REEVE BRODER APPEALS FOR POPPY DAY

Reeve Fred H. Broder has issued the following appeal to all citizens to purchase a Vetcraft wreath and display it in a conspicuous place now and to wear a poppy on Saturday, November 6th, when poppies will be sold in aid of the welfare work of Canadian Legion branch no. 48.

"To our Citizens:

The local branch of the Canadian Legion has designated Saturday, November 6th as Poppy Day in Morrisburg and District. I particularly desire, however, at the earnest request of the Canadian Legion that all loyal and patriotic citizens shall purchase a Vetcraft Wreath long before Remembrance Day, and display it in their homes, or elsewhere, and then deposit it at the Cenotaph on November 11th.

The sacrifices made by our Canadian men and women in Great War No. 1 and Great War No. 2 are again recalled as we observe Remembrance Day, Canada's day of national mourning, and a thankful people hold in grateful remembrance the courage and heroism of our soldiers, sailors and airmen, who gave their lives in the cause of freedom.

The Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League has contributed valiant service to this country in helping to heal the scars made by acts of war, and has brought comfort, courage and practical aid to many in distress.

The difficult conditions existing at the present time insofar as many disabled veterans and their dependents are concerned, offers a challenge to us to respond far more generously than usual to the Legion's appeal.

Let everyone feel it a duty and a privilege to purchase a Vetcraft Wreath now and to wear a Poppy on Remembrance Day and in so doing strengthen the hands of the Legion in its splendid work.

F. H. BRODER, Reeve."

Autumn Mission Band Rally Held Here

The Autumn Mission Band Rally of the Dundas Grenville Presbyterial was held at Morrisburg under the direction of the Presbyterial Secretary, Mrs. K. A. Blancher. There was a morning and afternoon session and over a hundred children registered.

The morning session opened by registration and time for the children to look at exhibits of work and books on sale. Then the meeting was opened by the children repeating the Mission Band purpose and greetings by Mrs. Blancher. Mrs. Merrill led in prayer and gave greetings from the local W. M. S. Miss Gollan, guest speaker, a home missionary from the Church of All Nations, Toronto, was introduced. Then the children spent a very pleasant half-hour playing Chinese games and during this time a conference for the leaders was being held under the direction of Mrs. Blancher. At 12.30 a pot lunch was served.

The afternoon session was opened by the teaching of the Mission Band Songs of the Year. A very interesting number given by the children of Iroquois Band "A Conference on Peace". Then Mrs. Reddick told the children about Sunday Schools by Mail and Air. A Mother Goose play on Temperance was given by Hulbert Mission Band.

Miss Gollan spoke to the children about her work in Toronto. She spoke of how many people were coming to Canada from all nations and finding a home with them at the Church of All Nations. One of the difficulties was language. In order to know our language so that we could help them Eaton's catalogue was used to picture the object and name of everything used in the ordinary home. Children of all nationalities played and worked together and loved and shared. Prejudice and colour were forgotten. The fathers and mothers were just as anxious to learn as the children and "enemy" was an unknown word among them. Miss Gollan spoke of the post office in the entry of the church. Each family had their own mail box. The people knew of no other home and asked their relatives in every country of Europe (Finland, Russia, Batavia, Czeckoslovakia, Germany, Lithuania, Latvia, Esthonia, Austria, Italy, France, Roumania) to send their mail before the war to The Church of All Nations. It came in hundreds of bags and was very difficult to distribute on account of their foreign language names. During the war there was no mail and these people were lost. When mail finally arrived at the end of the war the people were terrified and afraid to open it. Gradually they confided in us. In closing she asked the children to remember all these children from Europe in their prayers.

Barbara Rooke of Prescott Mission Band played the guitar and sang very nicely. Mrs. Wright of Chesterville, the President of Dundas-Grenville Presbyterial, addressed the children. Three little girls from Winchester sang a trio. Mrs. Carruthers of Chesterville told a very lovely flannelgraph story of a little Indian girl. A piano solo was rendered by Nancy Jane Bingham of Prescott. A dramatization taken from the study book of the year, "Johnny and the Goat-Boys" was put on by Morrisburg Mission Band. Then there were slides of children in China based on the study book and special objectives. After this a game of eating popcorn with chop-sticks was enjoyed by one member being chosen from each band in competition and a Chinese coin being given to the winning contestants. The worship service was beautifully taken by three little girls of the Cardinal Mission Band, thus bringing to a close a very happy and profitable day.

