$300,000 goal reached

Dialysis fund over the top

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

MORRISBURG — In one final push by merchants in Morrisburg, the dialysis fund for the Winchester District Memorial Hospital has been propelled over the top.

An initiative by several merchants in Morrisburg on Sat., Oct. 27 and Sun., Oct. 28 raised $9,275 for the dialysis fundraiser. The goal for the dialysis fund was $300,000, and with the merchants' injection it reached $300,980.40 last week.

"This community should be proud!" said an enthusiastic Kim MacLennan, WDMH Foundation co-ordinator. "After kicking off the dialysis campaign last October, we have reached the top. Over $300,000 has been raised — all from the community."

The Shop Morrisburg event saw seven merchants donate $1 to WDMH for every customer who shopped in their store. At Upper Canada Motor Sales, $10 was donated for every test drive taken between Oct. 25-31. For each vehicle purchased in that time period, $100 was donated. In total, $1,300 was raised at Upper Canada Motor Sales.

At the McIntosh Country Inn, for every $3 donation to WDMH, customers received a $5 food voucher. Other participants were Canadian Tire, Valu-Mart, Home Hardware, Giant Tiger and Hartley Sports Shop.

"It was the shoppers who made it happen, more than the retailers," said Peter Oliver of Canadian Tire. At Canadian Tire, customers also received four times more coupons.

"From what I heard around town, I think everybody had a great weekend," Oliver said.

Mike Vrab, store manager at Valu-Mart, said his store saw customers from as far away as Kemptville that weekend. "Our staff was surprised to see so many new faces, and these new faces were surprised to see what Morrisburg has to offer," he said.

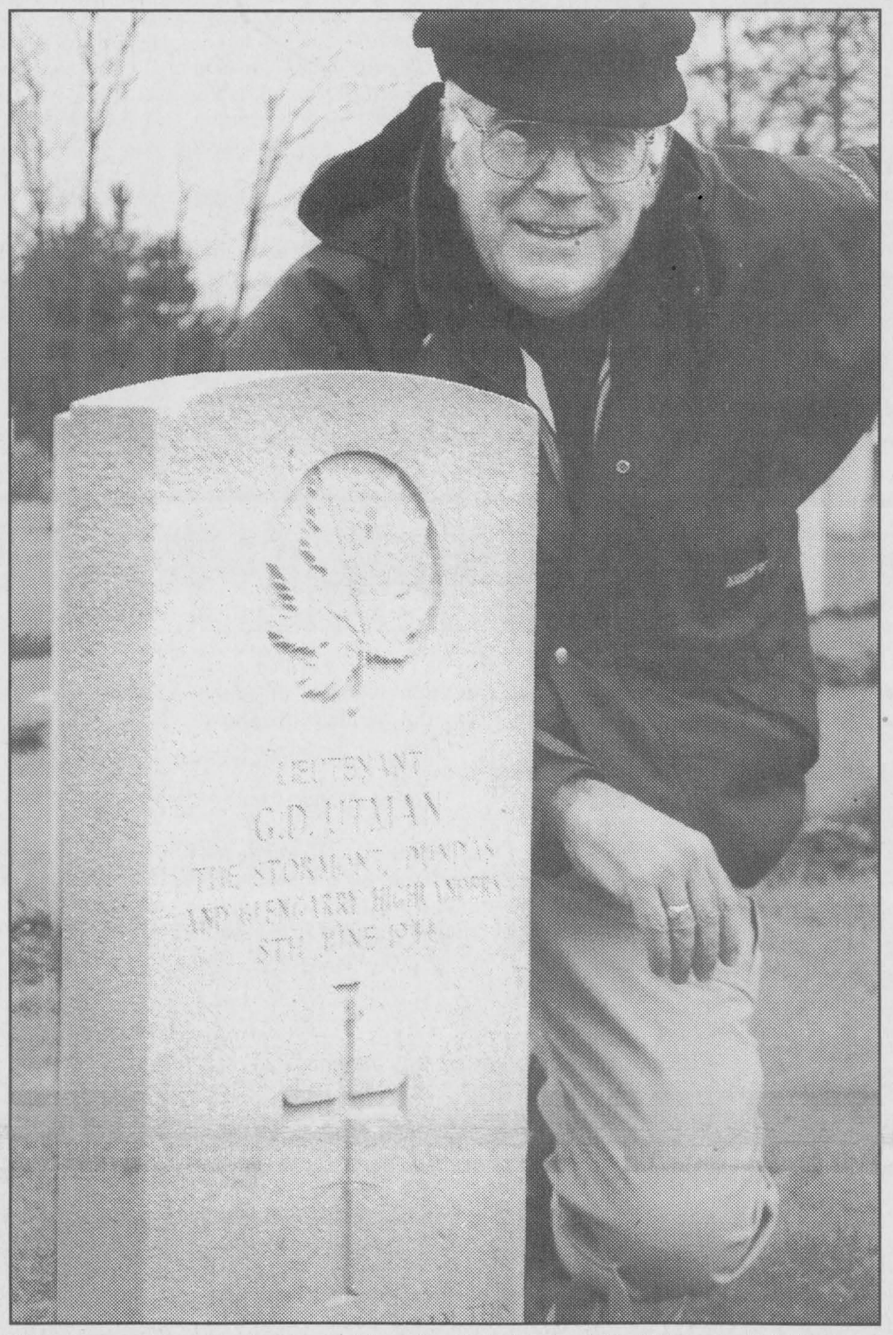
The new Giant Tiger held its grand opening that weekend. "People filled the aisles from all over the area," said Ed Kingsley. "It's really great to see the business community welcome a new face to town and to work as a co-operative group to show people there's a reason to shop Morrisburg."

Speaking on behalf of the McIntosh Inn and the South Dundas Chamber of Commerce, Tom Morrow said the weekend of Oct. 27-28 was one of the busiest ever in Morrisburg.

"I heard there were police directing traffic in front of Giant Tiger and Canadian Tire," he said. "All participants should be congratulated, as not only did they attract business to Morrisburg, they raised a substantial amount of money for Winchester District Memorial Hospital."

MacLennan said the foundation and the hospital are working together to plan a celebration for the completion of the dialysis campaign. It should be held in mid-November, she said. More information about the dialysis unit and the timeline for its arrival in Winchester will be revealed then.

Finding 'Bud' Utman



This past spring, Winchester resident Ron Workman visited Normandy in France, planning to find the graves of several local men who died following D-Day in 1944. Workman was only 14 years old when these men died. However, he said, memories of the war years have stayed with him all his life.

WINCHESTER — For many Canadians, the years of the Second World War had a defining influence on their lives. Even for those who didn't serve in the military, the events in Europe had powerful resonance and lingering tragic consequences on the home front.

Ron Workman was 14 years old on June 6, 1944, when 135,000 members of the Allied forces invaded the beaches of Normandy. Workman vividly recalls D-Day and the months that followed. In particular, he was affected by the deaths of three local boys: G.D. "Bud" Utman, K.A. Boyd, and N.S. Boyd.

This spring, at age 70, Workman followed a persistent nagging in the back of his mind and went to Normandy to find these men. With his wife and his daughter's family, the life-long resident of Winchester visited the Canadian War Cemetery of Beny-sur-Mer. Near the village of Reviers Workman found the graves of these three men who he'd known as a boy.

"I always wanted to go and try to find Bud Utman's grave," said Workman. "He had a men's shop in the Lannin Building on Main Street where Andy's Foodland is now. He was a real popular young man at the time, when he was in his early 20s."

The Boyd brothers were also popular locally. "They were from Vernon and both well known for sports. They went to Winchester High School," said Workman.

Parade lineup growing

WINCHESTER — Thirty entries have already been received by the Winchester Country Christmas Parade of Lights committee, including a number of new entries.

Registration forms were mailed last week to all those who have participated in the parade in the past. Last year's parade saw close to 90 floats, and the parade committee is shooting for that number for the fifth annual Parade of Lights.

The parade banners have been erected at entry points to the village, thanks to Hydro One volunteers Brian Koekkoek and Howard Hudson. On parade day, they will also turn off street lights along the parade route, so that the parade can really light up the night in Winchester.

Plans are progressing rapidly for the committee, as the Dec. 7 parade date approaches. New this year will be a second commentary location. In past years, those watching the parade in the downtown area could hear about each float from master of ceremonies Marleen Fawcett at the corner of Main and St. Lawrence streets.

This year, local auctioneer Hugh Fawcett will host a second location. A flatbed trailer is being arranged for a location along the York Street portion of the parade route.

A favorite part of the Parade of Lights is the collectible light-up toy that is sold every year for the parade. This year there are two items to choose from, Flashing Frosties or Nightly Nicks. One is a snowman and one is a Santa Claus.

A new vision for North Dundas

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Township of North Dundas is functioning "reasonably well," according to the final report from a consultant hired by the township council earlier this year. Recommendations in the report include hiring a clerk, broadening several positions and the composition of council and the ward system.

After spending time in North Dundas Township and studying council, township staff and residents, municipal expert Richard Tindal of Tindal Consulting Ltd. filed his final report in October. It's called 20:20 — A New Vision for North Dundas.

Township clerk-administrator Howard Smith said there were no surprises in the report. Council has had one meeting to discuss the report so far, he added.

"Who knows what might come out of it?" Smith said, noting that the report contains recommendations, and council will have to decide which recommendations to implement.

A press release from Smith outlines the report, which notes that the existing structure of the township is "functioning reasonably well" with respect to the delivery of services. Tindal made this finding through a survey circulated to residents.

However, there were recommendations made that would help provide a basis for sound decision making by council.

First, to allow the clerk-administrator to concentrate on providing leadership and co-ordinating operations, the report recommended that the duties of clerk be assigned to a separate position. It also proposes that the economic development duties of the administrator be made more explicit by renaming the position, Administrator and Economic Development Officer. This, Tindal indicated, is recommended because of the importance of economic development as indicated by council and the survey.

On the block

A massive audience crowded a circus-style tent at Sunnylodge Farms in Chesterville on Monday (Nov. 5). The two-time Master Breeder Herd of 150 animals was completely dispersed.

Sunnylodge dispersal huge success

by Chris Zabel
Press staff

CHESTERVILLE — The day after the Sunnylodge Farms herd dispersal, Carl Smith said over the phone that the farm was still like a circus. After more than 1,000 people attended the auction of Sunnylodge's renowned 150-cow herd on Monday (Nov. 5), the job became shipping them to their new owners.

"The sale was better than we expected," said Smith. "And the local breeders really supported the sale. We really appreciated that."

The two cows fetching the highest prices of the day were sold to Ferme Gillette in Embrun. The majority of the herd went to buyers from across Ontario and Quebec.

Several cows will be travelling farther to their new homes. One animal is going to a farm in California. Another buyer is a friend of Smith's from the U.K Smith said he will be keeping four animals on his farm until the British import ban is lifted.

In the gigantic tent erected on Smith's farm for the day of the auction, the crowd responded well to the auctioneering of David "Butch" Crack as he extolled the virtues of each animal. "We've got people bidding over the phone who haven't even see this udder!" he said of one cow. Crack is a well known auctioneer who only handles high quality pedigree sales. He also has the remarkable talent of being able to auction in French and English at the same time.

Although Smith called the day a great success for himself and his wife Muriel, and sons Mark and Craig, the end of an era hung heavy over the auction. "It wasn't the happiest day," Smith said. "When you work with these animals all of your life, when you register their names, and when you work with them and call them by name, it's hard to see them go."

The excitement generated by the sale had to do with the exceptional quality of the Sunnylodge herd. Twice Sunnylodge was named a Master Breeder Herd. And in 1998, Sunnylodge Prelude Spottie was named Canadian Cow of the Year. Of the animals sold, 90 were daughters of Spottie. The proud mother spent the day of the auction in a box stall for potential buyers to meet and admire.

Smith said he doesn't have immediate plans either for himself or his empty dairy barn. Spottie will live out her life at Sunnylodge in the company of a dozen or so other cows. Smith said he plans to cash crop his land. He said the reason for the dispersal was his own health and because his sons have interests off the farm.

Audiences caught in Mousetrap excitement

WINCHESTER — Due to overwhelming public demand, the Dundas County Players will be presenting an encore performance of The Mousetrap. After six sold-out shows over the past two weekends, the DCP decided to add one more show.

The Mousetrap can be seen one final time in Winchester on Sat., Nov. 24 at 8 pm at the North Dundas Old Town Hall for Arts and Heritage.

Mousetrap director Michael Carter said there were many inquiries for tickets long after the shows were sold out.

The interest in Agatha Christie's famous whodunit seems to be in keeping with the play's long-standing success. Now in its 50th season in London, The Mousetrap holds the world record for the longest running stage production.

"This is a wonderful happening for the community and the Dundas County Players," Carter said. 'The coming together of a venerable calssic of the theatre and the transformation of a fine old building has turned out to be a win-win situation."

Tickets for The Mousetrap are $10 for adults and $6 for teens under 15. The play begins at 8 pm. To buy tickets, contact Gabriele Thomas at 448-3855.

Two men die in milk truck crash

FINCH — Two Cornwall men died in a collision with a milk truck on County Road 43 at Goldfield North Road, between Chesterville and Finch, on their way to work at Nestle's in Chesterville. The accident occurred on Wed., Oct. 31 at about 6:20 am.

Police said a 1989 Ford milk truck was westbound on County Road 43 and a 1991 Honda Civic was also westbound on that road. The Honda Civic rear-ended the milk truck and landed in the north ditch.

