EOSA agreement runs dry

Funds for municipal drains depleted

TORONTO (Staff) - The federal-provincial EOSA scheme, designed to fund municipal outlet drainage until March 31, 1984 and other projects to boost the ailing Eastern Ontario economy, has run out of funds for drainage.

Director-general of operations for the soon-to-be reorganized Department of Regional Economic Expansion, David Graham, said there will be no further funds transferred to the drains sub-program at this time. He stated the "demand can go on and on until all of Ontario is drained" and that the federal government had given "a fair kick for the drains".

In December, 1979, the Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Agreement allotted $23-million to agricultural development, including $11-million designed to provide two-thirds funding on a 50-50 basis (federal-provincial) for municipal drains. The program is scheduled to run until March 31, 1984.

However, in reality, that is not the way funding will be handled. Will Herman of the drainage petition review committee (and an Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food employee) said although the federal obligation may have ended with the expiration of the $11-million allotment, the Ontario Drainage Act will continue to provide funds at one-third grant as it has done previously.

Mr. Herman had been under the impression additional federal funds would be allocated when directed from other sub-programs of the agreement.

In the agreement, itself, it is stated the eligible costs of each program shall be limited to the estimated total costs ($23 million in the case of agriculture) but in a memorandum of understanding for the implementation of the agreement, it is stated that as priorities change, and as greater demands are placed on particular sub-programs, these allocations can be amended.

Mr. Graham said he had no idea why funds for the program ran out so soon but noted drainage can be an open-ended cost if each drain was funded.

He added he felt the federal government had made a fair contribution and for the time being "that's it".

The other sub-programs of the agricultural component are faring well, he said. They are South Nation River Basin Development, $9 million; Agricultural Technology Transfer, $2 million; and Farm Development and Marketing, $1 million.

Under new organizational structure, the agricultural development will be handled by Agriculture Canada, he said. The Department of Regional Industrial Expansion will replace DREE and will deal solely with Industrial Development, he explained.

Therefore, he said, it is no longer within the mandate of his department to deal with agriculture. If Agriculture Canada wish to seek funds, let them try, he concluded.

Keith Graham resigns from SNRCA

15-year connection ended at annual authority meeting

BERWICK (Staff) - Keith Graham stunned members of the South Nation River Conservation Authority (SNRCA) at their annual meeting here last Wednesday night when he announced that he was ending his 15-year connection with the authority.

Mr. Graham's resignation came moments after he had lost his third bid for the SNRCA's chairmanship and just before a vote on the vice-chairmanship, a post he had held for the past three years.

The former Chesterville reeve said he had devoted a great deal of his time and interest to the South Nation but he realized he was wrong in thinking he had built up a strong foundation of support from among representatives of the 31 municipalities that make up the conservation authority.

Mr. Graham had been the village's representative on the authority since 1967 and had been a member of the executive committee since its formation in the mid-1970s.

His loss to incumbent chairman Ernie Brisson of Cambridge Township was his third in as many years. He declined the nomination for the vice-chairmanship after Winchester Township appointee Cecil MacNabb, at his first meeting since being replaced on the authority by reeve Gerald Holmes nearly four years ago, nominated Matilda deputy-reeve Lorne Strader for the post.

With Mr. Graham's loss to Mr. Brisson, Mr. MacNabb automatically becomes a member of the executive committee since he was the last chairman before Mr. Brisson took over the authority's top post.

Mr. Graham was bitter about his defeat and said following the meeting that it was due to internal politics among authority members!

"But I still have a few tatters of pride left and when the vice-chairmanship was dumped back for election, I had no recourse but to resign from the authority. Maybe others wouldn't have done so, but I felt I had no choice."

His resignation means that for the first time since the signing of the Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Agreement, which is making possible the renovations of the river and the $2-million basin study, Chesterville will be without a representative on the authority's policy-making executive committee.

Mr. Graham said he has not given any thought to going back on the authority if the village cannot find a suitable replacement for him. Without a seat on the executive committee he said he would be "talking to an empty field" since the authority's general membership only meets once or twice a year.

He delivered his resignation to the village office last Thursday morning and has had no discussions with council on the matter since that time.

Mr. Graham was the driving force in having the control dam built at Chesterville which he said gave the green light to renovations of the South Nation through the flood-prone upstream sections of the river.

Seniors' housing survey at Finch

FINCH (Staff) - Senior citizens here have a second chance to show there's enough demand to warrant building a Senior Citizen's complex in the village.

About 20 senior citizens attended an information meeting here Thursday with an official from the Ontario Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing.

The province carried out a similar survey here two years ago, but there wasn't enough demand by senior citizens for the project. Less than 10 people filled out applications saying they would move into the complex once it was built, Ontario Housing spokesman Lynn Kinney said after the meeting.

The decision whether or not to build is based on questionnaires asking seniors about their income, where they would want the complex to be built, and when they would move in. There must be demand for a minimum of 20 units in order for the province to consider building the complex, she said. Anyone, 57 years of age and over, is eligible for the housing.

The questionnaires, which can be obtained at the Finch municipal office, must be submitted to the ministry by March 5. The decision on the complex's future should be known by April or May, after Miss Kinney submits her report to senior officials.

If the project is approved, it could be constructed within two years. The cost of it would be split between the federal and provincial governments. The province would also help the village find a site, design the project and set-up a non-profit housing corporation, she said. It would be similar to the complexes in Chesterville and Winchester.

Finch Reeve Lynden Hough, also at the meeting, asked if the complex would be built if the survey showed a demand for only 18 units. The province is flexible and would probably approve the project if demand was just under 20 units, Miss Kinney said.

However, if the province feels the number of applicants is too low and rejects the proposal, the village will have to wait five years before it can request another survey.

Finch has been given another chance at a complex, just two years after the first survey failed, because the guidelines for renting the units have changed, she said.

The province now offers market rent units, as well as geared-to-income apartments. Senior citizens who don't qualify for the subsidized rent, can pay full market rent, which is $290 for a one-bedroom unit and $315 for a two-bedroom unit, she said.

People who qualify for geared-to-income, pay a maximum monthly rent not exceeding one-quarter of their income. The rent includes everything, except telephone costs.

One man wanted to know if rents increase each year. The subsidized units are re-assessed annually based on the person's income and the market rent is adjusted to take inflation into account, Miss Kinney replied.

However, the increase only averages two or three per cent because non-profit housing is not subject to rent control and the building's mortgage is only about two per cent, she answered.

Reeve Hough told the audience he felt the complex was needed and would be good for the village. "We're behind you. We would like to see the housing development here," he said.

"If the complex is built, I'm sure there will be no trouble filling it."

The province is conducting the surveys throughout Ontario, and earlier in the afternoon, Miss Kinney spoke to a group of senior citizens in Crysler.

A quarter-century show at Crysler

CRYSLER (Staff) - The 25th annual SD&G Seed, Feed and Forage Show will be held in the Recreation Pavilion here in conjunction with the Crysler Farm Show March 2 to March 4.

The show will feature 30 exhibits by area farm dealers, and a trophy will be awarded to the best display. The popularity of the fair has spread to the point where some dealers have been turned away due to lack of space, spokesman Alphonse Lafrance said.

Eight dealers are on a waiting list, said Mr. Lafrance, who is head of the Crysler Farm Show Committee organizing the show. "The community centre committee is looking for money to enlarge the arena. We hope it can be done this year, so the arena will be ready for next year," he said.

