After Control Of Electric RY.

If a deal which is now pending goes through, control of the Ottawa and Morrisburg Railway Company will shortly change hands, says the Ottawa Free Press.

It is understood that an offer has been made to Mr. John McFarland, president of the compnay, and several other large shareholders, for their holdings of the company's stock.

The purchasing syndicate's offer has in view the acquisition of 60 percent. of the stock which would of course carry with it control of the company.

Mr. McFarland admitted Saturday morning that negotiations were in progress. "But there's nothing definite yet said he. He would not divulge the identity of the would-be purchasers or the nature of their offer.

The real estate broker who is said to be the agent of the purchasing syndicate also declined to give out anything definite concerning the deal. "I can't say anything at this stage," said he.

The company is understood to have made a very satisfrctory arrangement with the farmers all along the route for a right of way through their farms. This fact renders the company's project a much more promising one than it was six months or a year ago.

Search For A Lost Baby

A little two year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor, former residents of Brockville, wandered away from its home at Milftone Sask., last week. The most diligent search for several hours on the part of its parents and friends did not reveal any trace of the little tot's whereabouts and then a general appeal was sent out all over the whole district for aid. Over three hundred people turned out and a systematic search was started. Darkness then overtook the searchers and lanterns were stationed at intervals where the ground was being covered but it was all with out avail. It was then decided to cut the wheat early in the morning and by three o'clock a large number had turned out for the purpose. A man on horse back rode in front of each binder to give warning in case the child might be in its path Shortly after this method was adopted a man on his way to town discovered the child in a lane near a granary, a mile and three-quarters from home. The little girl was hugging tightly her doll when found and except that she was suffering intensly from thirst she was not much the worse for her experience. The child had to pass through a thick bush and climb down a steep bank to reach the place where she was found and the miracle was that she was alive.

Slept On Money But It Vanishes.

Mr. Vene Robinson, a drover of this place, was robbed of $1,500 Sunday night at his residence, Robinson is in the habit of buying hogs at Morrisburg. And in order to get an early start Monday morning he drew $1,500 from the bank placing the money between the mattress and his bed.

During the night he was disturbed by a noise, but woke up too late His money was missing and the robbers escaped. They had no trouble in effecting an entrance into the room as the window was up.

It is evident the thieves were well prepared to defend themselves as a large piece of tubing was left behind, evidently to be used should Mr. Robinson wake up during the search for the money. Robinson's movements must have been well known to the perpetrators.

Call and inspect G.W. Bogart's new arrival of Fur-lined Coats for Ladies.

"I HONESTLY BELIEVE 'FRUIT-A-TIVES'

The Greatest Cure For Rheumatism In The World"

KNOWLTON, QUE., Oct. 12th. 1909.

"For many years, I suffered from severe Rheumatism, and the attacks were very distressing and prevented me from doing my ordinary work. I tried many remedies and physicians' treatments, but nothing seemed to do me much good, and I was becoming very anxious for fear I would become a permanent cripple from the disease.

I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and this medicine has entirely cured me and I honestly believe it is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world."

E. E. MILLS.

Such a statement could not be bought from a man like Mr. Mills. He thinks too much of his good name, to sell it or sign it to an untruth. Mr. Mills tried "Fruit-a-tives" after all other treatment failed—and "Fruit-a-tives" cured him of Rheumatism. In the goodness of his heart, he wrote the above letter in order that sufferers in all parts of Canada would know that there is one remedy that actually does cure Rheumatism. This testimonial was entirely unsolicited on our part. We did not know that Mr Mills was taking "Fruit-a-tives" until we received the above letter.

It is a case like Mr. Mills' that proves the marvellous powers of "Fruit-a-tives" in arresting and curing disease. It may be stated, without fear of contradiction, that "Fruit-a-tives" will positively cure Rheumatism when properly used.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices and is the greatest Rheumatism cure known to modern science.

LUTHERAN CONVENTIONS.

Meeting of Conference, S. S. Convention and Luther League Rally.

On Tudsday the Eastern Conference of the Lutheran Synod of Central Canada met in St. Luke's church Dunbar, in morning and afternoon sessions attended by delegates from Montreal, Riverside, Morrisburg, Ottawa, Williamsburg and Dunbar. The pastor of the parish, The Rev. J. J. May, was unavoidably absent in New York city owing to illness. The Rev. L. M. McCreery led the altar service and the Rev. M. J. Bieber presided at the afternoon session owing to the unavoidable absence of the Rev. Mr. McCreery at a funeral. The Rev. Mr. McCreery was re-elected president of the Conference and the Rev. Mr. May secretary-treasurer. It was decided to aim to introduce "The Lutheran" into every home and Mr. McIntosh of Ottawa was named as reporter for the Conference. The Rev. Mr. Bieber dismissed the general council thesis on "Inner Missions The next convention of the conference will be held on invitation of Mr. Peter Barkley in St. Peter's Williamsburg.

In the evening the Conference Sunday school convention was held, called to order and presided over by the president Mr. A. H. Casselman. The Rev. Mr. Bieber conducted the devotional service The Rev. H. J. Croushore thoroughly discussed the "Graded System" in our Sunday schools and the Rev. Mr. McCreery interestingly taught a class of scholars on the lesson picture chart. The Rev. Mr. Bieber spoke on the "System" and pronounced the benediction. The officers were re-elected viz.: President, Mr. A. H. Casselman; recording secretary Miss Meda Whitteker; treasurer Mrs. Herman Hayunga. The delegates and visitors were hospitably entertained at the members' homes.