The passenger of the Honda Civic, Curtis Bouchard, 40, of Cornwall was pronounced dead at the scene. The driver, 35-year-old Ronald Groulx of Cornwall, succumbed to his injuries that afternoon at the Civic Hospital in Ottawa. He had been airlifted from Winchester District Memorial Hospital in the morning.

The driver of the milk truck, an unidentified 35-year-old Cornwall man, was not injured.

The cause of the collision is still under investigation.

Both flash and hang from a string as a necklace. They'll be available for sale next week. A portion of the proceeds will go to local charities.

Right now, you can also get last year's waving wands at Winchester Video. They're on sale for two for $1, and all of the proceeds will go to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

Another important part of the Parade of Lights is hot food and drinks. The corner lot at Main and St. Lawrence streets will be the site for food booths, and other charities will have booths set up through the parade route. Annual meals are also being planned by local groups, and will be confirmed in the upcoming weeks.

Again, Winchester residents are being urged to help light up the night by having their houses and properties decorated for the big night. Those along the parade route are also encouraged to pipe some Christmas music out of their homes to help add to the festive spirit.

Meanwhile, it's time to start planning your float! Entrants are asked to complete their registration forms and send them in to the committee. Donations are also needed to help sponsor bands for the parade and cover other expenses.

The countdown is on — just four weeks to go until Winchester sparkles with the fifth annual Parade of Lights. For more information on the parade, or to receive a registration form, call John Adams at 774-2515.

North Dundas

As for the composition of council, the report outlines arguments both for and against a reduction in the number of councillors. However, it concludes that the strong support for a reduction of councillors should prevail. On the subject of the elimination of the ward system, Tindal said the decision should be made after taking into account the views of citizens. However, he added, the existence of wards makes it difficult for council to act as a unifying force and to create a sense of identity for the new municipality.

"I'm pleased with the report," Smith said. "But it depends on what council does with the report. I think it was well done."

Smith said council will hold a couple of meetings to discuss the report. He explained that the first phase of Tindal's process was to help the township analyze where it wants to go in the future. Next, he showed council how to get to that point in relation to staffing needs and infrastructure, then the approach to take in getting there.

"We haven't done phase one yet," Smith said. Essentially, Smith said, Tindal took information from council, township staff and residents, processed it and wrote a report which will act as a guide.

Now, council will need to look at each scenario as Tindal outlined it, and examine the pros and cons of each one.

"It's like a road map," Smith explained. "It shows the place where you start and it shows the things that we can do in the future, bearing in mind funds, infrastructure, etc. Now we need to decide what to do and what approach to take."

The township spent roughly $19,000 on the consultant's report, and Smith said he felt it was a good exercise. He said the sessions with Tindal added clarity and showed council the possibilities for the future and where the municipality could be in the future.

"What they choose to do is another story," he said. "But it offers good focus, and it's nice to know what direction we can go in. It will be interesting to see what happens in the near future."

RECOMMENDATIONS

— a full-time position for the township planner, who currently spends two days a week in the township, heading a new department called the Department of Planning, Inspection and Enforcement.

— several changes in staffing to address problems with the "passive and part-time" bylaw enforcement, which was strongly criticized in the survey, and the "under-utilization" of the position of drainage superintendent.

— a re-named Department of Recreation and Community Services to be responsible for all municipal parks, recreational facilities and programs, cultural facilities and municipal buildings, maintaining liaison with other governing bodies and local organizations providing community services.

— the Works Department be restructured to operate under a director and one patrol foreman, and that the eight workers (six operator/laborers and two laborers) in this department and the six workers in the department of recreation be combined into a common labor pool, cross-trained and assigned as needed.

— challenges the four fire departments to increase their collaboration and co-ordination so that they function as if they were one department.

— a change in the method, but not the amount, of payment of councillors, to take effect for the next term of council. Instead of an annual payment plus payment for meetings attended, the report proposes that members of council receive an annual payment only, the equivalent of the two separate streams of payment currently received. This would help simplify record keeping, but also remove the "double standard" which arises when citizen appointees are asked to serve on a committee without pay, alongside councillors who receive a per meeting payment. It also puts councillors on equal footing and leaves them free to serve on as many or as few committees as their interest dictates.

"When they received word of their deaths it was a real sad time for everyone, because they were really well known."

These three local boys died during the Battle of Normandy. After D-Day, it took 77 days for the Allies to secure the Normandy area at the southwest tip of France. From June 6 to Aug. 21, the toll was heavy: Allied losses amounted to 210,000 men killed or wounded out of the 2 million who went into battle.

D-Day was the bloodiest day of the conflict, each side losing nearly 10,000 men killed, wounded, missing or taken prisoner. Landings were made on five code-named beaches. The United States established bridgeheads on Utah and Omaha. British troops stormed Gold and Sword beaches. And Canadian troops formed the majority of the force landing at Juno.

Utman was killed on June 8, two days after the landing, when a bomb dropped near where he was positioning mortars. And, tragically, the Boyd brothers died only one day apart, on July 8 and 9, aged 21 and 26.

The soldiers who died in France following D-Day were initially buried in provisional cemeteries, the fallen of both sides assembled and interred not far apart. At the war's conclusion, the War Graves Commission regrouped the graves and Canadians were re-interred in two sites. Workman found the three men he was looking for in the Beny-sur-Mer cemetery near Reviers, located near the Normandy coast and containing 2,044 graves of soldiers killed soon after the landing. Another cemetery, Bretteville-sur-Laize near Cintheaux, contains the graves of 2,958, almost all Canadians who died as the invasion progressed and Caen was liberated.

Visiting the Canadian cemetery at Reviers was the highlight of a three-day tour Workman took of the Second World War monuments along the Normandy coast. The entrance to the cemetery is built of white limestone shipped from Canada. Workman said there is a small pavilion with a register of the graves. He was able to look up the locations of the three men he wanted to find, and discovered their graves within only a few minutes.

Workman described the cemetery as a solemn place. Impeccable grounds lined with maple trees from Canada led to the rows of white headstones. A maple leaf is engraved at the head of each one.

"I remembered the lives that were lost," said Workman of the time he spent in the cemetery. "I knew what to expect, but it was a real experience to witness it first-hand."

Sometimes the even spacing of the white headstones in the cemetery is broken to bring together the stones of those whose bodies could not be separated, often air force crews. Other stones have no name, just an inscription: "A soldier of the 1939-1945 War — Known unto God."

In the centre of the cemetery was a feature common to all large Commonwealth cemeteries: the Cross of Sacrifice stands in the centre of the aisles of headstones, a bronze sword set on a stone cross.

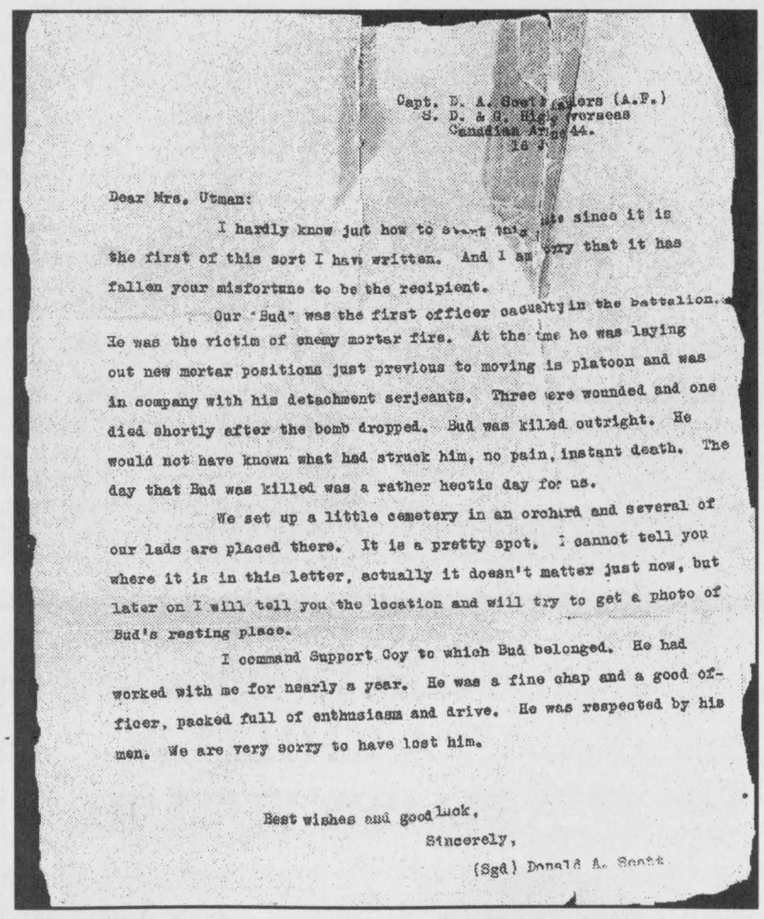
Workman's trip revived memories of his own contribution to the war effort back in 1944. He put his talent for singing to work, performing at local events and encouraging citizens to buy War Savings Certificates. Lyrics such as, "Buy a bond, V for victory . . . Every dollar will make Hitler holler," served to rally local war support. His mother even wrote to the Happy Gang on CBC radio and they sent Workman the sheet music to some of their patriotic songs.

"And I would sing at the memorial services at the church. I have very clear memories of those," said Workman. His father was a lieutenant in the SD&G Highlander reserves and would play taps on his trumpet.

Touring France for three days, Workman said he only saw a fraction of the Second World War sites that are there. Besides the Canadian cemetery at Reviers, Workman visited the American Colleville cemetery at St. Laurent. This cemetery, containing 9,386 white crosses marking the graves of American soldiers, was made famous as the setting for the beginning and ending of Saving Private Ryan.

The five beaches where the Allies landed on D-Day are also preserved. Workman visited Juno beach and Omaha beach, where some of the fiercest fighting took place on D-Day. Workman said he'd like to return to Normandy someday to revisit Canadian graves and deepen his familiarity with what remains of the conflict that took place there. It happened when he was 14 and it has never left the back of his mind.

Bud Utman 1942



Capt. D. A. Scott (Majors (A.F.)
S. D. & G. Highs Overseas
Canadian Army 44.

Dear Mrs. Utman:

I hardly know just how to start this letter since it is the first of this sort I have written. And I am sorry that it has fallen your misfortune to be the recipient.

Our "Bud" was the first officer casualty in the battalion. He was the victim of enemy mortar fire. At the time he was laying out new mortar positions just previous to moving is platoon and was in company with his detachment serjeants. Three were wounded and one died shortly after the bomb dropped. Bud was killed outright. He would not have known what had struck him, no pain, instant death. The day that Bud was killed was a rather hectic day for us.

We set up a little cemetery in an orchard and several of our lads are placed there. It is a pretty spot. I cannot tell you where it is in this letter, actually it doesn't matter just now, but later on I will tell you the location and will try to get a photo of Bud's resting place.

I command Support Coy to which Bud belonged. He had worked with me for nearly a year. He was a fine chap and a good officer, packed full of enthusiasm and drive. He was respected by his men. We are very sorry to have lost him.

Best wishes and good luck,

Sincerely,

(Sgd) Donald A. Scott

After Bud Utman died in France, two days after D-Day, his family received a letter from his captain. He was first buried in a provisional grave, later to be reinterred at the Beny-sur-Mer Canadian War Cemetery near Reviers.

Caregiver's Day offers much-needed break

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

WINCHESTER — If you are a caregiver, odds are you could use a break. You're in luck — a special day is being planned for you. Two support centres in Dundas County are joining to plan a Caregiver's Day, to offer information and some time with your peers.

Nancy Gibson of the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre in Winchester says Caregiver's Day, scheduled for Tues., Nov. 13 from 2 - 7 pm at the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre, will offer a much-needed support system for caregivers.

"People who care for someone either at home, or visit often to help them out in a nursing home or hospital, are important people to our community," she says. "Caring for someone can be a full-time occupation that you really don't mind doing; however, it can also be exhausting and demanding on your time and skills."

The Nor-Dun centre has joined with Park Lane Seniors' Support Centre in Williamsburg to offer an afternoon and evening of presentations and fellowship with other caregivers. There will be mini-sessions offered every half-hour, on topics such as Taking Care of the Caregiver, with the Alzheimer Society, and How Hospice Helps, with the Dundas County Hospice. There will be presentations from the Community Care Access Centre, the Arthritis Society, the Heart and Stroke Foundation and Canadian Mental Health.

The Eastern Ontario Health Unit will offer a game, and free hand massages will be provided by Ambrosia Esthetics.

Those wishing to participate may attend for the entire day, or choose several sessions to attend. For those not able to attend for the entire day, there will be booths set up by each presenter, with information available.

"Every once in a while you need to take time out to recharge yourself, so that you can keep going, too. Caregiver's Day will assist with some practical ways to manage your day and offer lots of information that may enhance your knowledge on a variety of illnesses," says Gibson.

The focus will also include information on community resources that can provide direct service for the person who is ill, often indirectly providing a few hours of free time. "Whether you have a friend or family member in a hospital, nursing facility or at home, you are encouraged to attend, and bring family members along," adds Gibson.

A North Dundas Township woman who cares at home for her husband, who suffers from dementia, knows how valuable this day will be for many caregivers. "A lot of people don't see themselves as caregivers," she points out. "They see themselves as caring for a loved one, and they don't label themselves."

However, she says, support is needed, regardless of labelling. "You need to have the feeling that you can pick up the phone and talk to someone, that you are not alone," she advises. She suggests caregivers join a support group at places like Nor-Dun and Park Lane.

