Explosion of Lamp Causes Fire.

About 3.30 on Wednesday morning of last week, the family of Mr. Simon Duvall, of Morrisburg, had a narrow escape from being burned to death in their residence on Augusta street, caused by the explosion of a lamp.

It appears that Mr. Duvall had intended taking an early start for Dunbar, and at 3 o'clock awoke and getting up went into his daughter's room and lit a large lamp that the daughter had taken up to her room after returning from the show. It being too early, Mr. Ball went to bed again, leaving the lamp burning. He unintentionally fell asleep. About a half hour afterwards the daughter commenced to scream and ran to the room of her parents, stating that the lamp had exploded and the house was on fire. The spread of the flames was so rapid that it was with difficulty the occupants got down stairs without saving anything from that part. However, by the assistance of neighbors some of the furniture down stairs was saved.

There was a small insurance on both the property and the contents.

The rest of the family, realizing that the eldest son probably intended to injure himself, were only a short distance from the house when thep heard the shot, and a few minutes aster, on forcing a door, they found him dead, the bullet having lodged in his brain, and death was practically instantaneous.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Father A. McCrae, all repaired to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous luncheon was partaken of. The young couple left on the noon train on a brief wedding trip. Among the out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Leland Chicago; Jos. Leland, Waddinton; Miss Stella Reffue, Madrid; John McCloskey, Chesterville; P. Green, Madrid.

Dr. Ferguson, of Kemptville, Dead.

Dr. Charles Frederick Ferguson, ex-M.P. for Leeds and Grenville, and one of the old stalwarts of the Conservative party, died suddenly at his home at Kemptville about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. He was 76 years of age.

During Tuesday and Tuesday evening Dr. Ferguson had been out attending actively to the needs of his patients. Returning about one o'clock yesterday morning from a late call, he retired and was dead in an hour, death being due to heart failure.

The late Dr. Ferguson was born in Leeds county, Ont., 76 years ago, the son of Mr. Robert Ferguson, of that place. He took a course in medicine at Queen's University, graduating in 1850. He married Miss Bell, of Grenville, a sister of the late Robert Bell, who represented Russell in the Canadian assembly previous to confederation. At the same time that he built up a large medical practice he was actively engaged in working for his party and in 1874 was first returned. In his party he was known as an energetic and reliable worker and a good speaker, and among his constituents he has always been esteemed and looked up to. He was elected to the Dominion house in 1874, 1878, 1882, 1887 and 1891, after which he retired. The constituencies of Leeds and Grenville, now separate, were then one.

Dr. Ferguson leaves besides his widow, a son, Mr. G. H. Ferguson, M.L.A., Kemptville, and two daughters, Mrs. D. Storey, Walkerville, and Mrs. J. C. Jeffrey, Avonmore.

Foster the Use of Gaelic Tongue.

Year after year the population of the county of Glengarry, which fifty years ago was almost exclusively Highland Scotch, is becoming more and more French-Canadian. The sons of the Scottish farmers of a couple of generations ago are scattered from Haliax to Vancouver.

With such a marked change in the population the Gaelic tongue, which at one time prevalled is falling into disuse, and the Glengarry Scots are organizing a Highland society for the purpose fostering the Gaelic language, Gaelic literature and the customs and traditions of the Scottish people, and further to induce Glengarrians to remain on the homes their ancestors hewed out of the wilderness.

A quiet wedding took place on Tuesday morning at St. Columban's Church, Cornwall, when Miss Josephine MacDonell, daughter of the late Alexander Macdonell, of McMillan's Corners, was married to Mr. Philip J. Rahal, of Nelson, B.C., formerly of MacMillan's Corners. Rev. Father Corbett McRae officiated at the nuptial mass. The bride, who wore a suit of wood-rose cloth, was attended by Miss Cassie R. Old Cornwall Merchant Dead.

Robert H. Brown, one of Cornwall's old and respected citizens, died on Friday aged 70 years. He was a native of Bradford, England, and came to Cornwall 40 years ago. He conducted a merchant tailoring business and was at one time one of Cornwall's leading merchants. His second wife and three daughters survive him.

Conviction Quashed.

The conviction of Chas. Hawley, of Iroquois, by two Magistrates, Jas. Collison and Thomas Hamilton for selling liquor without a license, on July 19th, was quashed by Chancellor Boyd on motion by M. H. Ludwig, to which Edward Bayley, for the Attorney-General, consented. No costs. Hawley was given 60 cents by another man to buy a bottle of liquor in Prescott and bring it to him. There was no defence put up, either by the Department or the Temperance party, which is regrettable, since it would have developed the weakness of the Ontario Liquor License Act bearing on this case if nothing more, and perhaps resulted in the law being amended to cover the case.

