68th Convention Dundas Public School Teachers

The 68th convention of the Teachers of Dundas County was held in the Chesterville Community Hall on Friday, October 10th, 1947.

The convention opened at 9.30 a.m. with the President, Mrs. Catherine Edgerton in the chair.

After welcoming the teachers, the President called on the Rev. W. E. Wright to conduct devotional exercises after which O Canada was sung with Mrs. Allison Graham at the piano. The minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted.

Then followed the President's address in which she stressed the importance of religious education in the school and the moral and spiritual effect in later years.

Mrs. Allison Graham then conducted a class in music with the Primary pupils of Chesterville Public School. Mrs. Graham said that long after the more material facts of school life were forgotten children would remember their musical experience. She said also that it had a very beneficial effect on discipline. The lesson was much enjoyed by all present.

This was followed by an address on "A Summer Course in Arts and Crafts" by Mr. Gerald Droppo who described his experience at a Summer Course in Toronto and demonstrated some beautiful and unique work done by pupils of his school.

The work developed the pupils originally and brought out unsuspected talent.

Mr. R. C. Dillabough then addressed the meeting on "Methods in Social Studies". The speaker stressed the need of more intelligent and intelligible reading as a means of advancing the pupil's knowledge of amusing himself.

The speaker urged more time on Geography and History to aid pupils in intelligent travel and for Commercial purpose.

Mr. Dillabough was followed by Inspector W. J. Stewart, M.A., who discussed "Attendance Reports" and other phases daily routine.

The meeting adjourned for lunch which was served in the dining hall of Trinity United Church.

At 1.30 the meeting reconvened and an address on Primary Methods was given by Mrs. Blanche Pigeon, which was much apreciated.

Miss Dorothy Crozier, Director of the Ontario Junior Red Cross then addressed the gathering on Junior Red Cross an Aid to the Teacher. Dundas County has the finest record in Junior Red Cross in Ontario.

The meeting then adjourned and Federation meetings of Men Teachers and Women Teachers, were held separately and matters of interest were discussed.

The M.T.F. was called to order by Mr. Gordon Foulds, Principal of Morrisburg Public School. He outlined the work of the Federation and called for the election of a new slate of officiers for 1947-48 which resulted as follows:

President, Mr. R. C. Dillabough, Chesterville.

Vice-President, Mr. Harry Patter, Winchester.

Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Gerald Droppo, Melvins.

Mr. Foulds, retiring President, then called on Mr. Dillabough to assume the chair and report on the annual meeting of the O.P.S.M.T.F. held in Toronto at Easter.

Mr. Dillabough thanked the teachers for the confidence placed in him and promised to try and further the interests of the Federation.

The speaker said he was amazed at the strength of the Federation and the aggressive business-like methods employed and advised all teachers to get solidly behind the Federation.

Plans were discussed to have Mr. Croskery, Ottawa President, address the Dundas local at Winchester sometime in the near future.

The Convention then reconvened and the report of the Resolution Committee was then read by Mrs. Irene Merkley. The report was adopted.

The report of the nominating committee was then read by Mr. Gordon Foulds and unanimously adopted.

The new officers are as follows: honorary president, W. J. Stewart, M.A. Winchester: president, Stanley Waddell. Iroquois; vice-president, Mrs. Olive Barkley, Iroquois; secretary-treasurer. H. Hamilton, Iroquois; executive committee. Mrs. Irene Merkley. Mountain; Lyle Thorp, Iroquois. and Miss Margaret Kelley, Winchester.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

"Exporting Interest" Subject of Rotary Talk

"We dare not excuse shallow living on the ground that we are getting broad", said Rev. Hector Beach at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club last Tuesday evening. "Our interest in local affairs is growing too thin, and like all things when the interest and incentive is lost, there is a withering away of the strength of the local affairs until outside interests find a rich ground for exploitation."

