FOR SMOKING FACILITIES

Students Demonstrate

Would you believe student smoking facilities at North Dundas District High School?

This was the most urgent request up for discussion at a meeting of the Board held last night with representatives of the Student Council who were invited to voice their protests or problems.

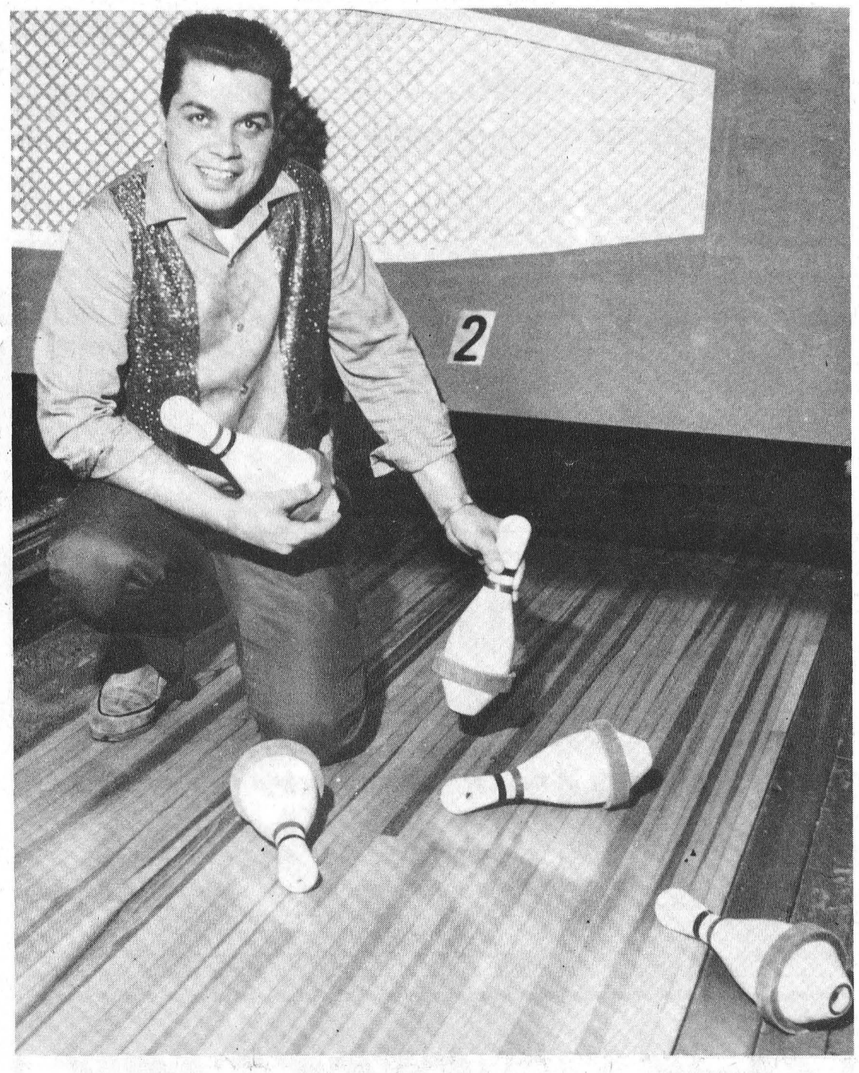
The invitation for an official representation of Student Council executive members was made following a demonstration or protest by a growing number of students at the school cafeteria last week. The protest stemmed by an apparent minority of students who want smoking rights, attracted other sympathizers and was dispelled after Principal Howard Manchester and his staff said that a representation of the student council would meet with the Board. Previously the demonstrators, it is understood, had not gone through the representative student body with their protests.

In addition to smoking facilities, some students are concerned over "lunch hour" detentions and the grooming of long hair on the male population so inclined.

Principal Manchester said the regulations effecting the wearing of long hair simply carry certain restrictions on the actual length and that the hair should be neatly groomed Present regulations will not allow hair to hang over the ears, the shoulders or the eyes. These two points, long hair and lunch hour detentions, are currently being reviewed by the principal and staff and do not pose as a serious problem, Mr. Manchester said. Previously a common room for senior students had been set up similar to common rooms used at universities. Both teachers and students use this room for relaxation, discussion, study, etc. but not for smoking, as some students believed.

The desire to have smoking facilities at North Dundas is not new. Across the province the same requests are being made and in many areas certain facilities are, indeed, available. However, where smoking arrangements have been made in other large schools, written consent of the parents must be obtained and an age limit has been strictly imposed.

At the present time students caught smoking on North Dundas premises are automatically suspended for a two-day period. The suspension in many other schools is for three days.



A Perfect '450'

Strike! Strike! Strike! Twelve consecutive times as Gord Richardson of South Mountain tore the pins from their moorings with every ball he threw.

The setting was the South Mountain Mixed Bowling League, being played at Kirkby Bowling Lanes, on Alley Number 2.

Believed to be the first perfect score ever registered in this district, the young bowler modestly explained that he was throwing a little above average. However, Joel and Hilda Kirkby, owners of the alley, assured the Press that Gord is usually near the top in all competitions. In recognition of the feat, the Kirkbys presented Richardson with a $50 cheque. Needless to say, Gord was top bowler of the night, but make a note of his other tow strings as well—294, 330, 450 — 1074.

An eight-ender in curling to Bryson Patterson's rink, a perfect score in bowling to Gord Richardson, now for that hole-in-one when the first green emerges from the snow.

The Press photographer caught Gord on the alley where his deadly accuracy gained him admission to bowling's hall of fame.

Queen Of Queens

"All plans progressing favourably." These were the words of Lion Mel Vice, Carnival committee chairman of the Metcalfe and District Lions Club, while discussing the coming "Queen of Queens" Carnival in the Community Centre at Metcalfe on Saturday, March 9th.

It is expected at least 12 Queens, all having won in their respective carnivals, will be competing for the "Title" and the committee has assured the Press that many valuable prizes await the lucky winner, as well as other contestants.

Other featured events of the evening will be the spectacular presentation by the Nepean Stars, and the Tug-of-War contest.

Following the crowning of the Queen, music will be supplied for a giant Moccasin Dance on the big ice surface. Looks like the Lions has done it again! Don't miss the biggest carnival of them all. See complete advertisement elsewhere in this edition.

Thieves At Work Again

Winchester continues to be plagued with a rash of petty thievery with the latest break-in being at the local Curling Club late Sunday night when a basement window was broken to gain admittance.

Main target appeared to be the cigarette vending machine which was broken open and its contents removed including cash and some cigarettes.

In other parts of the club, a door was jimmied open, but there seemed to be nothing missing in the kitchen or elsewhere. The O.P.P. are investigating.