Large Crowd at Newington.

Stormont County Fair a Big Success. Some Improvements.

The attendance at the annual exhibition of the Stormont Agricultural Society, held at Newington on Wednesday of last week, was the largest in its history. The day was fine, the roads good and the farm work being well in hand enabled the farmers, their wives, sons and daughters to come from all parts of the country, and they went home satisfied with the day's programme, which was long and varied. The new main building recently erected and also several other improvements made since the last fair, added greatly to the general appearance of the grounds and the convenience of the exhibitors. The exhibit of live stock was about the same as a year ago. Horses were not quite so good, but hogs and sheep showed improvement. Some exceptionally good cattle were shown. In the main building the display of roots and potatoes was the best ever exhibitted at Newington. D. J. McIntyre, who won 1st on turnips, had one that weighed more than 20 lbs. The successful exhibitors of potatoes were: 1 Geo. Canham, 2 Geo. Barclay, 3 J. S. Markell, 4 L. Foster. Engine Boiler Exploded.

Fireman Killed on Train Between Ottawa and Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—Edward Edwards, of Ottawa, fireman on a Canadian Pacific train running from Ottawa to Montreal, was instantly killed last evening, and the engine driver, John Wilson, narrowly escaped a similar fate, through an explosion to the boiler, as the train was drawing near St. Augustin. When the explosion occurred the engine was surrounded with a mass of hissing steam. The driver wish great courage, succeeded in clapping on the brakes, and then, crawling through the little window, and hanging on to the engine till it came to a standstill. The fireman was not to be seen. After a search was made, his dead body was found lying beside the track half a mile away. At the inquest, held this morning the jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulates the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidneys ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves". Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by W. G. Bolster.

On Charge of Manslaughter.

Peterborough, Sept. 24.—Fred and Harry Jopling, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Arthur Bollard, of Toronto, came up for preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Edminson this morning. Evidence was taken for three hours, and an adjournment was made until Wednesday of next week. D. O'Connell, K.C., appeared for the Joplings, and R. E. Wood, K. C., for the Crown.

The witnesses heard were Dr. Scott, Blake Cullen and Gordon Long, and their evidence was practically the same as that given at the inquest. To Mr. O'Connell Dr. Scott admitted that Bollard's death might not have been caused by the injuries received in the fight with Fred Jopling. He was of the opinion, however, that his death was indirectly due to the struggle.

RETURNED THE PRIZE

A Trophy That Did Not Remain Long In Captivity.

THE MISSING COAT OF ARMS.

It Belonged to the American Consulate In Honolulu and Was Carried Off by a Party of English Middies—The Restitution and Apology.

"Speaking of old times on the coast," said an Oregonian, "reminds me of some of the sterling characters we had there. One was Governor McBride of Oregon. His first official duties were at Honolulu, where he was United States minister. King Kamehameha was the ruler at the time. The minister was a heroic type of a man, the father of fourteen children, and a number of his sons became distinguished men in various professions. He was a true American, cast in an ultra patriotic mold, and many stories are told among the oldtimers of his patriotism and bravery.

"When McBride reached Honolulu he found there were no outward insignia designating the American consulate or minister's office, so he had a large American coat of arms cut out of wood, gilded and decorated appropriately, and this was hung over the office door that all the world might see it. It was naturally a conspicuous object and of much interest to the public.

"One day an English man-of-war came into port. The sailors and midshipmen were given liberty, and, as often happens, some of them had hilarious times. Among the then midshipmen were Lord Gordon and Lord Beresford, who, like all midshipmen in from a long cruise, were out for a jolly time. Walking down the street they did not fail to notice that Yankee coat of arms, and as Beresford was collecting bric-a-brac and curiosities it occurred to him and Gordon that this would be a fine addition to their collection, a trophy worth having. So they selected a time when the minister was away and the office closed, presumably at night, and took down the coat of arms, hired a native vehicle to carry it down to the dock and actually succeeded in getting it aboard without any of the ranking officers knowing anything about it.

"The next morning when the minister came down to the office his assistant said:

"'Mr. Minister, your bird's taken flight.'

"'What do you mean?' asked his excellency.

"'Your coat of arms is gone,' replied the aid.

"'Gone where? Flown off?'