Introduced by Harry Henderson, Mr. Beach opened his talk with a short comparison of the things of seventy years ago and as they are at the present day. He pointed out that in those days the people of a community, of necessity, took an intense interest in all that went on about them in their own home, farm, public school and church. Nowadays, the tendency is to overlook the fundamental local interests of the individual and pay too much attention to affairs that transpire thousands of miles away. Rapid transportation and modern means of communication have made the world so small that we are all too apt to overlook what is happening in our own back yard. Mr. Beach said that the exporting of interest from our own affairs to those that are in the radio loudspeaker is often carried to excess. "The armchair, a cigarette and no collection plate are a fine example of exported interest on Sundays,' said the speaker.

Concluding, Rev. Mr. Beach pointed out that we must revise our methods of living so that when our youth goes out into the world they will have such an intense interest in home affairs that it will be second nature to them to make their new home a good one and thereby show that their heritage will be carried on in a successful manner and be a benefit to the world-wide community.

The speaker was thanked by H. G. Bigelow.

WHOOPING COUGH DANGEROUS ILL OF CHILDHOOD

Whooping cough is "one of the deadliest killers among communicable diseases of childhood," it is stated by Dr. R. J. Wilson in an article "You can Protect Your Child Against Whooping Cough" in the September-October "National Immunization Week" issue of the magazine Health, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

Dr. Wilson is Research Associate, Connaught Medical Research Laboratories, Toronto, and Associate in Hygiene and Preventive Medicine, University of Toronto. In his article he tells how whooping cough can be controlled through use of whooping cough vaccine.

Canada's fifth annual "National Immunization Week" is being observed this year from October 5th to 11th. It is sponsored by the Health League in cooperation with health departments.

Dr. Wilson says that for years whooping cough in Canada caused more deaths in children under two years of age than diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles together. He added that among the children who contracted whooping cough, but who did not die, many suffered serious complications.

"With these facts in mind," he writes, "it is easy to see that whooping cough cannot be lightly considered as 'just one of those things' that children get, and dismissed as such. Too frequently it is accepted as an annoying but almost inevitable occurrence in the life of a child".

The writer reviews the history of production and perfection of whooping cough vaccine, and states that immunization of children against the diesease should start when they are six months old. This was necessary because two-thirds of the deaths from whooping cough occurred in children under one year of age and over three-quarters in children under two years.

In answer to any possible objections that the giving of whooping cough vaccine would mean another set of inoculations—in addition to vaccination against smallpox and immunization against diphtheria—Dr. Wilson says diphtheria toxoid and whooping cough vaccine can be given at the same time, in a combined dose.

To further simplify the immunization program, Dr. Wilson reveals, there is now a mixture available containing diphtheria toxoid, whooping cough vaccine, and tetanus toxoid. Thus children can be protected against all three diseases with one set of inoculations.

"This procedure sounds simple, yet not enough children are immunized in Canada," Dr. Wilson concluded. "Every year children die needlessly from these diseases. The price of protection is small; the value cannot be estimated. Let us justify the years of efforts on the part of our scientists, doctors, public health organizations and other public agencies who have made it possible that children might live. Are YOUR children immunized?"

CANADA'S GIFT TO LONDON'S CHILDREN

The people of Canada have sent a gift to Bethnal Green's Public Libraries in London for which the children of the Borough will have reason to be grateful all their lives. It is 1500 children's books of the highest literary quality and the way in which this generous gift has come about is interesting. Last December Bethnal Green Public Library issued a report which appeared in some London daily papers and which spoke of the destruction of millions of books by enemy action during the war, which, together with the present paper shortage has made it difficult to obtain the books essential to any children's library. The report was read by Toronto's Chief Librarian, Mr. C. R. Sanderson, and as a result, a press and radio campaign was begun, under the auspices of the Canadian Library Association, in which every Canadian boy and girl was asked to send books to Bethnal Green. Soon books were pouring in to Toronto from all over Canada from schools, social organizations and from children and adults alike. Some children sent their pocket money.

The Producer Knew

The Hollywood producer called a conference of his writers to discuss the title for his new production, to be called "The Optimist."

"Gentlemen," he said, "I'm afraid we must change the title to something simpler. You know and I know what an optimist is, but how many of the morons who are going to see the picture know that an optimist is an eye-doctor?"

