The Late Frank A. Weegar.

The death on Sunday morning last of Frank A. Weegar removed a business man of long standing in Morrisburg as well as one of our best known and popular citizens. The deceased had long been a sufferer from Bright's disease and his demise was expected for some time past.

Mr. Weegar who was 43 years had successfully conducted a general store and livery for about twenty years succeeding to the business started forty-five years previously by his father the late Barney Weegar. All the time the business had been conducted at the same stand.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Main street on Tuesday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. H. Cameron assisted by the Rev. Thos. McAmmond and was largely attended. The remains were interred in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his wife and one sister and three brothers viz.: Mrs. W. J. Boyd and Mr. R. H. Weegar of Smith Falls who came down to attend the funeral and Messrs Harry and C. J. Weegar of Morrisburg.—Herald

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I cou'd only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

Board Of Health Meeting.

A meeting of the Local Board of Health for the Village of Chesterville was held in the town hall on Saturday evening.

Members present—W. Hamilton, Isaac Garrow, P. D. Grady, G. H. Ellis and T. T. Shaw.

Minutes of previous meeting read and adopted.

Dr. W. A. Brown, Medical Health Officer, was present and submitted the following report to the board:—

To the members of the Board of Health.

Gentlemen,—I beg leave to report that under your instructions I have investigated the condition of some of the cellars drained by Main Street Sewer, and with the exception of one, Mr. J. G. Tate, all the different householders visited claimed that they had never noticed any smell in their cellars from the drain. This I found rather surprising as with one exception, these cellar drains were not furnished with traps. In one case the cellar drain was placed four or five inches above the cellar floor so that it was not properly drained.

Everyone however, complained of the bad smell from the man-holes and from the river.

With regard to the Condensing Factory I find that nothing objectionable or detrimental to health is drained from there. The only question that might arise there, is whether there is sufficient carrying capacity in the sewer for the water from there in flood time.

As the delivery pipe is only four inches in diam, and the sewer six inches, the sewer will be filled less than one half by the water from the condensing factory, under ordinary circumstances.

The daily flushing out of the sewer by the emptying of the two large tanks cannot but be beneficial. However, if there is any doubt upon this question the advice of an engineer might be sought.

It is the duty of the Village Council to clean out the man-holes and keep them clean. So far as I can find out this has never been done, and they are now in a very filthy state.

The river, running through the centre of the Village is in a horrible condition. It is nothing but one large cess-pool and the breathing of the noxious and molodorous gases which form there, must be greatly detrimental to the health of those living anywhere near it. It is in a condition which should not be tolerated for another day.

To put everything in a sanitary condition I would recommend:

First—A thorough cleaning out and disinfecting of all the manholes.

Secondly—the installing of traps in all the house drains.

Thirdly—cutting out all closets which empty in the sewer, into the river, or on its banks.

Fourthly—that where hotels, churches or private persons have in use a flushing water-closet system, they be compelled to build cess-pools or septic tanks on their own premises with high ventilating shafts With the double septic tank their overflow might be allowed to drain into the sewers without danger.

Lastly—in my opinion the only way in which the river can be put into anything like a sanitary condition, is to dig a trench say 10 ft wide and 3 or 4 ft deep through the centre of the river from Isaac Garrows to below the rapids at J. C. Casselman's, at the same time levelling the bed of the river as much as possible, and digging leaders to the main trench from the deeper pools if they cannot be filled.

Such a trench should not be a very costly affair.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. A. BROWN,
M. H. O.

Chesterville, Sept. 17th, 1910.

It was moved by P. D. Grady, seconded by Isaac Garrow, that after hearing the report of the medical Health Officer on the condition of the Main Street sewer and the emptying of water-closets in the same, and on the banks of the river, we deem it advisable that the Municipal Council of the Village of Chesterville be requested to enforce the by-laws regarding the same in every particular--Carried.

The board then adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

LAWYERS IN GERMANY.

No Other Country In World Where They Enjoy Greater Confidence.

The German law fixes the exact fees which a German attorney has to claim for all kinds of professional work and the rechtsanwalt, or lawyer, can charge neither more nor less. These fees apply to all matters of the civil code and of criminal cases. The amount depends exclusively on the value of the object of contention.

It is an old though still unfulfilled wish of German lawyers to have a new fixed list of fees—not made after the old and low standard of the year 1878, but made with consideration to the changes which have taken place since that year.

