Wilf Carter Show Here This Evening

All the way from the Grand Ole Opry of Radio Station WSM at Nashville, Tennessee, comes one of the finest family attractions and most widely known Western shows to the Winchester Arena to-night, Thursday. It's the Wilf. Carter show, stars in the western music world of radio, stage and TV, and featuring Sheila and Carol Carter, who will sing in harmony, yodel and dance for the enjoyment of the large crowd of music lovers expected.

Also highlighting the show will be the ever popular Red Garrett and his Tennessee Pioneers, sensational RCA Victor recording artists, heard regularly over local radio stations. Two full hours in length the show has broken all attendance records this year, and is acclaimed by the radio and press wherever it plays.

One of the feature attractions of the show when it plays in Winchester tonight will be Ward Allen the champion old-time fiddler of Canada. Ward won the honour over 87 contestants in two events in 1953, and according to the critics, his playing is really a treat to the fiddler fanciers.

The show will be Wilf. Carter's first appearance in the new Winchester Arena, and will offer local and district fans a real opportunity to see and hear some fine down to earth entertainment, including impersonations, acts, songs, instrumentals, dances, comedy, etc.

Playing at the Winchester Arena to-night the admission will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Municipal Council Met On Tuesday

BELL, HYDRO TO USE SAME POLES ON TOWN STREETS

Poles, serving both Hydro and Bell Telephone, will be erected on one side only of the new streets in the south-west portion of the village. This new system, eliminating one complete set of poles, will eventually be placed into effect throughout the entire town it is hoped. Announcement to this effect was made at the August session of Municipal Council, held Tuesday evening.

A decision was made to have the larger fire engine undergo at least one major mechanical inspection each year, and that the machine be maintained in a top state of repair at all times, enabling firemen to start and place it in use without delay. Chairman of the traffic committee, Robert Woods, will meet with the Reeve to further determine the type of signs and directions to be used about the town re parking of vehicles. Building permits were issued to Henry Dillabough, Clarence Deeks, Miss Annie Walker and Hugh McMaster. Hydro accounts amounted to $2,982.58, and municipal bills passed came to $879.66.

All members of council, the cerk and Constable were present at the meeting.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Clarke Addresses C.B.M.C. At Point Iroquois

Defining the word "Decency," and applying it to to-day's Christian, Dr. James W. Clarke addressed a meeting of the Mountain and Winchester Christian Business Men's Committee recently. The special meeting, which was attended by C.B.M.C. members, their guests, and fellow cottagers, was held at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dukelow at Point Iroquois on the banks of the St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Harold Graham was chairman at the meeting, which took the form of an informal discussion following Doctor Clarke's thought-provoking sermon. The speaker was introduced by Mr. Graham.

Following prayer, Mr .and Mrs. Dukelow served ice cream to all who attended.

It was announced at the meeting that the C.B.M.C. would have charge of open-air church services for three Sunday evenings at the park in South Mountain. The local Baptist service is also expected to be conducted by members of the committee the last Sunday in August.

Dr. Clarke, who is holidaying at his summer cottage at the Point, has speaking engagements in Hallville and Iroquois in August.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MRS. DWAYNE HAMILTON

Prior to her moving to Ottawa last Wednesday, Mrs. Dwayne Hamilton was honoured at a farewell party, held at the home of Mrs. Thos. Hamilton. A popular hair stylist in Winchester for many years, Mrs. Hamilton has moved to Ottawa with her family where her husband is employed with a transport company.

During the evening Mrs. Hamilton was called to the floor, where she was the recipient of seven cups and saucers, a lace table cloth, and a crystal cake plate in cornflower design. The presentation was made by Mrs. Ed. Turner and Mrs. Keith Summers, and the accompanying address was read by Mrs. Ed. Fawcett.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and Mesdames Ed. Turner, Keith Summers, Ed. Faw-Fawcett and Norbert Hutt.

Now It's Corn!

Two weeks ago the Press Office sported a huge rhubarb leaf—last week it was a tall stalk of hay. To-day, it's corn—thanks to Fred Hutt, an ex-reeve of Mountain Township, who now resides in Winchester. The corn in mention isn't ordinary corn—it's Pop Corn, which usually grows to four feet in height. Not this one—it measures nine feet high, and has averaged a foot of growth per week since the planting of the seed the latter part of May. The corn stalk is just one of three or four rows Fred has planted at his St. Lawrence Street residence here, and gives further proof of the tremendous power of growth that lies beneath the surface of the fertile soil in this area. What!

