The Bar, The Boy and The Booze.

The following is taken from the News, a newspaper published at Smith's Falls:

"At the meeting of local option supporters in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening, one of the speakers admitted with more or less frankness that there were some young men in Renfrew who were at the present time being injured by the drink habit, despite the fact that local option was in full force and effect under the most favorable conditions. No one who is around with an observant eye can deny the truth of this admission. Unfortunately it is too true, and many a good citizen, whose common sense prevents him flaunting visionary temperance views from the house-tops, is grieved to see the number of bright young men who, during the past year or so, have injured their health, their morals and their manhood by resort to the pernicious whiskey bottle habit. There have been a number of groups of young men in town who have learned this sneaky way of indulging an appetite, and there seems to be no way of coping with it under local option. The alleyways, the fence corners and other dark and shady places are the resorts for this evil, and though the police have made an effort to curb it, as the increased number of convictions before the magistrate would indicate, still both the police and the license inspector can really do little because of the innately underground character of the performance. The Renfrew Journal believes that among the young men there has been a noticeable increase in the consumption of liquor, and worse still a lot of mere boys have been added to those addicted to the bottle drinking business. Some people have been able to close their eyes to this condition of affairs, have been able to ignore the records of the police court and the evidence of every day or every night that even the wayfaring man might see—unless he was determined to look upon it only with a Nelson eye. Local option may have helped some of the old bar room bums, but the young man assuredly has not been benefitted so far.

The above is the other side of the local option question, and it will be worth while considering. The Renfrew Journal ought to know the conditions prevailing at Renfrew, and if the conditions are as the Journal states then local option is a comparative failure. If local option does not prevent the young men becoming drunkards is it practically useless, as the old toper will get his liquor any way. The question is one well worth investigating.

D. C. McRae Dead.

Mr. D. C. McRae, of Bridge End Lancaster, father of the wife of Dr. Magee, of Carp, and a figure in the Glengarry shooting affray, is dead. The death occurred on Saturday last.

Local Option is a straight issue before the Electorate of Chesterville. Each individual voter is left, and must be left, to the freedom of his or her own will, irrespective of class or religion. No one party or church in Chesterville has controlled or has desired to control, this question, as it is a citizens issue.

Methodist Sunday School Entertainment

The Music Hall was taxed to its utmost capacity by an audience that filled every nook and corner overflowing to the stage and platform on Christmas night. Although the programme included upwards of 30 numbers every one was rendered so well that the interest never waned. The various drills were splendidly carried out. The Garland of Virtue composed by Mrs S. A. Woods was a beautiful representation of the seasons. The queen Arlie Durant with her attendants were recalled. The boys Military Drill was a hit and was loudly encored. Much praise has been uttered concerning the "Maypole Drill," a most difficult exercise which was specially well done. The young ladies looked charming dressed in yellow. The Frog Drill by the little tots provoked roars of laughter and was heartily cheered, the participants being called back. The choruses, duets, quartettes, solos, recitations, etc. were so well carried out that they left almost nothing to be desired. It was specially gratifying to the parents and the Sunday School management to see every item so creditably performed by the scholars. The "Old Maids of Lee" gave a genuine surprise in their make up and rendering of the old song. The elocution and recitation by the boys in the dialogue "The United Workmen" was specially good. The best we have had was the remark of a S. S. worker of 40 years standing.

The proceeds were $25 or $30 beyond that of last year. The proceedings concluded at 11 o'clock with God Save the King.

The Christian Church Roman and Protestant, is arrayed against the Open Bar. Leaders like Archbishop Ireland, Archbishop Bruchet, Dr. Carman, Dr. Mackay, Bishop Farthing, General Booth, all deplore the curse following on the open sale of strong drink.

Chas. A. Cooke, Canada's Indian Basso and Reader, with the assistance of local talent, will give an entertainment in the Chrysler Presbyterian Church, on Jan. 5th, 1912. Admission 25cts. Doors open at 7 p. m. All are welcome.

Nation Valley Christmas Concert.

At the Nation Valley School House a most enjoyable and successful Christmas Entertainment was given in the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 20th by the Day School and Sunday School. The seating capacity of the school room was taxed to the utmost. The songs, dialogues, recitations and drills, etc., were well received and the audience was kept with interest unabated from 8 until after 11 o'clock.

It was generally agreed that it was one of the most successful entertainment yet held in the Valley. All took their various parts in a truly creditable manner.

Rev. W. H. Stevens presided and Rev. S. A. Woods gave an address both speaking in a congratulating manner to the pupils.

