C.G.I.T. group holds rally here attendance from 12 communities

More than 150 Canadian Girls in Training and their leaders met in Trinity United Church here on Saturday afternoon, November 8, for their World Friendship Rally. Groups were present from Cardinal, Chesterville, Easton's Corners, Hallville, Inkerman, Iroquois, Jasper, Roebuck, Kemptville, Mountain, Prescott and Winchester.

Mrs Allen Van Allen, secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. groups, was in charge of the rally. The meeting opened with a sing-song led by Deanna Dawson, accompanied by Betty Lou Dawson, of Winchester.

Dianne Seymour and Marilyn Thurston, Kemptville, conducted the opening worship using as their theme "The Influence of God Through the Bible."

Mrs A. Van Allen extended a welcome to all. Carolyn Durant [illegible] extended a welcome on behalf of Chesterville C.G.I.T. The roll call was answered by a member of each group telling about the highlights of their work during the past year.

Mrs John Milne, Mountain, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Jean Stewart, a former missionary in China.

After returning from China in 1951, Miss Stewart has been doing missionary work in Hamilton among the Japanese people for four years, and the past year has been serving in Gypsumville, Manitoba. At present she is on furlough and plans on going to Trinidad next year.

She told of her work in Gypsumville and showed slides of her work while serving there. She was required to take full leadership as missionary and she stressed the need for more workers. "The Church needs you and God needs you," she said. "Think about it, and I hope one of you here will give yourself to full-time church work." The speaker was thanked by Mrs K. McAllister, of Inkerman.

The Purpose was repeated, followed by the singing of the C.G.I.T. Hymn.

Mrs Trevor Thompson, Hallville, introduced the study book "Friendship Diary." Mrs A. Van Allen read a letter from Miss Ann Davidson, social welfare worker in Korea, thanking the Grenville-Dundas C.G.I.T. groups for their gift of $81 for powdered milk for Korean children, which had been sent during the past year.

Mrs Franklin Milne extended an invitation for the rally to be held in Hallville in 1959.

Games were enjoyed, conducted by Mrs Allan Hanna, Jasper.

The rally was brought to a close by forming two large friendship circles for the closing devotions conducted by Linda Barkley and Barbara Fetterly, of Iroquois, which was followed by singing the Tallis's Canon.

Lunch was served at the conclusion of the very successful rally.

FIRE RAZES BUILDING ON VAN WYLICK PROPERTY

Chesterville Volunteer Fire Brigade was summoned at noon, Tuesday to fight a fire on the Frank Van Wylick farm near here.

A small building at the southwest corner of the carriage shed was completely destroyed. Efforts of the local firemen, however, prevented the flames from consuming the adjoining buildings.

Another false alarm arouses village

Chesterville was awakened at 1.40 a.m. Thursday last by the wail of the fire siren. Answering the call, firemen discovered that it was a false alarm, the work of pranksters.

Hallowe'en night the brigade was called out twice—also the work of pranksters.

Signals

For prompt identification of the area for which there is a fire call, here are the signals:

Two: South of River.

Four: East of highway, north of river, south of tracks.

Six: West of highway, north of river and south of tracks.

Eight: North of tracks.

Three: Out of town.

Each time the fire brigade is called out it costs the town about $75; every time firemen answer a call they endanger their lives. Chesterville is proud of its fine fire brigade and every effort is being made to apprehend the false alarm specialists.

Car careens crazily around corner enlivens Main St. Tuesday afternoon

Local residents saw a chase and capture Tuesday afternoon following the general pattern of a TV horse opera. However, the ending is not a happy one.

Ernest Gauthier, of Cornwall, a traveller for Scales and Roberts, was talking to the proprietor of Hotel Chesterville, Mel Baker. He left the hotel and returned to his locked car and getting in, remembered he left some papers in the hotel. Returning a few minutes later he found that the car was gone.

Calling to a passerby, he found that his car was just going north on Main Street. Then there was a crash, followed very shortly by another crash! When the dust cleared it was found that:

The Pontiac had broken off a railway warning sign at the corner of Main and Emma streets, turned at the corner, headed up Emma St. with the sign still riding on top of the car, went along the ditch a few feet and collided with the rear end of a 1958 Chevrolet parked in front of Dr Justus' office.

The driver abandoned the Pontiac, with motor still running, and headed up the street to the Jack Fulton property where he was caught by amazed onlookers.

