Area farmers set to join national protest on hill

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

WINCHESTER—Area farmers will be joining in a massive national farm rally this Friday, February 21, to protest the federal government's position on GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade).

Organizers are hoping for at least 1,000 farmers and concerned citizens to join the walk on Parliament Hill, and possibly 30,000 from all over Canada.

Locally, a number of buses are scheduled to leave from pick-up points at Matilda Community Hall, North Dundas High School and Winchester Community Center.

They hope to draw public attention to the farmers plight, to show the interconnectedness between farming and the rest of the community, and to point out some related grave concerns.

"Our fear is that the government won't deal fairly on GATT. Because despite the Free Trade Agreement, the U.S. has gone ahead and done whatever they wanted to do," said a director for the Dundas Federation of Agriculture, Gordon Garlough.

"We fear GATT for what it clearly says, and we have great reservations on our government's willingness or ability to enforce it," Garlough added.

Garlough referred to the effects of free trade, which was also touted as a solution for the country's trading ills. "It's been a disaster whether you look at industry, pork or beef, or whatever you want to look at, fisheries, or forestry," he said.

He recalled the Mulroney government promises "in word and black and white to protect" supply management, which protected the dairy industry for 20 years from unstable prices and cycles of surplus and shortage.

"But early in February he said mabe they couldn't protect it."

The goal of GATT is to reduce government subsidies to farmers around the world.

World-wide governments spend $300 billion on farm assistance. The Canadian government gives out about $7 billion to farmers annually in direct subsidies and indirect assistance such as crop insurance and tax write-offs.

While the majority of Canadian farmers wish to continue the supply managed systems, the situation would be radically changed under GATT

All programs of the 108 participating countries are under evaluation by GATT negotiators, and placed in three categories: green (go ahead), amber (permitted but with limits), and red (not permitted under GATT rules).

According to the Dunkel recommendations issued December 20 last year, all border assistance programs must be converted to tariffs. These tariffs should be lowered 6 per cent a year from 1993 to 1989, for a total of 36 per cent.

Opposing tarrification

President of the DFA Alvin Runnalls stressed the rally is not just to protest the lack of reference to Article 11 (a clause protecting supply-management systems) in the proposed agreement. "Article 11 is important. But we protest tarrification on behalf of all sectors," he said.

He pointed out that tariffs are to be abolished anyway under the FTA. "Which will take precedence?"

Another factor looming on the horizon is the proposed North American free trade agreement including Mexico. Runnalls feels the US will then insist for abolition of all tariffs, but will still argue for the continuance of its own program subsidies.

The US has been influential enough in GATT negotiations to get participating countries to agree that under the US Farm Bill, the States may continue as they currently operate until 1995.

More at stake than farms

"It's not just the farm industry at stake. You don't have to look too far around our country to see that all the jobs and businesses are interconnected and dependent on the agricultural system," Garlough said.

He pointed out the example of the Brampton Caterpillar equipment plant moving to the United States,and pictured a similar scenario happening here.

"It doesn't take too much imagination to see what might happen to Kraft or Ault's in terms of the impact it would have on the economy," Garlough stated.

"I hope we'll get world news coverage, and I hope other farmers will realize we may have common concerns," Runnalls said.

In Runnall's opinion, some American farmers who support the Canadian farmers supply management position may join in the protest.

According to Hoard's Dairyman, an American publication, 75 per cent of small farmers favor supply management and would like to have this system themselves.

"But the US government hopes to put it away," Runnalls said.

Garlough ended his remarks warningly: "We need leadership which will say there are certain limits and a country can only give away control of its own economic and social facilities to a certain extent and still remain a country."

Seaway student wins United Counties essay contest

IROQUOIS—Grade 12 Seaway High student Rob Domanko is the proud winner of a counties-wide writing contest.

The contest was sponsored by the Tri-County Writers Guild and the SD & G Historical Society. Last month Mr. Lee Madden's OAC Creative Writing class entered the contest as an assignment.

Rob's essay was called "Two Thousand and Ninety Two" and was addressed to the Prime Minister of 2092, reflecting on the Canadian society of 1992.

As a reward, he will be given a $25 cash prize, and his essay will be placed in Gateway Post Office Clock Tower Time Capsule in Lamoureux Park in Cornwall, for posterity to read.

Rob has three courses this year which call for a lot of essay writing and he follows current events by watching CNN news.

"I went over and thought about Canada today and what it would be from now," Rob stated.

"It's mostly my personal view. There's a lot of problems these days and troubled times. It's just as a teenager saw them," he said.

The following are some of Rob's reflections.

"Canada is 125 years old this year; it is one of the youngest, most progressive countries in the world. How much longer it will exist remains uncertain, as we, the people of Canada, are facing troubled times."

Rob describes Canada as "a mosaic country with many cultures, a wealthy, advanced and very prosperous country. Many people come to Canada from all over the world in search of a better life, and most find it here".

But he warns the "very diversity of cultures may lead to the end of Canada as it is known today", and stresses the necessity of reconciling differences.

Rob goes on to enumerate challenges facing Canadians such as the need to compete in the global market place, or even to survive "the free trade agreement with the US.

In addition, Canadians don't want to lose "their high standard of living, specifically health and educational systems, which are amongst the best in the world. "

Problems also run deep within Canada; "the country's unity is in grave trouble," Rob continues.

"The well-being of Canadians is also in jeopardy. Fatal diseases such as cancer and Aids are killing an alarming number of people each year, and as yet, no cure has been found."

Other problems concern "cultural acceptance of our own aboriginal people. They have demanded to be recognize as distinct and have claimed territories of sacred origin. When these requests are ignored confrontations occur, leading to racial wars," he warns.

The evolution in women's status, changes and weakening of the family unit also come under Rob's scrutiny.

In concluding Rob has a number of questions. "In one hundred years as you read this letter, I wonder, is Canada part of the U.S.A? Is there peace between people of different races? Has the scourge of Aids been eliminated? Does Canada have a space station for communication and defence?

Are diseases like cancer and those relating to old age unheard of? Are you, Prime Minister, a woman?"

His solution is as follows. "In 1992, Canada is known as a kind, caring, first class country. Canadians may be the luckiest people on earth. Canada has no enemies.

To keep Canada the distinct salubrious country it is today will require cooperation and understanding from all Canadians of all cultures.

It most certainly can be done, and for the sake of the future, for the sake of the people of the year 2092, I hope agreements are reached and our 27,000,000 people work together toward the preservation of Canada as it is today in the year 1992."

CN worker killed in train accident

IROQUOIS—A CN worker was struck and killed by a train Thursday afternoon as he attempted to remove snow and ice from the crossing switch.

George MacDermid, 34, of Alexandria was working with a fellow employee on the Broken Second near Iroquois when the accident involving a VIA passenger train occurred.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by coroner Dr. Graham Houze, said Morrisburg O.P.P. Constable Morgan Hill.

MacDermid was working with a gas-powered blower which was strapped to his back when the westbound train approached the crossing, blowing its whistle.

The victim was facing south with his head down when he was struck and killed at 2:25 p.m.

There were approximately 275 passengers aboard the train, but none were injured.

CN Rail officials are unsure why the accident happened, but comprehensive investigation is being carried out.

The train was heading to Toronto from Montreal and was delayed for three and a half hours.

On January 23, a 39-year-old Ontario Hydro employee, John Andrew Murray of Winchester, was killed instantly when a passenger train collided with his truck at a railway crossing in Jasper, just east of Smiths Falls.

As well, in September of 1990, a CN employee, Robert Brown was killed when he was struck by a train near Pitt Street and Tollgate Road in Cornwall.

3 people injured in 401 car-truck mishap

MORRISBURG—A Department of Highways sand truck was struck in its rear by a westbound vehicle on Saturday at 2:40 p.m., and as a result, three people were injured.

Robert Wickens, 39 of R.R. # 3 Ingleside, was driving the sand truck into a U-turn zone on the westbound 401 near Highway 31, when he was struck in the rear by a car driven by John Lecours, 49 of Cornwall.

Apparently, Lecours had lost control of the vehicle.