At the close Santa Claus distributed the Christmas Tree presents and everyone went home happy after spending a most pleasant evening.

Explosion at Avonmore.

The village of Avonmore was suddenly thrown into darkness about 8 o'clock Thursday night. The acetylene gas plant, owned by Dr. Robb, which furnished the light for the streets as well as for private individuals, was put out of business by an explosion, the gas machine being completely wrecked. Fortunately no one was in or near the building at the time, so that no one was injured. The shock was felt all over the village and the people were thrown into a state of great alarm, many fearing that it was an earthquake. The report was heard several miles away. The windows in the adjacent building were shattered and a telegraph pole just outside the gas house was snapped off like a pipe stem.

Dr. Robb took immediate steps to repair the damage and a new gas machine was ordered at once.

HOME CONCERTS.

OH, I like to sit and listen
To the phonograph's sweet note
As it grinds out mellow music
From its wide and brassy throat!
I can shut my eyes and wonder
If I sit in fairy land
As I hear the late selections
That are fresh and newly canned.

Many pay a half a dollar—
Maybe more, if they are proud—
For the privilege of sitting
As a member of the crowd
And of hearing a recital
Where the art is three feet thick,
But I'd rather take a record,
Turn the crank and do the trick.

Yes, I know that there are scoffers
Who have voices of their own,
Who complain about the scratching
And the blurring of the tone,
But if they are so artistic
Let them move a mile away,
For when I have finished supper
I am bound to let it play.

In the quiet of the evening
As the gloaming comes apace
I can start the wheels in motion
And the cares of life erase,
Calling up the tunes of Dixie
Or the music of the band,
Switching swiftly to the comics
With a motion of the hand.

Sobering Effect.

"Darling."
"Yes."
"I am mad with the joy of life;
clean drunk."
"Are you?"
"You bet I am."
"Well, it is the first of the month, and the milkman and the laundryman are both at the back door with their accounts."

Had to Skip.

"Which parent do you resemble?"
asked the kind old gentleman.
"Huh?" queried the tough kid.
"Do you take after your father or your mother?"
"Neither. They take after me."

Just Wondered.

"Funny about the trees, isn't it, Mr.
Latestayer?"
"How so?"
"They leave in the spring."
"What is funny about that?"
"You are not a tree, are you?"

Expectancy.

The coal man prices autos,
Though it is not the season
To buy a car with spring afar,
But there's a reason.

Matching Guesses.

"It is foolish to say Mars is inhabited."
"But I know that it is."
"How do you know?"
"The same way you know it isn't."

Soft Timber.

"What is their family tree?"
"Basswood, and hollow at that."

RUSSIA'S WAY.

Efforts to Keep Subjects Ignorant Defeated by Poor Shepherd.

Russia's method of restricting the light of education so that many of her subjects are forever kept in the darkness of ignorance is deplorable to say the least. No government, religion or society can be as secure when founded on ignorance as when every person concerned is sufficiently enlightened to intelligently defend it. The rulers of the Czar's empire are well aware of this fact, but their positions of power and graft have been enjoyed so long that the idea of doing something to educate the masses and thus weaken their own security is not to be tolerated. Knowing this it is difficult to understand how all the men, women and children in a certain Polish village came to be so well educated that they can both read and write. The Russian Government never allowed a school there, but Peter Banasiuk was born in the little village and it is through his efforts that such an amazing change has taken place.

Peter Banasiuk was only a shepherd, yet he is honored above many of higher degree. He was born in Vola Orzechova over 70 years ago. As he grew to manhood he noticed that not one of his fellow villagers knew how to read, and he was just as ignorant.
Though his father had been a simple serf, he longed to get knowledge; but the Russian Government took care that he and his neighbors should remain ignorant.

But Peter found a way. His parents had left him a prayer book, in which he found a prayer that he knew by heart. By dint of repeating each word and studying the letters as they came, he not only managed to learn to read himself but taught his seven children in the same way. This meant more patience than would be decriphering hieroglyphics by an expert;
but Peter held on and conquered.

Then the villagers came to be taught; and Peter gave some of them lessons on condition that they should teach others. For many years there has not been an illiterate man or woman in the village.

Owing to the Russian Government's prohibition of Polish schools, the percentage of illiterates sometimes runs to 40 per cent. in towns and more in the country. So Peter's village holds the record for the 8,500,000 square miles of the Czar's empire. In the steppes, 93 per cent. of the population is illiterate.

