Mrs. John N. Tuttle.

Mrs. John N. Tuttle, relict of the late Squire Tuttle, of Iroquois, passed away Monday evening of last week, after ailing for sometime. Her husband predeceased her about two years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. Jos. Spears, of Iroquois, and Mrs. Levi Fenton, of Jamestown, N.Y.; also one son, Dr. Henry Tuttle, of Theresa, N.Y. She was a Methodist in religion. Her husband was for many years clerk of the court and justice of the peace for Iroquois.

McMahon—Kearns.

The marriage of Mr. Henry McMahon son of Mr. Thos. McMahon, of this place, to Miss Agnes Kearns, daughter of Mr. John Kearns, of this place, occurred at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, at 8 o'clock Monday morning, August the 6th, 1906, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Fleming.

Mr. Geo. McMahon, brother of the groom, acted as best man, while Miss Loretta Kearns, sister of the bride, filled the position of bridesmaid.

After the ceremony the contracting parties, together with immediate relatives and friends, returned to the residence of the bride where dinner was served.

The bride was attired in white crepe de chene over taffeta and a white hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white roses, while her sister, Miss Etta, wore white nun's veiling.

The newly wedded couple took the mid-day train for Ottawa, and thence up the Rideau river to Kingston, and other points on their wedding trip.

The couple were the recipients of some handsome presents; and among the number was one from the employees of the Sanders, Soule & Casselman store, of which the groom is a member.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl pendant, to the bridesmaid a crescent set with pearls, and to the groomsman a pin.

On their return home they will take up their residence on John Street, where they will be at home to their friends after Sept. 1st.

The RECORD, with a host of others, extend congratulations.

Canada's Cheese Holds High Place.

Dr. Ellbrecht, Dairy Commissioner of Denmark, has arrived in Ottawa on a a tour of the Dominion, undertaken with a view to comparing Canadian methods with those in vogue in the premier dairy country of Europe, and, incidentally, to pick up any new wrinkles in the business he may discoyer. It is nearly a year since Dr. Ellbrecht left home. Of that time he has spent seven months visiting the chief dairy centres of Europe, and he has been about six weeks in the United States.

"Your Canadian cheese" he said in an interview, "holds a deservedly high reputation in the old country. Even in the United States its good quality is admitted. I have frequently heard experts in the Western States say of American cheese Yes that's good cheese; it is well up to the Candian standard,' This is high commendation indeed. The only fault I can find with Canadian cheese is that it is marketed while too new. But your dairy commisioner, Mr. Ruddick, tells me that it will be overcome by the cool-curing process that has been generally adopted. In Denmark we never put cheese on the market that is less than three months old."

Of the dairying industry in Alberta, and Manitoba, which he has investigated, the Danish commissioner says it is making good progress in both provinces, results being creditable for comparatively new countries. "I attended the provincial exhibition in Winnipeg," said Dr. Ellbrecht, "and while the quality of most of the cheese and butter shown was very good, indeed, I must say that I never saw worse judging. Exhibits were given first prize that were scarcely worth second place and vice versa."

From Ottawa the commissioner goes to Guelph, and will endeavor to see some of the best dairies and creameries of western Ontario, before leaving for Denmark.

Leg Twisted and Broken.

A young man named Thos. Armstrong living about two miles north of Ormond met with a terrible accident on Saturday last. He was driving home for a supper in an open buggy along with a couple of companions, when they got fooling. In the scuffle Armstrong got his leg caught in the wheel and before the buggy could be stopped his knee was twisted out of joint and his leg broken above the knee. He was taken home and suffered intense agony. Three physicians were summoned and it was at first thought the young man's leg would have to be amputated. The bone was set, however, in an effort to save the leg, and it will take a few days to see whether they will knit,

An Old Resident Dead.

The death of an old resident occurred in our midst yesterday, in the person of Mr. Simon Hummell, aged 83 years. The deceased was the son of Mr. George Hummell, and was born in Williamsburg township. His father moved to this place when Simon was a few years of age, and purchased the land he now owns, together with the surrounding district, and followed farming pursuits. He was a lover of hunting, and had some thrilling experiences, which he enjoyed to converse about. He was of a very quiet disposition and had many friends, who will be sorry to hear of his demise. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and a son, Cephrenus.

The funeral will take place on Saturday forenoon at 10 o'clock.

Local Option in Force.

Option came in force in Mountain township on August 1. In view of the conditions in Cardinal, Edwardsburg, Mountain and Northern townships, there is now a dry belt from the St. Lawrence to the Rideau.

FAMOUS PEOPLE

CYNTHIA WESTOVER ALDEN

The Romantic Career of an American Woman

The lives of some people are so large, so brimful of action and accomplishment, so pulsing with purpose, so kaleidoscopic and diverse in expression, that a mere outline of their life-story seems more like the record of the doings of a syndicate than the biography of an individual. Such a one is Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden, founder and President-General of the International Sunshine Society, and whose generous thoughtfulness in "passing on" to others her surplus Christmas gifts was the inspiration of a world-society with over 3,000 branches and more than 200,000 members—all consecrated to spreading sweetness and the sunshine of kindness.

When Mrs. Alden was a motherless child of four she was taken by her father, an expert geologist, from her native home in Iowa to Colorado. This was when the journey across the Rockies was one of fearful peril, for to the hardships of travel was added the constant terror of the Indians.

Her education was under the loving tutorship of her father, who, after teaching her the twenty-six keys to universal knowledge, led her into the mysteries of history and geology. When but a child she rode a broncho with the nonchalance of an Indian; with a revolver at her belt or a rifle slung across her arm she was a sure shot, and was expert with the lasso and bow and arrow. In this large unconventional life she grew up a strong, healthy girl, fearless, self-reliant, but with fine impulses and broad sympathy.

Her hunger to serve humanity was even then manifest. She crawled through the tall grass to bathe and dress the wounds of a stage driver who had been scalped by the Indians; saved the life of a miner who was to be lynched, by standing between the victim and the enraged mob till its fury was calmed; was lowered over a precipice to bring up the dead body of a child; threw herself on a miner's lamp that had fallen near gunpowder and smothered the flames; rescued some snow-bound miners; made a daring rescue ride through the Indian invaders and brought relief from the fort, and had many other similar experiences.

The first child in the schools of Colorado, she graduated from the State University. She has made a success in journalism; has written three books, the latest of which is "Money Earning for Women"; done splendid work in music; mastered Spanish, German, Italian and French, and is one of the most popular club women in the country. Mrs. Alden is the wife of John Alden, a lineal descendant of John Alden of "Mayflower" fame.

Entered according to Act of the Parliament of Canada, in the year 1904, by W. C. Mack, at the Department of Agriculture.

Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the Municipal Council for the Village of Chesterville was held in the town hall on Thursday evening last, for the purpose of considering the matter of assuming the responibility for any damages that might be caused by the construction of a dam across the river east of the village.

Members present, L. A. Zufelt, Reeve: Councillors, Chambers, Huxtable, Wholegan and Merkley.

A petition was presented signed by 124 ratepayer, asking the Council to take steps to place a dam upon the Nation River at some point below the Village.

Moved by Wm. Huxtable, seconded by Charles Chambers, that in view of the resolution passed at the meeting of the Board of Health that in order to improve the sanitary conditions of the village it would be necessary so raise the level of the water in the Nation River within the corporation of the Village of Chesterville that the petition of the rate payers asking for the construction of a dam east of the village be granted and that a committee be appointed with powers to collect monies by entertainments, private subscriptions and otherwise for purpose of construction of said dam--Carried.

Moved by Charles Chambers, seconded by Wm. Huxtable, that Dr. W. A. Brown O. D. Casselman and F. McCloskey be a committee to look after the construction of the dam proposed to be built east of the Village and that W. R. Fulton, F. Dwyer, V. Robinson and F. Shirkey be an entertainment committee for purposes of collecting money for its construction.—Carried.

Mr. Gillard Dead.

We were informed this morning of the death of Mr. Isaiah Gillard, which occurred at 4 a.m. after an illness of several weeks. Although being confined to his home for only a few weeks, still he has been troubled for several years with rheumatism, and seemed to be failing all the time. He resided about a mile east of the village, and was well liked and respected by all with whom he came in contact. At the time of his death he was 79 years of age.

The funeral will take place on Sunday forenoon, leaving the residence at 9.30 o'clock, for Holy Trinity, where services will be conducted by the Rev. R. H. Archer, after which interment will be made in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Shooting Accident.

While engaged cleaning a revolver on Sunday evening, Delmer Doyle, of Brinston's Corners, accidentally shot himself in the left knee. Dr. Collison was at once summoned, but being unable to locate the bullet, the young man was taken to the Brockville Hospital for treatment.

Few Will Escape.

The torturing aches of corns. Be prepared—the only painless cure is Putman's Pain Extractor. Fifty years in use and absolutely guaranteed.

Returned After Extended Trip.

Mr. Jas. E. Gibbons returned home last week after an extended trip. Mr. Gibbons is one of those jovial fellows, who enjoys life, and on an occasion of this kind takes particular attention of the surroundings, and is quite conversant of the ways and means of the different states he visited. He left here about two months ago for Chicago, where he stayed for a few days, and then went to Moosejaw, Alberta, Medicine Hat and Calgary, Baff, Colorado Springs, where he stayed a couple of days; then to Vancouver, B.C., and Seattle, Wash., where he visited his brother and family for a weeks, and found them all well and enjoying life. From there he went to San Fransisco and Los Angeles, Calif., where he remained for twelve days, and met a number of people from this district, who, he states were very pleased to meet him. On his home trip he came by Salt Lake City, thence to Denver, Col., and Colorado Springs, then to Consul Bluff and Chicago, Ill., to Detroit. From there he journeyed to Nessen City, Mich., where he visited his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jas. McGrant, who accompanied him on his home trip. He had a delightful trip. Don't you think so?