Crop entries should arrive at Crysler prior to 12 noon March 2. The competition is open to all members of Soil and Crop Improvement Associations in the United Counties. Entry forms and plastic bags for hay and grain are available at OMAF offices. The show is divided into three sections are there and special awards and prizes for each class.

Drain funds among last approved

BERWICK (Staff) - Although Finch Township council were notified of approval for work on the Dunbar-Campbell-Adams and Fetterley drains, the federal-provincial agreement providing two-thirds funding on drains has run dry.

The drain and branch had not previously received an ARDA grant (two thirds funding) and so is eligible under the Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Agreement (EOSA). It may be one of the last to receive the two-third grant however, since the township received a letter from the provincial government advising them the funds, designed to fund drains in the region until March 31, 1984, had run out.

Council met Thurs., Feb. 17 but due to the absence of deputy-reeve Donald Shane and a vacant council seat, put over most business until the first meeting in March, said clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey.

Floyd Dingwall and Garnet Rutley attended the meeting to request funds to maintain the

Shift from residential to commercial assessment ups SNRCA levy

BERWICK (Staff) - Chesterville ratepayers face a 32-per-cent increase in their levy to the South Nation River Conservation Authority following adoption of the authority's $3,154,665 1982 budget here last Wednesday night.

The increase in Chesterville's portion of the amount collected from the authority's 31 member municipalities comes in spite of an $80,000 rebate which will keep the municipal share of the SNRCA's budget at $272,000 - the same amount collected last year.

The change is due to the increased emphasis the provincial government is putting on commercial and industrial development in setting up taxation figures.

The shift away from residential to commercial assessment in figuring out the province's complex taxation formula means Chesterville will have to pay $4,977 to the authority this year. Last year the figure was $3,759.

Chesterville is not alone in the increased amount it will pay to the authority this year. Russell Township faces the largest increase in dollar figures, up from $12,917 to $16,129; Winchester village goes up 11 per cent, from $5,722 to $6,228; Finch Township goes up from $5,722 to $6,092; Williamsburg is up from $3,745 to $4,080; Roxborough increases from $4,648 to $4,841 and Finch Village goes up marginally from $797 to $876.

However, the village's payment would have been considerably higher if the authority had not used $80,000 it saved in unspent capital funds last year to keep the levy at 1981's level.

The 1982 budget is $221,928 less than the amount that was raised last year but is $315,485 more than the authority actually spent in 1981, general manager Jim Windsor explained last Wednesday.

The municipal levy will account for 11 per cent of this year's budget with the province kicking in 48 per cent and the federal government 41 per cent.

Mr. Windsor said the saving effected last year resulted from tenders for channelization projects coming in at amounts less than had been budgeted. Similar savings can be expected this year and these could in turn hold municipal levies close to 1982's levels Mr. Windsor added.

Total capital savings last year amounted to $194,700, and once the $80,000 rebate to the municipalities is taken off, this leaves over $114,000 in a reserve account. The authority also has a $170,000 reserve account resulting from accumulated net revenues which could be used to reduce borrowing costs if provincial grants are not delivered in time to meet authority expenses.

The authority's interim capital works program, carried out under the federal-provincial Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Agreement (EOSA), will once again gobble up over three-quarters of the authority's 1982 budget.

Figures presented last Thursday night showed that the channelization of four kilometres of the river, from a point just east of Cass Bridge to the mid-way point between Cass and Salter's Bridges, will account for almost $1.8 million. Other channelization projects will raise the total bill to $2.4-million. The next largest expense is $450,000 for the basin study, also being carried under the EOSA. It amounts to 14 per cent of the authority's budget.

Administration will account for five per cent, water and related land management for four per cent and conservation and recreation land management for one per cent of 1982's expenditures.

Over half of the money levied from the authority's member municipalities will be used for this year's channelization program. The authority will be spending $180,000 of the $272,000 collected through local taxation for the widening, straightening and deepening of the watercourse through the westerly limits of Winchester Township and into the east end of Mountain Township.

Berwick Community Centre but the two men were asked to return to the March meeting. Mr. Dingwall will be a sitting member of council at that meeting, having been recently named to replace councillor Johnson Ouderkirk who died last month.

The township has for several years requested development road status for a portion of the Finch-Winchester Township boundary road. It has been refused several times.

In response to a ratepayer's complaint recently, the council approached their MLA Osie Villeneuve, who arranged a Toronto meeting with Transportation Minister James Snow for Mon., Feb. 22, while the council attend the Good Roads Association convention there.

Separate Board entering the computer age

CORNWALL (Staff) - With last week's approval of Stage 1 of the Computer and Kids project, the SD and G Separate School board moved into the Computer Age.

At the regular board meeting held here Feb. 16 trustee Conny Wylie presented the costing elements of the project; the board will pay only $4,725 of the total $10,000 projected cost.

Grants of up to 75 per cent are available for certain elements of the project, including the acquisition of a computer named "George". The computer is designed to promote awareness and will be utilized in a roving computer course throughout the board, according to the report.

Software for the $3,500 machine will amount to $2,000 which is also eligible for the 75 per cent grants. The software (programming) will enable the computer to be adjusted for all levels from the handicapped to the gifted.

An Education Week computer promotion campaign (at $2,000) will be included in the cost of awareness program. Summer computer camp for kids, $500, will be financed through fees, according to the report.

The awareness stage is the first of five stages in the overall computer action plan as set forth by the Education Committee. The other four are acquisition of hardware, pilot projects, pilot evaluation and online stage.

Meals on Wheels - a good deal

(Staff) - It's hard to find a deal these days, but $1.50 for a full-course meal has to be one.

That's the price paid by those who use the Meals on Wheels service here. The volunteers deliver hot meals from the Winchester hospital at noon five days a week to 10 people in Chesterville and district.

"You couldn't possibly make a meal for less," Meals on Wheels spokesman Margaret Casselman said.

And the portions, which consist of soup, a main course of meat, potatoes one other vegetable and dessert, are a fair size. The only item not provided is the beverage.

"It's not elegant food, but it's nourishing food and that's the main thing," Mrs. Casselman said.

Mrs. Anna Marcellus, who lives in the senior citizen complex in Chesterville has used the service since last fall and she's pleased with it. "I think it's a wonderful thing. I'm getting well-balanced meals every day and I'm saving money. Where else can you get a meal for $1.50," she said.

Mrs. Marcellus, a widow, joined the program because she was wasting food. "I cooked too much at one time for one person and I don't like leftovers."

The program offers more than meals to the elderly; it offers independence. It helps to keep some people who can't prepare a meal, because of physical disabilities or lack of knowledge and skill, from going into a nursing home, Mrs. Casselman said.

People who are convalescing at home after an operation and have difficulty preparing a meal are also served by the program.

People are referred to the program by doctors, clergy, VON, social workers, neighbors and relatives. Recipient co-ordinator Olive Cass heads a committee that determines who is eligible for the service. Participants pay $7.50 a week, which is the amount charged by the hospital.

The program is run by 50 volunteers. They are split into teams, consisting of one driver and one helper, who pick up the meals at Winchester hospital at 11:15 and deliver them to residents.

A heated aluminum container, which fits into the driver's truck, keeps the food warm until it is transferred to the person's plate.

