French classes underway

JUDITH O'BRIEN
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — St. Lawrence Parks Commission employees will be able to receive French lessons at all levels this winter and classes are expected to start today (Wednesday) for beginners. Intermediate classes will begin in one to two weeks.

Classes were put on hold, except those started last year, because too few people had signed up at most levels. The French Language Services Commission required a minimum of six students per class before lessons were offered. Only four people were registered in the advanced class.

Mike Hart, SLPC Human Resources Manager said in-house classes were never cancelled. He said the commission was looking around for other candidates to expand class size. Other alternatives, which had been under consideration, were taking lessons at night through local high schools, or at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall.

"We asked managers what people would benefit by French language training and we also asked people who would like to take classes," he said. "We expect to have more people than last year in the advanced class."

Noble Villeneuve, MPP Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville said many parks commission employees were not aware French classes were starting so early and an article which appeared in The Leader two weeks ago created some knowledge of classes.

"There are now more people interested," he said. "There are sufficient numbers to give classes locally."

Classes are taught in the Morrisburg Legion three times a week.

"If it looks like they (St. Lawrence Parks Commission) may be short on numbers I will go to the language commission and ask them to proceed with classes," said Villeneuve. "It is not being forced on anyone or shoved down their throats but those who wish to take French courses should be able to take it locally."

Classes will eventually lead to an Ontario Civil Service bilingual designation and each person's proficiency determines at which level they are placed. Hart said the parks commission will eventually have to look at which positions would benifit from an employee undergoing French language training. For now he said no jobs are designated bilingual. Under Bill 8, the French language services act, the parks commission has until 1990 to fulfill certain conditions, including providing service in French in areas where sufficient numbers warrant.

"Our priority right now is to get the two classes we started with last year off the ground," said Hart. "We are not cancelling classes. We're going ahead full tilt."

St. Nick will visit

BIA plans Christmas promotion

JUDITH O'BRIEN
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — It may not look a lot like Christmas just yet but Morrisburg BIA members are already planning specials and promotions to highlight the Yuletide season.

Existing trees in the centre mall will be decorated with white twinkle lights and merchants will be invited to participate in a store decorating contest.

Stores must be decorated by Nov. 21 and judging will take place Nov. 27. The winning entry will receive a trophy donated by Thom Travel.

BIA co-ordinator Wilf McAuley said he hasn't confirmed any judges for the contest as yet but he hopes to invite two out-of-town judges.

"If we get two out-of-town people there is no partiality," he said. "I have two people in mind. One is a representative from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and I'm thinking of asking a BIA co-ordinator from another municipality."

Santa Claus is coming to town

The theme of this year's Christmas promotion is "Twelve Days of Christmas". The focal point will be the Chamber of Commerce Tourist Office. The office will be adorned with traditional Christmas ornaments and a large tree will be decorated and placed in front.

Inside will be the jolly old elf himself — Santa Claus. Santa will be available to meet with children Friday, Dec. 4, 11 and 18 from 6 to 8 p.m. and on Saturday, Dec. 5, 12 and 19 from 10 a.m. to noon and 2 to 4 p.m.

Choral groups and choirs in the area will have a chance to show off their harmonizing skills and earn some money at the BIA-sponsored carolling contest.

Three prizes of $200, $100 and $50 will be awarded to the best groups. The singing will be held on the mall on Friday, Dec. 11 and 18 at 7 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 12 and 19 at 2 p.m.

"We are hoping to get a good response from schools, churches and choral groups," said McAuley. "Hopefully they will sing Christmas carols and draw some people on the mall." Applications for the choral contest appear in this week's edition of The Leader, and will run for the next three weeks.

Meeting with MMA

McAuley met with MMA officials Monday to discuss the canopy project and funding guidelines set out by the ministry.

The $250,000 PRIDE grant allocated to the BIA must be spent in thirds, the first third by March 1989, the second third by March 1990 and the final third by March 1991. The BIA's priority issue, however, is replacing the canopy in the mall, a project that will be completed at once, costing more than the one-third stipulated by MMA. The government will not cover over-spending and village council might have to carry the costs over a three-year period.

At their Board of Management meeting two weeks ago McAuley said the ministry has never faced a project like the canopy and funding guidelines are for projects that can be completed over time. He said the BIA would try to get a special funding exemption from MMA. If that was not possible, however, he said some political lobbying by council members may be needed to get a positive response.

Iroquois ratepayers over paying public school board taxes: study

JUDITH O'BRIEN
Leader staff

IROQUOIS — According to statistics compiled by the provincial government and distributed by the Corporation of the City of Nepean, the municipality of Iroquois overpaid public school board taxes by close to 25 per cent in 1986.

Councillors received a letter from Nepean Mayor Ben Franklin at their meeting last week, alerting them to the overpayment. Franklin said his own municipality and over 300 others including Iroquois and Morrisburg, were overpaying their fair share of the education levies as a result of Provincial Regulations.

The City of Nepean challenged their 1984 public school board apportionment levy and won a $1,150,000 credit from the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) one-third of the total the city was seeking. The city claimed it paid 14.88 per cent more than its share.

According to Bob Letourneau Nepean's Treasurer and Commissioner of Finance the system to calculate the school board levy in Nepean uses old relative values related to the late 1960s and current values used to calculate equalized assessment are not used.

"As time has gone on the property values between municipalities have changed and they are not used," he said. "The updated system is used to share separate school costs, county costs and regional costs but for some reason not for public school costs."

The city wants the provincial government to update values and the OMB agreed. The credit was a step in the right direction, said Letourneau, but the government challenged the OMB's right to make such a ruling.

The issue is before the courts now so the City will have to wait to find out if it can challenge its 1985, 1986 and 1987 apportionments.

"It's in limbo right now," he said. "But when the provincial government intervened and stopped due process we decided enough was enough and sent the file to the 300 municipalities that are paying more than their fair share."

S.D.&G. Board

Ken Grant, Comptroller and Treasurer of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education said it is difficult to tell how accurate assessments really are. He said the board uses a 1979 assessment equalization plus adjustments to determine how much each of the 21 municipalities in S.D.&G. must pay in taxes to the public school board.

It's one of those things that is very difficult to put a handle on," he said.

The board uses the assessments of each municipality determined by the OMB plus the assessment equalization factor to calculate what each municipality should pay. Equalization factors are adjusted by the Ministry of Education each year.

"The assessment equalization is based on the value of property there (Iroquois)," he said. "It is different from the City of Nepean."

The school board follows a formula and instructions issued by the ministry and is not allowed any flexibility in its calculations.

Iroquois taxes

In 1986 Iroquois paid $258,741 in taxes to the elementary public school system. The public and separate secondary schools were combined for a total of $222,386.

Estimates for 1987 include $278,439 to elementary public schools and $216,587 to secondary public schools. Of the total 1986 municipal taxes, 58 per cent were paid to the public and separate school board. Morrisburg overpaid public school taxes by 4.5 per cent, Cardinal by 36 per cent, Cornwall by 21 per cent and Chesterville by 19 per cent.

