Another Bad Crossing Accident.

Saturday morning the eastbound Perth local struck a team and wagon on the crossing west of the station, killing one horse, injuring another so badly that it had to be shot, smashed a wagon and so severely injured the driver that his life was dispaired of for some time.

Clifton Marcellus, son of Chesley Marcellus, living about a mile east of Morewood, on the Joseph McCormick farm, had come to Chesterville with a load of cheese, which was taken to the car being loaded on a siding at the north of the main lines. His load had been placed in the car and he was proceeding down town with his team. When he was coming out of the station yard, an engine with only a caboose attached was standing within about sixty feet of the roadway, apparently about to proceed west, and in controlling his spirited horses and trying to keep clear of that engine drove right in front of the Perth local. The horses and front wheels of the wagon were thrown just inside of the fence on the south side, the box and hind wheels being left on the north side, while Marcellus was thrown on the pilot of the engine where he laid until the train was brought to a stop opposite the station. Marcellus was quickly taken to the Dominion Hotel and medical attention procured when it was found that although no bones had been broken, he was severely bruised about the head, back and hips and remained unconscious for the greater part of the day.

The team was a valuable one probably being worth upwards of $400, which with the wagon make a heavy loss.

The accident seems to have been the result of an unfortunate combination of circumstances and the only fault that can apparently be found is that Marcellus did not stop, and make sure that it was safe to pass over, as at the time the warning bell was ringing and doubtless he thought that was for the engine standing at the water crane and did not take into account the train approaching from the west. The wagon he was in was a high box one and when on the seat of it coming out of the station yard the view of the tracks to the west is entirely shut off by trees on the opposite side of the street and by a tool house on the company's property. If he had been coming from the north, directly, the approach of the local would have been noticed when he was farther back.

A strange coincidence of the injuries to the horses was that each was very badly cut at the same place on the right hip and very little elsewhere.

Tennis Activities.

On Friday evening, Aug. 18, the enterprising spirits of the tennis club organized and held a dance in the Music Hall. The proceeds to go towards the club house and the skating rink later on. It was well attended and much enjoyed despite the heat. It is proposed to hold another dance some time before educational institutions claim the majority of the young people.

On Saturday afternoon some fifteen members journeyed to Russell having been invited to the return tournament. The games were interesting and well played. Miss Mabel Shirkey and Mr. Miller played splendidly and were successful in winning the mixed doubles from Russell, although they lost to Winchester. Everyone is enthusiastic over the delightful courts and the charming hospitable people of Russell and hope for further opportunities of improving their acquaintance with both.

Andrew Kennedy a well known farmer living about two miles west of Winchester passed away last Thursday morning. He was prominent in Farmers' Institute work in which he took a very active interest until a couple of years ago.

Foster Says "Expect Killing Frosts Early in September"

Washington, D. C. Aug, 14—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent Aug. 23 to 27, warm wave 22 to 26, cool wave 25 to 29. Cool weather will precede this severe storm and heavy rains accompany it and rising temperatures follow its cool wave. The rains are expected principally in southeastern, southern and eastern sections. Not much rain expected in the middle northwest. We include middle Canada in middle northwest. Dangerous storms are expected in great central valleys and southeast,

Next warm wave will reach Vancouver about Aug. 28 and temperatures will rise on all the Pacific slope. It will cross crest of Rockies by close of 29, plain sections 30, Great Lakes and Ohio valleys 31, Eastern sections Sept. 1, reaching Newfoundland about Sept. 2. Storm wave will follow about one day behind warm wave and cool wave about one day behind storm wave.

This will be an important storm in many ways. Not far from Aug. 28 a tropical storm will organize northeast of Porto Rico and during the week following will have much to do with the weather on the continent. It is expected to cause a great fall in temperature in the middle northwest near Sept. 3. This cool wave may come into telegraphic view before the hurricane is sighted. From these forces heavy rains are expected during the week, particularly in southern, south-eastern and eastern sections, Not much rain west of great lakes, in Canada.

We expect these forces to cause killing frosts east of Rockies near Sept. 3, farther south than is usual for that early date. That set of storms is supposed to inaugurate a new weather month, but the change will not be radical. Some increase of rain is expected in the middle southwest and in the country west of the Missouri.

We are not through with the dangerous storms. September has four danger dates near 4, 9, 13 and 21.