Just a week before a lone bandit entered the home of Mike Dukelow and escaped with approximately $100.00 in cash and jewellery. O.P.P. officials have informed the press of the arrest of the culprit and the recovery of all but $40.00 of the loss. The 16-year-old suspect is now lodged in the county jail at Cornwall.

Fire Dept. At Russell Honoured

The Village of Russell and the surrounding community has reason to be proud of the volunteer Fire Department that so capably serves the area. The Department, under the guidance of Chief Russell Phair, has a well trained unit, and its efficiency has again been recognized by the office of the Fire Marshal for Ontario.

Chief Phair has received from the Department of the Attorney General word that his department was among the winning municipalities in the 1967 Fire Prevention Contest. With 275 municipalities from all of Canada competing, Russell was awarded Honourable Mention for Canada for municipalities under 2,500, and stood First for Ontario in the same population classification.

Winning first place is not something new for Russell. They also received the award in 1964 and in 1965.

Chief Phair and his men deserve the plaudits of all.

Back In '43

With the warm rays of the late February sun beating down on the office windows, some of the boys were noticed shining up their golf clubs, and checking the fishing equipment.

The Editor, just back from sunny Florida sands, noted the touch of "spring fever" and being an "old fellow" who remembers "way back when," produced a few pictures that would dampen the most optimistic views of any sturdy Canadian.

"Why, I remember March 6th, way back in '43" he began . . . Many readers will well remember that March of 1943 when the entire Ottawa Valley was lashed relentlessly with snow and howling winds for some four days, and when the wind finally died down and the sun appeared again, transportation had ground to a complete halt, with practically every small community completely cut off from its closest neighbour.

To-morrow is the first day of March, and no weatherman has dared to predict that history will repeat itself again after a lapse of 25 years. These photos carry you back that quarter of a century. You're standing in front of what is now Docksteader's Garage, looking north. Ottawa's a long way off!

"We don't get winters like that any more" is a favourite comment of those who remember the big storms of yesterday. What many forget is not in the amount of snow that falls but in the system of removal.

In 1943, when these pictures were taken, Department equipment consisted of a "V" in front of a lumbering truck. Under ordinary conditions this wedge managed to keep a narrow channel open for traffic, with turning out places every mile or so.

Great banks built up on either side of the highway, and a severe spring storm always played havoc with all roads.

To-day, thanks to modern scientific methods, conditions such as are shown here should not happen on our main thoroughfares. In the first place, no longer is there long grass, shrubbery and trees along the roadsides; seccondly, the roads are much wider and higher, and add to this the fact that to-day's snow removal equipment is geared, not to shove snow, but to lift and throw.

Take a long, hard look at these photos, you'll never see it happen again in this area (we hope). One more tip from the man with the "Florida Tan" — don't take the snow tires off — yet!—(Photo courtesy of Joan Cinnamon).

Hospital Annual Tuesday

R. Alan Hay, Executive Director, Ontario Hospital Association, will address the Annual Meeting of Winchester District Memorial Hospital next Tuesday, March 5th.

The meeting, which will be held in the Hospital Board Room will commence at 8:00 p.m., and it is hoped an exceptionally large number of citizens will be out, not only to hear how the hospital business is conducted but to admire the modern extension program just completed.

Readers will be interested to note that the hospital to-day is some five times larger than when the first building went into use 20 years ago. Over-all expansion of the building proper does not constitute a fair measurement in terms of value to the community. Such a huge increase in available space has made possible monumental steps in modern healing devices and the full use of the wonders of to-day's medical science.

The Hospital Board also draws attention to the fact that any person, 21 years of age or over, residing within the recognized hospital area, is a member of the corporation and entitled to attend the meeting and vote.

H. P. Stel, Hospital Administrator, in a recent press release, explains that Mr. Hay is widely known in the hospital field, and those attending the meeting will be treated to an interesting and stimulating talk.

Mr. Stel goes on to say, "A large turnout is expected and would speak well for the interest shown in the hospital by the residents of this hospital's designated area, giving them at the same time an opportunity to become acquainted with and become involved in the very important matters as they pertain to the voluntary hospital system and thereby cause this hospital, which is after all "their hospital," to be even better equipped to face and cope with future developments."

The date again, Tuesday March 5th. Make plans now to attend and see for yourself the true value of such a fine institution in the community. Your hospital board works long hours with your interests in mind. Why not come to the meeting and express your appreciation? Hours spent helping your hospital are hours spent helping yourself. YOU may be sick some day. It could be To-morrow!

NDDHS Students Capture Public Speaking Honours

Sue Boyd and Elaine Clarke both students at North Dundas District High School, won top honours at the Public Speaking Contest at Kemptville last week

Five district high schools were competing for the right to advance further toward the Provincial title. Judges had no easy task selecting winners from speakers from General Vanier High School, Cornwall; Osgoode Township High School; Seaway High School and C.C.V.S., Cornwall, and N.D.D.H.S.

The competition is divided into two parts. One part is for Prepared speeches, the other for Impromptu speeches. Sue Boyd proved the best in the prepared speeches and Elaine Clarke won for the impromptu divsion.

Both girls will be back at Kemptville this Saturday to compete against other district winners in the elimination series which leads to the provincial finals.

Tickets Still Available For Stanfield Dinner

A few tickets are still available for the Sixth Annual Dinner Meeting of the Seaway Valley Regional Travel Council, at the Parkway Motel in Cornwall. The Hon. Robert Stanfield will be the guest speaker for the occasion, and he will undoubtedly welcome the opportunity to get away from the turmoil that has plagued the government for the past few days.

With an election almost a certainty within the next six months, Mr. Stanfield should have a very interesting messags for his friends in the Seaway Valley, and it will be one of the few opportunities he will have to visit this area.

Reg. Workman, President of Region 13, which consists of Grenville, Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry, has a few tickets which will be sold on a "first come, first served" basis, and those interested may call the Press office, or contact Mr. Workman personally.

Plan now to be in Cornwall on March 13th. The Annual Meeting will be from 3 to 6, followed by a reception and dinner at 7.

NEW MAIL TIMES

Patrons of Winchester Post Office are reminded that important changes in mail arrivals and departures will become effective this Friday, March 1. In an overhaul of mail truck routes affecting the entire district, the post office department hopes to speed up the mails more efficiently, at the same time making mail delivery costs more economical.

Starting Friday in Winchester, the main bulk mail will arrive at 7.40 each morning excepting Sundays. A second mail truck will bring mail to Winchester at 5.05 each afternoon. Departing mail will go out only once each day on the afternoon truck, Assistant Postmaster Howard Moore told The Press.

Both trucks servicing Winchester will have their headquarters at Cornwall where the post office has added extra employees as well as a night shift to handle the increased volume. In effect, Cornwall will become the mail distribution centre for this entire section of eastern Ontario, and not Ottawa as first anticipated.