A Cornwall Souvenir.

The old boys of the united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, are to have a re-union at Cornwall, the county town, from August 11 to 18th. The publisher of the Freeholder has gotten out a souvenir volume which is well worthy of the occasion. It consists largely of pictures, well selected and well printed. The letter press also tells the story of the district, which is historically as well as otherwise interesting. Though as is natural, most of the space is devoted to Cornwall, the other towns of the village and district get their share, and the worthies, past and present, and the scenes familiar to them, are depicted in a way that should make the publication a success.

HUMMEL—At Chesterville, on Aug. 8th, 1906, Simon Hummell, aged 83 years.

WHY THE MUTINY FAILED

Broke Out Prematurely, Says the Times' Correspondent.

MUTINY WAS PREMATURE.

London, Friday, Aug. 3.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says that the mutiny at Sveaborg apparently broke out prematurely, owing to the arrest of the marines, who were preparing a general naval mutiny to begin simultaneously at Sveaborg, Cronstadt and Sebastopol. Having broken out prematurely, it failed to develop according to the plans. The revolutionists hoped by a demonstration at Sveaborg to attract a large number of troops from St. Petersburg to Finland, and thus create more favorable conditions for a mutiny at Cronstadt, and possibly in the capital itself, but the Red Guard, in their misguided zeal, destroyed bridges and tore up sections of the railway, with the result that the movement of Russian troops was seriously delayed, and the plans of the revolutionists were abortive. Party dissensions seem to have further weakened the insurgents, for the various Socialist and and revolutionary cliques who participated in the demonstration proved incapable of forgetting their pet quarrels at the most critical moment.

The correspondent, describing the Cronstadt mutiny as a complete failure, says the garrison, as a whole, has not forgotten the bitter lessons of the October mutiny, and is not in favor of another at the present moment. The agitators apparently did not realize the situation. They persuaded their more devoted adherents to rise on the chance that the garrison would follow. Altogether, the revolutionists displayed an astonishing lack of strategical and tactical capacity. Their abortive attempts will probably only drive the Government towards further reaction. Premier Stolypin's scheme for moderate reforms will probably be abandoned. The members of the Social Democratic Committee for agitation in the army and several other Socialist agitators have been arrested.

CZAR READY TO FLEE.

A despatch from St. Petersburg says: When the firing began at Cronstadt on Wednesday night there ensued a wild panic in the imperial palace at Peterhof, as the palace lies under the guns of the fortress. All preparations had been made in advance to flee to Tsarskoe-Selo, but the report afloat that the Emperor and his family actually had fled in the middle of the night was denied later at the chancellery of the imperial household. It was explained, however, that on account of "dampness" at Peterhof arrangements had been made for the return of the imperial family to Tsarskoe-Selo.

GENERAL SHOT AND KILLED.

A despatch from Warsaw, Russian Poland, says: General Markgraffsky, chief of the Warsaw gendarmerie, was shot and killed on Thursday afternoon.

RUSSIA ALONE CONCERNED.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the London Times says that the Finnish Senate and the members of the Constitutional party in Finland do not favor insurrection. Senator Michelin, head of the Government, is hastening home through Stockholm from a visit to Norway. He says that the effort of the Red Guard to promote a strike are not receiving much support. He considers that the insubordination of the Sveaborg garrison only concerned the Russian government. Any participation in the mutiny by Finns would imperil their liberties. Senator Michelin's views are confirmed by an appeal issued by an assembly of citizens at Helsingfors, urging the populace to assist the authorities in maintaining order and directing that Koch, the leader of the Red Guard, be arrested.

The correspondent points out that the Red Guard, which is a strange combination of the Teetotal League and the Workmen's Militia, is assumed to be acting purely in sympathy with the Russian revolutionists, for Finland has just received the most democratic form of government in Europe.

BLAME GRAND DUKE ALEXANDER.

A despatch from London says: The revolutionary outbreak of Russian sailors and gunners combined with the Finnish Red Guard, was provoked largely by the activity of the Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch, who for two months has held a special command of the Russian forces employed in preventing gun-running through Finland. The Russian occupation of the Aland Islands, and the restless movements of a Russian torpedo fleet around the Finnish coast, both angered, through the heavy work, the men employed in it, and greatly embittered the Finnish revolutionaries. The Russian officers had an almost hopeless task. One of them says that in the garrison artillery that is spread among these islands there is only one officer to 280 men. He himself says he has seen some of his men only once in two months, when they came to get their pay. The Grand Duke Alexander has not gone to the fleet at Sveaborg. He remains in his Summer residence.

EX-MEMBER OF DOUMA SLAIN.

A despatch from St. Petersburg says: The report of the murder of M. Herzenstein, a member of the outlawed parliament is confirmed. He was assassinated at his country house near Terioki, Finland, by men in the pay of the black hundred organization. While walking along the seashore with his wife and daughter several shots were fired at him from an unoccupied building. Two of the shots hit him and he fell dead. His daughter was wounded in the hand. The murderers escaped.

Three hours prior to the murder a 'phone message was received at a newspaper office from Moscow, asking for news of M. Herzenstein, and saying that it was reported in Moscow that he had been assassinated.

M. Herzenstein was of Jewish descent, and very wealthy. His attacks on the Minister of Finance in the Lower House of Parliament attracted widespread attention. He supported the Constitutional Democrat scheme for land appropriation.

He was a practical banker and for a long time was the secretary of the Moscow Land Bank. He was a recognized authority on finance and was regarded as the first in all financial and agricultural matters. M. Herzenstein was a leader in all of the Zemstovo movements, and, furnished them all of their financial data. His family had renounced the Jewish faith and become Orthodox Russians several generations ago. He occupied a prominent place in Moscow society and was a popular idol among the peasants.

STRIKE FOLLOWS MUTINY.

A despatch from St. Petersburg says: A general strike has been formally declared. It was decreed and is being engineered by a committee composed of Social Democratic members of the late Douma, revolutionists, the Peasants' Union and the Railwaymen's Union. It is not known what funds are available to make the movement effective, but it has already begun with vigor. Most of the factories in the Wyborg district of St. Petersburg are closed, including the State bank note printing works. A great part of the street cars and river steamers have stopped running. Most of the streets of the capital are not lighted. The railway men here quit work at midnight on Friday night, and those at Moscow at noon Saturday. All the railway stations are held by troops, who are also guarding the entire track of the Finnish Railway between the capital and Viborg.

The head of the Governor of Samara was blown off by the explosion of a bomb that was thrown at him this evening. The assassin was arrested.

The lightermen at Odessa have gone on strike, and the work of the port is tied up. There is a general unrest in the city. It is reported that there is an outbreak at Sebastopol similar to the one at Cronstadt. Two infantry battalions have been sent there from Odessa.

The railway employes on the Baltic line struck on Friday evening. The Nicholas line, between St. Petersburg and Moscow, is plentifully guarded. It is not believed that the employes of this line will strike at present. The Railwaymen's Union reluctantly consented to the order to strike. It is much doubted whether the order will be generally complied with.

SIX LIVES LOST OFF LABRADOR.

Four Fishing Vessels Driven Ashore in Gale on July 20.

A despatch from St. John's, Nfld., says: The mail boat in from Labrador reports that four fishing smacks were driven ashore in the gale which ravaged the coast on July 20. All the crews escaped, but most of the smacks were lost. The storm did great damage to fishing gear along the coast, and it is reported that six men were drowned from small boats in attempting to save some of their nets and tackle.

LAST LICENSE FOR YEARS.

No More Saloons Till Chicago Doubles Population.

A despatch from Chicago says: The last saloon license that will be issued in Chicago until the city nearly doubles its present population was given out on Tuesday. The license number is 7,353. Under the Harkin ordinance, which goes into effect to-day, no more saloons will be permitted in Chicago until the ratio is one saloon for every 500 of population.

MEAT CHOKED HIM.

Helper on New Welland Canal Dies at Port Dalhousie.

A Port Dalhousie despatch says: Martin Long, a helper on the new Welland Canal, died here very suddenly on Thursday from swallowing a large piece of meat. Dr. Ireland, of Port Dalhousie, was called, and succeeded in getting the meat out of his throat, and worked with him for two hours to revive him, but it was of no avail.

MAKE MONTREAL CAPITAL.

Move to Have Quebec Metropolis Seat of Government.

A Montreal despatch says: A movement has been started by a number of the members of the Provincial Parliament to have the Parliament buildings removed from Quebec to Montreal. Some of the members claim they have reason to hope their efforts in having the seat of government changed will be attended by success.

KAISER'S EXPENSIVE TRIP.

Paid $4,250 a Day, or $119,000 in All, For Steamer.

A Swinemuende despatch says: Emperor William returned here on Tuesday from his four weeks' cruise in northern waters on board the steamer Hamburg. His Majesty is very much sunburned. He will remain here for a couple of days to witness the effect of the firing of the heavy guns against two armorclad hulks. The active battle fleet is now composed of 16 first-class vessels. They are now engaged in target practice in these waters, but the results attained are carefully guarded. The steamer Hamburg, for which Emperor William pays $4,250 a day, will wait for a few days at Kiel subject to his Majesty's use during the naval manoeuvres.