OBITUARY

LATE MRS. JAMES UTMAN

A lifelong resident of Winchester, Mrs. James Utman passed away on Thursday, July 22nd, at her late Main Street residence. In failing health for several years, the deceased had been seriously ill only a week prior to her death, which was learned with much regret by a host of friends and relatives.

Born 78 years ago in Winchester, she was the former Maude Philena Bickford, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bickford. A member of the United Church, the late Mrs. Utman had always been actively associated with all the ladies' organizations. She was also a member of the Rebekah Lodge.

In 1896 she married Mr. James Utman, and together they observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary in 1946. In addition to her husband, she is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Carrie Wells, of Canton, N. Y.; Mrs. Mabel Watson, of Ottawa; Mrs. Sadie Mann, of Detroit, and Mrs. Wm. Adams, of Morrisburg.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, July 24th, from her late residence to Winchester United Church, where service was conducted by the Rev. T. N. Mitchell. Interment was made at Maple Ridge Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Fred Christie, Henry Lennox, Albert Turner, Howard Biccum, Arnold Rielly and Thomas Edgerton.

The following floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held:

LATE GORDON ROBERTSON

Although in failing health for six months, the death of Mr. Gordon Robertson on July 21st came as a shock to his many friends in Iroquois and district. He was in his 62nd year.

Mr. Robertson was born at Winchester on April 2nd, 1893, the son of the late Ansil Robertson and his wife, Elizabeth Kinsella, of Iroquois. He received his education at the Winchester schools and attended church and Sunday School at the Baptist Church here. Later, he took up the trade of painter and decorator. In 1914 he married Olla Marsell. For a number of years he operated his own business in Iroquois, until his health failed about six months ago, and he was compelled to give up work.

His bright and kindly disposition made for him many warm friends who regret his untimely demise. He was a highly respected citizen of Iroquois and took a keen interest in public affairs and sports. He served as a trustee on the Public School Board; was chairman of the Health Board; president of the Iroquois Bowling Club, where he bowled far and near; was a member of the Iroquois Lions Club and the Morrisburg and District Canadian Club and the Masonic Order.

The funeral was held from his residence, College Street, to the United Church, on Friday afternoon, with Rev. Gordon F. Dangerfield, pastor, conducting the Masonic service. Hymns used were favorites of the deceased: "Unto The Hills," and "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." By special request the quartette sang, "I Come To The Garden."

Interment was made in the family plot at Maple Ridge Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Millburn Hyslop, Colin Cameron, Harold Milligan, George Brouse, George Perrault and Ray Parmeter.

Surviving are his wife, two sons and two daughters. Charles and Lyall, both of Iroquois; Mrs. B. Hutt (Piney), of Prescott, and Mrs. Robert Bates (Joyce), of Brockville; his mother, Mrs. A. Robertson, of Iroquois, and 15 grandchildren.

The many beautiful floral tributes and the large number attending the funeral bore evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. Robertson was held in Iroquois and district.

Relatives and friends attending the funeral from a distance were from New York City, Montreal, Toronto, Watertown, Gouverneur, Ottawa, Navan, Brockville, Winchester, Prescott, Chesterville and Cardinal.

Winchester Royals and Williamsburg Lead Semi-Finals

From the way the Dundas County Softball League Semi-finals are shaping up, it looks as if traditional rivalry will meet in the final best-of-seven for the George H. Challies silverware.

Up until last night, Winchester had a 3-0 edge on Hallville, who ended the regular league play in first place. At the other end of the sheet, Williamsburg has gone into a two-game lead over South Mountain, with one game tied, in their best-of-seven semi-final round. Royals and Hallville played last night, with Williamsburg and South Mountain, after being rained out Tuesday, going at it again to-night.

LOCAL GIRLS WIN

Winchester Girls, decked out in their new green and orange uniforms, purchased by local businessmen, continue to win. Trimming Burritts Rapids 7-5 last week in an exhibition tussle, the girls are all set to go into the final play of the St. Lawrence Ladies' Softball League.

Main Intersection Mishaps Becoming Weekly Custom

St. Lawrence and Main was the scene of another traffic accident last week, when cars driven by Roy Corrigan, of Ottawa, and Bryson Crowder, of South Mountain, were in collision, causing damage estimated at $85.00. No one was injured.