Inkerman, South Mountain Brinston and Mountain mails will go by truck to Iroquois and then to Cornwall.

The change in times and direction of truck routes will be inaugurated on a temporary basis to determine the feasibility of the plan. Residents in the Press readership area should take note of the new times effective March 1st and to make certain their letters and parcels go out on the right truck if they wish to have mail service improved.

Winchester is currently served by four mail trucks each day, two from the west and two from the east.

Toronto Report

By

Fred M. Cass

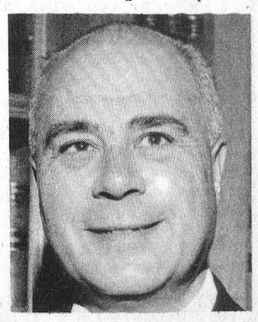
On St. Valentine's Day the first Session of Ontario's 28th Parliament opened with accustomed pomp and ceremony. The Speech from the Throne read by Lieutenant-Governor Rowe to the Members and several hundred guests indicated that there would be a minimum of new government legislation this Session. Indeed, the new School Board Amalgamation law and certain taxing matters appeared to be the most important measures forecast.

This Legislature, composed as it is of 28 Liberal Members, 20 New Democrat Party Members and 69 Progressive Conservative Members, not only has produced the largest opposition in a score of years but numbers among the members of all parties a large number of new and able men. Both the NDP and Conservatives have one woman member, leaving the Liberal benches quite unrelieved from an all-male atmosphere and outlook. Robert Nixon, the Leader of the Official Opposition, in his speech during the Throne Speech Debate, has shown a great deal more ease, polish and maturity than was previously evident and will give good leadership to his party and likewise produce good opposition for the Government.

The Speaker, elected by the 28th Parliament, is your Member for Grenville-Dundas. Never before has our Riding, or the former ridings of Dundas and of Grenville, been honoured by having its Member elected to Mr. Speaker's Chair, although two Prime Ministers, Sir James P. Whitney and G. Howard Ferguson, and two Members of the Executive Council, George H. Challies and your present Member, had previously represented our people. The Speaker and his wife are provided with living accommodation in the Parliament Buildings since Mr. Speaker, as the Chief Officer of the Legislature, must always be available to the House. Olive and Fred hope their friends and constituents from home will when in Toronto, call on them and take the opportunity to see the Legislature in action.

The first weeks of this Session, as always, have been occupied with organization — election of Mr. Speaker and of Standing Committees, arranging for official seating of Members and printing of Hansard, and the proper setting up of the various party offices and organizations for the Session. Then followed the debate on the Speech from the Throne which will continue for a fortnight This is one of the debates during which a member may speak on any subject and usually all members, and especially new members, participate. The only member who does not have the opportunity of speaking in debate or of voting is Mr. Speaker

As the Session progresses, it is my purpose each week, with the usual co-operation of your Editor, to bring you short, and I do trust, interesting accounts of the highlights of the present Session of the Ontario Legislature.



Hess - Nurse Vows Exchanged

Morewood Presbyterian Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday February 17th, at 12.30 p.m. when Mr. J. Jensen, assisted by Rev. W. Inglis joined in marriage Judy Ann Nurse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Nurse, Morewood, and Glendon Wayne Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hess Winchester Springs.

Wedding selections were played by Mr. Elgin Bowman, organist, who also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Donald Carlyle, of Morewood. Lyle Hess assisted his brother as best man, and the ushers were Roy Nurse and Garry Harper.

The bridal attendants were Mrs. George Stewart, sister of the bride, as matron of honour, and Miss Ruth Walker and Mrs. Ivan Nurse as bridesmaids.

Miss Nurse was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding, she wore a floor-length bridal gown of silk taffeta, featuring an empire waistline, with appliqued lace motifs accenting the A-line skirt, and carried a cascade of red roses.

The bridal attendants were similarly attired in sheath gowns of paisley blue and silver metallic lace gowns. They wore matching satin bow headdresses and carried cascades of pink roses.

The mother of the bride wore a pale green viscose crepe three piece suit, matching hat and a corsage of coral roses. Mrs. Hess, mother of the groom, chose a dark green acetate lace ensemble, brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Guests from Ottawa, Inkerman, Williamsburg, Brinston, Iroquois, Vernon, Winchester Springs, Cardinal, Chesterville Dunbar, Prescott, Crysler and Morewood attended the wedding, and reception in Morewood Presbyterian Church Hall.

Following a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Hess will reside at Morewood.

Special Praise Service Sunday South Gower

The Special Praise Service held Sunday evening at South Gower Baptist Church, was very well attended and very much enjoyed. The artists taking part contributed of their talents with such skill and in such a pleasing manner that one felt uplifted and inspired.

Rev. G. A. Cawfield, in his sermonette, was most enlightening on many aspects of "never lose your song." This was a most appropriate message on such a melodious, sacred evening.

On February 9 members and their families, and several visitors gathered at the Home for a social evening. Everyone enjoyed a pot luck supper, followed by slides shown by Wilmer and Ethel Hamilton, taken on their recent vacation in Florida, and also of some local Centennial activities.

The 4-H North Russell "Custom Cookers" also entertained with a display of a Dutch meal with commentary by Susan McCallum. Little Miss Gail Veeder, dressed in traditional Dutch costume, added to the interest of the display.

Mrs. Asa Sullivan will entertain the members at her home for the March meeting. Members are reminded to bring their Canada Packers labels.

KATHY WINS PINS

Curling in Winchester continues to be dominated by the "Kathys." Last week, Kathy Keys, still wearing the smile that accompanies a Broder Cup win, challenged for the Delia Robinson pins.

The pins, of course, were in the possession of Jessie Fetterly who had won them the hard way, after a whole day of curling.

When the "smoke" cleared at the end of the hard-fought game, it was another victory and another prize for Kathy. The final score was not released to the press but the personnel of the rinks was. The winning combination was made up of Cheryl James, Marg Stinson Irene Byers and Skip Kathy. The losing team was Pat MacDonald, Joan Fisher, Norma Wylie and Jessie Fetterly.

After the game Mrs. Fetterly presented the pins to the new winners, and lunch was served by Mrs. Robinson.

There'll be another "challenge" game in the near future and Kathy might be well advised to keep in practice. She may have to play that other "Kathy."

After supper, games and cards were enjoyed under the direction of Mrs. Harold Cowan and Mrs. Ivor Bath.

16-YR. OLD JUDY HAMILTON

Queen At Russell Carnival

Lovely 16-year-old Judy Hamilton was crowned "Queen" of the annual Russell Lions Winter Carnival on Saturday night.

Judy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Hamilton of Russell, earned the right to represent her town in the annual Queen of Queens Carnival, sponsored by Metcalfe and District Lions Club in March.