SOLDIERS FOUGHT POLICE.

Artillerymen at Halifax Placed in Guardroom.

A despatch from Halifax says: An incipient mutiny among the Royal Canadian Artillerymen broke out at the Citadel on Thursday evening, no less than sixteen men being placed in the guard room under close confinement as a result of the trouble. The military authorities are reticent about the matter, but from facts gleaned by your correspondent, it appears that one of the garrison police entered a saloon on one of the upper streets for the purpose of arresting two members of the artillery boat crew, who were in dishabile. One of the soldiers resented this and struck the arresting soldier a severe blow on the face. After a scuffle, the offending men ran to their barracks, as also did the garrison policemen, who called for assistance to arrest the soldiers. Several of the gunners on being warned for escort duty, refused to act. Extra assistance was obtained, and with the aid of an armed picket, the mutineers were placed in confinement. This caused further trouble, and the rioting soldiers smashed the windows in the guard room where they were in confinement and they tried to escape. Two of them succeeded, but were recaptured during the evening. Besides the mutinous prisoners, two senior non-com's. were placed under arrest for drunkenness.

ATTEMPT TO SLAY CHILD.

A St. Thomas Couple is Charged With the Crime.

A despatch from St. Thomas says: Cora Stonehouse, aged 26 years, wife of Newton M. Stonehouse, is in the prison ward under arrest, at Amasa Wood Hospital, and the husband in jail charged with the attempted murder of their newly-born child. Thursday morning Crown Attorney McCrimmon was notified that a dead infant had been found in the outhouse of Stonehouse, on Barnes Street. The Crown Attorney notified the police, who at once went to the place, when the child was found to be alive and crying; it was imbedded in filth, which was not deep enough to bury it. The police at once removed it and it was placed in the care of a trained nurse. The mother and father were charged with the crime, which they both strongly denied, stating that the child was not theirs, and that they had been only married two months, but proof will be brought forth that the woman is the mother of the child. A bruise was found on the infant's head, which looked as if it had been struck. The husband is 40 years old and a carpenter.

GET CANS INSPECTED.

Farmers and Milkmen Must Obey Law by October 15th.

A Ottawa despatch says: The Milk Act as passed requires that when milk is sold by measure all cans or other vessels used for the purpose of such sale shall contain a standard gallon or some multiple of a standard gallon, and that all such cans shall be subject to verification under the general provisions of the Weights and Measure Act, the capacity thereof, and the name of the maker being engraved or stamped thereon. The owners of cans now in use which have not been verified and stamped by an inspector or assistant inspector of weights and measures are required, within three months from July 13, 1906, (when the new Act was assented to by the Governor-General), to present them to the local inspector of weights and measures for verification, when each can be stamped with its capacity to the nearest quart thereof, and will be branded or stamped "milk can." After the three months have expired any person using cans which have not been inspected and stamped shall incur a penalty not exceeding $50, the cans being forfeited.

POSTS ON HUDSON BAY.

Adventure Party to Establish Several on Route to Lake Winnipeg.

An Ottawa despatch says: The steamer Adventure, with Major Moodie and a detachment of North-West Mounted Police, sailed on Thursday night from North Sydney for Hudson Bay. The principal achievement which the expedition has in view for the coming winter is the establishment of a route of communication between Fort Churchill, on Hudson Bay, and Norway House, the Hudson Bay Company post at the head of Lake Winnipeg. The distance is some 500 miles. At Split Lake, midway between Fort Churchill and Norway, there is a post of the company, and the Mounted Police will establish two other intermediate posts. It is expected that during the winter two mails will be put through from Hudson Bay by this route.

A BRAVE WOMAN.

Jumped Overboard to Rescue a Drowning Sailor.

A despatch from Milwaukee says: Mrs. E. Allison of New York boldly plunged into the river from the deck of the steamer Christopher Columbus on Wednesday in an attempt to rescue Martin Hull, a sailor, who had fallen overboard. Mrs. Allison, who is an expert swimmer, dived repeatedly, but all to no purpose. Hull evidently had been stunned by his fall and did not rise to the surface. His body was recovered finally with grappling hooks, and Mrs. Allison, without stopping to change her wet clothes, took charge of the efforts to resuscitate the man. Hull was dead, however.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

Will Hold Its N[illegible] Meeting at Winnipeg [illegible]009.

A despatch fr[illegible]York, England, says: The British Association for the advancement of Science at its session here on Friday decided to meet at Winnipeg in 1909.

TEN DAYS MORE FOR CROP.

Bulk of the Wheat Will be Harvested by Then.

A despatch from Winnipeg says: Continued fine weather throughout western Canada has strengthened the position of the bears, and the harvesting of a crop averaging quite as high as that of last year over a considerably increased acreage is as well assured as anything can be. Another ten days will see the bulk of wheat out of danger. Around Glenboro' the crop is magnificent, standing straight and clean with a prospective average of thirty bushels. The binders started there on Monday. West of there to Baldur and farther out the crop is lighter and probably will not exceed eighteen to twenty bushels. From northwestern Manitoba splendid reports are coming, and farther west around Battleford the harvest will be general within a couple of days.

CHICAGO BANK CLOSED.

The Shortage is Estimated at Over $1,000,000.

A despatch from Chicago says: The Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, one of the largest banks outside of the downtown districts, on Monday closed its doors following a run. The news of the suspension spread rapidly, and soon several of the smaller banks in the vicinity were besieged by depositors. The patrons of the bank are mostly Polish working people, who abound in that neighborhood. The statement of the bank, issued June 19th, gave the liabilities at $4,697,474. Of this amount $3,175,195 was saving deposits. Loans and discounts amounted to $3,223,172. As far as now known all of this paper is good. The shortage in the account of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank will run close to $1,000,000, much of which has gone in real estate speculation and commercial ventures.

DYING UNDER HOT SUN.

The Awful End of a Saskatchewan Settler.

A despatch from North Battleford, Sask., says: On Saturday last a sad accident occurred about three miles from this town when a recent settler, Mr. T. Batchet, was thrown out of his rig and sustained such serious injuries that he died on Sunday morning. The deceased left town on Saturday morning for his homestead five miles out, and it is presumed that his horse bolted and Batchet was thrown with great violence through a wire fence, sticking half way. He hung there all afternoon in the hot sun, not being discovered until eight o'clock at night. His head was badly battered in and he was severely injured otherwise, and died a few hours later. Batchet was aged 65 years, and leaves a widow and three young children.

HAULED INTO MACHINERY.

Man Sixty Years of Age Meets Terrible Death at Montreal.

A despatch from Quebec says: George Richard, engineer in the tannery of Elie Turgeon, St. Valier street, was on Monday morning hauled into the moving machinery, and, before he could be rescued, one of the man's legs and three ribs were broken while his head body and legs were badly cut and bruised. Richard was removed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital. He is about 60 years of age, and had been employed for many years in the tannery.

CONVICT HANGED HIMSELF.

Michael Tobin Goes to Seek the Final Judgment.

A despatch from Kingston says: Michael Tobin, a young man sentenced from Brockville last March to a seven years' term in the penitentiary, committed suicide on Sunday. The deceased had been acting queerly lately and this necessitated his confinement in the insane department of the institution. Guards Bennett and Ryan were on duty at the time and everything was in proper shape up to the time of their last round, when they discovered Tobin hanging from the bars of his cell door by strips of his bed sheet, which he had torn up.

THREE HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

The Steamer Sirio Wrecked Off Hormigas Island.

A despatch from Cartagena, Spain, says: A terrible marine disaster occurred on Saturday evening off Cape Palos. The Italian steamship [illegible] from Geno for Barcelona, Cadiz, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, with [illegible] persons on board, was wrecked on Hormigas Island. Three [illegible] grants, most of them Italians, were drowned. [illegible] the steamer commander, Bishop of Sao Pedro [illegible] lost, and it is reported that the Bishop is among the missing. The remainder of the passengers and the officers and crew got away in the ship's boats or were rescued by means of boats sent to them from shore. A number of fishermen who made attempts at rescue were drowned. Those rescued from the vessel are now at Cape Palos in a pitiable condition, being without food or clothing. The Sirio struck a rocky reef known as Bajos Hormigas, and sank soon after, stern first. Hormigas Island lies about 2½ miles to the eastward of Cape Palos. The vessel was owned by the Navigazione Italiana of Genoa.

It is officially announced that 345 Italians, 40 Spaniards, 14 Arabs, 10 Austrians, 6 Orientals, 4 citizens of Argentina, 4 Brazilians, 2 Montenegrans, and 119 of unknown nationality were saved. More than 200 of the dead have been brought here.

SHOT NEIGHBOR'S CHILD.

Peter Wylie, a Scotch Lad, Arrested on Serious Charge.

