United Church S. S. Concert

Hockey Season Opens Here New Years Day

Opening day of the 1954-55 hockey season at the Winchester Arena promises to be a bang-up affair when Winchester Juniors, St. Lawrence League champions, tangle with last year's runner-up Prescott squad in the league opener, slated for New Year's afternoon, January 1st.

The afternoon feature was first tried last year when Morrisburg were the visitors, and it proved so successful that the club executive decided to repeat the same thing again this year.

Winchester Juniors this year will have plenty of new faces on the roster, and according to all reports, are coming up with a fine aggregation of hockey players that will be out there gunning for their third straight crack at the Gill silverware.

This year, at the local arena, Intermediate hockey will make its return, giving the town and district two teams to cheer for. Their league opens shortly. In the meantime, the Juniors are looking for a big opening day crowd on January 1st.

GIDEON YOUTH TESTAMENTS PRESENTED IN PUBLIC SCHOOL

On Monday morning before Christmas, each pupil in Grade V of the Public School was presented with a neat, well bound copy of the New Testament, Psalms and Proverbs. These Youth Testaments are provided by the "Gideons"—an organization of Christian Business Men who place Bibles in hotels, motels, hospitals, schools, prisons and other public institutions.

Gideon Youth Testaments are presented to Grade 5 in the school each year. In that way every pupil going through public school receives a copy.

The presentation was made by Eldon Fennell and Rev. T. N. Mitchell on behalf of the Gideons, assisted by Mrs. Helen Kerr, teacher of Grade 5.

Mr. E. B. McMillan, retiring reeve of Winchester township, was honoured by members of council at a turkey dinner given by Blair Construction Co., and held at the home of Road Superintendent, J. V. Fetterly, at Morewood, recently.

Cooking Up Something!

Wayne and Shuster find humor a serious business. And seriously, what's funny about 1955? There's a gag here somewhere and in the din of New Years Eve celebrations, Canada's top comedy team are trying hard to find it. But any minute their pose of profundity is going to disintegrate into an old-fashioned whoopee as the clock strikes twelve. Wayne and Shuster star in their own show on the CBC Trans-Canada network every Thursday night, and on television every fourth week.

Henderson Lodge Observes Seventy-Fifth Anniversary

(By F. Erle Helmer)

Members of Henderson Lodge, No. 383, A. F. & A. M., held a special convocation in the lodge rooms on Monday night to commemorate the 75th Anniversary of the founding of the lodge. More than 100 masons from Winchester, Chesterville, Russell, Williamsburg and other district points attended to assist in the special programme.

Wor. Bro. Roy Cumming, Master of the lodge, presided for the evening, and welcomed the many visiting members. Wor. Bro. Wilburn Marcellus, the Master of Chesterville Lodge, conducted the closing ceremonies.

Rt. Wor. Bro. Dr. S. H. Hutt, of Chesterville, who was the District Deputy Grand Master of the Eastern District in 1929, represented the mother lodge, from which the Charter members came, to form the new lodge at Winchester. During the course of his address he paid tribute to the officers and members of the lodge for the manner in which they had prepared for the anniversary and for their contribution to the work of Masonry in the district.

Members of Russell Lodge, which also had its origin from the Chesterville Lodge, attended in large numbers, and both of these lodges, together with Williamsburg had been granted special dispensations from the Grand Lodge in Ontario, to suspend their regular meetings in favor of the anniversary meeting.

Grand Lodge sent greetings through the District Deputy Grand Master of Eastern Ontario, Rt. Wor. Bro. E. Seay, of Hawkesbury, who expressed his regret at being unable to attend.

A special birthday cake, suitably decorated with Masonic emblems, was cut by Wor. Bro. Harry Scott, Master of the Russell lodge, and the candles were lit by Wor. Bro. F. Erle Helmer, a Past Master of Henderson Lodge.

Rt. Wor. Bro. W. J. Stewart, P.D.D.G.M., introduced Wor. Bro. J. D. Stewart, the lodge historian, to the visiting members. The history of the lodge, as compiled by Mr. Stewart, had many interesting highlights and mentioned several presentations to the lodge by its members, and also noted the names of members honoured for outstanding service in the work of Masonry. The lodge was named after the Grand Master of Ontario at the time of its founding, James Alexander Henderson, and one of the charter members was George Henderson, the first treasurer. The first Master was George P. Sills, then foreman of the M. F. Beach Lumber Co., and among the other officers of the first lodge were Alex Cameron, tailor; David Wishart, carriage maker, of Kenmore; Samuel Schwerdtfeger, farmer; George Henderson, tanner; Alpin Campbell, storekeeper, of Ormond; Eli Lester White, Public School principal; James Alexander, merchant; Adam Easton Scott, painter; Asa Beach, merchant, Chesterville; Robert Reddick, medical doctor; John L. Holmes, retired farmer, and John A. Waterson, Public School principal.

In order to further mark the anniversary occasion, announcement was made by Wor. Bro. Dr. W. A. Sherwood, secretary, that two honorary life membership certificates had been applied for and would be presented by the lodge to two of its oldest continuous members of the lodge. They are Bro Joseph Barrigar and Wor: Bro. George Edward Payne, both of whom have been members for 46 years. Mr. Barrigar thanked the officers and members for the honour on his own behalf and for Mr. Payne who was unable to attend due to ill health.

Several Scotch songs were sung by John Twiname, of Russell, and a monologue was given by F. Erle Helmer.