First runner-up in the competition which presented seven of Russell's loveliest, was Susan Boudrais, and second runner-up was Debby Graham. Judging the competition were Mr. and Mrs. Don Larson of Radio Station CFRA, Ottawa, and Mr. and Mrs. Belanger of Sarsfield.

Perfect carnival weather again favoured the Russell Lions, and a large crowd turned out to watch the program which featured precision skating by the NDDHS skating team, tug-of-war competitions, and a fine array of colourful floats.

Embrun ladies outpulled all opposition in the Ladies' tug-of-war, and the powerful Greely team again defeated all comers in the men's division.

Russell Separate School with their float depicting the "Founders of Canada" took top honours in the parade. Second place was awarded to Lorraine Eadie and Janet Graham for their "Farm Machinery" entry; Doris and Virginia Hay were third with "Cinderella", and Carolyn Dey, "Miss Muffett" was fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Robinson of Marvelville were judged the best in the costume classes, with other costume awards going to Marion Cochrane and Wendy Bradley.

Racing results suggest that possibly a diet of milk develops fine young athletes. In the winning circle were Jim Cochrane Cindy Cochrane, Kevin Cochrane, Brian Cochrane, Leo Bouwhuis, Chris Schrolder and Frank Brewer.

OFA Board Of Govenors Present Brief To Cabinet

Twenty members of the Board of Governors of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture supported their president, Chas. Munro when he presented the annual brief to the Cabinet on Friday, February 16. Included in the delegation was Mrs. John Campbell of Vernon.

The delegation was well received by the various ministers and all expressed interest in the federation proposals.

Included in the brief were such items as (1) request that livestock seriously injured when chased by dogs, and not now covered by the livestock protection act, be included. (2) request for negotiations with Ontario Hydro for a new schedule of compensation for easements, recognizing the increased land values. (3) A more realistic approach when cattle passes were being constructed, and more digression to be used in settlement with both railways and highways. (4) No alterations on the requirements for a driver's licence. (5) Exemption of the 5% sales tax on exhaust fans and snow blowing equipment. (6) Concern expressed for the future of the sugar beet industry.

The value of the O.F.A. is made clear by the many requests made by the ministers for further meetings with federation officials.

It's Hockey Play-Off Time

WANTED! More Spectators At Rinkside !

It's Hockey Play-Off time in Winchester, too! Unfortunately there are no Juniors or Intermediates, but judging from the number and quality of hockey players in the younger age group, it will not be very long till there will be.

For the benefit of those who have been very busy this winter and might be out of touch with the hockey picture, here's how the picture looks at the present time. But first, remember while you were unable to help there were men in the village who devoted many long hours to help the youngsters. It's not too late yet, now with play-offs scheduled the little fellows will be looking for more and more parents at rinkside. The same tried and tested comes back to mind —"Don't send them — bring them."

PLAY-OFF GAMES

The Atoms are in a play-off series with Vankleek Hill.

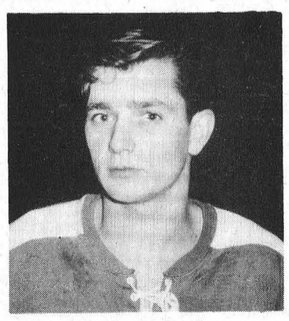
The Pee Wees: To-night (Feb. 29), Semi-Finals at 6.30, Finals at 7.30. To the winner the Wincrest Dairy Trophy. This age group is coached by Mike Dukelow and their all-star team is now competing in the O.D.H.A. playdowns, and have won their first game over Chesterville.

The Bantams: This team played a home and home series with Chesterville. Chesterville won the first one 2-1, but the local boys came back and trimmed Chesterville 5-0 on Chesterville ice.

The Midgets, coached by Jim Craig, have scored two big victories in their last two outings. Both games were against Iroquois with our boys winning the one "away" by an 8 to 1 score and taking the home game 4-0

Juveniles: This team is not entered in any O.D.H.A. playoffs, but is enjoying many exciting exhibition games, thanks to the efforts of their coach, Grant Creighton. On February 25th they were in Lanark and scored a 6-0 victory. On February 26th they were in Spencerville where they won another this time by a 2-0 score. Brian Stewart, David Casselman, Dale Hutt, Dwayne Cinnamon, David VanBridger made up the scoring power, while Jim (Gus) Angus has proved unbeatable in the nets.

Metcalfe And Prescott Lead League, Ford Metcalfe Star



Metcalfe and Prescott have taken a lead in the league playoffs, each winning their first game in the semi-final round.

On Sunday afternoon in Maxville, Metcalfe overpowered the Maxville boys by a 7 to 3 score, while on Sunday night at Cardinal, Prescott edged the home team 7 to 6 in a game that went into two overtime periods.

Gaye Ford spearheaded the Metcalfe attack, scoring twice and setting up two more. Al. Duncan picked up two, while Don Honey, Brian Robinson and Frank Johnston had one each.

Both series could go five games, with the two winners meeting in a best of seven affair. All four top teams have proved very evenly matched on the year's play with only four points separating the first and fourth teams.

The final year's standing looked like this: Maxville 31, Cardinal 30, Metcalfe 29, Prescott 27, and Morrisburg 5.

Last week's Press carried an announcement that a play-off game would be played in Metcalfe on Sunday night. Unfortunately some changes were made by the League executive after the paper had been printed. League President Basil Dawley told The Press this morning there will be no more changes unless necessitated by weather conditions.

PLAY-OFF DATES

Next play-off games will be as follows: Friday March 1—Maxville at Metcalfe, Cardinal at Prescott; Saturday, March 2—Prescott at Cardinal (Spencerville); Sunday afternoon—Metcalfe at Maxville.

Ottawa Clubs Win Invitational Men's Bonspiel

Winchester's last "Invitational Men's Bonspiel" for the season has gone into history, and all the prize winners were from Ottawa. In the main event, a Glebe rink skipped by A. Smith with H. Mulvagh at third, C. Porteous playing second and G. Mulvagh leading, won the top prizes. Runners-up in the two-game event were four employees of E. B. Eddy Co., who do their curling at the Curl-O-Drome: Skip, F. Hunt; third, N. McLeod; second, B. Travis, and lead, B. Silver.

In the one-game event, Tom Bangs of A.T.C. skipped his foursome to victory. With Tom were J. Brock, Bill Burr and J. Ledbetter.

Ran Wylie Rink Captures Pat Lid

A veteran "draw specialist" won the Annual Pat Lid Bonspiel at the Winchester Curling Club for the second consecutive year. "Ran" Wylie, who will be remembered by "old timers" as one of the hockey stars in the old Winchester Town League of pre-war days, made the big decision of his sports career along about 1940 when rather than move up to the "pros" he elected to join the Winchester Curling Club, where he has worked conscientiously ever since.