Another minor mishap during the week occurred at the Louise and Main intersections when a car driven by Emerson Lough was in collision with an auto owned and operated by Howard Biccum. The Lough car had attempted to make a U turn, and was backing up when it struck the front of the approaching Biccum vehicle, which was proceeding east. Damage to the two cars was estimated at $80.00. Chief Constable G. B. Raistrick investigated both accidents.

Many Local And District Weddings Held During July

MORGAN—COONS

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday morning at eleven o'clock in the vestry of Chalmers United Church, Ottawa, when Muriel Elaine, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton R. Coons, of Winchester Springs, became the bride of Harry Clarence Morgan, son of Mr. Earl Morgan, of Winchester, and the late Mrs. Morgan. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Anglin, of Ottawa.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lois Coons, as maid of honour, and the groom's attendant was Mr. Hugh Stewart, of Montreal. Only the immediate relatives of the couple attended the ceremony.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white nylon tricot over taffeta, with a fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a shoulder-length veil and her corsage was of white baby orchids.

Miss Lois Coons was dressed in pale blue nylon net over taffeta and wore a corsage of white baby mums.

The bride's mother was dressed in navy sheer, and Mrs. E. Morgan was dressed in wedgewood blue boucle lace with navy and white accessories. Each wore a large white gardenia.

After the ceremony, a turkey dinner was served at the Green Valley Restaurant to the guests. Following the dinner, the happy couple left for Montreal, Boston, New York and Atlantic City. On their return they will reside in Winchester.

THOM—NESBITT

Baskets of white and pink gladioli, lavender statis and white baby's breath banked the chancel of Knox Presbyterian Church, Winchester Springs, for a mid-summer wedding on Wednesday afternoon, July 28th, at two o'clock, when Marjorie Elizabeth, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nesbitt, was united in holy wedlock with Arthur Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Thom, of Williamsburg. Rev. A. D. MacLellan, of Iroquois, performed the ceremony, and Mrs. Howard Fetterly, of Winchester, presided at the organ for the beautiful wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Ronald McIntosh, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" preceding the ceremony, and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The radiantly lovely bride entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, and was given in marriage by her father, wearing a floor-length gown of imported white French lace fashioned with fitted bodice coming to a point at the front of the waistline, and the long full skirt was over net and satin. The matching bolero had long tight sleeves tapered to points over the hands and fastened with tiny lace-covered buttons. A small Juliet cap of matching lace, encrusted with apolescent sequins, and seed pearls, held her full-length embroidered swiss net veil, which ended in a long train. She wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, and carried a small cascade bridal bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and ivy. Entwined in her bouquet was a wreath of orange blossoms, worn by her mother on her wedding day.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Orval Morton, of Inverary, as matron of honour, wearing a gown of pink net over brocaded satin with matching net bolero and long net mitts. She carried yellow roses. The bride was also attended by her sister, Arlene, and Eleanor Hope, of Leitrim, as flower girls, wearing identical dresses of turquoise net over taffeta with matching head-dress and mitts, and they carried small baskets of pink sweetheart roses and white snapdragons, and wore sterling lockets, the gift of the bride.

Mr. John E. Tapp, of Ottawa, attended the groom as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Reginald Nesbitt, brother of the bride, and Mr. Leon Marcellus, of Chesterville.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held on the lawn at "Maplehurst Farm," the home of the bride's parents, for about seventy guests. The bride's mother, Mrs. Nesbitt, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Thom, mother of the groom. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. A. D. MacLellan, and responded to by the groom. Several telegrams of congratulations were read by the best man, Mr. Tapp.

Following the reception, the young couple left amid a shower of confetti and good wishes for a short honeymoon. For travelling, the bride wore a heavenly blue printed nylon dress with a smarty abbreviated jacket, white accessories and a corsage of red sweetheart roses.

The beautiful flowers that adorned the church and home were grown and arranged by Mr. Harold Clark, Jr., of Leitrim.

Following their return, the couple will take up residence at Williamsburg.

DAVIDSON—STEELE

Winchester Springs United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, July 24th, at two-thirty o'clock, when Miss Marion Irene Steele, eldest daughter of Mrs. Alvin Steele and the late Mr. Steele, became the bride of Mr. Allen Kenneth Davidson, older son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davidson.