SMYTH—BEST

St. Paul's Anglican Church, Renfrew, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Friday afternoon, September 26th, at 3 o'clock, when Miss Dorothy Margaret Best, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Best of Renfrew, became the bride of Mr. Robert John Smyth, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Smyth, of Toronto. Rev. J. W. Cornish officiated. The church was decorated with autumn flowers and ferns. Mrs. Dickson Wilson played the wedding music. During the signing of the register Mr. Mervin Payne sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white satin designed with a high nylon beaded yolk and long sleeves pointed over the wrist, fitted bodice, buttoned down the back. Her long veil was arranged from a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses and baby breath.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Ray Burden, sister of the groom, who wore a long gown of dusky rose, silk jersey with matching headdress and carried a bouquet of tea roses and baby breath.

Little Miss Joan Biesenthal was flower girl who looked charming in a floor-length gown of blue satin. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and baby breath.

Mr. Ray Burden was best man, and the ushers were Harold and Leonard Best, brothers of the bride.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a strand of pearls, to the flower girl a locket, to the best man a smoking stand, to the ushers initialed billfolds.

The bride's mother looked lovely in a dress of turquoise blue crepe trimmed with silver studs with grey accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother chose a grey silk jersey dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Dinner was served to about 45 guests at the Hotel Renfrew. Rev. Mr. Cornish proposed the toast to the bride, and the groom ably responded.

In the evening a reception was held at the Hillcrest Hall to 175 guests. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Dorothy Gilbert of Renfrew. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the young couple.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Smyth left by car for Ottawa, Morewood and Montreal. Going away the bride chose a navy blue tailored suit with black and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Smyth will take up residence at 70 Howard Park Avenue, Toronto.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burden, Mrs. E. O'Shaughnessy, Mrs. B. Bentley all of Toronto; Miss Mina Leduc of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald of Smiths Falls; Mr. George Barden and family of Almonte; Mr. and Mrs. Will McCarton, Mr. and Mrs. B. Van Dusen of Arnprior; Mr. James Duggan of Mt. St. Patrick.

Mrs. Brock Barkley Entertains Elma Wo's Inst.

The Elma Branch of the Women's Institute met for their October meeting, Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Brock Barkley. There were seventeen members, four new members and four visitors present. The roll call was answered with the name of a new member.

Mrs. Hugh McMillan gave a detailed report of the Institute rally held at Morrisburg, October 1st.

Mrs. Chamois and Mrs. E. H. Stiles of Cornwall were present and made an appeal for the support of the Children's Aid Society.

Ater some discussion it was decided that instead of any local organization conducting the canvass, the teacher and pupils of the school should take charge of it.

Mrs. Wray McPherson, convener of Historical Research, had charge of the program. "Home Sweet Home" was sung. Mrs. R. C. Colquhoun read an account of the work of this department. Mrs. McPherson then read a very interesting paper in which she described the life of the early settlers, and named some of the early settlers whose descendents now occupy the same farms.

Mention was made of the local school which is the third school building built in this section, of the church built seventy-five years ago to replace the Becker Chapel then in use, and of the modern cheese factory built within the past year.

The meeting closed with "God Save the King". The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Pemberton, on Tuesday evening November 4th, when the roll call is to be answered with a suggestion for a Christmas gift.

HANDS AT WORK...

LEARNING TO BUILD FURNITURE

ONTARIO'S productive capacity is the measure of her future prosperity. To assure this Province a prominent place in domestic and foreign trade markets, skilled hands are needed. In training schools and ON THE JOB, veterans are being taught how to make furniture—urgently needed for homes that must be built here and abroad. They know that higher wages, job security and better working conditions are within easier reach of those who have mastered individual skills.

Through plans sponsored by the Department of Veterans' Affairs and other agencies, hundreds of veterans have been given basic training in various trades. They will become more proficient with further experience and training ON THE JOB. Taught to use their hands in fashioning wood products and in upholstering and finishing furniture, these craftsmen of the future will have a share in Ontario's progress—an important part to play in her industrial development.

Courses in the furniture trade give the student a basic knowledge of period and custom built furniture, wood finishing and upholstering. A thorough study of every type of wood, Canadian and imported, is also included.