A despatch from Guelph says: A Scotch lad named Peter Wylie, aged 15, who came to Canada three years ago, now lies in the local jail on the charge of having caused the death of a thirteen-year-old girl named Mary Ann Berdina Swackhammer at her father's farm in Erin township. The tragedy is alleged to have been caused through a fit of temper on the part of the accused. He was employed by Mr. Darius Kennedy, who was to have helped Farmer Swackhammer with the turnips last Thursday. On account of sic[illegible] Kennedy was unable to go, and sent Wylie over to explain matters. Swackhammer set him to work, but on Saturday night the lad became disobedient, refusing to assist with the chores. He secured the stock of a gun from a shed and with it threatened young Stanley Swackhammer, who was hitching up to drive into Acton. The accused wished to go there, too, but was refused. There were some hot words, and Stanley drove off on his journey. Afterwards Wylie, who is said to have been in a very angry mood at the time, secured a gun in the woodshed, and discharged the weapon on Berdina, inflicting shocking injuries from which she died almost immediately. The girl's mother and father [illegible] spot on hearing the re[illegible] their daughter lying [illegible] Wylie exclaimed, "I have shot Berdina," but afterwards made his escape, walking to Acton, where he was arrested as he was about to board a train. He was quite unconcerned, considering the seriousness of his position, and maintains that the discharge of the gun was accidental.

BUILDING OF AN EMPIRE

AN AMERICAN WRITER OF CANADA'S NORTHWEST.

Remarkable Tribute in a New York Magazine — "Conquering the Last Frontier."

"Success" Magazine of New York for August is one on the Canadian Northwest, called, "Conquering the Last Frontier," by Samuel Merwin, and gives a graphic description of how an empire is there being built. Part I. of the article, entitled "Our Lost Empire" follows in part:

Definition number seven, in Webster's unabridged, of the transitive verb "to lose," reads: "To fail to obtain or enjoy; to fail to gain or win." Twenty-five years ago Canada was young and diffident. To-day she is strong, rich, and a little proud. Then, had we thought it worth while to make advances it is difficult to say what might or might not have taken place. Now, there are half a million American settlers in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Alberta, and, if you should ask them, you would find that they are not at all interested in the annexation question. "Things run rather better here," they say, "than in the States. The administration of justice is much more satisfactory. We see no advantage in changing."

If you have ever felt, as I rather fancy you have, that it is in you to explore strange, new countries for yourself, that you would not hesitate very long between going into something in the dry goods way and going into something in the empire-building way, you will do well to open the atlas to the map of North America and let loose your imagination in the splendidly romantic conquest of that Far Northwest which we know very little about, but which we shall, willy nilly, learn a good deal about before "Jim" Hill, and the new Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern, and the Canadian Pacific, and the Dominion Government get through with it. They are building—while you wait,—an empire with which we, of these States shall very shortly have to reckon.

NEW METHOD OF EMPIRE BUILDING

It is the first time an empire was ever built in just this way. The rifle has no place in the undertaking. Thanks to the century-long influence of the Hudson's Bay Company, the Indians and half-breeds are docile. Thanks to the Anglo-Saxon sense of order, and to the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, there are few or none of those "bad men" who have infested our frontiers. The conquering army is made up of farmers and cows and sheep and horses and plows and harvesting machines. The advance skirmishes, if you could [illegible]em at work, ar hardy young men [illegible]igh clothes who carry transits and [illegible]s, and travel with pack horses or, [illegible] the depth of the winter, with pack [illegible]gs.

[illegible] is these hardy young men of the [illegible]sit in whom we are most interest[illegible]here. The farmer makes excellent [illegible]dation material,—the best there is, [illegible]ct; but like certain of the others [illegible] he is neither very exciting nor [illegible] decorative. In small parties for [illegible]oissance work, in large parties [illegible]rvey work, scattered over three [illegible]nd miles for construction work, [illegible]he engineers are blazing the steel trails [illegible]cross the prairies and through the wil[illegible]erness. Before many of them lies [illegible]ardship, perhaps starvation. For the [illegible]arger survey parties provisions are [illegible]reighted out by Indians and cached [illegible]here expert woodsmen can find them. [illegible]But the small reconnoissance parties, [illegible]slung [illegible] into the northwestern moun[illegible]ains [illegible]x months at a time, can [illegible]arry only a few staples. When gun [illegible]nd rod fail, they must eat dog. In [illegible]inter—and winter is winter up there—[illegible]hey must roll up in a blanket or two [illegible]nd sleep under the stars. A Canadian [illegible]Pacific engineer, poor Vance, was froz[illegible]n to death west of Battleford two win[illegible]ers ago. I know an engineer who has [illegible]lept under canvas when the camp ther[illegible]nometer registered fifty-six below zero. [illegible] know another engineer who thinks [illegible]ttle, at forty below, of rolling up in a [illegible]ingle Hudson Bay blanket on the snow. [illegible]n summer this same country is hot, [illegible]nd, in places, dusty, and along the [illegible]iver bottoms the insect pests are all [illegible]ut unbearable. The minute and tedi[illegible]us work of surveying and map-making [illegible] by intervals of pushing [illegible]ountry, of building rafts [illegible] supplies, instruments, [illegible]oss rivers, of cutting a [illegible]erses through tangled [illegible] of "breaking

$100,000,000 OR SO.

The spending out of hand of a hundred millions or so for railroad building through a new land obviously means something. Three new trunk lines are already under construction in Western Canada. Before long we shall be hearing a good deal about the foresight and the unflinching courage of the men who are standing back of these huge undertakings. But when you see this sort of thing in the papers, smile. A man would show about as much foresight in staking out a claim in the bullion room at the mint. In Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta Provinces there are more than two hundred thousand square miles of prairie land, most of it rich, black loam, ready cleared for the plow. As much again awaits clearing. In the mountains are minerals and timber. Settlers are pouring in on every train to occupy this vast region. Towns and grain warehouses are springing up over night. Imagine the Mississippi and Missouri Valleys to settle over again under modern conditions! Imagine anything you like, and you will probably be within the facts.

It is nothing unusual for these prairies to yield a general average of 25 bushels of wheat to the acre, and 40 bushels of oats. Much of the wheat is of a higher grade than any now raised in our West, and it is frequently mixed with ours to bring ours up to standard. No, the wonder is that the pompous gentlemen in the tall hats didn't get their railroads through ten years ago. Add to this that all save the Hill undertaking are bolstered up with vast land grants, and, now and then, with cash subsidies, and the wonder grows.

No, the engineer is our man. Of the two types, the man who is risking other people's money is neither so picturesque nor so interesting as the man who is risking his life. It is the engineer who is conquering this last, and perhaps greatest, frontier.

EDMONTON.

Edmoton is the jumjing-off place for all Northwestern Canada, the place where town and wilderness strike hands. Here in Washington Square, the prosperous litle city of the Upper Saskatchewan seems even farther away than its accredited 2,500 miles. It is 800 miles west of Winnijeg, and it is some little way north of that fifty-third parallel, beyond which, if one is to believe Mr. Rex Beach, the laws of God and man don't work very well. If one were to attempt thesomewhat hazardous feat of walking due east from Edmonton, it would be found necessary to swim the upper waters of Hudson Bay before fetching up the coast of Labrador. All this sounds very remote and inaccessible. It suggests rather the interior recesses of Greenland than the pastoral charms of an Iowa or an Illinois; and if carried away from New York, buttoned inside a prosaic waistcoat, what I took to be the emotions of the explorer, my ignorance was not, I prefer to think, unique.

A CITY OF CONTRASTS.

Edmonton is the jumping-off place for board of trade; of department stores a block long and a good many storeys high; of paved streets and brick and stone buildings; of well-to-do men in frock coats or in trim riding breeches and puttees; of prettily-gowned women; of the latest thing in automobiles; of clubs, churches, and polo grounds. All this speaks of the life of to-day. But jostling by the prosperous merchant or the English "younger son" is the half-breed in Stetson hat and silk-embroidered gauntlets, or the squaw with papoose bundled on her shoulders. The contrast to one who has surrendered much of himself to the effete influence of our Atlantic States, is somewhat bewildering. One evening I strolled to the brink of the bluff and tried to straighten it cut. Edmonton was the frontier; I knew that. But maps, with great "unexplored" patches on them, are not so convincing as they might be when one is in the living presence of clubs, and banks, and churches, and automobiles. Before me was the mile-wide valley, cut out square and deep from the yellow earth. The smoke from the lower town thickened by a May mist, filled the valley to the brim, and in the moonlight it was luminous and faintly purple. Through this veil glistened the silver Saskatchewan, as it wound its leisurely way toward Hudson Bay. It was all very serene and very charming. At this moment it seemed, after all, as if I might be pretty close to those unexplored blank spaces. I should have liked to let my thoughts float off downstream through the mist to encounter the wild adventures of frontier times; but even if they could have slipped safely under the railroad bridge, they would have come up short against the very business-like log boom just below.

FROM ENGINEER TO GRAND PIANO.

The wild days are almost over with; the frontier is losing ground every day. In the trading stores at Edmonton, the half-breeds sit, and smoke, and talk of [illegible] old days when the steamboats ran [illegible]hewan. Men talk that [illegible]ling wharves at Ports[illegible]ncient, faded glories of [illegible]ny. When I heard this [illegible] lips of a whimsical old [illegible]p my hope of finding a [illegible]ndered to the spirit of [illegible]Prince Rupert, with its [illegible]d its automobiles. I [illegible]istless head when a [illegible]man put the age-old [illegible] your line?" So [illegible]ne [illegible]ind a certain pros[illegible]ark had flickered [illegible]gineer, the traveling [illegible]veling man, the steam [illegible] steam plow, the grand [illegible]s the way they build up [illegible]ay.

HOW JURIES ARE "FIXED"

VERDICTS ARE BOUGHT AND SOLD IN NEW YORK.