Short addresses were also given by Rev. G. Oliver Davies, of Morrisburg, P.D.D.G. Secretary; R. W. Aitkinson, Russell; Milton Stoodley, Woodstock; W. F. Owens, Winnipeg; Harry Potter, Williamsburg; Doug. Warner, Russell; Charles Davidson, Sterling, and William Ellis.

Car Badly Damaged In Local Accident

Slippery, snow-covered pavement was partly responsible for a 3-car crash at Church and St. Lawrence Streets early last Thursday evening, causing an estimated $450.00 damage. No one was injured.

The accident occurred about 6.30 o'clock when George Bell, of Winchester, proceeding north and driving a 1954 Pontiac, attempted to turn left on Church Street. Dalton Kenney, driving a one-ton panel truck owned by Hylo Eggs, was going south on St. Lawrence, and was unable to bring his truck to a stop on the slippery thoroughfare, hitting the Bell car broadside and driving it into another car on Church Street, owned by B. M. Scott, of 3580 Dearie Blvd., Montreal.

The Bell car was most seriously damaged, with estimates up to $350.00 to repair the one side of the car which was badly smashed.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

The year is dead—a new one dawns,
A year of peace, and happier days,
When truth and justice right the wrongs,
Made by man's hard and selfish ways.
The world is waiting for the time,
When love will banish hate and greed,
While longing eyes look for relief
From hunger's cruel, crying need.
True lives are made of little things,
Of kindly words, and smiles, and acts,
The happiness that each can bring,
By giving what our brother lacks.

Winchester Merchants Report Brisk Christmas Trade---Contests Helped

Give-away prizes, including a $500.00 fur coat, a five-piece wrought iron kitchen suite and a diamond set Bulova wrist watch, helped trade in Winchester this year, it is believed. In announcing the winners of the various contests, sponsored during the Christmas shopping season this year, Winchester merchants reported sales up over previous years, and generally, were quite satisfied with their year-end sales. satisfied with their year-end trade.

Big prize winner was Mrs. Orman Savage, of Winchester, who won the $500.00 fur coat at the popular Jo-Anne Shoppe here. Reeve John Fader, who made the draw also pulled lucky tickets belonging to Mrs. Vandenheim, of Mountain, who won the lovely cloth coat, and Mrs. Stuart Anderson, Winchester, who was the lucky winner of the expensive dress.

Vice & Craig's annual Lucky Contest draw featured weekly winners plus the grand prize winner who was Mrs. Percy Douglas, of Winchester. Mrs. Douglas won the beautiful wrought iron 5-pce. kitchen set.

Davidson's annual Christmas Contest also proved popular again, as it has for so many years. Winners of the three valuable prizes there were: Dr. W. M. Byers, Winchester, who won the diamond set Bulova watch, with ticket number 00089; Mrs. Emmerson Stewart, Winchester, ticket number 00047, four-piece silver tea service; and Ramon H. Casselman, Williamsburg, who won the electric toaster with his ticket number 01032. Reeve Fader also made the draw on Christmas Eve at Davidson's.

Mrs. Jake Empey won the stocking full of toys at Elliott's Food Market. The draw was made by Councillor Robt. Woods.

Indian Relic Discovered In Mountain Twp.

What is probably an old Indian relic used by the tribes that once frequented this area years ago, was unearthed recently by District Conservation Officer, G. C. Myers, of Winchester.

According to Mr. Myers, the pistol shaped flint stone he found is an old Indian Skinning Knife, used mostly in the case of deer and larger animals to separate the hide from the skin. The Conservation Officer made the find while on a routine patrol on an old trail in West Mountain Township in the vicinity of Smith's apple orchard. The historic piece had gradually worked itself to the earth's surface, and he happened to hit it with his foot as he was walking, the officer said.

The knife, made of flint stone, has been carved out to the convenience of a right-handed person, for the grip is almost perfect. Shaped like a small German pistol, the barrel part is not round, but flat like a knife, and has, at one time, been very sharp.

More information concerning the historic weapon was not immediately obtainable, although Mr. Myers is taking it to an expert on such things, and hopes to be able to tell us more of the colourful past that belongs to this "skinning knife."

WEDDINGS

FAITH—HOLMES

A quiet wedding, of local interest, took place in the Wesleyan Methodist Church on Monday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. when Miss Betty Anne Holmes, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Holmes, was united in marriage with Mr. William Earl Faith, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Faith, of Richmond. Rev. H. Kielty officiated.

Mr. Clifford Faith attended his brother as best man.

Following the marriage ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served to the immediate families at four p.m. at the home of the bride's parents. After a honeymoon trip to New York State and Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Faith will reside at Spring Hill, where she is engaged as teacher in the public school.

Prior to her marriage, Miss Holmes was presented with a coffee table and hassock by the pupils and members of the school.

REILLY—BARKLEY

A day before Christmas wedding was solemnized in Winchester Baptist Church on Friday, December 24th, when Miss Wilda Marjorie Helen Barkley, of Ottawa, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Reilly, also of Ottawa. Miss Barkley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barkley, of Winchester, and Mr. Reilly is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Reilly, of Ottawa.

Rev. David T. Anderson was the officiating clergyman, and Miss Joy Smith was organist. Christmas decorations adorned the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Jean Batt. Mr. Warren Hyland was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Richard Beurling and Mr. William Tupper.

A NEW YEAR AHEAD!