Both Wickens and Lecours suffered minor injuries in the incident, but a passenger in the car, Marguerite Lecours, 54, was taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital by ambulance suffering from major injuries.

Morrisburg youth charged with arson

IROQUOIS—A 14-year-old Morrisburg area youth was charged with two counts of arson as a result of a report obtained by the Morrisburg O.P.P. from the Iroquois Fire Department.

According to Constable Morgan Hill of the Morrisburg detachment, the youth, who cannot be named under the Young Offenders Act, set fires in both the Iroquois Post Office, and the Iroquois Royal Bank on February 12.

The out-going mail at the post office was destroyed.

No one was injured as a result of either incident.

Consultants will choose hydro transmission corridors

C. THOMPSON

INGLESIDE—An environmental assessment by MacLaren SMC for a cogeneration-generation plant here is now complete, and the results reviewed at a meeting last Tuesday.

About 85 attended the second public meeting on the topic. According to Osnabruck clerk Bonnie Dingwall, there wasn't a great deal of controversy but some discussion was generated on how proposed hydro transmission routes would affect residents property.

"And the positive impact on the community was discussed by people amongst themselves that it would be good for the municipality," she added.

Ingleside Power, L.P. a member of the Sithes Energies Group, and Husky Oil of Alberta, have proposed to build a cogeneration-generating station to produce both steam and electric power from a single fuel source, natural gas.

The plant is to be located on the north-east corner of Kraft Foods Limited property located on Dickenson Drive north of Ingleside.

Ingleside Power plans to sell approximately 150 MW of electricity to Ontario Hydro, and by purchasing steam, Kraft can cut production costs.

Plans are underway to construct the facility although there is some doubt as to whether Ontario Hydro can utilize the power from this plant or several others proposed throughout Ontario by different companies.

"Currently, Sithe Energies Inc. is in discussion with Ontario Hydro regarding some technical matters. Hydro wants more technical information, so Sithe Energies is getting together to provide that for them now," said Dingwall.

Sithes Energies is developing a similar plant in Cardinal from which Ontario Hydro has agreed to purchase power. The Cardinal cogeneration plant will also sell steam to the Canada Starch Company.

The environmental study identified areas of concern such as air emissions, increased noise levels, fisheries concerns and aesthetic changes to the skyline.

An air quality study was undertaken to evaluate air emissions from the cogeneration facility.

It was determined that chemical pollutants would be less than five per cent of the proposed clean air program levels. Guidelines for erosion and sediment control for urban construction would be followed to minimize construction-related dust.

The noise impact of the proposed facility has been investigated, and according to consultants, the plant can meet Ministry of Environment requirements.

The gas turbine generator will be located inside an enclosed building and noise attenuating equipment will be used to reduce sound so as not to disturbed nearby residents.

In addition, the pumphouse which otherwise might be an eyesore, is to be hidden by shrubs and trees. According to the consultants, net adverse effects will be minimal and the project will have a socio-economic benefit.

Construction of the facility will require 200 workers in various trades, and approximately 20 in skilled trades to operate the plant. In addition, Krafts production costs will be cut by steam purchases.

Sharing joint sewer project

Sithe may enter into the joint sewage project between Kraft and Osnabruck Township.. "We recommended this in our feasibility study," said project manager for waste water disposal Don Lishman.

"Sithes is willing to participate and share costs: but there is a problem with timing," Lishman added.

If it goes ahead, the cogeneration plant will be ready by 1994. However, the joint sewer system is not expected to be operating until mid-1994.

Sithes contingency plan is to install their own waste water treatment system and the company is in the process of obtaining approvals for this option. Lishman noted the alternative route will be more expensive for the company.

Concern over hydro routes

As already noted, property negotiations and the proposed hydro-electric transmission routes were the focus of some discussion at the meeting.

MacLaren Plansearch Inc. is conducting a study to determine a preferred route for the conduction of electricity approximately eight km from the facility to the Ontario Hydro 230 KV powerline corridor located within the fifth concession.

The study area for three proposed transmission corridors includes Concessions I, II, III, IV and V (Lots 10 to 27) in Osnabruck Township.

One or more environmentally acceptable corridors will be recommended.

Consultants will choose existing (previously disturbed) transmission or transportation corridors over new undisturbed areas.

In general, built-up areas, and historically significant areas will be avoided. Environmentally sensitive locations are not to be traversed such as wetlands, woodland improvement lots, or areas where rare or endangered species live.

Those who would like to give input on the study process are invited to contact MacLaren Plansearch, Atria North, Phase II, 2235 Sheppard Avenue East, Willowdale, Ontario M2J 5A6.

R/O students celebrate winter with Bonhomme theme Carnival

The students from Grades 1 through 6 enjoyed outside activities Friday at the annual winter carnival. Above are Billy Bourdeau and Chris Marin in the sled race which took place on the school's rink. All who participated took part in 10 different activities supervised by high school students and teachers. Each team consisted of students from each of the grades involved with the Grade 6 student as the leader. For these kids, Amy Butler was the group leader as she helped the team claim seven wins of the nine games played. Other students in Butler's group were Jay Armstrong, and Derek Kitchen. At station 10, there were refreshments of hot chocolate and Timbits. Also taking place at the school was a Valentine's dance for the Grade 7 and 8s. Day photos

Iroquois Council delays charges

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

IROQUOIS—Council here has deferred discussion on development charges until the end of 1992 at the least, or possibly 1993.

At a regular council meeting last Tuesday, they reviewed correspondence from consultants McNeely-Tunnock Ltd, but did not see an immediate potential benefit to the Village.

The Development Charges Act is the enabling authority for municipalities to enact by-laws to collect revenue in order to pay for growth-related capital costs of new infrastructure.

According to the letter, the legislation would apply to the Village "as a slow growth municipality who has collected lot levies in the past and is now faced with not being able to collect lot levies."

The current lot levy charge is $750. But since the Act was passed, municipalities may no longer collect lot levies. If they wish to receive revenue from the sale of lots, they must pass a Development Charges by-law enacting development charges.

Consultants urged council to consider development charges as "a financial management tool," to do long-term planning on service requirements, and to "properly plan for the provision of such services through new growth be it residential, industrial or commercial."

Thus municipalities could legitimately pass on costs of all new services to new development.

If council wanted to consider applying the legislation they would require a background study, and by-law detailing the charges.

Cost of a complete development charges package would be between $5100 - $6800.

But Council felt the expense didn't justify the benefits, and couldn't be fitted into this year's tight budget.

"To pay out $6,000 and get $6,000 back in development charges doesn't make sense for a small town like ours, we might better strike a better deal on land to begin with," said McAllister.

Although the municipality isn't going to be compelled to use development charges, clerk Elizabeth Marlin noted future costs for sewer and water should be looked at. "If we don't start charging, where is the money going to come from? the taxpayer?"

"Thanks but no thanks. If we can't get people interested in developing now," Coun. Clare Brown stated.

McAllister added, "It's an impost charge meant to pay for extension of services such as library and recreation etc. But how much development do we have?"

"We shouldn't get into it this year," Brown concluded, and the reeve agreed.

"We're on a tight budget," Coun. Wilf Gibbons added.

World's first history book

With today's well-stocked and well-staffed public libraries, and with the easy availability of education and research, it is relatively easy for anyone interested in history to pinpoint any date, any event, any clan or tribe, and their progress and migrations throughout the world.

But it was not always quite so easy. Many generations ago, such knowledge as existed was just not available to the common masses, but was guarded by a few, and the lack of printed books and instructions deterred its wide dissemination. And then — along came Mr. Gutenburg with his invention of printing, and histories of the human race have proliferated ever since.

The very first of these, the "Liber Chronicum" or "Nuremburg Chronicle", published in 1493, was a milestone in the history of printing. It was the first major history book to employ the newly-developed art of printing, and it reflected the combined skills of some of the greatest names of the late fifteenth century; Michael Wolgemut, Master Artist; Albrecht Durer, his apprentice; and Anton Koberger, German printer/publisher.

