Women's Institute Holds October Meeting Mrs. John Sutherland Recalls Oversea Visit

The October meeting of Chesterville Women's Institute was held in the Community Hall, Wednesday evening and many were the 'oh's' and 'ah's' of appreciation when about 100 members and guests sat down to a bounteous Pot Luck supper. As the Hall was being readied for the usual business meeting and program, soft piano music was played by Mrs. J. Fyke and Mrs. Allison Graham.

The answer to roll-call seemed to show that most of the people present were opposed to state medicine.

Mrs. Shaver, the president, welcomed guests and members, and it being the birthday of Mrs. W. O. Dixon, 'Happy Birthday' was sung in her honour.

Mrs. Floyd Edgerton ageed to arrange for the judging of costumes and the awarding of prizes on the night of the Hallowe'en dance. Mrs. G. G. Merkley reported on the proposed Cook Bock. Mrs. Keith Graham and Mrs. Basil Rowe generously offered to give an evening's tuition in smocking to those who care to learn. Miss Audrey Spencer will teach needlepoint in the Library on November 3, 4 and 5. There is no charge for either course, and those interested can telephone 628 for particulars. Mrs. Hugh Smith and Mrs. Geo. Merkley will be delegates to the annual Institute Convention to be held in Ottawa.

It was decided to sponsor a euchre in November with the proceeds to be used to send food parcels to Britain; preferably to relatives of Chesterville folk.

Mrs. Myles Merkley introduced little Helen Merkley who sang sweetly to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. A. Graham.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. John Sutherland, gave an interesting and educational account of her recent trip to England and Scotland, describing the boat trip. Edinburgh, Jedburgh, London, Madame Tussaud's and other places of interest. She touched on the Social Services, 'from the cradle to the grave', and the fact that as usual when people get something for nothing, there is a great abuse of privileges. When Mrs. Sutherland told of the meagre rations, many members felt a pang as they thought of the well-laden tables at which they had been sitting, and there found the incentive to make the euchre to raise funds for Britain a success.

Mrs. Myles Merkley and Mrs. Stanley Shay sang a charming old English air, accompanied by Mrs. Graham.

The singing of the National Anthem closed the meeting.

The committee which is to be credited with the successful meeting was composed as follows: Mesdames Myles Merkley, F. Shaver, J. McMillan, Geo. Johnston, H. Greer, C. Thompson, T. McIntosh, P. Hall and H. Marriner.

Mrs. W. A. Durant Passes After Short Illness

Residents were grieved to learn of the unexpected death of Mrs. W. A. Durant, which occurred after an illness of two days duration. A woman of sterling Christian principles and highest integrity, Luella May, daughter of the late Jacob and Lavina Countryman, was born in Morewood in 1870.

She became the wife of William A. Durant, who died 20 years ago, and has lived for many years in the Chesterville district.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. D. G. Gault, Manotick, two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Thompson, Kemptville, and Mrs. Walter Steven, Morewood, two sons, Ralph of Bowmanville and Graham, Chesterville, with whom Mrs. Durant resided.

One son, Wilfred, gave his life in the First World War and Cecil died in infancy. Twelve grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Durant was a devout member of Trinity United Church congregation, also a member of the Philathea Bible Class and the Woman's Association.

The funeral was held from the residence of her son on Wednesday. Service in Trinity United, conducted by Rev. W. E. Wright. Interment was in Maple Ridge cemetery.

LARGE SQUASH REPORTED

Mrs. Grant Beckstead reports a very large squash in her garden this year. The big pie-maker weighs an even 40 lbs, is 42 inches around and 54 inches in length.

MILTON COUNTRYMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Thursday, last week, Milton Countryman, near Gallingertown, was severely injured while bringing a load of buckwheat from the field to his barn after dark. Unknown to his wife he had taken the team and wagon to the field to bring in a last load. In attempting to get up on the wagon he slipped to the ground in front of the wheels startling the horses. The front wheel passed over his shoulder and side, fracturing six ribs and causing a puncture of the lung.

The horses continued on home, turned in their own barn yard and proceeded to the home of Clarence Countryman, near by. The latter heard them come in to his barn without a driver. Sensing what had happened, Clarence immediately sent his son with the car to pick up Milton's wife and go look for her husband. On arriving in the field he was found trying to make his way home notwithstanding his injuries.

Dr. Justus was quickly on the scene and had the injured man taken to Cornwall General Hospital, where he is making improvement and without complications is expected to recover. Mr. Countryman is 57 years of age.