Another year is passing into the hallowed hall of "History." Perhaps it has brought you great happiness . . . perhaps it has been twelve months of disappointment. In either case, a New Year lies ahead to offer you new opportunities to increase those treasured things of life . . . friendship, happiness and success. It is our sincere hope, indeed, that 1955 will be good to you and that it will be, for you, a year of dreams come true.

WINTER JOBS

Don't imagine we are going to completely solve the problem of seasonal unemployment this winter. But, says The Financial Post, dont' write off the long-term effects of present planning either. A start has been made, and with the necessary co-operation Ottawa is confident that substantial progress can be made in relieving this national headache.

We could, of course, insist, if we were to disregard the cost entirely, that all government construction be restricted to the winter months. The cost would be vastly more than that of similar work done in the summer, and we could also be sure that some of it would have to be done over again. It just isn't possible to carry out economically certain types of construction everywhere in Canada when the temperature is well below zero.

On the other hand, there are jobs, including interior construction, that can be carried out just as well in the winter time as in the summer. There are purchases, which mean employment at the point of production, that can be made just as easily in December as in June.

Ottawa has made a start in planning and allocating such work and buying in its various government departments. Provincial governments and private industry have been asked to follow a similar policy. But this is something that will take time. It cannot be planned and carried out overnight, and if we are realistic we will not expect it to be carried out overnight and regardless of expense.

WE'RE LOSING TOURISTS

While the weather may have kept a lot of tourists at home this year, Canada must sharpen up its attractions to keep our tourist-take from dwindling further, thinks The Financial Post.

Recent suggestions include improvement of meals and highways. These and a lot of other matters will have to be attended to. Canada is now getting only about 32% of the U. S. tourist dollar compared with 45 per cent. in 1942, while Europe's share has climbed from 2 per cent. to 33 per cent. in that period.

The tourist business is a very lucrative income we have taken almost for granted in the past years. We can't afford to do so any longer. Now we are competing not with the hash-slinger of northern Wisconsin but with the thoroughly trained chefs in Europe.

HAIL AND FAREWELL

Let us bid farewell to futile strife
As we say "Good Bye" to the old year's life.
As its form grows dim,
Where the shadows dwell,
So to hurts and cares
May we say "Farewell",
Let the New Year come, with a slate that's clean,
And a hope that lifts to the stars bright sheen.

—Dorothy Sproule.

EDITORIAL NOTES!

Saturday is New Year's Day—the day on which you resolve to cut out a lot of bad habits or to "turn over a new leaf." Regardless of what your New Year's Resolutions are, don't forget to make and keep one similar to this: "I resolve to keep all my New Year Resolutions."

To all Press Subscribers, Advertisers, Correspondents and Friends, the publisher of this paper extends New Year Greetings. Not only in appreciation of our pleasant business relationship throughout the past years, but, in all sincerity, we wish you and yours an abundance of Good Health, Wealth and Prosperity during the year 1955.

We note where an enthusiastic home economics editor in urging to "Help your Wife," has this to say to husbands: "When she washes the dishes, wash dishes with her; when she mops the floor, mop the floor with her." Tsch! Tsch! Such advice!—Smiths Fall Record-News. Reading this, the young bride of today is liable to ask the question: "What is a mop?"

Provincial Police Make Plea For Safe Driving

One of the major problems confronting us today is the tremendous traffic toll brought about by the advent and progress of the mechanical age. Everywhere people are talking road safety, and law enforcement agencies and other organizations interested in the resultant ramification are extending every effort to cope with this ever-increasing situation, affecting as it does mostly everyone, says a statement from the Commissioner of Police for Ontario in a release designed to bring a message of safe-driving to auto owners.

The spirit of Goodwill is in full bloom during the Yuletide season, and when one reflects, it is a pity that such qualities and ideal conditions of mind do not prevail throughout the year. This attitude could well serve as a stimulus for safe driving, and we would all benefit considerably if we would adopt this feeling of goodwill toward all men each day of the year rather than exhibit it during the festive season, and afterwards relapse into the old, selfish ways again.

There are many ways and means being employed to impress drivers to exercise greater care, the most important of which perhaps is the appeal to self-discipline, since the driver of an automobile or any other motorized vehicle is master of his own destiny, and also that of others for the majority of time whilst at the controls.

The enforcement phase of the traffic problem cannot be considered as the final solution. Extensive study of its many facets has been made by agencies and organizations specializing in traffic ills, but in spite of their efforts collision experience is increasing in violence, and your help is absolutely essential if this challenge is to be met.

It could be in many instances we are driving beyond our own speed limits—the speed at which we are able to go into action when called upon to prevent collision.

Traffic accidents cannot possibly make a Happy New Year. The season could be much brighter for many people with the practice of self-discipline and consideration for other road users. These are days for living—too good to let our time run out with the passing year.

Moderation in all things is commendable, and drivers are warned of the serious results which follow an accident where intoxicants are considered a contributing factor. If it is your intention to participate in celebrations over the New Year holiday, and consumption of alcohol is part of the enjoyment, I beseech you to leave your car in the garage and utilize other methods of transportation which do not require your personal manipulation of the controls.

Without your help, the task of the various law enforcement agencies is extremely difficult, but with your assistance, I feel sure we can unite in a wholehearted effort to make Safe Driving and a Happy New Year Holiday a complete realization.

You may be assured that all members of the Ontario Provincial Police will do their utmost to bring about this achievement.