The first fall rally of the Eastern district of the Canada Luther League was held on Wednesday in afternoon and evening sessions in St. Peter's church Williamsburg, the Rev. J. J. May Ph. D. pastor and was attended by a large number of delegates and visitors from Montreal, Ottawa, Dunbar, Riverside, and Morrisburg. All roads led to St. Peter's church on Wednesday and a feast for all who came. The executive committee had prepared an excellent program and it was just as excellently rendered. Not a performer was absent and not a paper struck an unharmonious note, but all were exceedingly interesting, practical and helpful. The chairman of the executive committee, Mr. Henry Shennette who is also the treasurer of the Canada League, called the meeting to order at 2.30 p.m. and ably presided at both sessions. The Rev. L. M. McCreery, pastor of St. Paul's church, Morrisburg, conducted the devotional service, after which Mr. E. C. Merkley of St. Peter's church Williamsburg welcomed the League to Williamsburg and the church and made all feel at home. President Shennette in well chosen words responded to the welcome and expressed his Pleasure at meeting in the hospitable parish at Williamsburg.

Mr. Bernard Fetterly presented an able paper on "The Origin, Purpose and Future Possibilities of the Luther League." He stated that the Luther League originated in New York city in 1888 and has since covered United States and Canada. The Luther League of America was organized in Pittsburg in Pittsburg in October 1895, and meets there again this year on October 25th. The Canada League took shape in Galt in April 1903 and became a member of the Luther League in America in Chicago in August of 1908, making the Luther League in America international. Mr. Fetterly stated that the purpose of the League was to train our laymen and laywomen, to unite the Lutherans more closely and to inspire to prayer and service. This paper as well as all the others led to interesting discussions in which many of the delegates took part.

Miss Belva Barkley of Williamsburg, in a very helpful paper on "What the Luther League Can Do For Our Church, emphasized "godliness" above all else,

"Young Women for the Deaconess Work" by Miss Florence Garlough of Williamsburg, vividly presented the wonderful sphere of work for women in nursing, teaching, parish work all in the name of Christ.

Miss Tombyll of Montreal, in her helping paper on "The Luther League's Duty to Those Outside the Church," spoke on inner, home and foreign missions, on the immigrant on work in the North-West in the local parish. Questions pertaining to Luther League work were made exceedingly helpful by the answers which Mrs. A. H, Casselman, Mrs J. L. McMartin, both of Morrisburg, Mrs. O. Becker Williamsburg, and Mrs. K. L. McIntosh, of the recently organized League in Ottawa, gave. The program was interspersed with hymns and Misses Eloda Casselman and Gertrude McCreery sang a pleasing duet.

At six o'clock the basements was filled with delegates who were invited by the hospitable Leaguers and ladies of the congregation to a sumptuous supper tastily arranged on a table extending the whole length of the room. The Rev. M. J. Bieber the Canada field missionary and president of the synod of Central Canada offered grace and later extended the thanks of the visitors to the local League for its warm welcome and usual generous hospitality.

The evening session began at 7,30 o,clock, the Rev. H. J. Croushore, of Montreal conducting the devotional service. St. Peter's choir rendered several fine selections during the evening. Miss Lottie McIntosh of Morrisburg sweetly sang "Father on Thee We Call," and Miss Edith Johnson of Montreal acceptably rendered "Face to Face." Miss Meda Whittaker of Williamsburg read a paper on "What the Luther League Should Do For Our Seminary," in which she in no mistaken tone spoke of the urgent need of this institution at Toronto and the duty and opportunity of Leagurers to assist its developments by prayer, gifts, and men, Mr. J. Steen principal of the school in Williamsburg delighted all by his able presentation of "Luther As An Educator," and Miss May Baker of Morrisburg gave an interesting paper on "Are We Members of the L. L. Doing Our Share of the Work Required Of Us." President Bieber discussed the "Luther League" by analyzing the word "league" into the words learn, each, activity, give, unity, evangelization, and then outlining the corresponding duties and opportunities of the leagurers, The Rev. H. J. Croushore pronounced the benediction, The National Anthem was sung and the Leagurers returned to their homes pleased and benefitted by the days' valuable expierences. —Herald.

Sentenced To Hang

Perth, Ont., Oct. 12.—Ruphes Weedmark, accused of the murder of his wife at Smith's Falls on April 30, came up for trial today. He entered a plea of not guilty, the assumption being that his defence would be insanity. Mr. E. E. A. Duvernet appeared for the crown and Mr C. J. Foy for the defence. The grand jury returned a true bill yesterday.

After the evidence the prisoner went into the box and recited his family troubles He blamed drink for all the affair and expresses sorrow for what had happened on account of his family.

Dr. Bruce Smith of Toronto, inspector of prisons for Ontario, testified that he examined the prisoner on May 11th last as to his mental and physical condition and found him sound and healthy. Mr. Foy then adressed the jury and made a strong ple a for a verdict of manslaughter, which would mean life imprisoment for the accused. Mr. Duvernet also addressed the jury at some length, reciting the most striking parts of the evidence and condemned the prisoner for besmirching his dead wife's name.

Chancellor Boyd then charged the jury and said both of the counsel had quoted scripture one saying "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy, and the other, "Who so shedeth men's blood, by man shall his blood be shed," and reminded the jury that while these were great truths they should not be taken into consideration. The duty of the jury was to weigh the evidence. He pointed out also his own duty and said strength would be given to all who do their duty. The jury then retired and after 45 minutes deliberation returned a verdict of guilty. The judge then sentenced prisoner to be hanged on Dec. 14th.

Mayes Scores Victory.

St. John. N. B., October 13.—Gershen S. Mayes scored a complete victory over the Dominion Government today, when in the exchequer Court, his lawyers forced the Government to acknowledge the justice of his claims, and, by consent, a verdict was entered for Mayes for $9,760 and all costs.