We are thoroughly convinced that 1917 will bring serious and dangerous drouths to some sections of this continent. In some sections it will be a great loss to sow either winter or spring wheat or oats. The subject is too complicated to discuss in a general bulletin, but any subscriber to a newspaper that regularly publishes our work may receive valuable information by enclosing stamp and address to 28 T. Street, N. E. Washington D. C.

We gave fair warnings of great storms to follow July 21, and said: "This great storm will probably bring tornadoes and hail storms in the middle northwest and excessive rains in the middle west and southern sections." The results of the great and destructive hail storm in the Dakota and the flood in Tennessee, where 28 people were drowned, both occurring on Aug. 3 are well known. Our forecasts of dangerous and destructive storms for June, July and August have certainly been justified.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong and active.

Captain Rollo Earl Returns to Canada

Captain Rollo O. Earl, who left Brockville as one of Lt,-Col. W. S. Buell's junior officers on August 22, 1914, returned to Canada and is now at his home in Winchester, where his mother, Mrs. Isaac Hughes resides. Capt. Earl landed at Halifax Thursday with a large party of Canadians invalided home.

Capt. Earl was assigned to the 2nd Battalion after the First Canadian division landed in England. After serving for a time with this unit, which was made up of Eastern Ontario men, he was transferred in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and for some months was in the firing line with this famous regiment, first as a platoon commander and afterwards as paymaster. Some hairbredth escapes from death were related by Capt. Earl in letters home. Not long ago Capt. Earl was called home from the trenches to become embarkation officer at the newly-established Canadian casualty clearing centre at Bath, England, and has since fulfilled the duties of that office in a most satisfactory manner. It is in the capacity of embarkation officer that Capt. Earl has returned to Canada. He is a graduate of the Brockville Collegiate Institute and was attending the Faculty of Education of Queen's University, England, when he enlisted a few days after war was declared At that time Capt. Earl held the rank of lieutenant in the 41st Brockville Rifles and was of great assistance to Lt.-Col. Buell in raising the first of Brockville's overseas contingents and in carrying on the necessary routine after the organization was completed.

Of the four officers who left Brockville with its first active service detachment, Lieut. A. J. Brister was killed in action at the second battle of Ypres; Lt.-Col. Buell fell with a shrapnel wound in the shoulder at the same engagement. Capt. F. C. Curry was wounded last month and will return to Canada shortly and Capt. Earl is now back in Canada.

Toronto Election Shows Mr. Hearst What is Coming

Toronto, Aug. 21—In one of the most peculiar topsy-turvy bye-elections which Ontario has experienced the Liberal candidate—Liberal on his record, and the nominee of a Liberal convention, though not endorsed by the central executive—Mr. H. H. Dewart, K. C. was returned to the Legislature to night as representative of Southwest Toronto by a majority of 643 over James Norris, Conservative candidate, the vote for the other candidate being negligible.

There were four candidates in the field. Mr. Dewart, a supporter of the Rowell policies, with the exception of the prohibition plank on which he reserved the right of individual judgment in case of an "emergency" Mr. James Norris, who frankly expressed himself in favor of a modification of the Ontario Temperance Act passed at the last session of the Legislature, but was accepted by Premier Hearst as a supporter generally of the government policies. Mr. Gordon Waldron, who came out flatfooted against the prohibition policy of both Government and Opposition, and had the platform support of Sir Allen Aylsworth formerly Minister of Justice in the Laurier cabinet who in several speeches, lamented the tying up of the Liberal party in the province to the prohibition policy and Mr. J. McA Connor, who ran as a Social Democrat, but was the only candidate who distinctly favored prohibition.

Mr. Dewart the victor, though the nominee of a Liberal convention, was practically repudiated by the two local Liberal organs, the Star openly advocating the cause of the Social Democrat on the prohibition question and the Globe remaining neutral. The Mail and Empire and the News were behind Mr. Norris, and the Evening Telegram came out as an eleventh hour supporter. The influence of the liquor associations was frankly thrown in favor of Mr. Dewart, with the avowed intention of letting Premier Hearst see where he got off at.

The Cheese Market

A very strong feeling continues to prevail in the market, and prices are steadily advancing which is said to be due to the increased demand from English buyers at higher figures, which resulted in considerable business being done, and in consequence the demand on spot for goods is active, and sales of some round lots amounting to several thousand boxes were made at 18 11-16c to 18⅞c, in Montreal on Friday last.

