travelled the rail lines stopping for several days at various spots to teach, pick up completed assignments and drop off home study work.

The school car served as both workplace and home for Clement and his wife Jessie. Five of the couple's seven children were born there.

His wife, originally from Dryden, chuckled when asked whether her husband had once been her teacher. The question is a common one, she said.

"I did go to the school car. I was a pupil, but I wasn't his pupil."

The Highway Book Shop, the Cobalt publisher, bills the book as "a must for educators, history buffs and those who still have 'school days' memories."

"In these pages live the pioneers of the railway, their children, their survival techniques, and their outlaws."

The hardcover book will also contain illustrations and photographs of the railway school and the Clement family and students.

That the book came to be published at all is a story in itself, Clement said.

"It was just by luck this was picked up. I sent the manuscript to two or three people but they were southerners and they weren't interested," he said.

A copy remained ignored at the Highway Book Shop fo: several years. "It (the shop) changed hands and a new man came on. When he went over the books, he found the manuscript and thought this was the real thing for him."

The publisher, he said, believed Clement's story was an important highlight in the history of the North.

Copies of the hardcover, illustrated book will be available in the new year from the publisher.

A black bowler, circa 1928, brought back memories of school days in Northern Ontario for Dunbar native Andrew Clement and his wife Jessie.

Township athletes to be honored

INGLESIDE (Staff) - If you know an outstanding male or female athlete, sponsor or coach in Osnabruck Township, the Celebration '88 committee wants your nomination.

The Celebration '88 Awards Program was announced by the federal government to commorate the 1988 Olympic torch relay to Calgary.

The program will recognize outstanding male or female athletes, and sponsors and coaches who have made outstanding contributions to amateur sports in their community over the years.

Six medals and 10 certificates will be awarded in Osnabruck Township at a special presentation Dec. 17, the day the Olympic torch is to pass through Ingleside.

Carson Elliott, a township councillor recently appointed chairman of the awards committee, said it will be "an excellent opportunity" to honor anyone who has played a large role in recreation in the area.

Application forms can be obtained at the township office anyone wishing more information can call Elliott at 537-8295. The deadline is Nov. 20 (tomorrow).

The committee will review the nominations the following week and its recommendations will be sent to Stormont-Dundas MP Norm Warner for a formal presentation Dec. 17.

The Olympic torch will make a special Celebration '88 Salute Stop at the intersection of Woodlands Drive and Highway 2 that day between 11:00 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., Elliott said.

Rothwell-Osnabruck School will be holding a mini-relay in the afternoon and the awards presentation will be at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym, he said.

He prediced about 800 students will attend the torch stop in Ingleside.

THE RENT REVIEW GUIDELINE FOR 1988 IS 4.7 PER CENT

The rent review guideline for next year has been calculated at 4.7 per cent. This is the amount by which a landlord can increase the maximum rent for a unit during 1988 without approval from the Ministry of Housing. The rent for a unit can be increased only once in a 12-month period.

The 4.7 per cent guideline applies to all private rental units in the province for rent increases that take effect from January 1, 1988 to December 31, 1988.

The 1987 guideline of 5.2 per cent continues to apply to rent increases which take effect on or before December 31, 1987.

It is illegal for a landlord to increase the maximum rent above the guideline without applying to the Ministry of Housing for rent review to justify the increase. In cases where a landlord does apply for an increase above the guideline, tenants can examine the application and make their own submissions before a decision is reached.

For more information about the 1988 guideline, please contact your local rent review office listed in the Government of Ontario blue pages of your phone book under the Ministry of Housing. If long distance, ask the operator for Zenith 96000.

THE CHESTERVILLE Record Editorial / Opinion

No reassurances

The end may be in sight in the long battle over the future of Berwick and Finch public schools.

The SD&G County Board of Education may vote Tuesday night on a recommendation to send the grade 7 and 8 students from Berwick, as well as those attending Roxmore and Maxville Senior Public School, to Tagwi Secondary School. The move, if approved, would be effective when school re-opens in September.

Opposition to the transfer of elementary students to a senior student complex physically located in a high school is inevitable and parents fearing the move have stated their case.

They worry their children, particularly susceptible to peer pressure, will be unduly influenced by contact with older high school students. They fear busing time will be increased and contact between teacher and student reduced.

But most importantly, the opponents fear the loss of the atmosphere found only in a small, close-knit community school.

It's hard for parents and the school board to meet on common ground. The problems are the same: declining enrolment across a rural school board that's struggling to offer its scattered student population access to the smorgasbord of educational opportunities available to their urban counterparts.

Parents see only the impact of their children, the school board tries to see the effect of a single move on a network of elementary and secondary schools and a variety of programs offered across three counties.

"You have to look at the long term. We've been looking at the short term for a long time," says Osnabruck and Finch trustee Bill Fleming.

Tagwi definitely has its pluses, most notably better facilities for the subjects that have become an expected part of the educational system: industrial arts, family studies, physical education, science.

Making the high school a one-stop centre for three schools' students needs would cut weekly trips to other schools for individual courses. It also offers economies of scale: more ambitious projects may be possible thanks to the greater number of students involved.

What the school board has failed to do is reassure parents the transfer won't hasten the death of the local schools or herald cutbacks.

Funding for construction at Berwick, on a scale yet to be specified, has not been committed. The board also has not yet given its guarantee, which is probably an impossible task, that neither Berwick nor Finch will be closed. The establishment of an early French immersion program at Roxmore or Finch has been hinted at, but not yet confirmed.

Parents in short haven't been given anything concrete in exchange for what some fear will hamper their children's education.

Before the board approves or rejects the proposed transfer to Tagwi, it should be prepared to offer parents and the community some assurance they won't lose something that's always been an integral part of the rural community.

Political decision-making has always been a trade-off. In this case, both parents and trustees must strive to see that the rationalization of the school system will ultimately benefit its end-user: the student.

Chesterville's Past

07 From the Record Thurs., Nov. 28, 1907

A very serious accident occurred at the Canadian Condensing Co.'s plant in this place yesterday afternoon. Mr. Archie Harrison, who was working on the boiler house, tripped over a scantling and fell to the ground. He was at once removed to his home. As the doctors in town were away, Dr. McLaughlin of Winchester, was called and later Dr. W.A. Brown, who made an examination and found one of his legs badly fractured, and his whole system badly shaken up, and a bad cut on his face. It is freely expressed that it was a miracle that he was not instantly killed.