Advertised as a complete, illustrated history of the world, from Creation until 1493, it was 600 pages long, and had almost 2,000 illustrations, an interesting point when you consider that only 645 different woodcuts were used. It depicted the Creation, the life of Christ, the Dark Ages and Renaissance. The first map of central Europe ever published anywhere was in the book. Printed on heavy white paper, in Gothic type, a copy containing black and white illustrations sold for the equivalent of $26. The illuminated volumes sold for almost three times that price.

Only six months after the original edition in Latin was published, the publishers came out with a second volume printed in German. It is estimated that about 2000 copies of each edition were published. Throughout its early history, the Chronicle remained the most popular "gift book" in the European publishing industry. Some people have jokingly attributed this to the publisher's note contained in the promotional pamphlet: "Farewell, and do not let this book escape you".

Blame it on the weather

Our moods, and our physical well-being vary constantly from day to day. Some days, everything looks rosy, and nothing impossible. At other times, everything seems dark and gloomy, even minor undertakings require a huge effort, and mistaks are common, as nothing seems to go right.

People may be inclined to blame these bad moods and bad days on the weather, and they are probably more nearly correct than they realize. For the weather not only affects our health and our disposition, but quite likely our social behaviour as well. Sunny days generally bring forth sunny faces as the daily tasks seem lighter and the world looks brighter.

People suffering from sinus trouble, asthma, arthritis, or healed bone structures often experience annoyance from changing weather. Variations in moisture and temperature seem to affect the degree of discomfort. But, because the pains are also experienced indoors where the weather has little effect, some experts support the theory that certain types of pressure fluctuations may be at the root of this type of physical discomfort.

Sudden changes in temperature seem to co-incide with the high frequency of colds in winter, and this has sometimes been explained by the sharp contrast between dry, overheated rooms, and the cold outdoor temperatures.

Man is likely to be less ambitious and less efficient during the cold spells of winter, and during the hot, humid days of midsummer, than in the spring and fall, when the weather in most zones is more nearly ideal.

So the weather really can have an effect on people's moods, as well as on their general health. And since we have not been able, as yet, to do too much about the weather, all we can do is to persevere until it becomes more favorable.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles by Laurie Day

1982

Matilda Township Deputy Reeve, Lorne Strader, was named vice-chairman of the South Nation River Conservation Authority, which ended the three-year stint of former Chesterville Reeve, Keith Graham.

Junior B playoff action began with the Winchester Hawks and the Lions facing off in the first game. The arena had been previously plagued with ice and equipment problems, but the word out was that everything would be in shape for the opening game of the series.

Concern over the increasing burden of the United Counties social service system prompted Williamsburg Township Reeve, Johnny Whitteker, to ask for provincial aid to assist individual municipalities in creating make-work programs. Counties social service director, Ed Thompson, said 1982 looked as if it would be the worst year of the past decade, and said even 1981 costs were $25,000 over those of 1980. Meanwhile, local layoffs and industrial slow downs hampered the area. Caldwell Linen Mills in Iroquois laid off an additional 12 employees which reduced the former 300 employee industry to approximately 220.

Thanks to the City of Cornwall and the federal government, the Seaway Valley Tourist Council was able to begin operations without having to borrow money to do so. The SVTC, which opened February 1, received a $7,000 advance on its $16,000 federal grant (Canada Community Development Project), and a $5,000 advance on Cornwall's share of the council's municipal support. Finance chairman, Roy Brister, also stated that the council was starting the year in a better financial position than in previous years. But GM Terry Lalonde said the SVTC would still have to have support from the municipalities in Grenville, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry counties.

Friends and relatives were saddened by the sudden death of Goldwin Durant of Morrisburg on Friday, February 18 at the Ottawa Civic Hospital, following an illness of only three days. He ad previously undergone an appendectomy and was recovering favorably, but suffered a heart attack on the February 15.

Unborn babies, aborted at 14 weeks, have had their thumbs in their mouths. A little later, some have callouses on their thumbs from sucking. When an unborn baby is aborted by the suction method, he is actually dismembered and the parts flushed down the drain. An unborn infant, aborted by the saline or salt method, is actually burned raw. These unpleasant but indisputable facts were revealed in a slide presentation to parishioners of St. Mary's Church on Wednesday, February 16. Mrs. H.J. Malone, of Action Life, a pro-life Ottawa organization, told the people of the parish, "I know these slides are rough and I'm sorry, but these slides tell it as it is." The audience learned that the life of the baby in the womb is much more complex than imagined. Its sensitivity to the outside world is much greater than ever before imagined.

Mr. Fred H.Broder, well-known Morrisburg resident, a former reeve and a former United Counties Warden, celebrated his 92nd birthday at his home on Park Avenue on February 24.

Despite the heavy snowfall over the weekend, members of the 1st Morrisburg Brownie Pack, 1st Morrisburg Guide Company, and the 1st Morrisburg Boy Scout Troop accompanied by their leaders, attended a joint church service at St. James Anglican Church on Sunday morning. This combined attendance was held in honor of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell's joint birthdays which falls on February 22, and also to celebrate "Thinking Day" in which the youths join hands in friendship around the world.

It was reported in this issue of The Leader that delegates from communities in Dundas, Grenville and Stormont Counties had gathered to reform the Eastern Ontario Minor Hockey Association. The Association would set up leagues, semi-playoffs and finals in the three counties.

The Morrisburg High School's junior girls' basketball team defeated Ingleside by 31 points. Top scorers were Linda Devaul with 15 points and Sheila Skilton with seven.

Floyd Fisher had a nine-room, two storey, solid brick home with a full basement, a garage and close proximity to the park listed to $10,000.

At the Allied Food Market, chicken legs or breasts were selling for 49 cents per pound. Oranges were two dozen for 79 cents, and Jello was three packages for 29 cents.

Vane Schell and his team won the Dodge trophy at the Morrisburg Curling Club. Other members of the team were Lyle Black, William Gorrell and James Lyons.

1952

Headlines in the February 22 issue of The Leader read "Secure five-mill tax relief Toronto meeting." A delegation from Morrisburg Reeve, George E. Beaver, met with the Minister of Education, the Honorable William Dunlop, who assured them that an advance grant of $8,000 would be made to the local public school board against the debenture costs of the new public school. The grant would decrease the local public school levy by five mills.

Many friends in Morrisburg learned with sincere regret of the death of Arthur N. Colquhoun at the age of 33 years.

A letter was received by The Leader Editor from a group of area teenagers who complained about the 9 p.m. curfew imposed at the arena for all children under 16 years.

At Hagerman's Groceteria, fresh haddock was 39 cents a pound, and smoked hams were 49 cents a pound.

A tune-filled romantic musical entitled "Rich, Young and Pretty" starring Jane Powell was playing at the Picadilly Theatre in Williamsburg.

1942

The Juniors closed their league schedule with a 6-4 win over Cardinal. The locals were set to meet Prescott in the first game of the semi-final series, and a welcomed addition to the line was Bun Devaul. He had been with the Royal Canadian Air Force and had been given his furlough at a most opportune time.

Canada's second Victory Loan campaign was officially opened when Reeve Broder bough the first bond. After four days of sales, Williamsburg Township was far in the lead.

The Leader was full of advertisements reminding Canadians to purchase Victory Bonds. One such ad read, "On Land, On Sea, and in the Air, Canada's Sons, your sons and your neighbors are relying on you to furnish them with the weapons of war. Canada asks you to loan your money."

1932

It was reported in this issue of The Leader that seven firemen were injured, and damage of more than $100,000 was caused when a stubborn fire threatened for a time to destroy the town of Alexandria. The fire began at 5:30 a.p., and wiped out eight buildings before it was brought under control at noon.

The Morrisburg Maroons were defeated 1-0 by Spencerville. The winning goal came in the first minute of overtime. They had a good chance of making the playoffs thanks the coaching efforts of Ernest Runions.

The Editor
Morrisburg Leader,
Morrisburg, Ontario

Dear Editor - It is with grave concern that I am addressing this letter to the Editor. On February 11, 1992, the Standard Freeholder reported that the S.D. & G. Public School Board had redecorated the boardroom — at a cost to the local taxpayer of $16,000.

This fall Cornwall elected four trustees to represent the taxpayers of Cornwall. All four of those trustees promised fiscal responsibility. Is the spending of $16,000 of our money to beautify their boardroom a "fiscally responsible" decision.