"'Not exactly,' said the other. 'It's just disappeared.'

"The minister walked out into the street and looked up. The coat of arms, which was five or six feet across, was 'noticeable by its absence.' It had taken wings and flown away. Exactly what the minister said has not been chronicled.

"It so happened that Beresford had given the carriage driver an extra fare for his trouble. Some one discovered this and quickly reported it to the minister, who at once made a demand upon the captain of the frigate for its return. The captain, who was innocent, denied that the thing was aboard ship. The minister sent his evidence to the captain, reiterating his demand and demanding an apology for the insult.

"The captain now began an investigation, and the culprits owned up and took the coat of arms on deck, when it was promptly sent ashore and returned to the office of the minister. McBride, who was there, refused to receive it.

"'Tell the captain of your frigate that I desire that the men who took it down bring it back, place it where they found it and apologize.'

"Back to the ship went the men with the coat of arms and reported. The captain ordered the young men to go ashore, take the coat of arms to the consulate, replace it as they found it and apologize to the minister.

"It was doubtless a bitter pill, and the young midshipmen had to stand the badinage of their comrades. The two went ashore, ready to comply, and took the coat of arms to the consulate. The American minister had not put himself out to keep the matter quiet, and as a fact the public was well posted, and the consulate was surrounded by a crowd of Americans, natives and others, all laughing at the predicament of the young midshipmen.

"The minister had a strong sense of humor and determined to get all there was in it. He preserved his dignity as best he could as he received the young men and listened to their apologies. The midshipmen then took the coat of arms from the back and amid the cheers of the crowd climbed to the front of the building and placed it in position, then hurried down, followed by laughter and cheers."—C. F. Holder in New York Evening Post.

TOWER OF LONDON.

The Perfect System by Which Its Treasures Are Guarded.

The Tower of London has the most perfect system of burglar alarms that has yet been devised.

From Scotland Yard, from the governor's headquarters and from other places known only to a few responsible officials the whole Tower can be closed electrically within a few seconds. Even the ponderous gates at the middle tower, which weigh some tons and through which visitors pass, swing to automatically, and the escape of every one within is instantly barred. At the same time an alarm bell rings to warn wardens, police and soldiers.

In particular the precautions in the apartment containing the crown jewels are of a most scientifically elaborate kind. One of the beefeaters on duty in the room has merely to press a button, whereupon the heavy door closes, the alarm bell below rings, the other gates slam to and lock, and every person within the tower is instantly cut off from the outer world.

"The man who can get away with any of the crown jewels deserves them," observed a Tower official. "From where I am standing I could close every important door and gate in the Tower in as short a time as it takes to utter these words."

It was mainly to insure the safety of the crown jewels that the system was installed.

No order had been issued for the closing of the Tower on a recent Saturday when, greatly to their alarm, the visitors found doors locked, bolted and barred against them for about ten minutes, preventing any one leaving the Tower.

"The Tower simply closed—that is all," remarked an official. "Who caused it to do so we do not know. It might have been Scotland Yard, where the pressing of a button would imprison every soul within the Tower until the police gave the signal for their release, or it might have been the governor, anxious to learn whether we were all at our posts. At any rate, it was none of the minor officials.

"In fact, who closed the Tower and why is a secret known only to the highest authorities. There was no alarm, no attempt to seize the crown jewels."—London Mail.

Clever Tactics When William Quit Using Tobacco.

An excerpt from Doris' letter: "And, oh, Will, if you weren't the dearest boy! You often told me that you would do anything in the world for me, and now you write for my sake you've quit smoking. I'll have to wait until I see you to tell you what a dear I think you are."

From Janis: "You write that out of consideration for me you have stopped smoking for good. That was just lovely of you, William, and you may depend that I greatly appreciate it."

From Phyllis: "Billy, boy, it's just ripping! You're the dandy kid! Just to think that you would swear off using the weed just for me! It was mighty dear of you, Billy, and it makes me all the more keen for you."

From Marjorie: "To think that you've quit smoking, William! I was so surprised! Of course I always knew that you care for me, but to think that, as you say, you've made this sacrifice on my account—why, it's positively noble of you!"

From his mother: "Will, my son, this proves your love for me. Father is inclosing a check to show that he appreciates the fact that you think enough of your parents to give up smoking for them."

From his doctor: "Your letter advising me that you have obeyed my orders and stopped the use of tobacco is at hand. As I said, your compliance * * *."

Back Numbers.