"Church Attendance"

Hoffman, the famous German chemist, once related an experience he had. In 1890 he visited Glasgow, arriving in the town late on Saturday night. The following morning he went to call on Sir William Thompson, afterwards Lord Kelvin. The doorbell was answered by the parlor maid, of whom Hoffman asked if Sir William was at home. "Sir, he most certainly is not." "Could you tell me where I might find him?" "You will find him at church, sir," was the reply, "where you ought to be."—S. S. Chronicle.

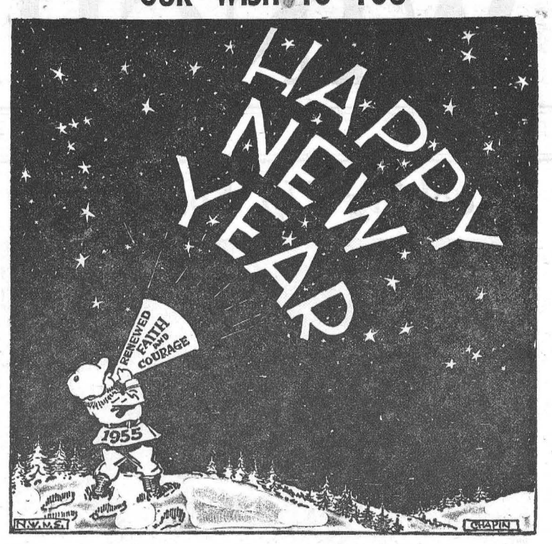
OUR WISH TO YOU



HOME TOWN PRODUCT
By Maurice Vincent

ALICIA was going about bits of business on her desk just as if she worked for a civilized man instead of Frank Haliran, account executive for Caine Advertising Agency.

She had dried her eyes until their cornflower blue was as bright as ever but her full lips had a determined set that was unusual for such a pretty girl.

It was the Mallory Canned Corn account that had started the whole thing.

And Mallory Canned Corn was the one account where Alicia should be on familiar grounds because it was canned in her home town in Evansville, Ohio. The thought kept going through her head, "I'm from Evansville and I should know."

But what Frank Haliran thought she knew you could put in your right eye and still have room to sight a gun.

"I'll show him . . ." she was thinking bitterly. She had plenty of people to show and one of them was Peter Johnston, son of the owner of Mallory Canned Corn. Peter had said, "When you fail in the big town, come back home and marry me." She was determined not to fail!

So here she was in New York with her first job as copy writer in an advertising agency and up to her beautiful ears in canned corn. Then there was this . . . this person named Haliran who was sitting by her desk just waiting, patiently.

When Alicia had mentioned that what the copy needed was glamor he had said, "Canned corn from Evansville is the least glamorous thing I can think of at the moment." And he had sounded bitter. It was as if he had taken a very personal way of insulting her.

"I . . . I would prefer not to work on the account," she said.

He was dismayed. "But I thought you were enthused!"

"I've seemed to have lost it somewhere," she was close to tears again.

"Why you poor kid . . ."

His anxiety was so sincere that Alicia began to feel a bit sorry she had spoken. She noticed how tired he looked and how his shoulders sagged from weariness. She thought of Peter . . . he would be quite certain he could get what he wanted . . . when he wanted it. She could see him, in her mind's eye, pursing his thin lips and looking over their work . . . her work and Frank's work.

"Perhaps I can get enthused after all," she smiled at him and there was a determined gleam in her eyes.

"Swell . . . atta girl!"

At that moment there was a call for Frank over the intercom for him to look over some rough sketches. As he left he dropped a letter from a pile of papers he was carrying. He tossed her a wink and Alicia was alone in the room.

It was a moment before she noticed the letter lying on the floor. As she glanced at it she noticed the postmark. It was from Peter!

She could hardly believe her eyes. "Dear Mr. Haliran," the letter read. "Advise you send Alicia back to Evansville where she belongs as I feel that a girl as young and as impressionable as she is has no business in a large city. If you value our future business we feel certain you will grant us this small request. I feel that Alicia should have the personal guidance of her future husband." It was signed, Peter Johnstown.

Alicia was furious!

He will have to fire me to save the account, she thought.

Frank entered the room in high spirits. "Everything is great and the Artwork will really set it off."

He glanced at her.

Then Frank Haliran made a statement that made Alicia's heart turn over.

"You know," he said. "What you need is a little guidance from an experienced hand like myself."

The 7th Column

As Father Time again strikes his balances, takes inventory, and readies his stock of 365 days for a new store keeper, we can't help but be thankful that, among our greatest assets, we find tallied the spirit of good will and friendship of many "old friends" like Press subscribers, advertisers and correspondents. It is our sincere hope that in the days ahead we will do nothing that could lessen that friendly regard in the slightest degree . . . and that our every deed may truly express the same warmth as our "Holiday Greetings."

* * * *

Santa Claus is the only man who pays any attention to silk stockings when there is nothing in them.

* * * *

In the average Canadian home today, electricity does the work which would require the labor of 35 servants, each working a 40-hour week. Boy, at present wage rates, what a saving that is.

* * * *

This is just a friendly note to tell you how much we of The Press appreciate doing business with swell folks like you. Your friendship and goodwill have meant a lot to us and we hope that our pleasant association will long continue. We will always do our best to serve you in a way that justifies the confidence you have placed in us. It is our earnest desire that we may, in some way, add to your success and happiness. May we express our sincere appreciation for past and future orders.