The rechtsanwalt is attorney and counselor at law all in one (in England solicitor and barrister). The rechtsanwalt can never be a business man as is the case in the Anglo-Saxon nations. The exercise of the law is not to be considered a calling or profession, but is to be looked on more as a public office. According to the lawyers' code of the list of July, 1878, lawyers are charged publicly with certain duties. He is obliged to have his residence in the town or district where he is appointed (so called residence duty). Further, he must conduct himself in and out of office in a way befitting his professional and social standing. Thus a lawyer is forbidden to advertise in newspapers, by canvassing, etc., or to buy or take over a practice already made, as being unworthy of his calling.

His position in society is between officials and scholars and through custom and law he is compelled to keep the position to the last degree. This compulsion to keep one's rank has given rise to the existence of committees called anwaltskammern, whose duty it is to keep a strict watch that no lawyer dishonors his calling. These committees have a strict code of punishment, ranging to complete expulsion from office. In this way the lawyers in Germany have a good and honored position; in fact there is scarcely a country in which the lawyer enjoys more respect and confidence.

Birds' Eggs Too Much For Science.

It is not often that science acknowledges herself at fault in an apparently simple matter, but she frankly does so in regard to the color and marking of a large proportion of birds' eggs. A reason there must be for their infinite diversity; it cannot be an aesthetic one, and all we can say with any confidence is that the ever pervading instinct of distrust is probably exhibited in eggshells as in more important things, and the main idea in their scheme of coloration has been the securing of safety from many enemies by harmonizing them with their surroundings. But it is a scheme full of perplexing exceptions, which any one can study for himself.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Iceland's Hot Springs.

The hot springs in Reykjadal, though not the most magnificent, are perhaps the most curious among the numerous phenomena of this sort in Iceland. On entering the valley you see columns of vapor ascending from different parts of it. There are a number of apertures in a sort of platform of rock. The water is 212 degrees F., and it rises two or three feet into the air. A river flows through the valley, in the midst of which a jet of boiling water issues with violence from a rock raised but a few feet above the ice cold water of the river. Not far from this is the grotto or cave of Surt, which is so large that no one has penetrated to its inner end.

Mystery of the Sargasso Sea.

No steamship could ever penetrate the Sargasso Sea, that floating continent of yellow weeds, almost as large as the United States, lying in the middle Atlantic. The tangling weed would choke its propeller and make it useless. The skipper of any sailing craft who runs his prow into this thick web of weed through any of the mischances of navigation is fortunate indeed if he escapes quickly. The Sargasso Sea is baffling. It is not solid enough to walk upon nor liquid enough to permit the navigation of a boat. Whoever falls into it is drowned forthwith. The clinging weed grasps and holds and makes the stoutest swimmer powerless.

A Printer's Blunder.

A Paris newspaper on one occasion made a blunder which excited no small amount of merriment at the expense of a man of real talent. The following paragraphs, intended to have been printed separately, were by some error so arranged that they were read consecutively: "Dr. X. has been appointed head physician to the Hospital de la Charite. Orders have been issued by the authorities for the immediate extension of the cemetery at Mont Parnasse. The works are being executed with the utmost dispatch."

The Lucky Party.

A gentleman was complimenting a pretty young lady in the presence of his wife.

"It's lucky I did not meet Miss Hopkins before I married you, my dear."

"Well, yes; it is extremely—for her," was the rejoinder.

On the Verge.

A woman and her daughter were at sea during rough weather. After a silence of some time the mother asked, "Are you seasick, dear?"

"No, I think not," replied the daughter, "but I'd hate to yawn."

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

LOOK DEEPER.

Do you judge a man and brother
By the whiskers he may wear?
Though they straggle down the center
Or come neatly in a pair,
Nature furnished the adornment,
So it hardly is a sin
If he choose to use the spinach
As adornment for his chin.

Though he has a bunch of fodder
Running round from ear to ear
As a nesting place for microbes,
Who in peace their young may rear,
He may be a man of learning,
And behind his facial fence
May be hidden stores of knowledge
And a lot of common sense.

If he wears them thin and jaunty,
Soft lace curtains on the side,
Making pets of them and showing
They are both his joy and pride,
Do not push him from you rudely
With a sort of mental shove,
Men of sympathetic natures
Must have something they can love.

Then be gentle in your judging,
Have not in your heart to kill
Fellows who prefer to wear them
And to beat the barber's bill,
For the owner may regard them
As a work of classic art,
And in spite of all appearance
He may have a noble heart.

Foreign.

