WDMH welcomes first baby of 2012

Post-natal party
Ronald Paul Gaw skipped both his Thurs., Dec. 22 due date and Christmas 2011. He arrived, to modest fanfare, at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Sun., Jan. 1, becoming the first baby born at the medical facility in 2012. Parents' wish for newborn son: embrace love, and avoid regrets

by Amanda Smith-Millar

WINCHESTER — Corey and Eric Gaw only needed a few minutes to settle on a lifelong wish for their baby — much less time than it took for the overdue infant to enter the world.

Ronald Paul Gaw missed his Thurs., Dec. 22 due date by a week and a half, skipping the holiday hubbub to arrive shortly after 2012 itself. The tiny truant's Sun., Jan. 1 birth at 11:10 am secured him the title of Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) New Year's Baby. (Nurses confirmed that a set of twins were born at WDMH later that evening but did not disclose how the duo is coping with Ronald's victory.)

Eric wished for Ronald to set his own goals throughout his life and work steadily to achieve them.

"I'd like him to live with no regrets," said Eric of their nine-pound, one-ounce son. "If he wants to do something, do it."

Meanwhile, Corey wished for Ronald to live a life full of love — and "love with all his heart," she said.

The Kemptville couple would like Ronald to have a sister. Of course, it's up to nature to decide if the Gaws' next baby will be a girl. (If a boy arrives, the Gaws plan to keep trying for a daughter.)

"We might end up with a herd," Corey mused.

Eric — who has several siblings — didn't cringe at the prospect of raising a large family. "Four [kids] wouldn't kill me," he said.

"It might kill me!" his wife retorted with a laugh.

While other folks nursed hangovers on New Year's Day morning, Corey endured contractions instead. She remained grateful, however, for a mercifully short seven-hour labour.

"I didn't really like the beginning," she said, grinning wryly at her understatement. However, Corey recalled that the pain eventually became easier to endure: "Near the end, you kind of forget about it, because you get to meet [your child]."

Like many husbands who witness childbirth, Eric found it upsetting to watch helplessly as his wife suffered, despite the impending arrival of their baby. He marvelled at Corey's strength. "I couldn't do it," he said.

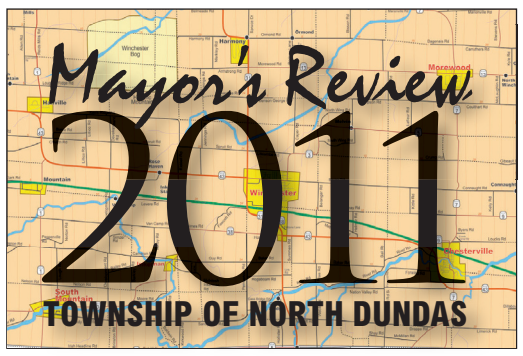
'The drama is gone'

Mayor spends debut year as municipal mechanic

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff



WINCHESTER — Cautious policy makers often cite the common-sense moderate's mantra: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."

However, there's a Part B to that philosophy — one perhaps best summarized by evangelist Edwin Louis Cole: "You don't drown by falling in the water; you drown by staying there."

As such, Township of North Dundas Mayor Eric Duncan and his four council colleagues spent the better part of 2011 tweaking, mending, and restructuring the municipality's bureaucratic structure.

After first being elected to the municipality's five-member council at the age of 19, Duncan decided to run for the mayor's job four years later. His October 2010 campaign promise to oversee a more efficient, transparent, and effective government earned support from 71.9 per cent of voters — many of whom also responded to other candidates espousing plans that were similar to Duncan's.

Second sexual assault charge laid in Morrisburg

MORRISBURG — Another man in his 40s has been charged with sexually assaulting a minor in Morrisburg.

A week after Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP informed the public that a 41-year-old man had allegedly sexually assaulted a female younger than 16, the force has laid similar charges on a 45-year-old.

On Mon., Jan. 2 around 6:30 am, officers responded to a report of a domestic incident on Carraway Crescent in Morrisburg. A 45-year-old man allegedly made sexual advances on a young female. He was arrested, and held in custody pending an appearance in Cornwall court.

The 45-year-old was charged with: assault; sexual assault; sexual interference with a person under 16 years of age; inviting someone under 16 years of age to sexual touching; and failure to comply with undertaking or recognizance.

The 45-year-old's case and the 41-year-old's are not related, police said, and are considered to be separate incidents entirely at this time.

Policy should always trump politics: Mayor

The 2010-2014 council spent its first year charging full speed ahead. Their first task was to meet proactively with staff to get the budget done earlier than ever. Other accomplishments include hiring an economic development officer and initiating long-term plans for roads, sidewalks, parks, fire services, and more. In the meantime, council has been doing plenty of reorganizing and housecleaning.

"I think it has been a good year," Duncan said.

'The drama is gone'

What's the key to improved efficiency at the council table?

Duncan thanked his political colleagues for making 2011 so productive. "The five of us, we get along extremely well," said the 24-year-old. "We work well together. Most importantly, there's a real respect there."