After Police Chief Leonard Shane got things sorted out it was established that the pilot of the Pontiac was Andrew Gauthier, 19, of Montreal, and no relation of the Pontiac's driver. The owner of the parked Chevrolet is John O. Morris, a commercial traveller from Cornwall.

Damage to the Pontiac is estimated at $400; to the Chevrolet, $100, and one warning sign will have to be replaced.

Andrew Gauthier was taken to Cornwall jail and charged with theft.

25th ANNIVERSARY

The Record joins the many friends of Mr and Mrs Maurice Tuttle, of 244 Ormond St., Brockville, in extending congratulations on their 25th wedding anniversary Monday, November 17.

Grantley W.A. meets at Carr home

The November meeting of Grantley W.A. was held at the home of Mrs Claude and Mrs Donald Carr on Wednesday afternoon, with 14 members and some visitors attending.

All expressed pleasure to see Mrs Carr looking so well after her accident and stay in hospital. She thanked the W.A. and other friends for their cards and letters.

Mrs Gordon opened the meeting with a hymn and prayer. Miss Bessie Shaver and Mrs Wilburn Robinson read the Scripture and lesson. Rev Mr Hamilton assisted in the discussion and Mrs Hamilton contributed a poem in the topic, "Sharing God's Gift."

Mrs Hesson gave the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved. An offering of $8.40 was received. Boxes of Christmas cards were distributed and plans for a social evening to be held soon were discussed. A paper on current events proved interesting.

Readings were given by Mrs Albert Winters and Mrs Glenn McMillan. Rev and Mrs Hamilton entertained with two violin and accordian duets, "Like a River Glorious" and "Sweet Hour of Prayer," which were much appreciated. A contest conducted by Mrs Albert Winters was won by Mrs Dwight Tupper.

The annual meeting and Christmas party will be at the home of Mrs Wilburn Robinson in December.

Refreshments were served and the hostesses and all who assisted were given a vote of thanks.

Police Chief Shane given busy time

Police Chief Shane had a busy time here last weekend. He was called on to investigate the following misdemeanors:

Between Thursday evening and Friday morning, supply tanks belonging to Jack MacMillan, Texaco dristributor here, were forced open by breaking the lock and chain. Because of a new shipment it can't be ascertained what amount was taken, if any.

Chesterville Public School was entered Saturday morning by forcing a rear door. A small amount of pencils, paper, etc., was taken. A few acts of vandalism were also evident.

Saturday night a local resident was taken to Cornwall jail charged with theft of batteries from Winchester Motors.

OPINIONS . . . OURS AND OTHERS

If you drive, watch your points

November 1 marked the inauguration of a new system calculated to curb accidents on Ontario highways, says The Glengarry News. The demerit points system is now in effect and if it proves as effective as officials hope, it could be helpful in removing the hazard of irresponsible drivers from our highways.

The demerit scheme provides that points will be chalked up against traffic violators in accordance with the gravity of the offence. With the new system, drivers will be alloted so many points and if they commit traffic offences, points will be deducted from the total. In other words, too many offences will cost the motorists a few points and if he loses too many points he will lose his licence.

There have been many pros and cons to the new system but Inspector J. W. Reavley of OPP district 11 headquarters is all for the point system.

"It is something we should have had in Ontario long ago," said Inspector Reavley. "It will be a great help to us in cutting down on the shocking number of accidents."

He added that the system was both "tough and easy to take." "The motorist will be warned by letter and if he heeds the warnings everything will be rosy, but if he doesn't . . ."

The demerit scheme provides that points will be chalked up against traffic violators in accordance with the gravity of their offence. For instance: For exceeding the speed limit by 10 miles an hour or less, two points are registered. Failing to yield the right-of-way, improper passing, failing to obey a stop-sign or signal and failing to report an accident will cost three points. Five points are marked against for exceeding the speed limit by more than 10 miles an hour and for careless driving on conviction. Leaving the scene of an accident brings nine points.

The maximum debit of 12 points is recorded against a driver who: is convicted of criminal negligence in the use of a motor vehicle; is convicted of motor manslaughter; or driving while intoxicated or impaired; obtaining a driver's licence by fraud or driving while under suspension.

Six demerit points will bring the driver a warning letter; nine points will make him subject to be called in for a hearing with the possibility of suspension or being placed on probation. Twelve points means automatic suspension of his driver's licence.

After the lapse of two years from the date of his conviction all points assessed against a driver's record for that conviction will be deducted from his total.