Rascally Doings in the Courts of That City — How the System is Worked.

Jury "fixing," said an ex-New York court attorney to the writer recently, is, I suppose, unknown in your country, but over here it flourishes to an alarming degree. When I tell you that it is possible to get a juryman to give a verdict any way you like for sums ranging from $10 upwards, you will have a fragmentary idea of the extent of jury "fixing" in this land of graft and freedom.

I know one man who for years has been employed by a street railroad company simply to serve on juries which try those cases in which the company is interested, and he works on a system which is highly successful. He has served on dozens—I might say hundreds—of juries to which he has never been summoned, both in the City and the Supreme Courts, and though the judges may possibly have their suspicions they seldom take the trouble either to have the matter investigated or the fellow turned down.

And how does he manage it? Well, first of all he has, of course, to "fix" the clerk to the Court, but this, as a rule, is the easiest move in the game. Clerks, even in the Supreme Court, do not get altogether dazzling salaries, and so, if their consciences are in the least bit elastic, they are only too glad to add to their weekly wages by assisting a jury "fixer,"

IF THE RISK IS NOT TOO GREAT.

The method of choosing a jury in the States is rather interesting. Twice every month a list of the men eligible to serve on juries is furnished to the clerk to the Court by the Commissioner of Jurors. Each list numbers seventy-five names, and these the clerk rewrites on separate slips of paper and folds them, after which they are thrown into a wheel. Of course, all the men whose names appear on the list must be in court, so that if selected they will be ready at once to enter the box.

When the court is assembled the wheel containing the names is given a quick turn, and after it has ceased to revolve the clerk puts in his hand, takes out a slip, and reads the name. Then the owner of the name called makes his way to the bar, is put through a brief examination, and, if everything is in order, he goes into the box. This short description will show you that in all cases of jury "fixing" it is absolutely necessary for the clerk to the Court to be in the scheme.

Now we will assume that there are certain men in court who, though their names are not in the wheel, are desirous of serving on a jury. The clerk, of course, knows very well who they are, and, when he takes a slip out of the wheel, instead of reading the name thereon he substitutes that of one of the men who he knows is desirous of serving. Th fraudulent juror at once replies to his name, makes his way to the bar, and enters the box.

ON SIX CASES IN ONE WEEK.

I have known one man to act as juryman in six cases during the same week. He was employed by a certain railroad company, and whenever there was a case on in which his employers were interested he would receive a note from them telling him to appear in a certain court, where his name would be called. All he had to do was to answer and he would at once be sworn.

Then this jury "fixer" would get busy and do his best to get the case decided in favor of the railroad people, or dismissed, or the damages reduced to a mere nothing. If he did not succeed in obtaining one or other of these verdicts, he would endeavor to sow so much discord that the jury would disagree. And when the next jury was formed you may be sure his employers would see that he was not the only "fixer" represented, and the verdict in nine cases out of ten would be given in their favor.

Here is a case in point. Recently a man sued a certain railroad company for damages received in an accident while traveling over their line. He had suffered the severest injuries—leg broken, arm fractured, ribs stove in, etc.—but on the jury were no fewer than four smart "fixers," the result being that the poor man was awarded a sum insufficient to pay his doctor bills.

Probably you would imagine that a jury "doctor" was something in the medical line, but I can assure you that this is far from being the case. No; in jury parlance a "doctor" is a man who hangs round the courts and tries to get hold of those jurors who are

SERVING ON CERTAIN CASES.

He will follow them to and from the courts and get into conversation with them, which is not so difficult in the States. A few minutes' chat will show a skilled "doctor" which men are open to be bought.

Many of these jury "doctors" are extremely clever character-readers, and it seldom happens that any man whom they have decided to "touch" resents it. In not a single case that I can recall has a juryman complained of a "doctor" trying to bribe him. If he does not take the bribe he will not round on his tempter, preferring to leave the work of exposing him to someone else. A jury "doctor," if he is successful, makes a very handsome income, and as his business increases he employs assistants to help him in shadowing bona-fide jurymen.

I could tell you lots of cases in which the most unjust verdicts have been given through the hustling of the jury "fixer." I remember one special case quite recently in which a poor woman of fifty was terribly injured in a street-car accident. Her family sued the company for $20.000 damages, for the victim had been left a hopeless cripple. The company in question possessed in their employment several particularly smart jury "fixers," and the whole staff was put on the case. I know for a positive fact that

SEVEN OF THE JURY WERE BOUGHT and, as a consequence the amount of damages which the poor woman received was scarcely sufficient to pay her legal expenses.

You would hardly think it possible that men could be found mean enough to take bribes to defraud children out of just verdicts, yet this is very common. Here is a case in point. About two years ago a boy of eight was thrown off a car through the conductor ringing the bell before the little fellow was safely on board. His parents sued the company and his case was "tried" at the City Court. Of the jury impanelled I believe eight were bona-fide and unbought, but of the remaining four two of them I know were "fixers," while the other two accepted a $200 "present." The consequence may easily be guessed. The jury disagreed and a new jury was appointed. During the interval which elapsed between the two trials the "fixers" were busy, and when the case came on again the number of men composing the new jury who had been bought was about double. The result was a verdict for so small an amount that the child was practically unbenefited. Althogether the question of jury "fixing" is a serious one in the States, and the worst of it is that the evil is rather on the increase than on the decline.

THE MOST USEFUL MINERAL.

The Many Uses to Which Asbestos Can Be Put.

Asbestos can fairly lay claim to the title of being the most useful of all minerals that are employed for the use of mankind. It is a physical paradox, yet one of Nature's most marvellous productions. It has been called a mineralogical vegetable. It is both fibrous and crystalline, elastic, yet brittle, a floating stone, which can be readily carded, spun, and woven into tissue. In Germany it is known as sein-flachs (stone-flax), and the miners of Quebec give it quite as expressive a name—pierre coton (cotton stone).

The asbestos mines of Quebec are the most famous of the world, yielding about 85 per cent. of the entire output, Italy being the only competing country, and there the industry is declining.

Although Charlemagne is said to have had a tablecloth of asbestos, which he cleansed by throwing into the fire, the material was practically unknown until 1850. The Italian mineral was then experimented with, and some years later put on the market.

Asbestos is flexible, non-combustible, and a non-conductor of heat and electricity, and on these properties its increasing use depends.

It is spun into yarns, from which cloth is woven for drop-curtains in theatres, clothing for firemen, acid workers and others. It is made into lamp wicks, gloves for stokers, and ropes for fire escapes. It is felted into mill board, to be used as an insulator in dynamos, and as fireproof lining for floors. It is used to insulate electric wires, and as a covering to prevent loss of heat from steam pipes. Mixed with rubber, it is used to pack joints. It is, therefore, in ever sense of the word, the most useful mineral that we possess.

MILLIONAIRE'S OPINIONS

DOES GREAT WEALTH ALWAYS BRING HAPPINESS?

Some Rich Men Testify That Making Money is Fascinating to the Last Degree.

"A great deal of nonsense is talked about the miseries of millionaires," said Mr. James J. Hill,, one of the world's riches men, to an interviewer; "don't you believe it! You may take my word for it that millionaires (and I count a good many of them among my friends) enjoy life just as much as their poorer fellows—perhaps a good deal more than many of them. Speaking for myself, I can truthfully say that I get more pleasure out of life to-day than when, forty odd years ago, I was earning a few dollars a week on a Mississippi boat. No, it is not the money that gives the pleasure, although there's some satisfaction in that; but it is the hard work and the planning that go to the making of it."

Mr. Russell Sage, the Wall Street Crœsus, tells the same story in other words. "I admit," he says, "that I have but one pleasure, and that is to make money. The pleasure is in the making; the deal, the risk, and the delight of winning. And then—well, I just put the money in the bank and look forward to the next deal."

When Mrs. Sage was asked once if her husband was not an unhappy man, with all his millions, she laughed aloud and answered: "I just think he's the why, he doesn't give himself time enough even to think of being miserable. Do you know," she continued, "Mr. Sage has always been so busy that he hasn't had time to look properly around his home. He's like the railroad engineer who was so busy that he never saw his children except when their mother brought them down to the station to see him go by, and said, 'Children, there's papa!' The other morning Mr. Sage walked around the place like a stranger, and suddenly turned to me and said, 'What a beautiful place this is!'"

Mr. W. A. Clark, the "Copper King," similarly sings the praise of hard work. "Take my case," he said, not long ago. "I work hard; I take pleasure in my labors. I take pleasure in accomplishing something, in succeeding. It is a pleasure to know that your mind has been active in the solution of some problems or some commercial treaty, and that success has attended your efforts. I feel as young to-day as though I had just reached my twenty-fifth year. There is eno limit to my capacity for work. Why should I spend my time in idleness when the world is moving on and on with giant bounds

I CAN DO GOOD BY WORKING.

Thousands of men and women are depending upon my energies for their bread and butter. How can one retire and suspend operations that mean so much to those whose future he controls?"

"I don't mind admitting," Mr. C. M. Schwab, of the Steel Trust, says, "that when I began to work my great object was to get rich. I lived for it, toiled for it, just as most millionaires do in their early years. But when the money came—more than I well knew what to do with—my views underwent a change. The old incentive disappeared, the money became a secondary consideration altogether—an accident—and I continued to work out of sheer love of the game of money-making, which, I can assure you, is fascinating to the last degree. The more money I get the harder I work and the more simply I live, and, so far from being miserable, I don't know any man I would care to change places with. No, sir, a man who is making money fast has neither time nor inclination to be miserable."