He noted that there's less confrontation reported in the local newspapers. Residents have commented on the decreased level of disagreement and anger.

The trick, Duncan revealed, is to focus on policy — not politics.

"The drama is gone; the confrontation's gone," he said. "There's a real professionalism here that I think that council has, and staff has. And I think people do appreciate that. I think it gives more confidence in the ability of council to do their work, and staff as well."

That's not to say all five men at the council table nod their heads in agreement in unison. Councillor Al Armstrong, for example, has disagreed with Duncan about what to do with a $4-million hydro reserve fund meant for water and sewer development. Councillors John Thompson and Tony Fraser, Deputy-Mayor Gerry Boyce, and both Armstrong and Duncan have different opinions on taxation policy that differ from their colleagues' principles.

The point, said Duncan, is to ask yourself one question: What makes sense?

"There has never been a raised voice; there has never been an argument. There have been disagreements," Duncan reflected. "Whenever [an] issue is over, [we don't allow] that to linger on to the next issue, or become games. I mean, that cuts down on 80 per cent of your problems right there. You don't have to plot, or plan, or [think] 'How am I going to get this by, or through, or past council?'"

Top-heavy 2011

North Dundas' council sprinted out of its starting blocks in early 2011. The workload was heavy for politicians and staff alike, with two or sometimes three regular meetings hosted per month — demanding hours of preparation and follow-up.

To cut down on the traditional confrontation between staff and council over the budget, council met with the department heads first in 2011, with each party sharing their mutual wish list.

In fact, it was during these early-year gatherings that council christened the economic development officer's salary an "untouchable" budget item for 2010, and promised that someone would be hired by the summer. Rob Hunter was hired, on schedule, to fulfill the role, ending years of anxious debate over whether or not to spend money on an economic development office and accompanying staff salary.

"It's a completely different ball game. I'm exposed to 10 times more information and judgment calls than before."

— Eric Duncan

As 2011's work was defined, those marathon meetings of January and February gave way to shorter sessions throughout the year. (Duncan is particularly proud of one session in late fall, which lasted a mere 57 minutes.)

Duncan noted that one must be careful about how council and staff invest their time and energy on those Tuesday night gatherings. During previous terms, department heads were expected to provide a full update on the month's activities. Now, department heads are discouraged from reading off their reports and must choose highlights, prioritizing items that need council's attention and guidance.

As a result, meetings no longer drag into 11 pm or midnight.

"It gives us more time to look at the bigger picture of things," said Duncan. "And more time, just in general, to deal with issues that perhaps we haven't had the chance to deal with in the past — that may have been a priority, or may have needed to have been talked about for the last four or five years; we just haven't had the chance to do so yet."

Staffers get thumbs up

Duncan said staff has been eager to improve the office workflow.

Contrary to popular belief, not all bureaucrats are lazy and adverse to change. According to Duncan, North Dundas department heads are hardworking and need extra support to meet their goals.

"It's nuts here," Duncan testified, gesturing to the office area. "It's busy, every single day."

His role as mayor provides him with an "enhanced appreciation" of what staff does, he said.

As an example, Duncan referred to his campaign pledge to overhaul the planning and bylaw services in North Dundas. The two department leaders not only accepted Duncan's plans, but after the election, provided him with a list detailing changes they'd like to see in the department to improve its efficiency.

Duncan noted that being a mayor comes with challenges, but also provides fresh perspectives that he didn't have when he served as a councillor.

As mayor, he witnesses multiple behind-the-scenes details and plans unfolding, from the chief administrative officer's responsibilities to infrastructure developments.

"It's a completely different ball game," he said. "I'm exposed to 10 times more information and judgment calls than I was before."

2012 priorities

The new year's priorities involve: passing the budget (ASAP, Duncan said); deciding on what to do with aging buildings such as Mountain's community hall; planning recreational investments; phasing out Chesterville's flat-rate water and sewer billing system; and improving North Dundas' website and professional communications strategy.

The next year should be busy, too, if it's planned well. And according to the mayor, such plans are well underway.

"I've been on the job for a year," said Duncan during the traditional year-end interview with the local papers. "I love every minute of this job. I still pinch myself [to check if] I'm in the position that I'm in. I'm fortunate to be able to do this job every day. There hasn't been one minute of this job where I haven't liked it or I have been frustrated with it."

Ronald, meanwhile, has remained quiet and calm since his delayed debut at WDMH. Most of the time, he sleeps peacefully in Mom or Dad's embrace, rarely making a peep, save the odd gurgle or sigh.

"He has been perfect," said Eric, gazing down at the miniature miracle in his arms. "Just like this."

Mayor Byvelds expects steady hands to lead South Dundas in 2012

“Economically, when things change in the world, we have to recognize that as a council, and make sure we work within those parameters.”

— Steven Byvelds

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — To listen to him tell it, Mayor Steven Byvelds is expecting 2012 to be a year of fiscal restraint in the Township of South Dundas.

