RAIN - HAIL - WIND - LIGHTNING

Vicious Storm Hits Winchester

A vicious storm lashed Winchester on Monday evening when hail temporarily cooled the tropic air that had hung over the area during the last half of the month of August.

Drenching rain and high winds accompanied a fierce electrical storm and lightning completely destroyed the trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Beverley MacQueen on Ottawa Street.

The MacQueen family was absent at the time and nearby residents reported the home appeared to literally explode when struck.

"Fortunately", said one neighbour, "the family was away. Had they been at home they might have had difficulty escaping the blazing inferno".

A few blocks away another bolt of lightning struck a tree near the corner of Main and Mill Streets but since no buildings were nearby only the tree was damaged.

HEAT WAVE

Area residents have been preparing almost every evening for anticipated storms that usually accompany late summer heat waves. This year, according to reports from the weather office, Eastern Canada has experienced the longest and hottest heat wave in the past century with the mercury climbing into the high 80's and low 90's daily for the past two weeks.

Unlike last summer's continued cool, wet weather when most crops were washed away, farmers this year report excellent harvests of hay and corn although the late spring played havoc with some grain and corn crops.

Monday night's storm cleared the air somewhat but by noon on Tuesday the temperature was near the 90 degree mark and, prompted by the unusual weather conditions, officials agreed to have the Winchester Pool remain open indefinitely on a day-to-day basis.

Accompanying photos show the remains of the comfortable MacQueen home and also the splintered tree.

Hospital Constraints Continue But Operating Costs Will Rise

Continued constraints in the hospital sector will be in effect throughout fiscal 1974/75, Ontario Health Ministry officials revealed today.

However, the tough 5 per cent increase allowed for the current year has been modified. Hospitals may start preparing 1974 operating budgets on the basis of an increase not exceeding 7.9 per cent of the 1973 approved maximum allowable net operating costs.

In a letter to all chairmen of boards and administrators of hospitals, Deputy Minister S.W. Martin commended hospitals for their co-operation in assisting the Ministry in its attempts to reverse the sharp escalation in the cost of providing health services.

Mr. Martin pointed out that the percentage increase allowable in net operating costs is announced at this time so that the mechanism of budget planning may be started. However, he also made it clear to hospital officials that Ministry discussions are continuing insofar as final adjustments to the Health Ministry's budget base are concerned and that "certain adjustments to the base are anticipated."

Such adjustments, reflected in the individual hospital budget, could serve to reduce the hospital's 1973 operating base—the basis on which 1974 budgets are calculated.

Mr. Martin said he is "aware that there are many forces at work in the economy at the present time which have a direct effect upon hospital operations. Resources available to us continue to be limited."

The Deputy Minister indicated that the definitive budget position of the Ministry as it affects hospital budgets would be evident "within the next four or five weeks" and said boards would be notified at that time "of the extent of such adjustments" as they might affect individual hospitals.

Something Different!

Metcalfe Curlers Sponsor Quarterback Club

Members of Metcalfe Curling Club, at a special meeting last week, agreed to the formation of a QuarterbackClub which hopefully will attract football fans from the entire area including Winchester, Russell, Vernon, Osgoode, Greely and Edwards and, said one spokesman, "we anticipate visitors from as far away as Morrisburg."

The first meeting will be at the curling club next Monday evening (September 10th), at 8:00 p.m. when guest football players will be Doug Collins, Rod Woodward and "Soupy" Campbell.

In addition Hugh McEwen, Labatt's representative, has agreed to bring along the fame film of the Ottawa - B.C. contest and organizers are hopeful Bruce Hamilton, the man in charge of all area quarterback clubs, will be present.

Project chairman is Mike Shields who reports membership will be open to all, (male and female), for the first few meetings. "After that", says Mr. Shields, "we'll have to evaluate the interest and decide if limited facilities available may force the use of a 'first-come-first-served' sort of thing."

For the 'uneducated' a quarterback club is an occasion when members enjoy a friendly evening of football talk with greats and near-greats, as well as members of the press, radio and TV, as guests.

Some clubs begin with a meal but officials of this newly-formed group report that until such time as members demand it no meal will be served. "But", says one prominent member of the curling club, "if at a later date the membership feels a dinner-meeting would be advantageous, then of course we'll be happy to cooperate."

During the evening a panel of experts field questions from the 'floor' and players present are afforded an opportunity to 'alibi' (or gloat) on the outcome of the most recent game.

Understandably since the great majority of area fans are Ottawa Rough Rider supporters the emphasis is expected to centre on promotion of the favourites.

"However," points out Ways and Means Committee Chairman Reg Gamble, "there are a limited number of fans who lean toward other clubs and we assure such minority groups a cordial welcome and an opportunity to express their views."

The meetings will continue weekly (every Monday evening) during the football season.

Master of Ceremonies for the first meeting will be Bob Simpson, former Rough Rider great who is now in charge of publications for the Ottawa Club.

Press Rates Increase

Continued increase in the cost of operation has made it necessary to increase subscription rates for The Winchester Press.

Readers are requested to study the advertisement on Page 10 which clearly explains the necessary change.

Announce Major Changes In Incentives Program

Ontario Premier William Davis last week announced major changes in the province's industrial incentives program for both Northern Ontario and Eastern Ontario.

The revised program will provide long-term loans for up to 90 percent of the costs of a firm starting a new industry or expanding an existing one in the north.

In Eastern Ontario the figure for similar enterprises will be 75 percent.

The maximum loan in both areas will be $1 million, compared with $500,000 under the forgiveable loan program which Mr. Davis said has served its purpose and has now been abandoned.

The incentives will be available for both new or expanded industry except in Southern Ontario where funds will be made available only to new projects.

Mr. Davis said Canadian companies will continue to receive preference but foreign-owned firms might still qualify if they can demonstrate their operations would not be detrimental to Ontario's economic interests.

A sum of $36 million has been

Eight Ottawa-Carleton Municipalities Now Three

Donald Irvine, parliamentary assistant to Treasury and Inter-governmental Affairs Minister John Whyte, was in the Ottawa-Carleton area last week and announced the province's move to force eight smaller municipalities to amalgamate forming three larger areas.

The municipalities involved had been requested to offer suggestions regarding amalgamation which might assist the Minister in his decision but failing this the province was forced to take action.

Under the proposed scheme the municipalities of Torbolton, Fitzroy and Huntley become one; Goulbourn, Stittsville and Richmond also become one and the Townships of Marlborough and North Gower are to be amalgamated including Manotick and Long Island.

The larger Osgoode municipality remains unchanged although that portion of Long Island lying south of the bridge, with an assessment of $600,000. will be lost.

THE NEWS in Brief

New Minister At Vernon

For most of 1973 Osgoode Baptist and Vernon United Church was without a resident minister and pulpit committee chairman Don Ferguson reports that Rev. Frank L. Stone has willingly offered to accept the responsibility of the Pastorate and will preach his first sermon this Sunday (September 9th).

The subject for the morning service at 11:00 will be "The Christian Congregation" and the evening service at 7:30 will have as its theme "And the Minister".

Pee Wee Tournament This Weekend

Winchster ball park has been alive with activities throughout the long hot summer months but with school once more open the ball-playing is rapidly drawing to a close.

One of the last major projects at the ball park will be the Pee Wee tournament scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday.

Tournament coordinator Percy Armstrong reports all games will be played without using lights and hopefully winner will have been declared by 6:00 p.m. on Sunday.

Fans are urged to come out and support the young players who will be the big league stars in a few years.

Swimming Pool Remains Open

Winchester pool, which usually closes the last day of August, will remain open on a day to day basis until later in the fall this year.

The unseasonably hot weather prompted the pool committee to consider the extension and those wishing to cool off will have to check each day since no schedule is being released.

Season tickets, however, have expired and those using the facilities will be charged at the following rate—children, 25 cents and adults 50 cents.

That's What A Teacher Looks Like!

For 36 of Winchester's 'little people' Tuesday had to be considered one of the most important days in their young lives.