"William," said Mrs. Van Gelder to the man of all work, "I want you to clean out that large closet in the hall just outside the parlor. Burn all the old newspapers, waste paper and any other rubbish you may find there."

After a short time she met William in the hall carrying in his arms a huge pile of sheet music, the property of her eldest daughter.

"What are you going to do with Mabel's music?" she asked.

"Why, burn it, sure, as you told me to. It was in the closet there with the other rubbish."

"But I didn't mean the music. Put it back at once."

Noting his mistress' displeasure, William inquired in surprise:

"Why, hasn't she played it all?"

VANISHING LIGHT.

THE days are growing shorter.
It seems almost a crime
To have the long light evenings
With us so little time.
And, creeping slowly southward,
The sun throughout July
Is clipping each day's edges.
Alas, how time does fly!

So very short the season
Since we were feeling gay
While looking out with pleasure
Upon a lengthening day,
The time when we were saying,
"My, this is a delight
And really something like it
To eat without a light!"

'Tis thus as though on rollers
Our days serenely glide
Or as a baseball player
In running makes a slide.
They come, and in the morning
We tumble from our bed,
And ere we look about us
We find that day has fled.

And so the hours are speeding
Like rumbling railway trains,
And we grow old and grouchy
And stiff and full of pains.
One week succeeds another,
Thus piling up the years.
There is no way to stop them
With coaxing, force or tears.

He Was On.

"What do you want for them stamps" asked the gentleman from Jayville, looking over a collection of rare denominations.

"Twenty-five dollars for the lot," replied the dealer.

"Come on, Maria. He is trying to bunko us. Them has all been canceled."

Beats the Game.

"You can't get something for nothing," said the philosopher of the commonplace, looking for all the world as though he had made an original discovery.

"That might have been so once," said the nifty young person, "but it isn't true any more."

"Is that so, smartie? Maybe you can point to an instance."

"Sure I can. What would you call it when a lazy person gets what's coming to him?"

Neat Fit.

Cousin Charley, from the rural districts, was visiting them, and during his temporary absence they were discussing ways of entertaining him.

"We must take him to the theater, of course."

"Oh, certainly."

"And couldn't we manage to get him behind the stage?" asked Clara.

"Would he enjoy it?"

"I don't know, but he would so nicely match the greenroom."

Her Answer.

The wild wave said to the pebble,
The only one on the beach,
In a piping, childish treble:
"You certainly are a peach.
And now I like to kiss you
As I glide, swift, over the sand!
Were you gone how I would miss you!
How lonesome then the strand!"

And the smooth and shining pebble
With its polished face and fair—
None knew her for a rebel—
Replied with an innocent air,
"You aren't the first, O water,
Since first old time has flown
Who has asked of earth's fair daughter
And, asking, received a stone!"

Double Attraction.

"How would you like to teach school in the country, Millie?"

"Fine."

"And board around?"

"That would be the best part of it. There would be such a variety."

"Of victuals?"

"No; of young men."

Short End.

"I wonder why so many women are so discontented."

"Probably because of their husbands."

"How is that?"

"They are so contented."

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

WHAT IS A JOKE?

It Is a Serious Business to the Man Who Concocts It.

"There's one thing I thought I knew, but find I don't know," said Tommy. "What is a joke?"

Father pricked up his ears, as it were. "A joke," he said slowly, "is something its maker thinks is funny, but nobody else does."

"That explains it then. Today I said an awful quaint thing. Mother had a lot of women here, and they talked about clothes. I said: 'A woman's mind is always on clothes. When she ain't talking through her hat she's laughing up her sleeve.' But no one laughed, and I read that one too. Tell me a joke."

"If I were to say when I came home from visiting the cemetery that I had returned from the dead, that would be a joke."

"Is that a practical joke?"

"It is not. It's a grave joke."

"What's a practical joke?"

"If your mother just before going out shopping asked for money and I gave her all she wanted."

"Do you like practical jokes?"

"Not when they're as practical as that."

"Does every one like jokes?"

"Few people do. Most think it is more blessed to give than to receive."

"Then people can't take a joke?"

"There are some who can't. Editors, for instance, rarely take a joke."

"Does any one make money from the writing of jokes?"

"Only the papermakers and the postal department of the government."

"Must a joke be funny to be a joke?"

"Few are."

"Then some are serious?"

"Not exactly. But if you refer to a sexton as a man of grave cares some might think you intended to be jocular."

"Is a pun like a joke?"