In this year's Pat Lid, a round robin event, Ran coasted to victory supported by a strong rink made up of George Davidson leading, Gord McDonald at second and Denzil Crowder playing third.

"Any rink is a good rink with Ran skipping." This was the comment of a well known curler the other day, and the fact is born out by a glance at the records. For example, last year with an entirely different rink (Charlie Ault, Hugh Wilson and Wilf Lannin), the results were exactly the same — Pat Lid to Wylie. He also won the Alex Davidson Trophy in the first schedule this year.

Runners-up in this year's Pat Lid event were: Grant Creighton, Gary Collins, Cecil Simpson and Jack McIntosh, skip.

CORNER LANES

Marg. Dalgleish, playing in the Gay Twenties League, topped all bowlers at the "Corner" last week. Marg. combined scores of 266, 191 and 271 for a cross of 728. The 271 was the best single in the league. Other players were not so fortunate and all appeared to have an "off" night. Note next closest scores: Howard Kennedy 585. Norm Robinson 568, Daisy Robinson 566, and Harold Dillabough 555.

Community League

Robert Watson and Earl Gray were the big guns in this league. Robert rolled the high cross, 230, 222 and 248 for 700. and Earl scored the best single, 268-686. Others near the top were Dave Thompson 649-254. Arn Stobo 619-239, Wesley Clark 610-233, Bob Levere 571.

Happy Gang

There were a few "smiles" last week but no cause for any outburst of hilarity. Florence Helmer rolled singles of 257, 213 and 207 for the high cross of 677, and also the best single. Lynda Dalgleish had 619-255 (one sometimes wonders about the advisability of teaching daughters to bowl); Marg. Dalgleish 613-227, and Doris Kennedy 567.

Fireside

Competition in this league continues close with L. Pemberton leading the pack last week with 229, 183 and 247 to cross 659. Wayne LaPorte fired the best single, 256-619. Other scores were: M. Cinnamon 629-238, Frank Bailey 620-220, B. Casselman 588, Don Bourgeois 575, B. Williams 573, J. Plummer 560.

Glamour Girls

Mr. Webster defines "Glamour" as the quality of fascinating, alluring or attracting. Obviously it has little or no effect on knocking over bowling pins. Results: Ruth Pemberton 171, 200 and 233—604 (high cross); Cora Stel 247-600 (high single); Carolyn Dawson 570, Connie Crowder 578.

A New Service Club !

The value of a service club to a community can never be measured in dollars and cents. Unlike many other community organizations that seem to have as their goal a large bank account, a service club seldom has much capital in reserve. The reason for this being, of course, that all monies obtained through various projects are funnelled right back into the community.

Often a question arises concerning the desirability of service clubs in small communities being affiliated with international organizations. The opposition viewpoint is that all "community money" should stay in the community and not be poured into the coffers at international level. On the other hand, it must always be remembered that many and great are the benefits derived from close affiliation with an organization that is world-wide.

For example, only recently a local man, speaking of his holiday tour, expressed delight that he had been welcomed by fellow members of his fraternity in every country he visited. Since most of us cannot be world travellers, such benefits mean little, but the vast wealth of knowledge acquired by long years of experience in all fields of endeavour by service clubs that encircle the globe is always available even to the smallest member of their "chain," and as a result great benefits can be derived.

There has been some discussion concerning the formation of a Lions Club in Winchester, and some interested citizens have already met with members of neighbouring clubs, and the matter is being very seriously considered at the present time. It is the opinion here that there is no greater service organization than Lions International and if the village of Winchester should decide to form a service club with a world-wide affiliation, then they would be well advised to seek a charter from this great brotherhood of men.

However, it is also the opinion here that Winchester, with a population of approximately 1500, cannot and should not have two Service Clubs. The final analysis should be quite simple. Members well versed in the advantages derived from membership in Lions International should meet with members of the Winchester 100 Club, and at such meeting the "assets" and "liabilities" could be carefully measured. If, after such a meeting, the members of the 100 Club were convinced that membership in Lions International would indeed be of more benefit to the village than the club that now exists, then it would only be a matter of disbanding the 100 Club and formation of a new Lions Club.

On the other hand, if those dedicated Centurians feel their contribution to the community is such that international affiliation would not be beneficial, then the members of this unique little organization should, without delay, seek to increase their membership with the addition of more such community-minded citizens as those who have in the past contributed so greatly.

How To Forecast The Weather

With the rigors of winter testing the metal of the sturdiest of our rugged Canadians, it is little wonder that the main topic of conversation is "The Weather."

We've all heard the story about the old Indian who was asked what the coming winter was going to be like, and answered that it would be long and cold because "white man cut-em much wood."

Nevertheless, our older Indian friends without benefit of the barometer, knew a lot about the weather and could forecast with considerable accuracy.

Some examples: (1) When ants disappeared, he knew it would rain. (2) When his dog sniffed the wind and was uneasy, bad weather ahead. (3) If he saw quail, ducks or almost any type of bird ruffling and oiling its feathers, he prepared for rain again. (4) Active squirrels, a storm. (5) Deer on the open range, storms coming. (6) Bad weather ahead when crows gathered in flocks. (7) Storm coming when geese flew high and fast. (8) Mud turtles not in usual place — look out! (9) The Indian watched spiders too, knowing that in good, clear weather they were out and around but that they scuttled for cover and hid away when a change was coming.

Our parents and grandparents learned much from their Indian predecessors and many successful farmers of not too long ago attributed their good fortune to their ability to forecast weather conditions by the signs at hand.

Unfortunately, most people are losing touch with nature, and even the wisest of the great Indian Chiefs would have had trouble finding "signs" on the concrete floors of our modern cities. However, all is not lost — we can listen to "Percy." He knows all the "signs."

Electric Automobiles ?

Electric automobiles to replace gas-driven machines? Ridiculous you say? Possibly not as far-fetched as you might imagine. It may still be several years before "voltswagons" begin to challenge conventional autmobiles, The Financial Post says, but there is no longer any doubt that the electric automobile is now a practical possibility.

If you are wondering how this publication can be so positive in its thinking in this regard, here is its reasoning:

Oil companies are beginning to notice them and one U.S. oil magazine recently devoted several pages to an article pointing out the deficiencies of battery-powered automobiles — short range, inadequate performance, small size. But for it even to acknowledge that usable electric cars now exist is an indication of the way things are moving. Only one of the many electric cars that have appeared in prototype form has yet gone into production. It is being built in a Redlands, Calif. factory where battery-powered golf carts are manufactured. The first vehicle to come off the production line will be delivered to municipal authorities, community developers, electrical utilities and government agencies that want to test the machines.