"You can't do it alone," she insists. "And you shouldn't feel as though you can't ask for help."

This caregiver will participate in part of the Caregiver's Day, and says it's a worthwhile visit for anyone who is caring for a loved one.

"If you're caring for a loved one and you're with them 24 hours, seven days a week, you need some outside support, so that you have time for yourself," she says.

There will be free apple cider all day and refreshments over the supper hour. If you need transportation to the support centre it will be supplied. For more information, call Nor-Dun at 774-6109 or Park Lane at 535-2924.

Leos add to pride with seven inductees

by Chris Zabel
Press staff

CHESTERVILLE — There will be seven new maroon-vested Leos working to serve the township this year. The North Dundas Leos Club has inducted seven new members to its fledgling organization based at North Dundas District High School.

A formal investiture ceremony was held Thurs., Oct. 25 at the Nelson LaPrade Centre in Chesterville, where four of the new Leos received their vests and began their pin collections.

As the youth wing of the Lions Club, the Leos work closely with their elder groups in Winchester, Chesterville and Mountain. The North Dundas club was chartered with nine members last November. Since then, the group has raised nearly $1,000 and has donated nearly all of the money back to the community.

At NDDHS, the Reach for the Top and Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving clubs have benefited from the Leos. The group has also donated money to Chesterville soccer and the Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

At the beginning of the investiture ceremony, Winchester Lion Dwayne Holmes explained to the new Leos some facts about the organization they were joining. "You are joining the largest service group in the world. There are 1.4 million Lions across the world. You're joining a very, very large group of friends. Wherever you go, you can always see someone wearing the pin," he said.

NDDHS principal Nancy Christie complimented the young people on their interest in civic leadership. She also mentioned that she'd been spending considerable time recently writing letters of recommendation for students in their final year who are applying for university scholarships. "A big thing schools look for is work done in the community, and I can't think of a better place to do that than the Leos."

The ceremony itself was led by Lions district governor David Hains. He brought the initiates to the front of the room before their parents and fellow club members.

Hains explained that the first Leos club was founded in 1968 and the program has grown over the years. In the region of eastern Ontario and western Quebec, there are five Leos clubs. Hains said he'd like to increase that number to 10.

The new Leos each held a candle in a ceremony which commemorated a speech Helen Keller gave to the seventh annual Lions convention in 1925. "She challenged us to be knights of the blind. The candle represents bringing light to those people of the world," said Hains.

He told the new Leos that all Lions commit themselves to following a Code of Objects, the first of which is: To create a spirit of understanding amongst the peoples of the world. "Not only in your own school, you have to learn tolerance and respect for all people," said Hains. One Leo then lit a candle and the flame was passed.

Ending the ceremony, Hains encouraged the Leos club not to let their Lions advisors dampen their youthful exuberance. "Have fun at it. Don't let them get away with being too stuffy and stodgy!"

Deighton addresses Golden Years

by Donella MacIntosh

WINCHESTER — The Golden Years Society learned about the Schizophrenia Society at the meeting on Oct. 18. Seventy-four members were present at the Lions Hall, with president Orma Earl in charge.

The president welcomed everyone, and the group sang O Canada and repeated the Lord's Prayer. She read a humorous story about two farmers discussing their land and trucks.

Birthdays and anniversaries were acknowledged, and the treasurer's report was given. Coming events were announced, and a petition was circulated concerning health issues and OHIP.

Percy and June Armstrong gave a report of the USCO conference held in Brantford in August.

Muriel Merkley introduced guest speaker Sheila Deighton of the Schizophrenia Society. She spoke about the crisis in her family and the ordeal the family has gone through. She told about amendments to the mental health act and Brian's Law. She said many more changes need to be made for public awareness, diagnosis and treatment, as well as about the help that is available.

Awards honor OPP 'going beyond the call of duty'

by Lori Gillespie
Press staff

MORRISBURG — Several SD&G OPP detachment officers were honored at the 2001 OPP Awards Ceremony in Morrisburg. The ceremony was held on Tues., Oct. 23 at the Operating Engineers Training Institute of Ontario.

The evening honored officers and personnel for 20, 25 and 30 years of service, as well as officers and civilians for outstanding actions. Commissioner Gwen Boniface presented the awards.

Before beginning the presentations, Boniface told the audience that she had recently visited Ground Zero in New York City, the site of the World Trade Center following the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. "The effort that is taking place speaks of the resolve of the American people, but also of the incredible resolve of the police service," she said.

Boniface added that she lost a friend in the attacks on the WTC.

"We celebrate the awards as a way to say thank you to the members who go above and beyond the line of duty," Boniface said. "We collectively celebrate your service in this room, which has well over two centuries of service collectively in attendance."

She added, "None of the people honored tonight have sought recognition, but they are deserving in praise."

The Canadian Peacekeeping Award, presented to all police officers, civilians and military personnel who have served outside of Canada on an international peacekeeping or observer mission, was awarded to senior constable Denis St. Pierre of the SD&G detachment. Over 1,000 officers from 29 police services across Canada have been awarded the medal.

St. Pierre served in the Western Sahara from Dec. 14, 1997 to June 21, 1998 and in Guatemala from Oct. 15, 1999 to Oct. 15, 2000. During his first tour of duty, he assisted with the identification of possible voters for an upcoming independence referendum in the Western Sahara. On his second tour, he was stationed in the remote mountain village of Barillas, Guatemala, where he monitored the local police's adherence to human rights policies.

The Police Exemplary Service Medal, a national award for police officers who have completed 20 years of exemplary service in Canada, was presented to senior constable Amy Everaars-Bancroft of the SD&G detachment.

The Quarter Century Pin was presented to Margaret Swerdfeger of the SD&G detachment. This award is for a civilian completing 25 years of continuous service with the Government of Ontario.

The Commissioner's Citation for Bravery was presented to sergeant William DeRoos and provincial constable Marc Gadbois, both of the SD&G detachment. On Dec. 20, 2000, the pair responded to a call for assistance from the parents of a 34-year-old schizophrenic man who was out of control. DeRoos was the first to arrive on the scene and obtained background information from the man's parents, who were outside their home. The suspect was alone inside and could be heard yelling and banging on the windows.

Gadbois arrived a short time later and the two officers conferred on a plan of action before they entered the building.

Once inside, they saw the man advancing toward them, brandishing a knife in each hand. Gadbois released a single burst of pepper spray in the suspect's face and the man retreated momentarily, but he then continued to approach them. The spray was administered a second time, with little effect.

The suspect then lunged at the officers and a physical struggle ensued. Despite the man's powerful resistance, DeRoos and Gadbois were eventually able to subdue, handcuff and restrain him. The suspect was subsequently taken to hospital to receive treatment.

Those honored for service at the OPP awards ceremony on Oct. 23 included, left, senior constable Amy Everaars-Bancroft (20 years of service), Margaret Swerdfeger (25 years of service) and senior constable Denis St-Pierre (Canadian Peacekeeping Service medal), all of the SD&G detachment. Council notes from North Dundas

Third reading for bylaw

WINCHESTER — The regular meeting of North Dundas Township council opened on Mon., Oct. 22 with a notice of motion from councillor Al Armstrong. He requested that the third reading of a bylaw to change the size of council and eliminate the ward system in the township be held at the meeting on Mon., Nov. 12.

Consultant's report

Mayor Claude Cousineau announced that a final report had been issued by municipal consultant Richard Tindal. The report will be discussed at a future meeting of council.

Counties official plan

The deadline for approving the SD&G counties official plan has been extended for two months, Cousineau informed council. Therefore, a meeting planned by council with township planner Calvin Pol has been postponed so that Pol can better prepare for the meeting.

Councillor and counties representative Roger Cole said there was a full house at the open house held in Cornwall on Thurs., Oct. 18 to discuss the official plan. He said there were plenty of questions and concerns raised at the meeting. "I think counties council is wise to give at least 60 days' extension," Cole said.

Cousineau encouraged all councillors to read the official plan proposal before a meeting with Pol.

Cole said there are many changes proposed in the official plan. "If people have property in a rural area they should come in (to the township office) to check how their property has been defined," he suggested. Among the issues is a policy to refuse most requests for severed lots from farm properties.

Tax holiday proposed

Council chose to support a motion by Toronto mayor Mel Lastman, forwarded to all Ontario municipalities. A letter from Lastman requested support of council in establishing a tax holiday for Ontario residents.

"Toronto City council has endorsed my motion requesting the provincial and federal governments suspend collection of PST and GST on all clothing items below $75 and school supplies below $20, including Canadian books, this November and next August," the letter read.

In the letter, Lastman said that a tax holiday would be a way to boost consumer spending and assist low income families during difficult times of the year. "The concept has worked in the U.S. and it will work here, too, if we can convince Queen's Park and Ottawa to participate," Lastman said.

Citizens' input necessary for park planning

by Chris Zabel
Press staff

MORRISBURG — The public is encouraged to participate in planning the future of what will become DuPont Provincial Park. Ontario Parks will be conducting three public consultations in Morrisburg in the upcoming months to gather points of view.

The land being considered is a 612-hectare area east of Morrisburg on the waterfront. In 1997, Dupont sold part of and donated the rest of the land to the Nature Conservancy of Canada. Since then, Ontario Parks has been managing the park.

The goal is to make the nature preserve an official provincial park, protected under the Provincial Parks Act. Public consultations are part of this process.

Currently, the park has several trails, which are used for walking and skiing. "It's a nature reserve class of park," said Corina Brdar, a planner with Ontario Parks. "It's to protect the natural features of the area, but people are encouraged to use the trails. Nature is there for people to enjoy."

As a provincial park, the land would be better protected under provincial legislation. Also, it would be monitored more regularly. "We're not looking to open new recreational uses," Brdar. "Although how the park should be used is one of the things we want the public to comment on."

The area of the park has been judged important to preserve because it includes one of the few remaining natural creeks and one of the largest nesting areas for great blue herons in eastern Ontario, as well as a provincially significant coastal wetland complex.

Public consultations have not yet been scheduled. Brdar said the first one will probably be in November. The time and place will be advertised. Two more public meetings will follow, in the new year.

Wear your poppy proudly

Every year on Remembrance Day, and the days leading up to Remembrance Day on Nov. 11, it is important for us to wear our poppies as a gesture of respect and remembrance toward those who fought in wars for our freedom.

This year, after the tragic events of Sept. 11, the poppy has taken on even more importance as we remember those who were lost in past wars, and the war that has so recently begun.

And as the surviving veterans of the First World War and the Second World War begin to dwindle in numbers, and as we begin to see today's young Canadian men take up the battle in support of the United States, it has become even more important that we solemnly observe Remembrance Day.

Please, wear your poppy this week and on Sun., Nov. 11. Wear it proudly. It is a symbol of not just remembrance, but of respect, gratitude and pride.

Why the poppy? Its history is well-known.

After John McCrae's poem In Flanders Fields was published in 1915 the poppy became a popular symbol for soldiers who died in battle. Three years later an American, Moina Michael, was working in a New York City YMCA canteen when she started wearing a poppy in memory of the millions who died on the battlefield.

During a 1920 visit to the United States a French woman, Madame Guerin, learned of the custom. On her return to France she decided to use handmade poppies to raise money for the destitute children in war-torn areas of the country.

In November, 1921, the first poppies were distributed in Canada.

Thanks to the millions of Canadians who wear flowers each November, the little red plant has never died. And neither have Canadian's memories for 116,031 of their countrymen who died in battle.

Wear it proudly, and remember.

L.G.

In Flanders Fields

by John McCrae (1915)

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie,
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

A musing jumble of thought

But seriously...
by Lori Gillespie

Did you ever notice the 50-50-90 rule? Anytime you have a 50-50 chance of getting something right, there's a 90 per cent probability you'll get it wrong.

And while we're talking about statistics, the latest survey shows that three out of four people make up 75 per cent of the world's population.

I wonder how nine out of 10 dentists feel about that?

Forgive the ramblings, I've been doing some thinking about life in general, and I've made some unique, albeit useless, observations.

You might say I got lost in thought, and it was unfamiliar territory.

I've come to the conclusion that everyone has a photographic memory. The problem is, some just don't have film.

I've also noticed that light travels faster than sound, which is why some people appear bright until you hear them speak.

Did you get that last one? Remember, he who laughs last, thinks slowest.

Sometimes it seems as though I'm just not going in the right direction. It feels like I'm diagonally parked in a parallel universe.

And speaking of parking reminds me of shopping. I love shopping so much, but my husband constantly tells me, "You can't have everything — where would you put it?"

So I tell him how important sales actually are to a woman like me. You see, the things that come to those who wait are usually the things left by those who got there first.

He thinks that I spend too much money. But despite the cost of living, have you ever noticed how it remains so popular?

And speaking of the cost of living, it is difficult to understand how a cemetery raised its burial cost and blamed it on the cost of living.

I sure wished the buck stopped here, as I could use a few.

As you know, I earn my money as a newspaper reporter. My motto: You have the right to remain silent. Anything you say will be misquoted then used against you.

On the other hand, you have different fingers.

You know that change is inevitable, except from a vending machine.

And remember, when the chips are down, the buffalo is empty.

I've travelled with my job and met a lot of different people. Seen it all, done it all, can't remember most of it.

But I have learned that those who live by the sword get shot by those who don't.

It is said that if you lined up all the cars in the world end to end, someone would be stupid enough to try and pass them. Actually, it's probably the guy right behind.

Hopefully, that person would be stopped and charged. However, I've found that a fine is a tax for doing wrong. A tax is a fine for doing well. Neither is welcome.

So honk if you love peace and quiet.