Councillors instructed Clerk-Treasurer Betty Marlin to obtain more information before they decide to take any action.

Renovations at MPS

MORRISBURG — Age and increased enrollment has prompted the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education to make improvements to the Morrisburg Public School.

The major changes are to the main entrance where new windows are being installed, as well as other changes to make the school more energy efficient, said Dick Turner, principal of the school.

Ceilings have been lowered in some of the hallways, also to improve energy efficiency, and additional lighting has been added.

Turner said the school is 36 years old, and to his knowledge this is the first major renovation to the building.

The work began in mid September, and the majority of it will be finished by the end of October, he added.

Turner said they are also discussing the possibility of lowering the ceilings in some of the classrooms, and installing new tile or carpeting.

Other work already done is the refinishing of the gymnasium floor and installation of sound baffles in the gym to reduce noise, as well as refinishing the school stage.

The public address system and school clock system will also be upgraded. Turner cited the age of the school and the increase in enrollment by 65 in the past two years as major reasons for the work.

Retirement centre construction completed within 4 months

MORRISBURG — Construction of a retirement centre in Morrisburg is proceeding on schedule and should be completed within four months according to Rick Wachter, President of Provincial Nursing and Retirement Centres Ltd.

Cement for the floor was poured Thursday morning and applications for residents are now being accepted. Wachter said 12 have been received so far.

He doesn't expect the retirement centre to be full when it opens and anticipates it will take approximately one year to reach maximum capacity.

The centre will cost slightly more than $3 million to complete and can accommodate over 100 people.

"We can place 130 people in the facility but it depends on demand if they want semi-private or private rooms," said Wachter. "Based on experience we will probably have room for 80 or 90 people."

The centre, named The Fairmount, is situated on the corner of Fifth and Ottawa Street. It is expected 30 part-time and full time jobs will be created when it opens. Wachter said applications are now being accepted and are available at the site.

In addition to building in Morrisburg, PNRC is developing similar retirement centres in Kingston and Smiths Falls.

"Our business is growing," said Wachter. "In five years we expect it to level out."

At present more than 27 per cent of the local population is over 65 years of age.

Seaway High School jumps into computer age quickly

IROQUOIS — Computers used to be touted as the tools of the future, but if Seaway District High School is any indication, they are the tool of the present.

At Seaway, computers have ingrained themselves into every facet of school life.

Students learn on them in the classroom, administration records on them, and the vice-principal writes programs in his office that are incorporated into other computer systems in the S.D.&G. school system.

Wayne Johnston was a computer science teacher prior to becoming vice-principal of Seaway seven years ago. Around three years ago the office at the school started becoming computerized.

"Before that we would send our computer work to be done in Brockville, and that was really slow," Johnston said.

Yet when the first computer was set up and a program purchased to look after student records, Johnston saw that they were going to have problems. "The program we bought didn't do the job we wanted it do, it was unsatisfactory," he said.

Johnston figured he could write a program better suited for the needs of his and other S.D.&G. schools, so he did. To date Johnston has written about 200 programs that are incorporated extensively throughout S.D.&G. schools.

Even after 200 programs, the system is still evolving, and Johnston has stopped teaching and devotes a large portion of his time to writing programs and visiting schools where his programs are in use.

Johnston said others have discussed the possibility of marketing his programs to other school boards, but he isn't sure if it would work. "The programs I write suit the needs for the S.D.&G. school board, but I don't know if they would suit someone else's needs," he said.

While Johnston sits in his office working on programs, computer teacher Ian Hamilton puts students through the paces on the 18 UNISYS Icon computers used by students.

Hamilton has been teaching computers at the school for seven years, and said the students are becoming more knowledgeable every year.

"They come here with a little more understanding of computers, and seem to pick things up easier," he said.

Hamilton said that when he started teaching computers a lot of time was spent teaching students how to program them, but now there is less emphasis on programming and more on practical application of computers.

The goal of his computer courses are not to train students to work solely in the computer field, but to be able to use computers in what ever field the student decides to go into.

"Nowadays almost every field uses computers for one thing or another," he said.

For Michael Whittaker, in the grade 10 advanced computer class, this means putting his computer training to work in either accounting or medical fields. He first started working on computers in grade school, "but not to near this extent," he said.

Whittaker figures he will take a couple more computer courses in high school before moving on to post secondary school.

Animal health week Oct. 19-25

This week October 19-25, 1987 is Animal Health Week in Canada. This year the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association has chosen the theme of The Human/Animal Bond.

The relationship which exists between people and their pets has become a study in itself over the last decade. More and more benefits of this interaction are being discovered, including increased longevity, improved emotional health and reduction of stress.

These findings have led to the use of pets in geriatric and psychiatric nursing, palliative care and in all types of rehabilitation.

Throughout the ages mankind has attempted to domesticate other creatures to fill needs both practical and emotional. This week we are encouraged to be aware of the important role our pets play in our lives and the responsibility we have to care for them.

To celebrate this year's an open house will be held at the Prescott Animal Hospital, theme, an open house will be held at the Prescott Animal Hospital, Thursday, October 22, 6-9 p.m. Come and enjoy the displays and refreshments. A poster contest is being sponsored by the Morrisburg Animal Hospital and winning posters will be on display in the hospital until December. The Morrisburg Animal Hospital is encouraging owners to donate a snapshot in honour of their pets to compile a waiting room album that will commemorate this event.

Tuesday meeting

Council refuses to pay damages

IROQUOIS — At their meeting Tuesday night, Iroquois councillors refused to accept responsibility for damages to a vehicle belonging to Keith Beaupre.

Beaupre wrote council he was holding them liable for damage to his car when he hit a sewer cover on the southeast corner of Broadway apartments on Carman Road. The cover was loose and when he drove over it it lifted and punctured a hole in the car's gas tank.

Village foreman Ray Delegarde checked into the claim but said the village did not own that piece of land. It is owned by Broadway Properties in Montreal.

"We've never taken over the south land of Broadway apartments," he said. "Even if it had been on one of our streets we had taken over, there has been no damage for 30 years. It would be classified as an Act of God so we wouldn't pay for it anyway."

Delegarde said it isn't the first time the village has received complaints about the road but Beaupre would have to take his claim to Broadway Properties.

Chuck Laberge of Church Street has been hired by the village as caretaker of the rink for the 1987-88 season. His duties will include icing and cleaning the rink and protecting against vandalism.

Permission was given to David Keeler of 49 Ellis Drive and Harold Miller of 245 Elizabeth Drive to fill in ditches in front of their homes so long as they follow specifications drawn up by the village.

Lloyd McMillan filed an objection with council regarding the official plan amendment 004, part lot 3, plan 50 (Zandbergen property). Clerk Betty Marlin said the objection could only be filed for information because the official time for submitting objections had already passed.

A meeting has been set up with Ministry of Municipal Affairs representative Pat Sheppherd on Nov. 24 to discuss the proposed zoning change from industrial to residential. Marlin said McMillan can attend the meeting and give his opinion on the zoning change.