New Ownership For Rosedale Inn

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill of Hudson Heights, Quebec on Monday completed the purchase from the estate of the late Ralph Fetterly of the river property, buildings and equipment of Rosedale Inn.

The new owners will inaugurate a new policy and maintain Rosedale as a year-round hotel, rather than having it open in summer only as has been in the past. Already extensive alterations are being made to winterize the dining room facing the river, which has been one of the charms of eating at Rosedale.

Mr. Hill brings to this new association in Morrisburg a wealth of business experience having been the Sales and Divisional Manager for the Comptometer Company in Montreal, Portland, Oregon and other American cities for the past twenty years. Mrs. Hill has an enviable reputation for culinary skill. The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Hill—Arthur, Barbara and Peter, have moved to Morrisburg with their parents.

Morrisburg welcomes the Hill family and extends best wishes that their stay in our midst will be a happy one.

POTATO SEED BALL CALLED NATURE AT HER RAREST

The following article, taken from the Buffalo, N.Y., Courier Express, was brought to the Leader by Mr. Roy Schwerdtfeger.

New details on the strange phenomenon of potato seed balls, a horticultural rarity that has made many a farmer think his potato plants were suddenly sprouting tomatoes, came recently from a man who has a garden full of the dual bearing vines.

He is Howard S. Williams, Easy St. Derby, who says the potato-tomato occurrence is not a freak at all but nature at its best. The average potato grower, says Williams, can have potatoes on the same farm year after year and yet will find the seed ball developing only once every 18 to 30 years.

The reason why development of potato seed balls occurs so rarely according to Williams, is that an ideal combination of factors is necessary. For the seed balls to develop, the potato blossoms must be pollinated by a rare type of insect—sort of a cross between a lady bug and a firefly or lamp bug, as they are sometimes called.

And for pollination to occur, even if the bug is present, conditions must be timed to the split second as to blossoming of the plant and emergence of the bug's hatch to go to work on the blossoms explained the Derby man who has been a grower and student of potatoes since he was a small boy in Illinois.

"Even when proper pollination does occur", he went on, "90 percent of the set fruit dries and drops off before it is hardly noticed. The 10 percent which survives develops into seed balls which in outward appearance may resemble green tomatoes, but there all the semblance ends."

The small green vine fruit of the potato plant is hard, not soft like tomatoes, and when mature and dry will split open into three sections like the outer shell of a walnut or hickory nut. Inside are small black seeds which somewhat resemble onion seed.

If planted, these seeds will produce "57 varieties" of marble sized potatoes, some round, some oval, some long and narrow and of variously coloured flesh, including white red, blue, black and yellow.

Should these miniature potatoes be planted the following season, each different one will breed true to its kind.

If you're the lucky potato grower whose plants develop seed balls and you want to see what happens, tie a cloth or paper bag around the seed balls so the seed will be gathered and not dispersed when the balls burst.

HANDS AT WORK... for ONTARIO

ONTARIO'S products are desired and purchased by people all over the world and the capacity to produce such goods largely determines the economic welfare of every man, woman and child within her borders. Because the sale of every article produced in Ontario brings valuable dollars into this Province, we all are more assured of job security . . . and we and our children can have more of the better things in life. To produce such goods in sufficient quantities, skilled labour is vital. That is why every single one of us should be glad that war veterans are constantly being trained to provide the skilled hands so needed by Ontario industry. They receive ON THE JOB training under expert instructors in our Ontario factories.

This training, provided through the co-operation of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, the Federal Department of Labour and the Ontario Department of Education, starts veterans on the road to skilled craftsmanship. Taught to use their hands in such jobs as routing, etching, stripping, burnishing and finishing, they will eventually become photo engraving craftsmen. Because of the increasing importance of this trade, every effort of these newly-skilled workers helps to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and contributes to the welfare and happiness of all her citizens.

Women's Institute

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the Agricultural Office on Thursday evening, October 14th with an attendance of 60 members, and with Mrs. Hubert Casselman, vice president, in the chair, due to the serious accident which happened to the president. Mrs. Casselman expressed the hope that Mrs. Foster would soon be able to be around again and would not have to suffer too long.