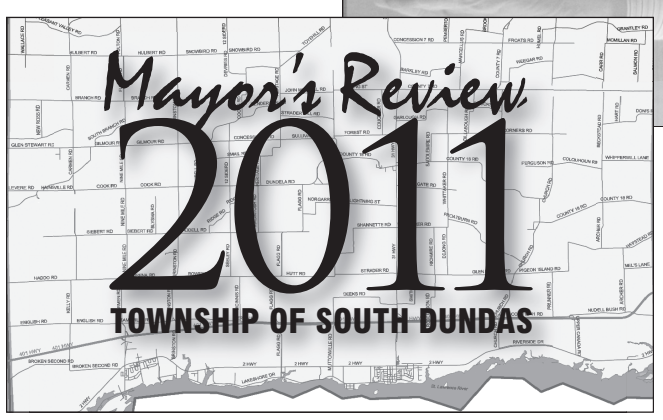
During his year-in-review meeting with local media, the municipality’s top politician (who also spent the year as warden for the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry) recounted both the highs and lows of 2011 — his first full year as mayor — and looked ahead to the plans in place for the coming year.

With 2011’s 365 days gone, and another 12 months having just begun, Byvelds said South Dundas, in the previous year, benefitted from the $3.2 million handed down by the province in July — money that is to help improve the township’s aging water infrastructure.

Meanwhile, the municipality is continuing to reap the benefits of the $18 million funding allotment made available for construction of a state-of-the-art Iroquois Wastewater Treatment Plant. (The financial help, a joint venture between the federal and provincial governments, was initially announced in 2009. To date, South Dundas has spent just $512,000. The project must be completed by 2014 in order to secure the full funding approval.)

However, with the Ontario Liberals now holding just a minority government in Queen’s Park, and the federal Conservatives calling for national financial prudency, Byvelds said he expects the financial handouts from the upper tier of government to dry up. South Dundas must spend only when necessary.

“From my point of view, 2012 will be a little tighter year,” he said. “Economically, when things change in the world, we have to recognize that as a council, and make sure we work within those parameters… We have to stick with what the community is comfortable with.”



Building from within

In 2012, as in previous years, Byvelds said council will be working to erase municipally owned buildings from an ever-growing list. Many structures have aged, reaching a stage of disrepair and finite use.

However, as a number of South Dundas’ facilities grow older, a rebirth is taking place inside a centuries-old structure located on Ottawa Street in Morrisburg.

“The biggest news [of 2011], and an item that was and will continue to be, is the refurbishment of the old Morrisburg High School,” Byvelds said. “Council is certainly looking forward to getting this project on the road and getting it done. I know it has been a long time getting it to where it is now, and it certainly holds great promise.”

The structure has been virtually dormant since the ’60s, save for the St. Lawrence Medical Clinic, which has been operating out of the building adjacent to the one-time educational institute.

With an anticipated price tag of $2 million, the site will be overhauled this year. It will become a modern municipal headquarters and an increased operating space for the medical centre, all of which will be located within the historic three-storey structure.

Yet, the plan remains contentious among taxpayers. The development will not only require significant funds, but also will see South Dundas’ municipal office leave Williamsburg.

Changing demographics

To an outsider’s eye, many may look at the municipality’s current Williamsburg headquarters as a fully functioning site. Why throw millions into the development of a 90-year-old structure?

Byvelds doesn’t see it that way.

To the mayor, it is a chance to restore some of the region’s heritage, while at the same time giving the municipality a designated location, rather than the haphazard set-up that currently exists.

“There’s no doubt that this [municipal] building is fairly tight when it comes to council meetings that bring people out,” he said in regard to the current site. “We have to construct a council chamber that works.”

Moving to a larger site will also allow all municipal department heads to work out of the same space, which, at present, is not the case.

Yet, the reorganization does represent a growing trend in the township, which sees the population in much of South Dundas’ rural communities decreasing. Some families — who for generations operated fully functioning farms — have decided to get out of the business and move into smaller dwellings in the urban regions.

“It’s just a changing world, and we’re not really growing as a community,” he said. “The growth areas in South Dundas are Morrisburg and Iroquois… When Canadian Tire moved to Morrisburg, that was pretty well the death knell for Williamsburg.”

In other rural areas, such as Dunbar, Dixons Corners, and Elma, investors are trying to make use of shuttered school buildings and churches.

“Council is always concerned that we have to think of all of South Dundas in our decisions, but I don’t think it’s council’s initiative to try and do something different in a community that’s fairly comfortable in how they’re formed and shaped,” Byvelds said. “It’s not council’s job to tell them how we see the world.”

Year two underway

During his annual year-in-review meeting, Township of South Dundas Mayor Steven Byvelds told local media the municipality was blessed with infrastructure funding in 2011, but is expecting 2012 to be economically challenging, forcing council to make prudent decisions. Press Photo — Uhrig

Looking ahead

Other items topping Byveld’s agenda for 2012 is continued restructuring of South Dundas’ Fire and Emergency Services, which is being spearheaded by fire chief Chris McDonough, while also keeping a close eye on the Iroquois Golf Course’s operation — a task undertaken by an outside investor in March 2011.