In Poland people are severely punished by fines and imprisonment for teaching children to read and write their mother tongue. Priests are fined sums ranging from 100 to 500 rubles, and those who cannot pay go to prison for each offence. Children meet in lofts and cellars to avoid the police and bury their books in the ground.
Parents are fined as well as the teachers. In many cases imprisonment lasts for three months. When the "offence" is repeated the priests are forbidden to officiate, often exiled.

How Peter escaped is a wonder to all his friends. He explains it by the fact that he taught his pupils out in the forests or in ditches, "and only one at a time." He never took a cent for his lessons.

Why the Teacher Wept.

Every scholar was wearing his best clothes, and every face was beaming brightly. And the teacher's eyes watched grimly lest one small slip should spoil the record of her class, for it was the annual inspection, and the fierce-looking man who called himself inspector was putting the pupils through their paces.

"Now, boys," he called, "I want you to tell me what is a blizzard."

Silence reigned.

"What is a blizzard?" demanded the ferocious one.

And still silence reigned.

The teacher glared at the top boy, then nodded to encourage him, and at last there came a look of pleading in her eyes. Almost she wept.

Slowly the top boy's hand went up.

"Yes?" snapped the inspector. "Go on. Tell me—what is a blizzard?"

"P-please, sir," stammered the youthful encyclopedia, "it's the—the inside of a hen!"—Answers.

The Appearance of Evil.

"Sister Henderson," said Deacon Hypers, "you should avoid even the appearance of evil."

"Why, deacon, what do you mean?"
asked Sister Henderson.

"I observe that on your sideboard you have several cutglass decanters and that each of them is half filled with what appears to be ardent spirits."

"Well, now, deacon, it isn't anything of the kind. The bottles look so pretty on the sideboard that I just filled them halfway with some floor stain and furniture polish just for appearances."

"That's why I am cautioning you, sister," replied the deacon. "Feeling a trifle weak and faint, I helped myself to a dose from the big bottle in the middle."—London Telegraph.

The First Music.

The father of song, music and dancing, all three, was the savage who first clapped hands and shouted in time at some rude festival of his tribe. From that clapping and shouting has been evolved the whole art of instrumental music, including even the entrancing complexities of the modern symphony. From that shout or rudimentary emotional utterance has proceeded by a kindred evolution the whole art of vocal music down to the modern opera or oratorio.
From the savage leap has come every variety of dancing, from the country breakdown to the beautiful waltzes of the city ballroom.

PROCLAMATION.

Leamington, Ontario, December 10th, 1911.

To Whom It May Concern:

We, the undersigned merchants, bankers, professional and business men of the Town of Leamington, Ontario, do hereby certify of our own free will and accord, without fear, favor or prejudice, that the sale of intoxicating liquors has been legally prohibited in our town since May, 1910, and from that day until this we have found business steadily improving, collections considerably better, more building being done than ever before, no buildings in town for rent, the morals of the entire community greatly improved, and probably not more than 10 per cent. of whiskey consumed as formerly, and possibly not 10 per cent.

Drunkenness on the streets practically unknown, and, from a business as well as a moral standpoint, we would consider the return to the open bar here as nothing short of a public calamity.

Your Directors have pleasure in reporting that, as will be seen from the increased figures in the Balance Sheet, and in the Profit and Loss Statement, the Bank has shared substantially in the growth which has characterized the business of the country during the past year.

Branches have been opened since the last Annual Meeting at Eastview, Ottawa South, Ottawa East, Avonlea, Sask., Star City, Sask., Grenville, Que., Sudbury, Ont., Timmins, Ont., and St. James, Winnipeg, and it is the intention of the Directors to open additional offices in the near future in the Westerly and South-westerly parts of the City of Ottawa, and in Westboro.

Premises for the use of the Bank have been secured at Fourth Avenue, Ottawa, Fairmount Avenue, Montreal, Virden, Man., and Kinistino, Sask. Your Directors have also purchased the premises on Sparks Street immediately behind the present Head Office Building—for the purpose of enlarging the present Head Office building.

The usual inspections have been made of the Head Office and Branches, and your Directors have thought it advisable to anticipate the requirements of the proposed amendments to the Bank Act (a draft revision of which was made public some months ago), by having an independent audit made prior to this meeting, by a well-known and highly regarded firm of Chartered Accountants, whose certificate will be found appended to the General Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

The Directors desire to express their appreciation of the manner in which the Officers of the Bank have devoted themselves to the various duties assigned to them during the year.