Council passed bylaw 16-87 officially joining the South Dundas Economic Development Commission. The commission is made up of four local municipalities including Iroquois, Morrisburg and the Townships of Williamsburg and Matilda. The goal is to promote and attract industry to the area and the fee for each municipality is $2,000 per year.

Reeve Frank Rooney told council he thought costs should be shared on a per capita basis not equally as stipulated in the bylaw, but most councillors felt if an industry locates in the area all municipalities will benefit equally.

Councillors also agreed to allow the Valley Video Road Show to hold a dance in the Civic Centre.

The agreement will be on a trial and error basis. If the dances become too disorderly council will refuse to rent the Civic Centre.

Thefts reported

Lung damage is for life

There is increasing evidence that lung infection in some children may inflict undetected damage that lasts for an indefinite time — perhaps for life.

According to the Ontario Lung Association, new research suggests that one of the most common diseases in babies and very young children, called croup, may have effects that last longer than has previously been suspected. The disease, usually caused by a virus, affects the voice box, windpipe, and sometimes, the air passages of the lungs.

Because the voice box is constricted, youngsters with this infection develop a harsh, barking cry, that sounds like a puppy's. Breathing is a terrible chore. When fever is present, the situation requires immediate medical attention.

The illness is usually brief. Until just a few years ago, it had been assumed that the effects seemed to disappear.

A few years back, however, a study at the Hospital for Sick Children and the University of Toronto raised the distinct probability that those children who have croup may constitute a special group susceptible to developing chronic lung disease as adults. They may be also more affected by air pollution and smoking. The study was reported in The American Review of Respiratory Disease, a most prestigious journal.

Typical of the disease pattern, there were many more boys than girls in the study. All the children had been hospitalized for croup eight years earlier, but had shown no apparent ill effects since then. However, in a follow-up study, their group performance in tests of lung infection were markedly different from those of a normal population; and there was evidence of dysfunction of the small airways, which can be the beginning of long-term lung disease.

Your local Lung Association is always happy to provide information about lung disease, how to prevent it and how to treat it. The continued operation of this and other services is made possible in large part by your generous response to the annual Christmas Seals Campaign. Your Lung Association will be contacting you shortly, with an envelope of seals for this year's campaign. You can contribute to the continued good health of yourself, your family and your neighbor, by keeping this association near the top of your Christmas gift list.

Words with little meaning

BY CAROL VERDUN

What is wrong with "now"?

Why do so many writers have to say "at this point in time", when they clearly mean "now"?

Perhaps for the same reason — a desire to have one's words sound impressive — that people use such unnecessary words as "appears to be suggestive of the possibility that," when they mean "suggests"; or "in close proximity to" when they mean "near"; or "has the capability of" when they mean "can"; or "in short supply" when they mean "scarce"; or "in the opinion of the author" when they mean "I believe"; or "in the majority of cases" when they mean "usually"; or "serves the function of being" when they really mean "is"; and so on . . . and on.

Verbal deadwood is NOT impressive; it is merely an indication of a writer's reluctance (and often inability) to speak clearly, and to say what he means in a manner so that everyone can understand.

For a safer Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en has always been one of the happiest holidays of the year for Canadian children, and as the eve of the Great Pumpkin, and witches and goblins approaches again, more and more parents are concerned at the cruel and evil practices which have threatened some of their children in recent years. Poisoned candy treats, apples containing razor blades and needles, beatings by older groups, are just a few of the hazards which young children have faced.

Before your children set out on their rounds this Hallowe'en, it might be well for parents to consider these few common-sense safety tips, and to be sure that all their children observe them;

1. Wear light-colored, flame resistant costumes with retroflective strippings so that they can easily be seen by motorists.
2. Clothing should be short enough to avoid a tripping hazard.
3. Face masks must not obstruct vision. Make-up is preferable. It allows you a greater field of vision.
4. Calls should be made along one side of the street, then along the other, with no criss-crossing. Children should cross a street only at intersections or cross-walks.
5. Be sure they carry a flashlight, to see better and to be better seen.
6. They should go in groups of four or five. Very young children should be accompanied by a parent or responsible adult.
7. Set a curfew and boundaries within familiar neighborhoods.
8. Forbid children strongly to enter the house or apartment of a stranger.
9. Children should not eat any treats until they can be examined by an adult, at home, in a clear light.
10. Drivers should be particularly careful on Hallowe'en night as the risks of unseen pedestrians or road obstructions are almost always vastly increased.

Why not plan ahead to observe a little extra care and caution on Hallowe'en night? If everyone would observe these suggestions, the traditional holiday could be a safe and happy time for young people, and a worry-free time for parents.

Till death do us part?

(THE TORONTO STAR)

Seems Finance Minister Michael Wilson, International Trade Minister Pat Carney and negotiator Simon Reisman were so eager to consummate Canada's marriage to the United States that they forgot to provide for the possibility of divorce.

In setting out the elements of the free trade agreement, the Canadian team omitted any general provisions that would allow either side to terminate the deal.

There are two limited escape hatches. One can be resorted to in the event that the two countries cannot agree on changes in trade laws; a second provides for termination of the deal at the end of seven years if agreement cannot be reached on a new subsidies code.

But there appears to be no general power for either party to cancel the deal.

Reisman's office explains why: They just forgot about it in the rush to get Canada into bed. Officials explain that it remains one of the so-called details still to be addressed.

Those are some lovestruck negotiators we had on our side. After giving away our hearts and the trousseau, they inadvertently signed away the rights to ever separate or (blush) divorce.

Since we all know that love is blind, one wonders what other details have been forgotten in the rush to the trading altar.

1977

The October 19th, 1977 issue of The Leader reported that Morrisburg Council voted unanimously against the proposal by Morrisburg's Old Home Week committee to construct a track of some type along the waterfront just east of the Morrisburg dock. It was felt by the committee that the track was needed to bring in new and different entertainment to keep Old Home Week increasingly popular.

The Morrisburg Minor Hockey Association, under the direction of Lynden Casselman, had its first lady convenor in Mrs. Linda Dowell who was to be convenor for the St. Lawrence Bantam League.

St. Cecilia's Catholic Church was the scene of a pretty wedding, September 10th, when Lorraine Theresa Edgar became the bride of Richard Douglas Vaughan.

Osnabruck Township was offering approximately 64 acres of land for sale in the Eastern section of Ault Island.

Mrs. Laura Locke, well-known resident of Mariatown, was honored on her 70th birthday with a surprise party held at Arlor Haven campsite.

Over 50 people interested in preserving Loyalist history and the Unity of Canada, attended the first meeting of the St. Lawrence United Empire Loyalist Branch. The St. Lawrence Branch had its charter granted May 14th.

At Heinz Food Market, chicken wings were 65 cents per pound and a 10 ounce can of Campbell's tomato soup were four for 88 cents.

The new St. Jame's hall was to be officially opened on October 23 with a dedication ceremony. The basement hall project began in 1965 when a hole was knocked in the north wall of the church and the earth was removed from beneath the church. The project had been started because of sagging floors in the chancel and because the furnace refused to work when it was half under water.