The Ottawa Senators Hockey Team have folded up, the reason being that Senator hockey games didn't attract enough cash customers. According to Mr. Gorman, owner of the team, televised professional games were largely responsible for the drop in attendance at the Ottawa Auditorium. That may be a contributing factor, but the main reason, in our humble opinion, is that the hockey season is too long, and people just can't afford to take in all sports events, especially when they overlap. Hockey started in October this year. If the hockey season opened about the middle of December and ended not later than the middle of April, we believe the attendance at games would be greatly improved. Players could be paid less money for the shorter season and admission prices also reduced. No, we do not blame TV for the Senators' plight.

"Then why do you keep that loaded shotgun handy?"

"That's to keep them that way."

And to wind up this column for 1954, we wish you all health, peace and prosperity in the New Year.

OUR GUIDED MISSILE SECRET

Now the story of Canada's Guided Missile research and development program, kept secret for nearly five years, can be told. The details of this multi-million dollar project and results already obtained from it are reported exclusively in this week's Star Weekly by Robert Taylor, prominent parliamentary correspondent, who had this hush-hush information released to him only a few days ago. You owe it to yourself to read it.

Bowling was somewhat curtailed last week due to the festive season. In the Fireside Group on Monday all bowlers were out, with Harry Flora having the high score, rolling games of 299, 171 and 224 to cross 694. Bob Woods had 615-216, Howard Porteous 603-231, Arnold Sherwood 598-255, Don Woods 581-265, Earl Morgan 525-251.

Edythe Biccum took the high cross in the Happy Gang, having 471-175, with Bea. Eadie rolling the high single, a 204.

On Tuesday, the Community League rolled for six nice chickens on hidden three game crosses, the winners being, Dalton Kenney, Doug. Wilson, Jim McCloskey, Lorne Byers, Melva McIntosh and Jessie Byers. Joyce Hay took the ladies' honours having games of 211, 187 and 165 to cross 563. Irene Scotland had 529-180, Lula Dawley 527-183, Jessie Summers 525-199, Isabel Nephew had a 207 single. Harold Armstrong was top man, rolling strings of 227, 279 and 200 for a cross of 706. Ken. MacMillan had 697-292, Gordie MacDonald 670-232, Lorne Byers 665-279, Alex Williams 617-208, Frank Dunlop 616-257, George Ruppert 615-237, Dalton Kenney 602-220.

In the Morewood Mixed League on Thursday, Estella MacGregor took the ladies' honours, having 412-157, with Bud Craik taking the men's with 517-189.

CAR TRANSPORT DITCHED NEAR SPRINGS

The glaring lights of an inconsiderate motorist, a driving snowstorm and slippery roads, caused a huge trailer transport, loaded with six cars, to take the snow-filled ditch, just south of Winchester Springs, on Highway 31, about 8 o'clock Thursday night. No one was injured, and damage was at a minimum. All cars held on, and although on a dangerous angle, the truck did not tip over, and was hauled out by Fetterly's Tow Service. Constable E. Zallman, Morrisburg O.P.P., investigated.

The Christmas Season And Your Hospital

How do you describe the Christmas season in a hospital? How do you put on paper the emotional experience, the little pleasantries, the human tragedy, and the profound sense of compassion that only a hospital can know during the holiday season? How do you put loneliness into words?

Truly the holiday season is the epitome of the concept underlying medical and hospital care—the great humanitarian spirit, the selflessness, the tenderness of thought and action, the annual renewal of man's belief in goodness and brotherhood and in doing unto others . . .

The hospital is a sad place at Christmastime, and it has its joys as well. Most of the patients who were able to leave have gone to their homes. Only those who are seriously ill or disabled remain—and those to whom home is just a dream, a memory, or a hope.

In pediatrics there is brightness and cheer, and the youngsters are proving that Christmas really is for children, no matter what. And someone invariably shows up in a Santa suit in case any doubt remains.

And maternity is a happy place too, for what could be more delightful and more hopeful for the future than a baby, born, like another infant twenty centuries ago, at Christmastime?

And what could be more tragic, more shattering, more soul searing, than the loss of a loved one on Chirstmas Eve?

The hospital sees all these things and feels all these emotions.

And after the visitors are gone and the carolers have departed and the hospital is left once again to the patients and to the nurses and maids and porters and maintenance men and technicians and doctors, who have given up so much of themselves to work as one in a common purpose, an odd sort of quiet settles over the hospital.

Perhaps from one of our newer staff comes the muffled sob of a girl spending her very first Christmas away from home, but she smiles through her tears and carries on. And on the wards a patient stirs fitfully and wonders what it would have been like to have had just one visitor, and perhaps he dreams of other days when there was someone who cared.

And perhaps even the patient who had a happy time will awaken in the morning with the trace of tears on the pillowcase.

To those who are patients and to those who are on duty, the hospital is "home" when the holidays come. To some the hospital is always home. Others can think of places they'd rather be at such a personal time of the year.

But those who work in hospitals can take solace in the knowledge that they are living the Christmas spirit, not just at Christmastime but all the time, and this is the noblest goal that man can aspire to.—Reprinted from "This Month," American Hospital Association, December 1953.

The Longest Year

The year we now refer to as 46 B. C., was the longest year in calendar history. It contained 445 days, and for a very good reason.

Numa Pompilius supposedly created the Roman calendar in the seventh century B. C. This calendar was revised several times but by Julius Caesar's time, it was two months behind the sun.

When Caesar's experts devised the Julian calendar, which went along without revision until the 16th century, there was the problem of catching up with the sun before the new calendar could take over. So, two months were inserted between the months of November and December. Thus, 46 B. C. contained 445 days.