We think this plan has merit and that it could result in a big drop in our shocking traffic accident rate. It should serve to weed out the irresponsible drivers among us. And until that is done there can be no expectation of cutting the accident toll. We have long argued that driving should be a privilege accorded only to those who prove themselves responsible; not a licence open to anyone having the $100 to buy a jalopy.

The demerit points system will prove workable only as our police forces, and the courts, measure up to the big task of policing the highways, and sideroads, and city streets. There must be no fear or favour shown in chalking up points for violations, and in applying the automatic suspension. Otherwise public opinion will soon demand some other plan.

This plan apparently puts it up squarely to the police. And what a blessed relief it could be to our MPPs if this demerit system means that no longer will they be allowed to meddle in traffic cases. Much of the traffic problem, we think, stems from the fact that too much of the time of our Members in the Legislature has been taken up in "fixing" traffic violations.

Any police force, to be effective, must be entirely free of politics and politicians.

Kabul's Soviet-sponsored bakery

A year ago a large bakery was erected in the Afghanistan city of Kabul. It was part of a Russian aid program and foreign visitors report that it functions very well.

Unfortunately, states the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder, the bread is apparently more highly regarded by foreign travellers than Afghans. The people are more accustomed to eat a hard, round loaf called "nan" instead of ordinary bread as we know it, or as the term is understood in Europe.

The supplies of flour are being diverted to the new bakery and native bakeries are said to be closing. The bakers and sellers of native bread are said to be unemployed.

Meanwhile the people are said to eat the crust of the new bread and discard the centre. It's all a matter of taste. But if reports are true, the waste must be serious.

Probably if the experiment is continued long enough, people in Kabul will learn to like European bread and the more efficient bakery will become an asset, regardless of whether it is Russian in origin or any other consideration.

In the meantime, the report from Kabul, if it is 100 per cent true, indicates the difficulty and trouble involved in changing food habits. It also indicates the folly of well-intentioned relief and improvement programs that don't fit in with local needs and customs. Errors in this respect have not been confined to Kabul, nor to Russian programs.

BABY BEES DELICIOUS —SAY RESEARCHERS

For those who care, university researchers at Edmonton have glad tidings: Deep fried unborn baby bees are delicious, with a sort of crisp, nutty flavour.

Wrapped up in a project to test the nutritional value of bee brood, University if Alberta enomologists have become convinced, as a sideline, that they could improve on the commercial brood now selling for as much as $2 for a tiny 3½-oz. tin of the bee larvae and pupae.

The project was started by Dr Brian Hocking, head of the entomology department, and is being carried on by Fumio Matsumara, 24, a graduate student from Japan working toward his master's degree on a World University Service scholarship.

To make a taste test, the entomology department had some baby bees cooked by the university household economics department. Staff members sampled the outcome. Their recorded comments included:

"It might be used as a sandwich filling . . . in fritters . . . scrambled eggs . . . in omelets."

"Nutty in flavour and crisp in texture. Psychologically lacking in appeal. I would prefer not to have it as food."

Dr Hocking, who doesn't hesitate to eat bee larvae himself, says it was surprisingly easy to persuade testers to volunteer their services to science.

J. W. Edmunds, provincial government apiarist, was enthusiastic:

"The flavour was difficult to describe," he reported. "That is understandable; have you ever tried to describe the delicate flavour of caviar, fried shrimp, or chicken livers? . . . Deep fat fried bee brood is no less delectable than any one of these."

Dr Hocking notes that at the present price on supermarket shelves, bee brood could bring about $8 a pound, or $16,000 a ton. Alberta beekeepers throw away about 20 tons a year, and that adds up to $320,000.

In his studies, Mr Matsumara has determined that the brood contains 65 per cent protein, about the same as beefsteak. In vitamin A and D content, it is ahead of beefsteak.

Dr Hocking was asked why he started the project. Said he: "It must be my Scottish nature. I don't like to see so much food going to waste."

UNHAPPY ENDING

The cinder pile on Boblock Avenue, Toronto, was 50 feet high when board of control succumbed to residents' complaints and expropriated the offending lot for $16,500.

Happily, the housewives, plagued by cinder-soiled washing, furniture and children, watched the cinders trucked away.

Aghast, they watched more city trucks roll up to deposit rock salt until there was a 20-foot white pile replacing the old black one.

Explained city officials: The stockpiled salt is for street snow clearance. It will be gone by March.

