Bits and Pieces

Official Opening

The Village of Finch is proud of its new arena and justly so. Community spirit and effort could not be measured in this project which was undertaken after the old arena had burned. Now all the hard work will be rewarded when Finch residents take pride in the new arena at the official opening to be held Friday, January 8 at 8 p.m.

To mark the event a hockey game between Berwick and Moose Creek, of the Seaway Valley Intermediate League, will be played. A dance will be held after the game. Everyone is welcome.

Winners

Brookdale Shopping Plaza awarded hundreds of prizes to Christmas shoppers in Cornwall this year. Visitors of Santa left their names in a big drum and their names were drawn at a later date. Among those winning prizes were: Jennifer Sommerville, Joseph St., Chesterville and Jimmy Lefebvre, Chesterville.

Phase One complete

Winchester's new community centre opened its doors to the public for the first time on Monday night, with public skating.

The first phase will have only a natural ice surface. The fund raising committee is planning another sportmen's dinner to help raise the necessary funds for phase two. This phase will see the installation of artificial ice and the completion of the interior. We would assume the fund raising committee for phase two would welcome any donations coming their way.

Winchester's new arena is very similar to the fine new edifice at Finch.

Nothing but praise

We hate to be repetitious, but here we go again. The park pavilion now being used as dressing rooms for the community rink, seems to receive only praise.

According to our informants, which in this case were our youth, the heating system & dressing room arrangements are a tremendous improvement over the old rink house, which would be classed as antiquated.

The subject of artificial ice on the community rink keeps cropping up. A further investigation into the feasability of such a plan would be time well spent.

Lucky people . . .

"Without doubt, we are in the wrong business."

It seems every second person we talk to is either just home from the sunny south or is planning a holiday in the near future.

When one heard the expression that someone was at "Little Chesterville" we immediately thought of the Rideau River, east of Kemptville. If this trend grows we may be able to apply the name to Florida.

Joan Heuff with her Sunway Motel, Fort Lauderdale, may have to add more rooms if the migration continues to grow.

Whoa Harold! "Put that gun away"

We were called to the phone, from our evening meal, New Years Day. Harold Loughridge, College Street, in a somewhat excited voice, had a story to relate.

Late in the day a deer either confused or coming home late from a gala New Years eve party proceeded north over College street, heading past Chesterville Public School and on up along the Nation River. The doe had several dogs in pursuit but seemed to be in very little hurry.

This story will make some of our hunters "green with envy" as they returned from the fall hunt empty handed.

Fulton Bros. robbed (again)

Fulton Bros. TV and Appliances were victims of robbers early Tuesday morning. Earl Cross discovered the break-in where the large pane of glass in the front door had been demolished.

Store manager John Witteveen was emphatic in naming the loss. John had just completed an inventory check on Monday. Several portable televsions, including two colour sets, tape recorders and other small appliances were taken.

As the scene of the crime appeared early Tuesday morning one would guess the robbers smashed the window, made one quick circle of the shop and hastily departed with loot in hand.

The loss is estimated at approximately $2500. An investigation is being carried out by local police chief Leonard Shane and OPP officers.

Williamsburg Twp. requests approval of new garage site

The regular meeting of the municipal council of the Township of Williamsburg was held on Saturday January 2, in the IOOF hall at Williamsburg, Ont., with all members present.

The clerk was instructed to request the approval of the Dept. of Highways for the purchase of a parcel of land for the construction of a new $65,000. Township garage.

The council joined the Association of Rural Municipalities and the Ont. Good Roads Assoc.

By-law No. 2,1970 for the taking over of the Soldier's Historical Cemetery was passed. By-law No. 3,1971 for the appointing of certain Township Officials for the year 1971 was also passed.

Council agreed to a meeting of the councils of Morrisburg, Matilda, Iroquois and Williamsburg to discuss plans for a combined Official Plan for the area.

Dunbar euchre plays to full house

There were 15 tables of Euchre Monday evening in Dunbar Recreation Centre.

The winner of the door prize was Mr Wilburn Fyke of Elma.

Winners of the 10 games were Ladies First, donated by Mrs Wilda McMillan, won by Mrs Thora Wood. Ladies Second was won by Mrs Marian Elliotte.