The case was brought by Mayes to recover sums due to him on account of work done in the harbor. The Government denied all claims, and in a statement of defence, filed by the Government lawyers, the contention was made that Mayes had made fraudulent statements and that he really was overpaid for the work.

A FEDERAL BOARD OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Advocated by Dr. Hodgetts at Conference in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The creation of a federal department of health to cooperate with the various provincial health department was the principal recommendation in important address this morning by Dr. Charles A. Hodgetts. medical adviser to the Commission on Conversation at the Public Health Conference here to-day. The subject was pure water and the pollution of waterways. Hon. Clifford Sifton, charman of the commission welcomed the delegates, who included the members of the public health committee of the commission, representatives of various federal departments. and the provincial health officers of the various provinces. Dr. J. W. S. McCulloch representing Ontario. and Dr. G. D. Foster, associate secretary of the Canadian Tuberculesis Association of Toronto,

Referring to diseases due to impure water. Dr. Hodgetts said it was generally conceded that a large percentage of all happening in cities and towns was due to impurity of the water supply. It was now almost the general rule, he stated to consider that a continued typhoid death rate of over 20 per 100,000 of population was an indication that public water supply was greatly in fault.

The doctor advocated better health laws, the enforcement of which should in the main, rest with some centrally well organized and wisely administered Federal department, co-operating with each various provincial department of health.

"Personal experience," he said, "leads me to express the opinion that in the main, provincial department laws are nonefficient; they look well on paper but in practice municipal authorities do pretty much as they please and as the powers of most provincial boards of health are only advisory they accept or reject the advice or recommendation of the board just as they see fit. The provincial laws with the exceptions of those of Saskatchewan lack all mandatory restrictive or corrective power."

In conclusion, Dr. Hodgetts again alluded to the desirability of some Federal public health organization to solve international and interprovincal problems "It is not contented," said he, "that the dangers at present existing in the various provinces are identically the same either in degree or in fact but there exists the same underlying principle . . . provincial legislation alone will . . . difficulties. It requires some . . . authority, viz., that of the . . . dent to deal with them . . . those of an international . . . be for the Commission of . . . to investigate the . . . collecting all available . . . with the assistance of the several provincial and local health authorities in order correctly to estimate the character, quantity and variety of various pollutions at present existing and to ascertain their exact point of discharge and their bearing upon the present source of water supply of town and cities both near and remote from the point of discharge; and further, to consider and recommend ways and means for the abatement of these nuisances, having always in mind that the health of the citizens of this country is paramount but ever remembering the necessity for the fostering of agriculture and the development of manufactures."

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Chesterville Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick—
Nature tells you all about it.
The urine is nature's calendar.
Infrequent or too frequent action
Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills. Booth's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills. Chesterville people testify to this.

Mrs. Fred Merkley of Ralph St. Chesterville, Ont., says:

"Mr. Merkley speaks very highly of Booth's kidney pills as he had found more actual results from their use than all else he had previously tried. His back had bothered him for some long time and he would often suffer with head aches and dizzy spells. He was run down and languid and although he had tried many different remedies he could not get relief. Mr. Bolster the druggist recommended Booth's kidney pills and the first box gave him relief from the backache. He built up gradually and he has not had any return of the trouble since

Opening Of Parliament.

Ottawa, October. 13.—Parliament will meet on November 17. This was settled at to-days sitting of the Cabinet. Routine work for the session is said to be well advanced, and the legislative programme of the Goverment does not promise to be nearly as extensive as the last session. There is likely to be a lot of private legislation.

The Banking Art revision is one of the most important of the Government's moves.

Mr. Vene Robinson, drover, of Chesterville, was robbed of $1,500 which he had concealed in his bed.

SIX LIVES LOST IN MONTREAL FIRE.

Night Watchman and Family Perished—Great Damage Done.

Montreal Oct. 13—Six lives were lost in the fire which destroyed the King's Hall building on St. Catherine street west at two o'clock this morning.

The dead are F. Whittal, night watchman, wife and two small children; Chas. Threshie of Boston, Mass., manager of billiard parlor; Harry Richards employee of the building.

With the thrilling rescue of Edgar Coates and John Jones taking from the roof after an exciting fight by the firemen lasting fifteen minutes it was supposed that all the occupants had escaped and it was not until this afternoon that relatives of the night watchman, F. Whittal who with his wife and two children lived on the fifth floor, reported that nothing had been seen of him and a careful search of the ruins had been instituted. Then the remains of Whital with his two children in his arms, their heads covered by a blanket, were found, and bnt a few yards away those of his wife. All four had perished from asphyxiation the bodies being but little burned.

On the third floor were found the remains of Charles Threshie of Boston who came to Montreal a month ago to assume the management of the billiard parlor, located on the first floor of the building and who occupied a room on the third floor. Richard's room was located on the top floor in the section of the building where the fire raged most fiercely.

Thirteen people slept in the place. Of these Charles Price the caretaker his wife and child escaped by the front door Dr. Adams a dentist escaped by means of a rope he kept for the purpose in his office on the third floor. Two men Edgar Coates and John Jones sought safety on the roof from which they were rescued by the firemen after the crowd on the street below had encouraged them for fifteen minutes not to jump. The remaining six perished.

The ground floor of the building was divided into stores while the remaining floors were occupied as offices a billiard parlor the King's hall and sleeping apartments for the employes of the building. The total loss is placed at $150,000 covered by insurance.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., or Philadelphia, Pa.

This Feeding Floor Could Be Built in The Fall

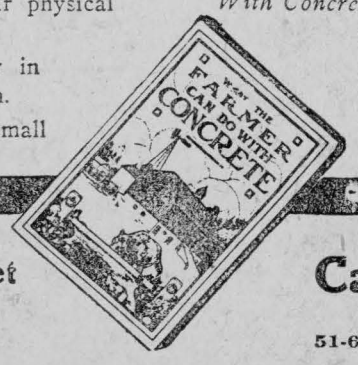

and it would help greatly to preserve the condition of your live stock in the Spring.

