Sing a Song of Soldiering

"Hark, now the drums beat up again,
For all true soldier gentlemen,
Then let us 'list and march, I say,
Over the hills and far away. . . .
Who could turn down such a promise
Of romance and adventure?
Not many did, in 1867, when recruiting officers with their regimental bands circulated through the poverty-stricken streets of Liverpool or Dublin to enlist soldiers in Queen Victoria's Army.

Lured by the bandsmen's scarlet and white tunics and glittering brass, or bewitched by their jaunty tunes and soldier's lusty drinking songs, many men wasted no time joining the army.

Before long, however, a recruit stationed at Fort Henry would discover that army life meant more than sprightly melodies. It meant staccato blasts on a bugle rudely arousing him at dawn: Reveille. The same bugle acted as a clock, alerting him for meals and hourly sentry changes. At nightfall, a call went out around the taverns of Kingston warning soldiers to down their last pint and return to barracks. (In fact the word "tattoo" is a corruption of the Dutch "tap toe", meaning "turn off the taps.")

Each battalion of infantry stationed at Fort Henry could have as many as 20 drummers, known collectively as "The Drums." Drummers set the pace when their company was on the march, while fifers played morale-boosting tunes for foot-sore soldiers. On the battlefield, drums and bugles were the only way to relay messages from one unit to the next since clouds of smoke made visual signals impossible.

In addition, it was considered "essential to the credit and appearance of a regiment" to have a band, dressed in distinctive white tunics, to play a variety of percussion, brass and wind instruments on ceremonial occasions.
It fell to the officers of the regiment to support and maintain the band through contributions from their pay. Regimental bands from Fort Henry were very much in demand in Kingston in the 1860's for dances, garden parties, skating parties and boat cruises as well as military inspections, dinners and parades.

On these occasions, young recruits could be justifiably proud of their regiment as the band played old and new marches, ballads and Scottish country airs. Especially dear to a soldier was his own regimental march often inspired by the geographic origin of his regiment, as is the case with "The Lincolnshire Poacher" and "Men of Harlech". Of course, all voices would join in the chorus of the best-known of all British marches,
"The British Grenadiers".

"But of all the world's brave heroes there's none that can compare,
With a two row row row row
To the British Grenadiers!"

When the time came for the regiment to leave Fort Henry for another station, crowds would line the streets of Kingston to wave, cheer and bid farewell to the departing troops. Undoubtedly there were many misty-eyed young ladies and many a longing sideways glance as the band marched away playing the traditional leave-taking song, "The Girl I Left Behind Me":

"But now I'm bound to Brighton
Camp
Kind heaven, then pray guide me

Octoberfest Dance in Morrisburg

The 4th annual Oktoberfest will be held in the arena September 20th dancing 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. with music by Hans Stum's Bavarian band. At midnight there will be a German supper of knockwurst sausage or roast beef.

This dance is sponsored by the Morrisburg Lions Club and Morrisburg Fire Department. Anyone can make up a party and join in the fun of dancing, marching and singing at this last dance before the ice goes in at the arena.

Proceeds from this Oktoberfest go to the firemen who contribute to the muscular dystrophy fund and also towards the purchase of firefighting, rescue and emergency equipment.

The Lions Club use their share for help with crippled children plus many other local service projects.

Sod Turned for Senior Citizens Project

Four years of effort by Morrisburg Council were rewarded on Friday, August 29th with the official sod-turning ceremony for the village's senior citizens' complex.

Among the dignitaries present were Donald Irvine, Minister of Housing; Ossie Villeneuve, sitting member for Glengarry and PC candidate for the provincial riding of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry; Morrisburg Reeve Bill Dillabough; John Whittaker, Warden of the United Counties and Senator Richard Stanbury who stood in for Federal Minister Barry Danson.

The two-story, 30-unit complex is to be constructed on a 2.93-acre site located just east of the shopping centre on Highway 2. Construction is scheduled to start immediately with a completion target in the spring.

The project is to be funded through a $511,932 loan by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation which covers 90% of the cost. The remaining 10% is paid for by the Ontario government. A luncheon was held at the Loyalist Hotel after the ceremonies at which Reeve Dillabough praised the co-operation of the three levels of government and promised that application for an additional 30 units would be made as soon as the first units were completed.