The following were the prices at Country boards on Friday.

Vankleek Hill—19⅛c.

SURE OF GREAT BRITISH VICTORY ON THE SOMME

With the British Army in the field, Aug. 21.—I have visited the British army at the Somme and realize the impossibility of conveying any idea immediately of the enthusiasm and perfect equipment of this splendid force. Some notion of its size can be obtained from the mile after mile of scattered camps and endless visits of horse lines and great motor vehicles by the thousand.

The new railways are running right up to the front and the roads are ever thronged with orderly processions of troops and Red Cross ambulances. It is as though a great world metropolis had suddenly been created on the rolling uplands of the Somme.

Every soldier looked cheerful. All were confident our army will complete its task and take possession of the whole line commanding the uplands and from them move forward to further conquests.

"We have them beat." one soldier boasted to me as he told of the Boches surrendering.

It is true we have them beaten. Our aircraft hold undoubted supremacy in the air here.

Our troops steadily progress, although progress is necessarily slow now. The Germans have concentrated their forces against us. Our guns show superiority, and already significant signs indicate the coming German shortage of big guns.

Everything here presages a victory but not an easy or cheap victory. Our opponents undoubtedly present a formidable front. Those who know this best, and are the most familiar with the obstacles to be faced, are the most confident.

From King George's Hill—yesterday Germans, today with our flag flying over it—one surveyed mile after mile of land captured during the present struggle from the Boches, Right away to High Wood, where both sides still struggle for the mastery, all around were immense fields of nothing but shell holes broken only by the sudden bursts of great black clouds where the enemy's high explosive shells were bursting near our lines, while from many points I could see the flash and hear the sound of our guns, which day and night pound the German front,

I was amazed at the excellent condition of our men after six weeks of battle. Their equipment still looks good. I could not find a man with torn clothing, worn boots, or broken leather straps. Every horse was well-groomed, almost sleek. Everyone is well fed. The rear line of our army is the most clean and orderly I have ever found.

As the fighting front moves onward, another army going behind it starts repairing the ravages of war, remaking the roads, giving the dead orderly and reverent burial, and organizing the great traffic which now passes through these back village streets.

Going over the shattered German trenches, I was much struck by the luxurious dugouts, two storied, deep under the earth, whose elaboration formed a strange contrast to the rough, practicable shelter I had shared at Ypres behind Albert.

All the German prisoners I saw were strongly built, well clad, in the pink of condition and prime of life. Some seemed not sorry to find themselves in safety. The German authorities have endeavored to prevent their men from surrendering by assuring them the English immediately kill their prisoners.

They are much amazed when they find themselves kindly treated. No one can visit the Somme today without a glow of pride at what the Empire has done here, Our armies work in perfect accord with the French.

Value of saving

The opinions of William H. Osborn, United States Commissioner of International Revenue, on saving, are quoted in the August American Magazine.

"People get rich in two ways, he says. The minority through skill and success in investments and trading: the majority through systematic saving of small sums. I know a man who just before he was to be married, twenty years aga, lost all he had, and went $11,000 in debt on a business deal. He gave his intended bride a chance to release herself.

"I think you can get on your feet again, she told him. I'm willing to take a chance.

"All right" he said, get into the boat with me.

And they were married.

The bride got a cigar box and cut a hole in the top of the lid. She called it her furniture box and into it went all the dimes and quarters she didn't really need. Soon she had enough to furnish a home.

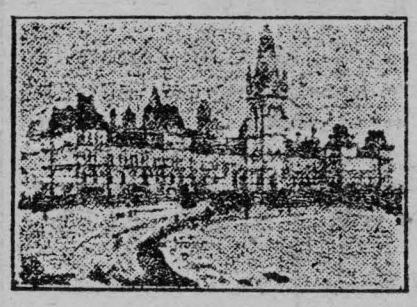

But she didn't quit saving. She kept right on until she had $2,000. With this she bought a piece of land, which she later sold for $3,000. The fund kept growing and she kept making more investments. Today she has money and property in her own name valued at upwards of $40,000.

"I know of many more cases just like that. It's a law of business that invariably succeeds.