Previously life had been one long extended time of play but all good things must come to an end and the first step into a new life was taken early in the morning when they arrived for their first day at school.

Most of the youngsters were thrilled with the new environment and stared wide-eyed at the interesting attractions in the clean, bright school-room.

For the Kindergarten teacher meeting so many nattily-clad tots had to be a high-light of the year, and generally speaking the little girls and boys seemed very impressed by the friendly smile and cheerful voice that welcomed them to the realm of education.

One tousled youngster, however appeared not quite sure if the pretty teacher measured up to his expectations.

Trade Fair Offering Dream Prize

The last night of Winchester Trade Fair a ticket will be drawn from a huge drum and some lucky individual will be named winner of what Chamber of Commerce members consider a 'Dream' prize.

Dates for this years 'Fair' are October 4th, 5th and 6th and, at last reports, space was still available and the Press has been informed space is being reserved for those who participated last year but after September 14th, if not picked up, they will be sold on a first-come-first-served basis.

Longtime Area Teacher

Miss Louise Stearns Sadly Missed By All

Miss Louise Stearns, who died at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Thursday August 30th will be fondly remembered by hundreds of students who attended area schools over the past forty years.

Miss Stearns, who was 68 at the time of her death, had taught in such district schools as Mulloy in Mountain Township; Dalmeny and the 'Scotch' School in Osgoode Township and Russell Public where she served faithfully for seventeen years, and for several of those years as principal.

Born at Marvelville, she was a daughter of the late John Stearns and his wife Elizabeth Park and only a few months before her death had been honoured by Federation of Women Teachers' Association of Ontario when she was made an Honorary Member.

She received her early education at Marvelville and Russell schools and began her long teaching career when she graduated from Ottawa Teachers' College.

Miss Stearns liked to recall her public school days when no buses travelled over country roads and students walked, often several miles, to attend small one-room schools.

Following graduation she was unable to find employment in the province of Ontario and consequently began what was to be a life-long career at Pickanoch, Quebec.

Speaking of that first assignment she often recalled being met at the station by a school board member with a team of horses hitched to a double buggy. She would smile wistfully as she told of driving over a long, winding mountain road and finally arriving at a pleasant farm home which was to be her home during that first year in the teaching profession when her salary for the entire year was $450.00.

Despite having given of herself unselfishly to her chosen profession Miss Stearns always found time to do just a little more than her share in all church and community endeavours.

In 1967, in recogniton of her valuable contribution in the field of education, she was the recipient of a Centennial Medal.

A dedicated member of the United Church Women's Association she was also keenly interested in the work being done by Osgoode Township Historical Association and had worked tirelessly to assist the group involved in the project.

The late Miss Stearns is survived by one brother, Olin, Metcalfe and one niece, Mrs. Willis McCormick of South Gloucester.

Funeral service at Warner's Funeral Home, Russell, was conducted by Rev. C. Dawes and Rev. S. Hewlett on Saturday September 1st at 2:00 p.m.

Pall bearers were Bill McVey, Wilmott Stanley, Keith Last, Lloyd Stephens, Keith Boyd and Don Hay.

Interment was at Springhill cemetery.

budgeted in the current fiscal year to support the new program and another $50 million is earmarked for next year.

The forgiveable, interestfree loan program came into existence in 1967 and Mr. Davis said it had been considered successful and since that time the government approved 491 loans worth $53.3 million.

The new plan, called the Ontario Business Incentives Program (OBIP), permits repayment of interest to be deferred for five years or longer, and in certain instances, the loan may be interest-free where a need for a powerful incentive is demonstrated.

Eligible for the new plan are manufacturing industries, service industries such as motels, but not necessarily small retail stores and the tourist industry generally.

In some cases, Mr. Davis said, the government would be prepared to provide buildings for lease to qualifying companies and forgive or reduce rental payments for the first five years in operation.

The program will be administered in this area by the Eastern Ontario Development Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Plain

Plain - Byers Exchange Vows

Caleb Street, Winchester, was the scene of gaiety and beauty on Saturday afternoon, September 1st, the occasion being the wedding of Eleanor Byers and Robert Plain.

Eleanor, dressed in a swiss eyelet gown, trimmed with blue, walked with her Dad (Dr. W.M. Byers) to Winchester United Church where he gave his daughter in marriage to Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Plain of Scarborough.

Preceeding the bride and her father in the procession were her sisters, Brenda and Noreen, bridesmaids and Carla Foster, niece of the groom, flowergirl. The bridesmaids wore matching gowns of swiss eyelet, styled to that of the bride's, in complementing shades of robin egg blue. Carla wore a similar gown in soft pink eyelet. Adding beauty and colour to the bridal party, were the bride's colonial bouquet of white daisies and ivy, matching her headband of white natural daisies, the bridesmaids crescent bouquets of pink carnations, blue statice mixed with dried natural statice, and the flowergirl's miniature bouquet, an exact replica of the bride's.

Mrs. Byers was attired in a green chiffon gown, with long sleeves and accordian pleat accent, matching accessories and a green cymbidium orchid encorsage. Mrs. Plain, mother of the groom, wore a gown of sheer cotton in floral tangerine and shades of blue on white background, white accessories, and carried a clutch bag with attached larkspur, blue mums and star flowers.

The young couple were united in marriage at three o'clock in the afternoon by the officiating clergyman, Rev. A.J. MacDonald. Norman Abott, pianist, uncle of the groom, Boston, Mass., accompanied the guest soloist, cousin of the groom, Carol Abbott. Paul Gowett assisted the groom and ushers for the occasion were Jim Byers and John Bush. Larry Abbott, guitarist, rendered two selections preceeding the arrival of the bridal party.

Following the wedding ceremony, the reception was held on the lawn at the bride's parental home, Caleb Street. An evening reception followed at the Byers' summer residence on Ault Island, Lake St. Lawrence. Julie Fawcett graciously supplied beautiful and appropriate organ music for the occasion to the delight of the many guests.

On return from honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Plain will reside in Ottawa where Mr. Plain is legal advisor with External Affairs and where Mrs. Plain will attend Ottawa University completing her studies in Nursing Science.

Prior to her marriage, Eleanor was honoured by neighbours, friends and relatives. Mrs. Jack Rennison entertained Caleb Street neighbours in her honour at a bridal shower. Mrs. Sam Ault was hostess for a miscellaneous shower at her home in Morrisburg and Mrs. W.G. Miller, Ottawa, entertained her niece and close relatives at a nicely arranged luncheon at Uplands Golf Course.

Rideau Hill Camp

Sun + Fun × Hard Work = Success

Rideau Hill Camp is nearing the end of another very successful summer program. The busy campsite, sponsored by Seaway Valley Presbytery of the United Church, operates from May till September and programs include picnics, youth work groups, Sunday services, teen camps and six 7-day Boys' and Girls' camps.

The fact the project is operated by the United Church in no way indicates that only boys and girls of that particular faith participate. On the contrary the welcome mat is always out to young people of all religious faiths and the continued success of the venture is possible only because of many hours of hard work by directors, leaders and the efficient camp staff.

A spokesman for the Board expressed sincere gratitude for the support, financial and otherwise offered by so many community organizations, parents and others.

"The continued support of the 'Press' and other newspapers in the area is very much appreciated," he said.

One of the Junior Girls' camps is shown in accompanying photo while in the other picture leaders and staff pose by the modern pool.

ANNOUNCING DO-IT-YOURSELF L.I.P.

Your Local Initiatives Program is even more local.

This year, $83 million is going to be invested in helping people help themselves in their community.

If yours is a typical community, we're putting the "local" into the Local Initiatives Program by setting up a Constituency Advisory Group, or by having L.I.P. staff consult with already established groups. So now you help decide which projects will contribute most to everybody.

On the Constituency Advisory Group will sit a good representation from the community, including people active in community affairs, people from local government and social agencies, and L.I.P. sponsors from last year, all suggested by your M.P.

Your project could have up to $75,000 to work with, if your idea is a highly creative and innovative one.