"Why don't you ask me an intelligent question occasionally?"

"Who, me?"

"Yes, you."

"I hope I have good manners."

"What has that to do with it?"

"It is impolite to speak in an unknown tongue when you are in company."

Fortunate.

"She is a natural fool."

"Is she?"

"She is."

"That's not so bad."

"Isn't it?"

"No; it might be worse."

"How worse?"

"She might be an artificial one."

Vain Creatures.

"Men are so easily flattered."

"Yes, but it is hard to keep them in that condition."

"Is it?"

"Yes."

"Why?"

"You have to change the brand so often."

Critical.

"I am feeling just fine."

"Are you?"

"Yes."

"I didn't think you were."

"Why?"

"Because your work is so coarse."

Good Material.

"Why do men make fun of women?"

"Why?"

"Yes."

"They couldn't find anything better to make fun of, could they?"

Any Connection?

"You haven't called on us lately."

"No."

"My daughter plays the piano."

"I have heard her."

The Drawback.

A man may rise and soar away
As light as eider down,
And lucky, too, if he does not
Get sore as he comes down.

His Function.

"You have a number of beaus, I hear."

"Yes, I have plenty."

"But John is your favorite?"

"Yes; he is the main squeeze."

Easy Way of Measuring Heights.

Anybody who knows how to take the altitude of the sun or a star with a sextant and wishes to take that of any distant hill, steeple or the like should put a tea tray on the ground, fill it with water and then retire from it until the top of the hill, steeple or what not is reflected in the liquid. Now take the sextant and make the image of the summit coincide with its reflection in the liquid. The angle of elevation will thus obviously have been measured double. Half of this will give the measurement required.

The Dead Sea.

The daily average of 6,500,000 tons of water is received into the Dead Sea from the Jordan. There is no outlet, and the level is kept down by evaporation only, which is very rapid because of the intense heat, the dry atmosphere and the dry winds.

THE CHILD OF HAGAR

THE GYPSY IS THE ISHMAEL OF THE NATIONS.

Even England and the U. S. Are Now Turned Against the Romany Tribes —France, Germany and Belgium Turn Them Back at the Frontiers —All Efforts to Induce Them to Settle Are Unavailing.

Everywhere throughout the civilized world the hand of mankind seems to be raised against the gypsies. The last two refuges to which they betook themselves—England and the United States—have set their faces against them. Hereafter in England they are to be treated like common vagrants, without visible means of support, while in the United States the immigration laws serve to debar them as idle and dangerous nomads.

France decided some years ago that the gypsy was a public menace and, in the summary fashion of the republic when it makes up its mind to a thing, expelled him as relentlessly as it has expelled the monks.

Germany, which is a grim manufacturing establishment, after all, simply ordered its thousands of sentinels along its bayoneted border to turn back every gypsy who showed his nose at the line.

Wrathful and perplexed, the Romany moved on to Belgium; but hostile bayonets met them there. Desperate, for they hate water like so many wildcats, they took to the canals of placid Holland. But the phlegmatic Dutchmen, every tradition of their plodding industry outraged at sight of the gay wanderers, drove them out again.

Meanwhile, the Balkans, where the gypsy has ever roamed as free as any other bird of prey, have begun to feel the call of settled prosperity—if Balkan politics will ever give agriculture its chance—that attends the lowering kine and the importation of American reapers and binders. Sheep stealers and horse swindlers are impressing the fiery-souled mountaineers less than they used to, and the bars are being steadily raised against the gypsy, on the ground that he is a common tramp, who contributes nothing to the country and deserves nothing from it.

Transylvania, time out of mind, has been the gypsy's native heath. The hills and caves let him live the life of the early troglodyte, and the industrious among the population afforded him sustenance. But all Romany can't subsist on the loot of Transylvania, and Hungary and Austria received the first overflow.

Maria Theresa a hundred and fifty years ago had a brilliant idea for squelching the dangerous nomads. She provided dowries for all gypsy maidens who would marry her Austrian subjects. It was the most popular move any empress ever made, especially with the gypsy maidens. They applied for the dowries in beautiful, bridal droves; got them; and ran off with their gypsy husbands and lovers day after day, until Maria Theresa concluded that gypsy maidens were likely to prove unprofitable investments.

Emperor Joseph II. thought he had them fixed forever when he gave them houses and lands, seed, grain and farming implements . The seeds were promptly eaten; the houses became horse stables; the implements were sold, and the owners moved on.