The Fonda Comedy Co. held forth in Foster's Hall last week to good houses. During the week, a voting contest took place for a Morris Rocking chair, and the contest proved a very interesting event for quite a number. The result was made known after the close of the entertainment on Saturday evening, and the lucky lady proved to be Mrs. John Sorrell of this place.

During Sunday night, it snowed enough to cover the ground nicely, but not enough to have sleighing, but still a few took advantage of it and had a sleigh drive. From present appearances we will have sleighing soon.

A large number of workmen are employed by the CPR working on the iron bridge below the village. It is expected a new bridge will replace the old one in a few weeks.

Chesterville had its first opportunity Monday evening of looking over their representatives in the new grouping of hockey series for this winter, when the Montagnards of Ottawa played an exhibition game with the home team and won by a score of 4 to 2. The play was interesting and at times fairly fast, although it did not take many minutes to show the lack of condition of the home team. Coach Dixon took the opportunity of trying out several prospects who would like to catch a place on the team and will give them some stiff work in practice before the next game before passing them up.

Tuesday evening, an endeavor was made to clear up the hockey situation when the officials of the Ottawa and District Hockey Association met representatives from Finch and Russell and from the members of the new Rideau group in conference here. As far as can be learned, the applications of Finch and Russell have not been accepted and have been ordered to play a series between themselves comprising the Central Ottawa Valley group with the possibility of still interesting the Cornwall team to come with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jones of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. D.A. Kinsman and children of Toronto, and Miss Ida B. Merkley of Lockport, N.Y., spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. F.W. Merkley.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Chesterville Concentrated Milk Producers was held in the Community Theatre, Monday evening, with about 75 members being present, in spite of a stormy night and almost impassable roads. The meeting was late in starting as the car of the president, J. Frank Casselman was a victim of slippery driving conditions.

Taking as his topic "Where Do We Go From Here?", Rev. W.E. Wright, pastor of Trinity United Church of Chesterville, addressed the Rotary Club at their regular meeting on Monday night. Present to hear the speaker as guest of the club was Wm. Lyon of Ottawa.

Monday afternoon the first big snow storm of the season hit this section and made travel on streets and highways a precarious operation. After a little travel on the roads, they became very slippery and cars and trucks were soon in the ditches instead of on the paved portions of the highways. Tuesday morning there was from four to seven inches to be shovelled off the walks.

Mrs. Jas. Hughes has returned home after spending two weeks in Ottawa with her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Gillissie and other friends.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Marcell were Mr. and Mrs. Osburn Summer, Miss Alma Levesque, Mrs. A.M. Adams, all of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Don Marcell of Dundela and Miss Norma Grey of Brockville.

A workshop for CGIT leaders was held in the United Church hall, Chesterville. Mrs. Margaret Casselman was in charge of registration. Miss Lottie Franklin, deaconness at St. Paul's United Church, Cornwall, was introduced by Mrs. Harold Giffin, Ingleside, and together they presented a very interesting and informative discussion.

Chesterville voters made it quite clear they were in favour of Sunday sports. A vote on the question was held on Monday last. The final count came out at 190 in favor of the question with 45 votes against. With over 700 voters eligible to cast their ballots, the turnout was very modest.

The big boiler in Chesterville Community Hall finally called it a day this week. It had been in service since 1936.

University is indeed a great teacher. You study the classics, listen to the great teachers, read the most up-to-date material available on everything ranging from biogenetics to French literary criticism.

Theoretically, one learns how to nourish the mind for life. But nowhere are you taught how to feed yourself.

I never appreciated the wonders of a refrigerator filled at another's expense until I left home for university.

Where fresh baked goods could once be found on the home kitchen counter, mine yielded only the crumbs of that morning's toast.

The refrigerator at home, stocked with the tupperwared remains of leftovers, was replaced by a malfunctioning machine that froze what was left in a ketchup bottle and left ice chips in the orange juice.

(But it also managed to crystallize the last few leaves of a month-old head of lettuce before they could liquify.)

Cooking at first presented no problem. Breakfast was easy, even though I chafed at having to buy milk from the IGA rather than making a quick dash out to the milkhouse in the morning.

Sandwiches and soup made lunch...and after four years, I would have qualified as a Campbell's tastetester for new varieties.

But my imagination was strained when 5 p.m. rolled around. Meat was so expensive -- and it took too long to thaw, anyway. Potates were cheap but dull, and more importantly, required peeling (which unfortunately couldn't be accomplished with a can opener, my favorite kitchen utensil).

You could say my diet became restricted to only perhaps five different meals. But I prefer to compare my situation to that of a good restaurant: it prepares only a few dishes, but it does them well.

And well-done food -- to the point of charring -- became my specialty.

My initiation into the kitchen began with that traditional favorite, hot dogs, boiled or fried. But the problem with cooking for one is that food isn't necessarily packaged for only one person. Consequently, my purchase of a package of wieners committed me to six consecutive meals of hot dogs.

Like any skilled chef, I learned to improvise. With no outside guidance, I successfully prepared -- and on my first attempt -- wieners and beans.

And that was it, for almost a solid year.

Each new academic year meant a new apartment, a new kitchen and a renewed promise to really learn how to cook. By the end of my fourth year, I'd mastered scrambled eggs.

I added chopped onions and green pepper, chunks of ham or sausage, canned mushrooms. And in a surge of creativity -- and the desire to clear my cupboard of the last can of all-purpose spaghetti sauce -- I poured the red stuff flecked with something or other over the last couple of eggs, which had been mixed with anything left in the fridge.

It wasn't bad.

But it wasn't so good that, with a week to go before I moved out, I would commit myself to the purchase of another carton of eggs: the university cafeterias were still open.

The Farmer's Wife

by Wyn Thompson

Nobody asked me but...I recently was invited to attend the second annual Wine and Food Festival, the region's one of a kind gourmet wine and food extravaganza, held at the Congress Centre in Ottawa.

Now what was a Farmer's wife doing at a gourmet wine and food festival, you ask.