GEORGE BRYSON,
Vice-President.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

A COMPARISON.

WILLIE JONES was a model boy. Dad and mother's pride and joy. Always got his recitation. Never told a fabrication. Didn't try the cat to tease. Answered promptly, "If you please;" Spelled such words as anthracite And was never in a fight.

Johnny Brown, I'm sad to say, Acted in a different way. He stole cookies from the cook And would never read a book, Gave his teacher lots of sass Every time he went to class. He was just a little terror, Skilled in every form of error.

Willie's face with pain contracted At the way that Johnny acted; Would have told him to desist, But he feared for Johnny's fist. Just the other way with Jack. Willie's optic he would black And would call him sissy boy In his efforts to annoy.

That was twenty years ago. How the time does overflow! You will doubtless wonder how They are getting on by now, Which of them is truly great, Which packs money in a crate. Well, I'll tell you if I must— They are partners in a trust.

Willie is the oily guy When they senators must buy. John manhandles all their foes. And he musses up their clothes. So they make a winning team. Gathering from life the cream. If the moral you would see You will have to climb a tree.

Bad Model.

"Sir!"
"Well?"
"You have here a base imitation of my style and handiwork."
"Is it base?"
"It is, sir."
"Then you'll have to admit that it approaches the original."

Continuation S. S. Tp. of Finch.
Editor of the Record:—
Dear Sir, Kindly allow me space to say a few words re a proposed Continuation School for the Township of Finch and to correct certain rumors in connection with the forming of such a school section of Finch Tp.

As you are aware the matter rests with the Counties' Council and that they move and act in the matter by petitions, and counter-petitions, etc. The village of Finch has been asking for such a school for some time, but wants certain lands adjacent to the corporation of said village to form the bounds of the new section. The ratepayers of the Township object to any lands outside of the corporation of the Village of Finch to be taken into the bounds of the proposed new sections. But say, if a Continuation School section must be formed, form one only, and put in the centre of the Township, which appears reasonable. Yet few ratepayers, if any, want such a school at this time.

Now this rumor that I wish to correct is this: That many of the ratepayers in S. S. No. 6 Finch which lies along the Winchester boundary and is composed of lots one to five, in the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th concessions should petition the Counties' Council to have the above lots joined to Winchester Tp. Continuation School section which school is located at Morewood and that I am agitating and fostering such a movement. This I want to give a most emphatic denial while I am a patron of the Morewood School and have been for many years, as an outsider I have always paid the fee charged and am willing to do so for the future, and do not want any statement used as purporting to have come from me to induce any of our ratepayers to sign any petition to the Counties' Council as above referred to, and would say that any ratepayers asked to sign any such petition should fully understand the nature of it, and its probable future results.

The assessment of S. S. No. 6 Finch is practically $100,000, a few years ago it was more it may be a trifle less now. I understand the rate on the Winchester Tp. or Morewood S. S. for this year to be 4 mills or 40 cts. on the $1.00 and as the assessment of property is lower in the Tp. of Finch than what it is in Winchester. The above assessment of $100,000 would be raised considerably, and while I believe it to be the fulfilling of one law to "bear one another's burdens" I do not think that many of the ratepayers of Finch Tp. are considering the matter with that point in view at the present time. Trusting I have made myself clear in the matter I am,

Respectfully Yours

TRIED EVERYTHING WITHOUT RELIEF

Until I took "Fruit-a-lives"

SARNIA, ONT., Feb. 5th, 1910.
"I have been a sufferer for the past 25 years with Constipation, Indigestion and Catarrh of the Stomach. I tried many remedies and many doctors but derived no benefit whatever. Finally, I read an advertisement of 'Fruit-a-lives'. I decided to give 'Fruit-a-lives' a trial and found they did exactly what was claimed for them. I have now taken 'Fruit-a-lives' for some months and find that they are the only remedy that does me good. I have recommended 'Fruit-a-lives' to a great many of my friends and I cannot praise these fruit tablets too highly."

PAUL J. JONES

"Fruit-a-lives" is the only natural cure for Constipation and Stomach Trouble, because it is the only medicine in the world that is made of fruit juices and valuable tonics. Hundreds of people have been cured, as if by a miracle, by taking "Fruit-a-lives", the famous fruit medicine.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

Further expansion is shown in the annual report of the Bank of Ottawa. Nine new branches were established last year, and to accommodate the increasing work at the head office new premises have had to be secured. The profits reported on the year's business were $595,228. They provided for dividends of 11 per cent, on the capital of $3,500,000, for an addition of $100,000 to the reserve, raising the fund to $4,000,000, for $100,000 applied to reduce the bank premises item and for $10,000 added to the officers' pension fund. This may rightly be regarded as satisfactory in every sense. The Bank of Ottawa has adopted the plan of having an outside audit, and the announcement of the fact is made in terms which suggest that such policy may be required in the case of all banks at an early date.