GARDEN CHATS: By Mrs. Harry Allison

Hello Neighbours: I have one thing, at least, to be thankful for this Thanksgiving Day. My ankle is better. When I chatted with you last week, it was quite an effort to walk around, but I'm back on the job now and grateful that I'm better. Thank you for thinking of me. Since this is a health report, may I say that we are all happy to hear that Miss Helen Moad is recovering quite rapidly. We hope she will be out again before too long.

The bulbs which were promised to the Horticultural members arrived last week. Miss McGee, Mrs. Eric Casselman and I spent Thursday evening dividing them among the members according to your choice last spring. Have you received yours yet? Miss McGee was distributing the bulbs to the country members, so if you haven't got yours, call for them at Moriarity's store. Mrs. Casselman has the bulbs for the village members; you can get yours there. She has some extras too, if you'd like to buy some.

I told you last week that we would discuss planting bulbs for indoor bloom. Since it is not natural for plants to bloom in the winter, we must force them to do so, but it is necessary that we adhere as closely as possible to their natural programme. To begin with, we plant them now. Choose pretty bowls or ordinary pots and place stones or broken pots in the bottom for drainage. Fill each bowl about three-quarters full of a mixture of good loam, sand and well rotted manure. A little charcoal, they say, will help to keep the soil sweet. Peat moss is also good to use in place of the soil. Now place the bulbs in the soil, add more soil until only one-fifth of the bulb is visible. Press down the soil, and say, "That's so much done".

Water each container, and set them in the coolest, darkest part of your basement. Water them regularly with cold water. During this period, remember that at all times the bulbs must be cool, dark and moist. It is at this time that the roots form and since good roots mean good flowers, tend the bulbs well.

Tulips, daffodils and hyacinths should be kept in the dark for about eight weeks. Turn the soil out, and if there are plenty of roots, you may place them where it is a little lighter and warmer. Gradually bring them up into the sunlight. Then, while the north winds howl and the snow drifts around your door, you may sit and watch these wonders unfold before your eyes.

Hyacinths and daffodils should be planted singly in five inch pots. Tulips, however, thrive well when planted three or four in a six inch pot.

We bought the best bulbs we could find for you, and we sincerely hope that they bring you untold pleasure in growing them.

Now to change the subject abruptly, have you got all of your garden in for winter? That was my job today. The hens had already succeeded in storing two of my all-too-few cabbages. It looks as if sauer-kraut will not be too plentiful here this winter, but we can have carrots. I never saw such enormous ones as I dug this afternoon. Why did they have to grow to such proportions? I hate big, tough carrots. I have thirty-one turnips by actual count. Some are good, others not so good. The parsnips didn't do very well so the outlook for winter doesn't seem too good, does it?

If you're fortunate enough to have turnips, parsnips and carrots, try dicing equal quantities of each and cooking them together. Add salt, pepper and all the butter your conscience will allow, and you have a vegetabe dish fit for the king. It has "eye appeal" too.

Now to get some sleep.

"Two Solitudes" For Stage 48

A repeat performance of the prize-winning Canadian story "Two Solitudes" will be given on the next broadcast of the CBC drama series "Stage 48," Sunday, October 19, at 10.00 p.m. EST, over the CBC Trans-Canada network.

Adapted for radio by Hugh Kemp, from the novel by Hugh MacLennan, "Two Solitudes" was one of the most popular presentations on last year's "Stage" series and is being repeated at the request of listeners. It has a modern Quebec setting, and is described as "the story of two races within one nation, and of two individuals forced into loneliness." The book won the Governor General's fiction award in 1945.

The broadcast version of "Two Solitudes" centres around the first part of the novel. Budd Knapp is to play Athanase Tallard, the French aristocrat; Alice Hill the young Irish wife Kathleen; John Drainie the son Marius; Mavor Moore the parish priest; Tommy Tweed the "big business man," McQueen; Frank Peddie the kindly Captain Yardley; and Arden Kaye as Yardley's daughter Janet.

Background music for the "Stage 48" version of "Two Solitudes" will be special arrangements of French-Canadian airs, composed by Lucio Agostini and played by an orchestra under his direction.

Lincoln's Contribution

Henry Haynie lived in Springfield when Lincoln was a lawyer there, and one day he was sent out to ask for contributions for a new hose cart for the fire department.