My answer to that question is that, with spontaneity and delight, I reached out to share yet another new experience. I took the time and opportunity to discover and savor the range of international cuisine presented by Ottawa's best restaurants and purveyors of fine foods, along with a taste or two of the wines provided by Canada's -- and the world's -- best vintners.

This year the organizers hoped for an attendance of 20,000 people, all bent on treating their palates to interesting foods and wines. I would be surprised, based on the first day's response, if they didn't meet their target.

This year the show is as much food as it is wine and, needless to say, it was at the food exhibits I really shone. As I feasted my eyes on this gastronomical fairyland, I concentrated on the culinary advice offered on the preparation of these many delicacies.

I enjoyed kidney sauteed in butter, squid-flavored pasta, delicately cooked frog's legs, and came away with the realization that I cooked everything to death in my country kitchen.

I learned that one must leave a core in the pasta that one can break with the fingers when testing for doneness, and I blushed secretly when I thought of the pasta ooze I regularly served the Farmer. The taste test assured me that the demonstrator and co-owner of Fettuccine's Restaurant knew what she was talking about.

We chatted with this charming gourmet cook afterwards for she had gone to college with my host of the day, no mean cook herself. She shared some culinary secrets with us that she had learned in Italy where she studied under two pasta chefs.

Imported cheeses

I delighted in tasting imported cheeses but, unfailingly, returned time and again to Canada's best produce, cheese of all kinds. Nothing could quite compare with them, beginning with the goat cheeses to the cheddars to the more exotic kinds.

Oh yes, I tried the caviar of exhibitor 'Etminan' who escaped from Iran just after the Iranian revolution, leaving behind a luxurious lifestyle. Served on a cracker, it was very acceptable fare, but perhaps my rural roots were showing just a bit for I said to my companion that I felt many palatial treats appeared to be grossly overrated. Then I returned to the sampling of Canadian cheeses.

The mini Byward Market was a delightful experience, there you were able to try -- for a small price -- Crepes Suzette, chocolate truffles, escargots and beef Wellington, seafood, salads and luscious desserts.

But, of course, the wine! Pelee Island wine caught my eye, and I learned that the Pelee Island Winery is one of the youngest wineries in Canada. It is located in Kingsville approximately 35 miles from Detroit and, like many others, is quite concerned about the pending Free Trade agreement with the United States. Tasting the bouquet of a white wine, I could easily see why they are building a favorable reputation.

And the sweet treats, particularly those made of chocolate, were absolutely heavenly. I sampled and learned about the art of candy-making until my stomach felt a tiny bit queasy.

Every hour, media celebrities and professional chefs demonstrated their special recipes and passed bits and pieces out to the audience for taste and comment.

CFRA's Ken Grant was at his charming best as he surmounted the frustrating vagaries of a balky barbecue in the demonstration kitchen, during his preparation of "The General" Grant's All Canadian Barbeque Breakfast.

The General

The samples were absolutely delicious as was his final piece of culinary advice...just before serving, sing "O Canada"."

These are but a few of my experiences at this show where variety and quality were truly the spice of life.

Reaching home, I floated through the mundane chores of filling the woodbox, cleaning the ashes out of the fireplace and kindling a new fire, feeding the dog and preparing a pasta supper for the Farmer. And no, I did not overcook the pasta!

I told him of what I had learned about cooking pasta and he agreed that in the new preparation he knew what he was eating...in fact, his exact words were "it didn't simply slide unknown down my gullet like so much...(censored)." Not a bad word, just a censored word.

Not being a creative cook, I still learned a great deal about the preparation and serving of truly great and beautiful foods. A day well and truly lived.

As the season turns toward December, which has a season all its own I feel, we are settling in. The air smells of frost. The house is making breathing sounds houses make at night.

Embers glow in the fireplace, and the Farmer is cutting a McIntosh apple in quarters as he happily reads farming periodicals. Lady is practically in the fire, a little salamander.

A good night, I feel, to reread "General Grant's" cookbook, First You Find A Clean Dish, and decide on a new recipe for tomorrow!

WSA goes back to school

Eight-week course offers farm women subjects from taxes to budworms

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - Planning began early to set an agenda for the 1988 eight-week course specifically designed for farm women.

Once again, the course, organized by Women for the Survival of Agriculture, will be sponsored by the Alternative School under the auspices of the SD&G County Board of Education. It will be held Wednesdays, beginning Jan. 13, at the W.B. George Centre at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

Judy O'Connor, one of four course co-ordinators, said organizers planned speakers based on ideas course participants suggested last year.

"We're going to have quite a variety of things," the South Mountain woman said Monday.

Among the speakers is Maude Barlow, deputy chairman of an organization opposing free trade. Politics and women will be the focus of another session when Evelyn Gigantes, who lost her seat in the Sept. 10 provincial election as Ottawa Centre's NDP member, visits.

Two films shown by the WSA earlier this year -- Prairie Women, by the National Film Board, and an Oxfam-produced film on African women -- will also be screened.

During KCAT's annual Farmer's Week, women attending the course will take part in the Wednesday seminar on financial matters. An accountant will be on hand at another session to discuss income tax.

Ecology and environmental issues, ranging from the gypsy moth to the spruce budworm, will be the topics covered by Ministry of Natural Resources officials during one class.

Mary Jane Hardy of the Carleton Board of Education will describe the role of the school board when dealing with family violence situations. Judy Running of Naomi's Resource Centre in Winchester, a resource centre and shelter for the victims of family violence, will also speak about alcoholism and the family.

Dan Carlow, Rural Organizations Specialist in Grenville, wil explain the how to's of time management. Lobbying techniques will be the topic of WSA president Dorothy Middleton and founder Dianne Harkin at one of the sessions.

Herbert Sparrow, a Liberal senator from Saskatchewan, will discuss soil conservation. Peter Remillard, a Morrisburg lawyer who helped produce a booklet on farm partnerships recently published by the WSA, will be on hand to discuss the legal issues of family partnerships.

O'Connor said organizers also hope to offer a session on farm safety.

There is no charge for the course, for which participants will receive one-third of a credit. The course, which runs Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., will accommodate students.