"Nothing at all. A man who makes a joke is an idiot, whereas a man who makes a pun is a criminal."

"Then the man who writes what he thinks are jokes is a funny fellow?"

"No; it is a serious business with him."

"He has his ups and downs, then?"

"Yes. He gets up courage to write to editors and gets turned down by them."

"You're not referring to the man who writes the column in the papers every day? Surely life is one joke with him."

"No, it isn't. He thinks he's a humorist, but he's a pessimist. He'd rather be a hodcarrier."

"Why, does a hodcarrier make more money?"

"Well, he has a habit of climbing and often goes higher. Besides, the outdoor work is healthier."

"Isn't joke writing healthy?"

"Not when you're caught at it."

"Can a man write jokes and still be a gentleman?"

"You forget, Tommy, that our remarks are intended for publication and that I have many friends who write. Besides, I sometimes get off a joke or two myself."

The One Who Knew.

"Elijah," said the judge to the defendant, "you have had a fair trial. The prosecuting attorney has shown by circumstantial evidence that cannot be gainsaid that you were in Mr. Brown's chicken coop on the night that his hens disappeared, and your attorney in his speech has practically admitted that the theory of the prosecution is true. Have you anything to say before the court pronounces its decision?"

"Jedge," said Elijah, rising politely, "all I's got to say is dis. I don't know much about de law, but I does know heahsay evumdence isn't good, an' all dese lawyehs says is heahsay. I oughter know, foh I uz de only man in that chicken coop dat night, an' I's denied it raight erlong."

An Apology?

A London journal says that a lively discussion once took place in a town council in the north of England. One thing led to another till one of the disputants gave another the lie direct. The insulted party rushed forward, and the pair clinched. At that moment the first man exclaimed, "I reiterate that you are a liar!" To the astonishment of every one, the aggrieved party let go his hold. "Oh, well," he said, "in that case I accept the apology. If a man says he reiterates, that is all any gentleman can ask." He did not understand why the bystanders laughed, but the fight was off.

Imitative.

"Where is your mother, children?"

"Woman's club."

"Well, then, where is your father?"

"Golf club."

"What are you children doing?"

"Clubbing the neighbor's cat and dog."

Ethical.

"Mamma, Johnnie is a naughty boy."

"Why?"

"He took my candy."

"Where did you get candy?"

"Took it away from the baby."

THE INDIANS PAID.

What the White Men Charged Them For Killing One Donkey.

In "Reminiscences of Old Times In Tennessee" a story is told of the good faith and honor of a party of Chickasaw Indians. While hunting one fall they shot a donkey, mistaking the creature for a wild animal. They sold the hide, and it finally came to the hands of John Barnes in Lipton.

When the Chickasaws returned to the region of Lipton for their annual hunt the next fall Barnes invited them to a shooting match, the prize to be the skin of a very rare animal.

Thirty braves appeared at the contest, and one of them won the prize. When he saw the skin he turned it over and said: "Ha, ha! Me kill him! Me shoot him! See!" And he pointed to the fatal bullet hole.

Then Barnes told them that they had killed a donkey, a very useful animal, but he was sure that they had done it by mistake, believing it to be a wild animal.

The Indians listened attentively to the white man's words and then consulted together a few minutes. Finally they separated, each brave going to his pony, unhitching him and leading him to the spot where a gang of white men stood, Barnes in the midst of them. Then one of the Indians spoke:

"We sorry we kill donkey. We think he belong to the woods. We find him in cane. We think him wild. We sorry. Now we pay. We take no white man's hoss, pony, nothing of white man. We honest. We have ponies; that's all. Take pay." And he motioned to the long line of ponies, held by their owners.

"How many?" asked Barnes.

"White man say," returned the Indian; "take plenty."

The honor of the red men was not equaled by the white men, for, be it recorded to their shame, they took from the Chickasaws thirty-five ponies to pay for the accidental killing of one donkey.

AN AFRICAN RAILWAY.

The Way It Was Described by an Educated Native.

C. J. Phillips, business agent in Uganda of the Church Missionary society, throws light upon the workings of the native mind by quoting a remarkable letter in which a native member of the katikiro's (prime minister's) party gives a description of the Uganda railway.

"My friend, I can tell you the Europeans have done a marvelous thing to make the railway and the trains. They fasten ten or fifteen houses together and attach them to a fireplace which is as big as an elephant, and the road it goes on is as smooth as the stem of a plantain. It goes as fast as a swallow flying, and everything you see outside flits past you like a spark from a fire. If it were to drop off one of the bridges not one in it would be saved, for it goes dreadfully quick. The hills it passes are as high as those of Koki, and they have bridged over great valleys which are as deep as that you see when you look from the top of Namirembo, so deep that you cannot see the bottom when you are going over them."