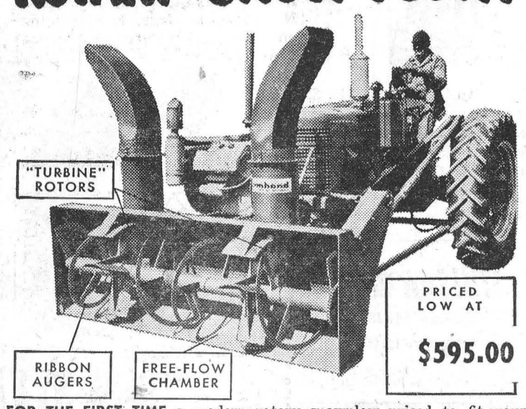
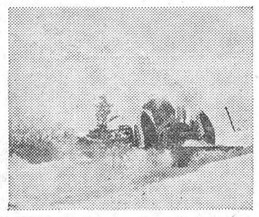
Here it is! Farmhand's new farm-size ROTARY SNOW PLOW!



FOR THE FIRST TIME a modern rotary snowplow priced to fit your budget. This new Farmhand Rotary ends forever the inconvenience and drudgery of digging out after a snowstorm. It handles all types of snow —frozen, wet or packed—with far greater efficiency, on less power, than any other rotary because of Farmhand's three exclusive features: Ribbon augers pulverize snow keeping it loose and free as they push it into the rotors. Two turbine-type rotors pitch snow instead of blowing it. This means smoother, more effective action on less power. Free-flow chamber simplifies snow movement. Augers are required to shift snow no more than 2 ft. into the path of the rotors, with no small openings through which snow must be forced. Rotor unit is balanced for smooth operation.



NO BANKS OF SNOW to push back or to cause drifting. The powerful rotors on the Farmhand pitch snow clear of the road—30 ft. and up. Clean design of chamber makes it easy to push into big banks. You clear an 8-ft. path, adequate clearance for rear wheels, right down to ground surface. Blower deflectors are adjustable to throw snow to either side.

EASY TO MOUNT on either Farmhand Heavy-Duty Loader or Standard Loader. Also available with auxiliary mounting for live-pulley tractors. Mounting brackets are provided for auxiliary engine where continuous power is not available. Plow attachment can be raised or lowered hydraulically to clear obstructions or for easy turning.

Curiosity, Hope Greet New Year Hand in Hand

Curiosity and superstition always have greeted the New Year hand in hand with mankind's bright hope for the future.

In olden times, families sought a glimpse into the year just beginning by observing the 'dipping' custom. With his eyes closed, the head of the house opened the family Bible and indicated a passage with his finger; the text, solemnly read and interpreted by the family, was indicative of the luck—good or bad—that was in store.

Probably one of the most widespread superstitions concerned the "first-footer," the first person to cross the threshold on New Year's morning. Women and light-haired men were considered unlucky "first-footers," as were people who walked pigeon-toed.

In some villages, the superstition was taken so seriously that a dark-haired man was given the first-footer job and, going from house to house, he would be the first person to cross the threshold, thus preserving the good fortune of the community.

Anglo - Saxons, believing that something might happen when the New Year burst in, often climbed upon the roof on New Year's Eve so as to have a good view of any such event.

And we moderns make as much noise as possible, presumably because our primitive ancestors believed that noise would keep evil influences at a distance.

No Slumber Songs Needed by Scots On New Year's Eve

Nobody goes to bed in Scotland on December 31. There are too many other things to do.

It is a great night for the youths who, reminiscent of ancient supersititions, go about switching the trunks of fruit trees and petitioning the gods of fertility for a "good howling crop."

Before the advent of modern plumbing, teen-agers made quite a fuss about the "cream of the year" which was the first draught drawn from the nearest spring immediately after midnight and supposedly entitled the drinker to anticipate a 'luckier' year.

The Wassail Bowl is, of course, the center of adult festivities. Its origin is lost in antiquity, but tradition has endowed the Wassail Bowl with legendary romance. Is is ornamental in design and decorated with branches of greenery. The mixture within is warm and sweet, and wine is sometimes added to the ale and sugar and spices.

After having enjoyed the concoction within the home among intimates at the stroke of midnight, the Scots pile into wagons or sleighs, with kettles full of the Wassail, muns, cheese and other food and set out to tour the community. The party stops at various houses and the refreshments go 'round at each stop. Nobody pays the least attention to the approaching dawn, because nobody goes to bed on New Year's Eve anyway.

New Year in Bulgaria

New Year's Day is a great day for Bulgarian children who receive their presents and small sums of money in return for the gifts they ceremoniously present.

Teen-agers go visiting and, wishing neighbors a happy New Year, expect treats and refreshments. But unlike our 'trick or treat' of Halloween, should the supply of goodies run short, the situation is accepted graciously.

Door Decorations

In the last few years it has become more and more popular to decorate doors and doorways with bells and tree ornaments instead of the conventional wreath.

Your door and window frames can be made bright and cheerful by framing them with ribbon and sprigs of holly. You can hang the ribbon in festoons across the curtains and tie at the sides in wide sash bows for colorful effect.

They had invited the famous doctor to dinner, and he offered to carve the chicken. All did not go well, however, as the bird slid off the platter and landed right in the lap of the hostess. Trying to ease the embarrassment of all with a joke, she laughed and said, "Goodness, doctor, I don't think I would want you to operate on me!?