FRENDLEE FARM CHATS

By Lillian Allison

I'm sure the people on our party line are glad that November 10th is past. Surely I won't be using the telephone all the time now. November 10th was our church supper and I was one of the committee to make the arrangements for it.

Planning a big turkey dinner is something I've always feared like smallpox. I've told myself I could never live through it. I thought I'd wake up in the middle of the night and think of the things I'd forgotten to do. I'd have nightmares of hundreds of people waiting to eat after we'd run out of potatoes. So it was hardly a thrill when the president read my name as one of the committee to plan the supper.

We met about a month ago to make our arrangements. Ordinarily that meeting would have been quite a headache. How much turkey do you order? I'm sure we'd have had quite a problem if our president and secretary hadn't attended that meeting too. They're veterans of such affairs and could tell us to the pound how much of everything we would require. It was like sitting beside the teacher on examination day.

As usual we had a canvass of church ladies and asked them to contribute food or money. When the results of the canvass came in it seemed at first glance that too many people preferred to give dollars rather than pies. What would we do, we wondered, if we had too much money and not enough food? Then we totalled the figures. There were exactly enough pies, salads and doughnuts promised and a lot of money besides. It was amazing.

Then we began the phone calls. We talked to each other. We asked women to roast turkeys. We asked for women and girls to help serve—45 or so of them. And in order to get that many we did a lot of telephoning for many had perfectly good reasons for not being able to help. Then people kept phoning back their problems too.

Finally November 10th arrived. We had asked W.A. members to come to the church at two o'clock to set tables, peel potatoes, etc. I arrived soon after one. No one would have guessed that a supper would be served there that evening. Everything was exactly as usual. Suddenly the place was humming with activity. Women appeared from nowhere, donned aprons and pitched in. No one gave directions but all found something useful to do. Miraculously, the big room was transformed from a meeting place to a real dining room with white tablecloths and places for 135 people. Women peeled potatoes and turnips until they must have seen them in their sleep. Others made extra dressing. Turkeys arrived from the butcher shops to be carved. Soon tempting aromas drifted through the air. Pies and salads and doughnuts were being brought in.

At 3.30 a delegation of C.G.I.T. girls and their leaders moved in to arrange table centres and patriotic decorations. By four o'clock most of the original crew had gone home and others were arriving to begin their evening jobs. Soon after five the first shift of waitresses came; the men came to sell tickets; the people came to eat.

At 5.30 we invited our guests to come to dinner. All the tables were filled. At 6.30 they filled the tables again and a second shift of waitresses took over. More people followed at 7.15.

By nine o'clock the work was completed. The dishes were back to place and everything finished except the sweeping, etc., that the caretaker does. We sort of took stock. There were some potatoes that hadn't been disposed of but the pies, doughnuts, etc., had been sold. I'd sold the turkey myself. "We certainly judged the turkey correctly," I told someone proudly. "There were only 5 pounds left and that was just bits."

Early next morning, however, we were somewhat deflated. The butcher phoned. He had found a whole, cooked turkey in the refrigerator that hadn't been delivered to us. Our worries weren't over. What does one do with a whole, cooked, left-over turkey?

New books for local library

The following books have been add to Chesterville Library shelves:

"White Eagles over Serbia," Laurence Durrell; "Beyond My Worth," Lillian Roth; "The Ship Busters," Ralph Barker; "Beyond the Great Slave Lake," Tom Lodge; "The Diamond Smugglers," Ian Flemming; "Come North With Me," Bernt Balchen.

The Hardy Boys series: "The Clue of the Broken Blade," "While the Clock Ticked," "The Space Pioneers" and "The Mark on the Door."

Nancy Drew mystery stories: "The Secret of the Old Clock," "The Clue in the Diary," "The Quest of the Missing Map."

Six new books have been purchased for the young readers.

UP HIS SLEEVE

Twelve-year-old James Showers had something up his sleeve. He kept it there for three weeks.

The secret came out at dinner at a boys' boarding school at Oxford, Eng., with the crackling sound of a breaking eggshell.

"Excuse me, sir," said Ja[illegible] to a surprised master, "I think my egg's hatching."

He slipped off his shirt and jacket and carefully removed a duck's egg taped under his armpit.

Then he watched with something like parental pride as a duckling pushed its way through the shell for a first beady-eyed look at the world.

The story has a sad ending. The duckling died after five days.