Miss Coligan read the minutes, which were approved. Mrs. Hugh Shennette reported a complete layette had been donated, also nightie and sheets for the mother in England who had received one of the boxes sent and had written a grateful letter of appreciation, stating that she was in need of these articles.

Decision was made to apply for the Legislative grant of three dollars. Miss G. Hamilton is to be in Morrisburg on Nov. 16th to give instruction on "Health Before and After Forty" under the Department of Home Economics. The area convention which is held at Ottawa October 19th and 20th, is to be attended by Mrs. Sam Casselman as delegate, with Mrs. Hubert Casselman as alternate. Miss Dillen reported the canvass and tag day for the blind was very successful, amounting to $266.39. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Miss Dillen. It was left for the executive to meet and make plans for the fortieth anniversary, with funds to go for community hall.

The publicity committee took charge and Mrs. E. Jones delighted the audience with two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Gorrell. Mrs. Debney of Edmonton, spoke on the Province of Alberta, telling the benefits of the Social Credit Government, mentioning the cancer clinic, where all the bills for hospital and treatment are paid by the government. The oil wells are the sourc of revenue. They pay $1400 a year for the privilege of drilling a well on a farm and if it proves good they received 12 percent royalty, some netting as much as $700 per day. Another interest was a home for aged women that occomodates 14 and is called the "Elizabeth Home" in memory of Mrs. Debney's mother.

The dressmaking class put on a fashion show of the dresses they had made, which spoke well for the instructor and the ability of her class.

Mrs. Ault gave a paper on her trip to California, which was very interesting and gave a birds-eye view of the beautiful scenery en route.

Last but not least was the singsong of the widows and the prizes were won by Mrs. Ault, for the glamorous report of her trip and Mrs. J. C. Casselman for the prettiest hat and hair-do. Mrs. Merrill moved a hearty vote of thanks for the speakers and soloist of the evening. The committee in charge served refreshments and all enjoyed a good laugh and a social half-hour.

FORMER MORRISBURG BOY HAS TICKLISH SALVAGE JOB

Captain J. Clinton Weegar of Port Colborne, formerly of Morrisburg, where he is well known, has been selected by the Steel Co. of Canada for a very ticklish salvage job in towing the USS Sable, a converted aircraft carrier training ship of the US Navy through the Welland Canal to a Hamilton scrap yard. With 50 feet trimmed from her overhanging flight deck, it was also found necessary to knock off 28 feet from the sides of the training ship to navigate canal. Even so it will have only a five-foot clearance on each side, a hairbreadth for a ship as large as this. Although ships ordinarily traverse the length of the canal in 2½ hours, the Sable will take more than nine hours to pass through. Captain Weegar estimates. He will be aboard the Helena a 112 foot, 850 horsepower lead tug. A second tug, the J. C. Stewart, will guide the ship's stern end.

In the Shade of the Old Dinosaur—Joyce Cleugh and Adess Sheridan are amused and amazed by the colossal proportions of a life-size dinosaur made of cement in the Calgary, Canada, Zoological Park. More than 30 dinosaur skeletons have been found on the banks of the Red Deer River near Drumheller, Alberta, since 1912. Averaging 70 tons in weight, the dinosaurs flourished more than 90,000,000 years ago.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean some pretty candles that have become soiled?

A. Wipe them with a piece of absorbent cotton dipped in alcohol.

Q. How can I take proper care of a palm?

A. It is not well to water palms too often. It is much better to allow the earth to become dry, then give it a good soaking. The palm leaves should be sponged every week to keep them in good condition.

Q. How can I give a delicate fragrance to the linen clothes?

A. By placing a lump of orris root in the boiler on wash day. The fragrance will last even after the clothes are ironed.

Q. How can I remove stains from piano keys?

A. By rubbing them with oxalic acid. Also rub them occasionally with a soft cloth wet with alcohol to keep the keys white.

Q. How can I destroy grass and weeds on a clay tennis court?

A. By using a solution of hot lye or hot brine. This destroys plant life. Use extreme care not to get any of the solution on any grass or shubbery near the court, or it will kill it.