There are believed to be 300,000 of them in Austria and Hungary still; 100,000 in Turkey; 150,000 in Russia; 200,000 in Spain and Portugal; 50,000 in Italy; 10,000 in the United States, and several thousands in South America, to whose broad pampas and rich plantations their nomad fancy has been turning for some years past. In all, the whole race of gypsies, as known to the white nations, numbers fewer than a million; and the whole mass of them is forever moving on. by compulsion in the countries where they have usually found their richest pickings.

The great traveler and ethnologist, Sir Richard Burton, whose translation of the Arabian Nights has immortalized him, is one of the few genuinely scientific men who have studied the origins of the gypsies in a genuinely scientific manner. He does not condemn them utterly, and is at pains to note that the race has, at times, produced men of real distinction. He quotes the families of the Hungarian Hunyadis, the Russian Tolstoys, the Scotch Melvilles, the Cassilis and the Contis in France under Louis XIV., and the famous gypsy chief, Tomas Pulgar, who, in 1496, gave Bishop Sigismund the help he needed to beat back the Turkish invader from Europe.

Toward the middle of the 15th century public opinion in Europe crystalized against the whole wayward, shifty race, and a similar antagonistic feeling now has become manifest.

Nevertheless, there remains one place on earth to which they may go and there find themselves on their native soil—the region of the Indine valley, inhabited by the Jats of India.

There, Sir Richard Burton has declared, are the original home and the original racial stock of the gypsy tribes, with the language still spoken in its purity, with the nomad habits still untamed, and with cattle raising, horse breeding, music, dancing and knife play—all as natural to the Jats as they are to their lost brothers of the west, the world-ranging gypsies.

What the Label Said.

Paintings were not her specialty, but as she gazed at a beautiful copy of Millet's "Gleaners" her admiration of the work called forth enthusiastic comment. "What a wondeful picture!" she exclaimed. "And how natural it looks! But what are those people doing?" she inquired as she bent nearer to read the title. "Oh, yes, I see; gleaning millet! How perfectly fascinating!"

WHEN FILTH WAS DEIFIED.

The World Reverted Into a Period of Mental Sloth.

When Egypt, Greece and Rome were at the height of their ancient power their citizens made bathing a social function, a municipal duty and a religious observance. The public baths of these nations were magnificent architecturally and important as centres of hygienic and municipal sentiment. With the decadence of these countries, the world seemed to have reverted to a period of mental sloth and physical uncleanliness.

As an authority on the matter puts it: "For a thousand years there was not a man or woman in Europe that ever took a bath, if the historian of these times, Michelet, is to be believed. The ancient love of the bath seemed to have disappeard from off the land. There was no Greece or Rome to hold up the ensign of cleanliness to the nations of Europe. Small wonder that the peoples of the continent became physical decadents, as indeed they were, in spite of tradition to the contrary.

"It is not strange that there came the awful epidemics that cut off one-fourth of the population of Europe—the spotted plague, the black death, the sweating sickness, and the terrible mental epidemics that followed in their train—the dancing mania, the mewing mania and the biting mania. Not only the houses but the persons of all classes reeked with filth and vermin. The bath was banished and filth was almost deified. Indeed, it was then thought that the sanctification of the body was only accomplished when that body was indescribably dirty."

How to Make Starch.

To make starch allow one-half pint of cold water and one quart of boiling water to every two tablespoonsful of starch. Put the starch in a large saucepan and pour on the cold water, stirring all the while with a spoon to remove all lumps. When the mixture is smooth place the pan on the hot stove and pour boiling hot water over the starch, continuing the stirring. If made properly the starch will thicken immediately. It often happens that the water is not at boiling point when being poured on the starch, and in this case it will not thicken and must therefore be emptied into a clean vessel and placed on the fire to boil. When smooth remove from the stove and strain. Set aside to cool, taking care that it is covered so that a skin will not form over the top. To give a shiny and smooth appearance to the linen when ironed stir a piece of wax candle three or four times in the starch. This will also prevent the iron from sticking.

How to Make Good Coffee.

Here is a recipe for coffee that never fails: Use a tablespoonful of coffee for each cupful desired and one spoonful for the pot. Mix with a small quantity of cold water and bring to a boil. A little white of an egg mixed with the coffee and cold water or well washed eggshells added will help to make the coffee clear, but egg is not essential to good coffee. After the coffee has boiled for a few minutes add the quantity of boiling water desired. Let it sit for one minute, pour a little cold water into the pot, and the coffee is ready to serve. Mix cream and sugar in a cup and pour the coffee into it. Always serve coffee and tea very hot.