The Rev. N. T. Holmes, of Carleton Place, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony amid a setting of ferns, pink and white gladioli, carnations and mixed summer flowers. The pews were decorated with white satin bows and miniature nosegays of pink roses. Mr. Ronald McIntosh was the guest soloist, singing "The Lord Is My Shepherd" during the ceremony, and "Because" while the register was being signed. He was accompanied by Miss Marjorie Nesbitt, who also played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her only brother, Mr. Eric Steele, the bride was attended by Mrs. Eric H. Steele as matron of honour, Mrs. E. Eric Steele, Montreal, and Miss Lorna Steele, a sister. Mr. Mac. Davidson was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. E. Eric Steele, of Montreal, and Mr. Eric H. Steele, brother of the bride.

For her wedding, Miss Steele was charming in a floor length strapless gown of white brocade over net with fitted bodice and a front panel of accordian pleated net over a satin skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a heart-shaped tiara of matching pearls, and she carried a cascade bouuqet of red roses and white stephanotis.

The attendants' gowns were of similar design in nylon net over lace in shades of mauve, green and yellow. They wore matching stoles and carried nosegays of yellow roses, mauve and white sweet peas and wore matching headdresses.

Mrs. Cecil Reaney, dressed in yellow, was the matron of honour, and the flower girl was little Miss Linda Boyd. Mr. Roy Porteous was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Bruce Kinkade and Mr. Murray McIlveen, of Ottawa.

For her wedding, the bride chose a Janet Cayne model of nylon tulle over slipper satin. The redingote had a Cinderella tunic of Swiss lace with long glove sleeves pointed over the hands. The skirt hung in tiers of tulle and lace and fell into a flowing train of matching lace. A Juliet cap held her short veil of tulle illusion in place, and she carried a nosegay of pink roses with mums and larkspur.

District Farms Attacked By Army Worms

Winchester and district farm lands have been invaded by a vicious, crop eating army of worms—the dread army worm, which is devouring its way across the province after ravaging crops in Western Ontario.

First noticed at one end of a field of oats on the Preston Rodney farm, just east of Winchester, the main force of worms soon made its way to adjoining fields on the farm of Woodrow Holmes. Since the Army worms were first reported on the Rodney farm, they have spread to fields on nearby farms in the district. In an effort to fight them off, spraying operations have begun, including spraying from an airplane owned by Bradley Air Service of Carp, which last Wednesday buzzed the east end of the village in its low sweeps over 50 acres of land on the Rodney and Holmes farms. Other farmers have had the same service put to use since then, and according to all reports, it is the surest and most thorough manner to rid the fields of these crop killers, who work with super speed.

Meanwhile, district farmers continue their day-long vigil for the costly trail of the army worm.

Iroquois Regatta Attracts Large Crowd On Monday

Harry Keyes and his 220 Class C Hydro plane burnt up the course at the Iroquois Boating Club's annual Civic Holiday Regatta on Monday afternoon, winning a pair of firsts in the two feature hydro events of the day.

Getting off to a bad start in the J. Clarke Memorial Race, for Iroquois boats only, Harry, Pa and "Scat," their boat, just wouldn't scat fast enough to retain the coveted trophy, awarded annually with a cash prize by Dr. J. W. Clarke, in memory of his son, F.O. James Clarke, a World War II casualty.

Winning first in the Class C and Open Hydro events, Harry also got a second in the Clarke Memorial and the two in a boat open stock race. The latter race was won by Ron. Boyd, of Osgoode, with Fred Brouse, of Iroquois, winning the Clarke Memorial.

It was a beautiful, sunny day for the 1000 people who lined the sloping banks, and the other four hundred or so who looked on from motor launches and outboards, anchored off shore.

In the past week Harry has gathered in four firsts, one second, two thirds and a fourth, at regattas at Constance Bay, Oka, St. Pierre de Wakefield and Iroquois.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND PUBLIC WORKS

The Dominion Government is wise in refusing to be stampeded into launching a programme of public works to relieve the unemployment we have today. Our experience during the depression should have taught us that the construction of public works is one of the most costly and one of the least effective means of creating employment, and shoud not be resorted to except in extreme cases.