My advice to every young man is to start a saving fund and put into it a definite part of what he makes. When the total runs to $500 or more he should invest it in something which brings more interest than he can get from a savings bank, yet is safe. If he keeps on in this way, he will be independent when he gets old enough to quit work."

Footwear For Late Summer

Whiie it is just now between seasons—neither early Fall or late Summer—its only a mighty short time until the Fall Shows will be the big attractions.

Foot comfort is then the great consideration.

Shoes bought now and broken in before you have to wear them a whole day away where there is nothing to no but grin and bear it.

They won't be any cheaper later on—if anything they'll be dearer.

Why not buy yours next time you're in town ?

I have a few odd sizes, perhaps one or two pairs of a kind of Summer lines, which, if they are your size, you can save considerable on, and there will be plenty of time to get good wear out of them this year.

Corn Grows 108 Inches in 51 Days.

Mr. Jas. Clement brought to the notice of The Record this week an instance of the rapid growth of corn in the past six weeks. He measured a stalk of corn from his field which measured nine feet in length and carried one well developed ear in the silk with two others well formed. The seed was planted on the last day of June and when measured had been in the ground fifty-one days with a growth of one hundred and eight inches or on an average of slightly more than two inches daily. Mr. Clement thinks that so rapid has been the growth, that the greater part of the late planted corn will fully mature by the middle of September with average weather conditions.

What About a Water Supply?

Since our reference last week to the necessity of a supply of pure water for domestic purposes a number of our citizens have dropped into The Record office to discuss some aspect of the situation. One or two would like to know since conditions are bad and no likelihood of the present arrangement from wells being any better, and the authorities, namely, Dr. Maloney, the provincial health officer; the local board of health, and the village council, all being aware of the conditions prevailing, who could be held responsible if no steps are taken to remedy the matter, should the worst happen and the contamination found in the water carry typhoid and cause an outbreak. Others see in the proposal an increase in taxation, but as a matter of fact the only taxation would be the rates charged for the service and as matters now stand, we believe, if regulations were carried out, every well in the place is required to be thoroughly cleaned out each year before July first, the cost of which would in most instances be more than the water rates for the year. Anyone who wishes to place his views of the proposition before the citizens will find the columns of The Record wide open for his use.

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

Dear Editor:—I heartily approve of your timely warning re a sanitary water supply for our town which I believe very needful.

I would also like to draw the attention of our town fathers and health authorities to the dreadfully insanitary spot called "the dump," which is certainly a disgrace to any village or town. Just imagine the refuse from every back yard and many stables—refuse of all kinds—from the hotels, being gathered up and drawn to the centre of our town and dumped right under the noses of our citizens to like it or lump it, and worse than that to create all manner of germs to be carried by the flies to our stores, houses, victuals, etc.

Now, this may be a handy place to dump garbage and the garbage may fill up the lot so as to increase its value a few dollars; but we are in danger of paying very dearly for it, and I would like to ask, can there not be something done to stop this sort of thing or have we to be resigned to fate and take what comes ?

Trusting I have not taken up too much of your valuable paper, I am, sir,

Yours truly,
A Citizen.

WRECK GOOD STUDENTS.

(The Bowmanville News)

The Daily Ontario of Belleville in its issue of August 8th contained a slashing denunciation of the methods pursued by the Education Department in Toronto which it describes as a crime against young people.

It discloses in our present examination methods in our High schools a system of Prussianism that would never be tolerated in any free country where the people understood the facts.

Pupils, who have done splendid work throughout the year are mercilessly rejected and their academic careers ruined because they cannot perform the tricks or the impossible feats prescribed by the pedantic busybodies at present in control of the Department at Toronto.

After showing the unfairness of forcing old teachers to take special courses in art, physical culture and commercial subjects, thus forcing many successful teachers out of the profession, the writer refers to the injustice of the new special certificate holders forcing other teachers out of positions thru the influence of H. S. inspectors and the Departmental Regulations.

The claim is made that the supply of qualified teachers does not yet equal the demand in Ontario. To prevent overcrowding of the Normal schools for the past two years most of the examination papers for the Lower School and Normal Entrance examinations, both teachchers' exams and both necessary for admission to the Normal school, have been set by the teachers of the various Normal schools under the supervision of the Department officials. It is also known that some of these papers were set by certain public and high school inspectors.