When he called at Lincoln's office, the latter listened politely to his appeal, and then, after finding out about the new apparatus, said:

"I'll go home tonight and ask Mrs. Lincoln what to do about it. After supper she will be in good humor and I will ask her if we should give $50. She will say, 'Abe, when will you earn some sense? Twenty dollars is enough.' Come around in the morning, son, and get your money."

SECOND SERIES

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Apples, queen of Canadian fruits, reign high in our estimation of desserts. There is scarcely a dish in which you cannot use apples and usually they are "never-fail" recipes. In spite of the fact that the old standbys, applesauce and apple pie, are always the family's favourites, there are indications that readers want to add new dishes to their repertoire.

Take a Tip

1. Apple sauce, smooth and clear, may be combined with cooked rice, and whipped cream. Chill and serve with a spoonful of red jelly.

2. Apple sauce is something different when jellied and served with custard or cream. Pour 2 cups of sauce through a sieve, then add to softened gelatine (one tablespoon gelatine in ¼ cup cold water). Add a dash of lemon juice. Chill and when beginning to set, add a tablespoon of chopped nuts. Pour into wet moulds; chill and then unmould on pretty plates. Serve with cream or custard.

3. Baked apples are always popular. For something special, peel a third of the way down and fill cavity with mincemeat, then bake in moderate oven to prevent bursting of skin.

4. Have you tried apples stuffed with chopped prunes? First core and put a bit of butter, sugar and cinnamon in each cavity. Add chopped prunes and bake apples about 40 minutes. Serve with boiled custard.

5. Then, too, Apple Dumplings with a thin coating of biscuit dough or pie pastry are scrummy if you bake them at high temperature—425 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes.

6. Apple Pandowdy is the good old-fashioned pudding. To make it fill a pudding dish with peeled and cored tart apples, then add one or two tablespoons water unless apples are very juicy. Sprinkle with sugar and season with nutmeg, top with baking powder biscuit dough. Bake in electric oven at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve with a maple cream sauce.

7. Apple Crisp is our quickie. Peel and slice apples off the cores into greased casserole. Add 1|3 cup water and 1 tbsp. lemon juice. Rub 1|3 cup hard butter and ½ cup granulated sugar together and sprinkle over the top. Bake in an electric oven at 350 degrees for 25 minutes or with an oven meal for 40 minutes.

Apple Pie

3 cups sliced apples, ½ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, Grated rind ½ lemon, 1 tablespoon butter.

Line pie plate with paste. Turn in apples and sprinkle with sugar; salt, cinnamon, lemon juice and lemon rind. Dot with small bits of butter. Put top crust pushing it gently toward centre. Press edges together. Bake in an electric oven 450 degrees F. for 50 mins.

Apple Cheese and Cherry Salad

4 tart apples, 18 maraschino cherries, 3 packages cream cheese, mayonnaise.

Peel apples and cut into small balls with French vegetable cutter. Form cream cheese into balls, making eight small balls from each nest. Garnish with maraschino cherries and mayonnaise. Serve additional mayonnaise.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. S. M. asks: What apple varieties do you recommend storing?

Answer: Greening, Newton, Northern Spy, Golden Russet, Stark are best kinds to store.

Mrs. A. R. asks: What is your method of canning apples?

Canned Apples

Answer: Wash, pare, and quarter, or slice and drop into weak salt water to prevent discoloration. Blanch 1½ minutes. Cold-dip. Pack in sterilized jars, and cover with water or thin syrup (1 cup sugar, 4 cups water) to overflowing. Halfseal. Sterilize 60 minutes.

RASPBERRIES ON CANES SIXTEEN FEET TALL

Raspberries in abundance in this district are quite a common result of the summerlike weather we have been having so far in October. Mrs. Thos. Loucks brought to this office yesterday the tops of berry bushes in a bouquet formation literally covered with fruit in all stages of development. There were actually hundreds of berries and much evidence that the birds were finding much fruit to their liking.

Dwight Tupper also in the Orchardside district, tells of picking ripe raspberries from a cane sixteen feet in length, samples of which were also brought to this office.