Men's First was won by Mr Gordie Merkley of Grantley and Second went to Mr Donald Munroe of Nation Valley.

Ladies' Aid elect new president

The Morewood Presbyterian Aid held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs Art Koolwine. The president, Mrs Zoe McQuaig, opened the meeting with an appropriate Christmas reading. Following the singing ing of Christmas carols, the president and secretary, Mrs Delburn Caruthers, carried out the business on hand.

Prior to the election of officers at the close of the meeting, Mrs McQuaig asked to be relieved of her duties as president and it was with regret the Society accepted her resignation. Mrs McQuaig has been a faithful and valued president for 15 years. Her ready humour, wisdom and leadership qualities greatly contributed to a most successful and congenial Society.

Mrs Donald Carlyle presided for the election of officers for 1971, which are as follows:

Honorary president, Mrs Zoe McQuaig; president, Mrs Art Koolwine; 1st vice president, Mrs Ross Nurse; 2nd vice president, Mrs Donald Carlyle; secretary, Mrs Delburn Carruthers; treasurer, Mrs Donald Runions; pianist, Mrs Kenneth Stewart.

Valley Health Unit nurses to serve NDDHS, five mornings a week

Following receipt of the letter from the Department of Education indicating that there existed provision for The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education to employ a nurse and that such employment was actually in violation of Section 35 (13) of The School Administration Act, negotiations were conducted with Dr. Peters of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Valleys Health Unit to make arrangements for the employment by the Health Unit of Mrs Mattson, the school nurse at North Dundas District High School.

A meeting in May recognized the feasability of having Mrs Mattson move from the employment of The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education to the employment of The St. Lawrence and Ottawa Valleys Health Unit, effective September 1, 1970. A review of the Unit budget, however, indicated insufficient funds to cover the transfer at that time.

Recently Mr Comrie and Mr Keith Jodoin, Chairman of the Board of Health, finalized arrangements for the transfer, effective January 1, 1971, and a meeting was held at the Morrisburg office to release the information and receive local reaction. The meeting, attended by Keith Jodoin, Harry Williams and Dr. Peters of the Health Unit, Lorne Mellan and Lorne Thompson of The Board of Education, Howard Manchester, Principal of NDDHS and The Director of Education, lasted approximately an hour and a half, and closed with an appreciation of the need for the transfer and general acceptance of it as well as an understanding that Mrs Matson, a registered nurse, and Miss Woodrow, a public health nurse, would work in the public and secondary schools of North Dundas, and that Mrs Mattson would spend two mornings each week, and Miss Woodrow three mornings each week, at NDDHS.

Since Mrs Mattson will spend the eight half-days of each week in the elementary schools of North Dundas, a copy of her timetable held at NDDHS would make her, in an emergency, immediately available by telephone when away from the secondary school.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs Evelyn Mackey wishes to announce the engagement of her daughter, Loretta Mackey, to Bert Geertsma, son of Mr and Mrs Andrew Geertsma, Chesterville. The marriage will take place later in the year. 17-1

Gala evening planned for Friday -

Favorite reporter, Ken MacLean, back hockey action returns to Finch area

The new North Stormont Community arena at Finch was the setting for two hockey thrillers as teams from the North Stormont Long Sault Junior C Hockey League tangled on Monday night. Avonmore defeatd Berwick 3-1 in the opening game of the double bill and netted the first goal scored in the new arena when Arthur McElheran tallied from Lionel Poirier at the nine minute mark.

Berwick balanced the book four minutes later as Jerry Rushford's slap shot caught the upper corner of the Avonmore net. The assists on this goal going to Ken Holland and Hubert Casselman. Terry McRae handled a pass from Rickey McElheran to place Avonmore in front 2-1 as the first 30 minute period ended.

In a bruising final frame, Berwick came close on endless occasions until Dennis Jackson gave Avonmore the insurance marker on a pass from Dennis Poirier. Eleven penalties were measured out with Berwick having six.