Friendly service stations, however, shauld not be too discouraged. Replacing the familiar gas pump with "quick charge" equipment for battery-driven machines may simplify the work and be more remunerative. The only noticeable difference will be in the interpretation of the common "filler-er-up" expression. No longer a reference to a tank but to a battery.

Ottawa Report by Mrs. Jean Wadds

It is sad to see a long time public servant of Canada end a much admired career in such disarray and confusion.

Half truths are not full truths any more than half payment is full payment.

On several occasions over the last three years it has appeared that the Prime Minister of Canada has left an impression that was not the whole truth. As this has involved his own Ministers it could have been conjectured that what he left unsaid was decided and accepted for the good of his party.

The Prime Minister has been given a great deal of leeway both by the people of Canada and by other politicians.

This week at the end of his career, his technique has been uncovered. He only uses as much of the truth as is necessary.

In his usual manner, accepted as straight and frank, he asked the Leader of the Opposition to consider his predicament. He said that he had just arrived back from Jamaica, this being noon on Tuesday, and he needed 24 hours to think through the situation.

Instead of the honourable arrangement made between Leaders he then came into the House of Commons and asked for adjournment without any mention of the 24 hours, and without any recognition of the Opposition Leader's courtesy.

He returned to the House the next day trying to create the impression by his usual breezy manner that nothing much had happened, assuming that the House would waive the rules and allow him to make a motion without the 48 hours notice. He then presented what will surely go down in history as one of the most arrogant motions of all time, "That this house does not regard its vote on February 19 in connection with third reading of Bill C-193 which had carried in all previous stages, as a vote of non-confidence in the government."

As well as being arrogant, this motion was again only a half truth giving the impression that Bill C-193 had gone through smoothly until third reading. As anyone knows, who paid any attention to the progress of the bill, this was certainly not the case. In the afternoon of that now famous Monday the Bill only narrowly escaped defeat by three votes on a standing vote. When the bells rang in the evening for a recorded vote there was no surprise element involved because the vote bells were continued for an hour and a quarter.

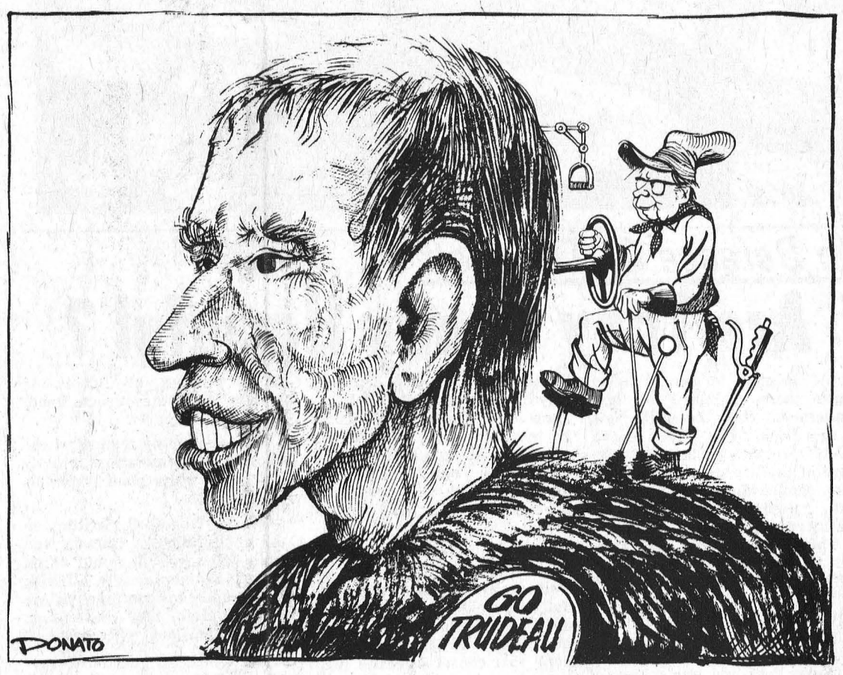
When asked if there was any objection to third reading of the Bill at 9:50 p.m. the Minister of Finance said "no." When questioned on this Mr. Sharp said as recorded in Hansard. "Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to third reading. If it is the wish of the House, I am perfectly happy to have third reading."

In spite of this clearly recorded Parliamentary procedure the Prime Minister of Canada went on national television, the only national leader given such a privilege, and spread the impression that the Opposition had indulged in trickery and that they had manufactured a crisis. Neither of these implications are half truths. They are a complete distortion of the facts.

It is not my practice to be severe until I am convinced. In this case I am both convinced and disillusioned.

The Prime Minister is trying by unfounded statements to blame the Opposition for his own party's mistakes. Much more serious, he expects by a jocular manner and by much shrugging of shoulders, to make light of the democratic system and to bypass it altogether when it does not suit him.

Accustomed to much political blustering, the government miscalculated the political aim of Robert Stanfield. A strong and alert opposition is always essential to good government, particularly essential it seems when political manoeuvring is blanketed by an amiable personality.



Meditations . . .

BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Ephesians 5:4 — "Let there be no filthiness, nor silly talk."

Speech is one of man's greatest gifts. Scripture calls it man's mightiest organ. Of man's tongue it says, that no man can tame it, that it defiles "the whole body," that it sets "on fire the whole course of nature," and is "an unruly evil, full of deadly poison." — James 3:6-8. History also teaches that by the tongue men rule the world. It also teaches that it is the source of much pain and misery.

Speech is a mighty gift God has given men. God gave man the ability to speak so that he might praise and glorify his Maker. Through speech men have fellowship with God, but also with men. Mankind has not been given speech so that they might use it as they pleased, but only to please God, whether in words spoken or sung. Scripture says, "Let your speech always be gracious, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how you ought to answer every one." And, "Whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him." What we say is important to our God.

How important this admonition of the apostle is for our day! It seems men are concerned to be both filthy and silly in their talk. Many radio and TV programs are designed to be silly. The chief concern seems to be that the audience will laugh and have fun. And much of it is flavoured with suggestiveness.

You will ask, just what is wrong with laughing? Isn't there enought of grief and sorrow in this world? Good hearty laughter is a tonic without which one would soon go under! And with this all can agree. But the question concerns laughing, that is, for what reason we laugh, what we are laughing about. Is it silly talk that makes us laugh? Or filthy jokes? Then our laughing is hollow, cheap, and sinful. But, what we are concerned about in this meditation, we are abusing and misusing the great gift of speech God has given us.

The importance of this admonition is verified by daily experience. We influence one another with our speech, for good or evil. Scripture says of it, "Evil communications corrupt good manners."—I Cor. 15:33. We see it all around us, how young people are being influenced with "evil communications" and morals are being corrupted. Back of it lie man's communications in filthy and silly talk. No wonder the apostle warns against this pernicious evil. It works like a deadly poison.