In charge of the course this year are O'Connor, Hiltrud Weiher of South Mountain, Corry Martens of Iroquois and Eda VanDerLinden of Metcalfe.

Berwick WI remembers Armistice Day

BERWICK (Special) — Armistice day was well remembered in Berwick on November 11, when Legion members, local residents and Berwick W.I. members marched down Main Street to the cenotaph for a short memorial service and laying of wreaths.

Hot coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts were much welcomed after the service back at the Community Hall.

10 Members and two visitors were present for the November meeting.

Motto: The hero and the coward walked together within each man.

Roll Call: The world is in such a mess, what can I do about it?

Remarks from roll call were that if one could make their home or lifestyle a better place for their family to grow up in - that would be a step in the right direction - to try and teach right from wrong.

Jessie Ouderkirk gave a report on the area convention. The unique fashion show put on by members of Berwick and Finch W.I. members was greatly enjoyed at the area convention. Jessie's dress alone, took four loaves of bread to make it. We now have a new handbook and were asked that it be read. There are plans underway for a meeting for P.R.O.'s and coordinators to take place in Kingston in May. A rally is scheduled for June 2, to be held in Kemptville.

Mark October 14 and 15 on your calendar as plans are being made for the 2nd annual Christmas bazaar due to the success of the first bazaar. Items of crafts, clothing, woodwork and paintings were well displayed by the many talented people of the area.

Lois Dillabough kindly offered her home for the Christmas meeting to be held December 6. Each member is to bring a stamped Christmas card, a gift for exchange as well as their favorite dish.

Christmas baskets are once again being given to local residents in the Crysler Home and Christmas plants are to be placed in the Crysler Home, W.D.M.H. and the Finch View Villa.

Monkland shares flame

MONKLAND (Staff) - Monkland wants people to share the flame of Olympic spirit.

On Dec. 16, relay runners bearing the torch to the Calgary Winter Olympic games will pass through the community. Area residents want to make them feel welcome.

"We are trying to make this a memorable event," explained Lorraine Sabourin Tuesday.

Among the attractions organizers hope to offer are music bands, a flag party and a Santa Claus look-alike. They're also asking residents along highways 138 and 43 to decorate their homes and businesses with lights in the Olympic colors of yellow, black, green, red and blue.

Sabourin hopes Tagwi Secondary School, Roxmore Public and Maxville schools will join in the festivities.

Anyone interested in joining in the fun is welcome to attend Tuesday's meeting. For further information, contact Alice Bender at 346-5409.

Business rebounds with Allied line

Dave Black, part owner of Weagant Farm Supplies stands in front of the New Holland sign at his business for likely one of his last times.

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - Down but not out, Weagant Farm Supplies has picked up a new equipment line to sell in "direct competition" with the New Holland line they'll lose at the end of the month.

Weagants, who deal mainly in White and New Holland farm equipment, will be dealing exclusively in products from the Allied Products Corporation starting Dec. 1.

The dealership is picking up the forage and hay tool lines of Kewanee, Bush Hog and New Idea owned by Allied, to add to their White tractor line also owned by the company.

The South Mountain business will be the first in Ontario to sell farm equipment lines all owned by the same company, said Laird Weagant, part owner of Weagant Farm Supplies.

Owners Bob and Laird Weagant and Dave Black were forced to acquire a new product line after being told by Ford Motor Company of Canada, which owns Sperry-New Holland, that their contract will be terminated at the end of the month.

The dealership has sold New Holland equipment for about 30 years, but a recent move by Ford to bring its New Holland and Ford dealerships together left the Weagants high and dry.

After reviewing Derks Farm Equipment Ltd. and the Weagant dealership, Ford decided to move the franchise to the Derks dealership, near Chesterville, which deals mainly in Ford tractors.

Dave Ferguson, branch manager of Ford-New Holland for Eastern Ontario, said the company is simply consolidating its operations and is being as fair to dealers as it can.

Instead of having dealerships with a mixed conglomorate of product lines, the company is trying to narrow its business to exclusive Ford-New Holland dealerships.

"It's a no win situation...but from a business standpoint nothing else makes sense," Ferguson said.

But he added: "I think we've been fair to the dealers."

The changes have "nothing to do with the market". In fact sales have been increasing over the last several years, Ferguson said.

Although the loss of the New Holland franchise, which comprised about 20 per cent of their business, was a big blow, Laird Weagant is confident the business will still do well in the rough and tumble farm equipment market.

"It (the new product line) is going to create a little confusion in the beginning. But we're not going to cry in our milk," he said.

Gordon C. Smyth

In an early hour of human history, when the idea of a system of law and order started to take shape, justice was usually administered by the family.

The arrangement, rude and crude as it was, worked out well enough under normal conditions. But sometimes complexities crept in and difficulties arose. In a case of accidental killing, for instance, the family avenger might carry out hasty vengeance, injustice being done, with hate perhaps pouring its stream of poison down the generations.

To meet such anomalies, cities of refuge were set up throughout the homeland of the Hebrew people. Thither might the accidental killer flee and find sanctuary until the nature of his deed could be properly examined and an unprejudiced pronouncement made. If the accused was found guiltless of committing a deliberate murder, he was permitted to lead a normal, useful life within the city of refuge. It was for him a place of safety and security.

This information should help us with our text: "As for me, my feet had almost stumbled, my steps had well nigh slipped. When I thought how to understand this, it seemed to me a wearisome task, until I went into the sanctuary of God" (Psalm 73: 2,16,17).

Between that ancient situation and our own moral and spiritual condition a very real parallel appears. Far too many folk are threatened by difficult and dangerous situations that they feel they cannot face up to WITH faith, or front WITHOUT fear, any longer.

There is, for example, that torn and twisted relationship. Or, there is the mishandled heritage. Maybe we have foolishly turned some snarling temptation into what we thought was a friend, and now find ourselves fleeing for dear life from a fiendishly evil foe. Then there are worries and annoyances nosing us out and gnawing at us in the night as well as dogging us by day.

We crave a corner into which to crawl, a shelter in which we will be secure. Can such a sanctuary be found? There is, fortunately, something reassuring in the Psalmist's testimony. It informs us of a person who found in the sanctuary of God the sanctuary of his own soul.