The surgeon pulled himself up to his extreme height and said, "Well, you are no chicken."

FIRST TIME INSIDE RED CHINA

The first correspondent to move freely inside Red China is writing a series of articles for Star Weekly readers beginning this week. Wm. Stevenson has never been a stranger to the far or middle East, but until recently he and all foreign correspondents had been denied the privilege of going behind the Red China Iron Curtain. This week he starts his report on the 8,000 miles of exclusive travel and sums up his impressions of the Communists' battle for men's minds.

SHUR-GAIN FEED SERVICE

Your Home-Grown Grain Supply Can Last Longer

The grain you grow at home for feeding your livestock and poultry is a pretty important commodity. It has taken a lot of time and money to produce that grain crop and you don't want to waste any. You CAN waste a lot of grain if you don't feed it properly.

BEFORE you feed your grain.

BALANCE IT with SHUR-GAIN.

You see, grain supplies energy in a livestock or poultry feed but, it DOES NOT supply sufficient protein, minerals and vitamins to meet proper requirements... That's exactly why it takes about 1100 lbs. of straight grain to put a hog to market compared to just 600 to 700 lbs. of a mixture of grain and SHUR-GAIN Hog Concentrate.

DON'T WASTE GRAIN.

Come in and see us about a SHUR-GAIN custom mixing service that will SAVE YOUR GRAIN.

CANADA'S health

HERCULES KNEW HOW

Lifting or pushing heavy objects often causes strain or injury, unless proper methods are used. In the home or on the job, weights should be lifted carefully and only within the person's capacity.

ONE-IN-TWO-HUNDRED EPILEPTIC

About one in every two hundred persons in Canada is an epileptic. With early diagnosis and proper treatment, 30% of these people could probably be helped. Epilepsy attacks children more commonly than adults. Regular employment for adults and school for children is possible and advisable for most epileptics.

INTERPRETING THE ACHES

Most people are interested in their own health but often have incorrect knowledge of what constitutes a symptom of any of the major diseases. Recurrent pains and aches or some other unusual condition should have medical attention, thus perhaps preventing the development of some disease which could probably be cured if caught in its earliest stages. If the doctor finds nothing wrong, then peace of mind is assured.

KEEP THEM OUT OF REACH

Many of the household remedies which are helpful to adults may be dangerous, even fatal, to children. Headache tablets, a popular item in almost every medicine cabinet, may, if taken in excess doses by small children, cause serious illness or even death. The doctor may prescribe such tablets for a sick child but the dose he orders and frequency of use will be suitable to the child's age. The layman, however, could easily give too large a dose. Even more dangerous is having a youngster find the tablets and, child-like, eat them. Such medicines and drugs should be kept out of reach of small hands.

KEEPING JUNIOR UP TO PAR

The active school child uses up a terrific amount of energy in his play and his school work. To sustain him through these activities, he requires adequate nourishment, supplied by a balanced diet, with the requisite calories and a variety of proteins, minerals and vitamins to maintain the growing body. In addition, there is that essential daily amount of vitamin D, from his birth to the end of the growing period.

CARBON TETRACHLORIDE

Carbon tetrachloride is a highly toxic chemical which is frequently used in the home as a dry cleaner. Many people do not realize the great danger of the fumes from this chemical. They can easily prove fatal, if they are not quickly dispelled by cross ventilation. In industry, where the chemical is used in large quantities, care is taken to offset the danger, but in the home, where it is used in rooms such as the basement without ventilation, the fumes may easily render the user unconscious and may cause death. If tetrachloride is used, it should be preferably out of doors or at least where there is plenty of cross ventilation.

Sitter's Eve

By SHIRLEY SARGENT

ON ACCOUNT of being the oldest in a big family, I've been baby sitting longer than I remember. Since I was twelve—that'd be four years now that I'm within hinting distance of my sixteenth birthday—I've been sitting for other people for pay. I've always welcomed jobs but tonight what I'd welcome is a date—so what happens? Four times I'm called to our wall phone and four times I have to turn people down 'cause I already promised the Laytons. The Laytons are kinda old to have Jennie, four, and Jimmy, six, but they planned it so their first two would be grown-up before they had any more.

Anyway, nobobdy calls me for a date, not that anyone does very often, so I'm off for an evening of fun and hilarity. Baby sitting, haw! They aren't babies, and try and sit with those two. For example, Jennie gnaws a fruitcake while I'm helping Jimmy with his train, they have two fights, Jimmy turns on all the lights as fast as I turn them off and finally Jennie knocks the Christmas tree over. It was a big tree with a standard and all, but she catches it with her jump rope.

Quick-like I run in and pull out the plug, thanking my stars that no fire started, then herd them up to bed. Three stories later they're both asleep and I hurry down to wash the dishes.

Tired now, I'm thinking of the good time my friends are having and wondering again why I don't have more dates. The hall mirror shows the same old reflection.

"Oh, please," his face is all eager, "stay. I hate to be alone."

Short brown hair, brown eyes and a big mouth that hides my crooked teeth, if I don't forget and grin.

Soon's I have a little more money, I can afford braces.

Jennie yells and I wake her from a nightmare. By the time I'm back downstairs, it's nearly ten o'clock and I've still got that darned tree to set up. Like I say, it's a beautiful big tree, ceiling high, loaded with decorations. There I am half under the tree, trying to hold it straight and keep the globes on at the same time, when I hear the front door open. Somebody yells, "Anybody home?"