STANDARD TIME ? HAVEN'T DECIDED

With the surrounding municipalities going back to slow time over the week-end, Chesterville council has not yet made up its collective mind what to do about it here as we go to press. We think decisions like this should be a matter of closer attention, and thereby save a measure of confusion in the populace.

WINNERS IN PIKE CLASS REPORTED INCORRECTLY LAST WEEK

Our appologies are due Oscar 'Slim' Olsen for not listing his ten pound, six ounce pike as winner in the pike class of the Big Fish Contest. Somehow or other this entry became lost in the shuffle, and we missed it. The winners in that class now read: 1, Oscar Olsen; 2, Jack Casselman; 3, Edwin Munro.

NICOL—OUDERKIRK

A pretty wedding took place on Tuesday, Oct. 25, at the parsonage of the United Church, Winchester, when Margaret Elida, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Ouderkirk, was joined in marriage to Jim, son of Mrs. John Nicol and the late Mr. John Nicol, of Toronto.

The bride was attractively dressed in a street-length gown of pearl grey crepe with navy trim. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Helena Jennings.

Mr. Andrew Easter of Brockville, assisted the groom.

The happy couple will reside in Brockville.

WHITE CROSSING JINX ACTIVE OIL TRUCK DIVES INTO DITCH

The White Crossing west of the village is still claiming its victims. This time no one was hurt.

Proceeding east, a large trailer truck approached the crossing at a normal rate of speed last Saturday morning, in a slight drizzle. As the driver made the first turn, the trailer decided to swap ends and that was that. Before you could say 'Imperial Oil' the whole outfit was resting in 'Billy' McElroy's pasture still upright, but with a badly bent front end. Loaded as it was with high octane gas, it was fortunate that a fire didn't start.

Total damage: Bent axle, and another fence for the CPR to fix.

ROTARY TO HAVE PARTY FOR HALLOWE'EN KIDS

Chesterville Rotary is planning to hold a bang-up party for the young folks on Monday night after the regular meeting. All kids in costume and otherwise are invited to the Library of the Community Hall after eight o'clock to be judged and to get a treat. The Community Service Committee under Reeve Chas. McMillan will be responsible for the arrangements.

The Rotary meeting of last week was addressed by the Rev. Dr. Younger-Lewis of Vernon. He was introduced by H. G. Bigelow and thanked by F. M. Cass.

HUTT—PAUL

Rev. Mr. Thomas performed the ceremony in United Church parsonage, Winchester, at which Patricia Mary, daughter of the late Napoleon Paul and Mrs. Paul, became the bride of Reginald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Hutt.

For her wedding the bride wore a navy blue crepe street dress with black accessories and corsage of red roses.

The bridesmaid was Wilda Beaupre, and the best man was Albert Harper. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutt will reside in Chesterville.

JOHN BRACKEN, MANOTICK, VISITS VENTURE CROFT FARMS

Venture Croft Farms had a well-known personage calling last Sunday in the person of the former leader of the Opposition, Mr. John Bracken. Mr. Bracken came over from his farm at Manotick to inspect the fine Jersey herd of Major James Popham, owner of Venture Croft Farms on the outskirts of the village.

FREAK ACCIDENT ON MAIN LEAVES A SORE HEAD

Last Monday the driver of a Bell Telephone truck stopped on Main Street North and prepared to leave the truck to get a bite to eat. He climbed from under the wheel, slid over to leave by the right door, caught his toe and dived head first to the pavement. The stunning force with which he landed left him unconscious for over twenty minutes. A long scalp wound resulted, a split lip and a raging headache.

ANGLICAN GUILD EUCHRE

The members of Holy Trinity Anglican Guild sponsored a very successful euchre party in the Community Hall. The prize winners were Mrs. T. McCadden, Mrs. Masterson and Mr. Harold Greer. Mr. Sidney Morris auctioned some cakes, bringing in the sum of $5.00. The prizes were awarded the winners by Mrs. John Sutherland, President of the Guild. Refreshments were served and all those present agreed that it had been a very delightful evening.

MARGARET OUDERKIRK TENDERED SHOWER

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ouderkirk entertained a number of their friends and acquaintances on Saturday evening last in honour of the approaching marriage of their youngest daughter, Margaret Elida.

Many beautiful gifts were received by the bride, who expressed her appreciation to all.