Every farmer knows that in the Spring of the year his barnyard is almost bottomless. The live stock mire down into the mud and almost float around—greatly to the detriment of their physical condition.

By building a Concrete feeding floor in the yard, this trouble is done away with.

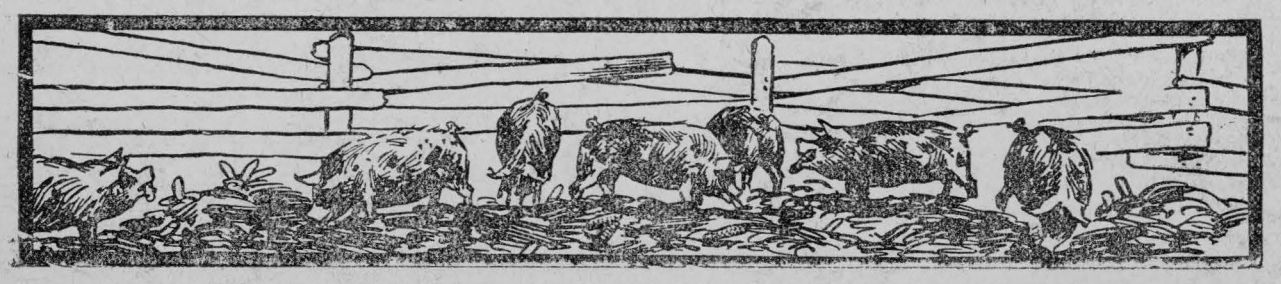

A Feeding Floor of comparatively small area and built this Fall, would pay for itself next year. Concrete is the only material that can be used in this way at a moderate cost.

Will you ask for your copy of the book which we have prepared for you—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"? It's free—and, take our word for it, you'll find it one of the most interesting pieces of such literature you ever read. And profitable, too—because it will save you money.

Imported Clydesdale Fillies Put Up At Auction.

Horsemen and farmers who failed to attend the auction sale of imported Clydesdale fillies on Friday at Ottawa missed an opportunity that may not come again in years to purchase thoroughbred so cheap. The sale was conducted in the Butler house yard and the horses offered at auction were imported by Mr. W. M. Meharey the well-known farmer, breeder importer of Russell Ont. Mr, Meharey is deserving of much praise in his desire to promote good breeding in horses. The prices obtained at the sale Friday were not by any means such as to encourage importation. Twenty-five animals in all were advertised for sale but the bidding became so listless and the prices so low that after fourteen had been sold the others were withdrawn for sale. All were of the best blood and registered in the Clydesdale stud books in Scotland and Canada. They were all two years old and fine animals in every way. One actually went for $200 the price of an ordinary scrub. The highest price realized for any one was $480.

The following is a complete list of the horses sold and the buyers: Lady Nicholton to Geo. McFadden Navan for $400 Rose of Haithwaite, to John Minogue, Cumberland for $480; Jean McDowall, to Samuel Fulton, Chesterville, for $240; Flora Murray, to A. H. Acres, Hazeldean $235; Jean of Beaumont, to A. H. Acres Hazeldean for $300; Clarcrop Belle to A. H. Acres, Hazeldean for $245; Glorina, to A. Camp Blackburn for $310; Jess of Morlitch to John Willoughby Smith's Falls for $280; Jess of Harlaw, to Joshua Hardy, Bowesville, for $285; Lady Kerr, to Wilson, Black, Morewood, for $200; Lady Teacher to Alex Meharey, Russell for $400; Mina Key to Robert Meharey, Russell for $250; Miss Kippen to Alfred Moreau, Russell, for $300; Jean Percy, to Alfred Moreau Russell for $300.

In conversation with a citizen representative Mr. Meharey contrasted Friday's sale with a sale of 64 which he held in St. John N. B. which sold for much higher prices and all went in five hours. Mr. Thos. Irving wielded the hammer.

Scaffolding Fell, Three Were Hurt.

A serious accident occured at Metcalfe on Saturday afternoon, when a scaffolding on the roof of James Simpson's house gave way. James Grant, Stephen Henderson and Robert Speers fell 25 feet and were seriously injured. Mr. Henderson is believed to be fatally injured. He fell on his shoulder and head. His shoulder was frightfully bruised and he recieved a deep gash in the head. The other men were not so seriously hurt. It is stated that Grant and Speers will be around again with in a week or more. The Dr states that Henderson is in a serious condition, and may not recover.

The cause of the accident is unknown. It appears that the staging was in good condition, and that the men over loaded it with shingles At any rate the fall was a clean one, there not being a single thing to break the fall.

The whole town was alarmed when news spread. People flocked from all sections. It was some time before the doctor arrived. It was learned today that Mr. Henderson is improving as well as can be expected. Goant and Speers are doing well also.

Wants National Park Among Rapids.

L. A. Ault, of Cincinnati, O., president of the Ault Woodenware Co., and the chairman of the Park Commission of the same city, recently bought thirty acres of land at the head of Sheek Island, the bit of Canadian territory, which projects into the grandest park of the Long Sault Rapids, with deep water lake one and one-half by one-half miles, on one side formed by the Cornwall canal enlargement Mr. Ault is a native of Cornwall township, and spent his youth in this vicinity. He has accumulated wealth in the United States. He hopes to see the land he has acquired along with the fifteen odd acres owned by Dominion Government converted into a national park. It is rumored that Mr. Ault would not be adverse to contributiug some of his coin and valuable experience to the development of this park if he could be assured of its maintenance and upkeep in years to come. Even if the Long Sault Rapids are dammed for power purposes in accordance with the schem recently discussed, the park will overlook the big artificial falls, over half a mile long.