The late John I. Blair, who could have written a cheque for $25,000,000 and still have been an exceedingly rich man, used to say that he until after he was eighty and had to abandon his money-making. "I never cared for the money," he used to say; "but it came, and I hope I have made a good use of it. But what I did love was the absorption of the work of making it, the pleasure of fighting rivals and beating them—aye, that was glorious," the old man said, with a reminiscent chuckle. "No man can be unhappy whose brain is constantly exercised and whose days are full of work, and when success crowns his efforts he is a most enviable man. That has been my lot, and on looking back I wouldn't have it different."

It may be interesting to add the testimony of a woman millionaire, Mrs. Hetty Green, who says: "I don't think any woman has enjoyed her life more than I have. I began with $1,000,000, and for every dollar I started with I have made fifty. Women differ; one finds her pleasure in society, another in her conquests, a third in family life, and so on; but not one of them all has found greater happiness than I have in proving that a woman can make millions as well as a man. I haven't found time to be miserable yet.'

YESTERDAY OR TO-MORROW.

If the North Pole is ever reached the adventurous spirits who get there will find that they have actually outstripped Father Time altogether—in fact, he will have given up the race entirely, for at the northern and southern extremities of the earth's axis there is no fixed time at all. At any moment it can be either noon or midnight, breakfast-time or supper-time, work time or play time, whichever you like. Clocks will be a fraud and a delusion, for at the Poles all degrees of longitude converge into one, and therefore all times. The possibilities of such a position are endless. Not only will the clocks be out of time, but the calendar will as well. It can be either yesterday, to-day, or to-morrow, as you wish.

SECRET PRISON IN VATICAN.

An Interesting Discovery Made in Sistine Chapel.

Interesting discoveries have been made in the Vatican at Rome during the examination of the building, which is showing signs of decay. A secret prison has been found between the garret and the roof of the Sistine Chapel. These cells, which resemble the famous Plombi of Venice, are supposed to have been a place of confinement for recalcitrant cardinals and other high ecclesiastics who offended the people of olden times.

Through long disuse the situation of the prison had been forgotten, but it is known that such cells existed, and that one or two cardinals died in them. They are not exactly luxurious, and decidedly cramped in size.

Wall decorations by Giovanni da Udine and Pierin del Verga have been found, under many coats of whitewash, in some of the apartments of the Vatican, having been hidden for centuries. It is certain that the Apostolic Palace, which dates from the fiftieth century, will have to be entirely reconstructed. Most of the walls, internal and external, are in a dangerous state through the successive alterations and additions made by various Popes.

A man may do the best he can and still get the worst of it.

A Rare Combination
for Women
So Says the Doctor about
Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets

We never object to showing the formula of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets to any reliable physician.
We showed it recently to a doctor of many years' experience.
The other day he wrote us a letter. Doctor-like he doesn't wish his name published, but says we may publish the letter. Here it is.

Messrs. B. N. Robinson & Co.,
Coaticook.

Gentlemen,—I have studied carefully the formula for Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women, which you submitted to me, and I am free to admit that it is a rare combination to meet the various diseases to which women are subject, and shows that it has come from one who has mastered the art of healing the diseases peculiar to females.
—M.D.

The doctor speaks truly when he calls the remedy a "rare combination," for that is just what the tablets are.
They combine the very latest remedies for women known to medical science. There cannot be anything better until there are new discoveries in medicine.
If you have been taking the old remedies put on the market years ago, stop it. You can get something better, and the best is none too good for any sick or run-down woman.
In Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women, you will find all that medical science can devise to this date to make you a healthy woman, and you need nothing they do not contain.

They Make Healthy Women.

A LONELY DEATH.

Farm Hand Missing Two Weeks Found in Vacant House.

The body of a man, supposed to be that of John Carey, was found in a bad state of decomposition in a vacant house near Manotick on Monday. The gruesome discovery caused much excitement about the district, and Dr. Baptie was at once notified. It appears that about two weeks ago, Carey, who was English, and worked around among the farmers, was suddenly missed. He complained shortly before that of being ill. He had no near relatives, and the farmers with whom he was accustomed to work, thought he had left the vicinity. No more was thought of him until Mr. Lewis Caldwell found the remains lying on the floor in the vacant house, where they had evidently been for the two weeks. He discovered the body quite accidentally. The house was on his father's farm, and he entered it in connection with his work of harvesting.

Dr. Baptie examined the remains and found no marks of violence on them. Evidently the unfortunate man had became worse while near the house and went in to lie down, death coming before he could summon assistance. It is hardly likely that an inquest will be held. The facts about his illness are considered sufficient to warrant the conclusion that death was from natural causes.

Deceased was about 45 years of age, unmarried and well known about Manotick. At the time of his disappearance he was employed by Mr. Moore, a farmer living near by.

Old Resident of Cannamore Dead.

On Friday, the 3rd of August, 1906, there occurred at Cannamore the death of Mary Ann Moriarty, beloved wife of Denis McMahon, aged 65 years.

The deceased was a sufferer from heart failure, and after five years painful illness, death relieved her at half past ten on Friday morning.

Mrs. McMahon was a woman of sterling qualities, a devoted wife and mother, charitable, bore her sufferings with Christian fortitude, and ever cheerful.

She leaves to mourn, a husband, four sons and two daughters: Messrs. Daniel of Butte, Mont.; Joseph, of Billings, Mont.: Thos., Wm., Kate and Ellen, who reside at home.

Her son Dan, of Butte, Mont, arrived on Monday evening.

The funeral took place on Monday, morning, at 9 o'clock, over one hundred carriages forming the procession. A requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. I. Fitzpatrick, after which the remains were interred in Crysler cemetery.

Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones, and may the comforter of all in affliction help them to bear the loss which they have sustained.

Will Carry Case to Supreme Court.

Among the most interesting and prolonged cases in the records of the Canadian Courts is the celebrated drainage lawsuit of Mr. McOuatt vs. united Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. The contention giving rise to this difficulty has existed for years. Throughout Eastern Canada the ultimate decision was looked forward to as a precedent, as many similar difficulties are pending.

On account of the overflowing of the Nation River, especially during the spring freshet, Mr. McOuatt's lands are submerged, and then an occasional June flood brings serious damage. Action was therefore brought against the counties and the plaintiff was awarded four hundred dollars judgment. The Counties Council appealed from the decision of the Court and succeeded in having the judgment reserved with heavy costs against the plaintiff.

Now the latest act in the drama has arisen. Mr. McOuatt is appealing to the Supreme Court of Canada against the decision of the Court of Appeal.

Bullet in His Leg.

Cornwall, Aug. 3—Dr. C. J. Hamilton has received word of a painful shooting accident, which happened his son, C. D. Hamilton, a second-year student in medicine at Toronto University, and who had been spending his vacation as inspector of mining and fire ranger in the James Bay district. While out on Smooth Water Lake, near Fort Matchewan, he was in the act of shooting at a loon when the revolver went off, the ball entering the thigh, and coming out below the knee. He was conveyed to North Bay where he is undergoing treatment, and favorable reports have been heard as to his condition.

Barley Lived Through It.

A terrible experience had Edwin J. O'Connor of Sault Ste. Marie, "From boyhood" he writes, "I have been a constant sufferer from asthma and catarrh. My nose and throat were all stuffed up and droppings in the throat. When attacks came on I thought I couldn't live through the night. I would sit up, gasp for breath and endure great distress. Catarrhozone made me entirely well," No stronger proof is required. Asthma is curable so is catarrh. Use "Catarrhozone" and your recovery is guaranteed. Two sizes, 25c and $1.00 at all dealers.

Hotelkeeper's Heavy Fine.

John Storey, hotelkeeper of South Mountain, was up before Magistrate Bow of Winchester, for infringement of the license act and was fined $200 and costs, ($17.40) Following this Storey was tried at Iroquois on another charge before Magistrates Collison and Fisher, and fined $50. James Haverson, counsel for the Licensed Victualler's Association, appeared in defence of Storey. The prosecution endeavored to show this was the third offence, which would mean a loss of license for three years, and a serious loss to Storey who has just purchased an excellent hotel property in Prescott, Ont. But this object was defeated, Mr. Haverson showing that only two of the convictions were made under the new Provincial Temperance Act.

Mr. Horton Shirkey, of this place, has purchased a harness shop business in Jasper, Ont., and expects to take possession in a few days. May success follow his venture.

News has been received here of a discovery of gold and copper being made in the Cobalt district, by Mr. Ed. Flynn and Mr. John Hummell, of this place, and Dr. Reddick and Mr. Alex. Cameron, of Winchester.

On Wednesday of last week, Messrs. D. McMillan, of Dunbar, and Geo. Caloren, of Iroquois, spent a day fishing in front of Iroquois, and had a successful catch. They landed 65 fish in all, 6 perch, and 59 pickerel, pike and bass.

The weather being unfavorable on Friday evening necessitated the holding of the box social for the benefit of the construction of the dam in the town hall This marred the proceedings a little but nevertheless a goodly number were present and a pleasant time spent. About $75 was realized.

Mr. Ebenezer Merkley, of this place, who has been feeling unwell for a few weeks, called on Dr. M. Brown, and on examination, he was ordered to go to Montreal for an operation, which was successfully performed on Tuesday. Cancer of the bowels was supposed to be the trouble, but we are not informed, as yet, if such proved to be the case.