The meals arrive at approximately the same time each day and in eight years of operation, only one delivery was missed. That was due to a bad snowstorm which kept cars off the road.

Meals are also delivered on holidays and birthday cakes are an added treat the program provides. Many of the people live alone and they are glad to receive the visits and it's good to have someone check on them to make sure everything is okay, Mrs. Casselman said.

The work of the volunteers hasn't gone unnoticed. The local Chamber of Commerce recently presented Citizen of the Year plaque to Meals on Wheels. "We're pleased with the award. It means a lot because it's given to the whole organization and not to just one individual," she said.

Olive Cass was chosen to accept the award on behalf of the members and with good reason. It was Mrs. Cass who launched the program here. She brought a member of Cornwall's Meals on Wheels to explain the service at a Winchester hospital auxiliary meeting.

The Winchester unit, the unit here, and a few other units decided to form organizations.

The Chesterville auxiliary unit here sponsored the program in its early stages. The unit bought a $400 Hotluck, an aluminum container that keeps the meals hot which had to be ordered from England. The legion here purchased a second one for the organization a few years ago.

The program was set-up during the summer and officially began operation October 1 with five people receiving meals. The average number of people served is 10, but it has reached 15.

Volunteers, such as the Lynch family, are the reason for the program's success, Mrs. Casselman said. Marion and Charlotte wash the food containers before they are taken back to the hospital and their brother Ron is often called upon to deliver the meals when a driver can't make it.

Marion is also Driver Co-ordinator and heads a committee that compiles a daily delivery schedule for the month. Spare drivers and helpers are always needed and those interested should contact Mrs. Casselman.

The program costs about $500 a year to operate and this is collected from donations by the village council and local service groups. A meeting is held once a year to revise the program and rectify any problems, she said.

Chesterville Meals on Wheels volunteer Ruth Arnold (right) delivers a hot three-course meal to the home of Anna Marcellus. The organization, which recently won Citizen of the Year honors, provides low-cost meals to about 10 people in the area.

PIPELINE NORTHBAY TO MORRISBURG.

TransCanada PipeLines, Canada's principal natural gas transporter, has received approval from the federal government to build a new natural gas pipeline linking North Bay and Morrisburg, Ontario, along a route in the Ottawa Valley.

The pipeline is designed to increase the capacity of the TransCanada system and to provide gas to new markets being opened in eastern Canada, an area that is now heavily dependent on foreign oil.

Construction of the 420 kilometre pipeline, to begin early this year, will provide many economic benefits to Canada and to the communities along the pipeline route. Besides the stimulus such a project provides to the manufacturing and construction industries, construction crews will look to local businesses for food, lodging and other services while the pipeline is being built.

Once in operation, the pipeline will offer distribution companies seeking to serve many communities along the route new supplies of natural gas, providing further local economic and industrial benefits. It will also provide local municipalities with a significant new source of tax revenue.

TransCanada and its contractors will make every effort to minimize disruptions to your community during the construction period. Our goal is to provide a significant and lasting contribution to Canada and to the many communities we live in and serve.

For further information call one of these toll-free numbers:
1-800-461-9561 for residents between North Bay and Pembroke, or 1-800-267-7388 for residents between Pembroke and Morrisburg.

Dundas royal couple

Pete Schoones and Debbie McVey were part of North Dundas High School's crowning touch in beating the winter blahs. They were named king and queen of the school's winter carnival, held on Feb. 19. It was just one of the many events that included log sawing, ball hockey, an egg throwing battle and no classes.

Special service at St. Mary's

(Special) - The annual church parade and worship service for Chesterville Scouts, Guides, Cubs, Brownies and Beavers was held Sunday at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Assembling at the Community Hall, the uniformed units marched to the church, carrying flags and banners. Boy Scouts, in charge of Angus Craig, had as flag bearers Hugh Craig and Dean Cass, carrying the Canadian and Scout flags, respectively.

Wolfe Cubs, in charge of Maurice Blacquiere and Amanda Whetter, had as bearers Andy Barton with the Canadian flag and David Graham with the Cubs' banner.

Girl Guides, led by Mrs. Sandra Larmour, had as flag bearers Leslie Durant with the Canadian flag, Carey Larmour with the Guides' flag.

Brownies, in charge of Sue Kennedy and Mariett Little, had for flag bearers Rhonda McMillan, carrying the Brownie banner, and Shelly Cole, with the Canadian flag.

Beavers, led by Martin Wheeler, had for flag bearers Trent Doherty, with the Canadian flag; and Craig Smirle with the Beaver's banner.

At the church the uniformed companies with their leaders joined the congregation in worship, and were welcomed by the Rev. Fr. John Appelman, who spoke on the Scout motto: "Be Prepared". Fr. Appelman exhorted his young worshippers to be prepared at all times to cooperate, to help others, and to prepare themselves for observance of the coming Lenten season.

The Rev. E. Earle Eaton, chaplain of St. Lawrence District, Scouts Canada, greeted the uniformed units as they were assembled at the hall prior to their parade to the church; and prepared the report of the service for the press.

WI hear valentine reading

INGLESIDE (Special) - The Ingleside Women's Institute had 18 members and one guest at their February meeting.

With Mrs. Margaret Markell presiding, the meeting opened with the Ode followed by the Collect.

An old-fashioned Valentine reading, taken from the book "Good Old Days", was read by Mrs. Betty Hinds. It was a warm-felt epic.

The secretary and treasurers reports were approved as read.

Mrs. Marion Green read an interesting letter from Mark, our foster child. Enclosed was his school report card. He is doing well in his studies.

Cathy Elliott gave a favourable report on the proceeds from the bake table at the Ingelside Winter Carnival.

The members in attendance forwarded valuable clippings towards the Tweedsmuir book. On viewing these, the long-term members did a little reminiscing sharing the past with us.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jackie Meilleur, Mrs. Mary Nugent, Mrs. Mildred Rombough, and Mrs. Eileen Rutley.

Breadmaking club meets

by Melinda Witteveen

The first 4-H breadmaking club was held February 18, at the home of Mrs. Pauline Flegg, just outside of Newington. Twelve members were present. The leaders are Mrs. Pauline Flegg and Mrs. Helen Barbati.

We began the meeting by having Cindy Bowman make the pizza while Sherry Iwachnuik read the instructions. Mrs. Flegg showed us how to knead the dough properly. Then everyone tried kneading the dough.

While the dough was at rest, everyone answered the roll call which was to name a bread that we would like to learn how to make. Then we elected our officers as follows: president, Robin Flegg; vice-president, Christy Claassen; secretary, Cindy Bowman and Press secretary, Melinda Witteveen.

The meeting was adjourned by 9pm. The next meeting will be held February 25, at Mrs. Flegg's home.

Spirit's high at carnival

BERWICK (Staff) - The crowning of carnival queen Lise Ouellette last Thursday evening began a weekend of fun for this village, celebrating winter with its first-ever carnival.

Lise was attended by first princess, Stephanie Hunt for the festivities.

All the events, as the carnival itself, were deemed a success by organizers. Committee member Donna Rushford commended the enthusiasm saying, "The community spirit was something else."

Among the spirit shown was that of Wayne Ouderkirk who, in the ladies vs husbands broomball game gave his all (?) in the upside-down game.