In my research, I've found that a day without sunshine is like . . . night.

You won't believe this late-breaking news — it was recently discovered that research causes cancer in rats.

Sometimes I wonder how much deeper the ocean would be without sponges.

Nothing is foolproof to a sufficiently talented fool.

I realize these random musings are mostly absurd and have no relevance to anything useful, but that was the entire point.

Somewhere in these musings, you might have found something amusing. That was the only point of such a task.

I guess I started out with nothing, and I still have most of it.

An ingenious Frenchman conducted an interesting experiment which clearly indicated that bees can tell time. He was in the habit of breakfasting in the open air at 7 am, partaking of light preserves. At the midday meal, no sweets were served, but at 4 pm there was a light lunch with sweets. Within a week, all the bees in the neighborhood began arriving like clockwork, omitting the midday meal where there were no sugary foods. The Frenchman was soon forced to take his meals indoors. However, he continued the experiment by leaving a jar of jam on his window sill for five minutes at the beginning of each hour through the day. The bees made hourly visits with such regularity that the time of day could be judged without reference to a clock.

During the Depression, inability to pay didn't deprive anyone of a haircut in Broken Bow, Nebraska. Contributing their bit to those financially distressed, the barbers in the town agreed to devote one hour each Thursday giving haircuts to those who could not pay for them.

As Britain was preparing for the day when she could match forces with her enemies, the war effort in Winchester was increasing tempo. A public meeting was scheduled for citizens of the village to decide how they would meet their commitment to purchase enough War Savings Certificates each week to purchase one "Blitz Buggy" — a three-man Jeep with machine gun. "Come to this meeting and hear the matter discussed by prominent speakers. Don't let Winchester down — don't let it be said that Winchester citizens are slackers. We have to bear our share of responsibility, the same as every other community — let us put our shoulder to the wheel and go to work in earnest."

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello were starring in Comin' Round the Mountain this week at Winchester Theatre. It turns out that Lou is related to the famous McCoy clan in the Kentucky hills, and with Bud's help, they try to pry the secret of a buried hillbilly treasure out of Granny McCoy. Plans go awry when Lou unintentionally rekindles the flames of the long-standing feud with the Winfields.

Official greeting from the mayor of Winchester in England were delivered to reeve John Fader and Winchester council. Two local citizens vacationing in Britain visited the English city with the same name and were warmly received by the mayor, who asked them to relay greetings. Winchester, England is located in Hampshire and has a history dating back to the days before Christ. Some of the streets which were first laid out by the Romans are still in use. The city was rebuilt in 870 A.D. by Alfred the Great after it was sacked by the Danes, and it was once England's capital. A pen pal relationship was to be struck between high school students in the two Winchesters.

Unusually large vegetables were not uncommon in the district following one of the most productive summers on record. Dave Mackie of Edwards brought several potatoes into the Press office as evidence that his potato patch was the most productive one locally. Three potatoes, placed on the scale, weighed 7 1/4 pounds.

What started as a trickle quickly grew to an avalanche of votes for challenger Bruce Kerr, who upset political veteran Larry Grey in the hotly contested race for reeve of Winchester. Kerr, a businessman and village fire chief, won all seven divisions in the village, garnering 1,088 votes to Grey's 169.

High definition must wait

For the last couple of years, we've been hearing that high definition television is just around the corner — that very soon, we're going to be seeing the clearest and most unbelievable pictures since the first Playboy magazine. So, while I'm waiting, I'm watching normal television. Last night on one channel I saw Peter Jennings; on another was Dan Rather; and on a third was Barbara Walters. Suddenly, I got the feeling that these three are stalling the whole hi-def revolution. They don't want high definition. They want the picture to be as fuzzy and unrealistic as possible.

That's why they use old-person camera lenses. They have no lines on their faces, their eyes aren't clear, and they almost have halos. High definition is obviously for people under 35. Low-def is much easier on the rest of us. So, if you're ever in Hollywood, I suggest you take a piece of wax paper with you. Then, when you're in a restaurant and you see an elderly woman at the next table, try looking at her through the wax paper. I bet you'll say, "Oh my gosh, it's Barbara Walters."

THE PRESENT IS THE GIFT

From Nostradamus on, there have always been people who claim to be able to predict the future. Why are so many of us fascinated with this ability? There's a pretty good chance that it's all baloney, but more importantly, the last thing you want to know is the future. Take a look at your own life over the last 20 years. How much of it would you have preferred to know was coming? You would have been depressed waiting for the bad, and you would have missed the delightful surprise of the good.

It's way better not to know. As long as you have 100 bucks in the bank and an extra pair of clean underwear, you're pretty much ready for whatever the world throws at you. You don't go to movies where you know the ending, and it would be a shame for you to be standing in the lobby while your life plays out on the screen. Most of us have no idea whether or not there's life after death, and that's the way it should be. We all find out eventually, and I think it's very thoughtful that so far, nobody's blabbed.

NO PEAKING

One of the most important lessons in life is not to peak too early. And I don't mean just in the bedroom. We only have to look at people like Gary Coleman or Jerry Mathers to realize that early accomplishment can be extremely debilitating. (Opie is the exception.)

For most of us, it's important to delay success as long as we possibly can. There's nothing worse than being a has-been. The ideal plan is to achieve the zenith of your personal and professional achievements just prior to passing away.

Be sure to point that out to your wife as your excuse for never being successful.

You've just got too much to live for.

MIDLIFE PHYSICS

The physics I learned in high school is no longer valid. Here are a few changes that need to be made to adapt the Laws of Nature to the middle-aged person:

— The shortest distance between two points is the one where you don't have to bend over.

— Bodies in motion tend to fall onto the couch.

— Bodies at rest tend to be disturbed.

— Whatever goes up, you probably sold last week.

— Energy can neither be created nor destroyed. It can, however, be wasted.

— Infinite mass is achieved at the speed of light and also during Thanksgiving dinner.

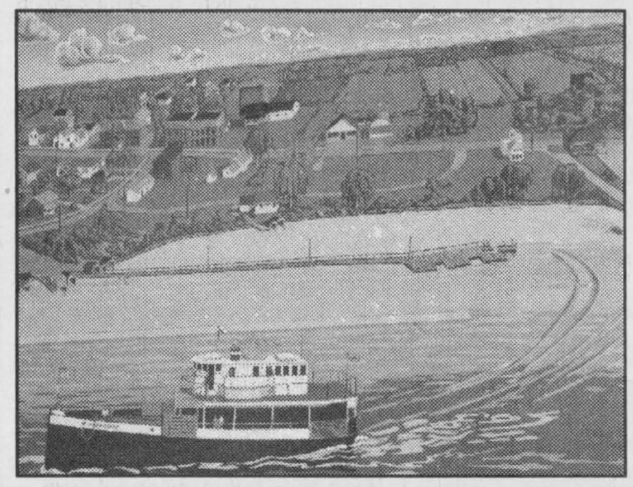
Morrisburg paints the town

Larger-than-life murals depict colorful history of area



Former ferryboat captain Junior Cassell and artist Cathy Cooper-Scrivener cut the ribbon at the unveiling of the Morrisburg Valu-Mart mural Oct. 27. The mural depicts the town before the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in the 1950s.

by Susan Demaray

MORRISBURG — Murals celebrating the history of Morrisburg were unveiled on Sat., Oct. 27, making the village a bit more colorful.

The murals depict Morrisburg around 1910 and the waterfront of the town before the St. Lawrence Seaway was built in the 1950s.

Cathy Cooper-Scrivener, who painted the mural of pre-seaway Morrisburg, now hanging on the side of the Valu-Mart store, cut the ribbon for the official unveiling of her mural with Capt. Junior Cassell, the last captain of the ferryboat which is a centrepiece of the painting.

Cooper-Scrivener thanked those in attendance at the ceremony for their support and the privilege of working on the mural. "Without all of you none of this could have been done," she said. "We've done this together."

Mike Vrab, store manager of Valu-Mart, said he was honored that his store was chosen to display the mural. "Reaction the last week or so since it's been up has been great," he said.

After the ribbon-cutting at Valu-Mart, the ceremony moved to the Upper Canada Playhouse for the unveiling of the second mural, painted on the front of the theatre.

Michael Kelly is the Iroquois artist who was chosen to paint the mural, a depiction of the south side of Morrisburg's Main Street as it was around 1910. Kelly was joined by Chuck Irvine, president of the Morrisburg District Lions Club, which donated money toward the mural project, and Glen Swerdfeger, president of the Upper Canada Playhouse board of directors, for the official ribbon-cutting for his mural.

"It has been a great honor to bring the history of this area to life," said Kelly. "The history of our community will not soon be forgotten."

Swerdfeger said the Playhouse was happy to provide a home for the mural. "It makes the front of the building as entertaining as the inside is during the summer season," he said.

The artists were thanked and praised as the ceremony continued inside the playhouse.

"We got to know these artists and to love them," said Kay Keyes, a member of the Morrisburg Mural jury, which helped decide on the content of the murals and choose the artists. "Neither one of these artists had ever seen old Morrisburg. All they had to go on was what we told them and some black and white photos."

The murals were painted as part of the South Dundas Mural Project, an initiative of the township to create a pictorial history of the township. Begun earlier this year, the project has seen murals unveiled in Dundela and Williamsburg, and there will be more in the future.

"There are many stories that need to be told," said Glen Cunningham, chair of the South Dundas Mural Committee. "We've only touched the fringe."

Focussing on news

Most of our students have been spending time discussing the current world events. A couple of our senior students organized a fundraiser to help the innocent children trapped in the conflict. We were pleased to welcome Bert Cunningham, who addressed the senior class about his experiences in the Middle East and how what is happening there influences the other events going on. All classes have been praying regularly for peace in God's world.

Our school families are preparing boxes of gifts for Operation Christmas Child, one of the programs of Samaritan's Purse. While students were enjoying an extra long weekend, the teachers of TCS joined the approximately 700 other Christian school teachers from around the province at the annual convention in Hamilton.

A number of volunteers worked hard to prepare and sell apple pies. Over $9,400 was raised for the school. Students begin the chocolate bar sale next month. They are hoping to raise about $5,000 for the Student Fund.

Finally, a lot of fine teaching and learning took place in the month of October.

Despite all the muscle, this beast is a beauty to drive. Its state-of-the-art hydroformed frame and front end deliver a stronger, stiffer ride. A ride further enhanced by exceptionally responsive rack-and-pinion steering and beefier brakes.

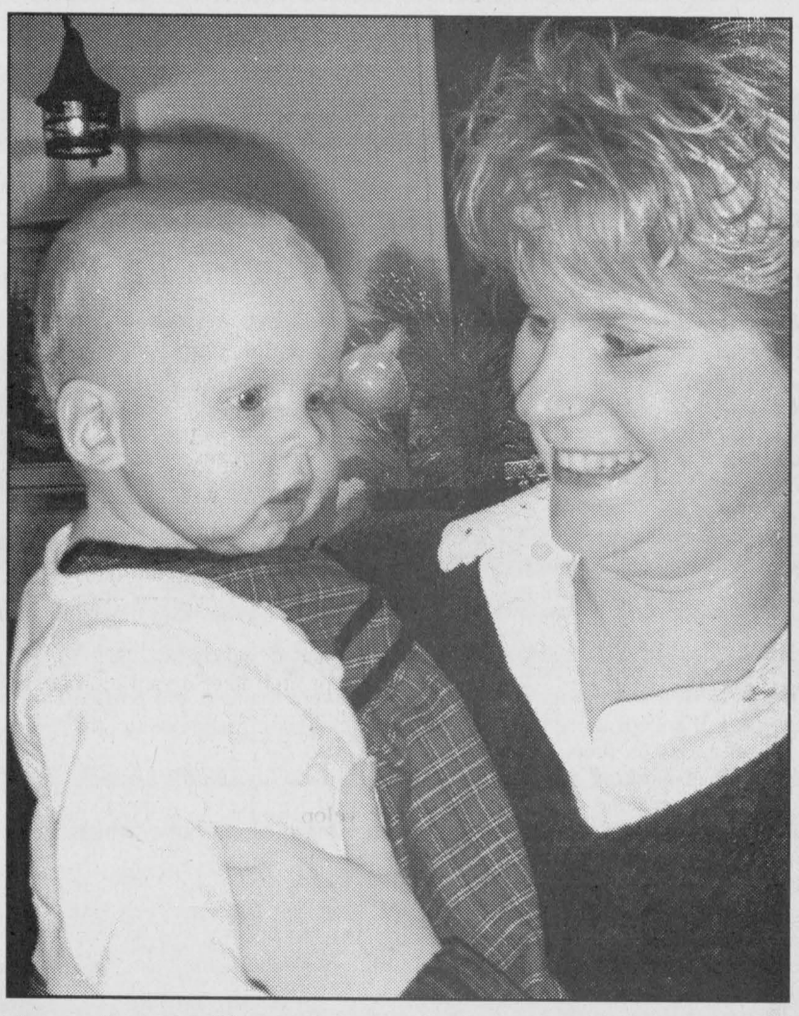
Tribute for John Van Delst

It is difficult to know where to start and where to end when it comes to John. There is so much to be said that is nearly impossible to capture it all, put it into words and say it in a few minutes.

John had a good life, and like with every good life he also had his hardships. John had no boundaries when it came to family. He did everything for us, no matter how inconvenient to him.

John was a jack of all trades and master of pretty much all of them. He had a beautiful disposition, always logical, mostly quiet, never boastful or impulsive. Nothing he ever did was done in bad spirits or with ill faith. His smiling face will be missed. His presence is already missed.