P. H. Roy, ex-President of the Bank of St. John, has been released from penitentiary, and it is said he is not expected to live more than a few weeks.

Falsifying Books is Second Charge

Brockville. Ont. 14—Robert E. Cughan, former manager of the Farmers' Bank at Athens, appeared at the Police Court to-day for a preliminary hearing on the second charge laid by the bank officials, that of falsifying the books. He pleaded not guilty, but on the evidence of Melvin Forest, the deposed teller now on remand awaiting sentence, and Delos Spence, the former cashier, Cughan was commited to stand his trial, and remanded to jail.

The evidence of Forrest was along the same lines as that given at preliminary hearing of the theft charge, while Spence swore that he made a false entry in the books at the request of his superior, Cughan.

On appearing before the county judge Cughan was admitted to bail until the 21 when he will be tried on two charges, one of falsifying books and statements and the other of the theft of $900.

THE MOLSONS BANK.

Fifty-Fifth Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders Held Monday—With Increasing Prosperity President Foreshadows Extra One Per Cent.

The fiifty-fifth annual general meeting of the Molsons Bank was held in the Board Room of the institution at three o'clock on Monday afternoon.

The President, Mr. William Molson Macpherson, occupied the chair, and others in attendance, were Messrs. S. H. Ewing, H. Markland Molson, C. S. Campbell, Ed. Fiske, R. W. Shepherd, W. H. Evans, J. P. Cleghorn, A. Piddington, W. R. Miller, C. B. Gordon, W. M. Ramsay, Alex. D. Fraser, James Alexander, George Durnford, Dr. J. Elsdale Molson. W. Stamway, C. E. Spragge and R. G. Dunton.

The President having called the meeting to order, requested Mr. A. D. Durnford to act as secretary, and that gentleman read the notice convening the meeting.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The General Manager, Mr. James Elliott, then read the Directors' Annual Report, as follows:—

Gentlemen,—Your Directors have much pleasure in submitting this, their 55th Annual Report and Statement of the affairs of the Molsons Bank, as on the 30th September, 1910.

The net profits amount to $602,694.86, as shown by statement now submitted, after paying the usual 10 per cent. dividend, taxes, subscriptions to Pension Fund, and expenditure on branch buildings; the balance was added to profit and loss account, and therefrom a transfer of $350,000 made to the Reserve Fund, which, with the $550,000 premium of 110 per cent. received on issue of $500,000 of new stock, raised it from $3,500,000 to $4,400,000. The balance remaining at credit of Profit and Loss Account is $115,187.97.

An issue of 5,000 shares new stock of the Bank was made on the 4th February last, and sold to Sperling & Co., of London, Eng., at $210 per share; your consent thereto, and waiver to your pro rata right to allotment in proportion to your holdings, having been first obtained.

This $500,000 raises the Bank's paid up capital from $3,500,000 to $4,000,000.

For convenience of our English shareholders, a register for stock of the Bank has been opened in London, Eng.

The year's growth of the Bank's business is very satisfactory, increase of deposits from $27,156,151 to $31,342,439, and of loans and discounts from $28,194,634 to $32,815,154

Money has been in good demand at reasonable rates, giving a fair return.

During the year branches have been opened at Cote des Neiges and Bedford, Que.; Portage Ave., Winnipeg, Man., and Diamond City, Alta.

Head Office and branches have, as usual, been thoroughly inspected.

The officers have faithfully performed their duties.

WM. MOLSON MACPHERSON, President.

THE MEN OF THE NORTH.

By William Talbot Allison.

[William Talbot Allison was born at Unionville, Ont., 1874. He is a graduate of Victoria University, and has written occasional verse for the magazines. He lives in Toronto.]

From out the cold house of the north
Thor's stalwart children hurtled forth,
Forsook their sullen seas;
Southward the Gothic wagons rolled.
While bards foretold a realm of gold,
And fame, and boundless ease.

Loud rang the shields with sounding blows,
The furious din of war arose
Adown the dreary land;
But Woden held them in his ken,
And safely passed the Teuton men
By every hostile band.

At length, one day, the host was thrilled
At that glad cry the foremost shrilled—
"The sea! A southern sea!"
As breathless stood the northmen there,
The wind swept through their yellow hair,
And sang of empery.

Rome's doom was written in their eyes,
Fell tumult under sunny skies,
Death on the Golden Horn:
Now, by the rood, what southern slaves,
Or land that any south sea laves,
Can face the northern born?

A CANADIAN HELEN KELLER.

Jean Veinot Is the Marvel of Halifax Institute.

In the heart of the Annapolis Valley where they raise Gravensteins and Bishop pippins of high quality, where the skylark sings its sweetest, and every change of season but adds to the variety of scene and charm of living, where lads and lassies peep their pretty faces through the apple blossoms, there Mary Jane Veinot, the deaf dumb-blind girl was born.

She is popularly known as Jean, and for the last three years she has been the centre of attraction in the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Halifax. She is a favorite not because of her many deprivations, but because of her buoyant, playful temperament, the unexpected ways in which her very mischief shows itself, and her apparent determination to be disengaged from the limitations within which her spirit has been hemmed.

"May I talk with you?" is the first salute, gentle and inoffensive, that leads many an unsuspecting victim into her clutches. The objects of her inquiry range anywhere from the heavens above to the earth beneath, and the waters under the earth. Aristotle's dictum that all men by nature have a desire to know finds a living illustration in Jean, whose thirst for the horizon is acute, intense and chronic.

She learnt with regret of the death of King Edward, the comet's tail brought her much enjoyment and no terror, and her interest in current events is greater than that of most politicians. In proof of her oneness with childlife everywhere, she is very fond of play and can make her way about the grounds without difficulty.