There we locate what we do well to reverence within ourselves. What could or should this be? Of course we know the difference between what is right and wrong. We know which of the two is better, between good and evil. Let us learn, then, before it is too late, to respect our knowledge of the difference. That is our sanctuary.

However, reverence for the One above us secures for an individual's soul the safest and surest of all sanctuaries, and an increasing source of spiritual good health as well as strength. What happens when everything else goes? Does God go? No, God remains.

"Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit" (Luke 23: 46)! In that prayer from the Tree, we have the incontrovertible proof that God the Father was the ultimate sanctuary of Jesus, the Son of God himself, upon this earth.

When we grasp that we are in the hands of God -- we, our loved ones, and this wounded world -- we have a sanctuary worth sharing with all humankind. Our grip on God may slip, but God's grip on us can never slip. This secret is our sanctuary.

South African student likes warm welcome in cold climate

Greg Kielec
Record Staff

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Staff) - While most Canadians are busy thinking of ways to escape to a warmer climate, Lisa Sherman is passionately hoping for some snow.

Sherman, a South African exchange student attending Rothwell-Osnabruck School in Ingleside, has less than two months to enjoy winter in Canada. At the beginning of January she'll be returning to balmy 36 degree Celsius summer weather in Johannesburg.

She came to Canada in January on an exchange sponsored by the Ingleside-Osnabruck Rotary Club and is presently staying with the fourth of her five different host families.

Although she made the most of the cold weather at the beginning of her year-long stay taking part in winter sports, and of course, making a snowman, she still wants a little more time to enjoy what most Canadians take for granted -- snow.

"I wanted to experience living in it," said the 18-year-old exchange student.

She loves skiing and also enjoys tobogganing, skating and snowmobiling, she said. She had never seen a snowmobile prior to coming to Canada, but she enjoyed the sport so much earlier this year she wants to try it once more before she leaves.

But while the Canadian winter doesn't last quite as long as she thought, and the summers are warmer than she expected, she wasn't totally uninformed about the Canadian climate.

"I'd admit to some ignorance ...but I didn't think that all Canadians live in igloos," she said. "I wasn't expecting to be driven around in a sleigh."

Weather wasn't the only big change for Sherman. She also had to adapt "from a big city to a small town", moving from a 1,200-student high school in Johannesburg to the 200-student Rothwell-Osnabruck in Ingleside.

But the changes have been pleasant ones. "I've done so many neat things for a city girl," including living on a farm and driving a tractor, she explained.

She also learned to adapt to nature's alarm clock, the barnyard rooster. "It was fun, really fun, to wake up in the morning and the cock crows," she said.

She's taking a variety of different course at R-O, ranging from Grade 13 English to theatre arts, and she said the school's been "super" so far.

But the biggest stumbling block she's faced is the mastery of a Canadian accent. She has picked up a few Canadian phrases, such as "Have you ever" and "eh", but her own English accent keeps showing through, she said.

"I speak with an awful English accent," she said, but added there have been "some amusing times" because of her rather awkward choices of words.

"I get tongue tied because I know the Canadian word and our word," she said. It may leave her speechless in some cases, "but it's fun", she said. When she returns to South Africa, she'll go through the same situation all over again.

Despite her accent, she said she enjoys speaking to different community groups and presenting her slide show about South Africa. She's been kept busy with about 35 different speaking engagements this year.

She's from a close-knit family and has missed it since she's been away. But she's been so busy that she hasn't had time to become homesick, she said.

The year's gone by very fast and "there's a lot to do yet," she said.

Sherman's family in Johannesburg is composed of one sister who just turned 15 years old and her two parents. Her father is a manufacturing jeweller in the city and sells his finished product to retail outlets. Sherman's mother does the paperwork for the company.

It will be difficult to leave in January, Sherman said, but added she would like to come back again, maybe when she's finished university. She was just recently accepted into a Johannesburg university and where she intends to major in psychology.

"I've made some good friends," she said. "It's really going to be difficult to say goodbye."

She will have something to look forward to though when she returns to South Africa. Since she's now 18, she will be able to get her driver's licence, she said.

South Africans are also allowed to vote and to drink alcoholic beverages when they turn 18 years old, she said. "Everything happens at 18."

One thing she will miss when she gets back home is the McDonald's Restaurants, so popular in North America.

"We don't have McDonald's (in South Africa)," she said. "We must be the only country in the world."

Cold, beautiful....

There wasn't quite enough white stuff to make a snowman, but South African exchange student Lisa Sherman still had a little fun making snowballs in front of her host family's home earlier this month. Sherman has become an avid fan of winter sports and is looking forward to the next month and a half of Canadian winter. She'll be leaving for her home in Johannesburg, South Africa in January.

Volunteers put in 366 hours for hospital as auxiliary prepares for holiday season

WINCHESTER (Special) - The November meeting of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary took place on Nov. 12 at 2 p.m. in the conference room with 25 members representing seven units present.

Cheques were received from Morrisburg for $700 and Summers Cass Bridge Maple Ridge for $684.50.

Director of volunteers Mrs. Jones reported a total of 366.5 hours worked by senior in-service volunteers with 51 hours of meetings and 57 hours worked by the teens. Sunshine Circle workers have worked a total of 121 hours since the last report in September.

The First East Christmas party will take place on Dec. 15 under the direction of Evelyn Cowan. The date of the Brides of a Century, the auxiliary's contribution to Winchester's Centennial, is Aug. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Winchester Arena.

Members were given a final report on the International Bazaar and Festival held Oct. 17. Due to a successful two years, it was agreed that the auxiliary would again sponsor another festival and bazaar next year.

On a recommendation from the purchasing committee at their November meeting it was agreed that the auxiliary replace a chair in the Family Lounge, purchase pictures for the patients rooms and upgrade and improve the decor in the x-ray waiting room.

Reports were heard from the regional conference attended on Oct. 21 at the Talisman.

The members were asked to consider a proposal to accept the project to be responsible for the television rentals to patients in hospital.

The firm of Sterivision has been responsible in the past, but due to what is considered a low rental activity, which makes it financially uneconomical to them to continue, they are forced to withdraw their service.

It is felt that with volunteer service on a six part day a week basis there is a potential income for the auxiliary.