Senator Stanbury described the arrangements by which senior citizens projects are built as one in which the Federal government acts as the banker, the Province

BEEF-CALF INCOME STABILIZATION PROGRAM

Enrollment Deadline Extended

The Honourable William A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food for Ontario, has announced a two-week extension of the enrollment deadline for the provincial Beef Calf Income Stabilization Program. The cutoff date has been extended from August 31st to September 12th 1975.

In making the announcement Mr. Stewart said: "Due to wet weather delaying harvest, some producers have been unable to find the time to enroll their cow herds prior to the August 31st deadline. No doubt some farmers caught with harvesting commitments may have encountered problems in getting to local agricultural representatives' offices to discuss and complete the necessary forms and procedures for the program. At present, well over 3,000 beef calf producers have enrolled in the program.

In addition to the extended deadline, Mr. Stewart announced the principal sales yards for Ontario stocker calves which will be used in determining the weighted average market price this fall for the government's Beef Calf Income Stabilization Program.

During the months of September, October and November, feeder cattle sales and regular sales in which significant numbers of stocker calves are sold will be monitored to determine the weighted average market price. In Northern Ontario these include Little Current, South River, Warton, Rainy River, New Liskeard and Thessalon. In Eastern Ontario, Galetta and Cobden will serve as the central selling points. In Central Ontario, Lindsay (Kawartha) and Woodville and in Western Ontario, Kitchener and Tara will be included. Sales of Stocker calves at Toronto Stock Yards will be included in the market price calculation.

Mr. Stewart stressed that only Ontario-produced beef calves will be included in the market price determination. Male and female beef stocker calves in the following weight ranges will be used to calculate the weighted average price:

Male calves - 300-575 lb.
Female calves - 300-550 lb.

The weighted average market price will then determine the extent of the producer payout. If the average happened to be 30¢ per lb then the payout would amount to 20¢ per lb of calf produced. Based on the formula used in the program this amount to a payment of $76.50 per cow. From this amount the $5 per cow producer fee will be deducted.

In the announcement of the Ontario Beef Calf Income Stabilization Program, enrolled farmers were guaranteed a stabilization price for 1975 at 50¢ per lb. Mr. Stewart added: "It should be noted here that every participating farmer gets the same payment per cow whatever price he as an individual gets for his calves, or whatever weight his calves are. In fact, it is not necessary to sell calves in the year in which they are produced to participate in the program. Every producer should strive to manage his cow-calf enterprise to get the best returns he can from the market."

Cardinal and Iroquois Place in Dance Championships

The Seaway Valley Championships were held Saturday August 30th at General Vanier School in Cornwall.

The Preopen section was completed in the forenoon and several area dancers competed. Karen Tyo of Cardinal won the first place trophy in the Highland Fling for beginners II and over. Cheryl Styles was the fourth place finisher in the Sword dance and received the third place trophy for her Sean Triubhas. She competed in Intermediate II and over category.

Karen Craig placed second in both the Fling and Sword for the Baby Class.

PC Workers Turning Up in Large Numbers

Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Progressive Conservative candidate Ossie Villeneuve said this week that he is more than impressed with the large number of workers showing up to help his campaign committee assisting him in his bid for re-election to the Ontario Legislature.

A veteran campaigner who has served both in the Legislature and the House of Commons since 1948 Mr. Villeneuve said, "I am finding many new challenges and meeting many new people in the expanding riding under redistribution.

A good deal of his time, thus far, has been spent in the upper part of Stormont and the county of Dundas but, he said, "I will be spending an equal amount of time in Glengarry as the campaign progresses.

PC campaign manager is well known Morrisburg lawyer G. William Gorrell who has a great depth of knowledge and experience in election campaigns. Glen Sloan of Cornwall is handling the duties of press agent and publicity chairman. Acting in an advisory capacity is Reg Workman of Winchester who has been an active campaign organizer for the past 16 years. Douglas Grenkie a partner in the law firm of Gorrell and Grenkie, is chief financial officer. Co-presidents of the PC Association are Bruno Massie mayor of Alexandria and Sam Ault of Morrisburg. Appointed as legal counsel is Duncan J. MacDonald Cornwall lawyer.

Mr. Villeneuve stated that his campaign will be clean-cut and straight forward. "I have no use for mud slinging. Let the other parties do that if they so wish."

Enumeration Continuing

IROQUOIS - The special enumeration phase of the Ontario electoral process is under way and continues until September 10th. It is for qualified voters missed during the August 20-23 enumeration period, and those whose name is not on the publicly-posted list of voters in the area in which they live.