To qualify for L.I.P. funds, your project must create not less than 15 man-months of employment. Workers with the skills required for your project must be available within your community. Project sponsors must hire all employees through Canada Manpower Centres. Deadline for applications is October 15th, 1973, though early submissions could result in projects starting as early as December 1st. In northern or isolated areas, projects could start as early as November 1st. Projects may be funded for up to six months.

However, he was able to get back into the race and worked himself back to first position. Chubby Leroux was second; John Goth, third. Heat race winners were Leroux, Martin and Boucher.

In the Hobby division Ken Outerhout won the feature followed by Daytona Dave Lee and Paul Yendall. Graham Woolsey finished fourth. Heat race winners were Osterhout and Bob Warnock.

Russell Group Enjoys Day At U.C.V.

Members of Russell-Kenmore Friendship Circle spent a day at Upper Canada Village recently when Mrs. Robert Wade and her assistants supplied picnic lunches for over forty visitors.

The group thoroughly enjoyed the outing and plans are underway for a visit to Cornwall in the near future.

All had kind words of thanks for Mrs. Glen Harten for her generous assistance and use of a bus for touring the grounds.

IN MEMORIAMS

SUMMERS—In loving memory of a dear brother, Jack Edward Summers, who passed away September 7, 1964.
No one know how much I miss you
No one knows the bitter pain I have suffered
Since I lost you life has never been the same.
In my heart your memory lingers
Sweetly tender, fond and true
There is not a day dear brother
That I do not think of you.
—Wilf and family. 19c

BLAIR, Daniel Francis—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and son, who was so suddenly called to his Heavenly Home, four years ago, September 5, 1969.
Gone is the face we loved so dear
Silent is the voice we loved to hear
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thoughts to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was dear.
And who though absent is just as dear.
A cluster of precious memories
Sprinkled with love and tears.
Wishing God had spared you if only for a few more years.
You left us a beautiful memory and
Sorrow too great to behold
But to us who loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.
No one heard the footsteps of the angels drawing near
Who took from earth to heaven
The one we loved so dear.
Four years have past since that sad day
But, still we don't forget
For in the hearts that loved you
Your memory is kept to love, to cherish and never forget.
Sadly missed and lovingly remembered always—Wife Barbara and Children and Mother and Dad. 19c

SUMMERS—In loving memory of our dear son Jack Summers who passed away September 7, 1964.
Just a thought from those who love you
Just a memory fond and true
In our hearts you will live forever
Because we thought the world of you.
—Sadly missed by Mother, Dad, Sisters and Brothers. 19p

IMRIE—In remembrance of our dearly loved grandfather, Geo. Imrie, Kingston, who died on September 8th, 1972.
Not dead to us who loved him
Not lost but gone before
He lives with us in memory
And will forever more.
—Rae, Doris and family. Carole, Earl and family. 19c

BLACK—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Jeffrey Allan, who suddenly passed away September 6, 1965.
He's up there in that heavenly mansion,
With us he could not stay
God needed another angel
And came and took Jeff away.
—Dad, Mum, Debbie, Gordie and Tim. 19c

IMRIE—In loving memory of a dear father, George Imrie Sr., Kingston, who died on September 8th, 1972.
In our hearts your memory lingers
Always tender, fond and true
There is not a day dear Father
We do not think of you.
—Remembered and sadly missed - Jud and Gladys. 19c

IMRIE—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George Imrie, Sr., who died on September 8th, 1972.
Gone but not forgotten.
—Wife, Helen and family. 19p

WEEGAR—In loving memory of our dear son Lyn who was accidentally killed September 10th, 1972.
We often sit and weep for him
The one that's gone before
But then we hear him say
Please do not weep anymore
Sometimes its hard to understand
Why some things have to be
But in his wisdom God has planned
Beyond our power to see.
We hear his voice, we see his smile
We hear him say just for awhile
We'll meet again for that is true
God giveth and he taketh too.
God wanted him and him alone
To stay with him upon his throne
His pride and joy with us he left to stay
Until there comes that waiting day
And then we all shall meet again
Where there is no sorrows or no pain.
Father in Thee we put our trust
You have our son in the form of dust
Gather his soul from its clammy mold
Power to keep in Thy gracious hold.
—Ever remembered, ever loved and in the care of God above.
Mom and Dad. 19p

WEEGAR—In wonderful memories of our loving brother Lyn who was accidentally killed September 10th, 1972.
We wonder if we'll ever know
If Lyn is really home
This trip he took to heaven
He took it on his own.
But he was always confident
And most found his way
Yet today we sit and wonder
Will Lyn be home today.
All we've got is memories
Of the times we were all together
But God will mend the broken chain
And one by one we'll meet again.
We never part from the ones we love
No distance can divide
For every day in memory
We still walk side by side.
—In perfect peace you wait us all. Always remembered, never forgotten. Sharolle, Denis, Kevin and Tim. 19p

MONTGOMERY—In loving memory of our much loved son and brother, Maynard Montgomery, who died on August 31, 1972.
There is no parting from the one we love,
No distance can divide,
For today in memories garden
We will walk side by side.
Each dawning day a thought of him,
At evening a prayer,
And within the hearts that loved him,
He is always there.
—Ever remembered by Mother and brother Verne. 19c

THOMPSON—In loving memory of my dear husband Hilliard, who passed away September 1, 1966.
To smile in the world I sometimes try,
Alone in my sorrow I often cry
Forgotten by some in the world you might be,
But never one moment forgotten by me.
When nights are long and friends are few,
I sit by myself and think of you.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have lost can tell
Of grief that is borne in silence
For the one I loved so well.
—Sadly missed by his loving wife Maybell and family. 19c

CC Board Appoints Recreation Director

Winchester Recreation and Community Centre Board has announced the appointment of Gary Murphy as board director for the coming year.

Mr. Murphy, 27, is well qualified for the difficult task of coordinating the entire program under the jurisdiction of the board.

Following graduation from high school he was employed for five consecutive years by the C.B.C. "I liked the work", he said in a recent interview, "but I have always had an ambition to direct recreational activities in a rural community."

Explaining that he was born and grew up in the Cornwall community and on many occasions drove through Winchester he went on to say, "'I always felt while driving through this village that the community appeared to have offered the ultimate in recreational facilities and yet so many young people always seemed to be wandering aimlessly on the streets."

Mr. Murphy is convinced he is now in a position to help the town make full use of the costly facilities at its disposal and has already expressed pleasure at the complete cooperation offered by members of the Recreation and Community Centre Board.

The youthful director further explains that following his five-year stint with the C.B.C. he decided to enroll at Algonquin for a two-year course in Recreation Leadership.

"My wife is a school teacher", he points out by way of explaining how such a valuable course was financed, "and we decided we could get by on one salary till I graduated."

At college Mr. Murphy studied administration of recreation; program planning; park management; facility management; community organization and development; social psychology, gerontology and physical education. In addition he completed the Hockey Canada coaching course level one.

During his college years he was employed part-time with Ottawa Parks and Recreation as community centre director.

Keenly interested in all facets of recreation and community life Mr. Murphy says he can hardly wait till he and his wife can make their home right here in town and in that way become an integral part of the thriving rural program.

"This is the type of challenge I've always wanted", he says, "and the friendly cooperation I am receiving here makes me feel confident of success."

Winchester Bantams Tournament Victors

Education Minister Says

Grade Thirteen May Become Thing Of Past

Grade 13 may become a thing of the past within the next few years, Education Minister Thomas Wells said last week.

In speaking at the Progressive Conservative Policy Conference at York University here, Mr. Wells said the introduction of the credit system in 1972 has allowed more students to earn enough course credits to obtain their secondary school Honours Graduation Diploma in less than five years.

"I believe that Grade 13 as we know it today will change drastically, if not virtually disappear," said Mr. Wells.

Ministry of Education statistics showed that two-thirds of the students who obtained Grade 12 diplomas this year had more than the required 27 credits. In fact, 11,000 students accumulated 31 credits or more.