I know that now, his brothers, sisters, friends, grandchildren and you Diny, Derrick, Janet, Karen, David, Peter and Mark all have an angel to watch over you and I could not think of a better one than John.



Loving tribute

Shannon Van Bridger and seven-month-old daughter Brittany Carkner officially opened the Hallville United Church Women's Craft Sale on Sat., Nov. 3 at the Mountain Community Hall. Shepherd Talk

by Rev. Walter Lynett

Jesus, light of the world

As we enter into the dark days of November, we are reminded of death. The world of nature, in this northern hemisphere, is now entering into a type of death as the leaves fade and fall and the grass withers and dies. This can lead us to consider the brevity of our own lives here on earth. We humans subconsciously deny our own personal death just as we reject the idea of being mortified by unhappy circumstance.

However, experience teaches us that just as our own personal mortifications can bring us to a new appreciation of our own lives, so also, faith assures us that our "final death" is but a prelude to the newness of life for eternity with the source of our being, which we call God.

If we study the gospel accounts of Jesus' life here on earth, we become more and more convinced that He is indeed the light of this world. Jesus came to teach us that the darkness can never overcome light. He did this by teaching us how to be human — good human beings. He taught us how to develop our humanity by learning how to die to "the self". The world, of course, rejects this as paradoxical nonsense, and cajoles our ego into finding fulfilment and happiness by catering to the wants and desires of the here and now. And it is so easy for us to follow the way of the world when we can easily dispel darkness by the flick of a switch or by indulging in passing delights. But deep down, we know that the allurements of this world are illusionary and can easily lead people into the darkness of man's inhumanity to man.

The events of this past fall, especially, tell us the terrible consequences of catering to the self, as the fear of a new kind of war invades our lives. The terrible prospect of death and defeat is no longer restricted to the people "over there". We have been shaken into the reality that death and destruction now threaten our own doorsteps.

But the Good News urges us to be of good heart. Just as many of us find light in the prospect of the nearing Christmas festivities, so also we can find lightness of heart in the realization that the spirit of Jesus is even now with us.

Let us often invoke His spirit in our down days and discover He has truly defeated death for us all. Let us renew our attempts to be better followers of Jesus and experience the warmth of His light.

Keeping Health In Mind

"Keeping Health In Mind" is a monthly newspaper column made possible with the help of the Lannin Business Centre, the Winchester Press and the clinical staff of Tri-County Mental Health Services, a community program of the Cornwall General Hospital.

Grieving the Loss of Innocence

Most people go through life trying to look on the bright side, crossing that worrisome bridge when they come to it, trying to see the silver lining on those dark grey clouds. This has become a little harder for many people with the recent world events. We struggle to see the positive events, the good deeds, the outpouring of generosity and help. But we are faced with demoralizing news reports and worries about our personal safety, and at times there seems to be little hope. In some respects, we have lost our innocence. The world seems to have changed and we are trying to cope.

Grief can come in many forms, and for many different reasons. It is not always the death of a loved one that can trigger symptoms of grief. Life includes loss, and sometimes understanding the process of grieving can help us work through our losses and recognize that there can be hope.

Grieving is often described in stages, but there are many ways to move through these stages. Often, following a loss, we tend to express feelings of shock or denial. 'I can't believe this could happen,' or 'It's not real.' This numbness can be protective – giving us some time to come to grips with the loss or traumatic event.

Once the numbness passes, we are often left with a great deal of emotional pain. For some, this is expressed in anger – trying to find someone to blame. Blame is not always reasonable or rational – often it is directed at whoever is most convenient, and not always the responsible parties. Although anger is normal, it can also use up a lot of energy.

That excess energy and tension we feel when we're angry often fades into feelings of sadness or even depression: 'Nothing will ever be the same again,' and 'What's the use – there's no good in the world any more.' We may cry over our perceived loss and lose hope for the future.

How can we cope with this profound change in our lives and in the world around us? By working through our emotional responses towards acceptance. Gradually we may again notice those kind words from a neighbor, or a smile from that person we passed on the street. We are able to remind ourselves again that there's good all around us. We accept that what has been lost can be faced – not in the complete absence of pain, but maybe with a little less. We learn to live within the change, and accept it as part of life.

There is no 'right' or 'wrong' way to grieve, but one thing is certain: it's harder to do alone – so reach out. That worrisome bridge might not seem so hard to cross with someone at your side. The bright side is there, as is that silver lining, but sometimes we need to look a little harder to find it.

WINCHESTER — Five acres of land at the south end of Winchester produced nearly 10 tonnes of corn for the Canadian Foodgrains Bank this fall. The field might have sat idle this year, but instead, with donated seed and volunteered time, the land yielded food to help abate world hunger.

The plot of land behind Irven's Gas Bar was recently purchased by the Discovery Bible Fellowship. The group currently meets on Sundays at Winchester Public School, and bought the land as the future location of a church.

The land hadn't been used for anything for the last several years, and it might have continued to be unproductive, but members of the fellowship decided to plant it. Fertilizer and seed were donated by Agrico Canada in Winchester. The work of planting and harvesting was done by farmers in the church.

Members of Winchester's Discovery Bible Fellowship harvested nearly 10 tonnes of corn this fall, which they've donated to the Canadian Foodgrains Bank. Fellowship members who worked on the project included Jack Hoogenboom (right), Oskar Zollinger and David Barkley. Ian Fetterly (left), manager of Winchester Grain Elevator, agreed to donate storage of the grain.

The result was 9.91 tonnes of corn, worth roughly $1,250. Oskar Zollinger combined the field last week. Storage for the corn at Winchester Grain Elevator was also donated.

This is the first time Winchester's Discovery Bible Fellowship has undertaken a project for the Canadian Foodgrains Bank (CFB). Church member Jack Hoogenboom said they will probably plant the field again next year.

The CFB was established in 1983 as a Canadian-based Christian organization that helps provide food and development assistance to people in need. The organization has grown to be among the largest private food aid providers in the world. To date, the CFB has provided over 800,000 tonnes of food to hungry people throughout the world.

Farmers can make donations of grain, corn, oilseeds, pulse crops and other agricultural commodities at most grain elevators in Canada. If the grainbank's stocks are high, grain may be sold to supplement bagging and shipping costs. The CFB also benefits from money from the Canadian International Development Agency which matches shipments on a 4:1 basis.

The CFB offers its support regardless of religious or political affiliation, sending food to many of the world's poorest nations. Afghanistan is a good example of one of these nations. Following a third successive year of drought, the people of Afghanistan are threatened by a serious famine. The almost total failure of the 2001 harvest means some 5 million people will require humanitarian food aid to survive.

Last May, a CFB mission to Afghanistan witnessed all the classic early warning signs of famine in many parts of the country. Herdsmen were selling livestock at distress prices. Food prices were soaring. People were migrating in search of work and food. The rural poor were falling into debt in order to buy food.

Over the last three years, the CFB has supplied 3,600 tonnes of food to Afghanistan.

Strawberries in November?

Howard Kennedy of Vernon shows off his ripening strawberries in a garden behind his house. He was given eight plants last May, and they blossomed regularly throughout the season. However, they haven't stopped blossoming yet — well into November. Kennedy said he has been picking eight to 10 berries a week throughout the fall. The berries also taste as good as they did in June. MNR only approves applications for functions in which all profits are donated to charities or returned to resource management projects that benefit Ontario's fish and wildlife. There is no fee for the authorization.

An authorization is not required for functions where all of the fish or wildlife being served have been purchased from a licensed operation such as a commercial fishery, farm or private culture facility.

Applications should be made at least 60 days prior to the function. An information package and application form is available from: Ministry of Natural Resources, Kemptville District Office, Postal Bag 2002, Concession Road, Kemptville, ON, K0G 1J0. Telephone 613-258-8204.

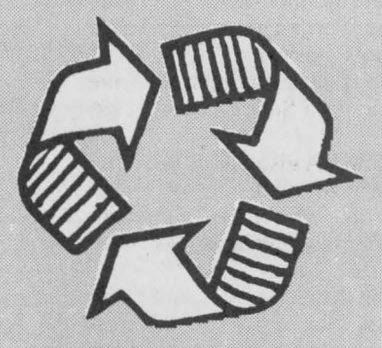
Recycle • Reduce Reuse



Canadians use about 200 million aerosol cans per year. That's approximately seven per person.

Making new cardboard from recycled cardboard takes 25 per cent less energy than using fibre from new wood.

When scrap iron is used instead of iron ore to make steel, water consumption is reduced by about 50 per cent.

Recycling one aluminum can saves energy equal to that needed to operate a television for three hours.

For every dollar spent on disposable diapers, the taxpayer must spend an additional 8¢ to dispose of them.

Recycling

Most materials that society uses are technically recyclable. They can be collected, reprocessed and manufactured back into the same product as before. For example, a glass bottle may be made back into a glass bottle, a metal can into a new metal can or a newspaper back into a new newspaper. This is called "closed-loop" recycling. But often materials are manufactured into other types of products. For example, a glass bottle might be crushed into powder to be used for sandblasting buildings or an old tire might end up being recycled into a rubber gymnasium floor, This is called "open-loop" recycling.

When new products are made from recycled materials, they require less energy and create less pollution. It also means that no new resources must be extracted from the earth through mining, logging or other damaging activities. Recycling also means that less garbage winds up being dumped in landfill sites.

So why isn't everything recycled? Unfortunately, not everyone uses their local recycling program, because they may perceive that simply throwing things away is more convenient. Sometimes, recycling programs are not available, particularly outside of the home. Even if a community does have a recycling program, it will not necessarily collect everything that can be recycled. This is because some materials cost more to recycle than others. In such cases, it may be financially cheaper to make new products and packages from raw materials. Part of the solution is to ensure that more products are made from recycled materials by seeking out and purchasing those products, thus helping to create the markets for them.

RECYCLE
...We're Running Out of Room.

Reduction

In Canada, we throw out more per person than the citizens of any other country in the world. Each of us produces 1.7 kg of waste each day – roughly our body weight in garbage every single month. We don't usually see these mountains of trash, we simply set out garbage and recyclables out at the curb and they disappear, right? Well, not exactly: The garbage is taken to one of 10,000 landfill sites in Canada – sites that are filling up fast! New ones are very expensive and finding room for them is extremely difficult, since no one wants to live next door to a 'dump'. Not only that, but there are few places where it is safe to build landfill sites, since leakage can pose a serious threat to nearby environments and water sources.

Because the issue is so serious, governments across Canada have set goals to reduce waste by 50 per cent or more. Many communities now have recycling programs for a range of materials. But recycling alone is not enough to solve the waste crisis. In fact, as important as recycling is, it is still an industrial process that uses energy to collect and process the materials and, in so doing, creates a certain amount of pollution. That's why reducing waste before it can become a problem should be a first priority for governments, businesses and individuals.

Reuse

Reuse involves using a product or package more than once. In fact, the more often a product can be used, the fewer new replacements will be required. From an environmental perspective, reuse is generally favorable to recycling and is certainly better than simply using something once and then discarding it.

Unfortunately, while people still reuse things, particularly durable products (cars, furniture, clothing, appliances, etc.), mass-produced items generally are not designed to be repaired or reused. Packaging is also less reusable than it once was. Many people find a second use for plastic bags, bottles and other types of packaging, but with a few minor exceptions, the days of reusable or refillable consumer packaging are gone. Today disposable packaging makes up one-third of the volume of waste entering our landfill sites.

Canadians take home more than 55 million plastic shopping bags each week, or almost eight million every day! Using just two paper lunch bags per day for one year requires the wood of an entire 15-year-old tree. You can simply stow a supply of extra bags in your car, desk and on your person in order to have them for the next trip to the store. A string bag fits easily into a purse or pocket.

North Dundas takes two Mega titles

WINCHESTER — North Dundas placed three teams in "A" finals and wound up collecting a pair of gold medals in the minor hockey association's fifth annual Mega Tournament.

The North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons defeated the Gloucester Black Hawks 4-2, thanks in part to a Darrel Moore hat trick, to earn their gold medal in a Sunday evening (Nov. 4) encounter in Chesterville.

Gold medal number one was claimed by the North Dundas Pee Wee "B" Demons, who nipped Casselman 3-2 on a Travis Froats goal at 4:04 of overtime in a Sunday afternoon contest.

The host NDMHA also had three teams earn bronze medals: Tom Gilles posted the shutout as the Novice "C" Demons blanked the Akwesasne Attack 2-0 in their "C" final; the Atom "C" Demons got two-goal efforts from Zack Peters and Ethan Van Koppen as they tamed the Akwesasne Attack 6-2 in the "C" final; and the Bantam "C" Demons knocked off the Morrisburg Lions 4-3 in overtime on a Patrick Greaves goal which came with 0:13.5 seconds left on the clock.

North Dundas' Novice "B" Demons lost 3-0 to Cornwall in their silver medal match. The Atom "B" Demons were defeated 5-4 by South Ottawa in their silver-medal encounter and the Pee Wee "C" Demons lost 3-1 to Gananoque in their gold-medal showdown.

Mega Tournament 2001 featured 48 teams playing a total of 64 games in eight divisions. Play got under way last Thursday (Nov. 1) in both the Winchester and Chesterville arenas and finished up around 9:30 pm Sunday (Nov. 4) evening.

NDMHA president Gerald Beuman and the tournament's main sponsor Andy Hamel of Andy's Foodland officially opened the event on Friday evening in Winchester. Beuman thank Hamel for his generous support and wished all of the participants the best of luck.