The idea suggested by the Normal Schools of raising the standard was so favorably received by the Department that the latter has gone farther than the former would have desired as two known instance prove. Last year one of the High school inspectors (Does he mean J. A. Houston, M. A?—Editor) was assigned the duty of preparing a mathematical paper, which when submitted to the committee of examiners was declared to be two difficult. The representative of the Education Department refused to change his paper and as a result 40 per cent., of the students who wrote on it were plucked. This year a Normal school teacher was required to prepare one of the mathematical papers (probably Normal Entrance Algebra—Editor) but the first draft was rejected as too easy. Another paper was prepared which contained 19 parts. It was so long and so difficult that 75 per cent of the students who wrote on it failed.

Taking 1915 and 1916 together, not more than one-third of the students throughout the Province who wrote on the Lower School and the Normal Entrance examinations were successful and the officials of the Education Department do not conceal the fact that these results were intentional on their part. The Normal schools gave a suggestion of "thoroughness" but the Department officials are entitled to all the credit as executioners. Thus it is clear that the axe is doing deadly work at both ends of a teacher's career. Surely Hon. Dr. Pyne is leaving his duties to some little "autocrats" while he is assisting in the great war abroad. (What a farce to have in this great Province a figure head only for Minister of Education while John Seath is "the power behind the throne"—Editor.) The Minister of Education should be informed of the wholesale slaughter of the innocents at home.

No person should be permitted to set an examination paper for Lower or Middle School students unless he is actually engaged in teaching the subject to such students. He alone can understand the possibilities and capabilities of the average student and the conditions under which he or she works. Some results of existing conditions are:—

(1) The Minister of Education and his department have lost the confidence and hearty co-operation of the majority of the students and teachers of this province. Pyne can never again be trusted.

(2) Many bright students have been rejected in the past two years who before that period would have passed with honors. These students their parents and friends, will not forgive Pyne et al. in 1919, even though just a little mercy should appear in examination results for political reasons between now and then.

(3) Our young people are our greatest asset, but a broken, discouraged spirit is a moral blight.

War on a Flat Car.

Behind the British lines, where the heaviest artillery fire the world has seen is even yet in progress, there, were months of preparatory activity to make effective the allied attack of the west front.

One would hardly think that going to war with a gang of track layers was a practicable plan of advance. Yet this is what Great Britain did. Before a gun was fired in the great western drive, thousands of miles of railway track were laid. Some estimates place it as high as 30,000 miles. Others give less.

However, the mileage that has been spiked down most thoroughly too, is amazing. For it is from these tracks that much of the British fire is aimed. Thousands of guns have been mounted on railway cars and wheeled right up to the firing line. This device of flat car artillery is credited to the fertile brain of Lloyd George.

It is supposable that fresh trackage is laid as the British line advances, something as the late James J. Hill laid a mile a day ahead of his construction train and ran his train over it.

This going to war on a flat car is something that would have made Washington or Napoleon or Bismark sit up; but it is only another feature of the world struggle to show how every energy is bent and every device adapted to give just the added punch that will have to be administered to bring a decisive result.

Satisfied She's Kidnapped Now

A reward of $200 is being offered by the Carleton county council for information which would lead to the recovery, dead or alive, of the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher McKenna, who reside near Dwyer Hill station, Marlboro.

The council decided at the meeting in the court house yesterday afternoon to offer this reward. It is now three months since the little girl was reported missing and although the surrounding country has been thoroughly scoured, not the slightest trace of the missing child can be found.

No less than 400 of the population of that district turned out one Sunday afternoon and assisted in scouring the woods and dragging the creeks and lakes, but their efforts were in vain.

It was at first supposed that the child had been struck by a passing railway engine and was carried away on the cow-catcher, but as track gangs have been working all along the line since then, that theory has been abandoned, as they would have found the body before now. The settlers in the district are pretty well satisfied that the child was kidnapped.

Difficult to Find

"Take a bear," he said, "Look at his fur."

The boys had no bear to take, but they had a picture of one, and they looked at that.

"His fur," the teacher went on, "is the bear's overcoat the same as your big coats are your overcoats."

"He can't take it off, though, same as we can ours," said one contentious youngster.

"That is true," said the teacher. "The bear cannot take off his overcoat. But why can't he take it off?"

Every boy thought hard.

"I guess," said the contentious youth, finally, "that it is because nobody but God knows where the buttons are."