"The effect of this trend on an isolated Grade 13 year is obvious. It won't be long until many more students are earning the 33 credits for the Honours diploma in four years," he said.

The Education Minister predicted that by the end of this decade, Grade 13 will cease to exist, even without Government regulations to banish it from existence.

In other remarks to the 200 conference delegates, Mr. Wells said the employment and job opportunity situation for Ontario teachers will stabilize in the 1970's, but that the present teacher surplus is likely to continue for a few years. He said he believes the competition among teachers for jobs will ensure that better candidates obtain jobs, thus improving the quality of education in this province.

Other major trends foreseen by Mr. Wells are a freer access to school facilities for parents and other adults interested in continuing programs; development of alternatives to formal classroom learning that would lead to opportunities for seconday school students to earn course credits outside the school; and a less militant stand on the part of teachers in Ontario.

September Named C N I B Appeal Month

September will be CNIB Appeal month, Howard Biccum, chairman of the Dundas County Advisory Board for the CNIB, announced last week.

Beginning September 10, the CNIB will conduct its campaign for funds in the Three United Counties. The money raised will provide services to more than 130 blind people and close to 300 people as well who will require prevention of blindness care.

"Because of the fast changing nature of our way of life, blind people have to be trained for new occupations and required to have a better education just as is the case with people who have their sight," Mr. Biccum said. The CNIB has to keep pace with this need since it is the only national organization for the blind with the knowledge and trained staff to give the necessary guidance and help.

The CNIB provides friendly counselling for the parents of pre-school aged children; visiting and talking book service for blind people in their homes, in homes for the aged or CNIB residences for blind people who need a home. There is vocational guidance and training as well as assistance to obtain higher education for blind youth and training to adjust to blindness for people of all ages.

The CNIB seeks to minimize the catastrphic effect of blindness on those who have the misfortune - 6 of them every day - to lose their sight.

"How to prevent blindness," Mr. Biccum continued, "is equally the concern of CNIB, whether it is helping to correct crossed eyes in young children so as to prevent the loss of sight in one eye or to help restore sight by providing cataract glasses for elderly people, the end is the same - to enable people to retain the gift of sight." Many thousands of Canadians have good vision now, thanks to the CNIB.

Mr. Biccum expressed the hope that people would respond generously to the CNIB Appeal when the canvasser calls.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Pauline's sweet serene face makes it almost unnecessary to describe her. She is a gentle, friendly girl whose disposition matches her expression.

Pauline is 11. Her background is French-Canadian and she is in an English-speaking foster home where some French is used. Her chief language is English.

She has brown hair, dark eyes and fair skin and is in good health. Some abnormalities in an encephalogram suggested the possibility of epilepsy but she has never had a seizure and is not on any medication.

Pauline's development is below average and she is attending a special school for children who cannot manage in the regular academic system. She will continue to need special education.

She is cheerful and co-operative and has pleasing manners. She looks after her clothes and toys well and is interested in good grooming. Pauline plays well and unselfishly with other children and can also amuse herself alone with her dolls. She enjoys camping. She is happiest when assisting her foster mother with household chores.

Pauline needs loving, firm parents who can appreciate her pleasant personality while accepting her limitations. She could be an only child or could fit into a family with brothers and sisters.

To inquire about adopting Pauline, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.

Fawcetts Open New Organ-Piano Studio

Shirley Fawcett is the likeable and capable manager of Fawcett's Jewellery Store in Winchester. But for husband Roy business, at least a great part of it, is devoted entirely to the sale and service of organs and pianos.

What started out 19 years ago (the Fawcetts have actually been in business for the past 24 years) as a part time dealership for Conn organs has now grown into one of the three largest Conn organ dealerships in all of Canada. "I initially got into the business because I always like music," Roy Fawcett says, "especially organ music and because I believed there was a need for such a dealership."

Indeed there was a need. And because of the drive and hard work of the man behind Fawcett Organ and Piano studio the business to-day is pleased to announce another expansion in the official opening of spacious and elegant new show rooms at the Fawcett residence on Highway 43 west of Winchester. With almost 1400 square feet of display space the new show rooms have the capacity of accommodating 36 units at one time, "and on any given day we think we can provide complete sales and service for ten units," Roy Fawcett explains. "The thinking behind our decision to provide a more spacious organ and piano studio at our new location was based on customer desires. It is our contention that people more than ever to-day are bothered with high pressure sales and demanding commercialism. With the new studio we believe we have come up with a relaxing atmosphere, void of the daily rush, where the customer can try out the product in his own time and manner, and where the sounds he or she will hear will reflect very closely sounds that will be heard in their own living room." The new studio is spacious, pleasing in decor and equipped with the necessary facilities to make it one of the most modern of its kind in Canada. Although the flourishing business which serves an area from Toronto the Quebec border and a portion of New Brunswick deals primarily in Conn organs it is also capable of servicing other makes of pianos and organs. In addition to the head office and showroom in Winchester district, Fawcett Organ and Piano Studio also has outlets in Almonte, Crysler, Carleton Place, Smiths Falls, Brockville as well as Edmunston and Woodstock, New Brunswick.

"We are especially proud of our association with the churches," Roy Fawcett states, "and to-day we have 75 installations, more than any other dealer in Canada, in churches ranging in congregation of 70 to 1700.

To mark their 24th year in business, 19 in the organ and piano dealership, the Fawcetts cordially extend a warm welcome to everyone to visit their attractive new display centre on Saturday, September 8, from one to four and seven to ten p.m.

A Family Affair

One final note. In additon to wife Shirley who looks after the one part of the business Roy Fawcett is pleased to announce that he has a new partner. His attractive and talented daughter, Julie, has joined the firm. She is a graduate of North Dundas District High School and of the Conn Organ Sales School. A talented organist she has received training in the field of music for the past 15 years.

If drive and desire are fundamental in the operation of a good business then Fawcett Organ and Piano Studio is destined for even bigger and better things in the days ahead. Last week, for instance, owner Roy was in Pennsylvannia on Wednesday, New Brunswick on Thursday and back in Winchester on Friday making last minute preparations for their grand opening.

Roy, Shirley and Julie, truly a successful family enterprise, hope to see you there.

Fawcett Shows Grand Champion Holstein

Ninth Premier Breeder Award For Blaine

The tall, upstanding white cow Snobros Dixie Girl has picked up another Grand Champion female award, this time at the Dundas County Black & White show held in South Mountain on August 25th. Owned by Allison Fawcett, Winchester, the Dixie Girl cow has a pliable udder that is well made and deserving of the Best Uddered female award that also won at this year's event. This same animal has won similar awards at the Maxville Spring Show and the Ormstown Show in Quebec.

While Judge Ralph Thomson, Joyceville, found his Champion in four-year-old class, he reverted to another well uddered animal in the aged cow class to take Reserve Grand Championship and Second place Best Uddered female ribbons. Fawcettdale Jewel; owned by Rivermead Holsteins and Allison Fawcett, typed in well with Dixie Girl and made a beautiful pairing in the Championship ring.

The Junior section of the show featured Fawcettdale Emerald shown by Allison Fawcett in the yearling class. She is well grown, strong along her topline and walks on good legs. A flashy and very dairy junior heifer was Reserve, Pen Farm Happy 'New Year, owned by Ralph J. Fawcett of Winchester and Wm. A. Carss, Arnprior, caused many of the 200 spectators to comment favourably

The Premier Breeder, as he has been eight times other years, was Hugh Blaine, Mountain with Blaine second. Blaine picked up several points with his first prize three-year-old in a strong field of competitiors, a second and third prize in the four-year-old class, and a second in the aged cow class. He also won Breeder's Herd.

A total of 90 animals brought out by 13 exhibitors participated in the afternoon show.

Veterinary Club Holds Meeting

The last meeting of the Dundas Veterinary Club was held in the Boardroom of the Agricultural Office in Winchester on Wednesday, August 22nd.

Dr. Kennedy discussed different diseases affecting animals such as rabies. The group then discussed their project for Achievement Day at Chesterville Fair.