Winners of the jellybean contest held at the Saturday bake sale were first, Leanne Kearns; second, Violet Robertson and third, Ellery Ouderkirk, who came closest to guessing the number of sweets in the jar.

Mrs. Robertson was not content with one prize but proceeded to garner the skunk prize at the euchre held Saturday afternoon. Winners were Donnie Rushford and Steven Burd in the men's division and Laura Beehler and Elva Ouderkirk on the ladies' side.

The Ouderkirk's guarded the prize table Sunday as Winston and Lloyd took first in the men's division and Brenda Ouderkirk walked away with the skunk. Connie Dingwall and Jennifer Hunt topped the ladies.

Roland Beehler won the euchre door prize while Harry Pietersma of Iroquois won the oil painting with the lucky button number.

Nick and Ralph Beehler topped all comers with a 1:21 time in the men's cross cut saw competition. Dianne Vanier and Carolin Hume won in the ladies' division.

Five teams registered for the first annual dart tournament. The Royal Bank trophy, toques and Sharon Bond's donation of Provincial tickets went to the top team of Jean-Louis Genier, Terry Benoit, Ron Hunt and Sharon Bond.

Four bottles of wine consoled the second place tem of Madeline Labelle, Lorraine Genier, Rolland Beehler, Joanne Beehler.

The snowmobile rally attracted the attention of 120 would-be winners. Not all can win, however, and at the head of the pack was Krista Merkley. Close behind were Archie Lang, Doug Duncan, Diane Smith, Douglas Palmer, William Niitof, Lynn Robertson and Howard Hudson, in that order.

The talent show run in conjunction with the carnival queen pageant packed the house at the hall, Thursday night.

At least this unusual character didn't have to worry about putting a foot in his mouth at the talent show - he could always stand on the other two. - staff photo -

These zany characters staged a mock wedding at an amateur talent show held Thursday night in Berwick. The show launched the village's four-day carnival and about 200 people filled the community hall to enjoy the singing, dancing and skits.

Batter beaters meet

(Special) - The Chesterville Seniors club met on Wed., Feb. 10 for their Valentine pot luck dinner and party. There were 65 present, including guests who sat down to a sumptuous meal.

The president Mrs. V. Beckstead brought the business meeting to order. The minutes of the last meeting were read by secretary Mrs. E. York. There had been several cards sent to sick members.

There was a skit put on by our members, An Anniversary Supper. The cast included Irene Merkley , Mrs. W. Jefferies, Betty Forward, Leola Shay, Hilda Dillabough, and Gladys Smith. This brought lots of laughs.

Our guests Mr. and Mrs. George Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gilmer and Mr. Paul Whitteker of Williamsburg, Thelma Bradford and Helen Cross on piano played some lively music for an afternoon of dancing.

Our club appreciate their folks for helping out.

The afternoon ended with a sincere thank you to them and closed by singing the Queen.

Chesterville HS reunion committee making plans

(Staff) - For most people summer seems to be some time away but to the members of the Chesterville High School Reunion Committee the summer, and in particular the dates of July 30, 31 and Aug. 1, are fast approaching.

Those are the dates for the first Chesterville High School reunion.

The reunion committee met Sunday night at the Drop-In Centre to discuss preparations thus far.

Pre-registration flyers have been distributed around the village and area to encourage people planning to come to the reunion to sign up now. The advance notice of the number coming will help make preparations easier.

The committee has also begun to sell tickets on a gas barbeque to raise funds needed. The tickets, available for $1, are available from members of the committee. The winning ticket will be drawn on the Saturday night of the reunion, July 31.

Committee members confirmed Porteous of Vernon will be catering the Saturday night buffet.

Two bands have been reserved for the Saturday night dance; the Ken Miller band (formerly the Russ Hayes band) and Westburg Union will provide continuous dancing music.

The committee elected a secretary, Joyce LaPorte, and a treasurer, John McMillan.

Members of the committee emphasized that everyone is welcome to all the reunion events, not just former Chesterville High School students.

The next meeting of the reunion committee is scheduled for Sun., March 28, 7:30pm at the Drop-In-Centre. Anyone interested in helping organize the events or with ideas for the reunion are asked to come.

Kidney Month

(Special) - March is Kidney Month in Canada. During this time thousands of concerned Canadians will be knocking on doors distributing educational material and asking for support in the Fight for Life.

This is vital support that will enable the Kidney Foundation to continue important programs of medical research, patient assistance, the child-testing program, blood pressure clinics, public and professional education, organ donation and transplant patients.

We are fortunate to have the following local ladies in charge of the campaign: Mrs. Marion Porteous, Winchester, 774-2430; Jessie McPherson, Elma, 448-2255; and Jean Kirkwood, Winchester Springs, 774-3729.

Please give the canvasser your support when they call during March - help in the Fight for Life.

Volunteers are still being sought for the Chesterville area and interested parties should contact the Ottawa office, Leona Ship, 526-1540.

Thanks, kids

Let a pro strip furniture then wax creative finishing

WINCHESTER (Staff) - The best way to refinish a piece of furniture yourself to have a professional strip it and then exercise your creativity on the finishing side of the work.

Mike Bougie, a professional furniture stripper from Martintown, speaking to a group of ladies here Monday, said too many problems can be encountered that can ruin their prized piece of furniture and for the cost of stripping, leave the job to a pro.

"If you're going to do something you might as well do it right," he said and proceeded to tell the women the 'how-to' of refinishing.

If a person decides to strip a piece of furniture herself, she should keep in mind all strippers are made from the same chemical and better advertising doesn't make a better stripper, said Mr. Bougie.

Get to know the wood before you begin work on a project by stripping a small area on the underside of the piece, he cautioned. When the finish is on the top of a table only, try it out on a leaf. Leaves only go in the table when there is company and then you will always have a table cloth on, he laughed.

Stain wood its natural color to raise the grain after the piece has dried at least 24 hours after stripping and sanding, he advised.

Following staining, seal the wood and apply an acrylic lacquer. Acrylic lacquers are used by most professionals instead of varnish, he explained, since they can be obtained in carying degrees of shine in satin finish and provide a more durable surface.

A 35 per cent satin is common and attractive, he said, but for certain pieces like a pine armoire a 10 per cent satin provides the "antique-y" look the piece requires for authenticity.

Be cautious when working with veneer finishes, he said. When rebuilding with sawdust, immerse the sawdust in stain overnight and build in layers or the rebuilt area will be soft, he advised.

Some helpful hints Mr. Bougie provided were to keep furniture away from a sunny window since sun deteriorates wood, keep the humidity to adequate levels or wood will dry and shrink, be sure to remove all dust from sanded pieces or it will turn to grit when lacquered, and use a spray gun when using lacquer finished if at all feasible.

With a ripped veneer, inject glue with a hypodermic needle and set a heavy weight on it overnight, and take care to ensure proper ventilation when refinishing furniture, he concluded.

Mike Bougie, right, explained furniture refinishing and upholstery for a group of Dundas County women gathered in Winchester for a Ministry of Agriculture and Food decorating seminar. Mr. Bougie is explaining the appearance of oak, as shown by the distinctive grain, to Vivian Fawcett of Winchester. - staff photo -

Reupholster once, with good quality

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Buy quality if you don't want to re-upholster again in short order, Mike Bougie told women gathered for a home decor seminar here Monday.