Born in Berwick, King's County, Nova Scotia, ten years ago, much deprivation and loss have been packed into the few years she has known. Very early she lost her mother, and, as in many another instance, this may have been responsible for her other troubles. When she was about two years and a half she had an illness from which she emerged deaf, dumb and blind. Nature could hardly have gone further in clipping her wings and depriving her of the equipment which most people find none too adequate in the face of life's storm and stress. What little vocabulary she had acquired gradually faded out of her memory, and the only intelligible sound she knew when she came under the supervision of the school was "Granny," for her grandmother, Mrs. G. W. Raruse, took the mother's place for her.

In this helpless state and with health that promised little, she came to the Halifax institution. Her progress in three short years of training has not only been rapid, but, from the point of view of the uninitiated, miraculous. By means of the manual alphabet she can converse with the rapidity of a magician. She reads the lips by putting her fingers over the mouth of the speaker. She reads and writes braille as a part of her daily recreation. She writes love-letters to her grandmother on the Remington typewriter, and she intones the Lord's Prayer on a public platform with the solemnity of a high churchman.

Jean Veinot began with the manual alphabet also, and b—o—o—k was the first word spelled out for her. Then the word pen, and at the same time these objects were given her to handle until through the association of ideas she came to connect certain words with certain objects. Having learnt two words she went on to two hundred and two thousand, from nouns to verbs like walk, run, while at the same time she was made to walk or run, and so on with every part of speech, and, like herself, Jean's vocabulary is growing every day.

BOWSER'S DAY OFF

Diary Taken From His Pocket Tells One Story.

NOT WHAT HE TOLD AT HOME.

Sights and Drinks of Gay Old Boys' Club on the River—Thinks He Fooled His Wife, but She Holds the Secret All the Same.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.]

THE other morning just as the first faint streaks of daylight were showing in the east Mrs. Bowser was awakened and called downstairs by a vigorous ring at the bell. She went down to find a policeman and Mr. Bowser at the door. The policeman could speak English. Mr. Bowser couldn't. The policeman said:

"Found him down by the river, ma'am, and as I happened to know him I brought him home. As near as I can make out he has been on a steamboat excursion and had too much ginger ale to drink."

"Yes, and he went with a club called the Gay Old Boys yesterday. I thank you very much."

"Oh, don't mention it, ma'am."

Mr. Bowser was led into the sitting room and laid on the lounge. He was very quiet and reserved. In fact, he did no talking at all. After trying for five minutes he got a memorandum book out of his pocket and handed it to Mrs. Bowser and fell asleep and began to snore next minute. She put a pillow under his head, removed his shoes and then sat down to read, as follows:

BOWSER'S VIEW OF HOG ISLAND.

"Gay Old Boys going to have a steamboat excursion, and I shall go along.

"Have talked the matter over with Mrs. B., and she agrees that a day off will do me worlds of good. Wanted her to come along, but she said she was no gay old gal.

"Was at the wharf at 9 o'clock this morning. Most of the Gay Old Boys present.

"Ginger ale before we started. Object, to give us ginger.

"Beautiful steamboat, beautiful water, beautiful day. We haven't gone a hundred rods yet, but I feel a year younger. This is what I have needed—a day off. Some ginger ale. Object, to add to the ginger of the occasion.

Lemonade.

"We are now passing Hog island. Beautiful island. Mrs. B. would appreciate it. Hog ought to be proud to have an island named after him. Feel two years younger. Feel like whooping. All the Old Boys drinking lemonade. Object, to get the twang.

"Just passed Lonely island. It is sad to meet with a lonely island and know that you can't help the case. Some philanthropist should buy other islands and plant them around Lonely.

"Have just sung a song for the Gay Old Boys. It was entitled 'The Old Oaken Bucket.' Carried us all back to our childhood days. Applause tremendous. Wish Mrs. B. could have heard it. She thinks I'm no singer. Spruce beer to clear our throats.

"We are now passing Cat island. Beautiful island. I feel three years younger. Named after cats, I suppose, but I'm not worrying about it.

"Have just discovered that my scarf-pin is gone. The captain of the boat may have picked it off, but I'm not going to say anything about it. He's a man with a large family and a small salary and needs all the scarfpins he can acquire.

"Beautiful day. Water limpid. Ozone delightful. Some more spruce beer.

"One of the Gay Old Boys has just made a speech. Very funny. Haven't laughed so much in ten years. Wish Mrs. B. could see me laughing. Feel four years younger. It's like a trip to Europe. We have just had another lemonade all around. The twang is delightful.

"We are approaching Skedunk island, our destination. Sits like a gem in the sea. One of the Gay Old Boys has just knocked my hat overboard, but nothing can mar the harmony of the occasion. Feel five years younger.

"Landed on the island. Ideal spot. Gay Old Boys feel like a lot of colts. Wish Mrs. B. could see me turning cart wheels. Luncheon and ginger ale. Have lent one of the club $20 to pay his pew rent. Feel good. Feel liberal. Shan't say anything to Mrs. B. about lending the money. She is not liberal.

Hammer Throwing.

"Foot races, wrestling, boxing and throwing the hammer. Then we disport ourselves in the briny deep. Feel all of ten years younger. My disporting was greeted with loud and long continued applause.

"While I was disporting some one ashore took my watch. Probably some Gay Old Boy did it for a joke. Shan't say anything to Mrs. B. about it until I know. She always worries about such things.

"On ceasing to disport in the briny had some elderberry wine. Brought back the days of my childhood when mother used to make it. If elderberry wine wasn't good for folks mothers wouldn't make it.