Qualified voters not yet enumerated for the September 18th provincial election should contact their Returning Officer and special enumerators will be sent out to obtain the necessary information. Returning Officer for the electoral district of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry is Mac A. LaSalle, 448-2393.

To be qualified to vote in next month's general election, a person must be (by September 18th) at least 18 years old, a Canadian citizen or British subject, and a resident of Ontario for at least 12 months preceding election day.

Residents of urban electoral districts not on the list will not be allowed to vote. Rural residents may vote if another qualified voter vouches for them.

The Napanee Pipes and Drums were but one of the many bands who marched in Cardinal's Labour Day Parade on Monday. Cardinal celebrated the event with a parade, band concert, children's midway, beer-gardens and Bar-B-Q. They were also host to the Dundas Football League playoffs which were won by Domville in an action packed series.

Wisdom from the young

In early August a teen-ager was asked to record what he would remember most about his summer camp experience. His comment was arresting: "I learned," he said, "that justice doesn't mean 'just us'."

Those are good words remember. Nobody likes strikes; they are disruptive and frustrating to everyone, but every purchaser of groceries for a growing family feels the impact of inflation where it hurts. The postman or factory worker has to feed his children just as the banker or civil servant, and a dollar will stretch only so far, whatever our stations.

There are 5 million people in Canada today living below the poverty level and 2/3rds of them are working poor. A good deal of talk and experimentation with the concept of a guaranteed annual income is going on — a scheme that would help these minimum wage earners enormously. It's worth examining, rather than hotly rejecting it out of hand.

While it's true that pensioners and others on fixed incomes from investment are also caught in the ever-escalating squeeze, not many scream when interest rates rise and owned houses double in value.

In short, we are all in this financial spiral together and until someone, somewhere finds a way out of the frightening maze, patience and a willingness to examine facts are something each of us can contribute to an admittedly frightening economy. The youngster's comment is pertinent. Justice is not 'just us'.

This Celsius nonsense ...

By BILL SMILEY

JUST clearing off my desk before heading to Saskatoon for a convention of weekly editors. Boy, am I a lazy bum! There must be 45 letters stacked here, unanswered.

First of all, there are two piles of letters about the metric-Celsius nonsense. Those who agree with me form a much deeper pile. But, in fairness, those who disagree are much more literate. Does this have any significance?

The more literate letters, are, on the whole, much duller than the emotional ones. They treat me as a backward child, or a senile old man. I am neither.

Sample, from Wm. Gary Wharton, of Unionville, Ont. "There are things occurring (his spelling) in this world that from the sounds of your column you couldn't even begin to comprehend. Things are dealt with on a world-wide basis now and in doing so we need a common unit of measure, weight and volume." And so on.

Baloney! If that is so, why don't we have a common world-wide language, and a common unit of currency? We have neither. The argument holds no water.

On the other side, Earl F. Gilchrist of Perth, Ont., is equally lacking in logic. "The metric system should never be introduced in Canada because it isn't Canadian. I want my children to grow up in a Canadian Canada not a Foreign Canada. Any Canadian that accepts the metric system isn't a Canadian."

Well now, I wouldn't go that far. That means that I could never enjoy English fish-and-chips, French fries, chicken chow mein, lasagna, southern fried chicken, and would be condemned for life to drinking Canadian — ugh! — wine. That way madness lies.

There's a letter from Mr. and Mrs. C. Knott of Rorketon, Man. "The guy that invented this stuff (Celsius and metrics) died so why doesn't it die with him as it sure doesn't make any sense ... We are only two out here, but I know there are many more in this area. Go to it Bill, send out petition or whatever it takes to stay as it was before."

A June editorial in the Waterloo Chronicle by Mike Roy is headed Some Facts, Please. He then attacks my "half-baked ideas" about the metric system. He goes on to state a lot of facts about the world's population, makes a desperate attempt to link these to the need for a metric system, and fails. I just take back my remark that letters urging a metric system are more literate than those against.

Here's a long, witty, oft bawdy letter from Harvey Malcolm, a farmer, municipal politician and news correspondent from Janetville for the Bowmanville Statesman. He wants metric. "Have you ever tried from scratch to figure out in the twinkling of an eye with a ratepayer breathing over your shoulder, how many lots 99' x 133' or such like can be found in an umpteen acre field?" No, I haven't, Harvey. But I imagine it could be done with a calculator in about three minutes by a teenager of average intelligence. What's the big rush to find it out, anyway? Somebody only wants to make a buck. Let him wait.