Corsets Saved Life.

Brockville, Aug. 6—News has been received here that Mrs. Wm. Russel of N.Y., who is spending a few weeks at a cottage on Butterfield Lake, was nearly burned to death while dressing, her clothes catching fire from a small alcohol lamp, which was being used. Mrs. Russell was preparing to drive to Alexandria Bay and her husband sat waiting in the carriage outside when screams from with in were heard. Mrs. Russell emerged from the house in flames and started for the lake, but she was overtaken by a man and wrapped in a blanket, but only after having all the clothes, with the exception of her corsets, burned from her body. The burns were dressed, and although the patient is in a very serious condition. she will recover. The doctor stated that the protection the corsets afforded her body, without doubt shielded her from being burned to death.

Sad Return For Mother.

Kingston, August 3—A particularly sad case came to the attention of the police within the past few days in connection with the Old Boys' excursion from Toronto. Among the happy crowd coming back to receive the loyal welcome from the old home, was a woman worn with age, her hair turned silvery. Besides her return ticket she had in her pocket but fifty cents. She came to see her boy; but her boy, though young, is a convict, serving three years. She spent the night in the police station. The bobbies' hearts were touched and they provided a couch for her and got her her meals Through the kindness of Warden Platt, she was allowed to see her erring son on Sunday, and the aged mother, her mission fulfilled, returned to Toronto the same day. She told the story here that she washes for a living, and has to provide for a blind daughter.

Electric Light Rate.

Winchester Press—"Mr. Frank Elliott has purchased the electric light plant and will place it in an up-to date condition it is understood. The rates for users of the light which he has introduced hit the people having meters hardest The old flat rate of two cents per night for 16 c.p. lights stands. Possessors of meters have to guarantee a minimum sum per month. For a 10 light meter the amount guaranteed is $1.25, for 20 lights $2.50, and for a 30 light meter $3. This is for a limited use of light, as over a stipulated amount it has to be paid extra. For example, five 16 c.p. lights on the flat rate will cost $3 per month, and they can burn from the time the plant starts up to 12 o'clock at night. On the meter system, 16 c.p. lights cost half a cent per hour each, and five lights burning only five hours per night will cost $3 75 per month, or $9 per year more than the flat rate, with from 365 to 500 hours less burning. On the meter system four 16 c.p. lights burning five hours will equal in cost five 16 c p. lights on the flat rate that may burn the whole time the plant is running. The only advantage the owners of meters have is, they can turn the lights wherever they are, but if they burn more than their alloted amount they pay extra, and if they don't burn it, well they pay for it anyway."

HOUSE-CLEAN YOUR SYSTEM!

Keep It Pure and Clean If You Desire Good Health.

The inside of your body needs attention just the same as the outside.

A great accumulation of effete matter is clinging to the various organs, and must be moved off.

The system must be relieved of its burden if you are to enjoy a happy, healthy summer.

Physicians who have examined the formulae of Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills say no medicine could be better.

Whether ill or not thousands rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are truly marvelous in preventing debility and sickness.

Begin Dr. Hamilton's Pills without delay. You'll feel stronger, eat heartier, sleep sounder and gain more weight.

Mr. Ed Maynard, an old resident of New West Minister, B.C., writes, "I don't say Dr. Hamilton's Pills will cure everything, but they made a quick job of building up my run-down system. I had kidney disease and constipation, and was wholly unfitted for work. Pains shot through my limbs and made me desperate I had no appetite., an awful color and felt despondent. Some times I was a little rheumatic. After a few days I began to mend, and kept up Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I was restored to my present tip-top condition."

Can you afford to miss the benefit of this marvel-working medicine? Think of it. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c per box. or five boxes for $1.00 at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co, Hartford, Conn.' U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

MOREWOOD.

The people of this village were startled on Saturday evening, July 28th, to hear of the sudden and untimely death of one of their number in the person of Mrs. Thos. Stewart, who passed away after only a few minutes suffering. The deceased has been ailing for some time but although under medical treatment her illness was not considered to be of a dangerous nature, she being able to attend to her household duties daily. On Saturday morning she seemed as well as usual and Mr. Stewart drove to Vars, Mrs. Stewart spending that day alone. About six o'clock however while milking she became suddenly ill and leaving the stable she walked to the residence of Mr. H. Loucks. Aid was summonded at once and in spite of untiring effects she passed away in twenty minutes, heart failure being the cause of her death. The body was carried to her own home and a telephone message sent to Vars but Mr. Stewart had already left for home and did not hear the news until about two miles from the village. Mrs. Stewart was sixty-five years of age and [illegible] a husband, a number of brothers [illegible]sters and an aged mother to mourn [illegible]. ULCER OF THE STOMACH.

Insidions Nature of the Disease—How to Recognize and Cure it.

Ulcer of the stomach may exist for years without very marked symptoms, excepting those caused by indigestion.

In good health, the stomach resists the action of the gastric juices, but when weakened, the membrane is badly nourished and the digestive fluids act upon it as well as upon the food, keeping up until perforation of the stomach occurs. In advanced cases of ulcer of the stomach, there is much discomfort after eating, with a constant gnawing sensation between meals, pain from the pit of the stomach to the back of the shoulder blade.

At the first symptoms of indigestion, treatmont should be started at once with Mi-o-na. This is a scientific remedy adapted specifically to one purpose, the cure of stomach troubles.

Mi-o-na is not a patent or secret medicine, but is a combination of the purest and most reliable of remedies for strengthening the digestive organs, and building up the whole system. It costs but 50 cents a box. Use it for a few days and there is no reason why you should not be able to eat any food you like at any time without fear or distress.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist, which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

It is said that the People's Bank of Brunswick, will be absorbed by a larger institution

SHATTERED NERVES.

Strong and Steady by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When your nerves are out of order your whole health is on the verge of a break-down. Sudden sounds startle you; your muscles twitch and your hands tremble; your self-control is shattered; your will-power gone. Your head aches; your feet are often cold and your face flushed. Your heart jumps and thumps at the least excitement; you are restless at night and tired when you wake. Your temper is irritable and you feel utterly down-hearted. And the whole trouble is because your blood is too thin and watery to keep the nerves strong. There is only one way to have strong, healthy nerves — feed them with the rich, red blood that only Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can make — and do make. Mr. Fred Forth, 17 Sullivan street, Toronto, says:—"I was a complete wreck with nervous prostration, but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made a new man of me. I had been nervous for years; the least noise would startle me, and the least exertion would leave me utterly prostrated. I lost in weight, and physically I was almost a wreck. I had not taken the pills long when I found they were helping me; my appetite improved, my nerves began to grow steady, and day by day I gained until I was again a well man. My weight increased twenty-five pounds while I was using the pills. To any who suffer as I did, I can say that if Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are given a fair trial, a cure will be sure to follow."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills restored Mr. Forth, simply because they made the rich, pure blood which properly nourishes the nerves and keeps them strong. They will cure all the diseases due to bad blood and shattered nerves, such as anaemia, indigestion, headaches and backaches, rheumatism, lumbago, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, general weakness and the secret ailments of growing girls and women. But you must always insist on getting the genuine pills with the full name Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People on the wrapper around each box. Sold by medicine dealers or sent direct by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"What do you know of the character of this man?" was asked a witness at a police court the other day. "What do I know of his character? I know it to be unbleachable, your honor," he replied, with much emphasis.

CHAMBERLAIN'S SUCCESS

BRIGHT SKETCH OF LIFE OF IMPERIAL STATESMAN.

He Is Always Popular With the Masses —Called the "Mad Mayor of Birmingham."

The London Daily Mail, in a sympathetic review of Mr. Chamberlain's career, says:

The bare outline of Mr. Chamberlain's connection with Birmingham is known to everyone; first, as a youth of 18, then as a successful manufacturer, a social reformer, a prominent educationist, a municipal crusader, and lastly, for 30 years, its political representative. For if you ask any Birmingham man who is his member, he will certainly tell you "Chamberlain," though in reality he only represents one-seventh of the city.

Mr. Chamberlain did not come to Birmingham a full-grown politician, soliciting its suffrages, but a mere lad, who shared in its great fight for the franchise, free speech, and education. He trained his own powers in a debating club so Radical that the honorary secretary proposed they should spend their surplus funds "in buying a Tory" to oppose them in debate! The triumphs of Birmingham were his triumphs, her miseries his own burden. In night school and Sunday school, in a mission in the poorest part of the town, in the public house political meeting, among elections and would-be electors, always maintaining his friendly relations, in spite of his ineradicable delight in satirising and "chaffing" his opponents, in the club which he started for his own workmen; in a hundred ways, he was preparing for his position as the friend and leader of the people of Birmingham. He was learning his lesson, that though no remedy could be found for every evil, there was plenty for every man to do who wished to leave the world a little better than he found it.

FRIEND OF WORKMEN.

The workingmen were his personal friends. One of them says: "I used to follow him round the town to learn politics; I was fair smitten with him; we was fascinating in his speaking, his wit was natural, and what a common-sense he's got with him! It was a treat to see hm come into a public house meeting, as smart as could be, velvet coat, red tie drawn through a ring, with his eyeglass, too; smooth face, smooth hair, trim, set up, looking like a boy; just a wax figure he looked. You'd never think there could be any brains under that dandy get up, not till you heard him speak.