“Personally, I’ll keep on being open to ideas, but at the same time knowing that it has to be within the limitations of both council and staff,” he said. “We always have to have the vision of reinvesting in South Dundas, but it has to make sense.”

2011 REVIEW

October

• After months of political posturing, the Ontario Progressive Conservatives nearly upset the leading Liberals in this month's provincial election. Despite maintaining its opposition status, the PCs did win both local seats, with Jim McDonell becoming Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry's newly elected MPP, while Lisa MacLeod was victorious yet again in Nepean-Carleton.

• Mountain Memorial Park's Hill 70 monument was nearing completion this month. The Mountain and District Lions Club spearheaded the area's revival, which remembers Canadians lost during the First World War military effort in Lens, France.

• Champlain Local Health Integration Network CEO Alex Munter stepped down this month, taking over the same position at the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario.

• The community began efforts to raise money for the family of Trevor and Cheryl Carruthers this month. The couple's infant daughter, Kaleigh, was diagnosed with a complex congenital heart defect, and has spent a significant amount of time in hospital since her birth in January.

• The 20th anniversary of the J.W. MacIntosh Seniors' Support Centre in Williamsburg was celebrated.

• The Eastern Ontario Health Unit this month announced it would no longer administer sewage system inspections in the United Counties as of Sun., Jan. 1, 2012. This left both North and South Dundas council members scrambling to find alternative services.

November

• Less than a month after his election, SD&SG MPP Jim McDonell received a critic position in PC leader Tim Hudak's shadow cabinet. McDonell was tasked with the consumer services file.

• After two years in Chesterville, the Upper Canada Rodeo rode out of town this month. The failed rodeo business was abandoned earlier in 2011, and later relaunched as a not-for-profit foundation by Chesterville resident Kevin Pennock. His event didn't receive in-principle support from North Dundas council. (In the end, Pennock secured an agreement with the Lombardy Agricultural Society, and the rodeo's set to be held in the Smiths Falls area in 2012.)

• South Dundas councillors voted to make the installation of carbon monoxide detectors mandatory this month. Every residential unit must be outfitted with the device in two years time.

• WDMH's Foundation staff and board members voted this month to put the organization's annual gala event on hiatus, citing the need to increase fundraising in other areas of the hospital's catchment area.

• What is being dubbed the Centre of Excellence for Rural Health and Education is slated to be constructed on WDMH land in 2012. Inside the site, four government agencies will operate, and they are scheduled to be the Champlain Community Care Access Centre, Job Zone d'emploi, the Ontario Early Years Centre, and the EOHU.

• Pioneer federal politician Jean Casselman Wadds died this month in Prescott. She was 91. Casselman Wadds was the longtime MP for the former riding of Grenville-Dundas.

• The 15th annual North Dundas Country Christmas Parade of Lights sparkled in Winchester this month.

• After fire razed the structure in October, Township of South Dundas council members voted this month to rebuild the Dunbar Recreation Centre.

• As part of the Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving Week, North Dundas District High School students vowed to never text and drive.

• The South Branch Wind Opposition Group was mobilizing in an effort to stop Hamilton-based ProWind from erecting about 14 wind turbines on land in the Brinston area.

'C2' Demons skate to Guildcrest tourney's 'B' championship title

WINCHESTER – Both North Dundas Novice House "C" Demons teams appeared in final games of the North Dundas Minor Hockey Association's 2011 Guildcrest Novice House Tournament.

The "C1" Demons dropped a 4-1 decision to the South Grenville Rangers in last week's (Tues., Dec. 27) "A" final while the "C2" Demons squeezed out a 2-1 win over the Hawkesbury Hawks in a battle for the "B" crown.

The "C" silverware was taken by Coyotes des Collines (L'Outaouais) who blanked the Metcalfe Jets 6-0 earlier the same afternoon.

All of the Novice House "C" games were played on Winchester ice while six Novice House "B" teams competed for their championships the same day in Chesterville.

"A" final

Chris Sloan potted a pair of goals leading the South Grenville "C1" Rangers to a 4-1 victory over the North Dundas "C1" Demons in the "A" finale.

An unassisted shot fired by Alexis Sharpley with 5:34 left on the clock prevented the Demons from being shut out.

South Grenville opened the competition with a 3-1 win over L'Outaouais and moved to the title match with a 14-0 verdict over the Metcalfe Jets.

North Dundas started their day whitewashing Metcalfe 9-0. Kieran MacQueen-Ladouceur paced the attack with three goals. Ben Weber and Sara Sloane each chipped in two while Chayce Hyndman and Reise Marriner snapped home single shots. Weber (2) and Adrianna VanBreugel earned assists. Goaltender Hunter VanBreugel registered the shutout.

Sloane and MacQueen-Ladouceur fired in second-period goals as the Demons and Hawkesbury finished two periods deadlocked 2-2. Weber converted a feed from Sloane into the GWG with 1:37 left in the second session. Sloane then made it 4-2 finishing a play set up by Weber 26 seconds later. Sharpley, Gabrielle Armstrong and Adrianna VanBreugel drew assists on the second-period scoring plays.