Several members were not able to attend because of the 4-H camp in Ottawa, but were not marked absent. The meeting then was adjourned.

TO LIVE AND TO WORK --- SAFELY ---

To produce food as efficiently and as economically as possible, a farmer must take risks. But one gamble he can't afford is his own safety — it can cost him a serious disability. Constant exposure to machinery noise has been proven to cause varying degrees of deafness. It makes sense to follow safety precautions and wear earphones and a hard hat, as pictured here. (Photo by Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food).

OFA Supports Price Increase

Delmer Bennett, Forester's Falls dairyman and executive director of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, said last week that he strongly supports the request of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board for a 90-cent per hundredweight increase in milk.

This request is documented by formula pricing. It would mean approximately 2½ cents per quart increase to the farmer. At present it is averaging 18.4 cents per quart. The OFA started pressing for milk increase earlier this month.

"This increase is a must", says Bennett, "to keep dairy farmers in business as the cost of milk has skyrocketed in recent months."

"We must be realistic and look ahead", he said, "for if fluid milk production remains unprofitable more farmers will sell their herds."

A shortage of table milk for Canadian consumers will be the result projects Mr. Bennett.

It's Apple Time Again

At last it's apple time again in Ontario. One of the early varieities available now is the Melba. It is more tart and crunchy than the McIntosh and is the firmest of the early varieties. Food specialists at the Ontario Food Council, Ministry of Agriculture and Food suggest you use it for applesauce, desserts, and pies. It is also an excellent eating apple.

Apple pickers handle this variety the same way you handle an egg—with care. This is because the Melba bruises easily, just as all early apples do. When purchasing Melbas, check them carefully, then do your bit by handling them tenderly. Buy the amount you can use within a few days and store them in the refrigerator.

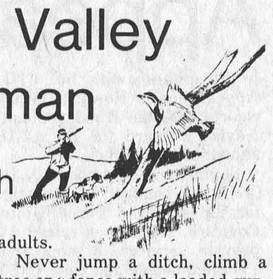
What To Do When Freezer Stops Working

Food held at room temperature (68 to 72 degrees F) for not longer than two hours, such as meat, poultry, and vegetables should be cooked immediately and eaten, or cooked and refrozen. Vacuum packaged meat and fish should not be refrozen. Instead, cook immediately and eat. Homemade soups should be heated thoroughly and eaten, or heated and refrozen. Fruit, fruit pies, and fruit juice concentrates can be safely refrozen.

If a fully loaded freezer stops operating, food will stay frozen about two days. Food in a partially loaded freezer will stay frozen for one day. If your freezer will not be operating within one or two days, place dry ice (25 to 50 pounds) in the freezer to hold the temperature down for 2 to 4 days.

The Valley Sportsman

by Bob Rosborough



I was asked the other day to repeat some info in a column I carried last year. This request came from a young hunter who is 17. The info was the Ten Commandments of Hunting.

A request coming from a young hunter that age has to be answered but I also appeal to the older more experienced hunters to heed the following rules of hunting.

Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.

Guns not designed for hunting should be unloaded and broken down with the action opened. This includes the camp as well as the home and any vehicle which you use.

Be sure the gun is cleaned and make certain the barrel is not obstructed in any manner.

Be sure the muzzle of the gun is always directed in a safe direction and always make sure that you control the direction of the gun even if you stumble. Also, be sure the safety is on until you are ready to shoot.

Be sure of your target before you shoot.

Always point the gun at anything you are going to shoot. Please do not horse around with a loaded or unloaded gun.

Unattended guns should be unloaded. Make certain that guns and ammunition is always out of the reach of children and careless adults.

Never jump a ditch, climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun. and never, never pull the muzzle towards you.

Never shoot a bullet at a hard flat surface or at the surface of water. Make sure you have an adquate backstop even when target practicing.

Avoid all alcoholic beverages when hunting. Hunting and drinking don't mix.

That's the Ten Commandments of Safe Hunting. I only hope that this year that every hunter follows them. Maybe this year will be accident free?

Well hats off to the Montaque Council. They put up No Dumping signed along that road we have been talking about. Now let's see North Elmsley Council do the same. Maybe, just maybe we'll have that situation cleared up yet. I hope so. That's one mess we can do without.

I hear reports about fishing being poor. Don't believe it. Right now, they are biting great. We fished for two hours the other night and landed five nice pike and a nice bass. We used a Wonderlure, Ruby Eye, Mepp's Spinner and Copper Spoon. Great action in a short time.

Hunting starts in about a month so now is the time to get your gear in shape. Why wait till fall, do it now.

Beautiful late summer sunshine favoured the event and the pool was always a welcome sight following a series of sports events.

The Farmers' Friend

The recent price freeze in the United States promoted many Canadians to urge similar measures be taken here in Canada. Fortunately saner minds prevailed and legislature of this nature was not given serious consideration.

Canadian shoppers, like their American counterparts, complain loud and long about soaring food prices and more often than not blame the farmer, who according to many urban dwellers, is getting rich too fast.

Bob Brumfield, writing in the Cincinnata Inquirer, spoke out rather bluntly on behalf of his friends, the American farmers, and the feeling here that the same viewpoint tells it 'as it is' here in Canada at the present time.

"It would serve this country's whinning, complaining, penny-wise, and pound-foolish housewives right if all the farmers started selling everything they produce to foreign countries.

"The same goes for all the other food producers, processors, and distributors.

"The typical modern urban American housewife, for all of her virtues -- real and imagined -- is a shortsighted, lazy, pampered, little ingrate whose primary interests are her underarms, her hair, her hands, her hips, her over-indulged and overeducated children, her overweight and overpaid husband, and the next episode of 'General Hospital' in that order.

"A hard day's work in a grocery store or a bakery would do her a lot of good. So would taking over the duties of a farm wife for awhile. Maybe then, she'd realize that these people have a right to make a decent living just as much as her union scale husband.

"Whoever gave the urban housewife the idea that she's the only person in the world having a hard time making ends meet? When was the last time she had to send her kids off to school with a couple of cold biscuits and a hunk of fatback to hold them until suppertime, or flopped down, bone-weary after working from sunup to sundown, and worried about whether the frost was going to kill the money crop?

"While milady of the suburbs is soaking in her tub in her Better Homes & Gardens bathroom, thousands of farm wives are scraping off dirt of an honest day's toil in a galvanized laundry tub. And, while Miss Citybritches is spraying on $10 worth of deodorant, skin softener, hair spray, and assorted beauty crap, the average farm wife is counting her blessings because she was able to swing for a bottle of Cornhusker's Lotion and some Absorbine Junior.

"If the urban housewife would stop organizing food boycotts and shovel a little cow manure, maybe she'd learn where milk comes from and how much work is involved before she strains herself ripping open that little waxed carton.

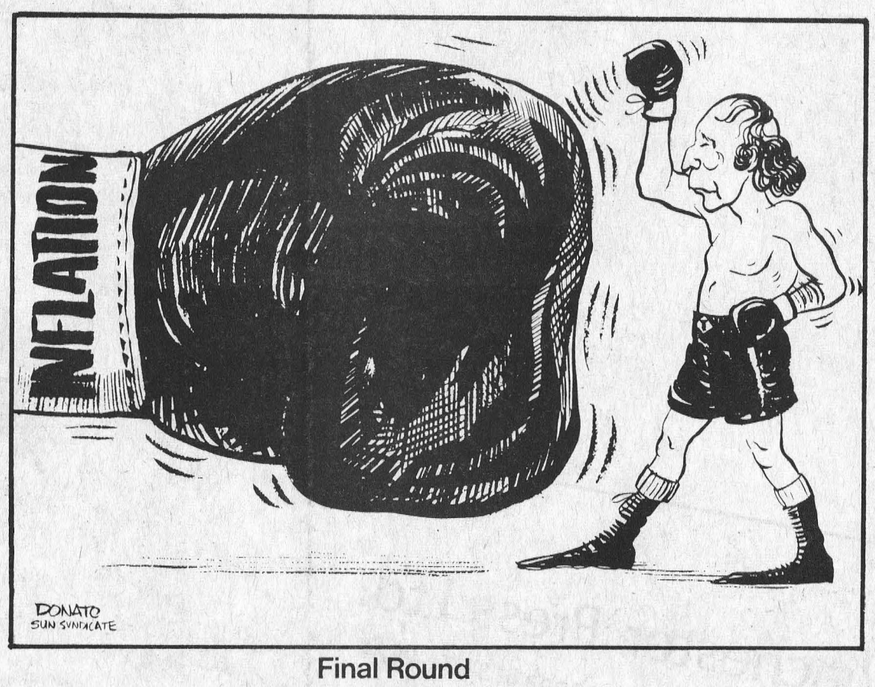
Boycott a grocery? Not me, sister. I still can remember how many people would have starved in this country if the independent grocers hadn't carried them on credit during the depression.