Members were asked to consider the possibility of running such a service and it was felt that perhaps some retired gentleman or ladies might like to make this particular project their own.

If you would be interested in this sort of community service, please call Gail VanNoy at 774-3025.

The meeting adjourned at 4 p.m.

Chesterville pulls out a tie
Coach not happy with players' game

RUSSELL (Staff) - It was a lack-lustre game in which both teams came out with a point.

Russell Lions hosted Chesterville Flyers Nov. 13 and both coaches thought little of the play from their respective teams.

Despite coming back to tie it, Flyers' coach Kevin Mackler was not pleased with his players' performance.

"We played dreadful. We're geting worse not better," said Mackler. "We're not executing well. They (Russell) played well, take nothing away from them, but we should have beaten them. Games go like that sometimes, Russell worked hard and we didn't work enough."

Brian Robinson, Lions' coach, was not happy with the win slipping away.

"We came close but mental mistakes lets us down all the time."

The Flyers got on the board first at the 4:50 mark of the first period. Ray Sherrer scored from Rene Boulanger and goalie Ben Henry.

With less than eight minutes to play in the opening period, Jerrold Boulanger put Chesterville up by two when he scored with the assist of Ken Byers.

At the 14:37 mark of the period, Joe Soikely scored from Steve Ambroise and Chris Rawlings to put the Lions on the board.

Less than a minute later, Rawlings tied the game at two with his goal from Ambroise and Keith Chesire.

With one minute 41 seconds to play in the period, Russell took the lead. John Mead got the assist of Soikely and Chris Popovich to put the Lions ahead 3-2.

They went up 4-2 less than seven minutes into the second with Rawlings' goal from Nolan Dalman.

Doug Newman put the Flyers within one at the 12:26 mark of the period with Ken and Kevin Byers getting the assist.

Rawlings scored an unassisted goal at the 9:12 mark of the third to put the Lions back in front by two.

But the Flyers closed the gap again 43 seconds later. Rodney Casselman scored from Gary Klein-Swormink and Sherrer to change the score to 5-4.

Casselman put in the tying goal less than five minutes later as the game ended 5-5. Ross Giles and Todd Findlay assisted on the goal.

The Lions have yet to win a game in their eight starts and the tie is their first point of the year.

Robinson said a big problem is with the lack of ambition from some players.

"I get a good showing from the ones that show up but some players are letting us down with feeble excuses. Discipline seems the biggest factor."

To help the team, Robinson has been using midget players and he said some are playing well. These, with other players that want to contribute, will have the team doing well, he said.

"We have the nucleus of a good team to work with and have to build on it."

Mackler is glad to get away with one point but expects the team to do better.

"We have been playing well. We're getting the number of shots (against the team) down, that's the important thing."

The team will not play again until Nov. 27. Mackler will use the days off to get the team together.

"Hopefully we'll regroup and get better. Everybody's got to be there and want to play. With these guys, if they get started and work together we'll do well."

Stars take tourney with win over Nats, Finch wins B side

CASSELMAN (Staff) - Pascal Forget scored with over 10 minutes to play in the third period to give the host team the win in a tournament here over the weekend.

Casselman-Cambridge Stars took the A side of the tourney with a 6-5 decision over Rockland Nats.

Gilles Laplante scored with 10 minutes 54 seconds left to play in the game to tie it at five. Forget put his goal in 45 seconds later for the win.

Casselman won their two previous games of the tournament with a 12-5 win over Russell Lions in the semi-final and a 3-1 win over North Stormont 86s in the first game.

North Stormont won the B side of the tournament with an 8-4 score over Chesterville Flyers in the final.

The 86s had two-goal showings from Mike VanDelst, Bernard Grady and Steve Tait.

Steve McRae, 86s' coach, said: "It wasn't a bad game but it was hard to get the players motivated. Some guys were not taking it (the tournament) seriously enough."

The team played the final game on the Saturday schedule and the first on Sunday, "not too much resting time," said McRae. "In the Sunday morning game (against Clarence Twp. Beavers), the guys were tired coming back."

Casselman manager Ray Dignard said the tournament was a good project overall.

"It helps scouts out in looking at the young guys."

Scouts from the London Knights and Kingston Canadians were on hand looking out for talent.

Dignard said it should be repeated next season.

Looking back

North Stormont's Pat Sullivan (white jersey) glances over the shoulder of Clarence Twp.'s Brian Boileau just before Beavers' goalie Andre Giroux makes the stop in an EOJCHL game in Finch Nov. 12. The teams played evenly throughout the game but the 86s came out on top with a 4-2 score.

86s win close match-up with Beavers

FINCH (Staff) - Until the final seconds, it appeared North Stormont 86s and Clarence Twp. Beavers were destined to play in overtime when they met in EOJCHL action here Nov. 12.

It was a close game up until Greg Mesich scored in the open net with 33 seconds remaining and gave the 86s a 4-2 win.

The score was 1-1 after one period and remained the same until early in the third when the 86s took a 2-1 lead but Clarence Twp. responded with a goal to tie the game at two. With less than five minutes to play, North Stormont took the lead again and the Beavers were expected to answer but the open-net goal took any chance they had to send it to overtime.

Although the bulk of the action took place at centre, when the play was taken to the goaltenders -- Russ Perry of the 86s and Andre Giroux of the Beavers -- they made the stops, some at point blank range.

Beavers' coach, Charlie Lavictoire said, "The guys worked hard both ways. Both goalies had to come up with key saves. It looked like it was going into overtime."

The 86s had a few players missing and coach Steve McRae said this "put a hole in (the team)," The hole was filled by Mesich, however.

The 86s' centre assisted on the team's three other goals along with getting the open net one.

"Greg is a good hockey player. He's a hard worker who makes his own opportunities," said McRae.

The smaller rink makes North Stormont a tough team to beat, said Lavictoire.

"Finch is a good team and solid in nets. They are used to the smaller rink and when you go there you have to be ready." He added, "I like to play that team because they're there to play hockey."

"There were very few penalties and that's the way a hockey game should be played, on the ice."

There were 22 minutes in penalties, 10 for the 86s and 12 for the Beavers.