The nightcap featured Osnabruck Centre and Crysler in a goalkeeper's duel. Both Dale McIntyre for the Centre and Richard Perras for Crysler starred in the nets through 30 scoreless minutes of the first period, and McIntyre was brilliant as Crysler controlled the play for the first half of the final round. The scales finally tipped in the Centre's favour as Dale Swerdfeger scored from an almost impossible angle after picking up a relay pass from Brian Gallinger and Eric Campbell.

As the timers showed 20 minutes, the Centre went two up when Brian Gallinger registered from Brian McIntyre and Lyle Swerdfeger, and just to keep the pot boiling, Gallinger dropped in his second of the evening with Brian McIntyre earning the assist. Dale Swerdfeger rounded off the Centre's scoring as he made it 4-0 after 28 minutes. Osnabruck Centre had 7 of the 13 penalties handed out.. Lynden Wells and Dalton Ouderkirk were the officials for the game.

Teams from the Seaway Valley Intermediate Hockey League play in Finch on Friday night. Don,t miss this game for it will be followed by a dance in the community hall. This is your chance to view our fine new arena, and we know your comments are bound ti be good.

New Snowmobile Regulations

The popularity of the snowmobile soars. With this year's sales estimated at 50,000 the Ontario total will reach 160,000.

The need for more caution was never more pressing either.

Snowmobiling may have the highest fatality rate of any recreational activity in the world, the Ontario Safety League warns:

Not only are there far more drivers but the new machines are much faster. Many can do 60 m.p.h., more than twice the speed of the first seven-horse engines.

The vast majority of enthusiasts have no trouble. They zoom across solidly frozen lakes in the open air, turning winter weekends into fun-time for the family at resorts formerly idle after October.

There are limitations, however, especially with the new machines. For example, jumping. Let's face it, even if the equipment can take the punishment indefinitely and that's doubtful, the riders cannot. Scientists report that at 30 m.p.h. the jumper subjects his spine to a force of eight-and-a-half times that of gravity.

"A snow vehicle is no fun if you get hurt," a folder issued by the Ontario Department of Transport reminds — It warns that freeways are positively closed to these vehicles. Schedules on roads where they are permitted may be obtained from the department. A motor vehicle driver's license is required in these cases.

Regulations as to registrations, insurance, collision reports and lights apply as they do to other vehicles.

The Federal Department of Transport is drawing up safety standards and will impose new regulations. Next April they will apply to brakes, requiring that vehicles be able to stop within 40 feet at 20 m.p.h. All must carry lights and side-marker reflectors and by 1972 be equipped with mufflers.

Passenger hand grips, to make sure children aren't flipped off, will eventually be required with a "kill button" so the engine may be stopped if the throttle sticks from frost.

These measures will be helpful. Common sense will do most for a sport, which as many thousands already know, and as the sales figures suggest, is too good to be abused.

New Years' Resolutions

Each New Year many people take the opportunity to make New Years' Resolutions, "turn over a new leaf" so to speak. Twenty-nine years ago a New Years' Resolution poem appeared in the Record. The message it carried then still holds true today even in our highly technical and computerized society.

"LORD MAKE A REGULAR MAN OUT OF ME"

by Edgar Guest

This I would like to be braver and bolder
Just a bit wiser because I am older,
Just a bit kinder to those I meet,
Just a bit manlier taking defeat
This for the New Year my wish and my plea,
Lord make a regular man out of me.

This I would like to be — just a bit finer,
More of a smilier and less of a whiner
Just a bit quicker to stretch out my hand
Helping another who's struggling to stand
This is my prayer for the New Year to be
Lord make a regular man out of me.

This I would like to be — just a bit fairer
Just a bit better, and just a bit squarer
Not quite so ready to censure and blame,
Quicker to help every man in the game
Not quite so eager men's failings to see,
Lord, make a regular man out of me.

This I would like to be — just a bit truer,
Less of wisher and more of a doer,
Broader and bigger, more willing to give
Living and helping my neighbours to live.
This for the New Year, my prayer and my plea
Lord, make a regular man out of me.

Ann Landers . . .

Dear Ann Landers: Does a husband belong in a delivery room when his wife is having a baby? I wish you would settle this question for us. My husband does not want to be at my side but I want him there. I believe every man should witness what a woman goes through to have a baby.