Venetian Hospitality.

Whatever might have been said against the Venetians, they were a hospitable people—this, too, in small as well as in great matters. When, for example, in 1476, an ambassador from the Khan of Tartary visited the city and it was known that the khan and his suit carried but one shirt apiece in their bags the senate formally voted 20 ducats that they might be provided with additional shirts, which were accordingly made "alla tartarescha" and presented. We can imagine how the good councillors and citizens would enjoy this little jest.

Queer Way to Display a Trousseau.

An Arabian bride is arrayed in all her dresses, one over the other. She is perched on a high stool, so that they all hang down over it, and one by one they are taken off with much display and admiring comment from the guests. The last is, of course, the most beautiful. The bridegroom is hidden in some corner where he can see his future wife's dowry, which, however, he may not touch.

Unexpected.

"Did you ever propose to a girl in a canoe?"

"Once."

"What did she say?"

"Nothing. She just coughed and spluttered."

"Eh?"

"When I reached over to take her hand the blamed canoe capsized and she swallowed about nine gallons of water."

Silver Thieves Sentenced.

Cobalt, Ont., Sept. 15.—James Connolly, five years in Kingston penitentiary; Patrick Ryan, two years in the same institution. These were the sentences handed out yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Atkinson on the Nova Scotia bullion robbery case to the two men who pleaded guilty. Connolly was brought in first and frankly admitted his guilt, asking permission to make a statement. Before he was allowed to do so sentence was passed. He then declared that there were two men at liberty whom he believed were as guilty as the rest. He referred to Wiley and Paddy Reilly, brother of Thomas, who had already been committed for trial.

Cunningham—Shaver.

A pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday evening, Sept. 14th 1910, at the home of Robert Cunningham, Archer, when his daughter, Jessie Pearl, was united in marriage with Percy S. Shaver of Osnabruck. The Rev. George Mason, Dunbar, performed the ceremony. The bride pretilly gowned in a dainty dress of pale blue silk voile and carrying a beautiful boquet, entered the room to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Donnelley of Aultsville. She was attended by the groom's sister, Lilian Shaver who wore a lovely dress of blue satin. The groom was assisted by Roy H. Brownell of Farran's Point. After the ceremony nearly one hundred guests enjoyed the bountiful supper in the flower decorated dining room. The many beautiful gifts testified to the high in which both bride and groom are held. The best wishes of a large circle of friends follow the young couple to their new home at Farran's Point.

Woman Died After Murderous Assault.

Havelock Ont. Sept. 19.—Her face seamed with scars and her arms and body bearing marks which indicated that she had been brutally attacked, Mrs Chrissie May Parks of Deline the wife of a young farmer laborer residing in a lonely frame cottage in the township of Dummer six and a half miles northwest of Havelock was buried in the little cemetry at Havelock on Saturday afternoon the victim of a crime as foul as it is mysterious.

The circumstances surrounding the unfortunate woman's death are so peculiar that though the local police have been working on the case since Friday morning when they were informed of Mrs. Deline's death they are still absolutely at a loss to discover who her assailant was.

Those acquainted with the nature of the medical evidence and with certain circumstances connected with the finding of the body are disposed to take the view that the assailant had attempted violation without however accomplishing his purpose.

The one thing clearly determined so far is that sometime between eight and ten o'clock on Thursday night Mrs Deline after putting her two children aged two and a half years and two and a half months respectively to bed, was attacked in the kitchen of her primitive home by an unknown assailant, and that in the desperate struggle which seems to have ensued she received a shock which caused her death.

At first it was thought that the woman had died as the result of the injuries inflicted on her head arms and body. When seen by Coroner Kindred early on Friday morning, the body certainly had the appearance of having been treated with great violence. The face was lined and interlined with scratches as if it had been clawed by some wild ainmal. There was an abrasion on the left side of her forehead the body was bruised in several places and on both wrists there were identations which seemed to indicate that her assailant had attempted to bind her arms or tie her up.

At the postmortem examination, however it was found that none of the injuries were serious enough to have caused death while there were distinct evidences that the poor woman had succumbed to shock caused by fright.

Hugh Deline the woman's husband is a young fellow of about twenty-six years very powerful physical very weak mentally. He gave the alarm going to the house of a neighbor, three-quarters of a mile away and informing Mrs. Samuel Newell that his wife was dead.

