Fun begins this Saturday

Applefest organizers expect you!

Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—Apples and entertainment will be the focus of this Saturday's Applefest celebration.

At 10 a.m. at the stage in front of the Tourist Information Booth, village officials will open the festival accompanied by children on stage in the singing of O Canada. Also at this time, small Canadian flags will be distributed to the children who are present.

At 10.15 to 11.30 a.m. the Lancaster Pipe Band and K. Coleman Dancers, a Scottish dance group will entertain, and at 11.30 a.m. Morrisburg Contact Karate will hold a demonstration of the martial art.

Afternoon activities include a performance from 12 noon to 1.30 p.m. by members of the North Dundas High School Band "Jazzmanian Devils".

At 1.30 p.m. draws will be held for five $20 gift certificates, and one vacation getaway package. Free ballots are available at the Information Booth, merchants or vendors in the plaza. Winners must be present to claim their prize.

Pies to be entered in the Pie Baking contest must be delivered to Gord Thom's building beside Delage's House of Gifts by 12 noon. The prize winner for the Pie Contest will be announced at 1.00 p.m. Prizes will include a vacation getaway package (first), $50 gift certificate (second) and 25 pound turkey (third).

Recently returned from a Nashville tour, Cardinal singer Jackie Barnhardt will perform from 2 p.m. to 2.30 p.m.

The Hay Bale Rolling Contest takes place at 2.30 p.m. For a $10 entry fee, four people on a team will roll a bale of hay along a proposed route in front of the plaza to the stage, to the west end and back again.

Anyone wishing to enter may call Tom Adlington on Morrisburg Recreation at 543-2347, Earl Baker at 543-4556 or turn up at the Tourist Information Booth.

The Brigadoons, a versatile Cornwall Band which plays music from Scottish tunes to Rock 'n Roll will perform from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Wrapping up activities at 5 p.m. is another draw for a getaway vacation, and the five remaining gift certificates. At this time, there will be an announcement of the results of the mammoth pumpkin judging contest organized by the Boy Scouts.

It costs $1 to guess the weight of a pumpkin, and the top two winners will each be awarded a 25 pound turkey for the closest guess. Since the weight of the third giant pumpkin has already been published, it won't be the subject of any one's guess, but all three pumpkins will be sold.

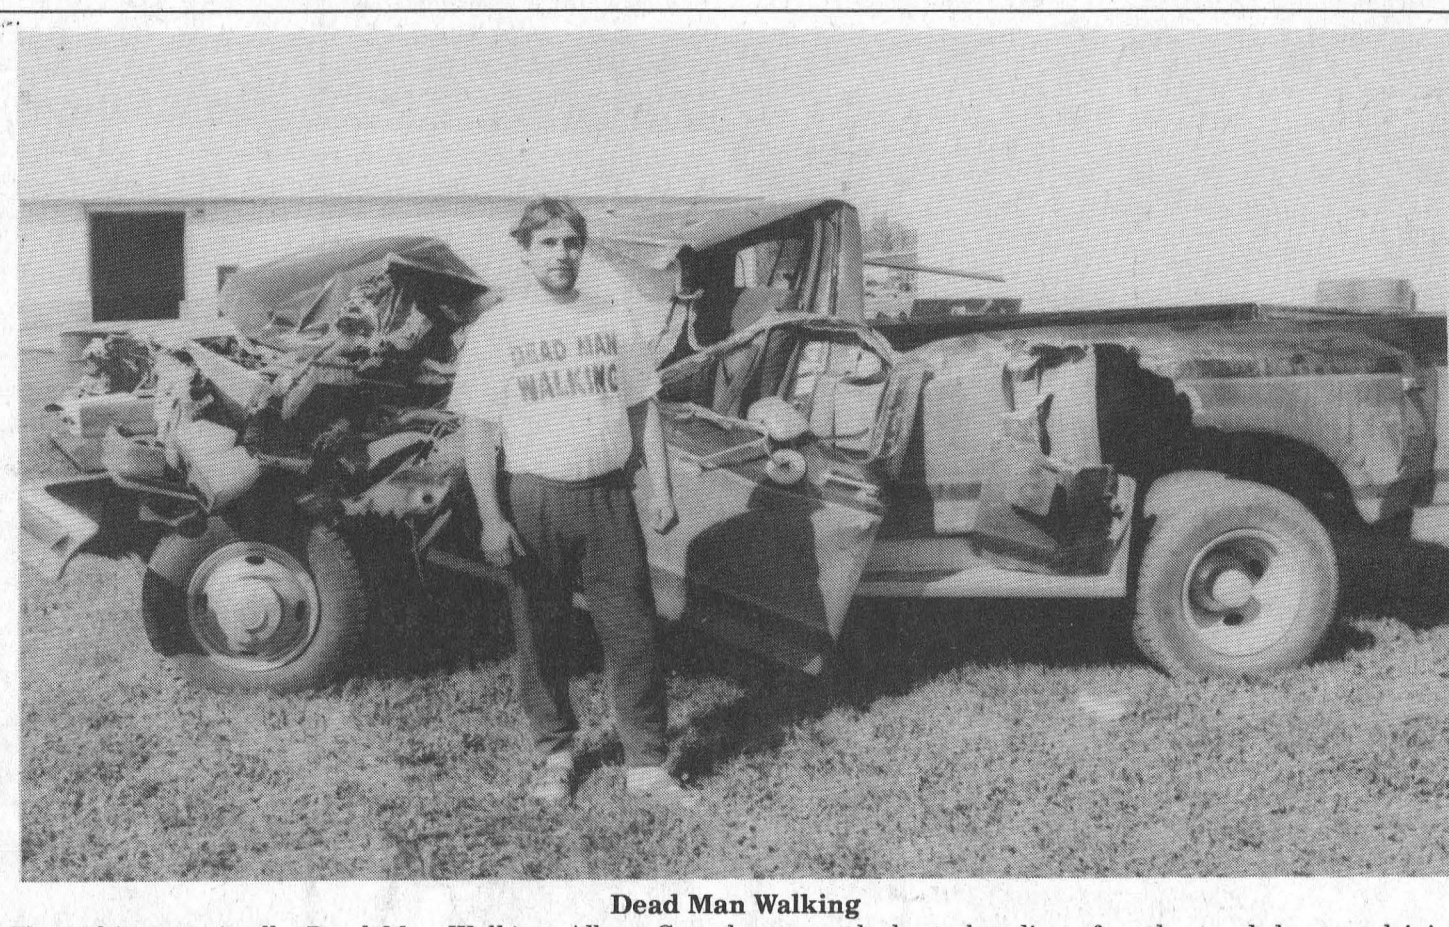
Also at this time, the winners of the hay rolling contest will receive distributions from the entry fee and a $50 gift certificate as prize.