My doctor says he would rather not have husbands around but if both the husband and wife insist he will permit it. The doctor's main objection is that husbands sometimes faint or become ill and the nurses are too busy to take care of them.

My beloved is a 230-pound extackle for the Philadelphia Eagkts. He is not the type who would faint. If I talk long enough I'll win the battle. Should I insist on having my way? - Putting on A Big Front.

Dear Put: No. Those 230-pound tackles faint faster than anybody. Ask any doctor.

If your husband doesn't want to accompany you to the delivery room, don't make a federal case out of it. He'd be a nuisance. He could be in the labor room, however - at least at the beginning. He won't be in anyone's way and his pretense will give you an opportunity to achieve your goal.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are having a small dispute in regard to the wife of a good friend of his. Claire works in a bank. Every time we are together she tells us whose checks bounced, who is losing their home because they can't make the payments, who was overdrawn and had to be covered She also tells us who drew out a large amount and speculates on the "trouble."

I told my husband last night I am fed up with Claire's big mouth and I don't want to be around her. He says people always talk about their work and I am super-critical. If I'm wrong, I'll gladly apologize not only to him, but to her. Am I? - Not My Business.

Dear Not: It is not uncommon to talk about one's work. but people who have good judgment don't blab information which might be damaging or embarrassing to customers, clients, or patients. Claire does indeed have a big mouth and I'm with you.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: I would have liked to have read a rebuttal to the letter from the woman who demanded sex from her husband and declared she was too young to "forget it." Her final line was a threat - if he didn't take care of her sexual needs, someone else would.

Why didn't you tell the lady that's no way to get results? A man cannot perform on demand - in fact, threats and recriminations will turn off any male - even one who was keenly interested to begin with. Mood is of the utmost importance. And the cyclical aspect must not be ignored. Men have cycles, just as women do. Their libidos fluctuate at regular intervals. General health is important, too So is alcoholic intake. Liquor releases inhibitions but it can kill a performance. And don't overlook the arousal factor about which many women know absolutely nothing.

What it boils down to is this: There's an enormous amount of ignorance on the subject of sex, and this is rather amazing when one considers the importance of sex to the health and welfare of the human race. What's the answer, Ann Landers? - A Member Of The Family Of Man.

* * * *

Dear Man: Education.

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with - but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze And You - For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Lesson seems like game -

Childs play is serious business

Make a game of safety and children will learn to avoid accidents, claims a Burlington police officer.

Corporal Peter Bromley, Burlington Safety Officer, said his Division has devised a system of teaching traffic safety to primary grade pupils which looks like child's play but is really a serious safety lesson.

Using a small trailer, the police officers transport a portable "village" complete with vinyl roads and sidewalks, scaled down traffic signs and signals, false-fronted buildings and child-size cars, to each of the forty schools in the district. With the assistance of the students, the mobile unit is assembled in less than an hour on the school grounds.

"The cars are the big deal." says Bromley. "They're an instant atraction to the kids. and in a matter of minutes the youngsters master the correct hand signals and walk and drive on the right side of the road. The kids have a ball, and if they can have fun while they're learning something, then you've got it made."

The Poweride rechargeable electric car from Eldon industries of Canada Limited is the model used in the police safety project. The light, durable and compact body of the Poweride make transporting up to 15 cars a simple matter. A completely sealed, safe maintenance-free battery powers the electric car which will give seven hours use on one charge. The Poweride can be recharged overnight and is ready to run again the following morning. The Eldon car can support children weighing up to 150 pounds and travels at speeds up to 2 miles per hour.

This year alone, 4200 school children rode the Poweride during the police safety project and as the "village" grows, more pupels are expected to participate in the safety demonstrations.

The Burlington officers are extremely enthusiastic about the positive results obtained with the mobile Safety Village are encouraging officers in other Divisions to make ther own mobile units.

"Safety Villages aren't new", said Corporal Bromley, "but being able to take the village to the students is a new concept."

The portable village, according to Bromley, overcomes all of the expensive problems which have prevented construction of Safety Villages in many communities. He pointed out that permanent structures often require the installation of sewers and washroom facilities, and add the responsibility of transporting the children safely to the police site.