B.C. Leaden of Rosedale, British Columbia, says that he often disagrees with me wholeheartedly, but on this, is on my side. In part, he says, speaking of politicians: "They take our money and they screw it all up until you can't tell one bill from another, except for the good old deuce, and I suppose they'll soon get rid of that. They shove French down the English throats and English down the French and now they drop this Celsius bit on us poor long-suffering bastards. What in hell do we want that for? Celsius! Sounds more like a disease than a degree of temperature."

Another brief letter from a Western couple, stamped envelope enclosed, says: "Tell us what to do, write our M.P. or what, and we'll do it." Well, folks, that's a good place to start, but don't be surprised if you get a polite brush-off.

To try to sum up my own feelings would require another whole column, and would just touch on the subject. Firstly, I agree that metric is easier. Any idiot knows that.

But don't try to snow me with arguments that Canada's economic future depends on the metric system. Our economic future, like it or lump it, is tied to that of the U.S., which is not metric.

The metric system should have been introduced 50 years ago. It wasn't. Now is not the time to do it, when inflation is making terrible ravages on our economy. Maybe it's 15 years too soon. We just can't afford it right now.

Celsius is silly. I don't care what the temperature is in Outer Mongolia, or what system they use. I want to know whether it's 10 below or 80 above — Fahrenheit. The U.S. uses Fahrenheit. The radio and TV stations along the border use both. The newspapers report British and continental temperatures in Fahrenheit.

The changes to metric and Celsius seem to reflect that old Canadian tradition, which applies in everything from styles to education.

It goes something like this: "Let's drag our feet for a while, until everybody else has tried this thing out. Then we'll jump in and go the whole hog, whether the thing worked or not."

Heck with both of them. I only hope that when I get to Saskatoon, it's been a good summer (Fahrenheitally speaking) for wheat, and that those fish I don't catch in northern Saskatchewan will not be less than two metres in length.

Report TO THE People

Walter Baker, M.P. Grenville-Carleton

The Prime Minister

By any yardstick, the Prime Minister is the most important man in the Governmental process. To millions of Canadians he epitomizes the Federal Government and, thanks to this era of instant and mass communications, he plays a key role as public persuader. He sets the philosophical tone of his Government and its priorities. With his power to appoint Cabinet Ministers and other key officials, he becomes the judge of who will do what and when. However, he has a dual role. At one and the same time he heads a Government and a Party and he must be constantly aware of both responsibilities.

As he is ultimately responsible to Parliament and the people for the conduct of his Government, he is also responsible to his MP Caucus and his Party for their support.

The expansion in the size and role of the staff of the Prime Minister's Office perhaps indicates how more complicated the role of the Prime Minister has become in a society which has placed increasing demands on Government.

The duties of the Prime Minister's Office are to keep the Prime Minister aware of all significant developments throughout the country through various means, to provide liaison with various party organizations, to handle correspondence, appointments, public appearances and press releases, and, in particular, to keep the Government's broad policy objectives clearly in focus and keep an over-all view of where the Government is going.

The Prime Minister receives $45,000 a year above what he gets as an MP. The Official Opposition Leader gets an additional $25,000 a year and the leader of any other Party that has 12 MPs or more gets an additional $8,000.

THE CABINET
Members of the Cabinet are appointed from the majority party in the Commons by the Governor-General on the advice of the Prime Minister. That means that the Prime Minister really appoints them.

The Cabinet is the policy-forming body of the Government. It sponsors and schedules all the significant legislation, and its legislation, of course, is usually passed because it is supported by a majority in the Commons.

The Cabinet is also the executive authority of the Government and is also responsible for the administration of all Governmental activities.

To put it another way, the Cabinet could be called the key committee in Canadian Government and within itself has a series of overlapping committees.

For example, the Prime Minister is chairman of a five-man committee on planning and priorities within the Cabinet; the Finance Minister heads a Cabinet Finance Committee and so on.