During the three years I served as a trustee the cost of redecorating the boardroom was a budget item two of those years. Each year it was cut from the budget, the third year it did not even appear as an item, as we struggled to produce a budget that was fiscally responsible.

From my experience and from the speech of Premier Rae, it is obvious to me as a taxpayer that this will be a difficult year for our elected officials to produce budgets that will not increase our taxes dramatically. How can our trustees justify such an expense in these difficult economic times?

It offends me to think that they have spent $16,000 of my tax dollars so irresponsibly. If, as was stated, the Chairman of the Board made this decision without the knowledge and/or approval of the Trustees, then she should be asked to resign. Where were the City and County Trustees when this decision was made? I feel that as a taxpayer I have been abandoned by my elected School Board representatives.

Sincerely,
SUSAN CARTER

Matilda gets approval for South Branch project

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

BRINSTON—At long last, Matilda Council has received the go-ahead to proceed with a $1.6 million channelization project on the South Branch of the South Nation River.

The Department of Fisheries and Oceans wrote council saying that the project has received approval under an environmental assessment review, and that work may proceed.

Fisheries and Oceans has deemed the compensation measures proposed by McNeely Engineering Ltd. as sufficient for the disrupted habitat.

However, a compensation agreement between the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, the Department of Fisheries and the proponent of the project (Matilda Township) must first be signed before authorization can be given.

The Township has already tendered contracts for the work and council will instruct McNeely Engineering to begin work as soon as possible.

Improvements will be on the first 12.4 km upstream of the confluence of the South Branch with the South Nation River, and is estimated at $1,620,000.

Channelization should improve the ability of the stream to convey summer flows so that flooding should only occur once every ten years on the average. There should also be significant reduction in water levels throughout the growing season.

According to the South Nation River Basin Water Management Study (1983), the annual damage in crop losses for the Brinston Flood Zone was estimated at $879,630.

Improvements are predicted to result in a portion of this sum being recovered during the first season following completion and to continue indefinitely.

May pass parking by-law

Matilda Council is investigating the passing of a by-law to control parking within the township and perhaps to forbid commercial parking within residential hamlets.

They are acting on a complaint of Dave Allison, subdivider of the Flagg Inlet subdivision. Allison objected to a tractor-trailer parking within the subdivision on Breezewood Drive, and on the merge lane from Highway 2 to Breezewood Drive.

Allison expressed concern for the appearance of six remaining lots that he wishes to sell. He pointed out possible road damage and safety hazards.

Although Allison has spoken to the vehicle owner, the vehicle continues to be parked on subdivision property.

He has also approached the Township council on a previous occasion and was told it could be "discriminatory" for the municipality to step in, and that road damage wasn't excessive. The OPP have advised Allison that a by-law would have to be in place to regulate parking activity.

Clerk Bill Horner noted the OPP will not enforce by-laws, which must be enforced by the by-law officer.

Allison recommended that council request information from the deputy-reeve of Lancaster. This municipality has a by-law in place prohibiting parking of commercial vehicles on town property.

While Allison doesn't object to the presence of small trucks, he does object to a tractor-trailer parking on subdivision roads.

"We think we've done a really good job in maintaining the subdivision. It's not cheap doing that," said Allison.

He explained he had spent $6000 in planting trees and thousands on underground wiring to keep up the appearance of the area.

If a satisfactory compromise can be reached whereby the owner would park the tractor-trailer on his own property, Matilda Council may not pass a by-law. However, they are leaving the option open.

"If we do it, we wouldn't do it just for a subdivision, we'd do it for road protection and safety and it would apply to the whole township," said reeve Charles Barkley.

Council favors conflict rules

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

IROQUOIS—At a regular meeting last Tuesday, the majority of Iroquois councillors favored the new draft legislation on conflict of interest proposed by the provincial government.

The new rules would require municipal councillors, school board trustees and public utility commissioners to disclose their assets, liabilities and sources of income upon assuming office. However, disclosure would extend only to the existence of assets and liabilities, not to their value.

Currently, councillors are required to declare their interests on an issue by issue basis.

Also, for the first six months after leaving office, council or board members would not be able to accept employment with the council or board on which they served.

The second component of the new legislation would give people the right to attend all municipal meetings. The only meetings which could legally remain closed would be when matters such as security, litigation and negotiations (exempt under the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act) are discussed.

The third component of the new legislation would require municipalities and local boards to adopt more open procedures for the sale of surplus municipal land. There would be new minimum standards covering such issues as public notification and appraisals.

Municipalities and local boards would have the right to offer surplus land to other local public agencies before offering it for sale publicly.

"I'm in favor of all three areas," said reeve John McAllister.

McAllister noted the declaration of assets was to avoid conflict of interest and the value of assets did not have to be declared.

He pointed out the broadness of the legislation, covering not only municipal councillors, but all elected officials—education trustees, and members of committees and advisory bodies such as local Hydro commissions.

Councils lax on open meetings

"The whole business of open meetings—this is an area where municipal politicians have been lax," said McAllister.

He observed with some pride that "this village has been an exception because all meetings are open to the public except for a few personnel and property issues which are legitimate."

Coun. Wilf Gibbons said he had no problem with the proposed new guidelines. "It's more important in the cities than it is her." he said.

And Coun. Clare Brown noted the new legislation would work two ways to protect council members as well as the public.

"It'll protect me as a councillor in that I have declared and that information is on file.

I can feel confident there's no conflict. Anyone can go and look at what my disclosure is," he said.

However, Coun. Ron Miller had a problem with the draft legislation. Miller objected to the idea of a councillor's assets being open public knowledge, although the value of assets would be unknown.

Miller felt that the thrust of the legislation would leave a councillor on the defensive."If you think I have a conflict, it's up to me to prove that I don't," he said.

But Brown believed that the onus of proof of conflict was on the complainant. "The only way I (as councillor) can prove it is through disclosure of information," he stated.

"Otherwise you'd be liable for attacks and on the defensive," McAllister added.

Council is to register their reactions, negative or positive, to the Ministry of Municipal Affairs by the end of March. Miller has already sent a letter stating his objections to parliamentary assistant Bill Murdoch.

"I think there's been tremendous abuse over the years and many ministers who attempted to address the question hit a stone wall," McAllister summarized his feelings on the issue.

"This government has taken the bull by the horns and I commend them for it," he added.

One councillor did not attend the meeting, vacationing deputy reeve Ed Thompson.

Brockville Women's Missionary meets

The annual meeting of the Brockville Presbyterial Women's Misionary Society was held on January 30, 1992 in First Presbyterian Church, Brockville with the theme "Use What You Have."

The meeting was constituted by the President Lottie Sutherland, worship was conducted by the Westport group, and a video on the environment , "God's Creation" was shown.

The video pointed out that God callsHis people to be stewards first and not just consumers of His creation. We should be in a right relationship with the world, which is a lesson we can learn from the native peoples. Christians believe that God created and loved the earth; therefore, we should be a positive instrument for change.

A Bible Study, "God Says the Impossible is Possible: It Is," was led by Catharine Blatch from Morrisburg. Groups explored ways of strengthening our Churches by encouraging people to take positions of responsibility even though a feeling of inadequacy exists.

Beulah Hutt was guest soloist and was accompanied by Edward Flanigan.

The guest speaker was Marilyn Scott, a counsellor at Tennant House.

Tennant House was opened in August of 1990, and is a longterm recovery home for womens addictions. The program of treatment is a Halistic one dealing with the physical, mental, spiritual and emotional needs of the women.

One way the community can show support and understanding is to make use of all opportunities to become more knowledgeable of the program.

The new officers were installed by Area Education Consultant Beth Anne Yands.

The incoming President Mary Moorhead said that her goal in the next year was to develop a "Shared Vision."

DIAPERS

This is the fourth in a series of articles produced by the Dundas Environmental Resource Centre in Morrisburg.