HANDICAP

Miss Martha Krodel, St. Louis, is starting a teaching career despite a severe handicap. She's allergic to chalk.

The pretty 21-year-old teacher said her neck breaks out when there is chalk dust in the air. A doctor traced the cause.

She is going to stand in the back of the room when students are writing on the blackboard or erasing it.

W.M.S. Eastern Sectional Rally held at Colquhoun interesting speakers discuss problems of the Church

The Eastern Sectional Rally of the Woman's Missionary Society was held in the United Church at Colquhoun on Wednesday, November 5. Mrs Fennell presided.

After Doxology, the worship service was conducted by Elma Auxiliary, using the theme for the day, "Know Thy Neighbour." Mrs Robert Colquhoun welcomed the guests.

The minutes were read and business conducted. Mrs Coulthart was appointed secretary for another year, with the courtesy committee to be from Elma and Morewood. Mrs K. A. Blancher was appointed press secretary.

The guests were introduced: Miss Jean Stewart, guest speaker; Mrs J. Milne, Presbyterial president, and Mrs H. VanAllen, Conference branch president.

A skit was presented by Winchester Springs Auxiliary, bringing out the idea of calling on the sick, shut-ins and new Canadians, leaving reading material and an invitation to attend meetings.

Mrs W. S. L. Merrill gave her report of Missionary Monthly and World Friends magazines.

Miss Ellice Smith gave a review of the books for the year. The offering was taken by Williamsburg W.M.S. and dedicated by Mrs Locke.

Mrs Milne introduced the guest speaker, Miss Jean Stewart, who had been a missionary in China for 18 years. Forced to leave China, Miss Stewart became a port worker in Montreal and Hamilton. Next year she is to be sent to Trinidad.

Miss Stewart spoke in the morning of work in Hamilton at the Church of All Nations, showing how different groups were assimilated into the activities of the church.

Mrs VanAllen, president of the Conference branch, spoke on Christian concerns of the Missionary Society, comparing the growth of the work of the church to the building of a house—entered by the porch of prayer through which all entered and dedicated their lives to Christian service. Lunch was served in the church hall at the close of the morning session.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session was opened by a worship service in charge of Harmony Auxiliary on the theme "Know Thy Neighbour." Sixty-six persons answered roll call, followed by a business discussion. Elma Auxiliary gave an invitation for the Sectional next fall.

Mrs Dalton Larmour gave a very interesting report of the school for leaders held in August at MacCauley Camp. Mrs Van Allan gave a report from the Dominion Board.

Miss Jean Stewart gave an address on her work at Jipsonville, 18 miles north of Winnipeg, where the United Church carries on work among pupils of Ukrainian descent. Miss Ellice Smith gave a book review.

After the offering, reports were given by the Presbyterial secretaries: Mrs Forward, for Mission Circles; Mrs McPherson, Community Friendship, and Mrs Durant for Explorer groups.

Mrs Milne conducted the question period, with some important questions being discussed. Two ladies from Elma and Morewood gave a report of the courtesy committee.

The meeting was brought to a close by the Presbyterial president, Mrs Milne.

Australia's maximum length East to West is 2,400 miles.

DISCOURAGING

"The speed on country roads will be a secret, and the penalty for every mile in excess will be $10."

This was one of the "Rules of the Road" which governed traffic in Colorada nearly a half-century ago, largely due to the activities of the Farmers' Anti-Automobile League.

Other rules in 1912 included: "Autos running in country roads at night must send up a skyrocket every 150 yards, wait eight minutes for the road ahead to clear, and then proceed with caution, blowing the horn (or ringing a bell) and shooting Roman candles.

"In event the road is being used by a horse and said horse refuses to pass said horseless carriage, the driver of the auto will dismantle it as quickly as possible and hide it from view in foliage along the road."

Mrs Ernest Montgomery new president of Finch W.I.

The regular meeting of Finch Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs James MacMillan, with 22 members and visitors present. District director Mrs Donald Casselman acted as chairman.

Mrs Robert Smith, secretary, read a letter of resignation from Mrs G. MacLean, president, who has moved to Toronto. This was accepted with regret.

Mrs Ernest Montgomery, the new president, was welcomed to the chair. Roll call for the meeting was a verse for Remembrance Day and the motto was "Health is wealth; let no one be a spendthrift."

Mrs Smith gave a splendid report as delegate to the Ottawa Area convention.