Battle for "B"

Cole Eikelboom cracked in both goals, scoring unassisted with 7:59 left in the first period and from Justin Williams with 7:43 left on the clock as the "C2" Demons battled Hawkesbury to a 2-2 draw in their first game.

The Demons moved to the "B" showdown by way of a 5-2 decision over L'Outaouais. North Dundas trailed 1-0 after a period but went into the final frame holding a 5-2 advantage. Eikelboom fired in two, including the GWG, and Riley Jampen netted a single in the second. Amanda Shay and Williams scored third-period markers. Shay, Williams and Eikelboom each earned a pair of helper points.

All of the scoring was done in the final frame of the "B" final. Hawkesbury took a 1-0 lead at the 8:56 mark setting the stage for a North Dundas rally.

Michael Tufts stuffed an Eikelboom rebound into the Hawks cage 39 seconds after the Hawks had scored, tying it 1-1. Time had ticked down to 1:50 when Williams put the winning tally into the net, sealing North Dundas' 2-1 "B" division championship.

Tourney tales

Round one: North Dundas "C1" 9 – Metcalfe 0; North Dundas "C2" 2 – Hawkesbury 2; South Grenville 3 – L'Outaouais 1; North Dundas "C1" 4 – Hawkesbury 2; South Grenville 14 – Metcalfe 0; North Dundas "C2" 5 – L'Outaouais 2.

"C" final: L'Outaouais 6 – Metcalfe 0.

"B" final: North Dundas "C2" 2 – Hawkesbury 1.

"A" final: South Grenville 4 – North Dundas "C1" 1.

It's a goal

North Dundas "C2" Demons forward Michael Tufts (above, left) sends the puck toward the Hawkesbury Hawks net while teammate Cole Eikelboom (No. 11) watches the play unfold. Eikelboom then tells Tufts he has tied the game 1-1 just as referee Jack van Kessel confirmed the Demons had scored. Eikelboom earned an assist on the play. The Demons went on to win the "B" championship 2-1 when Justin Williams broke the tie on an unassisted effort 1:50 before the final whistle. The game was part of the North Dundas Minor Hockey Association's 2011 Guildcrest Homes Novice House Tournament held in Winchester on Tues., Dec. 27. Press Photos – Van Bridger

Major test for Hawks; host Vikes in battle for top spot

WINCHESTER – There isn't much to choose between the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks and the Casselman Vikings.

The Hawks (24-3-1-0) have played 28 games in the 2011 portion of the Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League (EOJHL) season. The Vikings (24-4-0-1) have played 29 times. Both teams have earned 49 points.

Rookie

Winchester Hawks defenceman Nevin Guy (7-22-29) has scored four PPGs, drawn 8 PPAs and leads all St. Lawrence Division rookie "D"-men in scoring. Press Photo – Van Bridger

Winchester is currently listed in first place having posted three wins in four meetings with Casselman and having played one less game overall.

Winchester goes into Friday night's (Jan. 6) battle for first place in the St. Lawrence Division standings riding a 9-1-0-0 streak while the Vikings have put together a 10-0-0-0 run. Statistically speaking, the Vikings hold a slight advantage — 171 goals for and 77 against. The Hawks have scored 158 times and have given up 79. The co-leaders stand one-two in the entire EOJHL in both the GF and GA columns.

The Hawks have beaten the Vikes 4-3, 4-1 and 7-1 and the last time they suffered a defeat was in Casselman on Nov. 24 when they dropped a 7-5 decision to Friday's opponents.

The Hawks and Vikings will face off at 8:15 pm.

Looking forward

Hawks' head coach Tom Kirkwood, who guided Winchester to a six-game victory over Casselman in last year's St. Lawrence Division championship series, says he is looking forward to Friday's encounter.

"We have to keep working hard as everyone is gunning for the top team," he said. "They [Vikings] are a strong, well-coached team and it is always fun to play them."

As they make the run for the post-season, Kirkwood hopes the team can stay healthy and get Brodie Boulanger and Jordan Moran healed and back in the lineup full time.

The coach also explained that the Hawks have maintained a winning record because they have played fairly consistent hockey and have been able to play well enough to get each "W".

Winchester's offence is the second best in the EOJHL and the coach says that's because it is four lines deep.

"Our forwards have all stepped up at times," he said.

Results from all games will figure in the conference standings.

Russell Curling Club hosting Provincial Pepsi Juniors

RUSSELL – A field of 16 of Ontario's best junior men's and women's teams will compete for the 2012 Junior Provincial Pepsi Curling Championship here at the Russell Curling Club.

Opening ceremonies for the four-day event will be held tonight (Wed., Jan. 4) at 6 pm and the public is welcome to attend. Play will continue until Sunday (Jan. 8) when the semi-final and finals will take place.

The Ontario Curling Association (OCA) selected the Russell Curling Club (RCC) to host its annual junior competition as the club prepares to celebrate its 100th anniversary.