And announcements will be made of the coloring contest. Morrisburg Public and St. Mary's school children have been participating in a coloring contest featuring apples this week. Their efforts will be shown at the Bank of Montreal, and judging on Friday is by Brenda King and Margi Laurin.

Throughout the day, there will be a display of antique cars at the grassy area, exhibits and sales by apple vendors, and bake sales. Roving Shriners clowns will add a spice to the festivities, and restaurants will offer specials all day.

"It looks like a really exciting day with entertainment from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.," said Business Area Improvement coordinator Earl Baker.

"Let's just hope the weather's good," said BIA chair George Davies. "We hope everyone participating has a good day."



Dead Man Walking

The t-shirt says it all—Dead Man Walking. Albert Casselman was lucky to be alive after the truck he was driving smashed into the rear of transport Wednesday night north of Morrisburg. —Day photo

Man walks away from truck crash

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—Albert Casselman is lucky to be alive.

Just ask his wife.

"She bought me this shirt," said Casselman, pointing to his white tee sporting the Dead Man Walking logo.

"Someone was looking out for me," he said.

Casselman, 30 of Morrisburg, was on his way home from work last Wednesday night, when his dual-wheeled 1990 Ford F-150 pick up smashed into the rear-end of a tractor trailer.

"It was so foggy, I couldn't see anything," he said. "But I knew I was coming up on the truck stop area, so I wasn't going that fast."

The next thing Casselman knew, was he was underneath the trailer of a transport driven by Chesterville's Douglas Lajoie, 38.

Casselman was heading south on 31 Hwy. when the accident happened just north of the 401 overpass, at approximately 11:45 p.m. that evening.

The transport, a 1995 International owned by Cecil Minish of Morrisburg, had just turned north onto 31 Hwy. from the 750 Truckstop, and was not completely on the road when the accident occurred.

"I could see the transport's headlights. They looked like they were on high beam. It blinded me for a split second, and the next thing I knew, I hit the (back) end of the truck with a hell of a smash. It happened so quickly, all I could think of was to get out of the truck. I wasn't going to sit there waiting for someone to come along."

Casselman was pinned between the door and the steering wheel of the pickup, and had managed to free one of his legs.

"I just kept trying, and by the time the fire department got there, I had already managed to get myself out."

Little did he realize at the time, that his left leg was fractured, and he had a few broken ribs.

The Morrisburg Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene as police suspected that the jaws of life would be needed to free Casselman from the wreckage.

The pickup Casselman was driving belongs to the company he works for—Fleury Fabrication, Morrisburg. It was demolished.

The transport had minimal damage to the rear portion of the trailer.

According to OPP, Casselman was charged with driving without a licence by investigating officer, Denis Giroux.

Casselman says that since he and his family purchased their home on St. Lawrence Street, renovations and working long hours have made it almost next to impossible to get his licence renewed. "It was something that I really didn't think about," he said. "With all that's been going on, I just forgot."

Library should stay at Upper Canada Village

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—The verdict of the Task Force on archives, collections and reference library at Upper Canada Village is now out.

Among several recommendations to a meeting of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission last week in Kingston, the Task Force recommends these historical items should remain at the Village but only under the proper care of professional staff.

One item not mentioned in the report but presumably the subject of future research was funding for the professional staff to be hired for supervision of historic collections.

"This collection is essential for the historic integrity of the Village and its mandate to preset a living-history museum of life in Upper Canada in the first half of the 19th century. The original artifacts, records, books and documents are an integral part of the "Village Experience," the report states.