A recent birth in the family set this writer to thinking about diapers. On the surface of it, diapers seem innocuous enough - small bundles of absorbent material faced with thin plastic, held on with tape; but have you ever considered just how many of these "little bundles" are dropped off at the local landfill site each year? Try 1.7 billion per year, in Canada alone! Based upon seven changes over a 24-hour period, one baby will use over 6,387 diapers over the average 2 1/2 year diapering period. This translates into 1.4 tons per baby of bulk waste going into our landfill sites, not to mention the rather nasty contents of those diapers! Studies have shown that 35% of discarded disposable diapers contain fecal matter. Apart from the smell (air pollution in its own right!), diseases can be spread by insects, rodents, birds - viruses from innoculated babies can live up to two weeks in fecal matter. Water can be contaminated by seepage from a landfill into the local water supply. Add to that the fact that disposables may take up to 500 years to break down, not to mention costing almost three times as much as cloth, and cloth diapers begin to look better and better. The plastic lining in disposables, incidentally, is made from oil (a non-renewable resource); the absorbent layer is a paper product, made of wood pulp from trees that take years to replace themselves. Disposables are sized for certain age groups only (newborn, toddler, walker, etc.). Cloth can be washed and reused over and over again, adjusting in size as your child grows, and when they finally do make it to the dump, cotton diapers break down in about six months.

For busy parents, with limited time to wash diapers, a diaper service is often the only other alternative to disposables. Unfortunately, such services are frequently unavailable in rural communities. Perhaps some progressive entrepreneur could start one in our area?

Another option, although more expensive than cloth, would be to purchase cloth diapers with liners. These can be washed out separately, thereby, reducing the laundry load a little bit.

If disposable diapers are still your preference, at least remove the "solid waste" before the diapers are popped in the garbage. Rinsing in the toilet only takes a couple of minutes, and solids end up at the sewage treatment plant or in the septic tank, where they belong. Take the time - help ensure that your child will have a healthy world left to grow up in.

Reform Party seeks candidates

CHESTERVILLE—The Reform Party is launching a membership drive and candidate search in the Cornwall area.

Stormont Dundas riding association president Richard Mitchell said the campaign kick-off will take place at a public information meeting Monday, Feb. 24, at MacDonells Inn at Eamer's Corners.

"We plan to have a candidate selected and ready to campaign by August," said Mitchell. "We're a new, inexperienced party so we have to start early to be ready for the next federal election."

Mitchell said most of the Reform Party's strength in Stormont Dundas comes from the countryside.

"We have a solid base of about 200 members but we need to build in the city itself. We know there is support there. We just have to get it out."

Mitchell said the Feb. 24 meeting will give Cornwall residents a chance to learn about and question Reform Party policies.

Reform's commitment to giving more power to the people is a key factor in the party's growth, Mitchell said, noting that Reform has passed the Conservatives in recent public opinion polls and holds third place.

"It's not enough to change parties," Mitchell said. "We have to change the system. Canadians are totally disillusioned with a process which allows politicians to break their promises as soon as they are elected."

Mitchell added voters should have the right to recall their MPs if he or she doesn't represent them, and there should be referenda on major issues.

"We believe all provinces should have equal power and all Canadians should be treated equally regardless of language, race or religion. We don't think special status should be given anyone," he said.

The Reform Party would respect minority rights, but the majority also has rights which are not presently being defended, Mitchell said.

The party also favors more efficiency in government services and a balanced budget, Mitchell stated.

Iroquois Council Briefs

Iroquois Council endorsed a resolution of the Township of Winchester requesting the SD & G School Boards to limit their money requisitions. The Township has asked the Boards to keep increases to less than the inflation rate or as recommended by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs.

*

The Village has deferred for budget deliberations a maintenance proposal from Taylor's Nursery. The proposal includes upkeep on trees and shrubs in the Shopping Plaza for $498 plus GST.

*

Council received a request from Canada 125 Corporation requesting the municipality's participation in celebrating Canada's founding as a nation from 1867-1992.

Although Canada 125 doesn't fund community events, they have an agreement with Participaction, whose advisors can provide suggestions on community sponsored activities.

Recreation coordinator Paul McAllister is to investigate funding for celebrations to be coordinated with the Iroquois Summer Festival.

*

Council received correspondance from the Canada Post Corporation in response to a resolution the Village sent regarding reduction of hours in Post Offices.

The Village was assured the adjustments would have no effect on the hours of service to the public, and did not signal the closing of the Iroquois Post Office.

*

Council has deferred for post-budget discussions, a request from SD & G Separate School Board chairman to consider a new service called "The Child Sexual Abuse Therapy Center."

The request came as a result of discontinuation of funding for specialized treatment for child victims of sexual abuse and their families.

"This is an acute problem. But we should sit tight until we have more specific information," said Reeve John McAllister.

Council considers environment camps

IROQUOIS—Council here has given approval in principle to a proposal of the Dundas Environmental Awareness Group for summer day camps throughout the county.

The DEAG is applying to the Ministry of Environment for a $50,000 grant under the Environmental Youth Corps Program.

The proposal is to operate three two-week sessions during July and August, at a daily cost of $2.50 a child. Each two-week camp period would accommodate a maximum of 15 students, aged 7-12 years, for a total of 180 throughout the County.

The program would focus on environmental topics such as waste management, water quality and soil erosion, but would include recreation and a possible "clean-up" project for the host municipality.

The four municipalities of Chesterville, Winchester, Iroquois and Morrisburg are being asked to co-sponsor the project by offering use of a park facility and covering students and supervisors under municipal liability and Worker's Compensation.

"There's no reason we shouldn't support them, and there's areas we could utilize them.

We have parks facilities they could use and areas such as the Hadley property require work," said Coun. Clare Brown.

"They could help with signage and trimming," Reeve John McAllister added.

Council estimated that insurance costs would not be exorbitant, amounting to only a few hundred dollars.

UCV gears up for Carnival

Move over February blues, here comes the first annual Parks of the St. Lawrence Winter Carnival!

Two exciting days of free family fun have been slated for February 22 and 23 in the Crysler Park area, near Upper Canada Village.

The event will be launched at 1 p.m. on Saturday, February 22, with sled and pack dog demonstrations. Siberian Huskies from the Kanunik Kennels in North Gower and Alaskan Malamutes from the Hoople Creek Kennels in Ingleside will show their strength and special aptitude for winter travel.

Some of these magnificent purebred animals can be seen again at 11 a.m. the following day.

At 3 p.m. Saturday, contestants will gear up for the first-ever Mountain Bike Obstacle Race.

Visitors are welcome to bring their own bicycles or try the course with bikes provided by Kairim Sport in Cornwall. Participants who successfully complete the course will receive a ballot for a draw on Sunday.

Many other activities throughout the fun-filled two-day event will provide lots of entertainment for the winter outdoor lover.

Snow snake (a native Canadian game), tug-of-war, parachute (the game which a group of people plays), and skating will be offered on both days.

Horse-drawn sleigh rides will take visitors through Upper Canada Village for $3 per adult, $1.50 per senior and student; children six and under are free.

As a special feature, the hours of the Saturday "Old Fashioned Evening" have been extended. Homemade soup, baked ham and all the trimmings will await people at the Harvest Barn Restaurant from 5-9 p.m.

The cost of this hearty meal, including a lantern-lit sleigh ride, is $13.50 adults, $12 seniors and students and $6.50 for children 10 and under.

To top off the day, the picture-perfect Village canal will be lit and visitors can skate under the stars, accompanied by music.

On Sunday, February 23 at 1 p.m., people are invited to cheer for their favorites as local teams outshine each other in the "Winter Challenge". A relay race on snow shoes, and several other outdoor skills, will be part of the competition.

The winners will be rewarded with the title of fastest, toughest and most skilled "winter beaters".

Also on Sunday, a Snowmobile Tag-a-long has been planned for 2 p.m. Snowmobilers can join the Riverside Snowmobile Club for a 1-1/2-hour loop through Crysler Park, and the Long Sault Parkway.

The Harvest Barn Restaurant will serve refreshments and light meals on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the Village Store will be open throughout the weekend from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The festivities will come to a close at 4:30 p.m. with the distribution of several prizes and a trophy for the winners of the Winter Challenge.

More details on all the Parks of the St. Lawrence winter events are available by calling 613-543-3704.

But Seaway answered back with a shot from Mike Paycroft with only 20 seconds remaining.