Mr. Bougie a professional furniture refinisher, showed the women the various sorts of springs and foam used in the reupholsterer's trade and told them of the seven densities of foam only the best three have a life of 15 to 20 years.

The advantage of reupholstering lies not only in the feature it is less expensive than purchasing new furniture, but more important, the workmanship of older furniture is worth preserving, Mr. Bougie said.

He showed the group various fabrics noting the complementary styles of furniture and fabric. A small floral overall print is best suited to furniture either old or old-style while many of the solid colors are designed for contemporary furniture.

Mr. Bougie advised the group to visit a reputable upholsterer when trying to decide whether or not to have a job done. In some instances, he said, the replacement price does not justify recovering apiece.

He gave the example of a reclining chair less than 15 years old. The replacement cost of the furniture with mass production wages and materials costs might exceed the cost and value of the reupholstered piece.

He also demonstrated the colors in which gimp is available and showed the women one method of attaching gimp. (Gimp is the crimped material placed around the edge of a reupholstered piece where it meets wood; it covers the fabric joint.)

He noted the women could benefit by having a professional reupholsterer do the work since they could obtain materials at the professional's price rather than have to pay full retail mark up.

Interim bills going out

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Staff) - Interim tax billing for this year received approval at last Tuesday night's meeting of Osnabruck Township council.

The billing, which goes out March 1 and is due March 31, is set at last year's rate of 50 mills on residential and commercial property ($50 on every $1,000 assessed).

Council is working on preliminary budget estimates and it won't be known if taxes will increase or decrease until the final budget estimates are approved in June, Clerk-treasurer Tom Melesky said.

"The final billing won't go out until the budget is struck in June," he said.

In other council business, council appointed former Roads Superintendent Bart Whitton to the position of Water and Sewer Superintendent. Blair Watson will become Roads Superintendent as of March 1.

Christmas Seals show appreciation

The Editor
Chesterville Record
Chesterville, Ont.

Dear Sir:

As Christmas Seal chairman of Eastern Counties Lung Association I would like to take this opportunity through your newspaper and thank the people of Chesterville and area for their financial support to the Christmas Seal campaign.

Once a year the Lung Association send out the traditional Christmas Seals and as usual the response from the community is very good.

Funds from the Christmas Seal campaign go to aid not only research but are used in the funding of community programs in the field of prevention and control of Lung disease.

This year's objective was set at $35,000 and although only $33,500 was collected we are still very pleased with this. Donations can still be dropped off at the Royal Bank Pitt Street, Cornwall.

Thanking once again each and every person who donated and also this newspaper who gave fine coverage during the campaign.

Yours sincerely
Allan C. Vallance

City of Sarnia celebrates 125th anniversary

To The Editor:

In recognition of the City of Sarnia's 125th Anniversary, the Mayor and Council have appointed a Committee of interested citizens to encourage and assist in co-ordinating community wide events throughout the year. Business and industry; retail and commercial; churches and organizations; sports, arts and social, and educational groups plan to include in their events during the year some form of recognition and celebration of our 125th Anniversary.

These celebrations began on New Year's Day and wil continue until New Year's Eve of 1982. Major events include the Folk Art Festival in March, the Games for the Physically Disabled in July, a major Music Festival in the Fall, and a Homecoming Week from July 26th to August 1st which will include a regatta on the St. Clair River. The week will end with a "Garden Party".

The year's festivities will culminate in an Anniversary Ball.

The Mayor and Council and the members of the 125th Anniversary Committee extend an invitation to former Sarnians to join in our celebrations, particularly during Homecoming Week.

We would be pleased to provide a Calendar of Events, and anyone interested may write us in care of City Hall, Sarnia, Ontario. We're looking forward to hearing from our Sarnia friends and would especially like to have the members of our football "Imperials" here for our special week.

Many thanks.

Chesterville's past

52 — February 28, 1952

For the second time in three years, Merlin McCurdy of Kemptville assumed the role of rescuer when he saved Johnny Gould, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Gould of Kemptville from drowning yesterday.

Mr. McCurdy fished the lad out of the frigid water of the south branch of the Rideau River after a Kemptville housewife, Mrs. Clifford Crowder, raised the alarm. Mrs. Crowder was passing over the bridge when she saw little Johnny in the water, clinging to the edge of the ice with his arms. She raced to the nearby service station where Mr. McCurdy works and told of the little fellow's plight.

Fully dressed, Mr. McCurdy raced to the river bank, followed by Bill Todd. Arriving at the river's edge, he slipped and fell into the river up to his neck. He grasped the youngster, passed him out of the water to Mr. Todd, who, in turn, passed him into the waiting arms of a neighbor, Mrs. Lorne Stewart.

Safe at his parents' home, the lucky child is believed to have suffered no serious after-effects from his drenching.

Three years ago the young garage mechanic rescued three-year-old Carol Finnerty, son of Kemptville Reeve W.H. Finnerty and Mrs. Finnerty when the lad fell into the river at spring flood time and was being carried away by the current.

Other officers are: past president, Carl Merkley; vice-president, to be chosen; secretary, T.D. Ross; treasurer, Harry Bawden; directors, Geo. Laflamme, James Moonie, Duane Justus, Ronald Lynch and Albert Smith.

The Editor's Notebook

Remember when?

The members of the Chesterville High School Reunion Committee are working diligently at organizing and promoting the event where former high school students will get together to 'look back'.

The members of the committee have a difficult task. Not only must they organize the events during the reunion, such as the wine and cheese party and the dance, they must also try and inform as many former students as possible of the reunion.

This, in fact, is their most difficult job. When you try to imagine the number of students who attended Chesterville High School between the years 1911 to 1963, you may have an inkling of an idea how many potential former students there are to get in contact with.

Add to that the number who moved away from the area, or the number of female students who now use their married name, and the task becomes enormous.

The best method of reaching former students is through word of mouth. If you know of a former student who may not know of the coming reunion, tell them about it. Better yet send them a pre-registration form. The reunion committee could use everyone's help in spreading the word. - mary macdonald -

Congratulations to Berwick!

The organizers of Berwick's first Winter Carnival must accept a pat on the back from members of the community.

With determination, imagination, and a lot of pure energy those in charge presented the Berwick and area community with a weekend of unadulterated fun.

The success of the Berwick Carnival lies in another source as well though. That is the community itself. Full participation in the events proved the organizers were well supported by friends, neighbors and family.

The Berwick carnival was unique among carnivals this year. The event was organized to provide funds to keep the Berwick Community Hall operating. To a community of Berwick's size the hall plays an important role. It is a place for the graduating class of Berwick Public School to hold their graduating exercises. It is a place for local organizations, such as the Berwick WI, to meet. It is a focal point for the community, for community events.

Well done, Berwick. - mary macdonald -

Keith Graham will be difficult to replace

To paraphrase an old saying about the life of things, nothing so ill-became Keith Graham's career with the South Nation River Conservation Authority as the manner of his leaving it last Wednesday night.

After 15 years as Chesterville's representative on the authority, the former village reeve made the surprise announcement at its annual meeting that he was severing all connections with the SNRCA.

Mr. Graham had just suffered his third loss in his bid for the authority chairmanship and his resignation came a few minutes after his nomination by Williamsburg Township reeve Johnny Whitteker for the vice-chairmanship. Rather than face an election for the post, which he had held for the past three years, Mr. Graham withdrew his name, giving Matilda Township deputy-reeve Lorne Strader the vice-chairmanship by acclamation.