During this spring's downsizing caused by provincial cutbacks, staff in charge of the collections, archives and library were terminated. Since then, the items have not been under the supervision of specially trained personnel.

Community reaction included indignation from some area residents, historical and heritage groups including the SD & G Historical Society, Genealogical Societies; and the United Empire Loyalists.

Responding to their concerns, the Task Force was set up by the Commission in May to invite briefs from the public to assist in recommending a stewardship plan for these historical resources.

The Task Force is chaired by commissioner Mary Devine, and commissioner Jeannine Roy-Poirier, past vice-chair Mike McInnis, senior manager for Crysler Park and Business Development Mike Paradis and Upper Canada Village manager Barry Hughes sit as members.

Approximately 19 briefs were presented to the Task Force and summarized in Devine's report.

Recommendations include meeting with the Ontario Archives, the Canadian Conservation Institute, the Historical Society and individuals to review and report on the present library, archives and storage facilities. The 1980's fire/intrusion study which was not completed due to lack of funding, and the feasibility of putting rare documents on microfiche will be looked at.

Other recommendations are

Plan under review

KINGSTON—Although details of discussion regarding the $1 million development for Crysler Park destination will not be released, the future of the proposed development is under review, said St. Lawrence Parks Commission spokesperson Diane Rennie.

The Commission met in Kingston last Wednesday. According to a plan announced last spring, a recreation development would be located outside the historic section but adjacent to Upper Canada Village, separated by sheep pasture, fence and landscaping as a natural barrier. The complex would include an arcade under a roofed structure resembling a train station, batting cages, 18-hole miniature golf course, and play structure.

The development is intended to attract more tourists, and ultimately large investment dollars for a proposed hotel, heritage cruise and themed historic retail street with business opportunities for investors.

But Rennie said the plan is now under review and will be dealt with at a meeting in October.

Thanks for efforts

Heart and Stroke area coordinator at left, Janie MacDiarmid thanked Joan Larocque (new Dundas chapter president) with a logo pin for Women and Heart Disease at the annual meeting last Wednesday. Joan coordinated the Chevrolet Mother Daughter Walk, which brought in approximately $7,039 through the efforts of 150 walkers. Monies raised will go to Women Heart Disease and Stroke Research and Education.

Task Force carries out review

to continue the $400,000 inventory project by Elmer Pilon and Associates, and to explore partnership, sponsorship and volunteer opportunities to give greater public access to and stewardship of the collections.

The Task Force feels there is a need to put to rest the perception that the Commission should dispose of part or all of its collection. It will also examine the role of artifacts in interpretation, possible changes in storage facilities and look at how more originals may be displayed for the public.

Several presenters suggested the construction of a genealogical center for research. In her brief, Ingleside resident Fran Laflamme promotes the exploration of "tapping into a large segment of the population who will pay for help with their research."

"Perhaps it is time to consider a Heritage Center for researchers, both historical and genealogical. As an interim measure, an under-utilized house in the village could be the site with arrangements for year-round activity," she states.

Devine says the Task Force is ready to look at the suggestion of a genealogical center "and see if it is would be well-used enough to justify it, and if we could get money for it."

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission tabled the report and accepted the recommendations as stated. The Task Force will start to develop recommendations and meet again to discuss on an ongoing basis.

The Library contains approximately 5,000 books (antiquarian and modern) pamphlets, periodicals, microfilm and microfiche, maps, manuscripts, photographs and research files. Subjects cover the history of life in Stormont Dundas from 1873 to 1867, the history of the Lost Villages and Upper Canada Village and Clarence Cross records, a collection of 20-30,000 family history sheets on Dundas County families from 1783 to the present.

Over the last 30 years, the general public has donated manuscripts and photographs of the 19th century and these are located in the Archives. There are business records such as store accounts from 1783 to 1939, municipal records, land grants, marriage certificates and wills.

Since 1955, the Village has collected and assembled artifacts of the material culture of Eastern Ontario in the late 18th century and first three-quarters of the 19th century. Approximately half of the collection was donated by the local community during the 1950's Seaway construction.

According to the Collections Management Policy, there are approximately 60,000 artifacts altogether included in curatorial and interpretive, educational, railway, archeological, and plant and livestock categories.

Red Cross Celebrates Home Support Week

The Canadian Red Cross Cornwall Branch joins Home Support Agencies across Canada in celebrating National Homemaker/Home Support Worker Week '96 from Sunday October 13 to Saturday October 19.

Care in the home is the way of the future, not only because it helps people maintain independence in their time of need, but on a larger scale because reform in the Canadian Health System means a growing shift towards community-based services.

"The Red Cross offers a variety of programs and services that help people maintain a life in their own home. Without these services, many people would find themselves without any alternative but to leave their homes and live in an institution," says Lynn Moore, Director, Home Support Services, Ontario Zone. "Homemakers and Home Support Workers bring a human touch to the lives of many people and in doing so they also give independence, pride and dignity," she said.

Red Cross Homemakers offer a variety of programs to support the community. Across Ontario The Red Cross Homemaking service provided 6,343,808 hours of service through 2,343,670 client visits which assisted 90,671 clients. In addition, Red Cross assisted 33,878 clients through HHES and served 27,469 with its Seniors' Services.