Tournament director Gary Johnson reported the event was a resounding success. "Of course there were a few minor burps. We heard very few complaints about the officiating, had to deal with one injury, but generally heard nothing but praise about the organization of the tournament. Everyone was pretty impressed that we gave each player a (regulation) hockey stick. The kids thought that was great."

Johnson noted how close all of the final games were, reporting that five of eight were decided in overtime, and two more in shootouts. "There was some fantastic hockey played, especially in the finals. The kids seemed to enjoy it — and that's what it is all about."

GOLD MEDALS

North Dundas claimed gold medals in the Bantam "B" and Pee Wee "B" divisions.

Darrel Moore was the star in the "A" final, netting three goals in the Demons 4-2 win over the Gloucester Black Hawks. He scored in the first frame from Mitch Scott, in the second from Scott and Devin Kelly and with 4:23 left in the game on a play set up by Brad Switch and Scott. Switch popped in the winning shot after taking a pass from Travis Armstrong and Brian Cummings at 7:19 of period two.

A Brad Switch goal (from Adam Guy and Matt VanGurp) with 3:55 left in the game handed the Demons a 3-2 win over South Grenville on Nov. 1. Devin Kelly and Adam Guy had the other markers. Grant Hillis, Darrel Moore, Switch and Guy picked up the assists.

North Dundas locked up a trip to the "A" final by knocking off Russell 3-1 on Nov. 3. Tory Baldwin cracked in two goals and assisted on the other by Brad Switch. Travis Armstrong and Aaron Levere also drew assists. The team's goaltending chores were shared by Matt Bird and Craig Moran.

PEE WEE "B"

Travis Froats scored unassisted at 4:04 of overtime to lift the North Dundas Pee Wee "B" to a 3-2 victory over Casselman in their gold-medal game.

Froats also scored from Dean Moore and Matt Simms with 0:36 seconds left in regulation time to tie it up 2-2. He also assisted Colin Moran, who netted the team's opening goal with 9:37 left in period three.

North Dundas opened the event by destroying Ottawa West 8-1 on Nov. 2. Colin Shay (2), Matt Cracknell (2), Colin Moran, Spencer Derue, Dan Byvelds and Matt Simms scored the goals. Assists went to Jarrod McNaughton (3), Travis Froats (2), Byvelds, Simms, Moore, Tyler Fawcett, Shay and Adam Dillabough.

Froats potted a pair of goals in game two on Nov. 4 as the Demons secured a spot in the "A" final by edging the Embrun Panthers 3-2. Cracknell scored the other marker while MacNaughton (2), Tyler Fawcett, Joey Grozelle and Colin Moran picked up the assists.

Graham Cooper and Chad Kennedy shared the goaltending duties.

The Jets edged East Ottawa 5-4 in a shootout to earn the Mega Tournament 2001 "A" championship on Sunday afternoon (Nov.4). Sam Doucet, Doug Harvey (penalty shot) and McMurty netted Metcalfe's first three goals. Connor McLaren made it 4-3, scoring with 34 seconds left in regulation time, only to have Ottawa tie it up 0:03.4 before the final buzzer. Patriotes put brakes on Devils' winning streak

CORNWALL — Going into Cornwall and knocking off the powerful La Citadelle Patriotes is a tall order at the best of times. For the North Dundas Devils, a school that hasn't played much ball in the past couple of years, to scratch out a pair of wins would be wishful thinking.

The undefeated and SD&G "AA" girls high school basketball league-leading Patriotes swept both ends of the senior - junior twin bill on Tuesday (Oct. 30) taking the senior tilt 48-22 and the junior encounter 48-20.

Senior Devils coach Justin McNamee referred to the ESLC as being among the best teams in eastern Ontario and attributes their success to being able to put players into their lineup for the scholastic campaign who have an extensive background in travelling-league play.

The double losses slammed the brakes on a nifty winning streak the Devils had been on. It was the first loss after five consecutive victories for the Junior Devils and the first in three games for the seniors. With just one regular season game left on the schedule the Junior Devils are sporting a 5-2 mark and the seniors are 3-4.

Tomorrow (Thurs., Nov. 8) the regular season comes to an end with the Devils entertaining the Rothwell/Osnabruck Lancers on the Maple Ridge hardwood.

JUNIOR DEVILS

Danielle Quesnel highlighted play in the opening quarter of the game straining a pair of three-point buckets through the string as the Devils and Junior Pats played to an 8-8 draw.

Things fell apart for coach Jevon Grove's charges in the second period as La Citadelle outscored the visitors 18-4 opening up a 26-12 lead by half time. Things didn't improve much in the second half as the Pats won both quarters by 11-6 and 11-2 margins to expand their final margin of victory to 48-20. The Devils hadn't lost since the SJSS Panthers knocked them off on the opening day of the season (Sept. 27). The win improved the Patriotes league record to 6-0 and their overall mark to 16-5.

La Citadelle's Mireille Lemire led all shooters firing in 12 points. Isabelle Ainslie was second-best ringing up 10.

Quesnel and Meaghan Kittle shared the lead in Devils' point production with six. Kaley Cochrane netted four while Teri Lacelle and Bailey Lewis each dunked a deuce.

SENIOR DEVILS

Outscored 21-6 in the opening half of their game the Senior Devils had little chance of recovering and wound up dropping a 48-22 decision which knocked them one game below the 500 mark to 3-4.

Pats' Emily Lefebvre counted the lone bucket from three-point territory. Chantal Mainville topped the point parade with nine points. She knocked down all nine in the second half.

Morgan Scott was the Devils' top gunner for hitting for five points. Ashleigh Craig (4), Lauren Klimpke, Atumi Sato, Heather Velthuis, Kim Dings and Erin Cochrane also contributed to the offence.

Raistrick new Jets coach

METCALFE — Nine games into the 2001-2002 Valley - Metro Junior "B" Hockey League season the Metcalfe Jets have made a coaching change.

Gone is first-year head coach Ross Angus and his assistant Gil Fraser, both of Ottawa, and in is Winchester native Rob Raistrick.

Raistrick, in his third year as an assistant coach with the Rideau St. Lawrence Junior "B" Hockey League's Winchester Hawks, joined the Jets last Thursday (Nov. 1).

The former Hawks team captain inherited a 3-7-1 record and fourth-place team in the five-team Metro Division. His first game on the bench was an 8-7 overtime loss to the Perth Blue Wings on Friday (Nov. 2) and his second a 5-4 setback at the hands of the Carleton Place Kings on Sunday (Nov. 4).

"Both of the games were one-goal games from start to finish. They would score, we would score. It sure was exciting. I believe we have plenty of potential in Metcalfe. We didn't win but we were close," offered the new coach.

Raistrick explained that Jets' owner/manager Kendell Skillen had offered him the job last week and he accepted on Thursday. "It was the hardest decision I have ever made. I called all kinds of hockey people to make sure I was doing the right thing. It sure was a sad day, in one respect, and an exciting one in another."

Raistrick said it was an opportunity that doesn't present itself very often and one he thought he had better take.

Sports 2001

"I want everyone in Winchester to know, I did not jump ship. I have spent 10 years (five as a player) with the same team and never missed a game. I have nothing against the Hawks. In fact, I have to thank Dave Corkery for giving me the opportunity to get into coaching and thank him for all he has taught me. I also want to thank the Hawks organization for everything."

One aspect of the new job Raistrick found appealing is the fact he is answering to one man — owner/manager, Kendell Skillen. "Kendell told me when he asks me a question he wants an answer. That's it. He wants to know what is going on. He gave me three months to turn the ship around."

Raistrick said he, through his many contacts, has new players coming out to try and catch on with the Jets. "It is much easier to recruit players from Ottawa because it is so close to the city. We have some new "D" coming and a goalie. All have Central (Jr. "A") experience."

The sporting goods store manager says he has several interviews lined up with potential assistant coaches and will make some changes to the lineup to turn things around in Metcalfe.

"I really like our offence, lots of former Jr. "A" players (six of nine). We have the talent but need some help on "D" and some experience in goal," he said. "I hope to be in third place by the end of December. I want to set a realistic goal for the kids."

As for the club he is leaving Raistrick also feels the Hawks have plenty of potential and talent.

"They have so much talent. They do need the desire and have to learn how to win. Their third line also has to step up and play hard. Winchester is just one or two players away from winning," he said.

HOME GAMES

This weekend the Jets will host a pair of games at the Larry Robinson Arena. On Friday night (Nov. 9) the Arnprior Packers will be in town at 8:15 pm and on Sunday afternoon (Nov. 11) the squad from Buckingham is in for a 2:15 pm matinee.

Third period rally falls short, Hawks lose 5-3 in Alexandria

ALEXANDRIA — Down 3-0 after 40 minutes of Sunday afternoon's match at the Billy Gebbie Arena in Alexandria, the Winchester Hawks rallied and scored three goals but had to leave Glengarry County with yet another loss on their Rideau - St. Lawrence Junior "B" Hockey League record.

In their last five defeats the Hawks haven't been beaten by more than three goals. They continue to play their opponents tough but can't score enough goals.

Sunday's (Nov. 4) setback left the Hawks in sixth and last place in the St. Lawrence Division with a 4-8-1 record (last year they were 4-9-0 after 13 games). They have nine points and trail both Morrisburg (4-9-2) and Akwesasne (4-8-1) by just one point. It is then a five-point gap between the Hawks and third-place Kemptville (6-7-1) who have 14.

"We are by no means out of it yet. It looks as if Char-Lan (10-2-0) and Alexandria (10-4-0) are the teams to beat at this time. But the rest can be caught. We have to regroup and come to play hard every night," commented Hawks coach Dave Corkery.

Sunday's matinee was the only game the Hawks played over the weekend. Tonight (Wed., Nov. 7) they will play host to the Char-Lan Rebels in a game rescheduled from last Friday (Nov. 2). And Friday night (Nov. 9) the Morrisburg Lions come to town for an 8:15 pm meeting. Saturday night (Nov. 10) they travel to Cornwall Island to take on the Akwesasne Wolves.

"Once again, this is a big weekend for us. If we play 60 minutes of hockey we can do ourselves a big favor. These are teams we are trying to catch," he said.

RAZOR GONE

In off-the-ice news, coach Corkery announced that he has lost the services of his assistant of over two years, Rob "Razor" Raistrick. The former Hawks player and team captain has take over as head coach of the Metro Division's Metcalfe Jets.

"Rob told us last Thursday (Nov. 1) that he had been offered the head coaching job in Metcalfe. He didn't want to leave but said it was an opportunity he just had to take. He certainly will be missed," explained Corkery.

Corkery pointed to Raistrick's vast network of hockey contacts and recruiting system, which were starting to pay dividends for Winchester. "Rob spent the last year and a half making contacts and recruiting. Players were just starting to come our way. Now we have to re-establish all of that."

Corkery said Raistrick was popular with the players and was well-known in hockey circles.

"We the Hawks, wish Rob all of the best. I know he will do well in Metcalfe," added Corkery.

Raistrick's position on the bench has been filled by former Winchester Hawks, Cornwall Colt and Westport Rideau — Tylor Copeland. The Winchester resident joined the Hawks coaching staff this fall and will step up and take more responsibility as Corkery's right-hand man.

GLENS 5 - HAWKS 3

"A little more effort and a little more good luck and that game was ours," suggested Corkery following Sunday's loss in Alexandria.

The Hawks mentor reported four of Alexandria's five goals were of the garbage variety and said even Glens' coach Marc Sauve was laughing about the quality of his squad's markers.

"They score almost by accident and we hit two goal posts (Nik Paas and Chris Nielson) and miss a penalty shot (Nielson). We can't seem to buy a goal," offered the coach.

Corkery said the game wasn't very well played by either team but his team's overall defensive coverage was brutal. "We have to learn to play in both ends of the rink. We have to play with pride. We win as a team and lose as a team."

Louis Brisson bagged three of the Glens goals, including the winner at 18:35 of period three. Ghislain Valande and Steve VanDerOaldaar pegged the others.

Joe Dow used a pass provided by Ryan Watts and Chris Nielson to get the Hawks on the board at 15:27 of the final frame. Newcomer Jim Nolan then fired in the next two, clicking from James Sarsfield and Dow at 13:09 and from Dow and Nielson at 4:41.

Corkery juggled his lines, moving Nolan to the top unit with Chris Nielson and Joe Dow and putting Shawn Smail with Liam Turpin and Nik Paas. He also reported veteran Justin Heuff was AWOL and rookie defender Liam Tyrell was injured in Sunday's game.

Darling leads CK Cyclones to second win

WINCHESTER — Robbie Darling fashioned a genuine hat-trick and led the Country Kitchen Cyclones to their second win of the 2001-2002 Winchester Town Hockey League campaign. Darling also earned an assist as the Cyclones blew away the KTC Flyers 7-3 in the Oct. 30 encounter.

Darling's four-point effort also helped him move into the WTHL's list of top scorers and break up the domination by the first-place Ben's Pioneer Gas Bar Rangers. The front-running Rangers continued their domination by wrecking the Boyd Chrysler Rams 11-4 in the other half of the Tuesday night twin bill.

After five games the Rangers (5-0-0) have collected all 10 points, the Boyd Rams (3-2-0) have earned six, the C.K. Cyclones (1-3-1) three and the KTC Flyers (0-4-1) one point.

Scott Rintoul slapped a pair of pucks into Bruce Graham's cage as the Cyclones opened up a 3-0 first-half lead on the Flyers. His first was unassisted at 22:43 and his second finished off a play started by Ray Sherrer 8:47 before the first half. Al Christophersen sandwiched a goal in between the two when he scored from Mike Ennis at 11:54.