The president introduced the district president, Mrs Walter Smirle, Berwick, who gave an inspiring and informative address. She was thanked by the secretary.

Mrs Alex Rutley, Berwick, displayed a beautiful book of quilt blocks made by Berwick Institute for which they received second prize at Ottawa Area Convention. Anyone wishing to join with Berwick in the club, "The Third Meal," is asked to send in her name to the secretary at once. A contest was won by Mrs Peter Shaver.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs Blake Nephew to Mrs MacMillan and the hostesses, Mrs Edgar MacLean, Mrs Basil Crawford and Mrs Ewart Neville.

In the animal world such a society frowns on cats. So pussy has retired to stretch her sea legs on the kitchen stoop and window sill, and blink in the sun.

Trinity United W.A. makes plans for turkey supper

Plans for the turkey supper were completed at the recent meeting of Trinity United Woman's Association which was held in the dining room of the church. Mrs A. E. Jarvis, president, conducted the meeting, assisted by Mrs D. McElheran, secretary.

The supper committee, Mrs Eric Casselman, Mrs Harry Allison and Mrs Donald Cross gave the report of the canvass.

During the business period Mrs Lyle Marcellus was chosen to lay the wreath at the cenotaph on Remembrance Sunday and the C.G.I.T. was asked to decorate the church for the Remembrance Service. It was desided to send a $10 Christmas package to CARE.

The December meeting will be in charge of Mrs Graham Durant. It will be the Christmas meeting, with a gift exchange.

Mrs Howard Kittle, Mrs H. E. Merkley and Mrs Wm. Hamilton were named to be the committee to arrange for the catering at the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs W. O. Dixon.

The president announced that the generous gift of $500 had been received to be credited to the W.A.'s carpet fund. The treasurer, Mrs Foster Bowman, reported that fund at $1,279 and the general fund at $926.

Mrs H. E. Merkley reported for the visiting committee and Mrs Howard Kittle, corresponding secretary, gave her report.

The worship service was conducted by the convener, Mrs Dalton Docksteader. Mrs Eric Casselman accompanied the hymns and Mrs A. E. Smith read the scripture. Mrs Frank Darling read the meditation and prayer.

Mrs Docksteader gave an interesting paper on the theme "Stones of Remembrance." She mentioned different memorial stones erected through the years in memory of those who had paid the supreme sacrifice with special emphasis on Canada's memorial, the Peace Tower, and Chesterville's own cenotaph.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs Docksteader and her committee, Mrs Geo. Merkley, Mrs Erwin Merkley, Mrs Wm. Fetterly, Mrs Fay Shaver, Mrs M. E. Johnston, Mrs A. E. Smith, Miss Frances Merkley, Mrs W. Edgerton, Mrs Geo. Cunningham and Mrs Frank Darling.

OUR APPRECIATION

We approached the problem of remodelling the front of our store with many doubts. The idea of having to leave the whole street side almost open and unprotected for several weeks seemed to be inviting trouble.

Thanks to you, the people of Chesterville and district, our store was not molested in any way all that time. We are very grateful to everyone for their appreciation of our problem and again we wish to express our thanks.

Watch for the grand opening of our new store very soon.

Burial took place in the family plot in the parish cemetery.

Pall bearers were Rolland Patenaude, Richard Wert, Walter Beehler, Miles Johnson, Alex McLeod and Joseph Milroy.

A very large number of friends called from distant points to offer their sympathy to the bereaved family.

UNEMPLOYED CATS

Unemployment threatens seafaring cats in Britain these days. This is because science has taken over the problem of controlling the rat population.

In a ship's pet department, birds have taken over from the friendly pussy cat. According to the British national union of seamen, most ships today have a large number of canaries, budgies and tropical birds aboard.

...so both are building up bank accounts

Nowadays, practically everybody has a bank account.
Last year alone, forward-looking Canadians opened 450,000 new deposit accounts in the chartered banks—almost as many as the increase in population.
The owners of today's 11 million accounts know a bank is the safe, convenient, pleasant place to build up funds for every need and purpose.

They know, too, that in a chartered bank you deal with skilled, friendly people, ready to help with all your banking.

Dundas 4-H Clubs win group championship at Winter Fair

In the tremendous 4-H Calf Championship Show at Ottawa Winter Fair, the South Mountain and Brinston 4-H Calf Club of Dundas County won the coveted group championship for the best three Holstein calves from one 4-H Club.