In Dundas County, approximately 100 Homemakers served 350 clients on a regular basis, and a total of 750 including those who came on and off the program throughout the year. Services include The Homemaking Progarm, the Attendant Care Outreach Program for physically disabled adults over 18 years and The Teaching Homemaking Program is an instruction program for household management, nutrition, budgetting and child care.

The Household Support Program, new this year, offers light and heavy house cleaning, excluding repairs and yard maintenance and including light lawn mowing and snow shovelling. Respite Care Services Program organizes relief to caregivers while equipment from the Old Morrisburg High School may be loaned through Home Healthcare Equipment Services under Liz Gummeson. The Cornwall Branch will hold a Banquet Supper on October 18th at the Cornwall Legion when homemakers from the five United Counties of SD & G and Prescott Russell will be recognized for their service.

If you would like more information on Red Cross Homemaking Services, please call the local branch office at 1-800-267-7339 or 932-3412.

The proposed Draft Master Plan for the new Osnabruck Township recreational site was revealed to mixed criticism at the Rothwell-Osnabruck high school gym. The construction of the $2.8 million proposed project was to span a 20-30 year period and was to include a community centre, an outdoor swimming pool and tennis court which might be covered later, and a softball diamond, nature trails and possibly a children's playground. The community centre would have a double gymnasium with folding bleachers, kitchen facilities, washrooms, and changerooms, two multi-purpose meeting rooms, a lobby, offices, mechanical storage and possibly a snack bar.

Despite the relatively high cost, Morrisburg residents who received cable television seemed to be pretty satisfied. The stations on the cable included the CBS, NBC and ACB outlets from Detroit, private stations from Hamilton and Edmonton and pay per view stations like MuchMusic and TSN were available if you had a converter.

Playing is safely, Morrisburg Public School principal Dick Turner turned off the water-valves in the school. He explained that a mother of a student told him her child was suffering from spinal meningitis. "Apparently, it's a contagious disease," said Turner. "So I ordered the water valve be shut off. I didn't want the children exposed." Later in the day, though, Turner found out through the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, that the child was suffering from viral meningitis which wouldn't spread by contact. "It was simply a hurricane in a teacup," concluded Turner of the whole affair.

Kim Rosenquist was pictured on the front page of the October 15th issue of The Leader as she was shown with two of her awards from the Seaway High School commencement ceremonies. She was awarded first in General Proficiency with an average of 91.9 per cent, a highest standing in Grade 9 typing, a Student Council Honor Bar and one of only two memberships for level one in the Over 90 Club. Kim is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gerry Rosenquist of Morrisburg. The top student honored was Scott Findlay, as he received a Student Council Honor Bar, Student Council Medal, Proficiency Award for the highest standing in Year Five, School Activity Award, SD&G County Board of Education Scholarship of $100, Student Council Scholarship of $50, and an Ontario Scholarship Certificate and Bursary of $100 for achieving an 80 per cent average in his final year. Other scholars at Seaway were Brenda Baird, Gary Barker and Cathy Hummel.

Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley was named parliamentary secretary to Minister Marcel Lessard of the Department of Regional and Economic Expansion. The announcement making him secretary for the next two years was made Friday, October 8th, and moved Mr. Lumley up from the post of chairman of the standing committee on DREE which he had previously occupied.

Approval was being sought from Matilda Township Council for the expansion of dock facilities at the site owned by Universal Terminals on Lakeshore Drive.

The September 30th issue of The Leader reported Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marcellus, Morrisburg, were celebrating their silver wedding anniversary.

Mrs. William Markell of Brinston had many rare and valuable articles of interest and antiquity in her home. Predominant among them was a handmade dress for a child of one or two years made more than 100 years earlier. Worn by her grandmother, who was born in 1856, it was fashioned with a long waist, neck ruffle and puffed sleeves. Even linen covered buttons on the bodice were unique.

At the conclusion of 36 softball games, the Morrisburg Jets stood tied with Smiths Falls in the best of three series for EOSA Junior A Championship. The series had opened with a 6-1 Smiths Falls win and the Jets came back to take game two, 8-4. In the fifth inning of the latter game, Katherine Casselman came up with a triple and stole home. In the sixth Marilyn Whittaker came home with the winning run, and the same inning, Linda Lapier walloped a tremendous triple to bring in three runs.

At Williamsburg, Mrs. Charlie Herriman celebrated her 90th birthday.

Brian Quart was having a blast in the rain. But I guess it's true what they say about golfers. They play in just about any kind of weather. Except, in Brian's case, he was actually soliciting for the Diabetes Foundation. He had a putting green set up outside the Beer Store in Morrisburg and was collecting funds for Diabetes. For a donation, participants had a chance to putt for prizes. Winning the sweater was Brian Follett of R.R. 2 Brinston, and Jean Barkley won the ball cap.

There was $257 raised for Diabetes, but Brian tells us there was a lot more. Someone actually took off with a donation jar which was set up inside the Beer Store.

Special thanks goes out to Brian Wheeler, Brewers Retail and to all who donated money or empties for Diabetes. Despite the rain, (and the theft) it was quite successful.