Mr. Graham explained that he had wanted to culminate his career with the authority with the chairmanship but it was obvious that he had not built up a firm enough foundation to take over the top position.

His resignation leaves Chesterville temporarily without a representative on the authority at a time when the SNRCA is preparing the final draft of its basin study, a $2-million-plus undertaking that will replace the 1947 report under which the authority was first established and which will have made a number of major recommendations on the economic enhancement of the 1512-square-mile watershed, of which Chesterville is a major focal point.

The authority has been preparing background studies on various components of the basin study for almost two years and the information it has compiled will allow its staff to work from ground zero on developing new management options for the economic betterment of the watershed.

The loss of Mr. Graham as the village's representative could not have come at a more critical time. The authority will soon enter the decision-making stage in the basin study overview and his voice and experience would have greatly influenced the direction in which the authority ultimately moves.

This is not to say that the village cannot find a dedicated replacement for Mr. Graham. What it does say is that the village will be hard pressed to find someone with Mr. Graham's intimate knowledge of the workings of the river and his quick understanding of the ramifications of any management options the authority finally adopts.

Some of these options have to do with problems that have plagued Chesterville since the mid-1970's, namely commercial and residential development and their concomitant effects on sewage treatment. No one knows better than would-be residential developers the problems Chesterville has encountered with waste water management. As a member of village council during the time the sewage treatment lagoon was first undertaken, Mr. Graham understands the problems and also understands the situation of a potential shortage of water for the village's major employer.

If Mr. Graham is concerned over loss of face resulting from his electoral defeat to Ernie Brisson, he should take comfort in the fact that the village needs his years of experience as a municipal politician and authority member now that the time for hard decision-making is here and re-consider his resignation. Chesterville and the authority will be the poorer without his representation. - robin morris -

Leona and Bill Schorlemer of Winchester celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with friends and relatives last Saturday at the Winchester Senior Citizen's Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Schorlemer were married Feb. 20, 1932 in Nelson, B.C. by the Rev. Crick. The couple have three children, nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. The antique bride and groom dolls beside the 50th anniversary cake were used to decorate the wedding cake of Mrs. Schorlemer's parents. Relatives as far as British Columbia joined the couple in their 50th celebration. - staff photo -

1982 registers all-time high in Farm Labor placements

(Staff) - Despite successively increasing activity levels at the Farm Labor Pool, 1982 placements may represent a peak in the Stormont-Dundas office's staffing due to tight money situations.

Floyd Bradford, in his address to the annual meeting of the Farm Labor Pool last Monday night, told the gathering although farmers may limit their hiring, placements will probably not decrease, either.

He told the farmers the office had seen a more than 70 per cent increase in each of the last two years with the 1979-1980 placements, 228; 1980-81, 387 and 1981-82 estimate at 685 to the end of March and 659 actual to the end of January.

He cautioned farmers who wish to avail themselves of the Ontario Youth Employment Program to call the office immediately for information since the program operates on a first-come, first-serve basis for first-time users of the service.

Guest speaker for the evening was Gary Picard, of Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology who filled in the blanks farmers might draw with the keeping of employment and personnel records.

Mr. Picard outlined the personnel process for farm workers from the initial interview (during which he said a honeymoon-like haze surrounds the job) to the issuance of a record of employment form on termination.

He cautioned the farmers to include all fringe benefits such as meals, housing and services in the gross pay of a worker to determine the rate of income tax and pension contributions.

Mr. Picard also noted although bank pay envelopes can be used to issue salaries and register deductions, all employees including children should be paid by cheque since this makes record-keeping easier.

A social insurance number is a must when hiring an employee he told the group. If an employee fails to produce a number, the employer must provide an application form. Numbers can be provided within 72 hours when a prospective employee applies in person at a Canada Employment Centre and is in need of a number to begin employment.

He cautioned the farmers to be on the lookout for SIN's with a first digit of nine. Ask to see the applicant's immigration papers before hiring, he noted.

He also suggested the hiring of partially rehabilitated employees through Workmen's Compensation since in these days of tight money, the available subsidy might make the employee attractive to the business.

At the culmination of the evening elections were held for directors for each of Stormont and Dundas. Mary Lou Jackson was elected for a four-year term to replace the retiring Jacques Villeneuve and Ann Carruthers was elected to replace Dundas' Dwight Gilmer.

Mary Lou Jackson, right, was elected to the Farm Labor Pool executive last Monday night for Stormont County and Ann Carruthers, left, was elected for Dundas. The two women consulted guest speaker Gary Picard after the program to check out some of the helpful personnel tips he provided. - staff photo -

Keep snow off roads

CORNWALL (Staff) - For the first winter in three, the United Counties Roads Department have encountered problems with rural property owners returning plowed snow to the road, creating difficulties clearing more than 400 miles of road.

County engineer Donald McDonald issued a statement this week stating the road foremen will be instructed to report any occurences to the police since thedeposition of snow or ice on a roadway is an offense under the Ontario Highway Traffic Act.

Jim Hummel, of the engineering department, said this year, due to the heavy accumulation of snow, there have been complaints from the counties' foremen as well as both those whose driveways have been blocked and from travellers dissatisfied with the condition of areas of the road system.

He noted charges have been laid in the past with the disputes going to court to be resolved.

Mr. McDonald noted with the heavy snowfall, crews are finding it increasingly difficult to push snow banks in order to be able to cope with the coming (and hopefully final) snowfalls of the winter.

He states it is unfortunate driveways should be blocked but with the long routes facing plows it must remain the responsibility of the property owner to clear private access.

He adds the return of snow to the pavement by either blowing or pushing is a total disregard for the safety of others. In normal weather the snow presents a nuisance, however if it refreezes it can cause damage to front ends and to plowing equipment. It can also cause a slick patch on an otherwise cleared road, he said.

One picture is worth 1,000 words, Hubert Labre has 1,300 and 50 scrapbooks, 300 hockey programs, 300 team record books, 850 sports magazines, and . . .

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The children come to Labre's Grocery, just as their fathers did, to buy the penny candies behind the wood and glass counter. There is a comfortable feeling of history in the store, its proprietor, Hubert Labre, neither denying the progress of time nor throwing out the past.

And the hockey world, whether it knows it or not, has benefitted from Hubert's preservation of times gone by.

In the back room, among scrapbooks, pictures, autographs and magazines, are the memories of half a century of hockey history. Toe Blake skates out of the yellowing newsprint on another scoring binge. Montreal goaltending star Bill Durnan has a stick save immortalized on a photograph. Rocket Richard calms down raging Montreal fans from the pages of the Montreal Gazette.

And behind each bit of information, there is another story to be told by Hubert.

Although Hubert never played hockey himself he always had a keen interest in the sport. His interest became a hobby, and then a collection. In 1938 when he was 16, he began putting newsclippings about his favorite team, Montreal, into scrapbooks and it grew from there.

Today, Hubert's collection includes 1,300 photographs, over 300 hockey programs, 300 team record books dating back to the 1930s, 850 sports magazines (including the first issue of Sports Illustrated, 1947) and 50 scrapbooks of news clippings.

Some of the memorabilia came from the promotional gimmicks commonly used by manufacturers in the 40s and 50s. The traditional bubblegum cards are there as well as the cards exchanged for Beehive product labels.