The Lions had the only counter of the second period with Lance Lepage's goal assisted by Eric Charlebois., but the team lost it in the final period as Seaway came back to dump in four unanswered goals for the 5-2 finish.

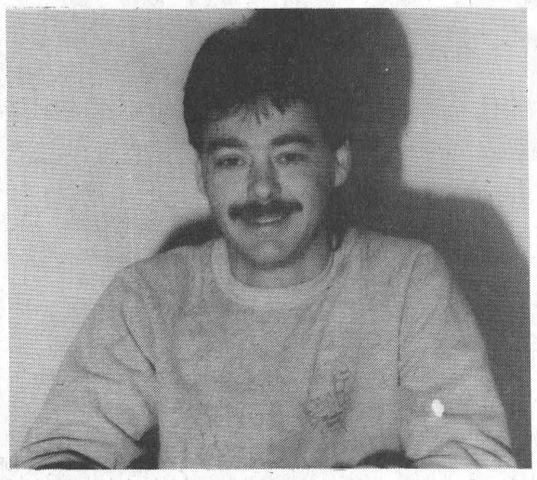
M.D.M.H.A. Coach's Corner



JEFF LECLAIR
BANTAM II COACH

This is Jeff's second year in the Morrisburg Minor Hockey system as the Bantam II coach. He feels that discipline is the key to good, clean, tough hockey and that is what he hopes to bring to this young club. With a Bantam Upper Canada title under his belt from the 90-91 hockey season, he is well on his way to a second title as the team sits at the top of the standings alongside Brockville for the top spots. Jeff has the hockey experience as he played through the Chesterville system and played in a pick-up league while living in Calgara, but because of an opening in Morrisburg upon his return to the area two years ago, he jumped at the change to coach. "I wanted to stay involved with hockey, but because of back problems, I was forced to quit playing," he says. But next year, Jeff plans to coach once again. "My wife puts up with a lot," he says as he reflects on the time spent at the rink, considering the drive from his home in South Mountain takes him almost a half an hour. Jeff and his wife Lana have two daughters, Jessica, 3, and Katelyn, 10 months. Day photo

R/O girls take tourney title

INGLESIDE—The Rothwell/Osnabruck School was the site of the annual Stormont County Basketball Tournament last week.

On Tuesday, the ladies of the host school captured the A division hardware after bouncing all other opposition.

Central Public fell to R/O in the final game 15-11.

Other wins for the girls were over Longue Sault 15-4, Akwesasne 9-4 and Central in an earlier court date 10-5.

Leading the scoring race for the championship were Allison Wara with 19 points, and Amanda Veltheim with 11.

Shauna Locey added six, Beth-Ann Loynachan five, and both Diana De Jong and Amanda Beaudette sank four points apiece.

Amanda Bilmer, Jessica Walker, Carissa Wall, and Angela Wilson played key roles on the defence according to coach David McCleary.

In second place for the A division was of course, Central, followed by Akwesasne and Longue Sault.

This is the first time that the trophy for the Stormont girls basketball tournament has ever been won by the Rothwell/Osnabruck School in its 28 years running.

On the B side, it was Viscount School in first place, followed by Vincent Massey for second.

Eamen's Corners took third, Gladstone fourth and Memorial Park ended in the fifth place position.

For the boys who hosted the tournament on Wednesday, they lost a very tight race to the first-place Viscount School.

When these two teams met, it was Viscount to win by a free throw, 14-13 in the final 30 seconds of the game.

R/O claimed their wins over Longue Sault and Akwesasne, and tied Central for a seven-point second place finish.

Viscount won the championship after winning all four of their matches.

Lethargic Lions loosened by the underdogs

LAURIE DAY
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—If the Jr. B Lions expected to cruise through the first round of E.O.J.B.H.L. playoff action against the number-four ranked Kemptville 73s, they got their wake-up call here Friday night.

Fighting for the lead throughout the game, the Lions gave up hope of catching the 73s in the final period as Kemptville sailed to a 6-5 win to take game one of the best-of-seven series.

"I'll guarantee you, the boys won't take them so lightly on Friday," said a frustrated skipper, Doug Casselman Monday afternoon. "I'm just glad we came out of the weekend 50/50. We could have just as easily been down two right now."

On Sunday in Kemptville, the Lions finally picked up the pace but not before skidding to a 6-4 deficit after the second period.

They came back in the final frame with four markers to post an 8-6 triumph.

"They have to keep their heads about them," Casselman says. "By not being mentally prepared, we were emotionally let down. They didn't play well at all over the weekend."

Game one

Kemptville took charge early in the game Friday night as Dan Vajcovec was the first to hit between Jeff Hopkins' pipes.

Morrisburg's Craig Villeneuve got the home team on the board with his shot past Peter Speziale at 13:39, but it was Kemptville's Kirk Tallman with the go-ahead goal just 25 seconds later.

Rob Casselman tied the game at two apiece before the first 20 minutes expired.

In the second, the Lions went ahead on Rob Domanko's goal just two minutes into the period, but Kemptville's Vajcovec and Tallman answered with another pair of counters as the lead was taken from the home team for the last time.

Hope dwindled as the second period came to a close with Kemptville leading 5-4, after Dave Figleomeni scored. For the Lions, it was Randy Mullin.

In the final period, Mike Speziale scored at 13:12, but Morrisburg tried one last attempt as Yvon Besner clocked one at 11:01.

With the better part of a period to come back from a one-goal deficit, Casselman says the Lions were halted by "one hot goaltender".

Game two

It looked as though the Lions were going to go down two straight to the underdogs, as they trailed 6-4 after the second period, but the team held it together to come back in the final period for an 8-6 upset.

Andrew McEwan was the scoring leader for the Lions in Kemptville as he potted a hat trick and added an assist to his total.

Two of his goals came in the final period.

Again it was Kemptville on the take as the team combined on a powerplay for the first goal of the game from Tallman off Sean Audet and Trevor Mikus.

A short-handed attempt from Jason Quesnel put the home team up by a pair before Brian Bouchey scored for the Lions on a powerplay from Mullin.

Vajcovec gave Kemptville a 3-1 advantage, but before the break Mike McAllister scored another one for the Lions.

Kemptville came up with three in the second period to Morrisburg's two, before the Lions took control of the final frame for the win.

Scoring for the 73's in period two were Tallman, Mikus and Vajcovec, while for the Lions, it was Mullin and McEwan.

Morrisburg dominated the third period, with goals from Mullin, Besner and two from McEwan.

Morrisburg mutters

The Lions only recorded six (6) minutes in penalties on Friday night; one two-minute penalty in each period. Kemptville countered with 12 minutes.

On Sunday, there were 12 minors assessed to Morrisburg and one 10-minute misconduct.

For Kemptville - ditto.

Dennis Villeneuve was credited with the Lions' win, while Hopkins suffered the loss.

Friday night in Morrisburg, game three is slotted for an 8:30 p.m. start, and it's back to Kemptville for Sunday's faceoff.

Tuesday, February 25th, it's back to Morrisburg, and if game six is necessary, it will be in Kemptville on Friday, February 28th. Game seven (if necessary) will be back here on Sunday, March 1st.

The M.F.S.C. took part in an interclub championship Saturday in Brockville. Bantam Bs pick up three more points

Kirkwood nails hat trick in 12-1 romp

The Morrisburg Bantam B Lions posted a pair of wins and a 2-2 tie last week in the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League schedule.

In Westport on Sunday, the Lions scored four goals in each period to bounce the Rideaus 12-1.

Darryl Kirkwood had three goals in the game and picked up a pair of assists to lead the Lions' scoring race.

It was a tight match, but only for the first few minutes as Morrisburg's Jonathan Saunders claimed the opening goal of the game at 14:03 of the first period.

Westport answered at 8:46 on Brent Bouchard's shot past Mike Adlington, but the Rideaus were held there.

Jay R. Elliott, Jon Domanko and Kirkwood rounded out the first-period goals for the Lions.

In the second frame, they continued their scoring blast as Saunders picked up his second of the contest at 14:43 of the period.

Matt McCooeye potted a single counter four minutes later, and Jason Rice picked up a single at the 7:18 mark.