HUSBAND ARRESTED.

Havelock Sept. 20.—A new and dramatic situation in the Belmont township mystery developed this afternoon when Hugh Delaine was arrested here by Provincial Constable Reburn on the charge of murdering his wife. The arrest was made without trouble Delaine submitting quietly and without any statement. He will be taken to Peterboro jail until Friday when he will be called to give evidence at the inquest.

According to statements made by the authorities here they have no tangible evidence on which to base the arrest but some important evidence which it is expected will make a strong case against Delaine will be given at the inquest. The tramp theory has been discarded for the present.

According to neighbors of the Delaines, Delaine made repeated statements that he would go home some night and find his wife dead. Delaine and his wife were illiterate desperately poor and shiftless. Delain's spasms seemed to verge on insanity and he had periods of distress when he would froth at the mouth. These all incline the neighbors in the belief that he was subject to epileptic fits.

Their lonely life away from friends of any kind devoid of all social intercourse and the little that is known about either of them all seems to lend color the supposition that Delaine unknown to most people was an epileptic.

A point that it is thought will be in Delaine's favor is that according to Dr. Holdcroft who made the post-mortem examination there were signs of attempt at outrage but the murderer evidently failed in his purpose. The woman gave birth to a child last June.

County Constable Williams claims however to have conclusive proof of Delaine's connection with the crime. Soiled spots on the man's trousers correspond with the stains on the woman's wrapper.

Ontario Peaches Selling In London.

The first Ontario peaches that were shipped over to England for sale have reached there in excellent condition.

A cablegram received by Mr. C. C. James Deputy Minister of Agriculture this morning from Mr. N. B. Colcock the Ontario Government agent in London announces this and that the fruit is being eagerly sampled by dealers. It is on sale in Convent Garden market. The London newspapers comment very favorably on the enterprise of the department and the excellence of the fruit.

Six union bricklayers at Winnipeg have been fined one hundred dollars each for "bolting" during the recent strike.

A collision took place at the Soo between the steamer Lakeland and the barge Smeaton. The Lakeland suffered the greater damage and was cut almost in two.

Wandered Away.

Mrs. James McDougall, wife of the night watchman at the Almonte Knitting Company's Mill disappeared from her home on Tuesday and though diligent search was made for her from the moment she was missed no trace of her whereabouts could be discovered until Thursday Mrs. McDougall so far as known was in her usual health on the day she left home but it is thought she was suddenly seized with a fit of temporary insanity and while in that state wandered away from her home. She had travelled on foot a distance of twenty-eight miles when she reached a farm house and asked to be taken in. On being questioned by the farmer she gave him the details of her wearisome journey and the following day he took her home. On her arrival there her memory had vanished and she could tell very little of her doings since she left home.

Dr. Blacader of Montreal, the well-known speialist of children's diseases states that infantile paralysis is essentially a hot weather disease and with the coming of cold weather it will be stamped out. This will be good news to parents who have been anxious concerning this dread malady which has become so prevalent on this continent during the past year.

THE FORMULA OF "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Is On The Outside Of Every Box For All The World To See

Every user of "Fruit-a-tives" knows exactly what is being taken. The formula of this famous fruit medicine is printed plainly on the outside of every box. We have stated many times—and now state clearly—that "Fruit-a-tives" is made of the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, with valuable heart and nerve tonics and antiseptics.

Everyone knows that fruit juice is healthful—but perhaps some do not understand why this is true.

Fruit juice consists of about 91% water, 8% of sweet principle, and 1% of a bitter substance. It is the quantity of bitter principle in fruit that gives the fruit value as a medicine. An eminent physician of Ottawa, after years of experimenting, found a method of increasing the bitter principle in fruit juice, thus increasing the medicinal or curative qualities.

The juices are first extracted from fresh, ripe oranges, apples, figs and prunes. By a secret process, some of the sweet atoms are replaced by the bitter principle. Then tonics and antiseptics are added, and the whole made into Tablets, now known far and wide as "Fruit-a-tives."

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world that is made of fruit juices, and is one of the few remedies that have let their composition be known from their introduction to the public.

"Fruit-a-tives" is nature's stimulant for the liver, bowels, kidneys and skin. In cases of obstinate Constipation, Liver Trouble, Indigestion, Backache, Rheumatism, Headaches and Impure Blood, this wonderful fruit medicine cures when everything else fails.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold everywhere at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c., or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited. Ottawa.

Inkerman.