Hubert also wrote directly to the NHL clubs for photographs and team books. Many obliged. Some, in fact, came to know him quite well. The Canadiens' management sent a Christmas card every year. So did the publicity department for the NHL.

Hubert's brother, Clarence, who lived in Montreal, sent a weekly supply of clippings to fill the scrapbooks. Hubert also collected stories on the teams playing in the old Ottawa Auditorium from the Ottawa Journal.

As his connections grew, he came in contact with sports writers who admired the fact that he shared their interest in the sport. Lee Kavetski, a sports cartoonist for The Detroit News, would regularly send him pictures of hockey players he'd drawn.

Hubert also traded hockey photographs in the mail. In 1952, his mailing list stretched to England. The trans-Atlantic writer kept him informed on how the members of the Inkerman Rockets, who had gone to play the English hockey team, the Wembley Rockets, were doing.

But, as it has been said, Hubert has more than a collection of pictures and facts. He has memories. Like how, in 1943, the Montreal Forum introduced the ice machine. Two men would pull the flooding machine across the ice between periods, spraying out hot water. Although crude, it improved play by improving the ice surface.

Or how Claude Bourque came to have two spellings to his last name when he joined the Montreal Canadiens in 1938. The goaltender had gone into camp as Claude Burke. But management felt the English name did not fit in well with the French surroundings and so they had him change it.

Although The Chesterville Record often printed stories, in the 50s and 60s, about Hubert meeting this hockey star or being a good friend of that one, Hubert says that most of the time it was only a few words between a fan and a hockey player.

But one meeting does stand out in his mind.

In 1951, Montreal goaltender Bill Durnan came to Chesterville as a guest speaker at the local Rotary. After the speech, he dropped into the pool room Hubert was running at the time, and they shot a few games. Later, Bill gave Mr. Labre's son, Fred, a ride on his back and put him to bed. It was a ride that Fred, later an avid goaltender himself, would never forget.

Hubert's roots in Chesterville go back to his father Theophile (Tufful) Labre who was a blacksmith for forty years. In 1933 he and Clarence started Labre's Grocery and often worked until 2am, seven days a week. Hubert started working in the store in the early 1940s and took over the business in 1963 after the death of his father.

One of the more sensational stories in his scrapbooks is about Chesterville. On Saturday, January 14, 1950, two Juvenile teams were playing hockey in the arena. A high wind started the rafters creaking, and just as the teams got outside to safety, the whole arena collapsed.

Fittingly for someone with his avid interest in the sport, Hubert has been a subscriber to Hockey News since its first publication in 1947. The paper has published his comments a number of times in the last 35 years.

Ken McKenzie, publisher of Hockey News and publicity director for the NHL, became a good friend of Hubert's and the two often went to games together.

Hubert, though, just wasn't just a sports enthusiast on the sidelines. He was an active ball player in his youth, beginning as a bat boy for Chesterville teams in the early 1940s. He was a player for various local teams in the 40s and 50s and was part of the Williamsburg team that won three Dundas League championships in a row.

Even Hubert's wife, Jean, has been connected with the sports world. She was a nursemaid for King Clancy's four children in 1943 when Clancy refereed in the NHL.

Hubert and Jean had two children. Fred, who died in 1973 and Debbie (Mrs. John Bailey) lives in Brinston.

Hubert and Jean have two grandsons who love looking at his collection. Hubert says he had to keep a tight reign on their enthusiasm, though, because their small hands aren't always as gentle with the rare photographs and autographs as they should be.

The expansion of the NHL has forced Hubert to be more selective in what he saves. He's gone back to where he started as a boy, following only the Montreal Canadiens.

And what does he think, after watching four decades of hockey greats, about Wayne Gretzky?

Hubert says Gretzky would have stood up under the tougher opposition in the six league system and would have been the league's biggest star.

And about the furor over Gretzky's multi-million dollar contract?

Hubert has an article detailing the fuss the hockey world made when the Leafs sold the rights to Gord Drillan to Montreal for $30,000. Even hockey isn't immune from inflation.

Actually, Hubert is as much a star as Gretzky, each in their own right. In a league of watered-down teams and too many colorless players, Hubert has kept the proudest moments of the league alive. And when he passes on his collection, the bright moments of hockey players long since retired will be passed on too.

It was Carnival Daze at North Dundas last week, with events such as egg tossing, ice cream eating and jive contests taking place, as well as the ever-popular Tug of War and Blind Volleyball.

Friday was officially Carnival Day, with regular classes cancelled 50 events to take place.

However, to get everybody in the festive spirit, Monday to Thursday were designated dress-up days. Monday was Slob Day, with Marque Laflamme and Eleanor Youngbert being judged as top slobs Tuesday was Profession Day and Troy Donaldson and Stephanie Summers won the awards for top costumes; Mike Beckstead and Holly Stewart had the best costumes on Wednesday (Security Day); and on Thursday (Hawaii Day) Jeff Hopkins and Penny Van Dongen were tops in their grass skirts. Also, on Friday, Heather Rose and Cathy Collins received awards for looking like girls from the 50's. Each winner received $5 from the Students' Council.

On Thursday night the Carnival Dance took place. Everyone gathered in the gym Friday for the Carnival kick-off and the crowning of this year's carnival king and queen - Pete Schoones and Debbie McVey. Our king and queen also went on to win in the jive contests. Out of a field of about 100 entrants in the egg toss, Steve Luimes and Dave Sheldrick emerged champs.

Willy Eccleshall had his fill of ice cream with his hands behind his back of course, as he emerged number one in the ice cream eating contest. Other events of the day included pillow fights on the balance beam, an obstacle course, a hula-hoop contest, an Indy 500, road hockey, a rubic's cube contest, Reach for the Top, log sawing, nail driving, a euchre tourney, and a treasure hunt. Congratulations to all organizers for a super carnival.

The senior boys basketball team ended a fine season last Friday in a game against Char-Lan. In an all-or-nothing game for the division championship, the boys lost by a single point in a 36-35 game.

The senior and junior girls volleyball teams also ended their seasons. In a home tourney, Thursday, the seniors placed first by defeating Char-Lan and Tagwi. On Saturday, the team travelled to Osgoode High School and placed fourth in an invitational tourney.

The junior team closed out their season on Thursday by beating Char-Lan but losing to Tagwi in a home tournament. Top scorers were Sandy Price and Vicki Holmes.

A co-ed volleyball tournament was held after school Tuesday. Gold came first in the juniors, while Red and Green tied for first in the seniors.

Our curling teams have also been very busy. The boys curling team of Stuart Anderson, James Hicks, Mike and Dave Nelson. Dave Nelson play this weekend in Whitby in the Provincial Curling Championships.

They defeated Renfrew, last years Ontario Champions, to qualify for the All-Ontarios. Also, on Thursday at the SD and G Curling Championships in Winchester, the boys earned the right to compete at Hawkesbury by beating both CCVS and St. Lawrence High School.

Both the girls' team-consisting of Liz and Vicki Workman, Sharon Sommerhalter and Jill Vasey and the mixed team, which consisted of Angie Ganter, David Dobson, Jill Steele, and Kevin Laporte, played very well but lost in close games.

The Athlete Association has started another fund-raising project: they are selling tickets, with the top prize being a Carribbean cruise. All proceeds go towards new equipment, new uniforms and especially bus transportation. Please support the AA by buying a ticket.