Wise up. All that pretty food and those nice cuts of meat didn't just appear in the markets in a blinding flash of sparkle dust. Millions of people worked their tails off to put it there for you . . . butchers, bakers, clerks, laborers, farmers, truck drivers, accountants, filling station attendants, and hundreds of other occupations. These people have dreams, too. They pay rent and taxes just like you do. And they deserve to make just as good a living as you do. Why single them out for destruction?

"Why not your husband, the account executive? Why not your husband, the plumber? Why not your husband, the doctor? Why not your husband, the lawyer? Or why not . . . God help you . . . Your husband, the newspaper writer?

"You sit there in front of your color TV set, with a $3,000 car in the garage, smelling like the Garden of Eden and looking 10 years younger than you are. You take your vacation every year. Your insurance premiums are paid up. Your husband has a good job. Your children are healthy. You don't have any chains around your ankles and the bombers won't come tonight. And, you're going bananas because bread went up a penny a loaf.

"You make me sick."



Final Round

Bill Smiley writes

They're robbing me for lousy coffee but I love the place

Travelling is tiring. It's eleven o'clock in the morning, a perfect day with temperature in the 80's, and any self-respecting tourist should be out stomping around looking at a castle or something.

But my wife is on the bed having a snooze, and I myself am almost relieved that I have to write a column and don't have to get out there and tromp.

About tromping. If you're going to do Britain, bring along your oldest, most comfortable pair of shoes. That noise you hear in the background is the barking of thousands of tourists' dogs as the furriners wearily climb yet another flight of stone steps.

We're in the middle of a heat wave here in Chester. Back home it would be just pleasant beach weather, but the Brits, who suffer stoically through the normal rigours of their windy, rainy isle, can't take the heat.

This morning's newspaper reports that millions are fleeing to the beaches, that resort hotels are jammed, that the sale of deodorants is booming, and that it is expected there will be ten million cars on the roads this weekend. Thank goodness we're not touring by car.

Highways are completely inadequate for the traffic volume. The cars are piled up in hundreds, about twenty feet apart, and when something happens, there are usually four or five cars involved.

An Englishman on the train told me that "The trouble with England is that we never do anything until our backs are to the wall." He was commenting on those same highways, which were built for the traffic of twenty years ago, with no thought for the future.

Well, that's the way they've gone into every war, twenty years behind the times, but they've managed to muddle through, so far.

Speaking of wars, it is driven home to the tourist, through innumberable plaques in castles and cathedrals and other public places, what a tremendous toll of British blood was taken in the two great wars.

One plaque in the Castle in Edinburgh reveals that one Scottish regiment lost nearly 700 officers and almost 8,000 other ranks in World War I.

Edinburgh Castle is a fascinating place. My friend Dick Whittington, a history buff, would go right out of his mind and would have to be dragged away by the constabulary when he saw the magnifcent displays of ancient and honorable uniforms, coats of arms, weapons and such.

But I think he might turn purple with outrage had he seen us eating Chinese food up there on the great brooding Castle Rock. Even I had an uneasy feeling that William Wallace and Robert the Bruce would be rolling in their graves as I chomped my chow mein on the massive rock where heroic deeds were done and the course of history changed.

Chinese restaurants are common here, but I don't think their food is as good as that in Canada, on the whole. I detest the stuff, but my wife loves it, so I wind up hacking at an egg roll when I'd rather be getting into some Dover sole.

Food prices here are a little lower than at home, but not much. There are thousands of tatty little restaurants, something like our "greasy spoons". Poor food badly cooked, litter everywhere, and sloppy service.

At the other end of the stick are the classy joints: excellent food beautifully cooked, elegant surroundings and four waiters hovering. But you'd better be well fixed with travellers' cheques if you wander into one of them.

There's not too much in between, though most hotels, even small ones, serve a decent dinner for about four dollars. Bars have sandwiches, and the good pubs have hot and cold lunches.

Something that irritates me no end is the coffee racket. You are served an enormous three-course dinner, so lavish you can eat only half of it. Then the robbers want eleven or twelve pence for a cup of coffee. Even though I'm dying for coffee, and the meal itself was reasonable in price, that bit of Scottish blood in me makes me refuse to pay about thirty cents for a cup of the worst coffee in the world.

That's about the only thing that annoys me, and it's childish on my part. Generally, the English and Scots we've come in contact with are the soul of courtesy and friendliness. We've not had a single unpleasant incident, though I must admit that the natives have a penchant for doing most things backwards.

Example. In London, I booked a room in an Edinburgh hotel. I paid the agent the full price for two nights in the hotel. The hotel turned out to be the worst one north of the Tweed, but that's another story. O.K. Checking out of the Edinburgh hotel, I asked for a receipt. They wouldn't give me one.

"But I've paid for the room", I expostulated. "Na, na, sorr, we canna gie ye a rrreceipt because ye havena' gien us any monny. We hae only the voucher." I protested vehemently but came up against that indomitable Scottish spirit that has held the thin red line so many times, and had to retreat in disarray. Up the Scots!

Meanwhile, it's time for a half of bitter and a crack at Chester's Roman wall. Haven't walked it for thirty years.

Motivating Power

by Rev. Dr. Gordon C. Smyth

In my devotional reading I recently came to these words, "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain" (Philippians 1:21). Those words of St. Paul crystallize the Christian view of experience. It has grown dim for many people. It would take the proverbial month of Sundays to explain why.

But I am reminded of what Gilbert K. Chesterton once commented about George Bernard Shaw. "He calls the desire for immortality a paltry selfishness, forgetting that he has just called the desire for life a healthy and heroic selfishness. How can it be noble to wish to make one's life infinite and yet mean to wish to make it immortal?"

Christian courage always represents a disdain of death. The courage of many others is bred of a disdain of life. They deliberately abuse their minds and bodies with drugs. They roar down the highways in wreckless abandon. They pursue policies that tend to reduce their fellow men to the level of chattels.

On the other hand, surely we have not forgotten an American colored pastor by the name of Martin Luther King, Jr., who set his face to go to Memphis in the spirit that turned his Lord in the direction of Jerusalem.

Moreover, the press reports that Most Rev. Gilles Ouellet is backing the social activists in his economically - troubled diocese. But note the Archbishop of Rimouski's reasoning. "I don't beleive we should ever act on a partisan basis. Unemployment destroys the morale of our people. I want to keep the right to refer to the Gospel."

"As I am going to another place", mused Socrates in the 5th century B.C.,"it is very meet for me to be thinking and talking of the nature of the pilgrimage which I am about to make. What can I do better in the interval between this and the setting sun?"