On Tuesday evening 6th inst., death the grim reaper, visited a happy home depriving it of a loving husband and father in the person of Mr. James Mulloy Inkerman. Although not in robust health for a number of years during the past few months deceased had been enjoying exceptionally good health and only the day he was stricken had remarked to the members of his family that he had not felt so well for years. That evening he was attacked with chills followed by a severe attack of pleuro-pneumonia which on account of age and a weakening constitution he was unable to throw off. All that medical aid and loving hands could do was done for the sufferer but on the evening of the eleventh day he passed peacefully away with the members of his family all at his bedside. Deceased was sixty-eight years of age and has resided at Inkerman since his birth. About forty years ago he married Margaret Gannon of Mountain Ridge who together with three sons Thomas and David at home P. G. of McGill University Montreal and three daughters Misses Mayme and Eleanor and Mrs J. C. Bouck of Toronto have the sympathy of everyone in their sad bereavement. Three brothers also survive Thomas and David of Vinegar Hill and Joseph of Alexandria Bay N. Y. The late Mr. Mulloy was a man of sterling qualities always ready to extend a helping hand to the sick and afflicted and a warm friend to young and old. The procession which followed his remains were conveyed to St. Daniels R. C. church, South Mountain of which deceased was a staunch member. A requiem High Mass was sung for the repose of his soul interment afterwards being made in the family plot in the cemetry adjoining the church grounds.

The Pall-bearers were Messrs Joseph Seymour W. A. Mullen G. B. Daniels Jas. Slater Wm. Christie and A. Larue. Relatives from a distance who came to pay their last respects were Mr. and Mrs P. Gannon, Cornwall; Mr. J. Mulloy, Alexandria Bay N. Y.; Mr. J. Gannon Buffalo. N. Y.; Misses Mayme and Eleanor Mulloy and Mrs. J. C. Bouck Toronto; Mrs. J. Gannon Ogdensburg N. Y.; and Messrs Jay Merkley and J. Connor Iroquois.

Drew Gun By Muzzle.

Smith's Falls Sept. 16.—Allan McCollum youngest son of Dr. McCollum of this place was the victim of a gunning accident to-day. With a companion named McKoone, he started out in a boat in quest of duck. McCollum on sighting some birds reached over for his gun which was lying in the bottom of the boat with the muzzle towards him and in drawing it up the hammer caught on something and the weapon was discharged. He received the full force of it in the left wrist which was badly shattered and the flesh of the arm was torn away.

WARNING.

Since its introduction into Canada the sales of Parisan Sage has been phenomenal. This success has led to many imitations similar in name Look out for them they are not genuine. See that the girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. You can always get the genuine at W. G. Bolster's.

Parisan Sage is the quickest acting and most efficient hair tonic in the world.

It is made to conform to Dr. Sangerbond's (of Paris) proven theory that dandruff falling hair, baldness and scalp itch are caused by germs,

Parisan Sage kills these dandruff germs, and removes all trace of dandruff in two weeks or money back; it stops falling hair and itching scalp and prevents baldness.

And remember that baldness is caused by dandruff germs those little hard working persistent devils that day and night do nothing but dig into the roots of the hair and destroy its vitality.

Parisan Sage is a daintily perfumed hair dressing not sticky nor greasy and any woman who desires luxuriant and bewitching hair can get it in two weeks by using it. 50 cents a large bottle.

Which of These Pictures Best Represents Your Stable?

IF your Stable interior is of wood, you'll do well to tear down those old, unsightly stalls and mangers—and build new ones of Concrete.

In fact, the entire Stable—inside and out—should be built of Concrete.

This is the modern material—it has the merits of sightliness, endurance, and economy—and is sanitary.

The farmer himself can, by its use, make many little improvements that, with any other material, would require the employment of skilled labor.

IF you would know something of the possibilities of Concrete, fill out the coupon and send it to us. By return mail, we will send you a copy of our free 160-page book, "What the Farmer Can Do with Concrete."

In this book you'll find complete instructions for the construction of almost everything you can think of, in the way of farm buildings, floors, vats, troughs, etc., etc.

Weak Kidneys Make Weak Bodies.

Kidney Disease Causes Half the Common Aches and Ills of Chesterville People.

As one weak limb weakens a chain so weak kidneys weakens the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and uriny ills come and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Booth's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill.—Chesterville cures are the proof.