Reflecting on his several years with the Burlington Police Force, Bromley said "You never get hardened to the sight of a child who's been hurt in a traffic accident.

"Preventing the needless loss of even one life is the challenge all of us face. If we don't teach children to be safe pedestrians, safe bicycle riders, and safe car and bus passengers, we shouldn't expect them to automatically become safe motorists.

"In Burlington, we've proved the value of this child's play project by a reduced number of accident reports."

ODDBALL APPLICATIONS FOR WASHING MACHINES

There's more to laundromat washers than just stuffing them full of fluffy unmentionables or greasy overalls. Home Goods Retaling, the trade publicaton for furniture and appliances, tells about the lady in charge of preparing turnips, carrots and potatoes for church suppers whose been cleaning them in her tumble action washer for years. Now there's a unit with what they call a "hand-wash agitator" that you can wash goldfish in, if you set the washing action at "gentle." It'll take up to 15 fish at a time and they seem to enjoy it. More than that, and there's enough oxygen in the water to go around. Also, it should be water without flourdes added. Apparently gold fish aren't concerned about tooth decay.

N.D.D.H.S rink triumph in schoolboy championship

Displaying the coolness of a veteran of many curling wars, 16 year-old Mark McDonald guided his Gananqoue quartet to title honors in the Ottawa Valley Curling Association schoolboy bonspiel at the R.A. Curling Club Wednesday.

Simultaneously lanky Bill Gamble of North Dundas High School claimed Division One laurels in the Ontario Curling Association's schoolboy event.

McDonald, a 5'6" grade 11 student, called all the right shots and his execution left nothing to be desired as he brought Rick Fair, Bill Fletcher and Randy Neal to an 11-5 decision over Arnprior's Glenn Ingram.

Gamble, 17, did little of it and rolled up an impressive 12-3 triumph over Sir John A. MacDonald's Don Reddick. The Gamble rink of Frank Brewer, Barry Cochrane and Wayne Anderson now meets Terry Kirkpatrick's Carleton Place four, the Division Two titlists in a best-of-three series Jan. 9 in Renfrew to determine the entry in the provincial schoolboy championships at R.A. Jan. 30.

Both McDonald and Gamble rinks received the Pepsi-Cola Trophies and awards.

Frost heaving research started at Guelph

Frost heaving of the soil is a major contributor to alfafa winterkill in some Ontario soils. A research project started recently at the University of Guelph may help prevent future extensive alfalfa losses through frost heaving.

Professor B. D. Kay, Soil Science Department, University of Guelph, in a project sponsored by the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food, has designed equipment that will create conditions for frost heaving in the laboratory, and will help define the conditions under which frost heaving of alfalfa and other forage species occurs.

Frost heaving, says Profesor Kay, is generally caused when a soil surface freezes over and dries out This surface drying draws up more water from deeper in the soil. The water freezes to form ice lens, which leads to local expansion and causes the soil to break and heave up.

Water freezes around alfalfa roots, while the plant crown is carried up by the heaving soil and left suspended and broken when spring comes.

Professor Kay's equipment surrounds a soil sample with chambers through which water is pumped at different temperatures. Water is also made available to the soil sample. Insulating tubes convey the water chamber temperature to the soil, causing it to freeze or thaw. As the soil contracts or expands, water is drawn into it at various tensions, creating a water table effect. Water temperature and the amount of water drawn into the soil can both be recorded, and a piston above the sample moves to show any structural changes taking place in the soil.

At present, there are no plants in the soil sample, but plants will be included once maximum heaving conditions are initially more satisfactory than field work because temperature and water tension are better controlled in the laboratory.

Several factors other than water temperature or tension can be related to alfalfa and frost heaving, Varietal differences may affect crop reaction. Some plant roots may bind the soil together, while others may break immediately under frost heaving conditions. Some roots may stretch as the soil moves, thus preventing plant damage altogether. Professor Kay plans experiments using different soil types, since many soils also react differently to climatic or environmental conditions.

The immediate objectives of the program will be:

1. To discover what causes ice lenses to form in soils under different conditions.
2. To examine the mode and extent of frost heaving of alfalfa under different types of ice lens formation.
3. To study what aspects of plant nutrition and root morphology (formation) tie closest together when there is a minimum frost heaving with different alfalfa varieties.