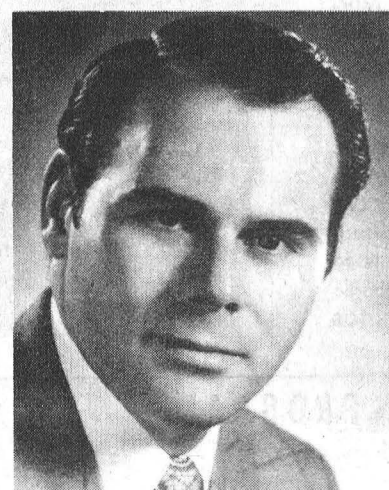

Most Cabinet Ministers are responsible for the administration of one or more Government Departments and for reporting on their activities to Parliament. However, in the Cabinet there are usually Ministers without portfolio, such as the Leader of the Government in the Senate, who do not undertake Department administration.

The Cabinet Ministers who do oversee the operation of departments face a heavy burden. Some departments rival corporations in size of staff and diversity

Gentlemen:

The Honorable Donald Irvine has announced a license will be issued for a 60 bed nursing home in Dundas County later in 1975.

The Members of our Council, the Senior Citizens of our Township, and other interested people in the County of Dundas, have worked for the past two years, to have this nursing home established in our Township, and land has been purchased with 600 feet of water front on the St. Lawrence River, three miles east of Iroquois, for the erection of this nursing home.

This is to advise you three gentlemen, we the elected members of Matilda Township Council, will do everything we can, to have this nursing home built on this beautiful site in Matilda Township.

We are calling a special council meeting on September 8, 1975 at 8 P.M. on Monday evening, in the Brinston Community Hall, and we extend an invitation to you three gentlemen to attend and express your opinion on the above project. The Public will be invited to attend.

The bride given in marriage by her father was assisted by Mrs. Linda Abrams of Cardinal as matron-of-honor, while Carl Abrams was best man for their nephew.

A small wedding reception followed at the home of the groom's parents.

After a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and points west the young couple are now residing in Cardinal.

Domville Wins Dundas Fastball Championship

The Dundas Fastball League held their play-offs in Cardinal on Monday as part of Cardinal's Labour Day Festivities. In the picture team-mates congratulate Jerry Belanger of Williamsburg Pioneers as he crosses home plate after hitting a home run in the game against Brockville. Pioneers won that one, swamping the Brockville team 15-3. Williamsburg were defeated 7-3 by Domville in the final match which gave Domville the league championship. Post staff photo cial government the controller of construction and all three levels of government share the costs. He said that the program "softens the blows of change" and allows senior citizens to remain in their home towns.

Donald Irvine stated his belief that the Morrisburg project of 30 units would become 60 and the 60 become 90. Mr. Irvine reaffirmed his government's commitment to senior citizen's housing with the assurance that both Winchester and Chesterville would soon have complexes and pointed to the project nearing completion in Iroquois.

He praised the co-operation of local governments and promised that although he will not be representing Dundas in the upcoming election he will be a next door neighbour and will work closely to assure that Dundas has all it needs.

Touching on the subject of a nursing home in Dundas County Mr. Irvine assured those present that government would decide on location and the operators in "the best interest of the people."

PC candidate Ossie Villeneuve described senior citizen's projects as the most important class of housing and commended the community spirit that went into obtaining the funds for the project.

Skiing Goes Metric

Alastair Gillespie, Minister responsible for metric conversion, announced today, that Canadian sports enthusiasts will find winter a little different this year.

Mr. Gillespie, an avid skier, said that "though the snow will be the same as always, the official method of measuring its depth will change."

As of September 1st, all precipitation (rain and snow) will be forecast and recorded in the metric system.

Mr. Gillespie said he expects that snow accumulation reports will be fairly easy to grasp for most winter sports people.

"The length of our skis, for instance," said Mr. Gillespie "is measured in centimetres and most people recognize that a 30 cm base is equivalent to mid-calf on the average person."

Rain forecasts for general public consumption do not deal in specific numbers. Numbers are used only when a very significant rain fall occurs and becomes a news event, and is reported.