"SLEEP SWEETLY, PLEASE."

Request Which Will Take the Place of Time-Honored "Look Pleasant!"

Having your picture "took" while in the land of dreams—this is the latest photographic fad. Society is crazy about it which means that it won't be long before all of us will take up the idea with a vengeance. Portraits of people asleep, while not always good likenesses, according to the views of their friends, are always interesting. On comparing a waking and a sleeping picture, the observer can note at a glance the change of expression and the look of peace which is shown on the sleeping picture. The stress of modern life generally lines and marks people's faces, but sleep, even an imitation of it, erases and smooths out facial disfigurement, and that is one great reason why women should go in for sleep photography. The woman whose face looks haggard and worried in a waking picture would regain much of the softness and beauty of youth in a sleep photograph.

Children, too, would make beautiful subjects for sleep pictures. Their natural aversion to strangers would be overcome. Their fright at their strange and unusual surroundings would not be great if their eyes were closed, and their faces would relax into natural expressions.

So if you are sure you are rather good-looking—for the plain face, it must be confessed, is better showing animation than the utter lack of that quality which sleep results in—when you have your new picture taken have a sleeping picture made. You will look at least five years younger, according to all authorities. This will be especially fine for the woman who wishes to send her picture to an absent lover and doesn't want him to find out that she is getting older looking.

The new picture won't be taken with the subject really asleep. Few people could possibly go to sleep at the photographer's without the use of an anesthetic, and few people would be willing to take chloroform or ether in order to have a good photograph, although some women would probably be willing to go to even that trouble in order to get a beautiful picture. The new picture will be taken with closed eyes and with the face and figure posed in the guise of real sleep.

Trials by Water.

Throwing people into the water to let it determine their innocence or guilt was widely in use in the seventeenth centuries. A synod of West Prussia forbade its use in 1745. Sporadic cases, however, occurred during the whole of the nineteenth century.

Prof. E. P. Evans wrote in 1895 of its use in Dalmatia, where in some districts it was still customary to throw all the women into the water on a specified day to see whether they would sink or swim.

A rope was attached to each in order to save them from drowning those who proved their innocence by sinking, while those believed to be guilty because they floated were also rescued and made to promise to forsake their evil ways on pain of being stoned.

A traveler has described a modern survival of the ordeal used in detecting thieves in Southern Russia. All the servants of the household where a robbery occurred were assembled, and as many balls of bread were made as there were suspected persons.

A sorceress then addressed each one of the number, saying that the particular ball of bread which she held in her hand would sink or swim as the party addressed was guilty or innocent. She then flung it into the water.

The Wonder of It.

A traveler who was "seeing Ireland" in a smart cart berated the Irish driver for failing to point out a sight in a part of Dublin they had just passed.

A few yards farther the cart came to a stop which almost threw the passenger out.

"Why did you stop so suddenly?" asked the man.

"Well, an' there's a milestone," came the answer from Pat.

"But what is there strange about a milestone?" again questioned the sightseer.

"Shure," spoke out Pat, "an' ye seldom see two o' them together."

A Shining Metal.

There is a legend among the peasants of Cornwall, in England, that at night there may be observed a faintly-shining mineral among the rocks brought from the mines. That this is not pure fancy has been proved by Professor Strutt. A specimen of the mineral autunite, which is also found in Wales, was sent to him from Portugal, because of its luminosity, is due to spontaneous radio-activity. The light it sheds is stronger than that of nitrate of uranium. On parting with its water of crystallization the mineral loses its luminous property.

Toasting the Teachers.

There was a meeting of the new teachers and the old. It was a sort of love feast, reception or whatever you call it. Anyhow all the teachers got together and pretended they didn't have a care in the world. After the eats were at the symposium proposed a toast:

"Long live our teachers!"

It was drunk enthusiastically. One of the new teachers was called on to respond. He modestly accepted. His answer was:

"What on?"

G. H. BALFOUR,

General Manager.

During the past year twenty-four branches and agencies of the Bank have been opened in the following provinces: New Brunswick, 1; Quebec, 2; Ontario, 9; Saskatchewan, 5; Alberta, 2; British Columbia, 4; England, 1.