We have unemployment today because some of our industries are unable to sell their products at prices that will cover their costs. There is unemployment in the shipping industry because it costs so much to operate Canadian ships that nobody will buy their services. There is unemployment in the agricultural implement industry because the farmers who buy its products have had their incomes reduced so drastically during the last two years that they can no longer afford to buy the products of workers whose wages have actually been raising while the farmers' incomes were falling. Unemployment is threatened in many other industries because they cannot sell their products at the prices they are asking.

No amount of public works will persuade Canadain shipping interests to put more ships on the ocean while it costs so much to operate them. No amount of public works will enable farmers to buy more implements. Farmers are fully employed at home on their farms and have to be content with such earnings as the market affords them. They have no time to leave their farms and run after the illusive rewards of high wages for little work.

The remedy for unemployment in Canada today is a readjustment of prices and costs that will make it possible for Canadians to trade with each other on equitable terms.

If the government were to undertake a programme of public works, it would be bound by its own laws to maintain the existing wage structure. Thus it would prevent the very adjustment that is needed to restore balance in the economy.—The Rural Scene.

OFFERS SET OF RULES FOR POLIOMYELITIS SEASON

With the approach of the polio season, Dr. Nelles Silverthorne presents ten rules for parents of children who might be susceptible. These are set forth in an article, "The Fight Against Polio," appearing in the current issue of Health Magazine.

Dr. Silverthorne is chairman of the Committee on Child and Maternal Health of the Health League of Canada, a voluntary association organized to disseminate techniques of preventive medicine. He says:

1. Special attention should be given methods of sewage disposal by both the municipality and the individual, especially in areas where there is a threatened outbreak or an actual outbreak of poliomyelitis.

2. In areas of threatened outbreak, swimming pools and beaches should be closed.

3. Flies (known to harbor the virus) should be rigorousy excluded from all centres where food and beverages are handled.

4. Strictest cleanliness of anyone handling food is essential at all times. In restaurants individuals who handle money should not handle or prepare food or beverages.

5. Cooking and boiling of foods or fluids destroys the virus of poliomyelitis.

6. One should not eat in fly-ridden places during the poliomyelitis season or in places where there are people suffering from unidentified disease.

7. All persons should always wash their hands before eating.

8. All fruits and vegetables should be thoroughly washed, preferably peeled and best cooked during the poliomyelitis season.

9. Lastly, an observant and careful mother will immediately put her sick child to bed and keep the child there until the nature of the illness is recognized. In this way it would help to minimize weakness or paralysis in the unfortunate child who is a victim of the disease.

10. To sum up, in any case of doubt, exercise of any degree should be strictly forbidden."

Dr. Silverthorne says that one of the difficulties in controlling the disease lies in the fact that a great many people contract mild cases of polio which are never diagnosed but which can be passed on and become serious in other people who come into contact with them. He says that the final answer to polio will be in the proof of the efficacy of a vaccine. Gamma globulin, because of its scarcity and because of the extremely short duration of its probable protective effect, will never be practical unless it is pooled for emergency use in severe epidemic areas, pending development of a vaccine. Dr. Silverthorne stated.

EDITORIAL NOTES!

For the customer there are more real bargains in new and used cars in Canada than at any time since the war, says The Financial Post. Some $200 to $400 "off-list" on the lower priced new cars is common, and the prices are not finding ready takers. Canada's Big Two, Ford and General Motors. grudgingly admit they overguessed the market. Their dealers are high on inventory, especially on the lower priced cars. A sales pick,-up is six months away at least, according to industry officials.

"Yielding The Whole"

"A young lady said at a Christian Endeavour meeting that instead of handing over the whole keyboard of her being to Jesus, she had been trying to play one note herself—only one—but that one was enough to turn life's music into discord. But now she had handed over the whole keyboard to Christ, and the discord had become heavenly music. You will never know what music lies concealed in that life of yours till you hand it over to the great Master, —Jesus Christ."—Christian Herald.

No man cometh unto the Father but by Me.—John 14.6.

HOME HINTS

Bee Sting

The pain of a bee sting can be relieved if common mud is applied.

Purifying Air

A small quantity of carbolic acid poured into a very hot vessel will purify the air in a room.

Apple Pies

When baking open-top apple pies, invert another pie pan over the pie and the steam will cook them thoroughly.

Mending

It is quite often that a rent or tear in a garment can be mended much better on the sewing machine than by hand, and the result will be a much neater repair.

Insect Stings

After removing the sting apply ammonia water, or carbonate of soda and water. Common mud applied to the sting often relieves the pain.