John Hummel of Mill St., Chesterville, Ont., says: "For some time I have suffered with attacks of pain and weakness across the small part of my back. Doctors had termed it lumbago and arising from inactive and disordered kidneys. Very often and especially in the cold weather it would become very annoying as the pains would leave me unable to straighten up or lift anything. I tried Booth's Kidney Pills on advice of our druggist Mr. Bolster and I found them to benefit me in short time. The pains and soreness left my back and I strengthened. I can recommend Booth's Kidney Pills as a remedy of merit when all else I had tried failed even to relieve.

Crops Of Canada.

Ottawa September 13—The bulletin of the Census Statistics Office says that the reports on field crops at the end of August are more certain than at the end of July and that the situation during the month has improved. In the older provinces the grain has matured well and have been harvested and saved in fine condition. The estimate for wheat oats and barley is 445,420,000 bushels which is 129,188,000 bushels less than the final estimate for last year. Spring wheat is less by 45,608,000 bushels oats by 70,219,000 bnshels and barley by 16,010,000 bushels; but fall wheat shows an increase of 1,649,000 bushels. The eastern provinces show grains in each one of these crops. The increase of wheat there is 3,633,000 bushels, of oats 23,219,000 bushels and of barley 625,000 bushels. The loss in the western provinces exclusive of British Columbia is a result of the great drouth of July which reduced the area harvested by 23 per cent for wheat by 24 per cent for oats and by 31.5 per cent for barley. The estimated production of wheat for the whole of Canada is 122,783,000 bushels of oats, 283, 247,000 bushels, and of barley 39,388000 bushels as compared with 166,744,000 bushels wheat 353,466,000 bushels oats and 55,368,000 bushels barley in the final estimate for last year. The estimate for Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta is 99,860,000 bushels wheat 92,201,000 bushels oats, and 14,723,000 bushels barley, being an average of 11.89 bushels for wheat of 20.96 bushels for oats and of 14.49 bushels for barley on the area sown, but of 15.24 bushels wheat 27.91 bushels oats, and 21.22 bushels barley on area reaped. Compared with the same period last year for the Dominion the average condition of spring wheat on August 31. was 79.05 to 84.30. of oats 80.03 to 84.89, and of barley 80.51 to 83.54 but compared with the condition at the end of July it was 79.05 to 77.05 for spring wheat 80.03 to 79.57 for oats and 80.51 to 79.63 for barley. Peas, beans, buckwheat, mixed grains, flax, corn for fodder potatoes and alfalfa have declined in condition, but peas, mixed grains and flax only appreciably; whilst corn for husking, turnips, mangolds carrots sugarbeets and pasture have improved.

Married Too Often.

Lowville, Sept. 12—Dr. Arlington D. Bessett, of Barnes' Corners, is in the Lewis county Jail there awaiting a hearing set down for next Thursday when he will answer to the charge of bigamy.

It is alleged that Dr. Bassett who formerly practiced his profession at Plessis, was united in marriage with Miss Anna M. Crippen of Algonquin, Can., Feb. 26, 1908, at Ogdensburg, and they resided together at Plessis as man and wife for a few months, when she left him and has not since returned.

It is alleged further that about a year ago he removed to Barnes' Corners, Lewis county and had practiced his profession in that town, and that on Aug. 25 iast at Barnes, Corners he was married to Miss Sarah Contine, an orphan about 18 years of age, who, it is understood, formerly liged at Fultonville.

Dr. Bassett was brought to Lowville by Sheriff Donnelly, and placed in the Lewis county jail. An examination will be held before Justice W. H. Eggleton, Thursday. The fact of Bassett's second marriage had become known to his first wife, who laid the facts before Dist-Atty Perry C. Williams. He immediately took steps to cause his apprehension.

Dr Bassett claims to be 41 years of age, but looks much older and is said to be a graduate of the Chicago University Medical College.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., or Philadelphia, Pa.

Motor Boat Was Swamped.

Another motor boat fatality involving the lives of four people was narrowly averted Friday afternoon on the St. Lawrence River about four miles below Brockville. In the party were ex-Mayor C. S. Cossitt W. H. Downey, H. B. White and Alan Gilmour bound fo Ogdensburg in the large launch of the last mentioned. Going at a lively clip the craft struck a floating log which opened a large hole into which the water poured and quickly swamped the boat. The accident happened about one mile from shore in a heavy sea but the occupants managed to keep afloat until a farmer put out in a skiff and took three of them off safely. The other floated in with the boat which was beached in twelve feet of water.

A bad smash-up took place in the Grand Trunk yards at Brantford.