"We've Got the Germans"
Says Canadian Chaplain

"We've got the Germans now," said Capt. C. E. Jeakins, chaplain of the 58th Brantford, Regiment C.E.F., on his return from a year at the front. Capt. Jeakins was suffering from shell shock and nervous breakdown, due to hard work under conditions quite different to those the average clergyman ever encounters but he was cheerful, and as full of optimism as any soldier returning.

"We are fighting a winning fight and everyone at the front, as well as in England knows it," said Capt. Jeakins who, when he is not in khaki, is pastor of St. Jude's Church, Brantford. "The men at the front know it, and they fight like men who know they are going to win. The people in England know it, and I never saw such a spirit of optimism and determination to see a thing through as I witnessed while I was in England recuperating before I came back.

"I don't want to hear any more talk about England muddling through," declared Capt. Jeakins, with a sentence or two reminiscent of his work at the front. "Don't you believe they are muddling at all. They have done in two years all that the Germans took forty years to do, and then they have the navy, which needs no comment. After what I have seen I simply cannot find words to express my admiration for the British people and what they have done, especially the women. It would be a revelation to the woman here to learn what is being done there. But the women are taking over the work and cheerfully sending husbands brothers and sweethearts to the front.

"Further than that," said Capt. Jeakins, "they have conscription in England, but it is the most willing conscription you could imagine. It may be compulsion but there is such a splendid spirit amongst every class there that no one would know it. I was through most of England and saw the working of the system, and although it is called conscription, it is not really complusion—the men know what is to be done and seem really glad that their turn for duty has come under the law."

During his service at the front with the 58th Capt. Jeakins met many of the officers and men serving under Lt.-Col. Gascoigns. He spoke in warm admiration of the Montreal battalion, declaring that while they had suffered very heavy casualties they were going ahead with the work like a veteran battalion.

"The outstanding factor that struck me," said Capt. Jeakins, "was the indomitable courage and cheerfulness of the Tommies, both English and Canadians. I have been at movies back of the lines, with shells bursting within a few hundred yards of the place, and the men were laughing at Charlie Chaplin, utterly oblivious of danger. They just stood up to their work, without a single grouch."

Boy's Terrible Death

Cornwall, Ont. August 18.—The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry MacDonald, who reside on a farm near Pierrepont, met death when he fell into a garbage barrel and was drowned. The child met his death within a step of the house, where his parents were unaware that all was not well. It is thought the little fellow climbed upon a wooden box to look into the barrel and lost his balance. His father going to the barrel to get feed for the hogs, was horrified to find his little son's body.

W. C. T. U. Convention

The annual convention of the Counties of Dundas and Stormont of the W.C.T.U. met in the Methodist Church at Iroquois on Wednesday and Thursday, 9th and 10th of August, with the counties' president, Mrs. G. C. Bigelow, in the chair.

After the singing of the temperance hymn, Mrs. Asa Gordon, Evangelistic Superintendent of the Dominion, gave a bible reading from Isaiah 9-16. She dwelt on the different names of Jesus, the president declared the convention open for business. In the absence of the Rec Sec'y, Mrs. McDiarmid of Avonmore, Mrs. McDonald of Cornwall was appointed to fill her place. Committees on Finance and Resolutions were appointed. Finance—Madams McMillan, Bush and Parlow. Resolutions— Madams James, Cameron and Wells. The appointment of six lovely little girls as pages followed, who attended to all their duties with grace and promptness They afterwards were made "Little White Ribboners."

Rev. Mr. Coates, Pastor of the Methodist Church, greeted the delegates and visitors, and extended to all a cordial welcome to his church and the town. He spoke of his admiration for and co-operation in all that stood for God and humanity. His mother had been one of the very active members of the organization for many years. Mrs. Bigelow replied in behalf of the visiting ladies, in a few chosen words.

All present were pleased with an inspiring solo, "When his Love Shines In" given by Mr. Hyslop, the president remarking how beauttfully the sentiment of the solo fitted into the thought of the convention; as the thought of the W. C. T. U. as an organization was founded on prayer and love for fallen humanity, inspired by the love of Jesus, as the basic principal of its existence.

Reports for the different unions were then taken:—

Mrs. James reporting for Cornwall.

Mrs. Ritchie reporting for Winchester.

Mrs. McMonagle reporting for Finch.

Mrs. Wickmore reporting for Morrisburg.