Peeled Peaches

Peeled peaches will discolor unless handled rapidly. It is claimed by canners that this discolorization can be removed by blanching the fruit a few minutes in boiling water.

Dry Salt

If the salt containers are kept on or near a warm range, or other fire, where the salt will keep warm, it will remain dry and no difficulty will be found in pouring it.

Mud Stains

To remove mud stains on garments, dry the garment and then rub with a piece of flannel. Or spread on a paste of fuller's earth and water, allow it to dry, and then brush and sponge with warm water.

Holidays would be O.K. if a fellow didnt have to work so hard after to do the things he neglected to do in order to take a week off—if you get what we mean.

* * * *

"Who says that all men are born free" wailed the young father as he received the doctor's bill.

* * * *

Every summer the threat of polio troubles most parents of young children. It is believed that polio germs are carried by house flies and polluted water and, therefore, efforts should be made to prevent children being exposed to either of these carriers. If a youngster shows signs of drowsiness, restlessness, fever or symptoms of a cold, a doctor should be consulted immediately, particularly if there is pain in the head, back, neck or limbs.

Fed-up Husband to rival: "This is my last warning. Stop fooling around with my wife or I'm going to let you have her!"

Don't depend on others—or by and by you won't be able to depend on yourself—nor will anyone else.—B. C. Forbes.

A subscriber writes: "We like the jokes you publish in your Seventh Column. Why not give us more of them." Well, friend, you asked for it, and as we are hard-pressed for anything else to write about this week, here are a few jokes which we hope will give you a chuckle:

Teacher: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."

Student: "No wonder I failed my exams."

The retiring old usher was instructing his youthful successor in the details of his office. "And always remember, my boy, that we have nothing but good, kind Christians in this church until you try to put someone else in their pew."

Minister: "Do you mean to tell me you haven't heard of the flood and the ark landing or Mount Aarat"

Hillbilly: "Shucks, Reverend. I ain't had time to look at a paper all week."

The city slicker mounted the pony and a moment later painfully picked himself up from the dust. "Man," he said, "she bucked something fierce."

"Bucked!" snorted the cowboy, "she only coughed."

Lady Customer—"I see this medicine is advertised as good for man and beast."

Druggist—"Yes."

Customer—"Give me a bottle. I believe that's the right combination to help my husband."

Doctor (holding hand of a dying man): "Is there any last wish, my friend?"

Friend: "I wish I had called another doctor."

Father to son: Never go to a burlesque show. You may see something you shouldn't.

The little boy sneaked off one night to see a burlesque, so he told his father.

The father said: "Did you see anything you shouldn't."

Boy: "Yes, father, I saw you."

PAYING FOR THE PORCH

By Ona F. Lathrop

JOE BENTLEY hitched his chair a little farther into the warm spring sunshine and glanced uneasily behind him. He hoped Jennie wouldn't be out with the next load of laundry for a while. He knew she'd expect him to be hoeing the garden, but a man had to have a little time to sit in the sun and whittle.

Mike Thompson, his favorite nephew, came around the corner of the house in his striped coveralls. He flung his cap on the grass and stretched out on the rickety porch, his truck motor chugging in the street.

"Just thinking I ought to fix up this old porch, but I've got too much else to do," Joe laughed sheepishly, whittling on the sling-shot he was making for Mike's little boy. He fastened the piece of old inner-tube in place and handed it to Mike. "Here, take this along to Butch when you go. I promised it to him."

Mike fondled the smooth finish reminiscently. "Nobody could ever make a sling-shot like you, Uncle Joe. Sure wish I had time to make things for my own kids. Me, I work from dawn to dark for Burton, hauling his concrete and gravel. I envy you."

"Confidentially, Mike, I shouldn't be either," Joe laughed whimsically. "Living with Jennie is just like livin' with lightning — never know where she's goin' to strike next."

As if the lightning had heard him and decided to strike, Jennie came popping out the back door.

"Joe Bentley, are you still sitting here whittling? I told you — Oh, hello, Mike. Mind if I move you fellows? I've got to scrub this porch now." She dumped the pail of suds over the rough boards and the two men had to skedaddle to safety.

Joe winked at Mike. "Your Aunt Jennie's got a complex about this porch. Says the whole thing needs to come off. I say it just needs a new board or two. So since we can't agree, we don't do either."

Jennie sloshed her broom in the bubbling suds and brushed back a greying lock of hair with her wrist. "No, we just sit around and whittle."