Agricultural representative Ed Pearson reports that the winning club members were Terris Henderson, Brinston; Ralph Fawcett, Winchester, and Alan Fawcett, Winchester. In winning the award their calves defeated 67 club entries from 14 counties in Eastern Ontario. Each of the three calves had previously placed in the first prize group in the individual calf show and Ralph Fawcett had the winning calf and was also top showman for his district group of four counties.

Three top calves of each breed from each 4-H Club in each county are eligible to show at the Winter Fair and the entry of dairy calves totalled 375. Eligible 4-H members are given free accommodation and meals while at the show by the Ottawa Winter Fair. Twenty-six members of Dundas 4-H Clubs participated in the event.

OLD STORY WITH A NEW TWIST

There's an old story about a lost Indian who told his rescuers: "Indian not lost. Wigwam lost."

It had something of a true life sequel at Port Arthur recently when a party of three moose hunters found their hunting camp was "lost."

The men had arranged with the owner of a small portable cabin some time ago to use the cabin for a hunting base.

On the first morning they shot a moose, dressed it and stored it in the cabin.

They left to look for another.

Late that afternoon they returned to the spot.

There was no cabin, no moose and no sign of their gear.

Circling to make sure they had the right location, they noticed fresh marks of a tractor.

They caught up with it hours later, hauling the cabin, and learned the man who owned the cabin had sold it, forgetting it was to be used.

The hunters had one lucky break. They found the tractor on the highway, saving them a five-mile trip to pack the moose and gear out of the bush.

A FINE TICKET

A Miami traffic policeman lined up eight motorists and started writing tickets for failure to heed a stop sign.

Seven accepted the tickets, saying they hadn't seen the sign. The eighth said: "Show me the stop sign and I'll accept the ticket."

"So you can't see a big red sign on a tall green pole?" asked the officer. "Come on."

They walked back to the intersection but there was no stop sign.

"Somebody must have stolen it," said the red faced officer as he tore up the ticket.

"SHE CAN BAKE A PUMPKIN PIE"

I know the song didn't say she can make a pumpkin pie, but a cherry pie. However, this isn't the season for cherry pies so let us concentrate on pies that are in season.

PUMPKIN PIE

1 cup cooked or canned pumpkin
¾ cup brown sugar
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. ginger
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. cloves
2 slightly beaten eggs
1 cup milk

Combine pumpkin, sugar, salt and spices. Add eggs and milk; blend. Pour into 9-inch pastry lined pie pan. Bake until mixture does not adhere to knife.

Cranberry Pie

Most people call this pie "Mock Cherry," but I think it is too good to suggest that it is not the real thing, so I always say "Cranberry Pie."

1 cup cranberries
½ cup seeded raisins
¾ cup sugar
1 tbsp. flour
1 tsp. almond extract
1 tsp. butter

Line a pie tin with pastry. Fill with cranberries, washed and cut in halves, mixed with chopped raisins. Sprinkle with mixture of sugar and flour, add almond extract, dot with butter. Cover with a second crust and bake in a hot oven for about 40 minutes.

Mexican Date Pie

1 cup sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup sweet cream or milk
Chopped dates

Line a pie tin with pastry and in the bottom place a layer of chopped dates. Mix sugar, eggs and milk and pour over the dates in the pie tin and bake until the custard has set. When cool, top with a meringue and brown in a very slow oven.

Raisin Pie

2 cups raisins
1 cup brown sugar
2 cups water
½ tsp. salt
2 tbsps. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
2 tbsps. cornstarch

Mix raisins, sugar, salt and 1¼ cups water. Add cornstarch mixed with remaining ¼ cup of water. Cook till thickened and there is no taste of raw starch. Add butter. Cool slightly and pour into pastry-filled pie pan. Cover with a criss-cross crust and bake in a hot oven.

Lemon Angel Pie

4 eggs
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup fresh or frozen lemon juice
1 tbsp. butter

REMOVING STAINS REQUIRES PATIENCE

Removing greasy stains successfully from washable frabrics with special finishes calls for extra time and care. On cottons, rayons and linens finished for crease resistance, crispness and sheen, or decorative effects grease spots are more stubborn than on unfinished fabric.

One way to remove such spots is to work soap or a liquid dishwashing detergent thoroughly into the stain, and then rinse it out with hot water. Repeat this treatment if necessary before the garment goes into the regular wash. This method is recommended by Thelma Baierl, extension clothing specialist at North Dakota Agricultural College.