A short-handed goal came from Mike Easter with 4:09 remaining for an 8-1 advantage.

But eight goals weren't enough for the Lions as they came back in the third period with four more unattested counters.

Easter found the hole in the mesh for his second at 12:47, followed by Kirkwood at 12:28, and Ben Comfort at 11:26, as the team didn't give Tim Eyre much chance for a breather in between shots.

To finish up the scoring, Kirkwood sank his hat trick on a powerplay attempt with help from Rice and Anthony Orlicky.

In the club's second start, a pair of short-handed goals vaulted the team to a 6-4 win in Ogdensburg Thursday.

After a 3-2 deficit in the first period, the Lions came back to tie the game in the second at four.

In the final period, it was Saunders with the winner with just 4:26 remaining, and Orlicky with the insurance at 1:32.

McCooeye scored both goals for the visiting Lions in the first period.

Orlicky and Saunders scored the short handed counters in the second frame.

Morrisburg hosted Brockville last Tuesday where they let a 2-0 lead slip to a 2-2 tie after regulation play in the U.C.M.H.L.

Jamie Scott scored for the Lions in the first period with just 3:00 remaining, and in the second it was Orlicky for a 2-0 edge.

In the final period, it was Darren Metcalfe who got by Adlington at 10:46, then with only 45 seconds left in the game, David Steele tied the game.

Bantam banter

The winning goal tender in the Ogdensburg match was Brat Notman, while Adlington was left with the tying effort last Tuesday.

In the three games played, Sheldon Tryon picked up five assists, while Kirkwood and Saunders claimed four each.

Other assists went to Elliott with three and Easter, Comfort, Kyle Schwerdfeger, McCooeye with two each.

Singles were credited to Brandon Boivin and Orlicky.

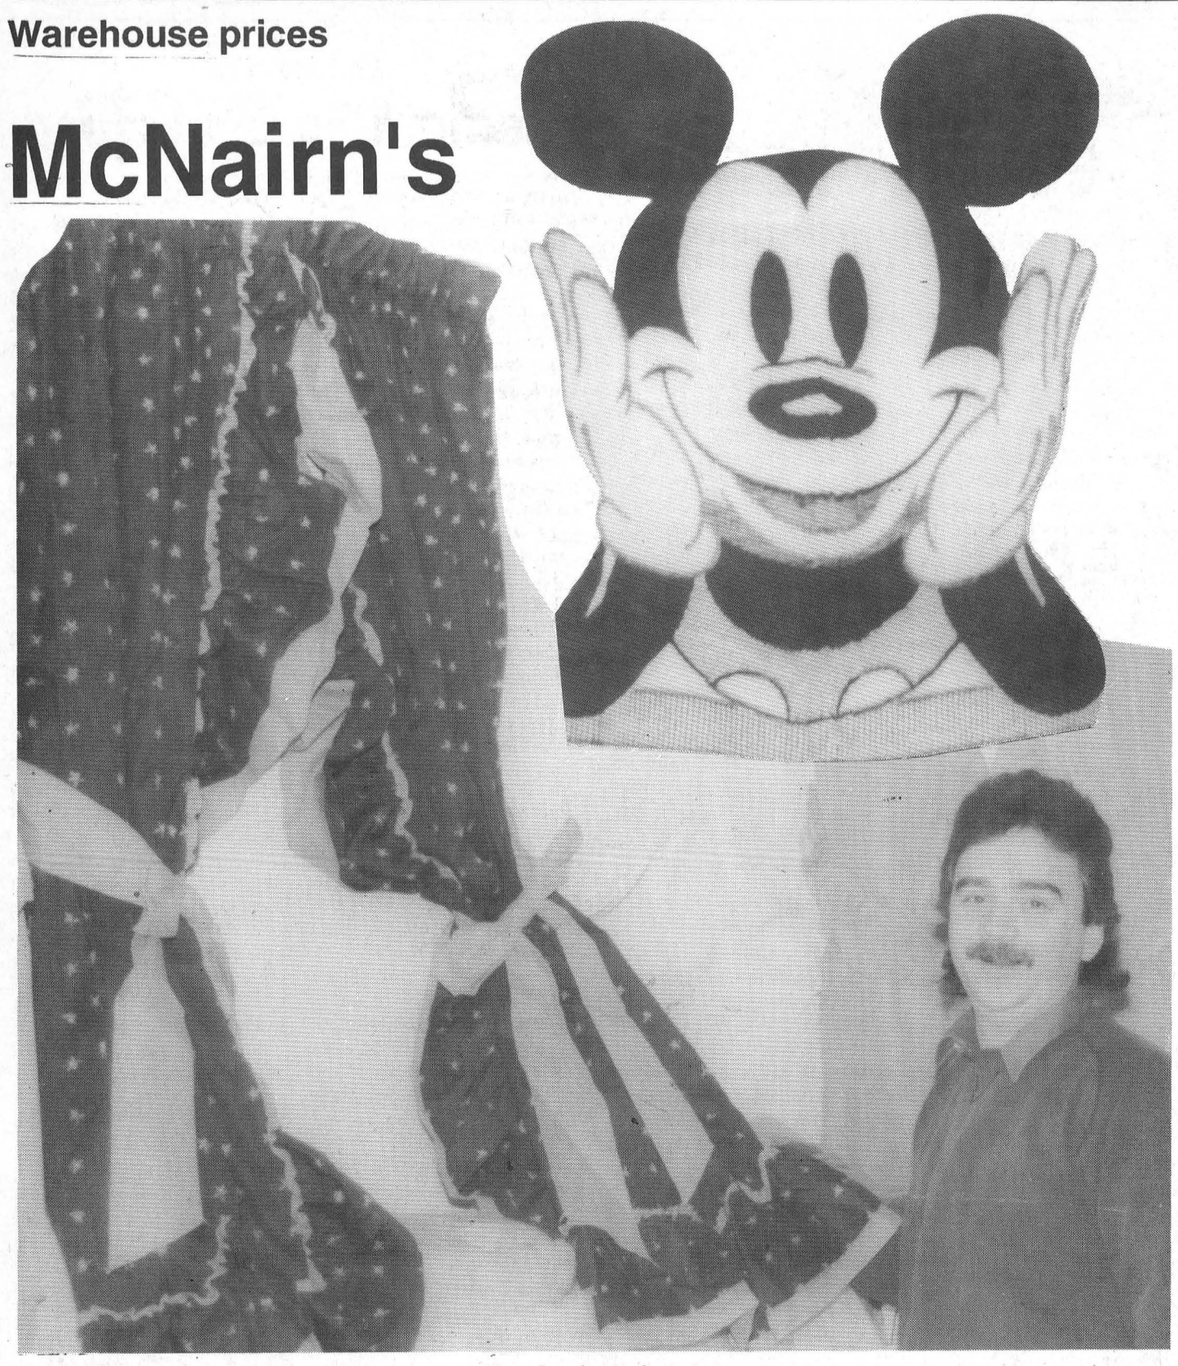
McNairn's Home Textiles latest craze



New business in town
Doug McNairn will be opening his hew home textiles business in the Industrial Park, Morrisburg this week. He has a large selection of such things as curtains, blankets, comforters and douvets for sale. Day photos

LAURIE DAY

MORRISBURG—Put away those bargain-basement flyers and catalogues that promise great deals but not without a week-long waiting period.

You need not look further than Morrisburg for the best savings on home textiles.

Whether you're in the market for curtains, sheets, comforters, duvets, pillows or blankets, has Doug McNairn of Home Textiles Inc. got a deal for you.

At one-third the price of catalogue tags and mall prices, McNairn offers a wide variety, and all items are in stock at his new establishment in the Industrial Park, Morrisburg.

"My main goal is to sell some products wholesale," he says. "That's where the volume of the sales will be. Any (sales) through the retail end of it will be a bonus."

At the present time, a Toronto based partner, Ron Brinston, is targeting the markets in duvet sales, as McNairn sees that to be his best bet.

He is also looking into conducting bus tours throughout his outlet, similar to those conducted at Caldwell Linen Mill in Iroquois.

"Since that mill has been closed, we may be able to pick up on the business they once had," McNairn says.