Junior B season ends
Metcalfe tops St. Lawrence division

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Metcalfe, to no one's surprise, has ended the regular season at the top of the St. Lawrence Division of the EOJBHL. They had already won it, mathematically, last week. But rather than rest on their laurels, the Metcalfe team finished the last week of the season with three wins.

Although Metcalfe had an easy time with fourth-place Char-Lan beating them 11-4 Feb. 17, their last two games against Winchester turned out to be tough, close contests. Winchester, in a race for second place with Morrisburg, wanted the four points.

Metcalfe at Winchester
Feb. 19

Glen Lystiuk stopped 37 shots to help put Winchester on the losing end of a 3-2 score.

Winchester led 2-0 early in the second period with Peter Mariner scoring his 20th and 21st of the season. Metcalfe's Paul Vorobej closed the gap by one at 10:48 to close the second period scoring.

Metcalfe opened the game up in the third period, rolling off three goals in a row. Kevin Downey scored twice and Jim Kerfoot's shot provided the third. Winchester ace Darrell Shelp ended the scoring with his 44th goal of the season with 40 seconds remaining in the game.

Winchester at Metcalfe
Feb. 21

Winchester pulled its goalie with 40 seconds remaining in the game but the Metcalfe defence held them off to win the game 3-2.

Tied 1-1 after one period of play, Metcalfe went ahead with the only goal of the middle frame when Todd Wallace found the opening at 3:01.

Mike Doyle scored what proved to be the winning goal at 14:26 of the third. Dean McIntosh got Winchester its second goal at 2:23.

Twenty-three penalties were called in the game, 13 going to Metcalfe.

Other scores

Feb. 17 - Winchester 6, Morrisburg 2
Feb. 19 - Morrisburg 9, Char-Lan 4
Feb. 20 - Cardinal 6, Char-Lan 2
Feb. 21 - Cardinal 8, Morrisburg 3

The first round of playoffs begin Feb. 26 with Char-Lan playing Metcalfe and Winchester playing Morrisburg.

Midgets edge Winchester

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The Chesterville Midgets, continuing their battle for third place in the standings, split a pair of games in last week's CDMHA action.

Chesterville vs Morrisburg Blue

Chesterville dashed Morrisburg's hope for a shut-out but could do little else against the team's tough defense, losing the game 3-1.

Morrisburg scored the only goals of the first and second periods on shots by Kevin Patterson, Mike Stewart, and Robert Dileavey.

It looked like Morrisburg had full control of the third period as well but Mark Smith found the opening at 4:57 to spoil Darren Mullen's shut-out bid. Kevin Moore had the assist.

Chesterville vs Winchester

Chesterville scored four goals in a row in the second period on their way to a 5-3 victory over Winchester.

Winchester opened the scoring in the first period on a last minute goal by Brad Hanes.

Chesterville came back with a vengeance in the second. Dave van Kessel, Roger Beazer, Mark Smith, and David Van Delst each put one in the net before Winchester's Barry McShane got his team on the scoreboard again with his goal at 1:45.

The team split a pair in the third, Kevin Moore scoring for Chesterville and Brad Hanes getting the goal for Winchester.

Old Timers rough on goalies

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Their defence may need a little work but the Chesterville Old Timers are certainly not lacking any scoring punch. They racked up 22 goals in three games. Unfortunately, their opposition scored 23 times. Still, they came out of this past week's schedule with a win.

Metcalfe at Chesterville

Metcalfe out-scored Chesterville 11-8 Wednesday at the Chesterville Arena in what appeared to be a re-enactment of the gunfight at OK Corral - hockey-style.

Mike Coyle and Rick Cormier led the Chesterville scoring with a hat-trick each. Regis Dion and Les Holmes had singles.

Jack Lannin had three assists while Mike Coyle, Terry Buske, Dick Henderson, Erik Thompson, and Mike Fyke had singles.

A shell-shocked Wayne Laprade tended the Chesterville net.

Morewood at Chesterville

A pair of goals each by Ricky Barkley and Mike Coyle paced the Chesterville Old Timers to a 5-3 win over their host, Morewood last Thursday.

Ray Imrie picked up the single while assists went to Mike Coyle, Rick Barkley, Terry Buske, Lester Holmes, and Dick Henderson.

Pete Monast was in net.

Chesterville at Morrisburg

Chesterville lost to Morrisburg 9-5 Sunday in Morrisburg.

Goal scorers for Chesterville were Erik Thompson, Mike Fyke, Terry Buske, Les Holmes, and Regis Dion.

Mike Fyke led the assist category with two. Rick Barkley, Les Holmes, and Regis Dion picked up singles.

Morrisburg best in CDMHL

MORRISBURG (Special) - The Morrisburg Atom A's finished their exceptional season with an exceptional distinction. They are the only team, at any level, to complete their Carleton Dundas Minor Hockey League regular schedule without a loss.

The Atom A's ended their statistics count with an impressive 23 wins and one tie after blitzing Russell and Chesterville 10-1 and 13-0 Sun., Feb. 14.

Greg Wells led Morrisburg in the Russell match with four goals while team-mates Robbie Casselman and Dave Casselman picked up doubles. Singles went to Jamie Smith and Perry Brunt.

Greg Wells continued this hot scoring pace in Chesterville with another four goal performance. Dean Beckstead added a hat-trick and Robbie Casselman and David Servis each had a pair. Jamie Smith scored a single.

The team is now waiting for the first round of playoff action to begin although the schedule, at press time, has not yet been released.

Red finishes first in town league

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Duffy's Tavern and Red added a spark of drama to Town League's final night of regular season play last Wednesday. It took one game to decide what 17 previous games could not: who would finish first in the standings.

Garry Gallinger finally settled the matter, scoring the winning goal at 10:31 of the third period in Red's 4-3 victory over Duffy's.

Red finishes the season with 27 points, three more than Duffy's.

Red opened the game's scoring when Barry Feeley got the only goal of the first period on a pass play from Bill Moran and Dave Richards.

Andy Windsor tied it for Duffy's at 4:48 of the second period on a play set up by Jeff Smith and Lyle Servage. Bill Moran restored Red's lead two minutes later but Duffy's came out of the third period with a 2-2 tie after Brent Theede found the mark in the final minutes.

Red pulled away from Duffy's in the third period, scoring two goals in two minutes. Dave Richards got the first at 12:24, followed by Garry Gallinger's game winner. Duffy's got one back at 10:09 on Pat Imrie's shot but a tough Red's defence kept them from tying the score.

In the other half of the schedule, Blue popped in three unanswered goals in the third period on their way to a 7-3 win over last-place Green.

Green went up 1-0 after one period of play when John Elliott beat the clock and Blue's goal Steve Droppo at the :10 mark on a play set up by Dan Kelly and Dave Cross.

Neil Kittle tied it up for Blue at 13:43 of the second period but Green's Pat Kelly put his team back in front by two when he scored back-to-back goals at 11:45 and 11:14. That feat stirred up Blue. Neil Kittle, Glen Sims, and Greg Beckstead pulled their team into a 4-3 lead coming out of the second period.

Blue owned the third period, increasing their lead with singles by Greg Beckstead, Rick Barkley and Glen Sims.

Blue will meet Duffy's in a best of five playoffs series Feb. 24. Red will take on Green the same night.