Another way is to sponge the spot well with ordinary cleaning fluid and let the fluid evoparate before laundering. This treatment also may need repeating.

Here's how to apply cleaning fluid: "Blace the stained area, face down, on a pad of absorbent cloth or other absorbent material and sponge with a soft cloth or pad of cotton very lightly dampened with fluid. It is better to sponge several times with a small amount of fluid than to use too much fluid at one application. Work lightly, rapidly from the outside of the spot to the centre, "feathering out" the fluid around the stain. Finally, rub lightly with a dry cloth to absorb any excess fluid. Then, place the fabric on a dry absorbent pad and rub briskly with the palm of the hand in the direction of weave.

"If the fluid happens to leave a ring, work detergent into the fabric before putting into the regular wash."

Caution needs to be used when working with cleaning fluids. The fumes of the usual cleaning fluids are toxic, so have plenty of ventilation when using them. And, be sure the cleaning fluid is not flammable.

WRONG NUMBER

Police say William L. Miles picked a name out of the telephone book at random, dialed and offered to sell the woman who answered a lucky number for $10.

Mrs Nellie Baldwin told Miles to come on over and pick up his money.

When Miles got to her house, she arrested him. Mrs Baldwin is a Deroit policewoman.

Miles was given a suspended sentence on charges of engaging in an illegal occupation.

Johnston–McMillan

St. Luke's Presbyterian Manse, Finch, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Bonnie Ethelle McMillan, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Lyle McMillan, Kingston, and Basil Bert Johnston, son of Mr and Mrs George F. Johnston, of Chesterville. Rev Douglas Fry, Chesterville, performed the ceremony, in the presence of the immediate families.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white imported Chantilly lace over satin. The gown was styled with long lily-pointed sleeves, Sabrina neckline with opalescent sequins, and seed pearls embroidered on the bodice. The tiny waist accentuated the full bouffant skirt. A waist-length veil of silk illusion net was held in place by a matching headdress. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Eleanor Peters, Kingston, was bridesmaid. She wore a ballerina-length gown of emerald-gold crystalette over taffeta with scooped neckline, princess lines, and floating back panel topped with a large bow. She wore matching gloves and carried a bouquet of golden 'mums.

Mr Bennett Johnston, Cornwall, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs McMillan, mother of the bride, wore a Capri-blue brocaded dress with matching bolero and navy accessories with a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs Johnston, mother of the groom, wore a rose-beige dress of ticatina crepe, trimmed with self-colour embroidery, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held in the Legion Hall, Chesterville, for 65 guests. Rev Douglas Fry proposed the toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom, followed by a few words from the bride's grandfather, Mr Lloyd McMillan. The bride and bridesmaids then presented their bouquets to the bride's grandmothers, Mrs Lloyd McMillan, Finch, and Mrs Thomas Smirle, Barrie, Ont.

For a trip to Western Ontario, the bride chose a rust-coloured bolero dress of fine cotton having a polka-dot contour belt and full skirt.

Mr and Mrs Johnston will reside at Chesterville.

Mrs Robert Waldroff

Mrs Robert J. Waldroff died at her home, Sandtown, on Tuesday, November 4. She was in her 76th year.

She leaves to mourn her passing, five sons, Tyrell and Earl, at home; Carl, of Finch; Howard, of Trenton, and Ernie, Ottawa; three grandchildren; one brother, Linden Armstrong, and one sister, Miss Effie Armstrong, Roxborough Township.

The funeral was held at her residence on Thursday afternoon with Rev C. E. Wright, of Ingleside Baptist Church, conducting the service. Burial was in Sandtown Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Frank Brownell, Ralph Winters, Albert Winters, Harold Winters, Roy Shaver and Edward Gillard. Flower bearers were Charlie Bush, Geo. Hehir, Ross Scott and Bert Winters.

Mrs L. N. Helmer

Mrs Margaret Jane Helmer, of 332 Burland Ave., Ottawa, died Thursday in hospital after a short illness. She was the widow of Leslie N. Helmer.

Mrs Helmer was born and educated at Berwick. She was a daughter of the late Alexander McKillop and Christina McDermid McKillop.

She was married in Berwick in 1898 and went to Ottawa in 1909. Mr Helmer died in 1925.

Mrs Helmer was a member of Stewarton United Church and the Women's Missionary Society of the church. She was a member of Lorraine Chapter 44, Order of the Eastern Star.