Two branches in Alberta and one branch in Ontario, which proved unproductive, have been closed. The total number of branches is now 242.

During the year the capital of the Bank has been increased from $4,000,000 to $4,914,120. The premium arising from the disposal of new stock has been credited to the Rest Account.

The customary inspections of the head office and of all branches and agencies of the Bank have been made.

Quebec, December 18, 1911.

JOHN SHARPLES,

President.

Before moving the adoption of the report, the President addressed the Meeting, giving the Shareholders further particulars as to the increase of paid up capital by $914,120. Increase in number of Shareholders by 445, making a total of over 2,675. Mentioning specially the absorption of the United Empire Bank of Canada on April 1, which added twenty branches in the richest portion of Ontario, where this Bank was previously unrepresented. He also spoke in regard to the proposed removal of the head office from Quebec to Winnipeg, as recommended by the Directors, after considering the matter for two years, and which was to be voted on by the Shareholders later. Mr. Sharples, commenting on the hearty support which he had at all times received from the Board of Directors and the Executive Officers of the Bank, stated that the condition of his health would not permit of his continuing to discharge the important duties of President of the Bank after its removal to Winnipeg.

Another important event had been the opening of a branch in London, England, which was undertaken after the most careful consideration of the Board, and the personal visit to London by the General Manager and the Assistant General Manager, Mr. F. W. Ashe, formerly Eastern Superintendent, was appointed manager of this branch, and the results to date have exceeded expectations.

It was then moved by the Hon. John Sharples, and seconded by Mr. William Price, that the Report of the Directors, now read, be adopted and printed for distribution among the Shareholders. Carried.

The General Manager addressed the meeting, referring particularly to the figures as shown by the Balance Sheet, and giving additional details as to the policy of the Bank in various matters of interest to the Shareholders, mentioning in particular the opening of twenty-four additional branches during the year, making a total of 242, as follows:—

New Brunswick.....	1
Nova Scotia.....	1
Ontario.....	76
Quebec.....	7
Manitoba.....	39
Saskatchewan.....	67
Alberta.....	39
British Columbia.....	11
London, England.....	1

Mr. Balfour expressed his regret at the decision of the Hon. John Sharples to retire from his duties as President at a future date, and said that he was voicing the feeling of the Directors, Shareholders and Officials in expressing the hope that he would long be spared to exert that keen interest in the Institution which he has displayed during the past seventeen years as Director, Vice-President, and President of the Bank.

After the adoption of the Report, Mr. R. T. Riley, in a short address, stated that it was the wish of the Directors that when Mr. Sharples finds it necessary to retire from the Presidency of the Bank that he be tendered the position of Honorary President. He also spoke specially in reference to the Western Division, in which there are now 155 Branches with a staff of 755.

Mr. Samuel Barker, M.P., of Hamilton, also addressed the meeting, congratulating the Shareholders on the Report presented to the meeting, thanking the President and Directors, the General Manager and other Officers of the Bank for their efforts on its behalf, and expressing his approval of the proposed removal of the Head Office to Winnipeg.

At the request of the President, the Secretary then read the draft bill, now before the House of Commons, for the purpose of amending the Bank's charter, and moving the Head Office of the Bank from Quebec to Winnipeg. It was then moved by Mr. William Price, seconded by Col. J. F. Turnbull, and unanimously resolved that the action of the Directors in applying for the foregoing amendment to the Bank's charter be and hereby is approved.

Moved by Mr. R. T. Riley, seconded by Mr. E. E. A. DuVernet: "That the Meeting now proceed to the election of Directors for the ensuing year, and that the ballot box for the receipt of votes be kept open until a quarter past four o'clock, or until five minutes have elapsed without a vote being offered, during which time proceedings be suspended. Carried.

The Scrutineers appointed at the Meeting reported the following gentlemen duly elected as Directors for the ensuing year: Hon. John Sharples, Messrs. Wm. Price, E. J. Hale, Wm. Shaw, George H. Thomson, R. T. Riley, E. L. Drewry, W. R. Allan, F. E. Kenaston, John Galt, M. Bull, Samuel Barker, M.P.; E. E. A. DuVernet, K.C.; George P. Reid, and Stephen Haas. At a subsequent Meeting of the newly-elected Board the Hon. John Sharples was elected President, and Mr. Wm. Price, Vice-President.