Headlines in the October 20th, 1967 issue of The Leader read Tories Returned. Fred M. Cass remained the favorite politician of the voters in Grenville-Dundas when a government of John Robarts' conservatives was returned to power.

Officers of the Morrisburg detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police were pleased and proud of their new home north of the village on Highway 31. The new and modern office provided plenty of space for offices, an interrogation room, two cells and a two-car garage. For several years the local detachment had been housed in rented premises in the Morrisburg Hydro Building.

Gail Lafreniere of Iroquois and Henry Storgaard of Morrisburg were chosen head girl and boy at Seaway District High School.

The newly formed Junior A hockey team, Morrisburg Knights, lost two exhibition games to the Eastview Mustangs.

At Brinston's Allied Food Market, Libby's deep brown beans were two 19-ounce tins for 49 cents and cooking onions were 69 cents a 10-pound bag.

The October 18th, 1957 issue of The Leader reported that Charles Weegar had left his position with the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests at Chapleau, Quebec to join the ranks of the municipal police force at Renfrew.

Results from the Morrisburg Public School field day showed Sandra Windsor as the 50 yard dash winner for girls age 6 and 7 and Judy Cassell the winner in the 8 and 9 year group. Grace Meikle won the girls' bicycle race for 12 years and over and Bill Duvall led the boys.

Gordon W. Thom, realtor, had a two bedroom new brick veneer dwelling on First Street listed for sale for $11,800.

1947

Headlines in the October 17th, 1947 issue of The Leader read Donald S. Becksted to Head Junior Puck Chasers. Several citizens were interested in junior hockey for the year and at a meeting in the Forester's Hall, Donald Beckstead was elected president and Leslie Presley vice-president. Harold Epps took on the duties of coach.

Doug Fairbanks Jr. and Maureen O'Hara were starring in Sinbad the Sailor at the Cameo Theatre.

At the Morrisburg Locker Plant Retail Market round steak was 43 cents a pound and oranges were four dozen for 85 cents.

1937

It was reported in the October 22nd, 1937 issue that The Leader was booming the selection in party circles of George H. Challies M.L.A., for Grenville-Dundas as the next Conservative Party leader in Ontario in the event of Hon. Earl Rowe relinquishing the mantle and returning to the Federal arena.

A committee representing all the churches of Williamsburg Township and Morrisburg agreed unanimously to answer the urgent appeal for aid to the sufferers of the dried-out areas of Saskatchewan. It was agreed a car would be loaded at the freight sheds in Morrisburg. Potatoes especially, were being asked for.

Rev. William Merrilees, for 17 years paster of the Presbyterian Churches at Iroquois and Dixons Corners, had accepted a call to Westport.

At Barkley's Meat Market celery was five cents a bunch and round steak was 15 cents a pound.

The October 21st, 1927 issue of The Leader announced the annual bale for the Cornwall General Hospital would be packed October 25th at the Agricultural Office where donations of vegetables, pickles, bandages, towels or anything acceptable to a hospital, would be received and packed by the Women's Institute. There was to be no canvas made this year.

Notice was given by village municipal clerk, F.R. Chalmers that the last and final day when meters would be installed on all services would be November 5th. All services not installed with meters by that day would be discontinued and where it was found that a person was abusing his right to electric service, his service would be discontinued.

the Kitchen Garden

V.A. Hughes

Last ditch gardening

This is the time of year when the prospect of four months of snow sends us into a near panic situation. Why? Because for many things it is the best time of the year for transplanting as the plants enter a dormant state.

For those of us who grow perennials, the garden is always in a state of flux — the Phlox need to be divided, the Daisies have asked to be moved, and we need a ground cover — Periwinkle, instead of grass.

One, two, three items — that's just the start. There are also the basic housekeeping jobs that must be done before the ground freezes over. Plant pots must be collected and stored properly. If you leave a clay pot outside in the winter, don't be surprised to find it shattered in the spring. That's all right if you want lots of clay shards to use for drainage, but bad news as the price of clay pots rises.

The soil in these pots and planters can be put to good use as a mulch for anything you may have moved. As soil most of its nutritional value has been used up, but it makes a good weed-free mulch. We're emptying the big barrels and the plan is to use the soil to mound up around the Roses.

The new kitchen garden at the lake has been turned over, thanks to our visiting gardener (who finally got his Tomatoes in). Hopefully we'll find time to spread a thick layer of chicken manure over it. Rich, rich, rich, if you've a source. For those who don't, a compost pile is as good as gold, especially for tucking in around plants where manure would burn.

We had hoped to re-design the front garden in town, for lower maintenance, but we have the feeling that if we get the Roses moved we'll be doing well. The Periwinkle planted there at the beginning of the summer is so happy that it has started to bloom. A remarkable feat considering the punishment it takes. Willie (45 pounds of Bull Terrier) doesn't help. On his way to the back yard he sometimes stops and waters the shiny green leaves and we think any plant that can take that abuse must have an iron constitution.

We almost forgot: while checking the progress of the transplanted Dog Roses we noticed something small and gray crawling along the sand. We picked it up to discover that it was a baby turtle. It was not much bigger than a dollar coin, in fact it was so small we could still detect the egg sac on its underbelly. Where there is one baby turtle there must be more and sure enough there was...three feet further back, another sleepy turtle crawling towards the swamp. We soon located the nest, a deep hole in a sandy bank and 18 baby snapping turtles.

Checking with the Reptile Breeding Foundation, we learned that those already hatched could be released into the swamp. With a few more weeks before freeze-up they should be all right but the ones that hadn't would be better off covered over until next spring.

Baby snappers will eventually grow to be big ones, and some people would argue that we should have done them in. But they are a vital part of life in the swamp, along with the Kingfisher, the Heron, and the Muskrat, and like us, they are all hoping for a few more weeks of warm weather before winter sets in.

For gardeners, bird-watchers, turtle fanciers, et al: the eighth Ottawa Antiquarian Book Fair will be held this weekend at the Congress Centre, and the big news is that this will be the largest display of used, curious and rare books in the country — over 63 different dealers coming from across the country with their wares. A great place for book people to do Christmas shopping. Hope to see you there.

Year round tanning comes to Morrisburg

MORRISBURG — If you're a little gloomy because you don't have enough money to head south this winter and you think you are doomed to suffer a pale complexion until next July — cheer up because you're wrong.

There is now a little piece of Bermuda right here in Morrisburg and it costs a lot less.

Caroline Garlough, owner of The Hair Studio on Fifth Street, has just installed a Sunstream tanning bed in her salon and yearly memberships can be purchased for $50, plus $3 per session.

The tanning bed arrived last week and customers are already lining up at the door.

"People were asking for it," she said. "It's not cancerous and it's safer than the sun."

Ultraviolet light

There are three types of ultraviolet light present in natural sunlight. U.V. "A" is long wave ultraviolet light that is gentle and has the ability to darken color pigment in the skin to create a tan. U.V. "B" is a mid range ultraviolet light that has 500 times the energy quantum of U.V. "A". This increased energy can cause drying, burning and other damaging effects to unprotected skin. U.V. "C" is short wave ultraviolet light — the most dangerous rays of the sun. Almost all of these harmful rays are absorbed by the earth's ozone layer.