Field work will begin, says Dr. Kay, when all laboratory tests have been successfuly completed.

Christmas Atmosphere

Mrs M. Glaude hosts Berwick W.I.

The Christmas meeting of the Berwick Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs Marcel Glaude, who had her home decorated for the occasion. A background of continuous, softly played Christmas carols and songs throughout the entire evening lent a special Christmasy atmosphere to the meeting.

Mrs Glendon Casselman, the president, opened the meeting with a Christmas reading "The Real Spirit of Christmas", the most blessed are those who can give without remembering, and receive without forgetting. The Mary Stewart Collect and opening Ode were repeated in unison.

The roll call was answered by a stamped Christmas card for a shut-in. Eight members and four visitors answered the roll call. A number of Christmas cards were received from past members with donations enclosed.

The annual event of sending a potted plant to the patient who is in the Berwick Women's Institute Room in Winchester Memroial Hospital was decided on and arranged for.

All members present signed a Christmas card and forwarded it to Mrs Mary Dingemans who is a patient in the Cornwall General Hospital.

Plans were made to cater to the Plowmen's Annual meeting which is being held in the Municpal building in Berwick.

The meeting was then turned over for a Christmas program with each one taking part with Chrismas readings and a game of Charades was played with Mrs Mills Foster being the winner as the best actress in the group. An exchange of gifts took place after which the hostess Mrs Glaude played accordian selections, and Mrs A. Anderson played piano accompanied by carol singing.

The door prize was won by Mrs Jean Foster,and a lucky number draw won by Mrs Irene Ouderkirk. A delicious lunch was then served bringing the meeting to a close. The January meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs Chris Van Turnout.

Dept. of Lands and Forests to reorganize next spring

A major re-organization of the department of lands and forests will commence April 1, 1971, according to a recent announcement by lands and forests Minister Rene Brunelle.

Designed to achieve required co-ordination among branches and provide planning capability, four major divisions will be established in the department's head office, each headed by an Executive Director. Changes are being made to strengthen the field organization, to achieve better co-ordination and increase responsibility and accountability.

The four new divisions and respective Directors are: Division of Resource Development - Mr A. J. Herridge; Division of Land Management - Mr J. W. Giles; Division of Administration - Mr R. R. MacBean; Division of Outdoor Recreation - to be named.

Mr 6. J. Herridge is former Chief, Timber Branch, and Mr Walter Giles previously held the title of Director, Southern Region. Mr R. D. Carman, Planning Analyst for the Deputy Minister will assume Mr Giles' former responsibilities. Mr MacBean is former Chief of Accounts Branch.

Mr G. H. U. Bayly, Deputy Minister, the Regional Directors and newly appointed Executive Directors will comprise the senior management committee with responsibility for planning and coordinating all activities of the department

Collegians visit at Presbyterian manse

A small group of college students, home for the holidays, gathered last Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian manse in Chesterville as guests of the Rev and Mrs E. Earle Eaton. Games, music, contests and refreshments made up the evening's program. Those present were, Ronald Carruthers, Mary Jane Lapp, James Ball,. Barbara Vancien Bosch, Brian Brownlee and Brian Racine. Hosting students on various occasions is a practice of long standing with the Eatons.

Primitive man began to adapt wild hogs to his needs between 7000 and 3000 B.C. It is believed pigs were on this planet 39 million years before man.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of a dear husband, Otho A. Hutt, who passed away on January 8, 1970.
One sad and lonely year has passed
Since my great sorrow fell
The shock that I received that day
No one can ever tell.
It's lonely here without You, dear
I miss You more and more each day
For life is not the same
Since you were called away.
You bade no one a last farewell
Nor even said good-bye
You were gone before I realized
And only God knows why.

Mainly About People

Mr and Mrs Douglas Hall of Aylmer Quebec spent New Years with Florence Hall and Edward Servage, Chesterville.