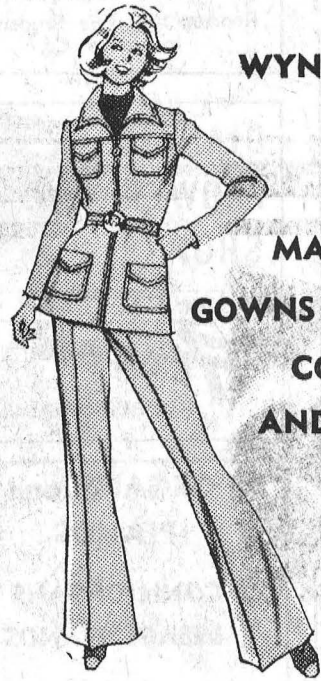

In making the statement, Mr. Gillespie concluded with the hope the "our winter will deliver as many centimetres as we require for all our endeavours, but not so much that we have to think of it in terms of metric tonnes."

U.C.W. Summer Event

"Dare to Share" was the theme of this year's Summer Event sponsored by the Montreal/Ottawa Conference United Church Women held on August 15th, 16th and 17th at the University of Ottawa. The massive, air-conditioned buildings of the University housed over 300 delegates, some from as far away as Quebec City for what proved to be a rewarding, educational and soul-searching week end.

The conference got off to a friendly start on Friday with a bus tour of Ottawa, outdoor worship in Collin's Park with Rev. John Hartley and the Klusmeiers followed by a social hour in Manotick United Church.

Principal speaker for the Event was Rev. Robert G. Lindsey, National Staff Person for Anti-Poverty programming in the United Church and non-governmental representative at the United Nations' World Food Conference in Rome in 1974. "Our competitive instinct for survival will have to give place to a spirit of co-operation as we work towards the peaceable Kingdom", he said. "It is time to repent of such heights of insanity as the sending of armaments as aid to underdeveloped countries instead of sending famine relief."

It is time countries, and multinational corporations acted with Christian responsibility, which implies the defense of the poor and the weak, who are seldom organized. Poverty is social spearation. It takes the heart out of people."

Dr. Jean Collins of Angola, presented the Sunday Church Service on the theme of the Way of Christ. Andrew Brewin, M.P. for Toronto Greenwood, also gave his impressions of the Rome Food Conference which he attended as Governmental Representative.

All the Interest Groups were all attended and much was learned shared and discussed. They included: "Dare to Share Self" with Dr. Mac Freeman, "How to Start a Bible Study with Bob and Mavis Brown, "Music" with Ron and Kriss Klusmeier, "New U.C.W. Program Ideas with Mrs. Ada Scoates, "New Ways of Worship" with Rev. John Pressey, "Political Action" with Mary Alexander, "Audio Visuals" by Delmar of Canada, "Poverty Trap Kit" with Rev. Ron Coughlin, "Voice Com-Chuck Jersch, "International Women's Year with Mary Gusella, and "Third World Problems with Claire Lowery.

Music also was a shared experience as Ron and Kriss Klusmeier were there in person to lead the singing, some of it being from their album, "Ron and Kriss Klusmeier and Friends." Another musical treat for the delegates was a worship service led by the "Pathfinders, a Gospel singing group including Bob Levere of Kemptville, Bill Hamilton and Susan Earl of Manotick, Morley Wallace, Carol Anne Wallace and Glen Wallace all of North Cower, John McNeil of Metcalfe and David Faulkner of Ottawa.

A very meaningful and beautiful Communion Service on Sunday afternoon brought the three day Event to a fitting end.

Vision and School Achievement

Anxious mothers have now prepared their children for the new school year.

Most Ontario communities demand a medical examination and a dental check-up for students returning to school. Unfortunately, there is no Ontario community which requires a professional vision examination, and yet good vision is one of the most important assets of a good student.

It has been estimated that about 80% of a child's learning is dependent upon his eyesight. Statistics show that one child in four has a visual problem. Of course each child in Ontario has a simple eye test at school, but this is not enough.

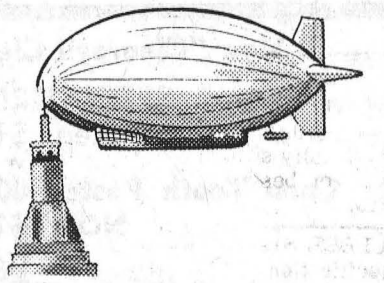

Local Couple Attend International Conference

Perry and Anna Stacey, left, of 262 Elizabeth Drive, Iroquois, recently attended as delegates the International Flying Farmer Conference at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. Perry is vice-president of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Valley chapter of Flying Farmers, and Anna is the secretary. Also representing the Chapter in Purdue were Marian and Hadley Richardson, right, of Frankford.

REPORT FROM QUEEN'S PARK
BY THE HONOURABLE DONALD R. IRVINE, M.P.P.