According to Jim Inch, president of the RCC, "having a provincial competition held for the first time in our area is a great way to kick off our centenary. Our fully accessible facility is the envy of many communities and we hope to attract other major events in the years to come."

Organizing committee member Jennifer Harvey explained the Provincial Pepsi Juniors is the first major event hosted in the newly expanded facility.

John Tobias, past RCC president said, "We are grateful for the support of the community and our local businesses as we put our best foot forward to host a first-class event. And we can't say enough about everybody who stepped up to the plate to make our new club a reality."

Eight men's and eight women's rinks will be aiming to earn the right to represent Ontario at the 2012 M&M Meat Shops Canadian Junior Men's and Women's Curling Championship to be held in Napanee in February.

Junior women

Two teams provide the local content in the Pepsi Junior Women bracket — Manotick's Jamie Sinclair, who is the Zone 2A champion and the Region 1A winner and Lauren Horton, out of the Almonte Curling Club, who claimed the Zone 3A title and then the Region 1B banner.

Winchester's Jordan Mark throws third stones for Horton.

Today (Wed., Jan. 4) in the 11 am draw Sinclair meets Stephanie Van Huyse and her St. Thomas Curling Club team on sheet two. Horton will open at the same hour on sheet four against Peterborough's Kristina Adams.

Also competing are Chelsea Brandwood – Grimsby Curling Club, Shannon Kee – Tam Heather Curling and Tennis Club, Caitlyn Romain – Guelph Curling Club, Kendall Haymes – Curling Club of Collingwood.

Junior men

The opening draw in the men's division is set for today at 3 pm.

The pairings are: Richard Krell – St. Thomas vs. Brett Dekoning – Omemee Curling Club – sheet 1; Doug Kee – Sarina Golf and Curling Club vs. Ben Bevan – Annandale Country Club – sheet 2; Scott Brandon – Chinguacousy Curling Club vs. Chris Lewis – Napanee and District Curling Club – sheet 3; Fraser Reid – Westmount Golf and Curling Club vs. Brett Lyon-Hatcher – Huntley Curling Club – sheet 4.

For additional information, visit russellcurlingclub.com or contact Jennifer Harvey, 613-445-0369 or John Tobias, 613-445-3613.

McSheffery scores in double overtime for Bantam 'B' title

KEMPTVILLE – Steven McSheffery's unassisted, breakaway goal with 11 seconds left in the second period of overtime snapped a 3-3 tie and lifted the North Dundas Bantam House "B" Demons to a 4-3 victory over the Nepean Jets.

North Dundas' win on Fri., Dec. 27 in the Kemptville and District Minor Hockey Association Tournament clinched the "B" championship trophy.

Goalie Cashelle Baldwin pulled off a glove save in the final minute of the second OT to give McSheffery the opportunity to crack in the winning shot.

North Dundas was called for seven minor penalties and played the third period shorthanded while the Jets drew just one penalty in the second period. In spite of killing off penalties the Demons were able to post the win.

Third-period goals by Zack Cronin (from Joshua Minish and Gavin Anderson at 9:15), Jacob Jaquemet (from McSheffery at 8:14) and Sebastian Hebert (from Liam Baker and Jaquemet at 3:56) got the Demons back into the game.

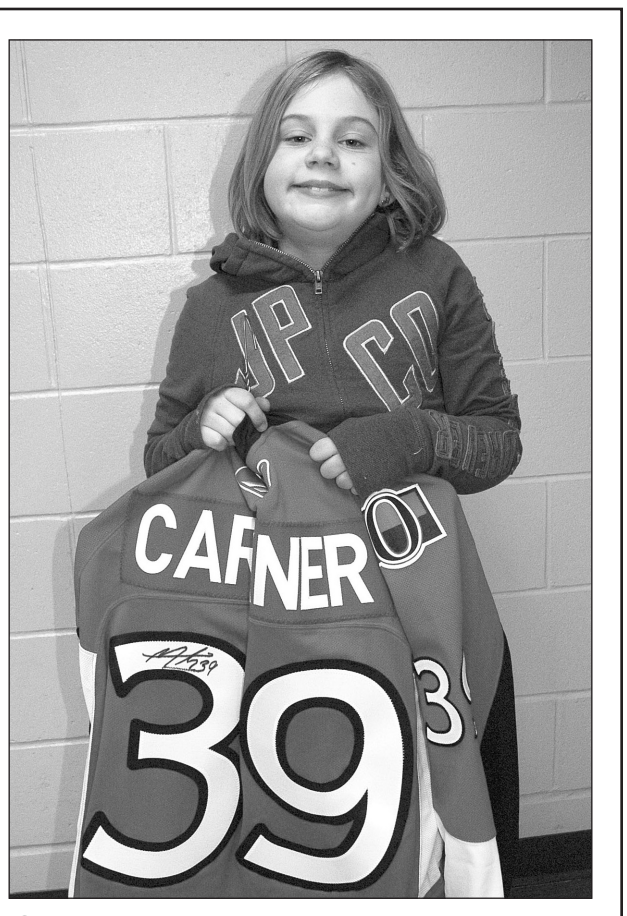
Travis Roderick potted a pair of pucks in the Demons 5-1 win over Nepean Team B in the opening round. Baker, Jaquemet and Hebert sniped the singles. Assists went to Jaquemet, Hebert, Andrew Klempan, Roderick and Daniel Horner. The score was tied 1-1 after a period. North Dundas led 3-1 after two.