Sunstream bronzarium bulbs use mostly U.V. "A" light with one third of one per cent of U.V. "B". The light is gentle and allows natural tanning without burning. Chemicals are not added to the body. Sunstream light stimulates the melanocytes cells which create a tan. Dark complexioned people have the cells in larger quantities that fair-skinned people. If you can't tan in natural sunlight you will not tan with artificial light.

The tanning bed is located in a closed room that was formerly used as an office. Clients can tan in a bathing suit or au naturel. The tanner determines how close or far the bed cover is to the body. Sessions last 30 minutes and Caroline recommends a towel be brought along.

"You can begin to notice a tan after three sessions," she said. "Nine consecutive sessions are the most you need then you can start going once a week to maintain the tan." Once the process is stopped the tan will fade like a regular one.

"People like to relax after dinner and if they want to come after supper I will stay open for them," she said.

Likes the effect

Terry Lantz used to attend tanning sessions in Cornwall but stopped after she moved to Morrisburg. Now that a tanning bed is readily available she has started going again.

"It's really relaxing and it's not as hot as lying in the sun," she said.

So when you run into someone who is uncannily tanned in the middle of the winter don't ask them where they've been — just ask they how long they've been visiting the tanning bed.

THANK YOU EVERYONE

The Winchester Hospital Auxiliary is again indebted to the countless people who helped make the International Bazaar and Festival a success.

To all who donated, time, decorations, baking, crafts, merchandise, cash and publicity, a heartfelt thank you.

These alone would not have raised approximately $7,500 toward the hospital's new food delivery system without the generous support of those who came.

Many people contributed. The list is too long to be more specific but we are most grateful for their help. Perhaps we can be forgiven for singling out our younger helpers; the Boy Scouts who maintained control of the parking lot; the Girl Guides who minded the babies and the Teens who helped with the massive job of serving tea to 400 people in approximately two hours.

Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Circle V flying club relocates to Embrun-Russell airport

The Circle V Flying Club has recently relocated to the Embrun/Russell Airport at Embrun, Ontario from the Winchester Airport. "This move will open up our membership to more pilots in the area surrounding Embrun" said Keith Beaupre, president of the club. "There is a fresh enthusiasm at the Embrun Airstrip with a new paved runway and a very active parachute club and the enthusiasm of our club will enhance what is already there."

The Circle V Flying Club was established in 1971 and the first airplane was housed at the Vernon Airport in Vernon, Ontario. The home base was moved to the newly created Winchester Air park in 1974. The club has operated two aircraft each year since 1976.

Presently they offer an Aeronca camp aircraft at $25 per hour and a four place maule MB4 which rents for $50 per hour. These rates are significantly lower than rates charged at busy city airports and gives local pilots an opportunity to keep active in their sport at an affordable price. The club does not offer initial pilot training but members can be trained to fly tail dragger and ski equipped aircraft.

A recruiting campaign is underway to attract new members who want to be part of an active local flying club. If interested, pilots may write to membership chairman Bob Weagant at Box 134, South Mountain, Ontario.K0E 1W0 or come out to the Russell/Embrun Airport on any weekend.

For further information please call Bob Weagant at 613-774-2887.

Preschool to hold raffle

MORRISBURG — The Morrisburg Co-Operative Preschool will be holding a raffle to help raise operational funds for the organization.

The non-profit group is hoping to solicit prizes for the raffle from the area businesses to be used in the draw.

"We're hoping to get between 30 and 40 prizes for the raffle, that way anybody who buys a ticket will have a good chance at winning something," said Kathy O'Neil, a teacher at the school.

Letters will be sent out next week to the businesses they hope to receive prizes from, and O'Neil said she hopes the raffle date can be around the end of November.

The group is hoping to raise around $500 from the project.

DAY CARE PROVIDER NEEDED

IN MEMORIAM

CASTLEMAN — In memory of a dear and loving husband, Albert Milton, who passed away October 25th, 1986.
Oh Milton the shock was severe,
We little thought your death was so near,
I was by your bed side day and night,
Until you took your last breath,
I miss your smiles and your kind disposition,
If I think of you dear Milton, and my heart is filled with pain,
Oh this earth would be a heaven,
Could I hear your voice again.
Our Lutheran Minister Rev. Kjaer also stayed by your bedside till just a few minutes before your last breath.
Which didn't think would be that quick, much appreciated,
I will always remember you Milton, for your vacant chair and every place I look is vacant when I do not see you there.
Sadly missed by your loving wife, Ruby Castleman

Red Cross homemakers program a blessing for many people

WILLIAMSBURG — For Ada Hanson the Red Cross Homemakers program has been a true blessing.

Hanson was in a traffic accident in 1983, leaving her in a wheel chair. For the first time in her life she found herself unable to perform the necessary duties in the house she lived in for 55 years.

With the help of a homemaker she managed to split her time between her home, and therapy in Ottawa, before eventually moving into Park Drive Villa.

Homemakers come into the house to assist people who need help. Since her accident Hanson has had several homemakers, but for over a year now Marjorie Patterson has been helping her out at her apartment.

"At first I used to get different homemakers. They were great but I was happy when Marjorie could keep coming back," said Hanson.

Patterson does a number of everyday tasks for Hanson like helping prepare meals, picking up her mail, shopping and light housecleaning.

"Without the homemaker I wouldn't be able to live in my own place, I don't know how I could have gotten along without it," said Hanson.

For Patterson, it is not an all give and no take relationship. "I enjoy working with people, and it gives you a good feeling to know your helping someone," she said.

After raising six children, Patterson decided she would like to try a career outside the home, and the homemaker program looked interesting, she said. She currently has five clients, including Hanson, but has had as many as eight at one time.

The demands of the job can be tough, including weekend work and sometimes staying with a client all night. "The first time I stayed with a patient all night she had just come home from the hospital after heart surgery and I was a little scared, but everything turned out alright," Patterson said.

One of the key reasons for the program is to keep the elderly in their own homes and give them a feeling of independence, she added.

As important as the help is to Hanson, the companionship provided by Patterson is also important. "It's nice to have company. It wouldn't be so bad if I could move around easier, but if it wasn't for Marjorie I would just sit here all alone," Watson said.

Patterson also recognizes the emotional as well as physical support she provides her clients. "After my work is done we sit around and visit," she said.

There are 84 homemakers and 225 clients in the Dundas area with more joining every year. Red Cross Clerk Linda Swerdfeger said the number of clients has been increasing steadily over the past few years.

A similar program, called the Integrated Homemaker Program will begin Oct. 1, and case manager will be doing assessments on potential clients. The new program will be similar to the current one with a few guideline changes.

Weagant-de Freitas wed at St. Mary's

A beautiful wedding ceremony was held August 22nd, 1987 for Janice and Trevor de Freitas at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Morrisburg.

Janice is the daughter of Fred and Anita Weagant of Morrisburg. Trevor is the son of Romeo and Elaine de Freitas of Toronto.