It was open house at the Presbyterian Manse in Chesterville, home of the Rev and Mrs E. Earle Eaton, on New Year's day. This is an annual custom with the Eatons. Parishioners, neighbours and friends were received throughout the afternoon and evening, while telephone calls brought greetings and good wishes. One telephone call came from Pitman N.J., four hundred miles away, from a former school-mate of Pastor Eaton. Mrs Eaton servedlight refreshments, and Christmas carlos on records furnished background music, as guests looked at books and albums and engaged in happy conversation. It was the Eaton's third annual New Year's Day Open House in Chesterville.

The Dunbar Presbyterian Church has received a gift of an upright piano, which will be used for Sunday school, choir rehearsals and entertainments. Mr Lorne Marcellus of Chesterville is the donor.

Over 100 clubs in Ont. -

Seek out a club for best snowmobile fun

Snowmobilers visiting Ontario this winter will find instant camaraderie by joining in the activities of any of the province's more than 100 snowmobile clubs.

Contact with one of the clubs offers the best way to get acquainted with the splendor of the province's winter wildness areas and reach prime ice-fishing spots available only to snowmobilers.

Club members are always happy to "adopt" the visiting devotee and make him aware of local regulations about the machines, offer him safe, marked trails, and an invitation to join in regular club outings.

The snowmobile has conquered bush country that in other years was unexplorable. Snow in Ontario's back country is usually too deep for boots, too remote for snowshoes and often too rugged or forested for a light plane on skis.

With the back-to-nature trend extending through the winter for more and more people each year since the snowmobile came on the scene, the hardier souls will find the answer to weekend city doldrums with a truly adventurous camping trip in the snow.

It's really easy to cavort in the snow all day,miles from the nearest road or habitation then camp overnight in a sheltered nook and continue with the fun for another day or more.

The bulky equipment and the slugging formerly associated with winter camping have been eliminated with the new lightweight tents and frozen dried foods. Down-filled sleeping bags are the order of the day while the tiny gas-operated stoves now on the market can handle anything from boiling coffee water to preparing a full steak dinner from a compact envelope.

Snowmobiling is permitted in all but 13 of Ontario's more than 100 provincial parks. In 15 of these, snowmobiling is restricted to designated and marked trails and in the remainder, machines are permitted on existing park roads or other specially designated and marked areas.

Moreover, three Ontario parks offer special facilities for winter campers. The three - Arrowhead, Sibbald Point and Pinery - have been set up to accomodate the winter devotee. Provided throughout the winter at the parks are snowplowed roads and campsites, heated washrooms with hot water, fuel wood, garbage disposal areas and drinking water. Overnight campers in the parks are required to pay a $2.50 fee while those entering the park for a day only are assessed a $1.00 charge.

A number of trails have been established on Crown lands by the Ontario Depart. of Lands and Forests to accomodate some of the snowmobilers who prefer this kind of prepared and marked trail development. These trails are located in areas of relatively heavy snow cover and are established to supplement the trails developed in provincial parks and more than 1,000 other trails marked by snowmobile clubs, winter resorts and private landowners.

For those who don't have the time or inclination for an overnight trip, how about a day's circuitous jaunt broken at midday by a simple cookout over a hearty, crackling fire, It doesn't take much of a pack to carry a few hotdogs and some hot chocolate - or something else from sandwiches to the makings of a shish-ka-bob.

Don't forget the children on these outings. Make it a family excusion. Many snowmobile manufacturers have now put on the market light-weight, durable sleds easily capable of holding a couple of youngsters when towed behind a machine.

For the young at heart, a moonlight ride is the ideal way to cap a day's fun in the snow. This is group riding at its best, with a lint of headlights flashing over rolling hills or perhaps seeking out flourescent markers on a thread of trail meandering through a forest of snow-capped evergreens.

Snowmobilers in Ontario should be aware of some new laws in effect this year before heading out this winter.

For the first time, snowmobilers must now report any collision on or off the highway which involves personal injury or damage exceeding $200. to property other than that of the owner or driver.

The driver of a snowmobile must hold a driver's license to take his machine on highways where snowmobile operation is permitted and the owner of a snowmobile is held responsible for any infractions committed by persons using his machine - this owner responsibility is in addition to that of the operator.

Winter visitors to Ontario will find many resorts, dealers and rental agencies where a machine may be rented for about $7.50 an hour, $30. a day or about $60. a weekend.