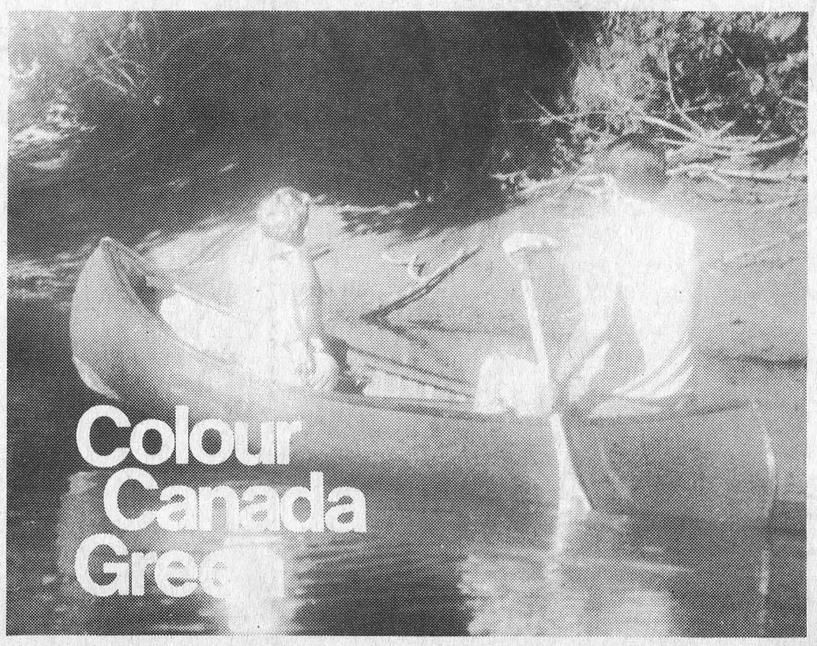
That famous Greek expressed instinctive and timeless longings of the soul of man. Only a faith teaches that time is the workshop of eternity can effect the realization of a true and positive unity in life. If, in their workshop,churches are failing to give people invisible means of inspiration and support, they are failing everywhere.

What is this religion that we preachers are supposed to be proclaiming and that you laymen, if you are professing Christians, are supposed to be telling others? The great fact that, in the invisible universe, Jesus Christ is alive and that he is in touch with us by his Spirit, so that death is powerless to seperate us from him.

What is this religion? The kindred fact that the goal of the entire evolutionary process is the bringing of children of God to the measure of the stature of Christ's maturity, so that NOTHING can defeat God's purpose.

The historian tells us that John Wesley's evangelical activity saved England from the horrors of the French Revolution. He had a good view of the truth when he wrote, "I will not quarrel with your opinions - - - only see that you love the Lord Jesus Christ." The last words written by that brilliant evolutionist, Teilhard de Chardin, were these, "I go towards Him Who Comes."

To both remarkable men to live was Christ, and to die was gain.



Do you remember a quiet patch of water close to the shore of a lake or river? Do you remember the play of sunlight on countless softly-moving leaves? Take a moment to think about the forests and what they've meant to you. Then, make this moment the beginning of your own personal program . . . to Colour Canada Green.

The Seventh Column

This column is usually written very, very late on Sunday night, but the holiday weekend forced a routine change and consequently commenting on the weather is a rather trickey business. Maybe as these lines are being read chill winds will be heralding the approach of fall - but as they are being written the area is in the midst of what may be the hottest August weather on record. And we do mean hot . . . just this afternoon saw a dog chasing a cat and they were both walking.

Farmer friend suggested we apply for a job as 'rural reporter' for a big city newspaper. After viewing some of the photos taken at Ottawa Ex and reading the accompaning cut lines we think we know what he means. Allison Fawcett must have almost cried in his 'milk' when he saw those red and white 'holsteins' with the long curving horns, and because we know Russ Anderson we're sure he knows which end of a cow 'delivers the milk.'

Sports fans throughout the 'valley' will miss the down-to-earth reports penned daily by veteran writer Bill Westwick. We've had the good fortune to have chatted with Bill on many occasions and his knowledge in the realm of sport placed him in a class by himself. Despite having toiled through the night for all of 41 years and being on friendly speaking terms with the greatest athletes who ever flashed across the sports scene, Mr. Westwick remained a very humble man and always the down-trodden lurking at the Ottawa Journal door rated the same consideration as the athlete who made headlines. Bill is leaving the sports pages he loved so well, but there is a ray of sunshine. His favourite newspaper has requested that he find time for an 'occasional' column - and he has agreed to comply.

School doors swung open for another term earlier this week and already there are reports of 'Work-to-rule' in some areas. This seems very unfortunate and the opinion here is that only the students suffer. The Ontario government has already legislated for increased educational spending, and since this was the reason given by teachers for their action, surely there is no further need for curtailing programs that are so much a part of to-day's educational system.

A new face appeared at the local 'eatery' last week and from his conversation we assumed he was eating out while his 'cook' mowed the lawn. He explained his doctor had recommended that both he and his wife get more exercise, so he bought golf clubs for himself and a lawn mower for his wife.

During his tour of the province Industry and Tourism Minister Bennett told municipal officials on many occasions that he opposed the forgivable loan program. It appears the youthful Minister may be paving the way for the provincial government's newest policy recently announced by Premier Davis. The new plan, Ontario Business Incentives Program [OBIP] appears very lenient allowing interest deferment for five or more years. This time, however, the principal [taxpayers' money] has to be paid back and we think Mr. Davis may have won himself a host of new friends.

Maybe we're unduely alarmed, but if we are, we're not alone. Episodes in Canada's capitol last Thursday were surely cause for concern. The fact a group of young Indians was able to 'take over' an entire complex of government offices may have been viewed by some as humorous because the intruders were not beligerent. But the fact is they had no business there, and hopefully the time has not come when such antics are to be tolerated by those entrusted with enforcing law and order. The destructive action by hoodlums who destroyed valuable property in our Parliament Buildings while police looked on sounds almost unbelievable. We are indeed living in strange times when police action is considered brutality (even when in self defence), and bums are allowed to deface the very foundation of our democracy. Maybe the time has come when educational institutions once again begin to teach discipline and respect.

We were disappointed with the poor reception accorded the Hon. Claude Bennett when he made a brief stop in town recently. Despite a rigid many-week travel schedule that would have completely exhausted a less dedicated man, he agreed, by special request, to make an un-scheduled visit here and discuss matters of mutual interest pertaining to this area and his Ministry. We sincerely hope that in the future if high ranking officials take the time to visit us those residing in the area will also take the time to communicate with them. After all the main purpose of such visits is communication, and it is not enough that only council and a few other community organizations be represented.

With school all open for another term here's a lesson worth remembering: "The man who wins most of his arguments loses most of his friends."

With so many new babies arriving at the nearby hospital we were tempted to offer some sage advice on the subject but feared our educated comment might be misinterpreted. We decided to stear clear of the subject after reading this advice in a Vancouver daily: "When the baby is done drinking it should be unscrewed and laid in a cool place under a tap. If the baby does not thrive on fresh milk, it should be boiled."

The Winchester Press Ltd.

Box 100, Winchester, Ontario Telephone 613-774-2524

September 5, 1973

To All Subscribers and Readers:

Effective October 1, 1973 subscription rates to The Winchester Press will be increased to $7.00 per year in Canada, $9.00 per year foreign and 15 cents per copy for over-the-counter sales.

In making the announcement the publishers of this newspaper said, "we have studied this situation carefully for the past year and fully realize that we are one of the last weekly newspapers in our category in the country to increase subscription rates. We had hoped for a levelling off in prices. Instead, costs have continued to escalate and it is no longer feasible to absorb these increases without a price adjustment."

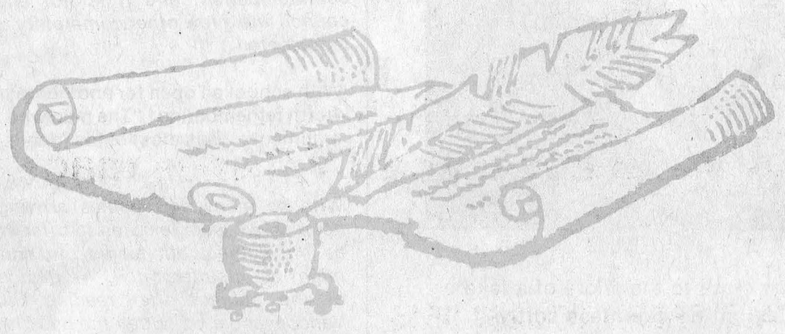
Continued increase in the cost of operation is, of course, the real factor. For instance, since the last subscription increase newsprint alone has jumped close to 40 per cent. Wages in that period have increased about the same percentage as newsprint and postal rates have jumped more than 200 per cent. Add to this the many other price increases for services and materials and the policy of trying to "hold the line" becomes a financial impossibility.