The bride was attended by her sister, the matron-of-honor, Barbara Black, and bridesmaids Cindy Morrow and Michelle deFreitas. Groom's attendants were best man, Dale deFreitas, and ushers David Cathcart and Laird Weagant.

A lovely garden party and evening reception were held for the newlyweds at the home of the bride's parents on Lakeshore Drive. The bridal party travelled from the church to party in four vintage Model-A Fords dating back to the 1928-1931 era.

Janice and Trevor honeymooned in New England States and are now residing in Toronto where their friends are most welcome.

Women's Institute meet

The October meeting of Riverside Heights W.I. was held at the recreation hall Riverside Heights.

Convenor of Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Chloe Hart was in charge of the program.

Doris Erratt read an item on Thanksgiving.

Alternate to go to the Area Convention is Doris Erratt for Betty Cayer.

A motion was made to donate to Meals on Wheels and for expenses to the S.W.T. Recreation Association, Cecile Langlotz volunteered to convene the November meeting on Public Relations. Members were asked to save small margarine containers and small jars for Meals on Wheels.

Convener, Chloe Hart gave an interesting talk on Rohm and Haas. There are 30 plants around the world. She showed some samples of plexiglas. The plant makes paint and stereo records, too.

Mrs. Hart also gave a short history of Noodlebush. The name 'Noodle' came from a family of that name, 35 years ago there were over two dozen famers there. Some of them were Hart, Smith, McIntosh, Henophy, Burton, Hollister, Casselman and Shaver. Famers went to the cheese factory with a one horse milk wagon. Later milk was shipped to Montreal on the mocassin train. Later on the Hart's sent their milk to Kraft Plant at Ingleside.

Owning a Junior B hockey team hardly a money-making venture

MORRISBURG — There are certainly rewards for the operators of a Junior B hockey team but they don't fall into a financial category, says Mike Waddell, one of five owners of the Morrisburg Junior B Lions.

The Lions opened the season Friday night on home ice, and then were on the road Saturday to CharLan and Sunday to Navan. And from the weekend the Lions' expenses totalled $960. By deducting Friday night's gate receipts, which were less than $200, the team took a loss of about $750.

"People want to know what we do with our money," said Waddell pointing out that the team finished last year in the hole $3,200.

Costs $650 per weekend

Waddell estimates it costs about $650 per weekend of hockey which usually involves two games, one at home and one away. Expenses for a home game include ice rental costs of $135, referees $120, sticks $90 based on an average of six per game and $17 for tape and pucks.

An away game costs are $90 for sticks, $15 for tape and $150 and upward for travelling, depending on whether a bus is used or the players are paid gas mileage.

To cover the cost of one weekend of play a team has to put at least 225 people in the area for the home game, a figure that is seldom reached until after Christmas.

Had to cut costs

Waddell explained the Lions owners, who are Ronnie Casselman, Hartley Hodgson, Keith Robinson and Bill Bennett, have had to cut costs this year.

"We've got our wives and players' girlfriends working the door and we work the penalty box," he said. "We've also been forced to cut down on advertising."

Last year operating expenses totalled $22,800 while gate receipts were $7,335.

And last year we had good crowd support," said Waddell. "Two years ago, hardly a game went by that we weren't dipping into our own pockets to pay the referees. That was a long winter."

In a season the club will use from 12-15 dozen sticks at a team cost of $190 a dozen. About 200 pucks will do the year and the players go through five large-size rolls of tape per game at about $3 per roll.

Travelling expensive

Hiring buses for away games, which is only done when it's a long trip, can also be costly. Figures last year show a bus trip to Westport cost $230, to Athens $160 and to Brockville $120. "We pay mileage plus the driver's waiting time," said Waddell.

As the figures continue to pile up, Waddell notes that aside from actual game equipment there are the costs of sweaters, socks, helmets, pants and so on that most junior B teams supply to their players.

"Luckily we've had some good sponsorships," said Waddell. "We had two sets of sweaters, which can cost $800, sponsored last year and some of our pants were sponsored. This year we have a sponsor buying hockey bags."

League fees

Team insurance for this season comes to $1,000 and leagues fees total $1,262. "We paid a first installment of $250 to the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League on June 1st and another $200 August 31st," said Waddell. "In September we paid the Ottawa District Hockey Association $812. All of this comes before the season opens and some of the teams found it difficult to come up with the money."

"It hurts," said Waddell. "League fees have gotten to be a lot of money."

Funding raising necessary

For the Lions management the only way to keep the team financially afloat has been through fund-raising, a difficult task considering there are only five owners.

The club runs a couple of dances per summer, a ball tournament and puts together a program in which advertisements are sold to local businesses.

Revenue from their first dance in May went to pay off last year's debt of $3,400.

"Last year we were very lucky to make it into the second round of playoffs which helped us financially," said Waddell. "Last year too, we had good fan support. We have a lot of regulars who come out every game and we couldn't survive without them."

Attendance stinks

Waddell says attendance "stinks" until after the Super Bowl each year. "We've got to get through the baseball season, the Grey Cup and the Super Bowl before we start getting larger crowds."

Currently the team is in the process of being incorporated. "There are several reasons for this," says Waddell. "It gives us more protection, we get a better shot at grants and we can do our fund-raising much more easily because we are a non-profit organization."

To attract a good sized crowd on a regular basis Waddell points to two criteria. There has to be a good base of hometown or local players and the team has to be competitive. Last year the team did both and for this season, early appearances show they are heading in the same direction.

"Our aim is just to break even," said Waddell.

Lions open with win over 73s

MORRISBURG — The Morrisburg Junior B Lions opened the 1987-88 hockey season here Friday night with a 6-1 victory over the Kemptville 73s, but then fell victim to the powerful CharLan Rebels Saturday and the Navan Grads Sunday.

In front of a small hometown crowd Friday night the Lions put together a powerful first period attack which netted them four unanswered goals and a lead they never relinquished.

The second period developed into a rough and tumble affair with the Lions taking eight minor penalties and a five minute high sticking major, most of which came in the last five minutes of play. At one time the penalty box was filled to overflowing with five Lions doing their time.

But despite the penalties the Lions' defence, expected to be strong this year, came through allowing no more than a handful of shots as they killed off the time.

Morrow gets first goal

Johnny Morrow got the Lions going, scoring the first goal of the season less than a minute into the game and at 1:11 Randy Mullin increased it to 2-0.

Rod Lemieux scored the Lions' third goal unassisted on a shot from the top of the face off circle at 17:15 and, with six seconds left in the frame, Mike LaMarche copied Lemieux with a shot from the same spot to give the Lions a 4-0 lead heading into the second.

The penalty filled second, in which there was no scoring, was followed by a much better played third. Team captain Bobby Jack Hart found the spot for the Lions fifth goal at 5:02, when Johnny Morrow, from behind the net, dropped the puck on his stick.

Shutout spoiled

Eight seconds later the 73s spoiled Kent Pilon's shutout with a goal from Jon Wallace. The Lions finished it off with a short-handed goal from Lyle Schell, the result of some hard work by defenceman Greg Whitteker who dug the puck away from a Kemptville player and dropped the pass back to Schell who was covering for him on the point.