"Now Aunt Jennie, I don't know anybody that has more fun out of life, nor whittles as good a sling-shot. All the kids will envy Butch this one. Even the boss's son he plays with. Can't buy 'em like that."

"Jennie doesn't know it, but it's better to have loafed and lost, than never to have loafed," and Joe followed Mike around to the truck. "Good load of gravel you've got there. Gives me an idea. A concrete porch would sure save a heap of painting and fixing. But it would cost!"

Mike scratched his head. "You know I might fix up a deal for you. I'll see what the boss says."

When Joe went back to the porch again, his rocker had been whisked inside and the hoe and spade were leaning against the railing.

The next evening Mike and Butch came past in the truck. "We've got an order for you, Uncle Joe," they called. "Little Jimmy Burton wants a sling-shot like Butch's. And the boss says if you would be willing to make enough of those for him to give out as advertising, I can bring you around the gravel and concrete for your new porch any time, free. Says he's tired of the gimcracks these companies make for giving out. He could have the company name stamped on them."

Joe grinned as if Fate had really played into his hands at last. "You mean—I could get Jennie a new concrete porch just by sitting on it and whittling out sling-shots the rest of the summer? Now won't that be a joke on Jennie? I can sit and whistle all summer without a pang of conscience, 'Just payin' for the porch,' I'll tell her."

And he went whistling around to the brush-pile where he always got his forked sticks and began picking out the best ones.

"EASY DOES IT"

BY ..... HELEN HALE

GOLDEN-BROWN, crusty corn sticks are welcome at any meal, but they'll be especially delectable if you fold bits of chopped ham and cheese to the batter.

Like a fruit dessert? You'll like pineapple chunks, pear, apple and peach slices with raspberry sauce.

Breakfast cereal becomes a special treat when served with a puff of whipped cream, banked with sliced peaches and a sprinkle of brown sugar.

As a vegetable, you'll like pancakes made with spinach. Finely chop tender spinach leaves and fold them in the batter and bake as for regular pancakes.

Combine pieces of veal steak and pork steak, roll in crumbs and attach to a skewer. These are baked for an hour in a moderate oven for a tasty dish.

Cabbage cooked quickly is a delightful vegetable, but even more so when you add some thinly sliced lemon to the water in which it's cooked.

An interesting way to prepare potatoes uses peeled ones sliced in criss-cross fashion, then fried to a crisp golden brown in the skillet. Season with onion salt, salt and pepper.

OBITUARY

The sudden passing of Mrs. Elizabeth Pearl Irvine, of Saskatoon, Sask., on July 29th, was learned regretfully here.

HOME HINTS

Ants

A remedy for driving away ants is to smear the infested cracks and corners with balsam of peru. Sulphur will drive away red ants.

Whiter Teeth

To whiten the teeth apply peroxide of hydrogen diluted with one half water. Or clean with prepared chalk and orris root every morning and night.

Labels

An attractive and different manner of labelling fruit and jellies is to get some old catalogues and cut out pictures of each fruit, pasting them on the jars and glasses.

Lemons

To preserve lemons keep them in a jar of cold water, renewing the water every day. If packed in clean, dry salt, they will keep for several months.

Bleeding

If very hot water, as hot as can be borne, is applied to a bleeding wound, it will often stop the bleeding.

Question Box

A Public Education Service of
THE HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA
111 Avenue Road; Toronto 5;
In co-operation with this newspaper.

All questions submitted are answered anonymously by members of the medical advisory board or special technical sections of the HEALTH LEAGUE.

CATARACT

Obviously many of the questions received cannot be referred directly to one of the ten technical committees of the Health League. There are doctors connected with most of these committees who have had wide general experience, and who could, in a pinch, draw upon their knowledge to answer almost any medical question that could be put to them. However, it is the policy of this Question Box to refer all questions to those specialists best qualified to answer them. Where a question does not fall within the specific field covered by one of the committees of the Health League, that question is easily referred to someone with special knowledge who may be connected with the Health League as a special advisor or writer for the magazine Health. The magazine is published by the Health League and draws upon specialists in every conceivable branch or sub-branch of medicine.

The following question from a Belleville correspondent, which deals with cataract, was referred to an eminent eye specialist whose articles have appeared from time to time in Health Magazine.