Rob Darling's first of three increased the lead to 4-0 when he scored on a feed from Mike Wetzel at 24:19 of the second half.

That goal triggered a three-goal outburst by the Flyers who scrambled back into contention at 4-3. Troy McNaughton (from Jason Ouellette and Jamie Hyndman) beat Cyclones stopper Kent Pilon at 19:06 to cut the deficit to 4-1. Ryan Filion (from Jeff Holmes and Ryan Swerdfeger) then clicked to make it 4-2. McNaughton (from Derek Rintoul) closed the gap to a goal, making it 4-3 at the 13:25 mark.

Unfortunately for the Flyers, 4-3 was as close as they could get. Darling nailed a pass from Mike Wetzel and Scott Rintoul home with 12:11 to go and opened up a 5-3 lead for the Cyclones. He then assisted Mike Ennis, who doubled the difference to 6-2 at 5:30. Darlings' third tally was cashed in 1:29 before the final buzzer and made it a 7-3 final. Robert Jordan and Christophersen engineered the play.

RANGERS AGAIN

Paced by Dereck "Wendell" Holmes two-goal, six-assist effort the undefeated Ben's Pioneer Gas Bar Rangers gassed another opponent last Tuesday.

The number-two ranked Boyd Chrysler Rams were the victims on this occasion, going down by an 11-4 count.

It was 7-1 at the half with Holmes (2), Chris Williams, Mark Guy, Victor Blake, Chad Brownlee and John Guy all denting the twine.

Brownlee fired in two while John Guy and Jerrold Boulanger snapped in singles in the second half to drive the final difference to 11-4. Holmes (6), Mark Guy (4), Brad Holmes, Curtis Hambly, Brownlee, Hal Thompson, Boulanger, John Guy and Blake all collected assists. Craig "JB" Smith posted his fifth consecutive win.

Jay Holmes, Matt Wetzel, Paul Polite and Kevin Pebbles replied for the Rams. Steve Norton, Kevin Henry, John Ralko and Wetzel were the set-up men.

Corkery blanks Morrisburg 4-0

MORRISBURG — Spencer Corkery registered the shutout as the visiting North Dundas Novice House No. 2) Demons blanked the Morrisburg Blue Lions 4-0 in Upper Canada Minor Hockey League action on Nov. 1.

The game was scoreless after one period. North Dundas took the lead in the second on the first of three Eric Lebraque goals. Justin Dietrich and Slater Koekkoek assisted on what would be the winning tally at 5:22 of the second. Koekkoek then used a pass from Emma Fraser and Miranda Carruthers to make it 2-0 3:32 before the end of the session.

Lebraque then finished off the scoring, cracking home a shot with 4:26 and 1:16 left in the game. Dietrich and James Burgess set up the first while Fraser and Carruthers assisted on the final marker.

On Sunday (Nov. 4) the Demons were in Long Sault where they dropped a 5-3 decision to the South Stormont Selects. The loss put North Dundas' record at 2-4-0.

Coach Dave Corkery reported the team has continued to improve since they last faced the Selects and were trimmed 14-4.

Slater Koekkoek, Miranda Carruthers and Spencer Corkery netted the North Dundas goals. Emma Fraser and Cinnamon Boulanger picked up an assist each and Justin Dietrich took his turn tending the goal.

South Stormont drew the game's only penalty.

North Dundas goaltender Chris Currie felt the crush during a UCMHL encounter with the South Grenville Rangers last Tuesday (Oct. 30) in Chesterville. Currie stood up to the pressure, backing the Parmalat Midget "B" squad in a 4-2 win. Dan Marion, Derek Vingerhoeds, Justin Morozuk and Spencer Dawson supplied the goals for the 2-0-1 Demons.

Demons undefeated in first three matches

CHESTERVILLE — Some acrobatic third-period goaltending by Chris Currie helped the North Dundas Parmalat Midget "B" Demons hold off the South Grenville Rangers and extend their undefeated string to three games.

With Currie standing on his head at the north end of the Chesterville Arena, the North Dundas offence cracked in a pair of third-period goals in the south end to secure the 4-2 victory over the Rangers on Oct. 30. Justin Morozuk converted a pass provided by Nathan Thompson and Brodie Spratt into the game-winning tally at 13:54 of the final frame. A slapshot goal by Spencer Dawson with 3:19 left on the clock sealed the deal. Nathan Thompson and Mike Tutton assisted on the fourth and final marker.

Danny Marion opened up a 1-0 lead for the Demons, scoring from Nathan Thompson and Tutton at 10:53 of the first period. Derek Vingerhoeds then made it 2-0 when he finished off a play started by Dawson and Marion at 6:38 of the second session.

South Grenville's goals were marked by Travis Cranmer at 5:31 of the second period and Andrew Fortier at 8:41 of the final frame.

The win moved North Dundas' Upper Canada Minor Hockey League record to 2-0-1.

GAME ONE

Brett Bird starred in the Demons' opening game in Kemptville on Oct. 15. Bird banged in three third-period goals leading his team to a 6-2 win over the Panthers.

Bird connected on a power play engineered by Matt Baker and Josh McLean at the 12-minute mark, scored unassisted at 5:38 and finished up when he snapped in the final shot with 1:57 left on the clock. Devon Brown set up that play.

Danny Marion (from Chad McMillan) netted the first goal at 13:48 of the first period. Patrick Pomainville (PPG from Bird) connected at 10:59 to make it 2-0. In period two Marion scored again to make it 3-1 with help on a power-play set up by Bird.

Chris Currie stopped 18 shots for the win. North Dundas fired 25 at Kemptville's Ryan Bodnar.

GAME TWO

The following day (Oct. 16) the Demons hosted the NGS Braves in Chesterville and battled them to a 4-4 draw.

NGS fired in three third-period shots, two by Pierre LaCombe to pull out the point.

Period one was scoreless but period two saw the Demons take a 3-1 lead. Nik Paas (from Bird and Chris Thompson at 12:58), Matt Baker (from Pat Pomainville at 6:55) and Justin Morozuk (from Chris Thompson and Devon Brown at 0:02) found the mark.

Chad McMillan (from Josh McLean and Matt Baker) put a puck into the Braves' cage with 6:18 left in regulation time to put the Demons up 4-2 but that lead vanished when LaCombe scored with 6:03 and 5:19 left on the clock.

Adam Sylvester took his turn working the North Dundas net. Jesse Whyte was the NGS goaltender.

TEAM ROSTER

Dale Murdoch returns as head coach of the Parmalat Midget Demons. He is assisted by Earl McBean and Ron Gravelle. Bill Sylvester is the manager and Steve Mattice the trainer. Atom C's on scoring streak

CHESTERVILLE — In their first five games of the 2001-2002 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League season the North Dundas Atom "C" Demons have outscored their opposition 21-9 and complied a 4-0-1 record.

The Demons' season began at home in Chesterville on Oct. 9 with a 5-2 victory over the visiting Kemptville Panthers. On Oct. 13 the South Stormont Selects got a goal 1:54 before the final buzzer and tied the Demons 4-4 in Long Sault. Back home on Oct. 16 Erik Hutten posted the shutout as the Demons whitewashed the Akwesasne Wolves 5-0. Hutten missed another shutout by a goal on Oct. 21 when North Dundas tamed the Lions 3-1 in Morrisburg. The club's record improved to 4-0-1 with a 4-2 decision against the Ogdensburg New Yorkers on Oct. 23.

First-period goals by Brandon Buma and Zachery Peters put North Dundas up 2-1 on Kemptville on Oct. 9. Luc Cayer and Peters accounted for the second-period tallies and Buma netted his second of the game at 8:49 of period three. Sheldon Myers (2), Mitchell Shay (2), Ethan Van Koppen and Buma drew the assists. The Demons drew just two minor penalties in the 5-2 win.

Nolan Winter cracked in a pair of goals as the Demons recovered from a 2-0 first-period deficit but eventually settled for a 4-4 tie with the South Stormont Selects in Long Sault. The tying goal came on a power play 1:54 before the final buzzer.

Winter (2), Luc Cayer and Ethan Van Koppen counted the North Dundas goals. Zach Peters (2), Mike Cross, Brandon Buma, Dan Beach, Mitch Shay and Luc Cayer all collected assists.

Eric Hutten played a perfect game in the North Dundas nets backing them in a 5-0 win over Akwesasne on Oct. 16. Cayer potted a pair of goals in the first period, Winter connected in the second and Peters finished it off clicking for two goals in the final frame. Peters (3), Winter (2), Cross, Shay and Beach set up the scoring plays.

Morrisburg took the lead on Oct. 21 when Nick Thomas fooled Hutten. But that was the only shot he didn't stop as the Demons rallied for a 3-1 win. Winter tied it up scoring from Shay at 6:26 of the second period. Van Koppen then cracked in a relay from Peters with 2:54 left in the same frame to win it. Peters finished it up netting an unassisted goal on an unassisted play 4:27 before the final buzzer.

TEAM ROSTER

Eric Winter and his assistant Hans Hutten are coaching the 2001-2002 North Dundas Atom "C" Demons. Tim Beach is the trainer, Mark Thompson the manager while Patricia Van Koppen and Bernadette Van Gurp are serving as team moms. The Demons are: Dan Beach, Brandon Buma, Luc Cayer, Michael Cross, Erik Hutten, Sheldon Myers, Zachery Peters, Mitchel Shay, Justin Thompson, Michael VanGurp, Ethan Van Koppen, Matthew Windover, Nolan Winter.

Gatineau takes ringette rematch

OSGOODE - A National Capital Region Ringette rematch between the Metcalfe Novice C2 Hornets and Gatineau set the stage for an exciting encounter on Nov. 4.

Gatineau came out strong and took a quick 2-0 lead, but Metcalfe fought back with Brittany Bekkers scoring their first goal, assisted by Catherine Jakubczak to cut one goal off of their deficit. Gatineau scored again to make it 3-1, and once again Metcalfe responded. Emilie Brenning scoring midway through the second period, assisted by Jessica Morrow and Jodi Gallinger, to close the gap again to 3-2.

Hornets goalie Lauren Brown faced nine shots on net and made some awesome saves, but a three-on-one play break in the second period gave Gatineau the win 4-2.

Poirier, Reaney power Wings to sixth victory

METCALFE — Dale Poirier cracked in three goals and Scott Reaney supplied a goal and three assists as the Hicks Insurance Red Wings doubled the Continental Mushroom Stars 6-3 to improve their Metcalfe Town Hockey League record to 6-1-0.

With Poirier and Reaney providing a lion's share of the offence the Wings received stellar goaltending from Kent Holmes en route to win number six. Steve Porteous and Mark Branchaud snapped in the single goals while Reg Fisher and Willis Stevens each picked up an assist in the Sunday morning (Nov. 4) encounter.

Steve Corlyon, Scott Broadhurst and Steve Minsner replied for the 2-5-0 Continental Stars.

Bill Jamieson posted the shutout, backing the number-three ranked Wallace Service Centre Bruins (3-2-2) to a 2-0 victory over the sixth-place Pronto Food Rangers (1-5-1). Bob Kemp scored the winner on a play engineered by Tony Boulaey and Doug Anderson with 9:05 left on the clock. Shane Patterson sealed the deal firing an unassisted goal into the empty Rangers' cage 0:20.5 before the final buzzer. Bruce Quaile suffered the setback.

Tom's Air Cooled Engines Penguins remained within striking distance of the first-place Wings, improving their record to 5-2-0 by knocking off the McVey Brothers Insurance Maple Leafs (2-4-1) 3-1.

Wayne Widenmaier's hopes for the shutout were dashed when Steve Shipman (from Darrell Warren) slipped one behind him at 17:17 of the first half. Bruce Bourgeault (from Rick Downey at 19:35) and Rick Downey (at 5:31) snapped in the first-half goals for the Pens. Rich Corlyon (from Joe Scott at 17:36) added number three in the second stanza.

Nighthawks, Devils battle to 1-1 tie

OSGOODE — They exchanged first-half goals and wound up in a 1-1 draw. That tie left the Osgoode Nighthawks one point shy of owning a perfect Osgoode-Rideau Ladies Broomball League record.

The Seaway Valley Devils took a 1-0 lead at 17:22 of the opening session when Chelsea Emon took a pass from Kristine Hillis and Natalie Legault and fired it into Dee Brasseur's net. The marker didn't hold up for long because at 13:20 the Nighthawks replied with a goal setup by Carol Windsor, and scored by Rhonda Oshier.

Neither Brasseur or Devil's Jackie Hoogeveen would give up another goal as the Wednesday night (Oct. 31) contest finished deadlocked at 1-1.

The Nighthawks' record went to 6-0-1 while the Devils solidified a hold on fourth place, improving to 3-3-1. A three-point effort by Cheryl Davies powered number-three ranked Prescott Road (4-2-1) to their fourth win of the season, a 3-1 decision over the Sweepettes (3-4-0).

The Road slapped in all three goals in the first half. Davies got the action started connecting from L. Strike at 11:24. M. Andre then opened up a 2-0 gap when she connected on a feed from Davies and Wanda Rowan. Davies and Strike then combined to get the ball to Pat Poirier who whacked it home to give her squad a 3-0 lead at the half.

Chris St. Onge lost her shutout when Sweepettes' Angela Brisson beat her on a play manufactured by Kim Casselman 2:53 before the end of the match. Goalie Brenda Ross registered a perfect game backing the Eastern Thunder (2-5-0) to a 4-0 victory over Wisnia Carpet Cleaning (0-7-0).