To the Editor of the Record:—

Will you kindly allow me space in your valuable paper for a few words in reply to some remarks made by Mr. O. D. Casselman in his nomination address in the Town Hall on Friday night last. I might say right here that I do not do this with any feeling of enmity towards Mr. Casselman, but simply to set myself right with the ratepayers of Chesterville. In referring to the income assessment Mr. Casselman said that income had never been assessed in Chesterville until the year 1911, that he was opposed to income assessment, and that the Council Board had no control over it, but that it was left entirely in the hands of the assessor. Those statements were incorrect and misleading and calculated to give the impression that I had taken up income assessment wholly in my own responsibility, unnecessarily and contrary to the wishes of the Council Board, when the facts are that the council have just as much control over income assessment as they have over property assessment or any other assessment and it is just as much the duty of any assessor to assess income as to assess property, and if income had never been assessed in Chesterville all I can say is that the former assessors have not been doing their duty faithfully as they obligated themselves to do or as they then certified they had done, and the Council Board would not be doing their duty if they accepted the assessor's roll as complete until the income was assessed. The law is quite clear on that point, the instructions laid down for the guidance says, "income shall be assessed," therefore any assessor who neglects that important item does not do their duty and does not do justice to the property holders. If a man invests his money in property or in business he has to pay taxes on it and it would not be just to allow another man to go free who invests his money in mortgages, notes or bonds. In looking over the assessor's guide after entering my duties as assessor I came to the conclusion that I could not possibly make the necessary declaration and leave out that branch of assessment, and on making enquiries I found that in the surrounding villages and towns it has been the practice for years to assess income, and to strengthen my own conviction, I asked Mr. Casselman personally if I had not better take it up and he said that he believed that it was right to do so. I also asked the Reeve and he said he thought I had better do so and I could see no other course to pursue. I also believe that if the ratepayers of Chesterville will sit down and consider the subject they will at once see that our low rate of taxes for the year 1911 was owing principally to the income assessment.

I thank you Mr. Editor for your space and trouble.

R. HARROP.

Editor of the Chesterville Record:

Sir, our Urban Continuation School was inspected for the first time a few weeks ago and Inspector Mills was heard to remark, "that since commencing his work on the 11th Sept. last, our school building was the best he had seen yet." No doubt this will be pleasing not only to the trustees but to its supporters as well. Your correspondent deems this a fitting opportunity to give a word of praise to the man who deserves the most of credit. The work of building this beautiful school building was practically placed in the hands of our local architect, Mr. Cephrenus Hummel. To him was entrusted the drawing of the plans and specifications and supervising the work, and well indeed did he perform his trust and placed the completed structure in the hands of the trustees well within the estimated cost.

The School is a solid brick building with inlaid cement corners and a commodious basement, a portion fitted up as a gymnasium and the other portion as a recreation room for the girl students.

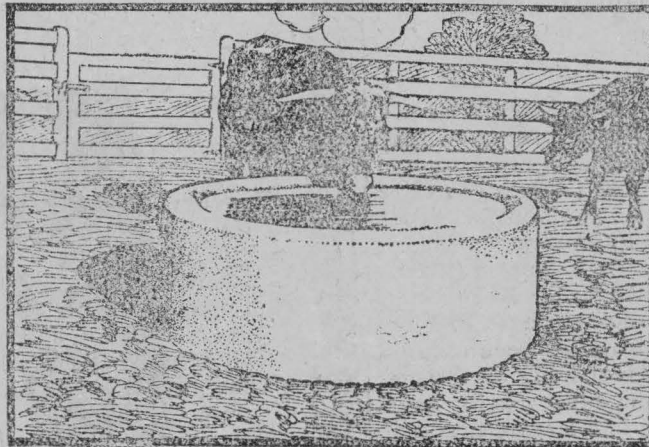

On the first floor are two large recitation rooms, well lighted and ventilated and fitted up with new and modern school appurtenances.

The ceilings are 13 feet and a large hall and stairway give easy access to the second flat. On the second flat is one large class room, science room, library and hall. The drainage and sanitary arrangements are good.

We are informed that the attendance at this school is now between 50 and 60 scholars and it must be a source of gratification to the ratepayers to know that they have a splendid school built at a moderate cost, and an efficient staff of teachers are employed.

Which is Your Choice?

Sloppy, leaky wooden troughs, or clean, durable Concrete?

Wooden drinking troughs are about as reliable as the weather.

They are short-lived and require replacing every few years—not to mention continual patching to keep them in repair.