The 73s handled nine minor penalties and a five minute slashing major to Dale MacMillan while the Lions took 19 minors, a five minute high sticking major to Johnny Morrow and a gross misconduct to Andy Lee.

Old-time rivalries will be renewed this weekend when both the Winchester Hawks and Metcalfe Jets come to town. The Hawks are here Friday night for an 8:30 game and the Jets are here Sunday for a 2 p.m. game.

Nationview claims county soccer crown

MORRISBURG — Nationview needed more than just a win in their final matchup against Morrisburg Public School in the annual Dundas County Senior girls championship soccer tournament here Wednesday.

Heading into their final matchup against Morrisburg with a two tie record, they needed not just a win which would give them the same record as Maple Ridge, but a win by two or more goals to claim the championship.

Hard work and excellent playmaking made the difference as Nationview went to work for a 3-0 victory over Morrisburg and the championship.

Nationview opened in the tournament with a scoreless tie against Maple Ridge and then settled for a 1-1 tie with Iroquois.

The Ridge, after the tie with Nationview, posted a scoreless tie against Morrisburg.

The final results saw both teams with a pair of ties and one win for four points but Nationview was able to claim the championship with a three-game total of four goals to the Ridge's three.

Spartans split games

INGLESIDE — The Seaway District High School junior Spartan basketball team stretched its S.D.&G. record to 3-1 here Tuesday with a 63-51 victory over the Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers.

The Spartans came out of the first quarter with a 10-7 lead and by the half were ahead 29-17. They were outscored in the third but still managed to hold the edge, at 41-37, as they headed for a strong final and the victory.

Pam Martin had a big day for Seaway dropping 18 points and Krista Casselman added 15. To complete a solid team effort Jennifer McNairn provided 11 points, Stephanie Dodge nine and Kelly Tryon eight.

The Lancers Kris Reynen led with 26 points. The loss dropped the R-O win-loss record to 2-2.

In senior action the Spartans carried a 10-point advantage into the final quarter but were unable to hold on as the Lancers came charging back for a 60-57 victory.

Stephanie Wells led the Lancers with 22 points and Cherry Woodrow and Sandra Fleming had 12 and eight respectively.

Kim Bucking had 18 points for Seaway and Lisa VanHoof added 17.

The win gave the Lancers a 3-1 record and the Spartans are 2-2.

Next action for Seaway is Wednesday, October 21st at CharLan and the same day R-O is at General Vanier.

Meanies jinxed by Reds

MORRISBURG — The Reds have us jinxed was all that Blue Meanies quarterback, Tom Dawley, could say about Sunday's game between the two in which the Reds went to the offensive and thoroughly trounced their opponents 39-12.

"They've done it for the last two games," said Dawley. "We can beat the other teams in the league but not them."

On the other side of the coin, Reds quarterback Steven Casselman, enjoyed an outstanding day. Everytime he passed he was right on the money.

The turning point of the game came at the end of the half with the Reds leading 12-0. With two plays left Dawley, on his own five-yard line, tried a short pass which was tipped and intercepted by the Reds. This left one play and Casselman was again in control throwing for the touchdown to Gerry Mabo.

"That", said an observer, "took the air out of the Meanies."

Scoring for the Reds were Harry Pepers, Rick Stanczak and Gerry Mabo with two each and Gary McInnis with a single. Phillip Dillabough had one for the Meanies and Dawley ran one in.

In other action the White Ferrets picked up two points when the Greens, again failed to field a team. "It's disappointing and it's beginning to hurt the league," said Russell Cameron, Ferret's quarterback. "You get your team out and then there is no one to play."

Perault lands 30-pounder

WILLIAMSBURG — Stephen Perault has 30 pounds of salmon safely tucked away in his freezer, but its a package not destined for the dinner plate.

Perault landed the 30-pound Coho while fishing Saturday in the Kingston area near a point where Lake Ontario empties into the St. Lawrence.

"The salmon are running against water released from an air conditioning system of a nearby plant," he said. "The water there is clean and it's a very busy spot."

"I was using a straight hook with an egg sack on it," he said. "I was just reeling it in, and bang away the line went."

In his first attempt at salmon fishing Perault said it was quite a thrill and one that lasted an hour and a half, the time it took to land his prize. "It was fun though," he added. "It rained the whole time, it was quite an experience."

Perault says he plans to have the fish mounted.

MORRISBURG — The Blues took early possession of first place in town league hockey action here Thursday night with a 5-3 victory over Hills.

That win combined with their opening game victory over the Black and Brown Flyers gives them four points while the rest of the teams, with the exception of Veinotte's F-Team, are all tied with two points.

Trailing 2-1 after the first period the Blues went to work in the final (town league has only two periods) to outscore Hills 4-1 for the victory.

Bob Deleavey led the Blues with three goals and Kevin Duvall had a pair. Answering for Hills were Allen McNairn, Rob Tremblay and Randy Casselman.

Castles picked up their first win over Veinotte's 5-2. A quick start in the first which netted them four unanswered goals put them well on the way to victory.

Mark Nesbitt led the effort and Jeff Van Moorsel, Joe Gora and Doug Wilson backed him while for Veinotte's Brian Froats struck twice late in the final frame.

The Black and Brown Flyers also picked up their first win over Dave Myers' entry 3-2. The game was tied after the first period and early in the final an unassisted goal from Myers gave his team the edge. But they couldn't hold on.

With 4:29 left to go Blake Berry tied it and less than a minute later Barry Elliott struck for the winner.

Elliott had a good game with one goal and a pair of assists and Barry Keeks struck for the first Flyers' counter.

Backing Myers was Ian Hooles, his goal coming late in the first period.

Lions coast to win

MORRISBURG — The Morrisburg Bantam B Lions came out on the top side of a 6-1 score in exhibition action against Russell here Monday night.

Dave Foster counted his first of two late in the second period and less than two minutes into the third Russell's Darin Lampman spoiled the Lions shutout beating goaltender Lenny Beckstead who shared the duties with Billy Dillabough.

The Lions finished it off late in the third with Foster's second and one from Dean Beckstead.

The Lions handled seven minor penalties and Russell had six.

Junior B Lions handed pair of losses in opening league play

MORRISBURG — The Morrisburg Junior B Lions got off to a shaky start in Ottawa and District Junior B Hockey League action on the weekend winning only one of three matches but coach Kevin Casselman isn't discouraged.

"We spent the weekend in the penalty box," said Casselman. "We've definitely got to show more discipline."

The Lions made it safely through Friday night's contest, in which they were assessed 53 minutes in penalties, with a 6-1 victory over the Kemptville 73s, but Saturday night their trips to the box caught up to them.

In total the CharLan Rebels scored four power play goals as they worked their way to a 10-6 win. After leading 3-0 in the first period they struck five times in the second, on three occasions when the Lions were shorthanded, to carry an 8-2 advantage into the final.