MORE PEOPLE WORKING ON THE LAND

Livestock in Britain is on the increase. This is revealed in figures published recently by the Ministry of Agriculture which are taken from the census giving farming statistics. Those show the position in June of this year for crops and agricultural workers as well as for livestock. Compared with a year ago, there are now 866,000 more sheep and lambs, 340,000 more cattle and 488,000 more pigs. Poultry flocks have increased from 52 million to almost 61 million. The census also shows that more people are working on the land. The agricultural labour force expanded during the 12 months under review from about 740,000 to more than 750,000. Amount of land under cultivation is now some 10¼ million acres. Of this about 6 million are devoted to wheat, barley and oats, another one million to potatoes, 412,000 to sugar beet and 58,000 to linseed. There are 10 million acres of permanent grassland and 3½ million of temporary pasture.

MARRIAGE ON TRIAL

A present from New Zealand will enable one of Britain's most picturesque ancient customs to be revived this autumn. This is the Dunmow Flitch trial by which a side (or flitch) of bacon is awarded to the married couple who can swear before the townsfolk of Little Dunmow that they have not repented of marriage nor quarrelled for a year and a day. Since the beginning of the war the presentation of this award has not been possible owing to rationing restrictions. But part of a prize pig from New Zealand is being set aside especially for this purpose this autumn. The custom is said to have originated in the reign of King Henry III.

"PREFABRICATED" NEST

When a swallow's nest fell from the eaves of the court-house at Stradbroke, Suffolk, England, a policeman climbed up and put a tiny, lightweight basket in its place. The parent birds lined the basket, moved their brood to it, and quickly resumed feeding and flying lessons as before.

SEALS, SELKIES AND MERMAIDS

Many a discussion has raged over mermaids, in places where sailors meet and elsewhere. And always the mermaids have been said to sing, usually as they sat on the rocks, combing their beautiful long hair. There have been other strange stories, too, of the Selkie Folk. And who and what are they? Fishermen in the far North of Britain have always known the brown and grey seals by their local names: the grey seals are the Selkies, or Selkie Folk, and the brown seals the Tangies or Tang Fish. The Tangies have never been much talked about but for generations the Selkies have been the focal point of romantic legend. They were said to have the miraculous power of transforming themselves into human beings and living on dry land, where they then became the Selkie Folk. There are many tales of love and intrigue between Selkies and humans but Selkies were never seen combing their hair on the rocks as mermaids were. But the legend of both Selkies and mermaids singing has persisted in a programme on seals, broadcast in the BBC's series of country programmes called "The Naturalist," G. A. Steven, a great authority on seals, introduced some of Ludwig Koch's seal recordings, strange wailing noises and weird sounds with a ghostly quality, which are surely the source of the old tales of singing Selkies and mermaids.

To get his recordings Ludwig Koch went to Wales, to the rocky isle of Skomer where many grey seals come to drop their calves in the autumn. The cliffs rise straight from the sea except at one or two places and the intrepid Koch took his recording gear to Skomer and then climbed to a place called the Seal Hole, more than 200 feet down a sheer rock cliff. He took a microphone with him, found he had no torch and by the light of matches put the microphone in a safe place and then retired as quickly as he could, for the tide was coming in. The bulky recording apparatus was in a tarpaulin tent above and Koch had to shelter for some time in a trench with a tarpaulin roof for the weather was abominable and the sea so rough that the yacht which brought him to the island was broken on the rocks. The storm raged for days and when the gale dropped the tarpaulin tent had been blown away and the recording gear scattered about but by great good fortune it was still in working order. Koch switched on, the microphone was happily intact, and he heard the seal family talking to each other far below. He recorded the sounds made by the baby seals and the quite different sound as their teeth chattered when the cold tide came in. It was a great achievement and a tribute to the excellence of his recording gear that, despite such exceptional atmospheric conditions, it was still able to be used to make some of the best recordings in the BBC's extensive library of sound effects. And so the listener, through the medium of the BBC, was able to sit in his armchair and listen to those strange, evocative noises which, on many occasions, had caused his ancestors to come to port telling romantic stories of the mermaids and Selkie Folk they had heard singing as they sailed by rocky and uninhabited islands.

NORMAL SCHOOLS' FIELD TRIP

Forty-five students of the Ottawa Normal School and University of Ottawa Normal were taken on a field trip on Saturday afternoon, so that they might have some first-hand knowledge of forestry to impart to their future students. Most of these young ladies and gentlemen had never been in the woods before so they learned a good deal and appeared greatly interested in this new field of action.

They saw red pine at Rockland planted in 1914, and already 7"-14" in diameter and 60 feet in height; they saw planted trees of all intermediate ages; and they saw trees being planted on the Larose Forest. Mr. Smith the science master at the Normal was delighted with the afternoon. "They saw things that they needed," he said.