Later there follows a description of a ship: "It is as deep as our two storied house and as wide as the king's road in Mengo, and it is as long as from the katikiro's fence to the gate of the king's inclosure. It has three tall poles in it and a big throat, out of which smoke comes, which is as wide as the new drum in the church at Namirembo. The rooms in it go down three stories, and the boards of these I cannot describe to you, for such have not been seen before. There is a lot of metal work about them, too, but these also I cannot describe, for it is so fine. There are children on board and a flock of sheep and places to wash in attached to every place where a chief sleeps, such as even our king has never possessed."—London Strand Magazine.

Anything to Oblige.

While crossing the ocean the two sprightly children of very seasick parents were scampering around the deck.

"Tom, dear," said the mother in a weary voice, "the children are too near the railing." But he was too ill to notice, and in sheer desperation his wife nudged him on the arm. "Speak to them, Tom," she said faintly.

With a wan smile he lifted his head and said, "Eh—how do you do?"—Ladies' Home Journal.

Village Gossip.

"Is Squire Whetstone considerate of dumb animals?"

"I don't know how he treats 'em," answered Si Simling, "but he certainly speaks mighty kind of 'em when he's engineerin' a hoss trade."

Hilarious.

Clarence—I'm going to ask old Vavasour for his daughter's hand. What's a good way to begin? Algy—Oh, spring a few other jokes on him first and see how he takes them!—Exchange.

$600 Robbery.

James Barnet, of Renfrew, Suffers at Fair.

Renfrew, Sept. 23.—Mr. James Barnet, one of the most prominent citizens of this town, was mysteriously relieved of a wallet containing $150 in cash, a diamond ring valued at $300, and three notes of $50 each drawn on the Merchants Bank amounting in all to $600, on the fair grounds yesterday afternoon. Mr. Barnet scouts the idea that he lost the purse as it was in a pocket from which it could not accidentally drop, and believes that some slick pickpocket touched him for the big haul. He has reported the loss to Chief Bunting, who is working on the case.

The chief had his eye on two suspicious looking strangers who were making the round of the jewelry stores during the day. These men, however, suddenly disappeared during the late afternoon, and it is thought possible that they may have been the perpretrators of the theft. The paper is of no value to the robbers, but the diamond ring and cash could be negotiated without any difficulty.

Lutheran Re-union At Riverside.

Tnesday, the 21st inst., was a day of unusual interest at Riverside Lutheran church, both in the number and nature of events occurring at old St. John's.

In the morning the Eastern Conference of the first English Lutheran Synod of Canada opened with the communion service, the sermon being preached by the pastor of this church, Rev. L. M. McCreery.

At noon a reunion picnic of the Dunbar, Morrisburg and Williamsburg Lutheran churches was held with the Riverside church on the parsonage grounds.

At 2 p. m. a quarto-centennial jubilee was held in honor of the 25th anniversary of Rev. Dr. McCreery's ministry and married life. Addresses were made by two former pastors, Rev. M. H. Fishburn and Rev. A. Schultes, Rev. G. A. Fechner, of Williamsburg, and Rev. M. J. Bieber, field missionary and president of the synod. Dr. Bieber's address was historic, in that it reported the growth of the Lutheran church in North America during the 25 years of Mr. McCreery's ministry and married life.

Twenty-five years ago there were 25 Luthteran synods, now there are 68. From 3,000 ministers the number has grown to 8,000; 6,000 congregations have become 13,000, and 800,000 members have increased to 2,050,000, with contributions to Mission work of $2,500,000 annually. Eight theological seminaries have been added to the 16, making 24 now, and the number of colleges have increased from 26 to 44.

While there were many German congregations in Canada 25 years ago there were then but 7 English; now there are 19, 12 of which are strong missions in Guelph, Hamilton, Montreal. Toronto and other centres of large opportunity all showing progress not excelled by any other denomination.

The speaker also reported the busy life of Rev. McCreery's 25 years of service in the following:—741 baptisms, 527 confirmations, 237 marriages, 292 funerals, 3224 sermons, the organizing of 6 congregations and building of 9 churches.

At the close of the address St. John's and St. Paul's churches presented Dr. McCreery with a comfortable sum of money and two fine easy chairs, the addresses of presentation being made by Messrs. M. D. Willard and H. Shenett.