The Ontario Drug Benefit Program

I would like to remind my constituents that as of August 1st "all" citizens 65 years or over became eligible for the Ontario Drug Benefit Plan. Previously only those senior citizens who required financial assistance were eligible for free prescription drugs. Most seniors will receive their

Donald Irvine

Ontario Drug Card automatically by mail from the Ministry of Health.

The exceptions are:
a) Persons not eligible for the Old Age Security Cheque, (A person must have resided in Canada for 10 years to be eligible for this cheque); and
b) Persons who have resided in Ontario for the past 12 months as a Canadian citizen or a landed immigrant.

People in these two categories must apply for their Drug Card. Application forms are available at most Ontario pharmacies, or write to:
Ontario Ministry of Health, Drug Benefit, Queen's Park, Toronto.

Leave Your Pens at Home

Enjoy exhibitions and fall fairs, but leave your pens at home. That was the word today from Ontario's Consumer Minister, Sidney Handelman.

He cautioned fair-goers against signing contracts that offer "special" deals on things like encyclopedias, health spas, sewing machines, home improvements and cottages in display stands at fairs.

"People go to fairs for entertainment, so they are perhaps more vulnerable to the slick high-pressure sales pitch. They are often led into signing long-term contracts and don't realize what they've gotten into until they get home," the Minister said. "By then, it's too late."

Mr. Handelman said that the Consumer Protection Act, which gives consumers 48-hour "cooling-off period" to change their minds, applies only to door-to-door salesmen and contracts signed in the home where all the terms of the contract are not fulfilled at the time of signing.

"Fair booths are regarded as a legal place of business," the Minister explained, "so if you sign a contract there, you may not get out of it. It's a legal and binding document."

Mr. Handelman also cautioned against making large down-payments at fairs for merchandise to be delivered later.

"In some cases, you don't receive the product until the payments are completed. Often these payments can add up to more than the product is really worth, and sometimes the business folds before the merchandise is delivered," he said.

"Also it isn't a good idea to put your name on a lot of free draw tickets," the Minister warned.

"The names and addresses can be put on lists to receive junk mail or visits from salesmen."

"Have fun at the fair," Mr. Handelman concluded, "but don't get stampeded into buying costly items you can't afford or don't need."

of operations, and the Minister responsible must be prepared to answer questions in the Commons on all aspects of his Department.

This means he must invest time in being briefed on possible questions.

Many Canadians are confused by occasional references to the Privy Council. Simply put, the Privy Council comprises all federal Cabinet Ministers, past and present plus Provincial Premiers who were made members in 1967 as part of the Centennial Year observance.

The Privy Council meets only rarely on such ceremonial occasions as a visit by the Queen. The Cabinet thus could be called the working arm of the Privy Council.

However, the Privy Council office serves as a secretariat to the Cabinet. It oversees and co-ordinates the operation of departments and provides data to assist the Cabinet in its decisions.

The day-to-day work of Government is, of course, carried on by the public (civil) service. These are the men and women in the post offices, the manpower offices, in departmental headquarters in Ottawa, the field representatives of the agriculture department, and so on.

Over a period of years the Canadian Public Service has been removed from the once - pervasive influence of parties, so that most public servants obtain their jobs on the basis of ability, and retain their positions regardless of any change of the political party in power.

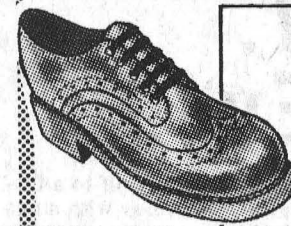

This removal of the Public Service from the sphere of politics results in the Government being able to attract more capable men and women into its service.

The senior public servants offer advice to the ministers, but the final responsibility for the policy and operations of the department rests with the Minister in charge of it.

Next Week: "Passing a Law".

Ministry of Health. Remember it is extremely important that you tell your doctor that you are eligible for drug benefit so that he can prescribe a listed free drug. When having a prescription filled under this plan for the first time, don't forget to take your drug card with you. The pharmacist will then keep your card on file. Should you move to another neighbourhood or simply want to use another pharmacist, they your drug card will be returned to you upon request.

I would also like to point out that you cannot obtain free drugs outside of Ontario. Therefore if you are planning a trip in the near future, discuss any extra supplies you might need with your doctor before going on holidays.