WHATEVER IS — IS BEST

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

I KNOW as my life grows older,
And mine eyes have clearer sight—
That under each rank wrong somewhere
There lies the root of right;
That each sorrow has a purpose,
By sorrowing oft unguessed.
But as sure as the sun brings morning,
Whatever is—is best.

I know that each sinful action,
As sure as the night brings shade,
Is somewhere, sometime punished,
Tho' the hour be long delayed.
I know that the soul is aided
Sometimes by the heart's unrest,
And to grow means often to suffer—
But whatever is—is best.

I know there are no errors,
In the great eternal plan,
And all things work together
For the final good of man.
And I know as my soul speeds onward,
In its great eternal quest,
I shall say as I look back earthward,
Whatever is—is best.

The Voice of Rural Canada

The CBC has helped to develop a number of farm programs, each designed to meet some special need of rural citizens. One of these, National Farm Radio Forum, begins its tenth broadcast season this Monday, October 31st.

The program offers listeners the opportunity of hearing the opinions of experts about rural, social, economic, and educational problems, of discussing these problems among themselves, and of hearing what other farmers across Canada have to say.

National Farm Radio Forum is a joint project of the CBC, the Canadian Association for Adult Education and the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. It will be heard each Monday evening on Trans-Canada.

In format, the program varies from informal debates on controversial subjects between a chairman and two or three agricultural experts and farmers, to dramas about farm-family problems, performed by professianal actors. Speakers in the discussion programs are chosen for their special knowledge or their particular point of view.

Basic to the pattern of National Farm Radio Forum is the listening group. Each Monday night from November to March thousands of farm people across the country meet in small groups to listen to the broadcast together, study and discuss the evening's topic and then decide how their mutual problems can best be solved.

Each group appoints a secretary to send a report on its conclusions to the provincial Forum secretary. For their discussions, the groups use the questions in the Farm Forum Guide, a weekly illustrated booklet containing an informative article on the discussion topic. The booklets reach the groups a week in advance of each broadcast.

Every fourth broadcast is an open night — the Guide is not printed and no discussion questions are prepared. On those occasions, the broadcasts take the form of a review of Farm Forum opinion on the preceding three topics, and a discussion or interview dealing with some current rural problem.

This week's topic will be Wanted: A Chance for Experience. The invited speakers will discuss what is being done or should be done by farm organizations to develop future leaders.

The following week the question will be: Should there be greater uniformity between provincial educational standards? On November 14th rural recreation will be discussed. There will be two broadcasts comparing Canadian farm life with that in other countries, and one about farm housing problems. Farm produce and equipment prices and tariffs will be dealt with in January; food and conservation in February; and labor and community organization in March.

Another discussion broadcast — designed for group listening — Citizens' Forum — will originate in Winnipeg this week — Thursday at 7.45 p.m. on Trans-Canada. A group of men and women representing parents, teachers, doctors and social workers will discuss the question of sex education. The program will be produced by Bernard Trotter of the CBC.

Public opinion is seventy-two per cent. in favor of sex education in high schools, according to a Canadian Institute of Public Opinion poll conducted last January.

CANADIAN CATTLE GOES TO ITALY

First shipment, against an order for 250 head of Holstein-Friesian bred heifers, left for Italy from Montreal recently. This order for Canadian dairy cattle resulted from the reputation for milk yields made by a previous shipment of 210 head of Holstein-Friesian purebred cattle with production records, placed in Italy last year.

The Great Diplomat

The young bride is looking into the window of a jewellry store.

"George," she says, "I'd love to have that bracelet."

"I can't afford to buy it for you, my dear," says George.

"But if you could you would, wouldn't you?"

"No," says diplomatic George.

"Why?" says she, surprised and angry.

"It isn't good enough, dear."

"Oh, you darling."

Church News

MOREWOOD UNITED CHURCH

The service on Sunday morning in Morewood United Church was conducted by the minister. The sermon was on the text "We know that all things work together for good to them that love God", Rom. 8,28.

The text suggests the sovereignty and the love of God. The heavenly Father has all power to overrule all things to work out His sovereign designs for the good of His creatures. It is a test of human faith to believe that all life's experiences are for good, seems a little too much to ask. By taking the long view, we can trust the word of the author of this text all things calamities, disappointments, accidents, indeed all things can be overruled to serve the ultimate good of mankind.