I'm so startled I let the tree sway, so this voice yells, "Timber!" and a long arm grabs for the trunk.

Looking up between the branches, I see a tall, dark-haired boy, neither handsome nor homely. "Thanks," I'm a little breathless.

"I'm Oliver Layton," he explains, "isn't that a heck of a name?"

Pine needles are thick in the air. "Not so awful," I laugh back, "I'm Margie, the sitter. Your folks are out."

"I know. Look here, can't we do something about this tree?"

A few minutes later we collapse into chairs, staring at the still-lovely tree. "Thanks so much. Can I get you something to eat or anything?"

"Say, that'd be keen. Would you?"

Well, of course, I do and, while Oliver eats, he tells me how he's staying at a friend's this vacation but decided to come home and take his girl to a dance. "So I called her and came clear in by bus, but she didn't wait. She went with somebody else. Heck," he grins, "now I'm sorta glad she stood me up."

"I'd better be on my way now that you're here to baby sit," I say reluctantly.

"Oh, please," his face is all eager, "stay. I hate to be all alone."

Back in the living room then, he asks me all about the kids and about me until, to hear us talk, you'd think we were old friends. I like the way he talks, slow and quiet, and the way his grin lights up his whole face. He tells me about boarding school and his friends and what he wants to do.

Suddenly, he jumps up. "Let's dance. We can roll up the rug . . ."

It turns out we're both such sad dancers we have to take our shoes off so's not to hurt each other. But we laugh a lot and the radio sounds fine and I fit right into Oliver's arms. At midnight, he kisses me lightly on the cheek.

Well, it's the happiest sitter's eve I've ever spent and, from the look in his eyes, I can tell it's going to be a Happy Holiday.

WE GIVE THANKS

Nature assumes her splendid task
Of scattering blessings great and rare,
From every burning bush there shines
The promise of Eternal Care.
The glad earth fields her grain and fruits,
We dwell in peace,—our people one.
The harvest promised long has come,
The seasons' course has gladly run.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

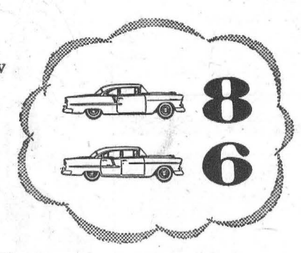
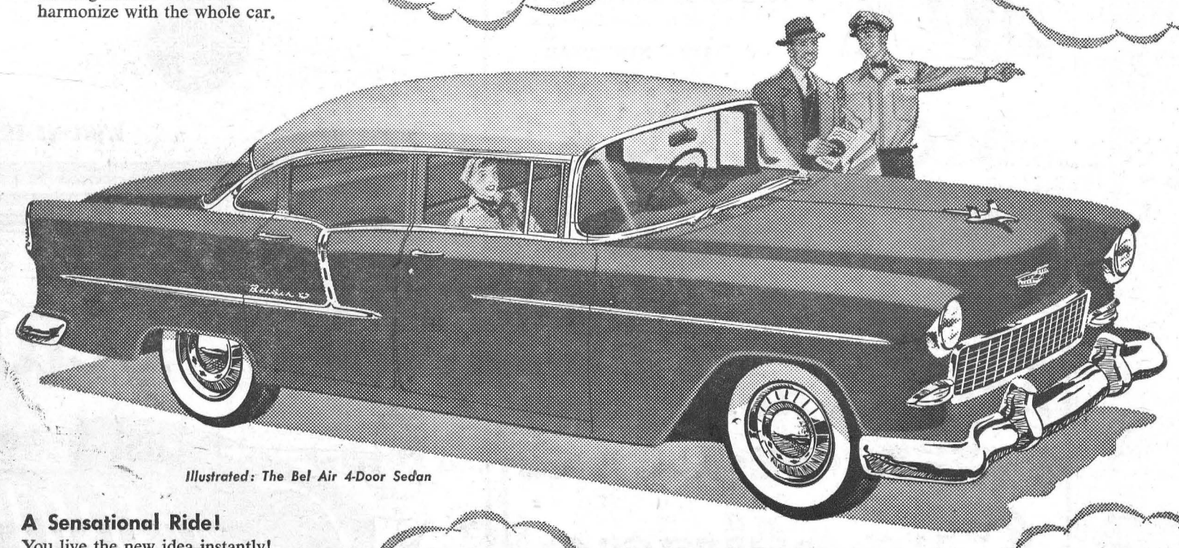
Chevrolet is the first low-priced car to do all these things . . .

Real Show-car styling!
You see the new idea because motoramic Chevrolet is as new as a French fashion designer's bombshell . . . soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield. And the mood doesn't change when you slip inside . . . there, exciting fabrics and trims harmonize with the whole car.

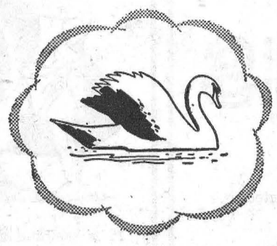
Power Beyond Compare!
You feel the new idea quickly! There's power quick as a panther's paw in the "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And you have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive, improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.





Illustrated: The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan

A Sensational Ride!
You live the new idea instantly! You "roll with the punch" of the road with Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. Outrigger rear springs give new balance in turns . . . turns made so effortless by new Ball-Race steering. New Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front during sudden stops.



Every Luxury Option
And if you want to enjoy the new idea in the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost) you can have anything offered by even high-priced cars. Only Chevrolet offers complete luxury driving on a modest budget.

Won't You Try It?
Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get?