Attention Pro•Line players. Sean Boulerice has confirmed that there will indeed be a Pro Hockey RESULTS 1996-1997 Guide. He has indicated that the book has been enhanced with complete "Over and Under" and "Spread" information as well as four years of head-to-head stats as opposed to two years in previous editions. This year's book will sell for $9.95 and should be available next week at Impact Sports and Swenssons in Morrisburg, and Mustard's Variety in Iroquois.

Jeff Ferguson won the men's golf championship in the pouring rain at the Brockville Country Club Saturday. He was caught on film by roving photo-grapher/sports editor/softball coach/golfer extrod-inaire, Ron Smith of the Recorder and Times news-paper. Fergie was actually photographed squeegeeing off the waterlogged number 17 green. He went on to capture the title with a five over par 76.

Rowdy Gillard was at it again. He put his talents to use on Saturday at the Harvest Festival in Williamsburg and was declared the champion crabapple counter. In the apple pie baking category, the deputy reeve of the township, Lyle Van Allen, made the second best pie on record. The one contest that the harvest festival didn't have this year was the chicken clucking contest. Debbie Miller was practicing her technique which won the event last year. She was very disappointed that she couldn't reclaim her chicken-clucking-crown again this year. No doubt though, that Debbie will continue to cluck her way into the record books for next year, just in case the contest is brought back to life.

Mac's and Becker's to join forces

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—For a small community like Morrisburg, the joining forces of Mac's Milk and Beckers could mean the loss of jobs.

It was announced Sunday by Silcorp Ltd., owner of 500 Mac's and Mike's Mart milk stores in Ontario and Western Canada, that it would be buying Becker's 530 stores and its dairy business creating a company with more than 1,000 outlets.

This amalgamation is expected to create Canada's largest convenience store chain, with combined sales of $1 billion a year.

However, Anna Casselman, manager at Beckers, fears for her position, one she's held for the past 19 years.

"I knew something was up when my contract wasn't renewed in August," said Casselman. "I really don't think both of these stores (Beckers and Mac's) will survive in Morrisburg. There will be many lost jobs."

This merger came as a complete surprise to Casselman.

"The first I heard about it was in Monday's Montreal Gazette," she said. "We never heard a word about it from anyone—our supervisors...no one."

However, at Mac's Milk, manager Lillian Szymkowiak feels it will be 'business as usual' there.

"I don't think there will be any jobs lost," she said. "But if they take a look at the books (at both Becker's and Mac's) and find that we're both making money, I don't think they'll close either store."

But, it was also news to Szymkowiak. "I had no idea about (the merger)", she said, until reading about it in a daily newspaper.

The deal is valued at approximately $35 million and will make the Bazos family (Becker's founders) the major shareholder with about 20 per cent of the shares. It is to close by mid-November.

Becker's shoppers will notice more fresh foods, snacks and coffee services under the Mac's or Mike's name, while those stores will have a greater variety of milk and dairy products.

Silcorp president Derek Ridout says this merger is a 'takeover', while Becker's president, Geoffrey Pottow, this of it as a merger. Either way, it will greatly effect the smaller community-based stores across Ontario.

The October 2nd issue of The Leader reported the Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader told eastern Ontario Conservatives at an annual meeting it was his party's policy to encourage ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway agreement. The Ontario Leader declared there was untold horsepower waiting to be developed along the river. "Ontario is not only in grave need of a future supply of power, but she is in grave need of common sense administration for her power problems," he said.

Nairn Boyd retained the title of senior boys' champ at the Winchester High School Athletic Meet. He was awarded first in all senior events and was to lead the local athletic team at Finch in the quest for the Meikel Cup. In the senior girls' events, Albra Boyd captured the high number of points to successfully defend the school title which she had won the year before.

The annual track meet at Iroquois High School saw Helen Kennedy become the senior girls' champion and Agnes Fenton take the award at the junior age level. Top senior boy was George Brouse, Williams Brew juvenile, and perry Everett was the boys' grand champion.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Re: Your article dated Sept. 11th, 1996, "Video Lotteries Frowned On"

Congratulations to Morrisburg Council for voicing their opposition to these "money sucking machines, commonly referred to as VLT's (Video Lottery Terminals). Now, I just hope that Council will stick to their guns and pass a by-law restricting them from Morrisburg if anyone should happen to apply for a permit. Just the thought of my hometown being caught in the grips of this compulsive addiction is enough to send shivers up my spine.

A few months ago I read in our local paper in Calgary, that Steve West, our Minister of Lotteries in Alberta, was in discussion with your Premier Mike Harris in regards to bringing in VLT's to Ontario. Mr. West's advice was not to proceed. It's unfortunate that Mr. Harris did not heed his words. The strange part about this whole scenario, is that Mr.. West admits publicly that we never should have brought VLT's to Alberta in the first place, but the government has no intention of removing them. The only reason is that from approximately 6,000 VLT's across Alberta, the Government brought in a profit of $540,000,000 last year alone. What with Ontario being a much larger province, there is room for a lot more machines, hence a much larger profit from the provincial government.

But at what expense? From my personal experiences among family and friends who have become addicted, the price is way too high! Now that VLT's have been in place for a number of years, the social ramifications are quite significant.