God calls us to use our gifts and talents for Him. Chief among these gifts is speech. Every man will have to answer for his use of it, for Scripture declares to every man: "I tell you, on the day of judgment men will render account for every careless word they utter; for by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned." — Matt. 12:36.

An Old Friend Writes

So you think you have troubles, with your two or three Rotten Kids? We all have them. Troubles and Rotten Kids, that is. They're inseparable.

I could tell you stories that would make your heart ache, your hair curl. But so could you, doubtless. According to some inane schools of thought, the trouble is that we haven't enough kids. We spoil our one or two rotten and then are astounded at the results.

All we have to do is have a whole raft of kids, and problems would vanish. They'd help with the dishes, make their beds, and all turn out to be Great Kids.

This is rot. I assure you. And to prove, I'm going to quote some excerpts from a letter received recently from an old and dear friend. She's more dear than old, but I think her remarks will explode that poppycock about large families. She has six boys and a girl and knows whereof.

The letter arrived at the end of January, when she got around to sending out the annual Christmas cards. It was written in starts and fits, over three weeks, whenever she had the strength.

"It is all defeating because there's too much of it. So you're the way out — which is where I would like to be.

"I seem to be in a jaded (greenish?) state where nothing really shakes me any more. I believe if you want to find a real skeptic and-or cynic, look for an old mother of a large family. It's not that I don't care (about all the big and little crises); it's just a kind of numbness that I think must settle in as a preservative. Or else it's low blood pressure.

"Nine p.m. CBC programme reporting comments of English people about Canada. What a bloody superior bunch. I would like to smash them. Excuse writing. Am writing as I quietly recover from a general anaesthetic. Nothing serious.

Also my hand is less than agile due to arthritis. It seems to me a poor system where surviving the rigors of existence is penalized by the ills of age.

"Bob decided to take his summer working money (tuition fees) and go off on a self-discovery journey to Europe. Night before sailing he phoned (collect, of course) to say goodbye and told me his girl was going too. I still don't know what her mother thinks or feels. Of course I don't know what I think or feel either.

So then Bill had mononucleosis. This was enough to change his plans about college and he finally decided to go to Europe, too. They are only on a great larking holiday. Was it better when war got rid of this restlessness?

"Tom didn't get his first year at college. Dan is in Grade 11 after a spell at summer school. Jenny is an outpatient having urinary tract X-ray as follow-up to surgery in September.

"I know Bob is in Israel now, working on a Kibbutz for shelter, food and experience but no money. He's working in a banana grove.

"I can tell he is suffering from traveller's ego and thinks himself vastly superior to all who stay at home — especially Tom. Whose reaction was. 'Yippidy-poop. I've seen a banana.' I guess that says it for me too as I take note of his father's aging look.

"My main feeling is irritation with such nonsense, that leaves father still with them on his back. For of course they plan to keep on being college boys too! For another four or five years.

"See you someday. I'm the fat, vaguely familiar-looking one limping along way back there."

Cheer up, dear heart. You wouldn't limp if you had a broken leg. And if you are 'way back there', the band might be playing "The Saints Come Marching In."

The Seventh Column

Call it what you will. Some say it's a psychological lift. But boarding an Air Canada jet at Toronto in 10 degrees below zero temperature and getting off less than three hours later in a sunny 80 degrees above at Miami is an experience, a most pleasant experience we might add which continues to attract thousands and thousands each year.

Of course, the complete opposite occurs on one's return to the land of the true, north, strong and cold. Like last week when we came back from a winter vacation in Florida. It was high noon and the mercury stick said 75 and climbing. A few hours later we arrived at Ottawa. The thermometer said nine degrees and falling. So you get it both ways. And it is always good to be home again.

The "fun in the sun" land is a busy place this year. Tourism is up about 18 per cent for an all time record. And at Pompano Beach a couple of weeks ago at the height of the big money making season there were pictures in the newspapers of hard up travellers having to spend a night in the local jail... no charge and no other place to stay.

From here in it tapers off. Although the natives will tell you there are as many tourists in the summer as there are in the winter. And summer prices are about one - third of the winter rates which are beginning to climb. But the weather which is mostly acceptable in the winter must be almost unbearable during the summer or "off" season.

And Florida weather can be deceiving. A high of 65 could mean 85 or 90 in the sun on the beach. And a low of 40 or 45 is often so far inland that it only bothers the alligators. But around the Lauderdale-Pompano area the weather is usually favourable and if there is a tropical part of the United States it has to be the southern part of this resort state. A few days before we returned we noticed the Ottawa temperature said 18 degrees below. That same day it was 80 at Pompano Beach. Quite a contrast.

It's an 1850 mile trip by car. But unless you haven't made the trip we do not advise the road. The air is quicker, more comfortable and to-day there is not much difference in the price when one considers all factors. We last drove in 1964. Our friends tell us that excepting a stretch of road in the land of the southern sheriffs, Georgia, the highways are four lanes and mostly excellent. We still like the sky lanes and in particular Air Canada which ranks with the very best.

The building in Florida is like the Plymouth beat. It goes on and on and on. Matter of fact it is staggering. Condominiums, co-operatives, houses, motel resorts, and you name it all over the place. One would wonder where all the people come from to fill them up enough to post the "no vacancy" signs. But they do. It's incredible.

There are Canadians by the car load, plane load too, in Florida mostly from the eastern provinces and Ontario in particular. And you run across friends from your own home district at the most unexpected times. A couple of weeks ago we knew more than 50 people from the Winchester area alone who were vacationing in Florida. The days have long gone since it was termed a holiday for the old and the rich only.

And of course oranges are a dime a dozen in Florida...until you go to buy them. Orange juice for example costs as much if not more than it does up here. Yet in certain areas you can go out in the back yard and pick yourself a good breakfast. Food, though, remains the cheapest part of a Florida vacation with excellent full course meals commonly priced in the vicinity of $1.60.

The racial problem is still big in the 'States, and trouble is expected again this summer. But there's one problem even bigger. It's called Vietnam. Right now we would not give the Johnson administration a snowball's chance of making it next November. The people are not saying too much as yet. But you can tell...they're fed up!

In Defence Of The Wolf

Are They Really Harmful ?

Few animals in history have been more maligned or less understood than the wolf. Now a new book, "The World of the Wolf" provides an accurate picture of the life story of the wolf and should do much to dispel the misconceptions regularly parrotted by the wolf-haters.

This fine new book was written by Russell J. Rutter, a first rate naturalist, and Dr. Douglas H. Pimlott, a professor of Zoology at the University of Toronto. Both men have had long experience with wolves, in Algonquin Park and elsewhere.

The authors, in preparing this book, had two main objectives in mind: first, to give a reasonably complete outline of all they know about wolves, and secondly, to encourage a more favourable attitude toward an animal which they believe has been misrepresented and persecuted beyond reason for thousands of years.