"Had misunderstanding with Gay Old Boy about something, and we closed in a tempestuous struggle. No damage, however, and we kissed and made up. Think it was lemonade this time.

"None of the other Gay Old Boys is keeping a diary of the trip to show to the wife. This shows how much I appreciate Mrs. B.

"Have just made a speech to the assembled multitude. Can't say what it was about, but it was a corker. It fetched 'em. Tu-mul-tuous applause. Cries of hurrah for Bowser. Wish the speech could have been taken down to read to Mrs. B. She thinks I'm no speechist.

"It was moved and seconded and unanimously passed that old Bowser was one of the gayest of the Old Boys. Mrs. B. ought to know what kind of a husband she's got. There are times when she doesn't seem to appreciate me. Ginger ale this time.

"While engaged in the game of throwing the hammer I threw it half a mile and knocked two men down. Tem-pestuous applause and no great damage done. Wish Mrs. B. could have seen that throw. She thinks I'm no throwist. Elderberry wine to celebrate the feat. Made me think of my mother.

Homeward Bound With a Head.

"We are on the voyage home. Home is a blessed word, and yet somehow I don't care to go home—that is, not this eve."

"Just sung 'nother song for Gay Old Boys. It was either 'The Sweet By and By' or 'Annie Rooney,' but whichever it was it went with a bang. In their mad enthusiasm the crowd threw me down and took my ring and purse. Little too much enthusiasm, but let's have a good time. I will have to tell Mrs. B. something or other, but she's an unsuspicious, innocent soul.

"Just grounded on a sand bar. That called for the lemonade.

"Just got off. That called for ginger ale.

"We are drawing near home. Most of us have been asleep for the last two hours. A day to be remembered. May also be a night to be remembered.

"Mrs. Bowser will go to bed about ten. If I don't get home until midnight she ought to be sound asleep. New cider from harvest apples this time.

"Steamer at wharf. Gay Old Boys bidding each other goodby. Elderberry wine all gone. City seems all turned around and on wrong side of river. City seems standing on its head. If Mrs. B. has only gone to bed and I can get upstairs without waking her"—

Mrs. Bowser laid the little book aside.

That was the last entry, and Bowser was sleeping like a lamb. The look on his face was trusting and innocent. No, she could not take his life. She brought a shawl to throw over him, removed his collar and tie and then returned the diary to his pocket. The house was kept quiet until midafternoon. Then Mr. Bowser awoke and said:

"The steamer was late, and I didn't want to wake you up."

"No? Have a good time?"

"Naw! Stupidest time you ever saw."

And he will keep right on thinking he fooled her.

Not Yet.

"Really, now," said the young man struggling with a few hairs on his upper lip, "do you think a mustache becomes me?"

"I can't say," replied the girl, with a smile, "until it becomes a mustache."—Yonkers Statesman.

The Folly of Grumbling.

Oh, it ain't no use to grumble,
An' it ain't no use to cry.
For dat never brings de sunshine,
An' it never clears de sky.
An' it never stops de thunder,
An' it never checks de rain.
So it's best to keep a-smilin'
Till de sunshine comes again.

THEY WON'T BREAK.

The New Corsets Proof Against Bending and Stooping.

THE FLEXIBLE CORSET.

Every woman who does her own housework and every woman who suffers from too, too solid flesh knows to her regret how easily corset steels break when she bends over. Here is a corset which is warranted to withstand the most strenuous exercising and hold its own unbroken.

The steels are made of some sort of spiral steel which rebounds with every motion of the wearer. They are something new and will be a comfort to womankind, as they are shapely and there is no outward appearance of "common sense," which mars so many of the hygienic garments.

A Typewriter and a Princess.

Times do change.

Even a dozen years ago the thought of speaking of a typewriter and a princess all in one breath would have seemed shockingly incongruous.

But not so now. Princesses are very much up to date.

They would every bit as soon bang away on a typewriter as to laboriously dip a gold tipped quill into a bottle of ink and indite their thoughts with laborious dignity.

No less a personage than Princess Mary, the only daughter of the king and queen of Great Britain, has recently learned to use a typewriter and will assist in typing some of her father's more private correspondence. The princess intends to learn stenography also and is keenly looking forward to helping her mother.

Bridge Prizes.

Silver sets for running ribbons of various widths through lingerie make excellent simple prizes for bridge or euchre. There are usually four "leaders," as the bodkins are called in each set, and in little brocaded covers, as they are, become attractive as well as useful. Another pretty trifle that every girl likes to have is a small housewife for her sewing bag. A tiny fancy emery cushion, a small pair of scissors, a needlecase and sometimes a gay bit of wax—all mounted and joined together—are desirable and not expensive.

So great is the fad for bridge scores of various kinds that they are always excellent prizes for men as well as women. Most elaborate are some of the newest pads and books, being bound in the gayest fashion and having small reminders of the trump so arranged as to change it after each hand. Pencils accompany them, and the cases may be used again when the original scores have been exhausted.

Smart School Blouse.

For school wear a plaid blouse is always good style worn with a dark skirt. The material may be either silk or one of the new worsted plaids that are as soft and silky as the latter fabric. These woolen plaids come with the name on them of the clan to which they belong, so if one is of Scottish descent they may sport their own particular "plaidie."

The blouse illustrated has a narrow vest of navy blue taffeta with simulated buttonholes and small buttons covered with the silk which also edges the wide shoulder plait. There is little change in the new shirt waists except that most of them when not of wash stuffs have the long shoulder effect and are often made in one with the bodice portion.

A Mind's All Right, But—

It is all right for a woman to have a mind of her own if she keeps it to herself and lets the man think his is the only mentality in the neighborhood.

Woman's World

A Noted Beauty Called "the Princess of the Golden Locks."