With a record high circulation of 4500 and an estimated readership of about 18,000 each week, by far the largest circulated newspaper in the district, it will be the intention of The Winchester Press, holder of more than 35 Provincial and National newspaper awards, to produce an even better newspaper to serve the area in the days ahead.

Persons wishing to renew their subscription for a one year period at the current rate may do so up to and including September 30, 1973.

Respectfully,

THE WINCHESTER PRESS.



Young Voyageurs Discover Proud Canadian Nation

Dear Mr. Pelletier:

Just thought I'd drop you a note to let you know what I think of the Young Voyageurs program.

It is fantastic! Wonderful, and one of the greatest things that has happened to me.

It made me realize many things, but the most important conclusion I formed is that no matter where you go in Canada, people are the same --proud of our nation and proud to be Canadians.

Thank-you for your support.

The above is one of hundred of letters received by the Secretary of State praising the government-sponsored Young Voyageur program. The writer of the letter was a young boy whose home is in Camrose, Alberta, and whose travels took him to parts of Canada which he might never otherwise have had the opportunity to visit.

During the past summer over 6,000 students between the ages of 15 and 17 enjoyed the carefully-coordinated program and in the weeks to come the Winchester Press will have the pleasure of publishing stories written by Young Voyageurs in this area.

The young writers will tell briefly of their travels, outline their impressions of places visited and at the same time offer constructive criticism if they feel such is warranted.

In addition to hearing from young area writers the Press is pleased to report that two students from Newfoundland who spent ten days in the Golden Triangle will be sending along similar reports.

Each unit of travellers numbered twenty (10 boys and 10 girls) and each unit was accompanied by two escorts, usually a teacher and his wife. The escorts were not paid and their only compensation for assuming the great responsibility was the privilege of enjoying an extended summer tour.

Often the travels were valuable lessons in geography since the teacher-escorts were able to teach their charges, explaining the vastness of our country by direct contact rather than through the tattered pages of textbooks.

A spokesman for the office of the Secretary of State explains that a similar program will be conducted during the winter months and another next summer.

Mr. J.P. Camier, who directs the operation from his 9th floor office on Slater Street, Ottawa, says the program is far from being 100% successful. "I feel", he said, "that at the present time only 25% of those who travel are reaping the ultimate."

He suggested that this situation will improve as more care is taken in pupil selection and Mr. Camier emphasized that those selected should be girls and boys who have had very limited travel experience and who might otherwise never be able to see the far-off regions of Canada.

Accompanying photos show a group of Young Voyageurs boarding an aircraft at Uplands Airport and also three couples who acted as escorts. Obviously 'escorting' is not all hard work as witness, left to right, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Montfortin, Ottawa and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts of Port au Basque, Newfoundland. The other couple, also photographed at Uplands are Mr. and Mrs.Robin Arden of Vancouver, B.C.

Baptist Group Meets

Afternoon Group Mission Circle of the Baptist Church, Vernon, met Wednesday, August 8th at the home of Mrs. Harry Anderson.

The meeting opened with the hymn, "Our God Is Always There".

The devotional taken from 1st Peter chapter 3 was read by Mrs. Harold Ferguson.

Following the scripture reading several members offered prayers.

A thank you letter was read from Rev. Barss of Kakinada, India, thanking the Circle for the food parcel.

An offering was received for a memorial fund in memory of Mrs. Mae Shelp.

The study on Japan was ably handled by Mrs. Harold Ferguson who appropriately dressed as a Japanese lady.

"Life today in Japan", Mrs. Ferguson told her interested audience, "is greatly changed as the country has adopted Western customs and even the women go out to work."

"They are charming, clever and literate", she went on, "and religions are mostly Buddhism and Shintoism. Christianity entered Japan in the year 1549 and Protestantism in 1859. The Baptist Church is steadily growing and they ask for prayers that we may have peace in the world."

The hymn "In Christ There Is No East Or West", was sung at the conclusion of the meeting and a delicious lunch provided by Mrs. Don Ferguson.

Edwards Girl Attends Co-op Youth Seminar

Miss Sheila Armstrong of R.R.2, Edwards was one of 18 participants selected by co-operatives and branches of United Co-operatives of Ontario to attend the Ontario Co-p Youth Seminar held at YMCA's Geneva Park facilities on Lake Couchiching last week.

The six-day package of new experiences, new friends, and new ideas focussed on the theme of communications. The group was led through a process of communication study at the organizational, and small group, levels, with final emphasis on inter-personal communication. The idea was to help young men and women -- 18 to 21 in age -- develop an awareness and understanding of human values and co-operation.

W.I. HISTORY MILESTONE

Erland Lee Home Opened

Women's Institute history was made on August 9th when over 400 Women's Institute members from across the Province and interested friends gathered at the Erland Lee Home, Ridge Road, Stoney Creek, for the official opening of the "Home". Eight bus loads came from as far away as 350 miles to be present for the memorable event. The occasion was to celebrate the acquisition of the property by the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario in June 1972, and to honour Erland Lee and his wife Janet.

With Adelaide Hoodless providing the idea, Erland Lee who was then Secretary of the South Wentworth Farmer's Institute and his wife had helped found the first Women's Institute in 1897. The first Constitution was written by Janet Lee on the beautiful dining room table which still occupies its place in the dining room of the "Home".

The last of the Lees to reside in the house were Frank, son of Erland, and his wife Katie. Among the special guests at the event were Frank's sisters Miss Marjorie Lee and Mrs. H.C. Freal both of Stoney Creek; daughters Mrs. R.L. Davis, Mrs. Frank Ryan, and Miss Alison Lee of Hamilton, and Mrs. Leslie Tulk of Newfoundland.

The crowd gathered at the front of the house for a brief ceremony in the shade provided by a magnificent growth of pine trees. The Honourable William Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food, brought greetings from the Ministry of Agriculture and Food, and commended the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario for the great contribution it had made over the years towards the growth of the individual member, to the communities of Ontario, and now in acquiring the "Home" for members from all over the world.

Greetings were extended from the Associated Country Women of the World by their Deputy President - Dr. Irene Spry - and congratulations were read from Mrs. J. McLean of Nova Scotia, President of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada.

Mrs. H.L. Noblitt, President of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario and Chairman of the event, gave a short history of the Lee family from James - a staunch United Empire Loyalist who came to Canada from the United States in 1792 - to the present, paying respect to this progressive, public-spirited family who had played such a prominent and lasting part in the development of their communities and especially to Erland and his wife for their initiative and support in the formation of the Women's Institute. Credit was also extended to the members of Wentworth County for their enthusiasm in accepting the idea introduced by Mrs. Hoodless, and for their efforts towards organizing and presenting the idea which has spread in Ontario to a membership of 29,000 within fifteen years, and has subsequently encompassed the world.

Mrs. Gordon Conant of Oshawa, daughter of the first President Mrs. E.D. Smith, and who was nine years old at the time of the first Women's Institute meeting in 1897, shared some of her memories of those days. Mrs. Leslie Tulk spoke for the Frank Lee family, and Mrs. Thomas McCreadie, current President of South Wentworth District, recalled with vivid description that day - May 28, 1961 - when her District erected a memorial plaque on a large boulder at the front of the house in recognition of Erland and Janet Lee.

The ribbon was cut by Mrs. Russell Wise of Puslinch along with Mrs. Allan Dickenson, both of whom were members of the Committee which was instrumental in initiating negotiations for acquisition of the "Home", and by Mrs. Lyla Lymburner of Port Colborne, President of the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario during the period the project was being negotiated.

Following the impressive ceremony the guests toured the house and driveshed, and then partook of refreshments which were attractively served beneath a large marque which had been previously erected outside the house at the back portion of the property.