The Thunders offence was supplied by T. Leduc who potted a pair of goals along with A. Boyle and C. Henderson who each cracked in a single shot. A. Dewar (2), C. Moran, M. Lorraine and A. Bruining all picked up assists.

Ottawa, CountryGirl claim hardware

FINCH — One goal decided the winners in the Winchester and District Ladies Hockey League Tournament 2001.

The Ottawa Devils got goals from Donna Blackburn and Marina McDougal as they nipped the Annable's Jewellery Blues 4-3 in a shootout to claim the eight-team event's "A" Division championship.

Gail Smith-Rutley earned MVP status as she scored three consecutive goals, including the winner 7:15 before the final buzzer, leading the CountryGirl Gold Diggers to a 4-3 decision over the Double Beauty Stylists in the "B" Division final of Saturday's (Nov. 3) competition.

Ottawa and Annable's were even at 2-2 at the half of the "A" final. Donna Blackburn and Alison Marsh netted the Devils' goals while Sandy Roy snapped in both of the Blues tallies. Susan Marsden-Whelan set up the first at 16:12 and Marsden-Whelan and Dianne Lapier assisted on the second at 3:33.

While Blackburn and McDougall were able to score shootout goals for the Devils, only Tammy Sullivan was able to find the net for the Blues, who dropped the 4-3 verdict.

Ottawa knocked off the CountryGirl 3-1 in round one and Ryan's Restaurant Reds 9-0 in the semi-final to reach the "A" final.

Annable's started the day by taking Teal (Stewart Classics) 3-1 on Saturday morning. A goal by Amy Darling (from Stacey Krol and MVP Oonagh Enright) at 13:41 put the Teal Team up 1-0 in the first half, but three second-half markers handed the Blues a 3-1 win. Sandy Roy, Janice Casselman and Christina Rombough netted the goals. Assists went to Heather McDiarmid, Sandra Whitworth and MVP Cheryl Cooper.

0The Blues gained a berth in the title match by knocking the Bacardi Bats out of the event with a 3-2 semi-final defeat. Cheryl Cooper, MVP Sandy Roy and Dianne Lapier counted the Annable goals. MVP Vicki Wilcox and Angele Brisson replied for the Bats.

"B" DIVISION

It was an all WDLHL "B" final as the CountryGirl Diggers and Double Beauty Stylists squared off.

Maggie Stewart (MVP) scored twice and Gerry Verspeek pumped in the single as Double Beauty gained a 3-2 lead at 11:49 of the second half. Unfortunately for them that lead wouldn't be enough.

Gail Smith-Rutley (MVP) slapped in three consecutive goals (17:32 from Amy Fraser; 9:48 from Sandra Brunner; 7:15 from Fraser) to carry her team to a 4-3 win and the "B" championship. Brunner popped in an unassisted shot in the first period to put the Diggers on the board.

Brunner (from Linda Merrett) scored the Diggers' lone goal in their 3-1 loss to the Ottawa Devils in round one. They rebounded and qualified for the "B" final with a 3-1 decision over Andy's Foodland in the semi-final round. Karla Marshall (from Brunner), Brunner (from Pam Kunopaskie) and MVP Fraser (from Jackie Boulanger and Smith-Rutley) pegged the CountryGirl goals. MVP Sherri Richer (from April Pashak) counted the Maroons marker.

Double Beauty opened the tournament suffering a 1-0 loss to the Bacardi Bats but remained in the hunt for the "B" prize, edging the Classics 2-1 in overtime in the semi-finals.

Kathy Kerr-Moore broke up the 1-1 tie scoring the OT winner for the Stylists. MVP Kristy McDougall supplied the other marker. Amy Darling (MVP) replied for the Classics.

O'NEILL – In memory of our dear Mom, Dora B., who passed away November 7, 1995.

SARGENT – In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Eva, who passed away November 10, 1998.
Memories are like threads of gold,
They never tarnish or grow old.
Remembrance keeps you ever near,
As time unfolds another year.
It isn't what we write here,
Or even what we say.
It's what we feel within our hearts,
As we think of you today.
– Ever remembered, ever loved, Jim, Carol and Lorna 33

PORTEOUS – In loving memory of our dear daughter, Krista, who passed away on November 11, 1992.
Have you ever had a daughter
Who meant the world to you?
One that you loved so much
And miss her like we do.
Have you ever had a heartache,
Or felt that awful pain,
Or shed the bitter tears
That drop like falling rain?
If you never had this feeling,
We hope you never do,
For when you lose a daughter
You lose a part of you.
So dear God take a message
To Krista in Heaven above,
Tell her how much we miss her
And give her all our love!
– Mom, Dad, Ian, Rachel, Meggan,
– Laurie, Gerry, Rebecca and Gerritt

HANES – In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, George Gordon, who passed away November 7, 2000.
God saw you getting tired,
And a cure was not to be,
So He put His arms around you
And whispered "come with me".
With tear filled eyes we watched you
Suffer and fade away,
Although we loved you deeply,
We could not make you stay.
Your golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands put to rest,
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the best.
– Dearly missed and never forgotten.
– Love you forever, Lula and family
33

RODNEY – In loving memory of my husband Fred, who passed away November 10, 1999.
We made our vows together,
And said, "Till death do us part".
When God came and took your hand,
My whole world fell apart.
I know you walk beside me,
And when my life is through,
I pray that God will take my hand,
And lead me straight to you.
– Loved and remembered forever, Ann 33

PORTEOUS – In loving memory of our dear niece and cousin, Krista, who passed away on November 11, 1992.
Though your smile is gone forever,
And your hand we cannot touch.
Still we have so many memories,
Of our Krista, who we loved so much.
Your memory is our keepsake,
With which we'll never part.
God has you in His keeping,
We have you in our hearts.
– Loved and missed by your Porteous aunts, uncles and cousins

TOWNSHIP OF SOUTH DUNDAS

TOWNSHIP OF SOUTH DUNDAS
NOTICE

The Township wishes to announce the acquisition of a parcel of industrial land being the former Meyer Estate. Acquisition of this land was deemed necessary in order to provide an area for development following the loss of the major portion of the industrial land base when the former Dupont site was obtained by the Nature Conservancy of Canada.

A plan to develop the southerly portion will include obtaining access to County Road 31 in order to provide a second exit/entrance to the area north of County Road 2. This access will reduce the transport traffic coming through the main intersection of County Roads 2 and 31.

Trick-or-canning Halloween success

NDDHS Notes
by Amy Simpson

A new month has arrived, along with more activities. This month, we are involved with Battle Month and the Moolapalooza Campaign. Battle month is run by our minister of athletics, Jessi Collins, who will be organizing various activities where teams will battle to be the best. Each week, the school population will be divided into two teams, using a different criteria each time such as girls versus boys, or students living on dirt roads versus students living on paved roads.

Activities will include some of the following: a lemon sucking contest, a tug-of-war, and other eating contests. Moolapalooza, organized by minister of social activities Becky Wicks, will be run at the same time and is a campaign which involves a series of events promoting milk — an important part of our community! So, in the next month, there are sure to be a lot of activities for students to get involved in.

The boys' volleyball teams have only one game remaining in their regular season. On Mon., Oct. 29, the seniors played against CCVS at home but, unfortunately, they lost all three sets by scores of 25-21, 25-20 and 25-18. The juniors, who also played CCVS, reported some better results on Monday. They won all three sets.

The basketball teams played at La Citadelle on Tues., Oct. 30. The senior and junior girls both lost with scores of 48-22 and 48-20, respectively. However, we wish the girls good luck as they will be playing their final regular season game on Thursday at North Dundas.

The cross-country team ran in Kingston on Thurs., Oct. 25, competing in the EOSSAA meet (all of eastern Ontario), and they had a very successful day. The midget and junior boys' races each had 109 participants, and Joel Goodfellow placed 69th in the midget race; in the junior race, Devin Carruthers placed 14th. There were 11 runners from North Dundas in the junior girls' race. Stephanie Byvelds (11th), Teri Lacelle (13th), Bailey Lewis (17th), Ainsley Glassford (20th) and Lindsey DeJong (24th) qualified as a team to participate in OFSSA, which is the provincial meet. (OFSSA took place in Ottawa on Sat., Nov. 3.) The senior girls also ran well as a team – fourth overall with Lauren Klimpke coming in eighth out of the 69 participants and first of the five competitors from North Dundas.

All the Halloween activities went well. Everything from students demonstrating their creativity in the carving contest to strutting their stuff in their Halloween costumes proved to be a success, and students showed great school spirit. We collected a total of 972 cans of food on Halloween night for the Dundas County Food Bank. There were seven teams of about four students who each went trick-or-canning. They battled to be the team who brought in the most food. The winning team, consisting of Amy Collins, Jennie Simpson, Colleen Driscoll and Alanna Dale-Hill, brought in 213 cans in total. They were awarded with a gift basket full of chocolate which was donated by Hershey's. Thank you to the community for all their donations!

Finally, school clothing sales went well this year. Sales are now complete, and all items will be delivered about the second week of December.

In loving memory

When Judy Lannin, an employee at Winchester District Memorial Hospital for 31 years, died of cancer in July, her family requested memorial donations to the hospital in lieu of flowers. With these donations, the WDMH auxiliary in memoriam fund purchased a Cancer Care Chair and an infusion pump, which will be used in the Brian Hough Unit at the hospital. A special memorial dedication was held on Tues., Oct. 30. Husband Brian Lannin and daughter Erin were on hand to place the memorial plaques on the equipment. Staff, physicians and family friends attended the dedication ceremony. Looking on is Rita Bray, auxiliary in memoriam fund. Courtesy Photo

Osgoode Remembrance Day Services held

In & around Osgoode Ward 20
by Doug Thompson

Osgoode Ward has held four Remembrance Day Services already, with the November 11 service being held this Sunday at 11 am at the Metcalfe Town Hall. This means that our residents will have had five opportunities to pay their respects to the men and women who have served or are serving our country.

Given the terrorist attacks in September and the ongoing conflict, this Remembrance Day takes on a very special meaning. The ceremonies in Kenmore, Vernon, Osgoode and Metcalfe are organized under the guidance of the Osgoode Legion Branch 589. Ron Dutfield, Poppy chairman works for months to make sure everything and everyone is in place for these solemn ceremonies.

At the Greely Legion Hall, a very impressive indoor ceremony is held, under the direction of Ralph Scott, Parade Commander. Ably assisting is Sergeant-At-Arms Earl Declare, Past President Wilson Wyman and President Ivan Wyman. Marg McManus and the Greely Choral Society again blessed the ceremony with wonderful hymns.

Please, if at all possible, come out to the Remembrance Day Services in Metcalfe this Sunday, November 11, 11 am at the Town Hall in Metcalfe!

ISLE IN THE REVIEW PRESENTS "LO AND BEHOLD"

ITR will be presenting this marvellous play on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8-10 at the Osgoode Community Centre. Tickets are $10 for adults, $8 for seniors and children. Please call the ITR at 860-1291 for tickets. It sounds like a great show.

CHRISTMAS CRAFT SALE SEASON

This is the season to be jolly! Well almost. This Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 10-11, the famous St. Mark Christmas Craft Sale runs from 10 am-4 pm both days.

Whelan's Christmas Craft Sale is also held this Saturday and Sunday 10 am-5 pm at 1152 Rideau Bend Cresent. Sue Whelan's Craft Sale is rather unique in that there is no charge to get into the wonderful Whelan's Christmas Craft Sale, but you can make a donation to the snowsuit fund. Transportation will take place on Wednesdays indefinitely. Therefore samples should be brought in only each Wednesday by noon. Fill the bottles as instructed and drop the sample off at the Metcalfe Fire Hall as soon as possible. (Testing can only be done within 48 hours from the time the sample was taken). Residents of Osgoode Ward can bring water samples at any hour of the day to the Metcalfe Fire Hall, 8011 Victoria Street, Metcalfe, Ontario, telephone number – 821-1011. The firehall is open on a 24-hour basis.

Empty water sample bottles can be picked up at the Metcalfe Fire Hall (anytime), Larry's Grocery in Greely, Beveridges in Osgoode or at the Metcalfe Satellite Office between the hours of 8:30 and 4:30.

The analysis results will be mailed to the person identified on the submission one week later. Remember to put a stamp on your request or you will have to go and get your results in person.

Should you require an interpretation of sample results contact the Environmental Health Program at the City of Ottawa at 722-2200. Please call Anne-Marie Faubert-Preston at 580-2424 ext. 30228 for more information about this program.

Mountain Musings

by Shirley Mills

The Mountain-South Mountain United Church will hold its annual Christmas Bake Sale and Tea on Sat., Nov. 10 from 11 am to 1 pm. This sale is a great place to get ahead with your holiday baking as it features Christmas cakes, puddings and home-made mincemeat - and wouldn't it be good to have that out of the way early.

I have run into an unusual situation. For the first time in many years, I have lost weight. It is only 15 pounds and it took me almost eight months to lose it, but it's the results which have surprised me. I found that with the first 10 poun ds the only thing that happened was that my clothes fitted better but those extra 5 pounds off made a big difference. I felt sloppy. And who would imagine that I'd lose weight on my feet! My slip-on shoes now slip off. Buying new clothes seemed like a good idea but some clothing manufacturers, I found, must work with a different set of measurements. However, by trial and error, I did manage to get some less sloppy clothes. I can't say I'm a perfect size yet because, though I don't really want to lose more weight, I always wished I was about three inches taller.