Attendance at Gamblers Anonymous has tripled in almost two years, and the statistics state that 60 per cent are VLT addicts. Now this is in a city of almost one million. What would happen with Morrisburg, with a population of 2,400? The sad part is that the people that get addicted to these machines, are the people that can least afford to lose their hard earned money, or even their Welfare Cheques to the VLT's. Everywhere you look, people are losing their homes, cars, their jobs, and most importantly, their families. Even suicide statistics have climbed. This all over a machine that people think is fun and a chance to walk away with a few hundred dollars.

I do not mean to preach, but this comes from first hand experiences. For I myself do not gamble on these machines, but someone very dear to me did. How it destroyed our life together was unbelievable. It was like a terrible nightmare that you cannot awaken from. The only solace that I take from this matter is, that I am far from alone. There are innocent victims of this mania everywhere.

To you Reeve McGregor, I can't even begin to paint a sad enough picture of what I and many others have been through. Everyone I meet has a different horror story, but they all have the same common denominator. So, if necessary, enact your By-law, you will only be trying to help and protect my friends and family living there. Spare them the hurt and sorrow that no one should ever feel from these VLT's.

Yours truly,
Gregg M. Foss

Williamsburg Fall Festival results

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

WILLIAMSBURG—The fifth annual Williamsburg Fall Festival was a wet one this year, but organizers say—one out of five is not bad.

For the past four years, the annual harvest festival has been held under sunny skies, but Saturday's rendition was anything but a dry one.

"I was amazed with the turnout," said Arlene Darrach, the Williamsburg Community Association secretary. "My husband was watching the parade and he was totally amazed with the amount of people who were out for it—a lot of them didn't even have an umbrella or a rain coat."

After the parade, the big tent was the place to be, as everyone congregated inside to stay dry.

"The Lions tent fell down, but other than that, it was pretty good," added Darrach.

Set up for a lot of the kids' games, the Lions tent took a turn for the worse when high winds kicked up and knocked it down. Coupled with the rain-soaked ground, the pegs weren't able to hold the ropes.

"We held some of the kids' games under the big tent. The goat-milking went on under there too," she said.

The only events not able to take place was the horseshoe tournament and a few of the kids' games.

No Alcohol policy for Williamsburg

WILLIAMSBURG—Alcohol liability has prompted many municipalities to develop Municipal Alcohol Policies.

That is why Williamsburg Township will now join 160 cities, townships and villages across Ontario which have already developed policies.

On October 9, 1996, Councillor Robert Gillard will lead the first meeting of a Township of Williamsburg committee formed to develop a Municipal Alcohol Policy.

"It is important for all of us to realize that we face increasing responsibilities when we serve alcohol to others; as providers of alcohol, we are responsible for the actions of our guests, patrons, even participants until they are sober," said Gillard.

All citizens must be made aware that it is against the law to serve someone to the point of intoxication, or to serve alcohol to someone who is already intoxicated. The law, however, doesn't tell us how to recognize someone who is intoxicated, or how to refuse alcohol to someone who is impaired.

It is therefore important to know that Municipal Alcohol Policy is a series of strategies to help event organizers and participants avoid breaking the law. It deals with potentially risky situations like unknowingly serving alcohol to minors, overserving, and dealing with troublesome guests.

Once adopted by Council, the alcohol policy will become a municipal by-law.

The police will apply to events and activities occurring in municipally-owned facilities and parks. It is designed to help the organizers of community events serve alcohol in a responsible and safe manner.

Committee members will put their heads together to develop guidelines and strategies which will reduce the odds of people breaking the law or getting injured. The Committee will meet approximately five times to review the law, liability cases and Municipal Alcohol Policies from other communities. Their purpose will be to develop recommendations for Council that will specifically reflect the needs and experiences of Williamsburg Township.

Municipal Council passed a resolution in August to assign the task of developing a draft policy to a community committee comprised of representatives from our four recreation committees, Williamsburg Community Association and Ontario Provincial Police.

According to Mike Waddell, Administrator of the Township, community events in Williamsburg are well run, however, 'we want to ensure that preventative measures are put in place so that citizens of Williamsburg can continue to enjoy themselves.'

The Addiction Research Foundation and the Eastern Ontario Health Unit will consult with the commit as it prepares recommendations for Council. Both agencies are mandated by the Province of Ontario to offer free consultation services to communities wanting to develop a policy.

Anyone wishing to express ideas or questions can call Mike Waddell at 535-2673 or Nancy Langdon at the Addiction Research Foundation at 722-1075.

Fire safety is fire prevention

October 6-12 is FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Check smoke alarms. Replace batteries every year.

Have a pro check it out. Have your chimney and furnace professionally inspected and cleaned.

Put out that cigarette. Never smoke when you're sleepy and always use an ashtray.

Pull the plug on trouble. Don't overload electrical circuits. Frayed cords and overloaded circuits are trouble waiting to happen.

Protect your kids. Store matches and lighters in a safe place.

Schell twists one-hit ball game as the Pump takes fourth playoff title

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

RIVERSIDE HTS.—For the fourth time in five years, the Williamsburg Pump will have its name on the Industrial Fastball League playoff silverware.