Q. How can I clean tortoise shell?

A. By using alcohol, then polishing with a chamois dipped in dry borax.

CHRONICLES OF GINGER FARM

by Gwendoline P. Clarke

Ontario is facing a crisis. How it is met depends upon you and me . . . and the rest of the people. I am referring to the hydro shortage. Yes, a lot depends "upon the rest of the people" and of course on the Hydro Commission itself, but still if each one of us would stop worrying about what the other fellow is doing and concentrate on ways and means of saving power in our own homes a lot less kilowatt hours would be used as a result. It is so easy to say—"Why should I bother to use less power when So-and-So's house is all lit up like a Christmas tree?" And supposing it it—does that give us the right to be equally ignorant and inconsiderate? As my niece aptly remarked the other day—"Hydro is one thing you can't hoard—to have it you must save it."

We are continually being reminded by press and radio to save power—use no more lights than are necessary; turn the switch when the kettle starts to sing; be saving with heaters, and so on. That's fine but I think the habits of our own respective families might be studied to good purpose. I know that is so here. For instance, until everyone is in bed we always keep a light burning in the hall. As a safety measure we still do but we now have a 10-watt bulb instead of a 40, and for the bracket light in the dining-room a 7½ watt bulb. The main cellar light has always been a big waster. The switch is at the top of the stairs. Someone comes up from the cellar, forgets to switch off the light, and because it is natural to close the cellar door the light is shut off and there is nothing to give any warning that the siwtch has been left on. So we got busy. We rigged up a plug-in light, with a tiny bulb that hooks up on the outside of the cellar door. Since it is plainly visible through the glass panel of the dining room door we always see it and act accordingly, if by any chance the light should be left on.

Then in our little sitting-room Partner has a 60-watt bulb in the reading lamp by his couch. That's fine—for reading! But most evenings Partner will drop off to sleep—and who needs a 60-watt light to sleep by? So, unless I am using the lamp at the far end of the room, I switch off the bright light and turn on a 15-watt wall lamp specially installed for that purpose.

And what about the radio? Where is the family who cannot find some way of using it a little less? How often is the radio turned on and then forgotten, with announcers telling an empty house how to get rid of acid indigestion or the kind of soap to use to make the whitest wash?

And then there are stoves . . . cool days are with us once again and it shouldn't be any great hardship to go back to the old cook-stove to do our baking. Hydro is such a precious thing and those of us who did without it for so many years, know only to well how much it contributes to the joy and comfort of everyday life. Shouldn't we then be the first to try to conserve it? Not just for ourselves, but for industry. Shortage of power could have far reaching results. It could throw thousands out of work and seriously upset our industrial machinery. Someone may have slipped up on the job but there is little use at this time to berate the government or the H.E.P.C. for any inconvenience we may suffer. We were given fair warning a shortage might occur—a shortage that has been further aggravated by the late summer drought — and that was something no one could prevent.

Canada depends so much upon her natural resources — water to generate electricity; natural gas in many parts of the country; oil for so many prposes; and it looks as if our use of these resources is outstripping the supply. It is something to remember—and we might also think twice before we criticize. For instance someone turned in a complaint because a big business pace was ablaze with light and was told that in this particular instance the company had its own generating plant.

Excuse me a minute—Partner is calling. Oh-oh . . . is my face red! Partner was wanting to know why the back cellar light had been left burning. And I was the culprit! See what I mean? If we each make a habit of checking up on the rest of the family surely a lot of power could be saved.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Rev. R. Barclay Warren

History in the Old Testament

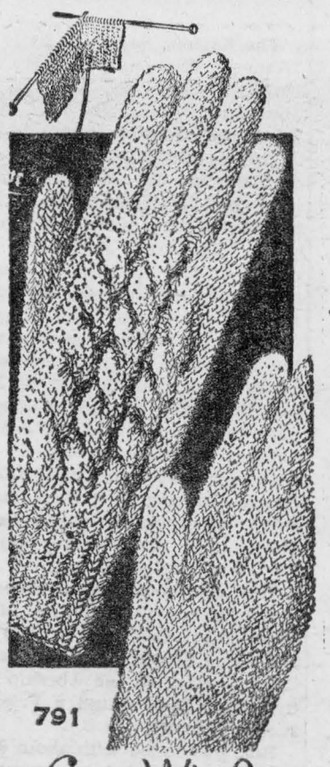

1 Kings 4:21-29; 11:16, 9-11.

Golden Text:—Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord.—Paslm 33.12.