Clarence scored the opening goal while on the power play. Alan Cardinal scored near the mid-way mark of the first period. Guy Simoneau assisted on the goal to put the Beavers up first.

With less than eight minutes to play in the opening period, Norm Hebert scored from Mesich to tie the game at one.

The score remained unchanged until the 2:04 mark of the third when Patrick Sullivan put the 86s ahead 2-1, with the assist going to Mesich.

At the mid-period mark, Greg McEachern scored from Cardinal to tie the game at two.

The game teetered going into overtime when Todd Blaine teamed up with Mesich with four minutes 49 seconds remaining and put North Stormont up 3-2.

The Beavers pulled Giroux in favor of the extra attacker in the final minute but Mesich intercepted a pass and headed down the ice before the puck was knocked away by a thrown stick. Mesich was awarded the goal to give the 86s a 4-2 win.

Clarence Twp. will have only one game this week as their arena is not yet ready. They have their home opener Nov. 29 when they host Rockland Nats.

North Stormont will play their next game at home. They will host Rockland tomorrow (Thursday). The 86s then travel to Casselman to play the league-leading Stars in what should be a good game. Casselman leads the league with average goals a game (8.00) while North Stormont has the best goals against average (3.67).

McIntyre scores two as Hawks tie

WILLIAMSTOWN (Staff) - Winchester Hawks came back in dramatic fashion as they tied Char-Lan Rebels here in EOJBHL action.

Corey McIntyre scored two power-play goals in the final 20 seconds of regulation time as the Hawks tied the Rebels at nine and sent the game into overtime. Neither team scored in the extra period as they both walked away with one point.

McIntyre had two other goals for the Hawks. The Rebels' main force came from Mike Jodoin, who scored five goals, including the four straight.

The Hawks were down 3-2 after one period and 6-5 after two. They found themselves down 9-6 after seven minutes were played in the third before staging their comeback.

Winchester went on the board first with Rob Whitteker's goal six minutes 49 seconds into the contest. Dan Dubois assisted on the play.

Jodoin scored his first goal three minutes later to tie the game. Chris Villeneuve and Roddie McKenzie got the helpers.

With 12 minutes 13 seconds played, Jodoin teamed up with Villeneuve and McKenzie again to score his second and put the Rebels in front 2-1.

MacIntyre scored his first with the help of Kirk Barkley with five minutes to play in the first to tie the game at two.

Villeneuve and McKenzie again set up Jodoin as the Rebels went ahead 3-2 with two minutes left in the first period.

Jodoin scored 13 seconds into the second period as Char-Lan went up 4-2. Larry Delgrecco and Larry Kraprier assisted on the goal.

Daryl Menard put the Rebels up by three midway through the period with the help of Darin Menard and Kevin Chafee.

One minute 12 seconds later, Scott Barnes put another on the board for Winchester. Don Marcellus and Steve Mullin assisted on the Hawks' third goal.

With one minute 46 seconds remaining in the period, McIntyre scored his second of the night as Winchester found themselves one goal down. Kirk Barkley and Mario Halle assisted on the play.

The score was tied 21 seconds later as Barkley scored from Whitteker. Char-Lan took a 6-5 lead after two periods when Jodoin scored from Villeneuve and Herb Seguin with 36 seconds remaining in the second.

Barnes scored unassisted less than a minute into the third as the game was once again tied, but less than two minutes later, McKenzie scored for the Rebels to put them back in front, 7-6.

They took a two-goal lead at the 1:46 mark of the third after Chafee scored from Kraprier. The score was changed to 9-6 when Darin Menard scored from Daryl with over 12 minutes yet to play in the game.

The Hawks started the comeback slow as Mullin scored on a power play with six minutes remaining from goalie Barry Kennedy.

McIntyre scored his third on the game with 20 seconds left in the game. Mullin assisted on the goal.

Nine seconds later, McIntyre scored from Halle as the game ended in a 9-9 tie.

The teams were even in shots in the overtime -- four for Char-Lan and three for Winchester -- with neither scoring to end it in a tie.

The Hawks play their next game at home Friday against Spencerville.

Green takes over first in town league

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Green has taken over sole possession of the top spot in town league hockey after their 5-3 win Nov. 11.

Green defeated White and took over first alone as Maroon dropped a 2-1 decision to Blue and moved down to third place in the league.

Steve Dillabough recorded a hat trick to lead Green in the 5-3 win over White.

White struck first in the opening minutes of the game with Kevin Henry's goal. Darryl Shelp and Doug Coleman assisted on the play.

Pat Kelly scored early in the second on the power play with a pass by Pat Moran to tie the game at one.

Dillabough scored his first from Kelly and Larry Simms later in the period to give Green a 2-1 lead. With eight seconds remaining in the second, Dwayne Fawcett scored from Dave Cross and Moran as Green took a two-goal lead.

White's Don Nizman scored with five minutes remaining in the game to put the team one goal back. Henry and Shelp assisted on the goal.

Dillabough scored 44 seconds later to restore Green's two-goal lead. Keith Moore got the assist. Dillabough put his third in one minute later with the set-up by Moore and Vince Cousineau.

Coleman scored from Shelp with 24 seconds for White's third goal but Green won 5-3 and go into the top spot in the league alone.

Maroon went from holding a share of first to alone in third after dropping a 2-1 game to Blue.

Maroon scored the first goal with two and a half minutes to play in the opening period. Todd Kirkwood scored from Steve Plummer for the team's only goal.

There was no scoring in the second and the Servage-Imrie team-up scored the winning goal with five minutes to play in the game as Blue won 2-1.

Blue moved into second place, one point behind Green. Blue will challenge Green for first place when the teams meet in the first game of tonight's (Wednesday) games at 7:30. White will play Maroon in the second game at 8:30 p.m.

Tagwi heats up second half against St. Joe's

CONRWALL (Staff) - It was really two games. The first half and the second.

The score was tied at 10 after one quarter and at 18 at the half, but Tagwi Warriors came on in the second half to win the SD&G senior girls' match up with St. Joseph's Panthers 47-26.

Co-coach Ashley Coventry said: "They (St. Joe's) played us pretty close in the first half. Then we played our reserves, who played better than the first line."