The Pump captured their championship last Wednesday with an 8-0 shutout over Iroquois Jiggers in game four of the best of five final series.

For hurler Lyle Schell, he was pretty pleased.

"Williamsburg in four," he said smiling after the game as the team gathered for the awards presentations and a few pictures.

Williamsburg scored first with an RBI single from Schell who knocked in Ernie Beckstead in the first inning.

Later in the third, Beckstead delivered a two-run dinger for a 3-0 lead.

There was no looking back, as five more came in the fifth inning to seal the fate of the Pump.

Schell was eyeing a perfect game until the bottom of the seventh inning.

"Dougie (Thorpe) hit a single...right up the middle. I'll remember that one for sure," said Schell, a little disappointed with the loss of a shutout bid, but happy with the win just the same.

"That one, (the championship) was for Casey."

Casey Schell, Lyle's grandfather, passed away earlier this year, and for Lyle, it was a victory for man who introduced him the game of ball.

Lyle also picked up the MVP honors for the tournament, which he said, was something he sort of expected.

"It (playoffs) was the best ball I've pitched all year," he said.

Except for game three of the final series, which Iroquois won, Schell had six out of seven wins, including three straight in the semi-finals against the O.C. Rebels.

The Barry Charleboise Memorial Trophy for sportsmanship was awarded to the Williamsburg shortstop, Larry Cooper, who has won this award a few times in the past.

The MVP for the league was won by Rebel pitcher, Danny Hogaboam. The league award went to Pigeon Island.

On Sunday, the Pump had a chance to play a final game of the season against Winners of Cornwall, at the Riverside diamond.

Winners ended up with a 4-3 win.

"It was just for fun," noted Schell.

"We were all playing different positions Sunday... We each won what really counted."

Williamsburg in four
The Williamsburg Pump defeated Iroquois Jiggers three games to one with an 8-0 win on Wednesday for the Championship. Winning the playoff MVP award was Lyle Schell, while Larry Cooper picked up the Barry Charlebois Memorial sportsmanship trophy.

Spartans sweep opening series against Lancers

IROQUOIS—The Seaway Spartans girls' basketball teams made it a clean sweep last Wednesday in their SD&G home opener against Rothwell-Osnabruck.

The midgets won 26-20; juniors erupted with a 44-18 upset, and the seniors managed a 48-25 win.

"The midgets played really well," said coach Scott Corden. "Their win was a pleasant surprise."

Melissa Hamilton led the midget charge with six points counting. Shauntel LePage and Alison Irvine had four each, and Laura Baker played a strong game, counting a pair.

The juniors look to be the team to beat this year as they all contributed in the upset.

"Ten of the girls scored in the game," said Corden, including six each from Stephanie DeVries, Lindsay Waddell, Catherine Adams and Lindsey Mellan.

Dana Hassen picked up five as well.

Corden said he was talking with one of the officials who confided that the Seaway juniors wouldn't have too much trouble winning the SD&G title this season.

There is a fifth team in the junior division this season. Ecole Secondaire Le Heritage—which is part of St. Lawrence High School, Cornwall—now has a single A basketball team.

The seniors escaped with a 48-25 win, despite a slow start.

"It was 4-2 after the first quarter," said starter and team leader Megan Gilmer. "Unbelievable. Then at half time it was only 17-11, but we came back in the third and killed them."

The seniors are working on a new offence, said Corden, which is helping to prepare the team for playoffs.

"The new offensive game is tough for the girls to catch on to, but they're working hard, and coming around," said the coach.

"Individually, there are a lot of girls on the team who can score, and there were many of them doing that on Wedneday."

Jen Banford led the team with 14 points, while Gilmer had 11. Both Tracy Irvine and Shanna Dawley had six apiece, and Jen Morrow, Marla Duval, Jen Bellan had two each.

Wednesday, (today), the team host Tagwi in what could be another interesting series at home. Game time is at 1 p.m.

In the swim at SanMar Pool

Locals graduate from Leadership program

WILLIAMSBURG—Seven local teens have recently completed the first stage of the Red Cross Aqua Leadership course at SanMar Acres Pool.

After 50 hours of instruction, these seven young women will be able to become instructors.

Shauntel LePage, Ashleigh Shaver, Emily McDonell, Catherine O'Neill, Emma Guy, Anna Dietrich and Wendy Locke-McIntosh have been working diligently toward their goal.

The course is a Royal Life Saving Society of Canada instructor's prerequisite program, and is being taught by Shari Crummy, who is a graduate of the Red Cross swimming program at SanMar Pool.

The Aqua Leadership program is taking the place of the the Red Cross color system for instruction and proficiency, is the basic program for lifeguarding courses.

Once the students reach the age of 16, they are eligible to take the leadership course.

Phase one of the two-phase program, concentrates on 15 hours in the pool and five hours of dry time. Students volunteer as assistant instructors during this time so a lower student-instructor ration is maintained in other classes at SanMar.

The girls recently began phase two where they will observe and keep logs of instructors in action. Their record-keeping will be submitted for exams and evaluations at the end of the phase two program—or after their 30 hours of working one on one with one of six SanMar instructors or assistant instructors.