The best of wood cannot withstand, for long, constant dampness and soaking. Its tendency to rapid decay soon shows itself in leaks and stagnant pools of water around trough.

Contrast with this the durability, cleanliness and well-ordered appearance of Concrete.

Which?

The suit of the liquidator of the Sheldon estate against Mr. S. Matthews to recover money drawn out the day before Sheldon disappeared was dismissed at Montreal.

No "Flying Start" Needed with FROST & WOOD No. 8

Why, think you, do you have to back up some mowers a few feet and get a "flying start" before the knives will cut? It is because the gear wheels on external gear mowers do not mesh fully enough and lost motion results. When selecting a mower, see if the small gear wheel is inside the large (the internal gear, note illustration) or outside of it (the external gear.)

If it is the external gear you'll find only one cog in mesh. To start this kind of a machine in heavy hay without first "getting up speed" is impossible. There is so much "slack" to be taken up in the gears between the Main Drive Wheels and the Pitman, that the horses have to travel quite a distance before the knives commence cutting.

Just see our agent in your locality. But first drop us a post card for catalogue

Now, look at our top illustration (better still, see our No. 8 Mower), and what do you find? Why, that two cogs are always in full mesh and at least one other in touch. You'll readily understand by this that the Internal Gear is just about three times as fully in mesh as the External. The gears mesh so completely that they simply must turn smoothly and precisely together, with never a slip. You can take our No. 8 into the heaviest part of your hay field and the knives will commence cutting the instant the horses step up.

Furthermore, in the external arrangement, the wheels turn away from each other, out of harmony, and the cogs wear down.

By the internal method (see top illustration) the wheels move in the same direction, in harmony, which reduces friction (wear) to the minimum. The result is a smooth and easy-running machine—the pride of the owner.

Look at the small arrows pointing to our double brace. The other method, you understand, is to have but one brace at this part of the mower. You can see for yourself how much wiser it is to have the double brace. It greatly strengthens the machine where a big strain falls, and more fully protects the working parts against the jars and jolts caused by driving over rough ground.

Then, too, the No. 8, thanks to the use of generous sized Roller Bearings, delights the horses by running so "easy," instead of making them work so "hard," as some mowers do.

Note the Double Brace

The following is a "Declaration" duly signed and fyled, and heretofore published in several papers throughout the Province of Ontario. This statement, prepared by the Citizens of Winchester, speaks for itself:

Winchester, Ontario, December 11th, 1911.

In reply to many enquiries in reference to the working of Local Option in Winchester we would state as follows:—

The Act has been in force since May 1st, 1907, which has given a pretty good opportunity to judge as to results. Without hesitation we would state that morally it has been a great improvement. It has done away with the open bar and has almost entirely stopped the sale of liquor in the place. The law has been well observed. Not a single complaint has been entered for violation of the act since it came into force nearly five years ago. While a limited quantity has been brought in by private parties we are satisfied that its use is steadily decreasing.

Our largest employers of labor are strong advocates for Local Option on the ground that the men are steadier, lose less time, and do better work than they did under the license system.

The general business of the place has not suffered as a result of Local Option. This is shown by the increased traffic at the Railway Station which shows steady gain year by year since the act came into force. The present year being the largest since the railway was built and about three thousand dollars more than previous year. The business men of the place, with the experience they have had, are almost unanimously in favor of the act.

That the citizens generally are satisfied is shown from the fact that no move has ever been made to bring on a repeal vote though this could have been done in the last two years of this.

One argument used against Local Option is that many people will pass a dry town to do their business where there is license. We have found this true to a very limited extent, but have also found that the increased purchasing power of the home wage earner more than makes up for any loss so caused.

We are informed that bank deposits have materially increased during the past five years.

The rate of taxation has not increased; it has, in fact, averaged lower for the five years of local option than for several years previous and is a very low rate the present year. The Tax Collector has had very little trouble over collections. On Dec. 14th, 1908, there was less than ten dollars uncollected taxes for that year. On same date in 1909 (outside of one small property the owner of which was non-resident) not a dollar of tax remained unpaid. At the close of 1910 one hundred dollars remained uncollected but was paid in a month thereafter.

Winchester suffered from a bad fire soon after local option came into force, both hotels and several business places being wiped out. This interfered with business for the time being, but now that we have ample hotel accommodation that trouble has been done away with.

Two of our largest manufacturing establishments have extended their plants during this year and are employing more hands than formerly.

We are of the opinion that if local option was submitted to a vote of the people to-day it would be sustained by a larger majority than when it first carried.