QUESTION: What causes cataract? How long is it usually before ready to be removed. Is it anything to worry about? Does it affect a person's sight? Is there any danger of a return after being removed?

ANSWER: Frequently cataract is caused by diabetes, but in mosts cases the cause is still unknown. The length of time it may be tolerated before it should be removed depends on the age of the sufferer at the time of the onset of cataract, and also on whether the suffered is diabetic. In general, if a person is 50 at the time of onset, the cataract will be ready for removal in two years; if 60, three to four years; if 70, five to eight years, and if 80, ten to 15 years. Under competent care it is nothing to worry about. Unremoved, it causes gradual loss of vision. The answer to your final question regarding danger of a return after removal must unfortunately be answered "yes." However, the danger is not great. There are cases where a cataract returned after being removed, but such cases are happily fairly rare.

WEDDINGS

McINTOSH—DANGERFIELD

A double ring wedding was solemnized in St. John's United Church, Kemptville, on Saturday, July 17th, when Lorena Beryl Dangerfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dangerfield, Kemptville, became the bride of George Grant McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McIntosh, Inkerman.

Rev. C. H. Ferguson officiated at the ceremony. Miss Laura E. Todd played the wedding music, and the soloist was Mr. Stuart Holmes, of Kemptville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Willis Hamilton, as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Loucks, Miss Iris Malloy and Miss Beverley Dangerfield, also a sister of the bride. Brenda Jane Hamilton was flower girl for her aunt.

Allan McIntosh was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Bruce Woodman, of Wolfe Island, Ralph Hurley, Willis Hamilton and Ronald Dangerfield, of Kemptville.

For her marriage, the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice, which fastened with satin covered buttons,, was designed with a bateau neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. The full skirt flared from the waist and fell into a short train. A tiny Juliet cap of matching lace held her fingertip veil of tulle illusion in place. She carried a small bouquet of a single orchid and stephanotis.

Following the ceremony, the young couple left on a wedding trip to New York City.

TV Serviceman: "What seems to be the trouble with your set, ma'am."

Little Woman: "Well, for one thing, all the programs are lousy."

Weed of the Week

RAGWEED

Ragweed has achieved so much prominence as the major cause of hay fever that most of its other unpleasant characteristics are overlooked. In addition to being responsible for some 80 per cent. of the hay fever, however, Ragweed also is a great robber of soil moisture and plant food, is commonly an impurity in red clover seed, reduces the palatability of pastures, even causing off-flavored milk from dairy cows.

An annual plant, it is still very difficult to control, being a persistent seeder, even after being mowed off once or twice during the summer. Each plant produces about 5,000 seeds and these have great vitality, can stand heat, cold, moisture, burying and still grow when conditions become right.

Ragweed has one weakness in that it doesn't like long midsummer days, or early fall frosts. For these reasons it hasn't made too much headway in Northern Ontario districts. Accordingly, there is an annual exodus of hay fever sufferers to these northern resorts during the hay fever season.

Many of the people who each year abandon the pollen filled air of Old Ontario do not recognize the Ragweed plant from which they are fleeing. This is unfortunate, since only when everyone recognizes and destroys this weed on sight will we ever be free of Ragweed pollen hay fever.

Ragweed is not particular about soil types, growing on soils from too wet to too dry, from sand to heavy clay. It is common on roadsides, in back yards, gardens, parks and farmers' fields. It can be handled, hoed, pulled, or sprayed, quite safely until pollen is formed, which is not usually before mid-July.

Ragweed is usually a low growing, insignificant looking plant, with much branched stems, finely divided, ragged leaves, pale coloured on the under side. The flowers are inconspicuous, yellowish color, arranged on long slender spikes.

Control is simple. Roadsides are being sprayed with 2-4-D and where this practice has been continued a couple of years, Ragweed has practically disappeared. Spraying should be extended to cover more roadsides, parks, vacant lots and other areas where Ragweed exists.

In gardens it should be hoed or pulled out, in stubble fields not plowed down to grass it should be plowed, disced or cultivated early enough to prevent seed setting. Cutting Ragweed is not satisfactory unless it is cut very close to the ground, since it sets seed in the axils of the leaves very low on the plant.

Property owners in general, and owners of large tracts of unused land in particular, must accept their responsibility in destroying Ragweed, thus saving themselves and the population in general much suffering from hay fever. The actual crop increase as a result of Ragweed eradication will be highly profitable.