"Chamberlain went for the gas and water for the town, and he got them, too. . . . It was the landlords as was furious with him—they were a nice set, and he had his work cut out for him. The state of the property was awful; there was a place built up agen us, back of our yard, and the sewage drained right down into our well, and we were drinking it! I told them I weren't going to pay my rent till it was put right, and I didn't. And says I to myself, 'If the worst comes to the worst, 'll appeal to Chamberlain, and he'll see me righted. It was him and his congress put me up to it.' Saturday lectures and a congress were arranged for at this time by Mr. Chamberlain, but the official inspection of unsanitary tenements was greatly resented by the landlords. When he got a letter addressed to 'The Mad Mayor of Birmingham,' backed up by a lot of addle-headed councillors, who sent spies as sanitary inspectors into a man's house, he smiled, and reminded the public that '2d. on the Improvement (Scheme) Rate was a gigantic and tangible fact!"

TOWN PROUD OF HIM.

And the town was immensely proud of him. Proud of being "the best governed city in the world," proud of the fine art gallery, and his own munificent contributions to it; the council house, the new parks, the rebuilding of the free libraries after their destruction by fire. On that occasion to the lament, "What shall we do now?" Mr. Chamberlain replied, "Do' Build a bigger and better one than before!" And within two days he went to the Rebuilding Committee with a long list of subscribers in his hand.

The Grammar School also interested him. Once when on a visit of inspection with other governors, a small lad in the gallery, looking down on these grave gentlemen, aimed with much dexterity a paper dart at one of them. Mr. Chamberlain, interviewing the small culprit in the headmaster's room, patted the curly head and read him a little lecture on thoughtlessness, then, reminding Mr. Vardy that "we all were boys once," obtained a very light sentence of punishment. That little lad, much impressed and very grateful, has now, after seventeen years of colonial life, founded a branch of the Tariff Reform League, and was a delegate to the Chamberlain celebration.

A LEADER WHO LEADS.

He believes in "a leader who leads; it is his business to educate his party," says Mr. Chamberlain; "but to do it sympathetically, not with contempt." It was on this point that one of his ward committees said:

"After the meeting is over we generally get round him and have a bit of a chat; he's very free when business is done. Sometimes we ask him for the orchid he's been wearing, and once I remember one of our men was very disappointed he did not get it, so Mr. Chamberlain made it up to him somehow—I forget what he sent, but it was flowers or cigars, I think?"

"How should I not love Birmingham?" he said to those who were bidding him God-speed on his African journey. "Here is my home, here is my family life, and no man owes more thanks than I do for the blessings of a family life. Here have I been happy, here also I have, sorrowed; and through good and evil, through all the vicissitudes of my career, the sympathies and the good-will of the people have followed me, and have bound me by links of steel and by the share which they have had in the precious memories of my life."

WOOD WAS USED FOR MONEY.

Wooden Cheques Were Used in England as Late as 1834.

Wooden cheques are the sort of thing one would expect to find used in China or Thibet, but, as a matter of fact, they were used in England from the earliest times down to as late as 1834.

Tallies, as they were called, were made out of a curved piece of hazel, notches being cut along the edges to stand for a certain sum of money; the tally was then sawn half through below the lowest notch, and the notched part split in two pieces, on both of which the notches appeared.

These pieces served as cheque and counterfoil, the latter being always the larger piece with the un-notched end as a kind of handle. The smaller piece was then taken by the payee, the larger sent to the person on whom the cheque was drawn—generally a collector of customs or other revenues, public or private. He would honor the cheque on finding that the two pieces fitted, and had the amount credited to him by the drawer on returning them together to him. Thus was the great danger and expense of transporting large sums in coin avoided.

Forgery of a tally was obviously impossible unless a new counterfoil could be substituted, and if stolen in the ordinary way it would be of little use to the thief, for, unlike our cheques, there was nothing to shew on whom it was drawn.

There are still a good many tallies in existence, but the majority were burnt in the great fire, which destroyed the old Houses of Parliament; the remainder are chiefly to be found in the Public Record Office, and, no doubt, also in the muniment rooms of great land owners.

The World is Full of Pains. — The aches and pains that afflict humanity are many and constant, arising from a multitude of indistinguishable causes, but in the main owing to man's negligence in taking care of his health. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was the outcome of a universal cry for some specific which would speedily relieve pain, and it has filled its mission to a remarkabl degree.

THIS ELOQUENCE.

Mrs. Littlwit (proudly): "Only just think, Charles has gone to address a public gathering."

Friend: "I didn't think he was a speechmaker."

Mrs. Littlewit: "Nor I, but he has been called to make a statement before a meeting of creditors."

The total imports of tea into Canada and the United States is about one hundred and ten million pounds per annum. One out of every fourteen pounds, both in Canada and the United States, is "SALADA" and this trade is growing very rapidly, and "SALADA" is as easily obtained now in such cities as New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Pittsburg, Buffalo, St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Cleveland, Rochester, &c., &c., &c., as it is in Toronto, Montreal, and throughout the Dominion.

HE WAS IT.

Mr. Misfit (savagely): "Before I married you was there any doddering idiot gone on you?"

Mrs. Misfit: "There was one."

Mr. Misfit: "I wish to goodness you'd married him."

Mrs. Misfit: "I did."

A ROLAND FOR AN OLIVER.

Papa: "See the spider, my boy, spinning his web. Is it not wonderful? Do you reflect that, try as he may, no man could spin that web?"

Johnny: "What of it? See me spin this top? Do you reflect that, try as he may, no spider could spin this top?"

Just the Thing That's Wanted.— A pill that acts upon the stomach and yet is so compounded that certain ingredients of it preserve their power to act upon the intestinal canals, so as to clear them of excreta, the retention of which cannot but be hurtful, was long looked for by the medical profession. It was found in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which are the result of much expert study, and are scientifically prepared as a laxative and an alterative in one.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

is better than other Soaps but is best when used in the Sunlight way. Follow directions.

SUNLIGHT WAY OF WASHING

FIRST.—Dip the article to be washed in a tub of lukewarm water, draw it out on a washboard and rub the soap lightly over it. Be particular not to miss soaping all over. THEN roll it in a tight roll, lay in the tub under the water, and go on the same way until all the pieces have the soap rubbed on, and are rolled up.

Then go away for thirty minutes to one hour and let the "Sunlight" Soap do its work.

NEXT.—After soaking the full time rub the clothes lightly out on a wash board, and the dirt will drop out; turn the garment inside out to get at the seams, but don't use any more soap; don't scald or boil a single piece, and don't wash through two suds. If the water gets too dirty, pour a little out and add fresh. If a streak is hard to wash, rub some more soap on it, and throw the piece back into the suds for a few minutes.

LASTLY COMES THE RINSING, which is to be done in lukewarm water, taking special care to get all the dirty suds away, then wring out and hang up to dry.

For Woolens and Flannels proceed as follows:—Shake the articles free from dust. Cut a tablet of SUNLIGHT SOAP into shavings, pour into a gallon of boiling water and whisk into a lather. When just lukewarm, work articles in the lather without rubbing. Squeeze out dirty water without twisting and rinse thoroughly in two relays of lukewarm water. Squeeze out water without twisting and hang in the open air.

☞ The most delicate colors may be safely washed in the "Sunlight" way.

SAVE THIS IT IS VALUABLE FOR PREMIUM COUPONS SUNLIGHT SOAP PREMIUMS

$5,000 REWARD will be paid to any person who proves that Sunlight Soap contains any injurious chemicals or any form of adulteration.

Your Money Refunded by the dealer from whom you buy Sunlight Soap if you find any cause for complaint.

ODD CARGO IN STEAMER.

A ton of dead flies was the strange cargo a vessel from Brazil unloaded at the London Docks recently. Dead flies are admirable food for chickens, birds in captivity and captive fishes. The River Amazon abounds with flies. Brazilians float down the stream in boats and scoop in millions of the flies which circle in dense clouds just above the water's edge. The flies are killed, dried thoroughly in the sun and packed in bags. They are then shipped. Dead flies constitute one of the richest foods for animals. For chickens the flies are mixed with other ingredients, such as millet and corn. By themselves the flies are too rich, but their power of nourishment is so great that a small quantity of them has a most beneficial effect. Two years ago the Brazilian Government stopped the exportation, being afraid that the fish in the rivers would suffer by being deprived of this fly food. But the prohibition has been removed. Formerly dead flies sold at ten cents a pound, but the demand has grown and the supply so lessened that thirty cents a pound is now charged.

YOUR DEBT TO DUST.

Although dust contains many of our deadliest enemies, it is also one of the best friends, for without it the world would be to dismal to live in. Rays of light cannot be seen. We only know where the rays are because the myriads of particles of dust in their path reflect the light. If there were no dust the sky would not be blue, there would be no raindrops, no snowflakes, no hailstones, no clouds, no gorgeous sunsets, no beautiful sunrises. The instant the sun passed out of sight we should be in darkness. The instant it rose it would be a sharp circle of light in a black sky. There would be no evening glow. The dome of the sky would be as dark as it is on a brilliant moonlight night. The moon and stars shine by day in all their brightness. The whole earth would be in a deep, dark shadow, excepting where the sun's rays fall directly upon it in one great blinding circle.

They Cleanse the System Thoroughly. —Parmelee's Vegetable Pills clear the stomach and bowels of bilious matter, cause the excretory vessels to throw off impurities from the blood into the bowels and expel the deleterious mass from the body.