The day closed with a S. S. convention in the evening which was enjoyed by a full house, delegates being present from all four of the churches.

It is expected that one of the results of this gathering will be the separation of the Riverside and Morrisburg congregations and the settlement of a pastoral at Riverside, which will mean the enlargement of the usefnlness and success of these two churches.

Kidney Disease For Years

This Well Known Gentleman Strongly Recommends "Fruit-a-tives" to all Sufferers.

JAMES DINGWALL, Esq.

"I have much pleasure in testifying to the almost marvellous benefit I have derived from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I was a lifelong sufferer from Chronic Constipation, and the only medicine I ever secured to do me any real good was "Fruit-a-tives." This medicine cured me when everything else failed. Also, last spring I had a severe ATTACK OF BLADDER TROUBLE WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE, and "Fruit-a-tives" cured these complaints for me, when the physician attending me had practically given me up.

I am now over eighty years of age and I can strongly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" for chronic constipation and bladder and kidney trouble. This medicine is very mild like fruit, is easy to take, but most effective in action."

Witness Burned Out.

Montreal Newspaper Suffers Heavy Loss.

Montreal Sept. 23.—The Montreal Witness office was gutted by fire, which broke out about 6.30. The damage is estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000. Several neighboring stores and offices also suffered. The fire was discovered at 6.30 by men working in the job room, but how it originated is a mystery. It is thought however, that a match may have been dropped by a smoker as he was leaving the building.

The flames began their work on the top floor, and in an incredibly short time the whole upper flat was wrecked. The roof then fell in and added to the damage. Flames ate their way down through the other floors to the press room in the basement. In addition to the damage by fire, the loss by water will be considerable.

For some time The Witness have been at work installing new presses, and had everything arranged to rnn off their enlarged paper to-morrow. Formerly their paper was a small-sized sheet, but they had installed a fine new Gains press, capable of turning out a large-sized eight-column paper. This was to turn out it's first sheets to-morrow, but the fire has prevented this. Arrangements have been made with the Gazette to publish the paper for the present. There was an insurance of $150,000 on the buildiug and contents.

Burglars Got Away.

North Bay, Sept. 24.—Two burglars, sentenced from Sudbury to terms in the Central Prison, escaped from Provincial Bailiff Ryan at the North Bay station last night, while leaving the C.P.R. express. The prisoners were handcuffed together, but taking advantage of Bailiff Ryan's back being turned for a moment, they stepped off the train on the opposite side and slipped away in the darkness. An unsuccessful search for the fugitives has been in progress all day by the local police, but no trace of them has yet been found.

Planned Suicide With Great Care

Man Who Shot Himself on Wife's Grave Left Note.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Mr. E. B. Hamilton, who suicided at his wife's grave yesterday, had apparently planned the deed with great deliberation. The following letter was made public today by a local undertaker. It was found on the body of the deceased, and was evidently written some hours before his death:

"Mr. George Rogers:

"Dear Sir.—Will you kindly take care of my body and have me buried with my wife. Telegraph my sister, Mrs. Fred Hofmann, 1724A Mance Street, Montreal, and have newspapers with notice sent to J. R. Laycock, New York. Also will you take charge of property found on me till my sister arrives. Then turn it over to her. My jewelry consists of the enclosed diamond pin, the cuff links which I have on, and fob with Masonic chain. I have left a suit case at your place on Bank Street, containing the clothes in which I wish to be buried, also an insurance policy, which you will put in for collection, together with your bill.

"Now as I have made it clear that I intend to end my life, I don't see why there should be any inquest or trouble. I am simply tired of living since my wife died, and want to rest with her. Thanking you in advance for your trouble, I remain, yours truly.

"EDWIN BROCK HAMILTON."

Bank Safe Blown Up.

L'Orignal, Sept. 24.—Robbers got into the Sterling Bank and used explosives to blow the safe, but the safe door, instead of falling out, fell in and became wedged in such a manner that the robbers could not get past it. Not a dollar was taken. Three strangers who were seen in the locality are suspected, and are being sought by the Provincial and Dominion police.

It is only two weeks ago that the Bank Provinciale, at Yamachiche, Que., was broken into during the night and $4,800 stolen.

Old Folks Coughs

Because Resisting Power is Weak Pneumonia Often Follows.

Tells of a Sure Cure and a Never-failing Comfort for Colds, Coughs. Catarrh.