For further information, and a free copy of Ontario's Winter Funland booklet, contact Press Officer, Ontario Tourism, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario.

KITCHEN CORNER

Leftovers — With the holiday season over, here are a few suggestions to clear the refrigerator of some of that leftover turkey and ham.

Quick Turkey Cream

1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/3 cup milk
2 cups chopped cooked turkey
2 tbsp. chopped green pepper or pimento
1 cup cooked or canned peas

Blend soup and milk, stir in vegetables and remaining ingredients. Cook, covered over low heat for 10 minutes or until thoroughly heated through. Season to taste. Serve on toast, between split hot tea biscuits or in pastry shells.

Hollandaise Turkey

An imaginative way to serve leftover turkey slices or slices of turkey roll for a company dinner.

Place 8 slices turkey in large baking dish. Dissolve 1 chicken bouillon cube in 1 cup boiling water; set aside. In saucepan, melt 3 tablespoon butter or margarine; blend in 1/2 cup all-purpose flour and 1/4 tsp. salt. Add chicken bouillon and 3/4 cup milk all at once. Cook and stir until thick and bubbly. Stir in one 3 oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained. Pour sauce over turkey. Bake in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes or till heated through.

Meanwhile, beat 2 egg yolks til thick and lemon coloured. Add 1/4 tsp. salt, dash pepper and 1 tbsp lemon juice. Gradually beat in 4 tbsp. melted butter. Pour over turkey. Broil 1 to 2 minutes of till golden. Makes 8 servings.

Ham Supper Dish

1/4 lb. mushrooms sliced
2 cups cooked ham, cubed
3 tbsp. butter
1 10 oz. tin cream of mushroom, chicken or celery soup.
2/3 cup milk
2 cups cooked noodles
chopped parsley

In saucepan, lightly brown mushrooms and ham in butter. Combine soup and milk to ham mixture. Stir in cooked noodles. Cook over low heat about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve on warm platter or casserole dish. Garnish with parsley.

NATURE TRAILERS

The following poem appeared in "Sylva - The Lands and Forests Review" which ceased publication approximately ten years ago.

The Spoiler

I think that I shall never see
A man so asinine as he
Who leaves his camp fire ere it's out,
And throws his burning butts about;
A man who lives for just to-day,
And burns the forests, come what may;

A man who hunts 'tween dusk and dawn,
And catches fish that went to spawn;
Who kills a deer for killing's sake,
And leaves it for the wolves to take;
Who overtraps a beaver house,
And in closed season shoots ruffed grouse;

A man who goes his selfish way,
And cares not who must some time pay
For all the devestation wrought
By him, who never had a thought
For thsoe whose heritage he'll spoil,
To whom he'll leave just rock and soil.

by M. V. Gillard

With apologies to the author of "Trees". (Sylva, Volume 4, Number 2, 1948.)

Morrisburg Atoms down Chesterville in exhibition play

Chesterville atoms were defeated in their first game of the season, Tuesday evening, by the Morrisburg atom 'B' team.

Chesterville, who were wearing the McMillan Bros. sweaters, played a good steady type of hockey, but the superior stick handling and position playing of Morrisburg proved too much for goalie Billy Mattson.

Morrisburg dropped the first goal in at the 12 minute mark of the first period after a scramble in front of the Chesterville net. Five minutes later, Dave Harris, stick handling from his own end, tied the score 1-1.

Second period action saw Billy Mattson play brilliantly as he smothered the puck several times and frustrated at least four break-aways by the Morrisburg team. Morrisburg, continually pressing, managed to get two goals by Billy and the period ended 3-1 for Morrisburg.

In the third period, Dave Harris on several break-aways attempted to close the gap, but the capable goalie for Morrisburg blocked all shots. Morrisburg pumped one more past Mattson to end the scoring at 4-1.

The Chesterville team, who had their first practice last Saturday, played good solid hockey throughout the game under coaches Norm Harris and Gord Parish.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my relatives, friends and neighbours for their personal visits, gifts flowers, cards and letters I received while I was a patient in the hospital. Special thanks to Dr. H.W. Justus, Dr. D. W. Justus, nurses and staff on the first floor and the clergy who visited me. Your kindness will always be remembered.