Shane Rodney got the start in goal and Baldwin finished up.

North Dundas hit a bump in round two losing 4-1 to the Richmond Black Royals.

Anderson counted the lone Demon mark finishing a play started by Donovan Descarie and Rodney with 8:45 to play in period one.

Coach Mark Larose felt the team gave a solid all around effort in all three games and noted it was their third tournament of the season.



Special prize

Kelly Forrester's number one puck landed a couple of feet from centre ice at the Winchester Arena. Her toss was good enough to win her an autographed Matt Carkner Ottawa Senators jersey. Solid back end

Second only to the 77 goals Casselman has surrendered, Winchester's "D" has allowed just 79. The Gatineau Mustangs, first in the Metro Division, are number three in the category having given up 88.

The Hawks' defence begins with first-year goaltender Alex Monk who has played 22 games, won 19 (tops in the division), lost three and sports a GAA of 2.81 and a 9.09 save percentage.

"Monk has been very solid," said the coach. "Aaron Dickenson and Nevin Guy move the puck as well as anyone in the league. Sarazin [Matt] is a very dependable "D-man" and Killen [Peter] has blended in well in a short time."

Dickenson (10-42-52) is the top-scoring defenceman in the division and third overall while Guy (7-22-29), a rookie, is the second among defenders and 18th on the St. Lawrence scoring list.

There will be little time to rest as the Hawks are slated to play the red-hot Gananoque Islanders in the Rideau-St. Lawrence Showcase the next day (Sat., Jan. 7) at 2:30 pm. The game is part of a five-game program hosted in Winchester by the Hawks.

Atom House 'B' squad competes in Capital Cup

OTTAWA – The North Dundas Atom House "B" Demons compiled a winning record and outscored their opponents 10-1, but were not able to qualify for the playoffs in the 13th Bell Capital Cup.

North Dundas dropped its first game on Wed., Dec. 28 to the Nepean Frostbite by a slim 1-0 count but bounced back blanking the Orleans Sharks 7-0 on Thurs., Dec. 29 and shutting out the Ottawa East Hornets 3-0 on Fri., Dec. 30.

Demons goaltender Liam Antille registered back-to-back shutouts and gave up just one goal in his three starts.

Seth Christophersen had a two-goal game in the 7-0 decision against the Sharks.

Coach Kevin Bell felt the team did very well despite the fact it didn't advance out of its pool.

"We dominated Nepean," said the coach. "But we ran into some hot goaltending and missed a lot of chances. They only had four shots and we lost 1-0."

Antille strong for Demons

The coach reported the team was fired up for the 7-0 win over Orleans and skated with a lot of intensity.

"We played our toughest opponents in Ottawa East," he said. "We constantly attacked their defence and our defence played superbly."

Two Demons also played in the all-star game and Owen Richardson (two assists) and Curtis Bell (one goal) helped Team Red defeat Team White 7-5.

Another highlight for the team was having their pictures taken posing with the Stanley Cup at the Sensplex.

Midget House 'B2' Demons open 2012 doubling Panthers

KEMPTVILLE – Josh Jaquemet broke up a 2-2 tie and his timely goal lifted the North Dundas Midget House "B2" Demons to a 4-2 victory over the host Kemptville Panthers.

Monday's (Jan. 2) win on Kemptville ice opened the 2012 portion of the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League season for the first-place Demons who used the decision to improve their East Division record to 12-1-1. Kemptville fell to 4-10-2 following the loss. The Smiths Falls "B2" Bears hold down second place with a 7-10-0 record and 14 points – 11 back of North Dundas.

Up next

Sunday (Jan. 8) the Demons travel to Long Sault to take on the third-place South Stormont Selects (5-9-2). Next home game is set for Sun., Jan. 15 when the Smiths Falls "B1" Bears (3-8-2) will visit Winchester.

4-2 win

Evan Durant used a feed from Austin Carruthers to give North Dundas a 1-0 lead with 11 seconds left in the first period.

Dan McSheffery made it 2-0 when he cashed in an unassisted play with 9:12 to play in period two. Kemptville got on the board when Matt Hobbs beat North Dundas 'tender Ryan Embury with 5:17 left in the session.

Hobbs set up Travis Gilchrist for the tying tally as the Panthers made it 2-2 at 14:04 of the third period. Jaquemet (from "AP" Andrew Klempan and Aaron Burns) replied for the Demons at 10:15 making it 3-2 and then Durant pumped in a solo shot 2:48 before the final buzzer sealing the 4-2 decision.

The Demons played without captain Kirk Gibson, Dylan Sosnowsky and Mike Ladouceur.