There is harmony in the working out of human experience to complete the divine pattern. All things work together to give unity and control. The governors on the engine, the balance wheel of the watch, the time chain of the motor keep all the parts moving in harmony. So in life, in the home, the school, the factory, the community, the world, the church. The key to the text is the final word, "To them that love God." This is the key to open the lock to human happiness, peace and good will. God does give great blessing to all men, to the evil and the good, but he keeps the greatest of all blessings for those who love Him.

The anthem was "Grace is Greater Than Our Sin." Mrs. Mac Thompson presided at the organ.

2,4-D, WHY IT KILLS CERTAIN PLANTS

No one has given a simple explanation of how 2,4-D kills a plant or why it kills some plants and not others. It is known that its herbicidal action is most pronounced when applied on fast growing plants. Other remarkable characteristics of this chemical which means death to so many plants, are that it is not poisonous to animals, it is not corrosive to metals, and it is not inflammable.

POWER REGULATIONS MUST BE ENFORCED

A reduction in power deliveries from one of the Commission's suppliers makes it necessary for all consumers to avoid wasting electricity. The Commission has advised the municipal systems that strict compliance with regulations respecting the use of electricity is essential.

Voluntary conservation is also needed. Homes, industries and farms can play their full part by reducing the use of electricity at all times, particularly during the hours of maximum use, from 10 to 12 in the morning and 4 to 6 in the afternoon.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! It's a wonderful feeling to have a dream become a reality — a brand new kitchen! We are very proud of ours because it is both attractive and efficient. It is not the new gadgets as much as the well-planned general working conditions which minimize time and energy. The compact, step-saving work unit combines a laundry and kitchen area where only 2 or 3 steps are required from one work centre to another. The size of the room is 8 feet, 9 inches by 15 feet, six inches.

Beginning at the back door we have the following installations: broom closet with cleaning equipment, refrigerator, clothes sorting space, washing machine, double sink, food preparation table, baking centre, electric range, door to the dining room and breakfast counter.

When we were planning the kitchen we made a list to evaluate our needs. Maybe these ideas will be helpful to you:

1. Well-lighted work areas.
2. Provision for adequate ventilation.
3. Comfortable kitchen temperatures —winter and summer.
4. Size and features of range, sink, and refrigerator to suit our particular requirements.
5. Other appliances needed.
6. Provision for three work surfaces—mixing centre near refrigerator, dish clearing at sink, and cooking-serving at the range.
7. Location of the refrigerator so that the door opens towards a clearing table.
8. The laundry equipment enclosed in the cabinet area if the machine is spin-dry.
9. The laundry procedure arranged to allow space to sort, wash and dry if possible.
10. Storage facilities convenient as well as adequate: (a) cutlery drawer in divisions; (b) Lazy Susan shelves for corners; (c) set-up shelves for spices; (d) cup rack; (e) towel racks; (f) tray racks; (g) metal lined drawers for flour, sugar and bread; (h) ventilated container for vegetables.
11. A place to work sitting down—about 32 inches from floor.
12. The bottom of the sink bowl at least 32 inches from floor.
13. All built-in working surfaces of the same height and width—about 36 inches high and 27 inches wide.

As this check list is used in planning a new kitchen or remodelling an old one, two things become apparent: First no one kitchen-laundry can have everything, since good planning requires elimination of the non-essential as well as inclusion of the essentials. Secondly, a kitchen laundry room is an individual problem—and one that is never solved for all time. Even a new home can be perfect for a family of a given size and way of life only until its size and way of life change inevitably with the passage of time.

TAKE A TIP

Kitchen Clean-Up

1. Do not scrape food from granite, as it chips. Soak enamel kettles well and boil to loosen clinging food. Scour stains with scouring powder.
2. Do not use soda or ammonia to clean aluminum. Rub scorched aluminum pans with steel wool. Boil an apple peeling in a solution of tomato juice to remove stains from aluminum.
3. Clean milk bottles and flower vases with a solution of ammonia.
4. Copper and brass are easily cleaned with a cloth dampened in vinegar and then in salt or whiting.
5. To prevent a new tin utensil from rusting grease it lightly and heat it slowly. After washing tinware in soapy water, dry thoroughly.
6. Always leave the oven door of the range partly open after baking period to ventilate and prevent any possible rusting.
7. Periodically, clean the sink drainpipe by pouring a solution of washing soda down the pipe (½ cup of washing soda to 2 quarts water). Rinse with planty of hot water.
8. Wooden handles should not be soaked.
9. Do not put the cogs of the Dover beater in water.
10. Wipe out all greasy pans with paper before washing.
11. Line the garbage can with newspaper and a tablespoon of dry ammonia over this to keep it sweet.