A large portion of the Old Testament is history. It relates in detail the story of Israel, the chosen race. A few years ago a traveller was going from Egypt to Palestine. He went to a book seller to secure a guide book which would enable him to identify the historic landmarks in the country over which he was to travel. The book seller frankly told him that if he would study the book of Exodus, and related passages, it would be as dependable a guide as he could find. Furthermore, almost every year fresh evidence is uncovered confirming the accuracy of the Old Testament History.

The lesson gives us a picture of the Kingdom of Israel when its prosperity and grandeur was greatest. Soloman ruled in peace for forty years. It was the golden age. It was not the forced prosperity occasioned by war, but a prosperity made possible by peace. The Queen of Sheba after visiting the kingdom and viewing its glory exclaimed to Solomon, "The half was not told me."

But despite Solomon's wisdom he made a great error. "He loved many strange women . . . he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines. He joined with his wives in their idolatrous worship. Because of Solomon's sin God said to him, "I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant." To be in the kingdom of God is better than to rule kingdoms of the world.

Witches and hobgoblins and ghosts! The thrill of dressing up in long skirts and ringing doorbells around the neighborhood is something no child should miss! And whether you have children of your own or expect some visiting neighbors, refreshments are always in order on Hallowe'en Hhere's a recipe for simply "super" cup cakes that would be delicious at any season, but with their Jack-o'-lantern decorations are the very thing to delight the heart of every boy and girl on All Hallow's Eve.

Yum-Yums

3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons water
1½ squares unsweetened chocolate
¼ teaspoon soda
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup butter or other shortening
¾ cup sugar
2 egg whites, unbeaten
⅔ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar, water and chocolate in saucepan and cook over low flame until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Stir in soda; cool slightly.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt; and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg whites, one at a time, beating very thoroughly after each. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Divide batter in two parts; to one part, add chocolate mixture, stirring until blended. Put by teaspoons into greased cupcake pans, alternately light and dark mixtures. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Makes 16 large cupcakes. Top with your favorite chocolate icing. Garnish with sliced blanched almonds to make Jack-o'-lantern faces; use slice of orange peel for stem.

Which Side?

An old grad was belittling the quality of present-day gridiron warriors. "When I was in college," he told the coach, "I helped Varsity trim Western three years in succession." "Zatso," nodded the coach. "Which team did you say you were playing for?"

The Main Building at the Mitchell Fall Fairgrounds has undergone some very extensive renovations since last year. This year the building and exhibits ranked next to the Western Fair in quality and appointments. The picture shows part of the flower display in the centre of the building that claimed a great deal of interest from the record Fair crowds this year.

Fair Time Highlights

By the Ful-O-Pep Reporter

In reply to numerous requests we would like to repeat here that the pictures shown on these pages may be obtained from the Ful-O-Pep photographer. His address is 123 Eighteenth Street, New Toronto, Ontario.

There has been a good deal of interest shown in these pages and a number of questions have been asked, some of which we would like to answer here. The favourite question seems to be this, "You took our picture at the fair. Why was it not shown in the paper?"

The answer to this is that there have been a good number of pictures taken which could not be used because of the lack of space on the page. We have tried to select the pictures which would be of interest to the greatest number of people, and we have had to leave out some others.

f you know your picture was taken and you have not seen it here then you can still get a print of it by writing in to the Ful-O-Pep Photographer at the above address. Tell him what fair it was and describe to him what you look like and other details of the picture. He will gladly reply to your letter.

This reporter has had an opportunity to see behind the scenes of nearly every Fall Fair in Ontario this season and has been impressed by the amount of work required "back stage." The worried-looking men you see going around the grounds with "Official" ribbons on their coats have always good cause to look worried. Sometimes the exhibitors are apt to forget that their particular event and their particular part of it must be fitted into the general picture of the fair. Sometimes it is even necessary to make one person suffer a little so that the fair can be run at all.

Sometimes we think it is a miracle that anyone is pleased but generally speaking the exhibitors and contestants are all in their best Fall Fair humour and manage to see everything in a proper light. The forbearance of the Farmers who exhibit in these shows as well as the efficiency of the fair executive is responsible for the success of the fairs. When credit is being given both sides of the question should be kept in mind.