As an example on his prices, Pricilla curtains of 83 inches in length, are $32, as compared to the catalogue price of $99. The fabric is a cotton/polyester blend, and there are many patterns and colors to choose from.

He has an assortment of children's accessories as well, from baby blankets at $6 and $8 to Mickey Mouse imported blankets (double-bed size) at $30.

"There's something for all price ranges too."

The outlet will be opened from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., and you will meet Delores Froats, who will be managing the business.

"Later on down the road, I can see myself hiring a student or two," McNairn explains. "That is, if all goes well."

With a background in this type of business, McNairn own and operated Jor-Tex Marketing from his home in 1986-87.

Prior to that stint, he was based in Toronto for seven years where he was involved in the same line of business. There, he developed contacts with which he is dealing at the present time.

"I'm not out to make oodles, and oodles of money. I just want to make a living like everybody else," he says. "It may take a while to get on my feet, but I have good feelings about it."

These four students from St. Cecilia's Separate School in Iroquois will be heading to Napanee for a three-day bonspiel on Friday. Aoife Maguire, Stephanie Cassell, Lesley McDonnell and skip Michael Brunt are all members of the Morrisburg Junior Curling program. Day photo

Ingleside Lanes gears up for charity

Hopes are $40,000 high

INGLESIDE—Organizers for the annual CHEO fundraisers have been busy preparing a spring program which consists of various events to help raise money for the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario.

Colvin Smith and Harold Fisher and their committee have once again organized a Bowl-a-thon which will take place at the Ingleside Bowling Lanes on April 4 from 4 p.m. until closing.

Pledge sheets are now available at the Lanes, and there are only spots for 96 bowlers.

The money sponsored for the bowl-a-thon has to be no later than March 22.

Smith says that the goal for this year is $40,000, which is twice the amount of money raised last year, and because of the amount of enthusiasm generated by participants, he feels that goal isn't so unreasonable.

It is a requirement of the committee, that in order to bowl on April 4th, at least $50 in pledges must be obtained, and all bowlers in the marathon will receive a prize.

For pledges, please contact Linda 346-2363, Harold 984-2380, Colvin 933-0632 or Audrey 543-2501.

Donations will be greatly appreciated for this effort and if you have something that would be of interest for the auction, you can contact one of the committee members: Clayton at 938-1200, Linda, Carson, or Colvin.

As an added surprise, local celebrities will be in attendance.

The auction will be held from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

On March 6, starting at 11:30 a.m., a Charity Luncheon will be held at the Parkway Motor Inn in Cornwall.

Max Keeping of CJOH will e the guest speaker along with CHEO's Richard Patton.

For tickets call 933-0632 or fax 937-3559. The cost is $35 per person.

A Garage Sale is slated for March 21 and 22 at 1234 Caswell Crescent in Cornwall from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. both days.

Donations would also be appreciated for this event and will be much appreciated.

For information on this, contact Pat or Judy at 936-

Finally, on April 25 from 9-1 p.m., there will be a Charity Dance for CHEO at Murphy's Inn in Cornwall. The price is $3 per person or $5 per couple and there will be a light lunch served. Contact Linda, Clayton, Carson or Colvin for tickets.

Once again, all these organized charity events will be raising money for CHEO, and any donation or pledge is for the children of Eastern Ontario.

Dear Mr. Vaughan:

I would like to formally recognize the role played by the members of the Morrisburg Fire Department Rescue Unit on July 14, 1991 during the search for a missing diver.

I understand the marine traffic was heavy that day, making the security of the scene extremely difficult. Our officers advise that your assistance allowed the search to be conducted with the greatest efficiency and minimum confusion. This is another fine example of the excellent cooperation that exists between the OPP and your department.

I personally commend and thank you for your valuable contribution to this operation.

Yours truly,

Thomas B. O'Grady,
Commissioner.

IROQUOIS—The major focus of the joint recreational committee over the next few years will be the Morrisburg arena, recreation coordinator Paul McAllister told council last week in an initial meeting.

"We want to gain control of it because the arena is a major expenditure in South Dundas," said Paul McAllister.

Iroquois reeve John McAllister pointed out that council is concerned over a request from the Morrisburg Hockey Association to raise their contribution from $110 to $135 a player. Clerk Elizabeth Marlin has issued a cheque of $1760, covering $110 a player, not the requested amount.

Paul McAllister noted: "Four bills have been sent to the four (municipal) recreation committees.

The recreation council will look at them and recommend to the four municipalities."

Paul observed that in his past experience, Osnabruck Township subsidized its residents to play hockey in Long Sault, in a 50/50 arrangement. But "by this proposal the municipality pays out more for the kids to play in Morrisburg than the children do."

However, being new to the job it was hard for him to draw any immediate conclusions. "Over the next three to four months, a lot of work will be done in assessing the operation of the arena, and how things operate there.

For 1993, the recreation council will come back with concrete recommendations on how financing will be handled," he stated.

"I'd like to see a joint effort between the regular recreation committees and the recreation council. I don't mind coming up with a suitable arrangement, but I'll be darned if anyone will tell us how much we're to pay," said Coun. Ron Miller.

Reeve John McAllister asked for an opinion on the underutilization of Iroquois facilities such as the tennis court or beach.

Paul explained that the recreation council would check to see whether groups do fully use the facilities, and if not why not.

"Obviously in an area this size, there's some duplication of services. Perhaps we'll find that a tennis court is being duplicated in four municipalities.

Or maybe we'll find that we don't have enough facilities for particular recreational programs and that we're not reaching the need in the community," Paul McAllister said.

When asked whether his mandate would include park maintenance operations like grass-cutting, Paul McAllister stated the recreation council would look at these issues and recommend to the four municipalities.

"But we won't take full responsibility for anything as long as recreation committees for the different municipalities still exist. It's not our job to step on their toes and tell them how to do their job. Right now we're in the position of recommending and that's what we'll be doing," Paul McAllister said.

After this discussion, council passed a by-law formally appointing the South Dundas Recreation Council to oversee joint community recreation in South Dundas.

The 1992 operating deficit is to be shared 25 per cent each among the four municipalities of Morrisburg, Iroquois, Williamsburg and Matilda Townships.

Curling Chatter

Two teams from the Morrisburg Curling Club travelled to Russell Saturday to compete in the annual Merkley Bonspiel.

The A final saw Russell play Russell for the coveted Merkley Cup.

Morrisburg's Brooke Leightizer with team members Don O'Brien, Chris Barkley and Rob Robichaud, played in the B final against Ron Rutley of Winchester, but were unable to capture the Bruce MacDonald Shield from Rutley who had won in the previous year as well.

The Bruce MacDonald Shield was instituted last year to honor Bruce for his commitment to the Merkley Cup competition. He had been secretary for many years.

Rick LeRoy's team of John Allison, Danny Cassell and Steve Lodge also represented Morrisburg in the four village competition held annually for 54 years. Plans are being made for a special 55-year celebration next year in Winchester.

On the home front, the evening women's Kraft General Foods draw finished last week and it was Karen Jones' rink of Donna Jeacle, Robin Lane and Eleanor Allison won the trophy.

Morrisburg W.I. enjoy February meeting

At the February meeting of the Morrisburg Women's Institute, one minute of silence was observed in memory of long-time member, Marion Thompson, who passed away last month.

The Roll Call "A Family Heirloom" was answered with: a wedding dress, a teapot, a bowl, pillow shams, and other items, some dating back to great-great-grandmothers.

After the business meeting, the convenor Doris McLaren, spoke on the Motto: "A Busy Mind is Not a Bored One." She applied it to the situation in Canada today, and urged everybody to be concerned about it.

The guest speaker was Margaret Reynolds, who showed slides of Taiwan, Hong Kong, Macao and the People's Republic of China. Having visited these countries, she gave an interesting commentary on the people, their way of living, some lovely buildings, trade, etc.

Mrs. McLaren thanked the speaker and presented her with a gift. Some Valentine readings followed, and then everybody enjoyed a lovely lunch, including a Valentine cake prepared by Doris and Joan Daugherty.

The next meeting will be March 12th with Roll Call: "Bring a Friend."