Men of many nations have pronounced the Princess Henry of Pless the most beautiful woman they have ever seen. She inherited her charms from her mother, Mrs. Cornwallis-West, who was regarded a famous English beauty when in her prime, less than a generation ago. The Princess Henry is a pronounced blond of medium height, slender and graceful, with gray eyes and a perfect complexion. In 1891, at the age of seventeen, she married Prince Hans Heinrich of Pless. The wedding caused a great deal of talk because she was simply Miss West, a commoner. Busybodies immediately started to look up Miss West's family tree, and it was found that she was a direct descendant of King Henry III. of England. She is nicknamed "the princess with the golden locks," is very fond of yachting, hunting and sport in general, and the German noblewomen hold up their hands in horror when she rides to hounds and shoots pheasants in the royal park at Furstenstein. Prince Henry is of the Silesian nobility and at his father's death inherited a fortune of $20,000,000. The latest craze of smart English society is tattooing, and Princess Henry of Pless is said to be skillful with the needle.

PRINCESS HENRY OF PLESS AND HER SONS.

Where Matrimony Scores.

Dr. Jacques Bertillon, the eminent French physician and an acknowledged authority, announces the conclusion that matrimony is the greatest aid to longevity. He says if men and women would reach a good old age they must marry. This, he says, is established by statistics gleaned from all over the world. A married man or woman has, he says, thrice the chance of a good long run as a bachelor or a spinster. In further illustration of his contention that the wedded life is best for men he shows that the mortality among widowers is greater than the average among married men. So he recommends them to look out for a new partner—that is, at any rate, if they are under sixty. This is his advice to young men:

"Marry. You will do well, even from a selfish standpoint. But watch carefully over your wife's health, as even from this egotistical point of view her loss will be a terrible misfortune, for your life depends in a great measure on her own."

Dr. Bertillon finds that the mortality among widows is much greater than among married women of the same age. The death rate of widows from twenty to twenty-five years of age, he says, is twice that of married women of the same age.

But the doctor very gallantly finds that women have less need for men than men have for women. Men are less careful of their habits and are unable to live so near the ideal life when deprived, either by design or circumstance, of the watchful care of a wife. When we live under the rule of matrimony we gain. When people leave this influence they suffer, he concludes.

IF YOU CAN, AT THE GREAT

LIVE STOCK, POULTRY and HORSE SHOW

Ottawa, Jan. 16-20 '11

The purpose of the show is to give to the farmers of Eastern Ontario the results of the practical experience of those who have made a close study of the breeding, feeding, rearing and marketing of the classes of live stock and poultry most profitable to the farmers. This is accomplished by having at the show high class exhibits of Horses, Beef Cattle, Dairy Cattle, Sheep, Swine, Poultsy and Seeds, and by supplementing these object lessons with addresses by experts in which they tell how the best can be produced profitably.

Many who have attended past Shows say they got pointers worth many times the money and time expended in attending.

Wm. Moffatt of Morewood Dead.

Death has again visited Morewood and removed from our vicinity an old and highly esteemed resident in the person of the late William Moffat, who was called away on Thursday last the 13th Oct. 1910 The funeral took place on Saturday the 15th, from his late residence to the Presbyterian cemetery. The services were conducted by the Rev. Donald Stewart of Alexandria assisted by Rev. Mason of Dunbar Woods of Chesterville and Hagar of Morewood. The Rev. Stewart preached from 2nd Kings 2nd Chap. 14th verse. The church was filled to overflowing with the many friend and neighbors who assembled to pay their last tribute of respect to one who was a friend to all and an enemy to none. The deceased was born in Dumfriesshire Scotland 74 years ago and came to Canada along with his Father, the late George Moffat, in the summer of 1856. In the year 1857 the family settled on the farm now occupied by his brother Thomas Moffat near Winchester Ont. In the year 1868 he was united in marriage to Miss Marion Caryle of the Township of Williamsburg, who predeceased him sixteen years ago. Here's a good hint for house wives who are putting up fruit. when putting on covers just grease the part that are likely to stick when opening the can. A little fresh lard, sweet butter or pure oil put on them will enable you to screw the cover down much tighter, will keep the air out better, and will save cans, covers and cuss words next winter.

A change has been made in the South Mountain and Iroquois mail route. As it has been, the only distributing office was at Iroquois, and if anyone in South Mountain wished to write to Brinston or any other office along the line the letter would first have to be sent to Iroquois and then forwarded to its destination the next day taking four days to get an answer to a commication. The department has now put on a way-bag on this route which will be opened at each office and the mail for each office taken out.

The Molsons Bank

The meeting of the shareholders of the Molsons Bank Monday was short and satisfactory. The statements presented were of a character to please everyone, and the summary of the buisness situation made by the president, Mr. William Molson MacPherson, gave reason for expecting that the coming year will also be a good one for business, and for the bank The bank during the year increased its paid up capital by $500,000, and its actual capital by over double that sum, the new stock having been issued at a premium of 110 percent. What has been recently said about established institutions being able to most easily provide the addition banking capital required by the country is well illustrated in the case of the Molsons It has the confidence of moneyed men and the connections, which it is steadly extending, for employing its means to advantage, It found during the past year profitable use for its new capital, and also for increased deposits to the extent of over four millions entrusted to it. Its assets of over $44,000,000 rank it among the leading institutions of the country. The year's profits were $602,694, and of this only $350,000 was distributed in dividends. From the balance, with the amount of undistributed profits from the preceding year, after some minor appropriations, and with the premium on the new stock of $550,000, there was added to the reserve $900,000. The bank as a consequence has a capital of $4,000,000 supported by a reserve of $4,400,000, which gives it a strong position indeed, fairly justifying the directors in their announced intention of increasing the rate of dividend from 10 to 11 per cent. a year.