The two writers have tried to show what kind of animal the wolf really is, and they point out that wolves are a vital part of the environment in Algonquin Park, and they express the hope that conservationists, with the support of the public, will make certain it is always this way.

There are two excellent chapters in the book devoted to the life history of wolves around the year. There is an absorbing introduction to the newborn pups and an invitation to know them intimately — their diet, habits, entertainment and habitat — through all stages of growth until they reach handsome maturity.

An outstanding feature of the book is the illustrations, chiefly black and white photographs by Dr. Pimlott.

James Woodford, writing in the "Federation of Ontario Naturalists," says: "I would think it will be increasingly difficult for people to continue hating wolves after they have seen these magnificent photographs."

Mr. Woodford goes on to say: "I cannot recommend this book too highly. It should be read and looked at by everyone in our great province interested in wildlife conservation."

A growing number of conservationists are echoing the author's dedication, "To wolves— may men learn to appreciate their right to roam in the wild places of the world."

Former Baptist Minister Dies At Brockville

A former minister of Winchester Baptist Church, Mr. Ben Richardson died on Sunday, February 11th in Brockville. Mr. Richardson, who had been serving in Athens for some years, had been in Brockville since August.

The funeral service was conducted in Athens Baptist Church on February 14th.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Nancy.

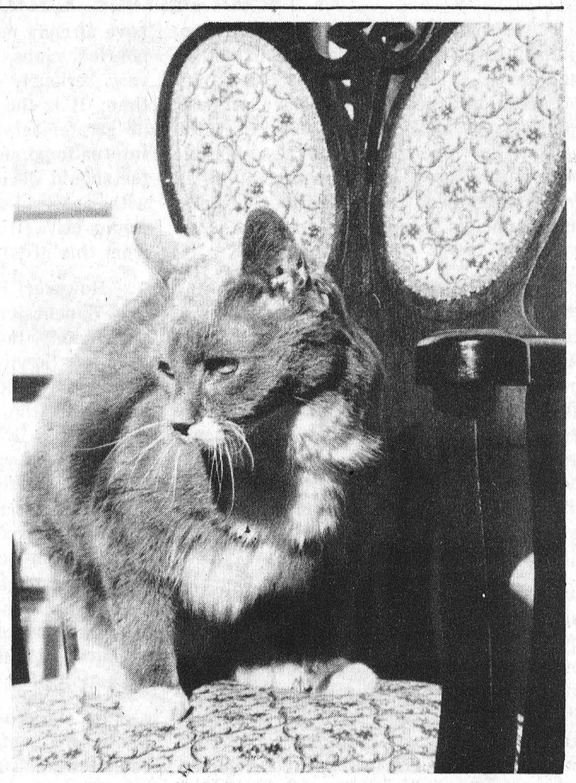
Final Tribute Paid Memory J. S. McCaslin

James Samuel McCaslin, of Brockville, formerly of Winchester, died recently in his 92nd year. He was a son of the late Isaac McCaslin and his wife Annie Bowden, of Iroquois, and was predeceased by his wife, Edna Brown, in 1938.

Mr. McCaslin was a lifelong resident of this area, and the many floral displays and heart and cancer cards testified to the high esteem in which he was held.

The funeral was conducted at Fairbairn Funeral Home, Brinston, by Rev. R. V. A. Rodgers, rector of St. John the Baptist Church, Iroquois. The body was entombed in the vault to await burial in the family plot in the Anglican Cemetery at Iroquois. Pall-bearers were nephews: Allan Armstrong, Lawrenc Johnston, Keith Shaver and Clifford Thorpe.

The deceased was the last of his family, and is survived by many nephews and nieces.



The Life Of "Mickey"

There are those who would travel to far off climes in search of better health, but here is positive proof that nowhere is there a better chance for a long healthy life than right here in Winchester.

Snoozing comfortably on a cushioned chair in the R. D. Ledgerwood home is a cat that will, on November 18 of this year, celebrate its 18th birthday. There is a theory that one year in the life of a cat is the equivalent of six years of human existence, which means that "Mickey" is indeed a Centenarian.

Mr. Ledgerwood explains that the cat was born on the Harold Link farm in November of 1950 and has always been very healthy and very contented at his home in Winchester.

"He doesn't like small children," says his owner, "and is not too friendly with grown-ups either."

Mickey spends his summers at the Ledgerwood cottage where he enjoys boat rides and is on friendly terms with the chipmunks in that area.

When questioned regarding Mickey's longevity secret, Mr. Ledgerwood put it this way, "He doesn't go out at night and this has probably added years to his life span." — (Ed. Note: There may be a lesson here for humans as well).

Power People And Teachers

Hydro's remote construction and operations communities have their own school boards, schools and teachers. And, nature study field trips are certainly no problem in this Hydro community 60 miles north of Cochrane.

Teachers are needed to educate the children of Hydro employees who build and operate power generating stations in remote areas. Strictly speaking, the teachers are not Hydro employees but are actually employees of the employees.

This is because in areas without formal municipal government (unorganized territories), school boards are appointed from among the people living in the community. These boards then assume the normal functions of all school boards, such as hiring teachers and providing buses.

Ontario Hydro builds the schools in its communities and absorbs costs in excess of normal government education grants to the boards.

Up at Abitibi Canyon—a Hydro community of station operators, maintenance men and their families 60 miles north of Cochrane—five full-time and two part-time teachers run the school. And there are ten teachers at a $150,000 school opened last September at Chub Lake, a Hydro townsite for workers building generating stations on the Mississagi River, northwest of Elliot Lake.

Both these schools take children from kindergarten to grade eight. Older students must go outside for their secondary school education—some at the Canyon are driven daily to high school at Smooth Rock Falls —a round trip of over 90 miles.

Facilities comparable to those available in permanent communities must be provided to attract reliable, qualified technical and professional people to these remote Hydro locations. With the emphasis placed on education today, good schools and teachers are a decided asset in the hiring of staff for such out-of-the-way places.

BOWLING

SOUTH MOUNTAIN

Could be Doug. Boyd is starting his spring training for the softball season. His bowling score indicates his arm is still in top condition — singles of 223, 237 ad 342 for a high cross of 802. Six other contenders went over the 700 mark; eight scored between 600 and 700, and another eight topped the "550" mark. Looks like a tough league to be in. Complete scores follow:

HALLVILLE

Murray Hyndman led the league last week, rolling strings of 241, 256 and 184 for the high cross of 681. Others in the top bracket were Orville Wieland 633, Lorne Hoy 619, Bob Kerr 564, Carl Bryan 561, Marilyn Wieland 558, Helen Bartholomew 553, Lorne Cooke 553, and Mel Christie 550.