One of the worst terrors of old age is that distressing chronic chough. Colds settle on the chest, are wrongly treated with drug-laden and chest-weakening cough syrups, and from year to year the condition has grown worse. Formerly the cough went away when fine weather came, but now bad weather makes it worse and fits of racking, tearing, coughing make life a burden.

Because you are old is no reason for suffering with everlasting coughing—those terrible chest troubles and difficult breathing can be thoroughly cured with Catarrhozone. You simply breathe the healing vapor of Catarrhozone and instantly it's rich balsamic fumes are carried by your breath into the tiniest recesses of the nose, throat, chest, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Just think of it—a direct breathable medicine, full of soothing antiseptic pine essences that reach every sore congested membrane in two seconds. No drugs to take—nothing to harm the aged or the infant because Catarrhozone is the purest, safest cough, catarrh and cold remedy ever devised.

Mrs. M. E. Walford, wife of a well known grocer in East Sheffield, writes: "For three years I suffered with a hard racking cough and brochial irritation which annoyed me so much at night I couldn't sleep. I tried many remedies, catarrh tablets, sprays, syrups, etc., but they only helped for a short time. Catarrhozone brought me wonderful comfort from the first. I inhaled it's balsamic fumes every hour or two and am now free from any trace of cold, bronchitis and catarrh. I can go out in all kinds of weather and don't take cold."

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhozone but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitutor. Large Catarrhozone lasts two months, price $1.00; smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. All reliable dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Farm Hand Killed.

Oshawa, Ont., Sept. 23.—While helping fill a silo on the farm of Dr. Gibson about a mile east of this town, Duncan Blair who lived on the farm adjoining was almost instantly killed to-day.

The bursting of the box was the cause, parts of it striking him on the thigh and also in the region the heart. Medical aid was of no avail. He leaves three sons and one daughter to bear the loss. His brother died but a few months ago as the result of an accident.

Have You Warts?

Acquitted Girl is now Happy Bride.

Gananoque, Ont., Sept. 28.—Miss Grace Henderson, formerly a bookkeeper for the Thousands Islands Railway Company, who was last week honorably acquitted of the charge of embezzling $2,500 from her employers, was married on Saturday to Mr. John Marshall, of Chicago, Ill., and has gone to that city to make her home. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, the bride's parents, and was attended by relatives and intimate friends of the parties. Rev. John P. Kehoe, rector of St. John's Church, officiated.

Miss Henderson was one of Gananoque's most popular young ladies, and her acquittal last week of the unjust charges brought against her received approval everywhere. Throughout her troubles Mr. Marshall, who formerly lived in Gananoque, stood loyally by her, and his gallantry has won its reward.

The bride was one of the contestants in The Montreal Herald's Old Country Tour contest last year, and was one of the winners in the second division.

Horses Perished in Fire.

Toronto, Sept. 27.—While a car of Hon. Adam Beck's horses were being moved from Toronto to London tonight a lantern was overturned in the car, and four fine race horses were burned to death. One car escaped. The accident took place in the Toronto yards near the foot of Spadina avenue, and as the train was moving the horses could not be saved. The names of the animals destroyed are Photographer, Moorshot, Covertshot and Kempenfeldt.

Rubber Is Coing Up.

Going up! Crude up.river fine Para rubber—that is to say, the rubber in the greatest demand for commercial pur poses—has reached the highest price ever known. The advance in price is not confined to New York, the receiving port for the bulk of the rubber coming from South American sources, but from Liverpool and Antwerp comes the same story. In twelve months rubber has jumped from ninety-seven cents a pound to $2.10 and the upward trend has practically maintained steadily throughout the year. Those who are wise will buy their winter rubbers now, for although the jobbers got in their contracts in the spring the increase of the cost of raw material will doubtless result in retailers raising the price of articles in the manufacture of which rubber is used, in view of the large increase of price they will have to pay when renewing their stocks.

Sash Factory Burned at Almonte.

Mr. John Donaldson's sash and door factory, of Almonte, was completely destroyed by fire Friday night. When the alarm was rung in at about twenty minutes to twelve the fire had at this time made considerable headway and when the firemen arrived the building was doomed. Good work was done in saving the N. L. A. swine sheds which were very close, as well as the office of Mr. Donaldson.

The machinery, Mr. Donaldson states, was valued at five thousand dollars and the building at $1,500. About one hundred and fifty dollars' worth of lumber was also burned. The origin of the fire is a mystery as no work has been done this week. The insurance is about two thousand dollars.