The Warriors outscored the Panthers 19-8 in the third quarter and took a 37-26 lead. They stymied the Panthers' attack and shut them out 10-0 in the final frame to win 47-26.

The Panthers had foul problems but the Warriors couldn't produce at the foul line. Coventry estimated the team was shooting 20 per cent from the foul line.

Tagwi had problems in the smaller gym but, "we started to control the game more with better shooting off the floor," Coventry said.

He added, "It was a type of game where it doesn't matter how hard you coach the game, athletic ability will come in."

Erica and Heidi Hollingdrake led the scoring for Tagwi with Erica getting 19 points and Heidi adding 15. Tammy Waldroff led St. Joe's with 12 points.

Tagwi will finish in first place regardless of the outcome of the scheduled game yesterday against General Vanier. The Warriors will play GVSS again tomorrow (Thursday) in a semi-final game at Tagwi.

The team played in a tournament in Vankleek Hill and lost 47-32 to the host, which Coventry predicts to be the team to beat in EOSSA.

"They're the most competitive team I've come across in a while. You have to overcome Vankleek Hill if you want to go on."

In junior action, it was a close game but St. Joe's came out on top of a 31-27 score over Tagwi.

Coventry said, "We always play neck and neck with St. Joe's but it's on the matter of height that we get the short end of the stick."

Earlier in the week, Nov. 10, Tagwi played host to Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers.

Stephanie Wells led the senior Lancers with 19 points but the team lost to the Warriors 61-31.

The junior Lancers took advantage of the last-place junior Warriors and won a 42-31 decision.

In other action, R-O's Wells had 18 points and four assists while Sherrie Woodrow had seven points and 19 rebounds to lead the team to a 58-49 win over General Vanier Nov. 12.

CCVS romps NDDHS in AA girls' basketball

CORNWALL (Staff) - It was no contest.

North Dundas Devils could have stayed home and given up the two points.

Cornwall Collegiate Lady Raiders hosted North Dundas in SD&G AA girls basketball and came away with big wins in both the senior and junior classes.

The senior Lady Raiders romped the Devils 73-29 while the junior CCVS team won 42-13 over North Dundas.

North Dundas coach Jerry Jean said, "We got beat badly by a very strong team. They can dish it out."

He said a major factor was the Cornwall students start playing at a younger age.

"The Cornwall kids are in a league, playing since Grade 5."

He hopes to rectify this by getting a night league going in the area to better compete with the city schools.

Another problem, he said, was the lack of gym time. There is one gym to be shared with other sports.

"As the season wears on it becomes more and more evident with the lack of practice time," he said.

The senior Devils will meet the Lady Raiders again today, (Wednesday) here in the semi-final of the AA division.

Ormond wins protested game, moves up to third in broomball

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Ormond Aults moved into third place after winning a protested game in the Winchester and District Broomball League action Sunday.

Russell Magnum Force played under protest and Ormond scored one goal -- by Doug Sloan from Bill Robinson and Dan McDiarmid -- in the first half to win the game 1-0.

If the game stands, Ormond will be in third place of the league behind the Dunbar Panthers and Morewood Vikings.

Dunbar continues to lead the league recording their seventh shutout with a 9-0 win over Winchester Raiders.

Laurie Blanchard, Pierre Lafrance and Frank Heerkens scored twice for the Panthers to lead the team to their eighth straight win. Gary Gallinger, Steve Boucher and Mike Hoogeveen scored once for the team's other goals.

Winchester stays in second place of the B pool despite the loss. Dunbar remains unbeaten and in first of the A pool, followed closely by Morewood, which also won their game.

The Vikings came out on the winning end of an 8-1 game as Newington Knights scored their second goal of the year.

Morewood led 4-0 before Newington scored but the first half ended 6-1. The Vikings added two more goals in the second half.

Gerald Eby and Noel Lalonde scored two each for Morewood while Ross Harten, Chris McKibbon, Brian Como and John Stewart each had one for the team's other goals.

David Dingwall scored Newington's lone goal of the game with Lenny Bass and Kevin Middleton getting the assists.

The Knights stay in last place of the B pool, while Morewood remains one win behind first-place Dunbar.

Prescott Road is now at .500 for the year after winning 6-2 over Toyes Hill.

Bill Veley, and Steve Petersen had two apiece to extend Prescott Road's lead in the B pool.

Petersen scored in the opening minutes of the game but Marcell Uriend tied the game up soon after.

Petersen put Prescott Road back on top in the first half but with two and a half minutes remaining in the half, Ted Bongers tied the game up again.

Veley scored the winning goal minutes into the second half. He added his second at the midway mark to put the team up 4-2. Glen Petersen and Dave Holmes closed the scoring as Prescott Road won 6-2 to remain in first place of the B pool.

Toyes Hill remains tied for second with Winchester.

Toyes Hill will play Newington in the first game of this week's action, Sunday, Nov. 22 at 7 p.m. as the Knights will try to end the eight-game losing streak. First place of the A pool will face first place of the B pool as Dunbar plays Prescott Road at 8 p.m. Russell will meet Winchester at 9 p.m. while Morewood and Ormond will play in the final game at 10 p.m.

The bantam teams finished the close game 2-2.

The Demons' Brad Robinson scored the opening goal late in the opening period but moments later Robin McMillan tied the game at one to end the first 1-1.

Neither team scored in the second and Stephen Stacey put West Carleton up 2-1 with five minutes to play.

Sarault tied the game with one minute 46 seconds remaining on the clock to end the game in a 2-2 tie.

In regular action the North Dundas bantam C team continues to win games.

Dustin Brodribb scored Metcalfe's lone goal.

The North Dundas bantam C team had two-goal performances by Evan Berry and Kevin Droppo as they won 5-1 over Morrisburg Lions in Chesterville Nov. 10.

The Demons scored their goals in the first two periods and allowed Morrisburg's lone goal in the third to win it.

Sarault had the Demons other goal while Bobby Boulerice scored for the Lions.

The Demons also defeated the Lions in Morrisburg the day before, Nov. 9.

North Dundas had four goals in the second period as they won 7-1.

Boulerice scored Morrisburg's only goal in the game. Jeff Miltimore had two for the Demons while Jason MacIntosh, Young, Sarault, Brad Cotnam and Brad Robinson scored one each.