South Dundas Lions defeat Demons in tourney 'A' final

CHESTERVILLE – Kayne McCadden bagged three goals and Ben Lapier pumped in a pair of pucks as the South Dundas Novice House "B" Lions posted a 6-2 victory over the North Dundas Demons to capture the North Dundas Minor Hockey Association's 2011 Guildcrest Homes Novice House Tournament "A" championship.

The final, played in Chesterville on Dec. 27, was tied 1-1 after a period. South Dundas took a 2-1 lead in the second on goals by McCadden and Lapier, who netted the GWG after taking a pass from Owen Fetterly with 4:47 left in the session.

McCadden finished his hat trick and Lapier made it 6-1 5:54 before the final buzzer. Curtis Bowman finished a play started by Jaymen Heuff and Delaney Johnston with 3:10 left on the clock cutting the Demons' final deficit to 6-2.

Johnston (unassisted) gave North Dundas a 1-0 lead at 9:05 of the first frame and Nolan Henry tied it up with 13 second to go in the same stanza.

The Brockville "B2" Braves nipped the Smiths Falls "B2" Bears 5-4 in the "B" final while South Stormont whitewashed the Richmond White Royals 12-0 to become the "C" champs.

Getting there

The Lions qualified for the "A" final by edging the Smiths Falls "B2" Bears 3-2 and blanking the South Stormont Selects 3-0. Brendan Shaver shut out the Selects and Lapier popped in a pair of goals. McCadden converted a feed from Joshua Broad into the game-winning goal in the decision over Smiths Falls.

North Dundas opened the competition dropping a 6-5 decision to South Stormont in an 8 am encounter.

The Selects held a 2-0 lead after a period and carried a 5-4 advantage into the final frame.

Adam Barkley (MVP) led the North Dundas offence with three goals and an assist. Heuff and Max Messervey snapped in the single shots. Mason Carr and Johnston drew the other assists.

Owen Carter (MVP) cracked in four of the six Selects markers.

Backed by Josh Dagenais' shutout goaltending the Demons revived their chances to make an appearance in the "A" finale by blanking Richmond 11-0.

Bowman bagged the GWG burying a pass from Johnston at 7:03 of period one. The Demons opened with a 5-0 lead in the first frame and were in control 8-0 after two stanzas.

Bowman finished the game with five points (3-2-5) and an MVP award. Austin Rivet also tallied three times and finished with four points. Barkley and Carr each picked up a goal and one assist. Bantam 'B's hand Cornwall Colts first loss

WINCHESTER – Joey Benoit's third-period goal provided the North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons with the highlight of the 2011-2012 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League season.

Benoit converted a play started by Mitch Melenhorst and Sawyer VandenBosch into the deciding goal, as the last-place Demons (2-13-0) became the first team to defeat the East Division leading Cornwall Colts.

Benoit's marker came with 3:45 left in Monday's (Jan. 2) match and enabled the Demons to register a 3-2 victory, their second of the season. Cornwall was sporting a 16-0-2 record prior to the game.

Cornwall gained a 1-0 advantage in the opening session and that difference held up until the final frame when the Demons cashed in three consecutive PPGs.

North Dundas tied it when Melenhorst scored from Austin DeJong and Kyle Oosterhof with 12:15 left in the game. Oosterhof finished a play started by Melenhorst and Cory Ross at the 4:32 mark opening up a 2-1 lead. Benoit increased the lead to 3-1 thanks to the work done by Melenhorst and VandenBosch with 3:45 showing on the clock.

Cornwall was able to cut their final deficit to 3-2 scoring 1:10 before the final buzzer.

North Dundas took six minor and the Colts were whistled for 11 infractions.

Thank You

On behalf of the residents at Dundas Manor we would like to thank the many people who come into our home throughout the year and help us provide to our beloved residents meaningful programs and services. To our volunteers, ministers, doctors, families, friends, service providers, entertainers, friendly visitors and finally, the quiet angels and shepherds who appear here and there offering their time, talents and treasures, we thank you!

We thank our staff, who lovingly go the extra mile to promote activities and well-being. We thank the many residents who are still able and willing to help out with day-to-day tasks like watering plants, playing the piano, clearing tables, setting up chairs, delivering papers, making crafts and selling tickets, among many other home tasks. We all work together to keep our home as cosy as can be!

As we head into a New Year, it is with open hearts and minds that we embrace the changes ahead and value the strong foundation that already exists.

From our home to yours, wishing each of you a blessed 2012.

In Appreciation

We wish to express our gratitude and thanks to our wonderful friends for the support and love extended to our family following the loss of our beloved mother, Myrna Cinnamon – a grandmother, great-grandmother and great-great-grandmother. We appreciate the expressions of sympathy received through cards, donations, food and floral tributes. Sincere thanks to Rev. Christine Lowson for her comforting words, Pastor Bruce North, Rev. Angus McDonald, Debbie Gallagher and the Winchester United Church choir.

A very special thanks to Dundas Manor staff for their caring support, Dr. David Flowers, the United Church Women who provided the wonderful luncheon, and David Lapier and staff at Marsden McLaughlin Funeral Home.