Mrs. Wells reporting for Aultsville.

Mrs. McMonagle as representative from Gravel Hill and Monklands.

Mrs. Empey for Iroquois.

Mrs. J. J. MacMillan of Finch, the counties corresponding secretary, then gave her report as follows:—

No. of regular members in counties—244.

No. of honorary members in counties—28.

No. of public meetings—19.

No. of regular meetings—78.

Amount of monies raised for all purposes during year—$1365.85.

Departments of work taken up—65.

The counties' treasurers' report was then read and adopted. At this stage of the proceedings an elderly and very highly eeteemed member, Mrs. William Hollister, who has been an active, enthusiastic and successful worker for many years, was called to the platform. Mrs. Relyea, president of the society at Cornwall, wished to present her to the convention, as one whom we all honored. She had alone callected $25.00 for the hot soup and chocolate fund. Mrs. Hollister replied in a few words, thanking the convention for the kind expressions of those present. She was glad to do what she could.

After summary of reports was given, the president stated that she was overwhelmed by the amount of work that had been accomplished by the different unions, and she expressed much gratification for the splendid reports, particularly at this crisis in our nation's history when the thoughts and efforts of the members of different unions were concentrated on work along patriotic lines, and it was equally surprising the amounts (very large) appropriated for this purpose.

The next order of business was a Franchise Symposium, While the characters representing the difierent provinces and cities were making preparation for this, the audience was delighted by a temperance parody on "Coming Through The Rye" sung by the little pages. Miss Bigelow, of the staff of the Ladies' College of Regina, who is now visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bigelow of Aultsville, after careful research, compiled one of the most interesting reports of the status of women in regard to the franchise, that those present had ever had the privilege of listening to. On account of limitations of space in press the characters representing the different provinces and cities, and the privileges that women enjoy are left over for a later issue. A very interesting and edifying discussion of this vexed question followed. A beautiful rendition of the selection "The White Ribbon Banner" by Miss Munroe, delighted the audience. After prayer this most interesting session adjourned to the basement where tea was served by the ladies of the Church and of the Iroquois W.C.T.U. The spirit of good fellowship and enjoyment shone from all round. The perfect and bountiful viands, served perfectly is a characteristic of the Iroquois ladies.

In the social hour following, greetings were received from the different churches and different organizations of the town. Also from the press representative, and responses were given.

The evening meeting opened at eight o'clock, with the president in the chair. The beautiful commodious Church was filled with an interested and expectant audience who joined in the song "Britannia's Sons," followed by response reading of the Crusade Psalm led by Rev. Mr. Coates. After prayer by Rev. Mr. McArthur, the choir delighte l and thrilled us with one of their sweetest anthems. We were also favored with a duet by Miss Wert and Mr. Shaver and another solo by Mr. Hyslop. At this period of the session Mrs. Gordan, Evangelistic Superintendant of the Dominion, was introduced to the audience by Mrs. Bigelow. In another issue will be given extracts of her wonderful address on Canada, which left her audience with many new inspirations, and much to ponder over and make right. A ladies quartette beautifully rendered, and a solo by Mr. Hyslop was followed by Mr. Coates moving a vote of thanks to Mrs. Gordon, and seconded by Mr. McArthur, was adopted. This most delightful and instructive session was closed by prayer by Rev Mr. McArthur.

On Thursday morning at 9.30 o'clock the third session opened with the singing of the Tasmanian Hymn, followed by prayer by Mr. Hyslop. Much enthusiasm was evoked by the spirited singing by every one present of the battle hymn of the W. C. T. U. "The Battle Cry is Ringing."

Mrs. Empey of Winchester gave a comforting and instructive Bible reading, taken from Romans 12, the basic thought being "Throw Yourself Into the Work." The president on commenting on this Bible reading said how natural it is to entertain the thought, that we are not equal to do the work appointed us, and gladly throw the responsibility on others, but when we consider that we have the sympathy and help of the Divine Master, who is more interested in the great work of temperance reform, than any of us can possibly be, new courage, born of the thought would qualify any one of us as a worker.