A fast period

"It was a very fast first period," said Casselman. "But they capitalized on a couple of defencive mistakes in a period that could have gone either way."

"Once you give a team like CharLan a lead you're in trouble and although we played well we couldn't come back," he said adding, "We played well in the third period, outscoring them 4-2."

"CharLan is a very strong team," he said. "They have one really strong line and they are going with a small quantity of players and keeping them on the ice."

As for the penalties Casselman says they are common early in the year. The referees generally crack down and the boys have yet to settle down. He doesn't see it as a long-time problem.

Mike Jodoin had three Rebel goals, Herb Sequin and Kevin Poapst two each and Daryl Menard, Darin Menard and Kevin Renwick supplied singles. Answering for the Lions were Bobby Jack Hart with two and Jonnny Morrow, Sean Baker, Lyle Schell and Randy Jodoin with singles.

The Lions handled 11 minors and the Rebels 12.

Navan 8 — Lions 3

Sunday at Navan the Lions held the Grads to a 3-2 first period lead but then lost sight of the net as Navan struck twice in the second and another three times in the final for an 8-3 win.

"The score is not indicative of the play," said Casselman. "They're rated as the number one team in the league and we felt we played well against them."

Well-balanced team

"They've got the best, well-balanced club we've seen, with three fast lines and size," he said. "But our defence did not have a good game."

Scoring for Navan were Tom Warole and Steve Wells with two each and Mike Trudeau, Steve Lawlor, Kurt Kritish and Stephane Bercier had singles.

Bobby Jack Hart struck twice for the Lions and Johnny Morrow had a single.

The Lions took 10 minor penalties and the Grads six.

Weekend action

This weekend the Lions host the Winchester Hawks Friday night at 8:30 and the Metcalfe Jets at 2:00 p.m. Sunday.

Fairbairn funeral home accepted into order of the golden rule

MORRISBURG — Fairbairn Funeral Home Limited has been accepted for membership in the International Order of the Golden Rule.

The order is comprised of funeral directors from all over the world who are dedicated to keeping in touch with the attitudes of the public through seminars and educational meetings at which attendance is required by all members.

Only one funeral home in a community is selected for membership. Only four funeral homes in Eastern Ontario have been accepted into the order.

"I knew I was under consideration but I didn't know the results until about a month ago," said Gord Fairbairn. "It is quite an accomplishment. There is no special status but it is prestigious to be accepted into the order."

The order carefully screens all prospects and the decision is based on recommendations made by families the firm has served and by other professionals in the area. Fairbairn admits he isn't quite sure about the process of selection — whether the order contacts families in the area or families contact the order with their recommendation.

"To obtain membership in OGR, all prospects must provide their community with quality funeral service and merchandise at reasonable prices," said Dale. L. Rollings, Executive Director of the association. "As a result of the positive response we've received from the Morrisburg area, Fairbairn Funeral Home Limited has proved its worthiness to be counted among our members."

Gord has been in business in Morrisburg since Sept. 9, 1964.

Strike settled

OTTAWA — The 850 St. Lawrence Seaway Authority lock operators and the seaway authority have reached a tentative contract agreement.

Members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers will vote on the contract Oct. 26 and 27. Union officials will recommend acceptance of the deal.

Details cannot be released until the agreement has been ratified but Gus Callahan of CBRTGW said the union is optimistic a negotiated settlement has been reached.

"The agreement was reached with the assistance of Mac Carson, a conciliation officer with the federal Department of Labor, who was most helpful to the parties," said Callahan. "This proves collective bargaining can work without introduction of legislation."

The lock operators have been without a contract since Dec. 31. Thirty lock operators at Iroquois and 55 at Cornwall are members of the union.

Seaway News

Hi! It's me again. Back for another week of exciting news from the posh and sophisticated school of Seaway.

This week there wasn't much news since there were only three days of school but I scraped up a few tidbits to write about so you wouldn't be deprived of my beautiful article. Brighton Rock was a success on Thursday night. They played a mixture of songs off their album and new songs for their new album. The highlight of the night was when the drummer (who almost every girl at Seaway was in love with) came out in shorts with red hearts all over them to throw a drumstick. Afterwards everyone stayed for autographs and I was told they were a great bunch of guys.

Over the weekend in sports our boys curling team won two games at Ottawa. They defeated Ottawa 7-3 and swamped Arnprior 12-0. Congratulations! In girls basketball on Tuesday the girls defeated Rothwell by a score of 63-51. Outstanding efforts were made by Pam Martin, Krista Casselman, Stephanie Dodge and Jennifer McNairn. In senior girls action Seaway did their best but came up with a 60-57 loss. Oh well we'll kill 'em next time.

Our junior boys volleyball team was defeated by North Dundas in a tournament here last Wednesday. In senior boys soccer, Seaway was defeated 12-1 by St. Lawrence with Markus Staebler scoring the only goal. Junior boys also lost by a score of 5-1 with Matt Bilmer scoring for Seaway. Matt, Chris Mabo and Chris Merkley played outstanding games that day.

Well that's it this week. Bye!

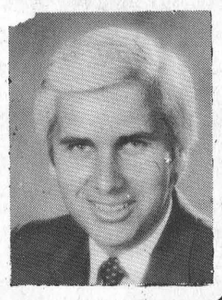
REPORT FROM

PARLIAMENT HILL

BY NORM WARNER, M.P.



Small Business Week 1987 will take place October 25 to 31 and I invite you to join with me in saluting entrepreneurs in our area.

The theme of Small Business Week 1987 is Entrepreneurship: Creating Opportunities. The men and women who operate small businesses in Canada create employment, investment and economic development opportunities. Over the last two years they have created more than 70 per cent of the new jobs in this country and contributed 25 per cent of our Gross National Product.

A new publication of the federal government offers something interesting and a little out of the ordinary. Canada: Our Place in the World, is an attractive booklet published for elementary level schools and offers students a wide variety of classroom activities focusing on our role as a trading nation.

The booklet will be distributed to all school boards and elementary schools across the country.

The Prime Minister has announced that the next economic summit of the seven major industrialized countries and representatives of the European Economic Community will take place in Toronto June 19 to 21, 1988.

Locally, an important annual event was held last Friday evening when the graduates of Seaway District High School in Iroquois received their diplomas. I was pleased to attend the ceremony and address the graduates.

The students of Rothwell-Osnabruck School also held their convocation ceremony on Friday evening and I wish to offer them my congratulations. I regret being unable to attend but wish them every happiness in the years ahead.

Four area couples celebrated their 50th anniversaries on the weekend and I would like to offer them congratulations: Dwight and Eileen Becksted; Garnet and Florence Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nicholson and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Black.

Doris Kitchener of Cornwall celebrated her 80th birthday October 12 and to her, too, I wish the very best.

I hope everyone's Thanksgiving holiday weekend was joyful. To celebrate the occasion the Rotary Club of Cornwall held a special flag-raising event on Thanksgiving. The club completed phase two of the Flag Pole Project: the members raised 15 flags around the Canadian flag, one flag for each province and territory in Canada and one for the United States, the City of Cornwall and Rotary International.