Other happenings

SanMar Pool also offers instruction and fitness programs for all types of swimmers at any age level.

The youngest swimmers are enrolled in Kinderswim which is a safety program with a play-type atmosphere where children can enter the pool with their parents.

This is a 10-week course and is very popular with both the kids and adults.

These courses range in age and ability up to the Lifesaving II course.

There are also aquafitness for adults which take place about one hour a week for 10 weeks in the spring and fall.

There are also adult swimming lessons and private swimming lessons with flexible schedules.

SanMar Pool is owned and operated by Sandra and Mart Prost. Their daughter Jaina is an instructor. The pool is located at County Road 18, (13473) Williamsburg Township. For more information, call 543-3350.

Lions have disappointing weekend

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Junior B Lions are off to a sluggish start after losing their home opener against the Hawks Sunday, and dropping a 6-4 decision to Char-Lan Saturday.

GM Ron Casselman says there were a few guys missing from the lineup which detered the situation somewhat.

"Veterans Chad White and James Cooper were sidelined with the flu," said Casselman "When we get the hole team back together, we'll be all right."

At home Sunday, Morrisburg got the early jump, but couldn't hold on to the 1-0 lead going into the second period.

Rob Darling was the lone goal scorer for the Lions in the first, with assists coming from Chris VanBeilen and Justin Beckstead.

In the second, Winchester came up with three goals as Jason Ross, Garth Byrne and Mike Dube got by the veteran netminder, Troy Sayeau.

Morrisburg retaliated with a goal from VanBeilen assisted by Darling and Kevin Wright with 11:35 gone in the second to end that game trailing 3-2.

Winchester never looked back in the final period, scoring two more for insurance purposes as Jared Hebbs and Ryan Nichol did the scoring.

Assists were collected by Ryan Byrne with a pair, and Chad Barnhart with two as well.

Winchester was hit with 12 minor offences, while Morrisburg had four minors and a double minor.

In Williamstown on Saturday, the Lions played a tough game but couldn't hold off the Char-Lan powerplay dropping a 6-4 decision.

The Rebels scored two in the first period as Mike Rankin and Nick Brunet took the credit for the goals.

Char-Lan claimed a 4-0 lead in the second with two more powerplay goals. Dave Campbell scored just seven seconds into the period unassisted, and Eric Fontaine scored with 7:28 gone.

Rob Darling got the pace going for the Lions about two minutes later as he scored assisted by VanBeilen and Beckstead with a man advantage.

Another powerplay goal from Jeff Hyndman gave put the Lions back in striking distance. James Cooper took credit for the assist.

In the third, Char-Lan opened with number five with 4:23 gone as Nick Brunet got by Sayeau.

Hyndman shot back for the Lions about a minute later with help once again from Cooper.

The Rebels sealed the win with a short-handed marker at the 9:22 mark, when Eric Fontaine scored unassisted.

Golf meeting Sunday

MORRISBURG—Some members of the Morrisburg Golf Club are expressing grave concern over a proposed amendment to the Morrisburg Golf Club constitution.

One member, who didn't want to be named, dropped into The Leader office this week to address these concerns.

"It's a return to past failures and power groping that concerns me," this person said.

At the spring meeting of the Morrisburg Golf Club it was explained to the members present that theoretically, the executive could put the club in debt thousands of dollars without consulting the members.

"It's been 16 years since the trustees were disbanded and not one serving executive put the club in debt," said the concerned member.

The trustees fought tooth and nail against building a new club house and voted to impeach the president of the club for buying something as outlandish as a new beer fridge in the early 70s, stated the member.

"If their main concern is going in debt, isn't it better to have the current system of a Board of Directors in place as eight people vote instead of the proposed three trustees.

This draft for discussion has been hanging on the wall at the Morrisburg Club. This concerned member would urge all other members to read the article number 10, Disbandment and Relocation, which reads: Should the Board of Directors, after confirming by a resolution passed by two third majority of the members present, decide to disband or move the club from its present location, then any disposition of assets shall be effected only by the Trustees, with or without the concurrence of the membership and or the Board of Directors in office at the time.

The member finished by saying, "I would advice all members to ask some serious questions at this Sunday's annual meeting."

CARD OF THANKS

BAKER–We wish to extend heartfelt thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their help and support following the death of a dear mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Lottie Baker. Your cards, floral arrangements, charitable donations and phone calls were greatly appreciated. We especially thank Rev. Macpherson for his comforting message, the Williamsburg United Church Ladies for the delicious after funeral luncheon, the pallbearers and the staff at Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home. Your kindness shall always be remembered.
–Dora, Lyle and Doris and families

BARKLEY–Poetry seems to be the order of the day
So we thought we should try to say "Thank You" this way
Thanks for the sympathy, flowers and food
Thanks for the hugs that all felt so good
Thanks for the calls and the cards and the visits
They have all helped to lighten our spirits
Because it was so sudden he left
Everyone felt particularly bereft
Thanks to the Pastor who rose to the challenge
Of distraught family and friends;
And let each in their own way express their grief
And so find a small measure of relief
He acted as a strong sturdy buffer
Thank God our Danny did not have to suffer.
–Marie Barkley and family 40c