The singing o the hymn "God Save our Children" closed the morning's devotional exercises. The business of this session was opened by the reading of the minutes of previous meetings, which were confirmed. Mrs. Bigelow suggested that letters of condolenee be sent to the recording secretary, and also to Mr. Coulthart of Monklands, whose wife "went home" during the year. Mrs. Relyea suggested that a letter expressing our sympathy in the continued illness of his wife be sent to Mr. Beach of Cornwall, as this convention was held in his home town, where he is well and favorably known. As appropriate to the hour Mrs. Bigelow read part of the 14th Chap. of St. John, commencing "Let Not Your Heart be Troubled." The reports of the different County Superintendents were then given, as follows:—Flowers, fruit and delicacies, Mrs. Jamieson; Mothers meetings, Mrs. Beach; Franchise, Mrs Relyea; Scientific temperance, Mrs. Coulthart for Mrs. Robinson who was not present; Temperance and Sunday Schools Mrs. McNaughton; Lumberman, Mrs. Empey of Iroquois; Legislature, Mrs. Beach; Work among soldiers, Mrs. Begg; Press represented by Mrs. Relyea for Mrs. Warner. Session closed. On invitation, the delegates adjourned to the basement of the church where luncheon was served in their usual style by the ladies of Iroquois.

The afternoon session opened with a Bible reading by Mrs. Hilliard, basing her remarks from St. John's Gospel. The seriousness and responsibility of living, was brought forcibly to the minds of the delegates present, by Mrs. Hilliard asking the question "Will the world and the conditions thereof be any better because of my prayer this morning for definite purposes in definite parts of it. Her answer was yes.

A solemnity prevaded the audience, when this thought came home to each. As a voiced expression of the seriousness of life, one verse of the beautiful hymn—"Nearer My God To Thee" was sung by all present.

The election of officers and superintendants of the official departments were then proceeded with, resulting as follows—President, Mrs. Bigelow, Aultsville Vice-Pres. Mrs. Empey, Winchester; Cor. Sec. Mrs. Kirk, Finch; Treasurer, Mrs. J. J. McMillan, Finch; Rec. Sec. Mrs. McDonald, Cornwall; Evangelistic Superintendant, Mrs. Hutt, Finch: Systematic giving, Mrs. Binnie, Cornwall; flowers, fruit and delicacies, Mrs. Jamieson, Cornwall: Mothers' meetings Mrs. Tuttle, Iroquois, Legislature, Mrs. Beach, Winchester: Franchise, Mrs. Parlow. Morrisburg; Medal contest, Mrs. Ritchie, Winchester; Scientific temperance, Miss Cameron, Winchester; work among soldiers. Mrs. Begg, Gravel Hill: Missionary and lumber-camp work, Mrs. Empey, Iroquois; Loyal temperance legion, Mrs. Graham, Winchester. Temperance in Sunday Schools, Mrs. (Rev.)McArthur, Iroquois: Press Mrs. Warner, Cornwall; Anti narcotics, Mrs. Fawthrop, Cornwall, Work among railroad employees Mrs. Cline, Cornwall, Mrs. James read the reports for the resolution Press Resolved that we acknowledge the gracious courtesies of the press with gratitude as they have throughout reported and published items, in past year. In counection with this we are also pleased to note the advanced movement on the part of the press in banishing from their columns liquor advertisements.

Courtesy—Resolved as a convention we desire to express our gratitude to the ladies of Iroquois who have so hospitably entertained us; to the Pastor and trustees for the use of their beautiful Church, to Mr. Hyslop for all his kindnesses and to all those who so generously contributed to the enjoyment and success ef this annual gathering of white ribboners. The singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" closed one of the most successful conventions that has yet been held by the W. C, T. U.

The president conducted the business of convention in a most parliamentray manner, and possessing unusual organizing and executive ability, combined with a comprehensive knowledge of the work she naturally inspires her workers to greater ability and a provocation to inereased knowledge of the needs of their particular work.

WHY I should select a Mutual Policy!

FIRST -Because in a mutual company the assets are the sole property of the Policy-holders.

2—Because in a mutual company ALL of the profits go to the policy-holders.

3—Because in a mutual company the executive is directly responsible to the policy-holders: ALL the directors are policy-holders' directors.

4—Because mutual companies hold the record for stability.

5—Because mutual companies have all the "safety-first" features of stock companies with mutuality thrown in.

6—Because the largest American companies are already mutual or seriously considering mutualization, and already more than one-half of legal reserve insurance is mutual.

7—Because mutual companies are not built up in the interest of the FEW, but of the MANY.
